LETTER FROM MR. FERRIN
Mena, Ark., Aug. 4, 1924
Editor of the News and Friends:
On our way from Sulphur, Okla., to this place we traveled over the B. H., also the Lee Highway from Tishomingo, Okla., to DeQueen, Ark. This is a fine finished gravel road with the exception of eight miles east from Ft. Towson now under construction.

De Queen is the center of the peach and melon industry of Southwest Arkansas and the packing and shipping had just commenced. We were told that some nine thousand acres of the Elberta peaches were in bearing around the city. The largest orchard had three thousand five hundred acres. The season has been too dry for the maturing of the choice fruit.

Mena is a city of 4,000, the business portion in a little valley with most of the residential portion on the surrounding foothills. Quite a few of the people in the city and surrounding country came from the northern states. The people claim a wonderful climate counting the full year, and only a few mosquitos and flies the exception. We have not seen any of the latter and a very few flies. The free auto tourist camp is a full block located in a beautiful grove more than 100 feet higher than the business portion of the city and only four blocks from the business center. It is equipped with tables, seats, fine toilets with spray baths, fine city water and electric lights. Tourists that appreciate and try to do the right thing, and that is a great majority, are made welcome. Printed rules posted where all can read enables them to soon get rid of undesirable peddlers agents and show people are not supposed to use the free camp. They also have a telephone for the tourists to use. The city also has a fine park centrally located that covers four blocks, with a fine spring of cold, pure water near the center. A log house built in 1851 occupies a prominent place in this park and is almost covered with beautiful vines. It is labeled "Historical Hall."

Now while the valleys and hillsides around Mena are dotted with small farms, neither the farmers or the city folks are boasting of a great agricultural country. The thin top soil is as a rule rocky and underlaid with a stratum of shale and hard rock. All water from wells and springs as a rule is soft. One among the first people we met here was J. H. Sorrell who has a shoe shop here. Years ago when Foard was a new county he had a farm Southeast of Thalia and now says he should have stayed there as that is the best farming country he has ever seen and he has lived in several states. He mentioned many of the old settlers. Said he attended the first court trial held in Crowell. Said he left that county in May, 1892, Garret and cheap bulls, and fruit are plentiful. Corn not much good, too dry. The small fields of cotton look very well. Have not seen a darky either in city or country except two that some tourists brought with them to cook and care for the children.

MRS. MATTIE E. REYNOLDS DIED AT ENID, OKLAHOMA
Mrs. Mattie E. Reynolds, a former resident of Crowell, died Tuesday night at 8:20 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Weese, at 210 West Pine St., Enid, Okla. She was born November 9, 1866.

Mrs. Reynolds was a resident of Crowell for 15 years until five years ago when she moved to Enid. She had many friends here who will regret to hear of her death.

The deceased is survived by six children, Roy Reynolds of Crowell, Gene Reynolds of Chillicothe, Mrs. Joe Long of Crowell, Mrs. Geo. Weese of Enid, Okla., Mrs. Roy Head of Crowell, and Willie Brewer of Enid, Okla.

The funeral services will be held at the Baptist church in Crowell this afternoon at 3:30 after which interment will be made in the Crowell cemetery.

E. L. Ribble Has a Good Crop of Elbertas
E. L. Ribble last week presented the News force a large bucket of his fine Elberta peaches. They were fine and were thoroughly enjoyed by us. Many thanks, Mr. Ribble says his peaches are now ready for market.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitfield and children were here Tuesday afternoon from Vernon visiting Mrs. Whitfield's mother, Mrs. S. T. Crews Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield have recently moved to Vernon and are located at 1828 Paradise St.

Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Rascoe and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Boman left last Sunday morning for Quinlan to visit Mrs. Rascoe and Mrs. Boman's father. They will be away for a week.

PREPARATIONS ARE BEING MADE FOR BIG FAIR THIS FALL

The Foard County Fair and Rodeo committee are making arrangements for staging one of the best fairs in the history of the County. Plans are being considered for the erection of an exhibit building which will answer the needs in this respect at the present time.

One feature which will be added to the fair this fall will be the ladies department of canning, culinary and fancy work. This feature has been neglected in the past, but if plans materialize this will be one of the leading features of this year's show. Suitable prizes are offered for exhibits of this kind and competent judges will be secured to select the winners.

The agricultural department has good prizes offered in the general exhibits, and also some attractive special prizes on community exhibits. The community exhibit which wins first place will receive a cash prize of $50, second $35 and third $15. Last year there were three communities that brought exhibits and arrangements will be made for at least five this fall. There is not a community in the county that cannot afford to get a committee together and select an exhibit of the best products and bring to the County Fair.

