Foard County Has Largest Delegation at Club Encampment

Foard County had the biggest delegation of boys at the club encampment at Vernon last year and surpassed all the other counties this year again. There were present at this encampment at Vernon 38 boys and 7 adults, making 45 in all from this county. Nine counties were represented.

It was a great time for the boys and according to reports they enjoyed the three days at Vernon and were much profited.

Adults attending from Foard County are: Tom Cates, J. G. Thompson, John Wozencraft, Tom Abston, Jim Jordan, J. R. Coffman, G. W. Scales.

From the nine counties comprising the district there were 170 boys and 55 adults. The counties included in the district are Wilbarger, Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Baylor, Childress, Wichita, Cottle and Motley. Foard County furnished one-fifth of the number making up the encampment.

Lee Highway Bridge Work Soon to Begin

Engineers have been busy for the past week taking soundings in Red River preparatory to beginning construction on the bridge which is to span the river at the Lee Highway crossing between here and Davidson, and construction will likely start sometime next week, according to County Engineer, John Nabers.

Construction will be pushed now, according to reports from the company in charge of the work. Until the recent ruling of the attorney general, it was feared that a re-routing of the Lee Highway might result from the construction of the toll bridge. It was because of the routing of this national system through this section that pressure was brought to bear for the construction of the Red River toll bridge, and a free bridge within a short distance of this point would have made the completion of construction a risky financial undertaking. Since the ruling of the attorney general in regard to the building of free bridges across Red River, there is little fear of a free span being erected.

J. A. and J. L. Staley, Wichita Falls financiers, who are building the bridge to be operated as a toll proposition have specified that the span will be finished by October 1.—Vernon Record.

Sewer Bonds Carry in Tuesday's Election

On account of an error in the election notice when bonds were voted some months ago it became necessary to have a new election. In the meantime work has been going forward on the sewerage just as if the election was all right, but to make it legal it was necessary to order a new election, correcting the error. The election was held Tuesday and carried 84 to 6. There was never any question that it would carry and so there was little or no risk in going forward with the work.

Fair progress is being made in the digging of the ditches and by the time fall comes the system ought to be in operation.

Recovering from Kick of Horse 3 Weeks Ago

Mrs. B. J. Glover happened to the accident three weeks ago of getting kicked by a horse on one of her legs, the wound being serious enough to require several stitches, but after a few days in bed she was able to get up and was in town Saturday. The doctor said she was getting along fine and was practically well.

Preacher Points Out Influence of the Home

"Home Religion" was the subject of the sermon delivered by Rev. J. A. Shurtleff, pastor of the Presbyterian church here Sunday.

"Everything good begins in the home," said the preacher. Not only is that true, he said, but everything bad begins there. He pointed out that God is the authority for the home institution and that he created the first home in the world. And it was God who ordered it government, rules and regulations, and that these being followed, good influences go out from the home. Where these are violated bad influences result and sin creeps in and robs the home of the good things that rightfully belong to it. He spoke of the need of consistency in life and said that there is no power and strength in a home where faithfulness to the home as a divine institution is not as great as it is in the church. Men are tried and persecuted, he said, who stand for the right, but he can accomplish his purposes only through those who stand four-square for God. Such men as Abraham were pointed out as examples.

The home must be well ordered. Parents must see the pitfalls into which their children are liable to go and throw themselves in the way to prevent their indulgence in sin. There is too much compromise with sin. One of the great secrets of good home influence is that parents must stand for the right and must be of the same mind and must be linked together in love.

The preacher made a plea for stronger homes—homes where the divine injunctions are observed, and indicated that therein lies the solution to the present evil tendencies of youth. The sermon was a simple message and was of a nature to cause serious men and women to think.

Fire Destroys Oil Truck Sun. Afternoon

Percy Ferguson's oil truck was almost destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. He had been to the city water pumping station with a tank of fuel oil and was returning when about a hundred yards east of J. H. Olds' home on the highway his truck suddenly became enveloped in flames. The fire department was called and the chemical truck soon extinguished the flames and saved the truck from total loss. Practically all of the wood portion was destroyed and 4 tires, 2 new ones on the rear wheels and two spare tires. The engine was not injured very much.

