Brother of Local Lady Passes Away in Los Angeles, Calif.

Leslie Earl Edmonds, brother of Mrs. Grady Magee, passed away at his apartment in the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel in Los Angeles, Calif., on Sunday, July 13, following a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Edmonds had made his home in Washington, D. C., since the early part of World War II. He served as one of the legal advisers to the Cabinet during a part of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt's term of office as president of the U. S. ## Veterans News

The Veterans Administration is seeking pharmacists for employment in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, VA announced this week.

Salaries for the positions range from $2,644 to $4,149 per year. Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Branch Office, No. 10, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas 2, Texas.

The Veterans Administration has negotiated contracts with about 150 correspondence schools in the United States to furnish veterans instruction under the GI Bill.

Veterans are eligible for these "credit order" courses if they meet the qualifications for GI Bill education or training.

A veteran may get up to a total of 500 dollars worth of correspondence courses. No subsistence allowance is paid for correspondence courses.

Only schools which have a contract with VA and which are approved by the state in which they operate may be paid for veterans' courses under the GI Bill.

About 35 per cent of the veterans who have entered education or training have terminated their courses, VA reports.

The great majority of these veterans are eligible for additional GI study—if they want to take it some time in the future.

There are many reasons for terminations, VA found. These include ill health, lack of housing, financial problems, scholastic difficulties, employment opportunities and personal problems.

With this issue the Foard County News enters its 57th year of continuous publication. The paper was started back in 1891 by J. L. Harper when Foard County was organized and was printed in an upstairs room of the home of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Adams which was located on the west side of the brick building now stands that is the permanent home of the newspaper plant.

The News changed ownerships and locations many times before it was brought back to its original location by Kimsey & Klepper in the summer of 1928. Mr. Kimsey sold his half interest to T. B. Klepper, Jan. 1, 1929, and the paper has been operated under the same ownership and management since that time.

The present owner and publisher has been connected with the paper longer than any other one man. He started to learn to hand-set type in the latter part of 1905, although he had inked the old Army and George Washington hand-operated presses during his school days. H. L. Kimsey bought the paper from the late J. C. Roberts and son, Will, in 1906 and shortly afterwards sold a half interest to Klepper and this partnership continued until they sold out in 1911. In 1915, Kimsey bought a half interest from J. L. Martin and in 1917 Mr. Martin sold the other half interest to Klepper. This partnership continued until 1929.

The present force, besides the editor and publisher, consists of Mrs. Klepper, who has been society and news editor since 1942. J. V. Robie, Linotype operator; Goodloe Meason, stereotyper and pressman, who is taking on-the-job training as a printer under the government G. I. program. He completes six months training with this issue. The fifth member of the force is 13-year-old Don Gobin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Gobin, who is taking unusual interest in learning everything he can about the printer's trade.

The present management appreciates the friendship and cooperation of the people of this trade area and looks forward with anticipation to serving its constituents better each year.

Hobby Essay Contest Sponsored by Foard County Federation

The Library committee of the Foard County Federation, composed of Mrs. L. A. Andrews, Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, Mrs. M. N. Kenner, Mrs. Herman Kinchele and Judge Leslie Thomas, is sponsoring a Hobby Essay Contest for the summer weeks and asks that everybody, young or old, who has a hobby, will co-operate in the project. The Hobby Essay Contest will culminate with a Hobby Show in the early fall. Also, the Hobby Contest will be an annual affair and a Hobby Show will be held each fall, according to the plans of the committee.

All essays must be completed and turned in to Box 325, Crowell, by August 15. The title of the essays is "My Hobby and What It Has Done for Me." The first prize will be a two-year subscription to the County Federation Library and the second prize will be a one-year subscription to the library.

The contest will be in three divisions. The first division will be up to twelve years of age, the second division will be from twelve years of age to eighteen years and the third division will be for adults. A first and second prize will be awarded in each division.

Essays in the first division must not exceed one hundred words. In the case of a child who is too young to write his or her own essay, the essay may be dictated to an older person, but must be in the child's own words.

Essays in the second and third divisions must not exceed two hundred and fifty words. Adults, who have outstanding hobbies, but who feel that they do not have the time to enter the contest, are asked to allow their hobby display to be shown at the time of the Hobby Show, in order to encourage children to take an interest in hobbies, the very best proven way in which to spend one's time and to improve one's self.

