FOARD COUNTY FARMERS ASK FOR FARM AID CONTINUANCE IN MASS MEETING SATURDAY

One hundred and fifty Foard County farmers assembled at a mass meeting in the district court room here Saturday at 2:30 p. m. to discuss the recent ruling on the AAA. As a result of the meeting telegrams were sent to members of congress from this district, to Marvin Jones, and to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, asking for their efforts in the continuation of some sort of farm control program.

Dave Solis, chairman of the Foard County Farmer's Protective Association, presided over the meeting. At his request as to the attitude toward a farm control program a unanimous vote in the affirmative was received.

Discussion moved rather slowly until E. V. Halbert took the floor and urged that a resolution should be passed endorsing some plan which would be in line with the work done by the former AAA. He said in conclusion, "Some sort of substitute should be found." Around-the-room discussion followed his talk, while the chairman attempted to answer questions on the court's ruling.

Should Find Substitute

T. M. Haney of Thalia gave a short resume of the talk given before a farmer's meeting at Vernon Friday by Judge W. N. Stokes, who in his talk had said, "The crowning point of the present situation is that for the first time in our history, an administration's eyes have been definitely turned in the direction of the farmer. Now that it is just as the plow, it will be just as beneficial as the AAA. Place your faith with our nation's present leaders in government and we will come out all right." Judge Stokes cautioned against talk of "going away with the constitution."

Mr. Haney said, "We should agree on something. Congressmen want an expression of what the farmers want. We want congress to know that we had a meeting here and want something. It will help to encourage them in formulating some plan."

Dr. R. L. Kincaid urged some form of control for the farmers. "If a question comes up where the constitution has to be changed to let a farm program," he said, "change it." He stated that the law of the land had been altered before and it should be altered again if changing conditions demand it. He also urged farmers to write to their congressmen and to agricultural officials urging them to "go ahead."

Resolution Drawn Up

A committee composed of E. V. Halbert, T. M. Haney, Dr. R. L. Kincaid, H. O. Wilhite, R. S. Hasew and W. A. Dunn, was appointed to formulate a resolution to be sent to officials at Washington regarding continuance of farm program. In appointing the committee, Dave Solis said, "I don't know exactly what should go into that resolution but I do know that that word 'party' should be in it."

While the resolution was being drawn up, a collection of about $10 was taken up to send the telegrams.

The telegram which was sent to officials read:

"Resolved by the farmers of Foard County that we urge our congressmen and senators to use every effort in helping the secretary of agriculture to carry out all contracts now made with the farmers and to use all their influence in carrying on a planned agriculture to replace the AAA that will assure the farmers parity prices on farm products and give them a fair share of the national income."

Foard County farmers were not the only farm groups who held meetings over the week-end to discuss the farm situation and urge the continuance of farm control to replace the AAA. At Vernon Friday more than 500 farmers gathered to endorse the administration's agricultural program and to plead for further control measures.

FUNERAL HELD AT FOARD CITY FOR MRS. STONE

Mrs. J. E. Stone, 70, resident of the Foard City community since 1922, died at her home two miles south of Foard City last Friday morning following an illness of several years, being confined to her bed for the past five months.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church in Foard City Friday afternoon conducted by Rev. M. W. Clark, pastor of the Truscott-Foard City churches, with Womack Bros., funeral directors of Crowell, in charge of arrangements. The body was taken overland to Wylie, Texas, her former home, Thursday where interment was made in a cemetery by the side of Mr. Stone's parents, and was accompanied by Mr. Stone and other relatives.

Funeral services were held at Arledge Ridge near Bonham, Texas, Tuesday, January 14, at 2 p. m. The Campbell Undertaking company at Munday, Texas, was in charge of the funeral. Interment was in the Bonham Cemetery. The pastor of the Christian Church, Bonham directed the services.

Mrs. Hollis was born in Tennessee, Dec. 29, 1855. She moved in 1890 to Fannin County, Texas, and resided there until the death of her husband, J. W. Hollis, in November, 1931. After the death of her husband she moved to Knox County to live with her son, W. G. Hollis. She was a member of the Christian Church.

Mrs. Hollis is survived by five children: W. G. Hollis, Truscott; A. M. Hollis, Childress; Mrs. Addie Potts, Idabel, Okla.; Oscar Hollis, Mangum, Okla.; and John B. Hollis.

W. G. Hollis was unable to attend the funeral services of his mother due to a sudden illness. He was taken ill Sunday night with pneumonia.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Grady McLain was dismissed from the hospital Wednesday and was returned to his home in Foard City.

