

Two 'newcomers' win council seats; one on school board

Two "newcomers" won seats on the Post city council and another on the Post school board in spring elections here Saturday and Tuesday which drew comparatively small voter turnouts.

Wayne Carpenter won a three-year term on the school board, defeating David Newby for Place 7 on the board by a 19 vote margin, 167 to 148.

The young farmer will be sworn in at the trustees' April meeting Monday night. Newby had been appointed to the board two years ago to fill a vacancy.

Virgil Bilbo, unopposed for Place 6 on the school board, polled 296 votes out of the total of 321 cast Saturday at the Post High School library.

In the city election Tuesday, 474 voters turned out to elect Leo Ackers, accountant for Brown Brothers, Arnold Parrish, local grocer, and Jess Rogers, oil man, to two year terms on the city council.

Acker led the ticket, polling 320 votes, one more than Parrish received in his successful bid for re-election.

Rogers won the third seat by only a four-vote margin from Pat N. Walker, local attorney. Rogers received 244 votes to 240 for Walker. Bryan Morgan received 150 votes and Byron Haynie 68.

In comparison to the 474 voting Tuesday, 723 turned out last year as a three-man mayoral race sparked considerably more interest.

L. G. Thuet Jr., was re-elected to a two-year term on the Garza County School Board Saturday as a count-at-large representative.

and Sam Ellis of Southland and Mrs. Pearl Nance of Justiceburg were re-elected from Precincts one and four, respectively. All were unopposed.

At Southland Jerry Melcher was elected to a three-year term on Southland Independent School District trustees and Donald Basinger won re-election in uncontested races.

At Justiceburg, Sam Bevers Jr. and Bud Schiehuber won uncontested races for three year terms on the board of the Justiceburg Common School District.

Annual Easter observance

Sunrise service here set for 6:30 Sunday

The community's second annual Easter sunrise service, sponsored by the Post Ministerial Alliance, will be held at 6:30 o'clock Sunday northwest of Post atop the caprock.

Three large crosses have been erected at the site of this year's service, which will be in a caliche pit just east of U. S. Highway 84.

Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church and chairman of the ministerial alliance's Easter sunrise service, said an even larger crowd than attended last year's service is expected Sunday.

"The public is cordially invited to attend," the Rev. Mr. Ramsey said, adding that in the event of inclement weather the service will be held at the First Baptist Church.

The singing will be led by Vernon Scott, who will also sing a solo, "One Day." Hymns to be sung are "Christ Arose!" and "He Lives!"

The scripture lesson, from Mark 16:1-8, will be read by the Rev. Joe Vernon, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Edgar H. Graham Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will deliver the message, "From Sunset to Sunrise." The benediction will be by the Rev. Clarence Stephens, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Four churches of the city had announced special Easter services at The Dispatch's press time.

A special Easter message, "Is There a Life Before Death?" will highlight the 11 a. m. worship service Sunday at the First Christian Church. The Lord's Supper will be observed.

Because of the illness of the pastor, the Rev. Richard F. Casey, Holy Cross Catholic Church, will not hold its usual Easter midnight mass Saturday. There will be an Easter mass at 8 a. m. Sunday with a minister from St. Elizabeth's Church in Lubbock in charge. There will be no evening service at the church Sunday.

Services are being held at 7:30 p. m. Monday through Friday at the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. Mr. Stephens, pastor, speaking on "The Seven Last Words of Jesus." Communion service will be held at 7 p. m. Sunday.

The Women's Society of Christian Service were to hold a Maundy Thursday service at 9:30 a. m. today in the home of Mrs. W. R. Graeber. Mrs. Bill Edwards and Mrs. Bob Collier will be in charge of the program on "Intimations."

A special offering will be taken for the Methodist Mission Home and Training School at San Antonio.

The First Presbyterian Church is holding Holy Week services at 7:30 p. m. Monday through Thursday, with communion and receiving of new members to be Thursday night. The regular 11 a. m. worship service will be held Sunday.

The cost of building the furniture was paid for out of Title I funds, which also provide for the new remedial reading program and other new school services, Supt. Shiver said.

All work on the new furniture was done by the 15 boys in the industrial arts shop during school hours.

"We are very proud of the attitude of the industrial arts students and Mr. Hopkins in working together to help us out of a difficult situation," Supt. Shiver said. "This is one of the many instances demonstrating why our industrial arts program should be expanded," he added.

The industrial arts students who built the furniture are Bo Hutchins, Danny Cooper, Larry Kirby, Dwayne McWhitt, Jimmy Johnston, Roger North, Charles Baker, Paul Walker, James White, Mike Petty, Weldon Horton, Tommy Allen, Frank Hernandez, Barry Byerly and Billy Little.

The remedial reading room in which the new furniture is being used is in the northwest corner of the primary school building. (See Students Build, page 8)

City of Post no longer in tree cutting business

The City of Post is no longer in the tree-cutting and yard-leveling business, following the adoption of a new policy at Monday night's city council meeting.

The policy was adopted after the council decided that the city should not compete with private individuals who are in this type of business for a livelihood.

The new policy also applies to hauling dirt or gravel for private citizens or other services in which city equipment and city labor is used.

City Atty. Carleton P. Webb told the council that it is illegal for the city to do such work unless it is "justified" for protection of water lines, etc.

The city still can mow and do other clean-up work on vacant lots under the weed ordinance the council passed about a year ago, but only under the provisions of the ordinance, it was explained.

Complaints of the city's "competition" in tree-cutting and other services have been made to the council by private citizens who do this kind of work.

Most of the complaints have been made in recent weeks after the city council at its March meeting authorized the purchase of a power saw and the setting of a $3 minimum and $5 maximum charge for cutting trees.

Marker to honor Garza's earliest county officials

The Official Texas Historical Marker for "Garza County's first officers" has been erected on the courthouse lawn and will be dedicated at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, April 17, Mrs. A. C. Sturman, chairman of the county historical survey committee, has announced.

