AGENT WARNS FARMERS TO RID COUNTY OF GRASSHOPPERS NOW; LAYING SEASON STARTS SOON

Another warning to farmers of Foard County to continue their fight against grasshoppers was issued Wednesday afternoon by County Agent John Nagy.

Laying Season Starts

An unusually large hopper invasion was experienced in this county this year and the laying season will be started in the near future and continue through September. Unless steps are taken immediately, there will be the worst grasshopper hatch in the history of Foard County next year. The eggs are laid there in great numbers to do but wait and deal with the pests the following year.

County Agent Nagy emphasized the point that now is the time to get the hoppers before they are laid and there will not be many of the pests next year.

It is thought by many that cold, dry weather will kill the eggs. It has been proven that zero temperatures do not damage the eggs. The laying season has not started, reports from all parts of the county are that eggs are being laid as early as present. One farmer stated the fence posts in his field were covered with grasshopper eggs.

Get Poison Now

There is still a supply of grasshopper poison at the disposal of farmers at the Farmers' Gin in Crowell, and those who wish to obtain a supply are urged to do so immediately.

The Federal supply of grasshopper poison is exhausted and just as the supply here is disappearing, Foard County farmers are not furnished free poison. Federal supply became exhausted some time ago, but this year was fortunate in having an amount amount on hand when government aid was stopped. Poison will be mixed at the gin Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week until the supply is exhausted.

Gas Lines in County Undergoing Repairs

Cousin of Local Man Aboard Lost Hawaii Clipper

A cousin to J. S. Wells of Crowell was serving as assistant engineer on the ill-fated 26-ton Hawaii Clipper when it disappeared over the Pacific ocean in its flight from Guam to Manila with 26 persons aboard. He was T. B. Tatum of Tulsa, Okla.

Tatum was a member of the first crew to leave Alameda, Calif., for Wake Island to establish a landing base for the ships of the Pan-American Airways. He was later transferred to Guam and served the ocean liners on the landing dock, until being transferred to the Hawaii Clipper as assistant engineer.

The Hawaii Clipper disappeared last Thursday and to date no trace has been found of the largest of overseas planes. U. S. Army planes have scoured the route of the Clipper from Guam to Manila and oil slick on the water believed to mark the spot where the clipper plunged into the Pacific is the only trace that had been found. A daily dispatch Wednesday afternoon stated that military search would be continued for another week.

GRID TRAINING FOR WILDCATS OPENS AUG. 15

Over 25 Hopefuls Are Expected by Coach Grady Graves

Pre-season grid training for the 1938 Crowell High School Wildcat squad will start Monday, August 15, with fairly good new prospects, according to Coach Grady Graves, who returned from Austin Monday where he had been attending the summer term of the University of Texas. The Wildcats will meet their first foes on the local gridiron on Friday night, Sept. 9, when the Haskell Indians invade Crowell.

25 Aspirants Expected

About twenty-five aspirants are expected to answer the first call on the afternoon of August 15 at 4 o'clock at the high school building. This number will include rookies and seasoned players.

Many Positions Open

When the drilling sessions are started, the players will find many positions wide open, as William Simmons, Franklin Evans, W. F. Statter and Vernon Gibson, 1937 regulars, were lost to the team through graduation, and although the returning veterans are conceded the inside track for berths, much changing and replacing in the line up can be done by Coach Graves before the opening game on Friday, Sept. 9.

22 to Be Lettered

Coach Graves said that the largest number of gridmen in the history of the school will be lettered at the end of the season, as twenty-two Wildcats will be given letters at that time. This will also mean the largest Wildcat squad for the school, as every boy who weathers the training period will have an opportunity to see plenty of action in the ten games of the Wildcat's schedule for the coming season.

Prospects Good

This year's team should have at least two veteran backfield men and three regular linemen, although there will probably be about seven veterans trying for berths on the 1938 team, according to Coach Graves.

Charles Branch, who would have been a regular last season had it not been for a facial injury suffered early in the season in the game with the Haskell Indians, will be one of the more promising gridmen to report for duty.

Other than the experienced rookies and veterans enumerated above, there will also be several new boys who have never had any experience and are reporting for duty for the first time. Coach Graves feels certain that valuable players will be found among the new crop of boys this year.

Coach Graves stated that about fifteen of the most promising rookies of the spring training period of last year will be out for the grid which is to come, but did not prescribe any set rules of training for the boys as he stated that the boys had had experience in grid training and would know how to whip themselves into shape before the opening practice session.

Although the training period will cover about one month, there will be comparatively few days in which drills can be held and during this time a stiff routine will be set for the aspirants.

