SPARE TIME IN GARDEN PAYS GOOD PROFITS

Rev. W. J. Mayhew, pastor of the Methodist church, is a great believer in the possibilities of the garden. He has demonstrated the fact that a little work spent in the garden pays rich dividends. He has the products to prove his claim. Monday morning he came into the News office with a sack of tomatoes and green peppers which he had produced and it is no exaggeration to say that there never came to Crowell from any country, the far-famed Rio Grande Valley being no exception, finer tomatoes or green peppers than Bro. Mayhew has raised in his garden in Crowell. This experience of his is worth something to us all if we will take it. It may be claimed that this has been a favorable year for gardening, which is true, and yet there are very few people in Crowell who have a garden. If it had been a dry year the probabilities are that Bro. Mayhew would have had a good garden, because he started in not to depend on rains and their coming has only made it necessary for him to use less water for irrigation.

The first thing he did last spring was to send some of the soil of his lot to the A. & M. College for analysis. The college wrote him what the soil needed in the way of fertilizer and he bought 100 pounds of that fertilizer in Dallas, which was used. But at the same time as an experiment he alternated his rows of garden stuff with the fertilizer he bought and common lot fertilizer, which of course, was well pulverized, and his observation is that there was no difference whatever in the effect each had on garden crops.

Now, here are some of the results: His water bill above the minimum has been $2.00. He has not only had all the Irish potatoes he needed to furnish his own table but has sold 184 pounds at 6.35, making a little more than $11.00. He has also sold 110 pounds of onions at 6¢ per pound, which netted $6.60, the total sales being a little more than $18.00.

It must be remembered that there are yet to be realized more profits from the garden. The plot of land on which this is grown is possibly not more than one-sixth of the quarter block on which the parsonage is located. It's a very small spot of ground.

From this garden Sister Mayhew has canned beets, cucumbers, snap beans and squashes to supply winter needs.

The value of an item of this kind is not the fact that the pastor of a church has made a good garden but that it is demonstrated through his intensive cultivation of a little spot of land that a garden can be made a profitable thing for the family. People in Foard County can have good gardens. All that is needed is a little brain and muscle work. If more people would do this there would be less complaint at the high cost of living. There are hundreds of vacant lots in Crowell that could be made produce a splendid revenue if planted in gardens each year.

The irrigation proposition of course would be a problem if everybody used water for that purpose but some of these days Crowell will have water for all the garden that will be grown.

Pecos—The Pecos Valley will celebrate here July 20 with a big all day Jollification. The celebration is in honor of the successful fight for the appropriation for Red Bluff Dam on the Pecos River. Congress recently appropriated two million dollars for the project and President Coolidge has signed the bill. This project will reclaim half a million acres of land and is expected to bring a big period of development to the Trans-Pecos country. A barbecue will be prepared for twenty thousand persons and it is expected that many will be here on July 20. Pecos invites West Texas to join in the celebration.

Alpine—A determined effort to exterminate wolves in this section of the state is bearing fruit. A comprehensive system of poisoning is under way with 11 stockmen co-operating. Literally hundreds of coyotes and numbers of lobo wolves have been killed.

Farmers Advised to Fight Leafworm

R. R. Reppert, entomologist at A. & M. College Station, sends out a warning to the farmers to prepare to fight the leafworm. In all probability these pests will make their appearance before long and commence their destructive work. Mr. Reppert is advising the farmers to get ready now to fight them. His letter for the press follows:

In our press letter of May 29th, we advised that the cotton leafworm had already appeared in Texas. Its progress since has been very slow, but a heavy infestation occurred during the month of June, with scattered lighter infestations occurring further north at the present time.

It is our belief that damage from this pest will become more or less general over the more eastern part of Texas during July, extending toward the Panhandle country the latter part of the month or sometime in August. Especially is this to be feared if the showers at present being experienced in Texas, continue.

