

Population redistricting plan for commissioner precincts proposed

Final action on plan expected at August meeting

A good-sized bloc of Post voters would be put into each of the four Garza County commissioner precincts under a proposal for redistricting the commissioner precincts now under consideration by the Garza County Commissioners Court. The Dispatch learned this week.

While the redistricting plan would not entirely equalize the county's voting population among the four districts, it would go a long way toward rectifying present inequalities in representation.

THE COURT IS expected to take final action on the redistricting proposal at its August meeting.

"We should have done it years ago," commented County Judge J. E. Parker and Commissioner Orell Williams to The Dispatch yesterday.

According to state law, County Attorney Carleton P. Webb has advised the court, changing the commissioner district boundaries will have no effect upon matters already under consideration.

This means:

(1) It would not affect voting boundaries in the county commissioner races in the November general election even if proposed changes are made in August.

(2) It would have no effect upon existing commissioner precinct bond issues. Property now taxable under existing bond issues would remain so even if moved into another district.

(3) It would have no effect upon the liquor situation in precinct 3. Enlargement of the precinct would not mean that new voters entering the precinct would have any right to vote to continue or abolish the "wet precinct". Any change in the liquor situation will be decided in the future by voters living within the boundaries of the precinct when liquor was voted in. In this regard, the court only proposes to change county commissioner precinct boundaries anyway and not the Justice of the Peace precinct boundaries within which the liquor election was held.

THE REDISTRICTING proposal is basically this:

(1) County Commissioner Precinct 2 would be changed, but slightly.

(2) Large segments of city voters now in County Commissioner Preinct 1 would be given to both Precincts 2 and 3.

Judge Parker estimated it this way.

Of the county's approximately 2,100 voters, about 1,200 are now within Precinct 1 boundaries, 550 within Precinct 2, 250 in Precinct 3, and only 95 in Precinct 4.

Under the redistricting proposal,

Precinct 1 would still remain the largest with about 700 voters, Precinct 2 would have between 550 and 600, Precinct 3 would have 450 voters, and Precinct 4 would have approximately 350 voters.

MOST OF THE major boundary line changes proposed would be within the city limits, although both Precincts 2 and 3 would give some territory to Precinct 4 south-east and east of Post to provide what is known as the "Justiceburg Precinct" with an entry into the city limits.

Under present boundary lines the four county commissioner precincts are about equal geographically, but are far out of balance according.

'Water crisis' over; Mayor thanks people

Mayor Harold Lucas announced yesterday that the city has successfully passed its "water crisis" and that residents may now resume watering of trees, shrubs and flowers.

He emphasized, however, that no resumption of lawn watering will be possible for the remainder of the summer.

Lucas praised local citizens for their excellent response to last week's call for voluntary water conservation. He reported the city's big reservoir as of yesterday had a 12½ foot supply and that the 420,000 gallon White River reservoir is completely full.

"If we all recognize the fact that we have enough water for all our needs but lawn watering, we can resume the watering of trees, flowers and shrubs and have no fears of another shortage," Lucas said.

But the mayor added that another crisis would quickly develop if there is any return to lawn watering.

At a second special city council meeting last Thursday afternoon on the water situation, the council decided to see if S. C. Storie had any additional water available for lease to the city.

Shrub watering permissible, but no lawns

The Garza County Commissioners Court at its July meeting Monday took under consideration a proposal to buy the former beauty shop building, located just north of the courthouse, from Mrs. Gladys Hyde for additional office space.

HEAT WAVE ON, BUT GAS BILL ROCKETS

With a blistering heat wave on, Garza Memorial Hospital came up with a $112.79 gas bill last month.

Hospital Administrator J. R. Rickels told hospital trustees last Thursday night that a check showed a broken gas line coming into the hospital from the front.

"A Pioneer Gas Company check showed we were using 1,000 feet of gas every three hours," Rickels told trustees. "That's when we started looking for leaks."

He said the broken gas line was the hospital's own and that the hospital was thus liable for the full bill, but that Pioneer Natural Gas Company's office here was asking for an adjustment on the bill because of the break.

Sidewalk sale plans complete

Plans are complete for Post's third annual Sidewalk Sale scheduled for Saturday, July 25.

Johnny Hopkins, Tower Theatre manager, announced that the movie for the free kids' show at 10 a. m. that Saturday morning will be a hit movie, "Sergeants Three."

Merchants will move many clearance items right out onto the sidewalk for the one-sale promotion which is being sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce.

Dispatch readers are advised to watch next week's paper for the many Sidewalk Sale offerings here. The first two such events have drawn large crowds and been highly successful.

Prizes will be awarded for the most uniquely dressed male and female clerks to boost some costumeing to add color to the sales effort.

Nixon accepts call as interim pastor here

The Rev. A. T. Nixon has accepted a call to serve as interim pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church.

The action came at a business meeting at the church Wednesday of last week.

The Rev. Lee R. Jones resigned as pastor recently and the Rev. Nixon will serve until the church calls a pastor.

Bond assumption approved, 49-22

With less than 4 per cent of the eligible voters going to the polls, the bond assumption proposal carried Saturday in the newly-created Post Independent School District.

The vote was 49 for assumption of the bonded indebtedness and 22 against.

The outcome of the election means that the enlarged district, which Sept. 1 will include the former Close City district, will assume the bonded indebtedness of the present Post district.

The Close City school district has no bonded indebtedness.

The only voting box in the election was at the high school building here.

The Post school board canvassed and approved the results of the election at Monday night's board meeting.

Accident victim's leg is amputated

Will F. Allen, who was injured in an automobile accident here June 22, underwent surgery again Tuesday, this time for amputation of his left leg above the knee.

Mr. Allen's leg was amputated just below the knee three days after the accident occurred. The second amputation became necessary after infection set in, it was reported here.

