PEACE FLOOD CONTROL BILL ENACTED AND PASSED TO RD READING BY TEXAS HOUSE

A letter received Wednesday from George M. Moffett, Representative from the district, some very interesting and encouraging facts given. Mr. Moffett's letter, was written Tuesday, March 9.

The House of Representatives today, expressed and passed the reading of the Peace River Flood Control Bill, which is the step down a long road that leads to the construction of a three-million-dollar ($3,000,000) dam on the Peace River above the Crowell crossing. This dam will be built as a WPA project and it is expected that all of the WPA labor in five counties will be used in its construction.

The disastrous floods in the winter of 1935 and the fall of 1936 which did so much damage to highway and railroad bridges and farm lands along the river, furnished the foundation for the construction of this dam. The State Highway Department spent nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) in repairs following one of the floods. One of the three railroads spent more than a hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to say nothing of the damage to farm lands and crops along the river.

The WPA authorities and the War Department thought that this project to sponsor the hearing at Vernon last October at that time an ultimatum was made to the district before any work could be had for the dam and lake site will involve about 17,000 acres. As the local subdivisions are without funds, a plan devised by which the State from four counties were continued on Last Page.)

NOBODY'S BUSINESS
BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin—"They who live by the sword shall die by the sword."

With this as their slogan, anti-race gambling forces in the senate pushed through legislation that apparently spells final doom of pari-mutuel betting in Texas, when they tacked onto a house bill licensing track employees an amendment abolishing betting.

The plan, carefully laid by Sen. Nelson of Tahoka, Grady Woodruff of Decatur and other administration forces in the senate, including a doubtful point of order which Woodruff, in the president's chair, overruled, and another perfectly good point of order that was thwarted in the nick of time by Gov. Allred. The governor, sitting in the senate chamber, hurriedly penciled a special message, submitting the bill as emergency legislation. The vote was 20 to 8, showing much greater strength for the betting repeal faction than even its most optimistic members believed existed. It left little doubt as to final end of race betting.

Whether final action would come by the house accepting the Nelson amendment, or by the senate enacting the bill already passed by the house to repeal betting, remained in doubt. But the overwhelming strength in both chambers of the anti-betting group bore out the prediction made in this column three weeks ago that "the ponies will stop running in Texas this spring." Horse betting was enacted originally four years ago as a rider on an appropriation bill.

Truck Lobby Thwarted

The drive of motor truck operators, which is renewed at every session to increase the present load limit of 7,500 pounds, went against when the house by a 72-51 vote killed a minority report favoring a bill to increase the limit, after a committee had adversely reported the bill. The vote probably settled for this session the load limit question, and further demonstrated the house's conviction that the lives of Texans who use the highways are more important than the profits of truck operators. Carrying out this idea, the house also placed a strong restriction about the operation of private commercial carriers, in another bill it passed to exempt these trucks which deliver a merchant's or manufacturer's own products in his private trucks, from regulation as common carriers, to meet a situation created by the supreme court in the celebrated Nu-Way lumber case. The private truckers may operate their trucks, under terms of the bill, but must take out a special license granted by the railroad commission and must carry insurance to protect the public. Farmers' trucks are exempted. In the senate, a committee amendment to the same bill limited drivers of such trucks to 10 hours' daily service, to correct one of the most prolific causes of accidents—that of sleeping drivers who are overworked. The bill is yet to be passed in the senate, and may see even more stringent public safety amendments attached before final adoption.

Friends Laud Terrell

More than 1800 friends of Judge C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, including leaders of the oil, railroad, trucking and other large industries which deal with the commission, heard fulsome praise of the veteran commissioner at a Fort Worth testimonial dinner. Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, whom Judge Terrell is succeeding as chairman, detailed Terrell's matchless record of 50 years of public service, and pointed to his part in putting the oil industry on a stable basis, opposing federal control, and obtaining higher production for Texas wells. Speakers included Gen. John A. Hulen, W. L. Steward and E. E. Kirkpatrick, oil operators; B. J. Fitzgerald, railroad brotherhood spokesman; Rep. Herman Jones, of Terrell's home town; Sen. Frank Rawlins, Myron Bialock and Carl Phinney of Dallas. The demonstration and tribute to Terrell heartened his friends, who expect to see him re-elected without an opponent in 1938.

