Mr. Fletcher was away for several days last week and his war garden is badly demoralized. It is supposed that some of the widows called during his absence.

A touring car containing a gent and lady of color and several picnicians stalled in front of the postoffice and Bro. Dunn and several other patriotic citizens put their shoulders to the wheel and pushed them out of town. That is right, while the coons are fighting our battles we should treat them as citizens, and yet the colored ladies of Fort Worth are not allowed to vote in the primaries.

Bro. Ayers comes to town on Sunday nights and leaves his horse tied to the rack until near morning. He should be prosecuted for cruelty to dumb brutes and possibly for other violations of the law. The curfew law should be enforced.

Bro. Gattis has taken a ten days' leave of absence to attend the school at Georgetown and Ed Taylor is attending to his business here during his absence.

Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Monroe called on Mr. Wesley on Monday, but they found that Mrs. Wesley had returned. Don't buy any more coal until after the 25th. We want to get that raise of one dollar per ton after that date.

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns or calluses so they lift off with fingers

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freezone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freezone tell him to order a small bottle for you.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, give fruit laxative at once

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." 54

EAST FROM THE MORMON MECCA OVER THE MOUNTAINS
With our present knowledge of the Mormon people, we are willing to grant them any religious or political right we claim for ourselves, yet we have no more reverence for a nineteenth century superstition than for an older one. Brigham Young was in some respects a nineteenth century Solomon, yet could not bring the entire church to the acceptance of his "Celestial law of marriage," hence the church was divided into two branches.

The Utah valley which includes the Provo valley, is better on an average than Salt Lake. Provo was a beautiful city with an abundance of fine water, and at that time it ranked third among the cities of Utah. What is known as the Provo Bench was a choice peach country, trees that year were loaded with fine fruit. Thousands of cattle in another part of the valley but it was too wet for general farming, but afforded a bountiful supply of grass. Utan Lake, quite a large body of water, the Jordan river gives it connection with Great Salt Lake, but they have no connection with the ocean. We crossed the Wasatch Mountain through Spanish Forks canon, on the south side gangs of men were constructing a large ditch to carry the surplus water of Strawberry valley over into Utah valley, a large mountain had to be tunneled for this purpose. This water was expected to irrigate 12,000 acres of land. Uncle Sam was having this work done, the owners of the land were to pay $40 per acre in annual payments of four dollars without interest, a splendid way for Uncle Sam to help the poor man with no loss in the end. The D. & R. G. is through this pass and three engines are used on most trains until Soldier Summit is reached. The railroad has a fine double track through the pass. After going over the top our trouble began. We were in a very thinly settled country with roads as nature had made them and as she was liable to change them every time it rained, we were compelled to modify them often. One place we were compelled to dig gravel out of the bed of a creek, then get on top of the railroad bridge and tramp the top of our wagon in order to pass under the bridge. We broke our wagon reach several times in going into deep gulches and finally had to splice it with an old cycle bar purchased from a ranchman. Forging Price river at flood time was one of the most dangerous experiences of the trip. The water was thick with mud and the women and myself walked the railroad bridge after the wagons were safe on the east side. The first wagon was taken across in good shape, but our wagon drifted a little, the mules got into a hole where the water went over their backs, the wagon was finally landed box full of water thick as cream, nothing lost but wagon wrench. Samantha had a worse job than cleaning house after a Foard County dust storm.

At Desert, a railroad station that had been left to the bats, we found an old wrench and shovel that had been left when the station was abandoned. We borrowed them. This was the only material of any kind taken on the two years trip to which we had not a legal right, and offered to surrender them to the Railroad Co. later on.

At Green River we crossed on a home-made ferry boat the Green river. Solitude was the second station on the railroad from the river and very appropriate for the surrounding country. From Cisco we took what was called the prairie road following near what had one time had been a narrow gauge railroad, part of the grade and old ties all that were left, the latter came in good play as we were obliged to build bridges across deep ditches some of them twenty feet deep. The valley with deep rich soil had been washed in every direction. We were in a desert country where it was necessary to carry water. Relics just how hard we want to win this war. That's the day our government has officially set for us to purchase War Savings Stamps.

