

Small twisters ahead of rains cause some damage

Buildings banged in Verbena area

What were believed to be small twisters caused property damage but no injuries in the Verbena community, northeast of Post, Friday night as welcome thunderstorms both that night and Tuesday night brought needed moisture to scattered portions of Garza's cotton and ranchlands.

Heaviest damage from the hard winds came about 7 p. m. Friday at the Arnold Sanderson ranch, 13 miles northeast of Post, when the roof was blown off a nearly completed three-bedroom tenant house.

Damage was estimated at about $3,000.

The same night, a 30 foot by 10 foot chicken house was collapsed by the wind on the Beulah Bird ranch, near the Sandersons, doing an estimated $250 damage.

Henry Smith in the Grassburr area reported an unattached garage demolished by the high winds the same night with damages there running something less than $500.

Mrs. Sanderson told The Dispatch that when the storm struck on their ranch Friday night, an estimated inch and a half of rain fell in little more than five minutes.

"It was raining and blowing so hard we couldn't see the yard gate from the house," she said.

Hail also accompanied the rain. The roof of the almost completed tenant house was blown 75 to 100 yards north and hit and broke a highline pole. The Sanderson home itself was not damaged.

Nobody saw a funnel. It was raining too hard to see much.

The Vivian Vasquez family for whom the house was being built were safely in a storm cellar.

Mrs. Bird reported about two inches of rain when the storm hit her ranch about the same time that night. The chicken house just "crumpled up," she said, but there was no other property damage.

Post received barely a trace of moisture that night although the thunderclouds rolled in over the community.

The thunderstorm Tuesday night brought an official .76 of an inch of moisture at the rain gauge on the courthouse lawn.

The heaviest rainfall was north of Post and below the caprock where an inch of rain was measured at several points.

Other points in the county received much less moisture Tuesday night. Irving Cross in the Grassburr community reported .3 of an inch.

There were scattered reports of up to half an inch in other portions.

Lewis Herron, the First National Bank's farm representative, reported that a soaking rain soon would help much of the dryland cotton.

He said irrigated cotton is "looking good and loading heavy."

A lot of skiprow and thin dryland cotton would benefit considerably from a rain now, he commented. He said dryland cotton in other areas has been burned real bad and the plants are small.

Herron said a good rain on this cotton would probably cause the plants to throw off and start over refruiting and then the frost date time would be the big factor in

Goal tops $12,000 figure

The second report session on the Chamber of Commerce membership drive is scheduled for Chamber directors at 2 p. m. today — following very encouraging reports from drive workers at the first such session last Thursday.

Goal tops $12,000 figure

With many workers not having turned in any cards, the drive last week was approximately a third of the way to its goal of an excess of $12,000.

Co-chairmen Byron J. Williams, Barry B. Thompson and Dave Sanford of the drive received reports of many new members signing up in the first few days of the campaign last week, and of others raising their membership dues to conform to the new self-appraisal method of figuring dues.

Williams pointed out yesterday that if the drive is successful it will provide necessary financing to carry through on the 43 objectives of the Chamber's new Action Program, and also to hire a professionally trained Chamber manager.

Not only are all regular members as well as new prospects being contacted, but emphasis this year is being placed on the $24 individual memberships for those who want to support their "fair share" in the development of this community.

Farmers and ranchers are being invited to participate by joining the Chamber with several objectives already set by the agriculture and livestock committee, chaired by Wayne Carpenter.

The Chamber is planning a monthly Action Report to all members, along with monthly dues statements to keep the membership informed of progress in all phases of the action program.

Chairmen hope to wind up the bulk of the membership drive within the next few days and hope to have the drive as much as 75 per cent complete by today's reporting session.

It was highlighted by a balance sheet for the municipality as of June 30, 1964, which showed total city assets of $1,507,604.12.

Current liabilities were listed at $62,788.06, basically in accrued interest, customer deposits, and current bond and warrants payable.

The city's long-term debt totals $486,000.

The mayor said that the city through "capable management" will be able to hold the line on the city tax rate for another year. He told Rotarians there "is no fat or waste in the 1964-65 budget" which is scheduled for adoption in September.

Lucas reported the city as 25 full-time employees on the municipal payroll plus 25 volunteer firemen. He said the "greatest portions of city expenditures are for services to the citizens which they do not want reduced."

Collier told Rotarians the city's sanitation department has a $37,324 budget of which $17,000 goes in salaries to 10 employees. He pointed out that in the last few months the city has added over 10,000 feet to its main sewer lines at a cost of around $60,000. He said this was paid by $20,000 in cash the city had on hand, $15,823 through federal aid, and approximately $30,000 borrowed.

Next year, he told Rotarians, the city will need to replace a 1950 model garbage disposal truck at a cost of between $5,000 and $9,000.

Potts reported to the club that the city this summer seal coated 136 of its 145 blocks of paving for $24,200. The councilmen said parking areas at the city-county park and the Garza Memorial Hospital also were seal coated.

He said the city owes about $35,000 in paving warrants and has accounts receivable for paving from property owners of about $33,000.

Mayor Lucas said the city is interested in securing a suitable location for an airport but has yet to find property which can be

He was the father of J. P. (Johnny) Ray of Route 1, Post.

Lawn watering is permissible now

With the city water reservoir full this morning, Mayor Harold Lucas announced that voluntary restrictions on watering of lawns are no longer necessary, at least not until further notice.

