HIGHWAY 16 IN FOARD COUNTY IS COMPLETED

Business Streets of Crowell Topped Friday

Work on State Highway 16 through Foard County north and south was finished last Friday afternoon with the completion of repairing and re-topping of the streets in the business section of Crowell.

Repair work on the city streets was started two weeks ago and completed last week by the local department of the State Highway Maintenance Department under the supervision of Curtis Ribble, section foreman. Laying of the asphalt seal coat was done by Brown & Root, Austin contractors, under the supervision of W. E. Bryan, resident engineer.

The last part of the highway work, which was finished last week, consisted of topping the gravel base from Crowell north to Pease River and from Beaver Creek south to the Wichita River. Also included in the work was the repairing of State Highway 28 west of Crowell.

The work north of Crowell was done by Brown & Root, and the work south was done by Ernest Loyd, Fort Worth contractor. All of this work was done under the supervision of Mr. Bryan.

At present, topping work on State Highway 16 is going ahead in Knox County on the unfinished strip between the Wichita River and a point six miles north of Benjamin. When the seal coat is laid on that section, the entire length of State Highway 16 will be hard surfaced.

SEEKS NAVY FUND

Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, leaves the White House after conferring with President Roosevelt on next year's naval building program. Admiral Leahy said it would probably be necessary to increase the budget over its present level by $200,000,000 because building costs would increase as work advanced on ships now under construction.

FOARD COUNTY NEWS INVITES LOCAL WOMEN TO SEE 'STAR IN MY KITCHEN' OCT. 12, 13, 14

People of Foard See Shelterbelt Strips at Rayland

Many Foard County people visited the shelterbelt strips and the Forest Service nursery in the Rayland community last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday through courtesy of employees of the Forest Service and the A. & M. Extension Service. Visitors to this vicinity on these three days were furnished transportation free where they viewed the Government nursery and tree-planting program.

Before visiting the nursery at Rayland the visitors were taken to the shelterbelt strips on the following farms in the Rayland community:

On the T. F. Lambert farm the strip is seven-eighths of a mile long with twelve rows of trees. The total cost per acre for planting this strip was 4 cents.

Edward Jokel has a three-row intermediate strip one-half mile in length. Judge W. D. Berry has a three-row intermediate strip one-half mile in length, also a ten-row strip one-half mile in length, east and west.

T. F. Lambert and Fred Caldwell have a twelve-row strip one-half mile in length and Mr. Lambert also has a strip three hundred yards long.

The strip on the farm of Mrs. Martha Price is one-half mile long and contains seventeen rows of trees.

B. P. Abston has a shelterbelt strip one-quarter mile long with ten rows of trees. The strips owned by J. A. Harrington are three hundred yards long, north and south, with another four hundred yards long, east and west, with ten rows of trees.

The shelterbelt strips cover about 1,400 acres of land in and near Rayland. The trees are growing in a splendid manner and are expected within a short time to add beauty to this section of the county, besides the protection they will furnish in breaking the strong winds.

The trees in the shelterbelt strips are set out without water and eighty-five to ninety per cent live.

After inspection of the field shelterbelts the group visited the Forest Service Nursery where approximately 2,500,000 young trees are growing which will be used in planting shelterbelts. At the nursery visitors also inspected pumps, wells, and irrigation of the nursery. Various planting and cultivation implements were demonstrated to visitors.

Motion Picture Cooking School; Rialto 3 Days

To Provide Instruction and Entertainment; Absolutely Free

The Foard County News has scored again!

This newspaper has just been successful in securing the new Motion Picture Cooking School, "Star in My Kitchen," which will be presented at the Rialto Theatre on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 12, 13 and 14.

Mark the days on your calendar because every woman—and man—in the community is hereby extended a cordial invitation to see, absolutely free, this fascinating picture which weaves helpful, intelligent lessons on cooking and home-making into a humorous and romantic plot.

The Motion Picture Cooking School is a brand new idea. First conceived last year, it has met with acclaim from women throughout the country, who like the happy combination of sparkling entertainment and close-up cooking instruction. Seats in the back row are as good as those in the front row—the motion picture permits everyone to hear and see every trick in frosting a cake, making a pie, or cooking bananas.

"Star in My Kitchen" was produced in Hollywood, and the audience will recognize many of the rising young actors and actresses who take part in it. Women young and old will appreciate the humaneness of the romantic story, in which home problems are approached from an entirely new angle.

The Motion Picture Cooking School has graduated beyond the demonstration course in the wide variety of household equipment assembled in clear view of the audience. All of the practical equipment is seen in active use, and because "seeing is believing," the audience will soon learn that pies and cakes and salads can make them "stars in their kitchens."

