RELIEF WORK CONTINUES

The plains of Antioch, where Ben Hur trained his Arab horses for that famous chariot race, again are echoing to the sound of running feet. But this time they are human feet.

Three villages for refugee families have been established on the plains by the Near East Relief, partly to aid the Armenian families and orphan children under American care for the past eleven years. Other private philanthropies joined in the scheme which was originally started to demonstrate how emergency relief may be transformed into a constructive measure of permanent value.

The report of Charles V. Vickery, general secretary of the organization, showed that in eleven years of operation more than one million and a half persons have been rescued from death by starvation and disease; approximately half a million children have been cared for in the refuge camps and the orphanages; and approximately $100,000,000 has been contributed by America to maintain this work.

Approximately 32,000 children are now being cared for according to the report, which shows that about one and a half million dollars must be raised to provide for the remaining orphan children, most of whom are under thirteen years of age, to bring the work of financial solicitation to a close this summer.

GOLF AS A REMEDY

When our well known business and professional men begin to take on that "middleage spread" and show symptoms of the gout, the doctor wisely prescribes golf.

In doing so, the doctor is following the modern tendency to advise outdoor exercise for indoor workers and he invariably says "play golf and live longer."

But it's not new—this golf "bug" that is as virulent as the most deadly germ ever discovered by science because more than 150 years ago Dr. Benjamin Rush, one of the first professors of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, in a book, "Sermons to Gentlemen on Temperance and Exercise," prescribed and commended golf as an exercise and a remedy for ill.

It is only in recent years that golf once regarded as a rich man's game has been popularized and has been taken up by men of modern means, and has placed man invalids back on the road to health.

The community that has its own golf course is indeed fortunate for it places within reach of the man in very ordinary financial circumstances a type of recreation that makes him better physically and mentally and develops a better type of citizenship.

MOMENTOUS EVENTS rule in the then colonies. From that little incident there has sprung into existence the greatest nation the sun shines on today. An insignificant individual in Serbia threw a bomb that extinguished the career of an Austrian archduke. That he paid the penalty of his crime with his life was not sufficient. His act was the torch which set ablaze the fire of passions that came near to consuming the world. Neither the world war nor the bomb thrower of Serbia will ever be forgotten. We might run a catalogue of events up into the thousands, all tending to emphasize humanity's inability to recognize significant facts in their incipency. It has been so with the human race since the beginning, and it will probably continue so until we cease to exist. We overlook today the things that are fraught with the greatest danger tomorrow. 10,000 Chevrolets Since First of Year

August 8.—One million Chevrolets have been on the road since the first of the year.

How far the long arm of the law reaches into the details of everyday life, not to hamper but to protect, is nowhere disclosed more clearly than in a recent summary of the legislation of the forty-eight states on the subject of cleanliness.

Here are laws or regulations that involve bathing, before use of a public swimming pool; food and drink, as prepared and served in public eating places; the shave and hair-cut administered by the barber.

A surprising variation among the states is shown in this summary, which was prepared and made public by Cleanliness Institute.

KEEPING CLEAN BY LAW

Health officers all over the country realize that while a law may not make a state clean, its presence enables the enforcing officer to remedy unsafe and undesirable conditions provided he has public opinion behind him.

Commercial hatcheries will continue to extend their influence in the poultry industry, in the opinion of H. L. Shrader, of the United States Department of Agriculture.

ers must have good quality and eggs." Mr. Shrader also notes that the hatchery specializing in high quality stock can aid greatly in the standardization of farm flocks, supplying the particular breeds and strains of poultry best adapted to the conditions and the market demands prevailing in its territory.

Six bridal couples recently arrived in Paris from London on aerial honeymoons. Bookmakers at the Northampton, Eng., race track donated $500 to the local hospital.

Glady's Smith, 17, of Cardiff, Wales, was sentenced to prison for a year after she confessed to setting fire to six buildings "just for excitement."

James Rossiter of London pursued his eloping daughter in an airplane and persuaded her to wait two years before being married.

West Texas Offers Field for Industries

THERE are marked evidences that a turning point is at hand in the distribution of population, that congestion in large centers of population has accomplished all the benefits possible, and further congestion will be harmful rather than helpful.

While the so-called "drift to the cities" has been going on, things have been happening in the country too, chief among which are the wide-spread distribution of electric power and the development of fast freight facilities.

And so, as the disadvantages of metropolitan congestion now begin to reveal themselves, the solution is readily at hand in the smaller centers of population—a renewed industrial development of smaller cities and towns seems to be inevitable.

This is especially true in West Texas. Our cities and towns have every advantage to offer industries looking for new locations—cheaper land, lower taxes, shipping facilities less crowded and ABUNDANT, ECONOMICAL ELECTRIC POWER.

With 70,000 available horsepower of electricity, its three big generating stations and fifteen auxiliary plants, the West Texas Utilities Company insures uninterrupted service, 24 hours a day and 365 days a year.

