UNUSUAL WHEAT YIELD MADE ON FOARD CO. FARM

The best wheat yield that has come to the attention of The News this year is that which was made on a nine mile northeast of Crowell, belonging to Mrs. C. C. Abernathy of Copperhill, Tennessee, and which is being farmed by Troy Erwin. Forty-three and three-tenths bushels per acre was the average yield on eighteen acres of the farm, according to an accurate and careful check kept by Mr. Erwin. The average per acre yield for the entire farm was approximately thirty bushels, the production being more than 100 bushels of hard wheat. The wheat on the 18 acres which made the extra heavy yield was combined in just one afternoon with a foot combine which turned out 60 bushels and 50 pounds of wheat at that time.

Most of the wheat has been sold to some of it is being stored in granary. The average test was 57.5 pounds. Mr. Erwin stated that this was the first year that the land had been put in wheat in ten years. It had been planted to cotton the years before. Kanred wheat was planted on the farm.

Mrs. Abernathy, owner of the farm, and her daughter, Mrs. Carr, both of Copperhill, Tenn., are now visiting in Foard County and are here during the harvest on the farm.

May Complete First 5 Miles of West End Pavement in 30 Days

Within about thirty days five miles of pavement will be completed on the portion of Highway 28, beginning at the end of the concrete pavement five miles west of Crowell. Over three miles of crushed rock base have already been completed and the triple bituminous surface treatment on the rock base will be given soon.

The pavement of the 15.4 miles from the point about five miles west of Crowell to the Cottle County line is to be completed in three stretches of about five miles each, according to A. Jensen, one of the men who is directing the work for J. Lee and E. A. Vibbig, contractors for the pavement.

In reaching Paducah it is now necessary to detour north to the old highway at a point about 2 miles west of Crowell. With the contemplated completion of the new five-mile stretch of pavement within the next thirty days, it is likely that through traffic may go over pavement for about ten miles before having to detour.

Trip to Europe, Ford Sedan, California Trip or Optional Cash Prizes Are Offered Besides "Payroll" Earnings

With this issue The Foard County News announces a big "Weekly Payroll" subscription drive in which thousands of dollars in weekly pay checks and prize awards are offered to a score or more of energetic men and women of Foard and surrounding counties.

In announcing this drive, the publisher of the Foard County News expresses his faith in the future of Foard County, the State of Texas and the Nation. This newspaper is doing its part to promote prosperity by offering such an opportunity to the people of this section.

In deciding to increase its circulation The News thought it best to offer the work to local people. Outside solicitors wanted twenty per cent commission for their work. The publisher decided to do them one better and offer local people a choice of a trip to Europe, the cash cost of the trip to this newspaper; or a brand-new model A $727.00 Ford 4-door sedan as first prize, a Trip Deluxe to California or the cash equivalent, as second prize, and four other cash prizes based on weekly turn-ins. The Ford 4-door sedan will be purchased from the Self Motor Company of this city and will later be on display in show room of that firm. Similar models may be seen there now.

Twenty Per Cent Each Saturday

One of the most outstanding features of this subscription drive is the fact that all workers will be paid 20 per cent each Saturday night on the

Wide Variety of Thrills Experienced by Truscott Man in 4-Year Period As Young Cowboy in Pioneer Days of This Section

During the four-year period of his life, from the age of 14 to 18, L. J. (Jimmy) Abbott, who now lives on a farm about three miles north of Truscott, had experienced far more thrills than the average person receives during a lifetime, according to details gathered by a member of The Foard County News staff in a visit at Mr. Abbott's farm this week.

Within this brief and adventurous period, 1882 to 1886, Jimmy Abbott had ridden alone from his old home in Alabama to Texas on horseback. Shortly after his arrival in Texas he found work as a cowpuncher in Bosque County, later to discover that the group with which he was working was a notorious band of cattle rustlers.

During this same year, 1882, this 14-year old boy participated in the last buffalo hunt in Cottle County, in which sixteen of these animals were killed. Before reaching the age of 18 he had at three different times helped to trail great herds of cattle from Chidress County to Kansas City, and one time he saw his life and that of others endangered when a group of Comanche Indians stampeded a herd of cattle that were being driven to the Creek Nation, in what is now Oklahoma.

In but four years this lad had traveled thousands upon thousands of miles in the saddle, covering many great distances alone. But the four years just mentioned were merely the beginning of Mr. Abbott's life as a pioneer cowboy of this section of Texas.

Born in Alabama

Jimmy Abbott was born in Perry County, Alabama, on Sept. 9, 1868. The Alabama climate proved unhealthy for him and at the age of 14 he saddled a horse and alone he rode through part of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana, finally stopping in Bosque County, Texas. He found a job as a cowpuncher with a man, who he understood was buying cattle to drive through from East Texas to the Millet outfit in Wilbarger County. He assisted in driving one herd through, a trip which required about a month.

Raided by Rangers

A short time later the band with which he was working was raided by a group of Texas Rangers at a point on the Cow House River, near Meridian in Bosque County. Mr. Abbott stated that the boss of the rustlers, a man named Higgins, told him to take three horses, pack up his stuff and get out, for the rest of the men, a band of about 12 or 15, were in for a hot time and that all would likely land in the penitentiary. Following the detailed instructions on how to get away, the boy left and in later life he learned that several of the rustlers were killed and that those who were not served terms in the penitentiary. He had been with this group for about 2 months.

