

Bloodmobile to Be Here Friday

Gospel Meeting to Begin Friday at Thalia Church

With the Foard County Hospital consistently drawing more blood for its patients than has been donated in the past to the Blood Bank in Wichita Falls, local health officials this week urged every Foard County resident who is physically able to donate a pint of blood this week.

The Bloodmobile, which makes visits to Crowell in February and August, will be at the Community Center Friday, August 2, from 12 noon to 6 p. m.

This will be the fourth visit of the Bloodmobile to Foard County, and on each of the three previous visits, an insufficient amount of blood was donated to replace that which had been drawn for use of Foard County sick people.

At least fifty pints should be given Friday to replace blood already drawn and to give the county a small surplus in the bank, Mrs. Audrey Collins, technician at the local hospital, said Tuesday.

Grandson of Local Couple Wins National Title

A lithe, quick-moving 13-year-old boy from Mount Pleasant, Hardy Ward, stepped off a Delta Jet Saturday at Love Field lugging a medal and a trophy which proclaimed him to be the 1963 national junior archery champion.

Young Ward is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ward of Crowell.

The youngster with an infectious grin also brought back to Texas two world records to add to another he won last year. And although he was not eligible for a trophy in the adult division, the Mount Pleasant Junior High School student outshot 518 of his elders from every state in the nation during the 5-day national tournament at Running Springs, Calif.

Ward, who was taught by his dad, Don, has never belonged to a club, acquiring his fantastic skill with a bow in his backyard, using a bale of hay for a backstop.

He has competed in 14 tournaments, winning all of them, including the junior title at the recent Texas State Tournament at San Antonio.

Ward scored 860x1120 in the field round which included targets from 7 to 62 yards, and which is a new world record for juniors.

In the hunter's round he notched a score of 933x1120 at the same distances for another world record. And in the animal round he scored 470x560 to win first place but not equalling his last year's score of 518x560, a world record that he still holds.

Testifying to his pinpoint shooting, young Ward brought back two arrows he had shot in the tournament, one piercing and embedding itself into the shaft of another.

The young deadeye's father made the trip with Hardy. "He was slightly nervous the first day of the 5-day tournament," Ward said. "But in no time he had settled down and was as cool as ice under terrific pressure throughout the rest of the tournament."

Council Asks Last Week for Curtailed Use of Water Here

Mayor Henry Black and members of the City Council distributed a circular to Crowell residents last Thursday asking them to conserve water. Text of the message follows:

"The heat and the dry weather have created a water problem for the City of Crowell. The citizens are urged to help us conserve water until our water problem is alleviated. May we urge you to refrain from watering lawns, gardens or washing cars. Water is vitally needed for domestic consumption and fire protection.

"As soon as conditions permit unlimited water consumption, we shall notify you. We shall appreciate your cooperation."

Tuesday morning of this week, Mayor Black and the council expressed their thanks for the cooperation of Crowell residents to their request for water conservation last week. He said, "With your help our pumps think that they can supply the demand. When you water your shrubs and grass, we urge you to be conservative."

An article in the Hardeman Graphic News, owned by Henry Ashford of Quanah, should make Crowell residents appreciate more the quality of the water here.

The article stated, "All things hold some good for someone. The local water shortage is offering new income to an enterprising Chillicothe man. He has loaded a large water tank on his pickup, printed 'Chillicothe Water' on the sides, filled with water and drives all over Quanah selling the fluid for five cents a gallon. And he is doing a land office business because wherever he stops citizens gather around with buckets, pans, jugs and what-have-you to secure a supply of drinking water that doesn't have so much gyp."

Ten Firemen Attend Thursday Meeting

Ten members of the Crowell Volunteer Fire Department attended the meeting last Thursday night, Fire Chief Martin Jones reported.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Austin, Tex.—Texas Legislative Council, research agency for the Legislature, is in the curious position of being asked to take a close look at the ethical standards of its own boss.

Council, meeting in Austin, agreed on a proposed study of conflict of interest questions affecting State officials and employees. Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr resulted investigations into the private business affairs of former Railroad Commissioner W. J. Murray Jr.

A Travis County grand jury found Murray innocent of any violation of criminal laws during his terms of office. Carr observed in a later report that the Murray case raised "a serious question of a conflict of interest" between official duties and private interests.

Carr's report said Murray grossed $1,700,000 during his 16 years on the Commission—most of it from oil and gas ventures. Attorney general recommended "adequate laws" to control "any deviations from (ethical) standards."

Council will be responsible for conducting research and investigation of possible conflict of interest cases among all State officials—including the lawmakers themselves—with a view toward "improving our present code of ethics."