It is the first time since July 8 that the water level in the water reservoir has been high enough to permit watering of lawns.

The mayor, while advising citizens they could go ahead and water their lawns, urged that they not waste the water. "Use it at your own discretion, but conservatively," the mayor said.

Tuesday night's rain and cooler weather has brought the water situation back up to near normal.

Two from Post are in Tech graduation class

Roar North is injured in football practice

The first casualty of the Post Antelopes' 1964 football season occurred Wednesday morning when Roger North suffered a dislocated right knee during practice.

The griddier, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. North, was taken to Garza Memorial Hospital for treatment. He was kept overnight until the swelling in the injured knee goes down and for further observation.

Grandparents live here

Accidental hanging takes child's life

Dave Hughes Abraham, 9-year-old Albuquerque, N. M., boy, whose grandparents live in Post, was found hanging from a light post outside his family's trailer home in Albuquerque Wednesday of last week.

The boy's death was ruled accidental by a deputy coroner.

He was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Martinez and Mrs. Ruby Abraham, all of Post.

Dave's mother, Mrs. Moses Abraham, said her son and his five-year-old sister, Donna, were outside playing when the accident occurred. Donna, who is unable to speak, ran into the house indicating something was wrong outside. Mrs. Abraham then ran outside to find the boy hanging from a rope around his neck.

The boy's mother cut him down and a rescue squad was called to administer first aid. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by three sisters.

Mrs. Martinez went to Albuquerque to attend her grandson's funeral, which was held at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Dr. Carter had been a resident of Post for five years, moving here from Eden, Tex. He had been in failing health for about four years, but became seriously ill a short time before his death. He was born Aug. 16, 1881, at Pinto, Tex., and would have been 82 years old Sunday. He practiced dentistry in Dallas and Edin before retiring and moving to Eden.

Dr. Carter was a veteran of the World War and was a national commander of the United American War Veterans organization. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

After moving to Post five years ago, Dr. Carter organized the Retail Merchants Association here.

He is survived by his wife, Virginia, one daughter, Mrs. Allen of Victoria; two sons, Dr. E. Carter of San Antonio, and James F. Carter of Las Vegas, Nev.; three grandsons and six grandchildren.

The Rev. Clarence Stephens, Methodist pastor, officiated at the funeral services here Saturday, assisted by Bernard S. Rambo, minister of the First Christian church.

Hospital staff gains first woman doctor

The hospital trustees of Garza Memorial Hospital at a special meeting last Friday morning by unanimous vote accepted Dr. Margaret C. Russell, Post's new "lady doctor", as a member of the hospital's medical staff.

Dr. Russell opened her medical practice here last week.

At the trustees' regular August meeting on the night of Aug. 6, the trustees accepted the $4,573 bid of Plumbing Service Company of Lubbock for the September installation of a new steel boiler with forced draft burner at the hospital.

Former resident dies in Alabama

Last rites for Miss Jean Thompson, 32, who died at 4:30 p. m. Sunday in Lanette, Ala., at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thompson, were conducted at 4 p. m. Wednesday in Lanette, with burial in the cemetery there.

Miss Thompson and her parents moved to Lanette about a month ago from Post after having lived here for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were employees of Postex Mills while they lived here.

Miss Thompson had been an invalid for 22 years.

Survivors include her parents and four sisters: Mrs. Betty Alford and Miss Becky Thompson, both of Lanette, and Mrs. Rex King and Mrs. Jerry Windham, both of Post.

Garza horses are show champions

Two Garza County men, Floy Richardson of Post and Riley Miller of Justiceburg, showed the grand champion stallion and mare, respectively, at the Post Paint Stock Horse Show held Saturday at Post Stampede Arena.

Richardson's 1962 stallion Balmly L. Mac, already a big show winner this year, pulled down grand champion honors, as did Miller's 1961 mare Nylon, also a big winner this year.

The reserve champion stallion was Willie Tag, shown by Jim Reid and Roy Smith of Plainview. Bonnie Sue, shown by Howard Mc-

The hospital has been operating on a patched cast iron boiler in recent months after the hospital's other cast iron boiler broke down.

Both boilers have been in operation since the hospital was opened in 1952.

Hospital Administrator J. R. Rickels said the new steel boiler will carry the hospital load as soon as it is installed with the present cast iron boiler now in use being kept on a standby basis.

The bid for the new boiler installation was accepted conditional to approval by the Garza County Commissioners Court which approved the bid the following Monday at its August meeting.

The hospital's July financial report, presented Aug. 6, showed that the hospital is beginning to start to work its way back from its 1964 deficit.

With 76 patients admitted during July for a total of 650 patient days, the hospital bed occupancy rate hit 83.4 per cent, by far the highest of 1964 to date.

This brought the bed occupancy rate for the hospital for the first seven months of the year up to 47.5 per cent.

The hospital, operating on a cash basis, showed a loss of $3,637.61 for the month bring the operating loss for the first seven months to $19,355.46.

But much of the money billed patients in July will not be collected until August, much of it through hospitalization insurance.

The hospital's financial statement showed $10,061.86 in accounts receivable for the month alone, of which $7,536.30 was in insurance claims which normally will be paid

Room and contents destroyed by fire

Several hundred dollars damage was caused by a fire Monday night that destroyed a utility room and its contents at the Carl Jones residence, 119 Ridge Road.

