Crime Ends

Crime ends when the "Racket Busters" step in as is proved in the photoplay "Racket Busters," starring Humphrey Bogart, George Brent, Gloria Dickson and Walter Abel.

The story for this picture is taken from actual court records and is produced in such a way as to be authentic without losing necessary entertainment. The public has showed its appreciation of this type drama by attending such movies as "G-Men," "Crime School" and "Over the Wall," and thereby proving that they are more of the same thing. Humphrey Bogart has shown himself adapted to this type picture by his performance in "Crime School" and "Alcatraz Island." "Racket Busters" is showing at the Rio Theatre at the Saturday night preview, Sunday and Monday.

God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God.—Ecclesiastes 2:26.

Railroad wages are at the highest level in history, both in dollars paid and in actual purchasing power of the dollars paid. In face of this there looms a fight by railroad employees against a wage reduction. At present time ninety-seven railroad companies are in the hands of receivers as a result of bankruptcy. These companies represent 30 per cent of the country's total mileage. In 1933 a little over 8 per cent of the mileage was in distress. It is obvious that the present trend cannot continue. No industry can continue to pay out more than it takes in and remain solvent. Some day the bird that lays the golden eggs is going to become weary and give up the fight.

If the strongest industry in this country followed the practice of the farming industry and turned out manufactured products without any relation to the amount of merchandise the market could absorb, it would be forced into bankruptcy in a short while. It is just as unreasonable to assume that the farm industry can continue to produce surpluses and mounting surpluses and escape bankruptcy as it is to assume that the automobile industry can continue to turn out automobiles after all dealers are supplied and company warehouses full.

We often wonder what would happen if the employers in this country went on a strike every time some trivial thing came up that did not please them and every time they didn't make as much money out of their business as they thought they should have. It sounds foolish, but after all is it any more foolish than what is happening in some industry in this country every day?

We note that federal crop insurance may now be taken out. What we have been waiting for is a system of federal insurance that will insure our advertising and subscription receipts for the coming year.

How free is speech and how free is the press? An examiner for the National Labor Relations Board recently recommended that Henry Ford be punished for giving newspaper reporters his opinion criticizing labor unions and the Wagner act. A labor union was recently enjoined from distributing handbills in the vicinity of certain stores which patronized a certain factory. The National Labor Relations Board recently ruled that the provisions of the Wagner act override a manufacturer's right to free speech in circulating a pamphlet among his employees. We have come a long way toward making our boasted freedom of speech and freedom of the press a beautiful dream of the past if anyone in this country is going to be denied the right to express his opinion concerning any piece of legislation Congress may pass or the action of any board. It is but a very short step from such incidents noted above to the intimidation of all individuals and the silencing of their tongues through fear of prosecution by this or that federal agency or board. When this point is reached both freedom of the press and freedom of speech are gone.

One of the greatest burdens to a democratic form of government is found in the fact that too often, because of political preference, there is appointed to positions of importance, as bureau heads, and commission heads, men of little or no ability. In many instances men are appointed to positions at several times the salary that their ability would enable them to earn in any line of endeavor. Once safely ensconced in such position they proceed to sit in judgment on businesses in which they would not even make a competent file clerk. One of the greatest moves toward balancing the nation's budget would be the institution of a policy to pay such appointees what their services are really worth on the market. The sanity of wringing from one portion of the people the last pound of flesh in tax money to lavish it on such salaries has never been satisfactorily explained.

Every town has a fellow who knows just how the state, county and federal government should be run. He knows just where Henry Ford makes his mistakes, and what should be done to do away with war in the world. The only remarkable thing about him is that with all this knowledge he has never been able to make much of a living for himself and family.

The Hughes round the world flight cost $300,000 or $200 for each mile of distance covered. Sounds like it might be a federal project.

Reavis Reunion in Enterprise, Oregon, Honors Mrs. Reavis

The Enterprise Record Chief, (Oregon), of July 28 carried a story telling of the Reavis family reunion and picnic at Wallowa lake Sunday, July 24. At that time Mrs. D. L. Reavis and daughter, Mrs. Alva Spencer and son, Joe, and Mrs. Leon Solomon of Crowell were visiting in Enterprise.