The cotton flea has delayed the fruiting of cotton. This damage is expected soon to cease, but a condition has been created that makes it unusually desirable to prevent the ravages of the leafworm for the remainder of the season. Consequently farmers should keep a close watch for the appearance of this latter pest and be fully prepared to control it on its first appearance.

Calcium arsenate is the best poison to use, considering its cheapness and effectiveness. This may be dusted on by the pole adn bag method, but preferably by means of some type of dusting machine. Best results are obtained if dusting is done while the dew is on the plants, so the poison may adhere; but usually enough adheres to make it highly effective. Use from three to six pounds per acre according to the size of the plant.

The next best poison to use is lead of arsenate. Apply in the same amount as is recommended for calcium arsenate.

Paris green may be used but is apt to burn the plant. Hence, it should be diluted with equal parts of air-slaked lime. Many persons use as high as four parts of the lime to one of the Paris green, or substitute a cheap grade of flour for part of the lime. This procedure is all right, but in any case some lime should be used to prevent leaf injury. Apply any such mixture so that two to three pounds actual Paris green is applied per acre.

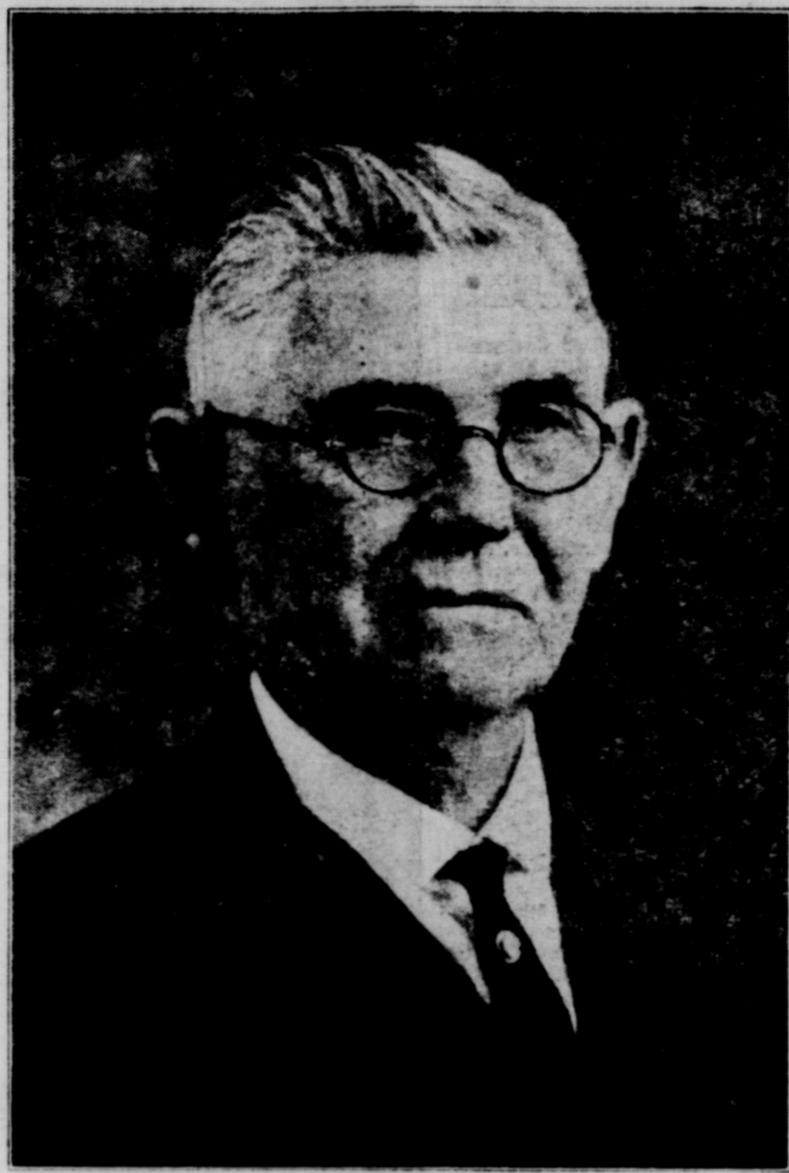

In the drier sections many farmers prefer to spray. All spray machinery should be so constructed that the mixture of poison and water is kept agitated; otherwise the poison will settle to the bottom. Any of the three poisons previously mentioned may be used, the proportions should be about two pounds of either lead arsenate or calcium arsenate, or one and a half pounds of Paris green, to fifty gallons of water. Where Paris green is used, an equal quantity of quick lime should be slaked, and the resulting milk of lime be added to the mixture, after straining through cheese cloth.

