Crowell Wildcats Defeated 32 to 14 by Iowa Park Hawks Last Friday Night

Crowell High School football team came out ahead in stadium last Friday night at Iowa Park as the Hawks won the game 32 to 14. Crowell led in first downs 12 and total yardage gained 256. The difference in the game was the accurate passing of quarterback Harvey Klinker for the Hawks and the many interceptions of the Wildcats.

Klinker completed seven of ten passes for 174 yards and three touchdowns. The other Hawk touchdown was an intercepted pass that returned for 73 yards. Iowa intercepted three Crowell passes. One of these was for a 25-yard touchdown. Three recovered fumbles by the Hawks down deep in their territory was also a big help for the winners. Crowell scored one touchdown in the third quarter after Iowa Park had fumbled on their own 29-yard line. The other came in the fourth quarter after a 69-yard drive. Harvey Smith kicked both extra points.

The accurate and timely passing of Harvey Klinker made three touchdowns for the Hawks in the first half. The first one was to fullback Donald Morgan for 22 yards. The second was to end Randal Pierce for 54 yards. The third was also to Pierce for 24 yards. This score was set up by an intercepted pass by Tex Boyd that was returned forty yards. The halftime count was 19 to 0.

Crowell came back to score on a 26-yard run by halfback Roy Don Payne in the third quarter. Klinker uncorked another touchdown drive for 39 yards to halfback Donnie Todd in the third period.

Crowell scored again in the fourth quarter on a two-yard plunge by Printess Gidney after a 69-yard march. The Wildcats were about to score again when

War Badge Awarded by Oliver Iseng

Oliver Iseng of Crowell found the war badge of a Confederate soldier's badge of the 1861-1865. The badge was found in a cow lot at his farm in the Crowell community in 1932, probably lost at some time by a Confederate soldier. Hood was a general in the Civil War and a history of his life follows: Hood (1831-1879), an American soldier born at Nashville, Ky., and received his commission at West Point. He served as a cavalry officer against Indians and later taught at West Point. In 1861 he joined the Confederate Army as a colonel and soon became a brigadier general. He rendered distinguished service with the Texas Brigade of the Army of Northern Virginia, commanded a division of Longstreet's Corps at Gettysburg, and was wounded in the arm. In 1863 he was transferred to the Army of Tennessee, and at the Battle of Chancellorsville, he was again severely wounded, his leg having to be amputated. In 1864 he replaced Joseph E. Johnston as commander of the Army of Tennessee. He opposed Sherman in the march to the sea, but was unsuccessful in the battles of Atlanta. He was defeated at Franklin, Nov. 30, 1864, and was captured at Nashville in December. He resigned Jan. 23,

Crowell F. F. A. Boys Win Second Place in Grass Judging Contest at Quanah

A group of F. F. A. boys from the Crowell High School recently participated in the grass judging contest at Quanah which was sponsored by the Supervisors of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District. The boys who participated, with their instructor, Marvin Myers, were: Loy Hopkins, Curtis Stone, Ronnie Owens, Roy M. Shultz and Bobbie King. These boys won second place at the Quanah contest and later entered the grass judging contest at Iowa Park. A group from Crowell attended a farm equipment dealers and S. C. D. board of supervisors meeting at Quanah last week. John Coleman of Wellington gave an interesting talk to the group on the new grass, sorghum alnum, which seems to be well adapted to this area and to be very drought resistant. Those attending this meeting from Crowell were Kenneth and Grady Halbert, C. V. Barker, Clinton McLain and Doyle Clayton.

Henry Borchardt has completed the shaping of a waterway on his farm south of Crowell this week. Henry plans to seed the waterway to wheat this fall, then plant a mixture of native grasses in it next spring. The mixture will consist of buffalo, side oat and blue grama and vine mesquite grass. Mr. Borchardt plans to get the waterway well established in these grasses before terracing and putting water in the waterway.

Farmers constructing terraces the last few weeks are C. N. Chatfield, Guy Naron, Warren Everson, Lester Ownbey, C. S. Wishon and Fred Vecera.

Farm ponds have been staked on the farms of Grady Halbert, T. D. Sparks, Marvin Myers, Clyde Bowley and Jodie Brown recently.

Crowell Wildcats and Holliday Eagles Play Conference Game Here Friday

The Crowell Wildcats take on their conference opponent today (Friday) night when the Iowa Park Hawks come here for a game. The Crowell boys must win to remain a threat in the state race. They will have their first game as the Eagles have won four of the last four games. The Wildcats' latest victim was the Throckmorton last Friday night at the time of 46 to 6. They did good in a lopsided win over Pease two weeks ago. Their guns are quarterback Van Hord and halfbacks Kenneth Owens and Leon Walker.

Crowell's team roundly outplayed the Iowa Park Hawks in statistics last week, but came out on the little end of the horn. In case they can keep their morale up and the cripples recover, they should win this one and stay in the district race. Halfbacks Roy Don Payne and Gerald Bradford, fullback Printess Gidney, and tackle James Doyal are the crippled Crowell players. Doyal was the outstanding defensive lineman on the field at Iowa Park last week. Payne is the most doubtful starter for Crowell this week, and his absence from the lineup would really hurt the Wildcats.