Young People of M. E. Church to Meet Wednesday

An all-day meeting will be held with each of the three unions from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. These meetings will be in charge of the union presidents of the three unions in the Vernon district and the general outline for the program in each city is as follows:

Round table discussion of problems of the local departments with all participating. "Objectives of the year." Mary Frances Bruce. Open discussion. A basket picnic lunch will be held at noon of each of the three days.

The meeting will be resumed at 1 p. m. with a discussion of pledges, how to improve union meetings and district programs, duties and purposes of the committees in the local departments by Mr. Westbrook. Many other timely problems will be raised and discussed. Each meeting will be adjourned with the latest news of the "Youth Crusade Movement" at 4 p. m.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL CLOSED AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY; 76 CONVERSIONS, ADDITIONS

A very successful two weeks' revival was closed at the First Baptist Church in Crowell with the services last Sunday evening.

The sermons were delivered by Rev. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Childress, and the song services were conducted by Rev. Volus Norsworthy, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church in Vernon. Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, pastor of the Crowell church, assisted Rev. Grant in the services. Miss Ola Harlan of Abilene was a junior leader during the revival. There were seventy-six conversions and additions during the revival, and thirty-two of the conversions were for baptism.

A special service will be held at the church Sunday morning for the new members and all are urged to be present by Rev. Fitzgerald.

Rev. Fitzgerald stated that this was the most successful Baptist revival to be held in Crowell in several years, and believes that its success was greatly aided by the co-operation of Crowell business men in a special service on Tuesday morning of last week. At that time all business establishments in Crowell were closed from 10 until 11 o'clock. He feels that this increased interest in the revival, and expressed his appreciation to the business men of Crowell.

Unusually large crowds attended the evening services and excellent attendance was had at all of the morning services, according to Rev. Fitzgerald.

In a collision with an automobile the pedestrian always gets the worst of it.

Last year 700 persons were killed in collisions between automobiles and bicycles. More than half of these were children.

According to the national safety council 65 per cent of the drownings occur from May to August.

Drowning, except in rare instances, is not the result of an accident. It is due to some one's carelessness. Some one does something when they know better.

HENRY ASHFORD, Reporter and Sports Writer

Crowell, Texas, August 4, 1938

Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy.

Every newspaper man knows that many untrue reports are constantly being circulated. The average man seldom makes any effort to determine the truth or falsity of a report.

Recently the Ringling circus cancelled all its show dates and closed the show throwing 1600 men out of employment because the tent men and roustabouts refused to accept a pay cut or permit other workers to take their places.

The time is coming when practically every luxury of today will be regarded as a necessity. Many of the things that a few years ago were the luxuries of the well-to-do have already become the necessities of all.

Kendall Places Endorsement on Grady Roberts

J. S. Kendall of Munday, who was unsuccessful in his candidacy for representative in the recent primary election, expresses his thanks to the voters of this county and endorses Grady Roberts as representative.

Judge Kendall's statement follows: "To the People of Foard County: I take this method of sincerely thanking those who voted for me for representative in the recent primary election and to assure those who voted against me that I hold no ill-feeling against them.

"Assuring you of my best wishes for the District as a whole and that I shall at all times bend my every effort to advance all interests. I am, "Sincerely, "J. S. Kendall."

Explanations on 1938 Soil Conservation

Notice to Wheat Farmers: Farmers who did not plant any wheat in 1935, 1936 or 1937, and who planted wheat in 1938 and who want a wheat base for 1939, call at the county agent's office not later than Saturday, August 6, and leave your request.

Wheat Allotments for 1939: The official approximate wheat acreage allotment for 1939 for Foard County will be about 41,000 acres, and this will be a cut of about 30 to 35 per cent of the past acreages. Farmers who have planted wheat for the last three years can not expect as large a wheat base as one who has been planting wheat for a number of years.

Wheat Loans: As soon as specified forms arrive, loans on the 1938 wheat crop will begin provided the farmers are willing to put their wheat in the loan. The wheat farmer who is eligible for this loan is one who has stayed within his 1938 allotments and who has not overplanted his soil depleting base more than 105 per cent.

Twelve Crowell Youths To Get Work from NYA

H. A. Zeigler, district supervisor, has announced that J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, has announced a National Youth Administration Work project providing work and training opportunities for 12 youths in Crowell for the purpose of assisting in Foard County public offices.

Youths will be paid at prevailing hourly wage rates and will work about one-third time. During their spare time they will be encouraged to attend training classes. The youths will also be given instruction by their supervisor on the job.

