

Today's Dispatch Chucked Full of Bargains for Saturday Event

Chop! Chop! Chop! Go Local prices!

Post merchants are going to honor George Washington on his birthday here Saturday by chopping down their prices just like little George chopped down that cherry tree when he was a boy.

The town-wide promotion, under the sponsorship of the Post Chamber of Commerce, will offer residents of the big Post trade area the biggest array of late winter bargains in the town's history.

Just for example:

A new $69.95 Strato-Rester lounge chair for $19.95.

Ladies' Nylon hose at 22 cents a pair.

A new famous-brand washer and dryer for $328.

Chocolate-covered cherries (good tie-in for Washington's birthday), regular 59 cents box for 22 cents per box.

Used bed springs for $1 each.

Reg. $16.90 boys' prom suits for $7.95.

Reg. $1.98 toy poodles for only 19 cents.

$1 after shave loction for 9 cents.

Boys short sleeve sport shirts, regular $1.98 to $2.98, for only 50 cents and $1.

$45 men's suits for $15 per suit.

Men's $1.50 broadcloth shorts for 25 cents each.

New gas bathroom heaters for only 1.29.

Hamburgers for 24 cents and malts for 19 cents with the first five customers on the hour, each hour, offered either a 30 cent malt or milkshake for only 2 cents each.

Foot long hot dogs for only 20 cents.

Men's shirts, $3.98 values, for only 98 cents.

Ladies and children's shoes for two pairs for $5.

$10.95 spring hats for $2 each.

New reg. $1.05 spark plugs for 55 cents each.

A 1952 Chevrolet for $69 and a 1955 Ford for $79.

Round, sirloin or t-bone steak, heavy beef, for only 79 cents a pound.

Lipstick and cosmetics, all at half prices.

Men's spring and summer sports coats only $4 each.

Group of ladies shoes, values to $10.98 for $1 per pair.

$1 package of curlers for 10 cents per package.

$6.98 ladies' handbags for 25 cents each.

$2.98 ladies' belts only 25 cents each.

Boys' western hats, regular $3.98 for 50 cents each.

Rubber base wall paints for $2 a gallon.

These are just a few of the hundreds of ridiculous bargains which will be offered Saturday—one day only—in stores all over Post.

One merchant entered into the spirit of the Washington birthday occasion by putting 15 cent toy hatchets for 3 cents each and reg. $1.29 Marsha Washington brooms for 82 cents.

A grocer also put a hot special on canned cherries.

Today's Dispatch is chucked full of George Washington Birthday Sale bargains from almost all the (See Birthday Sale, Page 8)

Even old Abe Lincoln himself, who was quite a rail splitter in his younger days, couldn't have chopped prices around town nearly as much with his axe as local merchants have done in honor of George Washington, who at an earlier age took out his trusty little hatchet and "had at it" with Daddy's cherry tree.

The big price chopping event scheduled for Saturday is the "big news" in today's Dispatch. Almost every page is filled with hundreds of birthday bargains.

Everybody who loves a bargain—and who doesn't?—will love this Washington Birthday Sale Saturday. So be sure and hop out of bed early and be at one of the many local stores when the unlock their doors for the day and let you in.

The Post Chamber of Commerce with their vigorous new 1964 town-wide promotion program is really making a bargain-studded debut with this one.

And speaking of the Post Chamber of Commerce, it really has a "go, go, go" personality this year. Another Chamber-sponsored event will come up next Tuesday night when the Chamber brings the Class A boys' bi-district basketball playoff between Seagraves and Aspermont to the Post high school gym. It ought to attract some 800 out-of-town fans in Post for the evening and they will buy a lot of meals and gasoline before they head happily or downheartedly for home after the game as the case may be. Chambers the state over go after these playoffs now and the fact that Post comes up with one for next Tuesday night is proof again that your Chamber is really on the go.

More "big news" in today's Dispatch is the story about the new Piggly Wiggly supermarket, virtually twice as big as the present store, which is now under construction here. If anyone is getting a little "down in the mouth" with all this talk about the fight small towns are going to have to keep from dying between now and 1980, then just stop and think a moment. Here is a concrete example of somebody believing that Post has quite a future because the Piggly (See Postings, Page 8)

Condemnation appeal Monday

The appeal of Mrs. Aletta Walker of a condemnation commission's ruling on the purchase of approximately 2,200 acres from the Walker estate ranch for the dam site of the new White River dam comes up for jury hearing in Crosby County Court at Crosbyton Monday morning.

While the big earthen dam has been completed, together with the filtration plant and its water pipelines to the four member cities of the district, purchase of most of the White River lake site is still on appeal from condemnation commission rulings in Crosby County.

Mrs. Walker carried her fight for an injunction against the White River district all the way up to the Texas Supreme Court last year and lost.

The smallest of the three land parcels for the big lake project was purchased outright from Arnold Sanderson two years ago.

But the condemnation route was taken on the two other land parcels.

Interim pastor is called by church

The Rev. Burtis Hollis of Lubbock was called as interim pastor of the First Baptist Church at a special church business conference held Wednesday night of last week.

As interim pastor, Rev. Hollis will conduct services at the church on Sundays and on Wednesday evenings, and will be available for any conferences or counseling on Sunday afternoons.

Rev. Hollis is teaching the 6th grade in the Lubbock Public Schools while finishing work on his master's degree at Texas Tech. He has recently been interim pastor at Idalou and at the Flint Avenue Church in Lubbock and has pastored churches at Pasadena and Carlisle.

The First Baptist Church has been without a full-time pastor since the recent resignation of the Rev. C. B. (Bill) Hogue, who resigned to become pastor of a church in Odessa.

Area law teletype system is planned

City and county invited to join

Garza County and the City of Post have been invited to join a proposed 15-town and cities teletype network for law enforcement agencies on the South Plains.

Suggested by the Department of Public Safety and to be installed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., the proposed network is still in the planning stage, but the operation is expected to begin within two months.

Garza County Sheriff L. E. Claborn Jr. said today that he knows the proposal has been submitted to the county commissioners' court, but he does not know what action, if any, has been taken by the county.

County Judge J. E. Parker was out of town and could not be reached.

Mayor Harold Lucas also was out of town and could not be reached. Supt. Eddie Warren said the proposal has not been formally presented to the city council, but that he has heard some talk of it.

The private line teletype service would put sheriffs and police departments in almost instantaneous contact with each other.

Sheriff Claborn said the service would be of great value to his office "because we don't have someone in the office around the clock."

Proposed installations on the hook-up include Lubbock, Floydada, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Abilene, Morton, Levelland, Crosbyton, Dickens, Brownfield, Tahoka, Slaton, Post and Snyder.

Although the service will be primarily for law enforcement messages, the hook-up will be available for emergency weather and Civil Defense messages—and it is hoped to get the service in operation on the South Plains before the spring tornado season.

Law enforcement officers say the teletype hook-up will allow speedy exchange of messages, resulting in decreased telephone bills. More important, they say, it will provide accurate records of messages.

