Foard Pioneers

MR. AND MRS. MEASON

TWO OF FOARD'S FIRST SETTLERS ON VISIT HERE

"I am proud of the fact that I was one of the very first to come to this section, but one of my greatest regrets is that I was also one of the first to leave it," stated J. R. Meason of Big Sandy, Texas, who with his wife is here for a visit of a month in the home of their son, Frank Meason, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Meason came to what is now Foard County in a covered wagon in Dec., 1886, and settled on a section of land on Good Creek, about 8 miles west of the site that later became Crowell. They lived in a tent until Mr. Meason and his brother, Ben Meason, who is still a resident of this city, and a brother-in-law, J. W. Moore, completed a dug-out.

All came here together with the J. R. Meason family, which included four children at that time, from Dallas County. Mr. Meason and family lived on that place about 10 years. After losing it by virtue of old claims, they moved to Crowell in the late 90's and Mr. Meason worked for a number of years in the general merchandise store of M. F. Thacker.

Early Postmaster

After serving two years as Crowell postmaster, Mr. and Mrs. Meason moved to Big Sandy, Texas, in July, 1904, and have since made that place their home, although they have visited here most every year since that time.

Mr. Meason remained active as a merchant and as a farmer there until last October, when he retired from the dairy business. "I can't say enough good things about Foard County," stated Mr. Meason, "and it seems that I have improved in health by the hour since I got back here for this visit."

Early Reader of News

Mr. Meason has been a subscriber to The Foard County News ever since it was established in 1892 and states that he would have gone without many things before going without it.

In recounting the early history of this section, Mr. Meason makes special reference to the remarkable crops that he and his brother, Ben, harvested in 1891. About 12 acres of land that year produced one hundred bushels of fine oats to the acre. The crop was sowed on land that had never been cultivated and was then turned under with a walking plow. A harrow, made principally from mesquite brush, was used to level the soil.

Three Foard pioneers, who have since passed away, helped harvest the crop. J. A. Wright rode the binder in cutting the oats, R. P. Womack and H. T. Kenner helped thresh the crop with their horse-powered threshers. Excellent yields from wheat, corn, maize and kafir were also made that year.

Born in Missouri

Both Mr. and Mrs. Meason were born in the same section of Missouri, although they were married in Dallas County, Texas. Mr. Meason was born on Dec. 31, 1854, in Monroe County and Mrs. Meason, whose maiden name was E. Christian, was born in Shelby, an Operations are now underway in Foard County preparatory to drilling two new oil tests, one about five and one-half miles north of Crowell and the other in the Texaco field on the L. K. Johnson ranch, about 18 miles airline distance west of Crowell.

Work was started Tuesday in hauling machinery to the location for the test north of Crowell to be made by James Blair Baker, Jr., independent oil operator of Wichita Falls. This test is located on the J. W. Beverly place. It is about one mile west from a point five miles north on Highway No. 16. It is about one-half mile west of the corner where the old highway right-of-way first turned east.

Its actual location is 660 feet north and 660 feet west of the southeast corner of fractional section No. 469, Block "A," H. & T. C. Ry. Survey.

This test will be at about the center of the six thousand acre block that Mr. Baker formed here a few months ago, with the assistance of J. R. Beverly.

Work of mapping the geological structure of this block was completed early in April by A. V. Jones and H. R. Stasney, geologists of Albany. The block covers what is considered one of the most outstanding structures in West Texas. It has been mapped by various major companies and the land in the block has been leased a number of times in the past several years, however, the structure has never been properly tested.

The contracted depth of the new test is 3,650 feet and with it, Mr. Baker expects to test the upper formations and especially the "top of canyon" formation of the structure, which geologists state is the same from which the Texas Company's Johnson No. 3 and Johnson No. 4 are producing in the west part of the county.

Although some tests have been drilled in this general area, the block has never been properly tested. In 1919 the Mid-Continent Exploration Corporation drilled to a depth of 2,300 feet on the Tom Beverly farm, but stopped operations as a result of the hole being ruined. The location of that old test is about one mile east and one-half mile south of the location for the new test.

Other tests also drilled in this area in past years were the Hlavaty well by the Texas Company, east of the Baker block, and the test by the Texas Company on the J. J. McCoy farm at the southwest edge of the block.

A standard rig will be used in drilling this test.

Johnson No. 5 Test

The all-electric rotary rig used in drilling the Texas Company's Johnson No. 4, about 18 miles airline distance west of Crowell, is now being placed over the location for the Johnson No. 5 and drilling operations on it are expected to start within a short time.

The new location is in the same section, No. 36, Block "L," S. P. Ry. Survey, from which No. 3 and No. 4 are now producing. It is about one thousand feet north of the Texas Company's natural gasoline plant, No. 3 is 1,000 feet east of the plant and No. 4 is 1,000 feet west of it.

No. 4 was brought in on May 29. The total allowable of 1,200 barrels of oil daily from No. 3 and No. 4 is now being turned into the Gulf pipeline, that passes within about a half mile from the plant. The allowable for No. 3 was 750 barrels daily. The allowable for the two wells is 1,200 barrels. For the next three wells an increase of 300 barrels daily per well will be allowed.

