Workers to issue cards at opening

Post's new public library will open its doors to patrons in the city hall tonight at 7 o'clock. Applications for library cards will be received at the library desk tonight and processed as quickly as possible to permit first library books to be checked out during the two hour period tonight.

The library will be operated for the remainder of the summer on a 16 hour weekly schedule with volunteer help.

The schedule calls for the library to be closed Sundays and Mondays, open 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, 9 a.m. to noon Wednesdays, 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, 9 a.m. to noon Fridays, and 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Saturdays.

SOME 1,800 books already are on the new shelves. These include a new 186 book shipment on loan from the Texas State Library.

Some 200 books just received, as loan or gift from the Dawson County Library at Lamesa and approximately 160 books given during the last two weeks by local citizens have yet to be catalogued and placed on the shelves, but this work will be done in the next few days by volunteers during non-open hours for the library.

There is no charge for library cards for city or county residents. Only out-of-county or temporary local residents will be required to make a deposit before checking out books.

The Weekly Story Hour for the smaller youngsters and the junior high and high school book clubs will get under way immediately.

Those wishing to enroll in either the junior high senior high book club can do so at the library desk when applying for their library cards.

MRS. JERRY LOTT, who heads the Story Hour program, announced today that the weekly story hours will be held from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. each Thursday, beginning next Thursday, June 30.

Youngsters who will be five by Sept. 1 through the third grade do not need to enroll but just come for the story hours as often as they like.

Mrs. Lott will be assisted in the program by Mrs. Janie Davis, Mrs. Carl Avcock, Mrs. Mattie Collier, Mrs. Zoe Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Sue Sterling, Mrs. Nancy Macy, and Mrs. Myrna Richardson. Two teenagers also have volunteered as helpers. They are Sue Harrison and Becky Poer.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Newby, volunteer-head of the new High School Book Club, is leaving a list of recommended fiction and non-fiction at the desk for the high schoolers to consider. She said Coke parties will be held later in the summer to discuss books after members have read several each.

Mrs. Carolyn Sawyers, who heads the Junior High Book Club, will announce her book club program next week.

MR. AND MRS. Tom Gamblin returned from Austin yesterday where both visited the Texas State Library and received a large number of suggestions and materials for the library project here. Gamblin is president of the Friends of a Public Library, Garza County, Tex., and Mrs. Gamblin is on the library aides committee of the organization and a member of the city library board.

Mrs. Gamblin was assured that the state probably could make an even larger book loan to the Post Public Library next year. She was told by Mr. Jackson, head of the field services department of the Texas State Library, that according to everything he has heard of the local library project everyone is doing a very fine job and is on the right track with everything.

She was told at Austin that the town of Boerne, Texas, has operated its library for many years on strictly volunteer help and has been so successful it is now building a $40,000 library.

Mrs. Jim Cornish, membership chairman for the library "booster organization", announced today that 107 new paid-up members to the organization have been obtained during the past week.

This brings the Friends of a Public Library membership here to 517 paying members, including 493 ac-

This is Library Night for Post—with the new Post Public Library opening at 7 o'clock tonight to the general public. Do yourself a favor, come out and look it over, get your library card and start enjoying a program of summer reading for yourself. You're going to be pleased with these facilities provided by the city and the 500-member Friends of a Public Library. It's been a "rush month" to get the new facilities ready, but they are all in place and waiting for your use.

There is no charge for library cards. Show your appreciation for those who have worked so hard to make these facilities available by coming out tonight.

Hospital Administrator W. C. Stivers and the hospital trustees are hopeful that Garza Memorial Hospital will be approved for Medicare before the new federal medical program for the aged goes into effect July 1. The hospital has been checked by three different groups of inspectors for Medicare and outside of the national registered nurse shortage, the hospital has passed all other requirements with flying colors. The latest inspection team this week was from Blue Cross, which will be one of the three big insurance firms which will pay the hospital claims and then process the paper and be paid in turn by the government. Enough additional paper work will be required in the federal program that the hospital will need one additional office employe from the day of approval Stivers told us.

Highway four-laning

Monahans firm is low bidder

The Border Road Construction Co. of Monahans was the low bidder in Austin Tuesday at $783,805.12 for the four-laning of U. S. Hwy. 84 for 13.5 miles from the "top of the cap" above Post through Southland.

The contract is expected to be awarded in about 15 days.

Actual road construction on the project is expected to get under way shortly after the awarding of the contract. The contractor will have 280 good weather working days to complete the work, which would mean completion sometime in the late spring or early summer of 1967.

It's a "turnkey job" which means only the single contract will be let for the grading, base, and hot mix.

The highway resident engineer's office here told The Dispatch yesterday that there will be only one "cross-over" or two on the 13.5 mile stretch with no detours. Traffic will travel on the present two lanes while the two new lanes are being built.

A contract was scheduled to be let in Austin yesterday for the permanent surfacing of US-84 from Southland up to and around the Slaton bypass. The surfacing of this four-lane stretch was only temporary although some of it has been in regular use for the last two years.

This will require no detours either, but probably will result in single lane traffic each way as one side of the four-laner is topped at a time.

Completion of the project from northwest of Post to Southland will make US-84 a four-lane highway artery all the way from Lubbock to Roscoe.

Bar Association organized here

A Garza County Bar Association was organized by six lawyers of the county at a luncheon meeting last Friday at Levi's Restaurant.

Thomas W. Gamblin was elected president of the new association; Carleton P. Webb, vice president, and Lonnie Duke, secretary-treasurer. Other members are N. C. Outlaw, Preston Poole, Pat N. Walker and A. C. Cooke.

The bar association will hold its regular meetings at noon every first Friday.

Rites Friday for gunshot victim

Funeral services for William Edward Wartes, 21, who was found shot to death Tuesday night in the front yard of his sister's home in Wolforth, will be at 2 p.m. Friday in the Southland Baptist Church.

Justice of the Peace F. R. Land ruled Wartes' death resulted from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. A former resident of Southland, he was employed in Lubbock.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes of Southland; four sisters, Mrs. Doris Cummings of Lubbock, Mrs. Libby Stahl of Wolforth, Mrs. Joyce Montgomery of Slaton and Mrs. Connie Mitchell of Post;

Also five brothers, Calvin, with the U. S. Air Force in Italy, Delbert, with the U. S. Navy in Norfolk, Va., Wayne of Eupora, Miss., and Samuel and Greg, both of Southland; a half-brother, Glen Hill of Plainview, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Whitsett of Tulsa.

