Battle Between Crowell and Foard City For County Seat of Foard Is Told by S. P. McLaughlin, Member Old Townsite Co.

If Foard County's history is ever officially written, the name of S. P. McLaughlin will hold a prominent place among the list of pioneers of this section. Mr. McLaughlin and two of his brothers-in-law, J. W. Hart and B. S. Miller, secured the first steam threshing rig for this section and Mr. McLaughlin operated the steam engine for it for the first time during the harvest of 1890. This was one year earlier than the record of J. H. Self, W. T. Rasor and Henry Kenner, who brought a steam threshing rig here in 1891. Previously The News had mentioned that their steam rig was the first one brought to this county.

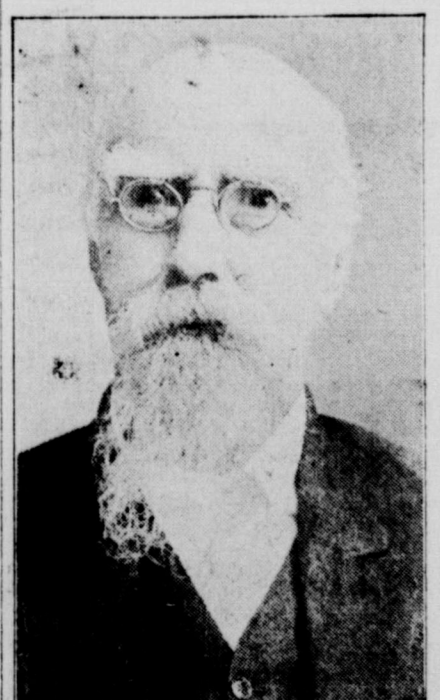

Sterling Pick McLaughlin was born near Sulphur Springs, Hopkins County, on Nov. 1, 1863. He served as a school teacher in Hopkins and Rannels counties until coming to what is now Foard in the latter part of 1880. He settled at old Sand Rock Springs, a few miles southwest of the site where Crowell was later established. He lived the first year here with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Hart.

Works on Bridge
A few months later he and his brothers-in-law secured the rig mentioned above and threshed all over this section during the summer of 1890. When the threshing season was over Mr. McLaughlin secured a contract to operate the engine in connection with the construction of the first Pease River bridge. So far as is known Mr. McLaughlin is the only man now living in Foard County who worked on this bridge.

In addition to early threshing and bridge work here, he is also one of the pioneer school teachers of this section. He started teaching at the Black school in the fall of 1890. He

Friday of this week, Feb. 10, will mark the 60th wedding anniversary of the earliest settlers of the section that is now Foard County, Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley of Margaret. It was in February, 1880, fifty-three years ago, that this couple settled on land about five miles north of what is now Crowell. They have since lived in that section of Foard County.

With the organization of Hardeman County in December, 1884, Mr. Wesley became its first county clerk. With the organization of Foard County on April 27, 1891, Mr. Wesley became one of the first four commissioners of this county.

ed about 5 miles north of what later became Crowell, was established in 1880 and Mrs. Wesley became assistant to the postmaster, D. E. Lower, the father of "Pease City." Being disgusted with his town, Mr. Lower resigned as postmaster in 1881 and Mrs. Wesley assumed his duties. Since then that post office and its successor, Margaret, has been in charge of the Wesley family. The Pease City postoffice had a radius which covered Hardeman, Cottle, Motley and a part of Childress counties.

Pease City ceased to exist with the establishment of Margaret as the county seat of Hardeman County in 1884 and the removal of the post office to that place. Mrs. Wesley continued to serve as postmistress until

In the first round of play in the tournament, Estelline High School defeated Curtis all-stars of Estelline; Moreman-Bell of Estelline beat Salisbury; Lakeview won from Memphis; Thalia beat Garden Valley and Goree eliminated Lakeview High School.

In the next round, Lakeview beat Moreman-Bell and Goree dropped Estelline High. Lakeview and Goree were scheduled to play for the right to meet Thalia in the final, but Goree forfeited because of an injured player.

CONTRACT FOR NO. 16 MAY BE LET IN 60 DAYS

In a conference at Abilene Saturday, W. R. Ely, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, indicated that a contract for paving Highway No. 16 from Crowell to Pease River, would be let within the next two or three months.

Those from here that conferred with Judge Ely were Vance Swaim, county judge; Claude Callaway, former judge, and W. A. Dun, commissioner of Precinct No. 2.

Judge Ely stated that the contract could not be let earlier on account of the fact that favorable weather during December and January enabled highway construction work to go on throughout the state without interruption and as a result no surplus funds had been added to the department treasury. The highway department is not letting contracts unless it has the money on hand to take care of the expense of such contracts.

Olney High School and Wichita Falls to Play Crowell Mon.-Tuesday

Wichita Falls High will play here Tuesday night. Weather conditions prevented their playing here last Tuesday night.

The Wildcats will not play any games here this week-end. On Friday night they play Hollis High at Hollis, Okla., and on Saturday night they play Wichita High at Wichita Falls.

Tax Meeting Held In Here Last Saturday

The meeting of the Foard County taxpayers association was attended by over forty men Saturday afternoon at the district court room. C. P. Sandifer, president of the association, was in charge of the meeting and Frank Weatherall acted as secretary in the absence of the regular secretary and assistant.

