Former Crowell Man Dies at Stamford Sanitarium July 17

Homer Quinn passed through Crowell Friday on his way home near Denver, Colorado. He had been to attend the funeral of his father, J. K. Quinn, who died at a sanitarium in Stamford Tuesday, July 17th, and who was buried at Haskell Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Quinn was a dry goods merchant of Crowell 20 years ago but disposed of his business here a number of years ago and devoted his time to other interests thereafter. He was 84 years of age at the time of his death. His two sons, Homer and Gleaves, were associated with him in the business. Gleaves resides in Pasadena, Cal.

Mr. Quinn is said to have accumulated large land interests in many portions of West Texas and the Rio Grande Valley.

From Our Exchanges

The commissioners of Young County have lowered the tax rate 10 cents on the one hundred dollars. This is the second lowering of the rate since the present administration of county judge and commissioners, last year the rate being lowered 10 cents. The rate is now 40 cents.

The Tulia Herald challenges any one to prove that the country paper is not read, and the advertisements, too. The Herald supports its contention that the weeklies are read by the fact that a recent subscription rate advertised in that paper brought a large number of renewals and new subscribers to its list. The public is a reading people now as never before.

Baylor County is to have no fair this fall. The reason given is that the ordinary entertainment is not sufficient to draw the crowds and that an automobile race track is the main thing to be had and the fact that the time is too short in which to build that and get it in shape for use the fair is being left off until the fall of 1929.

Editor Durham of the Merkel Mail announces that he will not support Governor Smith for President because of his anti stand. Mr. Durham may have lots of criticism but he will have the company of thousands of other men who refuse to be led around by the nose.

Four Vernon churches, the Central Christian, First Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist are co-operating in a union revival during the months of July and August. Meetings were held a year ago in the same fashion, with splendid success.

Revival Meeting Started at Vivian

County Missionary Rev. E. L. Mayfield and Rev. E. W. Loyd of Vivian Wednesday night. There was a splendid crowd in attendance. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

Rev. Mayfield is doing the preaching and Rev. Loyd is leading the singing.

W. D. BURRESS WEDS

The marriage of W. D. Burress to a Mrs. McDonald took place at Seymour Friday afternoon.

Mr. Burress was a resident of Foard County for many years but for the past few years has resided in Seymour. His many friends here will be interested in learning of his wedding and will wish the couple continued happiness and success.

Mayfield Family Were in Car Wreck on Way to Leuders

It was a narrow escape for Bro. E. L. Mayfield and his family on Wednesday of week before last when they happened to be in a car accident near Stamford.

The accident happened as they were on their way to the Baptist encampment at Leuders and when they were not far north of Stamford. A blowout in one of the rear tires is supposed to have caused the trouble. The car turned over and plunged into the ditch, three wheels being torn off, the windshield and glasses broken and the top badly damaged. Bro. Mayfield received some severe cuts on his forehead and lip which had to be given medical attention, and Mrs. Mayfield and the daughter received bruises and minor cuts.

The car was a new Chevrolet coach and Bro. Mayfield was driving at the time of the accident and was traveling at a moderately rapid rate of speed, but not a dangerous rate had the tire been good.

They all returned from the encampment Monday.

Judge Owens Is Retained in the Waybourne Case

Judge Jesse Owens is at Bastrop this week retained as private prosecutor in the case of the State of Texas vs. Rosa Waybourne, being tried in the district court of Bastrop County.

The jury was selected Friday and testimony commenced Monday, four days having been consumed in the selection of a jury.

The case is creating quite a lot of interest, and it is one of more than ordinary interest to many Crowell people because of the fact that W. W. Waybourne, the man slain, was the father of William Waybourne, who has been in the employ of the City Tailors of Crowell.

Mrs. Waybourne will be tried on a charge of having a Mexican kill her husband as he slept in their home near Smithville on the night of March 10th.

The State charges that the widow hired the Mexican for $300 to kill her husband and that she was away from their home when Waybourne, a retired railroad man, was battered to death with some heavy instrument.

