R. WOMACK TELLS OF TRIP TO ARKANSAS

Hot Springs, Ark., August 26, 1924. H. L. Kinsley.

Well, Texas. I arrived at Hot Springs just one day today. The first day out in the county we broke the left side of our car, and could not get it fixed until we got to Gaines. We camped the first night at Major C. A. Adams' old home. The rain came up at 3 a. m. and we were in a garage. Mr. Huntley, the man, told us he knew Major Adams' mother and brothers. We stopped for 24 hours at Gaines, a very pretty town. The children visited the public swimming pool, next camp was at Durant, Okla., across Red River. Here we saw first Indians. We camped in a pretty little park, but at 3 a. m. a thunder cloud came up and we loaded and decided to travel on as the day was good.

Just before noon we found that we had passed through Ft. Towson, and children remembered that "Babe," Frances and Donald McDonald were there. Mrs. McDonald is a sister of Mrs. S. O. Woods. We were about 10 a. m. drove by to a house and drove on. We only about a mile when our car clutch went away. We had our car pulled to town and ate dinner with the McDonald family and spent about two hours with them. They have a very little park there also. We went that Mother Woods and Miss had just left there for Dallas their way home.

At 3 o'clock we were given our car after pulling about five miles it seemed to budge another foot. We got our garage man at Ft. Towson to get out and fix the clutch tighter. I got to Ida Bell for the night and camped in a beautiful park equipped with new shower baths. When we started our car was doing fine, but next morning after pulling up to it refused to budge. It was at noon before we could get it fixed. We were assured that the clutch would better us any more.

All along the way people directed through the "big orchard." Just the night we came to an orchard was told it covered 90 acres. We asked the owner if it was the "big orchard?" He said, "You mean, large orchard?" He said, "No, I will know it when you get caught." Well, we found we were in it. We had driven about two miles. There were Elberta peach trees loaded with fruit as far as we could see both sides of the road. We passed plant No. 1 and came to packing plant No. 2, and turned in to it over.

We found about 150 men and women hanging peaches in bushel baskets. We were informed that every peach would be loaded by midnight. There were seven such packing sheds. We were told that 1200 cars had already been shipped and about one that number were dumped because the trees were overloaded and weather made them faulty.

We were told that the bearing trees covered 6,000 acres, but all told there were over 10,000 acres. While at the orchard we learned that this was the largest peach orchard in the world under one management. We met Dr. Dillard at the "big orchard." He asked us if we knew we were within eight miles of the only diamond mine in America. We never had invited us to go about two and half mile from Murfreesboro and it covers about 80 acres, and has been worked for about 15 years. It is all surface work. They never sink a shaft more than fifteen feet deep. They just plow the top of ground and wash it and catch on a sieve wire. About six weeks ago they found one that weighed over 40 carats and was valued at $6,000. The lady is said to be as fine as the African diamonds. The big diamond proved to be too costly so just few men are working.

After visiting the diamond mine our again refused to go on. I found the band on one disc was stripped. We got help and were working it when a big storm cloud came so hurriedly that we bundled up and made a run for the garage. A man, and got in just as it rained. It rained, blew and lightened. We stayed at Murfreesboro that night. We got off about 9 o'clock the next morning. The clutch is still holding. We have had new brake bands put on. These mountains are too high to have a chance on weak brakes.

We camped in the tourist back about a week but threatening weather led us to get rooms. Instead of doing it hot here, we found it delectably cool. We sleep under a canopy night. The water is fine. Pines all out of mountains everywhere. We knew a soul when we arrived. We asked a party to direct us to a place where we could get rooms. They said, "It is against the law." So you tell you." We asked the bath manager if he could suggest the name of a good doctor. He said, "No, it's against the law." We went to the office of the Government superintendent of all parks. He bath houses and asked to be directed to a good doctor, and was handed a sheet with about 100 names of doctors on it. I asked her to recommend one. She said, "We can't do it's against the law." So you see it is up against it until he gets out of looks things over.

Mrs. Ferguson Carries County by Big Majority

In the run-off Saturday Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson carried the county against Felix D. Robertson for Governor by more than 300 majority. The vote stood 571 for Mrs. Ferguson and 266 for Robertson. There was possibly one box that had not been heard from at the time this vote was recorded but that would make little material difference. According to the returns from each box every precinct gave Mrs. Ferguson a majority, some of the voting boxes gave Robertson a lead.

The vote for the other candidates stood as follows:

For Lieutenant Governor:
Barry Miller	380
Will C. Edwards	353
For Attorney General:
Dan Moody	568
Edward B. Ward	17
For Comptroller:
S. H. Terrell	520
O. D. Baker	151
For Railroad Commissioner, 6 yrs.:
Clarence E. Gilmore	365
Edward W. Weaver	303
For Railroad Commissioner, 4 yrs.:
W. A. Nabors	357
Lon A. Smith	333
For Chief Justice Supreme Court:
C. M. Cureton	397
William C. Wear	181
For State Senator 23rd Dist.:
J. C. Marshall	565
J. D. Parnell	175

The vote in the county was not so heavy as it was in the primary. At that time there were about 1200 votes cast, while in the run-off there seems to have been about 800 votes. This is only about half the voting strength of the county.

J. D. Parnell seems to have won over J. C. Marshall for senator. Barry Miller is in the lead by a safe margin for Lieutenant Governor. Dan Moody has won in the race for attorney general, Terrell for comptroller, Gilmore for commissioner 6 year term, Smith for four year term, and Cureton is elected for Chief Justice Supreme Court.

CAR COLLIDES WITH SURREY, CAUSING TEAM TO RUN

As Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ribble were on their way home Sunday night from services at the Methodist church when their surrey was struck by a Ford car a short distance north and narrowly escaped a serious accident.

The car was going south meeting Mr. Ribble who was driving a team of mules to his surrey and had only one light and that was a dim one. The light was on the opposite side of the car from Mr. Ribble who had pulled his team as far over as he could go without running into the ditch, and according to Mr. Ribble the car seemed to have headed directly towards the surrey. The left front wheels of the vehicles locked and the mules became frightened and surged forward breaking the tongue and double tree and breaking several spokes out of the surrey. When the mules jumped Mr. Ribble went out over the dashboard, clinging to the lines and was dragged for a distance of about 50 yards before he finally brought the frightened team to a standstill.

Mr. Ribble sustained several bruises on his body. Mrs. Ribble remained in the hack but suffered no injury other than a sore arm, which she thinks was caused by a rigid contraction of the muscles as she gripped one of the staves of the surrey top when the collision occurred.

The car was occupied by a young man and a young lady. The young man gave his name as Rogers and said that he lived in the south part of town. He agreed to meet Mr. Ribble the next day and adjust matters but did not appear and his identity has not been established. The sheriff is at work on the case.

PAVING JOB WILL BE COMPLETED IN ABOUT 2 WEEKS

The pouring of concrete on the street work is going forward rapidly and will be finished by the first of September. It will then be ready for the finishing touch, which will require possible another week.

There is some talk of the property owners having the street paved between M. S. Henry & Co. and the Bank of Crowell building back as far as the alley. The matter has not been definitely decided but it is understood that most of the property holders are in favor of it.

Really there are two other blocks that ought to be paved, the one mentioned and the street between the Ringgold Building and the old rock building. With these added to the work already done would put the town in tip-top condition.

Friday, September 12, Is Defense Test Day

To the People of Texas:

The President of the United States, in keeping with the law known as the National Defense Act, passed at the suggestion of General Pershing and with the approval of Woodrow Wilson, providing for the mobilization in times of peace of all the organized and unorganized military forces of the United States, has named September 12th as the day on which should be assembled for patriotic and informational purposes, all those citizens of the several States who are qualified for military service. September 12th, 1924, the day selected this year to give to the provisions of this National Defense Act a practical test, is the sixth anniversary of the significant St. Mihiel drive made by our army in Northern France as it is also the day designated for the retirement of General John J. Pershing as Commander-in-Chief of the army of the United States.

