Highway Deaths

Despite the steady campaign for traffic safety, few Americans realize the extent of the slaughter continuing on the highways of the 48 states. Some indication of the carnage can be seen if one compares the deaths which have occurred among Americans in the Korean War with deaths which have occurred on the highways of the United States in the same period.

The latest Defense Department summary listed 21,471 American deaths in the Korean fighting since its beginning. This covers a period of over two years.

For the years 1950 and 1951, there were 72,000 deaths caused by highway mishaps in the United States. Likewise, while we have suffered over 91,000 wounded in the Korean War, the injured in automobile accidents in the years 1950 and 1951, total about 1,300,000.

One can see that, in a two-year period of highway accidents, deaths were more than three times the total battle casualties sustained in over two years of Korean fighting. Highway injuries for the shorter period of time were over ten times as great as the total of American wounded in the same period.

The discouraging part about these figures is that little can be done to reduce the highway deaths. At least, it is accurate to say that little is being done since the total is increasing year by year. The emphasis is currently being switched to safer highways, better graded roads and better signs and lighting. However, stricter driving permit laws are also urgently needed in most of the 48 states.

The safety campaigns, which we have relied on in recent years, do not seem to provide the answer as effective as they undoubtedly are, and other action must be taken by state governments and the highway departments in the various states, if highway accidents are to be reduced in the future.

Read Speeches Now

On cold winter nights, the average American may get a chuckle out of some of the political soap opera which entertained us from July through November 4th. We can also listen for the crash of doom, if the words of the defeated party politicians were accurate as prophecy.

The amazing thing about all the political demagoguery and soap opera, which characterizes the American scene during every election year, is that the country somehow manages to survive and the people somehow manage to keep a calm bearing amidst the sensational screams of the politicians. It is a tribute to the American way of life that the average American manages to stand up under the strain and barrage so well.

The most interesting of the pre-election speeches are those in which candidates of each major party explain why the election was "in the bag"—for them. The arguments sounded convincing for the time, although—unfortunately—somebody had to lose and somebody's calculations had to be wrong, as is always the case in every election.

NEW PLOW MAY CHANGE GRAIN CULTIVATION

The new Graham-Hoeme plow promises to revolutionize grain cultivation. Invented after observing that superior wheat grew on land torn up by a road scarifier the previous fall, the new plow basically comprises three heavy steel H-beams, held by four cross channel irons. Its plow points, attached to curved shanks set 12 inches apart, break through surface "hardpan" and create low terraces under a protective covering of surface mulch. Through this porous cover moisture passes and is stored in the subsoil. The curved shanks as well as the spikes, chisels and other types of plow points are made from high carbon nickel-chromium-molybdenum steel. Ductile iron is used to obtain extra strength and shock-resistance in brackets, and in specially designed spring clamps used for plowing rocky soil.

In The News... 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the issue of the Foard County News of Friday, Dec. 1, 1922: R. D. Oswalt of Quanah has bought the library and law practice of Judge Robert Cole and will move here and enter the practice of law at an early date.

Rev. C. E. Lindsey, former pastor of the Crowell Methodist Church, is now presiding elder of the Gatesville District. Rev. M. W. Clark, also a former pastor of the Crowell church, is now pastor of Clay Avenue Church at Waco.

Miss Emma Pendleton, who has been with the Crowell Dry Goods Co. for the past two years, has accepted a position with a dry goods firm in Clinton, Okla.

B. J. Glover has moved his family to the N. J. Roberts' farm near Foard City.

Will Young, employe in the post office at Houston for the last year, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Young, of the Vivian community.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hinds, George Self, H. K. Edwards, Jack Brian and Miss Una Self, Grady Magee and Miss Flay Black and Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Kenner attended the Shrine ceremonial in Wichita Falls Tuesday.

W. B. Griffin and family returned Friday from the Plains country, going as far west as Hereford and on into New Mexico. Mr. Griffin says it is dry in that country and crops cut short. They encountered mud this side of the cap rock and as far west as Paducah.

Ed Rettig sold a turkey recently which weighed 32 pounds at 32 cents a pound. Tom Beverly sold one that weighed 36 pounds.

The Chickasha Gin Co. will build a new gin to replace the one that burned down several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Grimm have sold $180.00 worth of chickens from their flock. They started with 50 Rhode Island Reds in the spring and from that number have raised over 300.

