Weekly SURPLUS WAA NEWS

Cash bids for the purchase of carbon black plant near Texas, have been received by the Office of Real Property of the Grand Prairie Division of War Assets Administration. A cash bid of $1,420,000 from the Columbian Carbon Co., present lessee of the plant, has been opened by WAA. The Producers' Pipe & Welding Co. of Tulsa, Okla., has bid $975,000 for the purchase of the plant and pipe line conditioned for removal to the site. The two bids have been referred to Washington WAA for final action.

The plant will be opened December 15, 1947, heating, electric and safety equipment, including heavy duty, hotel type, gas and commercial channel and the Customer Service of the Grand Prairie Division of War Assets Administration. Clothing, for which always has been a good demand, and a limited amount of supplies are likewise being sold for sale. The property for sale in this offering is located at Houston, San Antonio and Texarkana, Texas, Arkansas, New Orleans, Louisiana and Oklahoma City, Okla.

War II veterans quickly off Stearman trainers located at the U. S. Naval Air Station, last week at a fixed price of surplus planes, the Assets Administration announced at Grand Prairie. Nearly 100 aircraft were present at the sale. Members of the aircraft disposal division conducted a series of drawings to determine buyers. Several of the successful buyers were former army and navy pilots who plan to use the planes for private flying. Others are now engaged in GI training or plan to complete a course in the near future. Several thousand steel coils originating $87,800 located at Maxey, near Paris, Texas, are marketed in a single lot, being an announcement by an announcement in the Assets Administration at Grand Prairie. Prospective purchasers are directed to be present at the warehouse, North American at 10 o'clock a. m., this week, November 21. The coils are 30-inch in diameter and are constructed of inch and a half hammock-style spring.

HE'S A BIG BOY NOW . . . As though Great Britain didn't have enough troubles, it has to scout around for clothes and shoes for this gigantic youth. He's Ernest Evans, 23, stands 7 feet, 7 inches in his stocking feet (naturally, shoes are hard to get) and weighs 337 pounds. Shown here with his mother, the sizeable lad gets 100 extra clothing coupons each year and still can't find a thing to buy that fits him.

Texas Has Made Great Progress in 6 Years of Soil Conservation

Fort Worth.—Soil conservation has come far in Texas since the first soil conservation districts in the state launched their programs six years ago.

And, as Texas observes Soil Conservation Week Nov. 7-15 by proclamation of Governor Jester, its citizens can take great pride in the way in which farmers and ranchers are going at their task as well as in the progress that already has been made.

Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation Service, reported that landowners of the state have voted in a total of 143 soil conservation districts in the six-year period. These districts cover 127 million acres of the state's area, about three-fourths of the total land area. Of the 143 districts, 113 have inventoried the condition of their land and have set up a work program. They are receiving assistance from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

Mr. Merrill said that farmers and ranchers of Texas are applying to their soil conservation district boards for help on their land at the rate of 17,000 a year. Over 44,000 farms and ranch owners and operators at the end of the last fiscal year were co-operating with their district boards in putting co-ordinated conservation on their acres.

These 44,000 farmers and ranchers operate more than 19,000,000 acres and they have already applied more than 45 per cent of the conservation practices required by their land. Last year they put twice as much conservation on their farms and ranches as in 1945 and for 1947 they are surpassing last year's records by 30 per cent.

Mr. Merrill announced that by the end of the fiscal year on June 30, the State's farmers and ranchers had built 66,000 miles of terraces, had seeded 413,000 acres of range and pasture, they had contour-plowed 3,000,000 acres and planted soil-protecting and soil-improving cover crops on 1,200,000 acres. They had applied improved irrigation water application methods on 473,000 acres and put individual farm drains on 28,000 acres more.

There is much yet to be done, the regional conservator emphasized. Surveys indicate that 35,000,000 acres of Texas farmlands should be cultivated on the contour and 29,119,000 acres of range and pasture should be seeded. There are 3,353,000 acres of wet lands which can be drained and put into profitable use. There are 1,032,000 acres which can be irrigated successfully. Cover and soil-improving crops should be planted on 35,000,000 acres.

The supervisors of the soil conservation districts—who are farmers and ranchers elected by the land owners of their district and who receive no pay—are the leaders in the state's soil conservation movement. They in their districts need the help of the problem will be attacked. They request assistance from the U. S. Soil Conservation Service or any other agency, firm or individual who can help them. The program in their district is theirs.

The individual farmer or rancher reaps the rewards of a complete soil conservation program in increased yields, decreased operating costs and in larger income. Mr. Merrill pointed out. This increase averages about 26

Crowell "B" Squad Wins Game From Quannah Last Week

The Crowell High School "B" team won another game last week from the Quannah "B" team at Quannah. The score was 34 to 25 in the Wildkittens' favor. The Quannah team was made up of players that are not on the "A" squad, while Crowell was using reserves from the first team.

Crowell scored three touchdowns in the first quarter by virtue of nice runs turned in by J. C. Autry, James Weathers, and Billy Jo Halenak. F. L. Ballard did an excellent job as blocking back on these plays. Other Crowell reserves who started this game were James Pittillo, Thomas White, Mark Hill Taylor, Jimmy Rashberry, James Bice, Buddy Rader, and Hack Norman.