President Coolidge has requested that the Governors of the several States ask the military organizations and the civilian population to co-operate on Defense Test Day in assembling the military man power of the Nation as a peace-time test of our National mobilization law and as an indication of the part each community would play in time of emergency in the defense of our country. Without regard to their personal views, the people of Texas should always gladly comply with a reasonable request made of them by the President of the United States.

Therefore, in keeping with the request of our President, I take this method of reminding the people of Texas of the purposes of this day and call upon all the citizens of the State of military age who desire to do so, to co-operate with the units of the Regular Army, the National Guard, and the Organized Reserves in carrying out the provisions of our National Defense Act. The adjutant general of the State has been directed not only to assemble for drill and patriotic purposes all the National Guard units of the State, but he has also been requested to co-operate with all county and city officials and the civilian population generally in arranging proper patriotic programs of music, addresses, and drills in keeping with the purposes and the spirit of this Defense Test Day. I am sure the people of Texas will readily respond, as they have always done, to any suggestion coming from the President of the Nation.

Mrs. W. T. Rasor Passed Away Friday

Mrs. W. T. Rasor died at her home near this city Friday afternoon after an illness of only a few hours caused by a ruptured blood vessel. Only a few minutes after she was struck down she became unconscious and speechless and remained so until the end came.

Mrs. Rasor's maiden name was Miss Sallie Gallap and she was born in Collin County, Texas, October 20, 1868, and was only about 56 years of age. She was married to William T. Rasor June 12, 1887, to which union were born five children, three of whom are living and were present at the funeral services. These are Mrs. O. T. Ball of Vernon, Mrs. Felina Davis of Crowell and John T. Rasor of Crowell. Besides these she is survived by her husband, W. T. Rasor, five sisters, Mrs. Andy Goodwin of Oklahoma City; Mrs. Louis Wilson of Quanah; Mrs. Egbert Fish of Vivian; Mrs. M. J. Davis of Holiday; Mrs. Laura Keller of Burk Burnett; and by one brother, George Gallup of Burk Burnett. All attended the funeral services except Mrs. Goodwin.

Mrs. Rasor came to this county with her husband as one of the first settlers, arriving in 1890 and locating about 7 miles southeast of Crowell. With the exception of a six-year residence in Quanah, Foard County has been their home since they came to the West.

When a girl the deceased was converted and joined the Baptist church and later became a member of the Christian church with her husband and was an honored and much loved member at her death.

Rev. S. H. Holmes, pastor of the Christian church at Electric, conducted the funeral service, assisted by Rev. T. C. Willett of the Methodist church who offered prayer and by Rev. P. R. Huckleberry of the Christian church who gave the eulogy.

The funeral services were attended Saturday afternoon by a large gathering of people of Crowell and surrounding community and by several friends and acquaintances from Quanah, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Crowell cemetery.

Texas Park Board To Be Here Sept. 1st

The president of the Chamber of Commerce received a communication from D. E. Colp, chairman of the State Texas Park Board this week stating that the board would leave Austin August 21 on an inspection trip over the state and would arrive at Crowell at 9:45 September 1st and would leave at 10 a. m.

The party will arrive here from Quanah after a trip over the Plains and Panhandle and will continue the trip south by way of Benjamin, Haskell and Stamford.

Members of the board are Chairman D. E. Colp, of San Antonio; Vice-Chairman Mrs. W. C. Martin of Dallas; Hobert Key of Marshall, Texas; Mrs. Hebe K. Warner, secretary, of Victoria, Texas. The communication says the park board will make the inspection trip, which will include the above names, and it is supposed that they will be here.

Just what the Park Board proposes to do and what its functions are is not entirely clear to us, but we presume that it looks after the building and caring for parks that are owned by the state. Of course Crowell has no park but it would be a very fine thing if we did have, and we are interested in the visit of this board and we feel that the people of Crowell ought to manifest an interest in this matter by arranging a meeting with this board.

Planning Further Warfare on Klan

Austin, Texas, Aug. 25.—The fight against the Ku Klux Klan in Texas is to be continued and most vigorously, in the State Democratic convention when it meets in Austin next Tuesday, and in resolutions which have already been prepared demand will be made that the Klan be barred from participation in Democratic primaries and conventions in this State because the Ku Klux Klan as now organized and directed has become a political party.

Another resolution which is to be presented to the convention deprecates the practices of ministers of religious organizations actively engaging in partisan political discussions.

At Burleson's Suggestion

Both resolutions, it is understood, were prepared at the suggestion of Albert S. Burleson of Austin, for eight years Postmaster General in President Wilson's cabinet.

That which seeks to rid the Texas Democrats of the Ku Klux Klan reads: "Whereas, it is inimical to the interest of the Democratic party for members of other political parties to participate in its primary elections and conventions, and

"Whereas, it is destructive of the homogeneity and harmony of the Democratic party to permit members of other political parties in Democratic primaries and conventions to endanger the maintenance of the fixed principles and policies of the party, and

"Whereas, the Ku Klux Klan as now organized and directed has become and is a political party; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the State Democratic Executive Committee be and is hereby instructed to take immediate steps by the formulation of necessary rules and regulations to safeguard and protect the Democratic primaries and conventions from further participation therein by the members of the Ku Klux Klan, and one of the rules to be prescribed shall be that it is cause for challenge of the right of an elector to participate in Democratic primaries and conventions that he is a member of such Ku Klux Klan."

Preachers in Politics

The other resolution follows: "Whereas, it is the traditional policy of our Government that there shall be maintained and enforced at all times complete separation of Church and State, and

"Whereas, the practice of priests and pastors to actively engage in partisan politics is opposed to proper American ideals and calculated to endanger and break down this cardinal principle of Government; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Democrats of Texas deplore and deprecate the practice, which has recently become too general, of ministers of religious organizations actively engaging on the stump in partisan political discussions."

Old Time Resident Answers Call of Death

C. F. Beatty died at the home of his brother, J. H. Beatty, at Margaret Wednesday night of last week at 8:30 o'clock.

For twelve years Mr. Beatty had been troubled with heart disease and for the last year had been confined to his bed almost all the time. He would occasionally exert himself, and stir around considerably. Only about a month before his death he came to Crowell but he never showed signs of substantial improvement after his condition became serious.

Mr. Beatty was born in Lafayette County, Ala., January 15, 1864, and came with his brother, J. H. Beatty, to Williamson County in 1886. In the following year the two brothers began to look for a home for the family which was yet in Alabama and went to the Plains country where they did work helping to build the fence around the pasture for the famous Goodnight buffalo herd. They remained there for some months and finally came to Margaret where they found a suitable location and procured a home for the widowed mother and three other children, one of the sons remaining in the old state. It was in the year 1888 that they came and joined the two sons already here, settling at Margaret. W. L. Beatty, the oldest son, remained and now resides at Manchester, Ga.

Funeral services were conducted at Margaret M. E. church of which Mr. Beatty was a member by Rev. T. M. Johnston, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Frank McNair, pastor of the Baptist church at Margaret, after which the remains were interred in the Margaret cemetery Thursday afternoon.

The deceased is survived by three brothers, W. L. Beatty of Manchester, Ga., J. H. Beatty of Margaret, D. P. Beatty of Wichita Falls, and by two sisters, Miss Emily Beatty of Margaret and Mrs. S. M. Roberts of Crowell.

