SONG REVIVAL NOW UNDERWAY AT M. E. CHURCH

Despite inclement weather, much interest is being shown in the series of meetings at the Methodist Church here Monday from 7 to 9 p. m. The meetings, known as "Song Revival and Inspirational Singing," will continue until Friday, June 4.

Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine, pastor of the church, opened the meeting Sunday in Mr. Harrison's absence, and the revival a good start with excellent services at both the morning and evening hour. He is also forwarding splendid co-operation in connection with making the meeting successful.

Mr. Harrison is an unusual type of religious worker. He is not a preacher, but brings effective services in story and song. In this type of work, he is one of the most capable individuals that has ever come to Crowell. His services have a direct appeal to children and young people and are equally interesting to the old.

One of the principal purposes of the revival is to bring religious messages to children in a manner more effective to them than can be accomplished in ordinary church and school work.

Special services for children are being held at 9 o'clock each morning. A young people's meeting takes place at 7 p. m. and at 8 o'clock services begin for everybody.

People of all denominations are invited to attend the meetings and enjoy the advantage offered by the new type of programs being given by Mr. Harrison. These programs combine musical culture, spiritual development, education and entertainment and should prove of much benefit to the community in general.

GEORGE MOFFETT LABORING ON REP. MEASURE

George Moffett of Chillicothe, representative of the 114th district of the Texas Legislature, is making every effort to secure favorable action before the close of the present session of the Legislature on a bill proposing an amendment to the Texas constitution, whereby no county in Texas would be permitted to have more than six members in the house of representatives.

Mr. Moffett is the author of this measure and has persistently struggled for it since he has been in the legislature. Two years ago this bill passed the House by a large majority, but lacked only two votes in securing the necessary two-thirds majority in the Senate. Had it passed that body, it would have been submitted to the voters of Texas.

In framing and fighting for this resolution, the legislator from this district has done remarkable work. All of the big city papers are against the proposal and most of them have condemned it, except the Dallas News. In referring to this bill the Dallas News recently commented: "It is seldom that a case is so well briefed and documented for the enlightenment of the Legislature as this proposal."

Forty-five of the 48 state constitutions in the United States were examined by Mr. Moffett in connection with the work of framing this resolution. After careful investigation he found that over thirty states have a definite provision in the constitutions which limit and keep the big counties from having an undue proportion of membership in the law-making body of the state. Mr. Moffett contends that since the membership of the Texas House has always been fixed and limited to not more than 150, therefore no one county should have more than six members.

"This is a matter of much importance to the people who live out in Northwest Texas," he stated. "Our present setup of government is gradually drifting toward centralization of power and authority in the big cities. I am strongly opposed to this centralization. The vote of the big cities has become so large that they practically control the selection of our state officials. There is no way to stop that, but I do propose to put a limit on the number of members that the big cities have in the Legislature, that makes the laws under which we all must live," he added.

Mr. Moffett explains that no county in Texas has more than six members now, yet a bill introduced in the last two sessions of the Legislature would give one county 9 members, another 8 and another 7.

It will be an unhappy day in Texas when a few counties become dominant in the House and that day approaches so fast that the method he proposes to stay its advance is not premature, according to Mr. Moffett. During the last decade rural popu-

Farm Mortgage Bill Will Benefit Many Foard Co. Farmers

The new emergency farm mortgage bill which was recently signed by President Roosevelt is designed greatly to ease the farm mortgage situation. Sixty days after May 12, the day the bill was signed, rates of interest on all Federal Land Bank loans in good standing will be reduced to 4 1/2 per cent. This rate will apply for the next five years.

About 250 Foard County farmers having loans from the Federal Land Bank will be directly affected by this measure. Other ways in which this farm mortgage bill will ease the farm mortgage situation are: temporarily waiving the requirement of payment on principal; continuance of extensions on Federal Land Bank loans where desirable and necessary; providing Federal Land Bank bonds for refinancing farmers' debts; sharply curtailing the volume of foreclosures; and providing loans to Joint Stock Land Banks to facilitate their orderly liquidation.

Prizes of a substantial nature will be given for the first, second and third best saddle horses brought to Crowell on Trades Day, Monday, June 5. Last Trades Day $5.00 in cash was given to Fred Reithmayer for having the best span of mules in Crowell on that day.

At a meeting of the Farmers and Business Men's Ass'n. on Tuesday night of this week it was voted to give prizes this month for the best saddle horses. Chas. Gafford, W. B. Ysinger and H. E. Ferguson are members of the committee named to look after this matter.

Announcement of the prizes will be made in next week's issue. Other Trades Day plans will also be announced in the issue of next week.

Charles Ferguson to Secure A. B. Degree

Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ferguson of this city, will receive his A. B. degree from Asbury College and Asbury Theological Seminary of Wilmore, Kentucky, at the 43rd annual commencement exercises of this institution, which will be held from June 2 to June 6.

Charles graduated from Crowell High School in 1929. He has attended Asbury College each year since then. In Sept., 1930, he received a license to preach from the Vernon District of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church. He delivered his first sermon at the local Methodist Church on June 28, 1931.

Wedding of Crowell Couple Sun. at Altus

The marriage of Mrs. Thelma Bell to Teddy Burrow, both of Crowell, took place in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. W. Cotner, in Altus, Oklahoma, on Sunday afternoon, May 21. Rev. E. M. Wheatley, pastor of the Altus Christian Church, performed the ceremony. He was the pastor of the Crowell Christian Church about 9 or 10 years ago.

Mrs. Burrow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson and is a native of this city. Mr. Burrow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burrow and has spent most of his life in Crowell and Foard County. He is a teacher in the local school system, having served in this position for the past several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrow returned to Crowell Monday and will make their home in this city.

BUYS SANDWICH SHOP

Lee Gorrell has purchased the sandwich shop on the south side of the square from W. R. Campbell and is having it remodeled and redecorated. He will open the shop for business on Friday of this week under the name of "Pee Wee's Sandwich Shop."

BIRTH

To Mr. and Mrs. James V. Bailey, Crowell, May 22, a girl, Nora Joyce.

Population increased by 9 per cent and urban by 57 per cent. There were 69 rural counties which showed an actual loss in population and of the 1,161,000 total increase in the State's population, Mr. Moffett found that over 32 per cent was registered in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio.

From these and other figures it will be no more than 20 years until at least three counties will have 15 or more members in the House, unless something is done to remedy the situation, as proposed in his resolution.

If any other states have found it wise to have precautionary provisions in their constitutions against the concentration of representatives in a few counties, why shouldn't such provisions be especially important to Texas?

CROWELL SCHOOLS CONCLUDED 1932-33 TERM LAST FRIDAY. INTERESTING PROGRAMS GIVEN

Seventh Grade
Seventh grade graduation exercises at the high school auditorium Thursday evening of last week proved to be among the most interesting in the history of the local school system. In a very clever manner, a pageant was presented which related especially to the history of Crowell and Foard County. Every available seat in the auditorium was filled for the event.

"Texas Heritage," a reading by Wanda Rose Liles, followed by the class procession, came at the opening of the program. After the salutation by Edith Hutcheson, the background on which the class was to weave first, Texas under six flags, then some of Crowell's intimate past, was presented by Camille Graves, who represented the "Spirit of the Past."

As Tom Alton Andrews appeared with each of the six flags, appropriate numbers were presented. Representing a French girl, Miss Elsie Schindler gave a vocal solo. Spain was represented with a Spanish dance by Theda Laverne Wright and Frances Henry Johnson.

A violin duet by Mrs. Alva Spencer and Leon Solomon followed the appearance of the flag of Mexico. A reading, "Lone Star," by Marjorie Spencer was given in connection with the presentation of Texas' Lone Star flag.

Mrs. Adolphus Wright, attired as a negro, sang a Southern melody to Avalon Jane Smith, who took the part of a negro child. Before the removal of the flag of the Confederacy, a lively tap dance was given by Jenny De and Virginia Coffey, who also represented negro children.

The introduction of the Stars and Stripes brought forth the United States Flag Salute by Frances Davis and Helen Harwell.

Foard History
Facts concerning the life of Cynthia Ann Parker were given by Myrtle McKown and were cleverly illustrated at different points. Cynthia Ann, as a child, was played by Evelyn Jean Seales; as the wife of Peta Nocona, played by Edward Gafford, the part of Cynthia Ann was (Continued on Last Page)

MUCH RAIN IS RECEIVED IN THIS COUNTY
The total rainfall for the month of May in Foard County is already the heaviest for this month since 1928. At present a total of 5.79 inches have been recorded in the official rain gauge at the Crowell State Bank.