Liquor Control Bill

The house committee on liquor traffic has brought out a substitute bill, which may get up for consideration this week, designed to tighten substantially the loopholes in regulation of the sale of liquor and beer, brought out by the past two years' experience. It gives liquor board inspectors full access to all licensed establishments, provides the board or administrator may suspend licenses for numerous causes, such as selling to minors, selling to drunken persons, selling liquor by the drink, and other common abuses. It further prevents court action to keep violators' places open, by denying courts the right to issue injunctions to revive suspended licenses pending trials.

The bill also contains stringent provisions barring "chain store breweries"—that is, installing bottling plants and shipping in manufactured beer to be bottled at such plants. The Texas brewers contend this practice will permit the big national brewers, who controlled 90 per cent of the Texas breweries in the old, lawless "wet" days, to re-establish that control, with very small investments, by establishing chains of these bottling plants. The Texas brewers, declaring abuse of the liquor law will kill their business and bring back prohibition, are strongly back-

makes cold motors purr-r-r-r

HOW can you tell what power, pep and speed, your motor will actually develop, until you have given it a real chance to "do its stuff" by filling up with high test gasoline?

So try Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

It costs no more than ordinary low test motor fuels. Yet scientific laboratory tests made day in and day out, all winter long, have proved that the effective high test of Phillips 66 is unsurpassed by any other gasoline—even those selling at a higher price.

You will notice that your motor starts much faster... warms up quicker... that it literally purrs along at any speed from a snail's pace in traffic to a streamlined sprint on the out-of-town concrete.

You will also feel the added power which comes from the extra energy units supplied by the patented POLYMERIZATION process.

You get these two-fold economies—extra high test and extra power... without extra price... because Phillips resources as world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline... because of Phillips initiative as an independent Organization.

Make it a point to get your next full gal of gas at the Orange and Black Shield. You'll enjoy that difference in performance and saving in money.

To make a good city, people need to be good neighbors. Pleasant feelings among those who live on the same street produce harmony in the community, and avoid the dislikes that divide many towns into cliques and factions.

To be good neighbors, people should avoid doing things that irritate those living near them. Good neighbors keep their home places in good order, so that they will not be offensive to those who have to look at them.

WHAT WE THINK

(By Frank Dixon)

The other day I was in a group of men talking about the Supreme Court and the weather when a party joined the group and asked for suggestions as to who were the three leading citizens of the community.

The inquirer had visited several other persons before contacting our group and had a list of names that had been suggested by others.

When they were read I objected to all of them. Without exception they were made up of men who had been elected to some local office. One or two of them because they chanced to be well to do and one or two of them for no apparent reason at all.

The men who had held office had been elected in each case by one of those flukes of circumstances that occur often in politics. They had done nothing outstanding while they held the office and had not distinguished themselves in any way before they held it or afterwards.

Both of the men who had been chosen because of their money, had inherited their wealth and had spent their lives keeping it invested in government bonds, and had done nothing for the community at all comparable to their ability or opportunity.

I suggested as a candidate for one of the places as leading citizen in the community a woman who had lost her husband a number of years before, and who, had over her washtub, reared and educated a family of three boys and two girls, had put them through grade school and high school, and by their help had started them all to college on the road to success and independence.

My second nomination was a country doctor who had spent forty years in the community and who while he had made but a moderate living had a competence for his old age on his books in the shape of bills he would never be able to collect.

My third nomination was that of a merchant. He began as a delivery boy, and, without a dollar of help developed and educated himself in the mercantile business, and, by close application and hard work and thrift had built a successful business that was an asset to the community. In addition to this through all the hard work, and self denial, and skimping, and saving, and adversity, he had retained a wholesome, cheerful, optimistic view of life. He was a leader in his church, his merchant's association, and in everything that had to do with the progress and betterment of the community in any way.

I think it is a common fault in selecting the leaders of a community that the standards by which such selections are made often do not permit of the selection of the true leaders.

We too often choose men for what they have gathered to themselves rather than for what they have given others.

Farm Indebtedness Reviewed by Supervisors and Local Committee

"Many farmers who could get financing through regular agencies at reasonable terms, do not know how to find this financing nor how to present their assets in a credible form. For this reason, debt-distressed farmers should feel free to ask Farm Debt Adjustment committeemen for help in refinancing their pressing obligations, Col. Homer E. Carrico, district Farm Debt Adjustment supervisor, said while here March 10.