A CHEMICAL AGE

This is an age of imitation and states, or at least we are more believe that everything is adulterated.

Modern chemical industrialism is responsible. The world does suffer by substitution. It benefits in some ways, but it suffers in others.

Yet, today we are better housed and fed than Malthus his contemporaries were. And we enjoy thousands of conveniences which he never dreamed of.

In the past, it is declared, from an era of power to the era of chemicals, the world turned handicraft into factory production and resulted in mass production of immense size.

STOP IT NOW

Discussing the automobile accident problem, the Jacksonville, Florida, Times-Union recently said, in advocating liability legislation on the order of the New York plan: "It is very evident that many persons are permitted to operate motor vehicles on streets and highways when there is no justification whatever for such permission to be granted or to be enjoyed. Irresponsible persons are the most numerous causers of accidents, fatal and otherwise."

"The very irresponsibility, as in the matter of paying for damages that result from their recklessness, ought to bar certain motor car drivers from using the public streets and highways. They are irresponsible, financially, frequently not owning the car or vehicle they operate in public. They laugh when damages, to be paid by them, are mentioned."

"They should be made to understand that they must pay for such accidents as they cause. If they cannot be made to understand this by education, then the teaching should be by way of drastic law, energetically and effectively applied."

"This entire matter of accidents due to the use of motor-driven vehicles needs more serious attention than as yet has been given it. Otherwise the slaughter of innocent people will go on and increase in numbers. The general demand should be — stop it now."

FIRE APPARATUS OFFICIALS
STOPPED IN CROWELL WED.

J. E. Blaine, president of the Southern Fire Apparatus Company of Dallas, and Bert Collins, delivery engineer, stopped in Crowell Wednesday morning while delivering a new fire truck to Sudan, Texas. While here they conferred with Glynn
Shultz, local fire chief.

They were driving a specially built six-cylinder Chevrolet truck. Mr.
Blaine stated that his company had manufactured trucks for hundreds of cities in various parts of the country and that they ranged in size from small trucks like the one he had here to big machines capable of pumping a thousand gallons of water per minute. All of the machines are manufactured in Dallas.

AT LEAST EVERY TENTH DOLLAR

Of your earnings should be saved. You should put one dollar out of every ten in your thrift and opportunity account and more if you possibly can, out of each week's salary. Then add to this your surplus dollars—money that you would otherwise spend foolishly and watch the total of your savings grow.

You will soon have enough to realize your ambitions of life.

SOLVING A SOCIAL PROBLEM

The development of rural electric service is solving a great social problem by making comfortable homes available to persons of modest means living in isolated localities...

"With the extension of electric power today," Mr. Dyer says, "it is not a theory, but a fact, that in a country home you can have every convenience that you have in the city..."

The disintegration of the home, a problem that has worried sociologists, is the result of overcrowding in great cities. And the trend away from rural and agricultural life was the natural desire of the country dweller for urban comforts and luxuries.

Electricity is here effecting a tremendous social change. Families find in the country the natural advantages of unbounded space, healthful living conditions and lower living costs...

All over the nation rural electric lines are being built. Problems of cost and maintenance are being solved. Farmers are realizing more and more the boon of electricity...

Baptist Church News Last Sunday was a happy day with Mount Baptists. The pastor had just returned from a fine meeting with the Odell Baptist Church, and was all pepped up for a great service. The singing was of the highest order and despite the very hot weather, all seemed to enjoy the day. The offering was extra good, which speaks volumes for our work.

We have much to be encouraged about in the splendid way our attendance is holding up during the lazy hot summer months. With the coming fall, we believe every department of the work will take a decided forward move.

The pastor will begin a revival meeting at Margaret this Thursday night. This meeting bids fair to be a good one. The Margaret people are in a fine spirit of expectation and there is no physical reason for a failure.

The pulpit will be filled Sunday morning by a visiting preacher. It is hoped that our people will give him a large hearing. The Sunday evening services will be called in on account of the meeting at the Christian Church.

Remember Sunday School at 9:45; preaching at 11 and B. Y. P. U. at 7. WOODIE W. SMITH.

Christian Church Our meeting is in full swing now. Bro. Merrill is preaching some wonderful sermons, our morning services are improving, our singing is getting better, unsaved people are becoming interested and many Christians are actively working for the success of the meeting. All we need to do in order to have a truly great meeting is for every Christian to truly assist in a truly great way.

Don't forget that our attendance goal for next Sunday is 100 and that our aim in chapter reading is for the whole Sunday School to read not less than 1189 chapters, this being the number of chapters in the entire Bible. Surely the whole Sunday School can read the entire Bible in one week.

Bro. John G. Clark of Indianapolis, Ind., and recently of Fort Worth, Texas, a graduate of Texas Christian University has been called by the church as our new pastor. Bro. Clark visited the church and preached for us Easter Sunday, 1928. Bro. Clark and his wife are driving through from Indianapolis and should arrive in time to be with us during our next Sunday services if not before. C. V. ALLEN, Reporter.

