Construction total goes past half-million first half '64

Issuance of a city building permit to the Post Housing Authority for construction of 28 low-cost housing units here enabled the construction total for the first half of 1964 to shoot well past the half-million dollar mark.

The permit, which estimated the construction cost of the 28 units at $300,153, was issued at the City Hall last week to Luther Harper, executive director of the Post Housing Authority. The construction total for the first half of the year—through June 30—is $580,993.

Building permits issued during June were for construction estimated at $362,153, which is considerably more than half the total for the other five months of the first half.

Also issued during June was a permit to Merchants Fast Motor Lines, Inc., for construction of a new warehouse and office building at 116 South Ave. I. The 3,200-square foot structure, costing $15,000, will be built of steel and concrete.

Second in size to the permit issued for the low-rent housing units is the $60,000 permit that went to Shop Rite Foods, Inc., last January for the construction of the new Piggly Wiggly Super Market building, which held its grand opening last week at 8th Street and Avenue K.

Of the 27 building permits that have been issued since Jan. 1, 14 have been for new residences, nearly all of them in the newer city additions.

The building permit totals by months for the first half of 1964 is: January, $107,240; February, $19,600; March, $61,100; April, $29,000; May, $1,900; June, $362,153.

Officer shoots youth after being slashed with knife

Paul Soto, 19, is in Garza Memorial Hospital with a bullet wound in his leg and his 17-year-old brother, John Soto, has been charged with interfering with an officer in connection with an altercation Sunday night in which City Policeman Oscar Gray was slashed under the left armpit with a knife.

Paul Soto was shot after he slashed Gray with the knife while the officer was making an arrest in the 300 block of East Main Street about 10:30 Sunday night.

It was reported to The Dispatch that Paul Soto came to the center of the street where Gray was arresting John Soto and another youth. Paul Soto reportedly struck the officer and then, when the latter defended himself, slashed him with the knife. Gray then pulled his gun and fired, the bullet striking Soto about six inches above the knee.

The policeman radioed for help, with Highway Patrolmen Henry Harden and Max Knox and Sheriff L. E. Claborn Jr. responding. Harden was the first to reach the scene, then Knox and a Department of Public Safety license and weights man, who was with him, and then Sheriff Claborn. Claborn, who said he was told by witnesses that about seven youths were involved, said they had "scattered" when the other officers arrived.

The officers began a search for the youth who had been shot and found him slumped beside a tree at the old Algerita Hotel building across Main from where the shooting had occurred.

The sheriff said a pool of blood at the foot of the tree indicated Soto had been there for several minutes before he was found. He was taken by ambulance to Garza Memorial Hospital, where the bullet was found to have passed through the leg just above the knee.

The charge against John Soto of interfering with an officer in performance of his duties was filed in county court Monday. Soto pleaded not guilty and his bond (See Officer Slashed, Page 8)

Postings

It's been a hectic newspaper day—but it started off tranquilly enough with an afternoon sailing with Mrs. C on David's sailing boat, the Witch at Lake Thomas Sunday.

As now, power boats are like ticks when you compare them to the quiet joy of sailing. All members of the Newby family are good sailors with Ruth Newby and son, Steve, following orders like experts from David the helm.

As also found out that sailing enthusiasts are "really enthusiasts" about the sport, so much so that the newly formed yacht club at Lake Thomas is making real headway toward construction of a new enclosed clubhouse on a rock-point of the lake (see the architect's sketch elsewhere on the page with accompanying photos for details).

We've spent a considerable portion of the week with all The Dispatch publicity involved in Sunday afternoon's open house of Maxine and Lew Marks' beautiful new home on West Main Street. Everybody involved can be mighty proud of this fine residence. We know the word for the open house will be "one, but we still want to add a personal reminder not to miss it."

The column wants to welcome to B. J. Calvert, his wife, Pat, and their five-month-old son, who are living at 112 East Street. B. J. has opened the Refrigeration Sales and Service firm at 227 East Main. The events come to Post from Spur. L. attended a mechanical engineering conference. (See Postings, Page 8)

Rattlesnake bite
Victim is home
Mrs. Lewis Mason, the former Mrs. Maxey, who was bitten on the hand by a rattlesnake Saturday afternoon, was returned to the hospital Wednesday morning from the hospital in Lubbock. The snake bit Mrs. Mason between the middle and ring fingers on her right hand while she was trying to squash the garden snake on the Gail road about one and one-half miles south of her home. Mason's husband, who had come in from plowing, killed the snake and then rushed his wife to the doctor's office here, where she was treated and then taken to the hospital for further treatment. $18,254 bid gets contract on city seal coat project Contract for the seal coating of 100 blocks of city streets was awarded by the City Council to the W. D. Turner Construction Co. of Lubbock last Friday afternoon.

The successful bid, which was the lowest of four submitted was $18,254, which figures out approximately 9 cents per square yard for the seal coating. City Supt. Eddie Warren said.

"We consider this a real good price in view of the fact that we paid about 12 cents a yard for our last seal coating job," Warren said.

The seal coating will start July 15 and will be completed in from 10 to 12 days, the city superintendent said. The new coating of gravel and asphalt will cover most of the present city paving, he added.

While the 100-block seal coating project will be completed this summer, its estimated $25,000 cost, which includes engineering fees, will be spread out over this year's and next year's budgets, Warren said.

All four of the bids submitted on the project were fairly close together. The other bidders and their bids were: Bowden Construction Co. of San Marcos, $18,915; Louie Squire of Hereford, $18,941, and Jones Bros. of Odessa, $19,859.

28 units to be built

Work in high gear on housing project

Work was getting into high gear on Post's $300,100 28-unit public housing project this week with the Barker Construction Company of Qanah having crews totaling 20 men busy on the two construction sites.

Six of the 20 employed now by the Barker Construction Company are local. Many of the out-of-town workers have moved their families here for the duration of the construction.

The Post Public Housing Authority Board at a meeting last Thursday afternoon voted unanimously to pave 387 feet of Maple Lincoln school site.

Post Stampede and Junior Rodeo to be held here Aug. 5-8.

A six-event junior rodeo program is planned. Events this year will include will include bull riding, bare back bronc riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, the girls' barrel race, and a flag race for boys and girls 12 years old and under.

All other events will be for 19 year olds and under with no age divisions.

Directors voted to give a saddle to the best all-around junior cowboy and to award a saddle to the champion girls' barrel racer.

All entry fees will be added back this year with no office charge withheld. Belt buckles will be given to all individual event winners but the girls' barrel race.

Entry fees were set at $12 for each event but the flag race which was set at $6.

Miss Elaine Bland was elected secretary of the association to replace Kelly Jo Myers, who is in school.

Named to committees for the big four-day event were:

Advertising — Jack Myers.
Prizes — Fred Myers, Boy Hart, and Bill Carlyle.
Grounds — Glen Davis.
Ticket Sales — Dillard Morris.
Dance — Chester Morris and Mike Custer.
Queen Contest — Mrs. H. W. Schmidt.

The rodeo queen will be the girl, 19 and under and a Garza County resident, who sells the most advance tickets to the rodeo.

Lester Nichols is president of the adult advisers and Richard Hart is president of the juniors. They presided over the session in the courtroom.

A. LEE WARD
New Rotary President

Ward installed as new president of Post Rotarians

A. Lee Ward was installed as president of the Post Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the club's weekly luncheon in the city clubroom.

He succeeds James Mitchell in the office.

Louie Burkes conducted the installation of the new officers, which also included Ansil O'Neal, reelected as secretary, and Claud Collier, as the immediate past president will assume the duties of the club's vice president for the new club year.

Burkes presented Mitchell, Collier and O'Neal with Rotary pins from the club signifying their service as president, treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Mitchell thanked club members for their cooperation through the club year just concluded.

Directors present who also were installed were Buster Moreland, Wesley Scott and Dave Sanford. The club voted $30 toward the co-sponsorship of five Post young people to the second annual Attorney General's Youth Conference to be held in Austin July 10-12.

Will F. Allen's leg amputated

Will F. Allen, whose left leg was amputated just below the knee June 24 after being injured in an automobile accident, is reported convalescing satisfactorily at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Mr. Allen, who is 67, was injured June 22 when his automobile struck a parked car four blocks east of his home at 906 West 11th St.

It became necessary to amputate the leg after a blood clot formed following the accident, a member of the family said.

Bond assumption election July 9

Voters of the newly consolidated Post Independent School District will go to the polls here next Thursday, July 9, to vote on whether the newly enlarged district should accept the bonded indebtedness of the former Post school district.

The Close City school district which is consolidating with the Post district, effective Sept. 1, has no bonded indebtedness.

The one voting box for the election will be in the Post High School building with Mrs. Lucille Morris as election judge.

Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

While not a great deal of interest is expected in the election it will be an important one from the taxpayers' standpoint.