Some officers said radio communications can become "garbled," resulting in lost time and that often contact is disrupted.

Also, the direct teletype hook-up would not replace or interfere with radio link-ups.

The service will operate 24 hours daily, a telephone company spokesman said.

New supermarket under construction

Post's new Piggly Wiggly store, now under construction on almost a half block site between Seventh and Eighth St., on Avenue K will contain twice the sales area of the present Supermarket two blocks north and is expected to be opened in May.

This was the announcement today from Charles Pearson, division manager of Shop Rite Foods in Lubbock.

The nearly half block site for the big supermarket was purchased last August from the Post Independent School District for $12,500.

Pearson said the new store will contain 12,768 square feet of space as compared to almost 7,000 square feet in the present store.

"The present store is inadequate in size to serve the consumers of the Post area," Pearson said in explaining why Piggly Wiggly is building the big supermarket.

He said the enlarged store will enable Piggly Wiggly to offer a selected of approximately 8,500 grocery and non-food items, approximately 2,000 more different items than can be handled in the present store.

"For the first time," Pearson said, "we will be able to offer consumers of the Post area the variety to which they are entitled."

In the new supermarket, Piggly Wiggly for the first time will be able to offer their complete line of food and non-food items.

Pearson said Lewis and Levenson of Lubbock, contractors and developers, have purchased the site and are building the new supermarket.

They then will sell the completed business property to Shelley E. Camp and Glenn Norman who will lease it to Piggly Wiggly for their operations here.

Pearson said the property, fixtures, building and stock will relocate.

Mother of Post woman buried

Funeral services for Mrs. Birdie Shaw, 66, of Dickens, who died Sunday at Garza Memorial Hospital, were conducted at 3 p. m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church in Dickens.

Mrs. Shaw was the mother of Mrs. Junior R. Hagins of Post and was visiting her daughter here at the time she was admitted to the hospital last Thursday. She had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Shaw had been a resident of Dickens County since 1913.

The Rev. Harmon Bishop, Dickens pastor, officiated at the funeral, assisted by the Rev. Robert Field of Azle and the Rev. Dick Horn of Plainview. Burial was in the Dickens Cemetery.

Besides the daughter of Post, Mrs. Shaw is survived by her husband, Dan Shaw, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Richard Souter of Tulsa.

Those from Post who attended the funeral included Mrs. Alton Clary and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Martin, Kenneth and Patricia, Lynda Taylor and Ruthell Martin.

Cage sweethearts selected Tuesday

Seniors Wendell Johnson and Nita Wilson were crowned Post High School basketball sweethearts between games at Tuesday night's doubleheader with Frenship.

Johnson, a member of the Antelope squad, was crowned Post Does' sweetheart by Miss Wilson, who is captain of the Doe team.

Miss Wilson then was crowned Antelope sweetheart by Danny Odum, captain of the boys' team. Each of the two honored was presented a gift.

CONDITION IMPROVES

The condition of Wesley Northcutt, local restaurant owner, was reported improved yesterday at Garza Memorial Hospital, where he was admitted early Saturday night after suffering a heart attack.

Post soldier's Great Dane gets mail

Letters to 'Reb' delivered

Doubting soldiers at Fort Ord, Calif., have become convinced, as those at Fort Polk, La., had earlier, that all Pvt. Johnny Kemp needs to do to make sure his letters are delivered is address them to his dog, "Reb."

Pvt. Kemp's mother, Mrs. Keith Kemp, said this week that the last two letters received from Johnny have borne only the address: "Reb, Post, Texas."

Mrs. Kemp said Johnny told her he had made a wager with his buddies at Fort Polk that he could address a letter to his dog and it would be delivered.

"I suppose he felt so confident about winning the bet at Fort Polk that he made another bet with the boys at Fort Ord," Mrs. Kemp said.

Pvt. Kemp may or may not have told his Army buddies that he was employed at the post office here just before going into the Army and that the postal employees know who Reb is.

For those who don't, he is a 20-months-old Great Dane and weighed 135 pounds the last time the Kemps got him on the scales.

If Pvt. Kemp is going to keep making bets on addressing letters to Reb and having them delivered, he'll probably be making them overseas soon. Mrs. Kemp said in his last letter Johnny wrote he is scheduled to leave soon for Germany.

Reb, reportedly had no comment when he read the letter.

Building permits off to big start

Building permits are off to a better start here than they were at the same time last year, with a total of $1,000,000 in new construction.

The year's biggest permit thus far, for $90,000, was issued Jan. 15 to R. C. Lewis of Lubbock for a new Piggly Wiggly store building under construction in the block of South Avenue K.

Other new residences have been issued to S. E. Camp for 10 additions and re-roofing at 700 West Main, to cost an estimated $8,000.

Permits also include a new addition and re-roofing at 700 West Main, to cost an estimated $8,000.

Seeping water halts sewer project work

Water seepage has brought a halt to ditching work that got under way last week on Post's sewer system extension project.

City Supt. Eddie Warren said yesterday that the contractor, Clyde Construction Co. of Odessa, has temporarily halted the ditching operations until special equipment can be brought in to help overcome the water seepage.

The depth of the ditch, which varies from 10 to 22 feet, has made the seepage problem worse and more hazardous to workmen, the contractor superintendent said. The contractor worked along for a while by boarding up the sides of the ditch, but finally had to call a halt to operations.

"It is just one of those things that no one had anticipated," City Supt. Warren said.

The ditching operations were begun near the disposal plant south of Postex Mills. The ditches are being dug for a 10-inch sewer line that will provide sewer service to areas of the city now without it.

Meanwhile, residents of the sections of the city to be served by the sewer extension are responding well to the city's request that they come to the city hall to sign up if they wish their homes tied in, Warren said.

The survey is necessary so the city can make cost estimates on the tie-in service.

Hospital Auxiliary to hold candy sale here

The Women's Hospital Auxiliary will conduct its annual Candy Sale here Saturday, Feb. 22, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and will have sales booths in both Piggly Wiggly and United.

Money raised through the sale will go for auxiliary projects.

As an added attraction, the women also will be selling fishing lures.

Rites conducted Wednesday for Mr. Scarborough

Funeral services for James Silas Scarborough, 87, a resident of Post for 54 years, who died Monday night at his home at 215 North Ave. H, were conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Hadman Funeral Home Chapel.

Mr. Scarborough, who for a number of years owned a cafe and bake shop here, had been ill for about a year. He was born Oct. 6, 1876, in Johnson County, and was married to Ruth Elizabeth Mickey on Nov. 22, 1900, in Somervell County.

The Scarboroughs lived at Lamesa for one year, moving there from Glen Rose. They farmed a year after moving to Garza County and settling in the Close City community, and moved into Post in 1910.

Before going into business, Mr. Scarborough was employed a year in helping build the railroad through Post.

He was a Christian Scientist and the service here Wednesday was conducted by Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, Christian Science reader, of Lubbock. Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hadman Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Carleton P. Webb, Feshel Franklin T. Johnson, J. E. Mickey, Carroll Light and Dee Caffey.