White arsenic, mixtures of white arsenic and soda compounds, or stock dip, are apt to burn the cotton and are not advised by the Extension Service.

YOUNG MAN DROWNS IN MUNICIPAL POOL AT SEYMOUR SUNDAY

Seymour, Texas, July 12.—R. A. McCurry, aged 22, was drowned in the swimming pool of the local Municipal Park here at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. After being in the water only a few minutes he was seen to throw up his hands and disappear in the water. The body was recovered in two or three minutes and a pullmotor was used by attending physicians within 20 minutes after the body was brought from the water, and although doctors worked strenuously for almost an hour and a half all efforts used to bring life proved futile.

McCurry was assistant manager of the Seymour theatre, coming here from Denton, Texas, six months ago. His wife and a small son who are now visiting in San Antonio, survive, also his father and mother who reside at Denton. The remains were shipped Monday morning over the Wichita Valley to Denton for interment.

REV. W. M. MURRELL

Rev. W. M. Murrell, pastor of the Methodist church at Childress, is conducting a revival at the Methodist church at Margaret. Miss Gladys Kilgore of Chillicothe, member of the Chillicothe Trio, is directing the choir and doing work with the young people. The meeting starts July 16 and will continue until July 26. Evening services will be held in the open.

Rev. Murrell was formerly pastor of the Crowell Methodist church.

COTTON FLEA CAUSING SOME CONCERN HERE

According to the report given the News by County Agent Fred Rennels, as well as the reports brought in by a number of farmers, the cotton flea is causing more concern to farmers than any pest at this time.

The cotton flea is a small bug that makes its appearance in the young cotton and destroys the tender squares. In that respect it is unlike the boll worm, which appears at a later stage of the cotton, but it is said since the flea is coming at this early date the farmers have a good chance to get rid of them in time to save the cotton, as most of the cotton is made after the first of August.

Sulphur is the remedy recommended for the flea. This is used in quantities of about 6 to 8 pounds per acre every five days and is dusted on the plant. One difficulty is just now that there are no machines with which to sprinkle the sulphur on the cotton and some means of doing this will have to be devised before much effective work can be done to eliminate the pest.

The county agent has been over the county and says there is quite a sprinkle of these pests, some in almost every patch of cotton. It made its appearance in 1923 but has done no damage to amount to anything in this county before this year. It is thought that if a general campaign is put into effect at once this pest can be exterminated. However, the possible damage it may cause to cotton is hard to estimate. In all probability a strong campaign will have to be waged to assure a normal crop. Cotton looks well and to the casual observer it appears to be in perfect condition.

Artesia, N. M.—The eastern New Mexico district of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will hold their annual meeting here August 16. Artesia is planning a big event and heavy attendance is anticipated.

Marfa—The Davis Mountain-Big Bend district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held here August 11. Arrangements have been made to care for a large attendance. High officials of the West Texas Chamber including president Arthur P. Duggan, will attend.

Crops Look Better Here Than Anywhere

A little trip made by one of the News force to Merkel Friday night revealed the fact that Foard County, as usual, can show more promising fields of cotton and feed than is seen anywhere along the line. Most of the crops here are more advanced and look better than anywhere. Much of the cotton and feed in the country south of us is small. It seems not to have been worked as well as ours and the land is certainly less fertile. And too, they have had some big rains that have washed the land badly. It is not uncommon to see considerable gullies washed out down through the middle of a cotton patch. However, where the land has been terraced this does not appear. But terracing is not general, even on the sloping lands. Of course, after one gets south of Hamlin there is little farming land until he reaches the valley in which the town of Merkel is located. In that locality the crops are almost as good as they are in Foard County.

