

School board names Shiver to position of business manager

Job created in 'rough' session over finances

Post School District trustees—divided for months as to what to do next about the district's financial deficit—by a 4 to 3 split vote Monday night, during a "rough" session, created the new school district position of business manager and then named Bill Shiver, assistant superintendent of schools, to the job.

In effect, the action strips Supt. Barry B. Thompson of all control over school district finances.

It makes Shiver directly responsible to school trustees for accounting of all revenues, approval of all expenditures and contracts, and the calling and receiving of all bids.

Voting in favor of the motion, and saying very little in explanation of it, were Russell Wilks Jr., Ronnie Bouchier, Ted Aten and Virgil Bilbo.

Voting no were E. R. (Buster) Moreland, board president who had appealed that no vote be taken, David Newby, who charged that the motion was drawn up at a "secret meeting" to which only some of the trustees were invited, and Kay Kirkpatrick.

THOMPSON HAD little to say Monday night, but Tuesday afternoon told The Dispatch:

"Bill Shiver and I have operated together as a team in administration and will continue to do so for the good of quality education in Post and for the best interests of the children and the faculty.

"Bill Shiver and I have worked together to achieve a quality program and will continue to do so in the future. Our dedication to the teaching profession is above self."

And Tuesday was no exception.

We are blessed with a reasonably thick hide. And it has grown tougher through over 20 years of such rectorial experiences.

In all those years, the answer has always been proven the same. The story has to be "strong enough" to make the people understand as well as possible the controversy and where their elected representatives stand on the matter.

This is what The Dispatch has tried to do again this week with all the impartiality at its command. We are especially concerned that the readers understand the 'schools' nagging problem of a deficit.

It is the public's problem—not just a problem which has divided your school trustees. In the end, the public will be called upon to solve it. That will come after the board pulls itself together again and agrees upon a course of action.

The action the board took Monday night is not one with which this newspaper can concur, but what is more important than the decision itself is the effect it will have upon "quality education" in Post.

Few smaller communities ever have the opportunity, as came to Post with the new administration, to strive for real educational attainment in its classrooms under the direction of able and inspiring young educators.

We are pleased with Superintendent Thompson's Tuesday statement in which he accepted the (See Postings, Page 4)

Postmaster Harold Voss said today he has received notification from the regional office at Dallas that the post office here will go from second class to first class on July 1, 1965.

Postmaster Voss said the advance in rating for the local post office has come about through an increase in the volume of mail. Postal receipts here have set a new record each year for the last several years.

The change from second class to first class will not bring on any major changes as far as operation is concerned. "The principal changes will be in bookkeeping and other office work," the postmaster explained.

or any petty differences in the community.

"We will continue to strive for quality education, believing that this is the only way that children can be trained for today's world.

"With this in mind, I fully approve of his (Shiver's) appointment as business manager."

THE MOTION, as adopted by the 4-3 trustee vote, is as follows:

"Due to the increasing complexities of administering the total needs of this school, it is deemed advisable by this board to establish an office of business manager."

"And that by board appointment, W. F. Shiver be directed to assume this office effective this date."

"The scope of this position shall include: (a) To direct a staff for administering the tax program and all other income sources. To maintain accounting records, prepare audits, and perform those functions pertinent to this department.

(b) To appropriate funds in accordance with scheduled revenues.

(c) To account for all revenues.

(d) To review and approve all expenditures.

(e) To call for and receive all bids.

(f) To approve all contracts.

"And that which is established by this board shall be accountable only to this board."

THE NEAREST anybody got to explaining why the motion was proposed was Bouchier's comment that "I think he (Thompson) disregards the intent of the board on monetary matters."

But Bouchier emphasized that "Barry has gotten 100 cents of education return on every dollar he has spent."

Wilks told Thompson that he would like to see the superintendent recommend the proposed action to the trustees. "How you accept it or don't accept it will dictate your future here," he told the superintendent.

Bilbo pointed out that a business manager would take "some of the load off" the superintendent and it should help him.

Newby's first comment was in protest to what he described as "a secret meeting" at which the motion was drawn but to which some of the board members and the superintendent were not invited.

There were denials that any such meeting had been held.

NEWBY SAID it was his personal opinion that "this is another attempt to force Barry Thompson's resignation." He called it "an insidious plot" and "an attempt to discredit Barry".

He said the real financial problem is the simple fact that "we don't have enough money to operate our school program." Kirkpatrick, when asked for his comments, said the board "has been in turmoil" since the second meeting he attended.

"I feel Barry has done a wonderful job with our system, is a gentleman and is a good school man, but at the same time it's a business involving over $600,000 a year," Kirkpatrick said.

"I consider every man here my friend and I hate to see my friends quarrel," he concluded after appealing to the trustees to work together.

Aten said that he had "no bones to pick with Barry." "I think he's done a good job and I'm not after his job," he added.

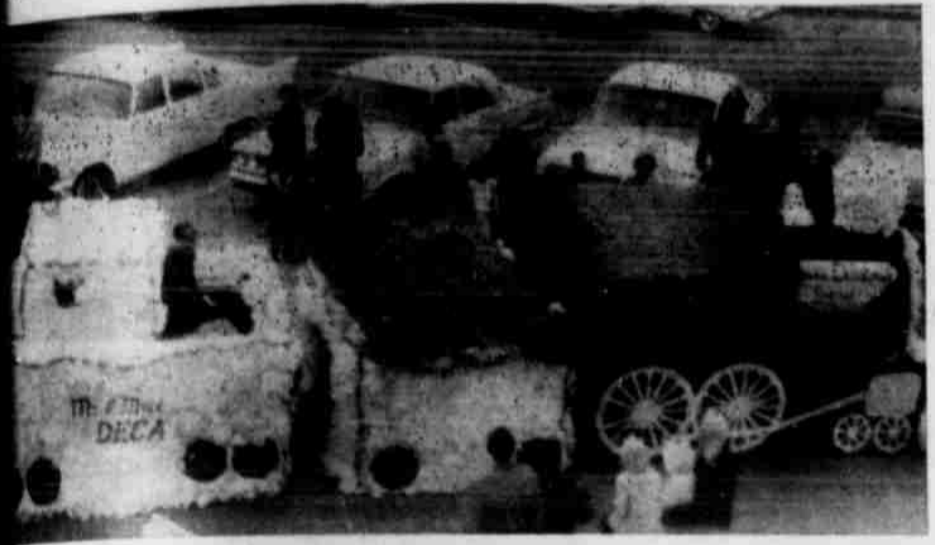

Earlier he said he thought the motion spoke for itself.