R. R. Lancaster of College Station, pasture specialist for the Extension Service, visited in Crowell with County John Nagy over the week-end. While here Mr. Lancaster made a survey of pasture conditions in Foard County.

"The county agent should get acquainted with men who are taking care of their pastures," Lancaster pointed out, "and use these for demonstrations. It will result in a great benefit for all." He pointed out that a recent acreage census shows that 76,000,000 acres in Texas are devoted to pastures. These figures indicate the importance of pastures to Texas farms and ranches.

"Ranchers are continually seeking information on new grass seeds which can be planted in dry land areas," he stated, "but it is not likely that any new grass could be found to be better than the native plants. These native range plants have become adapted through the centuries of competition. They will produce all of the forage possible under prevailing conditions. Plants from foreign countries likely can do no better. Forty years ago, ranchers in 115 western countries reported a 40 per cent decrease in carrying capacity of grazing land, from 106 head per section to 64 during the preceding 25 years. Now the average is near 30."

Lancaster continued, "Hopes for improving pasture lands lie in good management—rotating stock from one pasture to another. The advantage in this is, say a man has three pastures instead of one big one, the acreage can be more heavily stocked. It gives the plants a chance to recuperate from the grazing and offers a chance to store up food for the winter. If this is not done the plants will get off to a weak start in the spring and less desirable vegetation will soon begin to crowd them out. Management should also include whatever is necessary to protect the best grazing plants and utilize those less desirable, cutting weeds, providing supplementary feed and minerals."

The Extension pasture specialist pointed out, in speaking of pasture improvement over the state, that pastures could be greatly improved by controlling or removing weeds, stumps, trees, erosion, marshes, stones, dead grass, rodents, insects, stomach worms, poisonous plants, and loss of manure. He also pointed out that additional improvements for 1936 might consist of contouring for moisture, seeding improved plants, adding fertilizer or manure, supplementing minerals, creep feeding, providing shelter, shade, stock-water and giving more time to the management of grazing according to the various local conditions.

"When the question arises as to which are the best grasses," he said in conclusion, "you can always tell this by watching to see which the stock eat first."

CROWELL TAKES ELECTRA 40-26

Crowell Wildcats stepped out in class fashion at Electra Tuesday night and whipped the Electra Tigers, 40-26, in a conference game.

The agile young Foard County lads took the lead at the very start and never were in danger of being overhauled by the Electras, although the latter staged a rally in the final chukker.

Crowell took an 8-5 lead at the end of the first period, led 21 to 13 at the end of the half, and 34-13 at the end of the third period. The game was so lopsided it produced few thrills. Middlebrook, who dumped 14 points through the net to grab scoring honors, was an outstanding Crowell star, as was Dunagan, guard, Flusche, Love and Hamilton played good ball for Electra.

The family moved to Foard County in 1891 and five years later returned to Waco. He was married to Miss Florence Horn, of McClellan County, Jan. 1, 1903, one child, Ralph, being born to this union. Mr. Hunter was converted when he was 16 and was baptized and joined the Methodist Church. He became a member of the Crowell Methodist Church in January, 1931.

The deceased was a man of a quiet, unassuming disposition, straightforward in his business dealings, which had won for him the respect and friendship of a host of friends during his long residence in this county.

Survivors include his widow and son, Ralph Hunter, of Abilene, and the following brothers, John L. Hunter Sr. of Margaret, T. P. Hunter of Sudan, C. F. Hunter of Foard County, and R. G. Hunter of Wheeler County; one sister, Mrs. J. G. Mayfield, of Waco. All were present for the funeral except Mrs. Mayfield.

Crowell to Knox County Line Road Work is Started

Work was started Monday on the road project between Crowell and the Knox County line. Unit No. 1, consisting of grading and drainage structures, will take up a period of eight months, Tom Seale, state engineer in charge, stated this week.

At present the project is employing about 30 men, 20 of them being furnished by the Works Progress Administration and the other 10 being composed of outside labor, teamsters and truck drivers. The project is under the National Recovery Work Relief program. The federal government bears 100 per cent of the expense outside of the engineering and equipment, while the state furnishes engineering and equipment necessary for the carrying on of the work. Under the federal expense, WPA furnishes 70 per cent and PWA furnishes 30 per cent of the labor and materials.