Mr. Abbott stated that shortly before this raid he had been advised by the late J. A. Kemp, who until his death several months ago was regarded as Wichita Falls' most prominent citizen, that he was with a tough outfit and that he had better quit. Mr. Kemp was then conducting a grocery store in a little inland town in Bosque County.

To Cottle County

Riding one horse and using the other two to carry his material, he left the scene of the raid and started the long journey to his brother's ranch in Cottle County. His brother, J. L. Abbott, was associated with Tom Bird, A. Dumont and a Mr. McGaughey in conducting a hog ranch at that time in the southeastern part of Cottle County. These men had originally gone there as buffalo hunters.

While on the lonely trip to Cottle County, he stopped at Seymour for a night. From Seymour followed the hardest day's drive of his trip. He stopped at a dugout in Knox County and spent the night there. (Continued on Page Nine)

"Shorty" Dawson In "Believe It or Not" Column June 25th

"Shorty" Dawson, formerly of Crowell, was represented Thursday in the "Believe It or Not" feature that is published in hundreds of newspapers throughout the United States.

A likeness of "Shorty" was drawn by cartoonist Ripley with the following comment: "Shorty" Dawson of Jacksboro, Texas, ate 72 raw eggs in five minutes, 27 seconds on May 27, 1931.

Dawson lived in Crowell for a number of years, leaving here about a year ago. He is a brother of C. C. Dawson of this city.

He had a wide reputation as a raw egg eater while living here.

The school now has units of affiliation in the following subjects: English, 3; algebra, 2; science, 2; history, 4; geometry, 1 1/2; Spanish, 2; civics, 1/2; advanced arithmetic, 1/2.

Bostic of Lingville, Tex., principal, mathematics and Spanish; Miss Mildred Butler of Clyde, Tex., English; Mr. Cowden, superintendent, science, civics and economics; Mrs. Bostic, first and second grades; Miss Helen Dudley of Abilene, third and fourth; Miss Mary Ziegler, fifth and sixth.

R. M. Pyle, Formerly of Foard County, Died in Washington June 13

Word has been received here of the death of R. M. Pyle on June 13 in Lowell, Washington. Mr. Pyle was a former owner and resident of the Joe Drabek farm, about one mile northwest of Crowell. He left here in about 1918 or 1919, going to Bay City where he remained for two years before going to Washington. His wife died at Bay City.

Mr. Pyle was the father of Ray Pyle, a former Foard County resident, who now lives in Washington. He was an uncle of Vernon Pyle, Foard County tax assessor. Emmett Pyle of McAllen, Texas, former resident here, and some other children also survive.

Foard Farmer Suggests Method to Keep Wheat Fires from Spreading

"How will I save my wheat if my neighbor's wheat field catches fire?" That question has been a matter of concern to Uncle Charlie Stephens and perhaps many others during the last few weeks, in which there seems to have been an epidemic of fires. Mr. Stephenson's wheat joined the crop which was partially destroyed by fire last week and he believed that the fire would spread across the fence into his field in spite of all efforts to stop it.

The thought occurred to Mr. Stephenson that if each wheat field had 10 rows of feed planted entirely around the field, it would serve as a fire guard and prevent the spreading of flames from one field to another. He points out that there is always a seed of feed and that whether there was a fire or not, the planting of feed around the field would be a profitable thing to do.

There have been a number of losses that have occurred this year by fire spreading from one field to another.

TRAFFIC COUNT ON HIGHWAYS IN COUNTY TAKEN

A four-day census of traffic on Highways 28 and 51 in Foard County ended Tuesday. Counting stations were placed at each of the four county lines and also at points three and four miles north, east, south and west of Crowell on these highways.

The counting spot four miles east of Crowell on Highway 28, recorded the heaviest traffic with a total of 4,057 vehicles being accounted for during the 4 days, an average of 1,014 vehicles per day. In this number there were 198 cars from out of the state; 1,032 local Texas cars; 363 other Texas cars; 86 out-of-state trucks; 648 local Texas trucks; 849 other Texas trucks, and 8 horse drawn vehicles.

At the Wilbarger-Foard line on No. 28 there were a total of 1,788 vehicles, an average of 442. The Highway 28 point 4 miles west there were 1,249 vehicles, an average of 312 daily.

A census was taken at the Foard-Cottle line, however, the figures there were turned in at Paducah.

The heaviest traffic on Highway 51 was 3 miles south of Crowell with a total of 2,201, an average of 550. At the Foard-Knox line the total was 811, average 203; three miles north, the total was 994, average 236; Foard-Hardeman, total 770, average 192.

According to this count, traffic is heavier this year than it was at the same time in 1930.

The 4-day totals for the seven counting points follow: out-of-state cars—714; local Texas cars—3,558; other Texas cars—3,794; out-of-state trucks—173; local Texas trucks—1,395; other Texas trucks—1,808; horse drawn—77.

Sanitary Engineer of Health Department Is Visitor Here This Week

Leonard H. Male of Austin, sanitary engineer for the State Health Department, was a business visitor in Crowell this week. He was accompanied here by his wife who is now visiting in the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Hines Clark.

Mr. Male is directing the work of twenty-one sanitarians in over 80 counties of the drouth district of Texas, where an extensive health and sanitary program is now under way.

DONATIONS OF WHEAT BEING SOUGHT HERE

Donations of wheat which may be used in exchange for flour at being solicited by a committee representing the Foard County Welfare Association, which met Saturday.