Moore Speaks at Foard City, Margaret and Thalia

J. A. Moore, through special courtesy, remained over after the meeting of the Upper Red-Bease River Valley Association, to speak at community meetings at Foard City, Margaret and Thalia, which were well attended and keen interest shown.

Mr. Moore illustrated his talks with a chart and gave a general account of the operation of his farm. Mr. Moore has made one of the most outstanding records of any farmer in the nation on his farm near Grand Prairie. From a worn out farm 25 years ago, he has developed his land into one of the best producing tracts in Texas and last year an income of $15,279.32 in products came from his farm.

He emphasized the value of efficiency in every step of farming and produced records to show just what it meant to a farmer. Mr. Moore maintains that a farm is a factory and its management a business producing products for sale. It is the farmer's job to keep it running full time, manufacturing such products as will pay him most for his labor.

DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Baxter Johnson gave a delightful dinner party at her home Tuesday night honoring her sister, Miss Christine Campbell, of Pampa. Miss Campbell is a former resident of Crowell and is the daughter of R. C. Campbell who was superintendent of the Crowell schools a few years ago.

Following the delicious dinner, games of bridge were enjoyed by the following: Catherine Clark, Alison Self, Martha Schlagal, Christine Campbell, Merle Kincaid, Grandville Lanier, Mack Boswell and Edward Huffman.

Pouring the concrete for the new court house at Vernon has started.

Four Corner School to Vote on Tax Raise

A petition has been signed and submitted calling for an election in the Four Corner School district for a raise of local tax from 50c on the one hundred dollars to $1.00, the maximum limit.

It is said a school building will have to be erected there before another school term can be had on account of the present condition of the building. Some time ago it was partially wrecked by a heavy wind and is not in condition for further school work.

There are something like 18 tax payers in the district and about 15 scholastics. The election is called for August 18th.

Foard County Gets Portion of Rains

While it has been raining in many portions of West Texas within the last week, Foard County has not remained entirely without any. The entire county has not received an equal share of the precipitation, but some have had good rains and what has fallen will be of wonderful help to the crops.

The rain Sunday at Crowell amounted to one inch. In the Vivian community it was perhaps heavier, but in the Foard City community it was light. Also not much at Thalia and Rayland, but the slow rains later in the week covered a wider territory, it is reported, and have already proven a wonderful stimulant to crops.

Big rains have been reported on the Plains and in Cottle and Hardeman counties. So heavy were they Monday night and Tuesday that Wanders Creek between Crowell and Quanah was out of banks and the stage was delayed for several hours.

Meeting of Valley Ass'n. Held Wednesday

J. A. Moore, Agricultural Superintendent of the State Fair of Texas, told delegates to the Upper Red-Bease River Valley Association meeting here Wednesday of the plans that the Dallas Fair had made in regard to the group exhibit of the nine counties of this district. He drew off the exact location that these counties will occupy. It will now be possible for these counties to work out a uniform display of the nine individual exhibits that will work out to the greatest advantage.

B. M. Whiteker, exhibit manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was present and offered many helpful suggestions in working up the exhibits. He stated that the counties of this section were indeed fortunate to have the best space in the world which last year was attended by over one million people. He stated that there could be no better form of advertising a section, than an exhibit at this fair. Mr. Whiteker is one of the outstanding exhibitors of the state and has won many first prizes in various parts of the United States for his West Texas exhibits. He took first prize with the West Texas exhibit at the Philadelphia Exposition at Philadelphia last year. He offered all co-operation possible to this district on their exhibit program. Score cards and rules and regulations for county exhibits at the Dallas Fair were given the delegates.

Due to rains in practically every part of the district Wednesday the attendance was cut short. The visitors were given a luncheon at the Rotary Club at noon. Clarendon's request for the next meeting was accepted.

Preaching at Baptist Church Next Sunday

The News is advised that Rev. Herring of Rochester will preach at the Baptist church next Sunday morning and Sunday night.

It is desired that as many as possible be present at both services and give the visiting preacher a good audience.

Surviving Poison Victims Are All Reported Better

The account of the poisoning of the entire family of J. B. Lassiter except one small child near Margaret Thursday of last week was reported in the daily papers, so that most of our readers have learned about it. Possibly some of those outside of the county have not and for their information we are giving a brief account of the sad event, which took from the family the father and an 8-year old girl.