The fire was confined to the utility room, which is on the west side of the house, but some damage was caused on the inside of the house by heat and smoke.

The fire was discovered in the utility room by firemen, who were called about 10:30 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Jones after the house began to fill with smoke. Cause of the fire was not determined.

In addition to destroying the utility room, the fire burned a number of items stored in the room.

Laurin of Plainview, was the reserve champion mare.

The more than 50 horses entered in the show were judged by Mark Ellard of Hale Center.

Winners in the various classes of the halter and performance divisions were as follows:

1964 Fillies — 1. Navajo Vickie Bar, Oscar Gray, Post. 2. Pete's Prissy, Bill Griffing, Tahoka. 3. Daisy's Princess, F. Whitt Hagerman, Conway, Tex.

1963 Fillies — 1. Dempsey Doodle, Fred Lindsey, Farmersville. 2. Liz Taylor, F. Whitt Hagerman. (See Horse Show, Page 8)

The call of the quarterback again rings out across the land but residents who live in the 300 block West Sixth Street — across from the Antelope practice field—won't be hearing it this year. Not, that is, until the new junior high intramural football program gets under way with the start of school.

The reason — Post's summer water shortage.

Coach Harold Teal is transporting his Antelope high school football squad by bus, twice daily, to the Babe Ruth baseball park for practice sessions because there isn't enough grass on the practice field to practice on. Coach Teal says there are a few spots, but these will have to be reserved for the junior high intramural gridders later.

Both the Antelope stadium turf and the practice field were plowed up, leveled, and reseeded this spring.

Then came the summer dryness and the local water shortage. A lot of water was hauled for the Antelope Stadium turf, but Ben (The Grass Man) Howell, the caretaker of football turf hereabouts, predicts that despite everything he can do the field probably will look more like a cow lot than a football field before the final game of the season.

Since it's being built in an out-of-the-way corner of town, the former Lincoln school site, Post's biggest building project — the 11 duplex apartments for the Public Housing project — probably isn't getting the "drive by" attention it deserves. The other three duplexes

The new community building in the Graham community has been completed except for some outside concrete work and is already in use.

Also newly completed is an office building for the Graham Co-operative Gin, just across the road from the new community building.

The new 30 by 80-foot community building is of brick veneer construction and in addition to a meeting room includes utility room, rest rooms, play room and a kitchenette. It was constructed on the site of the old Graham school building.

The new gin office, also of brick veneer construction, is 30 by 40 feet in size, according to J. W. (Bill) McMahon, gin manager.

Distributive Education program

One of the most important changes in the high school curriculum this fall will be the introduction of the Distributive Education program here in which junior and senior students enrolled take on-the-job training in local stores in the afternoons instead of attending classes.

They will be paid by the hour, too, by the merchants.

Considerable has been written in The Dispatch in the last few months about the program, but such a procedure is still an "eye opener" to parents not accustomed to any radical departure from how they were taught the "three R's" way back when—when they were in high school.

Actually, the program is not new. It was set up a good number of years ago in Texas and has been working well since in those schools where the merchants and administration cooperate closely together in the supervision of the course.

It's simply a vocational course in retailing and the service businesses that goes beyond the classroom into practical, every-day experience on the job.

Proper credits are given toward high school graduation, and credits are such that the student can go on to college as well if he or she desires.

Jail improvements up to public

"Civilization is a state of affairs where nothing can be done without first being financed," says a syndicated newspaper columnist. How true! And at the moment we can think of nothing it applies to more than to the recent grand jury recommendation that new county jail facilities be constructed here.

If the citizens want to see the grand jury's jail improvement recommendation carried out, it is up to them to make the first move in the form of a petition requesting the county commissioners court to order an election on a jail bond issue.

County Judge J. E. Parker told this newspaper last week that the commissioners court's hands are tied as far as new jail facilities are concerned, unless it is petitioned to call a jail bond election.

If you'll remember, the State of Texas ordered several years ago that jail facilities here and in every other county be brought up to standards set by a special jail study group.

Not long after the state's order on jail improvements, a grand jury here inspected the Garza County jail and followed their inspection with a recommendation that facilities and conditions be improved. Thus, the grand jury recommendation of a couple of weeks ago was the second one that had been made.

It is well known here that our jail facilities are inadequate as far as meeting the standards set by the state are concerned. If it is worth doing something about—and most everyone will agree that it is—then the next step would be the circulation of a petition requesting the commissioners court to call an election on a jail bond issue. Any qualified citizen can draw up and circulate a petition.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Newspaper forecasts should be made with a great amount of restraint. This publication ventures to assume that President Johnson's choice of vice president will not be J. Evetts Haley.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

Home is the place where Dad is free to say anything he pleases, because no one will pay attention to him anyway.—Harold Hudson in The Ochiltree County Herald.

Don't stay away from church because it attracts so many hypocrites. There's always room for one more.—Dispatch, Clay Center, Kans.

You need to be quite a juggler if you have a reputation to keep up and a reputation to live down.—The Gosport, Pensacola, Fla.

The trouble with political jokes is that they sometimes get elected.—The Lynn County News.

A smart man doesn't worry about getting credit for everything he does.—Joe Harrison in The Texas Spur.