Should the issue be defeated, it will mean the former Post Independent School district—and all property owners within its boundaries—will be obligated for the entire debt. If the issue carries, the Post district's bonded indebtedness thereby would be assumed by the newly enlarged district.

The bond assumption election is the final legal step in the procedure of the consolidation of the two districts.

Cora May White out of jail on $1,500 bond

Mrs. Cora May White, who is charged with murder with malice in the fatal shooting of her husband, was released from Garza County jail last Thursday on a $1,500 bond.

The case now awaits grand jury action. Charlie White, her husband, was killed Sunday, June 21, at the White farm home east of Gordon with a single shot from a .45 caliber Colt.

Marked improvement in Baker's condition

Marked improvement is reported in the condition of Bob Baker, who was critically injured when two pickup trucks collided June 15 on a farm-to-market road near the Close City community.

Baker, who has been in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, since the accident, has regained consciousness and is able to talk to members of his family for the first time since he was injured.

Open house scheduled Sunday at new home

One of the biggest open house events for a new Post home in years is scheduled Sunday afternoon—between 1 and 6 p. m.—at the large, new brick home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Marks at 601 West Main St.

It's a Blue Flame home, meaning that it is filled with all gas appliances, including gas refrigerated air conditioning, gas oven, gas range top, gas dryer and gas yard lights outside.

The approximately 2,500 square foot home also is the largest "packaged house" ever manufactured by Holiday Homes Manufacturing Company of Fort Worth.

Bill Edwards of Post is the builder. It is the 24th Holiday House he has constructed in this area.

On pages 12 and 13 of today's Dispatch are four advertisements for the open house, inviting the public to attend.

The home contains a 24-by-28 foot thickly carpeted living room, featuring a window seat under a bay window; a large master bedroom and a large guest room in the east wing, each with powder rooms and private baths, all carpeted; a large dining room, comfortable kitchen, home office, double garage, utility room with half bath and storage room in the west wing of the house.

The kitchen features Neutone custom kitchen cabinets of traditional design with matching wall oven, table-top gas range, hood for range dishwasher and Maytag refrigerator. The kitchen also has a built-in blender, knife sharpener, mixer, shredder and food chopper on the table top. The kitchen breakfast bar has a pull-down overhead lamp.

The 16 by 18 foot dining room features a picture window and built-in cabinets with indirect lighting. The crystal chandelier also has a dim switch to give just the right amount of light for dining.

All the lighting fixtures in the new home are of matching crystal.

The living room also has a beautiful crystal chandelier. All but the kitchen, office, and utility room are carpeted.

The entire east wall of the 22 by 24 foot master bedroom is taken up by two large clothes closets with louvered doors which automatically turn on the closet lights when opened.

A papered wall, full length mirror, and large dressing table feature the adjoining powder room. The private bath to the bedroom includes all pink fixtures with a glass-enclosed combination bath-tub-shower, corner storage closet, and cabinet over the lavatory.

On White Island at Lake Thomas

Yacht Club to build new home

Construction got under way recently on facilities at Lake Thomas to be used by the newly-organized Lake Thomas Yacht Club, whose membership includes two Post sail boating enthusiasts, David N. Newby and Pat. N. Walker.

The facilities, which will include a clubhouse, pier, floating dock and ramp, will be located on the highest point on White Island, which has a long causeway leading to it, making it easily accessible by automobile.

The first phase of construction was pouring of concrete for the ramp, which is nestled in a natural draw of the rocky shore. Now ready for use by Yacht Club members, it is 20 feet wide and approximately 96 feet long.

The pier and dock now are being designed and construction will begin when plans are completed. The plans call for 100 feet of fixed pier, which extend to a 100-foot floating dock. The dock design will allow it to swing in a narrow arc (See Yacht Club, Page 8)

PROPOSED YACHT CLUB HOUSE

The Lake Thomas Yacht Club hopes to have this building ready for occupancy by the end of the current season. The building, located on the highest point on White Island in Lake Thomas, will have a glass-enclosed main deck and an open observation deck atop the enclosed portion.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1964

It's July! Year's half gone

Tuesday was the last day of June, yesterday was the first day of July, and the year 1964 is half gone.

Here in Post, as in practically every other town and city in the land, the transition from the first to the second half of the year was effortless and painless . . . effortless because it is the wrong time of the year, weather-wise, to put out much energy for anything; painless because we went to bed the night of the 30th and woke up the morning of the 1st.

Those of us with enough energy left are waiting on the Fourth of July, which is Saturday, but since many of us take all day or at least half a day off from work on Saturdays, the Fourth doesn't mean much as a holiday, and it has long since ceased to mean anything in Post as far as any sort of an Independence Day celebration is concerned.

Baseball fans will have a big day on the Fourth. There'll be doubleheaders in the major league cities and while parks are rarely filled any more, there'll be millions of fans viewing the action via television. Incidentally, there is an old maxim that the team that is leading its league on July the Fourth will win the pennant, so you might check that out for future reference.

The swimming pool here more than likely will prove one of the most popular spots in town throughout July, while the air-conditioner will vie with the TV set for most popular household appliance honors. Later in the month, there'll be a Sidewalk Sale to break the monotony.

July usually means that the tornado season is past, and we've been fortunate here this year . . . not a single bona fide storm cellar "scare" have we had. July does not necessarily mean, thank goodness, that there'll be no rain just because the worst part of the tornado season has come and gone.

We'd take time to describe to you the beauties of nature as June jumps into July, but there just isn't much there to write about . . . anyway not as much as when bristling winter bows out before gentle spring or sultry summer abandons the field to foliated autumn. Besides, we just haven't the energy.—CD

Why bond assumption election important

The bond assumption election of the newly consolidated Post Independent School District is scheduled for next Thursday, July 9.

Object of the election is meeting the law's requirement for districts after consolidating to vote to accept for the newly formed district the bonded indebtedness of the old districts which disappear through consolidation.

In this case, the Close City Independent School District has no bonded indebtedness. The only indebtedness to be assumed by the newly consolidated district, Sept. 1, will be the indebtedness owed by the Post district for their widespread school building program over the past 15 years.

The Post district's outstanding bonded indebtedness at present is $985,500.

What happens, the reader asks, if voters turn down the proposition for the new district to assume the bonded indebtedness of the old district?

The answer, as The Dispatch understands it, is that should the proposition be voted down, the bonded indebtedness of the former Post Independent School District remains where it now is—the debt of the taxpayers of the district as it was before consolidation.

One cannot vote away the debt, of course. Somebody has to pay for it.

That is why there should be more than passing interest shown in the bond assumption election locally. If local voters stay away from the polls in large enough numbers—and show no interest—there remains the possibility that the proposition could be defeated.

Certainly, it is to the best interest of all Post school district voters to approve the bond assumption proposition. Since the incoming Close City district will have the same advantages of the fine new physical school plant here, it is only fair that voters in that district should also be willing to vote for the assumption of the bonded indebtedness from the Post district.

Obviously, since taxes are involved, it is no election to be taken lightly. And voters are hereby so reminded.—JC

Make the Scouts feel welcome

Boy Scouts from throughout the 20-county South Plains Council who spend a week at the C. W. Post Memorial Scout Camp here every summer cannot correctly be classified as tourists, but we feel reasonably sure that as far as Post business people are concerned the Scouts and their leaders come under some sort of tourist heading.

The Boy Scouts and their leaders don't get into town very often during the week they spend at Camp Post, but when they do they spend a little money and that contributes to the local economy.

Currently, the emphasis is on tourism in Texas, and every community can benefit. The Boy Scout camp is, in a manner of speaking, a tourist attraction and Post benefits from it. The chief value of the camp, of course, is its outstanding contribution to the Scouting program, to the training of the youngsters for their place in tomorrow's adult world. Even so, there are other facets, and the impressions these youngsters and their adult leaders receive of Post and its people will be lasting impressions. Let's make them feel welcome when they come into our places of business.—CD

Know what your voting for

This is the time of year, as November approaches, that the "Get Out the Vote" campaign begins to warm up.

Here in Post and Garza County, we rarely come face-to-face with these campaigns, since they're largely confined to the more populous centers. But, most of us get at least one reminder in one form or another that such campaigns are shaping up.

One attractive leaflet we've seen is entitled "Just One Vote" and is aimed squarely at the eligible voters who stay away from the polls. And they amount to a disgracefully large number. In 1960, a presidential election year, more than a third of the voters failed to exercise their right of franchise—a right which is at the very heart of representative government and a free society. In the off-year elections of 1962 the showing was worse still, with more than half of the eligible voters staying away from the polls.

So much for facts and figures. Another point needs stressing. The country doesn't need "Just Voters". It needs "Informed Voters"—men and women who study the issues and the positions of the candidates, all the way from town and country to Capitol Hill and the White House, and know exactly what they are voting for.