Mr. Scarborough is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. R. O. Wright of Post and Mrs. Lois O. Wright of Oxnard, Calif.; one son, Will Scarborough of Post; two sisters, Mrs. O. G. Kelly of Lamesa and Mrs. Emma Oliver of Spur; and one brother, I. D. Scarborough of Dallas; one grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

FFA Week is Feb. 15-22

Future Farmers of America are being honored this week, Feb. 15 to 22 and so it should be. Preparing young people for a lifetime career in modern agriculture is a matter of top importance. On their shoulders will rest much of the responsibility of bringing forth the miracles of production that the future will require from America's farmland.

We here in Post and Garza County have many reasons for honoring our FFA boys—numbering approximately 50—during this special week. Under competent instruction and guidance, they have set and are continuing to set impressive records in FFA work and contests from district through state level. Our school's FFA chapter has, within the last few years, put Post on the FFA map.

Throughout the United States, boys between the ages of 14 and 21 belonging to FFA benefit from a coordinated program of high school instruction in vocational agriculture combined with guided activities which give practical business and farming experience. FFA organizations have become focal points working for improved agriculture, betterment of local communities, more satisfying farm home life, and more efficient farmer citizens.

In Texas alone, 47,963 boys are enrolled this school year in Vocational Agriculture (first through fourth year). That is an increase of 1,360 over the 1963-64 enrollment figures. The fact that enrollment in the program is growing attests to its value.

These boys and their instructors deserve our heartiest congratulations for a job well done.—CD

Do blonds really have more fun?

We've never gone along with the TV hair restorer commercial that "blondes have more fun," one of our reasons for not agreeing being that Christine Keeler of England's Profumo scandal is a brunette.

But, we may be wrong. Latest news on the Leap Year Coiffure Collection reaching Post is that among hair colors, blondes will become truly important again this year. However, the forecast concedes that reds and brunettes will vie strongly for attention.

The coiffure forecast points out, before getting down to colors, that Leap Year is a woman's year and that to emphasize this, hairdressers are going all out with a Leap Year Coiffure Collection that heralds the return of the woman in hair fashions for 1964 Spring and Summer.

Gone are the little boy and the little girl fads, as well as the space balloons and bubble heads of other seasons. The woman is here for Leap Year . . . imaginative, romantic, truly feminine.

To sum it all up during this National Beauty Salon Week, styles in the collection represent several feminine moods, and are just as flexible as clothing fashions for the season. Some are smooth, some are ruffled, all are soft. All are small and graceful, intuitively aware of the head shape beneath. A big interest will be on parts, long and short, either at the sides, or at the center, straight, or angled.

Will the blondes have more fun this Leap Year?—CD

'Unpaid' poll tax registration

Folks who didn't pay their poll tax before the Jan. 31 deadline can still vote in elections on federal offices this year if they register before March 6.

The threadbare proverb, "Half a loaf is better than none," applies here. Better than losing a vote altogether is the qualification to vote in one election, even if you can't vote in both, which, of course, would have been the ideal situation if you hadn't let that Jan. 31 deadline catch you with your poll tax unpaid.

The "unpaid" poll tax receipt you can now get at the tax assessor-collector's office will be good only for voting on U. S. senator, congressmen, congressman at large, president, vice president and electors for the last two.

But don't let that March 6 deadline get past you like the Jan. 31 deadline did. If you do, you'll be left out in the cold in ALL this year's elections.—CD

Three doors lead from a hospital operating room to the offices of three surgeons, (not in Post), who are named Gallagher, Twaddle and Doom. A patient, lying on a table in the operating room, suddenly screams in agony. All the doctors run in at once, as do several policemen. The patient is dying, having been stabbed in the chest.

"HE stabbed me!" the patient gasps—and dies.

The police instantly arrest Doom and let Gallagher and Twaddle go without a question.

Why?

THE SATURDAY REVIEW reports that a unique political argument was overheard recently on the railroad platform at Old Greenwich, Conn. One man said, "It's pretty disgusting. To leave New York City you'll have to go out the Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive to Kennedy Airport, paying your tolls with a Kennedy half-dollar." His partner shut him up by responding, "Why don't you save up enough Lincoln pennies, buy a ticket to Hoover Dam, and jump off?"

Someone finally has gotten around to inventing the anti-Tom Swifty, of which these are some of the first:

Borden countian in Senate race

The name of J. R. (Rich) Anderson, Borden County ranchman, will appear on the Republican ticket for nomination as State Senator from the 24th District.

Anderson, who has been prominently identified in many civic and church activities in Big Spring, said he has filed with GOP chairmen in all the 13 counties of the 24th District, which includes Garza County.

Anderson identified himself as a "Goldwater Republican" and said his candidacy was to give the people of the 24th District a clear-cut choice as to the conservative approach to state government.

He was born and reared in Livingston, N. M., and received a B. A. degree from the University of Oklahoma. He has been ranching in Borden County since 1952.

The 24th District is currently represented by David Rettiff of Stamford, Democrat, who is a candidate for re-election.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

John C. White, Commissioner

NEAR SNAPUS MARK INSECT EXPERIMENT
Texas and federal insect experts stood by and watched with scientific detachment recently, while clouds of Mexican fruit flies swarmed over the Rio Grande Valley citrus groves.

Usually a matter of grave concern to citrus growers, the fruit fly invaders were products of a Mexico City laboratory where they had been sterilized for safety and color-dyed for easy identification.

"These flies are the latest word in 'migratory workers' from South of the Border," explained Agriculture Commissioner John White.

"By comparing the color-coded flies later caught in traps with their original release points, we can learn a great deal about their traveling habits. The information will be useful in establishing new insect control measures to protect our citrus crops."

The artificial infestation is being tried initially on 80 acres of trees in Hidalgo County, leases varying from 10 to 20 per acre. Commissioners assured growers that sterilized flies made the flies incapable of laying eggs which would normally develop into the destructive pest.

The program got off to a start when the laboratory in Mexico City was delayed at the U. S. Customs office. Left some necessary paper lab and was not permitted to enter until identified by District Supervisor J. C. Walling.

"We had one bad moment when a border guard wanted to box flies for inspection," Walling said.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY SALE

By George! What a blast of bargains!

We've blown prices for a rousing celebration that's "REAL GEORGE"

Be It Known That:

- No sir, we can't tell a lie either! Post merchants have really chopped their prices for this town-wide sale.
- Many of the Sale Specials are simply ridiculous in price. But the quantities are limited. So ride in early Saturday like Paul Revere. Better still, be waiting when they unlock the doors.
- Shop the many individual WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY SALE ads of merchants in this edition of The Dispatch so you will know what a wonderful day is in store for you.
- Local merchants are determined "to let George do it" and clear their shelves.
- George Washington Birthday Sales are famous the nation over for their fabulous bargains. This is the first one ever held in Post on a city-wide basis.
- Come early, stay late—and enjoy yourselves. If you like our George Washington Birthday Sale, tell your merchants. Then we can plan another for next year.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The entire message of America's astronauts has not yet been deciphered. Parts of it still lie locked within instruments, and most of it still is hidden in the infinity of space. But we are learning, and we might say that the astronauts are our teachers.