He is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

The wreck in which Mr. Allen was injured occurred when his automobile struck a parked car four blocks east of his home at 506 West 11th St.

Rites held here for woman killed in car accident

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church here for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Owings, 59, of Baytown, who was killed early Sunday when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband, J. B. (Mark) Owings, overturned several times near Idalou.

Mr. Owings, who is 62, was injured in the wreck and his left leg was amputated in surgery Sunday afternoon at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. His condition was reported improved late Wednesday afternoon.

The couple, who had been vacationing in Colorado, were en route to Post to attend a family reunion. They were residents of this city until moving to Baytown nine years ago.

The accident in which Mrs. Owings was killed and her husband injured occurred at 8:05 a. m. Sunday on FM Road 400 less than a mile northeast of Idalou.

Highway Patrolman Jim Singleton said Owings was traveling south on the farm road when he lost control of his car, which struck the culvert of a residential driveway and then overturned two or three times.

Mrs. Owings was thrown from the vehicle and the car passed over her body. Owings apparently fell from the auto as it came to rest in a ditch.

The highway patrolman said Sunday night he had not determined why the auto went out of control. He said three tires of the car were blown out when it came to rest, but he added that the tires could have been blown out when the vehicle overturned.

Fast start in a new program

A dynamic five-year program of historical Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation and Surveys was put into action by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee in its summer quarterly meeting.

"RAMPS," as the plan is called, is designed to bring about an awareness of the unique history of Texas by visitors and by Texans themselves through state and local efforts.

The new program is of special significance here because of the fact that Garza County already is in the forefront of counties responding to the new Historical Preservation Laws passed by the last Legislature and Gov. John Connally's plans to make tourism one of the great industries of Texas.

We have the Garza County Historical Survey Committee to thank for our fast start in the RAMPS program.

In addition to at least four Historical Building Medallions, our county committee has been responsible for the erection of two Official Texas Historical Markers. One of these is the Llano Estacado marker southeast of Post on U. S. Highway 84 and the other is the Llano Ranch marker near the Boy Scout camp.

There'll be even more of the medallions and markers since a major goal of the RAMPS program is the erection of 5,000 markers and medallions within the next five years—in addition to the some 1,200 historical markers previously erected by the state and the 1,500 markers erected in the past two years.

These new markers, 1,000 each year, will be erected in a joint state, county-city and privately-financed program. Seventy-five per cent will be located for tourist consumption with 25 per cent marking actual sites.

These markers will cover Texas history from the archeological finds, old Spanish and French explorer routes and Indian culture, through the days of the Texas Ranger, the cattle drives and the railroad movement to the history of industries, educational institutions and famous Texans.

Included are markers giving the name, founding and history of each town and stream in the state with special emphasis on those with unusual names. "Ghost" or oddly-named and promotional towns that never materialized will be marked.

"The RAMPS program is designed to benefit the counties as well as the state, with information and resources flowing up and down, to accomplish the ultimate goal of preserving and displaying the unique history of Texas," said John Ben Shepherd, State Committee president.—CD

National Farm Safety Week

One special week The Dispatch has made it a habit not to overlook in the dozens of special weeks that are set aside every year is National Farm Safety Week. In our opinion, it is one of the few worthwhile week-long observances that come along during the year.

"Safer American Farm Families Everywhere" is the theme for this year's National Farm Safety Week. President Lyndon B. Johnson, who himself is no stranger to farm work and its attendant dangers, in a special proclamation has designated the week of July 19-25 as the period when all persons, especially those working in agriculture, should unite in a strong and purposeful effort to reduce rural accidents.

"Notwithstanding the facts," said the President, "that hundreds of thousands of volunteer leaders and members of rural organizations actively participate in community, state and national safety programs which have proved effective in reducing the number and rate of accidents among farm residents, accidents still cause thousands of deaths and nearly a million disabling injuries to farm people each year. This loss of human and economic resources causes a significant adverse impact upon the economy of the nation and must be viewed as a matter of national concern.

"I feel that the many public-spirited persons responsible for past and present farm safety efforts should be commended for their notable achievements and that these efforts should be given renewed public recognition and support. In addition, I urge that vigorous new efforts be made to eradicate, insofar as feasible, all of the reasonably foreseeable causes of farm and rural accidents."

In other, and much shorter, words, play it safe during National Farm Safety Week and every other week.—CD

Smooth sailing for some, not all

Not all water districts have had as smooth sailing as the White River Municipal Water District, which is something in the latter's favor, even though we haven't been able to get any water from out there yet.

It is pretty well known over the state by now that few towns ever banded together on as big a project as the White River dam and got along as well with each other as have Post, Spur, Crosbyton and Rails. As we said earlier, not all water districts have had as smooth sailing.

Take, for instance, the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, which was created by the Texas Legislature to build a dam on Miller's Creek and impound a water supply for the towns of Haskell, Goree, Rule and Munday. Haskell city officials filed protest to the project later and the city council declared Haskell participation "null and void."

Haskell's water troubles, now in their sixth year, stem from disputes on construction of the Miller's Creek Dam. We are not familiar with the conditions that brought on the disputes, and, in a manner of speaking, they are none of our business. We've just brought it up as typical of cases that sometimes arise when everyone concerned doesn't get along as well on projects as have the four member cities of the White River Municipal Water District.

Right now, Haskell is trying to contract for use of Lake Stamford water, and there more than likely isn't a town or city in Texas that isn't sympathetic of Haskell's plight. Many towns are in worse shape as far as water is concerned. Currently, Post is in bad enough shape and no doubt will continue to be until water is available from the White River Lake. Water—or, more correctly, a plentiful supply of it—is by no means a purely local problem anywhere in Texas.—CD

And now, back to redistricting

The average Texas newspaper reader almost lost sight of the congressional redistricting issue in the final hectic days of the civil rights legislation and the feverish maneuvering of the Republican party just prior to its national convention, which began Monday.