Burial will be in Southland Cemetery under the direction of a Lubbock funeral home.

Citizens urged to visit site

Mayor proclaims Saturday as 'Camp Post Day' here

Mayor Harold Lucas this week issued a proclamation designating Saturday, June 25, as "Camp Post

Day" and urging all citizens to visit the Boy Scout camp, southwest of town.

The mayor's proclamation followed an invitation from Boy Scouts and their leaders for citizens of Post to visit the camp Saturday, to attend programs being arranged for their enjoyment and to bring picnic lunches.

A special program of tours of the 600-acre camp site and activities have been planned for the visitors. The day will be climaxed by a campfire in the Council Ring at 7:30 p.m.

The mayor's proclamation follows:

"WHEREAS, Boy Scout Camp Post is right at our doorstep and for the last forty years has served thousands of Boy Scout and Scouters from throughout the 25-county South Plains Council; and

"WHEREAS, we are truly appreciative of this valuable investment in our nation's youth, and the service it renders the Boy Scouts and their leaders; and

"WHEREAS, the annual summer camping season at Camp Post is in full swing, affording us the opportunity of seeing the program in action, I urge all citizens of Post to accept the invitation to visit Camp Post on Saturday, June 25, and do hereby proclaim that date as "Camp Post Day."

Airport board, engineer confer

The city-county joint airport board met with engineer Ralph Douglas here last Thursday afternoon, but postponed setting a date for advertising for bids pending the working out of a materials purchase problem.

The board tentatively decided to ask for alternate bids on culchic and gravel for the project, but it will be necessary to obtain approval from the Federal Aeronautics Agency, board chairman Thomas W. Gamblin said.

The chairman said there is a possibility that the advertising of construction bids will come late this month.

Law library for county asked by bar association

Members of the newly organized Garza County Bar Association appeared before the Garza County Commissioners Court last Thursday afternoon with the request that the court consider the purchase of a legal library for the courthouse.

Local attorneys told the court that the lawbooks would be for use of lawyers and judges in the district, county, and Justice of the Peace courts. Many out-of-town lawyers appear in court cases here and have need of access to such a law library, as do the judges, the court was told.

Used law books would be purchased, the court was told, with the total cost not exceeding $6,000. The court said the purchase could be spread over three years or so.

The court took no immediate action on the request. The bar association asked that it be considered for inclusion in the new county budget.

Many counties have such law libraries, some do not, it was pointed out during the discussion.

Court approves airport bonds

The Garza County Commissioners Court voted unanimously Thursday afternoon to issue $16,100 in bonds to pay for the county's share of the new city-county joint airport.

The bonds, dated March 10, 1966, will be sold to the First National Bank at par and accrued interest. The bonds will bear 5 per cent interest.

The bonds will mature over the next five years with the final $4,000 payment to be made in 1971.

The state attorney's general office will have to approve the bonds before they can be sold to the bank. County Judge J. E. Parker said.

Workers needed for stock sheds

With time growing short for the building program, more volunteer workers are needed to complete the stock sheds at the grounds of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association, officials said today.

The next work day at the grounds, which are near the rodeo arena, has been set for Thursday, July 7. Volunteer help not only is welcomed, but is urgently needed to complete the buildings, stock shed officials emphasized.

Showing up for a work day at the grounds Tuesday were Syd Conner, county agent; E. A. Howard Jr., agricultural teacher, and Harold Sanderson, chairman of the building committee.

College folk singers

Post girl member recording group

Meredith Newby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Newby, is the community's newest recording artist. Meredith was a member of the Passports 65, a 10-girl folk singing group at Bradford Junior College, during her freshman year just completed.

The folk singing group spent 18 hours this spring recording one side of a record which was recently released by Cori Records.

The Passports for their record sang "Humble," in which Meredith has a solo part. "Teens," "Summertime," "The Times They Are a-Changin'," "Children Go,

"There Is a Ship," "UN Canadian," "Virgin Mary II," and "Today." As a sophomore next fall, Meredith will be the leader of the Passports. The group got its name when formed six years ago because its members at that time were composed of foreign students of the school.

The Passports this last year started out singing for civic and church groups at Bradford, Mass., where the girls' school is located, 40 miles from Boston.

They became a popular, however, that they participated a few

Let's accept this invitation

Citizens of Post are urged to accept the Boy Scouts' invitation to attend "open house" Saturday at the Scout Camp southwest of town.

Those who have never visited the 400-acre camp will see sights that they probably never dreamed existed so "close to home." Those who've visited the camp before, but not in recent years, will see many improvements.

However, it isn't only what you'll see that will make your visit to the camp enjoyable, but also the program being planned by the Boy Scouts and their leaders for the occasion.

Camp Post, which was established forty years ago, is an installation of which every Post citizen should be proud. Thousands of Boy Scouts and their leaders from throughout the 20-county South Plains Council, have camped there since its establishment.

Camp Post is part of the 320,000 acres of unspoiled camping land now owned by the Boy Scouts of America, but Ross Turner, the Boy Scouts' director of camping and conservation has sounded a warning that these 320,000 acres will be much too small for the Scout population of the year 2000.

That will be hard for folks visiting Camp Post to believe when they look upon the immensity of the camp here, but Turner says it is a fact and that the National Council is making efforts "to get camp land now, or it won't be there when we need it."

Turner, who was in Dallas for the annual meeting of the Scouts' National Council, said 750,000 Scouts went camping for a week or more at the 800 Boy Scout camps in the United States last summer.

He said recent national interest in conservation and beautification has generated renewed concern in those areas on the part of Scouts.

"When we have a polluted stream or lake in our camp, we can't go swimming," Turner said. "When trees are indiscriminately cut for firewood, we can have no trees. And when cars are driven into camp sites, we soon lose the camps to a series of muddy roads."

The Boy Scout camp here isn't immediately threatened by such problems, but we're sure that many camps in the nation are. Camp Post, because of its location, might well be one of the last strongholds in the Scouts' efforts to hold their camping land.

At least, let's show our appreciation of the camp and what it means to our town by accepting the Scouts' invitation to visit it Saturday.—CD

Days of summer here again

The warmth of the season already has come to much of the country, but the days of summer did not begin officially until 5:33 p.m. Tuesday. While we have no special favorites among the four seasons, we're always glad to see summer come.

Edith Wharton, writing some years ago, expressed the feeling that touches us all: "Summer afternoon—summer afternoon; to me those have always been the two most beautiful words in the English language."