Teachers Elected to Fill Vacancies in Crowell Schools

The Crowell School Board met Monday night and set Monday, September 1, as opening day for the 1947-48 school term to begin.

Two new faculty members were elected to fill vacancies that were created by resignations. Mrs. J. H. Fields was elected to fill Mrs. Cecil Carroll's place in the intermediate department and Miss Berdell Nelson was elected to teach second grade work that was taught by Mrs. Overton Neal. According to Supt. Grady Graves, Mrs. Fields will be used in the fourth grade and Mrs. W. F. Statter, who taught this grade last year, will teach choral singing in both the high school and intermediate grades this year.

Mrs. Fields has a Bachelor of Arts degree and has had twelve years of experience in the Corsicana Schools. Miss Nelson will finish her fourth year of college work at West Texas State Teachers' College this summer. She taught in the Floydada Schools last year and the Paducah Schools two years before going to Floydada.

Mrs. Earl Manard also resigned from the Crowell faculty, but this place will not be filled due to the fact that Crowell is eligible for only twenty-two teachers this year. The rest of Crowell's faculty will remain the same as it was last year.

All bus drivers were elected back to the positions that they held last year: Black and Gambelville districts, E. W. Burrow; Foard City, west route, Paul Wallace; Foard City, east route, Wallace Hazlewood; Crowell, Jameson route, Paul Johnson; Claytonville, Bill Cox; Riverside, Lewis Pyle; Thalia, Ab Jones; Margaret, George Pruitt; and Vivian, Barney Sanders.

J. E. Thompson Died at His Home Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral to Be Held This Morning at 10 at Baptist Church

J. E. Thompson passed away at his home in Crowell Tuesday, July 22, at 3 o'clock following an illness of only a few days. However, Mr. Thompson had been in failing health for several years. He had been visiting in the home of his son, Ed Thompson in Atlanta and was seemingly in his usual health when he was stricken with his last illness. The Womack ambulance brought him home and he had grown steadily worse.

Funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church Thursday morning, (today) at 10 o'clock, with Rev. N. B. Moon, the pastor, officiating. Interment will be made in the Crowell cemetery under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge of which the deceased was a loyal member.

J. E. Thompson was born in Cass County on March 30, 1875. He was married to Miss Cora Lee Thomas in 1895 and the couple moved to Foard County in 1915. Mr. Thompson had been employed by the Texas Highway Department for twenty years, with the exception of the past three years when he was incapacitated by ill health.

Survivors include his wife, six children, Ed Thompson of Atlanta; Rayo Thompson of Odessa; Mrs. Howard Williams of Crowell; Mrs. J. D. Lockhart of Iraan; Mrs. Ocie Pearl Bolibrouh of Crowell and Mrs. Orville White of Abilene; twelve grandchildren; one great grandchild and one brother. All the children and the brother, I. T. Thompson, of Marshall, are present. A number of nephews and nieces also survive. Five children have preceded their father in death.

Fewer Texas Farmers Need to Borrow, Agriculture Betters Financial Position, Credit Survey Reveals

Reflecting the increased costs of producing crops and the availability of more farm and ranch equipment, the volume of bank credit used by Texas farmers and stockmen is currently higher than it was a year ago, according to R. L. Kincaid, president of Crowell State Bank, who represents the Texas Bankers Association as Foard County Key Banker.

"However, Texas farm families are probably in the strongest financial position that they have ever been," Dr. Kincaid said. "Less farmers and ranchers need to use the bank credit available to them because continuing high incomes make it possible to finance operations out of current production and when credit is used, it is retired when crops and cattle are sold."

Reporting on the results of a third national survey of bank lending made by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Dr. Kincaid said that Texas farmers used only a fraction of the bank credit available to them during 1946. However, the 780 insured commercial banks which serve agriculture in this state made 564,290 loans to 193,946 farmers and ranchers. These loans aggregated $394,812,000, of which $172,205,000 remained outstanding on January 1, 1947. Banks had at least $613,683,000, or about twice the amount in use at any time, available for additional loans to farmers if the demand existed.

During 1946, loans on farm real estate in Texas increased substantially. There were 12,411 farm mortgages made for a total amount of $25,762,000 bringing the total volume outstanding on January 7, 1947, to $24,428,000. The farm mortgage debt is higher than it was a year ago, although it still remains only about one-half of the volume that existed in the comparable period following World War I.