Beans cooked for dinner were left in a vessel of some kind and then served for supper. Ptomain poisoning resulted and every member of the family except a baby, which did not eat any of the beans became victims. Mr. Lassiter was the first to die and a few hours later the 8-year old daughter died. A double funeral was held Saturday.

The other members of the family are all reported to be improving and it is thought they have good chances of recovery.

Leghorn Hens Produce Revenue $637 5 Months

The News has no apology to make for having boosted the poultry business in Foard County for the last several years. It may have done little good, but it believes its prophecy and its declarations as to poultry possibilities are now coming true. The News has always believed there is money in eggs. It has never thought that the profit derived from the business would have to be found only in the local market. If that were true, the market could easily be glutted. However, the local market has not been glutted lately with eggs of the right kind. Hundreds of people have recently come to the decision that on-fertile eggs are fit for table use and they are calling for that class of eggs and if they can not get them, they take none. Then, they are willing to pay a premium for infertile eggs. That is just why the poultry business has become more profitable lately.

This is what is now being done by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McCoy of the Black community. With 400 dark brown Leghorn hens they have the following egg record to submit:

Jan., 224 dozen brought	$146.30
Feb., 575 dozen brought	105.12
March, 747 dozen brought	146.70
April, 625 dozen brought	124.35
May, 597 dozen brought	115.22

The record for June had not been completed when these figures were submitted.

In addition to the revenue from eggs, as given above, they hatched off and raised 970 chicks, about 400 of which are pullets. So there will be more chickens to sell, another source of revenue. The flock will be kept to a high standard with male birds hatched from eggs that cost 50c each.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy have had such splendid success and they find the work so fascinating that they expect to make it their main business. By only doubling the stock they will be in position to double the revenues, which will equal the annual profit yield of the average farm.

All U. S. Learns of Crows Stealing Golf Balls Here

Several reports have been received at Crowell lately from people in various parts of the United States in regard to the story of crows carrying off golf balls in this section. A man from Boston while in N. J. Roberts' office recently told M. M. Hart, Jr., that a story from Crowell concerning the crows appeared on the front page of the Boston Transcript and was used by other Eastern papers. It has also been learned that the Chicago Tribune gave good space to the story.

Papers all over the U. S. probably used the story for the Associated Press took the story sent to the Star-Telegram and relayed it by wire to the papers using their service which includes most of the dailies of the world.

Friday Night Is Last Speaking Date

All the candidates are expected to come to Crowell tonight and make their last speeches before the primary election tomorrow.

From Speech of Marvin Jones at Wellington, Texas

"When I was elected to Congress," said Mr. Jones, "I succeeded a man who had served twenty years in Congress, and who was 73 years of age. He was a good man, a worker, capable and honest, but he had spent his entire service as a member of the Indian Affairs Committee, and there was not an Indian in this district."

"I promised the people that I would try to secure a committee assignment that affected their interests. I asked for the Agricultural Committee, but there were 75 applications for three vacancies on that committee. I was given four committee assignments, but three years later there was another vacancy on the committee on Agriculture. With 22 others I applied and was fortunate enough to secure the assignment."

"I am now the second ranking man on that committee, and am still the youngest man in the Texas delegation of 18 members. Only four of the Texas delegation have served a shorter period than I have. One of them, John Garner, has served 26 years, and is in line for the Speakership at any time the Democrats control the House. Texas has been a member of the Union since 1845, and has never had the Speakership."

"Right or wrong seniority and experience count in Washington in attending to your business. The United States is a business institution—you are the shareholders—you are to select a Director to attend to your affairs."

"As an employe I want to tell you of the work I have been doing in order that you may determine whether or not my services have been satisfactory."

"Among the numerous acts that I have had a part in passing, I am the co-author of the measure to have the merchantable and non-merchantable cotton listed separately in reporting the carry-over. Heretofore it has all been reported together, and the bad cotton has depressed the market the same as the good cotton."

"Pat Daniels of Austin, Texas, a cotton merchant and farmer of 35 years experience, has written me that this is the most important law that has been passed affecting the cotton farmer during those 35 years.