Probable starting line-ups for the Crowell-Holliday conference game here tomorrow (Friday) night at 8 p. m. are as follows:

TAKE CARE OF YOUR THOUGHTS AND THEY'LL TAKE CARE OF YOU

Do you ever stop to think of the many things that thinking does for you, to you, and against you? Well, it's time you do some creative thinking. First, the thought wave, "I don't have a chance," commonly used by many, is negative. "I'm going to do it," is positive. Surely you agree that the fellow who says, "I'm going to" stands to win over the fellow who says, "It's impossible," because positive thoughts radiate hope, and where there's hope, there is activity to prove that the positive statement is positive.

A law of attraction stated in Ampere's theory of electrical magnetism is "Parallel currents in the same direction attract one another." Conversely, "Parallel currents in opposite directions repel one another."

Another statement taken from Oct. 11, scene 2 in Shakespeare's "Hamlet," expresses a similar sentiment, "There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so."

So think, students! But be careful of what you are thinking. There is something atomic in the "power of positive thinking," and the universe of the soul is what you have it be.

BAND TRIP TO DALLAS AND FORT WORTH

The Wildcat band left Friday afternoon on a combination business and pleasure trip. They arrived in Iowa Park, changed into uniforms, and attended the Crowell-Iowa Park football game. After changing out of uniform, 29 members of the band along with 6 sponsors: Mrs. H. C. Dixon, Mrs. Hulene Monkres, Mrs. Percy Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fish and Mr. Rickard, left for Dallas. The group stopped in Bowie to eat at 1 a. m. and then drove on to the State Fair grounds arriving there about 4:30 a. m. Because they were not permitted to get out of the buses until daylight, some of the students tried to sleep, but it was useless.

Around 6 a. m., everyone began to investigate their surroundings and of course tried to win a "teddy bear." Along the "mile long" Midway were rides of every description with the most screams issuing from the direction of the roller coaster. The smell of popcorn, hot dogs, and numerous other tasty "tidbits" followed the "kids" as they left to attend the auto, electrical, agriculture, and other exhibits.

The students returned to the buses at 10 a. m. and departed for the hotel. Upon arriving at the Southland Hotel in Dallas, the group changed into their uniforms, ate lunch, and then drove to Fort Worth where they were guests at the TCU-Arkansas football game. More than 4,000 band students attended the TCU Band Day activities. In the pre-game ceremony the University hands combined to put on a very impressive performance. The Arkansas band formed a shield, the TCU band formed a series of letters, first U. S. A., then "ARK" and finally TCU, all within the shield. The Star Spangled Banner, the Arkansas Alma Mater and the TCU Alma Mater and fight song were played.

Returning to Dallas after the game, the band had a few hours of free time during which most of the members got a little much needed rest. At 7:30 p. m. the group separated, some attending Cinerama, some the Ice Capades and others returning to the Fair grounds. The various groups returned to the hotel at 11:30 and then "to bed."

The students were called for breakfast at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Following breakfast they packed, checked out of the hotel, boarded the buses, and headed for home. After stopping in Wichita Falls for lunch at 1 p. m., the band continued the journey home, arriving at 4:30, a tired but happy group.

The band sincerely thanks all those who helped make the trip possible.

FHA TAKES IN STATE FAIR

"Dallas, here we come!" was the cry once again as the FHA girls left Iowa Park after the ball game Friday night. The group stopped to eat at Bowie and then traveled on, arriving at the Fair grounds about 5:30 a. m. Roaming over the grounds began soon afterward. A feature attraction was the Ice Capades entitled "Peter Pan."

In observance of Rural Youth day, tickets could be purchased for $1.50 with a choice of seats for the performance at 10:30. The women saw the play, "Damn Yankees," and they enjoyed it very much. Among the other things that were enjoyed were the exhibits in the agricultural building and the automobile exhibit. In the agricultural building there was a display contrasting the 1957 kitchen with its beautifully and conveniently arranged modern appliances and the kitchen of 1907 with its hand loom and churn. This exhibit proved to be very interesting to the homemaking girls.

Elvis for the Fair

Elvis Presley, "rock and roll" idol of the nation's teen-agers, will star in his own show Thursday night, Oct. 11, in the Cotton Bowl during the 1956 State Fair of Texas. The appearance of the gymnastic young vocalist will be sponsored by Dallas Radio Station KLIF.

Rides on the Midway were enjoyed, and the girls brought back teddy bears, dogs, and odd looking hats. After a hard day they were ready to get some rest. Leaving the fair grounds at 10 o'clock, they retired to the Gaston Terrace Motel where they spent an enjoyable and restful night. They left Dallas Sunday morning, at about 9:30, ate dinner at the Piccadilly Cafeteria in Wichita Falls, and returned to Crowell about 4:30 in the afternoon. My, what a tired but happy delegation this was!

Many thanks to the bus drivers, Ed Daniel, Allen Taylor and George Fox, and to Mrs. Floyd Ferguson, Mrs. James Bowers, Mrs. George Sledge, Mrs. B. L. Smith and Mrs. Doyle Kenner for putting up with us.