The news item from the Record Chief follows:

"After an absence of 23 years, Mrs. David L. Reavis and family returned to Enterprise last week, and the occasion was celebrated at a Reavis family reunion and picnic at Wallowa lake Sunday. Mrs. Reavis and her party left yesterday for Portland and will go on to Los Angeles where she will remain for a month visiting George M. Hendrickson and son, Clayton Hendrickson, and their families, while others of the Reavis party will drive back to their home at Crowell, Texas.

"D. L. Reavis was county surveyor and worked for a short time in the county clerk's office. He and his family returned to the old family home in Texas, where he passed away a few years ago. With Mrs. Reavis on the trip to Enterprise came her daughter, Mrs. Alva Spencer and 16-year-old son, Joe Reavis Spencer, and Mrs. May Solomon, a friend. Mr. Spencer is postmaster at Crowell. Mrs. Reavis has told often of the beauties of Oregon and of Wallowa County and was delighted at the opportunity of bringing them here to see for themselves.

At the picnic Sunday those who gathered were Mrs. Reavis and her family, Dr. C. A. Ault, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Reavis and daughter, Peggy Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Reavis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Reavis and family including Raymond Reavis and wife and son Emerson Reavis and daughter, Benita, and Herbert Reavis."

California is reaping the harvest from the favorable publicity it has been glad to receive in years past. As a result of the many stories coming out of this state, of fruit, and flowers, and gold, the impression seems to exist in the minds of many that here is plenty for everyone and that jobs and dollars grow on trees in California. As a result the depression has seen such an influx of people from other states who arrive in California penniless that a great burden has been placed upon many of the counties. To protect themselves Californians are petitioning the federal government to halt the incursion. The petition states: "California is faced with economic chaos and financial ruin through the influx of tens of thousands of families, displaced in other states and pauperized by the depression, who are attempting to eke out an existence in agriculture and other labor here." The state's relief roll has reached 800,000.

The persecution of the Jews in Germany is a disgrace in this age. It begins to appear that the civilized nations of the earth are going to have to make some provisions for the Jews by setting aside a territory where they can set up a central government and a nation of their own. The fact that the Jews have no such central government and no national organization may be one of the reasons why Hitler feels so free to exploit them as Mussolini did the Ethiopians.

A flood in Japan recently took 400 lives. It was heralded in the press as a national disaster. The Fourth of July celebration toll of lives in this country this year was 497.

Boyce House Joins Mann Publicity Staff

Boyce House, one of the best known newspapermen and magazine writers in the Southwest, and frequent contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, has joined the publicity organization of Gerald C. Mann, in his campaign for Attorney General.

A native Texan and former West Texas editor, House left the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram to handle the publicity of the Fort Worth Fiesta for a couple of years. He rejoined his newspaper and later obtained leave of absence to take charge of the campaign of Judge Ralph Yarborough, candidate for attorney general in the July primary. Following the Yarborough campaign, Mr. House is working for Gerald Mann, his duties keeping him in the field in close touch with the candidate.

"Like the majority of others who were in Judge Yarborough's organization, I feel that it is imperative that Gerald Mann be elected for the welfare of Texas," Mr. House stated. "Mann is a candidate fresh from the people, clean, capable and without the entangling alliances of 20 long years in office. Mann is opposed to political racketeers and professional politicians. So am I."

Picnic at Rayland

Rayland was one of the big towns of the country last Saturday when the barbecue and picnic was ruled by the business men of that place. It was a big day for them and for all who went down there. The Rayland people did the proper thing when they had L. G. Andrews to barbecue the haves. The Rayland people, anticipating a goodly crowd, had five beeves prepared, and that together with all the good things the good women cooked made the dinner a veritable feast. The barbecue was one of the best we have ever had the pleasure of helping to devour.