Klan Dragon Says Bolt Is Discussed

Dallas, Aug. 25.—Zeke Marvin, grand dragon for the Ku Klux Klan in Texas, said today that he had been told there is considerable talk of the Klan Democrats voting for the Republican nominee in the November election, but he did not know what action would be taken.

He said: "We are a long way from being dead yet."

Rumors were rife here today, despite the fact that Robertson has announced he will support Mrs. Ferguson, that Klan Democrats may bolt the party or cast their vote for the Republican nominee. It was reported definite action in connection with a bolt would wait the naming of a man for Governor by the Republicans at Houston this week.

Political leaders generally were of the opinion the talk of party bolt is the result of intense feeling engendered during the campaign which ended Saturday and that most of the Klan Democrats will support the nominee of Saturday's primary. They say there will be some of the more radical Klan Democrats who will not support Mrs. Ferguson, but that the number, even if given to the Republicans, would not endanger the election of the Temple woman in November.

Crowell School Will Open Monday Morning

The Crowell schools will open Monday morning, Sept. 1, and the work of a new term will commence.

The school board thinks it has procured a good strong faculty and believes that it starts out under favorable conditions this year. The board has been working very hard to meet the needs of the district in school matters and it thinks its efforts have not been fruitless. Conditions look favorable for a great school year and with the co-operation of the patrons there is no reason why this should not be a great year.

The board and the faculty would like to see the auditorium filled Monday morning with patrons and friends of the school for the opening exercise. It will do you good and will make the teachers feel that you are ready to give them your assistance and co-operation.

Crowell Women Are Judges at Quanah Fair

Mrs. M. O'Connell, Mrs. C. R. Ferson, Miss Jode Brian, Mrs. A. E. McLaughlin, Mrs. Jimmie Self and Mrs. R. L. Kincaid assisted in judging the exhibits in the culinary and art departments at the Quanah Fair Wednesday. They say the exhibits in these departments are splendid.

W. D. Foster, manager of the Vaughn gin, and Worth Hunter of Margaret were in Quanah Monday and Tuesday attending a cotton school.

Crowell People Attend Dairy School at Quanah Last Week

A two-days dairy school run on by M. B. Oates, industrial agent of the Fort Worth & Denver road, was held at Quanah Thursday and Friday of last week and some of Crowell's people who are interested in the dairy business attended.

W. L. Ricks and wife and W. E. Emery and wife, dairy people here, and Fred Rannels, county agent, were in attendance on Thursday.

Among the things that were discussed was that of feeding. J. L. Thomas of the A. & M. College, handled the subject in a way that will make it very profitable to dairymen. He recommended a ration that would be worth remembering by those who keep cows for their own use. He says where it is possible sorghum silage should be fed, but where that is impossible feed plenty of sorghum fodder. For a cow that gives 2 1/2 gallons a day the ration in addition to the forage is 15 pounds of grain sorghum ground, or corn meal or corn chops, 2 pounds ground oats, 2 pounds cotton seed meal.

P. C. Bennett, county agent of Tullia, gave a talk that was profitable on interesting phases of the dairy business.

Gilliland Farmer Finds Honey Ball Melons Profitable

For this country the honey-ball melon seems to be a comparatively new product, but it is coming into favor where it has been grown this year. B. W. Massingill has recently been bringing to Crowell honey-ball melons which he grows on his place in the Gilliland community and he finds that they are paying him about $25.00 per acre. He has about three acres and has already sold $52.00 worth from it.

These melons are grown on heavy land and he thinks in a reasonable year the yield should be from 3,000 to 5,000 melons per acre. They are selling now in Tarrant County at $2.50 per crate of from 12 to 15 per crate. Mr. Massingill averages about $15.00 per load on the melons.

Mr. Massingill paid $5.00 per lb. for the seed and says they will sell for $3.00 next year.

You may buy the melons and get a start of the seed by saving them for planting purposes.

We do not know how these melons would do on sandy land, but it is probable that they would do better than they will on the tight land.

Marvin Howard has been here this week from Lamesa visiting his mother, Mrs. E. L. Howard, and other relatives. Marvin says the Lamesa country is looking good and the crops are promising.

WILD-EYED DRIVERS

"Motorists Kill Three and Injure Two," says a newspaper headline. There's nothing particularly unusual about that. It happens every day in some city or some rural community. Lives are continually being sacrificed at the altar of the god of speed. People are becoming so accustomed to the daily occurrence that they no longer feel the sense of horror that once accompanied such tragedies. Willful disregard of laws and safety rules, as well as the rules of common decency, as practiced by a crowd of number of motorists, is certain to bring into being a flood of "thou-shalt-not" bills in the legislature. Though public sentiment seems to be asleep, it will flare up some day when reckless drivers give the innocent and decent drivers who have to suffer in the reaction when the pendulum swings back.

It would be the part of wisdom to attempt to curb wild-eyed driving before for the many have to suffer for the sins of the few.

Crowell Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Attend Memphis Association

The Lower Panhandle Association of Odd Fellows was held at Memphis, Texas, August 20, 21, 22, and was well attended, according to reports.

Those having gone from Crowell representing the Odd Fellows were and the Rebekah lodge were Mrs. W. W. Griffith, A. T. Stinson, A. T. Schooley and A. H. Bennett.

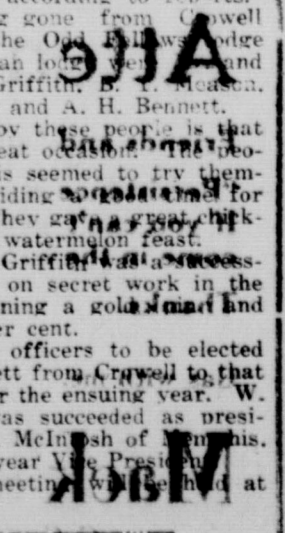

The report by these people is that they had a great occasion and the people of Memphis seemed to try themselves in providing a grand feast for the visitors. They got a very thick dinner and watermelon feast.

Mrs. W. W. Griffith was a successful contestant on secret work in the Rebekahs, winning a gold medal and making 100 per cent.

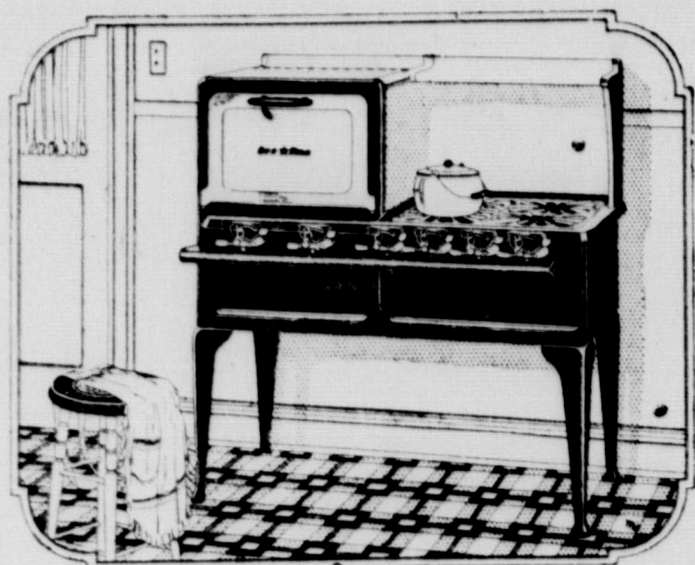

Among the officers to be elected was Mr. Bennett from Crowell to that of Chaplain for the ensuing year. W. W. Griffith was succeeded as president by W. A. McClintock of Memphis.

The next meeting will be held at Burk Burnett.