MORE REPUBLICANS?—Another action by the Legislative Council had interesting "two-party" implications.

Rep. Bob Johnson of Dallas was named executive director of the Council, succeeding Read Granberry who died last year. Johnson has resigned his Dallas legislative post to accept the $15,500-a-year assignment—creating still another vacancy in the eight-man Dallas delegation to the House of Representatives.

This leaves only one Democrat, Rep. Ben Atwell, lined up against the six incumbent Republicans.

Dallas Republicans surprised themselves and stunned Democrats last year by winning all the legislative races they entered. Speculation then was that the three remaining Democrats on the Dallas House delegation—Reps. Bob Hughes, Johnson and Atwell—would be in for a rough 1964 general election should Dallas Republicans oppose them, and an even rougher time if Barry Goldwater were chosen to head the GOP ticket as presidential nominee.

Hughes recently resigned his legislative post to accept appointment to a judgeship. This caused more speculation about a possible 1964 election sweep by the Dallas Republican organization.

Johnson's resignation has intensified the "Republican sweep" fears.

CRAM COURSE ON ANNEXATION—Texas Municipal League will conduct a special "one-day" "institute" in Austin on August 5. It will be a cram course for Texas municipal officials on the new law limiting city annexations.

RAPID ERADICATION—Few eradication programs have produced such prompt and effective results as the U. S. Department of Agriculture's screwworm eradication plan.

A year ago scientists and field workers started the "saturation" release of sterilized flies to conquer screwworm population explosion.

Texas Animal Health Commission reported only 28 screwworm cases confirmed in a 5-day period—as opposed to nearly 3,000 cases recorded during a comparable period in 1962.

As further encouragement, the Commission noted that of last week's 28 reported cases, only five were in areas where the program's "controls" were in full effect.

HOW TO BE A COMMISSIONER—Frank Miskell, Texas' first Regulatory Loan Commissioner, is faced with the massive task of creating the agency.

Since state office buildings are filled his first job is finding office space.

Another immediate problem concerns selection of a deputy commissioner. He will assume much of the detailed work involved in establishing a budget and an organizational plan, setting salaries for employees, hiring employees from the third-ranking executive down to the secretarial pools and file clerks, purchasing office equipment and furnishings, and so on.

Miskell still hopes to have the agency set up by August 23. That is the effective date of the new law governing the licensing and practices of lending firms who charge more than 10 per cent interest.

A flood of applications is expected from Texas loan companies seeking licenses and inquiring about specific provisions in the new lending regulations.

PROSPERITY, OR WHATEVER IT IS—Texas merchants continue to operate at a high level of retail sales volume.

Total retail sales show no dramatic increases. But the level for the first six months of this year is about two per cent over the 1962 January to June period.

According to the UT Bureau of Business Research, Fort Worth and Austin are in the lead with increases of six per cent. Dallas is next with three per cent improvement, followed by San Antonio with plus one per cent.

Cities recording disappointing half-year sales were El Paso, minus one per cent, and Houston, with no change from the 1962 averages.

Birds of India Introduced to Texas Habitat

Texas may have another game bird if the release of 182 hatchery-raised gray francolin proves successful. After considerable study, the birds, which originally came from India, were taken to an area of northern McCulloch County and set free.

Wayne Bohl of the Fish and Wildlife Service and Rod Marburger with the Game and Fish Commission, selected the release site. That part of the state is predominantly large ranch country with very little cultivated land, and corresponds favorably to the bird's native habitat in India. The few people living in this area have shown considerable interest in the project. This, of course, is always important to the success of restoration work.

The 192 gray francolins were divided into flocks and released at four separate sites in the project area. The area is apparently acceptable to the birds. "Swede" Johnson, game warden for the area, and Marburger were very optimistic about this release. Johnson reported later that the birds had scattered out nicely after only three days of liberty.

This scattering and occupying of the range is desirable, according to Marburger, especially at this time of the year. Over the years, many exotic birds have been released in Texas in attempts to find a species that would survive, reproduce and provide additional game for the sportsmen. Most of the introductions have not provided the hunting desired.

Biologists and wardens will make periodic checks of the progress of this newest release. The original release of wild-trapped birds did not become established in this area. It is hoped that the new birds are better acclimated to Texas' climatic conditions.

Do You Know Your Economic ABC's?

Most Americans do not study economics yet the economic fluctuations taking place all around us daily have a direct effect on each of us. A new booklet titled "Do You Know Your Economic ABC's?" which may be obtained for twenty cents from the Commerce Department's Dallas Field Office, may be useful in opening the way to an exciting subject.