The cast aluminum marker with Swedish steel effect for durability and appearance measures 18 by 28 inches and is sponsored by the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

This is the 11th Texas historical marker to be erected in Garza County.

The marker honors as the first officers of the county: J. M. Boren, county judge; O. B. Kelly, sheriff; H. B. Murray, clerk; B. F. Wilks, treasurer; D. W. Stiles, tax assessor; M. L. Harkay, county attorney; A. L. Duren, justice of the peace; Marion McGinty, constable; H. C. Callis, hide and animal inspector; and Sam C. Wilks, Jobe Davies, J. L. Barrow and W. V. Roy, commissioners.

District Judge Cruett Smith will be principal speaker at the dedication, which the public is invited to attend.

A complete program of the dedication ceremony will appear in next Thursday's Post Dispatch.

Retail merchants hear Lubbock RMA manager

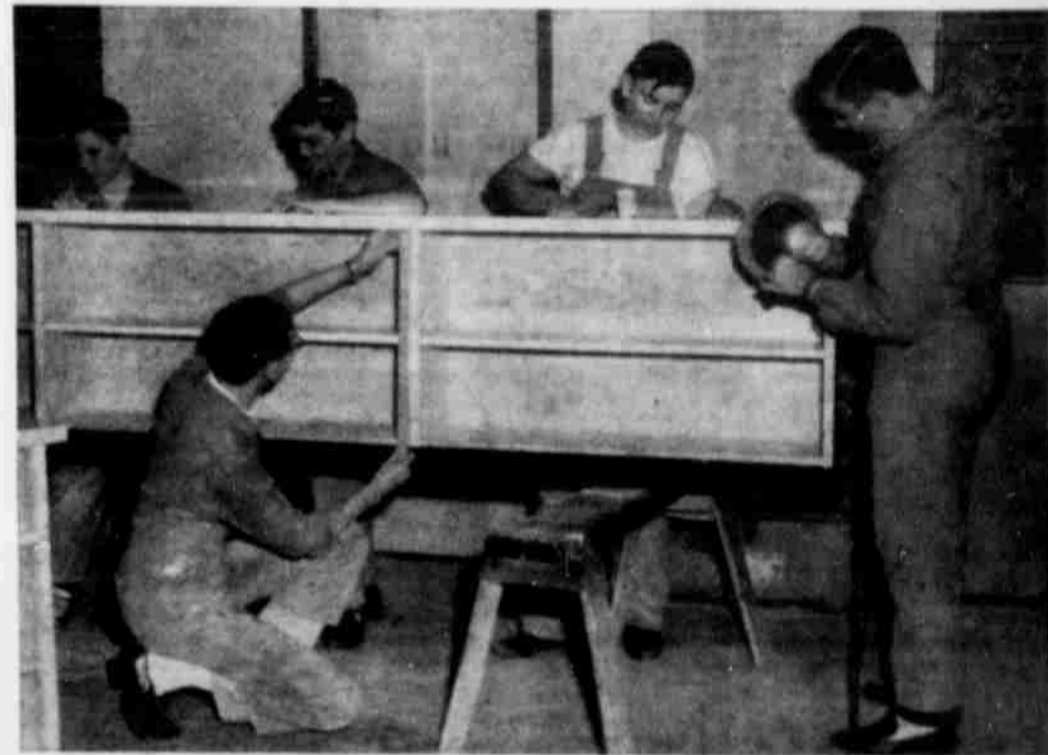

Earl Kerr, manager of the Lubbock Retail Association and president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, spoke before Post RMA members last Thursday noon in Levi's Restaurant on topics of current interest to the retailer.

He explained the new consumer credit code which is being put into use across the nation by retail merchants association and discussed legislative proposals of interest both at the national and state levels.

PUTTING ON FINISHING TOUCHES

Industrial Arts students build furniture for room

Fifteen members of instructor Charles E. Hopkins' industrial arts classes at Post High School put the finishing touches on six pieces of furniture for the remedial reading room last Thursday afternoon and the furniture was delivered to the room, ready for use, the next day.

School Supt. William F. Shiver said the furniture was built on an "emergency basis" in that it could not otherwise have been obtained in the short time we had to have it.

Instructor Hopkins said the 15 boys volunteered their services in building the reading room furniture, which included two bookshelves, a storage unit, two credenzas and a reading table.

The credenzas was built mainly of maple wood, with formica tops, in colors of pumpkin, egg, sea green and prismatic yellow on black bases.

The cost of building the furniture was paid for out of Title I funds, which also provide for the new remedial reading program and other new school services, Supt. Shiver said.

All work on the new furniture was done by the 15 boys in the industrial arts shop during school hours.

"We are very proud of the attitude of the industrial arts students and Mr. Hopkins in working together to help us out of a difficult situation," Supt. Shiver said. "This is one of the many instances demonstrating why our industrial arts program should be expanded," he added.

Monday night meeting

City Council agenda longer than planned

In a more crowded agenda than had been planned for Monday night's regular monthly meeting, the Post city council opened the three-hour session by watching a sidewalk sweeper demonstration and closed it by endorsing radio station KPOS's "Operation Vaccination" program for the vaccination of dogs against rabies.

In between these two agenda items, the council did these things: —Appointed a city tax equalization board and set dates for meetings and hearings.

—Voted to ask for estimates on remodeling of a vacant office in the city hall for a library.

—Authorized advertising for bids on the lease of a strip of city land near the old water field.

—Tabled a request by the state highway department that the city procure right-of-way within the city for the proposed U. S. Hwy. 280 widening project.

—Set a hearing date on the condemnation of four structures as recommended by the city fire marshal.

—Agreed that to keep the city's fire insurance rate down the largest of the three fire trucks should not be taken out of town on rural fire calls.

—Adopted a policy that the city no longer cut trees, level yards or perform other services on private property.

Two of these items, the one concerning the proposed library and the one on the new city services policy, are covered in separate stories in today's Dispatch.

