Jaycee speaker lauds unnamed heroes of Texas

The countless men and women who have helped build Texas, but whose names have not been recorded in history, were paid tribute by State Rep. Jesse T. George at Saturday night's third annual installation banquet of the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Shoulder to shoulder, step for step and stride by stride march the men and women whose names we do not know," the speaker said.

They are heroes without a name—men and women forgotten by historians," he continued. "They are less famous than the likes of F. Austins, Sam Houston, Sam B. Travis and other ear-piercing names of Texas, but none the less, they are heroes."

"You, too, are builders of Texas," the speaker told the Jaycees.

At the banquet, Jaycee officers and directors were installed by Dr. Tom Langbotham of Monahans, Area II vice president.

Any young man can rise to a position of prominence in the community through his Jaycee membership," Dr. Langbotham said. "The officers installed were: Wayne Richardson, president; Tom Brown, first vice president; Tom Reed, second vice president; Tom Odum, secretary; Don Ammons, treasurer, and Frank Blanton, inter-club director.

Directors installed were A. J. Ammons, Ed Blanton, Abel Cabell, Lewis Ammons and Lonnie Reed.

Outgoing president Frank Blanton presented a plaque by the president in recognition of his services in the organization's office.

The worship in song will be led by Vernon Scott, who will also give a special message in song.

Public meeting called

Local library group to organize Tuesday

A public meeting has been called for 8 p. m. next Tuesday in the bank's Community Room to organize a local library group which would work actively here to secure a community library for Post and its rural area.

The new organization would take the form of a local chapter of Friends of Texas Libraries, a state organization of citizens working for the development and improvement of libraries in their respective communities.

Anyone interested in library facilities here is invited to attend the session and virtually every local and county club which can be contacted will be asked to have a representative present.

Decision to call such an organization was made Tuesday night during a meeting of a small number of library supporters called by Mayor Harold Lucas to hear a report from himself and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Tubbs on the recent governor's library conference in Austin which the three attended.

Tom Gamblin was named chairman pro-tem of the Tuesday night organizational meeting by Mayor Lucas at the group's suggestion. Gamblin, along with Victor Hudman, has spearheaded the city-county airport drive.

The mayor showed the group Tuesday night the vacant office in the city building formerly occupied by the police department before moving into its present quarters. He said the city council might be agreeable to making this space available for use as a community library. He said it could be fixed up at little expense and already had heating and restroom facilities.

Mrs. Lillie McRee, high school librarian who is retiring in May, said the space would be large enough for a library of several thousand books.

The city has 1,600 books now in the school library, but the schools (See Library Group, page 5)

6 inspection stations for autos in county

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety reported today that owners of more than one million motor vehicles still need to have them safety checked at official inspection stations before their current inspection stickers expire April 15.

Official inspection stations in Garza County are Floyd Pontiac, H&N Garage, Hickman Chevrolet-Olds, Scott-Pool, Inc. and Wilson Bros., all of Post, and Big State Garage of Southland.

The "First National Bank rain" Sunday evening brought welcome spring moisture to Post and most of Garza County, with the heaviest amounts reported in the Grassland area.

The shower kept the bank's record clear of always receiving rain within two weeks of advertising for moisture in The Dispatch.

Official moisture reading in Post Sunday was 45 of an inch, but several rain gauges around town reported up to 70.

The Grassland area reported all the way from 80 to 2 1/2 inches in the Sunday downpour.

Other rural reports included 50 to 80 of an inch in Graham area, 60 in Close City area, 30 to 50 on Giles Dalby ranch east of Post, 20 at Grassburr, and an average of 30 north of Post.

Post also received 85 of an inch in a Friday afternoon shower and another 10 of an inch in a Tuesday afternoon shower to bring its total for the last few days to 60 of an inch officially.

Both Salinas and Patsy Romero Howard were fined $30 in city court for disturbing the peace.

Adopted Tuesday by City Council

The Post city council passed by unanimous vote at a called meeting Tuesday afternoon Ordinance 238 amending Ordinance No. 89, passed in 1950, regulating the drilling for oil within the city limits.

