Disaster Payments Exceed $2 Million

Local ASCS Releases Figures, Deadlines

John Fuston of the Bailey County ASCS reports that to date the office has paid $2,795,746.00 in disaster payments for the 1974 program. He said he hoped to have all payments made by April 1.

April 1, 1975 has been established as the final date for wheat and barley acreage to be grazed and still be expected to produce a normal grain crop. Anyone who plans to graze wheat after April 1, needs to report the acres to the ASCS office before April 1. This acreage that will be grazed out will be excluded from disaster consideration for 1975 crops and will not be charged with any production, if timely reported.

If an acreage of wheat or barley is not reported for grazing, but is grazed past April 1, prosecution charged for those acres will be larger of the per acre yield on harvested acres or the established farm yield.

Only if farmers plan to graze wheat or barley after April 1

Phil Campbell announced a decrease, effective April 1, in the interest rate on U.S. Department of Agriculture price support commodity loans and storage facility and drying equipment loans. The decreased rate of interest

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—House members have sent the Senate a bill limiting penalties for speeding up to 70 miles per hour to a maximum $25 fine with no insurance rate penalties.

Representatives also approved extension of the 55 mph speed limit, but did not provide the necessary 100 votes to place it into immediate effect. The present limit, passed more than a year ago in conformity with federal energy-saving mandates, expires at the end of this month.

At issue is whether Texas again goes along with the federally-imposed limit and retains eligibility for allocation of $303 million in federal highway funds this year.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he fears "there is a very definite possibility" the fine ceiling for speeds over-55 and up-to-70 (the old limit) may endanger federal funds for the highways.

Briscoe said he would prefer a simple extension of the 55 mph speed bill as an energy saver, as well as a life saver and a highway aid saver.

However, the Governor stopped short of saying he would veto the fine bill, which provides for maximum penalties, including court costs, of $25 without charge to a driver's violation record.

Representatives hope to force the Senate to go along with the fine limitation by withholding 100 votes from the 55 mph bill until both measures are cleared by the upper chamber.

REGISTRATION PLAN PASSED

All Texas voters will have to re-register between October 1 and January 31 under a bill passed by the Senate last week.

The relatively non-controversial bill sets up a new computer-policed permanent voter registration system for the state.

Once all voters are signed up again, local registrars every two years would send out new certificates automatically. To help weed out ineligible, the certificates will be mailed in non-forwardable envelopes so they will be returned if the voter has moved.

Up to 30 per cent on current voter rolls are believed to be ineligible, mainly by reason of having moved, according to Secretary of State Mark White Jr.

A computerized file will be maintained in the secretary of state's office to help prevent this situation from occurring again under the new law and local registrars will be compensated for removal of ineligible names as well as for addition of valid new voters to rolls.

READABILITY DESIRED

Governor Briscoe and Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie are backing legislation to make health and accident insurance policies "perfectly clear" to the insured.

The bill would require presentation to each policy holder of a simplified explanation of its terms.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Ronald Coleman of El Paso, also seeks to establish minimum standards for health insurance coverage, including a basic level of compensation and uniform application from one policyholder to another.

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court held Texas Railroad Commission is without authority to set aside natural gas contracts between Lo-Vaca Gathering Company and Texas Utilities Fuel Company and others.

The Court's 8-0 opinion reversed lower courts which had held the regulatory agency does have authority to allocate gas in times of shortage.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals set an April 1 hearing on a Southwestern Bell Telephone Company appeal from an Austin district judge's ruling which stopped a scheduled $45 million boost in long distance rates inside the state.

AG OPINIONS

Counties are required to pay reasonable expenses of courts of inquiry for which fees are provided, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• Texas Board of Pharmacy may post a sign informing the public that a prescription department of a retail outlet has been closed on Board orders.

• Probationary and continuing contract provisions of employment in the education code are not applicable to public junior college teachers.

• Deposit of mental hospital patients' money in institution trust funds is constitutional; but the provision may be voidable by inmate action attacking validity of the deposit contract.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Mary Ann Hefner of Austin has been selected Texas Water Rights Commission secretary, succeeding Mrs. Audrey Strandman who served 47 years with the agency, second longest tenure in state government.

