

EDITORIAL COMMENT -- THE POST DISPATCH

—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1950—

Vote for the Bond Issue...

Saturday, property-owning, tax-paying citizens of Post will have another opportunity to reveal just how civic-minded and progressive they are. Saturday is the day for voting on the issuance of $200,000 in bonds to improve and extend the water system here and to increase the number of paved streets. As it has been explained to us, the issuance of these bonds should not necessitate an increase in taxes. In the first place, the tax rate is now at the maximum for towns this size—$1.50. There will likely be individual increases, as there have been from year to year, based on the normal increase in value of the property. This and the increased amount of taxable property is expected to supply the increase in revenue needed to finance part of the bonds. The difference between the net profit of the water system and the principal and interest on outstanding bonds amounts to some $10,000 now. Expanded water facilities should increase the net income, thus increasing this difference.

This difference is expected to apply on retiring the remainder of the bonds. It seems to us that there is very little question about whether the water service needs expanding. Thinking people realize that the addition of more than 200 meters in the past two years represents at least that many more families now using the water system. The housewife who has to stop watering the lawn in order to wash dishes realizes the crying need for some sort of expansion. Post has been behind on paving for a number of years. In order to keep up with neighboring towns, it is time we paved some of our residential streets. The streets to be paved will depend on the property owners. Paved streets enhance the value of real estate. Freedom from dust is another factor for such a program in West Texas. Neither improvement will be free. Nothing is. The water system must be improved. Paving is highly desirable. The decision is the voters'—or perhaps, the non-voters'. What will you do?

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Collect Gems, Silver, Linens as Future Security Investments Instead of Handing on Stocks, Bonds

NEW BOSTON, N. H.—This week I am writing about investments for your grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Unless the Korean affair or similar one develops into World War III, we oldesters will probably see no radical money changes, but our children and grandchildren will probably see real troubles.

Every reader has seen our own dollar drop in purchasing power to less than sixty cents. It will continue to drop, war or no war. I personally have seen the German mark go from 25 cents U. S. dollars, to zero; the Chinese dollar from 50 cents U. S. dollars, to nearly zero; and the French franc from 25 cents U. S. dollars, to the present value of one quarter of one cent. The same is true of most of the currencies of the world, including South America. If World War III should come, the value of our dollar could rapidly decline to a very low figure as did our currency in the 1860's. For a time then many people would refuse to accept paper money for tangible goods. This same thing could happen again. The time to prepare for such an event is now. No company will insure your house after it starts to burn.

As long as any "hard money" such as silver coin is available, it will be accepted. In France, after World War II, the farmers preferred silver teaspoons for money. People, of course, must use something for money. It must be easy to carry about and easily hidden and something which other people want. Sterling silver was always acceptable.

As gold was unobtainable and silver was gradually hoarded, the most preferred form of money used in Europe during the last part of World War II was genuine jewels. Even the farmer would accept this in payment for food because he could pass it on to others for what he had to buy. Such gems, used for money, must not be expensive and the supply must be limited. Furthermore, they must be of a nature where the genuine stones can readily be recognized from the synthetic.

Marine jewels—the products of the ocean—best quality under the above requirements. They are not too expensive, yet their supply is limited and they cannot be manufactured artificially without detection. I have in mind such gems as amber, coral, and jet. In fact, there will continue to be fewer of all these marine gems. There will never be any more diamonds made by nature, and yet the manufacture of diamonds for jewelry is not feasible. In any case the average diamond would be too expensive for bartering with farmers and tradesmen.

Hence, the wholesale prices of such marine gems will slowly increase due both to the greater scarcity and the increased labor cost of finding, cutting and polishing these gems. Pearls—both natural and cultured—can also be classified as marine jewelry. In fact, even the cheap synthetic pearls are made from beads covered with a solution of fish scales. But only the expensive natural pearls have a limited supply.

I believe that those who read this column will, in their lifetime, always be able to use U. S. paper currency even though it continues to decline in value. On the other hand, I think nearly every reader will agree that, although we will win World War III if it comes, yet our cities will suffer such destruction and our national debt become so huge, our present paper dollars may be of little use to our great-grandchildren or perhaps even to our grandchildren.

Therefore, in their interests should we not start a collection of good jewelry, linens, rust-proof cutlery or tools and other non-perishable but universally useful things which can easily be stored? Is it fair to leave these grandchildren only stocks, bonds, and paper dollars which the savings banks and life insurance companies will pay out to them? Hence, my suggestion is that readers consider putting five per cent of their savings each year into a collection of such permanently valuable articles, storing them for their grandchildren and great-grandchildren to use as money in some later temporary emergency. Such articles should be new—not secondhand—and should be kept locked up in "Grandma's Treasure Chest" for perhaps 50 years or more.

Texans in WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY, Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON—A 69-year old Texan who has spent nearly half a century in farm research in state and federal service is going to devote full attention now to his 308 acres in the Shemandoah valley.

Tall and spry Dr. Bonney Youngblood, a native of Milam County and 1902 graduate of Texas A&M college, got in shape at his office in the Agriculture department to retire Sept. 15.

Finishing A&M, Youngblood's first job was managing the Smith Ranch near Sherman. He then taught at Henderson and Mineola before going to Washington in 1907 to direct farm management investigations for four years.

From 1911 to 1926 he was back in his native state as director of the extension service with headquarters at College Station. Then he came back to Washington with the Federal Government to help organize and develop a nationwide program of cotton marketing research. In 1929 he was appointed principal agricultural economist in the office of experiment stations and since that time has inspected research operations throughout the U. S. and Puerto Rico.