A general rain over the county last Sunday amounted to 1.25 inches at Crowell. The best rain that has been received in many months started falling early Wednesday morning and continued at intervals throughout most of the day before finally stopping early Thursday morning. It amounted to 2.55 inches at Crowell and reports indicate that it was about the same, or heavier, over the rest of the county.

The first rain of this month came on May 3, at which time 1.50 inches were recorded. The next was on May 14 and amounted to four-tenths of an inch. After an interval of a week the 1.25 inch rain of last Sunday fell, and it was closely followed with the heaviest downpour of all on Wednesday.

The recent rains have fallen in such a manner as to secure maximum benefit from them. They are especially welcome in view of the fact that no rain was recorded in Crowell in either March or April.

Rainfall during May for the past few years was recorded at Crowell as follows: 1927—8.85 inches; 1930—1.80; 1931—1.50; 1932—1.06; 1933—5.70 (to May 25). The May rainfall in 1929 was the heaviest in 15 years. In May, 1914, the total rainfall amounted to 10.43 inches.

FOARD SCHOOLS CLOSING

Schools in Foard County that have ended their 1932-33 terms are: Crowell, Thalia, Margaret Four Corners, Foard City, Good Creek, Claytonville.

West Rayland and Beaver will close on Friday of this week. Ayersville and Fish will close on Friday, June 2.

No report has been learned as to the closing date for Black, Vivian and Gambleville.

WILL CLOSE TUESDAY

The Crowell State Bank will be closed all day on Tuesday, May 30, on account of Decoration Day, a legal holiday.

Senior Class
Thirty graduates of Crowell High School and a crowd that packed the school auditorium, heard Rev. O. L. Savage, pastor of the Crowell Baptist Church, deliver the principal address at the commencement exercises last Friday evening which brought the 1932-33 school term to an official end.

"Tomorrow's Thrills" was the subject of the address. The greatest thrills were explained as those concerning the finer things of life and to experience these one must have the right emotions. By taking the proper conception of life one would find it to be active, sensible, co-operative, friendly and ideal and that great possibilities were ahead for those who found life in this manner, the speaker said.

The first thrill discussed by Rev. Savage was that of adjustment. In assuming the duties of citizenship, he told the graduates that with it came liberty and with liberty came responsibility. "We want liberty, but too often we are afraid of it," he stated.

The graduates were urged to bring their conduct up to high ideals, secure a proper vocation and use their leisure time in such a way that it would be directed toward high ideals and not a menace to society. "Just remember," said Rev. Savage, "the top is still waiting for the right person."

The second thrill was mentioned as that of advancement in things worthwhile. Stating that it was easier to be sick than healthy, and easier to be a failure than a success, the speaker emphasized the fact that advancement provided one of life's greatest thrills and was a real challenge to the graduates. "The real thrill of advancement is in overcoming temptation," the speaker said. "Never repress that which is good, but use it to overcome that which is bad," he added. The spirit of the good Samaritan was mentioned as still being a challenge to the people of the world.

Statement Issued by Cemetery Officials
Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president; Mrs. George Hinds, secretary; and Lee Black, treasurer, of the Crowell Cemetery Association, have issued the following statement:

Since the Crowell water works were first installed it has been the dream of those most intimately connected with the care of the cemetery that at some time it might be piped out there, though, always the expense of such an undertaking was too great for even serious consideration.

But now it seems that the psychological moment has arrived. The ditch can be dug with R. F. C. labor, the pipe bought in the oil field for a nominal sum, and a friend of the Cemetery Association has offered to haul it free of charge. Never in history has there been a time when this could be done so cheaply.

At a meeting of the executive board of the Cemetery Association Monday afternoon it was voted to launch a campaign to raise money to sponsor this program. The question of undertaking such a task when financial conditions are so serious were carefully considered. The board that no appeal had been made for the support of their work in two years, and last year only $41.40 was spent on upkeep, our donations in that time amounting to $19.

There is around eleven hundred graves out there and a small subscription from those interested in beautifying the burial place of their dead will be ample for the immediate needs.

This work must be begun at once to get the benefit of the R. F. C. labor and the committee only plans at this time to lay one pipe to the center of the cemetery. Extensions can be made from time to time. A committee has been appointed to investigate pipe, the amount required, etc.

Notices will be sent to all who should be interested. Surely you'll want some part in this worthy cause. Don't wait for a postal reminder—send yours in so the work can start at once.

Burk Burnett Plays Here in Next Game

Crowell will meet Burk Burnett in a baseball game at the local diamond Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in an official Red River Valley League baseball game.

Both teams have been strengthened by recent changes and additions to their line-ups and an interesting contest is expected to result with the first game between these two clubs.

More Foard County Men Accepted Into Reforestation Work

The following from Foard County were accepted into reforestation service at the army recruiting station in Wichita Falls on Tuesday of this week: Arvil L. Alston, Loyd Hutchings, Jesse J. Groomer, Horace Starnes, James A. Evanson, Teddy (Pete) Bagley, Alonzo L. Kelly, Leiland T. Meadors, Virgil A. Dockins, Beryl Harber, Gilbert Choate.

Lewis T. Burks was accepted on April 28. Foard County's quota for this work is 13, leaving one position to be filled.

Two Crowell Girls to Graduate in Nursing

Misses Belle and Elizabeth Locke, daughters of Mrs. Viola Locke of this city, will graduate from the Baylor University School of Nursing of Dallas at commencement exercises in the First Baptist Church of Dallas on Monday evening, May 29.

T. L. HUGHSTON PRESIDENT TEX. GRAIN DEALERS

At the closing session of the Texas Grain Dealers Association which was held in Dallas Monday and Tuesday of this week, T. L. Hughston of Crowell was elected president of the association for the ensuing year. R. E. Wendland of Temple was elected first vice-president, S. E. Cone of Lubbock, second vice-president, and G. A. Blewet of Fort Worth, secretary and treasurer. E. C. Downman of Houston is the retiring president.

Mr. Hughston will go to Austin Sunday, where he will appear before the Railroad Commission Monday in an effort to get a twenty-five per cent reduction in freight rates for this year's crop. This reduction would amount to about five cents per bushel and would be a great saving to the wheat farmers of this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughston returned to Crowell Wednesday at noon.

Wichita Falls Wins Final Polo Contest Over Crowell Club

The Wichita Falls polo club swept a three-game series with Crowell Sunday afternoon by scoring a 9 to 4 victory over the local quartet before a large crowd at the polo field about two miles southeast of Crowell.

It remained for a former Crowell boy, Roy Barry, to provide the outstanding playing of the three games as a member of the Oklahoma City team at Augusta, Georgia, during the past winter he proved to be one of the outstanding players of the winter season and he certainly lived up to his reputation in the games here.

Jimmy Minnick Jr. of Crowell, played sensationally for the home club during all of the games. All indications point to a brilliant polo future for him and Barry, both of whom are less than 24 years of age. Each carries a two-goal handicap at present. Jim Minnick Sr. and Chas. Featherston of Crowell also carry two goals. Horace Robbins of Wichita Falls is also a two-goal man.

Aubrey Floyd led the scoring Sunday with four goals for the Wichita team. He is another young poloist whose playing would do credit to a real veteran.

Crowell got off to a good start in Sunday's game with Everett Bell and Minnick Sr. scoring goals in the first chukker. Wichita was held scoreless in this and the last period.

The field was slightly heavy due to rainfall of over an inch the night before the game. Several falls were narrowly averted and one resulted when a horse slipped, however, the rider, Jim Minnick Sr., and the mount escaped without injury.

The line-up and summary:

Wichita Falls (9)	Crowell (4)
E. Fain (1)	E. Bell (1)
No. 1	No. 1
A. Floyd (4)	Minnick Jr. (1)
No. 2	No. 2

MILLER TRIED THIS WEEK IN QUANAH COURT

The trial of Que R. Miller, former sheriff and tax collector of Foard County, in district court at Quanah on a charge of misapplication of public funds, opened Monday morning. The case was to have been tried in Crowell on May 9, but a change of venue was granted on motion of the defense on the contention that a fair and impartial trial could not be secured in Foard County.

The case went to the Hardeman County jury at about noon Thursday.

Miller was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, according to information reaching Crowell as The News was ready to go to press.

Bank Assets Bought By Two Electra Men

A. T. McDannald and R. Y. Smith of Electra were successful bidders at the auction in the Bank of Crowell building Tuesday afternoon when the balance of the assets belonging to this closed bank were sold to the highest bidder by H. L. McGregor of Wichita Falls, trustee in bankruptcy, who served as auctioneer. Their bid was $7,610.00, cash. Several men took part in the bidding.