It is thought the fire was caused by a leak of gas onto the exhaust pipe. The truck was insured.

T. A. French Enters State Cotton Contest

Fred Rennels, county agent, measured off five acres of land for T. A. French three miles southwest of Rayland on the Crisp farm, to be entered in the fewer acres cotton contest, for which prizes are offered by the Dallas News.

It is said that Mr. French has some very fine cotton and is cultivating his entire crop of 100 acres with a tractor.

RURAL CARRIERS ATTEND CONVENTION

Rural Carriers W. A. Cogdell and J. E. Atcheson are at Tyler this week attending the state convention of the rural carriers of Texas.

A letter to the News from Mr. Cogdell says they are having a very pleasant time at the convention.

He further says that cotton is much better than he expected to see it in that portion of the state. Lots of it, he says, is better than waist high and is still growing. Some good corn but usually it is sorry. There are six or eight hundred carriers at the convention, says Mr. Cogdell. They listened to Congressman Morgan Sanders speak Monday night and were to hear Senator Earl B. Mayfield Tuesday.

At the time he wrote the letter he said: "I am now in a pine grove listening to the jaybirds sing."

The News hopes that the cool breezes are whispering in the leaves of the pines also, which blended with the jaybirds warbles, makes music to the ear, like unto which westerners are not accustomed to listen—except when they go back east.

JOHN B. STETSON NAMED MINISTER TO POLAND

It was formally announced that John B. Stetson, Jr., of Philadelphia, had been appointed United States Minister to Poland. He succeeds A. J. Pearson, who becomes minister to Finland.

Says We Shall Have Rain Sept. 1st to 15th

B. J. Glover's name is now the only one connected with rain forecasts. Everybody else but Mr. Glover has long since ceased to foretell weather conditions, but for some reason he is still at it. He says, however, that the moon has failed him so often that he has quit relying on it entirely. He is now watching turtles and he has discovered that when they go with bowed heads no rain is in sight by a long shot but that when it is going to rain soon they hoist their heads and step at a pretty stiff gate. While he admits they are now traveling with their heads down and are giving no indications of rain, yet he makes a rather definite prediction that rain will come between the first and 15th of September without fail. And he says it will be some rain, too. "Oh, we will have a few showers between now and then, but the big rains will not come until then," he says.

Foard County Farmer Will Enter Dallas News Cotton Contest

Ralph Gregg will be in the Dallas News Fewer Acres Cotton Contest this fall. There will likely be one other farmer in the county enter the contest.

County Agent Fred Rennels and Surveyor J. C. Thompson, accompanied by H. L. Kimsey of the News, went over to Mr. Gregg's place Monday and measured off his five acres. Mr. Gregg cultivates a portion of the Walker farm near Rayland.

Gregg is going to have a mighty good chance to win the $1,000 in this contest. He has some very fine cotton and the five acres laid off will without doubt measure up well with the best cotton in the country. There is other good cotton in the Rayland community but it would be hard to find five acres of as good cotton in one body. It is as fine as one ever sees when the seasons are as good as are desired by the farmers.

Mr. Gregg is keeping a record, as he is required to do, and whatever yield he has will be made without irrigation. Most of the five-acre blocks are of the Half and Half variety of cotton.

Attended Baptist Encampment Last Week

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sollis returned Saturday from near Loudens where they had gone on Wednesday before to attend the Baptist encampment.

They had a very pleasant stay and enjoyed some very fine sermons by Rev. George Truett. A very large crowd has been in attendance, said Mr. Sollis, and the Boy Scouts handled the crowd and were doing it remarkably well. It is worth the time of any one to attend these meetings, according to Mr. Sollis, and we know he is right about it.

City Will Put Down Another Test Well

The city has contracted with E. G. Campsey for a site on Mr. Campsey's property west of town on which to put down a test well for water. Work will commence possibly today.

The well will be 20 feet square and will be sunk to a depth that will make it possible to make an accurate estimate of the water supply and if it proves good the water supply will be increased from that source.