On June 28 every man, woman and child in the United States will be called upon to pledge his or her full quota of War Savings Stamp purchases for 1918.

You will be expected to pledge the full amount that you can afford--no more--but by the same token, no less.

of buildings and fences told of a time when many had tried to make a home in this desert country where there was no water to irrigate with. We passed over three places where there had once been towns; sage brush and salt weed and scattered cedar on the mountain side, the only vegetation. There was occasionally a ranch in the distance near the mountains where water could be found. The stockman in that country lead a lonely life, yet all with whom we talked seemed to like it. The first town on our road in Colorado had a very large new hotel and several fine houses. Hundreds of car loads of asphalt in sacks was corded up there waiting shipment east. They claimed almost unlimited quantities in the mountains north of this place. Here we found good roads and for the first time in three months our wagon fit the road. At Fruita we are again in a farming country, the valley of Grand River in Colorado. At that time this valley was badly cut up with deep washouts. It was taking $100 per acre in many places to put farms in shape for irrigation. Some very choice land, much doxy, and some fearful rocky. The boom in that part of the valley in its infancy. The unimproved land was $50 to $100 per acre, then you could fill up the ditches, pay for water right, and in most cases get a supply of alkali water. This you could filter into cistern or take from ditch. The city of Fruita went 37 miles and piped in the mountain water at an expense of $100,000, giving them very good water for house use. Fruit raising was the main stay as a money crop, and late frost often got that. Near Grand Junction the valley was wider and prices of land soaring. We camped three days, cut two feet off our house and had less trouble from broken reach, spent part of the time listening to the big stories about what could be grown on one acre. Some land was selling for from $500 to $800 per acre and some would say it was a rich investment at that. They tried to keep every one still about the poor water and mosquitoes that bit five months if the year. Taking all things into consideration we believe the following words of a leading business man were true: "We have a very fair valley if the liars could be driven out or killed off." We have witnessed fictitious booms in many different places but cannot recall one that was a real benefit in the end. Wild oats whether sown by the individual or the community must be reaped, the harvest may be staved off a little time, but come it must. The year after we were there some land at Palisades sold from $2,000 to $3,000 per acre, with fruit trees at bearing age. In 1916 the boom bubble burst and land values dropped nearly one half. We missed a good meeting at Grand Junction because we did not know that the Methodist State Conference was in session there. We took in the Salvation Army meeting, then at night listened to the harangue of a man that boasted of having been a cow-boy most of his life. The time was mostly spent in relishing out of date lies, about the "Author Hero" of the American revolution. The man who said and proved by his life, "The world is my country, and to do my religion." As we drove on up this valley it was thickly settled and the finest sight ever witnessed for fruit on trees, apples so thick on trees that all large limbs had props under them. They were in luck that year, as the apple crop was light in most places. Fruit companies were offering five cents per pound for Johnathan and kindred varieties. "Thus it is over all the earth. That which we call the fairest. And prize for its surpassing worth, Is always rarest."

The battle of the Marne appears to be the battle of the Marine.

The woman who can can and will can is helping to win the war.

Deep grief and enduring pride enter American homes with the casualty lists.

There is nothing selfish about the United States, even if she did have an eclipse all to herself a few days ago.

If you cannot get your favorite brand of tobacco, just think how those war-worn boys in the trenches are enjoying its flavor.

629 new ships were built in America during the first five months of this year. "We have our ships a-sailing, a-sailing on the sea."

The American brand of courage has a strong infusion of gayety. Witness our boys who advanced to battle at Veully with their helmets bedecked with poppies.

America is thrilled by the exploits of her troops on the Marne. She will keep her enthusiastic feelings, and after the war is over will tell them to the marines.

The German generals have often set dates when they will dine in Paris. But it is not reported that the Paris restaurants are laying in any supplies of sausages or sauerkraut.