STUDENT TALENT SHOW

Thursday morning cheers rang throughout the high school building as students saw an excellent talent show performed by several accomplished CHSites. Could it have been the bright costume of our MC, Lowell Page, or the "sneaky" way Mr. J. Webba tried to advertise for his clothing store that received such great laughter? Chances are it was both.

Noel Wilkins, or should we say Liberace, played "Kitten on the Keys," a beautiful number well played with particularly delicate emphasis on the finer strains. We thank you, sir.

Doris Day, Charlotte Sledge, was also present and sang Allegheny Moon. Later in the show, she and a sister star, Lois Ann Painter, sang "Whatever Will Be, Will Be."

"A Cheerful Little Earful" was given by Mrs. Ralph Waldo Emerson, Sue Bursley. If you're sick, she'll "cheer you up."

The famous saxophone player, Pop Keeton, Elizabeth Davis, and pianist, Shirley Fox, played Blue Moon and Deep Purple. We were greatly honored to have Miss Margaret Truman, Janis Crowell, in our presence. She played "Sunrise Serenade" on our baby grand piano. Love that bubble gum, eh!

Some of the girls tried Amy Vanderbilt's, Judy Borchardt's, advice on "How to Catch a Man," but we still have a few old maids on our hands.

Liberace brought his daughter, Liberachita, Janie Bowers, along to play "Ebb Tide" on the ivory keyboard—as father, as daughter.

Did everyone "dig that Elvis Presley, Aldon Garrett, beat" with his fine band members, Butch Abston and Charlie Bell, doing that famous song "Hound Dog"? The girls got out of hand, but nevertheless, he got out alive! That "krazy kat" really sends us man! "Everyone agrees that this program was "super duper," and we hope we can have another one soon.

IN MEMORY OF JIM KENNEDY

On behalf of the faculty and student body we wish to express our deep sympathy to Lula (Scott) Kennedy and to other relatives and friends of Jim Kennedy. It seems only yesterday that he was here mixing and mingling with us in our halls and class rooms. This memory lingers in our hearts and makes his passing not only your sorrow but our sorrow too.

PEP RALLY TOMORROW

Tomorrow at 12:30 there will be a pep rally in the auditorium. This is an invitation to you town fans to attend. Our boys need your backing.

SPORTS REVIEW

Iowa Park, 32; Crowell, 14. Too bad! So Sad! Until next week when we'll have better news.—Your reporter.

HALF TIME FRIDAY NIGHT

The band stepped off Friday night playing "Flashing Brasses" in their traditional entrance formation. Reaching the center of the field the band went into the letters I and P for Iowa Park. Following a counter-march, the band went into a series of drills based on the theme, "Music." First, the musical staff of five lines and four spaces was formed, then the treble clef sign used by all of the upper instruments of the band, and finally the bass clef sign used by the lower instruments was formed. During these formations the band played continuously. Returning to block formation, they counter-marched once again and returned to midfield where they went into the C for Crowell. The fight song was played. The band returned once again to block formation and left the field playing a march, "Little Champ."

SENIORS REMINISCE

A discussion among a group of seniors last week turned to the subject of "first dates." Here are some of the things revealed as seniors reminisced about long ago. Nelda Brooks, at the ripe old age of fourteen, had her first date with Jimmy Now. But, what's this? She doesn't remember what they did! Oh, well, our memories often fail as age advances.

Jerry Savage was the lucky escort on Marketta Painter's first date; the occasion was an ice cream supper. Marketta wore a pink taffeta dress and had a wonderful time!

The FHA banquet of 1952 seems to have been the big night for a number of our senior girls. Lavoy Rummel was accompanied by Charles Noach. Devin McAnally did the honors for Anna Marie Faske, and DeAnna Ferguson's date was Sy Moore.

On a beautiful moonlight night Edward Daniel had his first date with—could it have been Rachel Hastings, Ed?

Karen Hall shared that all important occasion with J. T. Rutherford; they attended church.

Edward Howard, have you always been so greedy? Listen to this! Edward Howard had his first date with two girls! —Peggy Long and Karen Hall. They attended a basketball game.

Ruth Hinkle had trouble recalling, but she finally decided that Kenneth Justice was her first date. They took in a show.

Marilyn Stone's first "stepping out" seems to have made quite an impression; she says she remembers every minute of it. Clyde Wilkerson was her date, and they attended a show.

Say! That boy got around! It was also Jimmy New with whom Janis Crowell had her first date. A movie was their choice of entertainment.

Butch Abston took his first step with Barbara Fairchild. They went skating. Butch decided nothing was too good for his date; they traveled in a jeep.

Some seniors were a bit hesitant about making public their first dates—but anyway—it was fun for some to "turn back the pages of time."

JO ANN FOX MAKES CHOIR

Trying out for three places in the George Town College Choir in George Town, Kentucky, were 85 freshman girls. Yes—you guessed—our own Jo Ann Fox was chosen for one of the three. This choir is quite a noted one and makes a number of tours each year. The first one will be made in November. Congratulations, Jo Ann!

FACULTY HAS BARBECUE

It was someone's idea—and a good one it was! It had been "many a moon" since the faculty and their families had staged a get together; therefore on the night of Oct. 2 they met at Mr. Black's "hide away" on his farm eight miles south of town for a delicious meal of red beans, potato salad, barbecued beef and mutton, and all the trimmings.