For most of us, summer brings days of vacation away from the usual routine of school or job. There will be some time again to appreciate the beauty of the words "summer afternoon." The feeling of the sun and the blueness of the sky, the buzzing of insects and the fragrance of lush summer growth, the smell of fresh cut grass, the warm lengthening shadows that gradually merge into a late evening with the light still not gone from the sky—such are the quiet charms of summer.

The more active summer pursuits—driving trips, boating, swimming—carry their share of danger as well as fun, and concern for safety should be the constant companion of all who pursue them. So far the fullest enjoyment of the summer season, let us bring thoughtfulness to the quiet times and care to the busy ones.

And, let us not forget that old belief in mid-summer madness: June 21 may be a good day on which to keep an eye on Washington, where the silly season frequently lasts until midnight of the following June 20.—CD

COW POKES By Ace Reid

Man, you're shore lucky! Yore boss and that new saddle didn't even get a scratch in that fall off the bluff.

Doing business with this bank repeatedly will soon convince you that the service you get isn't based on "luck."

TUESDAY, AS the first day of summer, was the longest day in the year—according to the almanac. But it is going to take more than an almanac to make me believe that any Tuesday can be longer than a Monday.

Sunday was Father's Day, and not all the fathers got "took" literally. I saw many of them being taken out to dinner by their wives and children.

A reader sent along a "Father's Prayer" for me to use in this column, but it arrived too late for last Thursday's paper. It's too good to keep until next Father's Day, however, so here it is:

"Build me a son, O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, and humble and gentle in victory.

"Build me a son whose wishes will not take the place of deeds; a son who will know Thee — and that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge.

"Lead him, I pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; here let him learn compassion for those who fail.

"Build me a son whose heart will be clear, whose goal will be high, a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men, one who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past.

"And, after all these things are his, give him, I pray, enough sense of humor so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true strength.

"Then I, his father, will dare to whisper, 'I have not lived in vain.'"

THE MAN UP the street wonders if you've noticed that it now takes four cents for you to say your two cents' worth on a penny postcard.

You can learn a lot talking to old-timers — even when the conversation is on golf. Scotty Samson tells me that Post's first golf course was a three-hole affair east of town, but that a few years later a regulation-sized course was built at Two Draw and for several years was the only golf course between Mineral Wells and Amarillo.

SCOTTY SAID that out at the Caprock Golf Course, where they'll be holding the Jaycees' junior tournament Saturday, there is a picture hanging in the clubhouse that will be of interest to all golfers. When I tried to learn more about the picture, Scotty closed the conversation by saying, "Go out and take a look."

Post has a four-member musical combo that is "getting up in the world" to the extent that they have had cards printed. They are "The Marauders," a teen-age group composed of Giles McCrary, Jan Olson, Ken Herron and Timmons Bull. Their new cards say they are available for parties and dances. I knew three of the Marauders — Giles, Jan and Ken — when they were known as the "Caprock Rockers." I haven't heard them since they added Timmons and changed their name to "The Marauders," but I am looking forward to it.

THIS WILL BE a big weekend in Post, starting with tonight's opening of the Post Public Library. Also scheduled is Boy Scout Day out at Camp Post, the Jaycees' junior golf tournament at the Caprock Golf Course, and the Teen-Age, Babe Ruth and Little League baseball games at David Nichols Park.

The difference between a pessimist and an optimist is that the pessimist moans and groans because he doesn't get everything he wants, while the optimist is thankful because he doesn't get what he deserves.

ONCE A YEAR the eighth grade of a private school for boys presents a classical play such as "Hamlet," "Macbeth," or "Romeo and Juliet."

A few days before the event was to take place, the third-grade teacher decided she would prepare her class for it.

"Does anyone know who Shakespeare is?" she asked.

"Sure," replied a pupil. "He's the guy that writes the eighth grade play every year."

Ever wonder why some pills come in clear, transparent bottles, while others hide behind brown or dark-green glass? It's no accident, but by design. Why . . . ? Simple daylight can reduce the potency of some medications. Consider how sunshine fades a rayon print, for instance.

Thus, where needed, we use dark bottles, not to hide anything, but to preserve the medical effectiveness of the drug your physician prescribed for you. This is but one of many precautionary measures that are taken to provide you with the best in pharmaceutical service.

Film, 'And Now Miguel' is recommended by clubwomen

"And Now Miguel," a Technicolor feature filming of the Newberry Award winning novel of Joseph Krungold, which opens a four-day run at the Tower Theatre here Wednesday, June 29, is recommended by the Woman's Culture Club of Post.

The club has issued the following recommendation of the film:

"Everyone is always criticizing the movie industry because they make so few good films for children. 'And Now Miguel' proves that one director is trying to do something about this.

"The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs held its state convention in Lubbock recently. One of the principal speakers was Robert B. Radnitz, producer of 'And Now Miguel.' Mr. Radnitz has worked for many years trying to improve films for children and has taken several Film Festival prizes in this field.

"Mr. Radnitz said: 'If we are to have better films, we must start with the children and their families. A child's appreciation of good films is analogous to starting with good books — he wants more of the same as he grows older.'"

The film tells the yearnings of a small boy in northern New Mexico who hopes to prove himself a man, and thereby to accompany his father, uncles and older brother to the mountains with the family flock of sheep.

In the pattern that producer Radnitz has set for his pictures, "And Now Miguel" was photographed as close as possible to the actual setting of the story, in the villages, mesas, pueblos and high plateau country of northern New Mexico. "Real" people of the locality have been used wherever possible to portray their counterparts of the story.

Candy Stripers in hospital training

Candy Stripers are taking their on-the-job training at Garza Memorial Hospital from members of the Women's Auxiliary after completing an orientation course taught last week by Mrs. J. E. Parker, volunteer service chairman, and Mrs. Homer J. Irons, president of the organization.

Jo Beth Dillard and Linda Hays are in their second year of summer service. New girls this year are Marcia Newby, Linda Altman, Jane Strofer, Sherry Woods and Voda Beth Voss.

Mrs. Parker invites any other girls who are interested to contact her as they could use at least six more volunteers. To be eligible a girl must be 16 years of age and be able to work three hours a week at the hospital.

Book review is heard at women's meeting

Mrs. Bryan J. Williams reviewed the book, "God's Psychiatry," by Dr. Charles Allen this morning when the United Presbyterian Women met in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church at 10 o'clock.