Between the requirements of more wheat for the allies and more money to support the army Uncle Sam must continue to tighten his belt and loosen the straps of his pocketbook.

A war savings stamp is the only thing you can buy with the utter certainty that it will be better in five years than it was the day you bought it.

During the last two weeks the college graduate in his commencement address has been busy informing the world how campaigns should be conducted and how governments should be financed.

The other day the Woman's Suffrage question bobbed up serenely again in the Senate. It submerges for long periods and then surprises every one by coming to the surface. But the American craft has never carried explosives on board.

The beautiful cup which the Kaiser awarded to the American winner of his yacht race has turned out to be not gold, but pewter. The golden prizes with which he dazzled the eyes of the German people will all prove to be equally deceptive.

There is a small sheet published at Fort Worth called the Farm Educator, which seems to be a Crudgington organ and a Marvin Jones anti-organ. This paper is evidently edited by Mr. Crudgington or his friends or both in the interest of his campaign, and it never fails to flay Jones. The latter gets it up one side and down the other until he is hardly recognizable when the paper gets through with him. It charges Jones with all kinds of disloyalty to the administration and therefore claims him to be unfit to represent this district in the halls of Congress. If those claims are true, that is that Jones is not loyal to the Government and opposes its war

Keep Food Without Ice

Don't let milk, butter, meat, vegetables and other food spoil in hot weather for lack of ice. In an Atlas Iceless Refrigerator, food which would otherwise have to be thrown away will keep for 24 hours or more, thus cutting down your living expenses and conserving the food supply of the Nation.

It cools by the evaporation of water on the curtain and will maintain a cool even temperature during the hottest weather. Thoroughly ventilated, sanitary and easy to keep clean. No trouble at all to take care of—just fill the water tank once a day. Nothing to wear out or get out of order. Will pay for itself many times over in one summer.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

If, after thirty days' trial, you are not absolutely satisfied with your Atlas Iceless Refrigerator, return it to us and we will refund every cent you paid us for it. Could any proposition be fairer?

To Folks Who Now Use Ice

Ice will be scarce and high priced this summer, because it is made with ammonia, and ammonia is used in making munitions. With an Atlas Iceless Refrigerator you can cut your ice bill as low as you wish, and at the same time help save ammonia for war purposes.

Ask Your Dealer

The Atlas Iceless Refrigerator is handsomely finished with a genuine aluminum coating and will be an ornament to any pantry or porch. The curtain is of strong white cloth.

To show you the Atlas Iceless Refrigerator and explain how it works and how easy it is to take care of. Better act quickly as the hot weather is now here. And remember that it will not cost you a cent if, at the end of thirty days' trial, you are not entirely satisfied.

measures, then the Government acted mighty foolish in sending him out in the interest of the Third Liberty Loan campaign. Our people heard him speak in the interest of that campaign and so far as we have learned no one ever detected a trace of disloyalty in a single utterance and did not really know that he was of that stripe until Mr. Crudgington told it. No unjust charges should be made against any man, and really not because Mr. Crudgington makes these should be treated in like manner, but should be dealt with honestly and fairly. Mr. Crudgington appears to be a splendid man, and he has many good friends who will no doubt support him, but a candid survey of the situation would lead one to think he has fallen into bad company and will suffer political ruin as a result.

The President has spoken. To all Americans, to every Texan, he has pointed out the National necessity of intelligent economy, the need for frugality in personal expenditure. Upon all he has urged the daily practice of the war savings lesson through the medium of War Savings Stamps. By proclamation he has set aside June 28 as National War Savings Day and has authoritatively summoned every man and woman to make before or on that day his maximum pledge in War Savings Stamps to the United States Government.