Crowell's little Wildkittens played most of the last three quarters and gave the Quannah boys a good game. Several nice gains were chalked up by John Sanders, Jim Tom Cates and Bobby Jack Stinebaugh. The following Crowell boys played in the line with these backfield players: Harold Ribble, T. F. Black, Joe Howard Williams, Gordon Wood Bell, Charles Steele, and Harry Yocham.

The Wildkittens have won four out of six games played this season.

Texas Teachers Will Meet in San Antonio On Nov. 27-28-29

Fifteen thousand Texas teachers will meet in San Antonio on November 27-28-29 for the Sixty-ninth Annual Meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association. The three-day program will open Thanksgiving Day with services held in conjunction with the annual community service of the San Antonio Council of Churches.

Three general sessions for the group will present such speakers as Congressman Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, Mrs. Agnes E. Meyer of the Washington Post, Dr. J. Stoddard of Philadelphia, Dr. L. D. Haske of the University of Texas, and Dr. Glenn E. Snow, president of the National Education Association.

Fifty section meetings are scheduled for groups of specific interests. Colorful entertainment is being planned for the visiting educators by the San Antonio Association. Business of the Association will be conducted by its Executive Committee and its House of Delegates.

Supt. Frank M. Jackson of San Angelo is president of the Texas State Teachers Association, and B. B. Cobb of Fort Worth is executive secretary. Grady Graves of Crowell is a member of the House of Delegates.

The Budget Bureau has reported to President Truman, that without considering any aid to Europe under the Marshall plan the cost of running the government next year will be around $40 billions.

per cent. And where farmers and ranchers thrive, communities and their institutions also thrive. Soil conservation not only means increased production and income for the farmer and rancher. It means greater prosperity and continued security for state and nation as well.

Please Notice

The Foard County News will be printed one day early next week in order that the force can take Thanksgiving off. The paper will be put in the post-office Wednesday morning instead of Thursday morning.

Contributors, rural correspondents and advertisers, will render us a great favor by giving us copy early for anything needed to be published in next week's issue. Friday or Saturday wouldn't be too early.

We will appreciate your co-operation.

Crowell Wildcats Will Play at Olney Friday Night

The Crowell High School football team journeys to Olney this Friday night to play the Olney Cubs, who are undefeated in district play. Olney defeated Burk Burnett 19 to 13 last week to practically clinch the district championship. A victory in either of their remaining two games would give them the district crown.

The Wildcats were idle last week. In case they can play like they did during the last half of the Burk Burnett game they should give the favored Olney team a good game. The Burk boys were unable to score on Crowell during the last half. The Bulldogs won the game by the score of 20 to 6. Coach Scott Whitaker will start the same lineup in this game as he did against Burk Burnett, except Billie Jo Halenak will replace F. L. Ballard at the right halfback position. Dalton Biggestaff, Rouse Todd, and Grover Yocham will be the other starters in the backfield; Clifford Orr and J. P. Bartley will be at the end positions; Thomas Tammien and Fred Glover, tackles; Ray Black and Floyd Borchardt, guards, and Marvin Brisco, center.

The Wildcats will play their final game of the season here on Wednesday night of next week with the Archer City Wildcats.

Veterans News

Nearly 2,000 World War II veterans in the Southwest are being paid compensation for deafness due to military service and require special rehabilitation measures, the Dallas Branch Office of the Veterans Administration has found.

VA made the survey of its eighth regional offices in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi on the occasion of National Hearing week, November 9-15, sponsored by the American Hearing Society and endorsed by President Truman.

The southwestern veterans are among 42,000 World War II service men throughout the country receiving compensation for hearing disabilities. Another 17,000 World War I veterans are also drawing pensions for this reason.

The number of deafened veterans being rehabilitated by VA's Southwestern Offices includes 688 by Dallas, 86 by Houston, 230 by Lubbock, 465 by San Antonio, 205 by Waco, 72 by New Orleans, 93 by Shreveport, and 117 by Jackson, Mississippi.

Approximately 2,000,000 veterans whose secondary education was interrupted by the war may, in most cases, obtain high school diplomas by taking tests given at Veterans Testing Service agencies located in all parts of the country. VA reports.

The agencies, organized by state departments of education and not by VA, are being established in or near every community with a VA regional office or guidance center.

VA vocational advisers can furnish veterans with the address of the nearest VTS agency, as well as information on procedures for applying for credits and diplomas. The agencies, designated by the state departments of education, charge a nominal fee for the tests.

Tests for high school diplomas measure a veteran's general educational development resulting from his experience and educational opportunities in the armed forces. Emphasis is on general information rather than specific facts. Over a half-million veterans already have received high school diplomas as a result of the tests.

Crowell Schools to Observe 2 Holidays on Thanksgiving

According to Grady Graves, superintendent, the Crowell Schools will observe two holidays this Thanksgiving as has been the custom here for the last several years. There will not be any school on Thursday, Nov. 27, and Friday, Nov. 28.