Mr. Sandifer gave an interesting account of his recent visit at sessions of the State Legislature and read communications from Rep. Geo. Moffett. A resolution regarding the cutting of expenses and taxes and other action beneficial to tax payers, was adopted.

It was reported at the meeting that the commissioners court had authorized the assessor to take reductions on real estate at ten per cent less than the year before. The action of the court in this respect received a vote of endorsement from the association.

Mr. Sandifer stated that an effort would be made to make the tax meetings as short and interesting as possible. The association meets every first Saturday.

CLASS B BALL TOURNAMENT HERE ON SATURDAY

One of the most interesting athletic events to take place in Crowell in some time will occur here Saturday when five senior boys basketball teams compete in a tournament to decide the Class B championship of Foard County.

The teams that will be fighting for this championship are Thalia, Margaret, West Rayland, Foard City and Vivian. A very small admission charge will be made in order to pay for the trophy that will be given the winning team.

The tournament is to begin at the local gymnasium at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The teams will draw for opponents upon their arrival here.

The final game will be played Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock. A game to decide the winner of third place will precede the championship tilt.

PIONEER'S SPOOK TO BE HEARD ON RADIO

Were the ghost of Buffalo Bill to meet and speak to some modern mortal, says the explorer, Carveth Wells, it is likely that the conversation would be very similar to that heard next Wednesday night, February 15, in the Continental Oil Company radio program over 23 N. E. C. stations.

While taking his hearers on an imaginary ramble through Colorado, the "Treasure State," Wells meets the spectre of the famous pony express rider and showman near his burial place on Lookout Mountain. They talk of old days and new days; compare the stagecoach to the automobile, and examine the Cody rifle, "Lucretia Borgia," which brought down 4,000 buffalo. Even facts about prehistoric Colorado are included in the broadcast.

The Conoco program may be heard by local listeners who tune in on station (s) WFAA, WOAI or KOA Wednesday night at 9:30 o'clock.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs.

At fifty, you can be in your prime.

Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years?

There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways.

This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spring, and re-set the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can get those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. A druggist keeps this preparation.

"Sidewalks of New York"

James W. Blake, above, author and composer of the song, "Sidewalks of New York," was found homeless and penniless in New York the other day. When former-Governor, Alfred E. Smith was told of Blake's plight, he immediately started action. Blake was given relief and has been proposed for pension.

Motorists of Texas Contribute Much in Paying Cost of Gov't.

Austin, Feb. 8.—The tremendous and growing part which the 1,200,000 automobile owners of Texas have taken in "footing the bill" for the mounting cost of state government during recent years is revealed in an analysis of official figures of the highway department and the comptroller, just issued by the Texas Good Roads Association.

Here are some of the statements from the analysis:

The average motorist uses 556 gallons of gasoline yearly, so the average Texas motorist pays an annual gasoline tax of $27.80 or from two to three times the cost of his automobile license.

Texas motorists, through the gasoline tax alone, paid over 40 per cent of the state's entire income last year. The amount was $31,488,053.

In the past eight years, while state income from ad valorem taxes has increased but 20 per cent, income from the gasoline tax has increased 1800 per cent.

In the last five years, Texas motorists have paid in gasoline tax $91,240,818.84 for the construction and maintenance of the state's road system.

In the same five years, motorists have paid to the common school fund, as its one-fourth share of the gas tax, $30,446,939.91.

In eight years, the school fund's share of gas tax revenue has increased nearly 900 per cent. It was $806,717 in 1924 and $7,194,888 in 1932.

"This year motorists begin repaying the various counties for road bonds at the rate of more than $7,000,000 annually. This money will come from the gas tax.

"Only half of this special road tax, or two cents per gallon, now remains for road work," the statement concludes. "It will provide less than $15,000,000 this year for construction and maintenance on our 19,000 mile highway system. Surely the motorists of Texas, who outnumbered the voters at the last general election, are entitled to ask that no more road money be taken away from the roads."

To hear how thousands have gained relief from this terrible ailment.

Nature, after all, is the greatest healer, and that is why the natural mineral water, Crazy Water, is so effective in washing away the poisons of the body and leaving the system clean for Nature to heal. Crazy Water does not just temporarily relieve pain—it washes away the cause of the trouble. When this is done, Nature is free to restore the body to good health. Many thousands are now drinking their way to health with Crazy Water.

You too can drink Crazy Water inexpensively in your own home by merely adding Crazy Water Crystals to your drinking water. Crazy Water Crystals are nothing but the minerals extracted from the Crazy Water of Texas. Nothing is added. Crazy Water Crystals is non-habit-forming—it isn't a drug. It is merely Nature's greatest mineral water, for you to use to enjoy proper elimination without irritation. Remember, just add Crazy Water Crystals to your drinking water.—Advt.

Cleveland's Son Hissed

Francis Grover Cleveland, son of the former President, acted his part as villain so well in a play at Boston the other evening that he was hissed . . . "which pleased me immensely", said Mr. Cleveland, "because hisses for a villain means applause."

Boys and Girls

Charles Gonyaw, 2, of New Baltimore, Mich., claims the distinction of being the youngest sailor on the Great Lakes.