MEETING ENDS SUN. NIGHT AT LOCAL CHURCH

The revival of two weeks that is now in progress at the Christian Church will come to a close Sunday evening. Rev. Paul J. Merrill, pastor, is conducting the services and is bringing excellent and inspirational messages at each service.

Those who have not yet attended the revival are extended an urgent invitation to do so. There will be services tonight, Saturday night, Sunday morning and Sunday evening. No services will be held Friday night as a result of the daily vacation Bible school program at the Methodist Church.

HAIL DESTROYS CROPS IN BLACK COMMUNITY

One of Foard County's most destructive hails in years struck here Monday night at about 9:30 o'clock and resulted in great damage in the Black community.

The hail grew lighter as it reached Crowell and played out a few miles to the southeast. The rain accompanying it at Crowell measured .85 of an inch.

Row crops and several hundred acres of wheat were almost completely wiped out in an area 3 miles north and south and 2 1/2 miles east and west, centering about the Black school house.

Farmers suffering great damage were: C. C. Martin, J. R. Hanks, Walter Nichols, Grover Nichols, Elbin Penchack, S. W. Gentry, C. O. Nichols, Earl Bryant, Clint Simmons, Joe Mynar, Milton Hunter, John Nichols, M. A. Huckle, W. D. Stubblefield, Jim Gamble, C. D. Hall, Leonard Boyd, Phillip Hale, Paul Clifford, Gordon Cooper, Mrs. Joseph Pechack, John Carter, S. E. Tate and possibly others that The News has not learned of. Severe damage to over 100 acres of barley was suffered by J. W. Allison. The east side of the J. J. McCoy farm was struck by the heavy hail.

The destructive force had a tendency to lift at some points in its path. Hail stones as large as hen eggs were reported by a number of farmers. Considerable damage to house tops and other property was also suffered. Rain accompanying the hail in the area damaged the most was estimated at more than one inch, however, it came in such a manner as to pack the ground and was of no great benefit.

The principal part of the acreage in the heavily damaged area consisted of cotton and row crops, practically all of which will have to be replanted, although there is a possibility that some feed crops will come out.

Claude Nichols stated that the hail was the worst that he could remember in that community in twenty-five years.

Damage estimated from 5 to 15 per cent came to wheat crops in the immediate vicinity of Crowell. It is believed that the hail cut about 7,500 bushels of wheat from Foard's 1934 crop.

An extra strong wind accompanied by hail and rain caused damage to many trees. It also blew in the 16x11 plate glass window of Griffith Motor Company, next to the post office.

Consequently, the new ruling means that corn-hog and wheat contract signers may plant their contracted or rented acres for grazing or for hay to any crop except corn and grain sorghums. For instance, sudan grass or cowpeas, previously prohibited on these acres, may now be planted on rented acres and used as roughness or grazed.

Attention is specifically called to the fact that these modifications permitting wider plantings and use of forage and pasture crops do not apply to the cotton program. Rented cotton acres cannot be used except as needed for living at home, other land not being available, or for soil enriching crops, or for reforestation, or for wild life refuges.

ROOM CONTEST IN FOARD WON BY MRS. LILLY

Mrs. John Lilly of the Foard City Home Demonstration Club took first place in the women's division of the Foard County bedroom improvement contest, according to announcement made Monday by the judge, Miss Mildred Cogdell.

Second place was won by Mrs. H. E. Gloyne of the West Rayland Club and third place was taken by Mrs. C. T. Murphy of Margaret.

Miss Cogdell complimented all entries very highly, stating they were unusually good.

Appropriate prizes for the winners will be furnished by the County Home Demonstration Council through a fund set aside for this purpose.

Details concerning the two winning entries may be found in the regular H. D. Club section of The News.

In the girls' room contest the winners, in their respective order, were named as follows: Geraldine Rhea of West Rayland, Melba Lee Blair of Vivian, Lorene Washburn of Margaret and Maurice Bagley of Ayersville.

In the women's contest last year, Mrs. I. W. Middlebrook of Margaret and Mrs. Blake McDaniel won first and second, respectively.

County judging is final for the women's rooms, however, Miss Rhea's room will be judged soon in district competition, after which the district winner will be judged in the state contest.

In 1932, Miss Alice Hunter of the Margaret Club won fifth place in the State 4-H bedroom contest after taking first in the county and district.

to Caravan From Quanaah Visited in Crowell Wednesday

About forty Quanaah citizens, including a 17-piece band, composed a caravan that visited Crowell Wednesday to advertise the new rodeo, barbecue and old time reunion that will be held in Quanaah on July 4th.

The visitors arrived here at 12:30 and after taking lunch at local cafes, a brief program was given on the west side of the square, including several band performances.

A welcoming address was given by S. Henry, who introduced Mr. Brazil of Quanaah. Mr. Brazil stated the purpose of the visit and extended a cordial invitation to the people of Crowell and Foard County to attend the celebration.

Everything was free. The band also invited local riders and musicians to compete for cash prizes in rodeo contests. The celebration will be staged at the Athletic Field just east of Quanaah, from Crowell the caravan left Paducah. After the visit there was to make stops at Swearingen, Lazare, earlier in the day it visited Chillicothe, Odell, Vernon and Thalia. The previous day it visited Childress and points in Oklahoma.