Two sections of land, a 160-acre tract, a 141-acre tract, lot No. 12 in block 79 of Crowell, including the bank building, and notes belonging to the Bank of Crowell including notes of bankrupts and old notes yet in date and unpaid, including all unpaid overdrafts, amounting to the sum of $171,046.12, were included in this sale.

FOARD COUNTY DRESS CONTEST HELD LAST SAT.

Forty-six dresses were entered in the dress contest for home demonstration club women that was held in Crowell Saturday afternoon. The cost of the dresses ranged from 18 cents to $1.25. The total cost of all the home and street dresses was $31.26, making the average cost about 66 cents each.

The judges were Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs of College Station, district agent, and Miss Doris Leggett, Wilbarger home demonstration agent. The winners in the order in which they placed and the cost of their dresses follow:

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS H. J. R. No. 43

RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Subsection (a) of Section 20, of Article XVI, of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows: "(a): The manufacture, sale, barter or exchange in the State of Texas of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatsoever, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in said county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine it to be lawful to manufacture, sell, barter and exchange in said county or political subdivision thereof of vinous or malt liquors containing not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight, and the provision of this subsection shall be self-enacting."

Section 2. The foregoing Amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933. At this election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the following words: "For the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, authorizing the sale of vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight." Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the following words: "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, authorizing the sale of vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for such election and to have same published as required by the Constitution and Amendments thereto. (A correct copy.) W. W. HEATH, Secretary of State.

FREE HIGHWAY MAPS OFFERED TO MOTORISTS

A new map of Texas highways is just off the press. It gives up-to-date information on Texas roads, showing the different types of road surfaces so the motorist can select his route with a better knowledge of road conditions. Three thousand miles of concrete highways are shown—the Travelax Route. The new map is being distributed free, on request, to Texas motorists by the Portland Cement Association. Coming out as it does just ahead of the big summer season, there is already an active demand for this new kind of road map.

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference. I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

GEORGE MOFFETT

While George Moffett, the representative from this district in the Texas Legislature, has conscientiously and capably served the people of Foard, Hardeman and Knox counties, he has also served his State at large in a commendable manner and it is our opinion that he is one of the most valuable members in the House of Representatives.

A brief account of one of his measures appears in this issue of The News. We became interested in this bill when Mr. Moffett personally explained it to us two years ago and after carefully looking into the matter we are strong for it and trust that our legislator will have sufficient support at Austin to secure successful action on this resolution before the adjournment of this session of the Legislature.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SPEND

The public has grown weary of the old slogans to the effect that "Prices are booming! Buy now!" etc. But there's truth in those phrases at present.

Recent inflation activities and the prospective change in the gold backing of the dollar, will be the most powerful price stimulant in three years. It really is time to buy now!

Best of all, by buying now, and building and repairing now, you can do your bit in the most dramatic stage of the war against unemployment and distress and at the same time secure the greatest return on your dollar in more than a generation.

A dollar in property improvement means a dollar touching the lives of a thousand people—and doing a thousand dollars' work. Repair the steps, paint the house, remove fire hazards, renovate the garden, renew rotting foundations with concrete—do any of these things, and you'll be a factor in the work of recovery.

It is not prophesy to say that in your lifetime you'll never have the opportunity to get work done as cheaply as now. It's fact. The price structure is abnormally low. It is lower than even the intenseness of depression justifies. As demand increases, the rate of climb will be sharply accelerated.

Remember that providing jobs is better than charity—and that it's better to provide a job now than to contribute to charity next year. Remember, too, that unless the jobs are provided it won't be long until nothing is left for charity!

MAKE IT A SAFETY YEAR

Every community in the United States should conduct its own safety campaign this summer, and each civic association, society or club as well as citizens with the well-being of the public at heart, should take part.

The best way to reduce the number of accidents with which this nation is afflicted every year, is to convert the people who have them. Safety legislation resembles other mandatory laws. It cannot be enforced if the public does not want it. You can clutter up the statute books with regulations, but unless they are obeyed 90,000 or more persons will continue to die by mischance every year and 25,000,000 will continue to get hurt, more or less severely, from all causes. In automobile accidents alone this loss is $2,000,000,000 or more.

This tragic situation will not clear up until the people themselves become safety minded. Automobileists have been given the safest cars so far devised. Perfect highways, continuous signals with efficient, active traffic controls coupled with rigid enforcement are becoming the rule, yet something like 29,000 men, women and children will be killed this year and 900,000 will be injured unless the public is brought to realize that the remedy lies in its hands. The home is nearly as dangerous as

"Where America Drinks Its Way To Health"

On Foard Farms

By FRED RENNELS

Good Calves in County

A visit to the ranches of the County will convince anyone that Foard County has some wonderfully good beef cattle. George Cates has some exceptionally good calves. He has a small herd of registered Hereford cows with plenty of grass and water to care for them properly and his calves show their breeding and treatment. George also has an extra good young cow horse, but anyone that goes to buy him will need about as much money as it takes to buy a big new automobile. Good horses are about as much in demand as automobiles.

McAdams Ranch

In company with J. W. Wishon, a visit was made to the Leslie McAdams ranch west of Crowell. Mr. McAdams was branding. His calves are good and a glance at his ranch and his herd bulls will be evidence enough that they should be good. The McAdams ranch is well watered and he is taking precautions that he does not over stock his grass. Practically all of Mr. McAdams' cattle are Herefords, but he has a half Shorthorn and Hereford steer that is one of the largest in this section of the state. The steer has not been weighed, but cattlemen estimate his weight to be about 2750 pounds.

Several men from the adjoining ranches were helping Mr. McAdams work his cattle, but an outstanding figure in the branding pen was Jim Roark, from the Y Ranch, on his registered Arabian cow horse. This horse is a beautiful paint, six years old, about sixteen hands high, weighs twelve hundred pounds and can catch a calf on short notice. He is the pet horse of the Y Ranch. In addition to good cattle, Foard County ranches have some good horses. J. W. Wishon walked into the branding pen, took the rope and demonstrated to the boys that he knows exactly how to "four-foot 'em."

Benham's Shorthorns

On the way home from the McAdams Ranch we stopped at G. J. Benham's farm and looked at some Shorthorn calves. He has some good ones. Mr. Benham keeps a small herd of registered Shorthorn cattle. He has some excellent cows that are heavy milk producers. He usually finds a ready market for all the bulls he can produce as well as a good demand for his heifers and cows.

That is where a safety campaign counts. It gets the facts to the people, facts about home, office and factory dangers, facts about the perils of sports on land, water and in the air, and above all, facts about the terrific toll taken by automobiles.

For years casualty insurance companies have been trying to educate the public to the fact that automobile liability rates are made by the insured portion of it," says William Leslie, Associate General Manager of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. "All the companies can do is to ascertain what these rates shall be from the experience, or the result of their insurance transactions. It is a mathematical process, and the results show what the companies require in order to continue to offer the protection without losing money. It is believed that once this fact is impressed upon policyholders, casualty insurance costs in the United States will come down. No company wants to increase rates any time, and it does so only when it is compelled. The safety campaign is the most effective medium for making this fact clear, and for accomplishing the purpose."

BRIGHTER DAYS FOR MINING

The world as a whole is moving slowly, but steadily, toward decisive changes in monetary standards. It is recognized that gold alone cannot carry on world commerce, and that there must be some other generally accepted medium of exchange.

Silver, of course, is the logical choice—indeed, the newly passed inflation bill permits the President, at his discretion, to raise its value. The mining industry seems on the verge of brighter days.

Geo. Moffett—

Texas? asks Mr. Moffett, since Texas is the state with the most far-flung boundaries, and the greatest diversification of interests, thereby calling for the greatest practicable diffusion of representatives. Texas also has four times as many counties as the average American state, yet the number of members in the House is only slightly more than the average number in other States. Since an increase in the House is deemed desirable, the only alternative is to allocate the representatives in such a way that they will be scattered among as many counties as practicable and not concentrated in a few counties, Mr. Moffett contends.

"When we consider that Texas is the leading State in the production of cotton, livestock, wool and mohair, and a leading State in the production of winter wheat, we see that the best interests and prosperity of the State are closely bound up with the interests of the agricultural industries of the State and therefore their interests should be forever protected in the legislative halls of Texas," Mr. Moffett stated.

American investors have lost $25,000,000,000 in the purchase of worthless stocks in the last 10 years.