Vernon Pyle was elected president of the committee and Mrs. A. L. Rucker, secretary. They will head the following committee: Claude Callaway, Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, Mrs. N. J. Roberts, Mrs. L. A. Andrews, M. S. Henry, John Long, Miss Dora Hale and Fred Rennels, who will receive the names of those who are in a position to give a few bushels of wheat that may be turned into flour for those that may be in need during the coming months.

This stock of flour will be used exclusively for Foard County. It was pointed out by Mr. Callaway, at the meeting Saturday that with general conditions over the United States, it is doubtful if assistance from any outside source will be available if needed, therefore it is necessary that every preparation be made in order that this county may be in a position to take care of any emergency that might arise.

This committee also urges everyone possible to retain enough of this cheap wheat for flour as possible and to use as much for feed as possible and profitable.

It was stated by Mr. Pyle that it would be impossible for the committee to see everyone who has wheat and he requests those who are in a position to give a few bushels to please leave their donations at the Bell Mill and Elevator Company.

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which will neutralize acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians for the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods once you learn how quickly this method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessors Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

TEXON TALES

(By Texon Tattler)

We have decided to start up again. A little funniness is necessary just the same as anything else. One reason we quit we didn't know nothing more to write and still don't but a little thing like that don't much. All we have heard funny lately was a story a fellow was telling us. Said his first wife weighed 325 pounds and that has a great bearing on the story. They were going in to first Monday trade's day and his wife was sitting up in front of the wagon with her feet out over the dashboard when the wagon hit a rock and threw her out, the wagon ran over her and broke both hind legs. He said he worked for an hour trying to get her back in the wagon and finally had to just drive off and leave her beside the road. He said if he lived a hundred years he'd never forget the pitiful look on that woman's face as he drove away. And his second wife got angry with him for getting drunk so he grabbed up a coon dog by the hind legs and whipped her over the head but was surprised as well as embarrassed next morning when he was hauled into court charged with murder of his wife, so he pleaded not guilty but when the judge introduced the dogs hind legs he changed his plea to guilty and was fined fifteen dollars and costs. That's what he said so that is all I know. Now this bird who told me this was just another down and outer hit right square by the depression and was looking for a job of any kind that was honorable and would beat doing nothing in any way and all the while he was telling these silly stories and entertaining. But he would work and now has landed a pretty fair job and is making good down here where they say if you ain't already got a job why you can't get nary one but he did. Seems to me this bird had about the best plan for getting thru the hard times and it made me think of the wheat farmers up in Foard County I saw while I was up there. They are, or were, harvesting about the finest wheat crop in history and getting nothing for it but they were going about their business in a mighty fine spirit which is probably worth more than all the money in the world. The one big thing you see now all over the country is the great courage of people and that is the very thing that has won all the battles so far in everything. The man who will not give up at all wins. The depression is getting ready to end. We may see a great prosperity and it will be the courage that it possible and that is a thing to be compared with money. I say the depression will bring many good things. It has brought out a good five-cent cigar and only trouble is they sell them in quarters.

ADVERTISING SAID TO BE THE BIGGEST NEED OF THIS NATION'S INDUSTRY

"A greater responsibility rests with advertising today than ever before because the present strategy of business is not so much production as merchandising. Business is learning to a greater extent, consequently, on both advertising and intelligent, intensive merchandising plans. It is our big hope for a more rapid recovery. And I believe advertising is especially proving its worth at this time, through the business it is making for the big and courageous companies that have either continued or increased their appropriations."

This was the summary of the relation between business and advertising as related by H. T. Ewald, president of the Campbell-Ewald Company, which handles the advertising for all General Motors cars and is one of the largest agencies in the country. Mr. Ewald made the trip to Dallas with H. J. Glinger, vice president in charge of sales of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who is holding meetings with his field organizations in the larger cities in the Southwest and on the Pacific Coast. "Last year," continues Mr. Ewald, "P. Lorillard and R. J. Reynolds, large tobacco companies, and the National Biscuit Company were among the large concerns which increased their sales by millions over the banner year of 1929. This year the American Tobacco Company, Coca-Cola, Ivory Soap, Campbell Soup and all the General Motors cars are backed by large advertising appropriations and are either showing a tremendous gain over last year or getting a greater percentage of available business." "The phenomenal record being made this year so far by Chevrolet is backed by a tremendous advertising appropriation for all mediums of advertising. At the present time Chevrolet is the largest user of radio, the largest user of outdoor and the largest user of newspaper space in the automobile industry. And I also wish to make a point that not one cent has been taken from the newspaper advertising for its radio programs. Nor do I think radio will be cut into newspaper advertising. It is a form of advertising that has come to the front and is extremely valuable, just as outdoor has come to the front in recent years due in great measure to the automobile and our outdoor life. Next to the salesman, for actually consummating the sale, nothing can take the place of the newspaper. "Advertising is the great force that is putting dollars into circulation at the present time, for no one doubts but that the money is in the country and is available for those things that people desire. I also believe the public is gaining confidence and just in proportion as people have confidence, just in that proportion will they loosen their purse strings."—Dallas News.

A PROMISING PROGRAM

All sorts of people are putting forth all sorts of schemes designed to prevent a recurrence of the industrial depressions such as we have been going through. Most of the schemes are merely schemes, put forward by people who do not really know what they are talking about. There seems, however, to be real promise in a suggestion of the National Civic Federation to call a national congress of selected delegates from every line of industry and business, and from the ranks of all the important trades as well, to formulate a program of industrial readjustment and to create a permanent organization to maintain the proper balance between production, distribution and consumption.