For District Judge

To the Voters of the 46th Judicial District:

Requests have been made to the chairmen of the Democratic executive committees of the three counties composing the 46th Judicial District, that my name be placed upon the official ballot of the Democratic primary election to be held July 28th, 1934, for the nomination to the office of district judge of said district.

I made the race for this office four years ago, and many have solicited me to again enter the race this year. It is my opinion that this office should be free from politics; that the judge elected should have the confidence of all the people, without which he cannot hope to render the service that should be rendered, but the people should have the right and privilege of selecting the candidate for the office they prefer, and this right would be denied them unless those eligible under the law offer themselves as candidates; in respect to these requests I announce as a candidate for the nomination for the office, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, standing alone on my own merits. I shall leave the matter to the good judgment of the voters.

If they conclude that I can discharge the duties of the office, and that I otherwise merit their confidence, I assure you that no one will appreciate your vote more than I. I trust that nothing will enter the campaign that would tend to lower the dignity of the office. I shall not be a party to anything that would tend to drag the office into questionable issues that detract from it the respect that all should have.

If nominated and elected I want the confidence of all the people in the discharge of the duties of the office. I desire to sincerely thank all my friends for the support they gave me in my last race for this office, and trust that I still merit that confidence, and earnestly solicit the support of all, assuring you that I will discharge the duties of the office if elected, as to minimize the court expense to the taxpayers, yet see that justice is obtained, and in the administration of the laws I shall allow all necessary time for a full and complete hearing in all cases.

It is said, "Patience and Gravity of hearing is an essential part of justice," and no one will question the truth of this axiom. Attorneys are indispensable to the courts in the administration of justice. Their place in the court should never be questioned as long as they demean themselves within proper sphere, and few real lawyers ever step beyond their rights. I will try to see as many voters as possible, but will appreciate your support though I may not have the pleasure of meeting you. If elected I will give you the best service in discharging the duties of the office that my long experience in the practice of law will enable me to give, to the end that right may prevail.

We need something more definite than a promise from those offering themselves for office in the way of curtailment of expenses and reduction of the tax burden. We can save one-third of the expense of operating our district court, or a substantial part thereof, by reducing the terms of court in each county. Two terms of court in each county each year is now sufficient to properly take care of the business coming into such court.

We can, by reducing from felonies to misdemeanors, a good many offenses which properly belong to the misdemeanor class, and reduce the number of district courts by one-third. I believe, with misdemeanor penalties, comparable with the Federal statutes, for violation of the prohibition laws, we would have little or no trouble in enforcing these laws, and the expense necessary would be met by fines assessed against the offenders violating the law.

Then we could reduce almost one-half of our so-called felony offenses, such as theft of chickens, hogs, goats, sheep, etc., to misdemeanors with great savings. It is estimated that the trial of a felony case costs about $300.00 to try the same case as a misdemeanor the cost would not be $25.00, which in most instances, more effectively ends.

If we expect to save the homes left from exorbitant useless expenses, we must do something to make a start. The district judge has no authority to call the attention of the Legislature to such matters, has considerable weight in bringing about such reforms.

Respectfully,

Even though we came to Crowell in the midst of the depression three and one-half years ago, we have grown and we wish to express our appreciation for the patronage that has made this growth possible. Now that conditions are on the upward trend, we trust that we may continue to have your support and that of others whom we have not had the pleasure of serving in the past.

The depression has taught all of us that many of the cheaper things were really the costliest in the long run, but hundreds of people have learned that they can SAVE MONEY without sacrificing quality by using FALLS PRODUCTS.

NINE YEARS OF SERVICE

Although we have been in Crowell three and one-half years, The Falls Refining Co. was established nine years ago and has continually held to the policy of giving better products at no extra cost—backed by a guarantee of satisfaction to every customer on every deal we have with them.

We have grown as a result of this policy, the excellence of our products and their low cost and with our firm foundation of satisfactory service, together with our resources, we expect to continue to grow in the future.

SAM SPENCE IS CANDIDATE FOR U. S. CONGRESS

Sam B. Spence, now serving his third term as District Attorney of the 30th Judicial District which includes Wichita, Archer and Young counties issues his formal announcement as candidate for Congress from the 13th district...

My entry into the race for Congress as representative from the 13th congressional district is prompted by the firm conviction that, not only can I be of helpful service to my country and the people of this district but I can present my candidacy confident of the endorsement of a majority of the citizens of my present judicial district...

personal representative of every citizen of my district, my aim shall be to cast no reflection upon my district or upon my state, being so respected through intelligence and personality that I might render personal service to my constituents in any and all departments of our great government...

Agriculture, Oil and Cattle are the three chief industries of this district. My attention will be directed particularly to existing laws, pending legislation and sure and more definite plans that will once again stabilize and protect these industries.

Farming and Stock Raising I will advocate and support such laws as will stabilize the prices of the products of our largest industry, agriculture. The farmer has been the recipient of much legislation, his ails have been temporarily soothed by a vigorous and determined effort on the part of the administration...

Oil I favor continuing a tariff on oil sufficient to protect our local operators. Believing in the sovereignty of the individual states, state laws should govern when their industries do not effect interstate rights...