BRUCE BARTON

Writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows"

PICKING HIS MARKET

Jesus' preaching was almost incidental. On only one occasion did he deliver a long discourse, and that was probably interrupted often by questions and debates. He did not come to establish a theology but to lead a life. Living more healthfully than any of his contemporaries He spread health wherever He went. Thinking more daringly, more divinely, He expressed himself in thoughts of surpassing beauty, as naturally as a plant bursts into bloom. His sermons, if they may be called sermons, were chiefly explanatory of His service. He healed a lame man, gave sight to a blind man, fed the hungry, cheered the poor; and by these works He was advertised much more than by His words.

Bruce Barton

The church, which covets advertising and receives little, is much more faithful in such work than the man on the street suspects. Most of our colleges were founded under its inspiration; most of our hospitals grew out of, and are supported by its membership; the ideals that animate all civic enterprises are its ideals; and its members furnish to such movements the most dependable support. More than this, the day by day life of any genuine pastor is a constant succession of healings and helpings, as anyone who has been privileged to grow up in a minister's family very well knows. The door-bell rings at breakfast-time; it rings at dinner-time; it rings late at night—and every ring means that someone has come to cast his burden upon the parsonage. A man comes blinded by his greed or hatred or fear—he opens his heart to the pastor, and goes away having received his sight. A parent whose child is dead in selfishness, comes leading the child by the hand. And sometimes the preacher is able to touch the withered veins of conscience, and life becomes normal and wholesome again. A man out of work, whose family is hungry, knocks timidly at the parsonage door. And somehow, from the parson's few loaves and fishes, the other family is fed.

These are Jesus' works, done in Jesus' name. If He were to live again, in these modern days, He would find a way to make them known—to be advertised by His service, not merely by his sermons. One thing is certain: He would not neglect the market-place. Few of His sermons were delivered in synagogues. For the most part He was in the crowded places, the Temple Court, the city squares, the centers where goods were bought and sold. I emphasized this fact once to a group of preachers.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings that affect the Dinner pail, dividend check and tax bills of every individual. National and international problems inseparable from local welfare.

President Roosevelt's proposed plan for providing employment, long a subject of discussion, has finally been completed. Principal feature is a $3,300,000,000 public works program, including federal, state and municipal building projects. Between $150,000,000 and $350,000,000 of this will be for highway construction. Bonds will be issued to finance the project, and will be amortized over a period of 15 to 20 years. There will be provision for a certain amount of new tax levy in the bill—sufficient to pay interest and sinking fund requirements. This tax will probably take the form of a sales tax—described as "re-employment tax", or a "breakfast tax" on coffee and tea.

Of wide interest to business, large and small, is the provision of the bill which will lift the anti-trust laws and permit industrial cooperation in a manner that is now illegal. Government and business will work in partnership, and the government will have the power to act. An industrial control board, of which four of the five members will be cabinet officers, is to be appointed to supervise trade association agreements. This marks the first successful effort to lift or make less stringent the anti-trust laws, since their passage during the Theodore Roosevelt administration. Business has long held that they have outlived their usefulness, and that they were created to meet a condition which no longer exists. They have forced wasteful production and cut-throat competition. Industrial leaders believe elimination will make possible co-operative work vital to orderly and sound business recovery.

The other pending Administration measure—railroad legislation—is meeting difficulties. Its chief purpose is to coordinate lines, under a Federal supervisor, thus preventing the waste and economic loss arising from too many trains serving a given locality. Obvious result of this would be additional railroad unemployment. Labor is demanding that something be done to prevent this, if the legislation passes. The Administration is thus between two horns—the necessity of making possible great reduction in rail operating cost if the lines are to be saved and the fear of creating more unemployment when employment is the most vital of issues.

The new farm relief act has become law. Curiously enough, the best known portion of it—the currency inflation section—does not deal directly with the farmers at all.

Two billion dollars will be made available for a vast program of farm mortgages refinancing. The Secretary of Agriculture has authority to boost farm prices, limit production and release the food and textile industries from anti-trust law prohibitions.

He will soon call a conference of producers, handlers and others interested in the basic commodities—wheat, cotton, corn, hogs, rice, tobacco and milk products. Later on commodity councils will be formed, and movements launched seeking to rehabilitate agriculture.

On signing the bill the President issued a special public message urging a halt on all farm mortgages foreclosures until the machinery can be set up for the refinancing project. A similar message on town and city mortgages is expected later.

The President said that, when the acts get into operation, the holders of farm mortgages will have the privilege of exchanging them for Federal Land Bank bonds, upon which interest payments will be guaranteed by the Federal government.

The "trade boom" is actually attaining appreciable dimensions. A general rise all along the industrial line has been made and held. Newly reported statistics are the most encouraging in many months.

Electric power—Increase in output was at a higher rate for the first time in three years.

Carloadings—Sizeable increase reported by several railroads.

Steel—Prices rising, production up.

Construction—A demand for new housing is beginning to appear.

Retail Trade—Sales increased in greater degree than the usual seasonal gain would have indicated.

Cotton—Textile industry reports a sudden rush of business.

Decided improvement in the business failure situation has been reported for several months. Other good signs are reports of wage increases and new employment from many parts of the country. Security markets have, of course, been extremely active, with stock prices rising sharply, because of the possibility of currency inflation. Industries which have, in the past, done a large export business, are much encouraged by the tariff truce which was recently agreed upon by the major powers, to last until the world economic conference has had an opportunity to iron out some of the difficulties in international economic relations.

Miss Barbara Cryer left Sunday for home in Goldthwaite.

Miss Dorothy Pauline McKown is in Amarillo visiting in the home of her uncle, C. V. Williams.

B. W. Self attended the convention of the Texas Grain Dealers Association at Dallas this week.

Miss Anna Mark Adkins of Thalia is spending the week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Henry.

Miss Rozella and Richard Bowers of Beaumont are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bowers.

Jim Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Fox, received a broken collar bone last Monday morning, when a water heater fell on him.

Mrs. H. C. Kilgore of Gainesville, former Crowell resident, arrived Monday for a visit with relatives. She is a sister of the Ferguson brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Esca Brown spent Sunday in Seymour visiting friends. They were accompanied by Miss Thelma White, who remained at her home in that city.

Mrs. Z. W. Smith and daughter, Ollie Mae, and Miss Bernice Collins were guests this week in the home of Mrs. Smith's son, Marshall Smith, and family at Berger.

T. P. Lambert is in a Lubbock hospital, having undergone an operation for appendicitis in that city. He and his wife went to Lubbock several days ago to visit Mrs. Lambert's mother. While there he was taken ill and the operation became necessary.

A. F. Russell of Margaret visited in Crowell Thursday before returning to the Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, which he attended the past year. Last spring he received his A. B. degree from Baylor University.

Velox Ward and family, former residents of Crowell, arrived here Tuesday from Brownfield to visit his brother, Joe Ward, and family. Mr. Ward and family have been living in Brownfield for the past two years where he owns and operates a shoe shop.

A muskrat was captured by Lester Myers and Otis Ross Thursday morning in the water beneath the cooling tower at the rear of the West Texas Utilities Co. At about this same point three years ago a mud hen was captured by Eli Smith and Roy Archer.

Frank Meason, son of Ben Meason, returned to Crowell Monday, having attended high school at Altus, Oklahoma, the past year. He will attend school here when the next term opens.

Miss Susie Johnson returned to Crowell Wednesday. She has spent the past two weeks with her grandparents, Mrs. C. G. Thompson, who is having an operation for appendicitis in the Quanan hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Womack of Dallas visited relatives here from Monday to Monday. Mr. Womack's sister, Mrs. R. P. Womack, and his son, Mrs. Ida Reavis, returned to Dallas with them for a visit in the S. Womack home.

J. Henry, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Henry, is recovering from a broken arm that he suffered recently. The break occurred on the right arm, slightly above the wrist, when he fell on a concrete walk while roller skating near home.

Mrs. Patricia Kele and children visited relatives in Duke, Oklahoma, this week.

Mrs. P. D. Chaney and sister, Miss Lucille Bagley, of Vernon visited here Sunday.

Mrs. Otis Ross and children and her brother, Clifton Davis, are in Denison visiting their grandmother, who is seriously ill.

Miss Dorothy Ross of Brinkman, Oklahoma, is a guest in the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connell. She graduated from Brinkman High School last week. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell and Ruth Malone attended the exercises from here, after which Miss Ross returned with them.