The booklet first explains "free enterprise." Business and industry have long recognized the need for people to understand how the American economy operates if they are to make informed judgments with respect to national policies and issues, and now educational authorities throughout the country are putting more emphasis on economics at the high school—and even at the grade school—level.

Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges stated, "In a world where every day brings new challenges and problems, no American can function intelligently as a citizen without some understanding of economics. So many of our problems seem to stem from economic matters that we all need to know at least a little about them."

Whenever we look, some of the most important events are economic. All of us are affected by recessions, by unemployment, by inflation. As voting citizens we are nagged by economic questions: What should we do about tariffs and trade and aid to developing countries? How can we assure jobs for the millions of young Americans who will reach working age in this decade? Should we vote more money for schools?

Individuals have to answer these questions for themselves in a democracy; we don't want dictatorial men to make decisions for us. But how can we choose a course so the United States can grow and prosper if most of our people are, to put it bluntly, apathetic where economics are concerned. The booklet is written in language which can be understood by nearly everyone and it can be read with profit by any person who wishes to be better informed on economic matters.

It explains in simple terms what is meant by the Gross National Product and how it reflects the basic forces which the daily decisions of our people help set in motion.

Biologists and wardens will make periodic checks of the progress of this newest release. The original release of wild-trapped birds did not become established in this area. It is hoped that the new birds are better acclimated to Texas' climatic conditions.

Data Processing Equipment Printing Telephone Bills

Data processing equipment which prints ten lines per second will be printing bills received next month by customers of General Telephone Company. The speed with which the equipment operates will enable the billing department to keep pace with the ever increasing number of customers to be billed each month.

When the present type bills were initiated in 1954 it was considered a step forward in customer service and operating efficiency, according to a telephone company official. The new data processing system is a still greater improvement.

The data processing equipment, which is housed in the Company's revenue accounting center in San Angelo, is made up primarily of three units: a read-punch unit, a central processing or memory unit and a printer.

Foard County News
Crowell, Texas, August 1.

Instructions key-punched codes are fed into the read-punch unit, which in turn transmits instructions to the memory unit and "tells" the memory unit what to do. The memory unit sends instructions to the printer to print the desired information.

The new machines have "memory" units which can store instructions so fast that time is expressed in terms of millionths of a second. The present type bills require 600 lines per page.

Initial plans for converting the new data processing system began early in 1961. Programming of the system has underway since November 1961.

"Accidental death, as a result of swallowing poison, is increasing each year. You may not realize it, but more than 600 children—each year—some kind of poison. This makes every parent think and carry out a routine check of bathroom cabinets, kitchen, and a printer. —Cuero, Tex., Record.

From the News . . .

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, August 3, 1963, issue of The Foard County News:

The production of the Texas Company's No. 3 L. K. Johnson oil well in the west part of Foard County is now estimated at 750 barrels per day producing from a new deep horizon of 3,556-71 feet.

Grady Graves, athletic coach and principal of Crowell High School, will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in education at Texas A&M College on August 26.

From three-fourths to two inches of rain fell in Foard County Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Miss Bessie Foster and John Wheeler, both of Foard City, were married Saturday afternoon in the home of Jim Polk by Rev. H. H. Haston, who is conducting a Free Will Baptist revival at Claytonville.

Foard County's cotton contracts have been accepted by the Secretary of Agriculture, according to a telegram received from the Cotton Adjustment Administration by Fred Renels, county agent.

With only a few exceptions, Crowell business firms have fallen in line with President Roosevelt's national recovery program by signing the "President's Re-employment Agreement" this week.

G. R. Choate of Margaret, who has been in the C. C. C. camp, has written the News a letter telling about his life in the CCC camp.

Miss Frances Couch of Level-land was the guest of honor at a watermelon picnic at the park last Thursday evening with Misses Dorothy Pauline McKown and Mary Lou Fudge as hostesses. Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cole were chaperones.

The News force thanks Carl Zeibig for the gift of the largest cantaloupe that we have seen this season. The melon weighed ten and one-half pounds.

Federal funds to feed the destitute of Texas are flowing into the State at an average rate of about $1,500,000 a month, according to a report issued by Col. Lawrence Westbrook, State Relief Administrator.

Jack Welch, Dave Bailey and Bob Taylor took a load of cattle to Fort Worth Tuesday.

One of the most interesting musical spectacles ever produced, "42nd Street," will be shown at the Rialto Theatre at the Saturday night prevue at 11 o'clock and on Monday and Tuesday.