Cats Without Tails

Cats without tails are a popular breed on the Isle of Man. Other unusual characteristics of the felines is the fact that they have larger eyes and longer back legs than the ordinary cat. Their owners claim they resemble rabbits in the way they sit on their haunches. They are more high strung than ordinary house cats and do not readily make friends with strangers. But they are more affectionate when they become acquainted. The cats also disprove a popular theory that the tail is necessary as a means of balancing, because they are as agile as other species.

Largest Food Store Planned At State Fair

Texas food industries have combined to show the largest food store ever assembled in Texas or the Southwest, as a feature of the Golden Jubilee celebration of the State Fair of Texas, it was announced Saturday by Oto Herold, president of the fair. Mr. Herold announced the appointment of Granville W. Moore, prominent in bakery and food circles of Texas for many years, as chairman of the executive committee which will have charge of this display.

The food show will be held in the building to the right of the Esplanade, which has been designated as the Food Building. The structure forms the wing added to the Automobile and Manufacturers' Building for the two exhibitions.

The food industries of Texas represent a business worth one billion, three hundred and thirty million dollars annually, by far the largest industry in the state.

The show will be designed by George Dahl, local architect, who has gained wide recognition in retail merchandising design. The plans call for one huge store, which will display the products instead of the products being exhibited in separate booths. There will be no way to tell how much space one manufacturer has purchased, and the plan will enable the small manufacturer to display his wares as proudly as the largest of the exhibitors.

The educational features to be provided for the retail grocer and his staff will include modern displays and effective selling methods, including the serving of customers. An auditorium within the building will house a daily program of salesmanship, showmanship on foods, visual education, menu contests, cooking schools, domestic science classes from all high schools of the state, demonstrations and special meetings of retail grocers with the sales staff of the exhibitors.

A statewide executive committee has been named by Chairman Moore, and includes members from Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, Denison, Sherman, Tyler, Fort Worth, Austin, Amarillo, Cuero, San Angelo, Sugarland, Corpus Christi, Waco, Abilene and Harlingen. As soon as all appointments have been accepted Mr. Moore will announce personnel of the committee, which will include leaders in every phase of the food industry in Texas.

Chevrolet's New Car Sales in July Exceed June Sales

Detroit, Aug. 5. — Chevrolet's new car and truck sales reached 51,047 units in July, exceeding the June total by 5,423 or 11.9 per cent of June sales, and setting an unusual sales record, by reversing the normal market trend.

The announcement was made here today by W. E. Holler, general sales manager, who also reported the greatest used car stock reduction ever achieved by Chevrolet dealers in a single month.

Records show that in only two previous years have Chevrolet's July new car and truck sales passed the June mark. The shattering of this long-standing precedent Mr. Holler credited mainly to two things: first, the country-wide "Beat Your June Sales" campaign staged by Chevrolet in July, and second, an apparent improvement in general business conditions.

The campaign was conceived in June as a means of offsetting the slack period which has followed that month in every year except 1929 and 1937. The company's entire field force was organized in advance, enlisted in a sales contest, and provided with promotional material to facilitate its selling job. A country-wide advertising campaign was placed in newspapers throughout the country to back up the sales effort.

The first 10 days' sales report showed 13,044 units moved at retail in that period. The second 10 days was even better, 16,814 units being sold. The third 10 days, with 21,190, carried the drive over the top.

Gratified as he was at the new car showing, Mr. Holler made no secret of his elation at the dealers' used car sales performance during the 30-day period. The used car sales in July reached a grand total of 135,558 units. The used car stock reduction amounted to 28,185 units. The remarkable thing about such a reduction, he pointed out, was that it was accomplished in the face of increased new car sales. Since it involves trade-ins of used cars, new business tends to keep used car stocks high. That it did not have that effect during July is believed directly traceable to the efficiency of the national used car organization which Mr. Holler created two years ago, divorcing that phase of the company's merchandising activity from its new unit operations.

"The real importance of the used car stock reduction," Mr. Holler said, "is that it places our dealer organization in a most favorable position to go out and increase its leadership on new cars and trucks. The dealer organization which is least encumbered by unsold cars can of course be the most liberal in new unit trade-in allowances, a fact which makes the Chevrolet dealers' used car stock reduction a matter of news moment to the public as well as to ourselves."