Many, many years ago there was another great Teacher, and His message is still being revealed through faith to the mind of mankind. His message is the path of the Cross . . . the path to eternal life.

But where do we find our instructions, our briefing? What instruments can we use to discover this message for ourselves? You will find it in your church, this Sunday.

We all know now about Cape Canaveral, about tracking stations. We are discovering more about outer space.

We know too about the Church. Let us use it then as our guide, our booster, our thrust to Heaven.

AN ALLIANCE FOR EXCELLENCE

The teaching profession today is in a state of flux. Each year finds vested interest groups trying to change curricula throughout the country. Pseudo experts, existing in great abundance, are more willing to take over the leadership of the public schools. All too often these changes are the result of external pressures rather than the success or failure of a school is a direct result of the quality of instruction. In short, the dedicated teacher is the primary component for a successful school program.

In the late 50's and early 60's we have rushed to and fro changing curricula with wild abandon. Too often these changes are the result of external pressures rather than the success or failure of a school is a direct result of the quality of instruction. In short, the dedicated teacher is the primary component for a successful school program.

On past accomplishments as ours is the master profession; the progenitor of all other professions. Let us recognize and reward creative teaching by professional teachers.

E. Stanley Jones says "The man is not greatest who has the greatest number of servants, but the man is greatest who serves the greatest number of people." This is a lucid and penetrating commentary of our profession. We must serve, not with mediocrity, but with force and foresight. This thought is further delineated by Ruth Stout who says "The greatest enemies of our way of life are ignorance without understanding and knowledge without wisdom."

The true learning process is creative as man gains new insights into the nature of truth. Originality in approach and creativeness in the dissemination of knowledge will remove the aseptic aura that surrounds public school education.

In our present day society, as we have stated previously, change is met with distrust and fear. Change implies unknown variables where all constants have heretofore been present. However, if we are to evolve as a mature profession change must occur to meet the demands of our era.

Opposition to change made martyrs of Joan of Arc, Cesanne, and Galileo. Galileo presents a striking example so let us consider a short portion of his story. For 2,000 years the belief of Aristotle and his contemporaries that bodies fell in proportion to their weights — a body five times as heavy as another fell five times as fast — was held. It remained for a professor of mathematics at the University of Pisa to check the theory, long accepted. With a liberal supply of assorted cannon balls and bullets, he climbed the spiral steps of the leaning tower and dropped the missiles — not once but many times and in a number of different combinations, carefully noting their fall. He discovered that except for friction due to the resistance of the air, they struck the ground at the same time, which meant that they fell at the same speed.

The facts first denied at the university's insistence by his fellow professors who had watched the experiments, were later discredited by charging that Galileo "bewitched the weights." Galileo himself was dismissed from the university. With others, before and since, his scientific discoveries were for a time discounted and disallowed because of neophobia which is simply a fear of the new. Today, we as professional teachers, often ignore truisms because we suffer from neophobia.

We as teachers must experiment, criticize, and be receptive to newly discovered truths. It is no longer enough to accept information at face value. We must search for new truths based on all available data.

Contract is let for transmission lines to new dam

The Dickens County Electric Cooperative has awarded the contract for construction of transmission lines to Calgary and the nearby White River dam to the J. M. Jillic Construction Co. of Dodge City, Kans., on a bid of $135,422.

Construction of the lines will begin immediately, according to Lloyd Hindman of Spur, manager of the electric cooperative.

Electricity will be fed into the dam site from three directions. There will be a sub-station at Calgary.

The Dickens County Electric Cooperative was awarded the White River electric contract a few months ago by the board of directors of White River Municipal Water District.

SMOKE FLAVORING

A proposal to amend the Federal Meat Inspection Regulations to permit use of smoke flavoring in curing additional meat products has been made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The amendment would permit addition of smoke flavoring and artificial smoke flavorings to a greater variety of meat products than present regulations allow. Identification of both types of flavorings will be required on the labels of products to which they are added, industry spokesmen report.

RESEARCH PROJECTS

Three additional research projects designed to help answer questions about the role — if any — of diet in cardiovascular diseases will be sponsored by the Special Dairy Industry Board during 1964. Representatives of the 10 United States and one Canadian dairy organization financing the board's work approved the new projects and also extended several other projects at a recent meeting in Washington, D. C.

'Watercolor, USA' will hold opening March 1 at Museum in Lubbock

LUBBOCK—Members of the Post Art Guild and other artists and art lovers of the Post vicinity will be among those attending the opening of "Watercolor, U. S. A." here Sunday afternoon, March 1.

The show will hang in conjunction with the West Texas Watercolor Association membership annual and will be on view in the West Texas Museum gallery until March 28.

The imported exhibit is one of the three most important watercolor competitions in the nation and will comprise only the award winners of the last three years.

The event is a revolutionary project designed to give all West Texans within driving distance of Lubbock an opportunity to compare the work of its artists with that of national calibre painters.

LUMPY JAW IN CATTLE

Lumpy jaw, a serious problem in cattle, is now believed to be affected by heredity, according to research at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. The work shows that heredity has much to do with the animal's ability to resist the organism causing the disease.

HANDLING OF HARVEST

Nearly 500 million tons of agricultural products are harvested annually in the United States. Since each of these products is handled an average of four to six times, effective processing and distribution depends on the use of modern techniques and methods.

HE IS POST HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE

Life and scenes in Turkey described by Dr. Don Gates, U. S. Air Force

(Editor's Note: The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Gates of Spearman, Tex., have sent Mr. and Mrs. Ted R. Hibbs a clipping of a letter from their son, Dr. Don Gates, which appeared in a recent issue of the Spearman Reporter. Don was graduated from Post High School while his father was pastor of the First Methodist Church. We believe the letter, written by Don from his U. S. Air Corps base in Turkey, will be of interest to our readers.)

Dear Folks,
I have just begun to find out what Turkey is all about. It is much more exciting to me now that it was during the first few weeks. I can now get out among the people and see how they truly live. I have driven by them before but never have I seen them as I have in the past two days. The car makes all the difference in the world. None of the people I have been out with before have really been interested in seeing the people. They have been interested seeing things. I am interested in both. The country is truly beautiful. Nothing could be more beautiful than the Med. Sea. It is the clearest blue you have ever seen. The beach is white and the coast is fairly rugged.