Mr. Carrico was in Foard County to meet with debt-distressed farmers and the county FDA committee, to work out any problems the committeemen had not been able to solve. This group is not able to make loans to distressed farm owners, but is frequently able to help them make re-adjustments in their present obligations so that they may pay out without losing their equity.

Many farmers have been helped in this county. Farm Debt Adjustment committeemen are also helping farmers who have only collateral debts, rather than limiting their services to land owners. To date, $12,000 in indebtedness has been reviewed by this committee. More than $450,000 in delinquent taxes has been paid into the county treasury due to the adjustment of this indebtedness. Only two cases were dropped.

The committeemen are, H. C. Brown, C. E. Gafford, and C. P. Sandifer.

heavy shoes and uniforms and made much progress in the first week of work-outs.

Frank Dunn starred in the Freshman line and Bert Curtis was outstanding in the backfield. J. C. (Cotton) Owens, sophomore quarterback, showed plenty of possibilities with his passes, line plungers and end runs. Wayne Canup and Ed Gafford, reserves from the 1936 team, were mainstays in the line of the Soph team.

Richard Kelsey, prospective backfield man, has been unable to report for work-outs due to a sprained ankle he received in the first drill.

The ten lettermen of last year's team have not reported for spring training yet, but they are expected to start practice some time next week.

Another scrimmage will be played next Friday afternoon.

Social Security Numbers Should Be Protected

San Antonio, March 6.—Social Security account number cards, now in the hands of approximately one million workers in Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico, should be protected against damage or loss, Oscar M. Powell, regional director of the Social Security Board, said today.

"These cards, which indicate that the worker has established an old-age benefits account, should not be subjected to frequent handling, and it is not necessary for employees to carry their cards with them at all times," Powell declared in response to inquiries from many workers.

"Employees should report their assigned account numbers to their employers as soon as they have received their cards. Immediately thereafter, the card may be put away in a safe place until such time as it is needed.

Cards reported lost or destroyed will be replaced by the Social Security Board upon application; however, the time required to issue a duplicate card makes the preservation of the original card a matter of interest to the employee."

The Board has rejected suggestions that metallic plates be used in official assignment of account numbers, but employees may, if they so desire, register their account numbers on metal plates or fibrous material, Powell said.

General Motors Sales Corp. Appoints Nine Assistant Managers

Announcement of the appointment of 9 new assistant regional managers in the sales organization of the Chevrolet Motor Division of the General Motors Sales Corporation was made today by W. E. Holler, Chevrolet vice president and general sales manager.

The nine new appointees will take over their new duties March 16, Mr. Holler said, as part of a sweeping reorganization of the company's used car marketing program. They will work exclusively on used cars and will have a wholly new zone organization in Chevrolet's 47 zones under them, it was announced.

The new assistant regional managers will work directly under the two new assistant general sales managers, appointed by Chevrolet last month—W. G. Lewellen in the west and T. H. Keating in the east.

Those named by Mr. Holler, and the regions to which they have been assigned, are: W. J. Graveson, Flint; G. R. Weeks, Atlantic Coast; F. W. Williams, Eastern; P. R. Letts, New England; W. J. Kane, Southeastern; R. W. Hill, Great Lakes; H. C. Howard, Southwestern; T. F. Brown, Middle Western; and F. N. Phelps, Pacific Coast. All were formerly zone managers of the largest and most important in the new car marketing organization, and all have had long service with Chevrolet.

Mr. Holler explained that the creation of a separate used car marketing organization within the Chevrolet sales department was designed to relieve the new car sales force of burdensome responsibilities in regard to used cars and to permit them to concentrate their efforts on the sale of new cars and trucks.

"We are modernizing our selling organization work," Mr. Holler declared. "The step we have taken is one of the most forward, historical steps ever made by Chevrolet. We are trying to anticipate a possible used car condition that may arise in the future by setting up this used car marketing organization alongside our new car organization. We are trying to put ourselves in a position to meet whatever circumstances may arise in the used car field."

"Bankers' Hours"

... Are Not What They Seen to Be

Many people think that a banker's day starts late and ends early—that a banker spends very little time in actual banking. These people have no conception of the tremendous amount of labor necessary to keep the bank's affairs in the absolutely balanced state that they must be. Thousands of clerical operations keep the bank's business in perfect order, night and day—and they are mostly done after the doors have been closed for the day. And then think of the constant 24-hour guard the bank keeps on your money—as efficient as if a cordon of police surrounded it by night and day. No, bankers' hours are not easy hours. They are the long, long hours needed to build up an institution to which you can point with pride and say "MY bank!"