There has not been a water shortage yet but it is evident that more water is certain to be needed to take care of sewerage and other increasing water demands from time to time and this step is to fortify the town against a possible shortage.

Eggs Are Cooked by Heat of the Sun

For several days last week we had very high temperature in this county, and it seems from reports that Foard County was not by itself in this respect. But it was really hot here, the mercury going as high as 108. But it was evidently much hotter than that in the sun. Evidence of that is shown by the fact that eggs were found by C. E. Gafford out in the brush that had been thoroughly cooked. The eggs were brought in and it was discovered that the first one broken was cooked and when half a dozen were examined nearly all of them were either partially or entirely cooked.

Mr. Gafford said this was the first time in his life he had ever seen eggs that were cooked by the sun's heat.

Home Near Crowell Is Destroyed by Fire

The home of C. E. Haynes, the place once owned by Jack Meason, west of town was destroyed by fire about 6 o'clock Saturday morning, the fire being caused by the explosion of an oil stove.

The Crowell fire department responded to the call for help and the fighting force rushed to the scene but it was too late to save the building.

Practically all the contents of the house were destroyed. Insurance to the amount of $1,000 was carried.

Baptist Preacher Did Not Accept Call

Rev. McDonald of San Antonio who was called to the pastorate of the Baptist church here has advised the church that he can not accept the call it extended him.

This information was given last week and it leaves the church yet without a pastor or any one in view, so far as we know.

Ferguson Bros. Have Fire Scare Friday

The fire alarm was given about 7 o'clock Friday morning to extinguish a fire in a small back room used for storage at Ferguson Bros. drug store. The wooden structure was in a mass of flames when the first truck reached the scene but the flames were soon extinguished and practically no damage other than the destruction of the small shed caused.

It is supposed to have caught from some fire in the alley by the wind's having carried a burning paper to some boxes in the shed. However, Ferguson Bros. had burned no trash that morning, but it could be accounted for in no other way, as it was about the usual time trash is burned in the alleys.

Report Hot Winds in Denton County

A letter received by the News from J. W. Cook of Pilot Point Tuesday stated that they were having hot winds in that portion of the state.

Early cotton, says Mr. Cook, is looking well where it is kept plowed shallow. Oats made about 35 bushels per acre. Corn is light and wheat was comparatively a failure.

Board Elects W. J. Morris As Teacher

The school board has elected W. J. Morris as one of the teachers in the high school for next term and he has accepted.

Mr. Morris was a teacher in the school here last year and proved himself a splendid teacher.

TYPHOID DANGER

Special conditions favorable to typhoid infection this Summer, and the actual presence of a number of cases in various localities, have induced the State Board of Health to issue a general warning regarding safeguarding of water supply. A protracted dry season has caused many families in rural districts to resort to untried sources of supply. The Board's bulletin enumerates many "symptoms," presence of any of which should lead the careful person to suspect the purity of the water. It devotes a large space to detailing methods for prevention of contamination of water in well or springs and in barrels or tanks for transportation. It mentions casually the one sure guarantee against the presence of colon bacilli in drinking water—that is boiling the water before drinking.

Typhoid is a disease of the past—that is it can not exist under modern sanitary conditions. Wherever it is found in this day there is always a history of lack of sanitary facilities and protection. That is why the disease is almost exclusively confined to the remote rural sections. Sewers and sanitation of foods have banished typhoid in the cities, as a rule, except where certain sections of the city are forced to employ "country" methods in obtaining drinking water and disposing of human excretions.

Contamination of drinking water can be reasonably guarded against, but the one sure preventative is to drink no water from an "uncertified" source unless it has first been boiled. The practice of campers, fishers, and picnickers of sometimes drinking water from surface streams and ponds is almost certain to bring typhoid germs into the system. Then all that is necessary to develop a serious case of illness is a slight weakening of the body's resistance. Typhoid is bad enough at any time. It is especially bad in Summer, when weeks spent in bed have a hardship in addition to the ravages of the disease.