Governor Briscoe appointed Renal B. Rosson of Snyder his staff legislative analyst, succeeding James Cotten of Weatherford who resigned.

The Governor also appointed Abelardo Villarreal of Alice to his Committee on Aging, and reappointed James T. Hunt of Sonora to Texas Industrial Commission.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby picked Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler as chairman of the new Senate Natural Resources Committee standing energy sub-committee.

Governor Briscoe designated 10 members of the Teachers' Professional Practices Commission.

SHORT SNORTS

A major new Texas Republican party group, "Associated Republicans of Texas," has been formed to promote election of local GOP candidates and legislators.

The Democratic Party's state rules committee met to talk about a program to increase voter participation, but most of the witnesses wanted to discuss party preference primary legislation.

Governor Briscoe asked designation of Johnson, Cottle, King, Jeff Davis and Childress counties as disaster areas due to weather problems.

John Tower United States Senate

The Senate is in the process of making a badly needed revision of our present farm laws to accommodate today's agricultural needs. The Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry has now completed hearings on bills that would alter the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973.

When that bill became law, the level of target prices and loan rates reflected the costs of production at that time. But the law did not foresee the steep and unexpected rise in production expenditures that took place last year. As a result, the 1973 farm program has not been able to provide the incentives which today would allow the farmer to continue producing while meeting his expenses.

The 1973 Act was designed to let the free market determine prices through the law of supply and demand, which I think is a sound premise. But the law fell short by not permitting the fundamental tools of the commodity loan program to work. The loan is intended to be a marketing tool that will enable farmers to sell not just at harvest time, but over a period of months, thereby taking into consideration the normal price fluctuations in the market.

The last two crop years graphically were high enough to cause a step up in production and to meet rising costs. In 1974, the situation was virtually reversed. Costs caught up with prices and swept past. Today, low market prices, coupled with uncertain conditions and a tremendous lack of confidence, are causing wide differences in the planting intentions of individual farmers.

I believe farmers prefer the price and profit mechanisms of the free market to direct government control. I'm opposed to a return to the policies that lead to government-held commodities which serve as a price depressant. Loan prices, therefore, must not be set at such high levels that overproduction will be encouraged because this hurts both the government and the farmer. Loan and target prices must be set at realistic levels - levels that are fair to farmers, taxpayers and consumers.

This nation has been blessed with the most efficient and dependable producers of food anywhere in the world. If we are to continually place new demands on producers, we must recognize and respond to the needs of the farming community.

Farmers and consumers must work together to hold down the price of food. This will require an end to the pointing of fingers, and a mutual understanding of the problems facing both producers and consumers.

The consuming public has to realize that a farmer must be able to make a livable return on his investment if food production is to remain high. The farmer, like any other businessman, will cut costs by cutting back on production if he is losing money on the crops he sells.

Agriculture is America's most important business, and Americans are the most important customers of American agriculture. Exports are important as a source of farm income and as a partial solution to our balance of payments problems, but our farm policy must be tailored to the conditions in the domestic marketplace.