Special guests at the meeting were members of the Snyder UPW. A covered dish luncheon was served at 12 noon.

Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Boren, Mrs. M. J. Malouf and Mrs. Oscar Smith.

We were amused at our house one evening last week. Miss C the elder answered the doorbell shortly after Mr. C and I had come home from work and collapsed on the patio.

Miss C came out chucking to tell us who was at the door and why, but she was laughing so hard we thought we'd never hear what had gone on. It seems as though a young lady was selling something and after Miss C told her we weren't interested and started to close the door, the young lady said: "Are you the wife of the man who 'owns' the mill?"

What caused the chucking was the way Miss C was dressed. She had on a pair of cut-off Levi shorts and a sloppy T-shirt lettered in green paint which reads "Padre Island — Beach Party 1966." Miss C said I didn't bat an eye when she asked, I just said "No."

On one of our early spring trips to San Antonio to see the Misses C's, I heard about a new kind of bread that was being introduced into the area, which sounded real good. I concentrated on the name and told Mr. C I'd like to get some to take home because I love Mexican breads.

I kept forgetting the name so I used a little word association to help remember "boliyo." After a little thought I came up with the "bo" part by thinking of Bo McWhirt, and the "liyo" part by thinking of Leo Acker.

To give word association its due I didn't ask for McWhirt-Ackers because every grocery store I tried was out of boliyo.

I was pleasantly surprised a couple of weeks ago to find them in our local stores and they are delicious. That woman who used to get up in the wee hours of the morning to do her baking so her sons could deliver fresh bread to her customers would have been more successful had she made boliyo instead of that soft tasteless stuff. However, maybe her product was better in those days and has just changed with progress.

Miss C and I ate hamburgers at a local drive-in one day last week while Mr. C was off to the all-day water meeting in Lubbock. During our conversation I mentioned that no hamburger would ever taste as good to me as the ones I used to buy for a nickel when I was a teen-ager.

After Miss C stopped choking, she said: "You've got to be kidding." But I wasn't. I well remember when 20 cents bought the most delectable lunch one could want—a 5-cent hamburger, a 5-cent Coke and a 10-cent piece of pie. Of course, back during the depression, that 20 cents was harder to come by than the 35 cents it takes to buy just a hamburger.

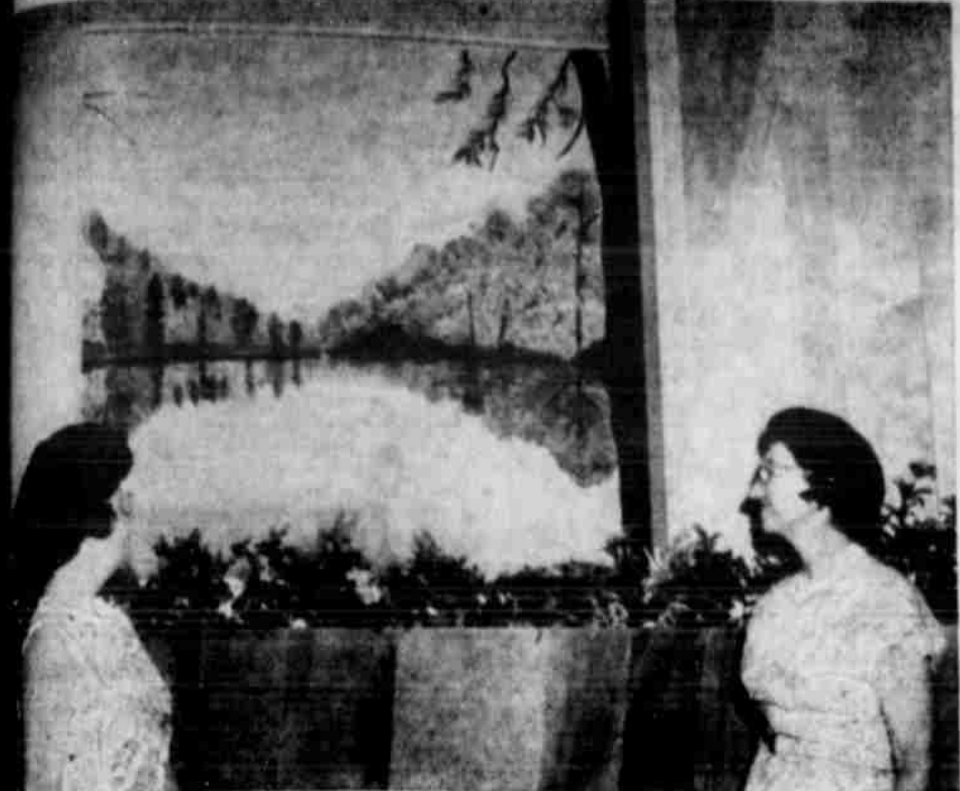

I also remember when Mr. C and I were first married and spent $5 a week on groceries. You all know what a small bag of food you can buy with that amount now!

In case you have noticed a young woman mumbiling the alphabet to themselves as they go about their errands think nothing of it. They are the ones who have been alphabetizing the card files for the new library.

Even though I can't put Becky Poer in the "woman" category I'm sure she has been doing her share of muttering. Becky has been one of the more consistent volunteers working hard to get "your" library ready to open.

See you there tonight. I have my eye on a couple of books and plan to go early to check them out before somebody beats me to it.

PRISCILLA CLUB MEETING
The Priscilla Club will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Vi Terry.

Post artist's baptism scene attracts hundreds of viewers

Annual art show held at Snyder

Members of Post are invited to view the annual art show to be held in the County Barn in Towle Park ...

The artist, Mrs. Juanice Robinson, who is a busy housewife in addition to teaching two art classes — one for adults and the other for children — painted the baptism scene in her spare time.

Hundreds of people have visited the church to see the painting since its completion a few weeks ago.

The artist, Mrs. Juanice Robinson, who is a busy housewife in addition to teaching two art classes — one for adults and the other for children — painted the baptism scene in her spare time.

The 5x12-foot scene of a peaceful stream was painted in oil on the rough-surfaced plaster of the baptismal wall.

The artist stood on railroad ties brought into the baptismal to do much of her work. She used empty frozen pie plates to mix white enamel and paint, which she applied with a sponge to paint the sky, mountains and water.

"I worked with rubber gloves and wore out three sponges," Mrs. Robinson said.

The peaceful scene of the still waters reflecting the tall trees on the banks of the river was inspired, the artist said, by the scripture passage, "Be still and know that I am God."