The suggestion originated with Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, in a letter to James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, who is chairman of the Commission of Industrial Inquiry of the National Civic Federation. Elihu Root, America's most distinguished "elder statesman," is the honorary chairman of the Federation.

Under such auspices, any movement for public welfare starts off with a fair chance of success. Every intelligent person knows that all that is needed to keep business and industry on an even keel, and labor steadily employed, is co-operation to that end between all of the elements involved. Capital alone cannot do it, management alone cannot do it, labor cannot bring it about. But if all the groups of these three elements of business and industrial life get together and agree on a program, it is pretty likely to be a program which stands a chance of success. Its value will be increased if the farmers are so included. And it will be lessened in precisely the degree in which politicians take part in it.

The advocates of this movement are referring to it as "the Ten-year Plan." They figure it will take ten years of experiment, trial and error to arrive at a working basis which will be reasonably certain of accomplishing its purpose. If some method could be devised to compel all of the interests involved to live up to their joint agreements there is no reason in the world why something of this sort should not be effective. And, as the gentlemen who are active in promoting the 10-year plan point out, unless intelligent action in this direction is taken, the alternative will be the government stepping in and regulating business socializing industry in ways which are entirely foreign to the American conception of individual rights and liberties.

AUTOMOBILES ABROAD

The manufacture of automobiles and parts thereof has been called "the backbone of American industry." Although it has not achieved such tremendous proportions in other countries, indications from abroad are that it comprises an invaluable unit in many European industries.

Last year, France was at the pinnacle of the world in respect to increase of motor vehicle circulation.

According to the American Automobile, the Gallic nation registered an addition of 178,000 cars, a 13.5 per cent rise over 1929.

In 1930, France imported a total of 18,004 vehicles, complete and in parts, and exported a total of 39,158, according to W. L. Finger, American Automotive Trade Commissioner to Europe.

Italy and the United States together accounted for 85 per cent of imports of complete cars and chassis. Our shipments were valued at $8,891,900 or about 47 per cent of the total automotive imports. The valuation of America's sales to France exceeded those of any other country in all four automotive classifications; passenger cars, commercial vehicles, parts, and bodies.

France's best market for her automobile export trade is Algeria, the chief French possession in Northern Africa, which imported from France 9,010 motor driven vehicles in 1930, representing a value of $9,840,000. Although this represents a distinct decline from 1929, economic difficulties which caused the reduction in purchases are now being remedied, and the automobile trade is expected to be on the upgrade shortly. France supplied all but 264 of the motor cars and motor trucks which Algeria bought abroad last year.

Spain is the second largest market for French vehicles, with Belgium third, and Tunisia and Morocco next. The French overseas possessions received 48 per cent of the total exports of complete passenger cars and commercial vehicles combined, as compared with 46 per cent in 1930.

TALENT FOR MUSIC

Through tests devised by psychologists, many interesting and useful facts have been discovered concerning the aptitude of a child for various pursuits. If the information developed by these tests be practically applied, much time otherwise devoted to training for activities for which the child is naturally unsuited may be saved.

It is now possible, according to Prof. Seashore of Iowa University, to positively determine the musical talent possessed by any child, even before he begins the study of music. The sense of pitch, time, consonance, intensity and others may each be determined with mathematical accuracy.

Practical experiments have demonstrated that a person may have a high sense of pitch, with a poor sense of time, and so on. Only when all the elements of the musical mind are acute do we find real talent. When these purely musical elements are combined with a high general intelligence the foundation for an exceptional musician is found.

Contrary to the general belief, aptitude for music can not be developed by training. It must be inborn. A child with a poor sense of pitch at the age of eight will have a poor sense of pitch all his life, no matter how much he may study and practice. The same is true of the sense of time and the rest. Training only develops that which is possessed at birth. A realization of these facts would save much useless torture for music students and those who must listen to them, if facilities for making the tests were available.

Prof. Seashore declares that no attempt should be made to force an unmusical child to learn music, as the result must be disappointing to all concerned. He says it is a tragedy to drive an unmusical boy to practice several hours a day on a violin, "while at the same time you may be ruining a perfectly good mechanic or architect, or second baseman."

THE THREE D'S

There have been many serious conferences in this year of tough business, and recently I attended one of them.

The problem was whether a certain industry, which was encountering difficulties, could be kept going. Three men spoke; their remarks were about as follows:

First Man: Conditions are much worse than anybody is willing to admit. Car loadings are off; steel production is flat; the automobile industry is on its back; every business barometer points down. You can argue that the country has faced the same situation before and has come through. But this is different. Now America is a world power, dependent on world markets. Wherever you look in the world you see nothing but trouble. I think that any enterprise which is losing money ought to be stopped. We are not justified in taking chances.

Second Man: I wouldn't go as far as the first speaker. Things are undeniably bad and may get worse, but I do not think we are justified in assuming that the world is going bust. What we need is plenty of time to get all the facts and talk them over and be sure we are right. I suggest we appoint a committee, and then we can meet again in a couple of weeks and have another conference.

Third Man: I disagree with everything that has been said. This depression isn't different from a hundred others that have preceded it. Always people lose hope just when the turn is about to come. Always it is argued that "conditions this time are different." I do not see that we shall gain anything by appointing committees or delaying action. What we need is not more facts but more guts. I am in favor of going to work right now to pull this business through.