TO YOUR FRONT DOOR The time was when news was exceedingly scarce. The town crier would stand in the public square ringing his bell to attract attention. When the crowd of eager citizens had assembled, he would read the latest proclamation of the town officials and give a brief summary of the news. Today in your easy chair you glance over the newspaper and in a few minutes inform yourself of the news. Not only do you know what is transpiring in your community, but you are up on the news of the stores where everything can be bought. The advertisements are by no means the least important news in the paper. They are an accurate index of what other people are buying, selling, wearing, eating, doing, learning; of what the world is accomplishing and how, and where and by whom it is being accomplished. They give you the opportunity for comparison and selection of almost everything you want or need. They bring the wares of the world to your door.

CULTIVATING ROSES

In Athens two thousand years ago the rose was crowned Queen of Flowers. It is old, extremely old, this Queen of cultivated flowers, and from time immemorial has never ceased to charm the world with its haunting fragrance and exotic beauty.

The romantic songs and legends of the Greeks, the Persians and the Chinese testify that this pampered darling of gardens the world over was cultivated in earliest times. The place it holds in the heart of man is strangely unusual in that no other flower has ever succeeded in usurping its sovereignty. As one great nature lover so well said: "The rose is the national flower of one great race, but it is loved by all and is the monopoly of no one race or creed."

Today in America we are just beginning to have roses, that is to say, a variety of roses of American origin. It is singularly interesting to know that a basis for rose history in this country was most fittingly furnished by the man who was first in rose culture as well as first in the heart of his countrymen—George Washington.

In his delightful gardens at Mount Vernon he grew from seed a hybrid rose based on the native Rosa setigera and named it Mary Washington. By giving his permission for this to be grown and sold he thus started the good work of producing roses of American lineage.

The late Dr. Walter Van Fleet of the Agriculture Department followed in the footsteps of Washington in attempting to produce an American species and succeeded in evolving an ever-blooming door-yard rose which is the pioneer of an entirely new rose family. Dr. Van Fleet's work in rose culture is deemed invaluable by the government and now being carried on in the rose test garden at Arlington, Virginia.

Summoned for parking too long. James Morse of Chicago told the judge that he had been in a dentist's chair and thought that was "sufficient punishment," so he was released.

PHILANTHROPIC STANDARDS

Standards in America have more than the force of law. At an early period in America's career as a nation, the feeling against self-aggrandizement of families became a social axiom. The memory of the wealth hoarder incurred reproach if not odium if part or all of his riches was not given to public uses. The principle has powerfully affected acts of many rich men from that time to this.

One of the first notable examples was Stephen Girard. He bequeathed to philanthropy the entire fortune he amassed from ship commerce. A long line of rich men have followed him in thus partially or wholly disposing of their wealth. In the donation of immense sums for public purposes, Andrew Carnegie was but adhering to an established rule. John D. Rockefeller has made such extensive contributions that indications point to his drawing heavily upon his principal.

The public disfavor felt when a multimillionaire makes no provision for philanthropy was evidenced in the case of Russell Sage, who, both during his life and after his death, was bitterly criticised. He had accumulated his fortune in railroad manipulations and stock operations; his methods and parsimony did not endear him to the people. His widow, however, generously atoned for his omissions by large and useful public-spirited donations.

This philanthropic standard has been a most important agency in holding down the size and dispersing much of the substance of American fortunes. Incalculable sums have been transferred from private to public possession. It has been and continues an effective voluntary way by which many of the conspicuously rich have divested themselves of much wealth, either by gift or legacy. Their examples may also have a strong persuasive influence upon their heirs.

Misery loves company, so the old saying says, but it is terribly hard on the company.

A TIP FOR TIRED SHOPPERS

Shopping is a strenuous task as all women will agree. Men know it so well that they usually refuse to shop at all—or at least, they refuse to do the all-day shopping which is the frequent task of women.

Next time you shop, slip a little candy in your handbag. Before weariness begins to assail you, eat a little. An hour or two after lunch, eat a little more. You will be surprised to find that you will not tire nearly so easily as you usually do.