The State Department of Education allows each school five holidays during the school year which do not have to be made up. There will be one extra day observed Christmas and two holidays in the spring. The Christmas holidays will start on Friday, Dec. 19, and last until Monday, Dec. 29.

FROM HARDIN-SIMMONS

Among the more than 2,000 students enrolled in Hardin-Simmons university this term are three from Crowell, according to Mrs. J. A. Beard, registrar of the university.

The current enrollment is the greatest in the history of H-SU. Mrs. Beard said, and represents both the resident students and those who are taking extension courses.

Those from Crowell enrolled for the term are Morris Johnson, Richard Lewis Ballard, W. M. Wagnon.

Automotive reports indicate that unless the schedule is upset between now and the first of the year automobile and truck production will total 5,000,000 units for the year. The month of October set a postwar high.

Crowell's Business Section Brilliantly Lighted with Twenty-One 10,000 Lumen Lamps; Installation Completed

The construction crew of the West Texas Utilities Co. completed the work last week of putting up poles and installing twenty-one 10,000 Lumen lamps around the square in the business section of Crowell. Six of these lamps were placed on the square around the court house and the operating expense will be paid by the county. The other fifteen lamps were placed on the streets on each side of the square, and the operating expense will be borne by the city.

Up until the new lights were installed there were only 11 4,000 lumen lights around the square. The addition of the larger and greater number of lights gives the down town section of the city abundant light and a greatly improved appearance.

Other street lights were installed on Ford Street which leads from the highway in the north part of town to the school house. A light was put on each of the four blocks on this street.

The lights are so brilliant that it is possible to read a newspaper out in the middle of the streets.

This excellent improvement which was made possible through the co-operation of the West Texas Utilities Co., the County of Foard and the City of Crowell, is greatly appreciated by the citizenship.

Population of Crowell Now Around 2,500, According to the Number of Customers of the Utilities Companies

The City of Crowell has experienced considerable growth in past few years and the population is now around 2,500 or above, according to a check made on the number of customers of West Texas Utilities Co., the Crowell Water Works and the Texas Natural Gas Co.

The West Texas Utilities Co. now has 618 customers and Manager Jack Seale says that counting four people to each connection, the population of Crowell would be 2,592, which Mr. Seale says will give a very accurate count.

The City Water Works has 533 customers and the Texas Natural Gas Co. has around 500. The West Texas Utilities Co. covers the entire town better than either of the other two utilities.

Foard County Gets 1 1/4 Inches of Rain Monday and Tues. Local Ford Dealer Modernizes Plant, Adds Body Works

The Government gauge at the Crowell State Bank measured one and one-fourth inches of rain which fell here Monday and Tuesday and the skies have remained cloudy and the atmosphere heavy with moisture. Last week .7 of an inch was recorded and both rains were general over the county. Although the moisture slowed up the gathering of cotton, it is a great boost for wheat growers.

Extensive improvements have been completed at Self Motor Co., local Ford dealers, it was announced this week by George D. Self, owner. The show rooms have been re-decorated in a pale green with ivory wood work and battleship gray floors.

A new room, 25x50 feet has been opened for the new parts department. The parts system is one of the most modern in this section being done by Gibbs & McGourick of Dallas. Every part that is needed for Ford cars is carried in the proper place in the right quantity. A completely new card index system is now in operation which tends to keep the stock of parts balanced. Mr. Self states that some 7,000 different items are in stock and that they are now filling about 90 per cent of the orders.

The entire building is being re-wired in aluminum conduit by C. C. McLaughlin, local electrician. New fluorescent lights are being installed in the building and presents an outstanding appearance at night.

The service and storage department has been repainted and re-arranged. Several new pieces of equipment have been purchased, some of which are now in operation. A new body department has been added and Horace Witherspoon has been employed to operate this department. Mr. Witherspoon has worked several years in one of the largest body shops in Dallas. New equipment for this department has been purchased and Mr. Witherspoon will be prepared to do any size wrecked job. Complete paint jobs will be done. Mr. Self states that they have practically every tool and machine that is factory recommended to give the best Ford service, with factory trained mechanics.

ROTARY CLUB

Rotarian Vance Favor of Quannah was a visitor at the Friday noon meeting of the Crowell Rotary Club at the DeLuxe Cafe. It had been several weeks since Rotarian Favor had paid the club a visit and he is always welcome.

In the business session Grady Graves made a short report on the progress of Cub Scout work. Following the business, members of the club went to the Kialto Theatre where Rotarian Jeff Hardin, manager, gave each member a cigar and showed on the screen the beautiful and inspiring picture, in technicolor, "The Song of a Nation," which depicted the origin of the national anthem, "Star Spangled Banner." The song was written by Frances Scott Key in 1814 on a ship in New York harbor after the British had shelled the garrison all night and the United States flag was still in its place at dawn.

Every Family Needs a Regular Family Doctor at All Times

Austin.—According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, there are too many persons who approach the choice of a family physician casually. Viewing the doctor much as a fireman, whose services are required only in an emergency, such families wait until an illness strikes, and then get hold of the first doctor who can respond to the call. While such an attitude still reasonably assures one of satisfactory medical services, it can handicap the physician somewhat, and in the long run does not permit the supervision and close personal contact which can exist only by having a regular family doctor.