Agricultural production loans classified as "other loans to farmers" were made to 181,535 farmers and ranchers by Texas banks during 1946, in an aggregate amount of $369,050,000. Of this amount, only $127,747,000 was outstanding on January 1 of this year. The production loans averaged only $2,033 each. The farmers' short term debt position is favorable. Another favorable factor in the present situation is that the farmers own substantial savings in cash, bank deposits, and United States Bonds.

A possible source of danger lies in the trend towards the higher cost of equipment and improvements which may reach a point where these purchases cannot be financed out of current income.

"Another factor in the Texas agricultural picture which bankers are watching carefully is the price of farm lands. Based on 1912-14 averages at 100, the average farm land prices of the state on March 1, 1947, reached 165, compared with 174 at the peak of the land boom in 1920. During the past year, the increase has been 10 per cent.

"The Texas Bankers Association and the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association are working together to help keep farmers of our state in a sound financial position. We are urging our customers to limit their farm indebtedness to an amount which can be paid from normal farm incomes, figured from the long term average prices of farm products. We recognize the unusual character of farm income and the farm land price situation at the present time, and as bankers we are pledged to discourage borrowing to speculate on farm land at high prices which are not justified by long term income prospects."

Water Pressure Brought Up But Not Equal to Demand

The water pressure in the city has been brought up since the appeal of the City Council in last week's paper for customers to use water as sparingly as possible, but it is still not what it should be, according to a statement by Mayor W. H. Mayor Wednesday. The Council appreciates the cooperation of water users in their help in this situation, but further co-operation is necessary unless the community is blessed with a big rain in the near future.

Pumps at the wells in Margaret are being operated on a 24-hour shift, but the reservoir at the northeast edge of the city is not full yet.

HISTORY

The Constitution's Victory — August 19. So much has been said of late regarding the American Navy and its power that it might be interesting to turn back the pages of history to 1812 when England challenged America's right to the seas, and the part the American frigate the "Constitution" had in winning the respect of England for our navy, small though it was. The British newspapers had spoken contemptuously of the American Navy and had belittled its size and the skill and bravery of our sailors. On August 19, 1812, the American frigate the "Constitution" under the command of Captain Isaac Hull met and defeated the English frigate the "Guerriere." Captain Hull, full of confidence that the American sailors were the match for the English crews, started out from Boston with the "Constitution" in search of British ships. Near Nova Scotia he captured a number of British merchant ships and on August 19, sighted the "Guerriere." The British ship got within easy range of the enemy when the "Constitution" batteries opened up. The first broadside shot away the mizzen mast and did serious damage to the hull and rigging. The main mast soon followed and the vessel went out of control. The battle lasted but thirty minutes, during which time the British loss of life was three hundred and the American loss thirty-four. The British survivors were taken aboard the "Constitution" and the "Guerriere" was set afire and sunk. Captain Hull and his crew were enthusiastically received at Boston. A dinner was given in his honor and Congress appropriated $50,000 to be distributed among the officers and his crew. The victory silenced British criticism of the American Navy and gave it a confidence and respect that it has always since retained.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

A good deal is said and printed by individuals and organizations who are interested in making the public safety conscious. Many of the precautions have been repeated so many times that they have become trite and hackneyed and tiresome, and yet the toll of accidents caused by carelessness and incompetency and willful neglect continues to mount. It continues to mount because it is most difficult to teach a habitually careless person to be careful, or an inefficient person to be efficient or a criminally negligent person to correct his ways.

There is one field in which I think much good can be done, much that will lower the number of accidental deaths each year. It not only could be, but it should be.

During 1945, the last year for which complete records are available, there were 7,100 deaths due to drowning. Most of these, in fact, nearly all of them, could have been prevented if parents had taught their children to swim. In my opinion it is more important that a child be taught how to swim than it is that it be taught how to play the piano or how to dance.

It is not likely that any person's life will ever be saved because he or she learned as a child how to tap dance or to play the piano, but the likelihood that some time in his life a man may be faced with the possibility of drowning is not at all remote.

During the sixty or more years of an individual's life there is a real likelihood that he will be faced at least once with the necessity of swimming to escape drowning.

It is definitely a foolhardy and a dangerous thing for anyone who does not know how to swim to venture out in a boat, no matter how safe it is or how skilled the oarsman. This is a chance no right minded person should take. As a result many tragic deaths occur each year a few yards from the shore of a pond or lake or small stream.