Moreland resigns after eight years as board member

E. R. (Buster) Moreland, who has served almost eight years as a school trustee—the last seven as president of the trustees—resigned from the board Monday night on advice of his physician.

The board accepted the resignation with regret and on the condition that Moreland serve as the board's official representative at the high school graduation exercises next spring.

In his letter of resignation, Moreland said: "I am sure that most of you are aware of my recent illness and the fact that the cause as yet has not been explained.

"I have been advised by my physician to resign from as many community activities as possible, and especially from positions which tend to cause strain and worry.

"Therefore I would like to tender (See Moreland Resigns, Page 5)

Father of Post's police chief dies

Funeral services for Louis Percy Miller, 75, of Lubbock, father of Post's police chief Leldon P. Miller, were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Colgate Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Mr. Miller, a resident of the Lubbock area since 1924, died last Saturday morning about two hours after being admitted to West Texas Hospital after suffering a heart attack.

Mr. Miller and his wife would have celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 13. They had already mailed relatives and friends invitations to the celebration.

Mrs. Miller suffered a heart attack Dec. 1, and Mr. Miller had been helping look after her when he was stricken.

The Millers moved from Jones County to the Lubbock area. He farmed at Lorenzo, Robertson, Acuff, Meadow, Ropesville and Smyer before retiring in 1960 and moving to Lubbock.

Other survivors include three other sons, two daughters, three sisters, two brothers, 22 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. B. C. Stapleton of Idalou and L. D. McCov, minister of the Cogate Church of Christ, officiated at the "funeral", which was attended by a number of Post friends of the Leldon P. Miller family. Burial was in Lorenzo Cemetery.

When any public board has "one of those meetings" like the school trustees had Monday night, there are always those who come to counsel with the newspaper reporter next day about "how strong" to make the story.

Army 'C' award is presented mill here

The Postex Cotton Mills were presented with the "C" award for quality production of sheets for the men and women of the U. S. Armed forces in a ceremony here Tuesday morning before some 325 applauding Postex employes, and Burlington Industries and Post dignitaries.

The award, in the form of a large flag and a certificate, was presented by Lt. Col. Lewis Harris Williams of the U. S. Army to Plant Manager Louie Burkes in behalf of Major General Oliver C. Harvey, commanding the Defense Clothing and Textile Supply Center in Philadelphia.

In making the award, on a temporary platform erected at the east end of the Postex sewing room, Colonel Williams said that this was the 8th such "C" award presented in his district since the award was established in January, 1962.

The army officer came here from his headquarters in Memphis, Tenn., to make the presentation.

The army officer read a letter addressed to Burkes from Major General Harvey which read as follows:

"I am pleased to inform you that your plant has met the criteria for our 'C' award by establishing and maintaining an effective and reliable quality control system in the manufacture of your products under this Center's contracts for the (See 'C' Award, Page 5)

FEW LETTERS MAKE A BIG DIFFERENCE

The Southwestern Public Service office here on West Main Street is hoping the sign repair man gets down from Lubbock pretty soon.

The sign over the quite new and well lighted building reads Public Service. But the "ser" part of the lighted sign has been out for the last few nights.

That makes the sign read a very amusing "Public Vice."

Post office first class next year

Postmaster Harold Voss said today he has received notification from the regional office at Dallas that the post office here will go from second class to first class on July 1, 1965.

Postmaster Voss said the advance in rating for the local post office has come about through an increase in the volume of mail. Postal receipts here have set a new record each year for the last several years.

Council raises salaries of three city employes

The Post city council Monday night raised the salaries of City Manager Eddie Warren, City Water Supt. Jimmy Holleman and Policeman Otis G. Shepherd Jr. at its regular December session.

In other action, the council:

(1) Authorized members of the police department to accept fines from out-of-county offenders when the corporation court judge is not available.

(2) Reappointed Tom Bouchier and James L. Minor to two-year terms on the White River Municipal Water District board.

(3) Set a date for the city employes' Christmas party and voted to pay the customary Christmas bonus.

(4) Approved the Post Volunteer fire calls for 1964.

(5) Authorized the purchase of a new truck for the sanitation department.

(6) Authorized repairs to the city water department booster pump.

(7) Authorized the purchase of a calculator and a new typewriter for the city offices.

On indebtedness assumption White River board sets Jan. 9 vote

Directors of the White River Municipal Water District have annexed into the district new city property in the member towns of Crosbyton, Ralls and Spur and have called an election Jan. 9, for the assumption of the district's present bonded indebtedness by the newly enlarged district.

These actions came at a meeting in the Crosby County courthouse in Crosbyton Monday morning.

Purpose of the meeting was to hold the required hearing on the annexation of new territory. No one appeared to oppose the annexation which it is estimated will net the district an additional $1,200 to $2,000 in taxes annually.

No Post territory is involved in the district's latest enlargement. Most of the new properties being taken into the district are new residential additions in the three towns, which have been developed and taken into the respective cities since the district's first assumption (See WR Vote, Page 5)

THE COUNCIL'S motion that police officers be authorized to collect out-of-town fines in the absence of the city judge specified that these fines be collected only at the police station and that a receipt be made, signed by both the officer and the payer of the fine.

The salary of the city manager was raised $50, from $350 to $400 a month; that of the city water superintendent $25, from $435 to $460 a month, and that of the city policeman $25, from $350 to $375 a month.