Experienced housekeepers will thrill to the adventures of the young Tedde Abot, who suddenly finds herself with a large home to manage and several mouths to feed—as well as a handsome young movie actor to impress.

What happens when she tries to make a fluffy lemon meringue pie or a marshmallow chocolate cake? What happens when the "man of the hood" drops in for dinner?

To unravel the mystery in advance would be to rob this clever tale of its novel approach. However, the audience is due to share in a rollicking good story and to learn much about home-making at the same time.

Every listener will find a harvest of practical ideas among the suggestions for more efficient home-making, covering such daily problems as laundry, refrigeration, up-to-date entertaining, beauty secrets, news of modernized home equipment and tips on making these mechanical servants yield the highest degree of usefulness.

It will be a real cooking class, just as though the model kitchens were right on the stage, and all of the popular features of the old-time cooking school are retained: free recipe sheets, the atmosphere of congenial informality, the wise counsel, the hints on clever shortcuts, and the distribution of daily gifts and real surprises.

Accept the invitation of The Foard County News and plan to join your neighbors in the Rialto Theatre on Oct. 12, 13 and 14.

McDonald Speaks Tonight on Farm Plan in Vernon

J. E. McDonald, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, will outline the Domestic Allotment Plan for agriculture at a meeting of merchants and farmers of this territory at Vernon, Thursday night, Sept. 15, (tonight) at 8 o'clock, at Allingham Park.

Agricultural leaders in approximately 15 nearby counties have been invited to attend the session by the Vernon Chamber of Commerce and Wilbarger County Agricultural Committee, sponsors.

Mr. McDonald, an ardent advocate of the Domestic Allotment Plan, is touring the Southwest in the interest of the program which has been proposed as a substitute for the present Federal farm program. He will speak in Oklahoma City Wednesday night, and will talk in Snyder Friday night, following his address in Vernon.

Contending that compulsory government acreage control of cotton or wheat is a hazardous undertaking, which has brought much grief to the United States, Mr. McDonald declares the Domestic Allotment Plan will extend to the industry of agriculture greater protection, benefits and freedom than any other agricultural program yet offered.

The plan would allot to each farmer a share in the American market upon which portion the farmer would receive a subsidy, which together with the market price, would give the farmer an American parity price, according to advocates of the proposal.

The farmer would receive a price for that portion of his crops domestically consumed which would be on a level with the tariff-protected things he buys; thus, giving him an effective off-set to the tariff burdens, and leaving each farmer to be his own judge as to how much he would produce in excess of his allotment to sell on world markets at world market prices, or to be his own judge as to whether or not he would grow any amount in excess of his allotment to sell abroad.

Mr. McDonald spent several months in Washington lobbying for the plan during the last session of Congress.

SIX-MAN FOOTBALL EXHIBITION SCRIMMAGE TO BE PLAYED HERE THURSDAY NIGHT AT 8 O'CLOCK

The first six-man exhibition football game to be played in this territory will be played on the Crowell High School gridiron to-night (Thursday) at 8 o'clock by Medicine Mound and Five-in-One. This will be Foard County fans' first opportunity to see this new type of football which is faster and much different than regulation 11-man football. Both participants are members of the newly formed North Texas Six-Man Football League.

Six-man football is a young game and is very fast becoming very popular, especially in the smaller schools, and fans like the game because it calls for more passing, running and scoring. Many skeptics fans have new game, but opinion on those who are acquainted with it is that the exhibition game here tonight will create a Foard County following for the game.

The North Texas Six-Man Football League with eleven teams as members was organized at Oklahoma last Friday night. The schedule was drawn up in two divisions and play will start September 30 under the auspices of the Interscholastic League.

Winners of the east and west division will play for the league championship on Nov. 18. A variation from standard six-man rules will be the use of regulation 11-man fields and uniforms.

Members of the league are: Thalia, Five-in-One, Kings High, Medicine Mound, South Lockett, Fairview, Megard, Harrold, Valley View, Geraldine and Oklahoma.

The schedule for the west division is as follows:

Medicine Mound at Five-in-One.
October 14

WILDCATS TO MEET NOCONA FRIDAY NIGHT

Two Teams to Meet on Indian Gridiron for First Time

Crowell's Wildcats will invade the war camp of the Nocona Indians, regional runner-ups of 1937, Friday night after hanging up the scalps of the Indians from Haskell here last Friday night by a 7 to 0 score.