"Knowing his patients enables a physician to give advice on maintaining health and preventing disease, based on his intimate knowledge of the physical and mental make-up of the members of the family," Dr. Cox stated. "The casually summoned physician plainly cannot have this background or opportunity. It is well known to students of medical science that no one procedure or drug can be applied to the cure of every disease. It would indeed be fine if we could have some panacea for all diseases, but unfortunately the healing art is not as simple as that."

"People are far from being alike," he continued. "Bodily and mental characteristics markedly differ in members of the same family. Reactions to medicines of various types, the habits of the individual, environmental influences, and personal factors vary widely. Armed with an intelligent appreciation of these facts, as applied to the members of the family, a physician possesses the maximum opportunity to render his

A MAN OF THE WORLD

Yes, and we mean in an important sense, for the eyes of the World are upon him.

He is the American farmer.

He, alone, among the farmers of the major nations, is able to feed his own countrymen and hungry millions in other lands. Last year he sent 20 million tons of food abroad while maintaining our own diet level—already the best in the world.

This high production efficiency—achieved by the persistent application of new tools and scientific discoveries—must be maintained in months to come. For food is still fighting for peace.

And so is steel.

Steel companies, which already have set new peacetime production records, are spending more than one billion dollars on improvements and expansion to meet the needs of reconstruction abroad and our expanding economy at home.

Through steel and farm production lies a great source of American strength. And only the strong can hope to keep the peace.

Beloved, now are the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.—First John 3:2.

Too many homes have pianos in them that are never played. There is no finer accomplishment for a boy or a girl than to be able to play the piano either for one's own entertainment or the entertainment of others. The advent of the juke box and the radio saw a falling off in the number of young people who studied the piano. Without exception they have lived to regret many times the fact that they did not learn to play the piano when they were young and had the time and their fingers were nimble. Now that they are grown they have no time to learn and are denied the pleasure and the satisfaction that comes from one expressing himself in music on the piano. It is a nice accomplishment within the reach of

"The Yearling," to Be Shown at Rialto on November 23 and 24

Greatest of all the foes which faced the M-G-M location company who traveled to the Florida scrub country to film "The Yearling," filmization of the Pulitzer Prize-Winning novel which will be shown at the Rialto Theatre on Sunday and Monday, Nov. 23 and 24, was the element of time. The motion picture industry has been properly credited with many marvels but even the movie-makers have not solved the problem of stopping the clock. Baby fawns are born during a brief season of the spring and within a period of weeks lose their identifying baby spots. Little shoats and baby calves quickly reach porcine and bovine maturity. Corn grows practically before one's eyes under the blazing Florida sun. Tobacco leaves broaden quickly, lush foliage withers; the rains come. Hence, "The Yearling" company was in a veritable race with nature to film each growing thing at its proper stage of development.

The trading town of Volusia on the St. John River, which was a thriving community after the Civil War but which no longer exists except for one crumbling building, had to be recreated by old-time natives who knew it. A 2-acre zoo was erected to provide for the animal colony, totaling almost 200, with the addition of practically every animal and bird native to the scrub. A staff of five trainers and handlers cared for the animal colony.

The editor of one of our good exchanges notes that the country is faced with two big problems: to get the government out of the red and to get the Reds out of the government.

Regardless of the fact that they are carrying out faithfully the food conservation program not many will observe poultryless day on Thanksgiving Thursday.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

If I were going to give this column a subject I expect I would call it "Pickle Making Days."

The suggestion takes me back to the days of my childhood when I lived with my parents and five brothers and sisters on a tract of three acres at the edge of a country town. We always had a big garden and among things were tomatoes and pickles. At the end of the season the frost usually caught the tomatoes with a large number of green tomatoes on the vines. These were gathered after the first frost usually before the sun got to them and were converted into a sort of tomato pickle known locally as piccalilli. It consisted of sliced green tomatoes, onions, and large green peppers. With these were combined, in the proper amount, brown sugar, vinegar and spices.

It sounds ordinary enough as I set it down here but it was far from that.

As a boy I used to share in the task of cutting the tomatoes and the onions and the peppers. I never cared about slicing the peppers and the onions for the odor always brought tears to my eyes.

Ours being a large family we usually made up at least two bushels of tomatoes. The resulting pickle was packed in stone jars with a dinner plate placed on top and a granite boulder to pack the pickle down until the vinegar and spiced liquor covered the tomatoes.

At dinner time a big bowl of it was placed on the table and disappeared in no time. We children ate it on meat and on bread and butter. I can still taste its piquant tang.

Since leaving home I have sampled about every brand of pickles, and chow-chow, that I have come across in the stores, but none of them equals the piccalilli of my boyhood days. It had an individuality, a personality that none of the products on the market has been able to capture and put into a bottle. They are all without exception, just another pickle.