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, March 14.

The Golden Text is: "If we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it" (Romans 8:25.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, the deep things of God" (1 Corinthians 2:9, 10.)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortals, man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness" (page 459.)

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

We Have Found Him! One day Philip came to Nathaniel and said, we have found him, of whom Moses in the law and the prophets did write, Jesus of Nazareth. It was no common experience. It was the culmination of years of quest and waiting, the fulfillment of a great promise. It is one of the tragedies of the ages that many today never find Christ. Many go through life without ever having known the joy and the satisfaction that comes from such a realization. The crippled man found Christ beside the pool at Bethesda. The leper found him in the desert road. The blind man found him at the pool of Siloam. The woman of Samaria found him at the well. Paul found him on the Damascus road. The thief found him on the cross. There is no special time or place where Christ may be found. There is no satisfaction that can come to man greater than that which comes to those who can say with Philip, we have found him, Jesus of Nazareth.

RIVERS FLOW UNDERGROUND

Although it is frequently printed that Barbados has no rivers, this assertion is entirely untrue, but they all flow underground. From these subterranean streams the towns are supplied with pure water. It is nevertheless true that one may travel from end to end and from side to side of the island and never see a stream or pond worthy of the name. So easy is it to tap one of the many subterranean rivers of Barbados that upward of 300 miles of pipes carry the water to all towns and hamlets on the island.

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS

JOKES

City Girl (Ann)—"And I suppose at dusk, when the sun is stealing over the Rockies in purple splendor, you cowboys are huddled around the campfire, broiling venison and listening to the weird, eerie, unnatural howlings of the coyotes?"

Rattlesnake Mike—"Well ma'am, not ezactly. Usually we go inside and listen to Amos and Andy."

Mrs. I. T. Graves (over telephone)—"Are you the game warden?"

Game Warden—"Yes, ma'am."

Mrs. Graves—"Well, I am so thankful I have the right person at last! Would you mind suggesting some games suitable for a children's party?"

Coach Graves was teaching some cowboys how to play football. He explained the rules and ended as follows:

"Remember, fellows, if you can't kick the ball, kick a man on the other side. Now, let's get busy. Where's the ball?"

One of the cowboys shouted: "Fergit the ball! Let's start the game."

Little Gene Todd: "You aren't an angel, are you, Pop?"

Mr. Todd: "Well, not exactly. Why do you ask such a question?"

Gene: "Well, I heard Mom say she was going to clip your wings."

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

Dear Freshmen: Always chew gum in every class; the teachers like the pop it makes.

Always run down the halls and up the stairs. It shows you have plenty of pep.

Never stay in after school when asked to do so. It consumes time—besides it shows you have something more important on your mind.

Always write and draw on the desk and walls. It shows the artist in you.

Always go up the wrong stairs. It breaks the monotony of the routine. Besides the exercise of going back down and up the right stairs at the teachers' command is good for you.

Always throw paper on the floor. The janitor appreciates this.

Your loving upperclassmen, The Sophomores.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION in TEXAS

Editor's Note:—Following are questions and answers prepared by R. B. Anderson, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, which is an interpretation in simplified terms of the various provisions of the recently-enacted Texas Unemployment Compensation Act.

How An Employer Ceases to Be Subject to the Law

Question 23: "I am an employer

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

To detect and discourage theft, New Jersey police tattoo poultry.

The flood in the Ohio River Valley is said to have rendered homeless 568,000 persons.

Shirley Temple rates as the top movie star of the world. Miss Temple's earnings are approximately $360,000 a year.

American motorists paid a tax bill of $1,173,413,000 on oil and fuel last year. This was made up by $685,000,000 state tax, $190,000,000 federal tax and $293,308,840 lubricating oil taxes.

SAFETY SLOGANS

In winter time the greatest hazard lies in slipping and falling on the ice. Watch your step. Take short steps and walk on the ball of the foot.

Exposed gears about power machinery on the farm are always dangerous—a loose fitting sleeve may cost a hand or an arm.

There were more deaths caused by accident in the homes last year than were caused by automobile accidents.