First Clash of Teams

The non-conference clash of the Wildcats and Indians will mark the first football game between the Crowell and Nocona schools in the history of the schools. Much interest is being shown in this scrimmage by fans due to the fact that a comparison of the strength of the two districts can be made. The bi-district champions from each section of which these two districts are a part must meet at the last of the season to determine the regional champions for 1938.

Injuries Heal

Two Wildcats were handicapped last Friday night with injuries and Raymond Joy, starter of last year, was not in the starting line up for the Haskell game, but Coach Graves stated that the local gridiron will be in tip-top condition after the final workout before the game.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Miss Alynne Lanier underwent an appendix operation in the Quanah hospital Tuesday afternoon. She is reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

OPERATION

Reicie Womack underwent a sinus operation in a Wichita Falls hospital Tuesday morning. He is expected to be recovered sufficiently to allow his return to Crowell this afternoon.

CROWELL WINS OVER HASKELL INDIANS, 7-0

Wildcats Show Strong Defensive Work in First Game

Coach Grady Graves' Wildcats won their opening game of the 1938 season from the Haskell Indians in a non-conference game here Friday night by a score of 7 to 0.

Defense Strong

The 1938 Wildcats displayed the most powerful defensive work of any Crowell team in several years, and in the second quarter the Wildcats staged a successful 64-yard drive with sparkling offensive work to earn the only score of the game.

Passes Click

Taking the ball on their own 36-yard line in the second quarter, the Wildcats staged a passing and running attack which left the Indians bewildered and netted the Wildcats their touchdown. Only ten plays were run in the drive. Of those, five of the plays were passes, with only one falling incomplete, and about 40 yards were netted from them.

Scores from Pass

After driving down to the Haskell 7-yard strope, Raymond Joy, co-captain and quarterback, shot a short pass to Bernice Fitzgerald, co-captain and left end, for the touchdown. Fitzgerald added the extra point with a place kick conversion.

Offense Ragged

With the exception of the scoring drive, the Wildcats' offense was sluggish and showed the need of a good polishing, although the Crowell boys easily outgained the invaders in yardage.

In the third quarter, the Wildcats drove deep into Indian territory, but the attack bogged down on the Haskell 10-yard line and the Crowell boys were driven back to their own 10-yard marker by two excellent punts from the toe of Rogers, Indian fullback. This drive took the Wildcats deep into enemy territory for the second and last time.

The most of the game was played in the Wildcats' end of the field. This was due to frequent fumbles and penalties in addition to good kicking on the part of Rogers. Three fumbled punts by Rogers.

The Laurentian mountains stretch like a great crescent over a million or more acres between the St. Lawrence River and Hudson's bay and from the Ottawa River east toward Labrador. Over them hangs that mysterious fascination that belongs to great age. In comparison with them the Alps of Europe and the Himalays of Asia are young. Geologists state that the Laurentians were among the first mountains to heave their summits above the waste of waters there afterward continents were born. Many aeons later they bore up under the weight of a mighty mass of ice that harrowed their sides, humbled their peaks, and polished its fascinating chronicle on millions of scattered rocks.

Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait on the Lord.—Psalms 27:14.

Several of the male movie stars have refused radio contracts because the salary received from such broadcasts would boost their income to a point where the income tax would take every cent received for the broadcast and leave them nothing for their pains but a lot of hard work.

Henry Wallace, in a recent speech, said that it was no worse to lean upon a golf stick than a shovel. That goes to show what Wallace knows about shovels and golf sticks.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—His program for industrial development of Texas is apparently ranked next to pensions in the mind of the gubernatorial nominee, W. Lee O'Daniel, judging from interviews he has given since his nomination.

Here Are Basic Factors

Here are the requirements for the location of industry generally in any given place: An available nearby market for the product manufactured.

Available raw materials. Available trained labor supply. Available fuel and power.

The greatest of these requirements by far, is the first. And that is the reason why manufacturers in the East find it more profitable to ship the vast resources of raw materials produced in Texas to Eastern and Northern manufacturing centers, and ship the manufactured product back to Texas to supply this market, more cheaply than they can manufacture here.

Texas, with its vast area, is thinly populated compared to Northern and Eastern market areas, and it is surrounded by states similarly situated. Production facilities in this country have far outstripped distribution machinery.

few similarly specialized industries, and those who profit from development of these industries have not overlooked Texas. As a matter of fact, the great industrial organizations of the East, such as the DuPont enterprises, the Mellon interests, General Motors, etc., have assembled over a period of years a library of data bearing upon possibilities of industrial development in Texas that far exceeds in volume and accuracy any figures available in Texas.