Besides the faculty and their families, those present were Miss Neil Johnson, school secretary, Mrs. Herbert Edwards, and Mr. Edgards and Recie Womack who barbecued the meat. The teachers hope that someone else will suggest a faculty get-together before another fifteen years elapse.

HOW'S YOUR VOCABULARY

Mr. Black in bookkeeping "Now, class, let's consider business of counting."

Class—"Counting what?" Mr. Black—"Oh, anything, sheep, money, stars, flies, but what I want to know is what you count but how count."

Jimmy Williamson—"Oh, the easy—units, tens, hundreds, thousands, millions, uh-uh."

Mr. Black—"Go on." Jimmy—"Oh, yes—billions, trillions, and uh-uh-uh-uh."

Mr. Black—"Let me see you—quadrillion, quintillion, sextillion, septillion, octillion—I guess that's enough for today."

DEBATE TEAM MEETS

Prospective debaters met Mrs. Moody Bursley on Wednesday afternoon to formulate plans for organizing a debate team. Take part in the Interscholastic League contest next spring. The subject for debate will be the farm question. Mrs. Bursley emphasized the need to write pamphlets and daily newspapers closely to gain all possible knowledge.

YES, THE BIRDS DISAPPEARED

On Tuesday, Oct. 3, the Southern School Assembly program of the year, directed by Byrd Kline of Dallas, was sent.

This maricant show was by rini and Phyllis, a couple who took up magic as a hobby but developed it into a career when he began the show business in Omaha, Neb. They have performed before audiences ranging from businessmen to school children and have appeared in many plays ranging from army camps to world famous Palace Theatre, New York City.

The highlight of the program was Torrini's comedy cartoon. Of course, you wouldn't admit but I think everyone in the audience had a desire to pick a pencil and paper and to try to create a drawing of his own.

TRANSLATION—PLEASE

The most prevalent state through out the halls of Monday, Oct. 1, was Ugh! No! A new language had been introduced; this was the typical reaction when proofs of class papers were turned. Translated, this means something like, "Oh, Do I look like that?!" Seriously, the pictures, a general rule, were excellent good this year. Orders were sent into either a member of annual staff or to Mrs. Ken Retakes will be made on 15, next Monday; if you your picture remade, be prep on that date.

Austin, Tex.—W. Lee O'Daniel is back in the saddle again, riding the range for votes. This time it's a big bus and the Hillbilly boys.

Twice refused a place on the general election ballot, "Pappy" is campaigning as a write-in candidate for Governor. He reports receipt of thousands of letters asking instruction as to how to vote "the write-in way."

First big bomb to be tossed by the former Democratic Governor was his endorsement of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for re-election as President of the United States.

Proof that O'Daniel means business is evidenced by the fact that he is advertising consistently by press and radio statewide.

OTHER CAMPAIGNERS—Texas strategists for Ike and Adlai will send fresh recruits into the field this week as campaigns enter the final month.

For Adlai, a "Democratic Victory Van," loaded with buttons, literature and speakers, was launched from Austin over the week end. It will make a 30-day, 10,000 mile trek "to the forks of the creek."

Democrats for Eisenhower added a one-time Stevenson supporter to their crew. He is Johnston Murray, former Democratic governor of Oklahoma, now a Fort Worth businessman. Murray, a long-time friend of Gov. Allan Shivers, speaks Spanish fluently.

Kenny Foundation Broadens Work In Treatment, Research Fields

Minneapolis, Minn.—Scientists, professors and department heads of leading medical schools across the country are cooperating in the expanding medical program of the Elizabeth Kenny foundation, according to Marvin L. Kline, national executive director.

The program, he explained, includes medical research, and the sponsoring of fellows and medical seminars and scholarship grants. The medical research program which the Kenny foundation is sponsoring at its own treatment centers and a number of universities across the country is not limited to the field of polio, but includes other neuromuscular disorders of various kinds, he asserted.

"Included on the medical advisory committee and planning committee set up by the Kenny foundation to help provide greater service," Kline said, "are doctors who are affiliated with the various departments of the following schools:

- University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn.; Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.; University of California, Los Angeles, Calif.; New York University, New York City, N.Y.; Columbia University, New York City, N.Y.; Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio; Baylor University (hospital), Dallas, Texas; Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.; College of Medical Evangelists, Los Angeles, Calif.; McGill University, Montreal, Canada; Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.; University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.; University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich.; University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.; Herman Hospital, Houston, Texas, and Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis.

"The Kenny foundation's expanding rehabilitation program offers help to persons of all ages who have nerve, muscle or joint disabilities which our medical staff believes may be lessened by such treatment."

The program of the Kenny foundation is made possible through funds contributed by the public.

RESIGNATIONS—James H. Blundell of Dallas, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for less than a month, has resigned. His reasons were both personal and business.

Succeeding Blundell is Jim Lindsey, former speaker of the House of Representatives and State Representative from Texas-Kana, now head of the Texas Good Roads Association.

L. C. Page of Tyler, also a member of the committee, has resigned. He gave as his reason Stevenson's statement that he favored an end to the draft.