I do not think that my feeling toward the piccalilli of my boyhood days was due altogether to the glamour that the keen appetite that youth lent to everything I ate. I believe that the piccalilli of those days as the children say, really had something, whether it was the freshness of it, because it was prepared in small batches, or whether it was something in the recipe I do not know. It must have been something of all of these. I find myself feeling the same way about it whenever I get a serving of it today, years after the days to which I refer. It still has something that no big scale manufacturer has been able to capture and put into a jar, an individual flavor and appeal. I feel sure that if one of them ever succeeds in doing this he will have found the secret for an outstanding success in the pickle business. I do not know whether the making of such things in small lots as is the custom in the homes has a tendency to give the product a different flavor than the same recipe will have where the product is produced in large quantities. I have been told by so-called experts that there is no difference, but my own opinion is that there is a difference.

One of the things that I recall most vividly with pickle making days is the odor of the cooking vinegar and spices. It is piquant and penetrating and gives to pickle making days a zest that is typical of fall and time of harvest.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

Thanksgiving Day services are held each year by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., and its branches throughout the world. The order of service includes the reading of a Lesson-Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving," and opportunity is afforded for testimonies of gratitude to be expressed appropriate to the occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The Golden Text is: "O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together" (Psalms 34:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord" (Psalms 33:5). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more" (page 3).

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cannady of Roundup, Montana, and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Flesher of Clayton, N. M., visited Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dunagan and other relatives.

Mesdames S. J. Ferguson and C. R. Ferguson were hostesses to the Columbian Club on Wednesday, November 12, at the home of the latter.

The week being Education Week, the program was concerning Foard County Schools, their past, their growth and their future. Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, leader for the day, gave a resume of the county's schools for the past forty years. She stated that there were 20 or 21 schools in the county at the turn of the century. Gradually they have consolidated and transferred to Crowell schools and today there are two Grammar Schools, Thalia and Riverside, and one High School, Crowell High School, a fully accredited school.

Some of the disadvantages of consolidation accounted for were: the doing away with the rural school destroyed the community center, social center and church advantages. It is hoped that these disadvantages may be overcome by the habit of using good roads and the cars to attend social and religious services in town. In reality, the whole county is as near Crowell with a car, as it was near its community center with a team and carriage in the "horse and buggy days." There is no doubt but that the longer term of school, better equipment, and the school bus make a better arrangement for school purposes.

Mrs. Grady Halbert discussed some school problems in an interesting manner. The problem child, the problem parent, the need for closer contact of parents and children and teachers all come in for a share of comment.

Dainty refreshments were served to members and one guest, Mrs. S. P. Ferguson of Slaton. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Van Browning at her home in Truscott.

THANKSGIVING COMES TO JOE SKUNKLY

Joe Skunkly was sitting on the high school steps with his head hanging low. Jack asked him what was the matter. He said, "Everything has gone to the dogs. My grades are bad, my citizenship has dropped below par, and all my teachers pick on me." Joe was trying to pick up enough courage to quit school.

Joe's pal, Jack, looked at him closely and then remarked, "Listen here, let's just make a list of all your troubles to see just where you stand." Joe quickly agreed, thinking that this might help him to decide to quit.

Jack got out his paper and began writing "Orphan—no mother or father."

"Hey," Joe said, "Watch what you're doing there. Sure I have a Ma and Pa, good 'uns, too." Jack wrote in the next column "one pair of exceptional parents." This suited Joe, so they proceeded.

Next Jack wrote, "Practically starved, no food at home." Joe said "Hey, I'm serious. Don't be ridiculous. Of course, I have enough to eat, and a certain amount of spending money, too."

Then Joe began to look queerly at Jack and said in a strained voice, "Wait, I suppose I am not so bad off after all. I never realized all this might be counted against my troubles."

Jack said, "And all the teachers don't pick on you. Why just the other day Mr. Brown said that you prepared excellent lessons, and Mrs. Jones said you had a chance if you would only try."

Joe was silent for a few moments, then replied, "Thanks, pal, for straightening me out. I was sort of mixed up, I guess."

Jack slapped Joe on the back and said, "Practicing thanksgiving helps develop a well organized personality. One does not ask for more, but gives thanks for what he has. My dad always told me, 'As a boy thinks, so he is'."

DO YOU DRIVE?

Mary ran into the room where her mother was quietly sewing and began to plead with her for the car. "Mother, the gang wants to go to Ann's party, and we don't have a way." Our car is the only one we can use.

"Mary, you know you haven't earned your driver's license yet. What if everyone under sixteen drove? The highways would not be safe."

"Maybe you have taken part in such a conversation as this. What boy or girl in their teens doesn't want to drive a car? The driver's test is really not difficult if you drive carefully, and it would not be too hard to learn the rules of driving. You would not have to sneak into town Saturday night for fear of having to pay a two dollar fine if you had a driver's license."

"It's a challenge to every youth to get a license after he is sixteen. How will you meet that challenge?"

WELL, WHAT DO YOU DO FIRST?

When we were asked to find out the first thing students do when they get home after school, we thought the best way to find out would be to hide in the closet and see for ourselves, but when we tried "Butch" Biggerstaff's closet and found it rented by a family of five we decided to ask the students themselves.