A Real Opportunity The best opportunity for industrial development in Texas lies in the local organization and financing of small industrial units, designed to supply local markets with certain classes of goods, mostly perishables, which are financed with Texas capital.

Other Elements There are a dozen other elements which enter into the picture. One is the traditional location and association of groups of allied industries. Nobody will build a wool scouring plant in Texas, for instance, because investigation shows that he could not sell his scoured wool.

Cotton goods is marketed traditionally through brokers in the East. It goes into the market unmarked, unlabelled. The output of a dozen mills is mingled and sold in one lot. A Texas department store recently tried to buy some cotton goods from a Texas mill, to feature in a "Texas Made" sales event.

What Dallas Did The greatest opportunity for business development in Texas lies in the attraction of sales offices, warehouse stocks, small branch houses, assembly plants and similar small units of Eastern centers here. They will come if a profitable market is shown them.

Haskell Game--

Owens, Crowell safety man, who was playing for his first time under the floodlights, gave the ball to the Indians deep in Crowell territory. Had it not been for a powerful defense, the Wildcats would have been on the smaller end of a much larger score.

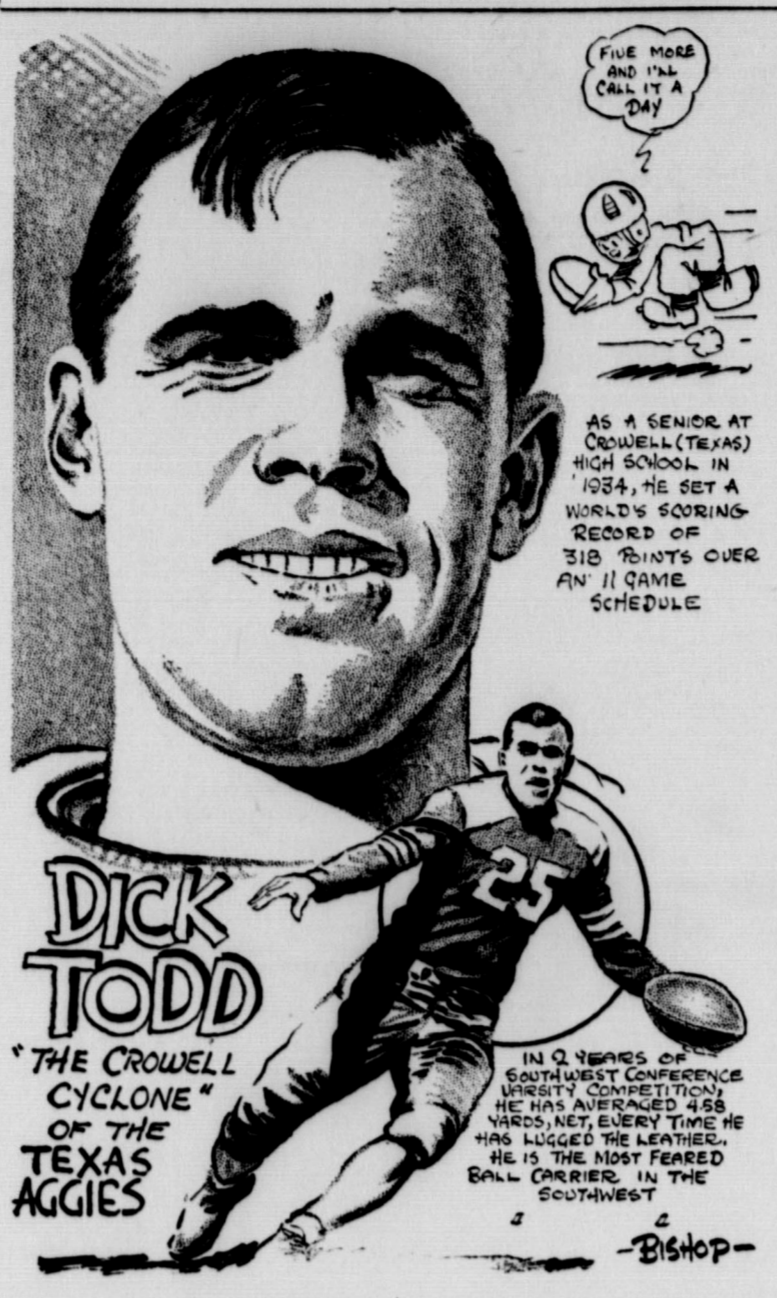

Haskell Tried Air Route In a desperate attempt to take home a victory over the team which humbled them 14 to 2 on their home field last year, the Indians took to the air early in the game, but had very poor luck in completing the passes.