Youngblood's farm is about 55 miles from here near Harpers Ferry, W. Va. He has some 70 head of cattle yielding from 1,500 to 1,600 pounds of milk per cow per month. His wife keeps busy restoring the beauty of the 114-year old house and gardens on the farm.

The secretarial staff of Waco's congressman, Bob Poage, was startled the other day when a homing pigeon flew through an open window of their fifth-floor office and proceeded to make itself at home on top of a stack of freshly typed letters.

After accepting their hospitality in the form of crackers and water and permitting them to place him back in the window ledge, the bird flew off to parts unknown. It bore a number and message band on its legs, but no message.

A former San Antonio woman, who used to be a Democrat, is busy here trying to stir up absentee votes for the Republican ticket in November.

"I used to be a Democrat, all right, but I'm voting Republican right now," Mrs. Clark Butler said.

She expressed high praise for the Texas Panhandle's Republican Congressman Ben Guill and said he would be invited to speak at the next meeting she and her associates held.

Mrs. Butler, the widow of an air force colonel whom she had married at the beginning of World War Two, is known to most San Antonions as the former Mrs. A. M. Helper. Her first husband, who was in the oil business in San Antonio for 15 years, died a little over 10 years ago.

Four former Corpus Christi Caller-Times reporters now work here in Washington.

Miss Mary Cowles, who covered the Naval Air Base at Corpus Christi during the war, is secretary to Rep. John E. Lyle. Lois Felder is about to line up with one of the federal agencies. Maxine Gillette Brown is on the secretarial staff of Representative Denton of Indiana, and Herb Foster is one of the Washington corps of some 1,000 newspapermen.

Helping administer the Marshall plan program of aid to foreign countries is Fred E. Castleberry of Nacogdoches.

The East Texan joined up with the Economic Cooperation administration after an export venture he launched at the close of World War Two. As an army non-com in the Philippines he had made some contacts that led to his establishing a foreign trade business that carried him around the Globe three times.

Getting Out On The LIMB...

by EDDIE the editor

I KEEP PLANNING to go bird-hunting but with me, its just like getting a hair cut—I never get around to doing that until I pass a barbership and see an empty chair.

I guess if I were to see a dove, I might shoot it, if I had a gun. I have no hunting dog, unfortunately. Time was when I had a good bird dog, but I guess them days is gone forever. Some think there is less sport hunting with a dog but me, I like it better than trappung birds or shooting from a car.

I guess anybody that had ever owned a bird dog could write a book. Sometimes, I think they are the missing link. When a bird dog hangs around, something is usually missing. On the other hand, there are people who think the bird dog's master is the missing link. Most of the holders of this opinion are of the feminine sex, I have noticed and are probably just jealous.

THERE ARE THOSE who say that bird dogs break up more homes than the Demon Rum. I have heard that there is objection to the great big things riding up in the back seat of the car, with their fleas and muddy feet and all. Now I certainly don't see where else a valuable animal could ride. There isn't room in the front seat.

Some people expect a good bird dog to hunt close, flush the birds one by one, have a gentle mouth and not be gunshy. That is the kind of dog I'd really like to have.

But in spite of the pedigree I always insist on and pay for, none of the dogs I get have all of these qualifications. You get one that holds the birds and he ranges all over and you are clear across the south 40 when he points.

Get one to release the birds one at a time and when you shoot he jumps straight up and runs for the river. Find a dog that will walk beside you, stand steady at the gun and flush the covey so you can get your limit and he will chew up two birds out of three bringing them in.

THOSE SNIDE PEOPLE who object to things like this have other gripes too. They'll tell you a bird dog is good for nothing—most of 'em can't even find birds, they'll add. People like that remind me of those that want the dentist to prescribe for a toothache.

Naturally a high class, nervous animal can't be expected to do much chores as guard the house and bite salesman and growl at bill collectors and at the same time be an expert in tracking down doves or quail. Nobody would ask a mechanical engineer to be top man with a pick and shovel.

Of course, there is one drawback to a good pointer or setter. A young bird dog can eat more than a growing boy. Hunters spend a fortune on dog food, horsemeat and ground liver the year round for three or four months hunting in the fall and winter.

I NEVER HAVE done it myself, but I have had friends who have paid for a bird dog and got a rabbit dog. Now, even though I never experienced it myself, I know that such an experience is the disappointment of a lifetime.

I have heard some stories about some smart bird dogs, but right at present, the only thing I can call to mind is that old one about the coon dog.

It seems his master had him trained just to go out and bring in an animal of whatever size he wanted. The guy that owned the dog would just set up a board the desired size against a fence and show it to his dog. The dog would take for the woods and bring back a coon or something with a pelt to fit the board. One day this guy took down the front door to paint it. He leaped it against the fence and has never seen that dog since.

MUCH AS I LIKE West Texas, I don't think this is the ideal place to hunt. The woods and corn patches in Central and East Texas and Louisiana do have it all over our plains. The grain is still too green here. The best place for hunting is in a corn field, after the corn has been gathered. The stalks are old and brown, few and far between. Birds feeding on the few remaining ears usually are nesting close by. It is an easy way to hunt and more sportsmanlike than scattering grain and waiting for the birds to come and get shot.

Squirrel hunting in the woods, where they have woods, it a lot more rewarding than it is here. The women—God love 'em—are always fussing to be taken hunting. Maybe their place is not in the kitchen, but it certainly hasn't been in the woods since the days of Daniel Boone.