Dependable Merchandise

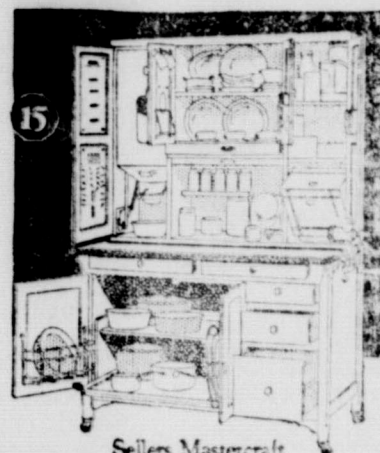

Did you ever buy some article of merchandise that proved to be worthless? Of course you have and when you found that you had made a bad deal you felt very bad about it.

It is our intention to avoid any such happening as that and the way we fortify ourselves and our customers against bad buys in merchandise at this store is by keeping in stock such articles as will give satisfaction—trade-marked and highly advertised and guaranteed goods. As a rule well advertised goods are best and therefore cheapest in the long run. Service is what you want and you are willing to pay the worth of any article that will give you service.

In this line of goods we call special attention to our line of Dining Room Suites and Living Room Suites. We have a selection of the nicest and most durable of suites in both. They are priced reasonable.

Then, we have Sellers and Hoosier kitchen cabinets, both of which are nationally advertised and which are the last word in kitchen cabinets. That is especially true with the Sellers cabinet. To see this cabinet is to admire it and if you want one you will find the price attractive, as well as the article itself.

You will find our line of Rugs, Linoleums and Congoleums, all of which are standard brands, to be just what you want for service and durability.

But in mentioning a few of the articles we carry we would not fail to mention the celebrated Red Star cooking stoves. We might tell you from time to time what this stove is and you would never know so well as when you have tried one of them. The very fact that they give satisfaction and that every purchaser of the Red Star is a satisfied customer is one of the best proofs of the merits of this stove. This is the best wickless stove on the market today.

The New Perfection is too well known as a wick stove to need very much mention. We have this stove. It is a beautiful stove and you can not buy a better wick stove.

Come to see us when you want anything in our line.

JOHNNY APPLESEED

In many spots in Ohio may be found monuments erected to the memory of Johnny Appleseed, because he served his fellow men so well and did not seek to profit from his service.

John Appleseed's real name was John Chapman, a Massachusetts man born in 1775, who went to Ohio in 1880 with sacks of appleseeds. Why he went to Ohio or what his motive was in following the path in life he did is not recorded.

He was a missionary of the very finest type. He carried the sacks of seed on the back of his horse, and when he could not sell them, he gave them away.

He not only distributed seeds throughout the countryside, but he often planted orchards for farmers and started them on the road to independence and prosperity. He took great pride in his seeds and he wanted them to grow into fruit-bearing trees.

On account of his earnestness of purpose and his desire to serve, he was a very successful salesman, but he sold on very close margins and gave away all of his profits to customers who did not pay. He didn't need much money for his own use, it is related, because his object in life was not to make money.

But he was in no sense of the word a beggar, because he paid his way many times. He was welcomed by many a lonely homesteader of that early day because of the cheer that he brought.

When he made apple trees grow where no apple trees grew before, and when he left behind ideas that made people live richer lives, he enjoyed all of the pleasures of a man who had achieved and won success.

And now the people whom he befriended have risen up and called him blessed. His work has lived for a century.

The world is still eager for the same kind of service. It stands ready to reward with its richest blessings men who are actuated, not by the desire for profit, but by the wish to serve humanity.

Many such lives are being lived now in every community, some in smaller, some in larger degrees of service, depending on the circle in which their lives radiate.

We need more Johnny Appleseeds with the one ambition in life to help others live a richer and fuller life.

Crowell, Texas, August 29, 1924

THE ELECTION

The election is over again and the turmoil that characterized the campaign should subside.

The outstanding thing most clearly revealed by the victory of Mrs. Ferguson, the anti-klan candidate over Felix D. Robertson, the klan candidate, is that the people of Texas are not willing for the politics of the state to be dominated by a secret organization. A victory measured by a majority of nearly 100,000 votes is not a feeble expression of the will of the people. In this contest they have spoken and that decisively.

Another thing to be noted is that the people were not hoodwinked by those who would have misled them into the belief that prohibition was the issue. It is unfortunate, of course, that the klan was made the issue, but had it never entered politics there is little likelihood that it would ever have been considered seriously by any candidate for office. Men who offer themselves for public office should be free to discuss matters of greater concern, but this thing got in the way and it simply had to be removed. That's all, and now since the people have spoken in unmistakable tones, the leaders of the klan, if they would have their organization thrive, should make sure that it stays in its place in the future. If they want to get out in the creek bottoms and put on bed sheets and act like a bunch of hoodlums, nobody is going to object so long as they don't disturb the other cattle in the pastures, but for the sake of the good Lord let them stay off the streets and out of politics. If they are wise they will read the handwriting on the wall. They will need no interpreter. It is written in plain English and even fools can understand it.

Now, as for the News, it is going to be fair with the klan, if it knows what fairness is. We do not intend to "rub it in" on the boys if they will just slip back into the party, whichever one that is, and not let on like anything had ever happened. Lots of people are quitting the klan and thousands more will fall in line as the result of this election and as the result of the stand the leading men of the nation are taking.

Let us hope that this has been settled for all time and that we shall be free to devote our time to things of greater importance. Let us hope that the time may not come when a matter of this kind will receive such support and cause such annoyance to the public that it must be settled at the polls.

When the street paving job now under construction is completed we will wonder how we ever got along without it. Extension of the good work is only a question of time, but we can get along very well with what we are going to have when this is completed, at least for a year or two. There is another job that is certain to stare us in the face before many months and that is sewerage. No civic improvement is more needed just now. We are not boosting this but are merely calling attention to it. We can not be expected to do all the improvements at one time, but there will never be a time when we can afford to lie down and say "the town is finished." The spirit of progress manifests itself by taking hold of the tasks that are brought to confront us from time to time. As we do these things we grow. When we fail to do them we occupy a standstill position.

One thing to be noticed in the recent political campaign is that between candidates where the klan issue was clearly drawn the anti-klan candidates won big majorities over their opponents. Most people admire a man who has the courage to say what he stands for, but some of them applied the soft pedal in the hope that they might ride into office. If there is anything we need today more than ever in the history of our country it is men who have the courage to express their convictions on public issues, in the open and above board. Any man who wants to ride into office any way he can is not worthy the trust imposed in him by the suffrage of the people. It was a fearless set of men who laid the foundation of this Government and it will be the same kind who will make sure its perpetuity.

The rain yesterday was a welcomed visitor and will benefit the late cotton and put new life and pep into us all. The farmers who have their wheat land plowed will profit by a storage of moisture, however little it may be, and will have the chances increased for another wheat crop. Where land has not been broken the rain will be practically worthless, unless it be to soften the ground a little.

The House Where Service Counts

HE HOPES WE CHOKE

Arthur Michael Samuel, a British economist, says that the United States is going to choke to death on gold. The wish is father to the thought. In other words, he hopes we choke to death on gold.

In his opinion, the United States is selfish in attempting, by putting the Dawes-plan German bank on a gold basis, to hasten the return of the gold standard to Europe, because the United States wants, in this manner, to disgorge her gold and save herself from choking to death on it, economically and industrially sneaking.

But many of our European brethren would be glad to die the same way. Whatever they may say about the United States is nothing more than expression of their envy. They would be only too glad to have our gold. They would die for it or on it.

They have never shipped back any of our gold. It has been poured in streams for the relief of the war destitute. No humanitarian appeal has ever come from across the Atlantic that has not been answered with American gold.

It is very poor grace for an Englishman or any European to express malice for America. Our record is clean—just as clean as our gold.

Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. Baxter Johnson and small daughter, Frances Henry, and Miss Christine Campbell returned last week from Colorado where they had spent several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kendall and son, R. L. Jr., of Gainesville arrived in Crowell yesterday for a visit with their nieces, Mrs. T. B. Klepper and Mrs. C. W. Thomson.

In reaching for things, far too many people reach farther than the length of their arm.

Once upon a time there was an automobile salesman who acknowledged that the other car was a good one.

FEWER LAWS

Laws are made for the protection of people who live under them.

If a law is a good one, it should be enforced. No favor should be shown either rich or poor, powerful or insignificant. If it is not a good law, it should be repealed.

We have too many laws that are dead letters, for our own good.

This condition is well known to the public, and even to the younger generation, just coming into maturity. It is not calculated to increase respect for law. It is a breeder of evasion and the father of contempt.

We need fewer laws, but we need good ones that are enforced.

The mothers who want their daughters to be "perfect ladies" should remember the days of their youth and profit by it.

CHILDREN'S EYESIGHT

At the time for the opening of the public schools approaches, parents should not lose sight of the fact that eyesight is the biggest factor in the education of a child.

Child welfare associations realize the necessity of making sure that the under-privileged child sees well before setting about the curing of other defects.

Parents should be as much concerned about their own children and not make the mistake of permitting them to enter school with defective vision a drag upon them.

Countless investigations have disclosed that poor eyesight is responsible for much of the retardation in schools and causes a stigma to be placed upon many children, whose visual defects weigh them down.

This is a duty that should be clear to every parent. First be certain that defective eyesight is at the bottom of the trouble, if any, with the child, and then have it corrected at once.

Neglect in this respect is little short of criminal.

Some wives leave the storm doors open for late wandering husbands.

Laying bricks is better than throwing them and it's less expensive.

Folks who growl at everything ought to lead a dog's life.

You don't have to be a pirate to get your share of this earth's goods.

Nocturnal Animals

The gray-haired generation is forever taking snapshots at the rising one, says the Los Angeles Times. There is an indicated wonderment as to the whereabouts of the wandering boy this evening. Grandfather is blaming the parents. He is utterly oblivious of the fact that his criticism is a reflection upon his own methods of discipline. Boys and girls have fared forth at evening in other generations. They will continue the habit as other generations rise. Do parents have any control over their children? The query has been running for a couple of thousand years at least and we are all sure that the boys and girls we now have are quite the most vicious and sophisticated the world has ever had. We said it of the last generation and will broadcast it for the next. It is the one theme that never fails.

Working the Rule

A mother was sending her little girl to the post office in a small town with 10 cents to buy five 2-cent stamps for the five letters she was sending. She had been in the habit of giving the few extra pennies left from a purchase to the little girl, so she said:

"What will I get back, mother?"

"Nothing, dear. I am sending the exact amount," but the negative reply brought disappointment to the little girl.

Immediately the conversation was changed to loving people, the mother telling her that if we love people they will love us, that we get back what we give. The little girl looked up with a face beaming with hope.

"Then I ought to get this 10 cents back, mother."—Exchange

Lobsters and Small Boys

A curious point of similarity has been discovered by Canadian scientists between little lobsters and little boys. The scientists have found that the lobsters do not like cold water. The corresponding trait in the juvenile male of the human species is a matter of common observation. Dr. A. G. Huntsman, biologist of the biological board of Canada, has found that lobsters are abundant and small lobsters, particularly fry, present in any considerable numbers only in waters with a summer temperature of 52 degrees or higher. Adult lobsters will survive in colder water, but the younger ones are discouraged sooner and refuse to live in such a chilly world.

Is Your Wife Marooned During the Day?

Have you ever considered what is meant by the hundreds of cars parked in the business sections during working hours?

Most of them carried business men to work, leaving their wives and families at home, marooned because the family's one car is in daily use by the husband and father.

That is one reason why architects and builders now find that all suburban and many city homes must be provided with twin garages. The Chevrolet Utility Coupé with high-grade body makes an ideal extra car, especially in combination with a 5-passenger touring or sedan.

The wife finds it of every day utility for shopping, calling, taking the children to school in bad weather, etc.

Its price and upkeep are low yet the quality is high.

SCIENTIFIC WONDERS "OUT IN THE OPEN"

Museum Makes Things Plain to the Average Man.

Will American cities soon be adding to the public library and the art museum another temple-like structure whose object is to popularize science? Although this is above all the age of science, the average man has had to depend for his knowledge on reading. At Washington there has recently been opened a "Wonder House of Science," where the ordinary man can familiarize himself at first hand with the methods whereby the marvelous results of science are obtained. The new institution was immediately seen to fill such "a long-felt want" that other cities undoubtedly will copy the idea.

Any visitor can go through the stately marble palace and work the machines and instruments for himself. He can study the sun; he can watch earthquakes and tremors being recorded; he can examine things with high-powered microscopes; he can look at the vibrations of his own voice; he can himself perform the marvels that he has read about in the Sunday supplements.

The Wonder House of Science is neither museum, scientific laboratory nor theater. And yet it is all of these and more—testifies Raymond J. Brown in Popular Science Monthly. The glass cases for exhibits and the familiar "Hands Off" of the conventional museum are conspicuously absent. The exhibits are in plain sight, unguarded and unprotected.

"More than that," he goes on, "you and I, when we call on science in its new home, are urged and invited to handle the exhibits and experiment with them as much as we please."

"Though they are made up of the most delicate, intricate and expensive instruments of the modern scientific laboratory, they are not reserved for the exclusive use of experts, as would be the case in a laboratory."

"On every exhibit are attached plain directions, which instruct us how to turn the switches, to press the buttons, to focus the eye-pieces."

"The purposes of the experiments are explained; we carry them out with our hands, observing the details of the successive stages with our own eyes, and we appreciate the significance of the conclusion as we never could were we merely to read of it or to hear it discussed by a lecturer. No theater could provide a spectacle more amazing than this almost bewildering array of scientific wonders, made tangible and understandable to all who come to see."

"There is the matter of earthquakes, for example. Ordinarily we hear only of the great disasters, such as the one that occurred last year in Japan, but earthquakes happen rather frequently—10,000 times a year, once at least every hour, according to the latest testimony of the scientists. There was graphic evidence of that fact on the broad recording tape of the new-type seismograph that was the first thing I saw when I entered the building."

After 120 Years

On July 5, 1903, Capt. Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, commissioned by President Jefferson to explore the Northwest to the Pacific, left Washington, D. C., westward bound. Two and one-half years later, on March 23, 1806, having accomplished their objective after wintering on the banks of the Columbia, they turned their faces eastward and hurrying back they were able to recross the continent in eleven months.

A short time ago one man climbed into his airplane on the East coast at dawn and as twilight deepened into dusk along the shore of the Pacific he swung down through the mist and taxied across the field to a stop. The time elapsed on his journey, made without a mishap, is measured not in days and months and years, but in hours, minutes and seconds. The transcontinental trip that took Lewis and Clark more than two years to cover, Lieut. Russell L. Maughan, army flyer, accomplished in 18 hours, 16 minutes flying time. His average speed was 158.17 miles an hour.—From the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

GETTING OUT THE VOTE

Less than fifty percent of the voters of the United States cast a ballot in the election of 1920.

An investigation has disclosed that the stay-at-home habit has been increasing. In 1896, 80 percent of the qualified voters cast ballots; in 1900 75 percent; in 1908 66 percent; in 1912 62 percent.

The forces of good government will not always win where only half of the voting population is heard from. It is a poor approach to popular government when half of the people consent to let the other half rule.

Recognizing this fact, a "National Get-Out-the-Vote Club" has been formed in Washington. It is non-partisan and will assist in the formation of local clubs throughout the country.

