Due to the fact that the bright lights of his car had gone out, he was driving with the dim ones and at the speed he was traveling on the pavement, he failed to see detour signs and as a result his car left the pavement and crashed into a deep ditch, where it overturned. The car was not seriously damaged. Mr. Beverly caught a ride to Archer City and called T. N. Bell at Wichita Falls, who went to Archer City and returned to Wichita Falls with him. After spending the night in Wichita Falls he left the next morning by bus for Mineral Wells. He and his wife returned to Crowell Wednesday in the sedan.

Elsie Schindler Hurt in Auto Accident at Wichita Falls Mar. 11

Miss Elsie Schindler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Schindler of this city, and Miss Nelda Corridon of Iowa Park were painfully injured at Wichita Falls Wednesday night, March 11, when struck by an automobile as they were crossing the street while en route from the Sacred Heart church to the Academy of Mary Immaculate, where they are students.

The negro driver of the car was arrested and thrown in jail, but has since been released. Due to bad lights and the high rate of speed at which the car was travelling the girl students failed to see it as they were crossing the street until it was directly upon them. Miss Schindler was dragged about 25 feet and was the most seriously injured of the two girls. She was bruised considerably and received an injury to her spine, however, she is getting along nicely now and no permanent injuries are expected.

Dr. Schindler returned to Crowell with her Tuesday night and she will remain here for at least ten days or more.

MRS. PARSONS DIED AT HOME HERE TUESDAY

Mrs. L. A. Parsons, 75, resident of Crowell for the past eleven years, died at her home here Tuesday night, March 17, following serious illness during the past few weeks.

She was laid to rest in the Crowell Cemetery Wednesday afternoon following funeral services at the Church of Christ.

Mrs. Parsons is survived by two daughters, Mrs. E. J. Smith of this city and Mrs. Annie Green of Balinger, Texas. One brother, J. N. Cantwell of Estancia, N. M., one sister, Mrs. Bettie Lynn of San Saba, Texas, ten grandchildren and five great grandchildren also survive.

Louisa Almira Callahan, the maiden name of Mrs. Parsons, was born in Little Rock, Arkansas, on Sept. 5, 1856. Her father died when she was very small, leaving her mother to care for little Lou, as she was called, and her little brother, Will. Mrs. Callahan, with her 2 small children, came to Texas with some friends in about 1858. Soon after her arrival in Texas she was married to Jim Cantwell in East Texas.

Living in different parts of East Texas until the beginning of the Civil War, little Lou Callahan, with the family, moved to Coryell County. Soon the conflict became so fierce that the family started to California with a number of other families. While crossing the plains of Texas and New Mexico some differences arose among the travelers and seeing that this was no time for trouble to exist in a company undertaking such a perilous journey, Mr. Cantwell, with his family and a number of others, gave up the California idea and returned to Texas. They remained in the west and southwestern part of Texas for a number of years. This band of frontiersmen, of which Mrs. Parsons, then a child, was a member, was raided at different times by the Indians, however, they lost only a few head of livestock.

After living near the border of Old Mexico for a short time, they returned to the east and settled in Cherokee County and after a few years they moved to Nacogdoches County. It was in this county that Lou Callahan became the bride of J. Z. Parsons. Shortly afterward they moved to Titus County. After living in a number of sections they moved to Brown County in 1884 and after living there two years they drifted back to Anderson County, then to Navarro County, and from there to San Saba. They also lived in Eldorado, Texas, San Angelo and Stacy, Texas, before moving to Elmer, Okla., in 1905. They lived there until 1910 when they moved to Hardeman County, settling in the medicine mound community. In 1912 they moved from Hardeman to McCullough County and then in 1917 to Anderson County. They came from Anderson County to Crowell on Dec. 24, 1919.

Mr. Parsons died on March 10, 1927, and was laid to rest in the Crowell cemetery. Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, eight of whom died young and in infancy.

Mrs. Parsons was a devoted Christian and member of the Church of Christ. She became a member of this church at Elmer, Okla., in August of 1909.

Elder O. C. Ribble of Graham officiated at the funeral. Pall bearers were: Homer, Owen and Clyde Ketchersid, H. L. Kimsy and F. W. Mabe. Flower girls were Misses Irma Daulton and Oleta Stermer.