But the redistricting problem is creeping back into the headlines, bigger than ever, and most observers seem resigned to the inevitable, to the realignment of congressional and legislative districts to reflect "population only" in the composition of both houses of the Legislature.

A federal court already has ordered the realignment of congressional districts in Texas to produce 23 districts of substantially equal population. The court set a deadline of Aug. 1, 1965, for compliance with its order.

Gov. John Connally is one of those apparently resigned to the inevitable. In addressing the Texas Bar Association's 82nd annual convention in Houston, the Governor said congressional and legislative redistricting will "cast a long shadow" over the proceedings of the next Legislature. Redistricting, he added, will "most certainly bring great change."

Great changes indeed will take place as a result of the revolutionary alteration of representation in the Texas Legislature. Yet it is impossible now to predict the nature of that change in the absence of the redistricting plan itself.

For many legislators, it will be a heart-rending experience. Senators and representatives who come from sparsely settled districts face the prospects of legislating themselves out of office. All senators will face re-election in 1966 (and half of them again in 1968), although half of them will be elected to four-year terms this year.

There is good reason to believe that the new Legislature will be much more responsive to the needs of the great population centers than previous ones. But what will be the attitude of members of the new Legislature toward such issues as water supply? Would the new Legislature be more sympathetic to a state income tax, a city income tax, or a city sales tax than its predecessors?

Great political and economic questions are in the balance that will affect us here in Garza County and the people in all 253 of the state's other counties. But it is, alas, premature to predict the outcome.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

If recently-married Ethel Merman and Ernest Borgnine live together for as long as six months, any other couple should be able to live together for ten years or more.—Olin Miller in The Seguin Gazette.

Any time a newspaper editor sticks his neck out and voices an opinion for the betterment of his community he usually gets into some sort of trouble. I have often said something ought to be done about so and so and before I can turn around I'm appointed on a committee to go to work and correct the situation. . . . (practice what you preach attitudes).—Wendell Tooley in The Floyd County Hesperian.

One of the benefits of inflation is that kids can no longer get sick on a nickel's worth of candy.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

Your day goes the way the corners of your mouth turn.—Al Hinds in The Haskell Free Press. My bouquet of posies this week to the restaurant and fountain operators who were integrated over the weekend. You people handled your situations in a most admirable way. According to all reports that came to me, requests for service were handled with courtesy and politeness. This is fine. If we will attempt to get along with these people they will leave us alone. The unrest and ill-feeling that is prevalent in Southern states should never come into our area. We have always managed to get along with our fellow man in West Texas and this is not time to change. Thanks, you people, for not giving Rails a black eye.—Marvin Tomme in The Rails Banner.

I FEEL SO hypocritical sometimes about "knocking" television in this column and then going home and watching it at night, that I feel the time has come for me to say something good about it. So, I want to say that the development of television is responsible for converting the national conventions of both major political parties into nation-wide rallies.

Results of the national conventions may be pretty well cut and dried in advance, but they still provide an opportunity for a each group to make its biggest sales pitch to the voters in this year's presidential campaign. Never again before election day can they hope to command so large an audience.

ONLY A RELATIVE handful of people actually are in San Francisco this week for the Republican National Convention, and will be in Atlantic City for the Democratic National Convention, which begins Aug. 24, but because of the electronic marvel known as television, practically every American citizen will be a spectator at all, or most, that happens.

Besides that, the electronic marvel known as television brought us a movie the other night, "The Love Parade," starring Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald. The movie was released in 1929, which makes it one of the first "talkies." What a collector's item that must have been for TV's "late show" addicts!

THE MAN UP the Street says he's thinking of becoming a bigamist. Says there's too much grass in his yard for one wife to cut.

One of our contemporaries quoted a letter he had received as illustrative of the hazards of an editor's life. Said the letter:

"Dear Editor: Every time I send you a write-up about our Missionary Society meeting you get it all halled up and it don't make sense. Time and again I've sent in corrections, but you get them mixed up, too. So I give up. In the future when I send you our Missionary Society write-up, please don't print it!"

Student: "I hear the board of trustees is trying to stop necking." Co-ed: "Is that so? First thing you know, they'll be trying to make the students, too."

FUN WITH WORDS: Why is psychiatrist snelled with a "p"? It certainly does pseem silly.

Thanks to Mike Custer, who got it somewhere else. I've got a short piece here that has been making the rounds, but which some of our readers might not have seen. It's certainly thought-provoking:

Both President Lincoln and President Kennedy were concerned with civil rights.

Lincoln was elected in 1860. Kennedy was elected in 1960.

Both were slain on Friday and in the presence of their wives.

Their successors were both named Johnson, were Southerners, Democrats, and had served in the U. S. Military.

Andrew Johnson, Lincoln's successor, was born in 1808. Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy's successor, was born in 1908.

John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Lincoln, was born in 1839. Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of Kennedy, was born in 1939.

Both Booth and Oswald were Southerners favoring unpopular causes.

Both slayers of Booth and Oswald (Boston Corbett and Jack Ruby) murdered the two assassins before their trials.

Both Presidents' wives lost children through death while living in the White House.

Both Lincoln and Kennedy were shot in the head.

Kennedy's secretary was named Lincoln; Lincoln's secretary was named Kennedy.

I HAVE A friend who lost his job, but he gives his former boss credit for being one of the most tactful men he has ever known. As my friend told it: "When he fired me he called me in and said: 'George, I don't know how we're going to get along without you, but starting Monday we're going to try.'"

Congressman Abele of Ohio has looked into some of the more unusual federal appropriations of our tax money. As recounted by the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, here are a few:

$15,200 for a study of society and demography in ancient Babylon.

$26,000 to look into social behavior of ants.

$2,100 to look into the behavior pattern of barren-ground caribou.

$20,600 to try to learn about communication signals in birds.