We have been publishing reports of this nature from others who have visited other localities and our observation confirms those reports. Foard County is indeed one of the best agricultural sections of West Texas and we need only to combine a few other industries, such as dairying and poultry raising with it, to make this one of the very best sections for diversified farming in Texas. We do not, as a rule, realize this as fully as we might and are not advertising Foard County.

LAW EXPLAINED TO NEW VOTERS

Austin, Texas, July 9.—Young citizens who care to cast their first votes in the coming elections have been much perturbed over their legal rights and the Attorney General has received many inquiries regarding the law, which has been elucidated by Assistant Attorney General L. C. Sutton, who construes the election laws and writes all opinions thereon.

Mr. Sutton holds that any person, man or woman, who became 21 years of age after Jan. 1, 1925, may vote this year without having paid a poll tax. However, those living in cities of 10,000 inhabitants or more must have obtained an exemption certificate from the County Tax Collector before Feb. 1, 1926, in order to be able to vote this year.

Applies to Both Elections
These rulings apply to both primary and general elections.

Persons living outside of cities of 10,000 population or less are not required to obtain an exemption certificate where they became 21 years of age after Jan. 1, 1925, while those in the cities of 10,000 or over who failed to get exemption certificates can not vote. Where a voter's age is challenged he is entitled to make affidavit that he became 21 years of age since Jan. 1, 1925, and is entitled to vote without having paid a poll tax.

Where a person becomes 21 years of age after the primaries of this year he can not vote in the primary election which precedes his twenty-first birthday. If he becomes 21 years of age between the primary and the general election he is entitled to cast his vote in the general election without having paid a poll tax even though he was not eligible to vote in the primary election.

As to City Poll Tax

Mr. Sutton also is making it clear in every instance that it is unnecessary to have paid a city poll tax as a prerequisite to voting in this year's election, primary and general election included. This does not prevent cities from assessing poll taxes, but their payment is not necessary to vote.

The statute authorizing a poll tax was enacted when men alone voted and was not amended when women were enfranchised. This presented a discrimination and the Attorney General holds that failure to pay a city poll tax can not be enforced to prevent a person from voting.

Men and women, however, are required to have paid State and county poll tax to be eligible to vote in the primary and general elections this year, Mr. Sutton advised.

There isn't a woman living who won't argue that she could dress well on the money her husband "blows in" on tobacco.

ANOTHER AGED MAN ANSWERS DEATH'S CALL

The news of the death of W. D. Logan reached the News last week just in time for mere mention of the fact without giving any of the particulars.

His death occurred early Wednesday morning of last week while he was asleep on a cot in a cot tent which he was running at Berger, an oil town in the Panhandle field. There were 14 cots in the tent, Mr. Logan occupying one of them and 13 men occupying the others. A few of the men had arisen and gone to work before it was discovered that Mr. Logan was dead and it was not until the man with whom he was taking his meals came to arouse him for breakfast. His death is supposed to be due to the large amount of gas surrounding that place and to the fact that Mr. Logan had a weak heart. Only a few weeks ago he had a fainting spell on the street in Crowell but recovered.

Mr. Logan was born January 27, 1861, and was therefore in his 66th year when he died. He came from Dickens County to this county 27 years ago but was a native of Hood County, Texas. He has not continuously resided here since having moved to this county but has made it his home for the most part.

The deceased is survived by his wife and 9 children. These are Mrs. W. D. Logan, Crowell, Texas; Mrs. E. F. Gibson, Amarillo; I. L. Logan, Redwood, Calif.; D. E. Logan, Crowell; W. E. Logan, Crowell; Mrs. R. R. Long, Chalk; E. E. Logan, Crowell; Paul Logan, Crowell; Mrs. O. K. Woodall, Calico Rock, Ark. All the children were here to attend the funeral except I. L. Logan of California and Mrs. Woodall of Arkansas.