The painting is the first baptism scene Mrs. Robinson has painted and is also the largest painting she has done.

The wall painting, which is four feet back from the opening between the church proper and the baptismal, has a remarkable effect of three-dimensional depth.

The group also planned their yearbook for the new club year before enjoying a covered dish luncheon.

Members attending were Mrs. Jerry Thuet, Mrs. Jerry Stone, Mrs. Wayne Carpenter and the advisors.

Nine wrecks are counted in May

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated nine accidents in Garza County during the month of May according to Sgt. A. E. Roberts Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

The crashes resulted in five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $7,750.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1966 shows a total of 37 accidents resulting in 14 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $49,818.

The number of traffic deaths in Texas has risen steadily since 1960 with 2,254 deaths to 3028 deaths in 1965. "For the first five months of 1966, 1,137 persons have died in traffic compared to 1032 deaths for the same period of 1965," the sergeant stated. This 10 per cent increase is very alarming, and when you realize our heavy volume traffic months are still ahead, we must anticipate increasing problems in the accident picture."

The sergeant appealed to the motoring public to assist in the reduction of this trend, otherwise, the death count at the end of the year will far exceed the record number of 3,028 deaths in Texas during 1965.

NEW PERSPECTIVE

She went up and up. "Again, Daddy, again," until from her great height she looked down on a strangely distorted scene. Daddy was different from the top. Mommy was little and far away. Even the familiar old tree had hidden its friendly trunk and she caught her breath with a thrill of the unknown. I saw her expression change and suddenly there was a cry tinged with fear, "Don't Daddy!"

I dropped back while the swing slowed down. She tumbled out of the swing into my arms and I realized that there was a vast and unfamiliar world ahead for my child, with many distorted themes. I looked across the house tops to a church spire and thanked God for a foundation of faith... to guide her through the uncertainties ahead.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

New 'Texas Water Plan' slights High Plains irrigation needs

EDITOR'S NOTE: The water board will even finance half of the Texas portion of the cost for the study.

2. More research and demonstration projects to achieve maximum degree of water conservation.

3. Creation of a West Texas Division office of the Texas Water Development Board to coordinate research, demonstration projects, data collection, quality protection, and water conservation activities.

4. Acceleration of topographic mapping program to complete mapping of the High Plains by 1971.

5. Initiation of projects to control natural pollution in Upper Red and Brazos River basins.

6. State participation in cost of a saline water conversion plant with 5,000,000 gallon daily capacity as a pilot project for West Texas. (Saline water conversion is the process of converting West Texas salt water into pure water for municipal use. West Texas communities which are candidates to secure municipal water supplies from such conversion plants, if found economically feasible, are Abilene, Alpine, Big Lake, Burk Burnett, Childress, Dell City, El Paso, Fort Stockton, Midland, Pecos, Monahans, Munday, Quanah and Rankin.)

WEST TEXAS water listeners were told in Lubbock Friday that the Texas Water Resources Board proposes to spend $1,373,000 for these West Texas water programs in the 1968-69 biennium, and $1,166,000 for the 1970-71 biennium.

To understand what the argument is basically about — and what happened in regard to it in Lubbock Friday — readers must first understand the High Plains "water problem." This was "spelled out" in considerable detail at the Friday meeting.

"West Texas Irrigation: Present and Potential" was the subject of a fact-filled talk Friday on the problem by Paul T. Gillett, hydrologist of the Agricultural Planning Division of the Texas Water Development Board.

Gillett said in 1964, Texas had a total of 7,710,000 irrigated acres of which 5,070,000 acres (or 64.4 per cent of the state total) lay in the High Plains area of West Texas (of which northwest Garza is a part).

TEXAS A&M Studies made for the water board indicate that by 2050 (54 years from now) if water itself is not a limiting factor some 16,780,000 Texas acres could be profitably irrigated for agricultural production. Of this amount 8,630,000 acres (or 51.4 per cent of the total) would be in the High Plains alone.

In other words some 3,500,000 additional High Plains acres could be profitably irrigated 54 years hence if sufficient water is then available.

Gillett emphasized that most of the irrigation water now used in the state is ground water (comes from irrigation wells not surface storage sources).

Gillett went on to point out, however, that such ground water sources are now being steadily depleted and by 2020 (54 years hence) planned irrigation in Texas if no supplemental water sources are developed, will drop from today's 7,710,000 acres in irrigation to only 5,910,000 acres of irrigation.

But High Plains irrigation will suffer to a much greater extent. Gillett said studies indicate that by 2020 today's 5,070,000 irrigated acres on the High Plains will be only 2,190,000 million acres.

In other words, the High Plains in 54 years will see 2,880,000 of today's irrigated acres revert to dry land farming because of exhaustion of ground water under the High Plains.

He said that irrigation is still increasing on the High Plains and is expected to peak at nearly 6,000,000 acres by about 1980.

SO THE PROBLEM which drew some 350 water - interested persons to Lubbock Friday is how can the High Plains obtain a huge replenishment supply of water to re-stock the ground strata under the huge High Plains Irrigation area.

An estimated 15 million acre feet of clear water annually would need to be brought into West Texas High Plains region to keep irrigation in the area at its present level. Gillett said state water authorities proposed to put this water back into the ground reservoirs to prevent huge evaporation losses.

That is the problem. Without great new water sources the High Plains irrigation area by 1980 will be on the downgrade through ground water depletion and 54 years from now will be less than half of what it is today.

High Plains irrigation pumps some half billion dollars worth of agricultural production into this region's economy today and that is expected to rise to $650 million by 1980.

The High Plains irrigation area is the largest irrigation area in the nation today, the Texas Water Development Board experts said.

THE QUESTION is where is all the new water coming from to keep this irrigation region going? East Texas has but a few million acre-feet of excess water which has concluded East Texas surplus water is "too expensive" for High Plains irrigation uses, he said.

To that West Texas critics said in Lubbock Friday afternoon in statements to the board: "Please let us be the judge of that."

WITH THE STATE water board writing off East Texas surplus water as too little in amount and too expensive to transport for High Plains irrigation uses, the board employed a California firm of consulting water engineers to determine what was the most feasible plan to "import" out of state water into West Texas and the High Plains area to meet these irrigation needs.

Harvey Banks, president of that California firm, was in Lubbock Friday to make his recommendations after the firm completed its nine months study. Banks said the proposed plan to bring Canadian water — 75 million acre-feet of it — into the United States probably could not help West Texas "until the 21st century."