The experiment in mass communication is on! I will try to include items of general interest in carbon copy letters, and write personal letters to everyone at the same time.
My car is in and I feel like I have recovered a long lost friend. There were no more scratches, and small dents in the car than I expected. It is in real fine shape and perks along on the 84 octane gas which is available here. I have been driving it almost constantly since I went down in pet it three days ago. I had to go to Iskenderun to pick it up. This is a port on the eastern end of the Mediterranean. The drive from Adana to Iskenderun is a most beautiful one, with many mountains lining the southern edge of the route. Until you pass through them about half way there. From there on there is the beautiful Mediterranean on the one side and the mountains on the other. There are old ruins along the way, the most numerous being old castles which the ancients built as protection from the pirates.

Yesterday I went to Heaven! This is the name of a large canyon near Silifke on the southern coast of Turkey. It is connected to the Med. Sea by a large, deep hole which runs underground to the sea for about a mile or two. This hole is really deep. There is a path leading down to the bottom of the canyon, and deep in the hole, right before the opening to the cave to the sea, there is an ancient church dating from just after Christ. It has pictures painted on the ceiling, one of them being of Christ. This was really impressive. There is another deep canyon nearby which is named Hell. There is no path down into it so we didn't go to it.

On the way to Heaven and Hell we stopped at the site of some very old Roman ruins. They were in a remarkable state of preservation. Strangely enough, there was a deep canyon there too. There were carvings on the wall of the canyon. Of great interest to us who went there were people living in the ruins! There were several old women and a lot of children herding sheep there. We saw no men at the ruins. The poverty of the people you see in places such as these is amazing. We saw two men herding four cows, two camels, and a donkey coming down from the ruins. They were in rags. One of them was listening to a transistor radio! We couldn't believe it. Along the way we saw houses which consisted of nothing more than shallow caves with rocks piled around the edges and a tarp over the top. Around the same type house we saw fields surrounded by short stone fences, with fruit trees and other plants in neatly arranged rows. There were wells with motors running to raise water into tanks with a long piece of pipe running the length of the short field, with a gradual decline. Holes in the pipe allowed water to run into the separate rows. The fields were only hand pumps. Orchards were everywhere. This area raises much cotton and fruit. There are vegetables growing everywhere too. Cabbage heads are as large as almost two feet in diameter. In one field you will see a woman plowing with a wooden plow and in the next will be a tractor. Both will be in very small fields. In the plains you will see large fields, but in the hills and along the coast they are all small.

We drove on north of Silifke and found river valley land with mountains and bluffs surrounding it. Fir trees were all over the mountains. It looked very much like the lower parts of Colorado. We only drove a short way into the hills before turning back to eat at Castle by the Sea, near Mersin. This is a ruined castle with a counterfort located about 175 yards out in the Med. Sea (named Castle in the Sea). While eating we were descended upon by a horde of children in rags, who sat and watched us eat. They ranged from about 9 down to about 1 1/2 years of age. They were filthy. They wore rags and some fairly nice clothing. Files crawled all over their faces. They ate the grapes and cookies we gave them and then came back to try to sell us old coins they had found.

After church today I drove about 70 miles back into the mountains between Adana and Ankara. I went through Tarsus on the way. It was a city like all the others I have seen. There are many hovels with dirty people milling about them. There are modern buildings in town next to shops that look like Paul might have seen them. There is a fairly large arch just out of the center of town. This was built by the Romans around the time of Christ. It is in real good shape. I drove out of town on a tolerable road and soon reached the mountains. The roads are horrible after they enter the mountains. They are narrow, rough, have holes, and are steep. They are somewhat better than I have described, but there are spots just as I have described. The road rises quickly into the mountain heights. The mountains begin as dry, rocky steep hills. They quickly turn into mountains such as are found in southern and western Colorado, covered with trees and having a lot of bluffs. They are much drier than the mountains in Colorado.

There are small villages all along the road. People are paradoxical. They may shout greetings, throw rocks, or act very suspicious all in the same village. You quickly learn to wave at all children you see ahead of you, stickie your arms out of the window so they will see you waving and wave back to you before they can pick up the rocks they will throw if you don't wave. Camels and donkeys are more numerous than any other form of transportation in the hills. There are numerous trucks in Turkey also, all loaded with about 29 to 30 people. All trucks have flats. Buses carry people on top of the bus if they are too crowded. Normally they carry people inside and luggage, bicycles, and freight on top. All are loaded as heavily as they can be.

I went as far as the Cilician Gates, a pass in the mountains. Before I turned around. Nearby peaks were 11,700 feet high. It was just like Colorado there.

Adana is truly a fantastic city. It is about 240,000 people. It is built along a large river. There is an old Roman bridge over the river which still carries traffic! The buildings are mostly very old but there are new buildings being built. New apartment buildings are gradually being built. Streetsweepers are busy constantly sweeping horse and donkey dung from the streets. Water trucks frequently wash the streets. Small carriages and carts are more numerous than cars. Traffic is heavy most of the time with numerous carts, cars, trucks, carriages, and innumerable people (all running out into the street without looking.) You see men wearing palamas as suits. Men and women both wear the old type clothes (baggy seated pants) all over. Driving down the street you may see nice suits of western type, old baggy Turkish pants veiled women, gypsy clothes, and old clothes like workers in America wear. They pay no attention to each other. All are Turkish, and accepted. Meat hangs in the windows with flies all over it. Bread is not wrapped, but sits on the counter with flies and produce is displayed in the open market. The smell is something which can't be described. It is rich, sometimes bordering on being foul, but never truly nauseating. I believe after a while it could even be described as being good. It is the smell of life in its basest form. Sweat, dung, filth, dirt, flies, market produce, aging meat, and the moist smell of the water truck all go into the smell. It is at least strong!

Love, Don

present a total investment of nearly a quarter million dollars.

The supermarket itself is being block site facing north toward built on the back side of the half Eighth st. In front of it will be the largest paved parking lot in town which Pearson said would accommodate 75 cars at one time.

The new supermarket will be of center block construction faced with face brick. It will have a metal, deck-type, built-up roof.

Pearson said the supermarket will be of typical Southwest supermarket architecture with a lighted canopy all the way across the front facing north.

There will be entrance doors on both the east and west of the entrance area on the north side of the new market to keep out the northerly winds in the winter time.

New fixtures for the store will include all new gondolas, check stands, and a new type custom-designed shelving.

Pearson said the meat market will be mechanized to enable Piggly Wiggly to keep its meat under refrigeration even while being processed and packaged.

School trustees explained the site was sold for the supermarket's construction to "put the long vacant property back on the local tax rolls" and because the site was too small for any future school expansion.

Construction is expected to be completed around May 1, Pearson said.

Close City schedules Saturday get-together

Everyone is invited to a community-wide get-together to be held at 7 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 22, at the Close City school house.

Entertainment will include "42," dominoes and other games.

Those attending are asked to bring coffee or punch and cookies.

merchants.

Readers will note that to aid those who want to be on hand early for any limited sale items and to get the best selection that the store opening hours are listed in most of the ads.

Readers may be surprised to find that Western Auto opens its doors to the public at 7 a. m. That's not a special hour just for the sale either. "We're open at that time every morning," T. B. Odam, the owner explains.