The sidewalk sweeper was demonstrated by W. C. Caffey Jr., who told the council that many cities are purchasing such sweepers to keep litter down and also for use in parks. The council agreed that "we do not see any need for such a sweeper at this time."

Robert Cox, Lowell Short and Elwood Wright were named to the tax equalization board, subject to their agreement to serve, and Marvin Hudman was named as an al-

New gains are made by library movement

The "new library movement" here scored good gains on two fronts this week.

The city council voted to ask for bids on remodeling a vacant city hall office for use as a library, and some 30 persons turned out for the first organizational meeting of a citizens' library organization.

At Monday night's council meeting, the council decided to look into costs of remodeling the former police station office in the east portion of city hall for quarters for city library.

It was tentatively agreed that the interior would need to be repainted, the ceiling repaired, new flooring put down and book shelves built.

The council voted to ask for carpenters and painters' estimates after being reminded by Mayor Harold Lucas that School Supt. Bill Shiver has informed the city that shelf space in the high school library now holding some 1600 city books is needed for school use only.

The mayor told the council that in his opinion the establishment of a city library in the vacant city hall office will be "a good start toward a much larger city - county operated library." Lucas also reported on the Governor's Conference on Libraries which he recently attended at Austin.

On Tuesday night, some 30 persons, representing approximately 20 different organizations in the county turned out at the Community Room to lay the groundwork for the establishment of a Garza County chapter of Friends of Texas Libraries.

Such an organization's main purpose would be to work for a public library here and then assist in all possible ways with its development.

Tom Gamblin, chairman present at the Tuesday night meeting, named a nominating committee of seven from those present and instructed the committee also to be prepared to report on a proposed constitution and bylaws as well as nominate a slate of permanent officers for the organization.

He called a second meeting for 8 o'clock next Tuesday night in the junior high school auditorium, at which time officers will be elected and the constitution and by-laws adopted.

Named in the nominating committee were Mrs. Harry Tubbs, chairman, Mrs. Bob Pace, Mrs. Lillie McCre, Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Jim Cornish, Lonnie Duke and Jerry Hill.

Membership dues in the new organization will be $1 per year. Some 25 stepped forward after the Tuesday night meeting and paid Tuesday night meeting and paid district queen title.

Post Lions were urged to attend the district convention in Lubbock April 22, 23 and 24. The local club's sweetheart, Miss Beverly Duncan, will be competing for the district queen title.

Fire of undetermined origin broke out about 5:30 p. m. Sunday in the old Garza Theatre building at 224 East Main and caused several thousand dollars damage before being brought under control.

The theatre, owned by Frontier Theatres of Dallas, is considered a total loss, according to John N. Hopkins, manager of the Tower Theatre, which is also owned by Frontier.

The fire started in the rear of the theatre, which has not been in use for about four years. Firemen were at a loss as to how the fire might have started, since the building was kept locked and the electricity had been cut off.

The flames destroyed the screen, curtain, speaking equipment and five rows of seats, and fire and water damage was heavy toward the front of the building. The ceiling was virtually destroyed by the flames and a number of holes were burned in the roof.

Lawyer Thomas W. Gamblin, whose office adjoins the theatre building on the east, described

Easter time of joy, reverence

Easter sunrise services, such as the one to be held here Sunday by the Post Ministerial Alliance, date back to the medieval custom of praying while the sun begins its climb into the heavens.

One legend holds that the rays of light which break through the clouds on Easter morning are angels dancing for joy. This is, indeed, a happy time—even as it is a time for thoughts of those aspects of life which go far beyond the mere material.

Easter combines a rich mixture of laughter and solemnity. Both are good—both are needed by the soul of man.

Residents of Post and vicinity are invited to attend the Easter Sunday sunrise services as the most fitting way to start their Easter Sunday observance.

Let us all enjoy this Easter—and, in enjoying it, pray that the spirit of He who was Resurrected from the dead will some day rule this world.—CD

Can't hurry some road projects

It's good news that U. S. Highway 380 will be four-laned to the top of the caprock west of Post, but if the acquisition of right-of-way moves as slowly as it did on the U. S. Highway 84 four-lane project, there won't be anything to get excited about for several years yet.

People long ago got tired of asking why the delay on four-laning U. S. 84 from the top of the cap to the Lynn County line after a bond issue for use by the county in purchasing right-of-way for the project was voted in Commissioner Precinct 1.

The axiom that "Rome wasn't built in a day" certainly applies to some highway projects.

The hold-up on the U. S. 84 four-laning project was due to the difficulty of acquiring all the right-of-way easements. That, we are told, has finally been done and the only thing left before the state can advertise for bids on the project is the working out of arrangements with utilities companies for the moving of poles off the right-of-way, and other clearance procedures.

But it has been a long time, hasn't it, since that right-of-way bond issue was approved in Commissioner Precinct 1?—CD

Getting close to clean-up time

It's getting close to time for the City of Post to begin planning the city-wide clean-up drive it has promised for this year, and in which they no doubt will receive help from the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the second consecutive year.

While we're waiting for the wind, that has carried from March over into April, to stop blowing, we should take a look at our city through wide-open, unprejudiced eyes. If all of us take this kind of look, the end of the clean-up drive will find us with one of the most attractive small cities in Texas.

Making Post attractive and beautiful would be good for economy, as well as the soul and the eyesight.

It has been proven time after time that families looking for new places to live . . . in countries looking for new places to locate . . . businesses looking for new sites . . . all these, and more, are attracted by communities where civic pride is reflected in the yards, the homes, the business houses, the vacant lots, the public buildings and the out-of-way streets.

Let's cooperate with the City and the Jaycees to make Post THAT kind of city.—CD

Trying to sing the rain away

Out here in West Texas, where banks advertise for rain and we rarely get as much as we need, it's hard to go along with the tunesmiths of today and yesterday who write songs about how gloomy a rainy day can be. Mary Martin sang a couple of them Sunday evening on her Easter television show.