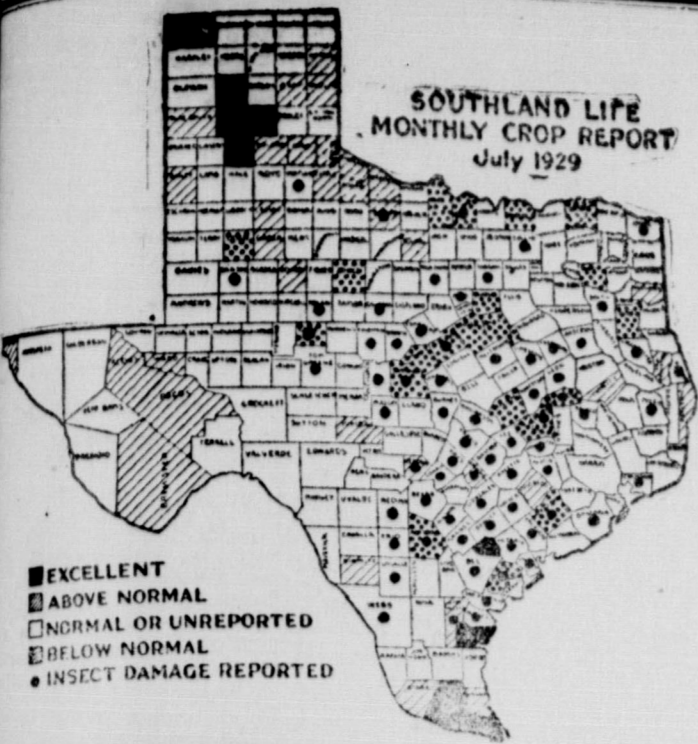

This is merely because sugar is an energy food. Marathon runners, channel swimmers, mountain climbers and athletes of all kinds know that and make use of the knowledge to keep themselves pepped up during strenuous sport periods. Women, too, can increase their power for effort by the same means.

Jack Neville, veteran trainer in Chicago, speaking of six-day bicyclists, remarked: "When a big race is on, bicyclists live principally on soup, milk and candy. As they are called to track on an instant's notice, they keep their pockets full of candy, which is a highly concentrated food."

It's hard to convince a winner that gambling is entirely wicked.

SOUTHLAND LIFE MONTHLY CROP REPORT July 1929

MILES OF BOOKS

Books considered unfit for public perusal are locked in a secret chamber of the British Museum in London, and only officials have been inside of that part of the building.

In the British Museum there are more than 54 miles of bookshelves and some 4,000,000 books, some of which have been there for more than 150 years.

For those who know its secrets the museum is one of the most romantic places in London. Not every book cover seen by the visitor in a tour of the miles of bookshelves is really the back of a book.

There are reading rooms in which the visitor may peruse certain volumes under the eye of a vigilant attendant. There are rooms in which valuable first editions are kept.

PSYCHOLOGY IN INDUSTRY

That color in the factory increases the efficiency of workers has been demonstrated by an interesting series of tests in one of the country's great industrial establishments.

This latest development of the application of color extends to the field of so-called paint prescriptionists whereby manufacturers of finishes designate the kinds and colors of finishes to use for factory exteriors and work rooms.

avorable Report Is Made For July For Texas Cotton

Dallas, Texas, August, 8.—With a fair chance for the completion of this year's cotton crop Texas is regarded of unquestionable prosperity.

In general crops may be shown as follows: Northwest Texas, including Panhandle, cotton normal or better.

Business conditions in practically every section of the state show much progress. There is a great deal of conservatism in the reports; however, even these reflect a great deal of optimism.

Northern counties in general are in need of rain while exactly opposite applies to the southern counties. Insect infestation while appearing is likely to be less than last year.

COMMUNITY HOME OWNERS Home ownership is a principal factor in the making of citizenship. The community that is largely composed of home owners is always progressive and is a desirable place to live.

Crowell is noted for the beauty of its homes, expressing the pride which their owners have in keeping them attractive and pleasing to the eye.

The renter as a rule takes little pride in the surroundings of his home, its upkeep or its furnishings. He is always dreaming of that home of his own, and he saves all of his energy and ingenuity until that time when he can spend it on his own possessions.

Thus the home owner is more dependable, more stable and more desirable, because he feels that he is a part of the community. He takes more interest in community activities, knowing that it is his permanent home and he is more likely to be a force for good government, than if he is unsettled and in doubt about the terms of his residence.

The home owner pays taxes and is concerned about how the money is spent, which makes him a desirable citizen. He demands good laws and their enforcement for the protection of his family and his property.

The man who owns his home has a high respect for property and is anxious to keep it looking its best. He is thrifty and eager to save so that he may add the latest conveniences and enjoy the best furnishings, with the knowledge that it will not be damaged by frequent moving.

West Texas Utilities Adds Oil Field Power

Abilene, Texas, August 8.—That West Texas is well under way on its march to break last year's record of $200,000,000 oil production is evidenced by the great oil field construction program now being carried on by the West Texas Utilities Company.

This company has built since January 1st more than 123 miles of new transmission lines and is engaged in building many more miles at this time. The oil field power load on July 1st was 30,533 horsepower, as compared with 23,470 horsepower on January 1st, showing a net gain of 30 per cent in the first six months of this year.

Anticipating one of the greatest years in the history of the oil industry in West Texas, and to be ready to adequately care for the rapidly increasing oil field load, this company's construction gangs are working overtime building new extensions and strengthening old distribution systems.