Men divide themselves into different classifications which are called by various names. There are the optimists who are consistently hopeful and the pessimists who always fear the worst.

There are what the psychologists term the "introverts," those whose eyes are turned inward, the brooders, the hypocondriacs, the mystics; and the "extraverts," whose vision is outward and forward.

In good days it is not so easy to distinguish, but these past few months have been a testing time. They have divided all men into three great groups:

The Defeatists—who say conditions are different; it can't be done.

The Debaters—who say, let us appoint a commission and adjourn until another time.

The Doers—who say, let us pick out the toughest problem and hit it first.

Each of us falls into one or the other of these groups. In which one are you?

RISKS

The first reaction of everyone who read about the accident to the submarine "Nautilus" which disabled it was cruising on the surface from America to England, was how fortunate it was that this did not occur while the ship was under the Arctic ice.

Perhaps Sir Hubert Wilkins and his crew are not proposing to take any more serious risks than did many of the pioneer aviators. In the case of flying it was fairly easy for anyone, however, to recognize the value of these early experiments if they should prove successful. It is difficult to see any possible value to humanity, or importance to science, in the effort to reach the North Pole by a submarine boat.

It looks, to an impartial observer, as if human life were being risked merely to provide thrills, just as a circus performer provides them.

RADIODYNAMICS

That is the word coined by John Hays Hammond, Jr., and now accepted by the patent office and Congress, to mean the control of energy at a distance by means of radio.

Hammond began to experiment with radiodynamics when he was a student in Yale in 1909. He invented a method of controlling a boat on the surface of the water and a torpedo under the surface by radio impulses, as well as steering an airplane over a long course without a pilot on board.

This is something quite different from transmitting power by radio. Only enough power can be transmitted to set a piece of machinery in motion or stop it. The machinery must have its own independent power plant. The day may come when actual power can be sent through the air, but that is a long way in the future.

SPORTS

Interest in collegiate football is declining, the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching reports.

There is a very decided difference between sports participated in by students for the benefit of the students themselves, for the maintenance of their health and the upbuilding of their morale, and sports undertaken as a means of advertising particular colleges or of making money.

ROCKETS

Prof. Robert H. Goddard, of Clark University, who has been experimenting with and talking about propelling aircraft by means of rockets, has taken out patents on a rocket-propelled airplane. The plane is expected to rise from the ground like any other plane, its propellers being turned by a turbine engine, for which the gas from a succession of rockets will furnish the power. When it gets into the rarified upper atmosphere the engine will be cut off and the propulsive force will be that of the rockets themselves.

Prof. Goddard is no idle visionary. Just what he has got in his desert laboratory in New Mexico he is not telling the world as yet, but if anyone in this country is going to succeed in flying by means of rockets Prof. Goddard will probably be the first.

PIGEONS

A blue homing pigeon flew 503 1/2 miles from Salisbury, N. C., to New York City, in 13 hours, 11 minutes and 51 seconds the other day. This was not quite a record for the 500 mile annual pigeon race, but it comes very close to it.

A large part of a homing pigeon's time in flying long distances, however, is taken up in the bird's questing, or circling at high altitudes to find landmarks to guide it back to its home loft. There is no longer any great mystery about how the homing pigeon finds its way back to its home nest. The bird has no mysterious sixth sense or homing instinct. It cannot find its way home at night or in a dense fog or conditions of low visibility. Like almost all birds, however, it has telescopic powers of vision beyond anything which human beings can easily imagine, according to Dr. Casey Wood, famous oculist, who has devoted many years to the study of the eyes of birds. The homing pigeon memorizes landmarks near its home loft, and, as it is given longer and longer flight trials, it learns the lay of the land at greater distances, until it knows the country so well that, when liberated within 500 miles from home on a clear day, it can see some remembered landmark in the direction of its home.

WHAT'S NEW?

Short wave wireless service between Australia and ships at sea has been developed until it is in constant touch with shipping in the Pacific.

A Los Angeles man has invented a home vacuum cleaner to be operated by the regular water system of a house, taps being installed in all rooms and the dust being carried away in sewer pipes.

French interests claim to have developed a sound projector that will reproduce sound films of any make.

A. J. H. Wright, an English inventor, has perfected a fire-proof automobile body of asbestos construction.

A tree-planting machine for plant trees 6 feet apart on a 100 acre area in a day has been invented.

The newest type of window can be rolled up and cut with a knife.

A seismological station which make tri-dimension photographs earthquakes has been installed at Pittsburgh.

We read that a physical expert "made a large fortune bringing people into contact with dumb-bells." Most of us would like to avoid either variety.

The late W. L. George is best as having been "a zealous and improving conditions among us. Anyway, he married three of us."

With becoming parental prudence Delaware man bragged that he got a year off his penitentiary sentence for good behavior.