What it amounts to, of course, is that just about every song that makes a big hit is written in New York City's Tin Pan Alley, and back up in that neck of the woods the rain does, we suppose, make people edgy, especially when it messes up picnics, etc.

If the shoe was on the other foot, and they were as hard pressed for rain in the East as we are in this part of the West, the song writers no doubt would have turned out tunes wanting the rain to stay instead of go away. It's just that we don't turn out many song writers out here, the same as we don't turn out much of a crop when we don't get enough rain.

Even with such an explanation, however, it's hard to get enthused over a singer who wants only clear skies and doesn't want the rain to come, or if it comes, wants it to hurry up and go away.—CD

RHYTHM CLUB SPEAKER

R. L. Marks, second district of Texas Federation of Music Clubs, was guest speaker at the Rhythm Club meeting Monday night. "Federation" was the theme for the meeting last Thursday night.

Easter ranks a close second to Christmas as my favorite holiday. Family traditions are such fun and we still hang on to lots of our even if our Misses C's are a bit overage (if that's possible) for such things.

Miss C, the younger, will not be with us this Easter, so that's one tradition — one of being together — we'll not be keeping. She is in Colorado with a college friend hoping there will be enough snow left for her first attempt at skiing. We have our fingers crossed and hope that perhaps a broken leg or arm won't be a tradition we'll need to add to our holiday.

Miss C, the elder, will be home and is bringing a friend. Upon hearing this I hurriedly wrote to be sure we wouldn't embarrass him by dyeing hard-boiled eggs Saturday night. Probably Mr. C and I would dye eggs even if we were going to be alone. We happen to like hard-boiled eggs and it's not really any trouble to do a fast dye job.

I notice as one grows older one has a tendency to look back more and recall holidays and events that took place when one's children were little.

I remember working like mad on frilly little Easter frocks, trying to find gay little hats to match, which were never worn except on Easter Sunday, buying small purses, new shiny shoes, socks, lacy panties, and tiny white gloves.

The only time of the year we tend to be camera conscious is at Eastertime for some strange reason and we have loads of family snapshots taken of us in all our Easter finery. As we prance through them on occasions, I'm usually greeted by one of the Misses C's saying: "Mother, how could you? We look awful!"

I also remember how gratefully we peeled off our Easter garb and put on comfortable clothes. I don't believe either Miss C ever put the whole works on all at one time again.

Mr. C and I always hid the colored hard-boiled eggs at night after tucking our little ones in so we wouldn't have to get up so early in the morning. Our two always woke up by 6 o'clock and the thought of getting up earlier than that would have been enough to spoil any holiday.

After our little ones had found all the eggs, including those that were hidden in "traditional" places, Mr. C and I had a turn at hunting after the Misses C's had hidden them again. By church time, a few cracks had appeared and Mr. C had secreted a few away for eating later in the day.

I particularly remember one Easter morn when we were all at my parents' home with all of our children and Miss C, the elder, was barely two years old. She and one her cousins (about the same age) had left the breakfast table and we could hear them admiring their Easter baskets in the living room. All of a sudden one of those dead silences happened. When two-year-olds get quiet something is usually going on, so some of us tiptoed to the door to see what was taking place.

What was taking place was hard-boiled eggs being ground into my mother's carpet. I almost lost my taste for eggs of any kind for a while after that.

Happy Easter!

'Hawaii' is topic of study at Woman's Culture Club meeting

Mrs. D. C. Williams was program leader for the study of "Hawaii" when the Woman's Culture Club met March 30 in the Community Room.

Mrs. Tom Gates and Mrs. Clarence Stephens were hostesses and used the Hawaiian motif in refreshments and appointments. Roll call was answered with facts concerning the newest state.

The program leader showed color slides made by the Giles McCrary family on a visit to Hawaii several years ago. Mrs. E. A. Warren spoke on the industries of the state, which include sugar, fruits, cane and tourism. She commented that everyone participates in the advancement of the islands and added that the education progress has been phenomenal since achieving statehood.

During the convention report session, Mrs. Tillman Jones told of the awards the Post club had won; Mrs. C. I. Dickinson described the buffet dinner, at which Mrs. Jones was honored; Mrs. Lee Davis spoke on the extra-curricular activities of the women, and Mrs. Williams commented on the general theme and decorations.

New district officers elected at the convention are: Mrs. Louis Cummings of Plainview, president; Mrs. Lane Decker of Floydada, first vice president; Mrs. LeRoy Johnson of Morton, second vice president, and Mrs. Joe Taylor of Lockney, third vice president.

Mrs. R. L. Marks, music chairman, and Mrs. C. R. Thaxton, president, presented Mrs. Warren with a gift in appreciation of her work in the Fine Arts department, and excellent press them is taken.

Mrs. J. H. Haire showed safety posters entered in the recent safety contest.

Post couple pay children visits

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Short have been "spring vacationing" with their sons and daughters and families and left Wednesday by plane to complete the rounds by visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hill and family in New Orleans, La.

The Shorts returned last week after an 18-day trip that included visits to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Varde-man and family in Fort Worth; their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Geyer in Kerens; their son, Jimmy, and son and daughter-in-law and family, the R. E. Shorts in Houston; their son, Leonard and family in Richardson, and Mr. Short's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Compton, in Stephenville.

They plan to return from the New Orleans trip Monday.

Additional awards are listed for Jaycee-ettes

Five, not just one, "hopping hen" awards have been earned by Post Jaycee-ettes during the past year.

The hopping hen award goes to a Jaycee-ette on the basis of her attendance at area and state Jaycee meetings with her husband. Recipients of the award here are Alana Ammons, Myrna Richardson, Lora Blanton, Mary Eckols and Anita Blanton.

The list of Jaycee-ette officers installed at the recent Jaycee banquet included Mrs. Echols as the club's state director.