The council also voted to give Shepherd the rating of police sergeant, which has been requested earlier by Police Chief Leldon P. Miller along with the raise in salary.

Highway-designation step nearer

Securing of a new state highway through Post from Big Spring to Borger was a big step closer to reality this week following the organization of a permanent highway organization here last Friday by representatives of eight of the ten counties along the route.

The next—and biggest—step will come Monday, Jan. 25, in Austin when the request for a state highway designation is presented to the Texas Highway Commission.

Actually, there aren't any major obstacles to be faced and the word from Austin is that the highway commission probably will act favorably upon the proposition.

Very little expense to anybody will be involved, except for the erection of the state highway markers.

The highway from Big Spring to Borger is already built—as a group of connecting farm-to-market roads. All it needs is a state highway designation to attract considerable north-south tourist travel. It is a very scenic route, it's direct, and it misses the time wasting of driving through or around large cities.

Highway travelers, whether you call them tourists or whatever, are big business anywhere and everywhere there are highways. Post can be thankful to have two major highways through Post, but we would be foolish indeed not to put 110 per cent effort behind the proposition for a new north-south state highway.

Our Chamber of Commerce, our city, and our county commissioners court were all well represented at the organization meeting here Friday. Each will have a director on the permanent highway association as each of the ten counties will have three directors.

Post and Garza County have given enthusiastic response to the Borger proposal for such a state highway, and will carry through to see the new state highway become reality in 1965.—JC

Saturday's parade made a hit

"Even better than last year's," seemed to be the general verdict Saturday on Post's second annual Christmas Opening Parade, which attracted hundreds of enthusiastic onlookers and presented an imposing array of floats, bands and other attractions.

The success of this year's parade reflects the time put into its planning by the retail trade committee of the Post Chamber of Commerce, as well as the interest and financial support of the participating merchants, and the time devoted to the floats by the high school youngsters and faculty members.

We can think of no other event that might have proved more effective in launching the Christmas shopping season in Post. The parade had something for everyone—from the old-timers who rode in the procession as "honorary parade marshals" to the youngsters, who got to see Santa Claus for the first time this Christmas season.

Other features helping make the parade a big success were the out-of-town groups, including the ROTC Sam Houston Rifles from West Texas State University and the two O'Donnell bands; also the fact that the City of Post had its street decorations up in time for the parade.—CD

Good far outweighs the bad

A couple of weeks ago, we ran an editorial setting forth some of the "pros" and "cons" of publishing the names of juvenile lawbreakers and their parents.

Well, the editorial hasn't solved anything, and we didn't expect it to. But we thought of it again a few minutes ago while browsing through last Thursday's Dispatch.

What made us think of the editorial of two weeks ago was seeing in last Thursday's Dispatch the names of so many youngsters who "made the news" because of worthwhile things they had accomplished.

These names included those of the county's 1964 4-H Gold Star Boy and Girl; three or four dozen other 4-H Club members; the co-presidents of the high school Student Council, which, by the way, was helping sponsor the "Operation Teen-Ager" program, and dozens of other youngsters who made the news for various reasons—all good.

So, the good far outweighs the bad as far as our teen-agers are concerned, and as long as such a balance is kept there is always a chance of reducing the bad to a minimum.—CD

A real easy contest to enter

There is nothing to buy, nothing to sign and no box tops to send in to enter the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce's Christmas home decoration contest. That makes it easy, doesn't it—especially if you were going to decorate your home anyway.

It stands to reason that the Jaycees' announcement a few weeks ago that they would sponsor a Christmas home decoration contest will result in more homes being decorated for the Yuletide season than there would have been if there was no contest.

Come to think of it, this will be the first Christmas home decoration contest here in several years, the Post Chamber of Commerce having sponsored the last one. The Jaycee organization is to be commended for reviving the contest and it is hoped that their interest will result in a record number of homes being decorated for judging in the event.—CD

SATURDAY'S PARADE kicked off the Christmas season for most folks, but it took the first Santa Claus letter to kick off mine. That first letter was received at the Dispatch office Saturday morning from Jerry Johnson, who writes Santa that he wants an Okinawa battle jacket, a rifle with a bayonet and a GI Joe.

Jerry's complete letter, along with several hundred other Santa Claus letters, will be printed in The Dispatch's Christmas edition.

THE MAN UP the Street says automation is nothing more than man's effort to make work so easy that women can do it all.

The Christmas decorations strung across Main Street by City of Post employees add immeasurably to the yuletide scene here, but the fact that they are there—or aren't there—will cause many anxious moments for the fellows who put them up and who are responsible for them staying up. A woman told me Sunday that while leaving the laundry on East Main she saw a big truck headed toward Clairmont with a whole string of the Christmas decorations, including bells, hanging from it. When I came down to work Monday morning, I saw city employees hanging a new string of decorations at the place where the big truck had pulled down the other one.

THE RUSSELL (Kans.) News asks a good question: "What will today's children be able to tell their children they did without?"

This is the season of hope, and I hope that three terms used in the invocation preceding Saturday's telecast football game between Mississippi and Mississippi State got through to the "hard core" group in the state represented by the two football teams. Those three terms used by the minister in his invocation were "fair play," "justice" and "brotherhood."

A FRIEND OF mine says he knows he isn't cut out for speaking because when he stands up to make a few remarks his mind sits down.

This is a country of faith, says the Santa Fe Magazine. On the installment plan you can buy what you can't afford. On the stock market you can sell what you don't own, and on the tax form they take away what you haven't borrowed yet.

IN YEARS OF editing weekly newspapers, I've been looking for a lead like this and I finally spotted it over the weekend in one of our exchanges.

"Regardless of the fact that the president of the Historical Society is in Oklahoma, the first vice-president was sick, the second vice-president didn't come and the treasurer was in Dallas, five members and two visitors met Nov. 24 and had a real nice meeting."

A mother is a person who, seeing only four pieces of pie for five people promptly announces that she never did care for pie.