Solon R. Featherston of Wichita Falls was a visitor in Crowell Monday. Mr. Featherston is chairman of the committee at Wichita Falls which is arranging for the annual tournament of the West Texas Golf Ass'n. that is to be held in that city June 1, 2, 3, 4. He states that the tournament promises to be the most successful in the history of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Graves and children and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Graves left Monday morning for a visit to Carlsbad Cavern. Mr. and Mrs. Grady Graves will spend most of the summer attending Texas A. & M. College. Following the trip through the Cavern, I. T. Graves and family will return to Crowell and Mr. Graves will start teaching summer school here Monday morning.

Miss Barbara Cryer fortunately recovered a purse containing about twenty dollars that she lost Sunday. A local man found the purse and turned it over to a young man who claimed that he lost it. After discovering his mistake shortly afterward he accompanied Sheriff R. J. Thomas in running down a truck west of Crowell upon which the man had caught a ride. Most of the money was recovered and after remaining in jail a short time, the man who took the money under false pretenses, was released.

The Stamps quartet of Dallas will present a program at Thalia on Friday evening of this week at 8:15 o'clock. The admission is free and everybody is invited to attend.

The program at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday was featured with vocal numbers by Victor Harrison, who is conducting a song revival at the Methodist Church, and talks by H. C. Anderson, of Ranger, governor of the 41st District of Rotary International, and Ray Nichols of Vernon, past district governor. Mrs. Arnold Rucker accompanied Mr. Harrison at the piano. George Self was in charge of the program.

Two excellent programs were rendered by a male quartet from Simmons University of Abilene at the Baptist Churches of Crowell and Thalia Sunday. The program at the Crowell Baptist Church was given at the 11 o'clock hour Sunday morning and the one at Thalia was given at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The quartet was composed of E. E. Porter, first tenor; B. N. Richards, second tenor; G. W. Shaw, baritone; and T. W. Cagle, bass. Following the program at Thalia in the afternoon the young men went to Quanan where they sang at the Baptist Church during the evening service.

The program rendered by these young students from Simmons University was designated "A Sermon in Song" and according to those who were privileged to hear the program, it was spiritual and inspirational from beginning to end and was greatly enjoyed. The singers exhibited unusual ability for men of their age and their week-end visits to towns in this section of the state during the past school term have been a source of pleasure and satisfaction to those who have been fortunate enough to hear them.

Monthly Banquet of Local Association Held Tuesday Night

The regular monthly luncheon of the Farmers and Business Men's Ass'n. was held Tuesday evening at the Griffith Hotel with John R. Rasmussen as toastmaster. About forty persons were present.

The program included talks by W. B. Tysinger, Dave Sollis and Claude A. Adams. A large number took part in the round table discussion following the regular program. Jeff Bruce, member of the committee appointed at the last banquet to investigate the matter of piping water to the cemetery, reported the work of that committee with the cemetery association and that favorable progress had been made.

It was voted to offer prizes for the best saddle horses brought to Crowell on the next Trades Day, Monday, June 5. These prizes are announced elsewhere in The News.

Daw Miller, A. F. Wright and J. R. Beverly were named to arrange a program for the next banquet. Grady Shults and B. T. O'Connell were appointed to sell the tickets for it.

Crowell Wins Over Farmers Valley; Lose To Tipton, Oklahoma

Crowell lost a pitchers' battle to the league-leading Tipton club at Tipton Sunday by the score of 4 to 3. William Bell pitched for the Cats and did a splendid job of it but poor outfielding in left and right field cost him the game. Crowell took a 2-run lead in the 4th and held it until the 7th when the Sooners scored 3 runs on 3 hits, 2 of which were pop flies that fell for doubles at the feet of the fielders.

The cats fell on "Lefty" Simpson for 2 hits and a run in the 9th to tie the score, 3-all, but Tipton came back in the last half of the 9th and won the game after 2 men were out.

Flies and Mosquitoes Ready to Take Up Their Summer Home

Austin, Texas—Word has just been received by the State Department of Health that Mr. and Mrs. Mosquito and Mr. and Mrs. Fly, with their kindfoks, are planning to take up their summer residence in the State. They state that, although many had died since last summer, they would soon have large families.

Mrs. Mosquito raises from fifty to three hundred children at one time and only takes around two weeks to have full grown children. Mrs. Fly brags that she and her husband could be ancestors to a million flies in one season.

Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue, and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the Anopheles or malarin mosquito. Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes aegypti or Tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy the breeding places of the mosquito. They breed in any standing water, therefore, you should drain, ditch or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, too, or stock the water with surface minnows as they will eat the wiggly-tails. Houses should be screened.

Flies help spread typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhoea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They breed, live and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies so that their number is an excellent index to the sanitary conditions. The State Health Department, County and City Health Officers are only too glad to assist in banishing this source of disease.

"I have never found a medicine that 'peps' you up like Kruschen Salts and better still, leaves you 'pepped up'. I take it two or three times a week—not to reduce but merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce, he lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks." Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 29, 1932).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

Origin of "Bunk"

When a man says, "that's the bunk," you know he has no respect for what has been said. The slang word, "bunk," comes from the proper name, Buncombe, a town in North Carolina. A member of the House of Representatives from that town once made a fiery speech in the lower house of Congress and when he finished comment was made that the address was not directed at the House but to Buncombe for effect. From this incident has come the word "buncombe" meaning claptrap speeches for the purpose of cajoling constituents.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Jesus and His Friends

Lesson for May 28, Mark 12:1-14:9

Golden Text: John 15: 14

I have long felt that the Christian body with the most satisfactory name is that small group of devoted practical mystics who call themselves the Society of Friends.

Most denominations have long and awkward names. The Quakers, however, have a perfect title. For the comrades of Christ's way are primarily the friends of Jesus, men and women who aim to live in the spirit of our Golden Text, "You are my friends, if you do what I command you."

Now the lesson gives us glimpses of Jesus in the midst of His friends. We see Him seated on the Mount of Olives. It is daytime, and He is conferring privately and earnestly with Peter, James, John and Andrew. In thirty-three verses Mark summarizes the remarks of Jesus. What he gives is a composite, condensed discourse, a vivid apocalypse or detailed description of the future. To interpret this colorful chapter is difficult. Scholars do not agree in their findings. But the differences of viewpoint on critical questions need not dim our appreciation of the passage.

It sounds, first of all, the note of tragic catastrophe. Jesus warns of the coming of war, treachery, murder, hatred, of the triumph of falsehood, and the dissolution of the universe. His words, of course, must not be taken literally, as a mechanical prophecy of definite events in history. But when understood poetically with the eyes of the imagination, they are abundantly true.

Secondly, the discourse reveals a profound urgency. Note the seriousness of the Master! "Take care, be on the alert, and pray," He cries. "Moreover, what I say to you I say to all—Be wakeful!"

But our lesson presents a further picture of Jesus in the House of Friendship. Under a friendly room at Bethany, in the home of Simon the leper, we see Him resting, and witness the striking devotion of Mary, who had come to pour precious ointment upon His head. Here, sheltered from a hostile world, He receives His friends, love.

Christian Science Churches

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 28.

The Golden Text is from Roman 8: "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Among the passages to be read from the Bible will be the following from Isaiah 55: "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

The Lesson-Sermon will also include citations from the Christian Textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures," one of which will be as follows (p. 462): "Anatomy, when conceived of spiritually, is mental self knowledge, and consists in the dissection of thoughts to discover their quality, quantity, and origin. Are thoughts divine or human? That is the important question. This branch of study is indispensible to the excision of error. The anatomy of Christian Science teaches when and how to probe the self-inflicted wounds of selfishness, malice, envy, and hate. It teaches the control of mad ambition. It unfolds the hallowed influences of unselfishness, philanthropy, spiritual love."

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

S. J. R. No. 32

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 1-a of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Article VIII, Section 1-a: Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads as now defined by law shall be exempt from all taxation for all State purposes; provided that this exemption shall not be applicable to that portion of the State ad valorem taxes levied for State purposes remitted within those counties or other political subdivisions now receiving any remission of State taxes, until the expiration of such period of remission, unless before the expiration of such period the board or governing body of any one or more of such counties or political subdivisions shall have certified to the State Comptroller that the need for such remission of taxes has ceased to exist in such county or political subdivision; then this Section shall become applicable to each county or political subdivision as and when it shall become within the provisions hereof."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas exempting Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads from State taxes."

Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas exempting Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads from State taxes."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution and Amendments thereto.

COTTON: THE SOUTH'S GREAT-EST MONEY CROP

The rise and fall of the price of cotton over a period of years is, of course, based on the law of supply and demand. Incorporated in the new agricultural bill fostered by the President is a plan to reduce the cotton acreage which, of course, means a smaller crop. With a smaller crop and in the meantime a reduction of the surplus, we should receive a higher price for our 1933 crop.