Sabres to France

Chief of Staff of the U. S. Air Force, General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, recently revealed that the first wing of F-86 Sabre Jet fighters had been sent to Europe. The Sabres replace slower F-84 Thunderjets, which are being used in Korea as fighter-bombers. The Sabres are employed as top cover and tangle with the Russian-built MIG-15.

Said Vandenberg of the F-86: "These are the same Sabre jets that won a 15-to-1 combat superiority over the Soviet MIG in Korea during September." Thus, for the first time since the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance was formulated, the United States has a fighter in Europe which can deal with Soviet fighters on equal terms.

At about the same time, it was announced that the first 60, out of a planned total of 300 Royal Canadian Air Force Sabres, had arrived in France. Thus, the NATO powers now have over 100 F-86 Jet fighters stationed in Europe and the air build-up, which has been so long awaited, is now getting underway in visible form.

Socialism Creates a Power Shortage

The Pacific Northwest, where the Federal government has gone in for socialized electric development on a huge scale, has been the scene of a power shortage. This brought an unusual and extremely important observation from Merryle S. Rukeyser, economic commentator for International News Service.

"Federal bounties in power or other services constitute a double-edged sword," he said. "They connect the growth of facilities for a region with a cycle unrelated to local economic expansion. Thus, the Pacific Northwest depends for expanding motive power on the mood of the national Congress: whether it feels extravagant or economical..."

"When the supply of motive power is dependent on private initiative and private financing, the growth cycle is precisely related to the regional economic trend."

The Pacific Northwest now largely depends for its power supply on the ever-changing whims and policies of Congress — and Congress is a national body in which the representatives of a single region have but a small voice. This has prevented normal expansion by the investor-owned utilities in the region. No private business can build for the future on a maximum scale when faced with the specter of confiscation under the tax-subsidized socialist power program.

This is the primary reason why the most critical power shortages of recent years have occurred in areas where government has the whip hand and why there has been plenty of power in the regions where private enterprise has been free to plan and build and prepare—including those highly industrialized areas where consumption of power has grown most spectacularly.

Equality does not always produce peace; when everybody is equal, somebody is sure to make a bid for top-man.

They say that the darkest comes just before dawn, but aren't many folks who can sit.

Most people favor anything that promises to return something or much for little.

How to Pour Molasses Out of a Cup

The first woman who greased the cup before measuring molasses deserves a small but appropriate medal for ingenuity. Likewise, the first man who thought to tape an emergency key under his car hood. Or whoever first sprinkled salt on an icy sidewalk. Or whoever first tried warming a knife before cutting fruitcake.

In case you think all pesky problems center around the home, try soldering the connections on a radio. Or assembling the bits and pieces of an automatic toaster.

If you did it for a living, you'd be on the lookout for better ways of working. That's for sure. In our family, a General Electric man or woman who finds an easier way to work a tool, to tighten a belt, or pack a parcel may win the price of a new hat, or a suit, or maybe even win the price of a new car.

Our sugar bowl marked "Cash for Suggestions" has been hit for over $4,000,000 by employees in past years. Last year, over 25,000 suggestions were accepted and rewarded. This has been going on since way back in 1922.

As we write this, a machinist in our Schenectady plant has just made himself a tidy $5,000. His suggestion led to an improvement in the bearing that supports a giant generator. By the way, we asked him how he planned to spend the money. Turns out to be a down payment on a brand-new home.

You get something extra out of this, too. You want products that give a pedigreed performance, do more, behave better. Thousands of thoughtful people backstage add their bit to our production efficiency. And only an efficient company can hope to deliver something extra in the package.

You can put your confidence in—

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Receipts of all classes of livestock were considerably larger at Fort Worth and around the market circle Monday. Twelve major markets reported over 123,000 cattle and over 137,000 hogs. It was one of the largest hog runs of the season.

At Fort Worth cows were around 50 cents higher and bulls brought strong prices. Some early sales of fed yearlings were steady but most packers took a very bearish stand and before the day was over, many fed steers and yearlings cleared at 50 cents to $1.50 lower prices. Short-feds fared the worst.

Choice fat calves ruled firm, but others were weak. Stocker trade was again featured by some strong sales on cows and on light-weight yearlings and calves of choice grades. However, demand was still very narrow and plainer kinds draggy.

Fat lambs were steady to strong, with some choice fat lambs around $1 to $1.50 higher. Slaughter ewes opened 50 cents higher. Other sheep were fully steady. Hogs opened strong and topped Monday at $17 to $17.25. Sows sold for $13.50 to $16.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings sold for $22 to $30. Plain and medium butcher kinds sold for $14 to $20, with ratty yearlings around $10 to $13.