Children take to water naturally and in the hands of even a very mediocre instructor soon learn to swim. Once having learned they never forget. Their consciousness of their ability to keep afloat gives them confidence and prevents them from becoming panic stricken and helpless when an emergency arises.

The great majority of deaths by drowning are not due to unusual conditions, to swift and turbulent water or storm tossed waves. Most of them occur in calm and undisturbed waters in which any eight year old child with an elementary knowledge of swimming could remain afloat and swim to shore.

The wonder of it is that as easy as it is for a child to learn to swim that so many parents permit their children to grow up without this necessary knowledge. There can be no doubt that of the 7,100 deaths from drowning in 1945 at least 7,000 of them could have been prevented with a knowledge of how to swim.

The parent who is called to look upon his child dead from drowning cannot help but reproach himself if he has failed.

The average patriotic citizen of this country who knows he is living in the best country in the world and is proud of it, is apt to not take the threat of Communism in this country seriously. He thinks everyone is patriotic like himself and that there is nothing to worry about. The truth is everyone is not as patriotic as he is. There is a surprising number of people, who, while enjoying the benefits of this country, don't seem to have any more gratitude or sense than to take up with anism that is opposed to everything that makes his country the great country that it is. We may deceive ourselves by saying that under a democratic form of government people are privileged to think and speak as they choose, but it is also well for those who do believe in this government to remember that one worm in an otherwise perfect apple will in time destroy the whole basket of apples. Communism is a worm gnawing at the heart and life of this nation.

For Our Daily Living
LESSON TEXT FOR JULY 27—Prov-

MEMORY SELECTION—Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding.—Proverbs 4:7.

By Harold L. Lundquist, D. D., of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Education is so widespread in our day, and so eagerly sought after, that one might assume that the world would soon solve its problems through the cultural attainments of its people.
Why this is not true appears clearly in our lesson; for it is wisdom that the world needs, and wisdom is quite different from the understanding or memorizing of a mass of facts.
Wisdom teaches us how to use knowledge effectively for the glory of God. We see in our lesson:
I. The Meaning of Wisdom
(Prov. 1:1-5).
Proverbs are pithy, useful sayings, which gather up the wisdom of a people in easily remembered form. They are highly thought of in all nations, but reached their highest development among the Hebrews, because they rightly insisted that they must be related to God and worship of him.
We learn in this passage that they are given to us that we may
"know" that we have both wisdom and instruction. The growth of knowledge is always a prequisite to growth in grace—learn more about God and his precious Word, and you will have more of his grace upon you.
Knowledge must be coupled with discernment (v. 2), which speaks of going beyond and below the surface meaning. This will not be an abstract love of the scholarly, but a practical application of truth to life (v. 3).
Wisdom results in right living and proper dealing with our neighbors.

The one who has come to this place is ready to give (v. 4) help to others, especially to the young or those of "simple" thinking, who have not yet reached the place where they can get hold of such things for themselves.
Notice that the wise man does not stop at that point, but because he is wise he goes on to more and more understandings, to further receiving and giving out of "sound counsels" (v. 5).
Observe next,
II. The Value of Wisdom (Prov.
3:13-18).
The character of a man shows up in the things he holds to be valuable. Some cannot see beyond gold and silver. Others seek comfort and convenience, and do not wish to be disturbed in their easy ways.
The wise man knows that for real pleasure of the highest type, for peace of mind and heart, for riches that will last and not bring him into either sin or sorrow, there is nothing like the cultivation of understanding and wisdom.
This scripture affords us the opportunity to say a needed word to young people who are being so sorely tempted these days to forego their opportunities for an education, and to rush out into the world to make money, more money,
yes, the most possible money.
Education seems to be unnecessary, a waste of time and effort.
Put wait, the years will come and go, and then when it is too late,
the realization will come that a golden opportunity was missed, and that doors of usefulness and effectiveness are now closed.
It pays to give time to the cultivation of the mind and of the heart in preparation for life. We are not thinking primarily of the dollars and cents value now, for that is secondary, even though it may be important.
III. The Source of Wisdom
(Prov. 9:9, 10; James 1:5).
God is the source of wisdom,
and it is as a man fears him that he becomes wise. The fear of God is not a matter of fright or terror, but rather a genuine concern that one may do his will and never fail to be obedient to his guidance.
God is always more ready to give than we are to receive. He cable, but that does not stop him from being one of our bosses, just the same.