All the above means that there should be many openings for qualified cotton classifiers, which has not been the case for the past year or two. With a shortage in training men in this field, it should be an inducement for the young man who is interested in this type of work to qualify himself now.

We have one of the best cotton classing schools in the Southwest; in fact, we do not know of another school that offers a more complete training in Cotton Classing.

We use the United States Government standard type of samples. At the head of our Cotton Classing Department is a man who was instructor in Cotton Classing in the A. & M. College of Texas for a long while prior to becoming connected with our school. He knows the handling of cotton from A to Z.

Any young man who thinks he would be interested in the subject of Cotton Classing will be furnished with full information by writing the Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas, and indicating his desire to take up this very interesting work.

LOW-COST Hot Water... at the Turn of a Faucet...

with a Modern ELECTRIC Water-Heater

When you turn your "hot water" faucet you want... and NEED... an adequate supply of piping hot water. That, however, is only the primary requisite. If you can get this constant supply of hot water inexpensively, automatically and with perfect safety at all times, isn't that a perfect combination?

The modern ELECTRIC water heater gives you a surplus of hot water, and for good measure adds safety, cleanliness, health, dependability, quiet, comfort and convenience. Contrast these advantages with the flame noise, fumes, soot, smoke and odors of old-fashioned methods.

Ask a trained representative to show you the beautiful new electric water heaters now on display. They are equipped with emergency reliefs for both temperature and pressure... they offer all the well-known advantages of modern automatic electric water heating... they operate on the new "constant hot water service" plan that means LOW COST to you... and prices and terms are especially attractive!

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

AWAKENED WOMAN

by Elinore Barry

Eleventh Installment

Prognosis: Joyce Ashton, poor stepper, suffered loss of memory in a skidding taxicab accident in Chicago. One morning two years ago she woke, after a fall from her bed, her memory restored, to find herself, as Frills, the wife of Niel Frills, a rich California fruit packer. She determined to tell nobody of her predicament but set about learning what she could of her life in the past. From the conversation of her friends and letters in her desk she gathered that she had been a rich, pleasure-loving young girl. One letter that troubled her came from a woman signing herself "Frills," blaming Frills for not giving her a baby Sophie was carrying. Could it be her baby, Frills wondered? She also found herself involved in an affair with a man named Maitland. In San Francisco, she went while her husband was away on business, she met a poet named Ainsworth, a poet whose name she had always admired. When he returned home, she decided to tell him of her predicament. He was a pleasant man to Neil than Frills had been. But this line was dangerous, too, for Neil was pathetically anxious to win back Frills's love.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"Oh, let's not talk tonight," she exclaimed impatiently. "I'm dead tired, I tell you. To her relief he did not follow her, but she heard his deep sigh as she went into the other room and shut the door, her knees trembling a little.

Once in bed with the door locked, she lay and thought over what had happened. This victory was hers, but she did not feel quite the satisfaction in it that she had felt in circumventing Maitland.

Waking the next morning at her usual hour of seven o'clock she heard Packard whistling as he dressed and she debated whether to get up and have breakfast with him or to let him go away without seeing her.

She got out of bed and listened. It was so quiet that she concluded Neil had gone downstairs. She had just taken a dress from a hanger and had come out to put it on in front of the long mirror when she was startled by Packard appearing. "Good morning, wife!" he exclaimed, "how's the world?"

"Oh!... Good morning," she responded, hastily pulling the dress on and watching him apprehensively in the mirror as she fastened her collar and tie.

"Gee, this is great. Are you going to eat breakfast this morning?" he asked, leaning against the foot of the bed.

"We'll give Roxie a surprise, eating breakfast together," she remarked as they entered the dining room. "Good morning, Roxie, where's my blessed Dickie?"

"Out with Sam," responded Roxie. She too smiled, but there was a puzzled look about her face as she did so.

"Oh, then I'm going out to get him," exclaimed Joyce, "you start eating. I'll be right back," and she dashed out through the kitchen and called to Dickie whom she saw lying with a bored expression outside the stable door.

"I wonder if he'd get too tired to go along with me if I go out to ride on Rosita. What do you think?" asked Joyce as she began her breakfast.

"Well, I wouldn't take him if you are going more than a short ride. I doubt if he's used to long runs."

"By the way, I heard that Mait has a new horse," remarked Packard toward the end of the meal. "What sort of a cayuse is it? Did he get it from Mac-Bready?"

Joyce's heart thumped. Now was her chance, and she determined to take it. She spoke casually, though the knowledge that she was changing color disconcerted her slightly. "I'm sure I don't know," she replied. "I haven't seen Mait for nearly two weeks."

When she raised her eyes from her plate she encountered a look on Packard's face which filled her with sudden anger. It had always infuriated Joyce to realize that her word was doubted.

Suddenly her pleasure in the day was spoiled. A hurt feeling of resentment against him for ruining her happy mood seized her. She forgot his side of the affair and the things which Frills had done to make this reaction so natural.

She said nothing until they had left the table and were in the living room. Then suddenly she faced him and with a flaming face said, "Look here, I want you to know that I wasn't lying just now when I said I hadn't seen Mait for two weeks."

Packard stared at her. He looked bewildered. An expression of eager hopefulness dawned in his face, but it was the cautious hope of one who has been hurt and disappointed too many times.

After fully five seconds' silence Packard said dully, "God knows I want to believe you, Frills, but after that New Year's thing... I hesitated as if he were referring to some painful incident he could scarcely bear to mention.

Joyce was quivering all over. It seemed to her that nothing was more important than to make him believe her. She groped desperately from the porch Packard implored her. "Say, Frills, bring me a glass of water, like an angel, will you?"

Joyce wanted to retort crossly, but her naturally obliging disposition automatically asserted itself and getting the water she went to the sleeping porch which lay in the shadow. The moon made it light enough, however, to see Packard's face vaguely.

He sat up in bed and took the glass which she handed him. As he did so she said hastily, "Good night! I'm... I'm going to sleep inside for a while." She turned away as she spoke, but she scarcely finished the sentence before Packard put down the glass and jumped out of bed. He stopped her at the door and drew her into his arms, not roughly but with a gentle firm movement which she could not evade.

"Oh, say, sweetheart," he protested, "not my first night home, Frills? I've been so... lonesome for you, dear."

Packard bent his head quickly and kissed her eagerly, not once but several times, then drew her closer still and kissed the hollow of her neck several times. "Oh, sweetheart, won't you love me a little?" he whispered, his cheek laid against hers. "Won't you love me? Somehow tonight you were so sweet, going out with me alone that way and I got to hoping you might—Oh, Frills, what can I do to make you come back to me?"

"Oh, let's not talk tonight," she exclaimed impatiently. "I'm dead tired, I tell you. To her relief he did not follow her, but she heard his deep sigh as she went into the other room and shut the door, her knees trembling a little.

Joyce was quivering all over. It seemed to her that nothing was more important than to make him believe her. She groped desperately for the right words to convince him. "But I'm telling the truth," she insisted, "you can ask Clarence... or ask Mait himself if you won't believe me."

Neil still looked as if he dared not believe and Joyce, exasperated at his obviously unconvincing manner, exclaimed, "Perhaps I was mistaken, perhaps you... you don't really care what I do—"

But at this Packard suddenly woke up. His face went white under the tan and taking a step forward he gripped her shoulders with his hands and said, with an intensity of restrained force that frightened her, "By God, Frills, I won't stand for that! When have you ever cared what I thought? When have you ever done anything but give me the most careless sort of response? You've lied to me before. You know it and I know it. How can I help doubting you? I've done everything I could to try to make you happy. I've given you every bit of freedom and fun I could just so you might have a good time. I've protected you more than you know against open scandal. I've stood so damn' much from you that I sometimes wonder what kind of a weak fool I am. But I can't help loving you in spite of it all. I've stood for this business with Maitland... I've stood, for all sorts of things—for your sake, and partly for my mother's. And when... when you've been a little nice to me, what has it ever meant? Some devilish scheme of yours to put something over on me. I don't know what your game is now, but even you can't tell me I don't really care what you do."

Joyce listening fascinated to this explosion, recalled the words in "Jeery's" letter: "... Just remember that a man like Neil won't stand pushing too far."