The amended ordinance had been requested by Brown Bros. Et Al, oil operators, and was passed in its final form after some six months of negotiations between the oil operators and the City of Post.

The new ordinance amends the original measure to permit the drilling of one additional well on each 40-acre drilling block in the original townsite, but requires that a special permit be obtained from the city for each of any other wells drilled on the same 40-acre block.

The ordinance also applies to "new areas" of the city, which includes areas annexed since the 1950 ordinance was passed, as well as areas which were not included in the provisions of the 1950 ordinance.

The same drilling restrictions do not apply, however, to the new areas as to the original townsite, City Atty. Carleton P. Webb explained.

The new areas of the city and those not covered in the original ordinance will come under the spacing requirements of the Railroad Commission, with the same drilling restrictions as those in the original townsite not imposed by (See New Ordinance, page 5)

Loafing might become profitable

Unemployment is now at a nine-year low and there isn't as much doing as there has been at the state-Federal window that pays unemployment insurance benefits to those unable to find work. But, in the calm atmosphere of affluence the House Ways and Means Committee is being pressurized by Union bosses to approve a bill, H. R. 8282, that will "Federalize" state unemployment compensation systems.

This legislation that would drastically revise the unemployment system to reward the indolent is being quietly guided through Congress bearing the rather innocent title, "Amendments to the Unemployment Compensation Statutes." Actually, it would radically alter official policy toward the jobless.

This legislation to "Federalize" state unemployment compensation systems, which in some cases will double the employers' tax, would, in effect, make vagrancy a full-time occupation if allowed to pass. It allows for 26 weeks of state benefits, followed by an additional 26 weeks of Federal benefits for only 20 weeks of work.

It would abolish individual employer experience rating systems, which presently encourage stable employment, and the employers' tax would be greatly increased.

Changes proposed in H. R. 8282 are so sweeping as well as numerous that no employer can afford to neglect an understanding of the bill's terms and to relate the provisions to his cost of doing business.

Unemployment compensation was established primarily to provide protection against involuntary employment for the regularly employed. H. R. 8282 would require unemployment compensation be paid those who quit their jobs without good cause or were fired for wilful misconduct on the job, and would require continuing benefits to those who chose to remain unemployed by refusing to take suitable jobs that are available.

If this Administration plan to federalize the states' unemployment compensation programs passes Congress, you will feel its far-reaching effects, no matter which state you operate in, whether you employ one worker or hundreds of thousands.

One possible effect of the legislation is that a lot of people may soon find it more attractive to be unemployed than to have a job.

According to a February Reader's Digest article the bill would wipe out the prudent standards that most states have established and substitute a gigantic federal giveaway program. Authors Earl and Anne Selby say that if the bill passes it will:

—Be an open invitation to flagrant cheating.

—Open the floodgates for untold thousands of claims now outlawed.

—Cost billions of dollars more than present compensation programs.

In Texas alone, passage of the bill in its present form would increase the number of employers affected from the present 80,000 to 198,000, while covered workers would be increased by only 175,000 from the present two million.

A Texas businessman sums up the view of many:

"If we have many more 'gimmies' crammed down our throats, there will not be enough queen bees to carry all the drones."

Let's hope, for the good of our country and the people, that Congress rejects this bill.—JC Daylight Saving Time in Texas?

Texas in the U. S. House of Representatives have sided, 13 to 5, with the idea that the whole country ought to go on Daylight Saving Time. Thirteen voted for a bill applying it uniformly nationwide and five opposed it.

Texas does not now set its clocks one hour ahead the last Sunday in April for extra daylight in the summer and back one hour the last Sunday in October every year, but it will have to begin in 1967 under the terms of the bill. Only an act of the legislature can exempt the state from the measure.

Time was when it didn't matter, but things have changed so in recent years that we are inclined to favor uniform application of Daylight

Saving Time. Increased passenger travel on airplanes, television programming, and a number of other things make the time difference inconvenient to some people when Daylight Saving Time is applied in one part of the country and not in another.

As Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa said, Daylight Saving Time ought to be uniform across the country, not a hodgepodge of local options.