Martha Hale, a California school girl, has no arms, but can write, operate a typewriter, comb her hair, and perform many other tasks with her feet.

The prettiest girl at Mississippi State College is Miss Doris Valentine of Starkville, Miss., according to the student body of the institution.

Robert Moore, 15, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is the national junior pocket billiard champion.

Eleanor Arthur, native daughter of Douglass, Ariz., has been chosen the most beautiful girl student at the University of Arizona, by votes of both men and women students.

A new tennis star is being hailed in the east after Marco Hecht, 18-year-old University of Pennsylvania player, for the third year in succession won the national junior indoor tennis championship in New York.

Hulene Abercrombie, 17, who is in her second year in the high school at Amarillo, Tex., has attended 100 schools during her grammar school year.

Miss M. Katner of Brooklyn, N. Y. writes: "Have used Kruschen for the past 4 months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I being a nurse should know for I've tried so many things but only Kruschen answered all purposes." (May 12, 1932).

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

Crowell, Texas, February 10, 1933

35 YEARS AGO

Thirty-five years ago this month events were moving rapidly toward that short but spirited struggle known to history as the Spanish-American War...

American feeling was running high against Spanish atrocities in Cuba, when the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor on February 15, 1898...

Regular Army and National Guard troops were mobilized at Tampa, Mobile and other Southern points...

The end of April thus saw the stage set for action. On May 1 Dewey easily defeated the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay...

Peace was declared through the Treaty of Paris, signed on December 10, 1898...

These are the high spots in a brief but dramatic war which had far-reaching consequences for many millions of people...

LINCOLN'S WAR AIM

The recurrence of Abraham Lincoln's birthday on February 12 revives memories of our first martyred President...

So rich in human interest was Lincoln's life that it presents almost unlimited material for the writer—material of which wide use has been made during the past sixty-odd years...

While Lincoln was always against slavery on principle, his original idea was to abolish it by paying slave-owners for their property from the national treasury...

But his real aim during the war was the preservation of the nation as one union, with the abolishment of slavery as a secondary consideration...

"My paramount object is to save the Union, and not either to save or destroy slavery. If I could save the Union without freeing any slave, I would do it; and if I could do it by freeing some and leaving others alone, I would also do that."

BAN ON BILLBOARDS

Drastic action against the billboard nuisance is reported from the province of Ontario, Canada, where strict regulations are being enforced in pursuance of a recently enacted law...

The Ontario law prohibits the erection of billboards on the public highways, and even forbids the painting of advertising on barns or other buildings near the roadside...

Enforcement of the new regulations has already made a marked improvement in the appearance of the countryside, and the absence of billboards will tend to reduce the number of traffic accidents...

A LESSON FOR MOBS

How unjust it is to judge the guilt on the strength of superficial circumstantial evidence was illustrated some time ago by the case of a 11-year-old boy murdered in Arkansas...

It was known that shortly before his death he had been in company with a one-eyed negro boy, who also was missing. Search for the negro was begun, with open threats of summary vengeance...

Now suppose that the two boys had separated before the white boy was killed. And suppose the mob had captured the negro lad, whose sightless eye would have identified him beyond question...

This should be a lesson for any who may be tempted to take part in mob murder.

BABY NOW HAS CHANCE

In the long list of accomplishments to the credit of modern medical science perhaps none has a greater significance than the success attained in the reduction of childhood deaths.

A recent writer recalls that Queen Anne of England, born in 1664, bore 17 children, only one of whom lived more than a year...

Through medical education and the treatment of early defects the child's chance of reaching maturity has been greatly increased, especially during the last half century.

In addition to regularly employed physicians and nurses of public health units, thousands of volunteer workers are cooperating in the noble task of saving babies' lives.

For their effective work in this and other directions looking to the preservation of human life the medical profession and those cooperating are entitled to the highest praise.

Forward passes on a sharp highway curve are also frequently incomplete.

HIS METHOD

Many leaders have dared to lay out ambitious programs, but this is the most daring of all: "Go ye into all the world," Jesus said, "and preach the gospel to the whole creation."

Bruce Barton

Consider the sublime audacity of that command. To carry Roman civilization across the then known world had cost millions of lives and billions in treasure...

We speak of the law of "supply and demand," but the words have got turned around. With anything which is not a basic necessity the supply always precedes the demand...

SO WE THINK

We think those who have a place to work and a place to eat and a place to sleep have much to be thankful for in this time of world-wide unemployment.

We think that the establishment of a regular monthly trades day for Crowell and Foard County is a step taken in the right direction to encourage and promote business of this character in our community.

We think children of today are wee bits of humanity placed in the homes of our land to be properly brought up just the same as when Dad was a boy. If the parents in any home assume the responsibilities of parenthood as they should and the children are given the proper training from babyhood until reaching young manhood or womanhood...

We think the traffic laws of our city should be obeyed voluntarily for the protection of the people of the entire community. They were made to help prevent car accidents and lessen the danger of traffic—then why do some people, otherwise law-abiding citizens, disregard these laws and operate their cars just to suit themselves? We don't know.

hired L. H. Cope to run the engine in connection with the construction of the bridge while he taught.