The boys and girls agricultural and livestock clubs are to come in for special consideration. There are five free trips offered to the boys to the Dallas fair. Cameron Lumber Co. offers a free trip to the boy who shows the best record on poultry. M. S. Henry and Co. offers a free trip to the girl who shows the best record on poultry. Each member who competes for these prizes must show a pen of birds and have their record book complete.

Geo. Smith Lumber Co. offers a free trip to Dallas Fair to the boy who raises the best acre of milo maize. Swain's Garage offers a free trip to the boy who raises the best acre of feterita. Self Motor Co. offers free trip to the Fair to the boy who raises the best junior pig. Crews-Long Hardware Co. offers free trip to the boy who grows the best senior pig. In all of the prizes, exhibits must be shown at the fair and record books accompany the exhibits. This should be a good incentive to the boys and girls of the county to make their club work count. There are 125 boys and girls in the county that have been enrolled in club work during the year.

The amusement side of the fair will not be neglected in the least. The Rodeo will be under the management of J. B. Easley, and he has assured the committee that a first class rodeo will be staged for two days. There will be other forms of amusement that will be worked out. It has been suggested that a historical pageant be presented at this fair which will show the development of Foard county from the time of the Indians until the present time, or from the time when it took all of the street for a cowboy to ride in until the present time when it takes all the street for an ex-cowboy to turn his twin-six in.

The County Fair is an institution for the development of the county from an agricultural standpoint, from a commercial standpoint, and from a social standpoint. It belongs to all the people and if it is to be a success all of the people must help to put it over. Why not have the best county fair we have ever had this year?

W. T. Rasor Reports First Cotton Opening
The first cotton that is opening that we have heard of is that at the home place of W. T. Rasor one mile west of town. Mr. Rasor was in town Wednesday morning and stated that he had found a number of open bolls in the 6-acre patch belonging to his daughter, Mrs. F. A. Davis. Mr. Rasor is very optimistic concerning the cotton crop. He says the stalks are full of bolls and he thinks the country will make a big crop.

Texas-Oklahoma Fair Being Advertised
J. M. Harrison, of Wichita Falls, advance advertising matter for the Texas-Oklahoma Fair Association, was here last Saturday distributing advertising matter for the Texas-Oklahoma Fair which will be held in Wichita Falls from Sept. 29 to October 5th.

Mr. Harrison says the Fair will be bigger and better in every way and will be thoroughly advertised and immense crowds are expected to be in attendance every day of the big show.

The latter part of last week B. F. Ivie moved his filling station and wholesale oil business from the Ringgold building to the new building he has just completed on North Main St. Mr. Ivie is well pleased with his new location, being much better equipped now to handle his business.

Oil Field in Reagan County Great Boon To Orient Railroad

According to J. M. Rutherford of Chillicothe, tax commissioner and general agent for the traffic department of the Orient lines, who was in town Monday on business, the big oil field in Reagan and Unton counties will save the Orient railroad. The field is located 15 miles west of Big Lake in Reagan County and 12 miles north of Rankin in Unton County.

In speaking of the production Mr. Rutherford said that about two wells are flowing 1500 barrels each per day. He also said that about ten days ago a well was brought in that flowed 3,000 barrels per day, and these new wells are increasing in flow every day. It is expected that two other good wells will be brought in just as soon as tankage can be secured to take care of the production.

Mr. Rutherford says the Orient is hauling 17 tanks of oil per day and this will be increased in a short time to 25. The road is putting on a special train the first of September from Sweetwater to Best to handle Pullman cars from Fort Worth and Dallas. This will enable people going from Fort Worth to the oil fields to get on the Pullman in Fort Worth and wake up in Best without being disturbed.

This increased tonnage and traffic, according to Mr. Rutherford, will aid greatly in saving the Orient from the junk pile and in time will no doubt put it on good financial basis.

Another thing about this new business is that it is originating in a sparsely settled country along the Orient line where heretofore hauling has been light, making the operation of the road in that section a burden.

Mr. Rutherford stated that there was no doubt but that the Orient would continue to do business.

Honoring Miss Rasor
Mesdames Kenner, Allison and McKown complimented Miss Lena Rasor with a beautiful miscellaneous shower last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. N. Kenner. The house was attractive with decorations of daisies and ferns with the same color motif artistically arranged for the throne of the bride.