The 11,695 miles will have 100 feet of right-of-way with a roadbed 34 feet wide. Construction of the new road will shorten the distance to the Knox County line by about two miles, eliminating curves in the road. The work was started at this end and will continue straight through.

Bryan O'Connell is in charge of the work for WPA.

COTTON PRODUCTION YIELD IN FOARD BEATS ALL EXPECTATIONS; NEARLY 11,000 BALES

A check-up Wednesday of all cotton gins in the county indicates that the expectations for the 1935 crop have been greatly exceeded. The report shows that there has been 10,348 bales ginned to date, and by the end of the season, which will be over within a week or two, there will have been ginned within in the county approximately 10,834 bales of cotton from the 1935 crop.

These figures are far above those predicted at the first of the season.

The reports by gins are as follows: Rayland Gin Company, 2,231, estimate 2,400 by end of season; Thalia Gin Company, 650 bales, estimate 25 more; Margaret Gin, 1,200 bales, estimate 1,250; Crowell Farmers Co-Operative Gin, 2,718, estimate 2,800; and Crowell Gin Company, 694, with an estimate of 15 more bales expected.

FOOTBALL MEN GET SWEATERS

Fifteen football players received awards at an assembly of the entire student body held in the High School auditorium Monday morning at 9 o'clock. The awards consisted of sweaters and jackets, the boys having their choice. The jackets are made of a golden colored wool with black leather sleeves, the letters being placed on the left side. The sweaters are the usual black with gold letters on them.

Superintendent I. T. Graves presented the awards with a unique idea as to what each player's life work would be. The coaches, Grady Graves and Walker Todd, each gave a short talk after Mr. Graves. In these talks was stressed the importance of clean sportsmanship, good playing, obeying the rules, and keeping up the football spirit. It was shown that throughout the whole school year the spirit of football prevailed. The regular team, B team, grade school teams, and even the playground games all help keep the spirit going on in the school and in the town. "Not only through the football games but through the co-operation of the pep squad, band, and the citizens of Crowell, is football boosted and encouraged," Mr. Graves stated.

Sweaters or jackets were presented to the following: Austin Wiggins, Albert Dungan, Aldon Horn, Bob Lilly, John Cogdell, Sam Cross, Bill Dunn, Frank Mason, Goodie Mason, Robert Thompson, Gilbert Lanford, Mark Saunders, Oscar Nichols, Oliver Briscoe, and Paul McKown.

Following the awards two small gold footballs were presented to Coaches Graves and Todd, by Aldon Horn, captain of the '35 team. Inscribed on the footballs was the wording, "Regional Champs—1934."

After the talks the boys retired to another room and returned to the stage where Bob Lilly, captain-elect, gave a short talk on this year's work.

WILDCATS DEFEATED FOR SECOND TIME IN NEW CROWELL GYM

For the second time in the history of the new Crowell gym, the Terrible Turks of Turkey invaded the local court to return home victorious. The Turks are the only team to defeat the Wildcats in the new gym, once last year and then last night. The Cats met their defeat last night in a close game which resulted in a 23-18 score.

Last night's game is the second loss to the Turks in less than a week. At Turkey last Saturday night the purring felines from Crowell lost by the narrow margin of 24-25. Failure to make free shots cost the Cats the game, as Crowell lead at the end of the third quarter by two points. Turkey is yet undefeated this season.

Turkey took the lead last night with a field goal made by Young. Middlebrook placed the first shot for Crowell while Wiggins made the second and final shot for the first quarter. The score stood at 4-5 in the first, 11-11 at the half, 16-15 in favor of Crowell at the end of the third, and 17-17 at the end of the fourth. An extra three minutes period was played to decide the tie, when Turkey stepped ahead for a final score of 23-18 in their favor.

All through the game the ball changed hands frequently, the Turks clicking smoothly while in the last part of the game the Cats seemed to become over-anxious and were unable to keep the ball out of Turk territory.

WILDCATS DEFEATED FOR SECOND TIME IN NEW CROWELL GYM

For the second time in the history of the new Crowell gym, the Terrible Turks of Turkey invaded the local court to return home victorious. The Turks are the only team to defeat the Wildcats in the new gym, once last year and then last night. The Cats met their defeat last night in a close game which resulted in a 23-18 score.

Last night's game is the second loss to the Turks in less than a week. At Turkey last Saturday night the purring felines from Crowell lost by the narrow margin of 24-25. Failure to make free shots cost the Cats the game, as Crowell lead at the end of the third quarter by two points. Turkey is yet undefeated this season.