McFarlane Spoke at Denton Friday Night

Denton, Texas, Aug. 6, 1938.—Congressman McFarlane spoke to a large crowd on the court house lawn Saturday night and after reviewing the work of the administration for the past two years and pointing out the important measures enacted for the benefit of the farmers, laborers, business and the relief and recovery program he answered the eight page scandal sheet circulated by his opponent in the closing days before the first primary.

Scandal Sheet False McFarlane challenged the opposition to prove any charge made by any reputable evidence admissible in a court of record and then he specifically answered the different charges by reading from affidavits and other documentary records refuting the charges made.

Radio Station Answering the radio station charges he read from the uncontradicted sworn testimony given before the Federal Communications Commission which shows the new radio station belongs to a group of Wichita Falls business men.

Horsepower Bill Regarding the Horsepower Bill he pointed out that this measure was introduced by him at the request of representatives of unions affiliated with the A. F. of L. That the bill was introduced three sessions back, that two sessions have gone since then, that no action was ever even taken on the bill and none requested, that the bill is dead, that its clear provisions show it was intended only to apply to automatic machinery installed which displaces labor which is used in manufacturing goods for shipment into interstate commerce; that it does not and was not intended to apply to any automobiles, trucks, tractors or other farm or home motors as clearly shown from the provisions of the bill.

Political Patronage Answering the charge regarding political patronage, McFarlane pointed out that his opponent was trying to stir up such discord to hold out hope to his own supporters that they would receive such post office appointments when he knew that the last Congress had placed all post office appointments under civil service without term subject only to honest, efficient service. That this legislation permanently removed all postmasterhips from politics and that he was glad to vote for such legislation.

Candidate of Special Interests Mr. McFarlane read from documents and affidavits stating that his opponent had not earned sufficient money since moving to Wichita Falls to pay his own expenses, much less pay for the last and this expensive campaign. He charged his opponent with being the candidate of the utilities and referred to affidavits and the paid workers and large sums of money being expended and being paid to the same crowd over the district who have worked to defeat the municipal light elections in the district as sufficient proof of same.

Old Age Assistance Mr. McFarlane referred to his record in support of assistance for the aged and pointed out he had voted for $40.00 per month amendment to the Social Security Act and would gladly co-operate with Governor-elect W. Lewis O'Daniel in eliminating all red tape and discriminations in the payments due the aged. That the Federal Statute did not require need be shown except by the applicant. That he had signed the petitions requesting hearings by the Ways and Means Committee and to bring the General Welfare Act before Congress for immediate consideration. That the aged should be paid their pensions without further delay and payment should not be made, a further political football.

Perfect Record McFarlane closed his speech with an appeal to stand by the Administration's program, as there is no other constructive program being offered and called to their attention that no vote he had cast had been challenged as wrong. He also pointed out the rules of seniority in Congress and that his service had been recognized by being placed on the powerful appropriations committee, which means so much to Texas and particularly to the schools and colleges having applications now pending action. Dogs May Transmit Rabies in First Stage of the Disease

Austin.—The mean dog that suddenly becomes friendly may transmit hydrophobia or rabies, states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer in refuting the timeworn belief that rabies must be spread by a frothing "mad dog." "In the first stage of rabies," Dr. Cox states, "the disposition of the dog changes entirely. A happy, playful dog becomes dejected, creeps away and hides. An ordinarily vicious dog may become friendly. If he licks his master's hand, he may spread rabies through cuts and abrasions on the skin. The dog may be mean at times, and at other times apparently normal." According to Dr. Cox the phrase "mad dog" is associated with the second stage of rabies. This is the irritable period in which the dog becomes restless, sometimes running away and returning hours later, worn out from fighting other dogs. Rabies may be suspected, especially if the dog was not