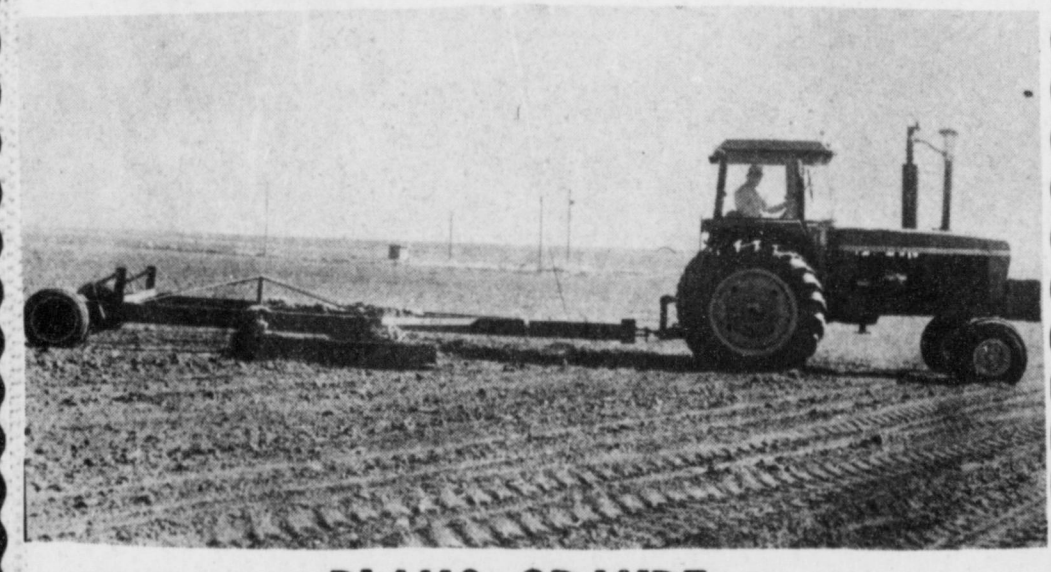

National dependency on agriculture goes far beyond the farm. Agribusiness is the nation's largest industry. It provides jobs for 40 percent of the work force in some sectors, including retail outlets, packaging, transportation, as well as the manufacturing of fertilizer, tractors, tires and other farm-related products.

The government's involvement in agriculture now goes far beyond the programs administered by the Department of Agriculture. Such agencies as the Federal Power Commission, the Federal Energy Administration and the Environmental Protection Agency play increasingly important roles, as do those agencies involved in foreign relations and trade.

We can have a free market system in agriculture without having a complete separation of government involvement. The free market concept can and will work with a farm program that provides production incentives and protection devices. A sound farm bill can provide incentives and provide safety devices, and still prevent government acquisition of huge stockpiles of commodities. This is the kind of agricultural program that I am working for now.

do they need to report the acres. They may substitute any program crop, wheat, grain sorghum, barley, corn or cotton, for any other program crop and be eligible for disaster consideration and history protection. However, disaster consideration for cotton is limited to the planted acres of cotton within the farm allotment.

They may substitute any other planted crop such as soybeans, sunflowers, navy beans or other non-program crops for history protection. These crops will not make the farm eligible for disaster consideration.

The County Committee has approved transfers of 1975 cotton allotments in and out of the county by sale or lease for 1975. Allotments can be transferred to non-allotment farms. Transfers will be made on 1975 payment yield. The final date for transfers is April 1, 1975. If farmers are going to plant more cotton than is allotted for the farm and will not be underplanted on wheat or feed grains, the ASCS office suggests that they request an increase in the allotment. The County Committee has some acreage that has been released to them by farmers that are not going to plant their cotton allotment. Also, the office hopes that they will get some reapportioned acres from the State if they have the acres requested by the farmers. April 1 is the final date for filing a request to receive released acreage.

Farmers who have not turned in production on cotton for 1974 need to do so now. If not they will be considered as having zero production in figuring the 1975 cotton yield.

Staking and measurement service will be offered by the ASCS office as in the past at the following rates: staking service - $20.00 per farm plus $5 each plot; measurement service - $15.00 per farm plus $5.00 each plot.

Farmers need to notify the ASCS office when they buy, sell, or lease additional acreage or change their farming operation in any way.

The 1975 crop year has begun and Fuston said they were hoping for a better crop year than in 1974. Should you have a disaster in 1975 be sure to come into the county office and file for disaster credit before destroying the crop or making any other use of the land. Farmers must have an appraisal made before destroying or grazing the crop. The crop must be farmed in a workman like manner and certification of acres must be correct. These three reasons were the main reason that several thousands of dollars were lost by Bailey County farmers in 1974.

Mrs. Harold Bugby Speaks To Art Association

The Muleshoe Art Association met in the Community Room of the Muleshoe State Bank Tuesday, March 11 at 2 p.m. Guest artist was Mrs. Harold Bugby (Olive Vandruff). She is a well known artist and is the Curator at the West Texas State University Museum in Canyon, Texas. Mrs. Bugby's program was "Art Appreciation for the Viewer and the Doer". She explained some things in reference to painting, which were: painting is a moment of life caught for eternity; a painting is the accurate copy of the appearance of a particular moment; a work of art is a corner of creation; a painting can be the signature of a man's soul; artist should be the seeing eye dog for a myopic civilization; and there is no other form of communication so revealing or so expressive of man, as his art. She explained viewers too often look at art with an unseeing eye.