If such an organization will stimulate the participation of more voters in the election, it will accomplish a worthy purpose, but more than organization will be required to induce voters to take advantage of their franchise.

They will have to come to a realization of the dangers that lie in government by the minority. They must study public questions and prepare to vote intelligently. Otherwise, popular government is in a bad way.

You have good cause, then, to be alarmed about your kidneys. Do as many of your townfolk recommend. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. This Crowell case is convincing: Mrs. L. O. Sanders, P. O. Box 53, Crowell, says: "Backache caused me more trouble than anything else. My back was so weak and painful I could just about stand up at the ironing board. Sharp, cutting twinges took me when I bent over and I became run down and worn-out. Spells of dizziness were usually accompanied by blurred sight and I felt nervous. CRABBED OLD SILAS FINALLY SAW LIGHT

Reformation Really Got Him Out of Two Holes.

Silas Atkinson was as industrious as he was vindictive and crabbed. His only daughter, Martha, who lived with him in their brush home in the hills, was falling a victim to his tyranny; she bade fair to go overworked and starved to the grave as her mother had gone.

Martha found favor in the eyes of big Ben Thomas, a neighboring lad who was seldom too busy to come over for a visit; but old Silas soon stopped such nonsense.

"Now lookee here, Ben," he said. "I need Marthy's help, and I'm a-going to have it. If you'll come and hire out to me you kin see her, pervidin' you'll promise never to say a word of love or anything to keep her off her work. I'll shoot you if you play false! Will you come?"

Ben agreed and became a member of the household. Martha gained new spirit and new color, though her toll was not lightened.

"Guess he's given up marryin' and takin' her away," muttered old Silas, chuckling grimly. "Why, she's worth twice as much as she was, worth a whole man's wages and don't cost a cent! I got Ben cheap too. These two lovin' fools makes a good bargain for me!"

One June morning the two men were digging a well; Ben was working the hoist at the top, and Silas was at the bottom, digging.

Finally Ben pulled the bucket out of the hole. "Old man," he called down the well, "I've quit! Marthy and me has some important business to look after downtown. You ain't hardly safe to be trusted out just now, so I'll keep this rope up here. Now don't yell too hard, it's bad for the throat. Good-by!"

The angriest man in all the history of the hills stayed down in the well that afternoon, for no relief came in answer to his shouting.

At sunset Ben's smiling face appeared at the opening. "Old man, we've just been married. I toted fair, and I haven't said a word to her about love while I was workin' for you, but I quit this mornin', you know. It was all arranged before I come. You've stole her youth and her money all these years, but now she's got'n free and safe. You'll sign a release of your daughter and your promise to be good before you ever get out of that hole. Will you sign now?"

Old Silas would not sign! Never, never, never!

Ben yawned. "Well," he said, "I'm goin' back to the house for the night, where Marthy has our weddin' supper. Say, but it's grand! I'll come out here in the mornin' and see if you're reasonable."

He came in the morning and again at night and once more on the second morning, but Silas was still firm.

On the second night, however, the man capitulated. "I was an old fool," he said. "I robbed and was killin' her with overwork. I'll pay her up honest, though I reckon you ought to leave me here in this hole forever for what I done in the past. But say, Ben, I'd sure like to taste Marthy's weddin' cake! Do I get out?"

He got out; and the Grandpa Atkinson of later years couldn't have been finer if he had been born with a halo! —Youth's Companion.

Baby Tours in Suitcase

A customs inspector examining baggage when the Cunard liner Albania arrived recently opened what he thought was a suitcase and to his surprise a four-month-old baby smiled contentedly up at him. The extraordinary crib was well ventilated and the youngster was giving part of his time to the contents of a nursing bottle.

The parents, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Los Angeles, explained that their young son was very much at home in his new quarters. The doctor said the baby was born in Vienna. As he and his wife had to do much traveling it was a burden to carry the young son in their arms, so they had had the special case made for him. The special case is 12 inches wide and 36 inches long. The doctor said it was a safe and sanitary method of transportation, says the New York Times.

King's Train in Museum

The court train of the late King Ludwig II of Bavaria has been repaired and refitted in the state railway shops here and returned to Nuremberg, where it is kept in a railway museum.

The train cost a fortune, the car used as the king's drawing-room having been wonderfully furnished. The tables are of marble and the chairs of blue silk with heavy gold ornaments.

The ceiling of the car, too, is of gold, while the coat of arms of the Wittelsbach family and the initials of the king are displayed freely on all the cars in gold relief.

Most Prized Order

Prior to June 29, 1902, the day upon which King Edward VII would have been crowned, but for a sudden attack of appendicitis, the highest honor in his gift would, in most people's estimation, have been the Order of the Garter, and it is still the premier order of chivalry in the world. On that day, however, a new "Order" was instituted, which, for real distinction, takes precedence of any other. It is the Order of Merit, which is limited to 24 men and women of extraordinary eminence.

Human nature still runs true to form. Grandmother may bob her hair but she has a good cry when Johnnie's curls are cut off.

OLD WESTERN TRAIL IS SCENIC HIGHWAY

Stretches From Salt Lake City to Alden Gulch.

One of the attractive northwestern routes which is being improved for the increasing summer travel to the Yellowstone and Glacier National parks, traverses the old stage route of pioneer days known as the Corinne trail, leading from Salt Lake City to Alden Gulch, near Dillon, Mont. The road from Salt Lake City, starting from the Brigham Young monument, has been paved with concrete from that point through Ogden, the second largest city of Utah, and continuing 22 miles further to Brigham. A few miles beyond there is another concrete surface through Logan to Smithfield.

Crossing into Idaho, the country becomes rolling and is chiefly adapted to dry farming and stock raising. Beyond Pocatello, the great Fort Hill Indian reservation is reached, where the ruins of the first settlement in Idaho may yet be seen, the site being an old Hudson's Bay trading post. At Idaho Falls, in the Snake River valley, the road leads toward Yellowstone park by way of Rexburg. This is the region which was explored by Lewis and Clark in 1805, and is the original home of the Blackfoot tribe of Shoshone Indians.

The road then enters the mountains, according to a description in the Concrete Highway Magazine, winding through the Targhee National forest and excellent trout streams to West Yellowstone. Toward the west is a magnificent wilderness where the headwaters of the Missouri river have their origin. Following the Centennial valley to Monida and Dillon, the town of Arnostead is passed, where there is a fine memorial erected by the women of Montana in memory of the squaw, Sacjeweia, who piloted Lewis and Clark through the territory.

Just beyond Dillon, the site of the State Normal college, is Bozeman, the first capital of Montana. At this spot gold was discovered and at Hangmen's gulch the Vigilants rid the state of bandits.

Through the Big Hole valley, then across the Continental divide into the beautiful Bitter Root valley, the highway continues to Missoula, the center of western Montana and the home of the state university. Northward, the road crosses the Flathead Indian reserve, where buffalo still range, and penetrates the land of the Selkirk, peace-loving Indians who still live in native picturesque. A splendid road follows the western shore of Flathead lake, the largest body of fresh water in the United States, excepting the Great Lakes. Beyond the lake are the stupendous, snow-capped peaks of the Lingulem and then Kallispell is reached, the gateway to the Glacier National park.

A few miles beyond the boundary line is crossed in Canada and the road continues north along the recently completed Banff-Windermere road through virgin mountain and forest country to Lake Louise and Banff, the Switzerland of America.

Ear Splitting Silence

Flynn and O'Leary were employed as extra men in the repair shop of a large hardware concern. The "boys" were all old friends and they jostled and sang and whistled without letup. Said Flynn: "This is the noisiest place I ever worked in, Pat." Said O'Leary: "I believe, ye, Mike. The only time it's quiet here is when some one starts the gas engine and drowns th' noise."—Good Hardware.