PROTECT YOUR CREDIT

It Is Valuable!

Here are some things to remember that will help keep your credit good as gold:

Be certain the merchant from whom you seek credit has complete information.

When you close a deal to buy on credit be sure you understand all the conditions of payment.

Another way to prevent trouble when you are buying is to read the contract carefully before you are agreeing to do.

Stock show and fair board meets tonight

Members of the Garza County Livestock Show and Fair board will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight (Thursday) in the district courtroom to complete details of the 1967 show and elect officers and directors for the 1967 event.

Jim Jackson, president of the livestock association, said all people who have purchased membership for the 1967 event are urged to meet with the board. He also asks that those who wish to volunteer their labor or other services to help make the 1967 show a success, contact one of the officers or directors, or attend tonight's meeting.

The president made the following report on the barbecue held during the show, and also on other phases of the event:

"The Garza County Livestock Show and Fair directors have tabbed the barbecue a big success. The barbecue, held on the Saturday of the show, drew around 700 people and approximately $625. All bills will be paid at the board meeting Thursday night and profits will be equally divided between the Livestock Association and the Fair Association.

"Many people helped make the barbecue a success. The beef was donated by Riley Miller, Arnold Sanderson, Kirkpatrick Bros., Jimmy Bird, J. E. Birdwell, Jackson Bros. and Bob Macy. This beef was barbecued by Rusty Dean and many volunteer helpers. The beans were prepared by Dr. Harry A. Tubbs. The Young Homemakers chapter provided the pickles and onions and provided serving utensils.

"Members from the Post, Pleasant Valley, Burnum Springs, Graham and 35 home demonstration clubs prepared the cole slaw. Members of the above HD clubs, the Young Homemakers chapter, the Jayceeettes, and other individuals donated the cakes. The Jayceeettes made the tea and Wilko Wilkerson the coffee. The barbecue was served by the Young Homemakers and the Jayceeettes. Helen Livingston helped by collecting tickets. The barbecue committee of Dr. Tubbs, Loucife Morris and Jane Terry planned and coordinated the barbecue.

"The directors of the Garza County Livestock Show and Fair wish to thank the above and all others who helped make the barbecue a success.

"The barbecue helped make the livestock show and fair a big success. These three events were supported by individuals and businesses of Post, Garza County and neighboring towns and counties. As this first annual event passes, board members are already looking to 1967.

"The 1966 board members who helped make the stock show, sale and county fair a success were the following:

"Jim Jackson, Frank Blanton, Jerry Thuet, Joe Irons, A. T. Sanderson, Giles Dalby, Bob Macv, Floy Richardson, Mack Terry, M. S. Nichols, Lewis Herron, D. C. Hill Jr., Dr. Tubbs, Mrs. Mack Terry, Mrs. Vernon Scott, Mrs. Theibert McBride, Mrs. Wilburn Morris, Jo Beth Dillard, Birch Lobban, Samuel Sims, Gary Donelson, E. A. Howard, FFA director, County Agent Syd Conner.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: For the benefit of those who did not understand the "placed as follows" listing of the Dispatch in naming the stock show winners, we are again publishing their names, this time with the place their animal won by each name. Most readers understood it the way it originally appeared in The Dispatch, but a few did not.)

Americanism is theme of recent study by sixth grade students

"Our Country, America," is the topic which 6th grade students have been studying the past six weeks.

Students began their study by reading of the Vikings, the first men to touch the shores of North America, then later America Vespucci from whom America received its name. The importance of Columbus', Magellan's and other explorers' contributions were discussed.

Students prepared pictures depicting the various historical moments in the claiming and eventual settling of the new world.

Students, anxious to learn about the first colonial schools, and the part that religion played in the lives of the colonists, dressed as colonists and reenacted the early days.

Cerretha's Chatter

By Cerretha Jones

Congratulations to Sherry Burks on her engagement to Jim Hord! He is from Lubbock and attends Texas Tech. There goes another senior!

Pat Landreth, Chris Berry, Pam Owen and Joe Hall went to Arapilto to the drag races. They also attended the ABC Rofco last weekend.

Carel Camp attended Round-Up at the University of Texas over the weekend. She had a date with Sam Watts, a freshman from Floydada.

It seems as though the play cast is as excited about Miss Palmer's wedding as she is. They all wish her lots of luck and will try to remember it's Mrs. Gary the remainder of the play practice!

Fifty two more days until graduation!

Maggie the Midget, starring Sharla Pierce and Pam Owen, seems to be quite popular nowadays. If you haven't seen it, you really have missed something. It's most hysterical. They pantomime a typical American girl getting ready for a date. We may see them hit Hollywood one of these days.

The choir went on tour yesterday. They sang at Wilson and Friendship. An excellent dinner was enjoyed by everyone at Underwood's.

The Sophomore party was last Friday night. They went on a hayride out to Brazos River and had a wondrous roast.

Congratulations to Sharla Pierce, Rickie Welch and Mary Barnes on being the winners for the five prevention themes!

Band takes orders for pies, cakes

The Post High School band is now taking orders for the cake sale they are having Friday and Saturday of this week.

If you would like to order a pie or cake contact a member of the band. They will be delivered on either Friday or Saturday and the prices are: German chocolate cakes, $3; pound cakes, $2; all other cakes, $1 per layer; all pies $1.25 each. They may be cream, ice box or fruit.

The band would certainly appreciate your orders in supporting their bake sale because they are trying hard to raise enough money to go on a trip before the end of school. Don't forget — call a n y band member and they will guarantee you a good pie or cake!

BAND IN CONCERTS

The band is having various concerts each week, the one Friday of this week being for Post Junior High. The band will play several numbers, including the three concert mystery pieces. These concerts

Agony Is Any Number of Things

Agony means many different things for many people, but for some of us agony is . . .

A blind porcupine who thinks a cactus plant is his mother . . .

Agony is when you lose an "untinted" contact lens in a pile of clear marbles . . .