Intensive "Wear Cotton" Campaign Inaugurated

Gastonia, N. C., Mar. 18.—Climaxing an intensive "Wear Cotton" campaign inaugurated here several months ago, to stimulate the use of all kinds of cotton goods, there was held here yesterday and today a Cotton Festival, perhaps the most unique of its kind ever staged in the South. Thousands of people from the Piedmont Carolinas came last night to witness a style show which consisted of a most elaborate display of the latest and most fashionable women's garments, modeled by more than seventy beautiful Southern girls who acted as mannikins for the merchants and manufacturers.

Special features of the style show were addresses made by Dr. W. H. Frazier, D. D., L. L. D., a native of Alabama, but at present the President of Queens-Chicora College, Charlotte, N. C., and Dr. David E. Coker, L. L. D., Ph. D., of Hartsville, S. C., who is known over the entire South as having done more to help the farmer than any living man or organization.

Cooperating with the Gastonia Woman's Club in presenting this Cotton Fashion Show were the Cotton-Textile Institute of New York and the Durene Association of America, headquarters New York, and a large number of Carolina merchants. The above organizations sent personal representatives to assist in preparing displays and putting on the Cotton Festival.

At the suggestion of the Gastonia Woman's Club, which inaugurated and is now sponsoring the "Wear Cotton" campaign, about 10,000 letters from various business organizations in Gastonia, N. C., have been sent within the past ten days to the twelve Southern cotton growing states, telling of this campaign and asking that the same idea be used to forward the use of cotton in those states. The Gastonia Woman's Club has also written a personal letter to the president of every woman's organization in these twelve states.

POLITICAL Announcements

For Mayor: C. T. SCHLAGAL.
For Marshal: R. J. THOMAS.
For City Attorney: VANCE SWAIM.

Each letter sent out was accompanied by a pamphlet explaining the objects and details of this "Wear Cotton" campaign and urging the recipient to help the South become "cotton-minded".

This is the first general South-wide campaign ever put on by any organization to boost the uses and beauties of cotton fabrics. It is being done as an educational feature to give some idea to the consumer as to the uses of cotton, the beauties of cotton fabrics, and their manner of style and charms. It is expected that before the season has gotten well under way the effects of this campaign will not only have reached every point in the South, but will have penetrated the Northern and Eastern resorts, where styles are always the predominant note among fashionable society.

South Encourages Chief Competitor by Favoring Jute

Austin, Texas, March 12.—The cotton-producing south is also one of the principal consumers of cotton's chief competitor in the bagging field, jute. J. E. McDonald, agricultural commissioner, pointed out today in urging south-wide cooperation toward the substitution of cotton for this foreign product.

Three of the principal uses for jute, he said, are: wrapping for cotton bales, for fertilizer sacks, and for various containers used in the wholesale grocery trade. The south wraps most of its cotton in jute, manufactures and uses a large part of the fertilizer, and sacks it in jute, and has its quota of wholesale grocers.

"It is a disappointing commentary," he said, "that the south should work against itself in this fashion, especially at a time when cotton sells below cost of production and the south faces an enormous surplus." Surveys by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that general substitution of low grade cotton bagging for jute in these three fields alone would open a market for at least 680,000 bales of cotton a year. Successful substitution depends upon whether proper economies can be effected.

The bureau estimated that cotton bagging to wrap the cotton would consume a minimum of 120,000 bales annually; cotton bags as containers for wholesale grocery shipments would take another 400,000 bales; and fertilizer bags alone would take another 166,000 bales. McDonald said he believed these figures unusually conservative. It was estimated that 200,000 bales would be used in making wrappers for cotton the first year, and 120,000 bales a year thereafter, taking re-use into account.

Sale of cotton on the basis of its net weight in the world's markets, including local markets, would obviate losses which would result from the use of a light weight bagging, thus doing away with the principal objections to the use of cotton bagging.

The survey indicated the grocery trade now uses 200,000 bales of cotton a year in making containers and set the potential consumption of the trade at 400,000 bales. The study of the fertilizer industry showed that 97.6 per cent of the nation's fertilizer is handled in burlap (jute) bags, and general use of cotton bags would mean an increase from 4,000 to 170,000 bales, or an increase of 166,000.