Fat cows sold for $14 to $16, heiferettes $16 to $20, and canners and cutters cashed at $10 to $14 in most cases. Bulls brought $10 to $18.50. Good and choice slaughter calves cleared at $19 to $25, with some 500 and up upwards to $28.50. Common and medium slaughter kinds sold from $14 to $18, with culls around $10 to $13.

Good and choice stocker calves sold from $18 to $23.50 and stocker steer yearlings ranged from $23 down. Feeder steers sold mostly from $21 down. Stocker cows drew $10 to $17. Heifer calves and heifer yearlings usually brought $2 or more less than comparable steers.

Good and choice slaughter lambs sold from $18 to $23, a load at 92 pounds from Hill Bros., Stanton, at $25, a new top for the current crop. Short lambs with No. 1 pelts sold at $21 downward. Feeder lambs cashed at $10 to $16. Slaughter yearlings sold from

Tame Deer Is Nuisance to Farmers Living Near Georgetown

Somebody's tame deer has been agitating the folks in the Rocky Hollow and Briggs neighborhoods, according to Game Warden Aubrey J. Shaw of Georgetown.

The "pet" which has a mere ten points and weighs just over 150 pounds, first appeared at the W. R. Weese farm, 12 miles northwest of Georgetown.

Weese investigated a noise in his barn lot at milking time one morning to find his horses chasing the buck deer. His dogs were also trying to get into the melee.

When Weese appeared, the deer ran toward him and before he knew it, the big buck had stuck its rack under the astounded man's arm.

As Warden Shaw reports it, Weese regained his own equilibrium, restored order in the barnyard and called the game warden for reinforcements.

When the warden arrived, the deer was temporarily out of sight. He opened the back door of his car to get a rope and just then the deer reappeared and stepped right into the back seat.

There was a slight hassle because the tonneau of the car was small for the animal's big rack.

Later, the buck was kept in a pasture near Briggs while a small leg infection was treated. The deer, at first, seemed content with the farm animals. But one evening when someone opened the kitchen screen door, the buck stuck his rack into the opening and went on inside to begin munching on a piece of watermelon on a table.

The game warden emphasized that summertime docility of tame male deer usually turns into dangerous hostility by fall.

He suggested it might be well for all concerned that this buck begin showing wariness before the big game hunting season. "I der to think what might happen said Warden Shaw. "It some fever victim should walk his tent some November night find this 10-point rack sack."

Electric lights were installed in the White House the early 1890's.

Soil Conservation News of District

Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, Lower Pease River District Board: W. C. Howard, Grady Halbert, O. T. Holmes, O. H. Brandon, H. L. Ayers.

After the rains last week, moisture penetration was deeper on alfalfa ground as compared to other crops on the same type of soil. Immediately after the rain quit falling, William B. Brooks, soil scientist with the Soil Conservation Service at Quannah, made soil moisture penetration tests near Quannah and Chillicothe in the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District.

On deep tight soils the penetration on cotton ground was 7 inches on the Lorin Crouch farm, 7½ inches on E. A. Kennedy's farm, and 7½ inches on the farm of Mrs. Mollie Young. Penetration on wheatland plowed all summer was 7½ inches on Lorin Crouch's farm, 7 inches on the farm of Earl Brown, and 4½ inches on J. C. Loveless' farm six miles east of Quannah. On grain sorghum land the penetration was 7 inches on the Sam Grange farm. On the J. C. Loveless farm, east of Quannah, the moisture went down 8 inches on alfalfa ground. All the above were on tight soils.

Moisture penetration on mixed land, deep soil, for grain sorghum was 7½ inches on the farm of L. W. Lance, and 8 inches on W. M. Kirkpatrick's farm, both

Quail Crop to Be Fair This Year

The annual quail season which opened December 1 under the General State Law, climaxes a pretty good fall wildlife harvest, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said prospects are for a generally average shoot although some sections will find the quail scarce because of the prolonged drought.

But Texas which often numbers its quail population to as high as 15,000,000 will again provide many exciting hours of hunting, this king of the small game crop.

One promising phase this year concerns the moisture which, for the first time in many seasons, will permit successful use of the indispensable bird dog. Recent seasons have been too dry to permit successful hunt.

This is the sport in which the man and his dog come into their element, said the Executive Secretary. This is the time when the farm boy and Old Tige and the city man with his carefully groomed pointer or setter strike their stride.

The reliable bobwhite is the mainstay of the quail population in most of the state although some areas have the scaled quail or the blue quail almost exclusively.