IT GENERALLY CURES 'em—I am offering this bit of advice to young hunters—to take them

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

New Drive In Theatre. Construction was slated to start this week on a new $50,000 drive-in theatre to be located on Highway 51 near the airport, according to an announcement by Bill Chesher, manager of Littlefield studios. The theatre is scheduled to be ready for opening around Nov. 15. —The Littlefield County Wide News.

Fort To Rope. A matched roping between two of the nation's best ropers, a jackpot roping and opening day parade featuring 13 sheriff's posses from this area are on tap for the first day of the Gaines County Fair and Livestock show here Oct. 18-21. Troy Fort, veteran Lovington roper who currently is the world champion, will be matched against John D. Hollyman of Ozona in the first roping event. —The Seminole Sentinel.

Just Talk. A year ago I got the heebie-jeebies and decided I was working too hard, in fact a doctor told me I should rest more and quit worrying. So I have turned over a new leaf and now I rest more, do not worry as much and I have gained ten pounds, have insomnia even worse than I did before and the grass is six inches high in the front yard, I squeak when I bend over and I have to tie my shoe strings by instrument as I cannot see them at all after I put them on. Moral: never follow a doctor's advice. —The Slaton Slatonite.

Unusual Accidents. We're impressed with the unusual squirrel hunting. Every hunter—even the dogs—know how necessary it is to keep quiet. Now the fair sex—I'll refer to them in the public print that way—are always crackling twigs and chewing gum and moving around unnecessarily. About every 15 minutes, if they don't talk they burst. Now anybody knows you can't do any good hunting squirrels and chattering up a storm. It'll drive the squirrel right to the roots of the tree—the inside roots. A couple of curt words may send the Little Woman home to mother for awhile, but one trip squirrel hunting is to cure her of meddling in men's business and drive her straight to a game of bridge with the girls. If I could borrow a dog, I think I would go hunting this evening. —The Brownfield News.

Lightning Hit School. Lightning struck the upper southwest corner of the Tahoka High School during the show: and electrical storm last Tuesday at about 5 p. m. A 200-pound stone and a few bricks were knocked off the building corner, but it is not believed that there were any serious cracks in the building resulting. —The Lynn County News.

Brownfield Hits Million. For the first time in this city's 46-year history, building permits for a single year have topped the million-dollar mark. —The Brownfield News.

MAHONS ARE ANNOUNCING WEDDING OF DAUGHTER, IRIS

Nazarene Pastor Marries Teacher

The Rev. J. C. Holman, new pastor of the local Nazarene church, knows just how important an apple for the teacher is. He married his teacher!

The Rev. and Mrs. Holman and their two daughters, Marion Elizabeth, 2½, and Margaret Ann, 3 months, moved here just a month ago. Their former home in Shenandoah, Ia. Marion Elizabeth is subject to asthma and the family moved west for her health.

He grew up in Deering, Mo., being born in Arkansas. He attended Olivet college, in Kankakee, Ill., and the Nazarene Theological seminary in Kansas City. Mrs. Holman is a preacher's daughter and as such has no effusive home town. She graduated from high school in Mattoon, Ill., and is a graduate of Olivet college and the University of Illinois.

She taught French and voice while he was in school. He and his sisters were in her French class. Mrs. Holman was a good friend of Holman's older sister and she often visited her. He saw more of his teacher outside the classroom than in it.

They had a common interest in the Orpheus choir at Olivet, which were members. Holman was a member of an evangelistic trio for five years. He and the two other members paid their way through college and seminary by singing at meetings on week-ends.

The couple had known each other a year and a half before they ever went out together. He was no longer in my class," Mrs. Holman hastily explains. "I had made up my mind to marry her before I ever asked her for the first date," her husband states.

They were married the day he graduated from Olivet. While he is in the seminary at Kansas City, Mrs. Holman taught two years in Kansas City junior college. He was student pastor of a Methodist church in Monticello, Ia.

Mrs. Holman is a pianist and she and her husband sing. Her father started her interest in music, which she continued throughout college. With two children and a heavy church program, neither of the Holmans has much time for a real hobby.

Their chief outside interest is in a movie camera with which they record the growth of their children. In Shenandoah, the district sponsored a radio program that covered the entire state. The Holmans furnished the music for this program.

"We really like Texas," said Holman in response to the usual question. "The church has given a wonderful reception. We really like the friendly people. Iowa is a conservative state since we are more or less in the south, we appreciate the friendliness."

"We like the climate, too," Holman continued. "Of course, we haven't seen any dust storms."

Weather Recipes Come to Fore with Dispatch Readers

Radio Clinic SERVICE AND REPAIR
Open 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.
Located At TOM POWER STORE NO. 2 TELEPHONE 293

featured again this week by local women who are sharing their favorite recipes with readers of the Post Dispatch.

Mrs. Gertrude Ward has a cool weather recipe that her family has used for a number of years. For Barbecued Short Ribs, it includes

- 2 1/2 pounds beef short ribs
- 1 large onion
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 2 teaspoons chill powder
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 2 1/2 teaspoons salt

Brown the ribs for 20 to 30 minutes. Place in a roaster and slice onion over meat. Make sauce of remaining ingredients and pour over ribs. Cover and bake in a slow oven for an hour and a half. This recipe serves five.