HOUSE INVESTIGATORS TO MEET—A loaded agenda awaits the House Investigating Committee meeting, beginning here Oct. 19.

Scheduled are: (1) Extensive inquiry into tideland leasing procedures, as instructed by the last Legislature; (2) Preliminary consideration of a report to be made to the next session on insurance companies; (3) A report on the committee's inquiry into absentee voting in Webb County; (4) Discussion of possible recommendations that powers of any future investigating committee be limited lest it be "used as a political tool."

PRISON EXPANSION URGED—Texas Prison System is in for "serious trouble" unless it gets more money for buildings and salaries.

Gen. Mgr. O. B. Ellis warned that the prisons cannot continue to "stack men up the way they are now." Also, said Ellis, the system is understaffed by 58 guards, and lacks even one psychiatrist to deal with the increasing numbers of "mentally irresponsible trouble-makers."

In an Austin speech Ellis gave an advance outline of the expansion program he will seek from the next Legislature. His proposed "bare minimum" budget: $4,825,000 for new buildings and an $870,000 increase for operating costs, including salaries.

THREE MILLION JOBS SEEN—Three million jobholders in the state by 1957 is foreseen by the Texas Employment Commission. TEC also predicted steadily rising employment through the fall with a peak in December well above last year's figure of 2,862,000.

Even before school openings brought a bustling upsurge, non-farm employment had swelled to 2,801,500. Agricultural laborers totaled 273,500, which, despite drought, was 12,000 more than in 1955.

BUSINESS RECORD IN DOUBT—Economic experts are backing off from earlier predictions that Texas business in 1956 will top the 1955 record.

Retail merchants entered the fall months with the sales index off 8 per cent from a year ago. Automobile sales lagged 20 per cent.

Overall business activity for 1956 still is slightly higher than '55, says the UT Bureau of Business Research. But if the downward trends continue, hopes for a new record may be too optimistic.

Credit tightening has slowed, but not "seriously affected" Texas' rapid industrial expansion, says Dr. John Stockton, head of the research bureau.

Many Texas merchants look to a big holiday boom to bring up the year's average.

WASHBURN VERDICT REVERSED—The murder trial of Harry Washburn will have to be tried again. Texas' court of criminal appeals has reversed and remanded the Waco conviction.

Washburn had been given a life sentence in the auto-bomb killing of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver of San Angelo.

Defense attorneys contended the state prejudiced the jury with "fact-laden questions" to a witness who claimed 5th Amendment immunity.

Washburn said he hoped for a new trial in his home town, Houston.

SHORT SNOTS—Number of patients confined in Texas mental hospitals dropped during the past year despite an increase in the number admitted. Mental hospital rolls dipped from 16,445 in 1955 to 15,955 in 1956. But total number treated rose 1,621 in the same period. . . . Don't burn any trash until there is rain, Texas Forestry Service warns. Tinder-dry woods and fields already have resulted in widespread forest fires. . . . "Wets" won out in three recent local option elections held in Tarrant, Moore and Gregg Counties, reported the Texas Liquor Control Board. This made a total of seven defeats for dry forces in elections held since June. Others were in Potter, Gray, Dallam, Hutchinson and Moore Counties. . . . Men between 21 and 35 who want to be highway patrolmen may apply until Oct. 15, says the Department of Public Safety. Exams will be given later this month. Applications go to Chief W. J. Elliott, Texas Highway Patrol, Austin. . . . State cigarette taxes dropped in September, but increased liquor revenue more than made up the difference. State Treasurer Jesse James reported cigarette money down $85,735 from a year ago, but liquor taxes up $141,858. A new law authorizing the Insurance Commission to judge competency of company management will be tested in appeals court Feb. 20. Third Court of Civil Appeals in Austin will hear the case brought by John L. Hammond Company of Dallas.

Study Shows Texas Surge to Hunt and Fish

Reflecting the increasing pressure on wildlife resources, a survey conducted for the Game and Fish Commission shows that 1,825,000 Texans out of a possible 8,000,000 either hunted or fished, or both, last year.

Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary, said the study also pointed up the "enormous utilization of leisure time for out of doors recreation" and "very definitely reflects the mighty industry built around the needs of our hunters and fishermen."

Expenditures for both hunting and fishing in this state last year was placed at $145,054,000, with the bulk ($122,919,000) spent for fishing. The average money layout per fisherman over twelve years of age was $86.69, and per hunter was $59.43.

"This survey clinches the realization that times not only have changed so far as pastimes are concerned but that the trend toward personal participation even exceeds common belief," said the Executive Secretary. "Grandpa's spare time was so limited that he was confined to an occasional hour stalking a deer or at the billiard hall. Now, shorter work hours mean longer play periods, and the ability to piece sizeable time together toward frequent sorties to field and stream."

He said the Texas statistics were generally according to the national pattern which showed that Americans annually spent about three billion dollars on their sports and hunted and fished for about five million days.

The major variance so far as affects the Texas picture is the comparatively greater number of Texans who "get in free." Statistically, one out of three fishermen do not have to buy a license and only one out of six hunters do not have to buy a license. But in generous Texas, approximately three out of five fishermen did not buy a license and three out of seven hunters did not buy the regular state license.