Now the government may get into the school dropout business. We read where a program is being formulated to help the school dropouts with federal funds. Well, why not? We have federal funds to encourage illegitimacy; we might as well encourage dropouts, too, with handouts.—Royce Brown in The Southwest Dallas County Suburban.

THE BIG WEATHER question at the moment is how can it stay cloudy so long without raining.

The Man up the Street says the automobile has proved to be a great moral force in America because it has almost completely eliminated horse stealing.

SOMETIMES WE get so busy here at The Dispatch with those little classified ads that we have to press our cat, Blackie, into service. I'm only fooling about Blackie, but there's no fooling about the value of classified advertising in The Dispatch.

One of our exchanges says there are too many people in too many cars in too much of a hurry going in too many directions to nowhere for nothing.

A TYPICAL American is a fellow who has just driven home from an Italian movie in his German car, is sitting on Danish furniture, drinking Brazilian coffee out of an English china cup, writing a letter on Irish linen paper with a Japanese ball point pen—complaining about too much American gold going overseas.

One thing I've noticed about the speed of light . . . it gets here too early in the morning.

JEROME BEATTY Jr., who writes the "Trade Winds" column in the Saturday Review, says he has been asked to start a feature called "When You've Seen One You've Seen 'Em All." His first five entries are: 1. A comedian on the Ed Sullivan Show. 2. A ski-jumping competition. 3. A Perry Mason television program. 4. An anti-Castro Cuban. 5. A ticker-tape parade.

My additions to the list are: 6. A rodeo. 7. A wrestling match on television. What additions to the list can you make?

One of the shortcomings of many of us is not giving credit where credit is due. I was made more aware of it after last Thursday's Dispatch came out with a picture of Publisher Jim Cornish and Editor-Photographer Charlie Didway on the front page and someone asked, "Who snapped the picture?" The question made me feel badly about not giving a credit line under the photo to Woman's Editor Helen Cornish. She took the picture and a good one it was, although Mrs. C and the camera didn't have much to go on.

WITH THE pennant races in both major leagues getting so tight, it seems a shame that you can't enjoy the weekend baseball games on television without having to sit through so much corn.

While I'm on the subject of baseball, I might as well make a prediction that I've been holding back for several weeks. I think this year's World's Series will be between Baltimore and Philadelphia. Such a series wouldn't be a very glamorous one, but we'd at least see some new facts.

THERE IS NO time like after the paper is just off the press to look it over and see where you goofed. I didn't find any real bad soofs in last Thursday's Dispatch, but I did notice an over-use of the word "here" in the page one heads. Head-writing is quite a job on any newspaper, and that little word "here" is a big help in making a head fit. I really think we overdid it though with all these page one heads:

"Board Votes $125 Increase for Master's Degrees HERE."
"Dr. Russell Opens Medical Practice HERE Wednesday."
"Grand Jury Urges New Jail HERE; Indicts Four Men."
"Chamber Offers Free Bike HERE."
"Back-to-school Promotion Opens HERE."

Our readers usually point it out to us when we goof in spelling names or misplacing lines, so we thought we'd go along with them and inaugurate another department in which they can offer criticism and advice.

Junior parachute jump being constructed for '64 South Plains Fair

LUBBOCK — Construction began this week on a "Junior Parachute Jump" at the Panhandle South Plains Fairgrounds at Lubbock, fair president M. B. Hilburn announced.

The 35-foot tall jumping platforms are being installed by the U. S. Army, and during the fair thousands of children and teenagers are expected to make the jumps free, supervised by Army personnel. Each jumper will be awarded a certificate as a U. S. Army Jr. Jumper.

The new free attraction is a highlight of a line up of the fair's most extensive display of rides, shows and free exhibits which will be open Sept. 28 through Oct. 3.

A new kiddie land, an array of children's rides exclusively for smaller tots and their parents, will be located just east of the Children's Barnyard. The rides, furnished by the Gene Ledel shows, will contain many new innovations in entertainment for smaller spectators.

On the carnival midway the Gene Ledel shows will feature more rides and exhibits than ever before. Hilburn said.

It will be the fair's most comfortable midway in history, too, Hilburn said. New paved areas and new restrooms are being constructed near the carnival midway.

Prescott-Vacation Headquarters

Situated in Southwest Arkansas, the bustling city of Prescott is the center of many scenic attractions. Eight miles away is ARKLA VILLAGE, an authentic re-creation of a typical frontier town of the mid-1880's, where there's fun for all the family. In another direction you take a ride on the Possum Trot Line of the READER RAILROAD driven by an old-fashioned steam engine. Go another way to a real DIAMOND MINE where, for a small fee, you can dig for your own diamonds (one woman found a $15,000 stone). Then there's OLD WASHINGTON, a famous roadside inn, which around 1830 was the last outpost before reaching the wilderness of the West. To these attractions add NARROWS and WHITE OAK lakes, and you have a wonderful vacation spot — another of the many places to go and things to see in General Telephone Country.

Susan's Stuff By Susan Cornish

Any of you uniformless Pep Squad girls should be interested to know that there are still some uniforms left at Maxine's so you had better hurry on down. Since they are having a bit of size difficulty, if you can't get fitted you might try contacting a "graduate" Pep Squad member. I really can't imagine them having much use for a brilliant gold blouse at college. I also hear Betty Jo Hill and Meredith Newby would be glad to pawn their uniforms.

I'm sure everyone was delighted to see Linda Bias in town for the weekend. It probably made for a better weekend for Buddy Moreland.