The following is an interesting bit of information about the organization of Foard County and the establishment of the county seat, according to Mr. McLaughlin:

With Townsite Company "In the spring of 1890, when the matter of dividing Hardeman County and making a new count of that portion south of Pease River was beginning to develop, a few of us organized ourselves into a townsite company and bought a tract of land from B. F. Hardesty, who lived about 4 miles of Crowell. This tract of land is known as the Henry Kenner place and about one-half mile south of where the Kenner house now stands."

"We located our townsite, built a house and dug a well, finding plenty of good water. We named our town "Sandrock" after the postoffice, which at that time was kept by C. S. Ashford, a brother of the late James Ashford, in his residence about one-fourth of a mile west of the Kenner house."

"Beaver County" "Dr. J. D. Stovall, a member of our company, moved into our house, put in a little stock of groceries and a few bottles of medicine and we got the postoffice moved there also. Thus equipped, we saw no reason why Sandrock should not become the county seat of the new county, which was called "Beaver."

"N. J. Roberts has the original,

Speaker, N. D. House

Mrs. M. D. Craig, prominent in North Dakota Republican circles for 10 years, is the first woman Speaker of the N. D. House of Representatives. She is also believed to be the first woman ever to hold such office in the U. S.

A Grand Champion

and perhaps the only map ever made of Beaver County. Another company was organized and started Crowell on a location about a half mile southwest of the present courthouse. M. F. Thacker moved his business house from what we now know as Old Margaret to this townsite and built a residence there which is now owned by John Ford. Of course the Crowell town company had the same goal in view that we had and so a battle royal between Sandrock and Crowell for the county seat of Beaver County began.

Campaign Grows Hot

"As the days went by the campaign, like the weather, grew warmer and warmer, in fact both became real warm before the summer ended. Just to give an idea as to the temperature developed by the campaign, I will mention only two hand to hand combats. One was between the Methodist pastor and a cowboy and the other between two women."

"In the early part of the summer W. H. Cundiff of Decatur, Texas, a well known locator of Texas land certificates, appeared on the scene for the purpose of letting the voters know that he owned the H. D. Ripley survey, which was in conflict with the land that Sandrock was located on, and told them substantially that if they wanted to go ahead and locate the county seat at Sandrock and build him a town, it would be alright, but he wanted them to understand that he had neither sold or donated any land for that purpose, etc. This brought on more talk.

"Health Resort"

"About that time our Dr. Stovall returned from Vernon one day with an arm load of circulars advertising Sandrock as a health resort, telling of the completion of a large infirmary there and the wonderful medicinal properties of a mineral water recently discovered and so on.

"Something happened to our well, perhaps the vein of mineral water broke into it, at any rate the water suddenly became so that no effort had to be put forth to smell it, but it was quite a different thing to swallow it. This was quite a surprise to some of the company members, yet we battled on as best we could, until toward the end of the year, when we were fully convinced that the reports put out by Major Cundiff, the mineral water and other resistances brought to bear, had overthrown our chances for victory for victory, so we decided to move. Crowell had already moved.

Foard City Born

"We secured a tract of land from Uncle Tom Hogue, who lived just across the lane east from where J. W. Wishon now lives and a little north of Uncle Tom's house we made our second location and built a house about 10 by 12 feet. By this time we were in the first days of January, 1891, and it was then known that the Legislature would name the county "Foard" instead of Beaver, so we named our location "Foard City," thus Sandrock was withdrawn from the race. Foard City took its place.

"When the bill creating Foard County was enacted the Legislature designated Foard City as its seat and appointed J. H. Sanders as commissioners to handle the county affairs until its organization was completed by an election in the county seat and the county officials were to be voted upon.

Crowell Chosen

"This election was held April 1891, and resulted in giving Crowell 183 votes to 106 for Foard City, thus Foard City, the first county seat of Foard County, passed out of picture.

"Uncle John Wesley was county commissioner and is the only one left that was elected that day."

Quannah and Chillicothe Teams Lose to Crowell

With victories over Chillicothe and Quannah on Friday and Saturday night, the Crowell Wildcats brought their string of victories for this season to 22.

Despite the fact that they played the most ragged ball that they have shown on the local court this season, yet the Crowell Wildcats smothered Chillicothe under a 64 to 15 score here last Friday night.

Immediately following this game the Crowell reserves defeated the Chillicothe second team 54 to 8.

Quannah Game

Sickness, injuries and the Quannah Indians combined forces to give the Wildcats the biggest scare of the season in a game at Quannah Saturday night, however, Crowell won 29 to 24.

Capt. Loraine Carter was absent from the line-up as the result of a leg which was recently burned; Dick Todd had been ill during the day and was unable to play up to standard and Mitchell Allee was handicapped with two injured feet.

Crowell kept the lead throughout the game, however, Quannah came within point of the Wildcats in the final period. The first half ended with Crowell leading 18 to 8. Trailing 24 to 14 at the opening of the last quarter, the Indians staged a rally that brought the crowd of Quannah fans to their feet and before it was finally checked they were just one point behind the Wildcats.

CAGE COMMENT

By PERCY NALLS

Two basketball players that dealt the Wildcats plenty of misery in the seasons of 1930 and 1931 are now performing in grand style for the S. M. U. Mustangs. They are Whitey Baccus of Estelline and Smokey Zachary of Nocona.