So, when the time comes—vote, and vote intelligently for the people and the principles you believe in. It appears that there will be a wide variety of both this election year.—CD

Teamwork in fight on weevils

Garza County farmers and ginners, along with others throughout the 23-county High Plains area, are to be congratulated for their good response to the call to join the fight on the boll weevil.

News has just been received from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., that the last of 36 cotton compresses in the area has signed a contract with PCG to participate in the collection of funds to carry out the "diapause" weevil control program so essential to preventing a Plains-wide weevil infestation.

This move on the part of the compresses is an excellent demonstration of the teamwork of which the High Plains cotton industry is capable in the face of a common enemy, and virtually assures $1,000,000 to fight the pest. Federal funds to match this amount are being sought through the Plant Pest Control division of the USDA.

In effect, an important part of the weevil control program is already in progress in the form of expensive surveys and educational programs to get the most effective in-season control possible during this year's growing season.

In-season control can reduce migration of weevils from heavily infested areas, thus reducing the acreage that it will be necessary to spray this Fall.

The diapause portion of the effort calls for spraying all infested acreage above the Caprock and all below the Caprock back to the line of ranches on the east. Fall sprayings will probably begin in September and continue at 10 to 14 day intervals until frost, thus killing all weevils before they go into hibernation.

This is the same system that has been so effective in the Presidio area of Texas and on Texas prison farms, and entomologists say it should reduce the High Plains weevil problem to one of inexpensive spot control operations within a very few years.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

The reason many leading Republicans are trying to stop Goldwater is that they know it would be extremely easy for a gentleman by the name of Johnson to stop him.—Olin Miller in The Seguin Gazette.

I'd comment on the newest development in swim toggery, but, like the new suits, what I'd have to say wouldn't cover enough space to be interesting.—Billie Stockton in The Crosbyton Review.

I know I have a good case of insomnia . . . because I can't even sleep when it's time to get up.—Al Hinds in The Haskell Free Press.

The night is never empty of great trucks that beat the pavements with weight and might and power. They growl at distance and the dim glow of dawn, and leap into the darkness of a valley beyond; they are the pulsing blood in the arteries of a nation's commerce.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

SATURDAY IS the Fourth of July, which has become just one more holiday. The traditional Fourth our fathers and their fathers knew has largely gone from the land. Fireworks, save for organized, licensed displays, have been widely outlawed on grounds of safety.

With the fireworks have gone the orations, once commonly held in town squares and fairgrounds in which leaders in government and enterprise paid their tribute to those who founded the nation, and who gave us the powers of mind and spirit which made possible the maintenance of our freedoms and the creation of material abundance.

THESE ORATORS, needless to say, were often naive and flamboyant. But, still, there was a profound merit in what they said and meant no matter how inept the choice of words might have been. They did paint a picture of the American ideal, the American philosophy, the American tradition. And even those who staved out briefly to hear them felt stirrings of pride in our heritage.

The something vital, the something that was at the heart of things, has gone out of American life. It needs to be restored if we are to save this nation from lethargy and cynicism within, as well as from our enemies without. And it can be— if, on this and every Fourth, we give a quiet moment to reflecting on the values our forefathers bought for us with blood and treasure. It is ours to defend those values and pass them on, unimpaired, to our children and our children's children.

THE MAN UP the Street says the cost of living isn't nearly as high as the cost of enjoying living.

It's time once again for you Post pals to check to see if the Weather Bureau has named a hurricane after you. The Bureau has just released its annual list of hurricane names— from Abby to Winnie. The names are the same as those used in 1960 with one exception— Dora replaces Donna, which caused considerable damage four years ago. The other names: Abby, Brenda, Cleo, Ethel, Florence, Gladys, Hilda, Itebell, Janet, Kate, Lila, Mollie, Nita, Odette, Paula, Roxie, Stella, Trudy, Vesta and Winny.

WHAT DIRE THINGS do you suppose might happen if Russia were to break our Zip Code?

Our readers who remember the uproar we had here a few years ago over whether or not the city had enough police protection, will not have any difficulty recalling Willard Opp, who came to Post at the height of the uproar and served several weeks as a night watchman. Well, I'd often wondered where Mr. Opp went after he left Post. A recent page one story in the Abernathy Weekly Review answers my question. The story was written on the occasion of Mr. Opp revisiting Abernathy, where he served on the police department for a few months after leaving Post. He went from Abernathy to the police department at Hereford, and then took a job with a roofing firm. For the past four years Mr. Opp has been employed in Chickasha, Okla.

Whatever his other shortcomings, Blackie, our cat, is not unpatriotic, as the picture plainly shows.

NATIONAL FARM Safety Week is July 19-25, which reminds someone of the old fellow he once saw holding a rope in his hand by the side of the road. Asked if he was in some kind of trouble, the man said, "I don't know. I can't remember whether I found a piece of rope or lost a cow."

Also, while looking through the old almanac Luke Bilberry let me borrow, I came upon this poem, which might, by a big stretch of the imagination, be tied in with Farm Safety Week:

A Y'S FARMER
There is a farmer who is Y's
Enough to take his E's,
And study nature with his I's,
And think of what he C's.
He hears the chatter of the J's
As they each other T's,
And sees that when a tree D K's
It makes a home for B's.
A pair of oxen he will U's
With many "Haws and G's"
And their mistakes he will X Q's
While slowing for his P's.
In raising crops he all X L's,
And therefore little O's;
And when he hoes his soil by
He also sows his hose.

Q. I receive a widow's pension, I was not working when I began receiving the pension, but I have now secured employment. Is it necessary to report this to VA or may I wait until I receive an income questionnaire at the end of the year?

A. You should inform the VA at once so that your continued entitlement may be checked. This could prevent the creation of an overpayment, which would later have to be repaid to the VA.

Q. When I move next month, how should I tell the VA so that I will get my pension check at the new address? Should I notify the Treasury in Chicago?

A. No, do not advise the Treas-

PORK CUT VARIETIES

There are about 30 different cuts of pork available. Fresh pork cuts include loins— from which chops and roasts are cut— shouldered, fresh hams, to mention a few. Cured cuts include hams, bacon and smoked picnic shoulder. Hams, chops and bacon are the most popular cuts.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

John C. White, Commissioner

BATTLE AGAINST DECEPTIVE ADVERTISING

It takes more than a "green thumb", insecticides, and hard work to produce a lawn or garden that is the envy of all your neighbors. And one of the problems plaguing gardeners, is falsely advertised plants.

One typical ad promises 11,000 giant red roses in just one season, with the plant bursting forth each day, day after day, for five months with fresh bouquets 5 inches in diameter. In reality the plant has a bush-covering blooming in the spring and then only a steady spattering of flowers through the summer. While it may be possible to achieve blooms up to 5 inches across, a bush cannot produce blooms all of which are of unusual size as implied in the claim.

Or you buy what is advertised as a "dwarf size" for the planter box, only to have long straggly stems shoot up to unknown heights. You pay a higher price for a sensational variety of roses that has been developed after years of research only to find that the promoters have put a new tag on an old variety.

The Texas Department of Agriculture is co-operating with the American Association of Nurserymen, in the battle against deceptive advertising of nursery stock. The National Better Business Bureau and the Post Office are being enlisted in the campaign.

One of the duties of the TDA is the inspection and certification of nurseries operating within the state. The Department, under Commissioner John C. White, also checks with similar agencies in states from which dealers want to ship plants into Texas. When the out-of-state firms and their nursery stock meet Texas specifications, a certificate is issued.

There are over 6,000 state inspected nursery firms operating in Texas. Each one has been issued a license which certifies that the stock and grounds were free of disease or harmful insects.

The buyer who desires quality stock should make certain that he is doing business with a legally operating, state licensed firm or individual. It may save disappointment later.

When you have reason to believe that the nursery stock you bought is inferior or was misrepresented in the advertisement, report it at once. Contact the regional office of the Texas Department of Agriculture which is nearest you. Regional offices located in Lubbock, Stephenville, Tyler, Austin, San Marcos, Houston and Pharr, are eager and willing to co-operate with the public and reliable local dealers and out-of-state houses who have suffered the consequences of actions by unscrupulous operators.

Holiday highway safety is urged

AUSTIN — The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today described the traffic situation in Texas as "critical" at mid-year and appealed to all motorists to make the July 4 holiday weekend the turning point away from a two-year upward trend in fatal traffic accidents.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. announced that "Operation Motorcade" will be in effect from 12:01 a. m. Friday, July 3 through 11:59 p. m. Sunday, July 5, in an effort to focus public attention on the added hazards of holiday road travel and at the same time bring about continued safety consciousness among all drivers. During this three-day period, the DPS estimates that 32 persons will be killed in Texas traffic.

As part of this program, he said, additional patrolmen from the DPS License and Weight and Motor Vehicle Inspection Services will join the regular Highway Patrol force for the three-day holiday period.