Chevrolet Dealer Attends Dallas Meet

A. W. Lilly of the Lilly Motor Co. returned last week from Dallas where he attended a big meeting and party held by Chevrolet Motor Company in celebration of their drastic price reduction, effective June 2nd.
 Mr. Lilly said he had never seen such optimism in the ranks of the Chevrolet organization since he has been connected with the Company. Mr. Felix Doran, Jr., Assistant General Sales Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company was in attendance and gave all the dealers and salesmen there an idea as to what a price reduction means to the public and to every one connected with Chevrolet Motor Company and the dealer organization. Mr. Doran said it would mean the savings of thousands of dollars to the retail purchaser. It means giving the public better values and cheaper transportation. It will mean increased volume throughout the United States and thousands of dollars of raw material will have to be purchased to meet this demand. It also means that hundreds of additional men will have to be employed by Chevrolet Motor Company.

PAY YOUR DELINQUENT TAXES BEFORE June 30th and SAVE!

Saturday, June 30, will probably offer you your last chance to make a big saving by paying your delinquent taxes. If delinquent County and State taxes are paid by that time NO INTEREST and only 6 per cent penalty will be charged.

After that the regular 10 per cent penalty and 6 per cent interest per annum from the time the taxes became delinquent will be charged.

EXAMPLE OF SAVING

If you had $100 taxes delinquent since 1924, $106 would settle the bill if paid before the end of the present month. If the month is allowed to pass, it would require $170 to get a tax receipt, plus, of course, the usual statutory costs.

Can you afford not to take advantage of this unusual—

Haney and Magee qualified for the first flight and were paired in the first round with the result that Haney won over Magee by default.

Edwards won his first match in the second flight over J. W. Douglas of Shamrock, 3 and 2.

Thomas drew a bye in the first round of the third flight.

The tournament will come to an end today. About 100 golfers have taken part in it. It started Monday.

Teague and two sons of McAlester, Okla., to Vernon at the time and were able to drive on to Vernon and return to Crowell in the damaged machine. Mrs. Teague and sons had been here to attend the funeral of their father and grandfather, S. E. Scales.

"Chilly" Experience

C. C. Fox, whose place adjoins town, had an accident last week which placed him in a very uncomfortable position and nearly resulted in the drowning of his daughter. Mr. Fox dropped his spectacles in his well and thinking that he saw them on the surface of the water, he proposed to his 10-year-old daughter that he would lower her down with the well rope to rescue them.

He tied the rope securely about the child and when about half way down, the rope parted and she fell into the water, which was six feet deep.

Realizing the child would drown, Mr. Fox jumped into the well and held her head above the water until assistance arrived. It was an easy matter for those present to pull the little one out, but they could not raise Mr. Fox. The nearest phone was called in requisition and assistance came from town and hauled the unfortunate man out.

Although neither Mr. Fox nor the child were hurt, they had a very chilly experience. He was obliged to hang onto the sides of the well for a half hour.

Franchise Granted

The city council has granted an electric light franchise to W. A. McSpadden of Cisco. Construction of the plant is to be begun within three months.

Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Meason, six of whom are living. They are: Mrs. R. L. Hightower of Farwell, Texas; Frank Meason of Crowell; Mrs. Tom Hazel of Lindale, Texas; Bill Meason of Longview; Millard Meason of Dallas. Another son, Roy Meason, who was adopted at the age of three weeks, also lives in Big Sandy. One child died in infancy. Two others met tragic deaths. Eugene, 7, drowning in Good Creek, and Richard, 3, burning to death while the family was on a visit in Dallas County. Another son, Tom Meason, died in Big Sandy in 1921. His wife now lives in Dallas.

Mr. Meason, known as "Uncle Jim" by most of his friends, comes from a family of six boys and four girls and of this number, he and Uncle Ben Meason of this city, are the only survivors.

Mrs. Meason originally had three sisters, four half-sisters and two half-brothers and of this number the following are living: one sister, Mrs. Alsie Butler of Meador, Texas; two half-sisters, Mrs. D. M. Yount of Crowell, and Mrs. L. D. Bowser of Dallas, and one half-brother, Jack Meason, of Roaring Springs, Texas.

THE BOOK
 ... the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," ... and which contains Four Great Treasures ...
 by BRUCE BARTON

AN UNKNOWN AUTHOR

When we say that Isaiah's own book ends with the magnificent poem, which concludes chapter 35, somebody raises an objection. "The book of Isaiah has sixty-six chapters," he says, "and how can it end at 35?" The answer is that beginning with chapter 40, this book has another author.

We do not know his name, nor why he took such great pains to conceal it. Following the exile one hundred years or more after the writing of Isaiah himself, there were some useful but rather commonplace prophecies of Haggai and Zachariah, whose messages helped on the work of rebuilding the temple, but who can not be called great men. But a truly great voice did speak out, the voice of this splendid Unknown, the author of the last chapters of the book which is all labeled with Isaiah's name.

He described himself as "the voice of a herald" crying, "Make straight in the desert a highway for our God." He called men to grade the roads, cutting down the hills and filling the valleys and preparing to go back to Zion. He does not name Isaiah nor refer to any king or event contemporary with him. On the contrary, these chapters were clearly written a hundred and fifty years later, in the time of Cyrus.

Thus saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him; . . . I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight. I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron:

And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I, the Lord, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.

Even though Cyrus was a heathen, he was God's Messiah for that event. Talk if you like about being broad-minded! Then think of the prejudices that prophet had to overcome to make such a declaration. And think what came of it: a new nation, a new and purer worship, a new epoch in the spiritual history of mankind.