Agony is babysitting for Mrs. Lee's cute, darling, adorable 4-year-old son who specializes in tearing up crowbars . . .

Agony is when the Jolly Green Giant slips on a bean . . .

Agony is eating tacks and razor blades for breakfast so you'll be a sharp student . . .

Agony is when you lose control of your electric toothbrush . . .

Agony is when taking a final exam means whether or not you will graduate and you fail it . . .

Agony is when you have to go straight home after the Junior-Senior banquet . . .

Agony is when you are missed at school and somebody calls your mother to see where you are . . .

Agony is when you have to stand

Easter AND CHICKS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake; (2) For his children's sake; (3) For the sake of his community and nation; (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday John 20:1-10	Monday Acts 2:29-36	Tuesday Acts 17:22-31	Wednesday Acts 24:10-21	Thursday Romans 6:20-23	Friday II Corinthians 4:7-18	Saturday I Peter 1:18-21
---------------------------	---------------------------	-----------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------	------------------------------------	--------------------------------

Naturally, you've wondered! Easter is a Christian festival, and chicks are barnyard fowl. How did they get together?

And eggs, for that matter — how do they fit in?

And the lively bunny . . . what made him part of it all?

These are symbols of LIFE. And life is the theme of Easter.

Christ was dead! Christ lives! His resurrection promises life to men.

We would not expect a fact of such import to be remembered only in history. It has touched farm and home, community, nation, family . . .

It affects our lives—the humble and the mighty. Easter is God's call to worship and faith. A time to re-dedicate your life!

Garza 4-H girls win blue ribbons

Dayneen Dunn of Southland was a blue ribbon winner in the fruit and vegetable senior division of the district 4-H Food Show in Lubbock Saturday and was named as an alternate in that division to the state 4-H Food Show.

Also a blue ribbon winner in the district food show was Nelda Kuykendoll in the meat group junior division.

Red ribbons in the junior division were won by Garza County 4-H Club girls Cynthia White in bread and cereal and Sue Bevers in milk. Jane Johnston won a white ribbon in fruit and vegetable, junior division.

A total of 114 4-H girls from 20 counties participated in the district food show.

Students build—

Instructor Hopkins explained that students in the school's industrial arts program work mainly with wood because it is more economical than most of the other materials used in modern industry and is more easily worked into various designs.

"Industrial arts," Hopkins said, "gives the students the opportunity, at a low cost per student, to employ the elements of design through the secondary elements—balance, proportion, emphasis, repetition, harmony and rhythm. We use wood in our program to teach the student all of these things, plus the set-up and operation of the basic machines and tools of industry."

"Our intention is to prepare students to adapt themselves to a changing society. After all, the jobs we train students for today will not exist tomorrow; therefore, the challenge is to instill creativity, provide general basic knowledge for industry and its techniques, promote self-respect through things well done, and a sense of pride unrequited by anyone.

"This is our challenge as parents, teachers, administrators and business people of today. Can we meet it?"

Holy Land visitor is club meeting speaker

The Graham 4-H Club met Monday night and heard a talk by Mrs. M. J. Malouf on her trip to the Holy Land. The guest speaker was presented with a pin by club members following her talk.

Quay Williams led the group in the 4-H pledge, motto and in singing "America." Mrs. Juanette Gentry, home demonstration agent, gave information on the Method Demonstration contest to be held April 18.

Refreshments were served to Ricky Bush, Sue Cowdrey, Sherry White, Daria Baker, Lee and Bobby Norman, Quay Williams and Ruth Baker. Estelle Williams, L. P. Baker, Ethel Redman and Gentry.

The next meeting will be May 2.

City Council—

(Continued From Front Page) ternate. June 8, at 9:30 a. m. was set for the tax board's meeting, and July 22, at 2 p. m., for hearings.

Bids on the leasing by the city of approximately 81 acres of land for oil, gas and mineral rights will be opened by the city council at 7:30 p. m. April 25. The tract was described as "a narrow strip near the old water field," which is northwest of town.

The council tabled the highway department's request that they sign a contractual right-of-way agreement on the proposed U. S. Hwy. 380 widening until after the required right-of-way is appraised by the highway department and the city is told what the cost will be.

April 18, at 7:30 p. m., was set for a hearing on the four structures the fire marshal recommended be condemned as fire hazards. The structures are all vacant houses, according to the fire marshal's letter to the council, and were variously described as being a part of the L. F. Askins estate, William Robinson property, C. C. Jones property and T. E. Haddock's property.

In the discussion on the larger of the three fire trucks being taken out of town on rural calls, Mayor Lucas told the council that the fire insurance inspector had recommended that it not be done. "It is going to push our fire insurance rate up unless it is stopped," the mayor said.

Dave Sanford, manager of radio station KPOS told the council that the station is sponsoring an "Operation Vaccination" for April 30 in cooperation with Dr. Murray, Spur veterinarian, who is in Post on Wednesdays.

Sanford said the purpose of the program is to get as many dogs as possible vaccinated against rabies. He said Dr. Murray has volunteered to vaccinate dogs for $1.50 on "Operation Vaccination" day, which is $1 less than his regular fee for the service.

Dedication plans are reviewed at meeting

Plans for the April 17 dedication of the Texas historical marker honoring the memory of Garza County's first officials were reviewed and three meeting reports made at Tuesday's regular monthly meeting of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

Reports were heard from delegates who attended the regional meeting in Crosbyton on March 5; from Glen Barley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who attended the Lubbock meeting of the West Texas Invocade on March 16, and from Mrs. A. C. Surman, who represented the GCHSC at the Invocade in San Angelo on March 18.

VISIT ON SUNDAY

Mrs. Billy Hardy of Shallowater and Mrs. Charles Dykes of Lubbock visited in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Jimmy McGee Sunday on their way home from a L.L.E.N.D. in the Girls Auxiliary Queen's Court at Brownwood.

