Crowell Wins District One-Act Play Tournament for Fourth Straight Year

Address Winner Of Second Place; Chillicothe Third

Winning first place in the one-act play tournament for District 3 of the Texas Interscholastic League last Saturday night and placing the three members of their cast for "The Sealed Cord" on the district all-star list, the Crowell High School playboys took every honor that it was possible for them to win in this annual event in which nine high schools participated here last Friday and Saturday.

"Submerged" by Childress and Chillicothe's presentation of "Vincation" took second and third place respectively. Following earlier performances, the three winning plays were presented again Saturday night for final judging by Mrs. Arbel Buford Baird, professor of speech at the Oklahoma State College for Women in Chickasha. She served as judge throughout the tournament.

Fourth Consecutive Year
This makes the fourth consecutive year that Crowell has won first place in this tournament. "Two Books and a Lady" in 1930, "On the Edge of the World" in 1931, "The Heart" in 1932, and "The

Have All Eligible Names Been Listed In School Census?

L. A. Andrews, who is taking the census for the Crowell Independent School District, has about completed his work, but before making a final report he would like to have reports from anyone who knows of any new families that have moved to this district with children of school age or any others eligible for enumeration in the census who may have been overlooked.

State school aid is based on this census and each eligible name left out means a loss of many dollars to the local school system.

The News is sure that all other school census enumerators in the county will appreciate co-operation along this line.

March 31st is the last day that names may be enumerated in the census.

A revival meeting of about ten days is to begin at the Thalia Baptist Church on Friday night, March 31, according to Rev. W. A. Reed, pastor of the church.

H. L. Kimsey in Race For Mayor of Crowell

H. L. Kimsey has submitted the following statement in announcing his candidacy for mayor of Crowell: "Several of my friends have asked me to run for the office of Mayor for the city of Crowell and I have decided to do so.

"I might say that I never had any idea or thought of running for any office until within the last week or two, but if the people think I can serve them as mayor and so express themselves at the polls I will make the very best servant it is possible for me to make. I would not make a campaign but prefer to leave it up to you to express yourself without any persuasion or pressure in my favor.

"If you should see fit to elect me I can only promise that I will serve you faithfully and impartially. I believe in economy and efficiency of administration. I believe every effort should be made to lower costs of service and tax burdens. I realize that it is easy to make such promises and sometimes hard to fulfill them, but it seems that some relief might come from these sources. I find that other towns are making progress along this line and I see no reason why Crowell should not.

"I would cooperate with the people of the town in any and all efforts to improve conditions that would make for the happiness and well being of the entire town.—H. L. Kimsey."

Problems facing Coach Graves, besides Crowell, the following communities of Foard County are represented in the above group: Foard City, Black, Margaret, Vivian and Four Corners.

Here are photos from the heart of the earthquake zone which took 110 lives and did damage to property estimated at $50,000,000 in the Los Angeles area of Southern California. Photo No. 1 shows a street scene in Compton where 20 persons were killed by the collapse of building; No. 2, shows the ruins of a high school building in Long Beach, the town considered the quake's epicenter and where 85 lives were lost; No. 3, shows homeless and penniless refugees being fed by the U. FOURTEEN COUNTIES WILL BE REPRESENTED AT DIST. 13 P-T MEET IN CROWELL APRIL 11-12

Plans for the annual conference of the 13th District of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers that is to be held in Crowell on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11 and 12, are progressing in a very satisfactory manner and all indications point to one of the most successful conferences in the history of the 13th District.

During the two days of this conference and one night, Crowell will be host to over 250 delegates and visitors and this number will include many of the most prominent women from the fourteen counties in this district.

The 13th District includes 135 P. T. A. units from the following counties: Archer, Baylor, Clay, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, Jack, Knox, Montague, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger, Wise and Young.

Homes Needed
As a result of the large number of visitors that will be present a committee from the Crowell P. T. A. will soon make requests for homes in which to care for the visiting women. This will mean only a room for one night as the meals, with the exception of the banquet, will be provided.