Solid Bridges

In building highways through the mountainous regions of Colorado a queer bridge is being used in spanning the arroyos—the dry creeks that carry water only after rains, which often overflow on short notice. The ordinary type of concrete and steel bridge poorly withstands these floods. To do away with this the highway engineers, instead of bridging the creek in the usual way, are building a solid base of concrete to the bottom of the arroyo and laying the grade on top of it. Culverts are built through the concrete of a sufficient capacity to carry off ordinary drainage.

At flood periods the water, as it rages down the arroyos and meets one of these concrete walls, simply goes over the top of it, the solid concrete base offering so firm a resistance that the risk of its being carried away is hardly to be considered. After the flood has subsided the debris is cleared off the bridge and the crossing is as good as ever.

Smoke Screen a Menace

The smoke screen, long used as a protective device for battleships, now becomes a menace to them, according to authorities of the united air service. A screen spread above a fleet of battleships by special smoke-emitters attached to fast small planes makes it impossible for the approach of the aerial bomb fleet to be observed. This enables the attacking planes to fly low, when, with sensitive finders, they pick up the doomed battleship by sound, adjust their aim and loose the bomb in safety except for the possibility of a chance shot fired blindly against the pull of smoke by the anti-aircraft guns on the ship below.

It is a strange thing to find the screen employed as a weapon of offense against the very craft which originally produced it as a defensive measure.

Irrigation's Reward

Punjab, an independent Indian state, is now a mere fringe of cultivation bordering upon the Indus river and southern Punjab. With the completion of the Sukkur barrage and Sutlej canal, however, practically 2,000,000 acres, especially adapted to wheat and cotton, will be added to the crop acreage of the state, which bids fair to become one of the richest in that region. It is estimated that the present population of 750,000 will be increased by 500,000 colonists from other parts of India.

Huge Estates Held Up Progress of Mexico

For four hundred years less than ten thousand families have owned Mexico, says Ramon F. De Negri in the Survey. I do not mean merely controlled, influenced, directed, dominated, I mean physically owned and disposed of as a personal heritage. Humboldt said, "Mexico is the country of inequity. Nowhere does there exist such a fearful difference in the distribution of fortune, civilization, cultivation of the soil and population." It was more than slavery. It was a situation where one man owned not an estate, but a state, a kingdom almost.

When the Spaniard came and settled in Mexico, he came as a conqueror into a populated country. A system of encomiendas was developed by which he took the land of the conquered people and the people to work the land he had taken.

Cortez, for instance, claimed for himself some 25,000 square miles, including 22 towns with all the lands that these towns owned and all the people that lived in them—something over 115,000 men, women and children. With this possession went all the prerogatives of sovereignty, control over life and liberty and fortune, and this estate of Cortez, like most of the other large estates of Mexico, was entitled and persisted as a unit up to the beginning of the Nineteenth century. In fact, the records show that before disinheritment was imposed this particular estate had 15 villas, 157 pueblos, 89 haciendas, 119 ranchos, 5 estancias and contained 150,000 people—all of this the personal possession of the descendants of Cortez.

Not was this the only large encomienda. Pedro de Alvarado received the district of Xochimilco with some 30,000 inhabitants. One of the favorites of the Spanish king was given what is now the entire state of Guanajuato. As early as 1572 there was 607 encomiendas. In addition, other large estates developed through one form or another. The result was that most of the free communal land holding of the days before the conquest disappeared. A small number of Spaniards owned practically all of inhabited Mexico as their private possession.

The Spanish kings at different times tried to destroy, to limit, to undermine the large estates of Mexico, but every attempt met with resistance, and many a law and decree of the king was marked by the viceroys, "Obeyed but not executed."

BALLOON ~ BALLOON-TYPE ~ HIGH PRESSURE
Built of Latex-treated Cords

TIRE building took a big step forward when the makers of United States Tires invented the Latex Process.

The added strength and wearing quality given by Latex-treated cords is something that the user of Royal Cords can tell you about from his own experience.

Royal Cords are the standard of value in cord tire equipment—even more certainly today than ever before.

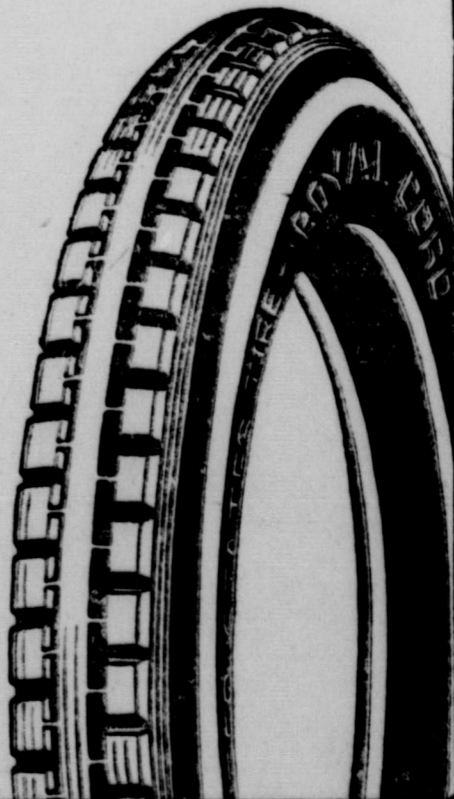

And this holds good whether you are considering a High-Pressure Tire, a Balloon-Type Tire to fit your present wheels and rims, or a Balloon Tire for a 20 or 21 inch wheel.

FOREWORD

It is with renewed confidence that the Foard County Fair Association greets the public in its fifth and biggest annual exhibition. With the present outlook for the future, what more suitable time will there be for us all to come together and promote, better production and better living in this great county of ours.
 The Foard County Fair seeks to be more than a medium for fun and frolic, although its patrons are assured a full program of entertainment, but the real purpose of the fair is to promote better living conditions, better agriculture, better home equipment, and for the demonstration of the wonderful wealth of our county and surrounding country.
 Committees will be constantly on the alert to make this the biggest and best fair we have ever had. Remember, we are at your service.
 LEO SPENCER, President.
 G. D. SELF, Secretary.

RODEO

 All means of safety will be provided. Come out and see the bronc do didoes.

OLD WESTERN TRAIL IS SCENIC HIGHWAY

Stretches From Salt Lake City to Alden Gulch.

One of the attractive northwestern routes which is being improved for the increasing summer travel to the Yellowstone and Glacier National parks, traverses the old stage route of pioneer days known as the Corinne trail, leading from Salt Lake City to Alden gulch, near Dillon, Mont. The road from Salt Lake City, starting from the Brigham Young monument, has been paved with concrete from that point through Ogden, the second largest city of Utah, and continuing 22 miles further to Brigham. A few miles beyond there is another concrete surface through Logan to Smithfield.

Crossing into Idaho, the country becomes rolling and is chiefly adapted to dry farming and stock raising. Beyond Forgiello, the great Fort Hill Indian reservation is reached, where the ruins of the first settlement in Idaho may yet be seen, the site being an old Hudson's Bay trading post. At Idaho Falls, in the Snake River valley, the road leads toward Yellowstone park by way of Rexburg. This is the region which was explored by Lewis and Clark in 1805, and is the original home of the Blackfoot tribe of Shoshone Indians.

The road then enters the mountains, according to a description in the Concrete Highway Magazine, winding through the Targhee National forest and excellent trout streams to West Yellowstone. Toward the west is a magnificent wilderness where the head waters of the Missouri river have their origin. Following the Centennial valley to Monida and Dillon, the town of Armistead is passed, where there is a fine memorial erected by the women of Montana in memory of the squaw, Sacajewes, who piloted Lewis and Clark through the territory.