"Butch's" reply was, "read the paper—sports page and funnies, that is."

John Sanders says he kisses his mother on arrival and makes a "bee line" for the refrigerator.

Betty Brock's first thought is to go to the post office to see if she has a letter. (Ahem).

Marvin Brisco usually has to eat a cold supper because of football practice.

Mary Jo Short says she just can't be comfortable until she takes off her shoes.

Ham Tamplen's first move is to turn on the lights, for by the time he gets home from football workout it's dark.

"Eddy" Dunn drops in the most comfortable chair and drools over Craie's picture.

J. C. Autry grinned and said,

"I wouldn't ask you that." Mary Payne says she dons her shorts and a "T" shirt and plays football with the little boys of the neighborhood, but the popular opinion is, if she wears that attire, the boys aren't so small.

FASHION NOTES

With a cry of triumph the wearers of long skirts have taken over CHS. For many girls it has been a hard decision. Should they be fashionable and wear long skirts or please the current heartthrob and wear the old length? Fashion seems to have taken the day.

In the shoe department there is the ever popular moccasin. The moccasins range from white to brown, and we noticed that Mary Kathleen Chowning is wearing two-toned moccasins. Also popular are saddle shoes. Did you see the Glee Club girls with their pretty high heels?

Cold winter is almost here, and the girls are bringing out their new coats and jackets. Two coats worthy of special attention are Julie Rose Johnson's and Bobbie Abston's. These coats are of heavy wool plaid material. The backs have a fish-tail effect and at the collar are hoods. Short jackets we have noticed are Mary Edna Norman's red corduroy jacket and the jackets with cow brands on them worn by Martha Ohr, Pat Owens, and Ann Haynie.

Betty Barker wears cute black ties with her shirt waist blouses. We even noticed that Faye Jones was wearing a tie with her red turtle-neck sweater.

THE SPOTLIGHTS ON

"Tonsilectomy. What on earth is that? Oh! Something Mary Payne is going to have. 'Yes, sixteen year old Mary (often called 'Shorty' or 'Half Pint') is going to have her tonsils removed soon. She is only 5 feet one inch tall, has blonde hair and green eyes."

Mary went to Grammar School at Riverside and came to CHS as a freshman in '44. When she makes higher grades than her friends, she grins and says, "That's what I learned at Riverside!"

Besides her love for sports (football and basketball, that is) Mary has a love for clothes for which she is a very good model.

When asked if she liked to eat, Mary replied, "Oh, I just love to eat" and she especially likes chocolate marble ice cream and shrimp cocktails.

But, wait, I almost forgot. Her one and only dream man is Bob Hunter.

Mary plans to attend Baylor University after graduation and after that—well, your guess is as good as mine.

ASSEMBLY

On Nov. 13 the High School students were shown two films in the auditorium. These films showed a peace-time Japan and the colorful occupations of the people—pearl cultivating, tea growing (the tea bushes look like trim hedges growing row on row), fishing in sail boats with nets, and making silk. The beauties of the country side in Japan, including dwarf trees and beautiful mountains came next. Baxter Gentry was operating the camera. The students always look forward to a film because they really enjoy visual education.

THE COYOTE IN TEXAS

The coyote is considered one of the wisest critters in Texas. Their population is very large, too. The coyote is a favorite pest of the farmer and rancher. He decreases the farmer's flock of chickens, and sometimes he catches a sr ll calf.

The coyotes are not very large but are very swift. They are hunted mostly by grey hounds and stag hounds. There is a lot of sport in hunting the coyote with dogs, and the hunting season is open throughout the year. The first pups are heard in early May. Sometimes when awake in bed at night you will probably hear a lot of yelping in the brakes. That is the wise little coyote.

—A Freshman Boy.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Rouse "Smoky" Todd, one hundred fifty-five pounds of football player, stands five feet, nine inches off the ground.

He started playing football for the black and gold team in 1946. That year he played half back on the "B" team.

He has come up and is playing left halfback on the first string for the Wildcats this year. Rouse lettered his Sophomore year. Rouse is fifteen years old, has blonde hair, brown eyes, and likes to play football "like no body's business."

Rouse has two more years of eligibility to play on the Wildcat squad. In case you haven't seen this hunk of football player, just take a gander at the guy wearing jersey number 26.

WILDCAT CHATTER

Senior Slender: Mary Norman says for Christmas she'd like a "very" long pair of red socks!

Did anyone else go to the flying field Sunday afternoon besides Bob Johnson, Thomas Whitmore, Doris Gray, David Bowley, Odell Gray, Mary Ayers, Ray Gable, Bobbie Brock, Floyd Oliver, Clay Dunn, "Babe" Sandlin, "Eddy" Dunn and "Butch" Biggerstaff? "Ham" Tamplen, we wish for the sake of CHS you'd get yourself a woman! (Mild hint).

Seen around are Alton and Lucille Carroll.

We wonder what Carol Cato thinks of these days. Certainly couldn't be girls. So much for the high hats—

JUNIOR JINKS

Could anyone have any more fun than Margaret Thompson, Peggy Pittillo, Mary Johnson, Baxter Gentry, and Harold Thompson, especially on Sunday evening?