Mrs. Kimmie Ensminger says her family really prefers a diet of steak, bread and gravy. She varies this in cool weather with another dish they really go for: Chili Pie. It calls for

- 1 can chili
- fritos
- chopped onions
- grated cheese

Alternate layers of chili, fritos and onions. Green onions add color, but Mrs. Ensminger prefers cured onions. After filling the baking dish with alternate layers, she tops the mixture with the grated cheese and puts it in the oven for about 10 minutes. She serves this with crackers.

Mrs. D. D. Wire and her husband are newcomers to Post, having lived here about a month. Her favorite recipe is for an Orange Loaf Cake. Ingredients are

- 2 cups cake flour
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup butter or shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- rind of 1 orange, grated
- 3 cups orange juice, strained

Sift and measure flour, then sift three times with soda and salt. Cream butter until light and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually beating after each addition. Slowly add eggs, beaten until stiff as whipped cream. Add grated rind. Last add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice. Mrs. Wire prefers canned orange juice. Pour into a 6x10-inch loaf pan and bake 50 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Ice with coconut orange frosting.

Mrs. L. Earle Thaxton likes Prune Whip. One advantage is the easiness with which it is made. Her recipe calls for

- 1/2 dozen egg whites
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 15 prunes
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Cook prunes, remove pits and mash. Whip egg whites stiff, add sugar gradually, then beat in mashed prunes and add nuts. Transfer to a pyrex dish or pan, with lid, and set in a pan of warm water. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees Fahrenheit, for 40 minutes or until a knife comes out clean when inserted. Cool or chill and serve with whipped cream.

Mrs. James E. Altman has a recipe for Coconut Pie that really pleases her family. Ingredients are

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 tablespoons flour or cornstarch
- 2 cups milk
- 5 eggs (save 4 whites for meringue)
- 1 tablespoon vanilla
- 1 tablespoon butter coconut
- 2 cooked pie shells

Mix ingredients together and cook in double boiler until thick. Place in crust and spread with meringue. Put in oven and brown.

Mrs. P. J. Carre moved to Post from Tahoka a year ago. Her family is especially fond of Stuffed Peppers. Her recipe includes:

- 8 green peppers
- 1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
- 1 cup thick sour cream
- 1/2 cup tomato juice
- 12 crackers
- salt and pepper to taste

Chop tomatoes, add cream and juice, season to taste. Mix in enough cracker crumbs to hold shape. Cut tops from peppers and remove seeds. Stuff with tomato mixture and bake in moderate oven until pepper is tender.

Mrs. Elmer Cass says that the people who eat at her house always ask for second helpings on her Banana Pudding. The recipe she used calls for

- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups milk
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 36 vanilla wafers
- 3 medium size bananas

Blend sugar, flour, and salt in double boiler. Add 1/2 cup milk, stirring until smooth. Add remaining milk and cook over boiling water until thick. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Beat egg yolks, slightly and add to hot mixture slowly. Return to heat and cook two minutes. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Line bottom and sides of dish with wafers then put in a layer of bananas. Fill dish and pour custard over bananas and cook. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Add remaining sugar to egg whites, a tablespoon at a time, beating constantly. Spread meringue over top and bake in a moderate oven 20 minutes. Serve either cold or hot.

Pvt. J. W. King Goes to Lackland Air Force Base

Pvt. Johnny W. King, 18, son of J. D. King, has begun a course of indoctrination training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio.

In the basic training at Lackland he will receive a well rounded military preparatory schooling for progress in a specialized Air Force career. During this initial course he will be given complete vocational and aptitude testing along with personal guidance counseling to determine entrance into a suitable technical training assignment on leaving Lackland.

Besides constituting the only Air Force station for indoctrination training of all new airmen, Lackland is a reassignment and training center for enlistees, home of USAF officer candidate school and the human resources research center.

Chase G. Woodhouse Will Speak at Tech

Mrs. Chase G. Woodhouse, U. S. Representative from Connecticut, will speak at Texas Technological college in Lubbock Oct. 20 during the Silver Anniversary Symposium.

Mrs. Woodhouse's acceptance of the engagement completes the Symposium speaker list. Previously, two famous scholars, Dr. Henry Steele Commager and Dr. Otto Struve, have agreed to help the College celebrate its 25th anniversary.

Gibb, Gilchrist, chancellor of the Texas A&M College System, will talk to guests at the luncheon, Oct. 20 in Drane Hall. Dr. T. S. Painter, President of Texas University, will be featured at a dinner at 8 o'clock in Drane Hall the same evening.

BRITISH LOSE HOTELS

SINGAPORE, Sept. 20. (AP) — British hotel owners in Shanghai are forfeiting their hotels owned for generations by their families, rather than bring in fresh capital to keep them going, says Mrs. Jessie Ferguson, a Shanghai resident for 27 years, who is now on her way back to England.

Foreign residents found it extremely difficult to live in the Red-held city, she said. Business was slack. There was only one guest in a 15-floor skyscraper. Hotel owners had to pay heavy taxation to the Communist government—a policy designed to get rid of the foreign investor so the Reds could take over, she said.

Prison Rodeo Will Finance Education Expansion There

Money taken in during the 1950 edition of the Texas Prison rodeo which begins Oct. 1 and continues each Sunday next month will go toward the expanded educational plan adopted by the Prison board.

For the first time in history, the system will employ a formal teaching staff composed of qualified civilian teachers holding certificates and a vocational director, who will correlate classroom training with on-the-job instruction. All inmates will have the opportunity to learn practical trades.