The summons of the Federal Government, directing attendance upon pledge meetings to be held in every school district in this county June 28, will soon be received by the adult males and females of this subdivision. Before the time comes to sign the Federal War Savings Stamp pledge card, which will be furnished every summoned person, each individual should definitely ascertain the greatest amount of money he can save and invest this year in War Savings Stamps. The time has come to pledge the President our investment in War Savings Stamps, there should be no individual in this county who will pledge less than his full limit. The response of our people in the actual pledging and investment in War Savings Stamps, wealth of the individual considered, will be the measure of our patriotism, the degree of our loyalty, the concrete expression of our respect for that great man who sits silently in the White House at Washington and directs so wisely and so well the destinies of the United States.

This county—your county and mine, your home and mine, must not fail the President. In the meantime, let's get busy and insure ourselves by getting as many members for the Limit Club—owners of $1,000 worth of War Savings Stamps—as we can. Malakoff, a little town of 750 people in Henderson County, has thirty-three Limit Club members—a matter of $33,000. Now let's figure out how well we can do with our Limit Club.

Let's put the old county over the fence before June 28, National War Savings Day. Make your War Savings Stamp pledge the limit today and hand it to the County Chairman of War Savings. Be sure, however, that you attend the Government meeting June 28 and reaffirm your pledge on the official Federal pledge card.

If you expect to be able to look the rest of the Americans in the face be certain that you don't make a fourth War Savings Stamp pledge when your conscience and your knowledge of your own affairs tell you can pledge $100 or $1,000.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of armless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. Keep Well

Do not allow the poisons of undigested food to accumulate in your bowels, where they are absorbed into your system. Indigestion, constipation, headache, bad blood, and numerous other troubles are bound to follow. Keep your system clean, as thousands of others do, by taking an occasional dose of the old, reliable, vegetable, family liver medicine.

Mrs. W. F. Pickle, of Rising Fawn, Ga., writes: "We have used Thedford's Black-Draught as a family medicine. My mother-in-law could not take calomel as it seemed too strong for her, so she used Black-Draught as a mild laxative and liver regulator. We use it in the family and believe it is the best medicine for the liver made." Try it. Insist on the genuine—Thedford's, 25c a pack, age. E-75

"GERMAN EFFICIENCY"

Occasionally we still hear reference to the much vaunted "German efficiency." These references come mostly from either positive pro-German sympathizers or from timid souls who throw a fit whenever "this dreadful war" is mentioned. People of intelligence have long ago learned to estimate this efficiency at its true value, and have ceased to stand in awe of it. The efficiency of Germany is purely an efficiency of constant application. Her present militant condition is the result of a lifetime of unremitting attention to every conceivable angle of the game of war. While the other nations of the earth were quietly pursuing the paths of peace, Germany was straining every nerve and devoting all her accumulations of men and means to the task of creating an army and armament before which the world would find it impossible to stand. During most of this time she was hypocritically participating in the Hague conferences and proposing the total disarmament of all nations, but in the light of recent developments we know that during all this discussion her war preparations were never slackened.

Even Germany's efficiency in the arts and sciences has been made to serve the dread Moloch of War. In extending her influence among the nations of the earth in these branches, she has been for years building "spheres of influence"—in other words, nests of spies and potential traitors against the day when their services should be needed by the fatherland.

Yes, Germany has efficiency—Efficiency in cold-blooded assassination, evidenced by the brutal destruction of vessels by her sea vipers, when even women and children attempting to escape in open boats have been shelled, mangled and sunk; evidenced by her wanton destruction of civilian life by her airplanes and Zeppelins; evidenced by the deliberate murder of prisoners of war who, by all the laws of nations, should have received honorable and humane treatment.

Efficiency in perfidy, as witnessed in her rape of Belgium, for no other reason than that she stood between a brutal tyrant and his intended victim; evidenced by her attempt to array other nations against our own country, at the same time her representative to our capital was shedding crocodile tears over his forced departure and separation from his "dear friends in America"—doubtless he took with him for the perusal of his butcher master full proofs of his treachery while enjoying our hospitality and esteem.

The Germany of other days was noted for efficiency, but that efficiency has been prostituted to most ignoble ends.

God save us from such efficiency.