Soft music was played during the time guests were arriving, registering in the bride's book, and being served to punch. A short programme was given by Mrs. George D. Self and Francis Campbell. At the first strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus little Miss Dorothy McKown and Master Sam Crews Jr. marched in slowly; pulling a symbolic miniature filling station very prettily decorated in the color motif, with white bachelorette buttons in front representing the pot plants of the pattern station. They drew this to the throne of the bride and she carefully lifting the top was surprised to find in the place of the usual articles found in a filling station, many beautiful gifts. She in her sweet way expressed her appreciation for friends.

Mrs. Charley Ferguson very sweetly presided as toastmistress, and toasts were given by Misses Brian, Coates and Sloan, to the bride, bride's mother and to the girls left behind. Refreshments were served to seventy-five guests.—A Guest.

FLOUR

If anyone was forced to live on one item of food alone he had rather that item would be bread, because bread is truly the staff of life.

Since bread is so important, then, it is essential that particular attention be given to the quality of the flour one uses with which to make that bread. We have been guided by that thought in our search for the best flour to be found and we think we have succeeded. We will not permit ourselves to be outclassed in this important item. Therefore we have recently added to our stock of groceries the famous made at McKinney, Texas. It may not be necessary to tell you that this is one of the superior brands of flour, of course we want you to know that before you buy, but a better proof that it is all that is claimed for it is that it bears the severest test and you are to be the judge.

Back of every sack is a guarantee and you take no chances. Try a sack of White Billows and you will try another.

Marshall Will Make A Strong Fight In Run-Off

In a statement to the press Tuesday morning Judge John C. Marshall of Quanah, who was second in the July 26 primary for the nomination for state senator, announces that he will enter the run-off primary and make a determined campaign. He also discusses several rumors that he says were circulated against him in the first primary. His statement follows:

"You may state to the readers of your paper and the voters of the 23rd senatorial district that I am going to be in the run-off for state senator and that I fully expect to win on August 23rd, 1924. I am very thankful to my friends that stayed with me in the last election and have no hard feeling against those that voted for my opponents, and will forgive them entirely after August 23, because I believe that a majority of them will be for me in the run-off.

"There was several rumors spread during the campaign regarding my position on taxation matters that are untrue; there was a rumor spread among the oil men of the district that I voted for a five per cent gross production tax on oil during the 36th legislature and also the 37th legislature. All of these rumors were untrue, because I was not even a member of the 38th legislature and I never at any time voted for or was I at any time in favor of a five per cent tax on oil, but I did vote for a two per cent gross production tax passed by the 36th legislature that we now have. However, the house journal of the 36th legislature shows that I first voted for all amendments offered for a lower tax than the two per cent, but after I found out that the two per cent tax would be satisfactory to the majority of the oil men of the state, I then voted for the two per cent tax.

"I am still fighting for an equal and uniform mode of taxation for state purposes; for economy and efficiency in handling state affairs; for better schools and better roads; for efficient management of the penitentiary system; for abolishing all unnecessary departments and for combining those that can be with others, and for the doing away with three head managements of any department.

"I have stated all over this district during my campaign that I was not a member of the Ku Klux Klan, that I had never joined or attempted to join the same, and I am not a member of such organization now. I have stated to the people of this district that I would go to the senate absolutely free from any promise to any one or any organization to be for or against them and if I am elected, I will not go there tied to any one or to any organization whatsoever, but free to vote for and work for such measures as I think is right and proper and will be in position to give everyone that fair and square deal that all are entitled to have.

"I have never tried to get anyone's vote by promising that I would vote for or against anything that they might want; but I have said and still say that if I am elected I will give every one a fair hearing and will work and vote for that which I believe to be just and fair to the people of this district. I believe that labor should have and be given a fair and square deal in all matters and that the man who earns his living by his labor has as much right to join an organization for the purpose of helping his cause as the lawyer, doctor, merchant or any one else. I believe that the farmers should be given all the needful legislation possible to assist them in the marketing of their products and I shall be for any law that will assist them in doing so. I am for a strict enforcement of all laws of this state. If we have a law that should not be enforced, we should repeal it, and will work and vote for any law that will make this state a better place to live in.

"I am opposed to any additional taxation at this time, because I firmly believe that our present revenues are amply sufficient for all purposes if economically and efficiently handled. In short, I shall have one aim only—to serve the people of the 23rd district intelligently, honestly and faithfully."

Saved Lambing Loss

Almost every imaginable business depends in some way on the weather. A sheep raiser was ready to send a flock of rams to the range lands, but, having previously suffered losses at lambing time, inquired of the local weather bureau station of the United States Department of Agriculture for weather conditions on his range 144 days from the date of the arrival of the rams. The weather could not be predicted that far in advance; but curves showing mean daily minimum temperatures and latest spring killing frosts indicated a period of relative safety beginning shortly after May 20. His previous losses had occurred when the lambs were dated prior to May 15, as had been warranted on another range. Since that injury, two successful seasons have followed in those herds, the lambs being brought in late May or early June, as suggested by the weather records.