The General Law Season runs from December 1 through January 16, with shooting hours from one half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset and with a bag limit of twelve per day and not more than thirty-six per week or in possession.

But there are special seasons located just north of the Chillicothe Experiment Station. Penetration on sudan land was 10 inches on Ed Meharg's farm and 12 inches on L. W. Lance's farm. On wheatland the penetration was 10 inches on the T. H. Morris farm. On the Jack and Ed Meharg land the moisture went down 14½ inches on alfalfa ground.

On deep, coarse sandy soil the moisture penetration on castor bean land was 11½ inches on R. L. Sims' farm and on cotton land 12½ inches on the farm of Elmer Jackson, and 13 inches on Ed and Jack Meharg's farm.

Most of the above farms are located southwest of Chillicothe from 2 to 6 miles. The rainfall for that area was 1.6 inches.

ARE TEACHERS PEOPLE?

"The old bat! She certainly has her nerve! Why, she gave me a D in algebra! Me! Of all people! John made lower grades than I did and she gave him a B. She just doesn't like me. It isn't fair! She just simply makes me sick, anyway!"

This monologue is extremely familiar to everyone, especially about that nerve wracking time when report cards are passed out to anxious students.

Did you ever think the "old bat" is a person, just like you? Well, she is! So listen with an open mind.

Teachers are people. They live, breathe, eat and drink, have hobbies, families, social interests and political interests... in fact, they live, in general, much the same as we do.

It has often been said that to be a teacher, one must have the patience of Job. For five periods a day, five days a week, a teacher must successfully convey to her students that knowledge which she has learned.

When students persist in snapping huge wads of gum, talking consistently in class, never getting their assignments, refusing to cooperate and sometimes brazenly cheating, any teacher, no matter how harsh or how kind, is forced to take action, one way or the other.

It is unfortunate, however, that some students refuse to see the teacher's point of view. CHSites don't take this stupid attitude. Remember: teachers are people. —From the Pantherette.

V. A. BOYS GO TO WORK

These past few weeks you have probably been hearing a lot of commotion out at the VA shop. More than likely, if you stopped by for a look, you saw a lot of new, shiny gates, feeders, and porch swings, to mention only a few of the many remarkable projects the boys have built this year.

They have done such a good job on these projects that Mr. Myers has said there is a good chance of our having another shop period before the FFA show for the sole purpose of making gates and feeders to sell. In selling these the class will be of financial help to the club, but it is going to be giving the boys a lot of experience as well.

These feeders, gates and swings are as sturdy and strong as any factory made ones, and they will be cheap compared to them. This is an entirely new idea to make money for the club and we are all hoping it will become a permanent thing. However, this cannot be if they don't sell. Help us advertise.

MARY COOPER IS TOPS IN TENNIS

"Anyone for tennis?" inquires Mary Cooper, who is a tennis enthusiast. It happens every spring, on the tennis courts, that is. Proud cries of deuce, add, and game are mixed with good natured laughter and fun when tennis ace, Mary Cooper, and her "victim" are loose on the courts. Furthermore, she entered district competition last year, but lost due to some tough breaks.

This 5 ft. 4 in. blonde is active in numerous activities other than sports, such as band, dramatics club, and several others.

A wonderful personality and sense of humor make up some of her best traits. "Ermatrude" or "Cooper," as she is known by, likes a good laugh even if it is on herself.

High school life to Cooper has meant a class officer, membership on the news staff, and better-than-average grades.

As one of her friends commented, "Mary is a well-liked, all-around student who takes part in all school activities."

DEBATE TEAM ORGANIZED WITH BELL AS COACH

For the first time in many years CHS has a debate team. The team consists of an organized argument defended by two sides, the negative and the affirmative. The subject for this year's debate is: Resolved: That the Atlantic Pact Nations should form a federal union.

There are six diligent working contenders for the debate team. Jeff Bell, who has claimed the state championship for two consecutive years, has been working with the team. The group has been meeting on Tuesday evenings from 7 p. m. until 9:30. The team composed of Grit Stinebaugh, Fred Barker, Gordon Graves, Bobby Davis and Joan Roberts will go out of town for the first time next Saturday when they plan to attend a sample debate at ACC.

MESSY BESSIE AND DISRESPECTFUL DAN HEREBY WARNED

Have you, by any chance, looked around you in the halls and on the school grounds lately? Did you notice anything different?