A permit to extend the Red Star bus line from Plainview to Clovis, N. M., has been granted by the Texas Railroad Commission. At present this line extends from Vernon to Plainview via Crowell, Paducah, Matador, Floydada and Lockney.

Could Be More Dangerous Than Those of Minority

"President Kennedy's recent order—issued without the consent of Congress—may open up more troubles than it will solve. The President has ordered that all companies engaged in government contracts, and all contractors doing government work, must hire more negro workers . . . The President or anybody else can issue edicts, but he can't make (a) skilled person out of an unskilled person in a minute. That takes time, and if the President starts to put white men out of a job just to put negro workers in those jobs, then we might see a few demonstrations of the majority. They could be more dangerous than the demonstrations of a minority." — Bedford, Ind., Times-Mail.

Soil Temperatures Differ

Checks were made with a soil thermometer on the Clinton McLain farm southwest of Crowell Monday, July 22 from 3 to 4 p. m. to determine the difference of the temperature of the ground with a stubble cover and the same kind of soil nearby with very little or no cover. The soil with an average cover of stubble was 94 degrees. Ground with a heavy cover of stubble was 91 degrees as shown in right side of picture. Soil without any stubble protection read 102 degrees, as in left side of picture. This field was farmed with the same kind of equipment and at the same time. The lower you can keep your soil temperature, the longer you can maintain your moisture.

"Why Research?" Explained Well in Game Magazine

"Although most people are interested in fishing and many have shown an equal interest in fisheries research," writes Ernest Simmons, "others have simply wondered—what are those people (biologists) doing... what is this research... why are they doing it?" Although Simmons, coastal fisheries supervisor at Rockport, is describing his area of research, the same could be said for research concerning inland fisheries work, and wildlife efforts.

"The reasons for conducting research are numerous," explains the biologist. "Some are complex; others are simple. For example, research is often started because people feel that fish are being over-harvested and that fishing is declining, and want to know why. This real or apparent decline is often attributed to night fishing, using treble hooks, netting, catching small fish or a dozen other things.

"A second reason for research is the need to determine the cause of an abrupt decline in the commercial landings, as in the case of the sardine in California. A third reason is the evaluations of changes in the fish environment are needed.

"A fourth, and it is hoped most important and encompassing, is that people become aware that a resource can be properly managed, only if it is well understood."

Simmons, a top marine fisheries biologist, claims that the actual methods of conducting research have sometimes been misunderstood. "The studies are not executed merely by biologists' catching a few fish or examining a few shrimp or oysters or pulling a seine a time or two," he explained. "And, the studies are not the 'ivory tower' type of endeavor often popularly connected with scientific projects," emphasized Simmons. "Field and paper work are coordinated to accomplish ground work and answer basic questions.

"General studies have been made for at least two years in each bay area and have yielded valuable information on the life found in these bays," he continues to explain. "Most of the important life history aspects of the major species now are known.

Texas Agriculturists Are Heavy Spenders

Texas farmers and ranchmen are continuing to contribute mightily to the general economic welfare of their state and nation. They are big spenders on main street, points out John McHaney, extension economist, despite the fact their numbers are decreasing. Their purchases of production and consumer items continue to increase and are a determining factor in many counties for business conditions.

On an annual basis, Texas farmers and ranchmen spend about $1,848,000,000 in their operations. Included is 449 million dollars for hired labor and machine hire; 398 million for seed, feed, plants, fertilizer and lime; 310 million for livestock bought and livestock expenses; 301 million for machinery purchased and for repairs and maintenance; 119 million for petroleum products; 67 million for construction materials; 57 million for miscellaneous crop expenses and 147 million for other expenses including interest and insurance.

Emphasizing the importance of agricultural spending, McHaney points out that three-fourths of all the manufacturing in the state is confined to about six per cent of the counties. Also, that in 208 counties more workers are hired on farms and ranches than in manufacturing and in 215 counties the value of agricultural production exceeds that of manufacturing.

Many businesses in Texas towns and cities are existing wholly or in part on agri-business and their employees spend their money for various consumer items which give a multiplying effect on main street.

Farmers and ranchmen, McHaney explains, because of the cost-price squeeze and the need for more efficient production, have used machines to replace high cost labor whenever possible. Tractors, trucks, combines, cotton picking machines and strippers, corn pickers, pick-up hay balers, home freezers, telephones, electrical equipment of many kinds, milking machines and much other machinery have become standard equipment during the past twenty years. Costs of these and other items, along with labor, have kept main street spending increased. McHaney says, despite agriculture for granted means too much to the total economy of Texas.