The newly-adopted full-school program will include a new course of study for inmates classified as illiterate and required by law to attend, as well as a new curriculum through high school subjects. Parttime civilian teachers will handle these subjects at each unit of the Prison system. An annual budget has been set up and the project will be paid for with other than tax funds. The financing fund, the E&R fund, receives its money from the rodeo.

This year's is the 19th annual rodeo. It does not lag, starting on the dot at 2 o'clock. One acre overlaps the next. Reserved seats are $2.40 including tax. They may be obtained by writing J. Craig, Prison Ticket office, Huntsville.

Grady T. Porter, AF Reservist, Gets Duty Call

Grady T. Porter, a corporal in the Air Reserve, and son of L. M. Porter here, was recalled to active duty this week and processed at Brooks AF Base in San Antonio for assignment to a regular Air Force unit.

With previous military experience as a radar technician, Porter became active in reserve training after receiving his discharge. Recall to active duty is due to a government plan to bring its AF units to full strength.

Porter is a former student of the University of Texas.

Americans bought about a billion pounds of prepared dog food in 1949.

Davey O'Brien of TCU participated in 400 running and passing plays during the 1937 football season — which still stands as a record.

The Big 7 champion Oklahoma Sooners nevertheless had 25 fumbles recovered by opponents in 1948 to set a college football record.

BREAD MAKES BOOKMARK

JOHNSON CITY, Penna., Sept. 20. (AP)—Do you use a piece of bread for a bookmark, or a comb or a pair of scissors?

Other customers have used pencils, bobby pins, nail files, powder puffs, baby mittens and letters. There are lots of letters especially those with "please remit" written on them.

120-Year-Old Tree Still Is Producing

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., Sept. 20, (AP)—A fruit tree which has stood here for 120 years is still producing pears.
 This season's yield was not as heavy as usual, however, because of cold spring weather. Ray Nevius, the owner, has nursed the tree through several bad spells. A few years ago he thought it was finished by a tornado which broke off its larger branches. He gave it a good pruning, and the tree perked up.

Czech Reds Make Laundry Changes

PRAGUE, Sept. 20, (AP)—The housewife whose linen was lost in the laundry and the man whose suit was damaged at the cleaner's have found friends in high places.
 The Prague Communist newspaper "Rude Pravo" and the Prague district organization of the Czechoslovak Communist party have come to their rescue with a cleanup campaign, and they have been assured that everything will come out in the wash.
 The paper reported their troubles and announced corrective measures in a recent column devoted to letters to the editor. The executive board of the Communist party agreed the situation was bad. It decided that a new laundry must be started to handle 42 per cent more work; inefficient workers replaced, and "the political and technological level of employees raised generally."

Questions And Answers On $200,000 Post, Texas, Bonds

- | | |
|---|--|
For what purpose will the funds be used? | ANSWER
$150,000 will be used to improve the water supply and fire protection in the City by drilling new and larger wells and enlarging the pipe line from the wells to the water mains in the City. Also, mains will be laid in the newer sections of the City which are now inadequately served and some lines in other sections will be replaced by larger mains.
$50,000 will be used to pay the City's portion of the cost of paving at least 75 blocks of new streets. |
| 2. QUESTION
What streets will be paved? | ANSWER
Those blocks or streets where the resident property owners on both sides agree to pay their proportionate share of the paving cost. |
| 3. QUESTION
Have the streets already been designated? | ANSWER
No. It will not be known what blocks or streets will be paved until the resident property owners have been contacted and have agreed or declined to pay their share of the paving cost. |
| 4. QUESTION
What type of paving will be laid? | ANSWER
The City plans to lay 36 ft. asphalt paving with full curb and gutters. |
| 5. QUESTION
How will the City pay these bonds? | ANSWER
The bonds will be issued as General Obligations of the City payable from taxes but the Waterworks Bonds will be paid from the surplus earnings of the Waterworks and Sewer System. |
| 6. QUESTION
Will it be necessary to increase taxes to pay these bonds? | ANSWER
No. The City now levies a tax rate of $1.50 on each $100.00 of Assessed Valuation of property which is the maximum tax rate allowed by the Constitution for cities under 5,000 population. |
| 7. QUESTION
How will the water customers outside the City limits share in the cost of the water improvements? | ANSWER
The water rates to customers outside of the City limits have recently been increased to provide additional surplus revenue. Every phase of an expansion of the City's limits is being investigated. |
| 8. QUESTION
Why doesn't the City issue the Revenue Bonds which are unissued rather than vote new tax bonds? | ANSWER
The Ordinance which authorized the first series of Revenue Bonds does not permit the issuance of additional bonds until the net revenues of the Water and Sewer System are greater than they are at present. The $75,000 voted but unissued Water Bonds are insufficient to make the necessary improvements. |
| 9. QUESTION
When will this proposed election be held? | ANSWER
Saturday, Sept. 23, from 7 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening. |
| 10. QUESTION
Where will the election be held? | ANSWER
The Post City Hall. |
| 11. QUESTION
Who is eligible to vote? | ANSWER
Any resident taxpayer whose property has been rendered for taxation and who has paid a poll tax. Property rendered can include personal property. |

Increased Legume Plantings Urged

Increased plantings of winter legume cover crops are being urged these days by the supervisors of the Duck Creek Soil Conservation district.

Planting vetch and rye, Austrian winter peas and clover will help to insure the productiveness of the croplands next year and enable the farmers to grow successfully adapted crops they plant. Work unit technicians say a good growth of winter legumes helps to hold soil in the fields during winter and early spring rains. These crops, when plowed under as a green manure, add a large amount of nitrogen and organic matter to the soil.