Out for Record Although Bernice Fitzgerald won a place on the all-district honor team last season, his play was inconsistent and of the hum-drum type.

Freight Structure Is Wall The southwestern freight rate structure, which has been built up by the Federal regulatory authorities over a period of years since the days when an arbitrary advantage was given to Southern and Western railroads on the theory that with light volume it cost more to operate them, forms an artificial barrier against industrial development in the Southwest.

But the conditions fit only a

Eyes of the Nation Are On Todd

Now that the football season is here again, Texas grid fans are scanning the prospects of colleges of the Southwest Conference, but the eyes of Crowell fans are focused upon Texas A. & M. College at College Station where Dick Todd, Crowell boy who is making good there, is training with the Aggies for what gives promise to be the most successful football year for the college since the Joel Hunt era. The hopes of A. & M. are pinned upon the flying feet of Todd.

Newspapers and magazines are commenting upon the prospects for him this year. All sports writers are of the opinion that 1938 will be Todd's greatest year, and it should be. He is a senior on the varsity squad and will have plenty of what has been lacking for him, good blocking.

Following is a paragraph taken from an article, "Pigskin Parade" which appeared in the September issue of "Texas Parade." The writer, Weldon Hart, stated: "Flying feet belonging to Rambling Richard Todd, Texas Aggies' mercurial ball carrier, will furnish the spark for a championship bonfire at the war school—hopeful Aggie eyes hope."

In Wilton Hazard's review of "The Stars of 1938" which appeared in the latest edition of the Illustrated Football Annual, the following comment was made: "For two years we've been talking about a young Texas cyclone down at College Station, where the Fighting Aggies hold forth. But this should be Dick Todd's year to howl. That Todd has not yet achieved the fame predicted for him is due not to lack of talent but lack of support. The greatest world-beater on cleats can't go to town without some home-guard interference. Up to date, Todd has been heavily handicapped by weak terminals and inadequate backfield blocking. What he has done has been done chiefly on his own. Ask the Coast fans about the show way for district honors. Gafford and Bailey did well in the other tackle slot. Charles Branch played at the quarterback and guard positions and gave a good account of himself, although he works better in the line than in the backfield. Teamed with him in other guard positions were the Sollis brothers, Hugh and Murphy, who matched his pace, although Hugh, the older and more experienced will get the starting nod. Jack Fitzgerald completed the passes. Only four of Haskell's eighteen passes were complete, and netted only 31 yards.

Speed of Birds

Stopwatch records on the speed of birds reveal the following records: Quail, slightly under 50 miles an hour; crows, 60; carrier pigeon, 74 1/2; songbirds, 20 miles an hour average; humming birds, 40; ducks, 40 to 65 miles an hour average, with some acceleration for hurried flights. Canvasback ducks are credited with 72 miles per hour, the fastest among ducks, with golden-eyes a close second.

Wrestling in Iceland

Wrestling in Iceland differs somewhat from that of American wrestling. The participants wear full-length blue tights and, around their waists, leather harnesses. Shaking hands stiffly they grasp each other by the harnesses and go to work, the idea being to pull one's opponent off balance and throw him to the mat. The action is fast and furious and very exciting.

Humming Birds Make Long Flight

Humming birds belong especially to America—both North and South. It is said that during the migrating season they fly the Gulf of Mexico, a distance of 500 miles. There being no place to rest on the ocean they fly this incredible distance without food or without stopping.

Film Version Opens Before Stage Play

Hollywood is turning the tables on Broadway. Reversing the old story about a play that is made into a movie, 20th Century-Fox is sending into production a film which will later be produced on the legitimate stage of London and probably of New York.

"Three Blind Mice," a farce about three Kansas girls who trek to Santa Barbara in search of millionaire husbands, is before the cameras with Loretta Young, Marjorie Weaver and Pauline Moore in the feminine leads. Playing opposite them are Joel McCrea, David Niven and Stuart Erwin.

The story was written from an unproduced play by Stephen Powys. Shortly after arrangements were made to stage the play in London, 20th Century-Fox bought movie rights and rushed the film into production with William A. Seiter as director and Raymond Griffith as associate producer. The London presentation is set for fall and plans are underway in New York for an opening at the same time. Opening Saturday night preview at the Rialto Theatre, "Three Blind Mice" stars Loretta Young and Joel McCrea, with David Niven, Stuart Erwin, Marjorie Weaver, Pauline Moore, Binnie Barnes and Jane Darwell in the cast.