Turkey took the lead last night with a field goal made by Young. Middlebrook placed the first shot for Crowell while Wiggins made the second and final shot for the first quarter. The score stood at 4-5 in the first, 11-11 at the half, 16-15 in favor of Crowell at the end of the third, and 17-17 at the end of the fourth. An extra three minutes period was played to decide the tie, when Turkey stepped ahead for a final score of 23-18 in their favor.

All through the game the ball changed hands frequently, the Turks clicking smoothly while in the last part of the game the Cats seemed to become over-anxious and were unable to keep the ball out of Turk territory.

Ed L. Gossett of Vernon Announces For Congress Post

Ed Gossett has authorized The News to announce his candidacy for Congress from this district, subject to the action of the 1936 Democratic primaries. Mr. Gossett makes the following statement concerning his candidacy:

"I came to Vernon with nothing but ambition; I came as a country boy, without money, and with no local friends or acquaintances. You have been good to me. My financial status has been little improved, but money could not buy my friends. I am grateful to you for the privilege of having served you as your district attorney. That experience has been invaluable to me. In offering myself as a candidate for Congress I do so with a feeling that no man can wholly and adequately measure up to the needs of the high office. I can only pledge my best efforts to do only the best for the people."

"I now seek the opportunity of trying to measure up to a bigger job, an opportunity of serving you better in a more responsible position. While you owe nothing to me, you owe much to your community and your country. Therefore, your patronage and your support will be sought on the basis of merit alone. The peace, security and progress of this country is of grave concern to every good citizen. Honest and efficient government is of more importance to each one of us than before. For these reasons public servants should be employed with even greater care than private ones. The only basis upon which a public servant should be selected is his ability to best serve the public. To my mind the most important qualifications of the good public servant are: honesty, ability, and eagerness to work. His usefulness is measured by the extent to which he possesses these three characteristics. His actions should be determined in each case by that democratic yardstick of the greatest good for the greatest number. Because of these things, the voters should make a careful study of the man who seeks public office. They should know his background, his training, his temperament, his ambitions and his ideals. They should know how he thinks, feels and acts, and what he can and probably will do for them. It will be my purpose to thoroughly acquaint the voters of this district with these matters. I want to know and be known by them. I want to succeed or fail by an honest, accurate appraisal of my right and ability to serve the people of this congressional district, and the country as a whole."

"To this end, I shall soon announce a platform wherein I will express myself upon all important issues of the day. I will thereafter conduct a clean and aggressive campaign to acquaint you with my social, economic and political convictions and beliefs. These things you should know of every man who seeks public office."

While as District Attorney Ed Gossett became well known to most people in this judicial district, the following facts concerning his personal history may be of interest. He was born January 27, 1902, in a sawmill camp in Sabine Parish, Louisiana. He states that no one was unduly alarmed by his arrival and that nothing now exists to mark the spot. He is the eldest of a family of nine children. He was reared on farms in Clay and Garza counties, Texas. At the age of 10 years, ambition and circumstances compelled Gossett to fly the family coop and start making his own way. He went by way of the Kansas oil fields to Sutherland, Nebraska, where he worked in a clothing store and finished high school. He entered the University of Texas in 1919, taught school in 1921-22, taking a bachelor of arts degree from the University in 1924. Thereafter he entered the law school of the University of Texas, graduating in law in 1927. While in the Main University, Gossett majored in History and Government; while in law school he took all the courses offered in Administrative and Constitutional law. Mr. Gossett further states that he learned more from the many jobs he held while going to school than from the actual school work. In the summer of 1927, Mr. Gossett became the junior member of the law firm of Berry, Warlick & Gossett. In 1932, he was elected District Attorney of the Forty-sixth judicial district, composed of Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties. He was re-elected to a second term in that office without opposition. His friends claim that no District Attorney in Texas has a better record, or has more honestly, aggressively and efficiently fought for law enforcement. They declare that he has the age and experience for sound judgment, the youth and energy for

"LIVE AT HOME" FARM PROGRAM IS URGED BY EXTENSION DEPT.

College Station, Texas. — In planning the agricultural program for 1936, Texas farmers can and should take out a $250,000,000 group insurance policy," H. H. Williams, director of the Texas Extension Service, said today.

This, he explained, means simply the adoption of a "live at home" program on every Texas farm.

Such a program of "insured or protected" farming, outlined and stressed at all of the Extension workers conferences in December when plans for the new year were being considered, is, in the light of present conditions, especially important, he added.