An Army aviator fell into a trap and was injured while running his small son's kite. Airmen stay off the ground.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

When you visit your physician for your periodic health examination, one of the very first things he asks you to do is to open your mouth wide, and to say "Ah." He is examining the delicate lining of your throat. "Ah!" There is not a man or woman who could even make this simple sound, if in the throat there were no Adam's Apple. For your Adam's Apple is your larynx—the voice box containing your vocal chords. And what a delicate piece of Nature's handiwork the Adam's Apple is. A slight cold—even a tiny particle lodged in the throat—and our voice often grows husky. In acute cases, we may even lose our voice for several days. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos.
These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating.
LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

In a Six-and-a-Half Week Campaign, Just Starting

PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of this big "Weekly Payroll" Drive is two-fold. Primarily, to increase the already large subscription list of this newspaper; to collect arrears and advance subscription payments from present or old subscribers, and at the same time to afford the lively, energetic men and women, boys and girls, of this territory an opportunity to profit in a big way through their spare time during the next few weeks. So, it is a plan that works both ways, and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to galvanize and quickly and advantageously, the most attractive awards ever offered by any newspaper in this section have been made ready for distribution among those who participate most actively. Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success.

Let it be understood at the very outset that this is not a "heavily" nor "popularity" contest, but a strictly legitimate competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, and one into which no element of chance enters. Each active participant will receive a pay check every Saturday night. One feature of this drive is the fact that "Everybody Wins." There will be no losers.

HOW TO ENTER—WHAT TO DO

The first thing to do is to clip the Entry Coupon appearing below; fill in your name and address and mail or deliver to this newspaper at once. This coupon entitles you, or the person whom you might wish to enter, to 5,000 free credits. These credits are given as a starter to speed you on your way to win. Only one such Entry Coupon will be accepted for each participant.

The next step is to call or write the "Weekly Payroll" Department for a free working outfit. This equipped you have but to see your friends and acquaintances and have them subscribe to this newspaper through you. That's all there is to it! However, you will never get anywhere unless you make the start—the earlier the better. Once started, let no one discourage you. Anything worth having is worth striving for. Six and a half short weeks and you may be riding in your own big automobile or otherwise several hundred dollars richer in purse.

HOW CREDITS ARE SECURED

It takes credits to win, and they are secured in the following ways: First by clipping the Free Credit Coupons appearing in each issue of this newspaper. There is no limit to the number of these coupons you may secure. Get your friends to save them for you. They all count. Begin gathering them NOW while they are good for 100 credits each. After next week these coupons will be reduced to 50 credits each. The following week to 10 credits, and after that they will be discontinued entirely. The only restriction placed on these coupons is that they must be used before the expiration date.

The other and much faster way to accumulate credits in this "Weekly Payroll" Drive is by securing new and renewal subscriptions to this newspaper. On each order secured credits are issued, the number varying according to the amount paid and during which "period" same are received at the "Weekly Payroll" Department of this newspaper. (See schedule of credits below.)

EARLY START MEANS EASY FINISH

The advantages of an early start are manifest. This "Weekly Payroll" drive is of such short duration that immediate action is necessary for success. Orders taken during the early part of the campaign carry the MAXIMUM number of credits. Then, too, the first in the field will undoubtedly get the "cream" of credits and subscriptions, while those who put off entering until a later date will have to take what is left.

Don't lose valuable time waiting to see what the other fellow is going to do, but pitch right in and show the "other fellow" how to do it!

ADVISORY BOARD

It is the sincere aim of this newspaper to conduct this campaign from start to finish in a fair, honorable and impartial manner. Every precaution has been taken to safeguard the interests of participants, and absolute honesty in all dealing is guaranteed. However, not all wisdom lies with any one man or institution, and for that reason an Advisory Board has been decided upon, whose functions shall be to decide any question of sufficient moment that might happen to arise, and from which a committee shall be selected to act as judges and award the prizes.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

- No salaried employee of this newspaper is eligible to enter this campaign.
- Any reputable man or woman residing in this city or surrounding territory is eligible to enter this drive and compete for awards and weekly pay checks.
- The winners of the awards will be decided by their earned credits, said credits being represented by ballots issued on cash collections and coupons clipped from this newspaper.
- Participants in this drive are not confined to their own town or community in which to secure subscriptions, but may take orders anywhere in this section; or, for that matter, anywhere else.
- Credits are free. It costs the subscriber nothing extra to earn credits for a favorite participant. Credits must be asked for at the time of paying subscriptions, otherwise subscribers waive this privilege.
- Credits are not transferable. Participants cannot withdraw in favor of another participant. Should a participant withdraw from the race, his or her credits will be cancelled. Neither will it be permissible for participants to give or transfer subscriptions to another participant. Credits on such transferred subscriptions will be subject to disqualification at the discretion of the management.
- Any collusion on the part of participants to nullify competition, or any other combination formed to the detriment of "Weekly Payroll" participants or this newspaper will not be tolerated. Any participant taking part in such combination stands liable to forfeit all right to a prize or commission.
- All credits issued on ballots may be held in reserve and cast at the discretion of participants or this newspaper. The free credit coupons appearing from time to time in the paper must be cast before the expiration date.
- In event of a tie for any one of the awards, a prize identical in value will be given each tying participant.
- Participants in this drive are authorized agents of this newspaper, but it is understood and agreed that they will be responsible for all money collected and will remit such amounts in full on regular report days to the "Weekly Payroll" Department.
- No statement or promise made by any representative or participant varying from the rules and statement appearing in the columns of this newspaper will be recognized by the publisher.
- In case of typographical or other errors it is understood that neither the publisher nor "Weekly Payroll" manager shall be held responsible except to make the necessary correction upon discovery of same.
- ACTIVE participants will be paid a twenty per cent cash commission ($1.00 out of every $5.00 collected) on all subscription money turned in to their account each week. It is distinctly understood, however, that in the event any participant becomes INACTIVE, failing to make a regular cash report, he or she will, at the discretion of the management, become disqualified and thereby forfeit all right to an award or an extra commission.
- It is understood and agreed that the winners of major awards will consider their weekly pay checks in the light of an "advance," which is refundable upon presentation of prize.
- To insure absolute fairness in the awarding of prizes, the race will be brought to a close with a sealed ballot box. During the entire last "period" of the drive a ballot box—locked and sealed—will be kept in the vaults of a local bank, where participants and their friends may deposit their final collections and reserve credits. In this way, no one—not even the Campaign Manager—can possibly know the actual strength of the various participants, which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.
- Twenty-five thousand credits will be given each worker for every 5-year subscription or its equivalent turned in during their first week of the campaign.
- To each "Weekly Payroll" participant who earns as much as $30.00 during their first week of the campaign, this newspaper will give an extra bonus of $2.00 cash.
- Five thousand extra credits will be given to each participant who makes a cash report each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights.
- This newspaper guarantees fair and impartial treatment to all participants, but should any question arise, the decision of the management will be absolute and final.
- In becoming a member of this "Weekly Payroll" Campaign participants agree to abide by the above conditions.