Ann Pennington packed up and left a week ago Tuesday for a vacation in California. I'll bet she'll have fun, fun, fun.

Since Danny Odum has been making the front page of The Dispatch due to acquiring a scholarship, I hope he won't mind being moved inside to this column for congratulations.

Melinda Newby, who has been spending a delightful summer at Grand Lake, Colo., is home for a couple of weeks before she leaves for the University of Oklahoma.

Diane Kiker left Tuesday to join forces at Columbia Business College at Odessa. The more the merrier!

The Dispatch's star paper boy, Jimmy Johnston, turned in his resignation last Thursday to accept a position at Post Pharmacy. I can't figure it out?

The football boys started work-out Monday. I rather imagine that you saw that on the front page, too, but believe me, around here it isn't easy to get the top news stories first. Somehow, the other reporters always beat me to them.

Tommy Bonchier and Leslie Acker, who are members of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity at Texas University, accompanied Roger Camp, who will be a student at the University this year, down to Austin for a rush party.

Being as this is joint Bible School week for the Presbyterians and Christians, Lana Haynie, Pat Power, Susan Ramsey, Shannon McCampbell, Carol Camp, Deborah McCampbell, Pat Martin and Chris Cornish are doing their good

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

The C's are to be thanked for the Tuesday night rain. Miss C, the younger, celebrated a birthday Tuesday and heading her list of "like-to-have" was an umbrella. After purchasing the umbrella, we decided it would be pointless to have one and not be able to use it, so we ordered the rain to make the birthday complete.

With all we read nowadays about the need for nursing homes, Post should be quite proud of having two attractive and well-run such homes.

To explore for oil and gas further and further into deeper waters of the Gulf of Mexico, the petroleum industry is building larger and taller drilling structures. In contrast with two other well-known structures is a semi-portable drilling tower, left, used by Humble Oil Company. The tower stands 617 feet high from the crown block to the mud line and weighs over 500 tons. The Washington Monument is 555 feet high and weighs 81.20 tons, while the Statue of Liberty stands 305 feet high and weighs 225 tons.

INSTANT SWEETS
 A new convenience good—instant sweetpotatoes—has been developed to help the rural economy, boost consumption of this "nutritious yam" and offer housewives a shortcut in meal preparation. Major use of instant sweetpotato flakes is expected to be in home meal preparation, but widespread use is anticipated in restaurants. And because of its high vitamin C content the convenience food will be a nutritious addition to the diet of babies and older people in particular.

The initial pilot program is already having good effect in four localities. The manufacturing plants—all but one located in communities under 4,500 population, employ between 60 and 300 workers each. A single plant can produce up to 700 pounds of sweetpotato flakes per hour from about 6,000 pounds of raw sweetpotatoes.

In addition to helping create more jobs in rural areas, the instant product is designed to halt the decline in sweet potato consumption — from about 20 pounds per person in 1944 to a low of about 6 pounds per person in 1963.

The new product may well brighten the commercial outlook for sweetpotato farmers in Texas. East Texas grows about 80 per cent of the Texas sweetpotato crop which has averaged more than $7,000,000 for an annual production of 200,000,000 pounds. Texas ranks fifth in the nation in the production of sweetpotatoes.

Miss Townsend becomes bride of Mr. Smith Saturday night

The Melwood Baptist Church of Brownwood was the scene of the wedding of Miss Nelda Joy Townsend and Harry Lee Smith, Saturday, Aug. 15.

The Rev. Joe A. Webb officiated at the double ring reading of the vows at 7:30 o'clock in the evening before an arch entwined with palm leaves, and baskets of white gladioli, against a background of candelabra. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Townsend of Brownwood and Mr. and Mrs. Arvil M. Smith of Rt. 2, Post.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of Chantilly lace over white peau de soie. The bodice featured a scooped neckline embossed with pearls. The floor-length skirt was accented with two petals of white Chantilly lace in front, a bustle effect in the back and a white satin rose at the waist. A pearl tiara held her fingertip veil. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from her parents. The bride's mother designed her gown.

Maid of honor was Miss Weida Lee Cockrell of Hurst, cousin of the bride. Miss Kathleen Smith, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jo Dell Townsend, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore pink brocade taffeta dresses fashioned with scooped necklines and bell-shaped skirts. Each wore a string of pearls, gifts of the bride, and carried bouquets of pink asters and white gladioli with greenery.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Coralea Roque-more. Mrs. Delores Webb sang "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception followed at the church. The bride's chosen colors were carried out at the table laid with pink net over white satin and centered with an arrangement of pink roses, sweet peas and accented with a miniature bride and groom and wedding bells. The white wedding cake, baked by the bride's cousin, Edward Turner of Midland, was topped with wedding bells.

For travel to East Texas, the bride chose a two-piece sheath of silk with matching accessories. She wore a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Last summer she screamed when we took her near the ocean. Now she loves to splash around under her parents' watchful eye. One day she'll be swimming out past the breakers and riding in on a wave.

How does one explain this emerging courage? It is a combination of growth, training and confidence. And no two alone are sufficient — it takes all three.

These three have also their spiritual counterparts. From the day religious education commences, a child begins to show evidence of spiritual growth. This is followed by an aptitude for learning the simple but profound truths of Christian belief and practice. Ultimately we see evidence of a deep and enduring confidence in God — the magnificent quality we call Faith. Then moral courage, true character, emerges in the lives of our sons and daughters.