Deaths in Texas from Cancer Reach 4,305 in Past Year

Austin.—Deaths from cancer in Texas reached a total of 4,305 during the past year, indicating that a warning against cancer quacks and so-called cancer cures is justified by the State Health Department. Early diagnosis and competent treatment could have prevented many of these deaths, states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

COAST CANDIDATE

Culbert L. Olson, who won the Democratic nomination for governor of California, photographed at his home in Los Angeles during his campaign leading up to the November 8 election.

While newspapers, as a rule, do not carry advertising of this type, there are many other ways by which misinformation can reach the public. Undoubtedly there are many persons who, being thus deterred from seeking proper medical advice, unnecessarily become cancer victims, while others not having cancer, are fleeced out of much money for a so-called cure," Dr. Cox added.

There are but two ways of treating cancers. First, by surgery and second, by the use of radium or X-ray. Treatment must be started early and in the hands of a competent surgeon. Surgery is resorted upon to remove cancerous tumors and is used in nearly two-thirds of the cases. X-ray or radium is used to advantage for the remaining group. Frequently the two methods are combined. Self-medication, serums, colored lights, pastes, salves, and diets are valueless.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

It Has Never Been Tried: One of the most amazing things in the world today is the fact that although man has not chosen to accept God's law as his rule and guide in the matter of national and international relations, every act, everything that is done in a national or an international way, but proves the wisdom and the vanity of Christ's philosophy of living and of life. Today we behold a world, each nation of which is engaged in a mad race for supremacy in armament. The diplomats of every power are invoking every known art of diplomacy to ward off the inevitable clash. The germ of war is at work and the time is coming and coming soon when diplomacy must finally give up and yield to the red ruthlessness of war. Even in face of the fact that the next world war will involve the world in what may be civilizations last stand do we drive heedlessly on to inevitable chaos and disaster. All power to call a halt, to stop, to weigh the consequences seems paralyzed. Like dumb creatures we stand helplessly awaiting the sting of the descending lash. There is but one force in the world that will outlaw war, but one power that can now save civilization from its own undoing and that is Christ and his teaching. All of the history of mankind stands as an eloquent testimony in support of this claim. It is the only plan that the world has not yet tried, and the only plan that will save it.

WHAT WE THINK

(By Frank Dixon)

There is a class of people in every community whom I believe, are seldom, if ever, appreciated at their true worth. I refer to the average small town Sunday School teacher, at least that portion of this group that presumes to make anything like a sincere effort to prepare and present a lesson to a class Sunday after Sunday.

A true Sunday School teacher spends from one to three hours each week in the preparation of the lesson and when such a teacher comes before a class he or she comes prepared to present not only the textual aspects of the lesson but prepared to interpret it into terms of every day living.

My reasons for thinking that Sunday School teachers, even the hard working conscientious type, are not properly appreciated is based on deductions that are obvious in every community. I do not believe that any class, with a conscientious, hard working teacher, that does not show over fifty per cent of the enrollment in average attendance can be said to appreciate its teacher. If they did they would show it by their attendance. Instead of groping for excuses to justify their non-attendance they would plan to make their attendance possible.

I do not believe that a class, that as a group comes together each Sunday habitually unprepared, without ever having so much as given the lesson a thought during the week, appreciates its teacher. Appreciation is not shown in this way. True appreciation is shown even at the cost of a personal sacrifice.

I do not believe that a class that leaves all the outside work, the calling on absent ones, the initiation of new members, appreciates even in a small degree its teacher. If it did it would gladly share this work. Appreciation is marked by a willingness to serve and help, and where this is lacking there is not appreciation.

I have the utmost regard for the patient, hard working, self-sacrificing Sunday School teacher whose difficult task is made all the more difficult by the knowledge that their effort and sacrifice and labor is not appreciated even by those whom they strive unselfishly to serve.

In every community there are teachers of this kind. I wish to lay at their feet a wreath in token of their loyal, unselfish, patient service. They are a deserving group.

Construction Work Started on Many WPA Projects, 5th Region

Construction of new Public Works Administration projects Kansas, a $259,091 sewer system states of the Fifth PWA Region, Geo. M. Bull, regional director, has announced. Dirt is now flying on 77 new projects in the states of Arkansas, Colorado, Louisiana, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas although the 1938 program is less than three months old.

Among the large projects on which construction has started is the $1,545,454 municipal auditorium at Topeka, Kansas, a $750,000 high school at Kansas City, Kansas, a $269,091 sewer system at North Little Rock, Arkansas, the $590,969 court house and jail at Alexandria, Louisiana, the $232,272 court house and jail at Gallup, New Mexico, and two dormitories at Denton, Texas, which will cost $572,727.