Here is his vision for the rebuilding of Jerusalem: Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee!

For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

And this is his dream of a regenerate society and a peaceful world! a new heaven and earth, that is, a new theology and a new political economy.

Annual Christian Science Report Is Given at Boston

Boston, Mass., June 4.—Virtual completion of the new Christian Science Publishing House in Boston, Massachusetts, and gratitude to the Field for its loyal support which made this achievement possible, was the keynote at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., held here today.

Better and quicker healing, and closer unity in its demonstration, as well as greater concentration to the ideals set up by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, were impressed upon the "army of Christian Science workers," more than 6,000 strong, who attended this Annual Meeting. These workers are representatives of a field which extends to such remote points as Australia, South Africa, the Philippines, as well as England and many of the continental countries. Practically every state in the Union and many parts of Canada also are represented.

Announcement was made of the election of the following officers: President—Dr. John M. Brewer, of Cambridge, Mass.; Treasurer—Edward L. Ripley, of Brookline, Mass.; Clerk—Ezra W. Palmer, of Brookline, Mass. The new president of the Mother Church, Dr. John M. Brewer, is a native of Antioch, California. He graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1902. In 1916 he received the Ph. D. degree in education from Harvard University and became an instructor there. Two years were spent as head of the Department of Education of the Los Angeles State Normal School, after which he was appointed to the position he now holds, Associate Professor of Education, Graduate School of Education, Harvard University. Professor Brewer is author of several books on education. In connection with his professional work he has traveled extensively in Europe.

His first experience with Christian Science was through a healing in 1905. In 1909 he joined the Mother Church. In First Church of Christ, Scientist, Cambridge, Massachusetts, of which he is now a member, he has served as president, First Reader, and member of its Executive Board. He also belongs to Christian Science Organization of Harvard University.

The new president was introduced by Miss Mary G. Ewing, retiring president.

In his address, Professor Brewer pointed out three ways, among others, by which Christian Scientists "can help humanity to get along peaceably and harmoniously with each other, in family, village, town, community, state, nation, and world." First, "we can continue and improve our work of healing the sick and sinful, whether in our individual experience or in that of others who turn to us for help."

In the second place, the president declared, "we can contribute to the cause of democratic government and peace among nations by making full use of the good news published in the Christian Science Monitor. Daily we have before us an accurate picture of humanity's problems of living together, with an account of the proposals for solving them, and with accompanying editorial comment. More than this, we are now furnished with a magazine section of the Monitor, in which the Editorial

Lose Fat This Summer—Keep Cool—Look and Feel Younger

Mrs. Jessie Martin of San Francisco is happy because she has discovered the right, safe way to reduce—read her letter:

"I have taken Kruschen Salts a month and find great benefit. I have lost 14 lbs. in that time and would lose more if I stuck to a diet as I should. I take them every morning regular and hope others will profit by them as I have."

We have letters from men and women who have lost as much as 100 pounds of fat—from people who have reduced high blood pressure—from folks who have no more bloating or shortness of breath.

Kruschen helps stomach, liver, bowels to function properly—increases physical attractiveness all while losing unhealthy fat. Just take a half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—get it at drug-gists everywhere.

Leave that coat at home Sunday and come dressed for comfort. The preacher may leave his coat at home too. We need to be religious in the hot months as we do in the cool ones. One sermon Sunday at the eleven o'clock hour will be the only one we will worship with the Christian people at night. Remember our meeting in August and begin to pray for a renewed experience of the "warm heart" and a revitalized life lived in the spirit. Then may you have love enough to be vitally concerned about your friends finding your Christ.

Christian Science Churches

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 17.

The Golden Text is: "As birds fly, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it." (Isaiah 31:5.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said the Lord unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no." (Exodus 16:4.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ, Truth, gives mortals temporary food and clothing until the material, transformed with the ideal, disappears, and man is clothed and fed spiritually" (page 442.)

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

The Risen Lord and the Great Commission.

Lesson for June 17th, Matthew 28.

Golden Text: Matt. 28:19-20.

The Golden Text preclaims the Great Commission for the promotion of the missionary enterprise. It constitutes the marching orders of the Christian Society.

I wonder if we realize to what an astonishing extent the missionary spirit and method are glorified by the pages of our New Testament. Every New Testament letter written to a church was directed to a foreign missionary church. Every New Testament letter written to an individual was directed to a convert of a foreign missionary. Of the twelve apostles every one, save Judas, became a missionary.

The language of the New Testament, moreover, is of a missionary character.

Now striking changes have taken place in recent years in the areas where missionaries labor, and in the conduct of their work. Consider how marvelously the world has shrunk! The automobile, the aeroplane, the radio, and the telephone have made the whole world a neighborhood. Geographic

THE STORY SO FAR

Gordon, loving Page Roddy herself in marriage to Richard Morgan for fifteen dollars, the amount her father stole to give to a woman whose baby is dying, does her best to make for Nancy, although she knows of the secret marriage. Nancy permits her to continue making love to her when she finds that she is not to run away with him, but when she finds that she is not to run away with him, she shelters in the hotel of a woman whose baby is dying, and realizes that Richard is the man after all, and sends for him. Although he saves the baby's life, he repudiates the help of the woman, finding that they spent the night together in a hotel, and she spreads the news about town. Angie Fuller, a childhood sweetheart, and Major Lomax, tries to stop the marriage. Just then Roddy returns—drunk. His mother sends him crazy and sends for her, who takes Roddy with her. Nancy goes to see her brother, and she says, "have you been it again—stealing?"