IT HAS BEEN a long time since we've run a puzzle in this column and they're sorter stacking up on us. Here's one we'll get out of the way right now:

A water boy is sent to the spring to bring back exactly 4 pints of water. He has only a 5-pint can and a 3-pint can. How can he bring back the required 4 pints?

Answer: Fill the 5-pint can, empty 3 pints into the 3-pint can, pour the remaining 2 pints from the 5-pint can into the 3-pint can, fill the 5-pint can and empty 1 pint into the 3-pint can (which already has 2 pints). This leaves the required 4 pints in the 5-pint can.

There are some important dates in December that we often overlook because of the Christmas rush. For instance, did you know that... Dec. 11 is Jaycee International Day?

The American Federation of Labor was established on Dec. 13, 1886?

Dec. 16 is the 191st anniversary of the Boston Tea Party?

The Pilgrims landed Dec. 21, 1620?

Dec. 23 is the 150th anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans?

Cotton grades and micronaire lower

Cotton grades and micronaire readings were lower since the rains and freeze but staple length remained about the same, according to W. R. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock office.

Harvesting tempo increased rapidly during the week with expectations that the harvest will be at its peak within the next two weeks. It is expected that samples received during the next few days at the three South Plains USDA classing offices will be between 49 and 50 thousand daily. All three offices have adequate personnel to handle the increased volume and the Lubbock office began operating on a two shift basis on Monday.

The three USDA offices on the South Plains classed 82,500 samples during the week ending Friday, Nov. 27, bringing the season's total to 339,300. At this date last year the three offices had classed 517,800 samples.

Close City HD club holds an all-day meet

The Close City Home Demonstration Club met in the Close City Community Center recently for an all-day meeting with a pot-luck luncheon served at noon.

Post is taking on quite a gala appearance. The new Christmas decorations are up and are quite an improvement over the old ones that sometimes looked like a high tide had passed and left seaweed hanging on the wires above Main Street.

House decorations are going up and with the Jaycees sponsoring a home decorating contest this year should continue to do so. It shouldn't be like last year when I decided to write a column about decorations and armed with pad and pencil had Mr. C take me out on the town to find new beauties to write about.

I hope everyone goes all out. It's so much fun to take the kiddies out to see all the sights and is a special part of Christmas. I'd like to see Post have a Santa-land for the little ones up on the courthouse lawn some year that could become a tradition.

Mozelle Bartlett prepared and furnished the meat with other members bringing the rest of the meal. Juanita Terry conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Ruth Pate.

Lola Peel gave a council report and Oneita Gunn reported on the THDA trip. The county-wide HD Christmas party date was announced.

The Community improvement contest sponsored by electrical concerns for 1964-65 was discussed with the following committee being appointed: Oneita Gunn, Cleo Sappington and Virginia Custer.

Cookies and punch were served at the conclusion of the meeting. Others attending besides those mentioned were Helen Autry, Inez Ritchie, Thelma Thomas and a guest.

The annual Christmas party will be held Tuesday, Dec. 15, at the community center. A gift exchange will take place and club pal names revealed.

LUBBOCK VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Lyda Odom visited Sunday in Lubbock with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tanner.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY FRANK WHEATLEY

Longtime residents Post area to be honored on anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frank (Boe) Wheatley will be honored on their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 13, in the Community Room when their children entertain with a reception between 2:30 and 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Wheatleys have lived in the Post area for 41 years. Mr. Wheatley and the former Miss Ida Lavelle Boren were married in the home of her parents, Dec. 13, 1914, in a double ceremony with his cousin, Miss Lucille Heath, and Jack Johnson. The Johnsons are celebrating their anniversary at Waxahachie.

Children of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marion Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clark Wheatley and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Meeks of Slaton.

Grandchildren and great-grandchildren are Mr. and Mrs. Daymon Ethridge of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wheatley and Paula Ann of Canyon, Mrs. Pat Claborn of Canyon and her daughter, Cindy, of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dale Wheatley, Elizabeth and Glenn Dale, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gindorf of Lubbock, Carl Meeks of Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sehon of Wolforth.

Members of the house party will be Mrs. Douglas Livingston and Mrs. Lonnie Peel. Gunners are shooting and killing California's magnificent condors faster than the birds can reproduce.

Club's Christmas dinner is held in Francis home

Christmas decorations enhanced the home of Mrs. Thurman Francis for the annual Christmas dinner party of the Amity Study Club, which was held Tuesday night.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Preston Pooler read the story of Luke. Mrs. Bob Collier and Mrs. Ruby each told a European Christmas fable.

The traditional singing of Christmas carols was enjoyed by the members. Gifts were exchanged by matching "Cities of the World," the year's study theme.

Gifts were brought and packaged for the mental hospital in Wichita Falls, an annual project.

Those attending were: Mrs. Malcolm Bull, Wayne Carpenter, Noel Clemmons, Collier, Marion Duncan, Bud Davis, C. H. Harrel, Bob Macy, George Miller, Poole, Wayne Richardson, Lorene Scarborough, Russell Wilks Jr., Dean Sterling, Charles Hopkins, Don Tatum, the hostesses and Miss Thelma Clark.

Mrs. Scott hostess to Pleasant Valley Club

The Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Jean Scott.

Mrs. Jean Lancaster was welcomed into the club as a new member.

Mrs. Virginia Mock, president, announced that the club would be on the decorating committee for the HD Clubs of Garza County annual Christmas party.

Mrs. Scott gave a demonstration on the construction of Christmas corsages and door decorations.

Mrs. Posey Wheatley was a guest and was served refreshments of orange cake, tea or coffee along with the seven members present.