Other possible markets discussed by the bureau, included wider use of laundry bags in commercial power laundries; adaption of cotton bags to retail marketing. The latter source was held to have great potentialities, with the trend toward standardized packages.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF THE CITY OF CROWELL

It was decided by the City Council at January meeting to defer the payment of taxes that accrued for 1930 to April 1, 1931, without penalty, and that time is almost at hand. The city has obligations that mature in April that will have to be met.

Therefore, you are especially urged if you have not paid your 1930 city taxes to do so before the 1st day of April, 1931, as the penalty will be in effect on that date.

SCRUBWOMEN

One hot day, when the business depression was worst, I visited two of the largest corporations in the world. I talked with the treasurer of one and with the chairman of the finance committee of the other—and these are men, I may tell you, in whose make-up sentimentality plays very little part. They had been looking at red figures until their eyeballs burned. They were entirely unwilling to predict when their industries would improve.

But each of them uttered the same fervent exclamation: "If only we can pull through without having to cut wages!" When you stop to think about it, that is an astonishing phenomenon. Twenty-five years ago men in similar positions would have said immediately: "Business is off ten per cent; slash wages twenty per cent."

The same sort of executives who used to assume that the way to cure depression was by cutting wages, are now convinced that the way to cure it is not to cut.

That is one principal fact which makes the current depression different from its predecessors. That is progress!

History has a curious way of upsetting contemporary judgments. Many of the events which seem important to men and women while they are living, prove insignificant in the eyes of the ages. And some very little things later loom large.

Who was king of Spain in 1666? I do not remember. But I do recall that in 1666 an apple fell and hit Isaac Newton.

What was Warren Harding? Who were Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover? Some future school-boy may be puzzled by those inquiries.

But unless I am very much mistaken every future history book will lay emphasis on two developments which have taken place under our very eyes.

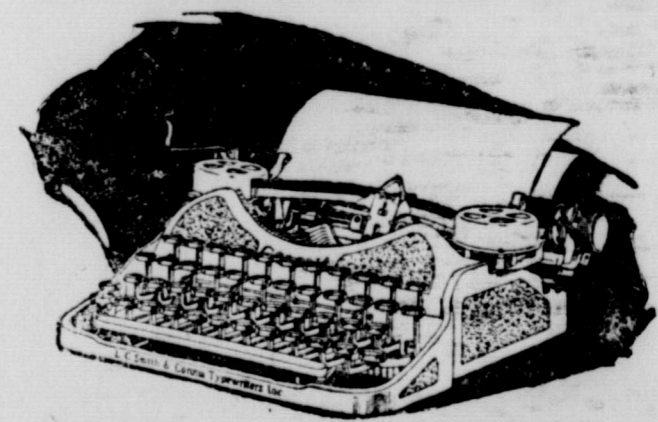

They will tell that a boy named Lindbergh flew across the Atlantic Ocean.

And that a man named Ford announced that he would pay all workers, even scrubwomen, a minimum of five dollars a day.

The idea that high wages makes prosperity, that the key to good business lies not in the safety deposit boxes of millionaires, but is carried in the pocket of every worker—this is something entirely new.

It holds the hope of the future. Whatever else may have to be discarded, American business must not surrender that American idea!

Data Indicates Cotton Acreage Reduction Needs

Austin, Tex., March 12—A study of cotton production and consumption records was recommended today by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, to farmers preparing to plant their cotton.

Without attempting to forecast market or price trends, McDonald cited best available figures on the 1930 crop, together with past tendencies, and urged farmers to draw their own conclusions from these figures. His statement follows:

"It may be well to call to the attention of Texas cotton farmers a few cotton statistics and reliable estimates. The 1930 crop was around 14,000,000 bales. The consumption since Sept. 1, 1930, will be 11,467,000 bales, and the best authorities estimate the carry-over at the end of this fiscal year, on Sept. 1, 1931, at eight and a half million to nine million bales of American cotton.

"We must also take into consideration the fact that foreign growths of cotton have encroached upon American production at the average rate of 600,000 bales per year for the last ten years. These are cold facts, and it behooves the Texas farmer to keep these figures in mind and pitch his 1931 crop accordingly.