The body was shipped to Crowell, arriving Saturday morning, and funeral services were held at the home of Paul Logan, being conducted by Rev. S. A. Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church, after which the remains were interred in the Crowell cemetery.

Mr. Logan had been a member of a branch of the Christian church for many years.

Gas Is Reported Found at Navarro Well Last Sunday

The gas find at the Navarro well on the McAdams ranch last Sunday at a depth of about 3,000 feet is at least an indication that there is oil or gas somewhere near and the Navarro people, it is understood, are going to make further tests. They are now drilling on a sand said to be the third one encountered in this well. The gas appeared when the well was being baled out for further drilling and it is reported that an estimate of a million feet was made. Those who know gas wells say that is a small amount of gas but that there is probably enough, if it holds up, to furnish fuel sufficient for the drilling of another well.

There is not a great amount of interest manifested in the matter. It seems to be generally believed that this well will not be an oil well and that other tests will have to be made before an oil well is brought in. It is the opinion of many, however, that there is a pool somewhere not far away and that eventually it will be brought in. It has been reported that the Navarro intends to make other tests in the vicinity of this well should it prove to be a dry hole.

Dear Sir:

With reference to the article in the Foard County News of July 9th, 1926, signed by Hon. John A. Storey, District Attorney of the 46th Judicial District of Texas, referring to your arrest and detention by the sheriffs of Foard and Wilbarger Counties, we desire to say that in our opinion the article constitutes a criminal libel, and in accordance with your request we shall at the proper time file a suit in your behalf against Mr. Storey for damages on account of the same. However, since this question seems to be involved in the politics of Foard County we shall take no action until after the election.

While we regard the statements of Mr. Storey as ridiculous, we have no desire to become involved in the county politics of the county in which we do not reside; besides, the issues involved in this controversy are to be determined finally by a fair and impartial jury acting under their oath, and if Mr. Storey shall desire to appear upon the trial of this case and swear to some of the statements made by him in his article, we shall be delighted to cross examine him and leave him not only to his own conscience, but to the tender mercies of a jury of Foard County.

Yours respectfully,

I want you voters to know at the proper time the facts involved in this controversy will be given to a fair and impartial jury. ## MARRS ANSWERS FERGUSON CHARGES

Hon. James E. Ferguson, clerk of the Text-Book Commission, in a speech at Lufkin last Thursday is reported in the press as follows: "If you folks are that kind of Baptists, I don't mean you, but Moody and Marrs and that bunch that got into trouble with Ma, who tried to put into the school books that man came from a tadpole and a monkey. My wife answered, I'm a Christian mother who believes Jesus Christ died to save humanity and I am not going to let that kind of rot go into Texas text-books."

I have felt that the office of the State Superintendent of Schools should be on a professional rather than a political basis, and for that reason I have refrained from making any political campaign for re-election, preferring to rest my candidacy upon the record of my administration for economy and business efficiency. But the foregoing statement is so far removed from the actual facts, I deem it necessary to make correction.

Fortunately, the statutes require the State Superintendent to be the secretary of the Text-Book Commission and to keep records. As a matter of precaution, he also keeps on file the original ballots. The minutes, which have been approved by the commission, show that six text-books on biology were offered for adoption. The minutes also show that one text was especially objectionable in its treatment of evolution, and that in making nominations of five books for adoption President Birdwell of Nacodoches and myself omitted it from the list. Messrs. Paschal and Black included this text but demanded that elimination of the objectionable matter, while the remaining members of the commission, including Governor Ferguson, nominated this objectionable text without revision. The record of the ballots shows that President Birdwell and myself voted against this text, and that all other members, including Governor Ferguson, voted for it. In this connection it should be remembered that Attorney General Moody was not a member of the commission and had nothing whatever to do with the selection of text-books.