Baccus was a member of the club that defeated Crowell in the final game for the championship of this district at the tournament in Childress in 1930. Crowell's defeat at that time was the last one suffered in its own district and Baccus played a prominent part in it. Estelline won second place in the state that year.

And who can forget the big chief of the Nocona Indians, Captain Zachary, the villain who practically robbed eight Crowell boys of the opportunity to compete in the State finals at Austin. After winning the District 3 championship, Crowell journeyed to Nocona and beat the Indians 48 to 27 in the first game of the bi-district series. In the next two games at Crowell and Wichita Falls, Zachary was all over the court in leading his team to 25 to 17 and 26 to 20 victories and instead of a trip to Austin for the Wildcats, the Indians got it and then won fourth place in the state.

Crowell boys who played against both Baccus and Zachary state that Baccus was the better player, in fact they say he was the best man that has ever played against Crowell in basketball. Both Zachary and Baccus were members of the S. M. U. football squad last fall. Baccus playing in the backfield and Zachary at end. Anyway, we can be thankful that they won't play against Crowell again.

Crowell now has the longest string of victories that it has ever achieved. The victory over Quannah on Saturday night brought the total for this season to 22, four more than the record of 18 straight wins in 1931. Olney finally stopped Crowell's winning ways in 1931 with a 25 to 20 victory.

An admirable characteristic of Crowell basketball teams for a number of years is again in evidence this season. We refer to the excellent co-operation of the boys in passing the ball to each other. In any game one may see a Crowell player pass up what seems to be a good chance to score a field goal in order to pass to another player that has a better chance to score.

Crowell fans certainly notice this admirable quality on the part of the Wildcats or any visiting players. The most unpopular visiting players, according to the reaction of local fans, are those who shoot at the goal when the ball comes to them instead of showing teamwork.

We honestly believe that there is not a Crowell player who attempts a field goal, unless he knows that he has the best chance to make it. Although Jack Russell, Wildcat center, has been the outstanding point scorer in this section, yet he ranks at the very top in teamwork.

Crowell's remarkable teamwork is reflected in its great record of the past few years and this season. You may depend upon the Wildcats to play for their team and not just for their own selfish glory.

PUZZLE

Here is a puzzle with no trick "catch" to it. This one is based solely on logical deductions and was one of a series of problems put to prospective employees of a large corporation according to a man who turned it in to the San Angelo Standard.

There isn't any kind of a gag or irrelevant matter in the wording of the proposition. Here it is:

A brakeman, a fireman and an engineer are employed on a train. Their names are Robinson, Smith and Jones, but NOT respectively.

On this train are three passengers with the same names. Robinson, Smith and Jones, hereafter referred to as Mr. Robinson, Mr. Smith and Mr. Jones to distinguish them from the trainmen.

1. Mr. Robinson lives in Detroit.
2. The brakeman lives halfway between Detroit and Chicago.

3. Mr. Jones earns exactly $2,000 per year.
4. Smith beat the fireman at billiards.

5. The brakeman's nearest neighbor, who is one of the passengers mentioned above, earns exactly three times as much as the brakeman.

6. The passenger living in Chicago has the same name as the brakeman.

QUESTION: What is the engineer's name?

CHRISTIANITY OR NOTHING

It is Christianity or nothing. Men, who have thought their way through this subject, will tell you calmly, perhaps sadly, that this one alternative at last confronts them—Christianity or nothing. Said a friend to a skeptical lawyer, "Since you reject Christianity, what other trust have you?" "None, absolutely none," was the reply. This, at least, is severely logical; for when one has condemned all the evidence for Christ as utterly worthless—history, prophecy, reason, nature and experience—he has thrown down the pillars of all religious faith whatsoever. There is nothing left whereon nor wherewith to build a new faith. In proportion as other systems disappear in the receding darkness, Christianity rises into the clear light of day. If the war slackens about heathen altars, it is growing fiercer about the cross.

Christianity is from God, and the evidence most abundant and unanswerable. Why, then, can not all conscientious thinking men be made to see it?

In answer to this question, it is evident that, while much is owing to non-investigation, and more to that moral grossness which makes men unwilling to believe because unwilling to obey, still by far the most prolific source of unbelief is the "misrepresentation" of Christianity. This is the northern hive, whence swarm the goths and vandals of infidelity. They do not see Christianity as it is, but only some horrid caricature. The light in which they see even this is subject to double refraction, coming as it does through the dense media of false training and moral prejudice. "If this is religion," says the objector, "then I want none of it." Though this is the old logic of comparing a rough saint with a smooth sinner, yet it illustrates how misrepresentations of Christianity are the chief sources of unbelief.