Surprised? Didn't you know your electric light and power company is owned by Bert, and a lot of people like him—
and like you, too?

People from all walks of life—doctors and industrial workers, teachers and farmers, mechanics and milkmen—have put some of their savings into our company. Those people are direct owners.

But there are countless indirect owners, too—many (like Bert the Barber) who haven't an idea that they have a stake in the electric industry. Those are the people who have savings accounts or life insurance policies. Nowadays, that means practically everybody!

Here's how it works: When banks and insurance companies accept your money, they must invest it wisely—and soundly. And because business-managed electric companies have a long record of faithful service, much of this money is invested in their securities.

So you, too—like Bert the Barber—are very likely to be one of our bosses.

Jeff Hardin Jr. Weds Miss Russell in Home Marriage

On Monday afternoon, July 21, in the presence of relatives and close friends, Miss Dorothea Russell became the bride of Jeff Norwood Hardin, at the home of Mrs. J. F. Russell, the bride's mother. Rev. N. B. Moon, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the rites with the single ring ceremony.

The setting of the recitation of the marriage vows was an artistic improvised archway between the living room and the dining room. This was enhanced with tall baskets of white gladioli and white Shasta daisies placed beneath the arch of greenery.

Recorded organ music preceded the ceremony, with Jocelyn's "Berceuse" and Schubert's "Ave Maria" as the prelude. Immediately preceding the rites, Miss Marjorie Brock sang Cadman's "At Dawning."

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bridal party entered. With Miss Mary Jo Brock, maid of honor, preceding, the bride entered on the arm of Gus L. Russell, her brother, who gave her in marriage.

Bud Keeton Hughes of Lubbock, life-long friend of the groom, served him as best man.

The bride was attractively attired in a wool suit of Eleanor blue with a corsage of gardenias.

Her hat and veil were of brown and her accessories were of cinnamon brown. For the traditional something old and borrowed, she wore a triple strand of pearls belonging to Mrs. B. G. Reinhardt, her aunt. In her shoe, she wore a three pence, loaned her for the occasion by Mrs. Grady Magee.

The maid of honor wore a pretty dusty rose crepe street dress with white hat and gloves. Her corsage was of white split carnations.

The soloist wore a lovely blue crepe street dress with white gloves and hat and a corsage of pink split carnations.

Immediately following the wedding, an informal reception was held for a larger number of relatives and friends, who were greeted by Mrs. Russell, the bride's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Hardin, the groom's parents, and the bride and groom. Mrs. Hardin wore white linen with white carnations in her hair and Mrs. Russell wore a gray sheer with a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Bill Drabek, a sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book, where the guests registered.

After the bride and groom had cut the first slice from the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake, Mrs. Locke Reinhardt, another sister of the bride, served the guests. The serving table was covered with an exquisite white linen cloth, with the cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom, at one end and the punch service at the other.

Miss Ina Mae Hardin, sister of the groom, poured punch. The cake was the handiwork and gift of Mrs. Joe Drabek.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Marcus Hughes of Lubbock, Mrs. C. B. Graham and Mrs. Grady Magee.

Mrs. Hardin is the daughter of Mrs. J. F. Russell and the late Mr. Russell, a pioneer couple of Foard County. She was graduated from Crowell High School. At the time of her marriage she was employed as librarian at the County Federation Library.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hardin, is a graduate of Bonham High School. He served almost three years with the Navy in the South Pacific. He has recently been a student at Decatur Baptist College.

The couple departed for a short wedding trip to Dallas and points in East Texas, after which they will establish residence in Crowell until September when they will go to Abilene where the groom will attend Hardin-Simmons University.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. E. L. Angus of Floydada, aunt of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Hughes and Mr. Bud Keeton Hughes, of Lubbock.

Forty-two Club Has Evening Party; Husbands as Guests

Mrs. A. Y. Beverly and Mrs. L. E. Archer were hostesses to the members of the Forty-two Club and their husbands or other invited guests at the home of Mrs. Beverly at the last meeting which was held on the lawn at the Beverly home.

Mrs. D. L. Campbell was high scorer among the ladies and Ab Dunn was presented the gentlemen's prize. Five tables of guests enjoyed the evening. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wright of Vernon.