Following are some of the more important projects now under way for which orders have been improved:

Construction of 18 miles of 12,000 volt transmission line from Miles, Texas, at the Atlantic Pipeline Company's pump station near Bronte and installation of a bank of four 667 kva transformers to permit loop service to Bronte and Wilmet.

Building of 450 kva-12kv-2200 volt substation at Shell-McMahan gathering station at Orman in Yates oil field to take care of added load.

Install four 333 kva transformers at Big Lake substation.

Install four 333 kva transformers at Hamlin Shell substation, replacing three 250 kva transformers.

Extend 13,000 volt transmission line eight miles from the town of Imperial, west to serve oil field.

Construction of 17 miles of 12,000 volt line northeast from Lueders to a point in the southeastern part of Haskell county providing rural service to Colbert's Clear Fork ranch, rural customers enroute and to serve oil field load in Reynolds County.

Construction 3,000 feet 12,000 volt line to serve oil field power load in South Vernon; 4200 feet 12,000 volt line for power load in South Vernon; 3.8 miles 12,000 volt line to serve Phillips Camp, South Vernon; 3750 feet 2300 volt line to serve rural community of Hilltop in South Vernon field.

Construction 2100 feet 2300 volt line to serve rural customers north of Quanah.

Construction 2400 feet 2300 volt primary and 1950 feet secondary lines in Humble Oil & Refining Company's camp near McCamey.

Construction 2300 volt primary line and build transformer rack to serve Dempsey Gin at Turkey.

Construction three miles 13,000 volt line from Wellington-Dodsonville line south to serve a gin and 12 rural customers at Loco.

Construction 6600 volt rural line 18,000 feet south from Christoval to take care of new rural customers.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

(By West Texas Cham. of Com.)

Jayton will soon see a modern brick building replace the old iron building adjoining the Palace Theatre. The latter building is being torn down and the general merchandise store owned by G. Cour which will take its place will be run with the idea of giving sanitary goods, with high quality and the best price to the public.

Rochester is seeing some road work done by the State Highway Department. Low places on the main thoroughfare which stood in water after every rain have been filled in. It is planned to fix other streets in the near future.

Portales, N. M., will be the home of the Eastern New Mexico division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce according to present plans. The Portales chamber of commerce plans to furnish office space, and extend the services of their secretary, Sam Seay, to the regional organization.

Happy's new Methodist Church is being constructed in a hurry. The excavation has been completed and the rough part of the plumbing done. Work has started on the first floor. A nursery, kitchen, banquet hall, lavatory rooms, pastor's study and assembly room for the choir have been included in the plans for the house of worship.

Coleman's latest improvement is the light signal that has been installed as a warning to traffic when the fire alarm is turned in and the engines need clear streets. When the automatic switch goes into operation at the station, the yellow light comes on, and the bell stops traffic for two minutes.

Winter's survey of Saturday traffic revealed 377 cars parked on the streets and 233 of them Fords, Chevrolet was second with a total of 58, and Dodge and Whippet with 18 each. Chrysler was represented 7 times, Pontiac 6, Oakland 6, Nash 5, Buicks 4, Hudsons 2, Oldsmobiles 2, Stars 2, and DeSoto, Franklin, Dort, Willys-Knight and Cadillac once, each.

Gained 25 Pounds By Taking Sargon

"Before I started taking Sargon I was down in weight to 140 pounds and was badly run down after years of suffering. Since taking Sargon I have gained 25 pounds and am back to my normal weight, which is 165 pounds.

"Up to a few years ago I had always been in fine health, then I commenced to be troubled with indigestion and constipation. It just looked like I couldn't digest anything. I put myself on such a light diet I became badly undernourished and lost weight rapidly. I lost strength and energy and it was all I could do to stay on my job.

"Almost as soon as I began taking Sargon I started eating again and took on weight rapidly. I tell you it's fine to sit down at the table and eat a man's meal again. I am as full of strength and energy as I ever was and can do more work in one day now than I could in two before.

"The Sargon Pills toned up my liver and I no longer suffer from biliousness and constipation.

"After gaining 25 pounds I am feeling like my old self again and I think that is enough to convince everybody the Sargon treatment is wonderful."—Joe N. Canizard, 348 Washington Boulevard, Beaumont, Texas.

Sargon is now called "The Medicine With a Million Friends." Its marvelous record of achievement is probably without parallel in the history of the drug trade of this country.

Continental and Marland Oil Companies Merged

Two outstanding American oil companies are now one with the recent merger of the Continental Oil Company and the Marland Oil Company. The new company in the future will be known as the Continental Oil Company.

Readers of the News will notice in this issue an ad of the Continental Oil Company with its new trade mark, a new symbol of greater service. The new mark uses the Marland triangle with 'Conoco' across its center.

The union of these companies brings together two outstanding producers, refiners and marketers in the petroleum industry. The united resources and facilities thus made available under one control will offer exceptional service to the customers of motor fuels and lubricants within the new company's wide marketing area.