At the end of June, 9,400 Texas youths were employed part time on NYA work projects in Texas. These young people were assigned to 250 work projects, which included construction work, such as the building of community centers, home economies cottages, park building shop projects, employing youths in various public works shops, seven resident projects, providing work and training opportunity for about 400 youths in agriculture, shop work, and recreation leadership part-time resident projects providing work and training in homemaking for 300 Texas girls.

loan can be made for a part or all of the 1938 crop, provided the farmer is eligible. For those farmers who are eligible for the wheat loan, a loan of 52 cents will be made, but administrative expenses will be taken off. For loans which are made on wheat which is in the elevator, a flat fee of $1.50 per application. For loans which are made on wheat stored on farm a fee of not less than $3.00 and not more than $20.00 will be charged.

Wheat Insurance: There has been about forty policies made out for wheat insurance to date, August 31, is the last day to sign up for this wheat insurance. If you intend to take out insurance please do not delay in coming to the office and making your application. If you wait until the last days of August for this, congestion will be more than ever in the county office.

Cotton Price Adjustment: Applications are now being made for the 1937 subsidy or Cotton Price Adjustment payment. Applications are being made only on those farms which had a 1937 crop of cotton. The 1937 worksheets or the 1938 worksheets, will have to be adjusted before applications can be made. Please do not confuse the subsidy payment for the 1938 conservation payment.

Softball

ently gave the Vernon team new life and it started clicking, but it was not until the ninth inning that Vernon was able to overcome the top-heavy score which had been piled up by Crowell. With a two-score lead in the last half of the ninth, the Vernon boys made short work of Crowell's first three batters to close a new which only a few innings before had seemed hopelessly lost.

Crowell's big inning came in the third, when the local boys bunched four hits, one of which was a home run by T. P. Hunter, lanky Margaret first baseman, and took advantage of a Vernon error to run five scores across the plate. Crowell scored two runs in both the first and second frames. Vernon retaliated in its turn at bat in the third inning with two hits and two walks to tally four scores, to set the count at 9-5, having scored one run in the first. Holding Crowell scoreless in the remaining innings, Vernon scattered enough runs to win a hard fought scrap.

Home run—Hunter of Crowell. Three-base hits—Lilly of Crowell, Bowling and Matney of Vernon. Doubles—Taylor, C. Russell of Crowell, Moore and Matney of Vernon.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The honeymoon is over, and the first signs of discord between ill-assorted groups who rolled up such a tremendous majority for W. Lee O'Daniel as Democratic gubernatorial nominee, developed over the week-end, in the wake of the County Democratic conventions. In Fort Worth the nominee's home town, the "blue shirt" O'Danielites, led by Joe Steadham, labor leader, walked "Chamber of Commerce bunch" ed out, after bitterly assailing the which he accused of "steam-rolling" the convention.

In Dallas, the convention was especially interesting. Carr P. Collins, reputed to be "closer to the throne" than any other man with O'Daniel, dominated the session. As a result of the influence of Collins, an ardent dry, the Dallas delegates will take to Beaumont resolutions declaring the sale of beer and wine unconstitutional and calling upon the Legislature to bar their sale by the drink throughout Texas. It also urged stronger laws against book-makers, and gamblers, and altogether was a distinct shock to the "liberal" element in Dallas, whose support was enlisted for O'Daniel on the plea that he was "a sensible business-man" and "liberal" in his views.

Save Judges, Is Plea: Collins' also indicated that even O'Daniel leaders are fearful of the results of a "seven" on out of office" hurricane started by the flour man. Collins urged Democrats in the runoff primary to "find out about the candidates and vote for the best interests of Texas," declaring "there are some men in office and who have held office who ought to be re-elected, and there are some down at Austin who ought to be defeated." J. L. Goggans, permanent chairman, seconded Collins' warning not to defeat all present office-holders, by adding "especially in your judiciary."

Job hunters were warned by Collins that O'Daniel will fill the jobs on merit alone, and told bluntly not to ask the aid of himself (Collins) to get jobs as rewards for political favors. "because I won't do it," "because I won't do it." Reports from the rural counties generally indicated O'Daniel supporters were given a free hand. The difficulty at Beaumont will be composing the various factions who cast 525,000 votes for the flour man. They entertain the most widely varied views on many public questions.

No Name Changer: Judge Richard Critz, of the Supreme Court of Texas, has always suffered from a slight political handicap because many voters are not familiar with the proper pronunciation of his name. It is pronounced "Critz" to rhyme with "nights"—not to rhyme with "grits." When Judge Critz was considering plans for his runoff campaign last week, somebody suggested that he go to Court and legally change the spelling of his name to "Crites."