The George Washington Birthday Sale is a nationally famous promotion but Saturday will mark its debut in Post as a town-wide sales event.

The birthday sale also will mark the debut of the new 1964 Chamber of Commerce sponsored town-wide promotions. This is the first of three for which the Chamber has underwritten the cost of "the basic promotional package" of advertising via newspaper and radio.

The Chamber's full page sale ad will be found on page 3 of today's Dispatch.

There's no doubt about it Post merchants have chopped their prices in the true George Washington tradition and a large crowd of appreciative shoppers is expected to be on hand for the birthday celebration.

Ivory balls have not been used in official championship billiard competition since 1929 because their extreme elasticity produced an unpredictable bounce.

Loops, such as the proposed area one, have been installed or will be installed all over the state and will tie into the state DPS network giving even wider coverage.

Another advantage claimed for the teletype system is that criminal elements cannot monitor the teletype, whereas radio receivers can be converted to police frequencies.

Also, the teletype can give out information about weather and roads without use of already-crowded radio airways.

Information such as runaways, stolen car reports, minor emergencies concerning highway travelers and public service messages of all kinds will be sent and received on the law enforcement teletype networks.

Student Council request

Lions' help is sought on exchange student

Post Lions Club assistance in bringing a foreign exchange student to Post for the 1964-65 school year was requested by the Student Council of Post High School at Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting.

The request was presented on behalf of the Student Council by members Betsy Shytles and Kenneth Barnes, who explained the foreign exchange program and told of its value to the school and the community.

During the 1962-63 school year, Miss Susanne Krause of Denmark attended Post High School as the first foreign exchange student brought here. Her attendance was sponsored and financed by the Student Council with the assistance of the Post Rotary Club.

The Lions told the two students they will take the request under consideration and make a decision at an early date.

The Lions also briefly discussed plans for their proposed talent show, for which a date has not yet been set.

Dr. James R. Casey, Post's new physician, and Sam Sharick were guests at the Lions Club meeting. Mr. Sharick was present for the first time after undergoing surgery for cataracts on his eyes. The club gave financial assistance for the operation through their eye care program. Although surgery is to continue, Mr. Sharick told the Lions, the treatment thus far has been successful, with good sight having been restored in one eye.

Does and Antelopes defeat Frenship in season finales

Tuesday night's victory was the most impressive of the season for Coach Will Bigott's Antelopes. After a deadlocked first quarter, 9-9, the Post cagers found the range for 18 points in the second period and took their halftime rest with a 27-16 bulge. They led 41-26 going into the fourth quarter.

Ronnie Pierce's 23 points led the Post scoring, but he had to be content with sharing game honors with the Tigers' David Burgamy, who also hit for 23.

The senior from Post is far out in the lead in rebounds with 171. Going into Saturday night's game against McMurry, at Canyon, the Buffaloes have won 10 games and lost nine.

Post-Friona playoff March 2, Plainview

The bi-district playoff game between the Post Does and Friona Squaws will be at 8 p. m. Monday night, March 2, at Plainview.

The neutral site for the playoff game was selected Monday at a meeting in Plainview of representatives of the two schools. Supt. Barry B. Thompson and Doe Coach Mary Lee Stockton represented Post.

Post won the toss of the coin and was named the home team for the playoff contest.

This will be the second consecutive year the two teams have met for bi-district honors, Friona winning, 55 to 53, last year. The Squaws advanced to the Region 1 tournament in Lubbock, then to the state tournament in Austin, where they won third place.

This season's Friona team is undefeated in 25 games and clinched the District 3AA championship last week with a 62-51 victory over Olton.

Post Does trail at halftime, but rally for victory

Trailing 22-21 at halftime, the Post Does came back strong in the second half at Tahoka last Friday night to defeat the Tahoka girls' basketball team, 57 to 38, in a non-conference game.

The Does, champions of District 4AA, led 10-3 at the end of the first quarter, but Tahoka outshot them in the second period to grab a 22-21 halftime lead.

A 22-point third quarter enabled the Does to recapture the lead and they were ahead 43-33 going into last period. Post forward Vivian McWhirt scored five field goals in the big third quarter and finished with a total of 18 points for one of her best scoring nights.

Doe captain Nita Wilson led all scorers with 30 points on eight field goals and 14 charity tosses. Marilyn Jones scored 7 for Post and Pam Stewart 2. Starting guard r d s were Cheryl Martin, Darla Pierce and Dee Ann Walker, with Edith Johnson and Stewart helping out.

Louella Tominson was high scorer for Tahoka with 19 points, followed by Linda Thomas with 10.

NORM CASH SIGNS $26,000 CONTRACT

For local rooters of Norm Cash, who've been wondering how Big Norm came out in his contract negotiations for the 1964 season with the Detroit front office, this is to report that the big slugger signed for the same figure he got last year.

The amount—$26,000. At least that's what Norm's dad, Bandy Cash, reported the other day at the coffee counter.

Norm stopped by the house near Justiceburg for a real short visit recently and reported he'd signed two weeks ago, although to this newspaper's knowledge it hasn't "made the papers" yet.

In 1854 the State of Texas purchased 1,280 acres of East Texas Big Thicket at $2 per acre and set it aside as an Indian Reservation.

Science students are invited to participate in program of awards

AUSTIN—Texas Chemical Council has invited more than 150 Texas high schools to participate this spring in its annual Science Award Program.

For the eighth consecutive year TCC will award $18 value slide rules to the outstanding senior science student at each participating school. The awards will be made during Chemical Progress Week, April 20-25.

TCC President Tom Anderson says the 1964 Science Award Program is a continuation of the Council's long-standing policy of giving small rewards and encouragement to high school students who show an aptitude for scientific careers.

In letters mailed last week, high school principals and science teachers were asked to select students for the awards, on a one-per-school basis. Scholarship, imagination, scientific interest, and course of study are some of the factors to be taken into consideration.

Local members of Texas Chemical Council will visit the schools to make the presentations of the slide rules.

Later this spring students who are nominated to receive slide rules will also be invited to participate in a Texas Chemical Council essay contest.

More than 50 chemical companies belong to Texas Chemical Council. Council offices are at 325 Perry-Brooks Building, Austin, Texas.

SUNDAY IN ANDREWS

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Gray and daughters, Karen Renee, spent Sunday in Andrews visiting Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Withers.

Placer gold was washed in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama before it was found in California.

Science students are invited to participate in program of awards

While the judges were on the top five, the high stage band played several numbers.

Out of the 19 contestants, five girls were chosen: Linda Mahon, Linda Bias, Dee Ann Walker, Margie Harrison, Pamela art.

Each of the five presented a talent. Linda McMahon did an impersonation of a first grader, citing "Mary Had a Little Lamb." Linda Bias read a poem. Dee Ann Walker sang "Love, Look At Me." Margie Harrison sang "Day Wine and Roses" and Pamela Stewart modeled the dress had on, which she had made herself.

While the judges were on their final decision, "The Beatles" entertained. They were Susie Jo Schmidt, Linda Hays, Sherry Gist.