"In this immediate period of uncertainty and confusion engendered by the abrupt halting of the agricultural adjustment program, the economic importance of a live at home program on the farm is emphasized more than ever," Williamson said.

"Such a program is not only economically sound but it is beyond controversy. Immediate decision on the part of farmers to adopt such a program would represent a definite and a sound step in planning for the new year, irrespective of whatever may happen insofar as government crop control is concerned.

"The half million farmers in Texas today no doubt, figuratively speaking, are scratching their heads and pondering over their farm problems for 1936," Williamson continued in amplification of the need and in explaining the details of a widespread "live at home" program.

"It is only a few weeks before it will be time for seed to go in the soil. There is no knowledge of the probable planting, harvest or price of farm crops for 1936.

"The real purchasing power of the farmer is the difference between the cost or expenditure for production and the amount received. The cost of the food and feed consumed by the farm family and livestock has a direct bearing on the cost of production.

"It has been conservatively estimated that the value of the food supply of the average farm family of five, provided it is well balanced, has a retail value of approximately $500 a year. This means that the farm table market of Texas is worth $250,000,000 which is equal in value to five million bales of cotton at 10 cents a pound.

"The Extension Service is recommending that each farm family, insofar as possible, take out an aggressive action. "BETTER EQUIPMENT—HARDER WORK" is Gossett's offer to the electorate.

$500 protection policy by including in their 1936 farm program such features as will make possible the production and storing of an adequate food supply for home use. This is equivalent to group insurance.

"If such a program could be carried out completely by each of the half million farm families it would mean approximately 250,000 acres of garden and truck crops for home use, 250,000 acres in half acre plots of fruit for home use, twenty-five million hens for an adequate supply of eggs and poultry for home use, one million head of hogs of average weight for the smoke house for next winter and a daily consumption of milk on the farm of at least a million gallons.

"It will be recognized that such a program as outlined is not sufficient within itself. It must be part of a larger program. There must be a cash income, but no part of the cash income, large or small, should be for the purchase of food and feed products that can be produced on the farm. If this expenditure is eliminated or reduced there is more money for debt paying, education of children, for clothes, for better homes and more comfort in the homes."

Instructions to county and home demonstration agents throughout the state to take to the field and to push vigorously through community groups, both organized and unorganized, the 1936 "live at home" program have been issued by the Extension director. Special stress will also be placed on the enrollment of demonstrators and 4-H club members, and on soil conservation and other phases of Extension work.

Declaring that the opportunity for the Extension Service to render timely and helpful service to agriculture and the farm people was never greater than at present, the Extension director stressed the importance of clear thinking and caution.

Special Days to be Held at Centennial

Dallas, Jan. 15.—A general invitation to every city and town in Texas to name its own date for special day at the Texas Centennial Exposition has been made by General Manager William Webb. He will write the mayor of every Texas town with a population of over 2,500 people asking him to designate a special Exposition day for their town between June 6 and November 29.

Each town is invited to arrange a special program either a band, orchestra or other entertainment talent. Radio facilities will be provided them at the Exposition. An auditorium will be built for these broadcasts and the special-day entertainments and programs.

In connection with this invitation General Manager Webb announces every Tuesday during the Exposition period will be Children's Day. On Tuesdays all children under the age of 12 years will be admitted to the Exposition for five cents. Every consecutive admission price will be reduced a nickel for the youngsters.

Special days also will be arranged for various sections of Texas according to Regional Chamber of Commerce groupings. West Texas Day has been set for October 20 when Texas Tech will play football in the Exposition Stadium. Days will be set later for South Texas and East Texas.

VERNON LOSES HARD GAME TO CROWELL CATS

In the most interesting game of the season and one of the most thrilling ever held on the Wildcat court, the Vernon Lions went down before the onslaught of the Cats in the fourth quarter, losing by a bare margin of 28-30.

Trailing along for the first three quarters of the game the Cats came forth in the last quarter with a burst of speed and skill which gained for them 11 points and the victory of the first game of Northwest Texas Cage Conference for the season.

The Lions who had been clicking smoothly all through the game began to weaken with the beginning of the fourth quarter. In spite of their efforts to keep the Cats from scoring, the Crowell quintet seemed to gain new vigor as they began evening the score. Middlebrook placed the first two points for Crowell in the beginning of the quarter giving the men new encouragement and the points began piling up. Dunagan's fouling-out did not seem to slacken the speed as Wiggins placed a good shot which brought the score up to 26-28. Just as the final whistle blew Goodloe Meason placed the shot which won the game making the score 30-28.