Flood Affects Politics: Out of a raging flood in the Colorado River which tore through five counties, destroying several bridges, damaged highways and washed away ten to 20 million dollars' worth of farmers' crops ready for harvest, may come one of the significant political developments of the year. Charging that the Colorado River Authority had filled Buchanan Dam with water preparatory to generating a lot of power to sell in nearby Central Texas cities, and wouldn't let the lake level down even when warned the flood was coming down, irate farmers in the five affected counties met in Austin with Gov. Allred and other officials, and demanded a Senate investigating committee probe. Chairman Tom Holbrook, no lover of the New Deal and its power-selling theories, called the committee to meet August 8.

The farmers contend dams must be used either for power or for flood control, primarily, and can't serve both purposes effectively. They charge the Authority officials sacrificed their crops and homes to their burning desire to generate and sell power. Then, they answered the criticism of the ruined farmers with the arrogance characteristic of bureaucrats, and further angered the protesters. Congressman Lyndon Johnson, of the Austin district, an ardent Government power advocate, is "on a spot" politically over the situation, though he has no opponent this year, is reported looking apprehensively toward the primary election two years hence since the flood.

Allred To Quit Soon: Hinting broadly that he will step out of the Governor's office near September 1, Gov. Allred exhibited his commission as U. S.

Judge for the Southern Texas district, and talked to friends this week about the "tremendous congestion" of the docket of the new court. It will open for business Sept. 5, with more cases set for trial than any other Federal District court in the United States. Best guesses here feel sure Judge Allred will be on the bench. That will give Walter Woodul, lieutenant governor, about 1 1/2 months to serve as Governor. Meanwhile, Woodul, high man in the first priority for Attorney General, was vigorously prosecuting his runoff race with Gerald C. Mann, ex-SMU football star of Dallas.

Austin Notes: This was "trade-out" week among the candidates, and virtually all candidates for State office, defeated and left in the runoff, visited the capital for conferences with the others. Ernest O. Thompson, departing for the Oil States Compact meeting in Colorado, expressed no bitterness at his defeat, and his friends began talking freely of his "next race for Governor." Bill McCraw announced he will practice law in Dallas after January 1. The school folks were well-pleased to get a renewal of the present $22 per capita apportionment of the Automatic Tax Board, set the State tax rate at 49 cents, giving the constitutional maximum of 35 cents to the general fund, and 7 cents to the Confederate pension fund, with 7 cents additional for free text-books. The school apportionment will be financed from the available school fund.

Collins Talks: In Dallas, the convention was especially interesting. Carr P. Collins, reputed to be "closer to the throne" than any other man with O'Daniel, dominated the session. As a result of the influence of Collins, an ardent dry, the Dallas delegates will take to Beaumont resolutions declaring the sale of beer and wine unconstitutional and calling upon the Legislature to bar their sale by the drink throughout Texas. It also urged stronger laws against book-makers, and gamblers, and altogether was a distinct shock to the "liberal" element in Dallas, whose support was enlisted for O'Daniel on the plea that he was "a sensible business-man" and "liberal" in his views.

WHAT WE THINK (By Frank Dixon)

Not long ago I listened to a speaker on the radio who warned his listeners against the dangers to this government and the freedom of the American people. He pointed with alarm to the groups of Communists, Nazi, Fascists and the like which he said were permitted to exist undisturbed in this country, and which, in his opinion, constituted the gravest danger against the perpetuity of our democratic institutions.

I do not agree with this speaker who believes that these things constitute the greatest menace to our government. To me the greatest peril to American liberty, and the thing that is going to be responsible for its destruction, if it ever should be destroyed, is the indifferent and willfully ignorant voter, who is too lazy to inform himself up to the men and the issues of the day, too indifferent to vote, and too partisan to make an honest appraisal of men and issues.

This is the greatest peril that this or any democracy faces. This is the peculiar peril of a democracy, because the rulers and the lawmakers of a democracy are chosen by the people, and, if those who choose the rulers lack the energy to inform themselves impartially, and the courage to vote religiously their convictions, they are derelict to their duty and false to the cause of this freedom.