"I am also the author of the measure which provides for investigation into new uses for cotton. Already new uses have been found for 400,000 bales, and the work just beginning. Cotton bagging, all kind of sacks, wrapping materials, and the blending of cotton with other materials in making many useful articles are in prospect of development."

"I secured the adoption of an amendment forbidding employees of the Department of Agriculture from giving out future price prediction on cotton and wheat."

"My friends you cannot wish a Bill through the House of Representatives. There are 434 other members. There are 21 members of the Committee of Agriculture. Only four of them are from cotton growing states. The four must convince the other 17 in order to get a Bill out of the committee; and about the same proportion exists in the House."

"In 1921 I offered an amendment to abolish gambling in farm products. I now have a Bill pending. Similar Bills have been introduced by Senator Carraway; also by Hudspeth and Sanders of Texas, Reed of Arkansas, Lankford of Georgia, and others. While we are greatly outnumbered the sentiment is growing."

"I helped kill a bill five years ago by the terms of which the spring wheat section tried to make 57 pound wheat No. 1, and wheat with 3 1/2 percent foreign matter No. 1 in the grading, by showing that our wheat tested much higher, and was much cleaner; and that while such a measure might lift the price of their low grade wheat, it would materially reduce the price of West Texas and Southwestern wheat."

"A Key position on the Committee on Agriculture gives a member a voice in all legislation of this character. I have worked on agricultural problems, because they vitally affect our section. I want to see the South manufacture her own commodities in her own land, and thus have an all round development. Few people have really worked on Southern problems, and it affords a wonderful field. I believe that the knowledge and experience which I have gained will enable me to do much more effective work in the future."

"In the event of another war, I am in favor of drafting the factories engaged in manufacturing the essentials of war. I am opposed to cancelling the war debts. If we cancelled them, they would probably be fighting again within ten years."

"I was born in North Texas, and have lived on the Plains since boyhood days, and am deeply interested in the problems of the great south-west."

Much is being said about tests, pledges, bolters, stick-tighters, and many other things in connection with the political situation just now. In all probability some folks will get pretty warm under the collar and say things that will not help matters much. After the battle has cleared away things will get back to normal and every one who has made a brave and fair fight will have no cause for regret. Where there have been things said that would have been better unsaid, there may be left a bad taste. So, it is wise not to get beside one's self. We would insist on the exercise of that right guaranteed each individual by the constitution of the United States in the matter of suffrage, and if each will do that no one will have any cause to criticize. We should like to see the time come in this country when no boss can say that he can guarantee a certain number of votes for a certain candidate. Votes are not something to be delivered as so much chattels. They belong to the people who have the right to use them as they see fit and any one who allows himself to be hoodwinked or intimidated becomes a dangerous tool in the hands of the political schemer. Vote just exactly as you please and you are exercising the right of an American citizen.

If there are those who may have the impression that if they vote in tomorrow's primary election they bind themselves to support Smith for president, let it be known that this is a mistaken idea. You are voting tomorrow to nominate men for other offices besides the presidency. You are nominating men for county and state offices. The nominees for president have already been selected at the two respective conventions. You have had nothing to do with that and you may vote as you please in the final election without violating any pledge. You will not bind yourself to support anybody for a national office in the election tomorrow. We would urge everybody to go to the polls and vote.

Country Press on Hoover and Smith

The platform of the two major parties of the nation will be forgotten or overlooked in the national campaign which opens within the next few weeks. Farm relief and things economic will be relegated to the background, and the whole campaign will be given over to what Herbert Hoover and Al Smith think, and what the voters think of them. Ground has been laid for fomenting practically every prejudice known to man, including the racial and religious prejudices, most invidious of all.

The characters, attitudes and beliefs of the candidates will be the subject matter of most of the heated debate that is due between this date and November. The maintenance of sound principles of government and the difference between Jeffersonian and the Hamiltonian theories of government, which should be the issues, will get little attention at the hands of the voting public.—Floydada Hesperian.