Then the big moment came. Second runner-up was Pamela Stewart. First runner-up was McMahon. The FHA Valentine Sweetheart was Dee Ann Walker representing the Student Council. The commentator for the program was Mrs. Thomas W. Glin. The judges were from the Bert Spencer School and Jessie I.

Funds received from the contest will be used to send four students to the state FFA convention.

This 'n' that in Post Junior High

By Cathy Cates
Everyone sure had "fun" wearing the dunce's cap. Right, students?

Nancy, why were you giving Jan O. funny little looks during your Science report?

Mr. Davis, what's this about dotting the i's and licks?

Mrs. Black, why don't you want 6A to vote on "gotten"?

Lots of surprises happend Friday. Huh, Barbara, Kay and Jan?

Membership cards are presented 4-H group

Elementary 4-H Club members received membership cards and welcomed new members into the club at its February meeting.

In January the girls decided to meet the first Wednesday of each month. They played games, sang and learned their pledge during the January meeting.

Group leaders are working with the girls on how to prepare a complete meal, amounts of food needed each day, and how to set the table.

More group leaders are needed and anyone interested is asked to contact Miss Juanette Williams, county agent.

Vel's Forum

Q. I have just had a son and as a Korean Conflict veteran with a 50 per cent service-connected disability, I believe I'm not entitled to additional compensation. I have not yet reported the birth to the VA. Will the date of my son's birth be the effective date of the increased payment?

A. The effective date will be the day the VA receives the evidence you will submit to establish your entitlement to the additional money.

Q. My son, determined by the VA to be helpless, is being furnished training under the War Orphans program. This is the first month he has attended school and we have received checks both for the schooling and the regular $77 a month compensation. Shouldn't one of these checks be returned to the VA?

A. No. In the case of a helpless child both the Dependency Indemnity Compensation and the War Orphans Act benefits are paid simultaneously.

Q. My husband is quite in debt. I am afraid that in the event of his death his creditors may seize his GI insurance policy which I am depending on. Can they do this?

A. No. Proceeds of a GI insurance policy are exempted by law from the claims of creditors. The proceeds may not be seized or attached to pay your husband's debts.

SCHOOL DROP-OUTS

Dear Editor:
Mr. Clark, our principal, posts a joke each week in the hall about drop-outs.

I think the community should try as hard as possible to keep the count of drop-outs down in Post and the surrounding areas. I don't know how you could start but everyone had better start thinking fast because the students now in high school and college will be running the government in about ten years.

If the number of drop-outs over the country increases within ten years, this free country will not be free anymore. Not one soul will be free if non-educated people take

Reading program gets under way

By Argan Robinson

The new reading program in Post High School began Monday with an eye examination.

A special machine was used and the eyes were photographed while the student read a short story. After the story was read the student was given a short quiz concerning the story and a score was given according to accuracy.

We are looking forward to the progress of this program.

Aunt Gerty gives Big Fool advice

Dear Aunt Gerty:
I need some help on a very depressing problem. I never know when to believe a boy. When I really think he is being serious and telling me the truth, I find later it was just all lies. As usual, I end up making a "big fool" of myself. Please tell me when to believe a boy, if there is a time to believe them.

Big Fool

Dear Big Fool:
I know just what you mean about believing boys.

My advice to you on this is: Think like a man; Look like a woman; Act like a lady; And work like a dog. Believe me, this advice can help you very much. Good luck.

Aunt Gerty

over the free world. The freedoms our forefathers fought for would be slashed into tiny pieces. I don't think within a century after the fall of the free world there would be much hope of a recovery.

Therefore I would like to urge the people of this community to help decrease the number of drop-outs in our country.

Sincerely yours, Paula Foster

TEEN-AGE CONFLICT

Dear Editor:
Lately there seems to be more conflict in the community between teen-agers, parents, law enforcers, and merchants, than necessary.

These teen-agers that cause this conflict, I think it could be stopped if their free time was occupied right. This conflict is caused by some teen-agers not having the money to go to the show all two out of the three nights they have to run around while out of school for the weekend, so they just get their cars and ride up and down the streets. After 45 minutes of seeing the same people over and over they start looking for some excitement like dragging, parking, destruction, fights, private parties, Chinese stop light, and games just as dangerous or worse. Perhaps the authorities could see to it that money of the community be used in building an entertainment center for youth only. This would be clean fun for the teen-agers of today need. I feel that it would help stamp out idleness.

Sincerely yours, Arieta Robinson

STUDENT PROBLEMS

Dear Editor:
Everyone is familiar with school. School to some people such as Jerry is like a prison. He is made to go to a place where the teachers are crude and lessons are difficult. When Jerry goes to school the teachers pick on him and the other students make fun of him. Jerry may be a smart boy but he makes low grades. He doesn't like school because he can't find a reason for liking it. Soon he will become so discouraged he will give up completely and quit school. What would have happened if the teachers were a little more considerate of him and the students a little more friendly. Maybe Jerry would have had a reason for liking school. His grades may have increased and he would therefore become encouraged to finish school.

We have problems such as this in our school at Post. Many students have physical and emotional problems. How many of us consider the problems of others and try to help them find reasons for liking our school. Your newspaper could do the people and school a great deal of good if you would publish this letter.

Sincerely yours, Wesley Williams

OUR READERS Write

Dear Editor:
This is a word from someone who is much wiser today than yesterday.

This is also to be understood that I'm not blaming anyone other than myself for this, because I should have asked who the letter was from before turning loose a hard-earned nickel (I am not stingy—I just like a little something for my money.)

Anyway, to get on with the story, I received a notice that there was a letter for me in the post office with postage due, and thinking it was from one of my children (I have two and they are both away from home), I dashed madly up to the window and, as I stated before, I didn't ask any questions; just handed over my five cents and in return was given an advertisement from some insurance company that I had never heard of—wanting to sell me some insurance.

Now what I'm wondering companies make a habit of or was it just an honest on their part? At any rate, it n't seem quite fair.

Thank you,
Mrs. J. C. Steel

Vet's Forum

Q. I have read that the terminal date for the GI loan program is July 25, 1967. Does that apply to all veterans?

A. No, only veterans of World War II, Korean Conflict veterans should add ten years to the date of their first discharge from active wartime service and then add one year for each three months of such service. The date reached by this formula is their personal deadline date for GI loans. However, it cannot be later than Jan. 31, 1975, which is the final date for all Korean Conflict eligibility. World War II veterans have a similar formula but their terminal date is the earlier July 25, 1967.

Q. My term insurance is getting too expensive and will be worse as time goes on. At this time I cannot afford to convert all of it to a permanent insurance plan. Can I convert part now and the rest later?

A. Yes. You may convert as little as $1,000 or more in multiples of $500 after the first thousand.

Q. Is any Korean veteran with a service-connected disability eligible for vocational rehabilitation training?

A. No. The veteran must be found in need of vocational training to overcome the handicap of his disability in order to receive the training.