Revenue from sale of fishing and hunting licenses provides a major share of Game and Fish Commission costs.

"If we are to keep pace with the ever increasing pressure for greater hunting and fishing facilities," said Mr. Dodgen, "it seems some sharp revisions will have to be made as to whom should help finance the program. Certainly, the overhead for assorted wildlife restoration projects is following the same generous expansion path."

THIS WEEK -In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

There is an old saying that "figures don't lie, but liars do figure," and that might be a good one to remember when you listen to the political candidates talk about farm problems.

In getting at the facts, you will, of course, make allowances for the normal inclination of the party in power to "point with pride," while the other "views with alarm." We wouldn't say that either side is lying, but both are doing a lot of figuring.

With the election less than a month away, this might be a good time for all of us to take a close look at some factual figures, without political bias. The big question, of course, is: Is the farm recession over?

Republicans say "yes," and base their optimism on official statements by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They point out that the average of farm prices increased by 10 per cent in the first half of this year, and that this was the first increase in 5 years.

They cite growing export markets for U. S. farm products, and place their faith in the $1.2-billion-a-year soil bank program aimed at helping farmers take some 25 million more acres out of cultivation next year. They say we are about to lick our biggest farm problem, surpluses.

Democrats charge that Republicans favor low farm prices, and they point to the flexible price program as encouraging lower prices. They can show that farm operating costs have gone up more than prices during the past year, as has been the case in each of the past four years.

They quote latest USDA figures, showing that while prices received by farmers are 2 per cent higher than a year ago, following declines in July, August and September, that farm costs are up 3 per cent over a year ago, and that farmers now are getting 82 per cent of parity, compared with 83 per cent a year ago.

Both statements are correct, but neither is the whole truth. They are like two sides of a coin. You see one thing on one side and something else on the other.

The whole truth is that we still are a long way from being out of the farm recession, but there are encouraging signs that the future may be better than the past. Net farm income this year will be just a fraction higher than last. There are good reasons to hope that the worst of the farm recession is over.

We've begun to regain some of our export markets, but we are losing our customers most of the money they use to "buy" our products. That'll amount to about $2 billion this year. That can't continue indefinitely, but while it lasts it can cut surpluses. Our stockpile of surpluses, however, is four times as large as it was in 1952. Total farm production hasn't been reduced yet, and it'll be about equal to the largest on record this year. The soil bank hasn't helped this year, but prospects are good it will next year.

Per-capita farm income this year will be higher than last, due mainly to the fact that about the same amount of income will be distributed among fewer farmers—about 50,000 fewer.

We aren't out of the woods yet, but we can begin to see patches of daylight.

Fatal Fallacies

"Lovely car, comes equipped with everything but brains."

Ike Can't Make It Rain But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drought. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining."

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

"I hate not to go along with such a widely known crowd of weather observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody who keeps up with which way wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson."

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody including him. If he was in the White House, he would do it different, at least in our country. He allowed that the $60,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and not made all the farmers bad and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, keep remembering that the reason for our troubles, besides the drought, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump President Eisenhower, there's a real issue. They've sure got goods on Ike in that respect. He hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be high no doubt. I wonder why he never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had some sense there. We have got to adjust our peace-time, which is taking us out of President Eisenhower's hands, but President Eisenhower and boys aren't fighting and drying foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

Yours truly,
Jex

Annual Wolf Hunters Ass'n. Slated Oct. 16-19

The annual hunt and bench show of the North Texas-Oklahoma Fox and Wolf Hunters Association, one of the largest hunts staged in the United States, will be held on Oct. 16-19 on the Neal Ranch, eight miles southeast of Quanah, according to B. E. Copeland of Henrietta, president of the organization.

Hundreds of hunters, who will bring thousands of hounds for the hunt and bench show, are again expected to pitch their camps on the permanent grounds on the ranch. Each year a virtual "boom town" blossoms on the grounds when hunters and their families bring their camping equipment, which includes tents, trailers, homes, trucks, on down to bed rolls, to spend the four days at the camp site.

Bench Show

The bench show, one of the highlights of the annual meeting of the hunters, who will come to Quanah from many states, will be held on Tuesday night, Oct. 17, with Rev. P. W. Walker of Denton serving as judge. The ringermaster will be selected at a later date.

Bench show prizes will be awarded Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 18, as bench show winners must be cast in order to qualify for the prizes.

Field Trials

Field trials will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 16, 17, 18 and 19, with casts of the hounds being made at daybreak each morning. Ralph Bridges of Denton will be the master of hounds.

Field trial trophies and ribbons will be presented the winners on Friday afternoon, Oct. 19, after scores from the final cast are tabulated to close the hunt.

Nightly Programs

J. T. "Knothole" Wilson of Graham, who is widely known in the wolf hunters' circles, will serve as master of ceremonies of the entertainment programs which will be held each night of the hunt. He will be assisted by Chas. DeBose of Mexia.

These nightly programs always attract hundreds of visitors, in addition to the hunters, and they are expected to be more entertaining than those of past years.

The annual hunt will be opened on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock when members will be enlisted and hounds will be entered for the bench show and field trials. The secretary's desk will be open all day for this purpose.