Banks told West Texans that three sources of out-of-state water are physically feasible and should be studied in detail. He listed them in order of preference as (1) taking water from the Missouri River near Kansas City, Mo., (2) securing Columbia River water from the Pacific Northwest, and (3) securing water from the lower Mississippi River.

He said federal aid on such a project is "essential" and that a federal study of them should be made.

THE MISSOURI River water could come either via a 500 mile route that cuts across lower central Kansas and the eastern part of the Oklahoma panhandle, or a 700-mile route that would swing over to west central Kansas and then down through the center of the Oklahoma panhandle.

The Columbia River plan would move water 1,100 miles through Oregon, northeast Nebraska, northwest Utah, southeast Idaho to the headwaters of the Green River, tributary of the Colorado in southwest Wyoming, and there it would be moved another 1,100-miles by one of two alternate routes to Texas.

He said the Columbia River importation would be very expensive, no cost estimate given, with power and energy requirements for pumping termed "tremendous" as well as storage on the conveyance system.

WEST TEXANS Friday also heard a report of its own "2020 committee", composed of a group of High Plains agriculture, education, industry and business leaders.

Edward G. Weaver of Amarillo, presenting the "2020 committee's" report told the Texas Water Development Board, which was in full attendance at the Lubbock Lubbock meeting:

"We ask that before you put undeveloped — and unproven — acres in irrigation in other sections of the state, that every means of bringing water to the High Plains — where the productivity of the land is already a proven fact — be studied in detail. So, before it is determined that it is not feasible to bring excess water from other areas of this great state of ours to the High Plains, let us determine together how much water is available and how much it will cost."

CONGRESSMAN MAHON who flew to Lubbock especially to sit in on the meeting, told the Texas Water Development Board, that "the urgency and seriousness of our water problems are great."

"We're facing up to the fact that our economy will go down sharply unless we get more water," Mahon said.

Mahon said, "I am alarmed and disappointed that the Texas Water Plan does not take note of the water requirements of this area."

"We are the leading irrigation area of the nation. Any water plan should try to maintain what we have in this area."

"We need to find a way to main-

DWAYNE CAPPS
Promotion for Dwayne Capps

Spl Paul Dwayne Capps, son of Mrs. Inez Capps of Post, has recently been promoted to sergeant.

Sgt. Capps is with the 11th Armored Cavalry stationed at Fort Meade, Md., taking advanced training before going to Viet Nam, where he is due to arrive around Aug. 15.

Sgt. Capps took his basic training at Fort Pork, La., and attended the Non-Commissioned Officers Academy at Fort Knox, Ky., before going to Germany, where he spent nearly two years with the 3rd Armored Division as a headquarters supply clerk.

He is a 1962 graduate of Post High School and attended South Plains College and Texas Tech before entering the service in January of 1964.

could be diverted to other areas of the state.

Present costs of irrigation water in the High Plains was estimated at $15 to $25 per acre foot.

John J. Vandertulp, chief engineer of the Texas Water Development Board, said Friday that preliminary estimates on the cost of moving four million acre feet of excess East Texas water to Lubbock via the Cooper Reservoir would cost $2.4 billion for construction costs alone, or an average cost of $69 per acre foot with distribution costs in the High Plains coming on top of that.

With these figures, the board tain the economy of this High Plains area before we build up new irrigation areas in Texas," Mahon said as the crowd applauded.

The congressman forecast that "we will in time get water for the High Plains from the Missouri River, the Columbia River, or the Mississippi River because such is in the national interest", but he emphasized the question: "Will it come in time?"

"None of my colleagues in Congress want to give us any water," Mahon said. "It eventually will come because the national interest must be served."

But the congressman said it "will take a lot of time."

G. H. NELSON Lubbock attorney and chairman of the Water for the Future Committee of the West Texas Water Institute, in a detailed statement to the board Friday afternoon asked that the needs of West Texas be given "further consideration."

"You don't have a Texas Water Plan when you ignore the greatest irrigation area (High Plains) of the state and nation," he emphasized. He challenged the board's assumption that surplus East Texas water would cost too much for High Plains users.

He said some Texas help with surplus water certainly was far better than "no help at all" and would help tide the High Plains over until importation of out-of-state water could be secured to keep the High Plains irrigated areas going at even its present rate.

The State Water Board is just beginning a series of two months meeting all over the state on the new Texas Water Plan, announced May 31 in detail. It announced prior to Friday's session that it will return to Lubbock in early September to hear additional testimony from High Plains water leaders.

Congressman Mahon told the state water board that its plan is "only the beginning of a plan." He said certainly the legislature would not approve it as recommended now. He urged West Texans to continue to work with the committee. The congressman declared that "a solution eventually can be found."

WHAT THE Friday meeting totaled up to was that West Texans are growing increasingly alarmed both at depleted irrigation water supplies on the High Plains and the inadequacy of the new Texas Water Plan to offer any solution other than long range out-of-state water importation which may not be attained within the next half century.

During the Friday afternoon session of the hearing, Marvin McLaughlin, Ralls banker and vice-chairman of the White River Municipal Water District directors, asked the Texas Water Board for consideration for some of the East Texas surplus water for municipal use via the White River Lake to four member cities and other communities in the area of the lake.

He said the White River has now been closed for three years and the lake is only 30 per cent filled with but three of the four member cities now receiving water.

Approximately 25 representatives of the White River district, including the six man Post delegation, supported McLaughlin's presentation.

The "big fight" Friday was about irrigation water, but at least the White River district request is now an official part of the Texas Water Development Board record in the first of a long group of water hearings.

He has also obtained in a very short time several thousand dollars worth of new tractor parts and has put new lighting in his repair shop to speed the repair work, which Cash reports is now keeping his crew so busy he is having trouble finding somebody with enough time to wash the front windows before the Saturday opening. Looks like he might have to do that chore himself. Congratulations, A. C., on your hustling attitude.

 times in the weekly hootenanny at The King's Rook, a coffee house in Ipswich, 20 miles from Bradford.

Coffee house patrons liked the Passports so well that the management invited them to appear at The King's Rook several times on programs with professional folk singing talent.

The girls also sang at the ROTC Hall at the New London, Conn., base, and at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn.

The girls accompany their singing with two electric guitars. Six of the young singers, including Meredith, can play the guitars.

The Passports' recording is on sale here in Post—at the David Newby home. The girls hope to sell enough of the records to pay the recording costs of the limited edition.