$13,700 to study the social structure in Madagascar.

$65,400 to examine the behavior and ecology of the wandering albatross.

FAIR FACTS

Nearly 19,700,000 people flocked to St. Louis in 1904 for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The New York World's Fair expects more than 70 million visitors. The St. Louis Fair, which ran for 7 months, cost $42 1/2 million. New York's Fair, which will be in full swing for a total of 12 months, will cost about $1 billion.

A heat wave hit St. Louis at the height of the Exposition. Young Englishman Richard Blachynden took advantage of it. Dismayed because the crowds hurried past his steaming cups of tea to buy cold drinks nearby, he filled tall glasses with ice and poured tea into them. Iced tea was "born" and was an immediate success.

Today, thirsty Americans down over 12 billion glasses of iced tea each summer. The long, refreshing drink has established itself as a firm favorite since it was discovered by chance 60 years ago. This cooling discovery from the 1904 Exposition is still reviving hot, weary fair-goers at our newest, biggest World's Fair.

OUR READERS Write

ON DIGGING SPUDS
Dear Helen:
I was reading in the paper about your potato plants. My neighbor grows potatoes commercially, and has helped me with mine this year. He says when your spuds bloom, that's a sign your potatoes are maturing under the ground. If you like small potatoes for green beans or peas, you can dig around the edge of your plant, and get those small ones. Here we will be able to dig small potatoes the last of this month but will wait until we have a killing frost to dig the regular crop. Maybe this will help you on when to dig yours.

After they are dug, lay them somewhere to dry, before you sack them for use.

Hope you are all well. We have been enjoying visits from several families from Lubbock.
Some friends of J. E. Birdwell are here now for the month. Also some friends of Bryan J's. All are having a wonderful vacation, and catching lots of trout.

Must hurry, I have to run help Spencer load a mare and her colt to be taken to the mountains. (The Peace Corps want to use the mare to train some men.)
Sincerely,
Erlene Kuykendall,
McAllister, Mont.

P. S. We enjoy reading the paper very much. Do come.

WHEAT ALLOTMENT
U. S. Secretary of Agricultural Orville Freeman has proclaimed a national wheat allotment of 49.5 million acres for the 1965-crop. It is the same as the 1964 allotment. Allotments to the states were also announced by USDA. The 1965 Texas allotment is only slightly larger than for the year before.

SPRING PIG CROP DOWN
The 1964 Texas spring pig crop total 32,000 head, a drop of 16 per cent from the 1963 total, reports the Texas Crop and Livestock Marketing Service. An estimated 40 sows farrowed an average of 4.8 pigs per litter compared with 5.8 pigs per litter farrowed in 1963. Nationally, the 1964 spring crop was down 8 per cent from 1963. The cutbacks in pig numbers expected to strengthen the hog market later in the year.

You'd never forget where you left a car that looks this good.
You simply can't lose a looker like the Catalina, especially in a crowd. It's too distinctly Pontiac. So's its ride (Wide-Track smooth) and the way it moves (Trophy V-8 quick). Only thing you can forget is your notion about how much all this Pontiac should cost. You will, when you price a Catalina.

See your authorized Pontiac dealer for a wide choice of Wide-Tracks and good used cars, too.

Grass fires take only small amount of water

Post's good luck on fires continue to keep pace with its water shortage.

During the past week, firemen have been called out to only two grass fires and both were extinguished with a bare minimum of water.

The firemen put out burning grass at 11 a. m. Wednesday on West 8th Street between the Washateria and the old Forrest Lumber Company yard.

At 8:30 p. m. Sunday, the firemen extinguished a grass fire on the railroad right-of-way some 23 miles southeast of Post.

FIELD DAY SET

Put Tuesday, Sept. 15, on your calendar. That's the day for the annual Field Day at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock. You'll see broadcast cotton, sub-irrigation, grain sorghum test plots, bench leveled land (where researchers are measuring water runoff) and many projects.

Tours will start at 1 p. m.—and will continue until at least 4 p. m. Come out and see what is being done to make agriculture more efficient and profitable.

IRRIGATION SCHEDULE FOR COTTON

Don't start irrigating cotton too soon! Cotton that received a good pre-plant irrigation or has benefited from rains should have enough moisture in the ground to last until the first white blooms appear. Cotton at this stage of growth should be about 60 days of age.

Watering cotton prior to this time can lead to troubles. . . . 1. If watered too early (before white blooms appear) cotton tends to keep growing in a vegetative manner and doesn't start fruiting early.

2. Early irrigation can lower soil temperatures in the root zone of cotton plants. This encourages blights, wilts and seedling diseases. Above all, irrigation shouldn't be practiced when fields of young cotton are disease-ridden, as this tends to compound the problem.

3. Watering too early can also keep roots from penetrating deep in the soil. If roots haven't penetrated deep in the soil, the normally hot, dry weather of August will cause plants to become moisture-stressed. An inadequate root system means farmers won't be able to irrigate their cotton fields often enough at this time to keep plants adequately supplied with water.

If irrigation water is short, it might be necessary to start watering before the first white blooms appear. However, that irrigation should be timed as closely as possible to appearance of the first white blooms.

Highest water requirement of cotton plants occurs at peak bloom stage. At this stage, cotton will use one-fourth to four-tenths inches per day. This compares to less than one-tenth inch per day for cotton plants from emergence to squaring stages. From white bloom to peak blooming stage, cotton plants will utilize one-tenth to one-fourth acre-inches water daily.

Several years research at South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, has shown a six-inch preplant irrigation plus two four-inch postplants gives maximum yields with top net returns in normal growing seasons. A good rain at the proper time can eliminate one of the post-plant irrigations.

Observance of a water cut-off date is very important. In areas from Lubbock north, water should be cut-off by Aug. 20. From Lubbock south, Aug. 20 to 25 are considered optimum cut-off dates. Following this practice will mean better grades of cotton going to the gin, with less "bollies" and more money in the bank.