Bobby Cato has been casting his eyes upon La Verne Farror lately! Has anyone else noticed? It seems that Clifford Ohr was a long way from home Saturday night. Could have been that he was in Thalia?

Wonder who John Potts' latest heart throb is? Tell us, John. Something old (eh, Raymond) Dorothy Thompson and Raymond Carter. Something new, Richard Brock and La Verne Shultz.

SOPHOMORE SOUP

Rouse Todd and Patsy Fox seem to like each other's company.

Elizabeth Joy and Harry Yocham seem to be attached to each other.

Norma Short and Mike Hudgens made a cute couple—agree? Josephine Halenack was seen Saturday night. Her escort was—well, you tell us.

Pat Rhodes can't seem to make her mind up between Marion Gentry and Dick Trauwek. Don Wilkins and Tommie Meason were seen together Sunday evening. For a sick boy, Don, you do O. K.

Kent Adams and Myrtle Bartley make a cute pair, don't you agree?

FRESHMAN FROLICS

Seen Saturday night double-dating with Floyd Borchardt and Rozella Autry were Floyd's cousin, Louzella Morgan and Jimmy Cates.

Helping Betty Barker and Joeline Lanier to celebrate their birthdays November 12, were Grover Yocham and J. C. Autry. We hear they had a very good time.

Making the rounds Saturday night were Presley Thomson and Edna Curtis, Don Wilkins and Betty Brock, Dalton and Tommie.

Gordon Wood Bell was sporting around in his little Studebaker Sunday night. It couldn't have been Bobbie Abston with him—or could it?

Frankie Mabe seems to think Wayne Greening is something special. The feeling is mutual, Frankie.

Mary Rader still holds the attention of Rusty McNeese. This could prove very interesting. Would someone please let us know more about the case between Rose Marie Werely and Hack Norman?

Mary Huskey and V. W. Latimer are on the list of new couples, also Mary Johnson and Jack Henderson.

EX-STUDENT COLUMN

As this reporter was ambling down the halls of CHS suddenly old, familiar faces appeared. There was J. Y. Lindsay visiting from Vernon High.

Then I saw Don Wilkins coming up the steps on his crutches followed by George J. Craig Sandlin and (Continued on P

SCRIPTURE: I John 1-3; John 21:15-22. DEVOTIONAL READING: I Corinthians 13.

The Way of Love

Lesson for November 23, 1947

SUNDAY'S lesson is based on the writings of John, I John 1-3, and John 21:15-22. The devotional reading is First Corinthians 13.

Travelling on a plane at night a little while ago, I talked at length with a group of business men. The conversation turned at last to the Bible. I asked the group for their favorite passages in the Bible. They named several passages, but the majority said they loved most the writings of John.

I think their answer emphasizes this truth. John tells us about God and his love. That is the message of this lesson.

THE Happy Way of Life I LOVE is the happy way of life. It is the only happy way of life. Children are happy to the degree that they are loved. Find me a home where children are truly loved, and I will have no difficulty in identifying that as a happy home.

Little children yearn for love, and they respond in love. That is one reason why they like dogs. Dogs love little children, unless they are the wrong sort of dogs. And little children love dogs.

If a dog can bring happiness to a little child by loving to the limit of its brute nature, how much more can parents, made in the image of God, bring happiness to little children by loving them.

Love Begets Love John declares, "This commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also." I John 4:21.

We cannot hate people if we see them through eyes of love. The Bible somewhere speaks of the eyes of the heart, and it is of such eyes that I am now thinking.

A friend of mine complained that some strangers had bought the house next door to his. They had a strange name, they talked strangely, they looked strange. He was tempted to sell his beautiful home and move to another community. He frowned when I smiled at him. I asked him if he would do what I proposed as a solution to his difficulty. He hesitated. I suggested that he cut an armful of dahlias from his garden and take them to the strange neighbors. He did. He discovered that the strange neighbor was an expert horticulturist. Today they are great friends. They love one another.

Follow After Love Here you will need to read I John 2:7-11. We need not pass resolutions about better relations within nations and between nations unless we are willing to follow after love in the everyday relationships of life.

Just across the fence, just across the hedge, just across the desk, just across the hall, just across the way, narrow or wide it may be, is a human being who yearns for love. It is generally safe to assume that the people you see every day are lonely people. You may not understand why, but they are lonely.

What can you do to help them in their loneliness? That is where the water begins to hit the wheel in applying this lesson to everyday life.

In the pioneer days of our country, people were more neighborly, because they were aware of great danger—danger from Indians, danger from wild beasts, danger from the wilderness about them. This sense of danger drew them together. Today, with our walled apartments, we have lost some sense of interdependence. That is why we are so lonely. Follow the better self within you. Penetrate these barriers. Follow after love. And you will be happier as you make your neighbor happy.

The Way of Love The way of love is the way of Christ. "A new commandment I give unto you," said Jesus, "That ye love one another as I have loved you."