Approximately 7,000 persons meet death from drowning in the United States each year. Many of these drownings could be prevented if some one in the group had known how to revive a drowning person. If you do not know, be prepared. Learn this summer.

Never, under any circumstances, pour oil into a stove from a spouted can. The oil running from the can draws the air into the can and if fire is present frequently results in an explosion which throws burning oil over the room and the person. Many are burned to death every year in just this way.

Never wash silk in an inflammable liquid. The movement of the silk in the gasoline can cause an electric spark sufficient to ignite the gasoline.

The formula for safe driving is: Be alert always, and drive carefully, always under control.

Fifteen hundred people lost their lives in the sinking of the Titanic. At the time it was heralded around the world as a major disaster, yet more persons are killed in automobile accidents every two weeks, than lost their lives in the Titanic disaster.

Automobile accidents often leave frightful scars on the face that disfigure it for life.

When walking on slippery, sleet covered walks, take very short steps. This lessens the liability of slipping.

STYLE SHOW

whose payroll has dropped below the level of eight employees. I therefore desire to terminate my status as an employer. What shall I do?"

Answer: 1. As we stated previously, if you employed as many as eight people in 1935, but less than 8 in 1936, you are still an employer in the eyes of the law and must file a report, although contributions are due only on 1936 payrolls.

Before January 5, 1937, you must file a written application with the Commission, asking that you be relieved of your status as an employer. This application must give all the facts on your employment during 1936, so that the Commission can determine that there were no 20 different days in as many weeks in which you employed as many as eight workers.

Many employers do not understand that they must file a return even though they are not now employing as many as eight people, and have not done so since 1935.

2. Hereafter, to be exempted from the provisions of the law, you must file your application for exemption before the fifth day of January after the calendar year in which your status as an employer dropped below the standard prescribed by law.

For example, if during 1937 you did not employ eight people on 20 days in different weeks, you must file an application for exemption from the 1937 tax not later than January 5, 1938.

3. The above rules do not apply in one case—where the employer voluntarily comes under the law. To be released from the terms of the law, this employer must file his application at least 30 days prior to January 1, of the year in which he wishes to be exempted.

For example, if you come under the law for the calendar years 1937 and 1938, but you do not wish to be under the law in 1939, then you must file your application for release not later than December 1, 1938.

How Employers Will Come Under the Law in the Future

Question 24: "Suppose I start a business in the future and in so doing I become an employer under the terms of the law; or my present business increases to that status. How do I become an employer subject to the tax, and what tax rate will I pay?"

Answer: It is the duty of each firm employing eight or more people on 20 days in different weeks during the year to report that fact to the Commission and become subject to the law.

If you reach the status of employer during 1937, then you will pay the rate set down for that year—one and eight-tenths per cent of the wages payable by you.

If you reach that status after 1937, you will pay the rate of two and seven-tenths per cent.

You will notice that firms now classified as employers must pay the two and seven-tenths per cent tax for three years—1938-1939, and 1940—before they are subject to the merit system of rating. To make this policy uniform, you will have to pay the rate of two and seven-tenths per cent for three years before the merit system rating can apply to you.

For example, if you become an employer in 1941, the year when the merit system goes into effect, you will still have to pay the rate of two and seven-tenths per cent for three years before you can get a merit rating.

Your employees will start building up their credits from the first day of the calendar year during which you become an employer. In the above example, the credits will start on January 1, 1941.

Suppose the Tax is Not High Enough to Pay All Benefits?

Question 25: "Suppose that after a year or two of experience with the rates established in the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act, they are shown to be insufficient to meet the benefits due under the law. What will the Commission do then?"

Answer: The law recommends that a reserve fund be built up to pay benefits in future years. This reserve fund is to be built up "in accordance with accepted actuarial principles on the basis of statistics of employment, business activity and other relevant factors."

One of the Commission's duties will be to make an annual report to the Governor, and an important part of this report will be a financial statement.

If, in the judgment of the Commission, the rates of contributions should be changed, then such changes will be recommended both to the Governor and to the Legislature.

In any event, should the fund ever reach the point where it cannot pay the claims against it, the State will be liable. The law specifically provides that "benefits shall be deemed to be due and payable . . . to the extent that moneys are available therefor."

This is the last of a series of questions and answers explaining the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act. If you have further questions concerning the operation of this law as it affects employers or workers you can have them answered by writing to R. B. Anderson, chairman, Texas Unemployment Commission, Austin.

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!