Just beyond Dillon, the site of the State Normal college, is Butte, the first capital of Montana. At this spot gold was discovered and at Hangman's gulch the Vigilants rid the state of bandits.

Through the Big Hole valley, then across the Continental divide into the beautiful Bitter Root valley, the highway continues to Missoula, the center of western Montana and the home of the state university. Northward, the road crosses the Flathead Indian reserve, where buffalo still range, and penetrates the land of the Salish, peace-loving Indians who still live in native picturesqueness. A splendid road follows the western shore of Flathead lake, the largest body of fresh water in the United States, excepting the Great Lakes. Beyond the lake are the stupendous, snow-capped peaks of the Lingulem and then Kalspell is reached, the gateway to the Glacier National park.

A few miles beyond the boundary line is crossed in Canada and the road continues north along the recently completed Banff Windermere road through virgin mountain and forest country to Lake Louise and Banff, the Switzerland of America.

Ear Splitting Silence

Flynn and O'Leary were employed as extra men in the repair shop of a large hardware concern. The "boys" were all old friends and they jostled and sang and whistled without letup. Said Flynn: "This is the noisiest place I ever worked in, Pat." Said O'Leary: "I believe, ye, Mike. Th' only time it's quiet here is when some one starts the gas engine and drowns th' noise."—Good Hardware.

Solid Bridges

In building highways through the mountainous regions of Colorado a queer bridge is being used in spanning the arroyos—the dry creeks that carry water only after rains, which often overflow on short notice. The ordinary type of concrete-and-steel bridge poorly withstands these floods. To do away with this the highway engineers, instead of bridging the creek in the usual way, are building a solid base of concrete to the bottom of the arroyo and laying the grade on top of it. Culverts are built through the concrete of a sufficient capacity to carry off ordinary drainage.

At flood periods the water, as it rages down the arroyos and meets one of these concrete walls, simply goes over the top of it, the solid concrete base offering so firm a resistance that the risk of its being carried away is hardly to be considered. After the flood has subsided the debris is cleared off the bridge and the crossing is as good as ever.

Smoke Screen a Menace

The smoke screen, long used as a protective device for battleships, now becomes a menace to them, according to authorities of the united air service. A screen spread above a fleet of battleships by special smoke emitters attached to fast small planes makes it impossible for the approach of the aerial bomb fleet to be observed. This enables the attacking planes to fly low, when, with accurate fuzes, they pick up the doomed battleship by sound, and just their aim and loose the bomb in safety except for the possibility of a chance shot fired blindly against the pull of smoke by the anti-aircraft guns on the ship below.

It is a strange thing to find the screen employed as a weapon of offense against the very craft which originally produced it as a defensive measure.

Irrigation's Reward

Bahnawalpur, an independent Indian state, is now a mere fringe of cultivation bordering upon the Indus river and southern Punjab. With the completion of the Sukkur barrage and Sutlej canal, however, practically 2,000,000 acres, especially adapted to wheat and cotton, will be added to the crop acreage of the state, which bids fair to become one of the richest in that region. It is estimated that the present population of 720,000 will be increased by 500,000 colonists from other parts of India.

Huge Estates Held Up Progress of Mexico

For four hundred years less than ten thousand families have owned Mexico, says Ramon F. De Negri in the Survey. I do not mean merely controlled, influenced, directed, dominated, I mean physically owned and disposed of as a personal heritage. Humboldt said, "Mexico is the country of inequity. Nowhere does there exist such a fearful difference in the distribution of fortune, civilization, cultivation of the soil and population." It was more than slavery. It was a situation where one man owned not an estate, but a state, a kingdom almost.

When the Spaniard came and settled in Mexico, he came as a conqueror into a populated country. A system of encomiendas was developed by which he took the land of the conquered people and the people to work the land he had taken.

Cortez, for instance, claimed for himself some 25,000 square miles, including 22 towns with all the lands that these towns owned and all the people that lived in them—something over 115,000 men, women and children. With this possession went all the prerogatives of sovereignty, control over life and liberty and fortune, and the estate of Cortez, like most of the other large estates of Mexico, was entitled and possessed as a unit up to the beginning of the Nineteenth century. In fact, the records show that before disinheritment was imposed this particular estate had 16 villas, 167 pueblos, 80 haciendas, 119 ranchos, 5 estancias and contained 150,000 people—all of this the personal possession of the descendants of Cortez.

Not was this the only large encomienda. Pedro de Alvarado received the district of Xochimilco with some 30,000 inhabitants. One of the favorites of the Spanish king was given what is now the entire state of Guanajuato. As early as 1572 there was 607 encomiendas. In addition, other large estates developed through one form or another. The result was that most of the free communal land holding of the class before the conquest disappeared. A small number of Spaniards owned practically all of inhabited Mexico as their private possession.

The Spanish kings at different times tried to destroy, to limit, to undermine the large estates of Mexico, but every attempt met with resistance, and many a law and decree of the King was marked by the vicerey, "Obeyed but not executed."

U.S. Royal Cords

BALLOON ~ BALLOON-TYPE ~ HIGH PRESSURE
Built of Latex-treated Cords

TIRE building took a big step forward when the makers of United States Tires invented the Latex Process.

The added strength and wearing quality given by Latex-treated cords is something that the user of Royal Cords can tell you about from his own experience.

Royal Cords are the standard of value in cord tire equipment—even more certainly today than ever before.

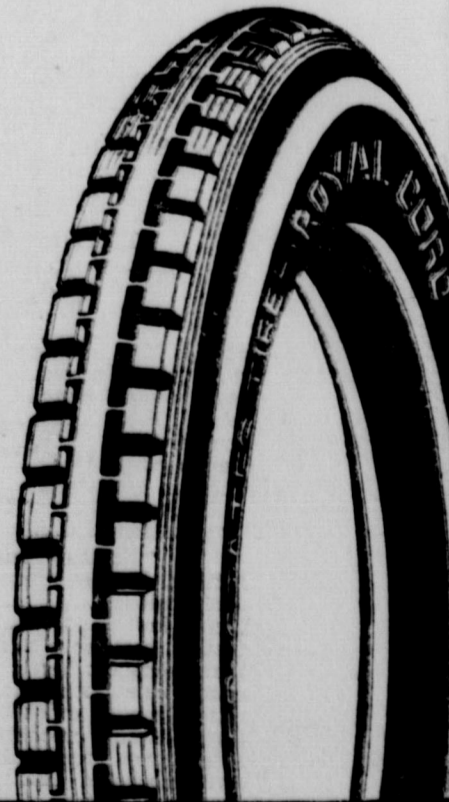

And this holds good whether you are considering a High-Pressure Tire, a Balloon-Type Tire to fit your present wheels and rims, or a Balloon Tire for a 20 or 21 inch wheel.

FOREWORD

It is with renewed confidence that the Foard County Fair Association greets the public in its fifth and biggest annual exhibition. With the present outlook for the future, what more suitable time will there be for us all to come together and promote better production and better living in this great county of ours.

The Foard County Fair seeks to be more than a medium for fun and frolic, although its patrons are assured a full program of entertainment, but the real purpose of the fair is to promote better living conditions, better agriculture, better home equipment, and for the demonstration of the wonderful wealth of our county and surrounding country.

Committees will be constantly on the alert to make this the biggest and best fair we have ever had. Remember, we are at your service.

LEO SPENCER, President.
G. D. SELF, Secretary.

RODEO

In addition to the regular Fair attractions, we have arranged to stage one of the best rodeos ever seen on the local grounds. No expense has been spared in its production. Mr. Ben Easley, old time cow man, is in charge and he knows how to produce a real attraction.

All means of safety will be provided. Come out and see the bronc do didoes.