With the increase of freedom and liberty comes increased responsibility. The large measure of liberty and freedom now enjoyed by the people of this nation, creates, because of it, a large measure of responsibility. Liberty, freedom, and responsibility are inseparable. How this responsibility is going to be met depends upon the intelligence and character of the citizens. What this character is depends upon the teaching of the home. We have shifted too much of this teaching upon the schools and churches. These are doing a splendid work, but they can never take the place of the home. It is in the home, by precept, and example, and the daily lives of the parents, that honesty, and sobriety, and industry, and decency, and morality, and courtesy, and religion are taught. I don't believe the homes of this nation can fail to teach these things and fail to live these things and expect to see them reflected in the lives of the men going out of the homes.

We can't belittle religion, and honesty and sobriety, and character and morality, and have our children respect it. We must teach that the same rule of honesty applies in little things that applies in big things. We can't raise a boy to think it is right and smart to steal in little things and wrong to steal in big things. Character is not built that way.

Chief Wawatam: Wawatam was an Ojibway who befriended the English trader Alexander Henry, at the time the massacre at Old Mackinac 1763, says a writer in the Detroit News. He had shown a special friendship for Henry, had been him as plainly as he dared, had tried to get him away. At the massacre he appeared before the chief who held Henry prisoner and pleaded successfully for life of his "brother." Henry concealed by him until all was past. In later years Wawatam became blind and was accidentally burned in his lodge at Onondaga Point.

Rayon's Growth Spurs Need For Cotton Research

Dallas.—The spectacular growth, continued through 1937, of production and use of rayon in world textile industries is seen in a report of the All-South Development Council as further complicating cotton marketing problems and increasing the urgency for finding new cotton uses and cutting production costs through better seed, better ginning, and more thorough insect control.

Production of continuous filament rayon yarns, according to a bulletin of the National City Bank of New York, increased by 66 million pounds in 1937, reaching a peak of 1,187,000,000 (billion) pounds. The steady but startling growth of this product is shown by Textile Economics Bureau figures for 1913, first year it figured in textile statistics, when the total was a mere 25,000,000 pounds; 1922, when it had risen only to 77,000,000, and for 1929, by which time it had multiplied six times, for a total of 435,000,000 pounds.

Even more spectacular has been the rise of rayon "staple fiber," which is rayon cut into short lengths—1 1/2 to 2 inches—for spinning into yarns or cotton, woolen or worsted spinning machinery. Starting with 20 million pounds in 1932, production more than doubled by 1934, at 52 million, nearly tripled the next year, touching 139 million, and doubled again last year, to reach 622 million. This 1937 total for staple fiber represented 34 per cent of total rayon production.

As to the actual competition between cotton and rayon, the bulletin says "the development of staple fiber at this phenomenal rate is something to be considered by the sheep men and cotton growers of this country as well as the silk farmers of Japan." The total poundage of all rayon produced (nearly 2 billion pounds) is not yet impressive in relation to total cotton (more than 18 billion pounds), and as world use of fibers expands there will be room in the industries for both materials without necessarily reducing the consumption of cotton and wool.

"Nevertheless, price relations are affected. The higher the price of the materials, the greater the competition from the new."

With this new re-inforcement of an economic "ceiling" on cotton prices, the need for more economical methods, to insure a margin of profit despite restricted price, is more apparent than ever, says the Council's report. It is further justification for speeding plans for a cotton research laboratory to discover new industrial uses for cotton, and intensifying work toward cutting costs by insect control, better seed selection, better ginning. Research and rayon inevitably make cotton and rayon more "partners" than rivals, through emphasizing and perfect-

The name Cleo, of Greek origin, means "blooming" or "dant." It was the summer of Demeter, the Greek goddess of agriculture and poets have used it as a name for a shepherd or rustic maiden. St. Paul mentions a Cleo of Corinth, though pretty and modest. Cleo has never been in one use and no prominent bearer it have been found in the annals of history.

By Briggs Robertson, Austin

The mighty West Texas sand-storm in all its fury and bluster would have been small indeed compared with the Flour Storm that whirled over the entire state of Texas Saturday in the living form of W. Lee O'Daniel. Dazed candidates and politicians, so completely submerged by the avalanche, say it was unreal, and even now can offer no good explanation for the thing except "it was a natural."

It has to a certain extent placed him on the spot. The responsibilities that have been laid upon his shoulders will weigh heavily. The mass of his supporters are going to expect great things from him, probably more from him, though it's unfair for them to do it, than from any other Governor that ever took the oath. Lee O'Daniel has the chance to make Texas' most popular governor, if things break right for him, and the unpopular if he is unable to please a demanding public that will expect from him almost the impossible.

The Colorado River ran O'Daniel a close second in Austin and other river towns in the state when it left its banks and spread over many acres of ground, doing countless thousands of dollars worth of damage to towns, farms and livestock along its route.