Cooperators who have already planted their vetch and rye are Floyd Hodges, Homer Huddleston, Jim L. Williams and Frank Simpson. Others have purchased their seeds but have been unable to plant. These farmers are using superphosphate fertilizer along with legume planting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Turney of Snyder were Sunday guests of her parents, the Edd Dyes.

More than 300 Eat Daily at Lunchroom for 25 Cents Each

More than 300 children at Post schools eat lunch in the school cafeteria, run this year by E. E. Pierce. Mrs. E. E. Pierce is dietitian. She plans the meals and buys the food. Meals must be type A to get the five or seven cent government subsidy to be Type A, they include bread and meat or a meat substitute, as well as being balanced otherwise. To get the seven cents subsidy milk must be served with each meal.

Abundant foods and surpluses are furnished in part by the government. Yesterday the lunchroom received nine sacks of potatoes, Honey, peanut butter, dried fruit and fruit juices are among the surplus foods used. Abundant foods and staples are bought in wholesale lots.

Each individual child pays 25 cents for his lunch, daily. With this sum, the government subsidy and surplus foods, the cafeteria maintains itself on a non-profit basis. It pays all expenses including the help.

Her First Year
Mrs. Pierce is in her first year at the Post cafeteria. Prior to this she served three years at Cooper, three years at Idalou and five summers with the Davis NWA camp. She is a former student of Texas Women's college.

Her assistants include Mrs. Isaac Brown who has served four years here; Mrs. Marvin Pennington, five years here; Mrs. Reece Hodges, first year in cafeteria, previous experience in Giles dining room; and Nancy Johnston, part time employe.

The children are served by grades with the first graders coming in first, slightly before the 11:15 bell. They march in and present their lunch tickets or money to Mrs. Wayne Pipes who punches the ticket or takes the money. She then returns the ticket to the child's teacher.

Lunchroom equipment includes 382 war surplus trays. Next the children pass the silverware table and get their silver, wrapped in a napkin. They take a tray and are served by the lunchroom workers. Milk is placed on the table for the first graders, while other children get theirs off the counter.

Tables Adjusted
Children are seated in an orderly manner at tables adjusted to their size. After eating, they rake out their trays in the garbage can, put the empty milk bottles in racks and the silver in special containers. Pierce plans a contest to see who can throw away the least food among first graders. Children may receive second helpings of bread.

The second grade comes at 11:15 o'clock in the morning, followed by the third and fourth at 11:30; the fifth at 11:40 and the sixth and seventh at 11:45. High school grades come in at 12 sharp.

Kitchen equipment includes a large electric stove with a double oven and a large institutional-type refrigerator. There are three tubs with water faucets, as well as a double sink and counter. In the center is a large table. Food is on a table adjacent to the service window.

Garbage is picked up daily by a farmer who feeds it to his hogs. He is given the garbage to pick it up.

Pierce Supervises
Pierce stays in the dining room at all times to see that the program runs smoothly and the children have a pleasant place for their lunch. Any adult working for the school system can eat in the cafeteria except on special occasions, Pierce said.

Other adults are not permitted by the government to eat in the lunchroom. Of the 347 served

Friday, 332 took milk with their lunches. Pierce must keep books each day on the number of adults fed, the number drinking milk; the number of children fed and the number drinking milk. Each day's expenses and income must be tabulated and a report sent in to the government once each month.

He also has to report on the amount of abundant foods used. This month's abundant foods include cottage cheese, sweet and Irish potatoes, cabbage and hens.

Southland Eagles face another stiff test Friday night when they play host to the Patton Springs-Rangers, six-man team from Dickens county.

Last Friday afternoon the Eagles were trounced at the hands of J. Martin Basinger and a crew of ex-Southland football players. Basinger led the offensive against the Spearman by scoring twice. Both his tallies were made on line smashes, one in the first quarter and one in the third.

T. W. Claborn added a third TD to make the score 18-0 in favor of the exes. Gene Ander-

Grade School Footballers Play O'Donnell Tuesday

Fans will get their first glimpse of this year's junior teams Tuesday night at Antelope stadium when the seventh and eighth grade footballers meet a couple of teams from O'Donnell.

Coach Wayne Pipes, grade school mentor, announces that kickoff time will be 7 o'clock. Coach Pipes is working with the seventh graders while Head Coach Bing Bingham and Coach Vernon Kay are training the eighth grade group.

The following Tuesday, the locals will go to O'Donnell in a return game. Slaton has asked for four games and Coach Pipes is trying to work out a game with Tahoka.

Both Coach Pipes and Coach Bingham urged parents and other football fans to come out for the games.

FROM THE... GRANDSTAND

by WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Used to be about this time of year folks started wondering who would win the state school football championship.

Folks are still wondering along this line of thought, but it's divisional thinking now.

The City Conference Class AA and Class A all crown champions and as far as Class A its boosters think it is about time to quit thinking of it as an afterthought.

Class A schools—classified for sports only—are those with an enrollment of less than 500, but more than 200. Of course if you look real hard in this division you'll find some schools with hardly more than 100 pupils, but with darn fine football, basketball and track teams.

This will be the third year that Class A has played to a state championship in football. West Texas is batting 1,000, too. The first champion was Monahans.