The new company is intensive in 28 states and the District of Columbia and will operate a total of 2,294 marketing stations, including 976 company-owned service stations and 1,318 company owned bulk stations. Refining capacity will be 66,750 barrels daily and total oil production will be gross 104,324 barrels daily.

Many free attractions are being planned by T. E. Jackson, president, and Roy Rupard, secretary, of the State Fair for the 1929 Exposition. Free band concerts, mardi gras parades, star vaudeville attractions and other free amusements will be offered visitors to the State Fair.

RECIPES

RICE RECIPES

I am a faddist for foods that come to our tables direct from the tap of Mother Nature. Fresh and raw if possible; unadulterated if possible; and if my foods must be refined, please do not refine them to death. So I believe in fresh fruits and vegetables if they can be obtained; fresh milk rather than canned; whole-wheat bread in place of white; and brown rice rather than the kind we may be more acquainted with.

Try these little rice recipes and see if you do not agree:

Brown Rice Pop-Overs

1 cup boiled brown rice
1/2 cup flour
1 pint sweet milk
3 eggs
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon salt

Scald sweet milk and stir into it the rice, flour, butter and salt. Beat thoroughly together and add eggs well beaten. Bake in hot oven twenty minutes.

Brown Rice Fritters

1 cup brown rice
1 pint milk
3 eggs
1 tablespoonful sugar
2 tablespoonfuls butter

Boil rice in milk until soft and all the milk is absorbed then remove, add yolk of eggs, sugar and butter; when cold serve with butter and jam.

PEACH FAVORITES

Peaches are with us. They are delicious and healthful. Many can pluck them from the trees. Others can secure them at slight cost. Here are two novel peach recipes that will bring this delicious fruit to you in new forms.

Peach Dessert

1 package vanilla junket
1 pint milk
Sliced sweetened peaches

Prepare vanilla junket according to directions on package. At serving time garnish ice cold junket with sliced sweetened peaches. A little whipped cream also is very delicious.

Peach Ice Cream

4 junket tablets
2 quarts milk
1 pint cream
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla

Crushed, sweetened peaches

Warm milk slightly, add sugar and vanilla. Dissolve junket tablets in tablespoon cold water, stir into milk mixture quickly, pour into freezer can and let set about 20 minutes, until firm. Place can in freezer, pack with ice and salt and freeze to thick mush. Add the cream, whipped if convenient, and the crushed, sweetened peaches. Finish freezing. Save part of peaches to serve on top. Strawberries, bananas, or pineapple, may be added in this way when making any junket ice cream.

BUDGET AND FARM CROPS

Much of the unsatisfactory returns in agriculture, according to J. B. Hutson, department economist, is the result of conducting crop and livestock activities on the basis of current prices. Good current prices invariably cause over expansion with resulting poor prices, whereas a more efficient system of farming should be predicated upon what are likely to be the returns at marketing time.

A farm budget would show the crops to be grown, the livestock to be kept, and the estimated production, receipts and expenses from the various sources. First, the acreage of the different crops contemplated and the crop expenses that appear probable should be recorded. The next step is to estimate the production of the different crops and how much will be needed for seed, how much will be fed to livestock, and how much will be sold. Then the number and kind of livestock to be kept should be indicated. Next, the feed requirements and other expenses for the livestock should be recorded.

At this point, Mr. Hutson says, it will usually be advisable to compare the data showing the feeds on hand at the beginning of the year and those to be grown for feed, with data showing the expected feed requirements. Generally, before a cropping program and livestock program are finally decided upon, adjustments will need to be made in first one and then another until a livestock program adapted to a particular cropping program is found. When the kind and numbers of livestock contemplated have been recorded, the quantities of the livestock and livestock products expected to be used in the home and to be sold should be indicated.

The expected value of the crop, and livestock products to be sold and the expected cost of the purchased feed, seeds, fertilizers, and other materials should then be indicated. Next the expected expenses and receipts should be brought together. In addition to the direct costs for crops and livestock, estimates should be included on the expense side for labor, new machinery and repair, building repair, taxes, farm insurance, and other overhead items.

Generally, larger profits will result, Mr. Hutson says, if plans for the system, including probable expenses and receipts are carefully developed and compared with plans for other possible systems before the one chosen is actually put into operation. In this way, many errors may be avoided. Although prices, crop yields, and livestock production can not be forecast exactly, they can be foretold within broad enough limits to make it profitable to organize carefully and to focus attention upon the best available information relating to them.

A Classified Ad Will Do It

It is a fact, the classified column in the Foard County News furnishes the simplest, most economical and also the best method for disposing of various items, to secure what you want, to rent a room, to recover lost items, and to accomplish other results to name them.

MRS. HOUSEWIFE—If you have a spare room to rent, or a piece of furniture to dispose of, or possible you have a boarder. If so try a classified ad for results. We have a number of strangers to our office recently to look at the classified section in relation to rooms and residences.