The first of the new projects to get underway was a school gymnasium at Plattville, Colorado, on which construction started August 10. The Plattville project will cost an estimated $43,000. Second project to start was in Kansas City, Kansas, where $75,000 in improvements to the Memorial Building began August 17. Since the starting of these projects each week has seen the breaking of ground on an increasing number of other projects.

As the great new Public Works program speeds into actual construction the level of employment will rise and business and industry will be stimulated by the placement of large orders for a variety of materials.

Already more than 600 projects in the Fifth Region have received allotments. All of these projects must be underway by January 1 and most of them will reach the building stage within the next two months. The new program has been planned so that large numbers of projects will be underway all at once for maximum effect.

that their effort and sacrifice and labor is not appreciated even by those whom they strive unselfishly to serve.

In every community there are teachers of this kind. I wish to lay at their feet a wreath in token of their loyal, unselfish, patient service. They are a deserving group.

COCKER, SMALL GUN DOB, KNOWN IN SPORTS OF 1387

The forerunner of the cocker, smallest of gun dogs, first came into the literature of sport in 1387, when all dogs were "hounds" and spaniels in general were just one kind of "hound." Count Gaston de Poix, a French sportsman, wrote of these dogs of Spain as having been taught to be "couchers," driving quail and partridge into the hunter's net.

It is believed by some authorities that the cocker developed from a cross of the larger spaniel with the King Charles spaniel, a toy, relates a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. For a time the cocker and the field spaniel were separated at bench shows only by weight; above 28 pounds it was a field spaniel, below that weight a cocker.

The cocker hunts both fur and feather, but is used less on rabbits than on pheasant and woodcock. He is easily taught to retrieve from water and on land. In the field his tail moves incessantly, the increasing tempo informing the observant sportsman when game is near. No pointing dog, cocker dashes at his quarry, driving it from cover to be brought down by the gun.

The beauty of the cocker, with his affectionate disposition, variety of colors, silky and abundant feather, has gained him his popularity. In addition he is of "convenient" size, weights from 18 to 24 pounds being allowed by the standard. He may be black, red, liver and partly colored.

Don't Treat Good Seed Like a Stepchild

C. Richardson, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Ass'n.

At this time of the year seed for next fall garden or field is easier and usually cheaper to buy ahead of the planting season. It is just with the ground all ready and the seed-bed in place, the weather and soil moisture often the difference between a good and a poor yield. Stand means a poor yield. When approaching winter, planting at the time and under the best conditions is even more important than in spring. The seed-bed is (next to the best insurance of a good stand and giving seedlings a healthy start in life) not too much to say of all things within the control, good seed and seed-bed are the most important factors in production. It is to materially improve the soil by tillage and the crop is growing, and the planting deserves better than the treatment of a stepchild.

Preparation, but no crop fit for planting can be after planting time is over. Crops which need a firm must be anticipated by long enough in advance to the soil to settle, or else work must be done with the soil to substitute to the surface and pulverize soil.

Typical of this sentiment, the report says, is a statement made editorially in the Dallas News in discussing pros and cons of exemption: "For one thing, temporary tax exemption is not the only move that can be made to attract industry. Any investment in plans and future will be made more confidently if Texas makes its tax practice sound. Our real need is a conservative, well-planned tax program that will assure everyone of fair treatment."

Another thought, expressed by the Texas Weekly, is that "the kind of official attitude that this state assumes toward business and industry for the next two years will be of greatest importance to the economic well-being of the people of Texas. . . . If Texas takes the attitude of showing that it realizes its hope for future prosperity lies in business and industry rather than in political panaceas, and stays with it, this State may be expected to head in to the greatest period of economic progress it has ever experienced."

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

Caseln, the milk product from which cottage cheese is made, is now used to produce synthetic wool. The caseln from 48 pints of milk will produce cloth enough to make one suit of men's clothes. The yarn is produced in a manner similar to that by which rayon is produced. Fabric made of milk resembles wool and rayon. It will not shrink and is moth proof. Trichinosis is a disease contracted by humans from eating undercooked pork. It is a tiny spiral worm. It enters the system by boring through the walls of the intestines. It may remain in a patient for life and may wander through the muscles, spinal fluid, lungs, heart, retinas and milk of nursing mothers. It may cause severe pain, muscular tenderness, high fever, delirium and coma. Already an undulant fever reported in this country in 1938. Man contracts undulant fever by handling infected animals, drinking unpasteurized milk. In its mild form it resembles influenza. Severe cases resemble typhoid fever, tuberculosis, malaria or rheumatism. The most distinguishing feature is a "tidal fever" which comes on in the forenoon and strikes the patient with full intensity between two and five in the afternoon. The average course of the fever is three to four months. It may disappear for several months and return. The common after-effect is weakening of the heart.