PESTICIDE MONITORING

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has set up a pesticide monitoring system to determine scientifically if significant environmental hazards are resulting from normal agricultural use of pesticides. At the same time, it was noted that recent hearings do not substantiate assumptions that fish kills in the lower Mississippi River resulted from the use of pesticides on farms.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Once solely a tropical insect, the cockroach has become a pest in homes all over the country. They love starch and sweet foods, and also attack paper, clothing, books, shoes and other personal property.

There are about 1,500 species of the pest. Some are giants with wingspans of more than 5 inches. The Oriental roach and larger American roach, both dark brown, are most common in the U.S.

Home control of destructive cockroaches has always worried housekeepers. Now, the U.S. Government has cleared Allied Chemical's Kepone bait for home use in commercial roach traps. It's been used for years by pest control men because of its proven ant and roach-kill properties.

Soldier finishes course overseas

MURNAU, Germany (AHTNC)—Specialist Four Dugan E. Nickens, whose wife, Mary, lives in Cumberland, N. C., completed a six-week tracked vehicle maintenance course at the U. S. Army School, Europe, in Murnau, Germany, June 19.

During the course Specialist Nickens received instruction in power plant removal and separation, disassembly and reassembly of the engine and its components and all phases of the transmission.

The 22-year-old soldier, son of Ralph P. Nickens, 105 West Fifth St., Post, Tex., is a mechanic in Company B of the 3rd Armored Division's 122nd Maintenance Battalion near Gelnhausen, Germany. He is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Jones, 706 Edwards St., Longview, Tex.

LABELING CRACKDOWN

Food and Drug Administration officials last week announced plans to crack down on fats and oils labeling that suggest to the lay public that fats and oils are helpful in medical treatments. The FDA "cannot tolerate promotional material which encourages the public to engage in do-it-yourself medical treatment of potentially fatal ailments," officials said.

Four-color 'Texas Fun-tier' folder issued by State Highway Department

AUSTIN — No matter what the season, it's fun to vacation in or visit "Texas, America's Fun-tier," declares the latest travel publication of the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department.

The point should be well taken by visitors—once they take a look at the four-color folder, rich in information and abundant with color photographs showing the scenic, historic, and recreational wonders of the Lone Star State.

The folder, sporting a red-white-and-blue cover in line with the colors of the Lone Star State, is aptly titled "Texas, America's Fun-tier."

"This folder," said Tom H. Taylor, Director of the Travel and Information Division, "answers a need for providing hundreds of thousands of visitors with a compact and informative introduction to the vacation pleasures abounding in the Lone Star State. The folder is also designed for and will be made available for distribution to delegates attending conventions in Texas," Taylor said.

"We hope it will whet their traveling appetites to inquire more about 'America's Fun-tier.' Anticipating this need, we've listed the Travel Division, Texas Highway Department address on the folder inviting prospective visitors to make further inquiries about the Fun-tier State.

The folder emphasizes that Texas offers a brand of fun for everyone regardless of the season. It may be the mountain country of West Texas . . . the spacious areas of the Panhandle-Plains . . . the lush, green country of North Texas . . . those forested acres of East Texas . . . the hill and lake country of Central Texas . . . or the subtropical vacationlands of the Gulf Coast-South Texas region.

Choose spring, that magic time when a parade of wildflowers blanket hill and valley, and anglers and picnickers take to lake and forest. Or summer, when the special lure of the seashore is answered by swimmers and beachcombers. Or fall, ablaze with the red and gold of autumn foliage by day, and a hunter's moon at night. Or winter no sit-by-the-fire time, but a season when sport fishermen test rod and muscles against the flashing silver tarpon on the sunny Gulf.

Taylor said the new folder will be fulfilling another important need—an economical piece to provide to school children who are always clamoring for literature on Texas.

It's the Law in TEXAS

LEGAL RESPONSIBILITY

Suppose that you have hied Freddy to cut your grass, an he runs your new mower into your neighbor's hedge, thereby ruining the hedge. Are you responsible for the damages? Quite likely you are. Or let us suppose that you find you need some supplies for the evening meal. You ask Tom, your neighbor's son, to take your car and go to the store for them. On the way, Tom hits a pedestrian, seriously injuring him. Can you be held responsible? It is possible that you can.

In both instances, the boys were acting for you. These acts while performing those duties are, in the eyes of the law, your acts. You may be liable despite the fact that you may have cautioned Tom to drive carefully and he did not. The average individual expects to answer for his own actions. He does not usually consider that he may be responsible for the actions of other persons. That, however, is frequently the case.

You may ask another person to do something for you, that is, to act as your agent. You may pay him, or he may be doing it without compensation. You may ask him to buy or sell property for you. The action may be to negotiate an agreement for you with a third person.

If representations are made by your agent in performing the task which you assigned to him, you are responsible. In a like manner, you are responsible for the contract made by him while he was acting for you.

You may be held responsible for the acts of a person who customarily represents you even though he entered into a contract for you without your consent or approval. For example, you may have a partner in a business, and you and he have agreed that certain contracts shall be made only upon the signature of both of you.

Unknown to you and without your consent, your partner signs such a contract with a third person involving partnership business. If the person with whom this contract is made has no knowledge of the terms of your partnership agreement, you are responsible for the contract which your partner has made.

As the actions of your agent are considered to be your actions, you assume the responsibility of his doing them correctly.

Loans now easier for small business under program

LUBBOCK — The very small businessmen — chiefly operators of retail shops or service establishments — many of whom have had a hard time obtaining financing in the past — will now find it much easier to qualify for a Government loan, Jack Teddlie, Lubbock branch manager of the Small Business Administration said today.

The new, liberalized loan program was announced by President Johnson at White House ceremonies in Washington, May 26, which Mr. Teddlie attended, along with SBA Administrator Eugene P. Foley, Cortland J. Silver, Chairman of SBA's National Advisory Council, and other businessmen and Government officials.

The White House ceremonies, in connection with National Small Business Week, were the climax of a trip to Washington by Mr. Teddlie along with other SBA regional directors and branch managers to review the Agency's activities. The SBA's new small loan program reflects a new emphasis on helping the very small businesses, Teddlie said.

SBA Administrator Foley has frequently expressed the view that the Agency in the past has not done as much as it should to help the businessman at the lower end of the small business scale, he said. Yet they are often the businessmen most in need of financial help, and those who have the most difficulty in obtaining it.

The new small loan program was designed to meet this need, Teddlie said. Under this program SBA will make loans to small firms up to a maximum of $15,000 for as long as six years under greatly liberalized terms. Primary emphasis will be on the character of the applicant and his past record of meeting obligations.

Post couple attends reunion at Abilene and no application will be turned away merely because he lacks collateral to pledge as security for the loan.

"SBA believes that you have to take a chance on people," Teddlie said, "and we will take a calculated risk in cases where we believe the applicant has a favorable earnings potential sufficient to repay the loan."

"We have simplified our procedures and requirements for these loans. We believe it is important to help the many thousands of struggling small firms, as a means of creating new jobs, and stimulating the Nation's economy."

"It is clear," Teddlie said, "that the SBA will have an important role in President Johnson's war against poverty. More and more it is becoming apparent that a thriving small business community can do much toward taking up the slack in unemployment."

WONDERFUL PRIVILEGE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We are proud of our freedom... whether it be freedom of speech, freedom of assembly (the eyes have it), freedom of the press, or freedom of religion. Of all these, we sing: "Let freedom ring!"

Freedom of religion is not the property of the clergy, but of all the people. Every schoolboy knows that the Constitution says so. It guarantees freedom of worship... freedom to honor God according to one's own conscience. It is a precious gift.

How you worship is your business! That you must worship, ah, that's God's business! Choose the church to honor God with your fellowman... thanking God for this wonderful privilege. For, so often in other lands, such worship is forbidden and outlawed. Sunday is His day! Make it your day!

Arab U-Do-It gets of termites

Employees of the R. E. Cox Lumber Company have been appointed "AB EXPERTS" by Federal Medical Company, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind., and has these words to say:

You have seen flying termites around your home, or the transparent wings that they shed, chances are good that you have termites on your property this very year.

Don't shudder at the thought of expensive treatment to rid your property of these destructive insects. Thanks to the development of modern do-it-yourself products, the Arab U-Do-It, homeowners can now treat their own homes in less time at a minimum cost. The insecticide will not harm flowers, shrubs when used as directed, has no objectionable odor; it is simple to apply with a hose attachment—the Arab sprayer.

The insecticide contained in this product is one which professional exterminators use. It forms a protective chemical barrier around the home which kills termites on contact. Because they must return to the soil for moisture at least every 72 hours, those termites which are killed in a matter of days. In addition, the barrier prevents future termite infestation. The manufacturer will guarantee the product for years.

The insecticide also rids your shrubs and shrubs of insects.

Lollipops or kilowatt-hours of electricity... you get more for your money when you buy in quantity. Today, you use about four times as much electricity in your home as you did 25 years ago. So, understandably, your electric bill is higher.