A vast spiritual ocean touches every shore of life. And those who once venture into the surf are never again content just to loll on the beach.

Charlie Baker to celebrate 27th year in wrecker service

Charlie Baker will celebrate his 27th anniversary in the wrecking business in Post on Sept. 6. The business is owned by the Post Wrecking Co., 201 S. Ave. I.

Charlie and his son, Lon, make three generations of the Baker family which provided this community with the clock wrecker service for 27 years with many more to be expected.

Baker was associated with his late father, John Baker, in the company business for 20 years before he purchased the business from his father in 1937.

THE BAKER FAMILY of course has been pulling in wrecked cars for them for even longer. John Baker, after coming from World War I service, had virtually all the garages in Post from 1920 until opening his business in 1931 at the corner of the former Owen grove in the 300 block on East St.

The third generation of the family in the business, Charlie Baker, does all the auto mechanical work for the business now and runs the firm's two wreckers. Charlie has been associated with the business, in one capacity or another, since he was eight years old, except for two hitchhikes in the U. S. Navy.

THE BUSINESS CAN be broken down into several inter-related departments. The firm:

(1) Does auto general repair work in a well equipped shop, but specializes in motors, transmissions, differentials, and brake jobs.

(2) Provides 24-hour wrecker service on a state-wide basis.

(3) Handles salvage, which includes buying used, wrecked, burned and junk cars, selling salvageable parts from them and then selling remains of cars as scrap. In this portion of the business the firm also buys oil field salvage, scrap-iron and metals of all kinds including pipe and structural steel.

(4) The firm stocks a wide selection of used auto parts, including tires, tubes and batteries.

"Our work speaks for itself," Charlie Baker says, "in that we have been able to stay in business, thanks to all our customers who have stayed with us, and for which we are very thankful."

LAST YEAR, THE firm rebuilt and enlarged its building to provide more room in which to handle automotive repair work.

"I think we appreciate doing wrecker service better than any service we render to the public," Baker says. "I suppose the reason for this is because there has been Baker wrecker service out of Post for the last 33 years.

Baker estimates that over his 27 years in business here, the firm has purchased used or salvage cars at the rate of about one per day.

This would figure up over the years at about 9,855 old cars which have gone through the firm's salvage operations.

As Charlie says, "We don't buy in a big way," but 9,855 cars is a lot of used up automobiles to handle.

Baker says that "we expect to stay in business in Post for many years to come."

"WE CORDIALLY INVITE all our customers, also the public in general, to call on us any time automobile repair or any other service that we offer is needed."

The salvage portion of the business amounts to about 60 per cent of the volume, Charlie estimates. A lot of car owners looking for replacement parts for old cars stop in to purchase such items which the Bakers have salvaged from cars they have purchased.

After all salable parts and all iron has been removed from the cars the firm purchase, the hulks are trucked to a storage pasture northwest of town on US-84 to be kept until some 200,000 to 300,000 pounds has been accumulated.

Then a portable, hydraulic baler is brought in. It mashes each car body into a compact mass of metal approximately 36 inches by 24 inches. Baker says about 60 per cent of a car body is cast iron and the rest tin. This salvage is then shipped out to a smelter where the metal is melted down and resold in the trade. A "baled up car" sold as scrap metal now brings about $4 in the trade, Baker says.

About once every year, Charlie cleans off his pasture storage yard.

price for all such scrap metal. It then requested all auto salvage firms to sell their scrap metal to the government authorized dealer in each district — Post was and still is in district 9 which includes most of West Texas from near Amarillo south almost to Abilene.

Each salvage dealer was permitted during those war years to keep in stock only two of the various items he sold as used parts for each model car — such as two sets of wheels, two front ends, two differentials, etc.

Baker estimates he hauls in some 150 wrecked cars a year into his yard from the three-county area of Garza, Lynn, and Kent counties with a few from Borden County as well.

Insurance companies which have the insurance on these cars then put out bid cards to all salvage dealers and sell the wrecks to the highest bidder. The Post Wrecking Company here bids on most of the wrecks in this area.

Baker also maintains a storage yard. Such wrecked cars are kept here at a dollar a day rental until sold.

BAKER EXPLAINS that "totaling" a wrecked car means that the car is sold as salvage instead of making repairs upon it. This is determined by a procedure of finding the car's worth prior to the accident and the cost of repairs to put it back into the same condition. If the repair cost comes within about 50% of the worth of the car before the wreck it is considered "totaled" and sold for salvage.

Baker estimates a new car — worth between $3,500 and $4,000 is worth only about $600 after an accident if it is "barely totaled".

In the wrecking business, one runs into a number of unusual situations.

Take this spring for example. The wreckage of the car in which a Lubbock family of six were killed southeast of Post on US-84, was hauled in by the firm and put on the storage yard.

The insurance firm wants Charlie to leave the car on the lot for a year, the time it would take to clear the family's estate. The twisted wreckage is worth only about $30. Baker feels he can't dispose of it because that would be on his responsibility but sees no hope of collecting storage charges or the cost of two men and two wreckers to bring in the wreckage, which required two hours of work. He is still scratching his head over this one.

WRECKER SERVICE also extends into unusual fields.