WATCH YOUR HAT, COAT
The sign over the coat rack read: "Not responsible for lost or stolen articles." John glanced at it as he hung up his coat and hat and then turned to assist Jean, his wife, in taking off her fur coat. He put it on a hanger beside his own.
The two of them drifted casually down the corridor into the dining salon and were assigned to a table by the hostess. The lunch was exceptionally good and both were hungry. The minutes flew by. John glanced at his watch, "Golly, it's almost 1 o'clock. Better get going."
But when they got back to the coat rack, Jean's fur coat was gone.
"I'm sorry, sir," said the manager, "but we are not responsible for lost articles. We put up the coat rack for the convenience of our patrons, but that sign you see makes you responsible for your own hat and coat. I'm awfully sorry, but we just can't watch everybody's possessions."
The fact is that in the case of Jean's fur coat the restaurant would not have been responsible for its loss even if there had been no sign. One who takes off a garment and places it on a rack, as one would do in a restaurant, retains the power of surveillance and control over it himself.
Ordinarily, under such circumstances, the operators of the restaurant have no responsibility toward the customer's belongings because they have not knowingly received the exclusive possession and dominion over them.
The case would be different, however, where the coat had been delivered to an employee in a checkroom. In such event, the management probably would be responsible. So, also, in the cases where a customer checks valuables with a bathing house proprietor, or with a hotel desk clerk, or leaves his automobile with the parking lot attendant to be parked and stored for him, those receiving possession of the customer's property have the duty to use proper care to see that the customer's property is returned.

Proclamation by Governor sets 'Safety Sunday'

AUSTIN — Sunday, Dec. 13, has been proclaimed "Safety Sunday" in Texas by Gov. John Connally, it was announced today by Quincy V. Tuma of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association.
In making the announcement, the Association president praised Governor Connally for his interest in the welfare of the people of Texas.
"The Governor's interest in the welfare of the people of Texas is evidenced by this action," Tuma said. "The purpose of 'Safety Sunday' is to focus public attention on the moral obligations and responsibilities of vehicle drivers to protect their own lives and the lives of others."
"Safety Sunday" is observed each year during one Sunday in December to give further emphasis to the need for accident prevention during the Christmas-New Year's holiday season.
In his proclamation, Governor Connally said "It is essential that every Texas driver realize that safety for himself, his loved ones and his friends, as well as other drivers and passengers is a matter of moral responsibility and that useless infliction of human injury is an abuse of God's most precious gift—life itself."
He noted that 2,729 persons were killed and 161,543 were injured on Texas streets and highways in 1963 despite an intensive and continuing campaign by both officials State agencies and citizen-support groups.

time in three months a school improvements issue. Voters defeated the issue 277 to 205.
The $650,000 issue was for construction of a new high school, addition of eight classrooms to the elementary school and remodeling of the old high school building to be used as a junior high plant.
At Jayton, voters approved $450,000 in bonds for expansion of schools, 129 to 71.
Funds will be used to build a new high school wing, shop building, enlargement of auditorium, additions to elementary department, enlarging seating capacity at football stadium and construction of a swimming pool.
A school bond issue of $225,000 was passed by voters in the Dimmitt School District by a vote of 194 to 130.
The funds will be used to add 10 classrooms to the system's two elementary schools and to build a lunchroom that will accommodate 375 students.

THE TOWN CRIER

He used to be the bearer of news—both good and bad. And he announced the merchandise available in the various places of business. Newspapers have long since replaced him.
He would cry the hour night and day for he was timekeeper to the town. Clocks and wrist-watches crowded him out of our life.
But when he announced the hour he liked to reassure his neighbors: "Tis three o'clock—and all's well!" Why has no one taken up this function in our modern world?
Probably because no one is certain that all is well. And because merely saying that all is well doesn't calm our fears or lighten our concern.
More and more we are coming to realize that our crucial need is spiritual. Men are seeking truth and power in the faith and worship of our churches. With each passing hour it becomes more evident that all will be well only when ALL discover God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

AIR YOU BREATHE
 You may be able to choose the air you drink and be selective in your choice of food, but what is around you is the air you are going to breathe.

As a matter of fact, you automatically breathe about 80 pounds of air each day, while you only eat three pounds of food and drink the most about four quarts of water.

As town that has any kind of industry—chemical plants, petroleum refineries, cotton gins or such—may have air pollution without realizing it. Should there be such a problem, it certainly would be well to take inventory of the efforts your community is making in your behalf, regarding cleaner air.

Already there is much study and effort being done in Texas to evaluate and remedy some of the air pollution problems.

The State Department of Health has completed its part in a national air pollution appraisal. In addition, the Health Department, through the cooperation of local health units, and the National Air Sampling Network of the Public Health Service, maintains twenty-four air sampling stations in points of highest population around the State.

Air samples collected at these stations are analyzed for degree of pollution loading and radioactivity. One city and two counties have their own separate programs for studying air pollution. And several have an air pollution committee.

Every cleaner air program needs the individual support of all its citizens. What do you know about the air you breathe?

Farm income outlook
 Continued stability for U. S. farm income is forecast for the year ahead. Farmers' realized gross income is expected to be about the same as in 1964. Production expenses may show some further increase, but probably less than usual, reports Extension Economist John G. McHaney after his return from the National Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C. Moreover, he says, disposable personal income per capita of the farm population may rise slightly next year due to the relative stability in farm income; the continued general economic expansion and a further reduction in income tax rates. Both farm numbers and the farm population are expected to continue declining in 1965.

A BAIT FOR FIRE ANTS

A bait so irresistible that fire ants can't leave it alone has proved to be the main reason for the state and federal success in eradicating the harmful insect in Texas and eight other states.

The new bait developed by scientists is a granulated mixture of Mirex, a chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticide; soybean oil, a food that appeals to the ants; and corn cob grits, a carrier that makes it possible to distribute the other two ingredients evenly. The bait is so effective that only a seventh of an ounce of the insecticide is required per acre for a treatment to kill the ants. The new weapon kills the fire ants but does not leave any harmful residue.

The fire ant, a native of South America entered the United States around 1918 with a shipment of goods from its homeland and became established near Mobile, Ala. The bothersome pest of humans, animals, and crops began their accelerated spread in earnest in the 1950's.