BANQUET MONDAY NIGHT

The regular monthly trades day banquet will be held on Monday night. Tickets for the event are being sold by T. F. Hill and Vernon Pyle.

The program will include committee reports, a talk on the financial outlook by Dr. B. L. Kincaid, and a review of accomplishments and future aims of the organization by M. S. Henry. Other features for the program are also planned.

Three Foard County Homes Are Destroyed By Fire This Week

Fires of undetermined origin destroyed three Foard County residences this week.

At about sun-up Tuesday the six-room residence belonging to W. A. (Ab) Dunn was completely destroyed. It was located about three and one-half miles northeast of Margaret and was the home of Bill Bond at the time of the fire. Practically everything in the house was destroyed. This residence was built about 4 or 5 years ago and was one of the best farm homes in the county.

Wednesday morning at about 2 o'clock the residence of Ed Hudlow of Tell, Texas, in the southwest part of Crowell was completely destroyed. It was occupied by Alton Beggs and family at the time of the fire. A number of items in the house were saved.

The six-room residence of Guy Housouer caught fire shortly before 9 o'clock Wednesday night with the result that it and all furnishings were consumed in the flames. All members of the family were away from the home when the fire started.

The losses were only partially covered by insurance in all instances.

STATE HEALTH NURSE WILL BE IN FOARD SOON

Miss Beatrice Lott, itinerant nurse, working under the direction of the State Department of Health, will arrive in Crowell, Monday, March 27, to begin several weeks of health work in the schools of Foard County.

The work will consist chiefly of health examination of school children and educational health activities.

The services of Miss Lott were secured from the Bureau of Child Welfare of the State Department of Health through efforts of the local P. T. A. unit. This activity is sponsored by the P. T. A. as one of its health projects for the year.

A meeting of all persons interested in the public health of the county will be held in the Crowell High School auditorium, Tuesday, March 28, at which time Miss Lott will discuss further plans for the county health work.

FIRE WARNING

An official notice from Mayor C. T. Schlager that is published elsewhere in this issue states that circumstances surrounding recent fires here given rise to the fact that a "fire-bug" may be at work in this section and warns the people to be on the look-out and to assist in any possible way in putting a stop to this menace.

In connection with the fire here Wednesday night, damage of over one hundred dollars was done to the fire hose as a result of automobiles running over them while water was being pumped through the hose.

Local officials warn that it is a strict violation of the law to run a vehicle over fire hose and that every effort will be made to punish violators of it in the future. One section of hose blew out Wednesday night as a result of a car running over it and other sections were weakened.

Crowell Hi Graduate In Radio Broadcast

Miss Johnny Mae Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Short, who lives northeast of Crowell, will appear in the broadcast of the Decatur Baptist College Choral Club over radio station KGKO at Wichita Falls on Saturday afternoon of this week from 5 to 5:30 o'clock.

Miss Short is a graduate of the 1931 class of Crowell High School. The choir of which she is a member is made up of thirty young women under the direction of Carl Brumelow, professor of music at Decatur Baptist College. He is a nephew of Mrs. C. L. Rucker of Crowell.

The radio program Saturday afternoon will be varied by special numbers from Mr. Brumelow at the piano and by numbers from his pupils. The people of this section are invited to tune in on this program.

Foard Students to Compete in Crowell Friday, Saturday

The Foard County Interscholastic Meet, the outstanding event of the year for the schools of this county, will be held in Crowell on Friday and Saturday of this week. According to the interest that has been shown in it, the meet this year promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the county and a large crowd is expected to attend it.

The meet will open at 9 o'clock Friday morning, at which time the spelling contest for all divisions will start. Other events will be held throughout the day including choruses, declamation, volley ball for senior boys, arithmetic contests, three R contest, story telling, primary chorus, piano, indoor baseball, essay writing, music memory, debate, extemporaneous speech and other events.