GO ON WITH THE STORY

can't tell you, Rod, don't ask me. You must tell me—Angie, is it? Something's wrong! Tell me, she shook her head. "No, he dropped her hands and he put up his hat. 'I'll find out'—" ran after him, sobbing. "It's nothing—don't ask, don't ask!"

ie's tears could not avail she had loosed the whirlwind. "I was in no mood to reason Angie's hints. Something was wrong—" would go straight to Richard. to man they would settle it. He was grateful to him, he was to behave ill to him.

lady?" Roddy hesitated.

dy thought of it a moment. "I'll mind Helena. If there any talk of Richard, Helena tell him. She would be us. Roddy had found out a deal about jealous women."

ena sat in a chair by the ow.

Why, Rod Gordon!" she exclaimed and gave him her hand. Roddy swallowed hard. He drew close to her and sat down. "Mrs. Haddon, I think you'd better about any—any gossip, don't you?"

ena shrank a little. What in world was coming?

Oh, I don't know—what do mean?"

ve just been told—" he stammered, then he straightened himself ruthlessly to his question. "Is any reason why I should have any with Richard Morgan don't my sister?"

"Don't ask me!" she gasped in name. She thought he knew she had told.

to Rod, her confusion was the damning proof of Morgan's guilt. There was something, became deadly quiet and calm. Mrs. Haddon, we're old friends, were always kind to me," he said. "I know, I know, I know, it's because she's my sister! Nancy Virginia scorned for me—my God, I'll—I'll—" seemed to strangle again. He ran out of the room and out of the house.

Bare-headed and disheveled, he ran to the gate. He never once looked back. He did not hear the half-smothered cry that pursued him. He vaulted the gate and was gone.

But Nancy stood there, clasping her cold hands against her breast. "Oh, what shall I do?" she sobbed to herself softly. She had heard almost all that Roddy had shouted at his father, "what can I do?"

A sharp sound startled Morgan; some one had run up the front steps.

He rose slowly to his feet, went to the door. On the steps stood Rod Gordon.

"What's wrong, Roddy? Any one ill?"

"No one's ill. I've got to see you, that's all!" Roddy's voice was utterly changed.

Richard looked at him sharply. Had he been drinking again?

"Come in," he said quietly, "go into the office."

Roddy stopped short by the table and faced him, folding his arms on his breast.

"I've come—" he got that far and seemed to be choking. The boy in Roddy had leaped up again. He was a boy in his passion of blind rage.

"I've come to demand an explanation," he panted. "I—father just told me—you've married my sister."

"Sit down," said Richard quiet-ged individualism, guided by the light of clear, honest thought with due and proper regard for the rights of your neighbor should not by any means be denied a free thinking people.

Veterans Legislation

I favor the payment of the adjusted service certificate to the ex-soldier, however, in so favoring it will not sidetrack every other question, sacrifice no principal and will certainly not jeopardize my standing with the administration to the detriment of my constituents. I will not forget that there are other things uppermost in the minds of the people as a whole than veteran's legislation. Some steps should be taken to cancel the interest the government is now charging the ex-soldier for the 60 per cent loan that has been granted him on his bonus; the interest should not be permitted to eat away what the government has contracted to pay. No right thinking person would have his country deny anything within reason to the disabled veteran and his family and the burden should be upon the government to establish whether the disability was caused by service connected injury or not. The Spanish-American war veteran has never been paid too much.

Crime and Law Enforcement

Few men have had a better opportunity to become equipped to be of real service to the nation in the fight to bring crime under control than I have. My nine years experience as an investigator of crime and prosecutor of criminals has given me an excellent background with which to study, intelligently, the solution of crime, the most devastating force in the world today. I pledge myself to never cease expending my energy and knowledge in bringing about a permanent holiday for the law-abiding citizen.

Supports the President

We have had a short experience with our present congressman—long enough I believe. Hardly had he become comfortably seated in this all important position when he made himself obnoxious to the majority of his colleagues and the leaders of the administration. Under the guise that he was voting in the interest of the ex-service man he voted against the Economy Act, the second measure proposed by the Roosevelt administration, then in his explanation over a radio station in this district he admitted that he voted against this measure ly, "let us talk it over."

"Talk it over? Hell!" Roddy struck his hand on the table with such force that every article on it crashed and spun around. "You've married my sister and let people talk about her. Do you happen to know what they say of it—of her?"

Richard's face whitened to the lips. "I know nothing. Who dares to say anything about her? Go about me!"

Roddy laughed wildly. "Dares? When a man hides his marriage people talk, don't they. I'll tell you what they say! They know nothing of this marriage—this secret marriage of yours, you— you coward! They say she's your—"

he strangled again, "—your mistress, damn you!"

Richard rose to his feet.

"Who says it?" he demanded hoarsely, "who told you that?"

"The whole town says it!" shouted Roddy, "it's seething like a caldron, Lomax knows it, Haddon knows it, everybody knows it; you took her to Washington and married her secretly and ruined her good name!"