For food the destructive insects depend on plant roots, stems, seeds, tender shoots and some insects. They damage farm machinery and reduce the carrying capacity of pastures. Because of the ant's vicious sting, which causes boil-like sores, producers find it difficult to hire workers to harvest crops in infested fields.

All known fire ant infestations in the nine-state area which includes Texas have been treated. Workers first apply the bait to

AGRICULTURE BIG BUSINESS

U. S. farmers spent nearly $40 billion in 1963 for business outlays and home consumption. Farm production expenses, including labor, amounted to over $29 billion compared with $10 billion at the beginning of World War II and $21 billion a decade ago. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says that with the unfolding of newer farm production technology, purchases by farmers of industrial products for farm production are expected to continue to increase.

Cafe break-in results in arrest of three

One 18-year-old Negro, J. U. Steel, has been charged with the burglary of Judy's Cafe early last Saturday morning, and another, Alton Charles Smith, is to be charged. Sheriff L. E. Claborn Jr. said today.

Steel, Smith and another Negro, J. D. Davis, were arrested by the sheriff Saturday only a short time after the break-in was reported by Norman Moriarty, son-in-law of the cafe owner, Wesley Northcutt. Moriarty reported the burglary at 2:49 a. m. Saturday, with City Policeman Walter Clark starting the investigation completed by the sheriff's department.

The burglars took about $2.50 in pennies from a coin trinket machine, a roll of pennies from the cash register, four hamburger patties, two fish and a loaf of bread. Officers said an unsuccessful attempt was made to break into a cigarette machine. A screwdriver, hammer and chisel used by the burglars were found on the floor. Entrance to the cafe was gained through a vent on top of the building.

School board—

(Continued from Page 1) close of the meeting, said, “I don't think there was any doubt in any board member's mind when we interviewed Barry for the superintendent's job as to what his proposed program would cost, and what it is costing.”

“I don't believe we'd have this meeting we're having tonight if those with questions on the budget and expenditures would have gone to Barry with them.”

Later in the discussion, Moreland commented that “there's a gentleman's way of going about things—not out in the middle of the stream.”

MORELAND TOLD the trustees they would not be abiding by the terms of their written contract with Supt. Thompson if they took action that night. He asked Thompson for the written contract and read a passage which said that if the board desired to change any administrative policies it would submit notice in writing to the superintendent 90 days in advance.

“I am firmly convinced this board is apart and will never get back together,” Moreland said. “I believe the reason is too much discussion and not enough action around this board table.”

Wilks told Thompson that “if you get in here with us and try to make it work, I'll back you on anything.”

Bouchier said the motion was prepared and made public Nov. 31 and copies made of it for press and radio at that time although it was later decided to hold them until “tonight's meeting.”

Describing his position, Bouchier declared: “I believe this is a compromise and in the best interests of all concerned.”

WHEN KIRKPATRICK asked the superintendent his feelings, Thompson said, “I don't even know how to react.”

He said he had been “as fair and impartial in the operations of the schools as I know how to be” and that he was disappointed and hurt because no one has come up, looked me in the eye and told me they were displeased.”

Wilks said that employment of a business manager for the schools had been discussed several times by the trustees in recent years.

“If it's so important, why haven't we had a meeting and discussed it recently,” Newby asked. “It's never been brought up since I've been on the board.”

Bouchier made the motion and it was seconded by Bilbo.

AFTER THE VOTE was recorded, Newby made a motion for a school district referendum at which the voters would indicate whether they favor a cut in the school program or a revaluation of property.

Bouchier told Newby he was out of order as only the subject for which a special meeting was called could be considered.

Newby promised he would be back with his motion at the board's next regular meeting this Monday night.

In the employes division this year, women were accepting small pledges despite the difficulty of bookkeeping on them. Extra emphasis was placed this year on the downtown employes division which was headed up by Mrs. Bryan J. Williams.

More clothing, toys needed by Wilke

An appeal for toys and clothing was issued today by W. G. (Wilke) Wilkerson, who currently is operating a one-man clothing-to-the-poor center. He expects to have some volunteer help with his Santa workshop in the basement.

Wilke said more clothing is needed to help keep some local youngsters in school. Clothing for adults also is needed.

RECEIVES 40-YEAR PIN

Miss Cora Baker, a hemmer at Postex Mills, is presented a 40-year service pin by Charles A. Gibson of Greenville, S. C., president of Burlington Industries Cotton Mills. The presentation was made Tuesday at the same time Postex received the U. S. Army's “C” award.

Moreland resigns—

“As you know, we have, in the past, seen some very enjoyable as well as some trying times, as we have served together. Yet, as I look back and review the eight years I have served, I must say that it has been an experience and a privilege I will cherish the rest of my life.”

“It is my most earnest desire to see the board spend every effort to act as one body of ‘tall men,’ men who are not afraid to be guided by the dictates of their own conscience, and men who are not afraid to take a kick in the pants for having provided the very best we can afford for the future of our young people.”

Moreland told the trustees that “I'd rather take a beating than get off the board, but I have my family to think of.”

After reading Moreland's letter of resignation to the board, Supt. Barry Thompson commented, “I've never met a more dedicated, impartial man.”

The vacancy created by Moreland's resignation will be filled by a board appointment—possibly at its regular December meeting Monday night.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

We all love Christmas Time and we all enjoy GIVING AND RECEIVING the gifts that come and go from one to the other and of course we naturally think FIRST of those who are the nearest and dearest to us BUT THERE ARE OTHERS who we may never see who also have the Christmas time to observe but not to enjoy as there is nothing to give nor do they receive anything UNLESS someone remembers them.

There will be more people perhaps this Christmas than ever before who will not be able to give and unless we remember them, they will not get a gift SO LETS NOT forget to remember.

Many ways will come to our attention by which we can make someone happy with a gift directly or thru some agency that is worthy of our help.

DON'T throw all appeals in the waste basket but give them a minute of your time and the worthy ones a few of your dollars.