MRS. JESS PENDERGRASS

Mrs. Pendergrass Is Profile In Courage

Mrs. Jess Pendergrass is a living example as to how the Arthritis Foundation helps millions of people afflicted with arthritis.

TOPS Has Meeting

TOPS Chapter 34 met Thursday, March 13 at 6 p.m. in the meeting room of Bailey County Electric.

Mrs. Glenn Stroud and Cecelia Lopez tied for queen. First runner-up was Alice Angeley and second runner-up was Mrs. Leon Spears.

Mrs. Roy Clark received a hairset for six consecutive weeks of weight loss.

Mrs. J. J. McDonald and Mrs. Raleigh Mason received gifts from the birthday box. Mrs. J. O. Parker received a charm for her 52 week attendance. Mrs. J. D. Spurgeon was reported out of the hospital.

The members elected officers and they are Mrs. Bobby Newman, leader; Mrs. J.J. McDonald, vice leader; Mrs. Owen Jones, secretary; and Mrs. Don Martin, treasurer. Other officers will be appointed by the leader at a later date.

For six years, Mrs. Pendergrass was confined to a wheel chair because of crippling arthritis which affected her knees. Now, because of arthritis research, she is walking again.

In September she had surgery on her right knee, getting a complete new joint replacement and now has been walking without aid for four months.

In an interview with the Journal, Mrs. Pendergrass stated "You have helped me walk again by your contributions to the Arthritis Foundation. Having lived with arthritis for 24 years of my life and six years of that in a wheel chair, it can make one feel low at times, but with a wonderful husband, good friends and fine doctors encouraging you, one can't keep from trying, hoping and praying for something new to come from research to help the arthritis sufferer."

Mrs. Pendergrass said she was looking forward to getting her left knee joint replaced in the future. Thanks to research, through the Arthritis Foundation, this kind of surgery has been perfected.

Dr. Kenneth Scholtz an orthopedic surgeon from Lubbock, did the first surgery and she is now under the care of Dr. Charles Seward, Rheumatologist, from Amarillo.

In a concluding statement to the Journal, Mrs. Pendergrass said "It is wonderful to be able to walk again and without so much pain. Every little bit we give to the Arthritis Foundation helps to improve and approve new medicines and treatments for us in the future, as well as our children and grandchildren. I hope you will give when you are called upon."

Wash Fiberglass Products

COLLEGE STATION -- Washing fiberglass products can be disastrous if recommended care procedures are not followed, according to one clothing specialist.

Beverly Rhoades with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said that fiberglass products should always be laundered separately since fiberglass fragments are released during washing.

"These will become embedded in the fibers of any other fabrics in the same wash load. If these garments are worn, the fragments will irritate the wearer's skin. "If a load of clothes is accidentally washed with a product containing fiberglass, there is no known way to remove the fragments. Repeated washing simply embeds the fragments further," the specialist said. She advised that after laundering any fiberglass product, a load of old rags should be run through the washer and dryer to absorb the fragments.

"Products containing fiberglass should have a label warning consumers about the dangers of washing fiberglass with clothing items," Miss Rhoades said.

Danny Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Ward and Ernie Vela, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vela placed in the Jr. High Honor Choir Saturday, March 8 in Lubbock.

The boys were among 450 students trying out. They had to sing three songs by memory to judges. Danny is a ninth grader and sings tenor and Ernie is an eighth grader and sings bass.

The boys will be performing with a 108 voice choir in a concert to be held Saturday, March 12 at 7:30 p.m. in Lubbock. They will perform six concert songs to the public.

HOW'S The Electric Company DOING?

Let's ask Sharon McDuffee, meter reader . . .

"Sharon, that looks like a complex piece of equipment there..."

"Yes, it is. It's accurate and dependable, but it costs money."

"Seven years ago, it cost $15.18 and now it costs $18.30, over 20% more. And that meter is just one of the things we use to serve a home."

That's part of the reason your electric bill may be higher these days . . . our equipment costs more, and to give you good service, we have to buy new things to replace the old . . . to keep your electric service dependable.