The unconscious enemies of Christianity are the authors of these perversions. We call them enemies, because they are not only corrupting the church, but also giving the unbelieving world its most destructive weapons; and, unconscious enemies, because they are doing this in entire ignorance of their hostility to religion, but rather with the pious intention of defending and propagating the faith. In all the progress of the church such enemies have existed and they are exceedingly numerous and dangerous in modern times. It is a sad fact that one may be dangerous to a cause for the triumph of which he would gladly lay down his life. How frequent and fervent should be the prayer, "Cleanse thou me from secret faults!" It is a sadder fact that the great source of unbelief is the innocent enmity of the church. Its divisions, its multitudinous and absurd creeds; its mistaken zeal; its feeble arguments; its monkish seclusion; its persecuting spirit; its unholy, because over drawn, sanctity; and its senseless opposition to reason and truth, are but too many proofs of this enmity. Our cannon explodes more destructively on this side than our shells on that. Not the gates of Hades, but ourselves we need to fear. Profoundly convinced of this fact, and believing that every Christian desires to be not only the professed, but also the real friend of Christ, the meeting at the Christian Church, beginning the twelfth, is believed to be impotent.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Jesus Teaching By Parables.
Lesson for February 12th. Mark 4:1-20.

Golden Text: John 15:8.

We study this week the familiar parable of the sower who sowed his seed in different kinds of soil. The principal lesson Jesus here teaches is that the victory of divine truth depends upon the quality of the persons to whom that truth is taught, just as the yield of the harvest is dependent upon the nature of the soil into which the seed is deposited.

Rev. Chas. E. Dunn

Note that there are four kinds of people described.

1. The hard-hearted, represented by the way-side, where the seed cannot penetrate, and is eaten by birds. How many there are in that class the Bible calls "stiff-necked"! They are "hard-boiled," affecting what has been called "the mucker pose." Such folk may hear, but they cannot respond. Their hearts are petrified. God's seed can find therein no nourishing lodgement.

2. The superficial, represented by the rocky soil. These shallow persons are to be preferred to the hard-hearted, but they are far from fullness of life. Easy-going, smugly self-satisfied with their own narrow circle and outlook, their religion withers away in a time of stress.

3. The worldly, represented by the thorny soil. How many there are so preoccupied with secondary pursuits, their lives so cluttered with externals that the main secrets of happiness, the root sources of spiritual power are smothered.

4. The devoted, represented by the good ground yielding an abundant crop. These are steadfast, loyal, their hearts honest and receptive, open to the truth, and willing to obey it. Paul knew such, and tells us they were a comfort unto him. The seed rests warmly and securely within their breasts, and brings forth rich and hardy grain for the glory of the Lord and the bounty of His Kingdom!

Following the parable comes that saying, "Who hath ears to hear, let him hear." We are trained to speak well. But are we expert in the art of listening?

SERMONETTE

THE ACCOMPANIST

By Arthur B. Rhinow

The singer was given an ovation, and as she bowed and smiled blissfully in acknowledgement of the prolonged applause, the accompanist slipped out almost unnoticed.

Almost just a few in the audience had been able to appreciate the intelligent and pliant accompaniment, adapting itself artistically to the temperamental eccentricities of the singer. Yet he was not applauded. He had merged his work into that of the star.

The purpose of the accompanist, I believe, is to furnish the harmony for the soloist. The solo is, after all, just solo; it is a single tone. We may even enjoy that; for instance, a song reaching the shore from a boat on a fine night. But the harmony steadies the singer and enriches the song, and harmony always suggests eternity. The accompaniment must be subdued, however, so as not to detract from the solo. People must hear the accompaniment and yet not hear it. The accompanist plays a role of necessity, but humble service.

Much in life, and some of the finest efforts in life, are of the accompaniment order! The principals shine but many contribute to their splendor and receive but scant recognition. They furnish the harmony of humanity.

When the great on earth sing their song, listen well, and you will hear the accompaniment of unknown millions who serve, each in his own little way, that one or a few of their own might be enabled to lead them a few steps nearer to the light.

And when the great are truly great, they make their lives a thank-offering in appreciation of all that was done for them.

Christian Science Churches

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, February 12.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 66: "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

Among the passages to be read from the Bible will be the following from Romans 8: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death. . . . For they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit. . . . So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you."

The Lesson-Sermon will also include citations from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," one of which will be as follows (p. 125): "As human thought changes from one stage to another of conscious pain and painlessness, sorrow and joy,—from fear to hope and from faith,—to understanding,—the visible manifestation will at last be man governed by Soul, not by material sense."

SIDELIGHTS

By MARVIN JONES
Member of Congress from Texas

I feel that the people of our section would be interested in the program on which a number of us have been working during this session of Congress.

We have been doing everything possible to get the members of the House and the Senate to realize just how serious conditions are. Ordinary remedies will not be sufficient, for these are not ordinary times. We are face to face with grim facts which call for emergency action.

In the first place, there should be a stay of foreclosures until such time as the necessary legislative program can be worked out. The House has already passed a measure of this kind. I hope the officials of the various states will take such action as is necessary to supplement the work of the Congress.

In my judgment, it is absolutely essential that a program of refinancing and, if possible, a scaling down of principal and interest rates and a refinancing of farm mortgages on a long-time basis be accomplished. A number of us have been working in every possible way toward this end.

This republic is anchored in the farm homes of America. Wholesale foreclosures on the part of mortgage companies would be detrimental to the companies as well as to the farmers and others who are interested. I hope they are beginning to realize the truth of this proposition.