The clerk of the text-book commission seeks now to create the impression that our differences arose over the question of evolution when he well knows that they were occasioned by my choice, as minority member of the sub-committee on approval contracts, to follow the advice of the Attorney General rather than to agree with the majority of the sub-committee, composed of Governor Ferguson and Mr. H. A. Wroe, who were being advised by Hon. Quintus U. Watson, the attorney for the American Book Company.

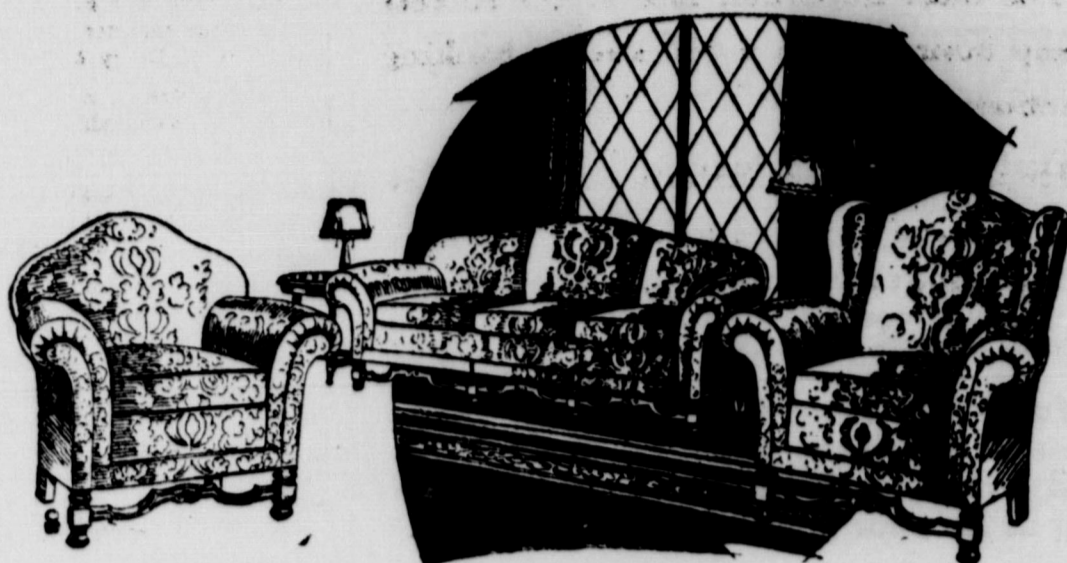

In the July 8th issue of the Ferguson Forum, under the heading, "Political Treachery," James E. Ferguson stated that "Moody, Hatcher and Marrs have organized the Big Three to fight the Fergusons, when all three of them owe their present jobs to the Fergusons and their friends." In reply to this statement, I wish to say that I know of no organization; that each of the three men mentioned is acting independently in his candidacy as he is in his official capacity. Also, I wish to state that I know of no other reason for Mr. Ferguson's bitter assault upon me than my opposition to the Ferguson administration in the recent text-book adoption. In that adoption, as the official records show, the Ferguson's favored the adoption of the highest priced, the oddest, and with one exception the smallest spelling book offered for adoption, and that I opposed wasteful and extravagant expenditures of school money in the purchase of text-books. In this connection, it will be recalled that I am not free to enter into a frank discussion of this adoption because my lips are sealed by an injunction issued by the Supreme Court on the application of the American Book Company.

I hold no brief for the other two members of the "Wicked Three" who seem to be amply able to account to the people of Texas for their official acts. I presume, however, that they feel, as I do, that they are answerable to the people for the administration of their offices and not to any individual or group of individuals who because of political exigencies supported them. If James E. Ferguson, or any other person, thought that his political support, which I did not personally solicit and which was not solicited by any authorized agent of mine, gave him the right to dictate my official course and policies, his opinion was wholly without foundation. At all times in my official relations with the Governor and her spokesman, James E. Ferguson, I have sought to co-operate in the transaction of the business of schools, but I have never surrendered my right to act for the best interest of the schools of Texas as I saw them. If this is "treason" to the Fergusons, let them make the most of it. I am content to rest my case with the people of Texas to the interest of whose children my administration has been dedicated.