If all is true that is being said about the Republicans and Herbert Hoover, every citizen of America should go to the polls in November and vote against Mr. Hoover. If all that is being said about Al Smith and Tammany Hall, is true, no one would be doing his duty should he cast a vote for the Democratic candidate.

And from the standpoint of the general welfare of the South, we are just about convinced that they all speak the truth. We can't believe either man is the man the South wants as president.—Goree Advocate.

Hoover will grace the White House after March 4th, 1929.—Claude News.

Comfort to bolters is given in a statement from headquarters that one Mr. Alfred Smith is not a candidate in the primary election and that a fellow can vote for his favorite county candidate, etc., in the primary and then support whoever he wants to in this fall. There was a time when the presidential electors were on the primary ballot, but this is not any longer. It is endeavored to soften the blow by saying that it is no crime to bolt, else we could not speak favorably of all those Republicans who are expected to bolt this year and help the Democrats win.—Baylor County Banner.

There is no material difference in the make-up of the people of New York State and Texas. And when New Yorkers discover Al Smith is the best governor their state has ever had, and show their appreciation by re-electing him time and again, we may rest assured that Al Smith is going to make the kind of president every true Democrat will be proud to see in office.—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

Never has there been such a call for voters to use their life principles and conscience in their voting. Party affiliation of the brass collared sort is going the way of a lot of buncombe which has held back the extension of good government. The Democratic party is controlled by the better element in Texas but that doesn't mean it is so all over the nation. No man has a right to condemn his fellow for a vote based on principle.—Clarendon News.

We have always voted for and worked for the Democratic party. Our forefathers were all Democrats. We expect to remain a Democrat in our state affairs (unless legally prohibited from participating). But we do not consider, nationally speaking, that we have a Democratic party, but a combination made up from the "bosses" from Tammany Hall and Wall street. In fact it seems to us that the national Democratic party is now completely dominated and controlled by the very elements that our greatest leaders, Tilden, Cleveland, Bryan and Wilson fought to the bitter end. Therefore, we shall lend every effort to the support and election if possible of that great statesman and countryman, Herbert Hoover.—Merkel Mail.

West Texas Utilities Company

To the Voters of Precinct No. 2:

As the time is drawing near, I wish again to call your attention to the fact that on next Saturday, July 28, you will go to your respective voting places and there cast your ballot for the ones that you prefer for state and county officers.

You should be careful and select the man or woman that you would think that would make you the best official, especially for the county officers.

I want to say as a last word to you that when I made my announcement for county commissioner of this precinct I tried to explain to you as to the needs of a man qualified to fill the office, especially at this time and the near future.

In every one of the speeches that I have made I have tried to tell you of my qualifications and hope that you have given me a fair consideration and hope that you will see fit to vote for me. I have never said a word against either of my opponents, only words of praise, and have tried to run a clean and square race.

And will say in conclusion that if I am elected as your next county commissioner for this district, that I will do my utmost to make you an efficient officer, always looking to the best interests of the tax payers and will promise to serve all alike, with no special favors to any.

I have tried to see every voter in the precinct and in case that I missed any of you I am sorry and I hope that you will not feel offended or will hold that against me.

Thanking you all for the many good words of encouragement and the many courtesies that you have shown me, I will await your verdict until the close of the election July 28, and August 25th.

COURTESY in TRAFFIC PARKING

If every motorist would unite in working out the parking problems, no drastic measures would be required and no hardships endured by anyone. We should be a committee of one to solve and regulate the traffic condition.

There is nothing in motoring that deserves more attention, as the problem to which it relates becomes more complex, than that of parking in such a way as to conserve the greatest amount of space.

Slovenly parking is a mark of selfishness that is getting to be more and more emphatic as the motor car comes into greater and greater use. There is little excuse for it under many circumstances. It may take more time to drive into a space in such a way as to use no more of it than is absolutely necessary, but certainly it is time well spent. The parking-hog is becoming even more common than the road-hog, and is equally as great a nuisance.

In Crowell and the same is true in every community, there is room for improvement in parking courtesy, and if every auto driver respected the rights of others, there would be no demand for regulation of double parking, and other similar rules.

VACATION VALUES

The accredited maxims all spur men to labor. The books are full of illustrious examples of the value of incessant toil.