It pays to be suspicious of the water one drinks. City water is "checked" at brief intervals throughout every day to determine whether the filtration system is properly eliminating bacteria. For that reason there is little likelihood of typhoid germs in the water that comes out of the taps. But other sources of supply are properly suspected.

Milk is another prolific source of typhoid. Insanitary handling anywhere along the line from the milking shed to the consumer leaves a loophole for entry of the deadly germ. For safety's sake the milk should be pasteurized. There is, of course, safe milk that is not pasteurized, but one can never be sure.—Star-Telegram.

Sheriff and Marshal Capture Man with a Stolen Car Sunday

After a chase of several hours Sheriff Campbell and Marshal Thomas ran down Dewey Wolf of Burk Burnett and captured him with a stolen Buick roadster in the breaks west of the Y Ranch Sunday.

Wolf had been in Crowell several times and at one time gave a cold check to Mack's Filling station. He passed through again last Saturday night and spent the night in the Good Creek community. Information was given that he was there and Mr. Campbell was after him because of the cold check he had given. Wolf seems to have gotten wind that he was being pursued and took to the breaks in the hope of dodging the officers and was about to succeed when he ran his car into a ditch and could not get out. It was then that Campbell and Thomas ran upon him.

The officers suspicious of the car to be a stolen one began questioning Wolf and he confessed to having stolen the car from a Lawton man at Frederick who had picked him up and left him in his car at Frederick while he had gone into a barber shop to get a shave.

Wolf is a one-legged man and is known by several parties in Foard County and Crowell.

Former Foard County Man Dies at Seymour

A message was received here by Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Roberts last Thursday stating that R. C. Hoover of Seymour had died that morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Roberts left that afternoon, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Cope of Quanah, all old acquaintances of Mr. Hoover, to attend the funeral which took place Friday, interment being in the Seymour cemetery.

Mr. Hoover came to this country with the family of J. W. Cope in the year 1888 and had made this his home since that time until about a year ago when he became very feeble and was moved to Seymour where he was taken care of by the Cope family who moved to that city a few years ago.

According to information given in the Seymour Banner, Mr. Hoover had no relatives except a niece who lives at Wichita Falls. He had made his home with the Copes a portion of the time while they lived at Crowell and for the last year they had fitted him up a good room at their home in Seymour where he was well cared for.

Mr. Hoover was 79 years of age when he died. He was a good old man and all those who knew him thought well of him.

Two New School Buildings Going Up

Brick laying started Monday morning on the new $16,000 school building at Margaret. Also the foundation was started Monday for the new frame school building at Rayland to cost about $6,000. The bonds voted for this building amount to $8,000, but that was to cover the cost of building and equipment.

Both these structures will be completed and ready for use by the time the fall term of school opens.

The evolution trial at Dayton was brought to a close a few days ago and possibly little good has been accomplished. One thing seems more certain than ever before to the general public and that is the big institutions are without doubt permitting the teaching of evolution. Its advocates also seem a little more brazen than ever but not all of them have yet announced themselves as agnostics and atheists. Mr. Bryan is to be commended for the fight he made against one of the champions of evolution and for the creditable manner in which he defended the cause of the Christian faith and the Bible account of the creation. It will be a sad day for America when her people turn from God and reject his word. It has always been true with nations as well as with individuals. There are points of agreement between the fundamentalists and the modernists, but we cannot accept the theory that our grand-daddies away back yonder were monkeys and swung from the branches of trees by the tail. The outstanding characters of history have been those who adhered to the old faith. They have been the world's benefactors, and not a single one of these "modernists" have ever given the world anything but a lot of theory.

It is reported through the daily press that Lee Satterwhite will be a candidate for Governor at the next election. Mr. Satterwhite is a good man and possibly is a very capable fellow but in all probability he aspires to the governorship a little too early. Lynch Davidson is the logical man for the anti-Ferguson forces to support in the next campaign. His strength is known and with the forces united he can be elected. Too many men in the field might give Mrs. Ferguson a good chance of election. It may be mere rumor, anyway, that Satterwhite is a candidate. We have seen no statement to that effect over his signature.