We should SHARE with the needy all the year but more especially as we enjoy the season of the year that brings to our attention the GREATEST OF ALL GIFTS to us.

'C' award —

past year. “This award is a most worthwhile accomplishment which recognizes your production of a quality product for the men and women of our armed forces.

“This award will be extended each year hereafter, provided the high standards you have set in the past are maintained.

“Please extend my personal congratulations to all your employes who have performed so well to make your firm eligible for this achievement award. I wish you continued success in the application of your quality control program.”

Burkes accepted the pennant and certificate on behalf of the employees of Postex Mills.

Charles A. Gibson, president of BI Cotton Mills of Greenville, S. C., presented a 40 year service pin to Miss Cora Baker, a Postex hemmer, and a 35 year service pin to Vachel Anderson, sewing room supervisor.

Also attending the ceremonies here were Arthur Burnet, vice president of Burlington Industries of Greensboro, N. C., and Walter B. Hildebrandt, vice president of BI Cotton Mills.

Introduced from Post at the ceremonies were County Judge J. E. Parker, Mayor Harold Lucas, and Irby G. Metcalf, president of the First National Bank.

Dave Sanford acted as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, read a letter from John Ben Sheppard, chairman of the state historical committee, that the Postex Mills have been approved for a Texas historical landmark.

Attending the ceremonies with Colonel Williams were N. S. Carrozza of Dallas, quality control supervisor in the Dallas office, and Denver D. Parmenter, quality control representative from Abilene, who visits the Postex plant twice monthly in the government contract program.

Work was stopped in the sewing, bleaching and finishing departments for the ceremonies and a large number of pictures were taken for the Burlington magazine.

Miss Baker, who received the 40 year service pin amid loud applause from her fellow workers, started to work here in 1921 at the age of 16.

She recalls that at the time there were 18 people in the sewing department with about ten hemmers. The sewing machines were all located on one table and driven by one motor. A short time later, sewing room employes arose to 25 and everybody thought they were getting “awfully crowded,” Miss Baker said.

When Postex started to use woven labels, Miss Baker sewed the first label in the Garza pillow case. She also was the first to sew the Foxcraft label in when Ely & Walker purchased the plant.

Miss Baker recalls that they were using teams and wagons to haul sheets to the depot when she went to work in the plant, but the mill had also just purchased a new Ford truck.

At that time, she said, the cloth was hauled on a railway from the weaver shop to the bleachery. It was a raised railway about four feet above the ground and the cloth was pushed by hand.

She has seen the operation that began by making one type of sheet and pillow case grow to the present day operation of many styles, sizes and colors.

Payroll for mill employes in those early days was made in cash, Miss Baker said, and the office personnel would go to the bank in a wagon to get the money. The driver always carried an old shot gun with him to make the “payroll run.” Today, of course, the plant pays by check and never has cash on hand.

Another interesting recollection of Miss Baker's is that sheets and pillowcases were shipped by rail and the plant had a carpenter that was engaged to make all the boxes that were used for shipping. He had to make each size box from pine and the sheets and pillowcases then were packed and carried by team and wagon to the depot.

Gold Star Boys and Girls fete

Garza County's Gold Star Boys and Girls of 1964, Jo Beck and Billy Hodges, attended a district-wide Gold Star luncheon Monday in the First Church at Lubbock.

Also attending the luncheon here were the parents of the Gold Star winners and Extension Juanette Williams and Extension Gold Star certificates were presented to each of the boys and girls by District 20 Agents Mrs. Aubrey Williams and Bill Ginter. This award is the highest a Texas 4-H member can receive at the county level.

Professional Library at school is developing

By Wm. Shiver
Instructional supervisors commonly seek to provide an array of publications for the use of individual teachers. This may range from a single teacher's shelf in the school library to a sizable collection housed in the teachers' workroom.

The Post professional library is housed in the teachers' workroom. Our library includes current books on topics of general import to the whole field of education which the school serves, and special subject-matter areas. Also, the collection includes journals and year-books published by professional associations which cover a variety of special and general interests. The library subscribes to publications less readily accessible to teachers; that is, those which professional organizations do not ordinarily provide.

In summary, our library attempts to provide the staff with the latest reports on curriculum experimentation, source books related to methodology and latest research findings, and subject-matter periodicals Mrs. McRee very graciously offered to process the material and she has been performing in her usual competent manner.

There is an added attraction in our library in that we have actual copies of a wide variety of programmed materials. Our library is in the rudimentary stages of development, but we feel that it can add something to the professional growth of the staff.

Junior High bandsters take part in parade

By Cathy Cates
The Post Junior High band marched in the Christmas Parade last Saturday.

The band marched only 50 pieces because several members left to play basketball at the Southland Tournament.

The band wore the same uniforms as when they marched at the Homecoming game. They wore black slacks, white shirts, black ties, black shoes and white socks. They also wore black jackets with an Antelope and the words "Post Junior High" printed in white.

The band played "Sentimental Reasons," "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," "Coat of Arms" and "Military Escort."

"See that big substitute down there playing forward? I think he's going to be our best man next year."
Co-ed: "Oh, dear, this is so sudden."

The old lady was shocked at her grandson's slang. So she said, "There are just two words, Willie, that I wish you would not use. One is 'swell' and the other is 'lousy'."
"Okay" said Willie, "what are they?"

Choir presents assembly Dec. 4

"Alexander's Christmas Eve," "Silent Night," "The Best Christmas," "The Christmas Story," "While Shepherds Watch," "The Littlest Angel," "Dickens' Christmas Stories," "Sing for Christmas."

No News—too cold and everybody stays home

There will not be very much news this week. It was so cold everyone stayed at home until Saturday and then turned out en masse for the lovely Christmas parade in Post. I love a parade.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cooper of Post spend Wednesday with their daughter and family, the L. A. Enloes. Friday night Mrs. Pauline Adams and children visited her parents and spent the day Saturday too.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Greer visited Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Townsen Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lura Hoover of Littlefield spent Friday morning with Mrs. O. H. Hoover.