"It will be of vital importance that the farmers this year endeavor to raise abundant food and feed crops. This is good economics and good farming any year. It makes living conditions on the farm more attractive, as well as more profitable; and if the state department of agriculture has any advice whatever to offer at the beginning of the planting season, it is that the land owners of Texas co-operate with and offer every inducement for tenants and farm laborers to plant, cultivate, harvest and preserve an abundance of fruits, vegetables and meats for their families. There is plenty of acreage in Texas, and our land owners can well afford to make special inducement for the planting of such crops as will make living conditions better for those assisting in the cultivation of our farm lands."

The largest attendance at Sunday School ever recorded in the history of the church in Crowell. For 20 years the goal for attendance has been 300. Last Sunday the report showed 301 present. This is fine, yet there are many more who should be in Sunday School. Let us invite and urge them to come. The preaching service was well attended at both hours. The Lord was with us, to bless the services.
Remember prayermeeting Wednesday evening. We are studying the Sermon on the Mount.
The Methodist Church is the place where you will be assured a welcome.

One hundred and twelve present last Sunday with 25 per cent of that number men, there being 28 men present. The women's class had 22 present. The women have declared war and vengeance; the men are shooting for a high goal of 35 for next Sunday. Get in the fight all you men and women. Let's see who can win next Sunday.

The Vivian meeting closed last Sunday. There were no conversions, however, a revival of interest in the spiritual welfare of the community was affected and much good seed sown that should bear fruit in the future. The good people there were attentive, interested, co-operative, attended well and participated in a fine way.

We are to begin the second of our Gospel Team meetings at Gambleville next Sunday morning, the meeting to last until Sunday night, Mar. 29th. The following speakers will take turn in preaching: John Long, Leslie Moore, A. T. Schooley, C. R. Dodd, Joe Ward and C. V. Allen. You will be agreeably surprised when you hear these laymen preach. Come and help us. Bro. Ward conducted a service at Gambleville last Sunday at which time Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Solomon of that community confessed Christ. They expect to be baptized at Crowell next Sunday. We welcome them and pray that they may find in us the fellowship that should be found.

Bro. Leslie Moore brought a very fine message on "Faith and Salvation" last Sunday evening. If you missed this and if you have not heard all our Gospel Team speakers you have truly missed something good. Attend our meeting at Gambleville and get both a surprise and a blessing.

The Christian Endeavor was re-organized Monday evening at the church. Mrs. Thompson of Vernon being in charge of most of the service. She, with her husband, several of the Vernon Endeavorers and a number of the Quannah Endeavorers explained the various phases of Christian Endeavor work and assisted in the re-organization of our society. We certainly do appreciate this fine assistance. After this meeting at the church the Endeavorers enjoyed a social hour at the home of the pastor.

We are very sorry that we forgot to have the report on the trip to Memphis last week as we promised. We apologize to both the membership and the young ladies who were to give this report last Sunday morning. Perhaps they will make the report for us next Sunday.

Baptist Church News

Last Sunday was the most encouraging Sunday we have had since the pastor has been connected with the church. The morning and evening attendance was the largest we have witnessed in a regular service for the past two years. The Sunday School was the largest we have had. There were 230 present. This many in regular attendance is well within our bounds. We should have an average attendance of 350. We are setting a goal for next Sunday of 250. Will you be one to help reach this goal?

The cradle roll, the beginners, the primaries, and the juniors were all at their best Sunday. The intermediate department was in its separate quarters with a large attendance. The young people's department was teeming with life as they enjoyed their classroom, found this new arrangement very satisfactory. They can now be to themselves which adds special and individual interest. The T. E. L. Class, in their beautiful room, were as happy as a "dead pig" in sunshine. With Mrs. Sam Rosenthal as teacher the class was all aglow with life. Last, but by no means least, the Men's Bible Class was going with a bang in their cozy new room. Thirty-four of them were present. Prof. L. T. Graves is doing a wonderful work with this class. May we see all 66 of them present next Sunday. Supt. Bell and C. Officer, C. J. Self, found themselves quite busy oiling the machinery. They had both eyes open.

The pastor spoke Sunday morning on "The Price of a Revival." At the evening hour on "The Despair of Christ." At the Gambleville school he spoke on "The King Who Sold Out to the Devil." This was a most encouraging service.