Starters for Crowell were: Middlebrook, Meason, Wiggins, Dunagan and Zeibig. For Vernon: Schur, Taylor, Duckworth, Lockard and Matney.

NO UPSETS

The proper treatment for a bilious child

THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

ANY mother knows the reason why her child stops playing, eats little, is hard to manage, constipated. But what a pity so few know the sensible way to set things right!

The ordinary laxatives, of even ordinary strength, destroy all hopes of restoring regularity.

A liquid laxative is the answer, mothers. The answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help.

This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult.

Doctors use a liquid laxative. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. This liquid laxative they generally use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist has it.

Find Out

From Your Doctor if the "Pain" Remedy You Take Is Safe.

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

John Myers announces His Candidacy for District 46 Attorney

John Myers, Vernon attorney, who served as district attorney eight years ago, announces that he will again run for that office, subject to the Democratic primary, July 25.

In making announcement for office, Mr. Myers states:

"After careful consideration I have decided to offer myself as a candidate for the office of district attorney for the 46th Judicial district, composed of Foard, Hardeman, and Wilbarger counties.

"Eight years ago the good people of this district elected me when I was practically unknown to them; today I feel that I know 90 per cent of the people and that they know me. When you trusted me with the office, formerly, you did so solely upon my promise to you that I would, to the best of my ability, enforce the law in this district. Believing that you were not disappointed in placing this trust in me, and believing that my past service entitles me to again ask your support, I take this method of asking you and each of you for your support in order that I may again serve you.

"I feel that the years of experience I have had as district attorney together with my many years of private practice will the better qualify me to give the people more efficient service than I did before.

"In announcing for this office I have no desire whatever than to be of service to the people of this district and to conduct the affairs of the office in a dignified and legal manner. I have never thought that it was the duty of the district attorney to persecute anyone, because that one is accused of crime, but to vigorously prosecute any one accused of crime, in a legal manner, regardless of his station in life or his social standing. If the people of this district desire my services then I shall be glad to serve them."

QUANAH CHILD BURIED IN CROWELL CEMETERY

Cordelia Loraine, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Powers of Quanah, died at her home in Quanah Thursday, Jan. 9, following a serious illness caused from blood poisoning. Cordelia Loraine was born in Margaret July 15, 1932.

Funeral services were held at the Crowell cemetery Friday morning at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. W. A. Reed, Baptist pastor of Thalia-Margaret Churches, where interment was made.

RIVERSIDE H. D. CLUB "A well planned wardrobe will enable a person to dress much neater," was the impression made by Miss Myrna Holman, county H. D. agent, at a meeting of the Riverside H. D. club at the home of Mrs. J. W. Taylor, January 14.

By allowing a certain amount for each division of articles a person may have a complete wardrobe, whereas if no planning is done, too much money may be spent for articles not needed so badly as others.

The club decided to sell sandwiches, pie and cake at the auction sale at the R. F. Derington place Monday, January 20.

Nine members, 1 new member, and 1 visitor, Mrs. Howard, were present.

Jack Benny to Appear In Smash Hit at Rialto

Jack Benny, favorite of radio and screen, will be featured in one of the most entertaining pictures of the screen, "Broadway Melody of 1936," at the Rialto, beginning at the Saturday night preview and continuing through Monday.

Included in the cast of "Broadway Melody of 1936" are some of the most featured players of the screen. Eleanor Powell, Robert Taylor, Frances Langford, Sid Silvers, and Buddy and Vilma Ebsen, are the supporting cast of this box office record-breaker.

Benny, a radio columnist, gets into all sorts of jams—threatened, punched in the jaw, snubbed and enough trouble to keep you on the edge of your seat all through the picture.

Frances Langford, whose voice has brought her fame, will entertain you while the other dancing, comedy, music, and drama will give screen fans one of the most enjoyable pieces of entertainment since the "Big Broadcast of 1936," with which "Broadway Melody of 1936" should not be compared.

Next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday theatre-goers will have a chance to again see little Shirley Temple in "Our Little Girl."