MR. FARMER—Possibly you would like to sell some of your stock, or maybe buy some. A little classified ad can easily bring you a profit.

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC—If you want employment if you wish to recover an animal, or just anything you wish to express, remember a CLASSIFIED AD in the News furnishes your best chance results.

A NEW SYMBOL OF A GREATER SERVICE

Two old established oil companies join forces better to serve their millions of customers

A STATEMENT

The consolidation of the Marland Companies and the Continental Oil Company has combined the producing, refining and marketing facilities of these widely known manufacturers and distributors of petroleum products.

The high standards of manufacture which have established and maintained the reputation of the high quality products heretofore sold under the Conoco and Red Triangle brands will be strictly maintained.

The same chemists and engineers, the same refineries and, above all, the same policies, will support the new trade mark "A new symbol of a greater service."

Another Wichita Housewife Talks

"Orgatone Has Completely Relieved Me of My Stomach and Gall Bladder Trouble," She Says

"When it comes to getting rid of bad stomach and gall bladder troubles, Orgatone beats anything I ever heard of," said Mrs. J. R. Walk-up of 1510 13th St., Wichita Falls, Texas.

"If there is anything that will make life miserable for a person it is a real bad case of stomach trouble. Several years ago my stomach went back on me and I have had a mighty tough time of it ever since. I lost my appetite and my strength, and I could hardly eat anything. About every six or eight days I would have had spells with my gall bladder causing very severe suffering, but never found a medicine that would give me relief. I always felt tired and run down and was very nervous and had pains in my side.

"So many of our local people have endorsed Orgatone so highly, I began taking it and it has certainly proven to be the right medicine for me. I feel like a different person and I have only taken two bottles. I can eat most anything I want, eat three meals every day and always seem to be hungry. My stomach seems to be stronger and I'm not nervous and I don't have the aches and pains in my sides any more. In fact, I feel better all around and I haven't had a spell of gall bladder trouble since I began taking Orgatone. I am better in every way than I have felt in a long time and there is no doubt about it. Orgatone is a very good medicine and I am glad to endorse it."

COURTESY PAYS DIVIDENDS

Courtesy is the cheapest commodity in the world, yet it is probably the least used.

It doesn't belong to any corporation, and isn't quoted in Wall Street. It is not regulated by any federal commission—there are no restrictions on it. The price of courtesy is not fixed because there are no "production costs."

Courtesy is as free as the air we breathe, and costing nothing, many view it as a worthless asset and do not make it a part of themselves.

For many, many years the commencement day orators have told us that courtesy is a factor to be reckoned with if we wish to succeed in life.

Some of the high school graduates have remembered this bit of timely advice and in their efforts to get ahead in the strenuous game of life, they have made it their constant aim to be courteous to others.

Go through the list of your acquaintances and see how many have made courtesy pay. You will find the number lamentably small because they have been too busy with the small perplexities of life to take time for little courtesies that make the brief stay here pleasant.

Courtesy pays big dividends in what we generally term success. It likewise creates within the individual a certain sense of satisfaction in the thought that he makes friends by treating other courteously.

And it always comes back abundantly in proportion to the way it is extended to others.

Rev. Paul J. Merrill Speaks to Rotarians

Rev. Paul J. Merrill, who is conducting the Christian revival here, made one of the most interesting talks that has been made to the Rotary Club at its regular luncheon Wednesday.

He spoke on the subject of character building and what it takes to make happiness. He pointed out that life is going to be what one makes from within and that true happiness would not come from the outside.

"There are four cornerstones to happiness and we must have them all if we are going to be happy," said Rev. Merrill.

He gave 'faith' as the first cornerstone. Wholesome, vital faith in God and Jesus Christ, in one's self, and in fellow man are necessary to have happiness, he stated. He said that as long as there was an element of doubt, there was no faith and as long as there was an element of doubt, there was no happiness.

"Just because we have been treated unfairly by a person or two is no reason that we should lose faith in our fellowman, for by keeping that faith in our fellowman we are going to gain much more than we shall ever lose by a dishonest person," he said. Honesty was given as the second cornerstone of happiness and a 'sense of responsibility' as the third.

Rev. Merrill deplored the fact that too little responsibility was placed upon the children of today. "A person without responsibility is the most unhappy person living," Rev. Merrill stated, "and the road to glory is never an avenue of roses."

The final cornerstone of happiness was given as 'desire to be of service.' He pointed out that if a person did not have a desire to be of service to his community, its institutions, and his fellowman, that such a person was naturally selfish and that a selfish person led the most miserable life known.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Members of the Crowell Epworth League held the regular zone meeting Tuesday night at the Methodist Church. The Crowell League held their business meeting at 7:30. After this the zone business meeting was held and then the program. The evening was then turned over to the recreational leader, Edward Huffman.