What we need is more of the gospel of rest.

Interest in work, the desire to be constantly doing, love of industry for its own sake or for its rewards keep many restlessly busy until nature calls a halt, and the man of ceaseless activity wears out and retires from the active scene.

Yes; it is "better to wear out than rust out," but a stop now and then for oiling up lessens both the wear and the rust.

There are sports that kill and there are labors, too, that destroy life. The prudent man will see to it that sufficient time is allotted every day and every year to rest and rational enjoyment that is recreative and life-giving.

Stevenson wrote a gentle satire containing much shrewd wisdom, entitled "An Apology for Idlers," in which he says, among other equally good things:

"Perpetual devotion to what a man calls business is only to be sustained by perpetual neglect of many things. And it is not by any means certain that a man's business is the most important thing he has to do. To an impartial estimate it will seem clear that many of the wisest, most virtuous and beneficial parts that are to be played until the theater of life are filled by gratuitous performers, and pass among the world as phases of idleness."

It is refreshing to listen now and then to so distinguished an apologist and exemplar of idleness.

Amusement is an important part of education. Relaxation is one of the main duties of life.

Recreation is not wasting time, but economizing life.

FRANKLIN MAKE STATEMENT CONCERNING HIS CANDIDACY FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

The voters of this district will probably remember that two years ago I entered the race for district attorney of this district and at that time a majority of the voters of the district expressed by their ballots their desire to have me serve them as their district attorney, and consequently I was elected to that office, and now after having had a great deal of experience in investigating and prosecuting a great many criminal cases, I again seek your votes and support for a second term, believing my experience qualifies me better for this office than anyone seeking the office.

It has been impossible for me to see each individual voter in the district and I therefore respectfully ask that you give me your consideration when you go to vote next Saturday.

It has been a custom in the Democratic Party to elect an incumbent to a second term in office when his record during his first term has been satisfactory. I therefore, at this time, ask for a second term as your district attorney and submit my record for your consideration. An examination of the records of this district discloses the fact that I have tried one hundred and fifteen felony cases and have secured ninety one convictions during the fourteen months the court has been in session since I assumed the duties of the office. I have secured more convictions for violations of the prohibition laws than any district attorney you have ever had, in the same period of time and in the same district. I have endeavored to investigate and prosecute each case fairly, impartially and vigorously, giving every individual, regardless of his station in life, the consideration due him and representing the State and the people of this district to the best of my ability. My record, during my first term, compares favorably with that of other district attorneys of this, as well as other districts, and I now ask you for a second term, believing I am the most experienced and best qualified man in the race, and that I can better serve you in the future by reason of the experience I have gained during my first term.

I am asking for a second term solely upon my record during my first term as it is one of which I am proud and one which the people appreciate, and my candidacy is not being fostered or financed by any fraternal, sectarian or other organization or by any set of individuals to whom I would be obligated if elected and I will be free to act upon each individual case without domination or influences other than the duty imposed upon me under my oath of office.

I will greatly appreciate your fair and impartial consideration and if you see fit to elect me to a second term as your district attorney will endeavor to discharge the duties of that office in a satisfactory manner to all concerned.

Respectfully yours, O. O. FRANKLIN. (Political Advertisement)

A BIG NATIONAL ASSET

Education has become a $7,000,000,000 industry which employs 2,000,000 persons for 27,000,000 pupils. Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of schools, Pittsburgh, said at the final session of the National Education Association convention, held recently in Minneapolis.

The present value of school property, Dr. Davidson said, is more than $4,500,000,000 and the annual expenditures were $2,000,000,000. A million teachers and another million persons on the non-instructional side are required to staff this great organization.

Mr. Davidson revealed the figures on money and personnel in the advocacy of a secretary of education in the cabinet of the president of the United States. Education ranks foremost as one of the biggest enterprises in this country.

WHO WANTS TO GO BACKWARD?