Library News By Anne Camp

Two important additions to the Reference section are being added this week: Encyclopedia of Associations in two volumes; Vol I is National Organizations of the United States, and Vol. II is Geographic and Executive Index. If you need the correct address of any major organization in the U.S., here's where you may find it. This was a gift from the Unger Memorial Library at Plainview.

Two new services for the blind or handicapped are being added in the near future. One is circulating cassettes. We have received a cassette player from the State Library, Div. of the Blind and Handicapped; and we will soon receive a number of cassettes that may be checked out to our patrons. Another new addition will be the recorded edition of the Reader's Digest magazine. We hope both will be used extensively.

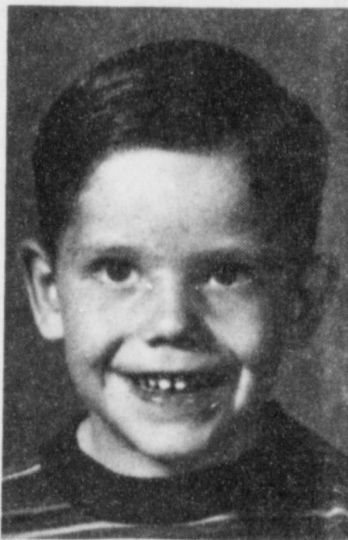

We are looking forward to National Library week in April. If anyone has used hardback or paperback books that they would like to donate for the annual used book sale, we would like to have them, and it would make it easier if they can be brought in early.

There are many beautiful paintings on display in the basement. For the minimal fee of $15.00 a year, any of them would be nice to grace the walls of your business or home. This is a project of the Muleshoe Art Association and for the Hospital fund.

What Is Arthritis?

Arthritis literally means "inflammation of a joint." It is a catch-all word that covers nearly 100 different diseases that cause pain, swelling and redness in joints and connective tissue throughout the body.

WHAT CAUSES ARTHRITIS?

The cause of arthritis is unknown. Many scientists believe it gets started by a viral infection to which the body's defense mechanism fails to respond normally. Once started, arthritis feeds upon itself, much like cancer.

HOW MANY PEOPLE HAVE ARTHRITIS?

Some 20,250,000 Americans have arthritis so badly that they need medical attention. That includes 10,000 persons here in the West Texas Area. One in ten Americans has the disease and each year 600,000 more become victims. Arthritis is the most widespread chronic disease and the No. 1crippler in the United States.

WHO GETS ARTHRITIS?

Anyone can get arthritis since it claims victims in all age groups.

Most victims of rheumatoid arthritis are people who were first afflicted with the disease between the ages of 20 and 45. Arthritis also attacks infants and children. There are at least 250,000 children in the U.S. who have juvenile rheumatoid arthritis.

The disease takes an especially heavy toll among women. Nearly 14 million arthritis victims are female -- twice the number of male sufferers.

WHAT ARE THE MAJOR FORMS OF ARTHRITIS?

Rheumatoid Arthritis (RA) and osteoarthritis are the most prevalent forms of the disease. RA, the most destructive and disabling type, is an inflammatory disease that afflicts five million people in the United States.

Osteoarthritis is a milder, wear-and-tear form that comes with age. It can cause painful problems, severe limitations in normal activity, and

WHAT ARE OTHER SERIOUS AND COMMON FORMS OF ARTHRITIS?

Gout (Gouty Arthritis): an inherited disease that most often attacks small joints, especially the big toe, and is caused by an excess of uric acid.

Systemic Lupus Erythematosus (Lupus Arthritis): closely akin to RA, it is a chronic disease that inflames and damages connective tissue throughout the body.

Scleroderma: a serious disease of the body's connective tissue that causes a thickening and hardening of the skin. IS ARTHRITIS FATAL?

It can be. Since it affects the connective tissue that provides the body's supportive structure, arthritis can cause inflammation and damage to such vital organs as the kidneys, heart and lungs.

The latest annual figures from the U.S. Bureau of Vital Statistics list nearly 5,000 deaths directly attributed to arthritis. CAN ARTHRITIS BE TREATED? CURED?

There is no cure for arthritis. Today medical advances can prevent severe crippling in most cases. The key lies in a combination of early diagnosis and treatment tailored to the needs of each individual. Treatment programs are many and varied: drugs, heat applications, physical therapy, joint splinting and surgery.