During the recreational hour the words, "yes" and "no" were forbidden. Everyone was given ten beans one of which was a forfeit for each time either of these words were used. At the close of the evening Ila Lovelady had twenty-two beans, thus winning the prize, which was a bar of candy. Many interesting games were enjoyed in the basement and on the church lawn, after which watermelon was served to twenty-eight guests.

This League zone takes in Crowell, Paducah, Truscott, Margaret and Thalia. At this meeting five points were decided on as a League standard. The chapters are to be graded by this standard at each meeting, and the one graded the highest will be allowed to keep a trophy, which will be decided on later.

League members from out of town were Mrs. Gates, Misses Marie Holley, Inez Doolen, Mable Powell and Mildred Macon, and Messrs. Roy Holley and Morgan Clowers, all of Paducah.

John Matus Says This Is His Best Fruit Year

John Matus, one of Foard County's most progressive farmers, who lives about 12 miles northeast of here, says that this is the best fruit year that he has seen in Foard County.

Mr. Matus has about two and one-half acres given to fruit trees that are really loaded down with fruit this year. Large branches on some of his plum trees have already broken as a result of the weight of the fruit.

16 Bushels to Tree

From two plum trees he has already gathered over seven bushels of plums from each and he states that the plums have not been half gathered yet from those trees. There are three varieties of plum trees on the farm and a number of different types of peach trees, all of which are bearing heavily.

Great numbers of apricots have already been gathered as well as cherries. Apples and pears will soon be ripening. Mrs. Matus has already canned a great deal of fruit and is now at work canning much more. A considerable amount of fruit has also been sold.

There is also an excellent vineyard, covering about one-fourth of an acre, on the Matus farm and the grapes are bearing exceptionally well. Mr. Matus believes that it is well worth while for every farm in this section to have a vineyard and fruit trees. He put in his vineyard and orchard in 1916, the year he came to Foard County.

Puts $10,000 in Farm

Mr. Matus is convinced that farming is a good business if a person will work at it in the proper manner. About two years ago when Foard County received its first gas well, about one-quarter mile from the Matus home, Mr. Matus was paid $10,000.00 for quarter royalty on 160 acres.

Instead of leaving the farm as has been the popular custom for farmers under similar conditions in other oil sections, Mr. Matus immediately put the ten thousand dollars into farm improvements, building a new brick home, chicken houses, repairing the fences and other improvements. He even obligated himself for more than the $10,000 he received from his oil money in improving his home.

Practically every product grown in Foard County is now growing on this farm which has been a real revenue producer as the result of its intelligent management and the tireless efforts of its owner.

WHOSE PRAIRIE DOG?

Pet prairie dogs are seldom seen, however, one of the chummiest pets that we have yet seen is a little prairie dog that seems to have adopted Crowell as its home. Just whose it is and where it is from has not yet been discovered.

It was first noticed making its headquarters in the office and display room of Allen Chevrolet Company. Within a few days it had found its way to Flowers Battery Station and the Whippet-Knight Auto Company. The sociable little creature would no doubt have stopped within the quarters of the Magee Toggery and the News office if it had not been for the screen doors.

Anyhow it seems that the pet became tired of the association with Flowers, Ab Dunn and others and now has adopted the county courthouse as headquarters. Its first day there, Thursday, has been spent in the office of the county agent, county treasurer, and tax assessor.

Sam Scales stated he found the dog was not in need of dental work and advised others to not pinch it while playing with the little animal.

W. Lyle, chief engineer of the company.

Dear Friends:

Texon Tattler is visiting friends and relatives here for a few days, glad to see the old boy looking so well for we had an idea that he was working a little too hard at the post office business in Texon. Judging from what we had read in Texon Tales we just naturally thought he would look tired and all worn out—but such is not the case which leads us to believe he has a whole lot easier job than he would like us to think. Makes us wish we were a Republican and had a post office, but being a poor Democrat guess we will still have to keep our old job and try and be of some assistance to those who like pretty homes, barns, garages, etc. Well we don't know but what that is a pretty fair job anyway, and besides we like this work better than handing out catalogs, letters and all those things which come to the post office to be handed out by the post master, in fact we know more about this job than we do the post office business anyway.

We have to have the post office even if they are run by Republicans, they do a pretty good job of running them and are not a bad sort of folks either, they give us the kind of service we like, but they are not the only folks who give you service. We have a good lumber yard right here in Crowell with a well assorted stock of building materials, including paints, enamels, varnishes, brushes, post wire nails and many other items too numerous to mention. We figure this is a great service to the folks who live in our county for frequently you need just such items as is carried in the lumber yard, either for repairs or for new buildings and not only that but we can be of further service to you in helping you plan your new home or an addition to your home. There are many ways in which we can be of help to you—call on us.

We have a handy little article for the housewife, call for yours. They are free.

Yours truly,
SPLINTERS.