Changes in football rules may result in more touchdowns the coming season. Under the new rules an attacking successive forward three or more will be penalized. Each time the ball will be returned to where it was on the previous play (except, after the fourth down when it becomes the property of the opposing team on the 20 yard line). Last year the penalty for missing two forward passes in succession was 5 yards. The second change provides that when a play ends within 15 yards of the side lines or all the way over a lateral boundary, the ball shall be put in play 15 yards instead of 10, from the side line.

The world consumption of rubber last year was 1,084,125 tons. The world potential production of rubber is 1,450,000 tons annually.

Even Best of Friends Must Part

Pamela Holmes, seven, of Bellport, Long Island, N. Y., weeps because "Barry," her St. Bernard, has been ordered exiled. A justice of the peace demanded that the dog either be killed or removed from the town after it had been accused of keeping three small children in a boat for several hours. "Barry," however, has never bitten anyone.

Remodel Home

The living room and bedroom have been completely re-done from floor to furniture at the home of Misses Myrtle and Naomi Fish of the Vivian Home Demonstration Club, pictured above.

First to receive attention was a large crack in the living room floor where a hall partition had been removed. The floor was jacked up, boards nailed under the crack, and then it was filled with cement. The entire floor received two coats of walnut brown paint and one of wax.

A cream-colored paper was used on the walls and the woodwork painted ivory.

A well-worn leather duofold was converted into an attractive divan by the Misses Fish. Everything was taken off to the springs. These were tied together and well padded with a cotton mattress and quilts. Ducking was stretched over all this and tacked. Rust colored crash was used as the outer cover material.

An old rocking chair was repaired and upholstered to match the divan. An occasional chair was done in blue figured material and a pad of the same color used in another chair. A table made by the girls, a refinished piano, and well arranged pictures completed the furnishings.

A bedroom was re-done in a similar manner. Another bedroom and the dining room and kitchen were remodeled last year and the Misses Fish now plan to complete improvements by repainting and papering the other bedroom. They have done all of their planning and all of the work except the floor.

LIBRARY NOTES

"I've Been to London," eventful and charming, passionate and wise, a novel of today's youth and the gay international set, is definitely the finest work done by Temple Bailey, author of "Dim Lantern," "Wild Wind," and a dozen other glamorous best sellers. With the theme of "The soul cannot live without sorrow," written by a great modern poet, Miss Bailey has written the story of two lovely sisters as different from each other as giving and taking, but alike in wanting love.

How they found it makes this one of the most dramatic novels ever written by this famous author.

Temple Bailey writes much in the same vein as Faith Baldwin and Kathleen Norris, and her novels are as widely read as theirs, having a special distinction and style all their own.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly meeting of the Crowell Rotary Club was held at O'Connell's Lunch Room Tuesday at noon. The program was in charge of J. A. Stovall and included talks by Misses Frances Hill and Mildred Cogdell relative to Mexico City where they spent the summer attending school.

Nocona Game

Crowell, Texas, September 15, 1938

Claude Brooks, a former Crowell resident, has returned to this city with his wife and small daughter, Elaine, after an absence of five years, most of this time being spent in McLean where he was engaged in the cleaning and pressing business.

Mr. Brooks accepted a position last week in the alteration department of the B. & W. Man's Shop and the family has moved to Crowell and now located at the home of Mrs. Brooks' mother, Mrs. B. F. Ringgold.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and daughter resided in Vernon during the summer months where he was engaged in the ice cream business. During 1927 and 1929 Mr. Brooks operated a cleaning and pressing shop in Crowell, moving from here to McLean.

Many Crowell fans are pleased to accompany the Wildcats to Nocona. A bus will carry many individual cars will make the so the Wildcats will have backing from loyal fans though they will be playing their own district.

Interest in Eclipses of Sun

Eclipses of the sun have always interested man, and years ago filled him with terror. When Norway's great St. Olaf died in battle in 1030 a total eclipse followed. Peasants thought surely it was a manifestation of God's wrath.

Disinfectant for Home Use

A good disinfectant for the kitchen sink is made by mixing two tablespoons of soda, a teaspoonful of ammonia and a gallon of boiling water. Pour down the sink while solution is still very hot.