Rotarians given some wiring tips

Danny O'Neal and Charlie Brown, two local high school FFA boys who returned last week from Amarillo where they attended the annual FFA Electric Workshop, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Co., spoke before Post Rotarians at City Auditorium Tuesday noon about information learned at the workshop.

Each boy took a different electrical course. Five were offered. Several kinds of electric lamps were displayed and explained and Rotarians were given a lot of free trips on electric wiring.
Ted Hibbs, local Southwestern Public Service manager, introduced the two young speakers.

Redistricting —

Village from Precinct 3. Actually, the geographical changes to the boundary lines are small and effect very few of the county's rural voters. The proposed changes would give Precinct 4 a sort of panhandle appendage in its northwest corner extending into the city. Changes outside the city limits basically are only to provide this narrow corridor access into the city for Precinct 4.

The proposed new boundaries were prepared by the Lubbock Engineering Co., Judge Parker told The Dispatch.

He said anybody wishing to look at the proposed new boundaries is welcome to come look at the city and county maps of the new county commissioner precincts in his office.

THE PROPOSED changes however, will move one Democratic precinct chairman outside his precinct.

Precinct 1 — Reduce its in-city boundaries to voters living north of the present boundary line which runs west along the alley between West Main Street and West 10th Street, and west of the proposed new east boundary line which would run up the center of North Avenue M from the courthouse.

Precinct 2 — Leave it virtually unchanged within the city limits, adding only the half block on which the bank and post office are located.

Precinct 3 — New boundaries would include the center of Avenue M on the west, instead of Avenue F, and the center of Main Street on the south. This would add some 37 city blocks to Precinct 3. The new Main Street boundary on the south would take away from Precinct 3 and give to Precinct 4 that portion of the city east of Avenue F and south of Main Street—some five residential half blocks and Mill Village.

Precinct 4 — Its new in-city boundaries would be the middle of Avenue K on the west and the center of Main Street on the north. It would thus pick up some 24 blocks of the city from Precinct 1 and five residential half-blocks and Mill

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Mr. C asked me at dinner to write (Monday) what I was going to write my column about. Politics and potatoes, I said. And I'm off.

I keep thinking how pleased Ed Sawyer will be when he learns that I have been watching television this week. We turned TV on at noon and also as soon as we came home from work to see how things have been working out at the convention—that one where they are going to nominate that man that I don't like.

I'm an NBC watcher when it comes to this type of thing. I like Sandor Vanocur and Fran McGee. Not to mention Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. However, I always feel a little guilty shutting Walter Cronkite out on the other channel because he is one of my favorites also.

One thing I've learned from watching this convention and others in the past is that women politicians ought to do everything else that politicians do at conventions except make speeches. Somehow or other most of them sound like screeching fishwives.

I wonder how Huntley and Brinkley will stand up through this "togetherness" for a week? Do you suppose they make each other nervous?

Enough of politics and on to potatoes. And I'm not switching the subject completely because the two do have something in common occasionally.

Those of you who have read the "Letters to the Editor" will know that I've had some help as to potato harvests from Mrs. Spencer (Erlene) Kuykendall of McAllister, Mont. Thought most of you would enjoy her other comments, so decided to share it with you. Thanks Erlene.

I'm glad the Kuykendalls sound so happy in their new home because I've always thought it took a lot of courage to pull up stakes here and move exactly where they wanted to and do exactly what they wanted to. So few people do that kind of thing.

In case some of you don't know it, Svd Conner, our county agent is also on the ball. He sent the C's gardening magazine that tells ALL. All that is, except what happens to the potatoes when the plant dies from lack of that precious ething in Post known as water.

Mr. C and I couldn't help but die under a small plant that was dying to see what was going on. So you might say we've invested a bit. The harvest consisted of seven potatoes ranging from two inches to five inches in circumference. We aren't going to get fat!

But let me tell you about our corn. We had six of the most delicious ears of garden corn Sunday that we have ever eaten. Evidently they were munched by the worms left on these ears for the Cs to eat. However, corn at the grocery stores Saturday cost about two ears for a quarter so our corn has not been a waste financially. All the seed costs 25 cents.

When I discovered our corn had attracted worms I wailed loud and long. James Mitchell, one of our across-the-street Mitchells, heard my cry and passed along the information (too late) that Elvius Davis has (or thinks he has) the answer to worms in corn. Mr. Davis squirts a drop of mineral oil on the tassel of the ear and this keeps the worms away.

Does everyone know this or just Mr. Davis? I'll believe it when I see it (or is that too broad a hint). Seriously I would like a report because this corn is great to grow and I'll lay in a stock of mineral oil and really get at it next year if it works.

Erlene suggests in her letter that if we like small potatoes we can dig them early and cook them with peas or beans. The ones we bought in tonight might get lost if we mixed them with anything. That range in circumference I mentioned before was more of a jump from two to five inches. And that is "small potatoes".

LESSONS IN ARRANGING

(Third in Series)

Outdoor or Patio Party

This arrangement is based on a 2" styrofoam with a 9 by 5 paper mache container embedded in the base beneath the coffee pot and skillet. This has been filled with oasis to accommodate red carnations which are placed in the base among the bark and wood that forms your theme of a campfire. A coffee pot is arranged with bronze mums to form the line. To further accent the theme the skillet has been filled with yellow pom poms to simulate scrambled eggs. To further accent the arrangement, take miniature cattails, light them and place in lower portion of arrangement to create the smoke for the campfire. This smoke will last for many minutes and will add unlimited conversation to your party piece.

This arrangement is now on display at the Flower Nook. Please come inspect it and ask any further questions you may have concerning the arrangement. We are here to help you.