But, the unit cost of electricity has gone down! Truly, your electric service is the biggest bargain in your family budget.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES
(This is the second in a series of articles on the importance of the Basic Four Food groups in our daily diets.)

The fruits and vegetable counters are getting more inviting each day. Have you noticed that more fresh fruits and fresh vegetables are on the market each week? Throughout the summer, these fresh foods will be available at varying prices. This will make it easier for homemakers to provide the four or more servings of fruits and vegetables needed daily. This particular food group has some daily specific requirements. One of the four servings should be a citrus fruit or other fruit or vegetable high in vitamin C. Another serving should be a dark green or dark yellow vegetable to provide vitamin A. The other two servings are "free choices."

Generally speaking, the citrus fruits are the best source of vitamin C. Three-fourths of a cup of grapefruit juice supplies a 25-year-old woman's daily need, whereas it takes two and one-fourth cups of tomato juice and more of other non-citrus juices.

One orange supplies as much or more vitamin C as two tomatoes. Broccoli is a vegetable high in vitamin C that can be served instead of a citrus fruit. One stalk provides the daily need, but it would take 10½ Brussels sprouts.

Vitamin C is the body's glue for vitamin C actually holds the body together. It is the material which helps hold the billions of body cells together. This explains why a deficiency may show up in any place in your body—in sore, tender and bleeding gums, loose teeth, pyorrhea, wounds healing slowly, or skin bruising easily. Vitamin C is very unstable and cannot be stored by the body. Thus, it is a daily must.

A good source of vitamin A can be selected on basis of color. The darker green or darker yellow a vegetable, the higher the vitamin A content and the better the food is for you. To illustrate this, it takes 35 stalks of green asparagus to meet the daily vitamin A requirement of a 25-year-old woman, while it takes 375 stalks of white asparagus.

One and one-half stalks of broccoli equal 3½ cups of green peas in vitamin A content. It takes twice as much winter squash to supply the day's needs as it takes diced carrots.

Color is the key to vitamin A foods and a little color makes a lot of difference. Vitamin A is particularly important for building and repairing body tissues, for the health of skin and inside lining of body cavities, and to vision.

Fruits and vegetables come in three forms—fresh, canned and frozen. You can save a substantial amount of dollars in your food budget every week if you figure the number of servings of a fruit or vegetable in each of these forms. No single form is considered a better buy. The season of the year, the availability of the fruits or vegetables for market and other factors influence the price. By dividing the number of servings of each form into the total cost it is possible to determine the best buys.

If you are interested in some bulletins related to buying and serving fruits and vegetables, contact the home demonstration agent at the courthouse—telephone 495-2050.

Open House —

The large guest room also has large closets with full length lowered doors.

Both full baths have built-in Klennex dispensers and recessed bath scale holders.

The large double front door with diamond pane amber glass is green antiqued on the outside. It opens into a quarried tile front entrance hall featuring green-gold wall paper.

The 14 by 18 foot office next to the kitchen in the west wing has a built-in bookcase covering virtually the entire west wall.

Next to it is the 8 by 16 foot utility room with the latest electronic Maytag washer and matching gas dryer, with a built-in swivel type ironing board, an enormous amount of built-in storage space, and an adjoining half-bath. The washer has a recessed floor drain under it for any overflow.

On the south side of the double garage, which also has a large amount of storage space, is an eight by 26 foot storage room with plenty of additional shelving and storage space.

The 24 by 35 foot tiled patio is enclosed on three sides and is so constructed that it can be completely enclosed later for a den. The patio has six-foot sliding glass doors onto it from both the master bedroom on the east and the office on the west, with a nine-foot sliding glass door opening from the living room to the north.

All the windows of this big comfortable home are diamond light wooden windows with thermo-panes (double glass).

The avenue side of the property is featured with a brick wall extending from the house from which black, iron driveway gates are hung. The white cedar side fence from the driveway to the alley has a scalloped top and is recessed on concrete.

The back fence is seven feet high and there's a slab parking area, hidden from the rest of the backyard by a fence, to park Mr. Marks' pickup truck.

Backyard features also include a Char-Glo gas-burning barbecue grill built of matching brick just off the patio and two gas yard lights. A third gas yard light is placed in front of the house.

There are telephone jacks in every room and built-in television wiring for both bedrooms, the living room, and the office.

There's also a 35-foot steel TV antennae tower, painted white, in the back yard.

Moisture forecast is welcome one

With long range weather forecasts for this area calling for three different storm periods in July, Garza's cotton outlook is termed in "pretty good shape" providing the forecasters deliver some showers.

The eastern half of the county is more in need of rain than other portions.

Lewis Herron, farm representative of the bank, said yesterday that additional moisture is needed for the feed crop, for pastures, and for stock water.

Some of the tanks in the eastern part of the county are now bone dry.

Storm periods are forecast for around July 5, 10, and 20, Herron said.

'Okay' is given sewer project

The City of Post's $60,000-plus sewer system expansion project passed inspection last Friday morning.

Representatives of the U. S. Public Health Service and the Texas State Department of Health inspected the project and gave it their agencies' official "okay", City Supt. Eddie Warren said.

Tying in of lateral lines already laid to the project is under way, and laying of new laterals in the Lincoln addition is scheduled to begin next week, the city superintendent said.

She listed some of the many fields in which atomic discoveries are now aiding the cause of mankind and explained some of the history of nuclear science development.

Since not all the nuclear scientific developments have come from English speaking peoples, she pointed out that a reading knowledge of German, French and Russian is now needed by today's nuclear scientists.

Guilty plea entered in theft case here

William H. Smith pleaded guilty June 26 in county court to a charge of theft in the taking of two tires and rims valued at $48 from the Post Wrecking Yard.

County Judge J. E. Parker fined Smith $100 and costs.

The theft took place June 22.

12th birthday occasion for swimming party

Nancy Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Norman, was honored with a swimming party at the City-County Swimming Pool on her 12th birthday last Friday.

After swimming, the group went to the home of Mrs. Tom Boucher for refreshments. Mrs. Boucher served sandwiches, potato chips, homemade ice cream and birthday cake.

Attending were Barbara Lucas, Peggy Bevers, Judy Norman, Sue Parrish, Mary Ann Norman, Mrs. Ira Lee Duckworth and the honoree.

Ellenburger strike finalized in county

A northwest Garza County discovery has been completed from the Ellenburger at Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 MidSeale, five miles east of Southland.

The well pumped 37 barrels of 36.8 gravity oil plus 65 per cent water from perforations at 8,798-809 feet in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 1,081-1.

The strike extends Ellenburger production to its northernmost point in the Permian Basin — 19 miles north of the Teas (Ellenburger) field.

The flat bottom boat is nothing new. Under the name of skiff or pram it has been around for ages. In Arkansas a good many years ago someone dubbed it the john boat and that name has stuck. No one knows exactly where the name originated. But it serves its purpose well.

In most of Texas about the only flat bottom boats are homemade affairs. Usually they are built for river use. Generally they are constructed of 1x12, caulked with a heavy application of tar on the inside and covered with green muck on the outside. They are the kind you find tied up under an overhanging willow on the river bank.

NOW, HOWEVER, the john boat, flat-bottom or square-end, as you might prefer to call it, is coming into its own in Texas.

You'll find most of them in East Texas. They are numerous on such lakes as Caddo, Texarkana and Lake of the Pines.

The john boat is an easy boat to handle. It can be transported on top of the car without too much trouble.

Today john boats are being made in both aluminum and fiberglass. Weights are about the same, usually slightly more than 100 pounds. Two men can handle one on top of a car, with relative ease. Especially the 12-foot models, which are lighter.

MOST PRACTICAL and popular john boat is the 14-footer. However, in Arkansas they use a great many of the 16 to 20 foot length for float fishing.

In fact, the 16-footer is almost a standard item on Arkansas streams. They have plenty of beam and ample freeboard. And they can be powered by comparatively light motors.

The john boat has ample space for carrying a duffle bag, an ice box and comfortable swivel seats for the fishermen. Three men can fish in comfort from one of these longer boats.

On East Texas lakes, however, the 12 and 14-foot boats are the most practical. In fact, they are ideal for the diversified fisherman—the man who doesn't care too much what kind of fish he catches.

ONE BIG advantage in these carp-toppers is that they can be hauled right to the bank of the lake or stream, thereby eliminating long rides across open water. If you know where there is a good tree-top expanse of water you can drive up to the shoreline, slide the boat in the water, and with a small motor be in your fishing spot in a matter of minutes.

After you reach your destination manipulation of the john boat is simple, although perfection takes considerable practice and experience.

I like to watch experts fish from these boats. They sit in the front end of the boat and with a short paddle and a stirring motion, move the boat along from tree to tree with the greatest of ease.

Most of these fishermen use a comparatively short cane pole. Rugged up with a line slightly shorter than the pole, they use two hooks. One may be baited with a minnow, another with a worm or a cricket.