The male quartet, sung by Duke Wallace, B. F. Ivie, E. A. and Henry Dunagan, was greatly enjoyed by all. The morning and evening solos were rendered by the pastor. The choir is taking on new interest under the direction of Mrs. Woodie Smith.

Next Sunday—Sunday School at 9:45, preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 p. m. W. M. S. meets Monday at 3 p. m., officers and teachers meeting at 6:45 p. m., prayermeeting at 7:30 and choir rehearsal at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday.

We urge all our members to attend all services of your church. We invite all others who are not in church or Sunday School to come. A good place to spend Sunday. Come and welcome.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for March 22

THE USE AND ABUSE OF GOD'S GIFTS
Luke 12:16-21, 41-48
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Though the lesson text does not deal directly with the subject, the quarterly temperance lesson must be pressed with special earnestness. Therein we have one of the liveliest topics of the day. Test this out by reading the daily paper for a week seeking down to date news on this subject.

In parable form Jesus tells the people in Perea about the man who thought only of his personal gratifications and desired to do as he pleased regardless of any influence on others. In story form a rich gourmand was portrayed. This man was headed for the gout, judging by his objectives in life. He had productive fields which yielded far more than enough for his needs.

When the climax was reached all were startled by the question which Jesus asked. What will you do with mere things when thy soul is required of thee this night? That inquiry brings each one face to face with the Judgment Seat of God.

Peter brought forth the next story and we have the parable of the steward who was unfaithful to his trust while he thought the owner was far away. Thinking power was taken away by the indulgence in strong drink. When in that condition the supposedly trustworthy man harmed his fellow servants and also himself. Society can never be safe when right-mindedness is taken away by any habit forming drug. The corrective is made very clear in the Golden Text: "Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot, but be filled with the spirit." Ephesians 5:18. The Government will be increasingly effective in stopping commercial violations of the law. The Sunday School must meet the noncommercial violations through education.

TEXON TALES

Looks like I am going to be forced into writing for the Polo Magazine. In the last issue of the "Polo" they do have a picture of Jim Minnick and his son but don't explain nothing about them and that bunch recognize a good bunch of men when they run into them. For two cents I'll write up a good article with pictures. Berry and Shirley and Offield and threaten the magazine with quitting their paper if they write it up, the low-down, hay-wired, double-snobbing outfit. And, if that don't work, we'll get up a new magazine and give all good men a fair chance.

What I said about the wife being the war department very near starting a revolution in our family. The wife says the most pitiful thing she can think of is a man who thinks he is witty when he is just half.

We don't think Johnny Mack Brown was a good character to represent Billy the Kid in that picture you had last week. We have an aviator here in the oil fields who knew Billy the Kid personally and the man who hid under the bed to shoot him. Billy the Kid was just a kid. This aviator was a cowboy in northwestern New Mexico back in the early days. Among other wild tales he tells about he and his kid brother giving a motherless calf to a nester, unthoughtfully and then in the spring had to smuggle the nester out of the country to keep the cowboys from stringing him up for stealing cattle.

We had a polo boy to quit the game because someone said all our horses were going to die. Well, when they manufacture horses that won't die polo will be more popular. Polo clubs are becoming thicker all over the country. So are players. More clubs do not mean more players. We are on our fourth year of polo here and still don't have a man who knows how to play. We merely maintain a club by having a number of men listed to learn the game if they can. It is really a very simple matter.

I won the argument with the wife by admitting her argument was sound. Nothing more, nothing less, merely sound. I was talking to a local artist the other day and he says he paints with one eye shut. I'm glad he told me for I figured he had both of them shut. He says he would like to see me write something really good some day. So would I. Oh, well, through mistake I may do that some time.

WHAT DR. CALDWELL LEARNED IN 47 YEARS PRACTICE

A physician watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the system and is not habit forming. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for anybody's system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly.

Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to the nearest druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

The slimes are pulling too many monkey shins here lately, according to the papers and rumors that hear.

The main reason is to show up before some upper classman as a hero, the main reason for this is because they never walked enough in the beginning and also lack of hazing. The slimes are okay in a way, but they don't weigh enough. They are

Sophomores Will Help Beautify School Yard

The Sophomores are going to help beautify the school yard by planting grass between the two sidewalks in front of the high school building. We plan to plant it just before school is out, so that it will have all summer to grow without being disturbed. We are looking for the other classes to do something. A blotter absorbs everything and gives nothing. Come on, Seniors, Juniors and Freshmen, don't be blotters!