County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of all duties required for the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Justices thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitutions or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; and, if no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensations of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filed by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms hereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all voters cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7). No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the pro-

County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of all duties required for the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Justices thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitutions or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; and, if no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensations of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filed by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms hereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all voters cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7). No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the pro-

County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of all duties required for the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Justices thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitutions or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; and, if no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensations of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filed by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms hereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

Social Activities Mark End of School Year for '33 Class

With the closing of the school year, a number of social activities have been enjoyed by the Senior class, one of which was a complimentary extended them by the class members, Mrs. Clint Shirley and Mrs. Claude Callaway at the home of Mrs. White on Friday morning in the form of a delightful breakfast.

The first course of the breakfast consisted of grape fruit and was followed by fried chicken, cream sauce, hot biscuits, butter, strawberries, preserves and coffee and was served at individual tables which were covered with red and white cloths, featuring the class colors.

Other than the members of the class, guests were Misses Louise Ball, Ruth Patterson and Mrs. C. W. Thompson.

At the conclusion of the breakfast, Miss Ball, senior class sponsor, was presented with a beautiful vanity, a pair of gloves and a handkerchief, as a token of love and appreciation from the class. Mitchell Allee, president of the class, presented the gift to Miss Ball, who responded in her charming way.

As a return compliment to the Juniors, who entertained the Seniors so royally in the Junior-Senior banquet, the Seniors were hosts to them at a picnic on Wednesday evening at the Clint White home.

Games were played and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to both classes and to Misses Louise Ball and Ruth Patterson and to Henry Black.

Previous to these events, the Seniors commemorated Senior Day with an excursion to Medicine Park, Oklahoma, on Friday, May 12. They were chaperoned by their sponsor, Miss Ball, and class mothers, Mesdames White and Callaway, and Mrs. C. W. Thompson.

Swimming, skating and other activities were enjoyed throughout Friday and Saturday and the crowd returned home Saturday evening.

Misses Alynne Lanier, Frances Allison and Josephine Griffith, accompanied them. There were eight cars in the party.

Shower Given For Jim Lois Gafford

Mrs. Russell Beverly and her Sunday School class of young ladies sponsored a reception and shower at the Methodist Church on Thursday afternoon, May 11, complimenting Miss Jim Lois Gafford, a member of the class, who has recently won high honors in the recent play tournament at Austin. Not only did she place in the state but she, herself, was awarded the highest honor attainable in this line, that of best girl player among those representing the high schools of the state.

The guests were met at the door by Misses Eloise Saunders and Reba Collins and presented to a receiving line composed of Mrs. J. R. Beverly, Miss Gafford, Mrs. Clint White, Mrs. I. T. Graves, Miss Fay Callaway and Mrs. Geo. Self.

Punch was served by Misses Billie Draper and Blanche Hayes.

A short program, with Miss Mildred Donaldson in charge, was rendered. Mrs. Paul Shirley and Mrs. Arnold Rucker each gave piano solos. Mrs. A. F. Wright sang two vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. Rucker. Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, in a beautiful talk, reviewed the honors and achievements of the honor guest and at the opportune moment members of the class appeared laden with gifts and also a basket filled with gifts. This was a complete surprise to Jim Lois who arose to the occasion and voiced her appreciation of this expression from her friends.

Mothers Honored By T. E. L. Class

Mothers were honored at a meeting of the T. E. L. Class last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Leo Spencer with Mrs. I. T. Graves, Mrs. A. G. Bell, Mrs. Mabel Burns and Mrs. Spencer as hostesses.

Between fifty and sixty persons were present for this event. The honor guests were: Mesdames J. H. Self, J. R. Edgin, M. F. Meadors, R. P. Womack, Ida Reavis, W. D. Howell, W. R. Tuttle, Tom Beverly, Georgia Pittillo, Z. W. Smith, L. D. Fox and Miss Corrine Haney of Thalia.

Each class member brought one or more covered dishes. Covering two tables, these dishes included all that go toward a complete and delicious feast.

A sing-song of old spirituals, favorites of each one present, opened the program of the afternoon. Mrs. Pearl Carter served as leader for these numbers with Mrs. Arnold Rucker as pianist. Mrs. W. D. Howell brought a timely devotional and Mrs. Claude Adams followed with a touching talk to the mothers on the story of Dorcas. A special song was sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Hub Speck, Mrs. W. W. Griffith and Mrs. Ida Reavis.

The "Sunshine Friends" were revealed and it was voted to make visits this month instead of presenting gifts.

Mrs. O. L. Savage was in charge of an entertaining portion of the social hour and led a penny contest. A "peppy" sack race followed. The hour closed with several Bible conundrums.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

The Adelpian Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. B. Johnson as hostess. After the business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. G. V. Walden as leader.

Mrs. M. S. Henry gave a unique review of the ten divisions of the executive branch of our national government in her "Federation News." She also gave an interesting review of the state laws, which are especially interesting to women. Mrs. T. S. Haney in "Current News" brought topics from the popular magazines concerning state, national and foreign affairs. The lesson proper was "Two Women and an Experiment," Mrs. Jeff Bruce reviewed Goethe's "From Day to Day," which is a story of the life of a man and the three women he loved.

Mrs. G. V. Walden gave a brief report on Kaye Smith's "Shepherds in Sackcloth."

Mrs. Johnson served a delicious salad course to twenty-four club members and two guests, Mesdames Paul Shirley and Charles Featherston.—Reporter.

GAMBLEVILLE CLUB

The Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, May 18, with Mrs. Ray Jonas as hostess.

There were 17 members and 4 visitors present. Mrs. F. J. Jonas was leader for the afternoon, with the subject of Financing County Government. We also reviewed the lesson on "How We Are Governed," with Mrs. John Diggs as leader.

Refreshments of cookies and grape juice were served.

We adjourned to meet again June 1, with Mrs. Garnet Jones as hostess.—Reporter.

GAMBLEVILLE GIRLS' CLUB

The club girls met Thursday morning with Mrs. A. F. Derrington, with Miss Hale present.

We were graded on our towels. Hazel Gamble won first place. We will meet again on June 1.—Reporter.

Elizabeth Kincaid Selected as C. I. A. Senior Class Beauty

Miss Elizabeth Kincaid, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Kincaid of this city, was the only girl from the senior class of C. I. A. at Denton to be named as one of the college beauties.

Earlier in the year eight candidates for the beauty pages in the college annual were nominated from each class. The pictures of these thirty-two candidates were recently sent to Sir Harry Lauder, world-famous singer and humorist, for judging, with instructions to pick one senior beauty, one junior beauty and three beauties each from the sophomore and freshman classes.

The eight college beauties selected in the final judging were recently presented at a dinner dance at the college.

FIRST MATCHES COMPLETED IN GOLF TOURNEY

Thirty-nine players qualified for the annual tournament of the local country club and all but one of the first-round matches had been played up to Wednesday, when rain caused a temporary halt of tournament activities. The number participating this year is the greatest in the history of the local tournament, which was inaugurated in 1929, at which time about twenty persons qualified.

R. D. Oswalt, defending champion, won medalist honors by shooting a 70, two under par, in the qualifying rounds. T. P. Duncan Jr. was second with a 71. Oswalt won the tournament in 1929 also and by winning it a third time he will gain permanent possession of the silver loving cup that is presented to the winner each year. T. S. Haney won the cup in 1930 and Gordon Bell in 1931.

This year the tourney has been divided into four flights. Those in the first flight and their qualifying scores are: Oswalt, 70; Duncan, 71; G. Bell, 73; Haney, 75; Grady Magee, 75; M. L. Hughton, 76; A. Bell, 78, and Wayland Griffith, 78. Results in match play thus far follow:

First Flight
Oswalt beat Magee, 3 and 2; Alton Bell beat Gordon Bell, 1 up; Duncan beat Hughton, 7 and 6; Haney beat Griffith, 1 up.

Second Flight
Guy Crews beat Alva Spencer 2 and 1; Raymond Burrow beat R. J. Thomas Jr., 4 and 3; R. D. Oswalt Jr. beat H. Schindler, 7 and 6; Ernest Spears-M. N. Kenner match not yet played.

Third Flight
J. T. Billington beat H. K. Edwards, 3 and 1; Otis Ross beat Irving Fisch; Lee Black beat Pete Bell; Merl Kincaid beat Oscar Bowman.

Fourth Flight
Bryan O'Connell beat Eli Smith, 2 up; Vern Walden beat C. V. Allen, 7 and 6; Dow Miller beat T. N. Bell, 3 and 2; Ernest King beat Bill Elliott, 3 and 2; Lawrence Kimsey beat John Razor, 1 up; Ralph Burrow beat M. O'Connell, 5 and 4; Fred Spears beat T. F. Hill.