GIVE THE AUTO ITS DUE

John H. Mueller, professor of sociology at Chicago university, has laid down a severe indictment of the automobile. It takes the high school and college student from the home group and makes him an enemy of society, the professor says.

Perhaps the auto is a disturbing element in society, but never forget that it takes two to make a bargain. The auto is a temptation leading to evil ways that some young people resist, and it becomes the duty of those who are guiding boys and girls to build up a resistance against it.

Complaining about the bad influence of the automobile does not remove it as a factor to be dealt with in the rearing of children. It is a real problem, the more so because it can't be autocritically removed.

The automobile is here to stay. It can't be driven out as the open saloon was, because it has economic and social values that far outweigh the evils that are laid at its door.

Regardless of what may be said regarding the bad habits it is teaching people, young and old alike, the automobile has had a beneficent influence on many homes.

The family car, though it may have flattened the family purse, has broadened the viewpoint and increased the knowledge of countless persons. It has enabled people of small means to get a liberal education through travel. It has taken people into the fresh air, where they have found their first contact with outdoor things. It has changed the courses of many lives by cultivating outdoor habits and an appreciation of nature and all its beauties.

The automobile isn't perfect, of course, since it is only the product of man's genius, but it is not wholly disreputable, though it may be acquiring a bad reputation for leading young people into paths they should not follow.

REV. FULLER AND HIS FAMILY IN MOUNTAINS

Rev. J. M. Fuller and family left last week for the mountains of New Mexico. A card was received by H. E. Ferguson yesterday morning from Bro. Fuller said he was not feeling the best and would likely move to an altitude not quite so high.

I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. I didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights. My mother used to take

Jim Minnick Best Horse Trader Says Will Rogers

Today, newspapers from New York to Los Angeles are proclaiming that Jim Minnick, of Oklahoma City, is "the best horse trader that ever lied without showing it."

That assertion is made by Will Rogers, of Claremore, famous humorist, Follies star, newspaper writer, and unwilling candidate for governor of Oklahoma.

Old timers recalled Saturday that on a day some 20 years ago three cowboys sat on a fence along the railroad track near old Wheeler Park, swapping yarns.

One of the three was idly twirling a rope and chewing a huge wad of gum.

The second was diligently whittling a pine stick.

The third was watching the whirling rope, and his air was critical.

Suddenly he climbed down from the fence, jerked the lariat from the hands of the gum-chewer, and put it through a deft series of trick whirls that fairly made the hempen coils sing.

"There you are, Will," he said. "Sometimes I think you never will learn how to handle a rope."

The gum-chewer, as you may have guessed, was Will Rogers. The whittler was Tom Mix, now a noted movie actor.

And the rope expert was Jim Minnick.

Minnick's home is at 1328 W. 21st street. But he wasn't there Saturday. In fact, he seldom is at home, for he spends most of his time traveling over the United States, playing polo and selling ponies.

He is as well known, in his line, as Rogers and Mix are in theirs. His line is breeding, training and selling polo ponies.

In the parlor of Minnick's Oklahoma City home are 25 shining cups and trophies, testifying to his ability as a polo player. If the room was larger, there would be more, for there are a dozen additional cups of various sizes and shapes stored away in a back room. Aside from these, numerous other trophies were destroyed when Minnick's ranch house in Texas burned a few years ago.

The cups, as their inscriptions show, were won at the most famous polo clubs in the country, east and west.

Minnick's latest victory was at Colorado Springs last week. Playing at No. 3 position for the Wichita, Kansas, team, he helped to defeat the Broadmoor polo club in a hotly contested tournament.

Because Oklahoma City has no polo club, Minnick is what is known as a courtesy player, playing in various teams by invitation. His present polo string consists of 23 ponies, nine of which are with him in Colorado.

AUTO TIRE PRICES

Anything that affects the price of automobile tires gets close to the average man's pocketbook.

Tires are a commodity that many people have to buy and when the price goes up rapidly, as it has recently, the gentleman who is known as the ultimate consumer is going to raise a terrible fuss.