While these services will be confined to Sundays, it is hoped that the congregation will keep in mind the primary work of the church, that of winning people to Christ. SYNOPSIS

Following his father's bitter criticism of his idle life, and the notification that he need not expect any immediate financial assistance, Hal Ireland, only son of a wealthy banker, finds himself practically without funds but with the promise of a situation in San Francisco, which city he must reach from New York, within a definite time limit. He takes passage with a cross-country auto party on a "share expense" basis. With five others, Hal begins his journey. Four of his companions at Barcetta his interest: a young attractive girl, Barry Trafford; middle-aged Giles Kerrigan; Sister Anastasia, a nun; and a nondescript individual whom he instinctively dislikes, Martin Crack. Barry's self-withdrawal annoys him. To Kerrigan he takes to at once. The driver, Miller, attempts to abandon the party and abscond with their fares and baggage. Hal trusts Crack. Hal finds his intimacy with Kerrigan ripening, though he makes little progress with Barry.

"I'll tell you," said Hal. "I'm twenty-six. I was born in New York, but if I had it to do over again, I wouldn't be born there; I'd only go there when I felt like it. I went to school and college in New England, and then was sent abroad to decide what I'd do. I decided on a career of international travel, but one dark morning I was carrying a lot of headache past a steamship face, when I suddenly went in and bought a steamer ticket home, was a runner in Wall Street for a while. Then I got a chance at a job about three thousand miles away from the Stock Exchange, and took it. That's where I'm going now—San Francisco."

Hal finished, looking at Kerrigan; then he took a mouthful of cold chicken, suddenly eager to hear Barry's question. "What business is it going to be?" Kerrigan asked; and Hal looked the implication that the more important things between them could come in their own good time. "Air business," said Hal. "Expect to be started cleaning boundary lights at the field."

"Envy you," said Kerrigan. "If I had a son, I'd put him in that line twice a year I give myself a good kicking for not having gone into it all roads, at your age." He looked at Barry expectantly at Barry.

Her eyes were incurious—as if she hadn't till then thought of anything she could want to ask. And then, without more than the most superficial apology in her tone, she said, "Please don't answer if you'd rather not. The reason I'm asking—the reason stops and I forget I asked it, whether you tell me or not, are you Frederick Ireland's son?" He tried to force from her a polite look a hint of why she wanted to know; but all he could see was confirmation of what she had said, she didn't ask out of idle curiosity and yet the answer was so momentous to her.

"Yes, I am," he said. She believed him, but it gave her nothing to think about. And she swore he would find out why he had asked that of him if he had to back her into a corner on the last day and shake her firm shoulders till she told him. No, not make them; hold them, perhaps, but not shake them. And it should be before the last day, too. I wonder, he said to himself, if you'd tell me why you wanted to know that, without my even asking you, you weren't so good to look at, Barry Trafford, you probably would be making so much trouble for yourself.

of tune over to himself; Barry and Mrs. Pulsipher were discussing Florida oranges, mail-order shopping, red hair, and railway travel, with Sister Anastasia's gentle surprise and inquiry between them; and Kerrigan pored over his pocket atlas, puffing away the smoke from his short cigarette, to identify each strand in the web of railroads that converged upon Toledo.

Perhaps two hours more; and even if the ease of relief was rolling in now with every mile, the thing to do was push straight on without stopping, whether stark hunger overtook the Pulsiphers or not.

"Say," came Crack's drowsy, confidential whisper near Hal's ear. Hal turned his head a little, his attention in alert suspense. "We could eat in Detroit," Crack said in softly impish conspiracy. "Run right through, we could—not give this bird another chance to try a quick one." Hal made himself ignore the coincidence; he nodded briefly and said, "Good idea."

If Crack, basking in the secret sunshine of his own little schemes, could be made uneasy, there must be something more to Miller's influence than Hal liked to allow.

In the next rising of talk behind them Hal leant a little toward Kerrigan and murmured: "Is there anything about that fella that—?" He thought he saw understanding in Kerrigan's eyes and turned back to the road without finishing.

But Kerrigan said, "Which fella?" curiously. Hal glanced at him again quickly; the brown eyes still seemed to understand what he meant. And Hal dismissed the subject gingerly, muttering, "Later, later."

Across the Maumee and through the fringes of Toledo. It grew dark slowly; then the sprawl of a city began to infringe upon the openness, gradually and in disorder. "Dearborn," Crack suddenly whispered, and Hal wondered why it sounded exciting, even faintly sinister.

Crack seemed to know Detroit, and to invest the names he spoke with undertones of leashed significance: Telegraph road; Michigan road that went straight into the dark behind them for two hundred and eighty miles to become Michigan boulevard in Chicago; River Rouge—a dark-gleaming creek that curled under the highway and gave its name to the plant where had worked more people than it took to build the Pyramids or sail the Armada.