John is thinking about “what he wants to be.” No, he doesn’t want to be a jet pilot, nor a nuclear physicist, nor a lawyer, nor an actor, nor a doctor, nor yet a banker, baker, or chemist. John has decided. He wants to be a MINISTER.

I wondered if his father or his uncle or anyone else in the family is a minister? Strangely enough, no! He won’t make a lot of money, and knowing John, he certainly won’t particularly like the idea of getting up to “preach” to people. Definitely he won’t have a big shiny car to make his calls. I wondered why John had decided to devote a lifetime to service in the Church.

I asked John for a frank answer and he told me many small accumulative experiences which boiled down to this: A strong Christian influence from family, friends, and church kindled a spirit of awareness and devotion which seems to be latent in every human heart. Of course, we can’t all be like John. Few of us have received the stimulus to devote our entire life to the Church. But some of John’s spirit does dwell in all of us. Too often we are unaware that we possess this miraculous gift from God. Rekindle your spirit by going to church this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children’s sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Walker addresses RMA on check problems

N. Walker, local attorney, speaking at the largest turnout of the Retail Merchants Association luncheon at Levi's Restaurant Thursday noon declared that "only about half of one percent of worthless check losses are due to the nation over are 'hot check artists.'"

Walker estimated that "hot check artists" don't take $200 a year of Post.

Walker contends, "The losses, Walker contends, come from somebody the merchant knows who takes advantage of him."

Walker pointed out the law forbids any attorney, sheriff, or other person from serving as a "collection agency" for worthless checks.

Walker added, the law provides a sensible remedy to the merchant if you following through. Walker pointed out you should write the merchant a worthless check and let him know that his check was worthless. The letter should be sent by registered mail, or other type of mail in which you receive a return receipt.

School age marriages may continue to increase, says A&M specialist

COLLEGE STATION — School-age marriages may not be wise, yet after one becomes a fact, adults working with the couple have a responsibility to help them succeed. Indications are that they will continue to increase in numbers.

So says Patsy Reynolds, Extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University.

Marriage is always a time of adjustment, she explains, regardless of the age of the couple. "Add to the normal problems of this period the disapproval and often bitter incriminations of parents and the load becomes almost impossible for the young couple to carry."

According to a study made by Dr. B. J. Fallon, executive secretary of the West Texas School Study Council, school-age marriages have a divorce rate two to four times greater than for those who marry at age 20 or older. Dr. Fallon directed the survey in 238 Texas schools in 1962.

Conclusions of the research indicate that schools should educate for a "balanced social perspective" if these school-age marriages are to be reduced or those which occur are to succeed, the specialist says.

The parents and community can give the young couple practical education for dealing with problems such as budgets, house cleaning and care and use of household equipment, and preparation for earning a livelihood.

In the event of a school-age marriage, the students should be encouraged to complete their education if at all possible. Human potential is rarely maximized without the benefit of formal education. Less than full realization of human potential constitutes a loss for the individual, the community, and society at large, the study concludes.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Retired taxpayers over 65 years of age get several breaks under the law. They have an extra $600 exemption provided for age. Retirement Income Credit is also a very important benefit. The Internal Revenue folks report that some taxpayers who appear to be eligible for Retirement Income Credit don't claim the credit. They also point out that the Texas Community Property Law gives Retirement Income Credit to both the husband and the wife in many cases. This can be worth as much as $304.80 a year. If you feel that you are entitled to extra Retirement Income Credit contact your IRS office.

REASON FOR ACCIDENTS

About one out of four farm machinery accident victims are under 19 years of age. With National Farm Safety Week coming up July 19-25, wouldn't it be a good time, asks the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, for every farm family to do some checking on their machinery accident record? There was a reason for each accident. Don't make the same mistake twice, warns the Council.

Palo Duro Canyon State Park

Etched deeply in the high plains of the Panhandle, just south of Amarillo, lies a spectacular gorge, widely renowned for its scenic beauty. This is Palo Duro Canyon, a great 15,000 acre state park of Texas. You enter it on a road which winds for miles along the bottom of the vast gorge. You see many remarkable formations such as the "Lighthouse" and "Balanced Rock" which have been formed by centuries of erosion which created the Canyon. As you drive slowly along the Canyon's beauty is enhanced by constant changes in delicate coloring. Coronado explored the Canyon in 1541, and in 1876 Col. Goodnight drove the first wagon train down a huge rock slide into its great gulf. Palo Duro Canyon is easily reached on major highways through many of our towns, and is a high spot in places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.

During 1964-65 term

9,584 free lunches are served at school here

The Post Public Schools cafeteria served a total of 9,584 free meals during the 1963-64 school year at a cost to the school district of $3,354.40 in revenue, Supt. Barry B. Thompson told the board of trustees Monday night at their regular July session.

An average of 54.4 students were served free meals each day during the 176 school days, the superintendent's report to the board disclosed.

"This was the only hot meal many of the students received during the year and contributed directly to their continued school attendance," the superintendent said.

"Obviously," he continued, "the free lunch program is expensive. However, it is designed to help the children of indigent families stay in school."

Free meals served by months during the school term were: September, 763; October, 1,101; November, 819; December, 695; January, 1,145; February, 1,164; March, 1,218; April, 1,527; May, 1,152.

Supt. Thompson's report also disclosed that a total of 82,081 meals were served at the cafeteria during the school year—78,164 to students and 3,917 to adults.

The superintendent commended Mrs. Bailey Matisler, cafeteria supervisor, for her diligence and accuracy in keeping records at the cafeteria and in compiling the figures for the report made to the school board.

MRS. ALLSUP HAD informed the board that she was resigning as a junior high English teacher in order to accept a position in Dimmitt to be near her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley, who have taught at Close City for the last few years, informed the board they were resigning so he can teach in East Texas near his farm.

Following the election of the new teachers and acceptance of the resignations, Supt. Thompson told the trustees that with one or two exceptions "the faculty is fairly well set" for the coming school year.