Miss Newby also has been named song leader of the senior class of the two-year college for next year.

Manager Pat Walker's Post team won its fifth game against no set-backs Monday night by walling up Abernathy, 23 to 2, on the latter's home field.

The Post-Roosevelt game here last Thursday night was called in the top of the third inning because of rain, with Post leading, 3-0.

Filemon Vargas, Doyle Nichols and Clyde Cash combined to pitch a four-hitter in Post's one-sided win over Abernathy Monday night.

Both Abernathy runs were scored in the first inning off Vargas when Tannehill homered with Drake on base. Vargas gave up three hits in the first inning and another safety in the second frame, but Nichols came on in the third and Cash in the sixth to hold Abernathy hitless the rest of the way.

Post was retired in order in the first inning, but scored six runs in the second, three in the fourth, four in the fifth, two in the sixth and eight in a big seventh inning.

The locals collected 17 hits off Abernathy's pitcher, Murray, with Nichols banging a two-run homer in the seventh.

Little League teams face make-up games

The Little League baseball season, as far as the regular schedule is concerned, will come to a close with tonight's game between the Dodgers and Red Sox, but seven make-up games are to be played on four nights.

The final make-up game will be Saturday night, July 2, between the Red Sox and Yankees, with the league awards to be made that night, League President Charlie Cooper said.

The Cardinals, with one make-up game to play, are in first place in the league standings with a 13-1 mark. The second-place Dodgers, who are 10-2, have two make-up games to play.

By beating the fourth-place Wildcats in their make-up game June 30, the Cardinals can clinch the pennant.

The league leaders kept winning Monday night with a 20-4 runaway over the Tigers, while the Yankees downed the Wildcats, 11 to 4.

Robert Mindieta was the winning pitcher in the Card-Tiger game, with Kenny McKemie taking the loss. Larry Hair pitched the Yanks to their win over the Wildcats and John Rodman was the loser.

Saturday night, the Cards blanked the Red Sox, 7-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Jerry Saldivar. Danny Lee was charged with the loss. Earthman's double and McMeans' single were the only hits off Saldivar, who fanned 12 batters.

The Dodgers thumped the Tigers, 17-2, Saturday night, with Mike Sappington the winning pitcher and Torres the loser.

Kyle Josey pitched the Dodgers to a 10-1 victory over the Wildcats last Thursday night, yielding only five hits and whiffing 12 batters. Glen Branson was the loser. Mike Hays singled and tripled for two of the hits off Josey.

The Red Sox-Yankee game was halted by rain in the second inning with the Sox leading, 8 to 1.

Highway users pay big taxes

DALLAS—Texas Highway users dug down in their pockets for 29 per cent of the total state taxes collected last year, Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association reported this week.

The Association's Oil Information Committee Chairman, Charles F. Heidrick, Dallas, said that a U.S. Department of Commerce study showed that the state tax on motor fuel, which amounted to $229,175,600, was the largest single item in the highway-user category. Other special taxes on vehicle owners included registration, drivers' license fees and motor carrier taxes. Of the state's $1.2 billion in taxes, highway users paid a total of $345,427,000.

Rain, delays disrupt schedule

Babe Ruth season is extended to June 30

Rain has played havoc with the "tail end" of the Babe Ruth League schedule, both games being rained out last Friday night and again Monday night.

The games rained out Monday night were played Wednesday night, too late for the results to get on The Dispatch sports page, which is printed Wednesday morning.

As of Wednesday morning six make-up games were to be played by Babe Ruth League teams.

There will be only one game tonight, the Pirate-Brave contest, which will start at 5:30 because of the Post - Petersburg Teen - Age League game. The game between the White Sox and Indians scheduled for tonight will be played Saturday night.

There will also be only one game next Tuesday night because of a Teen - Age League game. The Cubs and White Sox will play at 5:30 and the game between the first place Indians and the second place Pirates will be played Thursday night, June 30, to conclude the regular league schedule.

The Indians tightened their hold on the league lead Saturday night by beating the challenging Pirates, 5 to 3, with Darrell Odom hurling the win for the leaders. Terry

Cross was the losing pitcher, relieved by Gary Martin. The Indian manager registered a protest because of the consecutive game rule when Martin took the mound for the Pirates, but since the Indians won, the protest probably will "go by the boards."

In Monday night's rained-out game, the Indians were ahead of the Cubs, 6-1, when the game was called in the third inning.

Last Thursday night, the White Sox edged the Cubs, 5-4.

THE STANDINGS	W	L	Pct.
Indians	13	2	.866
Pirates	11	4	.733
White Sox	6	7	.462
Cubs	5	10	.333
Braves	1	13	.072

Results
June 16: White Sox 5, Cubs 4.
June 17: White Sox vs. Pirates; Cubs vs. Braves, rained out.
June 18: Indians 5, Pirates 3 (game originally scheduled for June 16).
June 21: Indians vs. Cubs, rained out in third inning; White Sox vs. Braves, rained out.

Schedule
Thursday, June 23: Pirates vs. Braves.
Friday, June 24: Cubs vs. Pirates, Indians vs. Braves.
Saturday, June 25: White Sox vs. Indians.
Tuesday, June 28: Cubs vs. White Sox (starts at 5:30 p.m.)
Thursday, June 30: Pirates vs. Indians.

The game will be played on the Babe Ruth League diamond at David Nichols Park.

Meteorite found near Plains is sold for $4.50 a pound by Yoakum farmer

PLAINS — Truitt Jones has sold a meteorite found on his farm near here to the American Meteorite Laboratory in Denver, Colo. Believed to be the first meteorite ever found in Yoakum County, the find has been named the "Plains Texas Meteorite."

The 56-pound meteorite was sold for $4.50 a pound. After study is completed, the Plains meteorite will be cut and part of it will be returned to the West Texas Museum at Texas Tech, where it was on display before being sold. Glenn L. Huss, director of the laboratory at Denver, said tests are made there free of charge on suspected meteorites. A sample not larger than a walnut detached from a large specimen at a place where it will do the least harm should be sent to the Denver laboratory if anybody has a specimen which they believe may be a meteorite.

Should tests prove positive, a purchase offer will be made. The prices range from $3 to $6 per pound.

Opening in Post

Southland man is to manage new station

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Kenneth Callaway is opening a new Mobil service station in Post. He is the manager and the Becker Brothers of Slaton are the owners. Rodney Callaway will be employed there. Kenneth and Karen Gayle and two children will be moving to Post in the near future. We sure are going to miss them.