HOW MUCH IS SPENT ON QUACK "CURES"?

Arthritis sufferers spend an incredible $403,000,000 every year on all sorts of quackery "cures" and remedies, while less than $2,000,000 is spent on arthritis research. This means that for every dollar spent by legitimate organizations, more than $20 is spent on useless devices and phony products.

The Arthritis Foundation, through cooperation with government and other agencies, continues to wage an intensive campaign to expose misleading claims and educate the ## all-too-vulnerable consumer. HOW MUCH DOES ARTHRITIS COST THE NATION?

It is impossible to put a price tag on the human suffering and lost potential of the nation's arthritis population. But the economic impact on the country is estimated at $9 billion annually, including:

- * Arthritis costs Americans $3.5 billion in lost wages annually. An additional $772 million is lost in income taxes.

- * Medical care costs for arthritis total $2.5 billion. It also costs families an additional one billion dollars a year in lost homemaker services.

- * $1.1 billion is spent each year on drugs for arthritis.

- * Over 14 million working days are lost every year due to arthritis. 138,000 workers have been forced to retire prematurely because of arthritis disability.

WHAT HAS RESEARCH REVEALED ABOUT ARTHRITIS?

Recent research efforts have been in three main areas: 1) identifying a possible viral or infectious agent as the cause of arthritis, 2) pinpointing the malfunction of the body's defense system that occurs in the chain reaction leading to arthritis, 3) clarifying the inflammatory process that causes the heat, redness, pain and swelling in serious forms of arthritis.

Research to develop improved treatment methods has been responsible for great advances in new surgical techniques for joint replacement. Thanks to operations such as total hip, knee and elbow replacement, many seriously disabled arthritis patients can now regain almost complete mobility.

A recent Arthritis Foundation report on the future of arthritis research states that a three to fourfold increase in research funds is necessary if significant breakthroughs are to be achieved within the next decade. Presently, less than $20,000,000 is spent on arthritis research each year.

WHAT DOES THE ARTHRITIS FOUNDATION DO IN THE RESEARCH AREA?

As its major arthritis-fighting program, the Foundation supports a network of Arthritis Clinical Research Centers across the country. Each Center, located at a hospital affiliated with a university medical school, provides comprehensive care for arthritis patients and training for medical professionals. The West Texas Chapter now supports such a center Texas Tech University School of Medicine.

The Foundation also awards research fellowships for advanced training to investigators seeking the prevention and cure of arthritis.

WHAT ELSE DOES THE ARTHRITIS FOUNDATION DO?

The Arthritis Foundation is the only national voluntary health agency working exclusively to find the total answer to the arthritis problem. It exists to help arthritis patients and their doctors through programs of research, patient services, public health information and education, and professional education and training. Today, there are 74 Arthritis Foundation Chapters involved in providing an increasing number of services to the U.S. arthritis population. Each local Chapter functions they have arthritis. Locally you may contact Mrs. Sam Damron or you may contact our Lubbock Division office of as the primary community resource for both arthritis patients and persons who think the Arthritis Foundation for any help desired. The medical arm of the Founation is organized into two professional associations: The American Rheumatism Association Section, the world's largest professional society of rheumatologists (arthritis specialists); and the Allied Health Professions Section.

White Grubs-An Insect Problem On The Increase

Sorghum farmers who had white grub problems last year probably can anticipate problems this year, says County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley.

Control of this soil infesting insect, however, is possible if proper steps are taken. "Some growers applied insecticides too early in 1974 and their control efforts failed," Tanksley recalls. "Reason is, white grubs overwinter deep within the soil (approximately 18 inches) and do not migrate to the upper levels until soil temperatures begin to rise in April. Only then can populations be accurately sampled and short residual insecticides be used effectively." Tanksley explains that white grubs are the immature stage of adult May or June beetles. They have become a severe problem to some producers growing sorghum or wheat on sandy-textured soil in a seven-county area of the High Plains. Plants are damaged as a result of larvae feeding on the roots, and yield reductions occur as a result of seedling death, plant stunting or lodging, Tanksley adds. In some fields last year, the situation reached the point that grain production was almost impossible.