THEMES OF THE W-E-A-K

Us "Suffer Mores" have been trying our hands this week at argumentation. We have attained such excellence that we can prove that a cat has three tails, or that it is raining pitchforks outside. We have argued until we are blue in the face, and how convincing our arguments have been! If you don't believe it, try to get around our logic in the following themes:

Parties on Nights Preceding School Days

I shall attempt to convince you that it is not best for a student to attend a party on a night preceding a regular school day. There are several arguments which might prove this to you, but I shall mention only two of the most important ones.

A student to do his work well, must have plenty of sleep and rest each night. If a student does attend a party on a school night, he does not get the proper amount of sleep.

A party naturally fills a student's mind with thoughts other than those of his school work. In this way his mind is detracted from his work; he talks about "tonight" the day before the party, and he talks about "last night" the day after the party, so you can readily see that his mind is not altogether on his work.

There should be a rule in all schools to prohibit the practice of attending parties on school nights.

Girls Should Entertain Boys

Girls should entertain the boys for various reasons. They can obtain money easier than boys. The boys have paid for the entertainment for so long that the girls seem to think the boys are a bank.

Girls can get money easier than boys. When the girl asks her father for money or the car either, he always gives it to her. She is a pet most of the time. When a boy asks his father for the car, he may, after much persuasion, let him have it. If the father does let his boy have the car, he will not let him have any money. The girl can obtain money much easier than the boy.

As far back as history goes, the man has paid for the dinner. When Cleopatra invited Mark Anthony to dine with her before he left, he paid for the meal and music. The girl should bear the expense for a while anyway. Modern girls are gold diggers disguised.

The results of letting the girls pay for the entertainment would be good as they would soon get used to it the same as the boys have. It is not, by any means, an old Spanish custom.

A TALE OF WOE

Yes sir, we had the best basketball team I have ever seen. We could cage anything from a stray dog to a basket ball. A great deal of stress on the latter.

Well, as usual, we won all of our games in an easy fashion until we got to a strong rival, Olney. They were a boastful bunch, claiming they could beat any team in the state.

Our chief strength lay in the boys' bad luck, which was never to miss a goal.

With a "full house" we felt that the game was ours. The old spirit did not dwindle, and we went into the gym ready to cop another victory.

The first half ended just as we expected for we were leading by several points.

O! Sweet romance, how wonderful is the name of victory.

New comes the tale of woe. One next. Burrow and Venson Hall. Walker Todd, track coach, made the trip with the boys.

All right Junior! It's your turn next.

In the Land of Opportunity

Pioneers in the dependable and widespread distribution of electric service, the West Texas Utilities Company has, in a comparatively short span of years, built here in central West Texas one of the major electric light and power systems of the Southwest.

Motivated by a sincere faith in the brilliant future of this rich West Texas empire, nearly fifty millions of dollars—a sum larger than the total gross revenue for the eight-year period—have been brought in from the outside and invested here in generating stations, transmission lines and other physical properties necessary to the production and distribution of electric and other utility services. Virtually all of this new money has been provided through the financing agencies of the Middle West Utilities System.

The earnest resolve to conduct itself in such manner as to merit the friendship and confidence of the people it serves, plus a constant effort to deliver more service at ever-decreasing rates have been ideals toward which this company has pointed since its inception.

Operating under a Texas charter, with its officers and employees seasoned West Texans — "Erving on the job" — a loyal band of 1,200 men and women strives always to render that type of utility service which has made transmission line service the accepted standard throughout the nation.

As a corporate entity, the West Texas Utilities Company was organized on January 1, 1923, for the purpose of producing and distributing electric and other utility services. Like many other West Texas institutions with but modest beginnings, its growth and development has paralleled that of the West Texas territory as a whole.

Today the company is rendering service to 59,000 customers — carrying the advantages of dependable, efficient and inexpensive electric power to 120 cities and towns, and to hundreds of rural communities, farms and ranches. Its over-all average rate for electricity per kilowatt-hour consumed is, today, more than sixty per cent LOWER than the net average rate charged throughout the territory before the organization of the West Texas Utilities Company.