Sometimes when truckers go through Texas with an overload are caught by the highway patrol and fined. They will pay wrecker service charges to have their cargo to the New Mexico line, where it is reloaded on the truck and the truckers continue on their way west. NNew Mexico permits heavier loads on its highways than does Texas.

Charlie also says he has been employed with his wrecker to lift a good many cows out of wells after the animals have fallen into them. He recalls when the late Will Cravy had a registered bull fall into a well, Charlie manned (See Post Wrecking, Page 16) in August.

Thus, the hospital's loss in July, figured on a cash basis, was due mainly to a "rough June" in which insurance payments during July were much smaller.
Hospital Administrator Rickels said accounts receivable for 1964 to date now stand at $14,632.77 as compared to a net operating loss in 1963 of about $10,000.
If all 1964 receivables now outstanding are paid before the year is out, it would reduce the hospital's operating loss for the year from its present $19,355.46 to slightly less than $3,000.
With heavy insurance payments due this month from increased July business, and with two physicians now on the hospital's medical staff, the hospital's August financial statement is expected to be much brighter.

Licenses for hunting and fishing for the 1964 season are now on sale in Garza County, Game Warden Bud Howell said today.

Exempt from paying the usual $3.15 license fee are persons age 65 and older, those under 17, and those who can show they are hunting on their own land and live on that same property.

are being built on South F Street. Work is proceeding according to schedule with the bricking to be in full swing soon. Those huge truckloads of concrete blocks which have been moving through town have been heading for the former Lincoln school site.

Late summer is of course a rather strange time for a Chamber of Commerce membership drive, but despite the dryness, the vacations, and the heat, the current drive is moving ahead surprisingly well. Upon the size of the response will depend whether the Post Chamber can afford to "start looking" soon for a professionally trained Chamber manager. We hope we can.

A Salvation Army field representative stopped in yesterday morning for a chat. He had just been to the state Chamber managers meeting and we got to talking Chamber of Commerce and our need for a Chamber manager.

Then he said something we find hard to forget. "You can almost drive through the business district of any town and just by looking out the car window tell whether that town has a Chamber manager or not," he commented.

Think about that! He also added, "Sure, every town has its problems, including the weather, but any town that wants to go and grow can somehow afford a Chamber manager."

Think about that, too!

Miss Leverett and Mr. Davis, new teachers, are wed Friday

Two new members of the Post High School faculty, Miss Mary Leverett of Coleman and Howard Orrell Davis of Brownwood, repeated double ring marriage vows Friday at 8 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church in Coleman.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Oero Leverett of Coleman and the late Mr. Leverett, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Davis of Brownwood.

The Rev. Martin Bledsoe officiated at the candlelight ceremony. Given in marriage by her uncle, Dorsey Francis Bigony of Big Spring, the bride wore a gown of candlelight silk organza over taffeta fashioned with an empire bodice and shirred short sleeves.

The scoop neckline was enhanced with scallops of Chantilly lace appliques embroidered with ivory seed pearls. A full chapel train swept from shirred puffs below repeated on the skirt front. The bride wore long mitts which tapered to points over the hands. Her bouffant veil of French silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara and she carried a cascade bouquet of Stephanotis, French carnations and a white orchid. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. J. S. Milligan of Tyler, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dwain Cannon, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Lem B. Allen of Luling. Miss Francis Lee Rudolph was bridesmaid. They wore street-length sheath dresses of antique brass peau de soie accented with hip-length jackets of antique brass brocade. Mrs. Milligan carried a bouquet of English Ivy, and the other attendants carried burning tapers accented with ivy.

Robert Davis of Brownwood served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were James Davis of Brownwood, brother of the bride, and Dr. Dwain Cannon of Coleman. Candles were lighted by James Milligan of Tyler and Dewayne Grooms of Brownwood. The groomsmen and candlelighters seated the guests.

Following a reception at the church, Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M. Mrs. Davis chose a cocoa brown silk suit with brown alligator accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Davis received a BS degree from North Texas State University and taught at Evans Junior High School in Lubbock last year. Mr. Davis has a BS degree from Texas A&M and is working on his master's degree. He formerly taught agriculture at Howard Payne College.

Q. Under the above circumstances, will the VA pay any legal or dental expenses for daughter and me? If I should come pregnant, will the VA the maternity costs, in part, full?

A. The VA will not pay any legal or dental expenses for daughter or you, nor will it pay any maternity costs.

Q. Does a veteran who is between Sept. 16, 1940, and 31, 1950, earn any gratuity or security wage credits?

A. Yes. These gratuities amount to $160 for each month, but are not listed on the duty Security earnings record. Benefits are applied for.

SALT ANALYSIS OF IRRIGATION WATER ADVISED

It's poor business to guess at the quality of your irrigation water. Rather than be in doubt as to possible harmful effects of the water on future soil productivity, have the water evaluated by a chemical analysis. The ideal time to collect samples is during the highest period of water use.

This need is particularly acute where wells are deeper than average for the area. It is known that common salt in high concentrations may exist below the red bed formation. If wells extend into this strata, there is a greater possibility of dangerous salt levels in the water.

Soils vary widely in their ability to tolerate salt without being harmed — and some crops are more tolerant than others. Clays, where the water intake rate is already slow, can be made even less porous by a water high in sodium. Obtaining stands can become a problem on the lighter soils due to sodium accumulation that "seals" or crusts the surface.