NEW X-RAY CHICKENS

New breeds of chickens, larger and more productive as layers than any now in existence, are believed to be possible of development through the agency of X-rays, as a result of experiments by Dr. Diefenbach of New York.

Among the phenomena resulting from exposing Plymouth Rock eggs to X-rays before hatching it was observed that nearly every chick was a female. When the eggs were exposed to the rays for a longer period many surprising freaks were hatched.

A large number of hens, hatched from ray-treated eggs, attained a greater weight than usual and began to lay earlier. Dr. Diefenbach is continuing his experiments in the belief that with the aid of X-rays he will be able to produce new species of chickens superior to any now known.

This is merely another of the possibilities presented by the mysterious properties of various rays, the existence of which were hardly dreamed of a few years ago.

TAKE TIME TO READ WELL
By Arthur E. Rhinow

A well known weekly journal prints the time of reading over each article.

What is the object of these time-guides? "We know you are busy," the journal tells the reader, "and you will not want to peruse any contribution that would take much time and—patience."

But if there ever was a time for choosing our reading with a view to quality instead of minutes and seconds, it is now.

Dr. Charles H. Mayo, world-renowned surgeon of Rochester, Minn., is quoted as saying that medical knowledge of the underlying causes of disease has advanced more during the last 25 years than in the preceding 25 centuries.

fective means for the prevention of infection. There are still many diseases which have so far baffled all efforts to control them, but in the light of the accomplishments of the recent past it is reasonable to expect that these, too, may ultimately yield to human science and skill.

Cotton Reduction Urged As Special Session Subject

Austin, Texas, June 24.—In the event a special session of the legislature is called, regulation of cotton production should be admitted as a subject for legislation, in the opinion of J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture.

McDonald declared that soil conservation, as well as oil conservation, was a fitting subject for legislation. His statement follows: "Press reports indicate that Governor Sterling may call a special session of the Texas legislature."

Like tobacco... the best Gasoline is Blended

YOU may prefer Burley tobacco with a touch of Turkish or a mixture which includes Perique. Whatever the preference, every good smoke is blended, expertly.

Of the various types of gasoline no one is a perfect motor fuel. So CONOCO refiners have developed their balanced blend, using: Natural Gasoline, for quick starting; Straight-run Gasoline, for power and mileage; Cracked Gasoline, for its anti-knock properties.

As expertly as the tobacco leaves are mellowed and combined these three elements are produced and blended to make CONOCO Balanced Blend Gasoline. You will find this better gasoline wherever you see the CONOCO Red Triangle. Try it today.

They were crossing the Comanche Nation at the time. As was the custom of the Indians expected the donation of a beef as their "grass money." Mr. Abbott stated, "The Indians would cause no trouble as long as you gave them their 'grass money' and would permit you to graze your herds all you wanted to as you were taking the cattle across their nation but one smart aleck cowboy in our group struck the Comanche, who asked for a beef, with the butt of his gun, knocking him completely out. That night the Indians stampeded our cattle and things looked pretty bad for us, but the Indians didn't kill anybody, however it took us several days to round up the cattle. We got some soldiers from Fort Sill, which was about 40 miles away and their captain made terms with the Indians and gave us a passing treaty. The cowboy that caused the trouble was promptly fired. We also passed through the Seminole and Osage Nations," Mr. Abbott stated.

From 1887 to 1894 he worked as a cowboy on the Shoe Nail ranch on the Red River in the northern part of Childress County.

Married in 1896

In 1896 he went on horseback to Ellis County to visit relatives. While there he met Miss Lula Taylor, who lived south of Italy, Texas, and on April 19, 1896, they were married at the bride's home. They farmed in Ellis County until 1901, when they moved to Parker County, near Weatherford. In 1904 they came by covered wagon to Hardeman County setting on a farm about 3-1-2 miles northwest of Quanah. They stayed there 7 years and then moved to Lazare, where Mr. Abbott ran a cotton gin and farmed. Later he farmed near Kirkland and in Oklahoma. In 1924 he came to Knox County, and farmed in the Antelope Flat section for 2 years, before moving to the Dr. Clark farm. He moved to his present place three years ago.