"If you were not a boy and her brother," said Richard, "I'd wring your neck!"

"Wring my neck, would you? You haven't got the courage!" Roddy screamed, flinging out his arms. "Do you think I don't know what ails you? Father told you I was a thief—you're ashamed to say you married my sister—my sister, Nancy Virginia, Gordon! She's an angel and you're a devil, you're a black-hearted, cowardly scoundrel! You'll fight me, or, by God, I'll call you a coward on every street corner in the town. I'll publish your name, I'll hide any longer behind my sister. I—"

he stopped again, and suddenly drawing himself to his full height, spoke with a new tragic dignity. "I challenge you, Richard Morgan, to defend yourself or die in your tracks—like a damn coward!"

Richard had scarcely heard him. "Yes, I'll fight you," he said dryly. "I admit you've a right to demand it."

"Come out now—the moon's like day—I'll get a gun—we can fight it out now. I can't wait, I won't wait!"

"Now? Out there?" a grim smile twisted Richard's lips. "If one of us dies out there tonight it would be called plain murder. That won't do, Roddy, we must keep to the cod. Get a second, then I'm ready any time."

"I wouldn't care a copper what they called it," Roddy snapped. "but since you're particular—oh, the code, of course! I'll get a second, you can get yours—over the phone. I give you the choice of weapons, Dr. Morgan."

Richard bowed his head gravely. "Pistols. Mine's here on my desk, but you can bring two. I'll be waiting for you when you come back. Where is it to be?"

"Out there!" Roddy pointed at the moonlit lawn.

"I understand," Richard answered grimly, and he opened a long window on the moonlit piazza. "you can go this way. I'll wait."

Features of Winning Entries in Foard Women's Bedroom Contest Reveal Convenience and Beauty

One of the outstanding features of the bedroom of Mrs. John Lilly, bedroom demonstrator for the Foard City H. D. Club, is the clothes closet. The closet had been built in when the house was built, but had never been finished. It had a stick propped across one end for hanging clothes and nails in the walls and door for hanging things. There was a flue in one end and two small shelves by this. This was the first thing to receive attention when the room was remodeled. It was ceiled on the inside and the flue boxed in. Shelves were built down one side and below these a compartment with a door for the storing of old shoes and shine materials. A rod was put on one side for the little girl's clothing and the closet otherwise equipped with shoe rack, hat racks, and a flash light.

The closet was only one item in the improvement. The room was sheetrocked and at the beginning two walls and the ceiling kalsomined yellow and the other two gray, and a large hole in one side. The walls were papered with a cream paper having an all over design containing rose and blue. Curtains were made of cream scrim with a rose figure in it. A braided rug was made from tow sacks which had been dyed rose and brown. A study table was made from an old piano, and an old chair remodeled to go with it. All of the furniture was refinished with walnut varnish, the floors and woodwork were varnished. A

Originality Used By Margaret Girl In Room Contest

Quite a bit of originality was used by Lorene Washburn of the Margaret 4-H Club in the planning of her contest bedroom. Lorene started with a room which had been used for a kitchen and was quite blackened with grease, coal dust and soot from the stove. She tore off the paper which was hanging in tags and covered the walls with building paper. When the woodwork was washed it was found to be a pale green and in fair condition.

This done, she turned her attention to furnishings. She remodeled an old discarded dresser for a dressing table and framed an old organ mirror to use with it. A desk was made from an old sewing table and a bookcase made from a box placed above it. All of these were then painted to match the bed. An appliqued bedspread was made with rose on unbleached sheeting. This matched a scarf which had been a gift several years before.

Most original was the choice of curtains. Lorene took four sacks, fagoted them together with rose and put rose colored ruffles on them which had been made from a sack dyed that color. Altogether the room is well done and a much more pleasant place in which to live.

Class of '18 Has Reunion Tuesday at Hubert Brown Home

Mrs. Hubert Brown was hostess to a number of friends at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. Frank Moye, of Fort Worth.

The party was in the form of a home-coming of the 1918 graduating class of Crowell High School of which Mrs. Moye was a member. This class consisted of twenty-one girls and one boy. Of this number seven were present on this occasion. They were Hubert Roberts, Mrs. P. D. Chaney of Vernon (Elgie Bagley), Mrs. T. S. Haney (Floy Cheek), Mrs. Alva Spencer (Inez Reavis), Mrs. Roy Steele (Jessie Lee Cates), Mrs. Frank Moye of Fort Worth (Otis Benham), and Mrs. Arnold Rucker (Ella Edgin). Mrs. Gordon Cooper and Mrs. Roy Ayers were also guests, they having taught school with Mrs. Moye.

Games of 42 were played in which Mrs. Haney was high scorer. A number of memory books were brought by the guests and school days were recalled with pleasure.

The hostess served sandwiches, potato flakes, olives, cakes and punch at a late hour and the guests counted this reunion as another happy memory.

Picnic Monday at Gribble Park for Crowell Visitors

Mesdames Oscar Boman, W. C. McKown and C. C. McLaughlin were joint hostesses on Monday evening at a picnic at Gribble Park, complimenting Mrs. Reid Williams and little son, Jim Roe, of Loveland, Colo., Mrs. E. S. Darby and daughter, Jean, of Fresno, Calif., and Kinloch Cole and three daughters, who live in China. Each of the honor guests is a former resident of Crowell.