OVERSEAS CASUALTIES TO DATE ARE 8,085

Washington, June 16.—Seven hundred and seventy casualties reported among the American expeditionary forces during the week ending today brought the total since American troops first landed in France nearly a year ago to 8,085.

The second weekly summary of casualties issued today by the War Department shows that the total number of deaths from all cause is 3,192, while 4,547 men have been wounded in action and 346 are missing in action, including all men held prisoners in Germany.

The summary, which includes today's list follows:

Killed in action (including 291 at sea) 1,172.
 Died of wounds 364.
 Died of disease 1,234.
 Died of accident and other causes 422.

Wounded in action 4,547.
 Missing in action (including prisoners) 346.
 Total casualties reported to date 8,085.

With more than 800,000 soldiers sent overseas, officials pointed to the small number, 291, lost through operations of German submarines, as showing the effectiveness of the convoy system. The men lost were on the torpedoed British steamers Tuscania and Moldavia. The former was taking troops from America to England and the latter from England to France.

The comparatively small number of men dying from wounds is pointed to as indicating the efficiency of the ambulance and hospital systems, while the fact that only 1,234 men have died of disease is accepted as proof of the excellent physical condition of America's fighting men.

Another satisfying consideration is that of the wounded men a very high percentage return to duty at the front in less than six weeks.

MRS. LINAM HAS GAINED 27 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC

"I Now Enjoy Better Health Than I Have in Years," She Declares

"I now enjoy better health than I have in years and I can't refrain from letting my friends and others know how thankful I am for what Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. E. M. Linam of 2310 Chester street, Little Rock, Ark., recently, in one of the most remarkable statements yet published in connection with the "Master Medicine."

"In the winter of 1916," Mrs. Linam continued, "I was taken with a severe cold and all the winter I continued to go down. I had no appetite, kept losing weight and in March was completely broken down. I couldn't sleep for coughing and had to sit up in bed most all night. I was extremely nervous and weak, felt tired all the time and everything I ate soured on my stomach. I fell off nineteen pounds in seven weeks and was getting worse so rapidly that my family and friends, as well as myself, saw no hope of my recovery.

"My husband brought home a bottle of Tanlac in June, 1916, and after I took about half of it I began to eat and my food stopped souring on my stomach. After finishing my first bottle I could eat anything at any time without it hurting me in the least. At the end of my third week I had gained five and one half pounds and had improved until I was able to take a trip to Texas. My husband sent me my Tanlac by mail and I kept taking it and picking up from three to four pounds every week until all my troubles were gone and my weight was increased from one hundred and thirteen pounds to one hundred and forty—making an actual gain of twenty-seven pounds. I don't only give Tanlac credit for my splendid condition, but I really believe it has saved my life, and my family and friends all agree with me."

Tanlac is sold in Crowell by the Owl Drug Store and in Thalia by Long Bros.

DANGERS OF OVERCONFIDENCE

No greater calamity could overtake this country than for our people to become possessed of the erroneous belief that the war is as good as won, and that further strenuous exertion is unnecessary.

The war is not won, and unless all indications are misleading, is not likely to be won soon. The forces contending for victory are far too evenly matched for either to obtain any decided victory.

Every man, woman and child in this country should nerve themselves, constantly remind themselves that their utmost exertion and sacrifice is imperatively demanded. Any other attitude must result in a weakening of the will to win, and a consequent slackening of effort—and these at this stage of affairs would be fatal to our cause.

Of course it is barely possible that some fortunate circumstance may befall to throw victory to our arms, but this is extremely unlikely until we have greatly increased our strength on the fighting front.

So let us reach out after four or five millions of fighting men, put them on the front and then sustain them. It must not be said that America a nation that has never yet done things by halves, has now taken up the practice. We will have peace when our arms enforce it—not before.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make this beauty lotion for a few cents and see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smooth and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons. 99

WISH TO CONTROL CEMETERY

Foreigners in Rome Urge Italian Government to Take Over Burial Ground Owned by Germany.