Mrs. Cordie Laws spent last week with her son, Dean Laws, and family.

Mrs. Caroline Enloe of Clovis, N. M., and mother, Mrs. T. C. Barnes of Slaton visited in the Enloe home Friday after watching the parade in Post. They all went to Slaton and saw the parade there and visited Mrs. Pete Cooper. The children watched Santa arrive in a helicopter which was quite a thrill for them.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ritchey visited in the J. F. Moore home Sunday afternoon.

Hooley and Lavern McCleskey visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stewart in the Lavoy Nursing Home in Taboka Sunday afternoon. On the way home they visited the Kenneth Huffakers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCleskey visited the Kenneth Huffakers Sunday afternoon and also visited with the Tom Murrays.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Campbell and children of Tulia spent the weekend in the parsonage with the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Forbes.

Guests for lunch Sunday in the home of the T. J. Murrays were Hulan Murray and family, the James Murray family, the Bert McDonald family and Arlie Moore.

Mrs. Brenda Furlough is home from the hospital now and doing fine.

MR. AND MRS. Jeff Shook and Linda of O'Donnell attended services at the church at Draw Sunday night.

Best investment in time you'll ever make

6 1/2 seconds could save your life. Or prevent serious injury. That's all the time it takes to pick up a seat belt . . . and fasten it.

If everyone did this—every time—the National Safety Council says at least 5,000 lives could be saved each year, and serious injuries reduced by one-third.

Here's a simple reminder for you and your passengers the next time you drive— "Buckle your seat belt, please."

'The Nativity' is to be presented at church Sunday

At the 11 o'clock morning worship Sunday at the First Christian Church, the minister, Bernard S. Ramsey, will continue the series of messages on the Apostolic Profile: "From Business to Brotherhood." The Lord's Supper will also be observed.

At the 7 o'clock evening worship, the annual Christmas program, "The Nativity," will be presented by the children, youth and choir. Following the worship in the sanctuary, there will be a Christmas tree in the Fellowship Hall, to which everyone is to bring "white gifts" — parcels of food for the Juliette Fowler Home for the blind, and their annual holiday offer.

At the time the new building dedicated, in June of 1960, was an indebtedness of $8,500. Through the annual Christmas offerings to the building fund, amount has now been reduced to $500 and it is hoped that by Christmas this year will enable the church to retire this indebtedness. Each family is to bring a parcel of food to be distributed to the needy. The public is cordially invited.

Election is set on cotton quotas

Garza County cotton growers will join others throughout the county growing states Tuesday, Dec. 15, in a referendum on whether marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1965 upland cotton crop.
Voting in Garza County will be from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. at the Southland Hardware store, the Graham Co-op Gin office and the Garza County ASCS office in Post.
If quotas are approved by two-thirds of the cotton growers voting in the referendum, the "domestic allotment" program will be available, providing price-support payments in addition to loans to growers who keep their acreage within the farm's domestic allotment.
Price support at a level within the range of 65 and 90 per cent of parity will be available to growers who do not exceed their farm acreage allotments, and marketing quota penalties will apply to any excess cotton produced on a farm.

Tax guides for farmers are now available here

The 1965 edition of the Farmers Tax Guide is now available at the county Extension office here, says Syd Conner, Garza County agent.
These guides include explanations on almost every phase of tax that farmers encounter. Examples showing computations and how various options are handled are also explained.
Of particular interest to the farmers are the changes that are available for the 1964 tax year. Some of these include (1) Income Averaging, (2) Carryover of Charitable Contributions, (3) Capital Loss Carryover, (4) Investment Credit Recapture, (5) Minimum Standard Deductions, and (6) Medical and Dental Expenses Allowable for Taxpayers Over 65 years.
A knowledge of these changes and how they affect each applicable farmer is a must. The tax liability of each producer is completely dependent on how he or his "employed tax filer" utilizes these regulations.
The 1965 Farmers Tax Guide is available free of charge and can be secured through the county extension office.

WEEKEND HANDYMAN

CIGAR HUMIDOR

Ever since 1492, when two of Columbus' sailors saw San Salvador natives smoking lighted rolls of tobacco leaves, cigars have brought pleasure to countless millions of men — and women.

Cigars are delicate and need some loving care if they're to remain at their aromatic, palatable best. They are completely dependent upon just the right amount of humidity and should be kept in humidors (air-tight, moisturized containers) that keep them fresh.

You can make a handsome humidifier for your desk or den quite simply. Instructions, complete with drawings, are in the December issue of Popular Mechanics. Or, for a free reprint, write to the Cigar Institute of America, 1270 Avenue of Americas, New York, N. Y. 10020. The materials will cost you next to nothing, and the added smoking pleasure you'll enjoy will prove its worth.

Q. My $5,000 U. S. Government Life Insurance is now paid up. However, my wife has just died. I have over a thousand dollars in bills, and twice as much insurance as I need. Can I change my insurance to meet this situation?

A. Yes. You may borrow against your insurance, or you may cash in part of it, retaining the amount of protection you consider necessary. Your beneficiary designation probably should be revised, too.

Q. What assistance can the VA give me in locating my husband who is receiving compensation?

A. The VA may forward mail to veterans. However, the VA is obligated to keep information concerning a veteran confidential and an address may not be revealed without the veteran's consent. Letters sent to the VA to be forwarded should be placed in an unsealed envelope and mailed to the VA Regional Office last known to have handled the veteran's claim.

Q. What does the VA do about my GI insurance if my wife and I should die? It would go to my children but they are too young to handle it.

A. The VA Legal Division would appoint a guardian to handle this as well as any VA pension to which the children might be entitled.

A little round perforated object, identified as part of a spinning device and found in the Newfoundland wilds, is the first known Viking household article ever unearthed on this continent.

Mrs. Sam Bevers visited her mother Monday.

Mrs. Bud Schiehuber and Mrs. Fernie Reed visited Mrs. Joe Shook Thursday morning.