Honors in Store

The dignities that confront the elder brother are usually appalling to the small sister, and there is a little girl in Baltimore who has been giving the subject much careful attention. She electrified the family at breakfast on one occasion by announcing:

"Next year Samuel will be a lawn-mower. I wonder why they call him that."

"A lawn-mower?" echoed the astonished mother. "What do you mean?"

"That is what you told me," replied the little maid, gravely. "This year he was a freshman. Next year he'll be a lawn-mower, and then a janitor and then a senior. And then he'll graduate."—Baltimore Sun.

The problem of the court is not so much to punish criminals as to sap law violations by "respectable" citizens.

Double-Barreled Service

WHEN you buy IHC machines, you also buy the Service that goes with them—the co-operation that exists between us and the International Harvester Company, and which we intend to continue with you. We expect to hold your confidence in the IHC line by furnishing the best implements, machines and farm operating equipment on the market.

We render to you a double-barreled Service in not only supplying you with first-class goods, but in seeing that these goods are kept in perfect running order long after the original sale is forgotten.

Our moral obligation does not stop with the original sale, but you can hardly expect us to assume any responsibility for the successful operation of IHC machines if you buy imitation repairs of inferior quality instead of buying genuine IHC Repairs.

We sell only genuine IHC Repairs made by the Harvester Company, and which are made of the same materials as used for the original machines. No imitation equals the genuine. Play safe!

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS

KIMSEY & KLEPPER, Owners and Publishers

Crowell, Texas, August 15, 1924.

It is none too soon to begin to boost our Foard County Fair. Those who have exhibits to make should now be preparing and those who have none, can be talking and boosting so that by the opening date, September 9th, everything will be in readiness for the largest and best county fair Foard County has ever had. In addition to the splendid premiums offered, the pride of the bountiful crops produced in Foard County this year, should be inducement enough to insure a splendid display of farm products. The new feature that has been added—the exhibit of women's work, canning, cooking, needle work, etc.—promises to be of especial interest. Nothing is being left undone to make this year's fair a success in every way.

Are you attending the revival at the Methodist church? If so, you are being uplifted and encouraged by the splendid sermons and good music. If not, you are missing an opportunity to help yourself, your church and your town. The object of this series of meetings is to strengthen the church life and to reach the unconverted of Crowell. In an undemonstrative, unassuming way, Bro. Willett is preaching the old time gospel and if you have not already done so, avail yourself of the opportunity to hear him. Your presence might help more than you know.

Notwithstanding the fact that this section of the State has had little rain for the last three weeks, crops are holding up fine. Cotton is looking well and feed is ripening rapidly and the indication is that the crop will be fair. We are between two sections that approach extremes, North Texas, which is very dry and the Panhandle, which has been having pretty plenty rain.

Still the speeder is with us. It is one of the most surprising things in the world why one will risk his life going at breakneck speeds. And that, too, in the face of the fact that every day someone is either getting killed or crippled in automobile accidents. It would not be so bad if the lives of others were not endangered.

SHOWING GRATITUDE

Service is an expression of gratitude. It is prompted by a spirit of charity. It can not be rendered where satisfaction of selfish greed is unimpaired.

This is something that should not be forgotten while Foard County is in the midst of the most bounteous harvest in many years.

We should be grateful to the Giver of All Things and give expression to our gratitude by being of some service to others less fortunately situated.

As the products of the soil and man's labor are being harvested, it would not be amiss to reflect that God's storehouse is unlimited and what we utilize of it is in proportion to our understanding and the use we make of His gifts.

In acknowledgement of the way in which we should give expression to our gratitude in some form of service.

Performing a service does not mean a physical act. Some of us can be of greater service by being happy and optimistic; by no longer being grouchy, pessimistic, complaining and selfish. It doesn't require a large bank account to be of service—a cheerful word, a kind deed, a thoughtful consideration of others, may be the way in which you may function.

Never must the fact be lost sight of that we receive a proportion to our gifts—that we cannot expect to profit any more than we help others to profit.

The theory that the world owes us a living has been proved a delusion, though some still follow it. For what we receive, we must pay in kind, and if we do not acknowledge our blessings, we are very apt to suffer—a suffering brought upon us by avarice.

Thus, as the crops are being harvested and farmers have prospects of receiving much more money for the products of the farm, let no one lose sight of the fact that our profits are measured in terms of service, and that we can not expect to prosper unless we give as we receive.