One of the most interesting parts of the meet will come on Friday night, at which time declamations and musical numbers by duets and quartets of all divisions and the high school chorus will be given.

Admission to all events for the two days is free with the exception of the Friday night program in the auditorium and a charge of only five and ten cents will be made at that time. Contestants and their parents will be admitted free. Proceeds from this program will be used in paying the judges and other expenses of the county meet.

U. S. COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY GROUP ARE NEW AT WORK IN FOARD CO.

Elevations are being established on bench marks in Foard County this week by a party of seven men of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, which is under the supervision of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

They will make headquarters in Crowell for about two weeks. A. D. Evans is chief of the group.

EARLY ACTION IS REQUESTED ON GOV'T. LOANS

Local committeemen in charge of the work of handling applications for federal farm loans request all who intend to make applications to do so at once instead of waiting to the last few days.

All committeemen are giving their time and efforts to this work and are certainly due this consideration at least. Although April 30 is the last day that application may be made for loans, it is hoped this year that the customary last minute rush will be avoided.

As explained in the last two issues of The News, there are two federal sources from which loans may be secured if certain requirements are met.

N. J. Roberts, Dr. R. L. Kincaid and Silas Moore are members of the committee for the R. F. C. crop production loans and Leo Spencer, Dr. Kincaid, E. V. Halbert, R. H. Cooper and M. S. Henry compose the local organization for the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation.

The county agent, Fred Rennels, is also assisting in the work of both groups.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., March 22 (Autocaster)—Not since Woodrow Wilson marched into Washington at the head of the Democratic cohorts just twenty years ago has the Capital City experienced the sensation of being stood on its head, so to speak.

Nothing in this slow-moving city ever moved as rapidly as things are moving here now. Within less than a fortnight a real political revolution has taken place.

Under their relative importance, these are the outstanding occurrences under the new government: First: President Roosevelt has been given powers such as no President of the United States ever had, except in war time.

Second: Under the direction of the new President the reorganization of the entire banking system of the nation has been started along drastic, deep-reaching lines which promise to weed out the incompetents and crooks in the banking business, place the Federal Government in control of all banks and give depositors far greater assurance of the safety of their bank deposits than they ever had.

Third: A start has been made toward cutting a thousand million dollars a year off the Government's expenses, of which nearly half will come out of the funds now being spent for veterans' relief.

Fourth: The legalization of beer, as a means of raising revenues, has taken such shape that it seems probable that anyone with a thirst for the malt beverage can buy it freely in a few weeks.

Those are the major high-lights of the work of the new administration thus far.

Direct to the People President Roosevelt came into office believing that the people wanted action. Taking another leaf out of Woodrow Wilson's book, he has gone over the heads of the politicians and direct to the people, in a series of public proclamations and radio addresses, which seems to have struck a responsive chord.

Indeed, even some of the applause for the new President's courageous and vigorous attitude has come from Republican sources. The principal opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's policies has come, in fact, from within his own party. It took Republican votes to pass his economy through the House of Representatives.

The outlook as this is written is that any measures for direct farm relief and in aid of the unemployed will not be acted upon until Congress convenes again in April. The President and his advisors are working hard and carefully on the form of legislation they want in both those matters.

The belief that some plan for taking so-called marginal lands out of cultivation will be adopted, is growing. Just how far this will follow the domestic allotment plan which was considered by the last Congress remains to be seen.

Mr. Roosevelt's program for unemployment relief is still in the shaping. It is understood that it will involve something like military enlistment of the unemployed, or of several hundred of them, to be put to work on public improvements, such as waterpower dams, flood protection works and the like.

Washington Likes Roosevelt There is no question that Washington likes the new President. He has brought into public affairs a new atmosphere, with which Washington is not familiar, but it is an atmosphere of activity and of friendliness. The impression which President Roosevelt made upon the newspaper men at his first conference with them was a good one. Not since the first few weeks of the Harding administration has any President permitted reporters to fire questions at him at will.