In accepting Mrs. Jones' donation of the $1,000 scholarships, the board agreed that a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Jones on behalf of the school district is in order.

Mounted in pairs on each side of the Iroquois chopper shown above is the new M-60 machine gun, with a firing rate of 600 rounds per minute. Produced by the Saco-Lowell division of Maresmont Corp., the gun was originally developed for ground forces. On the chopper, the four M-60 guns are fed 6000 rounds from a cargo compartment, and are remotely controlled by the co-pilot.

DE course is to be started here

Approximately 20 students have enrolled in the Distributive Education program to be instituted at Post High School this fall, Supt. Barry B. Thompson told the school board Monday night.

Dale Schmidt will be the teacher and coordinator of the new course, which is open to junior and senior students.

The course provides for local merchants to employ the students in on-the-job training during the school year.

Schmidt, who will be in his second year as a member of the faculty here, is attending a National Science Foundation Institute at Tulsa University and has made arrangements with the NSF to attend a DE workshop beginning July 30 in Austin, the superintendent said.

Fire protection adjustment asked

The city asked the county Monday for an adjustment on the rate for which the county is paying the city for fire protection.

Mayor Harold Lucas and City Supt. Eddie Warren told the Garza County Commissioners Court that Post's volunteer fire department has this last year answered 65 rural fires, which cost $4,480 in salaries alone to firemen on the basis of $2 a call and $2 for each additional hour after the first hour.

The county has been paying the city $3,000 annually for such fire department service.

The two city officials pointed out that the city thus paid $1,480 in salaries for the county's fire protection plus all cost of equipment, tires, gasoline, etc.

The city asked the county to consider either a specified amount per call or a boost in the annual county payment to the city.

The cities of Slaton and Snyder both charge $100 a fire for rural calls and both have billed Garza County for such calls when made within this county's boundaries.

BENEFIT BALL GAME

Mothers of Post Little Leaguers will play a benefit baseball game at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Little League Park here. Proceeds from the small admission charge will be used to help pay the Little League All-Stars' expenses to the area tournament next week. The public is invited to attend Saturday night's game.

One-day shutdown not due to water

The Postex Cotton Mills shut down their sewing room Friday for an extra long weekend — it wasn't because of any water emergency.

Louie Burkes, head of the mill, explained that some new machinery had been installed during the recent vacation period. When they couldn't get it operating properly, sewing room production had to be stopped for a day while an expert was flown in to make proper adjustments.

Mill operations were resumed Monday morning.

The mill bleachery, which is most of the water at the mill, wasn't shut down by the adjustment problem, Burkes pointed out.

McLaughlin sells his Garza wells man, announced in Snyder Sunday the sale of working interests in 149 producing oil wells in Garza, Nolan and Fisher counties to the Newmont Oil Co. and A Corporation.

Newmont is the Houston-based oil operating affiliate of Newmont Mining Corp. of New York. A Corp., is headquartered at College Station and was formed by Texas A&M alumni to acquire retained production payments for the benefit of that university.

Consideration in the transaction were cash and a production payment "valued well in excess of $1,000,000."

Most of the wells and production are in the Diamond M field, Scurry County.

Seal coating—

n't have the money.

Precinct 2 Commissioner A. P. (Chuck) Gurley said his precinct didn't have available funds for such a project.

There was an indication from the county, however, that it might cooperate in such a project in the future if county precinct funds were available.

But the action didn't come to a vote of the commissioners court.

City Supt. Eddie Warren told The Dispatch that although West Main Street badly needs seal coating, the city didn't feel it could afford to do so in the current project because it would necessitate eliminating 18 other blocks of seal coating.

Main Street is so wide that each block requires approximately three times the amount of seal coating as would other, normal-sized city streets.

The city will spend $25,000 out of this year's budget and next year's for the big seal coating project. This includes engineering fees and seal coating for approximately 128 blocks.

The Lubbock firm that will do the seal coating is already moving in materials and equipment for the job. Warren said the Monday start would be made in the northwest portion of the city.

This will be the first seal coating of local streets since 1961.

The Rev. Joe Vernon, First Baptist pastor, and the Rev. A. T. Nixon officiated at the funeral services for Mrs. Owings. Interment was in Terrace Cemetery here under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Mrs. Owings was a member of the Second Baptist Church of Baytown.

judge and district attorney have no quarters from which to work and that there is no room for attorneys to consult with clients.

Parker pointed out if the Hyde building was purchased and remodeled it would always be a good real-estate property by the county should in the future the county decide to remodel or enlarge the courthouse.

If the county attorney's office is moved into the courthouse this would save $75 a month rent the county is now paying for its county attorney's office, Parker added.

At their July session this week, the court also rejected by a 3-2 vote with Judge Parker casting the tie-breaking ballot, a proposal that county liquor store fees — now a maximum of $62.50 a year — be halved.

Mike Mitchell presented the request for the reduction in the liquor store license fees, pointing out that local liquor stores are not getting anywhere near the business they did when the fee originally was established before a Lubbock county precinct went "wet".

The city recently also voted down a similar request that the license fee be halved.

Parker said he voted against the reduction in fee because he felt if the county made a concession here it would be called upon for other concessions from others and that "our income is not going up, instead its going down."

of water conservation. It brings to an abrupt end one of the most pleasant times of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman flew home Monday via one of those silent jets at about 500 miles an hour from Nassau, the capital island of the Bahamas, after an enjoyable, expensive — paid four-day visit to that quaint tourist mecca. Victor is still trying to figure out how the capital city of the Bahamas, population 85,000, supported 17 robust banks with only a single industry—tourists. The island is seven miles wide and 21 miles long and most of everything used or eaten is shipped in by boat. Of course, Victor admits, those tourist prices were pretty steep. A cup of coffee for example cost 30 cents. Your imagination can take it from there. The Hudmans won the trip for the furniture store's successful Zenith sales.