Greetings to each of you. It has been quoted: "You can never hope to become a skilled conversationalist until you learn how to put your foot tactfully through the television set." Do you agree? Sometimes I think that television has just about ruined our social life. It is easier to sit in front of the TV than to get ourselves ready to go visit our friends and neighbors.

I reported last week that Mrs. Elsin Crawford's mother had broken both of her arms. Well it is even worse than that. She also broke her hip when she fell. We were so sorry to hear this. Wes Donahoo was a patient several days last week in Mercy Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hargrove took her mother, Mrs. Docia Copeland, home to Mesquite last week. She had been visiting here for quite some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Basinger and two daughters of Mercedes visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Basinger, and other relatives recently.

Miss Sylvia Basinger, daughter of the Billy Basingers, is planning a July 8 wedding in Mercedes.

Riley Woods was confined to Mercy Hospital several days last week. We sincerely hope that he is feeling better by now.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell were in Wichita Falls over the weekend to attend the annual Goolsby reunion.

The Kenneth Callaway family spent the weekend in Clovis, N. M., visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Kelly and family (better known to most of you as Chub and Kay.)

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Callaway spend the weekend in Fairfield attending the Callaway reunion.

Harvey Pennell and Miss Bennie Chandler visited the D. D. Pennells Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Castner and children of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Wes Donahoo and the Edmund Wilkes Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Truelock and Mr. and Mrs. James Truelock and family visited Mrs. Nellie Mathis Sunday. The Delroy Odum family were also visitors, Marie Odum and little Dickey spent Sunday night with Mrs. Mathis.

MRS. ED DENTON was in Mercy Hospital for several days last week after receiving injuries in a washing machine accident. She got her hand and arm caught in the wringer while they were down at Possum Kingdom. Carolyn and Dee Hodges and the Reese Hodges visited in Anson Sunday with the Tom Kasingers.

Marie Odom called her father, Dick Mathis, in Oregon, Sunday to wish him a "Happy Father's Day." Mrs. Nellie Mathis also talked to him and she said they are all okay and that it sure was good to talk to Dick.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ferguson of Raleigh, N. C., and the Arvil Fergusons visited the D. D. Pennells Friday of last week.

Mrs. Lee Fredrickson has been transferred back to Reese AFB Hospital.

Edmund, Sherri, Darrell and d Yours Truly spent the weekend at Lake Stamford with my dad, A. B. Dzien. Did a little fishing Sunday morning, but didn't have much luck. The only thing I caught was a "blister."

Sherri and Darrell Wilke and d Kris Richardson of Slaton attended a square dance in the home of Kathy Walker in the Roosevelt community Friday night.

HOW IS YOUR CREDIT?

The worst thing you can do is not to respond to a reminder that your payments are overdue.

The best thing you can do is go in and talk it over.

TIPS ON KEEPING A GOOD CREDIT RATING.

1. Pay promptly. This is more important than a big income.
2. Don't buy more than you can afford with charge accounts and time payments.
3. Leave some of your income free for emergencies.
4. Balance your use of cash and credit.
5. Never try to dodge your debts.
6. Explain matters to the credit manager.
7. Start making payments, however small.

Vet's Forum

Q. My father received a small pension from the Veterans Administration until his death four years ago. My sister, through an accident that occurred when she was a child, is unable to earn a living. I would like to know if she is entitled to a pension as she has never worked and will never be able to do so?

A. The VA considers a "helpless child" as one who became permanently incapable of self-support prior to age 18. If this is your sister's case, you should submit medical evidence to the VA to support this claim. If the claim is upheld, she may be able to receive pension payments.

Q. If a veteran accepts a non-service-connected disability pension while trying to prove that his disability was service-connected, will the VA deduct the monies that he has received from the non-service-connected pension?

A. The fact that a veteran accepts a non-service-connected disability pension while trying to prove that the disability is service-connected will in no way interfere with the proceedings of his claim. If the veteran should be granted service-connection, the VA will make the adjustment to make sure the veteran receives the greater benefit.

Q. I have a relative in a Veterans Administration Hospital. When I visit him, am I permitted to bring him food?

A. If you do, be certain to stop by the nursing station and let her check to see if it violates the patient's diet orders.

Defensive drivers take positive action to prevent car accidents

COLLEGE STATION — Be a defensive driver whether you are on a vacation trip or just performing routine daily driving tasks, suggests Mrs. Elsie Short, home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Traffic fatality reports show that driver error contributes to four out of five fatal accidents. "This fact should make each of us aware of our responsibility as an operator of an automobile," Mrs. Short adds.

Seat belts have saved lives and Antelope census gets under way

MARFA — The annual Trans-Pecos antelope census is now underway by personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor of Region 1, said the job would not be completed until next month. Antelope numbers have fluctuated since 1963 with a low population of 4,963 head recorded in the spring of 1964.

In 1965, despite a severe die-off in the Marfa Flat area, the pronghorns bounced back to a population of 6,259 head.

This was attributed to improved range conditions from rainfall in the eastern half of the region that resulted in a 50 per cent fawn crop, compared to 35 per cent fawn crop in 1964.

Antelope fawns are to get tags for science

ALPINE — The spring antelope fawning season in the Trans-Pecos will trigger an attempt to capture a number of antelope fawns with a 36-inch diameter net on a 10-foot handle, according to Tommy Hailley, wildlife biologist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

He said the technique has worked with deer fawns in other parts of Texas and is expected to function equally well with antelope. The young animals will be tagged with plastic ear tags affixed with colored streamers for easy identification. Those sighted later by wildlife personnel will help solve the riddle of how far and how often antelope move. Biologists also hope to find out how barbed wire and net fences affect movement.

reduced injuries when accidents occur, but they don't in themselves prevent accidents, she emphasizes.

"Watch out for the other driver" means to be a defensive driver. You must assume responsibilities for errors that might be made by another motorist and take positive action to prevent them, says the specialist.

You can assume the responsibility of helping other drivers to become aware of the importance of being a defensive driver, too. Help others to recognize the need for raising the level of their driving skills high enough to survive in a complex transportation system, Mrs. Short says.

You might even stimulate enrollment in the National Safety Council's Driver Improvement Program or in a safe-driving program sponsored by a local club or civic organization.

Safety in your automobile and at home can be planned in all of your home projects with members of your family, the specialist suggests.