Not until we reach the point that we can look at life through the eyes of love—the eyes of the heart—can we know the joy which comes when we follow the way of love. It may sound very simple. That is the reason why it is so vital. It is the one way up and out for our frightened world. The way of love is the way God wants us to go today and tomorrow.

came up to play football one afternoon and the result was one sprained ankle and one black eye, respectively.

Oh, yes, I saw someone else with Baylor written all over his face. That, of course, was Howard "Prune" Bell. Gee, it was wonderful to see all these friends again.

But wait, that's not all. Shaney and Booty were here from TCU. We wonder what happened to their peroxidized hair. Jo Ann Meason is not only attending Draughn's Business College but also has a part time position at Farabee Insurance Company in Wichita Falls.

Last, but not least, were H. C. and Kenneth Payne from D. B. S. Richard (Swoon) Nobles also from Decatur was here with Kenneth. Lucky boy.

To close this column we wish someone would tell us how R. E. Johnson is doing at Baylor. That's all for now, but we'll be seeing you Thanksgiving.

RIALTO THEATRE The Rialto Theatre invites Wayne Lindsay and W. L. Barnett to attend "The Yearling" next Sunday or Monday, November 23 and 24.

WILDCAT HIT PARADE Come Saturday night Lucky Strike presents your Hit Parade. Being as we "chilluns" usually have other plans so we, the Wildcat Staff, had a brilliant idea—why not have a hit parade contest right here in CHS? Honorable mention this week might go to "Lady From Twenty-Nine Palms" and "You Do." One lone vote was cast for "Till The End of Time," but cheer up, chum, we like it, too.

These finally rated top on the list:

- 1. "I Wish I Didn't Love You So." 2. "Near You." 3. "Apple Blossom Wedding." 4. "When You Were Sweet Sixteen." 5. "I'll Hold You In My Heart." 6. "Feuding and Fighting." 7. "Echo Said No." 8. "That's My Desire." 9. "Peg of My Heart." 10. "Kocamo Indiana."

SIDE SPLITTERS A lanky, six-and-a-half footer was applying for a job as a life guard.

"Of course you swim?" said the interviewer.

"Well, no sir, I don't," said Mr. Myers, "but I sure can wade."

Scott Whitaker Jr.: Daddy, what's an ancestor?

Coach: Oh, I'm one of yours and so is your grandpa.

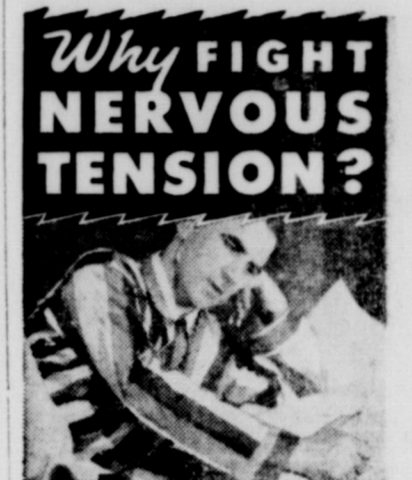

Scott: Well, I thought they were something people bragged about.

about. —0— Rozella (admiring her engagement ring): There's nothing in the world harder than a diamond, is there? Floyd: Yes, keeping up the installment payments on it. —0— Plackie: My brother is working with 5,000 men under him. Raymond: Where's that? Plackie: In a cemetery.

Miss Joyce Owen Weds Waldon Johnson Saturday, Nov. 15

Miss Joyce Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Owen, of Vernon became the bride of Waldon Johnson, in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson, of Thalia Saturday, November 15, at 6:30 o'clock in a candle light ceremony.

The bride and groom were exchanged before the fireplace which was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and white lilies flanked with greenery. Candelabras holding white candles were also used at the altar.

Mrs. Nevielle Owen and Mrs. Edgar Johnson, sisters-in-law of the bride, lighted the candles. They were dressed in identical brown gabardine suits with brown accessories each wore a corsage of white baby mums.

Miss Lora Abston, organist, played "Always" and accompanied Mrs. Roger Owen, who sang "Oh, Promise Me." Miss Abston wore an aqua suit with a corsage of pink baby mums. Mrs. Owen wore a green pin-striped suit with which she wore a corsage of white baby mums.

Miss Wanda Ruth Abston attended the bride as maid-of-honor and wore a Palomino suit with brown accessories. She wore a pink gladioli halo and carried a matching colonial bouquet tied with gold satin ribbon.

Louis Pyle served the groom as best man.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a winter white suit with navy blue accessories. She carried a white satin Bible topped with a colonial bouquet of white gardenias and tube roses. Her halo was of white carnations. She wore a rhinestone bracelet, the gift of the groom. For something old and something new, she wore a diamond ring belonging to her mother and, her blue accessories. She also wore a sixpence in her shoe.

Mrs. Willie Garrett presided at the white leather bride's book. She wore an aqua wool suit with a white baby mum corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the bridal couple. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over pink. Mrs. Nevielle Owen and Mrs. Roger Owen served the cake, after the bride and groom had cut the first piece. Mrs. Beverly Gray and Mrs. Edgar Johnson served the punch.