Second Round Matches
The schedule for the second round of play follows: first flight—Oswalt vs. A. Bell, Duncan vs. Haney; second flight—Crews vs. Burrow, Oswalt Jr. vs. Spears or Kenner; third flight—Billington vs. Ross, Black vs. Kincaid; fourth flight—O'Connell vs. Walden, Miller vs. King, Kimsey vs. Burrow.

Junior Flight
The following boys are taking part in the junior flight: Joe Mark Magee, Joe Reavis Spencer, H. K. Edwards Jr., Glendon Reeder, Tom Alton Andrews and Clark Rennels.

Pellagra Causes Many Deaths; Adequate Diet Prevents this Disease

By Dosca Hale
Home Demonstration Agent

Pellagra caused 1039 deaths in Texas in 1932 and it is estimated by the State Health Department that there are between 50,000 and 100,000 persons in Texas today suffering from pellagra.

Pellagra is a disease likely to be produced by a diet made up wholly of fat meat, rice, potatoes, molasses, and corn meal. People who have enough food, including plenty of milk, lean meat, fish, poultry and plenty of green leafy vegetables or tomatoes seldom, if ever, have pellagra.

Fresh vegetables may be had from gardens part of the year and a canned supply of 120 quarts of leafy vegetables and 150 quarts of tomatoes should furnish a family of five sufficient vegetables for a pellagra preventative diet for the months when fresh vegetables are not available. If a dairy cow and chickens are not kept, cheap cuts of lean pork and beef may be bought, and dried or canned milk substituted for fresh milk.

The essentials of an adequate diet are three servings daily of vegetables of which at least one should be leafy or green in color (leafy vegetables in which the leaves are eaten but also okra, snap peas and beans, celery, rhubarb and others); two servings per day of fruit with tomatoes or citrus fruit at least three times per week; 1½ pints of milk per person per day, (a quart is better); at least one tablespoon of butter per day; two servings per day of meat or eggs or cheese or nuts or dried beans and peas; at least one serving per day of a whole grain, and fats and sweets in addition. The average American diet usually has too much starchy food and not enough whole grain products, fruits and vegetables to furnish sufficient minerals and vitamins.

Pellagra is only one of the number of diseases that is caused by an inadequate diet. Others are rickets, scurvy, diabetes, kidney trouble, an inflammation of the eyes known as xerophthalmia, anemia, nervous disorders, and others. The inadequate diet not only may cause diseases but often causes a tired feeling, loss of energy, loss of appetite and other disturbances. It often leaves the body in such a weakened or run-down condition that it is much more susceptible to colds, tuberculosis, influenza and other diseases spread by germs.

played by Fern Pearce.

In the scene in which a band of Texas Rangers recaptured the long-lost Cynthia Ann, the part of Prairie Flower, her little daughter, was taken by Mary Evelyn Edwards and H. K. Edwards Jr. represented Cynthia Ann's son, Quannah Parker, as a child.

The parts of Chief Quannah Parker and his favorite wife, Tonacy, were played by Glenn Rasberry and Peggy Thompson. They sang an Indian song.

Following this bit of Indian drama, which is important to the history of this section, a portion of pioneer life was cleverly portrayed with the appearance on the stage of a miniature covered wagon, supposedly drawn by a team of accurately fashioned horses. Pioneers riding in the wagon were Clark Rennels and Wilma Jo Lovelady. The pioneers walking in front and at the rear of this famous historical vehicle were Veto Miller and Fred Vecera. Before its departure, Clark Rennels sang a pioneer song.

The final number of "the past" came with a song by a group of boys dressed as cowboys.

In permitting the class to see a vivid and beautiful present, Jim Lois Gafford gave a reading in connection with her representation of the "Spirit of the Present."

"Texas, Our Texas," and "Dear Old Crowell High" were sung by the class in connection with this part of the program.

Iris Thompson, the "Spirit of the Future," gave the members of the class permission to begin weaving a new pattern on the tapestry of Crowell's history. Before she presented diplomas, the valedictory was given by Adolf Slovak and the class sang "Follow the Gleam."

Thelma Lois Moore and Wanda Rose Liles served as heralds during the program. Mrs. Arnold Rucker acted as pianist.

Those receiving diplomas were: James Adams, Florence Burks, Ray Burns, Arthur Campbell, Evelyn Le Cauthon, Dorothy Louise Erwin, Julia Belle Erwin, Maudie Dawson, Billie Drabek, Raymond Gibson, Lonnie Halenack, Raymond Horn, Edith Hutcheson, Marshall Jones, Ann Mabe, Henry Sanders, Glenn Shok, Adolf Slovak, Frances Welch, Thelma White, Bob Moyer.

one needs the appreciation of the beauty of character, arts, music and a good name, it was stated in the address. Proper regard for the brotherhood of man was also referred to. "We must take into consideration the people of the world at large and see the other fellow's side if the world is to be led to a higher civilization," Rev. Savage said.

Proper regard for the mental and spiritual aspects of life were discussed in showing their necessity toward experiencing life's greatest thrills.

In concluding his address, Rev. Savage discussed the matter of justice. Granting that the graduates had completed their life's work and had experienced life's thrills, he asked, "What then?"

Orchestra Plays
The exercises, the large crowd was entertained with several numbers by an orchestra composed of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rucker, Mrs. Alva Spencer, Leon Solomon, Clyde Hollingsworth, Marion Crowell, Ed McDaniel and Paul Wallace. This excellent musical organization is one of which this city can be justly proud.

The processional was played by Mrs. Arnold Rucker, piano, and Mrs. Alva Spencer and Leon Solomon, violin, as the graduates marched to their seats in the front rows of the auditorium. Following the invocation by Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine Miss Jim Lois Gafford read "At the Cross Roads."

The commencement address came after this number, after which "Our Yesterdays" was sung by an octet composed of the following graduates, Misses Faye Callaway, Peggy Thompson, Mary Dovie Moore and Alice Bowley, and Loraine Carter, Billy Jake Middlebrook, Crockett Fox and Neff Middlebrook.

Before presenting the diplomas, I. T. Graves, superintendent, spoke briefly. He urged the graduates to apply what they had learned to their lives even if they did not get to go to college. To really benefit from their high school education, he stressed the importance of keeping this education in use, or else a large part of it would be lost. He stated that the diplomas he was to present not only certified the fact that the student holding it had graduated, but that it also stood for the many sacrifices and achievement of the graduates' families and community in making it possible for them to secure these documents.

Mr. Graves announced that scholarships would be received for the boy and girl honor students, Jo Roark and Mitchell Allee. He stated that it was also possible that scholars would be received for Alcie M. Lill and George Thompson, senior ranking honor students.

After this announcement, diplomas were presented as follows: Alcie Campbell, Addie Brisco, Gordon Thompson, Alcie Mead Lilly, Benham, Mary Dovie Moore, Mitchell Allee, Jo Roark, Dan Callaway, Lois Nichols, Lewis Gibson, Jim Gafford, Billy Jake Middlebrook, Pauline Donaldson, Francis T. Bonnie Ownbey, Neff Middlebrook, Leila Barker, George Carter, Frances Woods, Lorraine Carter, Han Gene Bell, Robert Smith, P. Thompson, Crockett Fox, Alcie Reiley, Faye Shaw, Iris Thompson, Callaway and Florene Bell.

Crowell Barely Loses To Electra in Final Game of First Half

Crowell was beaten by the margin of 13 to 12 by Electra in a golf match at that city Sunday afternoon. T. S. Haney and Gordon Crowell tied for medalist honors by shooting 73's. T. P. Duncan and R. D. Oswalt Sr., Crowell's 1 and No. 2 players, dropped out matches to Jack Parr and John Elliott by scores of 3 and 1 in a match.

Haney beat Roy LeBus, 1 up, Gordon Bell downed Hub Myers the same score in winning Crowell only two matches in the top five James Parr beat Wayland Griffith 5 and 4 in the other match of the group.

Other Crowell players participating in the match were: winners Grady Magee, Raymond Burrow, D. Oswalt Jr., Lee Black, H. K. Edwards, R. J. Thomas Jr., Otis Ross, Fred Rennels, Fred Spears and an O'Connell. Losers—Alton Bell, Marion Hughton, Guy Crews, Ernest Spears, Merl Kincaid, Schindler, Alva Spencer, Vern Walden, J. T. Billington and Dow Miller.

Frederick beat Vernon at Vernon to win an undisputed claim to the first half championship of the Oklahoma Golf Ass'n. The first standing for the first half follows:

W. L. F.	5
Electra	5
Crowell	2
Vernon	1

Crowell was the only club to beat Frederick.