The bench show will provide Tuesday night's entertainment. The first cast will be made Wednesday morning. Features of Wednesday night's program will be horn blowing contests and a talent show, with prizes given for children under 12 years of age.

The program for Thursday night will be furnished by the Quanah Chamber of Commerce, starting at 7:30 p. m.

A 900-pound fat steer will also be given away by the association on Wednesday night.

Other officers who have headed the hunters association during the past year include Lewis Akers of Abilene, vice president; and Curtis Springfield of Azle, secretary.

What Is Fallout?

FACTORS AFFECTING FALLOUT distribution over countryside downwind from a nuclear blast are the size of the earth particles carrying the radioactivity, their altitude and the speed and direction of the wind. Generally, in the United States, the winds which would dominate the direction of fallout would be the strong, usually west-to-east winds at about 40,000 feet. For this reason, the Federal Civil Defense Administration warns that only weather experts, with their methods of tracking high-altitude winds, can predict with reasonable accuracy the area to be affected by fallout. Men with radiation monitoring instruments are also required to determine whether an area is "safe" from radio active fallout after a nuclear attack. (FCDA Photos)

Widow—Not Magnate

Writing in the Oregon Voter, Ralph T. Moore makes this striking observation: "A ray of hope for freedom's safety comes from the quiet revolution now changing our big business structures from ownership by the wealthy few to ownership by innumerable many. Millions of Americans are now stockholders where once there were only thousands. The cartoonists' concept of big business as the bejeweled magnate is obsolete. The modestly attired widow of very limited means pictures today's business owner."

Widespread stock ownership by typical American families means greater economic democracy. That in turn, vastly strengthens our political democracy and shores up the structure on which all freedoms rest. The man or woman with a few shares in an American business is not only interested in the welfare of that particular business—he is directly concerned with the preservation of the system which makes its existence possible.

A great step forward was taken a little more than a year ago when the monthly investment plan was inaugurated. Under it, people can buy stocks over a period of time by investing modest sums each month or quarter. If, for any reason, they drop the plan they receive the number of shares they have paid for. Many thousands of people have taken advantage of this opportunity so far, and the number grows apace.

Yes, the modestly attired widow, not the bejeweled magnate, is symbolic of today's owner of corporate enterprise. And that's all to the good.

Learning to Drive Is a Life Time Job

"Learning how to drive is not a five-easy-lessons proposition—it's a lifetime job!"

That was the message to motorists this week by E. C. McFadden of Dallas, vice president of Employers Casualty Co. and president of the Texas Safety Association, in connection with the vacation safe driving program which is being conducted this month in Texas by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

He pointed out that the past decade has seen marked strides forward in automobile design and production, with the result that modern automobiles are faster and more powerful—and more numerous—than ever before.

"But the increased speed, power and traffic density require more control and greater skill in driving," McFadden said.

Urging all motorists to keep up to date in their driving habits, he said that many drivers on our highways today are still using driving techniques as obsolete as the out-dated model in which they first learned.

"A motorist has to be alert to rapid developments in our highway system, too, especially with so many superhighways springing up over the country," McFadden said.

"These smooth ribbon-like roads cutting across mountain and valley from one end of the country to the other are beautiful to drive on, but driving a modern high-powered car on them requires control, precision and highly developed driving skills," he said.

Pointing out that the comfort and ease of driving today has a dangerous tendency to dull the alertness of the driver to the increased dangers of modern traffic, McFadden cautioned all motorists, especially those on vacation trips, to drive safely and to keep alert at all times.

"A good motto for every motorist to heed," he said is "Drive to Arrive Alive—Slow Down and Live."

HEALTH TO CREATE NEW DAMS

Cities and towns along the Brazos can grow for the next century, at least, if their water supplies keep pace, the Brazos River Authority reports. The Authority's Six-Dam Program designed to create an assured supply of 700,000 acre-feet annually and 1,500,000 acre-feet annually against a present dependable supply in the lower river of 420,000 acre-feet. Cities thus will be able to draw on a quadrupled water supply when the full conservation program is in effect.

Our Weekly Sermon
Lack of Vitamins
Amazingly enough, back-seat drivers and juvenile delinquents may be suffering from nothing more than inadequate nutrition, the International College of Surgeons was told during meetings of their national congress this year.

Dr. Clair S. Linton, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, said his studies point to the belief that more people are afflicted with dietary disturbances than is recognized generally.

He reported that he frequently found a direct relationship between poor nutrition and a variety of ailments, such as nervousness, eyesight impairment, defective hearing, ringing in the ears, dizziness, nasal disorders, lump in the throat, depression, and even suicidal tendencies.

Then he told of results achieved in treating such patients with vitamin injections and giving them printed instructions, advising them what foods to eat for proper nutrition. Good or excellent results were obtained in at least 91 per cent of the cases, he said, with some securing dramatic relief from nervous tension, pain or mental agitation within a few minutes. One woman who was frightened badly whenever her husband drove from 55 to 60 miles an hour, lost her apprehension after a few days of treatment. Another one returned for more vitamin injections because her husband said she was "easier to get along with," after she had received them. And, above all, the treatment was found to be an important method of improving family harmony and thus reducing juvenile delinquency.