They move up to a brush pile or a tree stump protruding from the water, drop the hook to the bottom and juggle the bait a couple of times. If there is a fish around it usually hits pretty quick. If not, the fishermen quietly move on to another location.

THESE FISHERMEN do not bother to string their catch. Most of the mhave wire baskets hanging over the sides of their boats. They drop the fish into these baskets.

In the course of a day they will get a mixed assortment of fish. Some will be bass, others large bream and crappie. Occasionally they'll pull up a good catfish or two.

This is an economical way to fish. Initial price of the boat is comparatively small. A 3-hp motor is ample and it doesn't cost too much. With a car-top boat, no trailer is involved.

Not only is transportation of the john boat simple, but so is its storage.

It can be suspended from the ceiling of your garage, completely out of the way. Then when needed, all you have to do is lower it on top of your car and tie it securely to your luggage rack.

John boats make excellent auxiliary boats. As such they certainly have earned their place in Texas.

Hackberries harbor many pests.

Your name on book matches will be read too!

Dodgers blank Tigers, 6-0, to win Little League title

First National Bank's Dodgers blanked the Bob Collier Drug Tigers, 6 to 0, Monday night to clinch the Little League championship for the first time.

The scramble now is for second place in the league standings, with playoff games scheduled to continue through next Tuesday night.

The Little League season officially ended with the Red Sox-Yankee game Monday night, in which the Brown Bros. Red Sox defeated the Postex Mill Yankees, 4 to 2.

The Dodger-Tiger game, in which Manager Pat N. Walker's Dodgers clinched the title, was the first of a number of playoff games that had been postponed by rain. Bob Pace, league president, said the Little League All-Star roster will be selected tonight and will be announced at next Tuesday night's games. The All-Stars will represent the Post league in the district Little League tournament at Lamesa July 23, 24 and 25.

Larry Mills limited the Tigers to one hit, a second inning single by Ron Hair, in pitching the Dodgers to their 6-0 win Monday night. Mills chalked up 13 strikeouts in the six-inning game.

The Dodgers collected seven hits off Tiger starter L. Bilberry, who pitched three innings, and D. Vargas, who also hurled three innings. Bilberry was the loser.

Butch Heaton pitched the Red Sox to their 4-2 win over the Yankees Monday night, with R. McAfee being charged with the loss. The Red Sox scored all four of their runs in the first frame, while the Yankees scored their two in the fifth.

Jay Bird pitched the Red Sox to an 8 to 4 win over the Yankees Tuesday night, with Randy Levens absorbing the loss.

In Tuesday night's second game, the Cardinals defeated the Corvairs 6 to 3, with Nichols the winning pitcher and Branson the loser.

Saturday night, the Dodgers trampled the Cardinals, 10 to 1, with Kyle Josey pitching a six-hitter. Kim Wilks, the losing pitcher, yielded only seven hits to the Dodgers, but bases on balls and fielding errors proved costly.

Babe Ruth All-Stars tune up for tourney

Post's Babe Ruth League All-Stars will go to Floydada Friday night for a tune-up game in preparation for the district tournament to be held in Brownfield later this month.

The Post All-Stars lost to a team of Floydada teenagers, 8 to 6, in a tune-up game played here, with Ronnie Pierce and Lewis Hise doing the pitching for the locals.

Other members of the All-Star team seeing action were Davis Heaton, Roy Sappington, Donnie Windham, Duke Altman, Jerry Sullivan, Paul Walker, Gary Nichols, Joe Hudman, Larry Johnson, Mike Horton, Clyde Cash and Ronnie Nichols.

The regular Babe Ruth League season came to an end last Thursday night with the champion White Sox defeating the second place Indians, 5 to 3.

Ronnie Pierce, White Sox pitcher, had the Indians shut out until the top of the seventh, when they scored their three runs.

Crenshaw led off for the Indians by grounding out, but Norman Tanner was safe on an error and scored on Jerry Sullivan's double. After Danny Cooper had flied out, Davis Heaton doubled and scored on a passed ball after George Torres had walked. Nick Pantoja struck out to end the game.

The White Sox scored a run in the first inning without getting a hit, two bases on balls, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly accounting for the tally.

The Sox added another run in the fourth when Dennis Altman's single scored Jackie Hair from second base after Hair and Mike Burk had walked.

Three hits, two bases on balls and an error enabled the winners to score three runs in the bottom of the sixth.

Regardless of the latest "bare" look the Pep Squad will be wearing the same uniforms won last year. So all freshmen and those interested in becoming pep squad members should order their uniforms from Maxine's this week. The deadline is tomorrow. If anyone has any questions or problems just call Coach Stockton at 2106.

The Newby family will leave Saturday for Grand Lake where they will spend a leisurely two weeks sailing. Yes, the hole in the bottom of their sail boat, compliments of the Senior class, has been repaired after many long tedious hours. Anyway, I'm sure they'll have a wonderful time.

Peggy Thorn has joined forces at the hospital. She started work this week.

The following youths of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will leave Saturday to attend the annual youth assembly at McMurry College at Abilene: Dee Ann Walker, Carolyn Carlisle, Sandra Greenwood, Ricky Welch, Tony Hutto, Paul Walker and Bill Duncan.

I thought that those of you who take an occasional forbidden after-hour-dip in the pool at night might be interested in knowing that tonight for the first time it will be legal. Yes, the ole swimming hole will be open from 8 til 10 every Thursday night.

Teddy Scott and Joe Hall spent last Friday and Saturday at Lake Thomas skiing. Some people have really got it tuff.

Carol Smith has joined Diane Kiker at the Golden Age Nursing Home. They should really live n things up.

Yvonne Moreland and Wyanza Windham returned home last Thursday after spending about two wonderful weeks on a vacation to California with Yvonne's parents. They went to Disneyland, which everyone should do sometime, Los Angeles, Knott's Berry Fam, Hollywood, the Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam, and although it was a little out of the way, they stopped by to see Lynn Edwards who is working in her grandparents theatre in Galun, N. M. this summer. I imagine the whole show went to pieces.

Becky Thompson left last Saturday for Alabama to spend about two months. Wouldn't that be the life, laying around on the sun n y

May bond sales in Garza $7,181

Sales of E and H savings bonds during May in Garza County totaled $7,181, according to Irby G. Metcalf Jr., chairman of the County Savings Bonds Committee.

The May sales brought the county's total for 1964 to $61,268, which is 35.6 per cent of the year's sales goal of $170,000.

Savings bonds sales in Texas for the first five months of 1964 totaled $63,926,046, which represents 42.6 per cent of the state's goal of $150,000,000.

"U. S. savings bonds, though young in years, already have served four generations of Americans and offer opportunity for generations of Americans yet unborn," Chairman Metcalf stated.

Computer bookkeeping explained to RMA here

Automation of bookkeeping is the next automation step, members of the Retail Merchants Association of Post were told at their weekly credit luncheon in Levi's Restaurant last Thursday noon.

Lowell Luther of Lubbock, branch manager of National Cash Register Co., was the speaker.

"We have automated to large extent our factories, our farms and our retailing (through self service)," he declared. "I want to tell you what has been accomplished in the last seven years to help the merchant automate his credit business."

Luther explained that his company now makes cash register tape attachments so that information can be placed on the tape with full information about the purchase at the time it is made without the necessity of transferring it by hand into a set of books.

The tapes then are run through a computer and the merchant has his complete business sales record totaled with as many breakdowns as he requires.

Setting up such a system to fit the merchant's requirement is called programming, Luther explained. Computers cost from $20,000 up to $225,000 for such business operations, Luther said, but it is possible for several firms to form a "cooperative" and purchase one computer together for joint use.

Computer service also is offered where the merchant is simply charged computer time for the compilation of his cash register tapes, or whatever other program he desires.

Luther said that one service station in this West Texas area offered a varying sales commission to employe on gasoline, tires, oil, accessories, etc. Each sale rung up on the cash register produced all this coded on tape.

The station operation at a cost of $75 per month had these tapes run through a computer to determine each employe sales commission with no other bookkeeping required.

Luther also explained that some merchants would need only bookkeeping machines for their figures. He pointed out how many different requirements could be "programmed" for a computer through the use of cash register tapes.

JULY 4th INDEPENDENCE DAY

Their rallying cry was the stirring ultimatum of Patrick Henry: "Give me liberty or give me death" . . . their signal, "the shot heard 'round the world."

They were the spirit of 1776, a spirit that has since transcended the times that nurtured it, and the nation that gave it birth. It is a spirit that is timeless and universal, the essence of man's need to be free and the master of his destiny. This spirit of 1776 won independence for the American colonies and forged them into a great Nation; it lives on in 1964, in the hearts of all men who love freedom, everywhere.