State Sen. David Ratliff issues formal statement for re-election

State Senator David Ratliff of Stamford this week made his formal announcement for re-election as Senator of the 24th Senatorial District, which includes Borden, Fisher, Garza, Haskell, Howard, Jones, Kent, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stonewall and Taylor counties.

He was elected to the Senate in 1954 and re-elected in 1958 and 1962. Ratliff has to make an extra race this year because he was one of 15 senators who drew two-year terms in 1962 under the new state redistricting law. Normally, senators serve four-year terms.

In 1961, Senator Ratliff was elected President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the highest honor the Senate can confer on one of its members. He ranks ninth in seniority among its members, which increases his value to the people of this district.

Senator Ratliff is Chairman of the Insurance Committee and serves on 11 other standing committees, including the most powerful ones in the Senate, Banking, Finance, Oil & Gas, State Affairs, Transportation, and Water & Conservation. In addition, because of his broad knowledge, steady influence and demonstrated interest in sound government, he serves on the Senate General Investigating Committee. In the past, he has served in key interim study groups such as the Tax Study Commission, the Cost of Government Study Committee, the Legislative Budget Board and recently was appointed by the Governor to a special committee to study the problems of the aging. He is on more committees than any other Senator.

During the last session of the legislature, Senator Ratliff was the author of the special enabling act setting up the Texas 65 Health Insurance Association to provide low-cost health insurance for persons over 65. Among other statewide legislation, he also obtained passage of the Free-port Bill, a bill to help attract industry to Texas.

Tarantulas have no sense of hearing.

DAVID RATLIFF

Through the years, Ratliff's primary interest has been directed to the major problem of West Texas—making water available to the cities in the 24th Senatorial District. He has co-authored legislation making water available to Abilene, Albany, Anson, school at Gail, Hamlin, Post, Roby, Rotan, Spur, and Stamford.

Senator Ratliff expressed his gratitude for the past support and many honors extended to him by the people of the District. Ratliff said "I am running on my past record of service. I pledge continued dedication to sound and responsible governmental policies, and to conduct myself honorably at all times in discharging the duties and responsibilities of the office of state senator."

teaches in Big Spring schools and Janie attends university of Texas Dental School. Houston. Mrs. Ratliff attended Christian College and received her degree in May of 1954. Senator Ratliff is a member of the Christian Church, a Rotarian, a charter member of Abilene Boys Club and a Boy Scout work.

A Moment With God

HE CAN COMMAND OUR HOURS

He . . . findeth them asleep and saith unto Peter, What, ye do not watch with Me one hour? Matthew 26: 40

Watching with Jesus there in the dark shadows of Gethsemane could have been a rewarding experience. The disciples might have seen the angel that appeared to Him. They could have shared the consoling strength that flowed into His sorrowful soul. And besides, it was not a long watch—only "one hour."

Even a few prayerful moments with our Lord can be greatly rewarding. But do we realize of what blessings we deprive ourselves when we really want to be like the one of whom the Holy Spirit says:

There was an old fellow who never had time for a fresh morning look at the Volume Divine; Who never had time for the soft hand of prayer; To smooth but the wrinkles of labor and care; Who could not find time for that service most sweet; At the altar of home where the dear ones all meet; And never found time with the people of God; To learn the good way that the fathers have trod; But he found time to die, yes, he found time to die. It is so easy to forget that also our time is the Lord's. No one did He begrudge the hours of sorrow He put in for our redemption. His whole life He devoted to win for us the life never ends. Since He is still loving us each hour of every day, ought we not let Him command our time and say:

Lord, not only an hour. Take my moments and my days; them flow in ceaseless praise. Amen.

Nance family of Haslet chosen for February Ranch and Farm Family

The L. E. (Son) Nance family of Haslet has chosen as the Fort Worth Telegram's Ranch and Farm Family for February. Nance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Nance and grew up in that country. The following article from the Star-Telegram is a tribute to the Nance family.

Star-Telegram's Ranch and Farm Family for February.

THERE'S WORK, too with a herd of about 300 registered Hereford cows on the Hall-Nance Ranch at Haslet and another 200 commercial cows near Ringling, Okla. The boys look after their own cattle in 4-H Club projects.

David, 14, remarked, "We don't have any trouble finding something to do. We worked pretty hard putting out hay after the big snow the other day, but at that I guess, it was better than going to school."

"He'd like to make you think that, but both of them manage to make the honor roll at school," the father remarked proudly.

Ranching should be a natural for the boys. Their dad grew up near Justiceburg in Garza County. He was an outstanding member of Texas Tech's livestock and meats judging teams that competed in major shows such as Fort Worth, Denver and Kansas City.

He majored in animal husbandry was graduated in 1941, and spent four years in the Army, mainly in the South Pacific, during World War II.

"I leased a ranch near dad's place after discharge from military service, but it got so dry I had to move my cattle to Oklahoma," Nance recalled.

NANCE WAS a Rotary delegate from Post to a convention in 1947 in Fort Worth when he met Miss Allegra Hall, a Fort Worth Rotary office secretary.

"I had to marry her to get know her name," he laughed.

Six years later he became associated with D. C. Hall Enterprises, headquartered in Fort Worth. The ranch at Haslet is a part of the organization. He became a partner in Hall-Nance Ranches in 1960, but continued to operate his Oklahoma ranch.

Sales of bulls for breeding stock are his main business. He also sells steers occasionally to youngsters who want to feed and fit an animal for the show ring.

Nance judges stocker-feeder cattle and breeding cattle occasionally to "keep up with the show." But the main interest in shows centers around the boys.

"We started them with steers at first, to get some practical experience handling show ring cattle," Nance said. "But we switched to heifers, first commercial and later registered, so they could start their own herd."

BOTH YOUNGSTERS say they want to stay in the cattle business when they grow up. However, David has said for four years he wants to become a veterinarian.

David, 10, remarked, "I just want to be sure a little hunting goes

In 1963 competition, Cowboy won 10 first places and five grand champion awards in 12 shows. He also won one reserve grand champion title.

Raiders and SMU to play Saturday

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's Red Raiders, surprisingly in the South-west Conference race still, engage the always tough Southern Methodist University Mustangs in a regionally televised basketball game in the Coliseum here at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Texas Tech already has edged the Mustangs 85-83 in a game that was telecast from Dallas two weeks ago, but Coach Gene Gibson doesn't derive a lot of confidence from that win. After all, just two years ago the Raiders ousted SMU in Dallas by six points, then dropped a five-pointer to the Mustangs here. SMU, in fact, is riding a two-game winning streak in the Coliseum, having nipped Tech by 88-87 here last year.

A feature of the halftime entertainment at the SMU-Tech game will be the official presentation of the Associated Press All-America certificate by Harold V. Ratliff, AP Southwest sports editor, to Tech end David Parks.

All regular tickets to Tech's remaining home games have been sold, but at 15 minutes before game time general admissions for the floor area will go on sale provided the student turnout permits.