The crux of the situation is the control of the rubber supply. England is reputed to control 90 per cent of the world's rubber and the United States uses 75 per cent of all the rubber sold.

The charge has been made that England is boosting the price of crude rubber in order to make the United States pay the British war debt.

Regardless of whether the accusation has any foundation in fact, there is no denial that it is not entirely probable, and that the United States may be at the mercy of the English rubber producers.

We must have automobile tires and we want to buy them as cheaply as they can be made. The only hope for automobile owners lies in the experiments with rubber plantations in Florida.

FARM MARKETING SALESMANSHIP

Address By Former Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson, Delivered Before Houston Salesmanship Club, Houston, Texas.

Show me the man who is a good home provider and, with few exceptions, I will show you a good citizen. It was said by Napoleon, one of the greatest military geniuses of his age that "An army travels on its stomach," meaning of course, that it must be fed and provided for or else it would not travel.

So it is in all walks of life, and that calls for individual economic independence. It calls for man to first provide for his own security, but not selfishly. Individual economic independence creates good citizens, and upon good citizenship government depends for its existence.

If typical of its title, this organization's membership relies upon salesmanship as a means of maintenance. There are many kinds of salesmen: hardware, grocery, dry goods, lumber, steel, oil stock, cigars and cigarettes, pen and paper, peanut and pop-corn vendors, but how frequently do we ever see or hear of a real "farmer salesman." And so I have chosen FARM MARKETING SALESMANSHIP as a theme kindred to this organization and occasion.

No class of people throughout this broad land enjoy less economic independence than the farmer—the biggest business of all businesses—producing annually more new wealth than any other single business. It provides, generally speaking, poorer standards of living, less opportunity to enjoy the luxuries of life than any other single industry, and yet is the very heart, soul and backbone of the nation's prosperity.

The farmer's method of production may be unscientific and wasteful, but cost is variable—up or down, by efficient methods on the one hand, or inefficient on the other—to only a small degree. One single item of Texas farm products—cotton—within a period of less than five years, has ranged up and down in price more than 300%. I distinctly recall in one swift fluctuation it dropped from 36¢ per pound at high point down to 11¢ per pound at low point. Make the cost of production what you will, no business on earth can withstand such violent fluctuations and downward deprecations on its income. The law of supply and demand is ever present and active. Its influence may be minimized by coordinated efficient salesmanship. By the same token, speculative raids upon the farmer's income can be averted.

So long as the individual farmer, with sample in his hands, peddles his crops from door to door, his individual economic independence will be destructively violated and ruination wrought to his business—the greatest business of all—the business of farming. Salesmanship has become a science. In its most modern and advanced form it is a science of co-operation through corporations. The stockholder buys stock in a corporation—banking, manufacturing or otherwise—and immediately becomes a co-operative unit dealing in some particular product and represented by scientific salesmanship. The agricultural producer is the fundamental basis upon which the success of all such enterprise depends and upon whom your success likewise depends. We are so much concerned with establishing our own economic independence that we are apt at some point to exchange success for selfishness and forget the very basis of our prosperity—the farmer.

But economic laws work unerringly, and will destroy the basis of all prosperity—the farmer—if we continue to forget. In his own mad fight for a footing in life, the business man neglects to show the farmer's thirsty field with drops of his business experience. Farm marketing salesmanship is the silver lining to the cloud. Farm co-operative marketing organizations are fighting their feeble way to the front. They are a nucleus around which efficient scientific salesmanship may be established for the farmer. He is fundamental to our success and we should contribute to his.

He can succeed by controlling 50% of the flow of his production, and by the same means control the sale of his output. Financing is the first essential to such control. Create control through co-operation in financing and production. Control farm production and sales control of output will follow. Legislation can aid, but not cure the farmer's ills.

Co-operation of the farmer and the business man, whose interests are one and indivisible, will make the farmer salesman a familiar figure in the marts and markets of the world, and bring to the farmer much needed economic independence. The world's welfare lies in being your brother's keeper in this needed evolution in the marketing of the nation's agricultural products.

When the law finds an insane person, it puts him in the asylum—providing he isn't driving an automobile.