People who mourn for what they call "the good old days" are a silly lot. Who wants to go backward? To desire to return to the past is to admit that the sap has ceased to run. The London of today is the most fascinating of all places for a student of history. Its old buildings suggest romance and remind one of daring deeds. But who of us would care to go back to the days when those old buildings were new? Back in the seventeenth century, or thereabouts—if we are to take the word of John Ridd in Blackmore's "Lorna Doone"—"The lanes and fields, between Charing Cross and the village of Kensington, are, or were at that time, infested with footpads and highwaymen."

At that time, in the country districts of England, wheeled vehicles were unknown. The roads were so bad the people either went horseback or in sleds which could be jerked along over rough places. When an occasional wheeled vehicle made its appearance in a community, its owner was looked upon as an introducer of a dangerous, possibly a sinful, innovation. And think how uncomfortable the palaces of the nobles were at that time! Would any sane man trade his comfortable central-heated home of today for a castle through which the biting winds swept, hindered a wee bit here and there by tapestries, but never harmed much by the fires on the hearths? Who wants to go back to the good old days?

Big Spring—Publicity Manager E. H. Whitehead of the W. T. C. of C. was one of the speakers at the West Texas Press Association here July 13-14. Costume experts who pass on clothes that are to be worn in moving pictures look through a piece of blue glass to see how the colors will photograph.

ON THE FARM

By the County Agent

Moore's Visit

J. A. Moore of Grand Prairie spent 2 days in Foard County visiting various sections. He spoke at three meetings while here on farm management. Mr. Moore settled in Dallas County twenty nine years ago on what was then a worn out farm. He paid $7.50 per acre for that farm when land was selling at $50 and $75 per acre adjoining. By building up his soil, adopting a system to his farm operations he has made that one of the best producing farms in Texas.

Mr. Moore maintains that all that a farmer has to sell is his time, and if he is to prosper as he should, that time must be distributed so as to eliminate all the lost motion possible. According to Mr. Moore's records, every man-hour put in on his farm paid him a net return of $1.17. The success of the Moore farm may be attributed to several reasons: 1. Organization of his farm plant. 2. Knowing the kind of crops that produce the greatest returns per acre at the least expense. 3. Building up his soil by rotation, peas, clover, rye, etc. and by terracing. 4. By keeping a strict account of expenses and income of all of his farm crops and livestock separately. 5. He farms because he had rather farm than do anything else.

Seed Wheat

The Experiment Station at Manhattan, Kansas, devotes most of its time to the wheat industry. We have recently had a letter from them stating that they have pure-bred certified Turkey Red and also Kan-Red wheat seed for sale that was grown on the University farm at $2.00 per bushel sacked.

It might not be wise to plant an entire crop from seed imported from very far north, especially high priced seed. We do believe that those interested in getting some pure seed would profit by securing enough of this wheat to seed a small plot that may be used for seed next year.

Eight or ten acres seeded with good seed should produce enough to give the average farm plenty of good seed.

To the People of Foard County:

As I stated in my announcement for office of district attorney my time and efforts have been spent in the counties where the people do not know me. Since meeting a great number of the people the encouragement is beyond expectations and I feel sure of being elected. I have based my claim for the office upon my ability as a lawyer and the life I have lived among my friends of Foard County. May I again take this method of asking the vote of every man and woman of Foard County on next Saturday assuring each of you that your vote will be appreciated and that I shall strive to so conduct myself as a public servant that none will regret having voted for me.

Sincerely,
JOHN MYERS.

W. M. S. Circle No. 1 met July 23rd at the home of Mrs. R. B. Edwards in "Royal Service" lesson, led by Mrs. L. A. Andrews. Lesson topic was Southern Baptist missionaries in Japan, which proved to be very interesting. After the lesson Mrs. Mayfield gave an interesting talk on Leuders Encampment.

Circle No. 2 met at the home of Mrs. L. D. Campbell, lesson led by Mrs. W. W. Griffith. The lesson being instructive and very interesting.

For the last two months the W. M. S. has been working through two circles and to encourage attendance, has had a contest for numbers for each circle present. The circle failing in numbers for the 2 months was to entertain the circle having most in attendance, with a social. When the count was made a tie was found each circle having had 102 to attend.

It is an old saying that nothing succeeds like success and that is true in the lumber business as well as in any other. In other words, if we succeed in pleasing you Foard County people, we are making a success of this business.