Friends, relatives visit Mrs. Mason in Hospital

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
Mrs. Lewis Mason received a rattlesnake bite on her right hand Saturday afternoon while gathering squash at her home southwest of Post. Lewis took her to Post and she was taken to Lubbock by ambulance to Methodist Hospital. We have heard that she is doing all right. We wish for her a quick recovery and hope she soon will be back home.

The news we have about Bob Baker Monday is good. He is able to talk with his family and they are all pleased with the progress he is making toward recovery. We hope he will soon be able to come home. It was two weeks ago today that he was injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Cranford and son of Olney, Ill., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theibert McBride. The Auvy McBride family were Sunday visitors.

The Glenn Huntley family arrived last week from California for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton Huntley and Mr. and Mrs. Elva Peel. Glenn returned to California the last of the week and will leave soon for six months in Japan. Mrs. Huntley and children will remain here.

Jerry Bush has been ill with the measles — the kinds that makes anyone feel terrible. We hear he has been quite ill but was feeling better at the last report. We hope he will soon be well again.

Mrs. Maud Thomas visited Sunday afternoon with the Fred Gossett. The two ladies visited Mrs. Lucy Gossett in Post.

Jack Fluitt and Vivian McWhirt visited in Abilene Sunday with her grandfather who is a hospital patient there.

Mrs. James Stone and her sister, Mrs. Harry Krizan of Lubbock visited in Abilene part of last week with their mother, Mrs. Minnie Stanley.

Mrs. Delwin Fluitt and children and Mrs. Joe Smith and children drove to Seymour last Wednesday to get Mrs. Fluitt's mother, Mrs. Clinton Edwards. They drove to Possum Kingdom for a few days returning home Friday.

Carter White and Cynthia visited Sunday afternoon with his grandfather, J. W. Brown, a patient in Methodist Hospital.

Among the many relatives and friends going to Lubbock to see how Mrs. Lewis Mason is doing were Mr. and Mrs. Mason McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Fluitt and Mr. and Mrs. Elva Peel. We don't have all the other names.

The Elvus Davis family spent the weekend in Plainview visiting the Glenn Hill family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Glasscock of Dallas are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor, and family.

Henry Lynch was a Sunday dinner guest of the Elmer Cowdres. Glenn Davis accompanied the Oscar Grays to Rotan Saturday. Oscar and Glenn attended a paint horse show and Mrs. Gray visited friends and relatives.

Mrs. Carl Fluitt and granddaughter, Belinda, visited in Tahoka Sunday afternoon with her mother, Capt. and Mrs. Don Brown and family of Ft. Benning, Ga., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMahon.

Julie Stone spent part of last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan, while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stone, and sons spent a few days in Red River, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith and family were Sunday evening visitors of the Delwin Fluitt family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan were Sunday luncheon guests of the Mason McClellans.

Miss Barbara Davis of Alpine is here visiting Harold Wayne Mason. She was a Monday overnight guest of the Ray McClellans.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey and family visited Sunday evening after church with the Mack Ledbetter family.

Mrs. Ray McClellan and Mrs. Grover Mason visited Mrs. Lewis Mason in the hospital Monday.

THE GRAHAM HD Club met in the home of Maurice Bush with Lucille Bush as co-hostess June 23. Roll call was answered with "My Plans for the Summer." Francis Cochran gave the ten-minute demonstration on "Reading a Pattern Guide Sheet." Innis Thuet gave the THDA program. Both programs were interesting and informative. The club voted to pay a share of the cost of having the fair book printed. Club members will give their secret pals gifts at the Rosebud party at the next meeting. The names will not be revealed until the Christmas party. Re-

FAMILY GATHERING
The five children and 13 grandchildren of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. A. (Shorty) Pierce visited in the home of the eldest daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen, Saturday. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Russell and two daughters of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Young and three children of Sacramento, Calif. Mrs. Tom Bailey and daughter of Fresno, Calif., and the George Pierce family of Post.

freshments were served to guests. Mrs. Maud Thomas and Mrs. Johnnie Francis and members Mmes. Alma McBride, Innis Thuet, Joann Nolan, Francis Cochran, Jewell Parrish, Benita Maxey, Rene Fluitt, Carolyn Gray, Iris McMahon, Sue Maxey, Nita McClellan, Orabeth White, Viva Davis. The club will meet Friday, July 10 instead of Thursday because some of the members who are going to Texas Tech couldn't be back in time. Dorothy Cowdrey will be hostess in her home assisted by Myrtle Peel.

Growth of public education told

AUSTIN — The story of public education's growth in Texas is told in succinct, statistical form by "64 Significant Facts About Texas Schools," a recent publication by the Texas State Teachers Association.

The leaflet contrasts the latest available official school facts with those of a decade or more ago to reflect the striking expansion of the state's school system.

Facts about how Texas public schools work, how they are financed, who controls them, the continuing need for teachers, and predictions of further education growth are among the items in the pocket-size folder.

"64 Facts" is available in quantity for service clubs, civic organizations, parent-teacher associations, school groups, and others interested in public education. Requests should be sent to: 64 Facts, Texas State Teachers Association, 316 West 12th St., Austin.

Committee hears Mahon on request for weevil funds

WASHINGTON D. C. — George Mahon appeared Monday before the Senate Committee on Appropriations to urge the inclusion in a Senate money bill of $1,000,000 to be used for the purpose of combatting the advance of the boll weevil into the High Plains area.

The President last week sent the $1 million budget request to Congress for the boll weevil program. Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, had asked the President and the Secretary of Agriculture several weeks ago to approve the request for the necessary funds. The funds would be available only matched by a similar sum from area farmers, and High Plains farm groups have made such commitments.

The House of Representatives on May 20, despite the absence of a budget request, approved for the same purpose a sum of $200,000 in its Agriculture Appropriation bill. If the Senate approves the increase of $800,000 above the House bill, it will then be sent back to the House for further consideration.

Actions taking place in Washington are an outgrowth of the discovery last spring that the boll weevil had wintered on the fringes of the High Plains. Farmers became concerned and formed a boll weevil committee to push for action. Last April Mahon joined an area farm group, backed by the Plains Cotton Growers, and appeared with them before the House Appropriations committee to ask support for a cooperative program between farmers and the Department of Agriculture to combat the weevil threat.

In view of the President's supplemental budget request, Mahon said he is optimistic that favorable action will be taken in the Senate and that the funds will be provided in the final version of the bill to be worked out in a House-Senate conference.

POULTRY INSPECTIONS

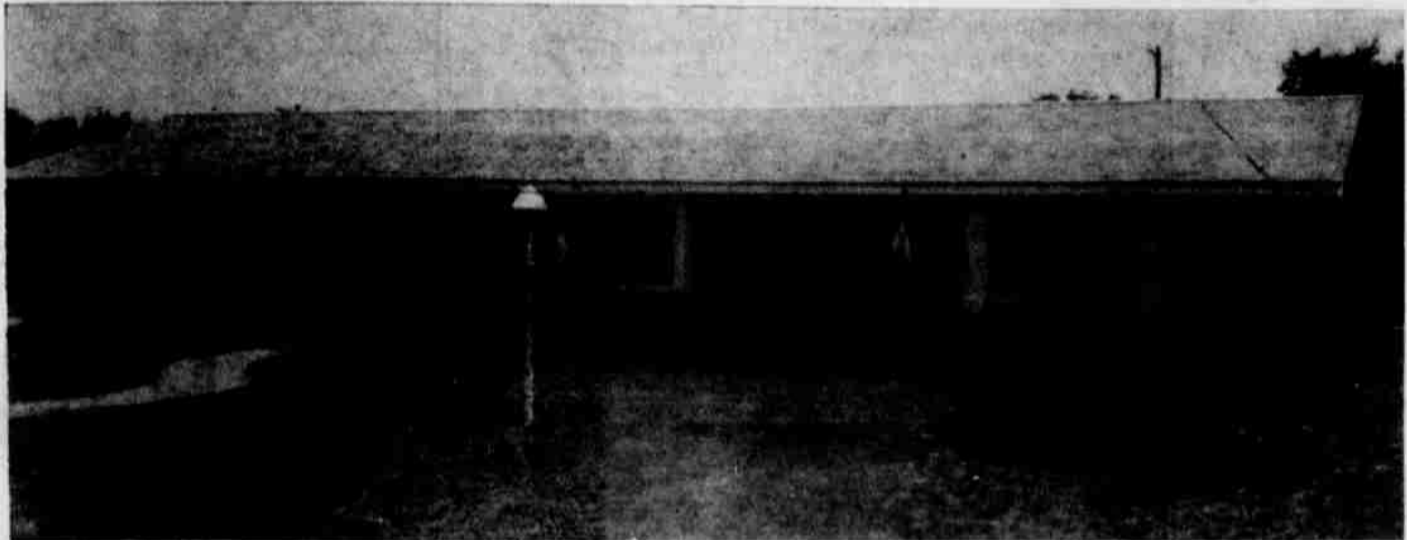

Five years ago the mandatory inspection of all poultry moving interstate and foreign commerce became effective. The first year, USDA under a voluntary program, inspected one and two-thirds billion pounds of ready-to-cook poultry. Mandatory inspection upped this to four and three-quarters billion. Today, six and a quarter billion pounds are federally inspected.