"Dr. George Teetes, Research Entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, points out that one of the major reasons grubs have become an increasingly severe problem is that they have developed resistance to Chlordane," Tanksley says. "This material has been used for years to control all types of soil pests. Recent research has shown that rates as high as five pounds of active ingredient per acre of Chlordane were ineffective in controlling grubs attacking sorghum."

GRUB HABITS (LIFE CYCLE AND BEHAVIOR)
Third instar larvae, the large white grub form, overwinter 12 to 18 inches deep in the soil.

As soil temperature begins to rise in the spring, grubs begin moving toward the soil surface. By late May, when grain sorghum is in the seedling stage, they reach the upper soil level where they feed on roots, killing the seedlings and causing stand loss. These large grubs feed until they mature into adults within the soil. The light brown adults begin emerging in mid-June and are numerous during late June and early July.

Females normally mate on the soil surface in the same field in which they mated, immediately returning to the soil profile to lay their eggs. In about two to three weeks eggs hatch, and the young larvae feed for the remainder of the summer. The feeding of these larvae on the roots of older plants can result in stunting or lodging. By fall most of the grubs have reached the third larval instar stage and migrate to deeper levels to overwinter. "The behavior of mated females in remaining within infested fields is one reason the grub problems have been extremely localized and severe," Tanksley points out. "The importance of this from a management standpoint is that grubs are likely to reappear in the same field even after an initial treatment. You are not likely to get 100 percent control with one application in a severely infested field, and the remaining females will reinfest the field. Therefore, producers with heavily infested fields should plan to treat in two successive years along with a crop rotation plan which includes a non-grass type crop in alternate years, if possible."

CONTROL CONSIDERATIONS
"If you know or suspect that you have grub-infested fields, this should be the last land prepared for planting for several reasons," Tanksley emphasizes. "First, these insects are difficult to detect in the field at the time producers are preparing land in the winter months because grubs are generally below the plow depth. "Second, since the grubs are so deep in the soil during winter and early spring, you are not likely to get a true picture of the infestation if you sample too early.

"Finally, Diazinon, the only insecticide currently registered and effective against the grub in sorghum, has less residual toxic activity than the older chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticide, Chlordane.

"April, then, is probably the best month for sampling and treating grub infested fields because you are likely to misinterpret your sampling information or lose the effectiveness of insecticide applied before grubs become active in the upper soil levels."

The County Agent explains that in sampling for grubs, one sample for every five to ten acres is adequate and should consist of about one cubic foot of soil (three heaping shovels full) from which the number of grubs are counted. Studies indicate that grub populations of one or more per cubic foot can cause severe stand loss if not controlled. A bit of simple mathematics tells why: There are 43,560 square feet per acre, and the optimum plant population is in the range of 70 to 90 thousand per acre -- that equals one grub for every two seedlings.

In treating soil pest problems such as grubs, insecticides are generally applied in furrow, row-band or preplant broadcast, notes Tanksley. Preplant broadcast is the one method that gives effective control where populations are in excess of one per cubic foot. Application rates of one to one and a half pounds of active ingredient per acre were most effective when incorporated in the upper three to four inches of soil by discing.

According to recent information, the availability of the granular formulation of Diazinon is likely to be very limited in 1975, he adds, and most of the Diazinon will go out in the liquid form. The liquid is just as effective as the granular formulation, and a high total volume of water applied per acre will enhance penetration and increase overall effectiveness.

ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

GOOD FRUITS

"The wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and GOOD FRUITS."

There are two forces at work in this world, evil and good. We have the freedom to choose between these two things.

"O taste and see that the Lord is good:

blessed is the man that trusteth in him."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

NOTES, COMMENTS

Education is an endless affair.

The problem of any problem is finding the facts.

A foolish idea a day keeps the mind working at least.

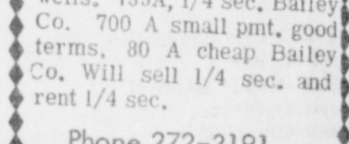

Almost anyone is enthusiastic over a new job, with more pay.

Free advice, regardless of its origin, is almost worthless.

Smartness, rather than sincerity, ruins many speeches.