Last Year Littlefield Won
This year's state basketball tournament provided Class A with a lot of fuel for feeling that its champion is as good as those Class AA or City Conferences. Canyon, the Class A basketball champion, certainly did look smoother than the winners in these two divisions. How it would have fared in a playoff is something else.

Regardless of whether you think Class A could lick Class AA or clip the City Conference, this division has certainly shown improvement the last couple of years.

It is no secret that coaches in Class A are highly pleased at playing to a state championship.

Standard Lambert, when he was turning out such successful football teams at Austin high school, said a ball team always improved after it got into the championship playoff.

"That title is awfully real," He used to say.

Interest has been upped tremendously since the little schools started playing to a state championship. So much so that it wouldn't be surprising if Class B started plugging to have itself setup to play to a championship.

It's not such a far fetched possibility. Remember when they said Class A would never go beyond regional play.

Eight Garza Girls Win Trip to Fair

Eight Garza county 4-H girls and two adult leaders have been awarded trips to the state fair in Dallas Oct. 6-8. Mrs. Jewell Strasser, county home demonstration agent, announces.

Mary Eula Trammell is going for the Post Junior club. Barbara Wheatley won the trip from the Southland club. Graham, winner is Wynonne Morris. Norma Lee Ritchie is representing Close City. Lois Ritchie and Janyce Lobban are going from Post Senior club; Beverly Bland, Justiceburg; and Beverly Bartlett, Close City, also.

Mrs. Durwood Bartlett and Mrs. Harlan Morris are the adults who will accompany the girls.

PROMPT FIRST AID

EFFINGHAM, Ill., Sept. 20. (AP)—Raymond Zehner, a gasoline station operator, received prompt medical attention when a stray bullet nicked him as he cleaned the windshield of a car.

Dr. E. L. Dameron, city health officer, jumped out of the car and treated Zehner for a wound on his forehead.

Former All-American football guard Steve Suhey of Canaan, N. Y., has returned to Penn State as a freshman line coach.

Tomorrow night Post's Antelopes meet their first real test of the season against the State-Champion Littlefield Lobos with three men, two of them starters, injured.

"We are never beaten until the game is over," Coach Bing Bingham said yesterday. "That is the way the boys feel. Of course, Littlefield has an awful good team, after all they are state champions. We are going to play a real ball game."

Billy Jones is out with injuries and Rex King has been shifted to fullback. Carroll Light and L. W. Evans, both ends, are injured. The coach is working night and day with Evans, who has pulled a leg muscle, in an effort to get him into the game Friday night.

"We were pretty well pleased with the boys last week, on the whole," said Bingham. "They looked pretty good during the first half but let down the second half. Our backs are running better, the blocking is better and our offense is better."

The Lobos had an open date last week. Previously, they defeated Crosbyton and the Chiefs scored on the Lobos. Post defeated the Crosbyton eleven 43-0.

Post piled up a 25-0 lead in the first half Friday night racking up another seven points in the fourth period to defeat the Floydada Whirlwinds 32-0 on the local football field.

This was the second victory in as many games for the locals. Last week the Antelopes took Crosbyton 43-0. The Antelopes received the opening kickoff on their 25-yard line and never stopped until crossing into pay territory.

Rex King retrieved the initial kick and returned it to the 39. Norman Cash tore through the Whirlwind line to the 47 for a first down. Billy Jones carried the pigskin for two and turned the ball over to Jack Kirkpatrick who pushed to the Floydada 42. He then tossed a lateral to Cash who loped 42 yards to break the scoring ice. Kirkpatrick kicked the extra point.

Regaining the ball, Post drove for another score. Taking a punt on their own 15, the Antelopes pushed once again to the goal line, covering the last 14 yards with a pass from Kirkpatrick to L. W. Evans. Kirkpatrick's placement was blocked and the quarter ended with Post leading 13-0.

In the second period, when Floydada was unable to move past their own 45, Co-captain Aubrey Guthrie punted out of bounds on the Post 26.

Antelopes bucked the Whirlwind line five times to get the Floydada 40, then Kirkpatrick faked for a pass. He was unable to find a receiver in the open, so he stepped 60 yards untouched for pay. A perfect wave of blockers paved his way. Kirkpatrick attempted to pass to Cash for the extra point and failed.

The score was 10-0, in the locals' favor.

Evans Goes 50
Evans fledged 50 yards late in the third for the fourth marker for the Antelopes. Cash ended up with the ball on an Antelope triple handoff. He spotted Evans on the 10 and tossed him a pass. Kirkpatrick's try for extra point was no good. Halftime score was thus 25-0.

The Whirlwind gridmen began to click immediately in the second half, rattling off six first downs before the Antelopes could stop them on the 10. This was Floydada's only penetration.

Post took over, taking the lead in offensive play the rest of the way. However, the Whirlwinds threw up a stout defense, to stymie Post's fleet of slippery hipped backs the rest of the way. A Floydada fumble set up the final score. Billy Jones retrieved the bobble on the Whirlwind, 44.

Line Tuck Fails

Cash's line buck failed, then Jones tore through right tackle, eluded three crowding tacklers and romped to the three-yard stripe before he was pushed out of bounds. Jones took three tries at the line before succeeding in getting the ball across. He was stopped on the two-foot line twice.

Kirkpatrick circled left end for the extra point, making the final score 32-0. Backfield trickery and a staunch line defeated the Whirlwinds. Cash, Jones, P. J. Babb, Kirkpatrick and Rex King alternated with ball-lugging chores.