This ONE Machine Does EVERYTHING But Harvest the Crop (Left) The DEMPSTER with Duck Foot Sweeps, Lister Bottoms and Damming Equipment—for first operation. (Below) With seven 3 in. Furrows, Open Packer Wheels and Seed Box for seeding operation. DEMPSTER TILLING, DAMMING and DEEP FURROW SEEDING MACHINE YOU need only this one machine to do every job from one wheat harvest to the next... and to follow the gambler. Think of the money you save not having to buy several machines... of the time, labor and fuel saved by doing several jobs in one operation. HERE'S WHAT IT DOES - With machine as shown above you go into the stubble field immediately after harvest—cultivating, forming furrows and damming in one operation so that ground is ready to catch and hold moisture. Later you can level ridges and prepare excellent seed bed with trash on top to prevent soil-blowing. Then with machine as shown below you do an ideal job of seeding, depositing seed in wide, 6-in. moist seed bed, covering seed uniformly with moist soil. The DEMPSTER is ideal for summer fallow—for seeding row crops—for spring wheat planting. The only machine of its kind with independent bottoms making it ideal for contour farming. COME IN and see it at once! (38-D-16) R. N. BARKER CROWELL, TEXAS

The Fatted Calf

T. C. Richardson, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Ass'n. famous recipe for Welsh rabbit was not so far wrong when it began with "First catch your rabbit." Before we can kill the "fatted calf" we must raise the calf and get him fat. Maybe, too, if more fatted calves were killed and eaten on the farms where they grow, there would be fewer prodigal sons. A farm boy ought not to have to go to a restaurant in town to learn what fresh meat tastes like.

New FSA Loan Policy Includes More Farmers

Julian Wright, County Supervisor of the Farm Security Administration, announced today that his organization will extend its loan program and "accept responsibility for the entire load of rural financing" for those farmers who are unable to obtain adequate financing from other agencies. The supervisor said that the extension will be both downward and upward, including larger loans to livestock growers and to farm owners who are in difficulties, and also more adequate provision for farmers of very low income.

The announcement was made following the supervisor's return from the annual conference of FSA employees for Texas at College Station, attended by 200 farm and home supervisors for this state and by the clerical staff of the county officers, as well as by state and regional executives and specialists.

The supervisor warned that there will be no resumption of the wholesale grants, non-repayable, which were stopped short a year ago. The larger loans to be made to farm owners or to livestock operators will be of service, the supervisor said, for those who are unable to procure effectively because of inadequate financing of who may be threatened with foreclosure. In the latter case, he said, debts must be adjusted by agreement with creditors and a sound plan worked out to assure that bankruptcy can actually be avoided through the new plan and loan. Adequate funds are already on hand in Texas to care for this enlarged loan program. Supervisors will begin taking loan applications immediately and checks will be returned to the county office from the regional office within ten days from the time the regional office receives the application. Improvement has been made in this respect since the early days of the rural rehabilitation program when the pressure of grants and the lack of established procedure often caused delay of checks beyond the time when the farmers could make effective use of them.

Still another line of financing to be opened this year will be for the benefit of FSA farm boys and girls participating in 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America, the supervisor said. Loans will be made through the heads of the families. Increased attention will also be given to loans made for the purchase of machinery and livestock to be used jointly by groups of farmers in the community.

Coryell County was named for James Coryell, famous Indian fighter.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell) The Reward of the Three Hundred: When ever I read the story of Gideon and his immortal three hundred, I am reminded of the church members of today. Though something like three thousand years have elapsed since the days of Gideon and agencies for the leading of Christ's religion have multiplied many, many times, the number of truly dependable members in the average congregation is about the same proportion that it was in the days of Gideon. Many intensive efforts by congregations are made to secure members but what is needed in the majority of cases more than this, is an awakening of the zeal and de-

I am one of those who do not believe that the entrance of women into politics is going to make for any better government than was possible when the men monopolized this field.

There are many women who go into politics with high ideals and high regard for the ethical rules of the game the same as many men do, but it has been my experience that there are just as many women politicians gifted with intrigue as there are men.

WHAT WE THINK (By Frank Dixon) I believe the women have the same right to vote and hold office that men have.

I do not mean to infer that I think women have no right in politics. They have exactly the same right in politics that men have.