COULD YOU SAVE A LIFE?

This is the time of year when the old swimmin' hole is at the height of its popularity. There is nothing quite so refreshing as a plunge into cool water in the heat of the dogs days. It is great sport. But, like most other sports, swimming is fraught with danger. And in your newspaper nearly every day at this season of the year you may read where some life has been lost through carelessness or mischance in the water.

Many, many of those who are lost in this manner every year could and would be saved if prompt and intelligent rescue and first aid were at hand.

Every boy and girl, every man and woman should know first of all how to swim. And in addition every one of them should know how to rescue others from the water and what to do to revive a drowned person.

If you do not know how to go about reviving a victim of drowning, learn how. Learn how by all means! On your knowledge may depend some day the life of a friend or a brother or a little child.

Every regular employee of this company knows how to apply the prone pressure method of artificial respiration. And that method will save a victim of electric shock, drowning, or gas asphyxiation if anything can save him. Ask any one of them to show you how it is done. You can learn it in five minutes so that you will never forget. Then practice until you are expert.

The county judge gives us the welcome news that there will be a 10 cent tax reduction next year. This speaks well for the county. But it should not be forgotten that by the passage of the bill giving Young County four terms of court of four weeks each, each year in the "30" district, and the ending of the "92" district court, our representative W. D. McFarlane, made a saving for the county, in court expenses of at least $5,000 per year. This enabled the county judge and commissioners' court to give us a county demonstration agent and a home demonstration agent, pay their salaries, and have money left out of the saving on district court expenses. With this and the splendid work of our county judge and commissioners the tax reduction was made possible and the employment of the home demonstration agent and the farm demonstration too. ### Christian Church Notes

On Sunday, July 4th, at the 11 o'clock services at the Christian church the pastor, A. R. Caudle, was tendered a fine donation of groceries and good things to eat together with a cash offering. All were presented in a neat speech delivered by Mrs. R. L. Kincaid in her inimitable and pleasing style. This fine token of appreciation and esteem came as complete surprise to the pastor and was accepted by him in the spirit in which it was tendered. The Christian church at Crowell certainly knows how to do things in a fine way.

On Wednesday evening at 8:30 July 23rd, Elder A. R. Caudle, pastor of the Christian churches at Crowell and Benjamin, will begin a revival meeting at Claytonville school house. It is to be hoped that that community will be ready for regular and systematic attendance during the meetin. Bro. C. V. Allen of Crowell will assist as much as possible. We will have good preaching and singing. Make your plans now to attend.

The Bible school at the Christian church is now showing a decided increase in attendance and interest. Mrs. N. J. Roberts' class of married men and women has an attendance of about thirty people which is remarkable for a congregation with a small membership. Mrs. Roberts is a very successful teacher and knows how to hold the class interest.—Reporter.

TO THE VOTERS OF FOARD COUNTY:

I desire to express my appreciation to the people of this county for their approval of my administration during the first term as County Judge by returning me to the same office for a second term. I have tried to show this appreciation by rendering good and efficient service to all. I am now asking the people for promotion and if you see fit to elect me to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector I want to assure you that I will put forth every effort within my ability to render efficient service in that capacity. I have tried to conduct my campaign on a high plane and if you do not see fit to vote for me on my own merits then I do not want to ask you to vote for me on the other fellow's demerits. It is my honest and sincere desire to be elected by people who really believe in enforcing the law with justice to all and partiality to none. I thank the many friends who have given me encouragement during the campaign and I really believe that on July the 24th that I will receive a majority vote of the county. Perhaps I have not seen you personally but please do not hold this against me, for if I have not called you to one side and given you a long confidential talk it is not because I do not want your support. I believe in coming out open on the stump and declaring to the world where you stand and I have said nothing in this campaign concerning the issue of the same but what has been spoken from the stump and I really think that is the proper method of discussing any issue. We know that in any campaign that there are many false reports circulated and I hope that you will be free to investigate all reports that may come within your hearing.