Water samples may be submitted to the Soil Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M University, College Station. Samples must be accompanied by the complete Information Sheet D-617, available through the office of County Agent Syd Conner. The present fee is $5 per sample.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 3, 1964. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 6 proposing an amendment to Section 5 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas so as to remove the authorization to transfer not exceeding one per cent annually of the total value of the permanent school fund to the available school fund.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. Section 5 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas is amended to read as follows: "Section 5. The principal of all bonds and other funds, and the principal arising from the sale of the lands hereinbefore set apart to said school fund, shall be the permanent school fund, and all the interest derivable therefrom and the taxes herein authorized and levied shall be the available school fund. The available school fund shall be applied annually to the support of the public free schools. And no law shall ever be enacted appropriating any part of the permanent or available school fund to any other purpose whatever; nor shall the same, or any part thereof ever be appropriated to or used for the support of any sectarian school; and the available school fund herein provided shall be distributed to the several counties according to their scholastic population and applied in such manner as may be provided by law."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1964, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment to remove the authorization to transfer not exceeding one per cent annually of the total value of the permanent school fund to the available school fund."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment to remove the authorization to transfer not exceeding one per cent annually of the total value of the permanent school fund to the available school fund."

"Permits to spray, signed by every farmer with cotton in these seven counties, is a must if the Boll Weevil Control Program is to get underway on schedule." Bill Gunter, area extension agronomist who is serving as Extension coordinator for the program, continued by saying the seven counties where permits must be signed are Motley, Briscoe, Floyd, Dickens, Crosby, Kent and Garza.

For those farmers who haven't attended a permit-signing meeting in their county, several places have been designated where permits can be obtained and signed. These include the local county agricultural agents office and the county ASCS office and all gin offices in Garza County. In addition, permits can be obtained from the county and community chairmen of the Area-wide Boll Weevil Control Program Committee.

Regardless of where you get the permits, make sure you get one and sign it promptly, says Gunter. The time is fast approaching when the spray program must get started. Cotton farms for which permits have not been signed cannot be sprayed for overwintering boll weevil control, the Extension specialist emphasizes.

Not only will you be doing your neighbors above the Caprock a favor by helping stop the spread of the costly insect onto the High Plains. You will also be acting to reduce weevil infestations — and control costs — on your farm next year — and in years ahead.

ATTEND FAMILY REUNION
and Mrs. L. C. White attend reunion of his relatives, the family, in Brownwood over weekend.

Rain gets start in Grassland community

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
I made a statement last week I will have to retract. I said it had forgotten how to rain. Monday morning we got one-half inch of rain and was it nice. Of course, we need more but since it has begun we may get all we need. I have my fingers crossed.

All the children of Mrs. Lawson Spears except Ben Hur and Smith are coming home the last of this week for a reunion. Those who already have arrived are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lawson and daughter, Virginia of Portsmouth, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ward and Alice of Lufkin, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Melton of Crane and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Watson of this community. Mr. and Mrs. Loy Lawson will be here the last of the week. Loy has his master's degree and is working on his Ph.D. at Texas A&M—another home boy made good.

We extend our sympathy to the family of John Ray who passed away Sunday night in the Lavozy Nursing Home in Tahoka. He had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Frank Williams has been ill for a while and is in Methodist Hospital. We are glad to report she is improving.

Luncheon guests in the G. C. Watson home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Spears, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lawson and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ward and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Watson visited their former pastor, the Rev. T. L. Pound in the hospital at Midland. He is a former pastor of the Redwine church.

The Gus Porterfields and the Jim Porterfield family spent a few days in Colorado recently attending a family reunion. They all stayed at the Mountain Side Lodge in the YMCA area of Estes Park. Fifty-six relatives attended, coming from eight states. The oldest one there was 83 and the youngest was three weeks old.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoover and sons of Lubbock spent the day Sunday with his mother, Mrs. O. H. Hoover.

MR. AND MRS. Floy Cline of Gruver visited a few days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Smith recently.

Mrs. W. L. Gribble and Mrs. Lucy Cunningham visited the John Warricks last Wednesday. Mr. Warrick is in bed most of the time we are sorry to report.

R. L. Bosworth of Alice visited his sisters, Mrs. J. F. Moore and family and Mrs. Mildred Eubank, and some nieces for several days.

Mrs. Rayburn Fitts' mother of Peacock visited here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Greer had a pleasant surprise last Thursday. Without any planning, all of their children just happened to come to spend the day. What a nice time they had visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sherrell spent the weekend in Rising Star visiting his sister, Mrs. Martha McKay, who has been real sick but is much better.

Mrs. Mattie Jackson has been in the hospital in Tahoka several days. She is at home now and improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodd of Albuquerque, N. M., visited Mrs. A. Z. Sewell last week.

A3c Lonnie Ray Forbes, eldest son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Forbes, is home on leave from Hill AFB in Utah. He plans to stay about 15 days.

MRS. W. A. Oden has returned from a five week's trip in California. She visited her sister, Mrs. Belle Brammer, at South Gate; a brother, J. W. Large and Mrs. Large at Corona; a niece, Mrs. Ganell Watkins at Whittier, and a Sunday lunch was catered except what the HD club furnished. On the way home they visited in Seymour Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Short's late Uncle Charley McCord's family. They had two inches of rain so it was cool and pleasant there.