Gail livestock show

75 animals sell for $6,637 premiums

GAIL — Seventy-three barrows, 103 lambs and 16 calves were shown in the Borden County Livestock Show held recently, with 75 of the animals sold at auction for a total premium of $6,637.50 above the floor price.

The estimated total price of the animals in the show that were sold was $18,900, which included the floor price for all animals plus the premium.

The grand champion steer shown by Roy Don Hendley, was purchased by Furr Food Stores for $800. Mrs. Tom Good paid Rick Hendley $270 for his reserve champion steer.

The grand champion barrow, shown by Dale Kite, was purchased by the Muleshoe Ranch Co. for $130, with the same FFA member's reserve champion barrow going to Snyder Savings & Loan for $108.

The Snyder National Bank purchased FFA member Dennis Yardon's grand champion fine wool lamb for $135, and the reserve champion, shown by 4-H member Lisa Dennis, went to Snyder Drug for $125.

The champion cross-bred lamb, shown by Jerry Hodge, 4-H, was purchased by West Texas State Bank of Snyder for $110. First Federal Savings & Loan, Big Spring, paid $100 for 4-H member Jimmy Hodge's reserve champion.

The champion Southdown lamb, shown by Tony Isaacs, was purchased by Vaughn Chevrolet of Lamesa for $105, and Rex Cox, 4-H, sold his reserve champion to Dewey Everett of Snyder for $115.

Tony Isaacs, FFA member, was the overall showmanship winner. Jackson Bros. Food Locker of Post presented a plaque to Leslie Zant, FFA for selling the most memberships in the association.

New gains—

Gambin and others stressed the need for all persons interested in a library here to turn out for next Tuesday night's meeting and join the organization.

Goals of 100 per cent membership by various county organizations as well as local businesses and industries were discussed.

Conflicts with church services during Holy week and with the junior high operetta kept many interested persons from the first meeting, but the citizens' library group hopes to have a really big turnout next Tuesday night.

After the library group is organized, it will study and then adopt a program for the development of public library facilities here.

Assistance fund under way for Mrs. Mason

Friends of Mrs. Harvella Mason, who underwent surgery last Friday in a Lubbock hospital, have started an assistance fund for her.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may do so at the First National Bank. The Dispatch has been informed.

Mrs. Mason, an employee of Marshall-Brown dry goods store, is reported in satisfactory condition following the surgery.

Postings—

(Continued From Front Page) mail postage. This would save weeks in delivery of all APO-addressed newspapers. Weeklies are specifically covered by the bill, which also includes letters, tape-recorded conversations and small packages. The house has already passed the bill which developed after junketing congressmen discovered that one of the major complaints of U. S. soldiers overseas was slow mail delivery. A lot of Post and Garza servicemen are Dispatch subscribers. We look forward to the day we can have the paper flown to them each week.

Spur Jaycees will receive charter Tuesday

The newly organized Spur Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its charter banquet Tuesday, April 12, at 7:30 p. m. at the school cafeteria in Spur. Post Jaycees announced this week.

Local Jaycees have helped the Spur club in its organization, and will be well represented at the banquet.

Jim Reese of Odessa, national vice president for the Texas Jaycees, will be the principal speaker and will present the club charter and install the officers.

City fines total $510 in March

The Post Police Department report for March, made at Monday night's city council meeting by Police Chief Leldon P. Miller, shows a total of $510 in fines paid during the month.

Nineteen guilty pleas to charges of intoxication accounted for $395 of the fines total. Fines paid for traffic violations totaled $45.

Fines laid out in jail amounted to $45, and 57 prisoner meals were served.

The report also disclosed that 17 traffic tickets were given during March, five for failure to grant right-of-way and four for no driver's license.

Traffic accident total reported

There were 24 traffic accidents in the city during the first three months of 1966, resulting in eight injured and total property damage estimated at $7,178.80, Police Chief Leldon P. Miller reports.

There were nine accidents in January, five in February and 10 in March. One of the injuries occurred in January and the other seven in March.

Forty-two drivers were involved in the 24 accidents, according to the police chief's report. Property damaged in the accidents other than moving automobiles were three parked cars, one state highway department post and one city street marker.

Dr. Bausman and the hospital trustees will now be actively seeking other physicians to come to Post.

One such physician already has indicated his interest in the possibility of opening a practice here and is reported to be planning to come to Post to look into the matter in the immediate future.

City group to attend conference at Lamesa

Mayor Harold Lucas and members of the city council will attend a three-hour conference on defense and disaster relief in Lamesa on Wednesday night, April 13.

The conference will include 10 counties in this area. Also expected to attend are county judges and commissioners, Civil Defense directors, school officials and business and industrial leaders.

Primarily, the conference will point up defense and disaster relief responsibilities of local government officials and provide other information that will be available to a community in normal times or during periods of stress and tension.

JUNIOR RODEO MEETING

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Post Junior Rodeo Association will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 12, in the district courtroom, Lester Nichols, president, said today. All stockholders are urged to attend the meeting.

Rotarians hear of scout troop's progress

Post Rotarians heard an interesting progress report on Boy Scout Troop 316 which the civic club sponsors at their weekly luncheon in City Hall Tuesday.

Scoutmaster Jack Kennedy and assistant Scoutmaster Carl Aycock predicted a much improved troop year for 1966 and told of an investiture service for five new ten-foot scouts coming up soon.

"You can't take the outing out of scouting and have much left," Aycock said in explaining the troop plans called for lots of outdoor activities throughout the year. He said the troop is available for any type of community service the youngsters can perform for the town.

Hoty Thomas is the troop's other assistant scoutmaster.

Theatre fire—

Firemen were called back to the theatre Monday when it was covered that some of the theatre seats were still smoldering.

All three of the city's fire trucks were used in fighting the fire Sunday. Traffic on Main Street temporarily disrupted when the fire hose had to be strung across the street to a fire plug at of Hudman Furniture Co.