War has drawn attention to the fact that the great Protestant cemetery in Rome, where are buried many distinguished foreigners including the poets, Keats and Shelley, is the property of the German government, and the rentals for plots therein are still paid to German agents.

More than a century ago Prussia was the only non-Roman Catholic power represented at the Vatican. Therefore, it was Prussia which obtained the concession for a cemetery to be used for the bodies of those not of the Roman faith, and the property still remains in the hands of the German government.

Prominent foreigners now are urging that the Italian government should take over the cemetery and place it under British protection.

The Serious Side.

The summer is past, the harvest at its end. What have you to show for your work? The days speed quickly, and "going to do it tomorrow" does not get deeds done. "Work today," "do it now" are trite mottoes, but useful admonition.

Cloudy and chilly days come occasionally, reminding one that another season is at its close. What have you gained from your summer days? Is your body stronger, your mind fuller of stored knowledge, your soul grown to wider appreciation of the true things of life? Are you more human, more charitable? Have you a better understanding of the rights and needs of men? What memories have you stored up for future reflection during the long winter nights?

Recreation and entertainment have their rightful place in life, but serious thought must fill the mind or one will not grow. Not to advance means decay, death. To be ever growing is a necessity through life. But to advance, time must be given to the higher things in life. To what end are you speeding? What are your aims, your purposes?—Milwaukee Journal.

Standing Back of the Government
Next to dishonor, war is the greatest calamity that can befall a nation. We are now beginning to realize how far-reaching its effects are. It is not too much to affirm that the war affects to some degree the condition of life for every man, woman and child in the country. From the loss of life itself the sacrifice runs all the way down the scale to a slight deprivation of comfort or luxury.

But for every wide-spread disaster there is usually a small modicum of good to place in the other side of the balance. It may not apparently make a hair's weight of difference against the ill, but it is there and perceptible if we look for it. What have we of good to set against the evils of war?

Our answer would be, Greater National unity. A year ago we were for the most part a country of individuals, individual communities, individual states. Men were pursuing their own objects, communities were not looking beyond their own improvements, states were caring for their own people.

Now all horizons are broadened. When a man sees his son or his neighbor's son going forth to war, his thought involuntarily goes out to the environment of that boy, the conditions he will meet, and the Government which provides or regulates them. He realizes that the government will have to provide these boys with the simple necessities, food, clothing and shelter. It will also have to provide them with training, transportation, weapons, artillery and aircraft for their protection, medical services and hospitals for their care, and a hundred other essentials. And the man also begins to realize that it is up to him in his individual capacity to stand back of the government, to take his part in providing these absolutely necessary things in his own rightful proportion, either from his abundance or from his bare sufficiency.

And we need only to see the banners of the Third Liberty Loan in the windows of homes throughout the land to understand how magnificently the individuals have risen to their duty and their opportunity. Everywhere in the homes of the rich and the homes of the poor alike the banners signal proudly:—"I have given as I can to the call of the nation. It is my nation and I am with it heart and soul in the hour of its need."

We cannot estimate the aggregate sacrifices which this splendid showing has required. In many cases it meant the giving up of comforts, perhaps of cherished plans. But each man who has subscribed for his bond or bonds feels that he is a component part of his country, that he stands or falls with it, and that it is a country worthy of his sacrifice. He is in harmony of feeling with his neighbor, his community, his state and his nation.

Keep Faith With Your Boy "Over There"

When your boy was so little that all the world was a foreign country to him, he trusted you to take care of him.

You sent that boy to school and to play and on your little errands, and with implicit faith he did your bidding.

Now we have sent your boy or your neighbor's boy out into a foreign land, into terrors that we cannot even know--and his faith has not faltered. He knows we will do our part, and we know he will do his.

Are we keeping the faith? Are we scrimping and saving and giving to help our boys do the thing that humanity has asked of them, and to help them come back to us sane and whole?

June 28th

Saving to help our sons is not to be called by the ugly name of duty or sacrifice. It is love's blessed privilege.