"You sorta feel things goin' on here," said Crack quietly behind Hal's head. "Don't you?" "Yes, you do," said Hal.

"I like Detroit," Crack said in shy complacency. "I used to work here."

Hal had a quick curiosity to know what it was Crack had worked at; but something suggested that if he asked, the lazy, immature voice wouldn't tell him the truth.

It was nearly ten o'clock—the night brightness, the pavement still remembering the sun's implacability—when they rolled into Cadillac square.

CHAPTER IV Hal had some difficulty reaching his friend next morning, and it was nearly one when he brought Kerrigan down from their room to see what he'd got.

"Really ought to look at it first through an old snapshot negative," said Hal. "Your eyes do better if you take these things gradually."

It was a great locomotive of a car—a certain high erectness, the small hubs and the spindly spokes proclaiming venerability; but deep green and bright brass, the pale taupe of the upholstery, the miniature lamps beside the doors, with a little red star in each side-glass, made its venerability that of an aristocrat who could ignore the flectness of styles, Kerrigan looked and his eyes softened affectionately.

"Three hundred. And the tires, look at the tires—made of rubber, they are, and practically new. And everything works: the speedometer, even the cigar lighter."

"What's the railing up on top? Widow's walk?"

"No, that's the laundry yard," said Hal. "Colonel, if I didn't think you were making fun of—"

"Chuco! there—y'see?" said Kerrigan. "You've gone and bought us a car and don't know what to call it. S'pose the others had come before it was named. The ignominy! We better go up and throw out a horn from the quart an old dog-fancier left in my pocket this morning. Got to christen it."

"Drink?" said Hal. "At noon? Kerrigan, what'd you think I am?" Kerrigan's eyes were merry. "Just about what you seem," he said, taking Hal's elbow and turning him round.

"Rasputin" had become the car's name by the time the travelers were ready to start. They were shown Rasputin in his timeless green-and-brass distinction. John smiled leftily, rocking back on his heels as if he were taking the air on the deck of his yacht; and Mrs. Pulsipher made a little exclamation of surprise, clasped her hands in front of her as if to be sure she wouldn't touch the paint, and gave Hal a look of interest and respect.

"Only ones they had handy. Thought it'd be interesting to drive from Michigan to California with Texas plates and a New York driving license. But the motor's sweet—sweet's a nut."

The solid, multiple chunk of the closing door drew an exclamation of awe from Kerrigan. He said, "You don't think I'll be embarrassed riding up so high?"

"You'll find you see more of the country," said Hal.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary With Dinner Party, Jan. 10

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. Beverly was the scene of one of the most delightful parties of the season last Friday evening.

Guests were received at the door by Mr. and Mrs. Beverly and indulged in informal conversation until all had arrived. The closed doors of the reception suite lent an air of curiosity but promptly at the appointed hour, the doors were opened and to the strains of sweet music and amid soft lights the guests were bidden to find their places which were marked at quartet tables.

A well-planned, appetizing three-course turkey dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by Misses Bertha Womack and Peggy Thompson, who, throughout the evening left no wish of any guest ungratified.

Mrs. John Ray rendered several piano selections of popular music of by-gone days during the evening which led the guests to reminiscing and friendships were strengthened and renewed with the re-telling of the events that took place 16 years ago, for Mr. and Mrs. Beverly had told the guests, upon their being seated that they had been bidden to help celebrate their 16th wedding anniversary.

Miss Peggy Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. Julian Wright, sang two numbers, "Treasure Island" and "I Love You Truly."

Guests for the dinner party were Messrs. and Mesdames J. E. Long, I. T. Graves, S. S. Bell, J. R. Beverly, M. S. Henry, J. S. Ray, Mesdames A. F. McMillan, W. C. McKown, Julian Wright, T. M. Beverly, W. D. Howell, W. R. Parish of Mission, Misses Florence Black, Peggy Thompson and Bertha Womack, and Messrs. Grady Thacker, Tom Beverly and Joe Wallace Beverly.

Following the dinner the social game was "42" and five tables of guests joined in the merriment and pleasure derived from the games.

Before taking their departure, the guests were invited into the dining room where the host and hostess served them with boiled custard and a slice of wedding cake. The dining table was laid with a Venetian lace cloth and the centerpiece consisted of pink and white gladioli and baby's breath in a crystal vase on a mirror. White tapers in crystal candlesticks further adorned the table. The custard was served from a gleaming crystal punch bowl.

The guests departed with wishes to their host and hostess for many more years of happiness.
