200 square miles slashed by big hail Monday night

Four nights of weather violence within a six-day period ending Monday-brought record field water flooding to Garza's portion of the High Plains and virtually wiped out the county's young cotton crop.

A huge thunderstorm which hung virtually motionless over the Post area for five hours Monday night produced most of the havoc.

Included was a savage hail storm which ripped a 200 square mile area west and north of Post, a water deluge which ranged up to 4.5 inches, and swirling turbulance which produced high winds and one unconfirmed tornado on the ground south of Close City.

OLD-TIMERS REPORTED never have the plains areas west of Post been as flooded as they were Tuesday with hundreds of acres of farmland under water and water pouring across dozens of country virtually isolating a few farm houses.

Dispatch Editorials

THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1963

Dispatch starts a 'new year'

year of publication and the seventh under present ownership.

At the start of a "new year" for The Dispatch, we wish again to reaffirm this newspaper's aims

First and foremost, we strive to give our readers the most complete possible coverage of the news of Post and its trade area. We strongly believe that an informed public is all important for the success of our democratic form of government here at home as well as in Washington

Second, this newspaper gives its full editorial support to all needs and projects which we believe to be to the best interests of our community and its citizens

Third, The Dispatch stands politically independent in politics. We support the candidate whose views we deem best fitted for the office. he is seeking regardless of party. We have, and will continue to do so, kept hands off local level politics in the firm belief that local folks can appraise local candidates.

We have labored hard to keep from boosting our advertising and subscription rates every year

With this issue The Dispatch begins its 37th or two, as do most dailies and many weeklies. We are proud of our record-only one small boost in each rate in six years despite continually spirating postal and paper costs and other expenses of doing business.

We are convinced that everybody has to do his darndest to keep down that spiraling cost of living. And we are doing ours.

Post in those six years has made many great strides forward in community facilities and services, despite the fact that it has seen its growth halted by the "oil depression".

For the most part the mantle of community leadership in the last six years has passed into younger hands

On the eve of completion of the long-sought White River dam, Post will be on the threshold of another new economic surge forward. If it comes, it must come with dedicated community leadership, wholesome cooperation at all town and area levels, and some far sighted planning.

It won't just happen

That's why as The Dispatch under present ownership enters its seventh year, we hope it will be the lucky year-when we can catch hold together and move our town forward.-JC

Adequate jail facilities promised

have performed a notable service in directing the public's attention to the gross inadequacy of the county's present jail facilities.

Nothing has been done about it . . . jury's recommendation's for improvements have not been acted upon, but they will be in the nottoo-distant future, County Judge J. E. Parker has assured The Dispatch

Seeking to avoid having to float a bend issue for jail improvements, the county commissioners' court has been looking for other routes and has come up with what may be the only workable plan, short of a bond issue.

The plan hit upon by the commissioners' court is to transfer the present 15-cent hospital bond retirement fund over to the jail improvement project next year after the hospital bonds

Judge Parker told The Dispatch that if a great enough need is shown for the jail improvements, then the commissioners' court feels that an election would not have to be held on trunsferring the hospital bond retirement levy over to a project of improving the fall facilities.

No one doubts that the need for improving

At least two recent Garza County grand juries also the incontrovertible fact that prisioners charged with felonies are being sent to the Lubbock County jail for safekeeping because, as Sheriff Fay Claborn has not hesitated to point out, it is too easy to break out of the county jail here.

> Judge Parker says the present arrangement of lodging some of our prisioners in the Lubbock County jail will, under present arrangements, prove satisfactory until such a time as the jail here can be improved to where it can hold all our own prisoners. The cost to the county of keeping a prisoner in the Lubbock County jail is only $1 a day, whereas it costs us $1.40 a day here just to feed one, the judge said.

> Of course, Judge Parker does not mean that continued use of the Lubbock County jail for Garza County prisioners can go on and on. It can't and it shouldn't. It is up to Garza County to improve its own jail facilities, and we are confident that the judge and the commissioners are going to see to it that it does.

Maintenance of adequate jail facilities is cssential to the maintenance of law and order and the protection of the community and is, therefore, an inescapable obligation of government in any

Bim is a clown-that is his business. He can always do the wrong thing at the right time.

But Bim is no fool. Out of the circus ring he always tries to do the right thing at the right time. Those winter Sundays in Florida, before the show goes on the road, you might sit next to Bim in church, and never know he is a clown.

And even though on the road, when Sunday is moving day, Bim gets out his old worn Bible and his teacher's guide, and with his own kids, and with all the other "show" kids gathered 'round him, there is Sunday School on the circus train.

You see, Bim is a Christian, living his faith through all the complications of a strange occupation. He is not a mask-he is Bim. He is the churchman of a circus train-the Sunday School teacher of show business. He knows when to put fun and frolic aside, and turn to the Truth by which we live!

The Church invites you and your family to worship next Sunday and every Sunday.

FINAL CALL New Telephone Directory Changes

RESIDENTIAL SUBSCRIBERS

Your "Phone Book" listing is important to you and your friends. Won't you check yours, and call us promptly if you wish to make a change.

If you've considered including other members of your family, now is the time to do it. Extra listings cost so little, make it so much easier for your friends.

BUSINESS SUBSCRIBERS

Complete representation in the Yellow Pages will bring more customers to your door. And you can be sure of reaching many more buyers by listing under additional classifications.

Consider also the advantages of having directory representation for key people in your company. This added "exposure" really pays. But time is short. To make sure you'll be properly represented in the new Directory, call our Business Office right away.