The hostesses served a lovely plate of refreshments to the guests at the close of the games.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S.

On Monday, July 14, Mrs. G. Mills was hostess to the Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service with Mrs. W. L. Johnson, the president, in charge during the business session. Plans were made to do some re-decorating in the parsonage at Truscott and a letter was read from

Crowell Girl Marries Quanah Man June 28

Miss Lianna Belle Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Williamson, was married to Alfred Max Fry at 9:30 on the morning of June 28 at the Calvary Baptist Church in Childress with the pastor of the church officiating at the rites.

Mr. Fry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fry of Quanah and has been in the Navy for two and one-half years. He left on July 1st for Greenport, Fla., where he will be stationed until November when he will receive his discharge.

Mrs. Fry has lived in Crowell all her life except for the past two and one-half years when she has been employed in Quanah.

Bridge Party Given to Honor Mrs. Edwin Greene of Houston

Mrs. W. L. Thurston entertained with three tables of bridge at her home Tuesday afternoon to compliment Mrs. Edwin Greene of Houston, her niece, who is a guest in the home.

Others than Mrs. Thurston's bridge club members, guests were Mrs. Greene, Miss Mary Sam Crews of Houston, Mrs. J. R. Beverly and Mrs. Alex Anderson, who is a house guest of Mrs. Beverly.

The honor guest was presented a lovely gift and high score prize for the guests went to Mrs. Anderson while the high scorer among the members was Mrs. M. O'Connell.

Mrs. Thurston served a delicious ice course at the close of the games. Favors were tiny containers of orange blossom perfume.

The Wesley House at Fort Worth, thanking those who participated in preparing and sending a box of supplies.

Mrs. Johnson told an interesting story about a child's introduction to the Christ. Mrs. Roy Ferguson gave a list of church schools and vacation schools in the United States and she told of outstanding activities of such schools and missions.

The Church Camping Program was discussed by Mrs. Allison Denton. Her report concerning the impression of such Christian fun upon the life of a child of poor home environment was especially interesting. She concluded by asking "How can we as women of the W. S. C. S. further the camping opportunities for our youth—the church of tomorrow?"

Following the prayer dismissing the group, a cooling refreshment plate was served to ten members. The July 28 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Bill Rollins.

Heroes of the Air Mail

In this high speed age of atomic energy, supersonic airplanes and rocket projectiles, it is difficult sometimes to realize that not too long ago the pace was slow, and that the elements and man's apathy toward change contrived to keep it so. But behind every step up the ladder toward the better life there have been men who disregarded the dangers of the angry elements and the smugness of the status quo adherents to pioneer developments later universally hailed as boons to mankind.

If such a breed were the young, visionary and courageous darlings of the early Air Mail service of the postoffice department. These youths daily went up to battle death in their flimsy aircraft. Many of them lost the battle. But they lived up to the finest traditions of the postoffice; they brought the mail through. The Air Mail service of the postoffice with its globe girdling facilities, is a monument to their courage and vision.

We who take our daily air mail letters for granted can get a realistic view of the past deeds of these heroes by way of a Paramount motion picture to be shown in our town at the Rialto Theatre July 30 and 31. It is the glorious "Blaze of Noon" made from the best selling novel of the same name by Capt. Ernest K. Gann.

This motion picture shows in colorful detail how these men triumphed over the elements.

In the first four months of this year the U. S. exported 53,004,000 barrels of crude and refined petroleum and imported 56,609,000 barrels.

Careful researchers have determined that the United States is rapidly depleting many of its most vital resources. The supply of lead will be exhausted in ten years, petroleum in 20 years and iron ore in 20 years. Any new discoveries of new deposits would extend periods but the estimates are based on all known deposits.

are necessary on your car at all times. In most cases we do not pay any attention to our brakes until the brake pedal goes down without any response. This could cause a serious accident. Brakes should be inspected regularly, fluid added or adjustment made if necessary.

We have installed a brake drum turning machine which turns the surface of the drum smooth and true. This prevents wear on new brake shoes being installed and makes the brake job last longer.

We find about 75 per cent of all drums are worn rough, in ridges, or out of round. Would like for you to come in for a brake inspection and let us explain fully the reason for having your brake drums turned and re-surfaced.

We would like to thank all of our friends and customers for the fine business you have given us and assure you that we are going to continue to give you the best service possible.