Mr. Abbott, his wife and two children, Cleo and Lawrence, live on the farm. John Thurman Abbott, Wilburn Abbott, and Lewis Henry Abbott of Truscott, and J. A. Abbott of San Angelo, are the other children in the family.

Most all of the Foard County pioneers are acquainted with Mr. Abbott. He mentioned meeting J. A. Ashford, Judge M. M. Hankins of Quanah and others when Old Margate was the county seat of Hardeman County.

The first marriage to take place in Cottle County was the one in which his brother, J. L. Abbott was married to Miss Leila Pruitt. Mr. Abbott is dead, however, his widow, Mrs. Leila Abbott is now living in Fort Worth with her son, Lewis Abbott, who is said to be the first white child born in Cottle County.

Mr. Abbott (Continued from Page 1) This dugout was located about one mile east of where Mr. Abbott now lives and he states that it was located on what is now the farm belonging to Dr. Hines Clark of Crowell. He stated that he has been able to find a dim trace of this old dugout in which he spent the night in 1882. No one else was there at that time although there was a good supply of food in it. With the aid of a pocket compass, a map and the instructions in a letter from his brother, he continued his trip the next day. "I got sort of balled up in crossing the Wichita River breaks, as there was no one to secure directions from, but I was able to make it to my brother's with out very much trouble. He had written me that he lived just north of the Wichita River in the southern part of Cottle County and that he would set out a big red box in front of his place," Mr. Abbott said. Much Wild Life Soon after reaching his brother's place they and his brother's associates took part in the last buffalo hunt in Cottle County, possibly the last one in this section of Texas, and killed 16 buffaloes. Part of the meat was eaten and the hides were shipped. This hunt took place in the White Flat section, near old Otta, a store located about 4 or 6 miles west of what is now Chalk, Mr. Abbott said. He stated that this country was literally loaded with game at that time and that in driving from Seymour to Cottle County he ran across hundreds of deer, antelope and rattle snakes. There were thousands of wild turkeys. Small black bears, Mexican lions and other types of wild life were also here at that time, according to Mr. Abbott. To Childress County After staying with his brother for about two weeks, again he left alone. This time he went to Childress County and secured a job as cowboy for John Pierce Matthews, who was starting the Gourd Ranch at that time. His boss sent him to the Creek Nation in the Oklahoma territory, near Muskogee, and he worked as a cowpuncher there for two years and then returned to Childress County in 1884 and went to work for the Moon Ranch. It was about this time that he met Jim Moody, who now lives near Truscott, and his brother, Pete Moody, who now lives at Knox City. While working for the Moon, Gourd and Rocking Chair ranches in Childress County, at three different times he helped trail large herds of cattle through to Kansas City, the herds averaging around 1,700 head with about 9 cowboys driving them. left the scene of a raid and started two or three months on the road were required for each trip. Indian Trouble In 1886 Mr. Abbott and a group of cowboys had an unpleasant experience with some Comanche Indians as they were taking a herd of cattle from the Gourd Ranch to the Creek Nation.

DESTROYER OF FINEST WOOLEN

Like the goat, a moth has strange tastes, but unlike the goat, the damage done by moths runs into millions of dollars every year. Moths hide and breed in dark places. They are voracious eaters of your finest woolsens, mohairs, and carpets. A thorough and thrifty housewife will spray the cupboards, furniture, and carpets thoroughly every few months with the modern type of insect spray, developed and marketed by the large oil refining companies during the past 3 or 4 years. The better grade of these insect sprays can be easily purchased from grocers, hardware dealers or druggists. They are advertised frequently in this paper.

Mayor Comments on Ordinance Recently Passed By Council

Since there has been some misunderstanding regarding the privy ordinance recently passed by the city council, Mayor C. T. Schlagal has issued the following statement:

"The Privy Ordinance recently passed by the City Council does not require a new building and only slight repairs to your old building. You must have self closing lids, which consists of a flat board and an old piece of inner tube or anything to hold the lid in place. The seat must be fly tight or all cracks covered with small boards. You must have a ventilator flue from the seat through the roof and eight inches above the roof. This flue can be made with any old lumber and must be covered at top and bottom with screen wire. The pit must be three feet wide, four feet long and five feet deep. The pit must be lined to prevent caving and this can be done with any lumber that may be lying about the place. The dirt excavated from the pit will do to bank against the building and sloped away from building to prevent water from running into pit. If you have some old lumber about the place this should not be any expense at all, except the labor digging the pit and the above mentioned slight repairs to the buildings."

Rotary Objects and Ethics Are Discussed

H. K. Edwards was in charge of the program at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday, which was held in the basement of the Baptist Church with the Vivian Home Demonstration Club serving the meal. Mr. Bagley of San Angelo and Geo. Backus, visitors, made short talks.

SON OF FORMER CROWELL WOMAN DROWNS, FT. WORTH

Murrell Morrison, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Morrison of Fort Worth lost his life in the waters of Trinity River, near Lake Worth last Thursday. He fell into the river in an attempt to disentangle a trolley from the branches of an overhanging tree.

Mrs. Morrison, the youth's mother, was formerly Miss Grace Shawver, who as a girl lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Shawver, and attended school in Crowell. An attempt to save Murrell's life was made by his crippled companion, George Malmberg, who discarded his crutches and dived into the swiftly moving stream. He grasped Murrell's shirt, held the grip for several minutes until he, too, became exhausted. He grabbed the branches of a tree and held on until rescued.