First Judging for Living Rooms Held In Foard Monday

The judges for Foard County's living room improvement contest began their work Monday morning and visited all rooms entered in the contest by representatives of the home demonstration clubs of the county. The judges are: Mrs. Oscar Boman, Mrs. S. S. Bell and Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin. They completed their work Tuesday.

Those having rooms entered in the contest are: Mrs. Hubert Brown and Mrs. Jim Cates, Catesville; Mrs. Fred Diggs, Gambleville; Mrs. Chas. D. Hall, Black; Mrs. Egbert Fish, Vivian; and Mrs. Helen Wardell of Foard City.

The judging Monday was done before any improvements had been made on the rooms. The same rooms will be judged again in April to determine the one showing the greatest improvement.

Mrs. J. B. Rasberry of Vivian won the county and district contest last year and later won third in the state finals.

Hard times have increased rather than diminished interest in home improvement on Texas farms, according to enrollment of demonstrators in the 1931 improved living room contest of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College. Announcement by Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home improvement specialist, shows that 798 home demonstration club women in 85 counties are participating this year as compared with 695 last year.

In 1930, contest demonstrators co-operated of whom there were 6,183, added 3,846 pieces of furniture in 1,900 living rooms and 5,843 pieces were refinished. Draperies were added in 1,623, walls were refinished in 1,966, wood work was refinished in 1,356, floors were improved in 1,794, the artificial light in 1,077 was improved and the natural lighting of 761 rooms was made better. In 3,410 living rooms improvements was made by a rearrangement of the furniture added.

It is pointed out that in a time of financial depression there are many improvements that can be made without expense such as: Having the room spotlessly clean and achieving an atmosphere of "spic and spanness;" removing all undesirable articles from the room, checking each object by the question "is it useful, beautiful or interesting enough to deserve space?"; putting everything in the room in the best condition, which means repairing, mending, retouching, as the furnishings need it; arranging everything in the room to the best advantage, taking family comfort and convenience as the standard; adding life, beauty and interest with flowers, leaves, berries, or something from outdoors.

TWO-IN-ONE CLUB

The Two-in-One Club met March 11th at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Miss Louise Pechacek. The lesson on canning budgets was discussed by Miss Dosca Hale.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Jim Davis March 25th.

The ladies of the Black and James communities are invited to attend these meetings.—Reporter.

VIVIAN CLUB

The Vivian Club met March 12th in the home of Mrs. A. M. Nelson, there being 21 members, 3 visitors and Miss Hale present. The subject for discussion was "making our canning budgets."

Mrs. T. W. Cooper brought a large bunch of Jew cuttings and gave to all who were interested.

Through the influence of Miss Hale there has been quite a number of plants and shrubs put out in the yards. Those in Crowell who have helped by donating plants and shrubs are: Mrs. Oscar Boman, Ernest King, W. F. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. R. B. Edwards, Mrs. Geo. Allison and Mrs. Cogdell, and we appreciate this very much.

The club will meet March 26 with Mrs. O. H. Nelson.—Reporter.

YOUNG MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Young Men's Bible Class of the M. E. Sunday School of which T. L. Hugston is teacher, held its monthly social meeting in the home of Eli Smith last Monday evening with Mr. Smith and Clint White as hosts. There were 24 members present and Rev. B. J. Osborn was a guest. A study of a Bible course, Genesis to Revelation, was begun and the first lesson was had with Adrian Thomson as leader, assisted by Hubert Brown. At the close of the lesson study, Mrs. Smith conducted a very interesting contest. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served by Mrs. White and Mrs. Smith.

Earl Davenport was also a visitor at the meeting.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN ADEQUATE FAMILY DIET

At the meeting of the Wimodausis Club the requirements of the adequate diet were discussed. If a diet is to satisfy the requirements of the body it must, according to the best dietitians, measure up to the following standard:

Milk, any kind, 1 1/2 pints per day; milk furnishes protein, calcium, phosphorus, and vitamins A, B, C.

Butter—at least one serving each day. It furnishes vitamins A and D.

Whole Cereal—One serving each day. It furnishes vitamin B and protein, iron and phosphorus.

Leafy Vegetables—Three times each week. These furnish potassium, magnesium, sodium, calcium, iron, phosphorus, chlorine, sulphur and iodine.