Another matter that needs immediate attention is a complete reamping of our entire currency system. The price of the American dollar is too high when measured in the terms of commodity prices. There should be a readjustment in such a way as to make our unit of money a true measure of values. This would automatically increase commodity prices and enable people to pay debts.

Every thinking person realizes that taxes bear too heavily on the farm and ranch. While this is largely a local matter, depending upon action of state and local authorities, nevertheless, the expenses of the federal government should be reduced in every possible way. Many bureaus should be abolished and the activities of others curtailed. I have repeatedly urged this before the economy committee and have offered numerous amendments to accomplish this end.

Our freight rate schedules are too great a burden on the products of the farm and ranch. Freight rates at the present time are all out of proportion to the value of commodities.

I am also glad to know that the President-elect has declared that something must be done in reference to the excessive short selling and gambling in the stock market. He has declared for a correction of these evils, and I shall be more than happy to join him in supporting such a program.

The individual members of Congress are sometimes criticized for not taking action more quickly. Some of this criticism is just. However, I think it is but fair to detail some of the difficulties under which we who represent farming districts are working.

There are 435 members of the House, each representing a different district. A majority of these members represent consuming rather than producing districts. Again, a clear majority, to-wit, 228 of the 435 members of the House of Representatives, live north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river. It takes a majority of the members of the House to pass any kind of legislation. I mention this fact to show the complications which any program must face.

Practically all members of Congress who represent farming and livestock districts have been earnestly working toward a solution of the grave problems which confront the country, and I feel it is but fair that the public should know this fact.

Again, not all of the difficulties will yield to legislative remedies, but certainly there are some conditions that can be helped. Most certainly our financial system can be revamped in the interest of the people, and the long-time discriminations in our tariff barriers and freight rates which have been paralyzing the agricultural sections can be removed, and thus an unhindered opportunity given for equality in the operation of the laws of our country.

After shooting himself Thomas Taylor of Prescott, Ariz., left $25,000 to his widow and $10,000 to his daughter of Lagrange, Ore., "to go to hell on."

Y. W. C. A. Girls in Homeland Costumes

Young Women's Christian Association homes in cities throughout the country are featuring "Nativeland Evenings" wherein girls from every land don native costumes and tell of home lands. Here are Elaine Swanson, Finland, and Mariora Pabel of Rumania in native costumes at a Detroit, (Mich.) Y. W. C. A. evening.

THAT WHICH IS NOT BREAD

I read in the papers that, at Cambridge, Mass., 25,000 sports enthusiasts saw Brown beat Harvard in a football game. Paid some $50,000 for the privilege. At Pittsburgh, some 65,000 fans saw University of Pittsburgh defeat Notre Dame at football, paying $130,000 for the privilege.

They tell me that a million people each week during the season have done this.

All in the face of the fact that stark hunger faces a large per cent of the population of the same cities.

In a southwestern town 500 people paid $5,000 on one afternoon to see a football game. In that same town a committee of high-motive citizens labored diligently for two weeks and managed to gather in just $2,400 for the community chest.

I saw where a million dollars some years ago was paid to two prize fighters for an hour of gory "entertainment."

Yet I see in the papers that salaries of professors in colleges must be cut because the people cannot pay their taxes. Pastors all over the land are being paid meager salaries. In a certain church they have a college that is barely existing—drives for sustenance having failed; yet that same college has no difficulty in supporting its football team.

I see where public school expenses must be cut one-fifth; where in some places the teachers cannot be paid. But I have failed to notice where any of the high school football teams have disbanded for lack of support.

No objection in particular to football, but it is not bread. When a nation faces semi-starvation for hundreds of thousands of its people, our minds ought to consider serious things.

I see where thousands of farmers are losing their homes for lack of ability to pay taxes or interest on mortgages. I see where corn is selling for ten cents a bushel in Iowa, yet people in cities cheerfully pay $1 to $3 to see a hockey game, prize fight or wrestling match.

I see where Congress is fiddling away its time trying to provide booze for people, when they need bread and shelter.

I see where people drive their cars 10,000 miles a year, often without going anywhere in particular, or accomplishing anything with the trips.

I saw where 17,000 people in a central state paid $25,000 to see horse races, and that $387,000 was bet on the ponies in one day.

I see boys playing slot machines, their fathers playing the bucketshops or the races, or buying "blue sky" stocks—all in the hope of getting rich quick.

Was told of a girl who worked a week at housework, the first money she had earned in six months; when paid, she got a permanent wave with the money, trusting to charity for food.

Paid a young fellow fifty cents for two hours' work he had done—first money he had received in a month, his family hungry, in need for everything—saw him spend thirty cents for cigarettes and twenty cents in the pool hall.

Saw a family of four in a picture show who, that day, had applied to the community chest for help—did not even have school books for their children, no home, no job.

I see automobiles run by people who have no job, no home, and who cannot pay house rent. Going nowhere, and nothing to do when they arrive.

I saw a man get a sack of charity flour and trade it to a bootlegger for a pint of whisky. In one city it was reported, perhaps exaggeratedly, that the bootlegger kind had cashed one-third of the "made work" scrip.

It is right and proper that people who can afford it should continue to buy and live as before, so that more work may be made for toilers, for those who are not so fortunate. Spending by the prosperous people is bread.