DISEASES ON YOUNG COTTON

Seedling diseases and blights have created havoc in a lot of cotton in Garza County during recent weeks. These conditions have been over much of the South Plains area this spring.

Weather to replant cotton or to keep what you had has seemed to be the potent question the past two or three weeks, and of course it's a gamble the first frost won't come early. If you replant the latter part of June or the first of July.

In addition to the seedlings diseases which cause sores and root rot conditions, two leaf spotting diseases are prevalent. These are Ascochyta and Phizictonia blight.

Ascochyta blight is characterized by leaf spots with purple rings around the spot margins. Inside the purple margin, the center is white—often with visible tiny black dots. After the recent rains, Ascochyta blight has cropped up in many fields. It is a "wet weather disease" and the warm dry weather will stop its spread. However, plants hit by this disease may completely defoliate before they recover.

Rhizoctonia blight is characterized by leaf spots similar to those caused by Ascochyta blight. Difference in the two is that when the disease is Phizictonia blight, the spot within the purple margin is tan-colored. As with Ascochyta blight, cotton will usually recover and make rapid growth if warm dry weather prevails and the root system is healthy.

HEAVY FISHING OF FARM PONDS RECOMMENDED

Although your farm pond is well-managed, properly stocked and fertilized, you may still be catching only a few fish—small ones at that. If so, you're probably not fishing your pond heavily enough, says Wallace G. Klussmann, wildlife conservation specialist, Texas

A&M University. If a pond is not fished heavily, the fish population will rapidly deplete the food supply, resulting in stunted fish. Research has shown that a surface acre of pond water that is well-managed needs from 300 to 500 man hours of fishing each year to keep fish production at a maximum, Klussmann points out.

Fertilized water is like fertilized soil, says the specialist. Fertile water will produce a larger crop of fish just as fertile land will produce more cotton or corn. Therefore, the harvest of fish from fertile water can and should be greater than from non-fertile water.

Fishing should begin about a year after a pond has been stocked. This will allow each species to reach sexual maturity and spawn. Klussmann says it is advisable to fish the pond heavily after this.

Sunfish have a tendency to over-populate farm ponds so as many as possible should be caught. For every bass or catfish removed, at least 10 to 12 sunfish should be taken out. Small sunfish that are caught should not be returned to the water, adds the specialist.

Alternating periods of good and poor fishing are to be expected and even the best fishermen will not always catch fish. Water temperature, availability of natural food, and seasonal activities of fish will influence fishing success.

Fishing conditions will usually improve if you pond is fished heavily enough. If your family cannot fish the pond as heavily as it should be, invite your friends to fish, suggests the specialist. They will enjoy the occasion and later benefits should result.

WEEKEND GUESTS

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Lane were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane, of Stamford.

Car insurance rates to drop

Automobile owners in Garza County and elsewhere in Texas will pay less for auto insurance beginning Aug. 1.

State Insurance Board and industry spokesmen agreed on the new rates, which will average out 1.2 per cent cheaper statewide than last year.

The board estimated motorists will save $3,000,000 in premiums compared with 1963. However, rates will vary from area to area.

Liability insurance rates reflect a statewide increase of 3.8 per cent, and medical payment coverage will increase about 8.7 per cent. Collision coverage will be reduced .5 per cent.

Overall reduction in rates is due primarily to a 15.5 per cent cut in comprehensive coverage, due to low wind and hail storm damages last year.

Veterans of World War I to convene

HOUSTON—All World War I veterans, their families and friends, are invited to the state convention of their organization and Ladies Auxiliary to be held in Houston July 16-19 at the Rice Hotel.

All of the 200 barracks (posts) of World War I veterans throughout Texas are being urged to send large delegations.

Attendance, however, is not limited to members of World War I barracks and their auxiliaries, but the invitation is extended to all World War I veterans, members of other veterans' organizations and the general public.

Chartered by Congress in 1958, Veterans of World War I of USA, Inc., has 200,000 members nationally and 10,000 in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hayes are spending this week in Oklahoma City, visiting in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Beach. They are also visiting his mother, Mrs. Alta Blackwood, who is hospitalized.

Held in St. Paul, Minn.

Garza sheriff attends national conference

Sheriff L. E. Claborn Jr. and Mrs. Claborn returned last Friday night from St. Paul, Minn., where they had attended the 24th Annual Informative Conference of the National Sheriffs' Association.

The Claborns were accompanied by Terry County Deputy Sheriff Eddie Rowe and wife of Brownfield. En route home, they stopped in Joliet, Ill., where Sheriff Claborn picked up a prisoner, Cabell Alfred Beckner, who is under grand jury indictment in Garza County for forgery and passing.

The Claborns and their guests went to the conference a day early so they could see the baseball game at Minneapolis between the Minnesota Twins and the Detroit Tigers of the American League. Sheriff Claborn visited briefly with Detroit first baseman Norman Cash in the Detroit dugout.

Approximately 1,000 sheriffs, deputies and other law enforcement officials along with their families attended the conference.

The visiting lawmen were greeted Monday morning by Minnesota Governor Carl Rolvaag. The morning's principal address was delivered by Sheriff Richard Ogilvie of Chicago, Ill., who has gained the reputation of effectively controlling the Cook County crime syndicates.

HOUSTON GUESTS

Mrs. T. B. Johnston and son, Dean, spent last week visiting relatives and friends in Post. The Johnstons make their home in Houston after living a number of years in Post. Dean is employed with a construction firm as a carpenter.

ling the Cook County crime syndicates.

Other highlights of the conference included:

1. Twenty exhibits displaying the latest in law enforcement equipment, including a complete jail cell.

2. Panel discussions on the problems facing sheriffs today, particularly in rural areas.

3. A workshop on "Local Government and the County Jail," conducted by the National Jail Association.

4. A guest appearance by Andy Griffith, star of stage, screen and Andy Taylor on "The Andy Griffith Show."

New area pastor

The Rev. Ray Forbes, of Vera, is the new pastor of Grassland and Draw churches, having been assigned the pastorate at the recent west Texas Methodist Conference in Amarillo. The Grassland Draw churches have been in the same charge this year.

"Daddy, you forgot...every litter bit hurts!"

It happens in the best of families! Dad takes the kids out fishing and forgets that every litter bit hurts... in more ways than one! Floating litter is a safety hazard. Litter causes pollution of waterways. Litter causes good fishing spots to be closed down... spoils the natural beauty of America's parks and recreation areas. And that's not the worst of it! The good citizenship habits you want your children to have go overboard when they see you toss litter away. So, Dad, Mom, everybody—lead the way to the litterbag. Carry one in your boat and car. On camping trips, take litter out with you. Make it a family project to Keep America Beautiful!

Holy Cross pastor leaves for visit

The Rev. Richard T. Casey, pastor of Holy Cross Church, left Lubbock by plane Tuesday for Lowell, Mass., to spend a month visiting his mother and other relatives. While Father Casey is away, the Rev. Edward Clinton of Slaton will conduct Sunday morning services at the church and the Rev. James Erickson, also of Slaton, will conduct evening services there. Father Clinton will also be in charge of the Blessed Sacrament Church at Wilson while Father Casey is away. Weekday Mass will not be held at the Post church until the pastor returns.

Prosecution funds are sought by Department

AUSTIN — Officials of the Attorney General Department have asked for more funds to prosecute cases involving slant-hole oil wells and Billie Sol Estes. They reason that judgments already awarded in the suits have brought the state $577,000 or $3 for each $1 spent. In 1963 the Legislature provided $82,000 to handle these suits in fiscal 1964 and 1965, now, the department wants $100,000 for 1966 and 1967.

Bishop is visitor

CLAIREMONT — Bishop Lawrence M. De Falco of the Catholic Diocese of Amarillo, visited St. John's Catholic Church here Sunday. The bishop came here during a visit to St. Mary's Parish, Spur, of which St. John's is a mission. Many children and adults from Jayton and Clairmont received the sacraments of Holy Communion and Confirmation while the bishop was here Sunday.

RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Sweeten returned to Hermosa Beach, Calif., Tuesday after spending several days visiting friends and relatives here.

MOVE TO NEW HOME

Mrs. L. E. McBride and daughters, Vada and Vearl McBride, moved into their newly purchased home at 208 Mohawk Drive last week.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Wm. Zetzman, who underwent surgery recently at a Dallas hospital, is reported to be improving.

VISITS DAUGHTER

Mrs. Mary Hudman returned home Sunday from Charlottesville, Va., where she had visited her daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Garrison.

In England it was unlawful from 1666 to 1786 to bury a corpse in a shroud made of anything other than wool.