Starchy Vegetables—One serving each meal.

Other Vegetables—One serving each meal.

Fruit—One serving of raw fruit should be taken each day. Citrus fruit or tomatoes should be eaten three times each week. Fruits furnish the body with vitamin A, B, C, and also with minerals and bulk.

Protein is furnished by meat, eggs, cheese, peas, beans and nuts. Any two of the proteins should be taken daily. Most of the protein foods are also rich in minerals.

With the above standard as a guide the canning budget for the year was planned. It was planned for a six months unproductive period. In west Texas a family will need at least the following amount:

Leafy vegetables, 120 containers; starchy vegetables, 120 containers; other vegetables, 80 containers; fruits, 150 containers; tomatoes, 125 containers; protein, 50 containers; pickles and relishes, 52 containers;

Building Material

Paints, Wallpaper, Builder's Hardware, and Coal.

The Twelve Queens in American Life

preserves, jams, jellies, 52 containers; time saving and other foods, as many as needed.

So in order to be able to serve an adequate diet the housewife will need at least 749 containers of food. The size of the container, whether pints, quarts or half gallons, will depend on the size of the family.

The total budget for the Wimodausis Club amounts to 11,235 containers. Of course, whether or not this budget is filled depends on weather conditions. But we know our needs and it helps wonderfully just to have a goal to work toward.

With the help of Mrs. Dosca Hale, home demonstrator, similar goals are being worked out in all the clubs.

Diet is so closely related to health it should be studied by every housewife or person who has to do with the planning of meals.

Science has found that the following disease can be largely prevented, or cured by correct diet—Goitre, pellagra, T. B., bad teeth, rickets, colds, constipation, sinus and ear troubles.—Reporter.

Retail Merchants Urged to Utilize Bonded Warehouse

Austin, Texas, March 19.—The possibility of the smaller retail merchant using a bonded and state regulated warehouse in the fight to retain his independence was pointed out today by L. L. Shackelford, warehouse division chief of the state department of agriculture.

Use of the bonded warehouse, Shackelford said, would add to the small merchant's purchasing power, because his receipt from a bonded warehouse is negotiable. He could buy in larger quantities, thus affecting savings; store the surplus merchandise in a warehouse; and use his receipt as a negotiable instrument.

"The small merchant," Shackelford said, "soon will be put entirely out of business unless in some way he can buy his merchandise on a basis to compete with the merchant able to buy in large quantities.

"The bonded warehouse offers one

ABOUT two hours after eating, many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians prescribe to correct excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

The merchant, especially in the smaller towns, can buy his goods in carlots when he thinks the price is right, place the merchandise in a bonded warehouse and get a negotiable receipt. This he may take to his bank and borrow money when he hasn't sufficient capital to pay for the merchandise, and draw from time to time, as his needs may require, paying the bank for the goods used.

"The warehouseman, of course, holds the merchandise subject to the receipt; and in all cases will be glad to cooperate with the merchant and banker by allowing merchandise to go out on order from the banker or person holding the receipt. In this manner the merchant is helped, the banker protected, and the warehouse is the instrument through which this operation is made feasible and practical."

There are about 700 bonded warehouses in the state, and more are being added to the list every day, the warehouse chief said.

Water in Cotton "Taboo" Ginnings Warned by Chief

Austin, Texas, March 19.—Devices which place water in cotton, during or after the process of ginning, are a violation of state law, ginnings are warned by R. H. Fincher, gin division chief in the state department of agriculture.

This warning followed numerous requests concerning the legality of a device now on the market which would place from ten to 15 pounds of water in a bale of cotton. Fincher cited article 5666 of the statutes governing ginning which specifies that "no foreign substance has been placed in the cotton, nor has any water nor anything that would increase the density thereof."

Such a large amount of water in the cotton is capable of causing its deterioration, he declared, the bale would not be as strong after it had been compressed.

He pointed out that spinning chasing wet cotton invariably find a portion of it damaged, demand a deduction, which the farmer inevitably would find back to the farmer.

The line of least resistance is to place a lot of stretch in it.

It takes two to make a deal, but only one to make a difference.

After the ginnings, the cotton is baled, and the farmer is warned not to use any device which places water in the cotton.