Cash and Kirkpatrick completed three of the five passes they attempted. Two were touchdown tosses. Yardage on each was 14, 26 and 50 yards. Holding fast on the line were L. W. Evans, Jack Schmidt, Jackie Hays and Gen-King.

Post gained 277 yards rushing against 75 for the Whirlwinds.

One of the Nation's Most Famous Murders Is Woven Into History of Wealthy, Exclusive Rice Institute

By MAX SKELTON
Associated Press Staff
HOUSTON, Sept. 20. (AP)— One of the nation's most famous murders, 50 years old this month, is woven into the history of Houston's Rice institute.

William Marsh Rice, an 84-year-old Massachusetts native who made a fortune in Texas, was murdered with chloroform September 23, 1900, while sleeping in his New York City apartment.

Rice had earmarked his estate to establish the William M. Rice Institute for advancement of literature, science and art. The murder trial and forgeries of the will kept the estate tied up in court for seven years after Rice's death.

Albert T. Patrick, an attorney and confidential adviser to Rice, was accused of having instigated Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones, to chloroform the wealthy octogenarian.

Jones turned state's evidence and was not prosecuted.

Patrick was sentenced to death and stayed in Sing Sing Prison's death row four years before his sentence was commuted to life by Governor Frank Higgins in 1906. Six years later, Governor John A. Dix gave Patrick a full pardon.

50 In First Class
Just about the time Patrick left Sing Sing, the first class of 50 students was enrolling in Houston's new Rice institute.

Rice had received a charter for the school in 1891, but the death of his second wife, his own murder and litigation over his will delayed its opening until 1912.

The original endowment then was valued about $5 million.

Today the school possibly is the nation's wealthiest, on a student per capita basis.

Its assets approximate $40 million, including endowments exceeding $28 million. The student body is limited to 1500. Hundreds of applicants are rejected each year.

The original endowment still is intact. Rice trustees have taken its proceeds, along with other gifts, and made sound investments in oil properties and real estate.

Rice was born in Springfield, Mass., in 1816, of a large family. At the age of 14 he left home to work in a New England country store which he purchased seven years later.

Then he began to hear about Texas' fight for independence. He decided to move to Texas, arriving at the little bayou city of Houston in the late 1830's. He arrived penniless. His personal effects and merchandise shipment had been lost at sea.

Rice took a job as a store clerk. Working day and night, he rose rapidly until he was a partner in the firm of Rice & Nichols, exporters, importers and wholesale grocers.

Many Land Investments
He made many investments in Texas and Louisiana land. At the close of the Civil War he left Texas a wealthy man. Thereafter, he made his home in New York and New Jersey, but until the day of his death he continued to try to multiply his wealth so as to give Rice institute a firmer financial foundation.

Published records quote him as explaining his dream this way:

"Texas received me when I was penniless, without friends or even acquaintances, and now in the evening of my life, I recognize my obligation to her and to her children. I wish to leave to the boys and girls struggling for a place in the sun the fortune I have been able to accumulate."

Rice originally planned to build the school at his 160-acre estate near Dunellen, N. J. At the age of 60, however, he decided it should be established in Texas.

Before his second wife died in 1896, Rice already had given the institute a "start" with a gift of $200,000, but his wife's death delayed matters.

Under Texas law, property accumulated during a marriage is considered joint property of husband and wife, each having an equal undivided interest. Mrs. Rice's will attempted to distribute half the estate.

Rice contested the will on the grounds he and his wife were not residents of Texas and had not been since the end of the Civil War.

The case was ready for trial when Rice was murdered.

Patrick, formerly of Texas, was a New York attorney associated with an attorney handling Mrs. Rice's will.

Close Friend of Rice
Patrick became a close friend of Rice and told investigators he had worked out an agreement whereby Rice would pay $250,000 as full settlement for claims against his wife's will.

Patrick claimed that at Rice's request he had prepared a new will. This will revoked plans for the institute and named Patrick residuary legatee of the entire estate. He also produced a letter, signed "W. M. Rice," directing that Rice's body be cremated.

This letter and the will produced by Patrick were found by the court to be forgeries. Patrick was arrested for forgery on October 4, 1900.

On February 27, 1901, he and Jones, the valet, were arrested for murder. They were indicted two months later.

Jones, in turning state's evidence, said he had murdered Rice by undermining his health with medicines, some of which were prescribed by a physician and some by Patrick.

He said he met Patrick on September 23, 1900, and then went to the apartment where he found Rice sleeping. He said he placed a cone containing a sponge saturated with chloroform over Rice's face and left it there 30 minutes.

Jones disappeared after the trial. Patrick died February 11, 1940, at Tulsa, Okla., at the age of 74.

Rice's estate was turned over to the Rice Institute trustees in 1907, five years before the first classes began.

Limited Student Body
The trustees have maintained a strict policy on keeping the number of students small enough to permit each to receive every possible educational opportunity from the facilities available. The enrollment is increased gradually as the facilities are enlarged and operating incomes from the endowment climb.

Students pay no tuition but must pay laboratory fees.

A Houston girl, a June graduate, says her four-year education at Rice cost her about $75 a year. About one-fifth of the students are girls.

A young Houston engineer says his Rice education cost him about $200 a year.

Competitive examinations are frequently used in selecting the small freshman classes.

Rice long has been famous for scholarship and engineering in recent years, despite being handicapped by a small enrollment. It has made history in athletic competition.

Construction projects on the 300-acre Houston campus now include a 70,000-seat, $2½ million football stadium and a 6,600-seat, $1,250,000 gymnasium.