THE HAT'S DAY

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

A HAT is very well behaved. Most all the time. When friends have raved about your hat, it looks so nice, and even tried to learn the price, a hat is never mean nor proud. It bows its head, when yours is bowed, and acts the very way that you. When you are complimented, do,

But I have often noticed that there's something strange about a hat. For now and then it acts so queer. It's quite astonishing, my dear. For now and then the winds arise, and then right off your head it flies, and you must run and chase it then before you catch your hat again.

A hat is well behaved until its friend the Wind comes up the hill and then it wants to romp and run and fly away and have its fun. A hat will be as nice and good as anybody ever could. And then it ups and blows away—For even hats must have their day.

Anthracite Substitute

Construction of an oven that turns lignite into a substance with heating properties similar to anthracite has resulted from experiments conducted by the bureau of mines co-operating with the University of North Dakota and the Canadian government. Four years ago congress appropriated $100,000 to carry on our experiments. Lignite char should be available in periods of hard coal famine that may occur in the future.

People who lead the procession have a habit of not looking back.

Composer's Comedy

The book of Richard Strauss' new comic opera, "Intermezzo," has been based by its librettist upon an incident in the composer's life.

One day Strauss was playing cards when he was advised of his wife's intention to sue for a divorce. He at once made inquiries and discovered that he was accused of being over-friendly with a pretty girl, who alleged to the lawyers that she had arranged to meet the composer in a cafe the next afternoon. Strauss denied the appointment, but turned up at the cafe, where he learned that a young musical conductor had been impersonating him.

Domestic harmony was restored, and Hermann Bahr, the librettist, utilized the story for the new opera—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Smoke and Sunlight

Recent tests in Paris with an instrument that measures accurately the amount of sunlight received from moment to moment have shown that when the smoke of the city blocks over the place of observation the intensity of the sunlight is cut down more than 23 per cent below its value when the wind blows the smoke in the other direction. Sunlight is so valuable to health that this is a matter of considerable importance to city communities. It is an other argument, possibly the best one for careful attention to smoke prevention.

Call for War on Rat

Seldom do people realize the danger of the rat as being the destroyer of food and property and spreader of disease. Certain it is they must, eat to live and they are very vicious when unable to obtain food.

Although during the winter months due to the fact that the severe weather drives hungry rats into the homes, the spring is usually the worst time for these pests. They sometimes attack children and even grownups. Rats can and should be killed by all citizens cooperating in the necessary work of extermination.

A STEP FORWARD

It has been charged frequently that we are a "Nation of sixth graders" because of the looseness of our governing compulsory education.

This is a matter that is being taken within the province of the state, many have been negligent in making legislation to prevent the eradication of child labor.

Kansas and Wyoming have added to their state laws the requirement that children shall remain in school until they have finished the eighth grade, or until they have reached the age of sixteen.

Indiana has had a law for many years providing that no school child shall be employed in any gainful occupation and kept out of school until he is sixteen years old, without a permit from the school authorities allowing the deviation from the statute.

States behind in their educational ideas have been slow to adopt the method, but gradually they are awoken to the need of giving children an eight grade education, at least even though compulsion is required.

RAILROAD TALK

Col. and Mrs. C. H. Powell left Wednesday for Fort Worth. From there the Col. will go to Chicago, Washington and New York on business relative to the building of the Texas Pacific handle and Gulf railroad. Army may get in touch with him by cable on the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce Secretary, E. G. Barks.

His mission on this trip is to get everything in readiness for the hearing of the proposed line before the Interstate Commerce Commission the first of October. He says that the road is going to be built no ifs and abouts.

The selling of preferred stock on the line is going nicely, and it looks like everything in the way of financial plan and data would be in readiness to present a case, before the august body—the Interstate Commerce Commission—that would be decided to turn down—Tulsa Herald.

BOTH HAVE RIGHTS

There would be fewer accidents if motorists and pedestrians would each remember that the other has certain well defined rights on the streets.

Observance of these rights will solve many of the problems that arise from congested streets.

And congestion is a problem on every "Main street" in America. It is no longer confined to the large cities, because with the general use of the automobile, there is no community that can not either boast of or condemn its traffic problem.

Some pedestrians are just as liable to forget that the motorist has certain well defined rights on the streets, just as the motorist is prone to be neglectful in recognizing the rights of the pedestrian.

Automobile drivers should not be privileged to detain pedestrians at street corners for an unnecessarily long period and neither should pedestrians be allowed to hold up a long line of automobiles, which increases the danger of accidents.

It is scarcely fair for the pedestrian to dart in front of a moving