It is interesting to compare this medical finding with an important parallel the Christian has long found to be true in his everyday life: our spiritual efficiency and growth depend upon daily nutrition. When we take time to read and meditate daily upon a portion of God's Word, our whole life seems to run along more smoothly and we are enabled to take a stronger stand for what we believe.

The apostle admonishes us to take our vitamins in I Peter 2:2 and 3: "Desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby: if so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious."

Have you had your spiritual vitamins today?

William Howard Taft was the first U. S. President to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

THE WILDCAT

Hey! Did you people know that Jerry Bob Sellers has an admirer at Oklaunion, Her name is Lou Ella.

Jimmy Rader has been going to Vernon a lot lately. Couldn't be because of Sherry, could it?

We hear that Don Hunter has been writing letters to Wellington. What's her name, Don?

Dale Johnson has a sweet tooth on Jeanie Johnson and Joyce Howard. Which one will it be?

R. H. has been going to Vernon to see "Shultzzy." We don't mean the "Shultzzy" on the Bob Cummings show, but a certain little gal from Vernon.

Thanks to all the organizations who made pre-Lowa Park game posters. Many of the predictions didn't come true, but we'll beat Iowa Park next year.

Kenneth Bell has his eyes on D'Lois Shultzzy. This may lead to something.

The people in the cafe in Bowie where the buses stopped were entertained in a regal manner Friday night. They were treated by Crowell's own Margery Truman (Janis Crowell), Liberace and Liberachita (Noel Wilkins and Janie Bowers), the Day Sisters (Lois Ann Painter and Charlotte Sledge). These talented CHSites made good use of the piano in the banquet room.

Darling Dee has finally decided he prefers the home grown product. He's been picking Roxie up mornings.

Let's all really yell loud at the pep rally Friday.

We have some new members on the "Puny People's Association." James Doyal, Roy Don Payne and Printiss Gidney have been enjoying the hospitality of the hospital. Seriously, we need you fellows. Hope to be seeing you in the halls of CHS soon.

Did you know that CHS has a recording artist. His name is Joe Calvin.

Did all the girls who didn't go to the fair have fun over the week end? You should have. There were plenty of "ole bachelors" around town.

How are Jerry C. and Barbara Goodwin getting along, Jerry?

Seems that Glenn and Peggy saw each other a "few" times over the week end. Friday night at Iowa Park, Saturday night at the drive in, Sunday morning at church, Sunday night at the show.

We wonder why Ruth is so interested in Olney. Do you suppose his name is Jimmy Jones?

Jeanie, Jerry and Gayle really enjoyed the Ice Capades. The reason — Ginger came to see his little sis and brought some good looking college buddies along.

Would you "scandalous schemers" please explain in detail the "info" you drop in the scandal lockers so we "dumb" Scandal editors will know what you mean?

We're going some and "hit the sack." See you next week.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

"October's Party" was given by Mrs. A. B. Calvin during the opening exercises of the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club on October 6. Mrs. Calvin was hostess to the group in her home.

The roll call was answered with each member's favorite Bible story. Mrs. Clarence Garrett, president, conducted the business period. A decision was made to sell Christmas cards as a means of making money.

Mrs. Mary D. Brown's demonstration was entitled "Let's Prune Correctly." Having correct tools is very important in any pruning undertaking. Shrubs should never look like little trees. Where the sun doesn't reach the plant, there can be no leaves.

The hostess gift was drawn by Mrs. Garrett. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Brown, Clyde Eddy, and C. N. Chatfield, visitors, and to six members.

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

When V. T. Hancock, assistant engineer with the State Department of Health, was here we found that most of the contaminated water was being caused by poor coverings on the wells. He suggested that most wells should have a concrete lid put on with a caulking compound. This would keep out all dust and contamination and would be removable when necessary.

As you know contaminated water can carry typhoid and amoebic dysentery among other things, so perhaps you need to have a better lid or cover on your well. This is something we should all be concerned about and try to remedy.

The EEE committee met in my office last Friday morning and decided on the following things: The annual Achievement Day will be Nov. 17 in Mrs. Self's building on the west side of the square from 9 a. m. to luncheon that day and each person is to bring a covered dish, cup or glass and silver to eat with. Council will furnish plates, napkins, bread and coffee.

There will be one large table for the "Swap Shop." Each person bringing articles to swap is to put her name on them and do her own swapping. Some of the suggested swap items were canned foods (green beans for black eyed peas, for example) cup towels, aprons, eggs, children's clothes, jewelry, and I'm sure you can think of many more.

Each club is to make and put up 1 poster by Nov. 10 advertising the Achievement Day and Swap Shop.

Each club is to have one educational exhibit at the Achievement Day, as well as their crafts, handwork, etc.

Each club will need to decide by Oct. 20 what their educational exhibit will be and whether they plan to have a food sale so they can report them to council.

If your club decides to have a food sale, then the club itself will be responsible for selling the food and keeping the records and money straight.

Let's all plan now to make this our biggest and best Achievement Day. We certainly fell down at

"Only 10 per cent of our young people are delinquents, but they make such headlines that we fall the camp and picnic last summer, so let's not let that happen again. You have done excellent work this past year, so let's show it to other people.