One of the hardest things to remember is to forget.

Bragging is coarse and boasting is genteel.

TOO MUCH THRIFT

Is it possible to have too much thrift in the land? There is a school of thinking in the country just now which believes that it is and that it has hurt business.

For some time there have been "whisperings" emanating from Washington that the federal government is overdoing the thrift business and that it is beginning to have a bad effect.

Thrift that makes people miserly ceases to be thrift and is of course not to be desired. No one would recommend stinginess as a national ideal, but avoidance of wasteful and unnecessary spending is commendable.

The government's economy policy need not stop buying, but merely set an example for thriftiness that may well be emulated by individuals. Certainly the tax reductions that have resulted in a saving of several hundred million dollars a year can not be harmful.

It merely leaves in the hands of the people the money they earned, instead of paying it out for useless employes. It gives the people the right to spend the money as they choose.

LOYALTY TO HOME

Nothing will make a man fight quicker than to tell him that he is not loyal to his country, or that his country is not worthy of his loyalty.

What is true of one's country should be equally true of the place we call home. It is hard to imagine anything more inconsistent than a man or woman living in a community to which they do not prove their undivided fealty by their daily practices.

Most everyone can think of a town or city that has grown and developed into a prosperous community because every inhabitant pulled together and worked together for its upbuilding.

Every such city is a lesson that each one may appropriate and think over as an example that might well be emulated. The lesson of pulling together can always be studied to the benefit of the individual as well as a collection of individuals making up a community. When divided, we weaken and tear down our own interests, making the business of building up the most logical one, even from a purely selfish standpoint.

This community is most happily situated, and people who call this home need only to look about them and count the advantages that are to be found here. With such a setting, there is no reason why the community should not be prosperous.

And it will be prosperous and contentment will abound just in proportion as we as individuals make it such by pulling together; by standing for home institutions; by supporting those enterprises that enlarge community life by enlarging wholesome activities. This is loyalty to home—loyalty to our merchants, to our schools, our churches, our industries and our farms. These are the things that make life in every community worth while. Loyal people will support them.

Even though the dresses are "skimpy," father may take solace in the fact that it takes less goods to make them.

He who boasts about being better than his neighbors may have to prove it some day—and then he will be in difficulty.

Dr. J. M. Hill and family left Monday morning for the mountains. They will likely stop somewhere in New Mexico. They may go on to Colorado. They were not definitely decided, it seems, as to where they would stop. Dr. Hill will be gone only a short while but his family expect to remain in the mountains until September.

T. F. Welch and family returned Tuesday from Anna, Prosper and other points in Collin County, visiting the parents of Mr. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Welch, and the parents of Mrs. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McLain. Mr. Welch says cotton is fair in Collin County. Feed and corn in the bottom lands was fair. He says the lands that have been cultivated for years show that they are becoming weaker.

Effective Combination

The tramp shuffled aimlessly down the road, occasionally glancing up at the houses on either side.

At last the old fellow spotted a house with a little smoke issuing from its chimney. Instantly he made his way to the front door and knocked, at the same time noticing a brass plate bearing the name: "I. A. M. Newlywed."

The door opened and a young man confronted the tramp.

"Well," he said, "what do you want, work or breakfast?"

"Both, if you please, sir!" replied the tramp.

The young man disappeared into the house and returned, bearing a loaf of homemade bread.

"Here," said he, "eat this and you'll have both!"

Prospector's Rich Find

A flying base at the junction of the Peace, Findlay and Parsnip rivers has been established. This marks the first step in the aerial invasion of the mineralized triangle bordered by the Yukon, Northwest territories and Alaska, and is the result of seventeen years' long prospecting by Frank Perry, engineer, of Vancouver. He says he has found large deposits of coal and iron; one coal seam, he says, measures 800 feet across the strike, while the largest iron seam met with ran to about 200 feet. He also says he has discovered a semitropical valley close to the Yukon boundary, fed by hot springs and rivers of hot water which do not permit of freezing. Perry tells of having found also gold, silver and copper close together, but in different formations.