A delicious picnic supper, including iced drinks, was enjoyed, during which time friends visited together and recalled childhood days.

Following the supper a short program was given. Little Misses Mary Kathrine McMillan, Mary Evelyn Edwards and Joyzelle Ty-singer each gave a clever reading. Mrs. Boman then suggested the taking of a travelogue and asked Mrs. Williams to tell of Colorado. She told some interesting things of that state. Mrs. Darby talked of California and its features, and Mr. Cole told a number of interesting things of China. A stringed orchestra composed of L. V. Robinson, Mrs. W. H. Sellers, Mildred Johnson and Ruth Sellers furnished music.

More than one hundred guests were present on this happy occasion.

AVIATION VACANCIES IN UNITED STATES MARINES

It is announced by Major P. D. Cornell of the U. S. Marine Corps Headquarters, 535 St. Charles St., New Orleans, La., that men who have served in the aviation departments of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, and who desire continued aviation duty, will be sent direct to an aviation unit of the Marine Corps upon re-enlistment. In the past it has been necessary to obtain specific authority from Washington for a transfer of this kind. This authority has been delegated to Major Cornell, who states that in addition to aviation, there are a few vacancies in the Marines for general service. Full information will be furnished on request.

This-That, Etc.

By Typo Wrighter

Few summers pass that we do not hear or read of someone frying an egg on a hot sidewalk or pavement. Now comes J. H. Ayers of the Ayersville community with a "summer and egg" story that makes the others fake to cover.

A few weeks ago a White Leghorn hen on his farm started setting on about 15 eggs. After two weeks she lost her desire to become a mother and left the nest, never to return. However, Mother Nature came to the rescue as best she could and carried on from the two-thirds mark with the result that five motherless chicks were hatched in the nest last week.

Feeling that the mother hen might return to her nest, the eggs in it were not disturbed, however, it did not enter the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Ayers that the hot days of the last week of the hatching period were carrying on where the unfaithful mother left off.

If unusual happenings continue to carry on here in Foard County, Ripley of "Believe It or Not" fame should find it worthwhile to establish headquarters in Crowell.

Whether it was envy of the fame gained by a younger brother, R. J., Jr., in scoring a hole-in-one last September, or just the desire to do something different, Jack Thomas pulled a clever little stunt at the local golf course Sunday afternoon.

In playing the 9th hole, a mighty drive resulted in his golf ball striking a chaparral after traveling a few feet above the ground for about 150 yards, bringing to an end forward to with pleasure.

A covered dish dinner was enjoyed at noon. The program included a devotional period and also a diversion.

The class members present on this occasion were Mrs. T. L. Hughton, Mrs. B. F. Ringgold, Mrs. Maggie Magee, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. M. S. Henry, Mrs. P. P. Cooper, Mrs. L. Kamstra, Mrs. J. J. end the life of one of the feathered members of the club. Bill Elliott, Lee Black and Ernest Spears were playing with Thomas at the time.

We understand that this is Jack's first "birdie" and probably the last one that he will ever make—unless another representative of the feathered tribe steps into the path of his golf ball.

Several years ago, during the Country Club's first year, local golfers came near adding shot guns to their golfing equipment when crows took to the habit of flying off with golf balls, used during the course of a match.

A number of other freaks have also occurred at the local golf course, the authenticity of which have been well established. Eli Smith tossed a golf club into the air about a year ago and the jay-bird that it connected with fell to the ground dead.

Besides making a hole-in-one, R. J. Thomas, Jr., has also figured in another unusual incident at the club. After making a drive on the ninth fairway, the ball struck a stump and bounded back over 100 yards. On the rebound, R. J. used the golf club as he would a baseball bat and sent the ball down the fairway again for over 100 yards. Whether the operation was counted on the score as one stroke or two, we haven't heard.

In the last week a large bull snake and a muskrat have been killed right in the business section. Last week the snake made its way from the court house lawn across the street toward The Allen Co., possibly to have its brakes relined, however, C. V. Allen didn't seem to appreciate his visitor and brought its life to an end.

Tuesday night a large muskrat was killed by local officers near the soldier and sailor statues after it had been cornered by two dogs. Last year Otis Ross and Lester Myers killed a muskrat near the West Texas Utilities Co. office. In the midst of fierce 1930 drought, a mud-hen that probably had not seen any mud in several months, was also caught at the West Texas Utilities Co.

We Will Miss Him

From time to time in the past brief comments in somewhat of a joking manner have been passed in this column relative to our departed friend, Sam Scales. It is said that those who are most likable are those whom the general public likes to joke with and this statement certainly holds true in this case.

We have had occasion to read many old issues of The News, the products of different editors, and we notice that they also connected Sam Scales with humorous remarks, a fair example of which appeared in the 20-year-ago column just last week, having been originally written by Editor J. L. Martin.

Just a brief conversation with Mr. Scales had the effect of adding enjoyment to the daily grind and we are sure that this holds true in the case of many others. Sam Scales liked people and people liked him. His life was another example that if you want friends—then be friendly and you and all those about you will be happier.

To us, Sam Scales was as much a part of Crowell and Foard County as the court house or any business institution and it is difficult to become reconciled to his passing.