But what of the improvident? I saw a farmer bring a live hog to town and get $7 for it. If he had killed and dressed his own hog, his family would have had meat in plenty, and he could have sold the hams and shoulders that day for more than he got for the whole hog.

The big problem in America is for the people to take advantage of the things they have, and quit looking for Santa Claus. Some relief has undermined the self-reliance of the people. There has been so much talk of governmental and Red Cross aid, so much hope of it, that large numbers of people have lost faith in their own efforts.

The sooner we go to relying upon ourselves, as did our fathers, the sooner will depression be conquered in America.—G. A. C., in Christian Science Monitor.

FROM APPRENTICE TO PROFESSIONAL IN TWO HOURS

A young man just finishing high school decided he would look for a job. He applied to a hotel and he was employed as elevator boy. His predecessor was an old gray-haired man. After two hours training by the old gentleman, the boy was running the elevator like a veteran. "From apprentice to professional in two hours."

This young man did not seem to realize that a job that could be learned in two hours offered him no future and if he remained on the job for ten years, he would never get a promotion and probably very little increase in pay, because his place could be filled by any one else in the short space of two hours.

Too many young people consider too lightly the importance of preparing themselves for some special occupation, in order to accomplish very much today a young person must have a specialized training. A general all-round literary education is desirable and in many cases necessary, but it should, by all means, be supplemented by some definite preparation.

At this time, we can think of nothing better than a Complete General Business Course, such as is offered by the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration at Tyler, Texas. This course contains such important subjects as Accounting, Business Administration, General Motors Accounting System, Shorthand and Typewriting and other related subjects. From nine to twelve months spent on such a course, in our opinion, will pay tremendous dividends throughout the future years.

Write them for a catalog and learn about this well known school.—Adv't.

The Family DOCTOR
By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

HOW "BILL" GETS BY

Bill lives in my town,—in yours too. If the Bills in this land were organized, they would make a formidable political party.

There are some fifteen doctors in my town. When Bill moved here he enquired around for the most popular doctor and retained him as his family physician—as long as the doctor would do his work without pay, which was over two years. . . . The doctor became too insistent about his pay to suit Bill.

Then, our hero sought the formidable competitor of the leading doctor—and recited the two years of "robbery" that he had endured. The ambitious competitor swallowed the hook, line and sinker! He treated Bill's infirmities as long as he could afford to without remuneration; some competitors are that way.

Then Bill sought the doctor that lived farthest away from his neighborhood, who had never heard of the experience of his contemporaries with the new parson. He grabbed Bill with open arms. Out of this doctor, Bill got a couple of tonsillectomies, two obstetrical services and several bedside influenza cases, before the doctor awakened to the real situation.

Every physician that ever touched Bill came away with a water-haul! At last Bill moves to another town, full of invective for his last place of abode. It was a hick town, with the meanest people in it in the world!

Those of my readers who are acquainted with Bill, know that he can tell you just how the United States Senate ought to perform! It will take a long time to educate some folks to the point of getting above the tactics of Bill—the fellow that public opinion alone can remove from our midst.

With seven husbands to her credit, Mrs. Lucy Fittner of Indianapolis thinks she is qualified to teach the new matrimonial course at Butler University in that city.

Competing with farmers' daughters from every section of the state, Miss Louise Funk, a school teacher 1895, when her son, H. A. Wesley, became the Margaret postmaster, a position that he has since held. Thus the earliest post office of this section has been continuously associated with the Wesley family since the establishment of this post office in 1880, fifty-three years ago.

It is the opinion of The News that this must set some kind of record for uninterrupted post office service in one family.

Born in New York

Mrs. Wesley, originally Miss Mary Frances Doghierty, was born in New York City on Oct. 19, 1854. She continued to live in that city until her marriage to John Wesley on Feb. 10, 1873.

Mr. Wesley was born in Sullivan County, New York, on May 18, 1841. He fought with the Union forces during the Civil War and following the end of that conflict he became a member of the police force of New York City. In the fall of 1873 he and his wife left New York for Texas and came by boat to Galveston. They farmed near Brenham for about 3 years. From there they went to Weatherford, where Mr. Wesley engaged in a number of occupations, such as school teacher, bakery work, farming and peace officer.

In Feb., 1886, he and his family, and Fred Ditman and D. E. Lower settled about 5 miles north of Crowell, where Pease City was established.

Margaret, the town that was established as the county seat of Hardeman County, was named for Margaret, the first white child known to have been born in Hardeman County. Old Margaret, the county seat, was about two miles northeast of the present Margaret.

Old Margaret remained as the county seat until its removal to Quanah in 1890. The town was moved to its present location with the coming of the Orient railroad in 1908.

Of the nine children born to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley, the following six are living: H. A. Wesley, Margaret; Mrs. W. H. Grimm, Guyton, Okla.; Mrs. E. M. Pollock, Oklahoma City; George Wesley, Margaret; Mrs. S. H. Taylor, El Reno, Okla., and Mrs. Joe McGill, Chicago, Ill.

The three deceased children are Abner Wesley, Mrs. Sam Taylor and Mrs. W. E. Taylor. Margaret was named for Mrs. Sam Taylor. She was born on May 14, 1881, and died in 1909.