Three members of the Post Volunteer Fire Department will leave Sunday for College Station to attend the annual state firemen's and fire marshals' school. Attending the one-week course from here will be Fire Chief Loyd Mock, Jimmy Holleman and Richard Dudley.

Rodeo remodeling nearing finish

The remodeling of the Post Stampede rodeo grounds, in advance of the upcoming Aug. 5-8 rodeo, is expected to be completed by the middle of next week with only "touching up" then remaining.

Joy Mason and Robbie King are doing the welding work on the major rodeo overhead with Walter Josey in charge of the entire project.

Plans for the rodeo are now virtually complete, according to Fred Myers, rodeo manager.

The Junior Rodeo directors met last night to work out additional details.

There's still a need for rodeo queen contestants, Mrs. H. W. Schmidt, contest chairman, said yesterday. Up to that time, Elaine Bland was the only one entered, Mrs. Schmidt said.

Hospital—

repairs before the final decision is made.

A new cast iron boiler will cost approximately $3,600 installed while a new steel boiler will cost approximately $1,000 more.

The steel boiler is recommended as having much longer life than the cast iron if a new one is purchased. Trustees want the new boiler installed or the one out of commission repaired for service before winter heating problems arise.

June was a "healthy month for citizens but not for hospital finances," Rickels told trustees in presenting the monthly financial report.

FIGURED ON A cash income basis, the hospital operated at a $1,399.20 loss last month with an accumulated loss of $15,717.85 for the first six months of the year.

Hospital occupancy dropped to 27 per cent in June, as compared to 41.1 per cent for the first six months of the year.

Thirty-four patients were admitted for the month with total patient days standing at 201, which meant a daily patient census of 5.6 persons. There was one birth and two deaths at the hospital in June.

Collections are harder this year, Rickels reported. A total of $11,452.15 is now owed on hospital accounts with $6,171.45 of this total being insurance which requires usually about 60 days from date of billing to come in.

This means that in the first six months, hospital receivables, less insurance money due, is nearing the total of the $6,011.38 uncollected for the entire year of 1963 and $6,321.75 still outstanding for 1962.

Expenses were down last month, but so was income. The administrator pointed out there is a direct relationship. He predicted July will be worse financially because of the small amount of insurance which probably will be collected this month, although "we have had a busy opening week."

Trustees reviewed the hospital's personnel policies adopted in 1958 and authorized the administrator to rewrite them and present proposed revisions for board action at the August session.

THE FUNNIEST GAME

This is typical of the action that will be seen at Monday night's donkey ball game at Little League Park between the VFW and Post Jaycees.

Donkey ball game set here Monday

Donkey baseball, "America's funniest game," comes to Little League Park here Monday night, July 20, when teams from Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and the Junior Chamber of Commerce clash in a benefit game at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be admission charges of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, with all proceeds above expenses going into the project funds of the VFW post and the Jaycee organization. The 12 trained Texas donkeys on which the rival teams will play the game are being furnished by Ralph E. Godfrey of Crescent, Okla.

Both teams are predicting victory in Monday night's game, and besides spills, laughs and thrills, the crowd is promised the tops in petition between these two local organizations.

Donkey ball rules provide that all except the pitcher and catcher ride donkeys in the game. The pitcher and the catcher remain on the ground in specially marked boxes. The pitcher and catcher cannot field a batted ball, but must wait until a player with a donkey has handled the ball first.

There are no strikeouts or walks in the game, and when the batter hits fair he must mount donkey and ride around bases in proper order. The base-running donkey must step inside or on white circle with one foot while player is on donkey's back, to be safe.

The base-playing donkey also must have foot inside or on base and player must be on donkey and have the ball in his hand before the runner arrives at the base in order to make the putout. The player and not the donkey must be tagged. Force outs and tag outs are the same as usual.

Advance tickets to the game are on sale and may be purchased from VFW members or Jaycees.

Completion near on grid lighting

Work is nearing completion on the new $11,000 lighting system at Antelope Stadium. Supt. Barry B. Thompson reported to the school board at its July meeting Monday night.

"The job will be completed before the Aug. 15 deadline with ease," the superintendent told the trustees.

The new lighting system will increase the light intensity five times over the old system and will give fans an unobstructed view of the playing field. Underground conduit is being used to eliminate hazards to spectators, the superintendent said.

Southern Electric Company of Snyder is the contractor on the new lighting project.

DONKEY BALL

AMERICA'S FUNNIEST GAME

A Spill! ... A Laugh! ... A Thrill! ... A Minute!

BETTER THAN A RODEO—FUNNIER THAN A CIRCUS!

RULES: All players except pitcher and catcher ride donkeys. When the batter gets a hit he must mount his donkey and ride around the bases in proper order—if he can. There are no strikeouts or walks. Fielders must ride to within a step of the ball before dismounting and must remount before throwing the ball. Soft-ball is used. Nine players on each team. Game plays 5 to 7 innings—approximately one hour and a half.

12 trained Texas Donkeys furnished by Ralph E. Godfrey, Crescent, Okla.

Explanation and account of games will be broadcast over a loud-speaker.

Monday, July 20 — Little League Park

7:30 P.M. — VFW vs. JAYCEES

ADMISSION — ADULTS $1.00 — CHILDREN 50c

NOTICE

We just decided not to have an ad this week for more than one reason.

IN THE FIRST PLACE it costs money to run an Ad in the Dispatch.

IN THE SECOND PLACE everybody knows we have hardware to sell.

IN THE THIRD PLACE we didn't have enough money to run a good ad in the first place SO just let us remind you all that just in event you do need an item or two in hardware—TRY US. Right now a few popular items are hoes, files, air-conditioner repairs, and of course PAINT anything, bolts, sweeps and we nearly forgot FISHING REELS like rods, reels, baits, hooks and sinkers.