Social Washington has taken the new White House family to its arms. Of course, the Roosevelts are not strangers here, but there is a lot of difference in the social status of an Assistant Secretary of the Navy and a President of the United States. They move in entirely different circles. There have been Presidents and their families who were merely tolerated in so-called "Society" because of their official standing, but the Franklin Roosevelts have a social status of the highest regardless of official connection.

Alice Roosevelt Longworth gave the cue to the highest circles of Washington society by resuming her intimacy with her cousins in the White House, while Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, another social leader of high position, has also placed her cachet of approval upon them. It is not likely, therefore, that the slanders and scandalous gossip which some of their predecessors in the White House have suffered will be aimed at the Franklin Roosevelts.

A LESSON IN HUMILITY

How petty and futile all human affairs appear in the face of such a cataclysm as the earthquake which shook the California coast bringing death and destruction in its wake!

In countless other directions humanity has conquered the powers of the earth, the sea and the air. The whole history of civilization is the history of mankind's conquest of its environment.

Man alone has continued to increase and multiply, to grow in physical and mental stature, to become the conqueror of the very powers of the earth and air.

Man has a right to be proud of his superiority to all the other animals of land and sea and air.

Out of the horror and the pity of such catastrophes as the earthquake perhaps we may learn a lesson of humility.

HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

It is a strange human trait that in later life a man often boasts of the very things which he was somewhat ashamed in his youth.

And it is a just cause for pride to have overcome such obstacles through one's own energy and determination.

It is equally true that many men fail because of a false pride which causes them to shrink from humble tasks which might lead to ultimate success.

Not every boy can become a Ford, an Edison, or a Rockefeller, but every one who is not afraid of ashamed to work can make an honorable and useful place for himself.

ON MEETING AN OBJECTION

Every business man knows the value of being able to sense an objection and meet it before it is advanced.

Every business man knows the value of being able to sense an objection and meet it before it is advanced. Jesus knew that far better. He went one night to dine with a prominent Pharisee.

Simon sensed a trap, and moved cautiously. "I imagine the one who owed him the most," said he.

"Right," said Jesus. "Simon, seest thou this woman?" Simon nodded. He began to wish the conversation had not started.

"When I came into your house, you gave me no water for my feet," Jesus continued with that extraordinary frankness which cut straight to the heart of things.

"She is like the debtor who owed the five hundred shillings," he said. "Her sins which are many are forgiven, for she loved much. To whom little is forgiven, the same loves little."

It is easy to imagine that the conversation rather dragged during the remainder of the meal.

Texas Headlight Law Repealed; April 1st Last Day to Register

It is no longer necessary to have headlights tested in order to secure motor vehicle registrations as a result of the recent repeal of the headlight law by the Texas Legislature.

Heretofore it has been necessary to pay 25 cents to a test station for testing and adjusting headlights in order to secure the receipt necessary to produce in purchasing license plates.

This new bill is effective now and those who have not secured their 1933 plates will not have to have their lights tested.

The time limit for 1933 registration of motor vehicles is rapidly drawing to a close.

The FACT FINDER Your Uncle Sam. There are several explanations for the origin of 'Uncle Sam,' meaning the United States. Here is one generally believed. The expression arose at the time of the war between the United States and Great Britain. At Trop, N. Y., on the Hudson, a commissariat named Elbert Anderson, of New York, had a store yard. A government inspector named Samuel Wilson, who was always called 'Uncle Sam,' supervised the examination of the provisions, and when they were passed, each case or package was marked, 'EA-US,' the initials of the contractor and of the United States. The man whose duty it was to mark the cases was a facetious fellow and upon being asked what the letters meant, replied that they stood for Elbert Anderson and Uncle Sam. The joke soon became known and was heartily entered into by Uncle Sam. The joke soon became known and long before the war was over was known throughout the country. Mr. Wilson, the original Uncle Sam, died in Troy in 1854 at the age of 84.