Except for seasonal operations until about four years ago, Garza Theatre had not been open since 1950, the year the Theatre was opened. Hudman

Coach Glenn Gregg's Post Antelope track team has an open house this weekend, with the District 4AA meet at Frenship Stadium Friday, April 15.

"If we every needed an open house, this is it," said Coach Gregg, who had several boys out of last year's Kress meet because of injuries or illness.

Half-mile Ruben Solis, who didn't test this season in his sorely missed the Kress meet with a foot injury and a virus. Also out were Luis Ayala, Rickey Welch and a number of other boys.

Pete Morales set a new record in the mile run for Post's only first place at Kress. He negotiated the race in 4:47.8 to break by nearly eight seconds the record of 4:52 set last year by Holt of Lakeway.

Post's only other points at Kress came when Davis Heaton placed second in the high jump and the 440-yard relay team came in sixth.

"We took only seven boys to Kress and picked out the sprint relay team on the way over," Coach Gregg said. It consisted of Mike Petty, Heaton, Norman Tanner and Jimmy Bartlett.

Solis' injured foot is still sore this week, Coach Gregg said. "We can pack the foot and bring it around in time for the district meet, but I don't know what it would do to Ruben's conditioning," the coach said.

Slaton of District 4AA also competed at Kress, with Smith placing third in the 220 and White second to Morales in the mile.

District 4AA defending track champion Denver City was entered in the Seminole track meet, where the Mustangs scored 31 points. Harold Shannon tied for second in the pole vault, Tommy Young placed second in the 100-yard dash and the 440-yard relay team placed third.

Little League tryouts slated for next week

Tryouts will be held next week for Post's six Little League teams. Charlie Cooper, newly elected president of the league, announced today.

Tryouts will be held at 5:30 Tuesday afternoon, April 12, for nine-year-olds; Wednesday, April 13, for 10-year-olds, and Thursday, April 14, for 11 and 12 year-olds.

All boys within the Little League age group are urged to attend the tryouts. All of them will get to play in this year's program either in the "major" or the "minor" league, the president said.

The Little League season opens here Monday, May 2.

Cooper succeeds Jimmy McLeRoy as Little League president. Other new officers are Carl Aycock, vice president, and Gerald Clayton, player agent.

If for some reason a boy is unable to come out on the day his age group tries out, he should come on one of the other days.

Parents are reminded that when the boy comes to tryouts he should bring a completed application card. These cards can be obtained from the school, where they will be left by a Little League representative.

The boy must also have a certified birth certificate. This certificate must be delivered to the boy's manager before he will be allowed to play in any scheduled games. Parents who do not have their son's birth certificate should make preparations now to obtain one so the boy will not have to miss any games.

Honored recently on 80th birthday

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
Easter is almost here. In some lives, Easter becomes an exhibition instead of an experience, a blissful one-day affair instead of a year-long inspiration. To some it means beautiful flowers, new clothes and unusual hats. But to others it brings the true meaning, the assurance that Jesus Christ was what and who He claimed to be, the Son of God. To each of you, my family would like to wish you a most blessed Easter, not only on April 10, but all year long.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Melcher held a birthday party in their home on March 27 for her mother, Mrs. Annie Bruedigam of Slaton. Mrs. Bruedigam will be 80 years old April 7 and since all of her family couldn't be with her on that day the party was planned earlier. Attending this wonderful occasion were her son and wife, the M. E. Bruedigams of Wilson, and her daughters and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Melton Bruster of Slaton, Mrs. Pearl Bruedigam of Wilson. Grandchildren were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bruedigam and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bruedigam of Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Gracie Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Melcher of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Young of Lubbock and Karen Melcher of Southland. Another daughter, Mrs. Bill Clack, of Albuquerque was unable to come for the party but will visit her mother during the Easter holiday. The honoree has 12 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. I have known her for many years, and let me tell you—she is certainly a young 80 years old.

The Basinger Gin Co. were hosts of a barbecue supper last Thursday. The Hilltop Barbecue catering service of Lubbock served the meal of barbecued beef, beans, potato salad, pickles, onions, coffee, tea and pie. Several door prizes were given away. Lucky winners were Mrs. Lucille Myers and Mrs. Ronnie Ragland, bedspreads; Otto Klaus and Mrs. Oscar Heinrich, bathroom sets, and Mrs. Roland Stegemoller, a tablecloth. Music was furnished by the Distortions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Basinger are going to spend a few days at Possum Kingdom Lake during the Easter holiday.

The high school and junior high girls played their district volleyball games at Sundown last week. A lot of the girls didn't get to attend because of so much flu so it was a little rough. High school won fourth with Polly Martin, Patsy Gindorf, Libby Sales, Jettie Crawford, Marian Eckert, Mickey Mason, Judy Kiesel and Karen Melcher playing. Junior high won one and lost two. Those playing were Joan Gindorf, Kathy Long, Janet Beik, Lucy Cardinas, Margie Perez and Hardy Cisneros. Eimer Beik, their coach, said they played a good game.

Dennis McGehee captured first place in the Sundown track meet Friday with a high jump of 5-10. Bill Bevers won first in pole vault with 10.8, making Southland a total of 33 points. The junior high boys placed 6th with a total of 48 points. Their coach is Bob Dyess.

We would like to extend belated congratulations to Mrs. Louise Denton who was married to Loy Davis of Lockney March 3.

look pretty from the outside and I'll bet they are just as pretty inside. The Robert Lee Mocks have moved into Mrs. Milliken's house on the farm.

Palm Sunday was a very important day for Sherri Lee Wilke. After two years of study she was confirmed and became a member of Grace Lutheran Church of Slaton. Others being confirmed were Linda Johnson, Christine Richardson, Dennis Rushing and Pat Edwards. Sherri's sponsors were Mrs. Thomas Autry, Curtis Wilke and Leroy Mueller. The sponsors and their families except for the Mocks were guests of ours for Sunday dinner along with Mrs. A. Wilke of Slaton.