Many of the more observant students in the school have looked and noticed that something is different. The Messy Bessies of CHS are up to their old practice of littering up the study hall and school grounds with candy and gum wrappers, old algebra and American history tests and other discarded papers. The Disrespectful Dams, meanwhile, have been spending their time scribbling on the walls, especially south wall of the study hall, desk tops and any other flat surface that looks inviting.

It seems that it would not take any more effort to keep the grounds and halls clean and to refrain from writing on the walls and desks. Those students who are responsible for these degrading practices must realize the disadvantage to which they place their school.

A messy school campus is not only disgusting to outside citizens, but to the majority of the students and teachers as well.

We, the editors, submit a suggestion in regard to this problem, as presented to us by several CHS students: See that at least one trash can is placed at the front of the building within convenient reach of all at noon time. A committee might assume this responsibility or the janitor might see that it is done.

It will then be up to those characters, Messy Bessie and Disrespectful Dan, to heed this earnest appeal and do something about it.

LETTER TO THE EDITORS

Editors:

This letter is what you may call a thank you note to people, some of whom may receive a certain amount of praise but rarely thanks for many things they do, yet, without them a lot of things that CHS is would not be.

First, thanks to the boys out on the field and their coaches, Amoret and Erwin, for turning out such top-notch team which has heaped district and bi-district honors upon CHS and they are not through yet.

Thanks to Walter B. Harris Jr. and the Wildcat Band for their time spent playing at pep rallies and their excellent performances out on the field.

Thanks to the cheer leaders for their tireless work at keeping the pep squad so well organized and continually contributing their great support in the yell section at the football games and pep rallies. They also are responsible for the decorated goal posts at each home game.

Thanks to Allan Taylor, George Fox, Carl Cox and Dave Everson for seeing that the hand bus, the pep squad bus, and the bus carrying the players arrive and return safely on out-of-town trips.

Thanks to the student body and citizens for their loyal support of the Wildcats at every game.

Put all these things together and look at the good that is usually taken for granted and rarely given thanks.

Sincerely,
A Grateful CHS'er.

ARMY TO CLAIM LEON PECHACEK OFFER MID-TERM

This is your life and your future, Leon Pechacek. You are a typical farmer's son with your father being a prominent farmer in Foard County. You are also a typical CHS site with three sisters and a brother preceding you in graduation.

You, like many other eligibles, are being served notice on your coming career in the Army due to the war situation.

Friendliness is your by-word with a little mischief woven in. Goodnaturedly you answer to the nicknames of Jump-Jump, Cochie, and Leo.

During your years in high school, you have played football three years and managed the team one year. Your class elected you to an office one year and the FFA chose you as one of their leaders during one year. You were the supersalesman last year for the juniors and did a good job as business manager for the annual this year.

Altogether, you, Jump-Jump, have had a successful high school life. You are a real all-around boy.

HOME EC III

The Home E III girls are practicing how to entertain and have fun doing it.

Norma Jones and Faye Black gave a Coke party for the others. Everyone had fun telling a story with each one adding to it as it went along. Then refreshments consisting of open faced tuna fish and cheese sandwiches, mints, and Cokes were served to the class.

Mary Lou Woods and Faye

Black entertained with a secret club meeting, the name being A. P. O. X. We could not become full fledged members until we guessed the name of the club. Refreshments of cheese cake and frozen strawberries were served.

FHA CHAPTER MEETS

The Crowell FHA chapter met November 25 in the Home Ec. department. The meeting was opened by the president in a ritual that gave the motto, flower, purposes and the colors of FHA.

A skit on safety was given by Zonell Eddy, Frances Kincaid, Carolyn Smith, Billye Bell, Billye McCoy, Sue Meason and Gail Knox. They gave examples of accidents caused by carelessness that could easily have been prevented.

Refreshments were served to about fifty members by the hostesses, Ann Wishon, Zonell Eddy, Doris Cates, Lucille Sparks, Kay Rasberry and Gwynne Johnson.

WILDCATS DOWN GRAPEVINE 26-0 TO ADVANCE INTO THE REGIONAL PLAY-OFFS

The Crowell Wildcats powered their way to a 26-0 victory over the Grapevine Mustangs last Thursday night and a chance to meet Clifton for the Regional title.

The Mustangs proved to be tough competition during the entire first half, but were unable to hold the Wildcats' powerful line and fast backs. Half time with a determined bunch of boys, and they showed that "never say die" spirit.

Ginger Johnson started the fireworks off in the third quarter and from there on Crowell had no trouble. Johnson scored once more and Halencak and Denton scored once each.