Anyway, we have another year to think it over.

Incidentally, 19th District Congressman George Mahon was one of the 13 voting for the uniform Daylight Saving Time bill.—CD

Let's cast a vote in both

There has been considerable comment in recent days on the lack of interest in "politics" here, ranging from the local to the state level.

It is to be hoped that this apparent lack of interest does not carry over into Saturday's school trustee election, Tuesday's city election, and the Democratic primary elections on down the line.

You have a stake in all segments of government, from the trustees who govern your schools and the councilmen who govern your city, right on up to the top office holders who govern your nation.

If you fail to vote in any election, you are not faithfully carrying out your obligations as a citizen. Weigh your privilege of voting against what your reaction would be if you were denied a vote.

If our schools are important, then Saturday's trustee election is important. If our city is important, then Tuesday's city election is important. Let's cast a vote in both.—CD and their eight children moved to Post on May 3, 1907, from Guthrie, in King County, never served as an elected Garza County official, but he made a lasting contribution of his time and talents to help get the newly organized county off to the right kind of a start.

Before moving to Post, Mr. Duren had served as county judge and county clerk in King County and the experience he gained in those positions enabled him to assist Garza County's first set of officers in their new duties.

Although employed as an overseer by the Double U Company, Mr. Duren still found time to help organize the county and, after it was organized, to help out in the offices of Judge J. M. Boren, County Clerk Ira Weakley and County Sheriff O. B. (Oscar) Kelly.

Mr. Duren also operated a land and abstract service at no charge to his customers and helped set up the new county's first tax structure, which was no small job considering that no one had been paying taxes.

As overseer for the Double U Company, Mr. Duren measured the materials that went into the new town's first business buildings and was closely associated in this work with George "Scotty" Samson, a stone mason who had come to this country a few years before from his native Scotland.

Mr. Duren also served as the first justice of the peace in Garza County — at no salary. The Durens made the move to Garza County after Mr. Duren was told of the new town that was being built by Mrs. Sallie Harper, who had already moved here from King County with her sons, John, Ed and Bill Harper.

The Harpers lived on what is now the Sims place, and for two or three weeks before moving on into Post, the Duren family lived on the Harper place in a half-dug-out and a covered wagon.

The Durens' children were Lillie, Dale, Byron, Joe, Fay, Paul, Leroy, Clyde and Ruth, the latter born after the family moved to Post.

Of the four Duren children still living, Paul lives in Post, Lillie in Whitehouse, Tex., and Joe and a d Ruth in Pueblo, Colo. Joe Duren's son, Joe Jr., lives in Post.

Paul Duren, who retired two years ago as a Postex Mills employe, recalls much of the town, and county's early day history. He was 12 years old when the family moved to Post and his first job was as a water boy for the town's building crews.

In 1913, he went to work as the first spinner at the cotton mill later quitting to build windmills, then returned to the mill in 1917 and worked there continuously until he retired two years ago.

In recalling some of the historic "firsts" in Post, Paul Duren said the first death after the town was organized was that of 16-year-old Vera Westbrook, who was buried at the present Little League Park site, but whose remains were later moved to the present Terrace Cemetery.

The first baby born after the town was organized was Wila Lee Hume, daughter of a Mr. and Mrs. Hume, who named the child after the wife of C. W. Post, the town's founder.

The town's first grocery store was opened by a man named Lovelady, and the first doctor was a Dr. Rump.

Paul Duren also recalled that the first funeral conducted by the Davis-Mason Funeral Home after it opened here in 1915 was that of his seven-month-old niece, the daughter of Dale Duren.

The child was killed in her mother's arms when struck by a tent pole that blew down in a windstorm while a tent show was in progress.

Post's first school was in a tent, Paul Duren recalled, and the first teacher was a Mrs. V. Y. (Vina) Elkins. The first school superintendent was a Mr. Zorns, who was succeeded by the late T. R. Greenfield.

The first train through Post was a big event. People came from miles around, among them a man and his son in one of the many buggies that thronged the streets for the occasion.

After the man and his son alighted from the buggy near the spot where the train was to stop, the man told the boy to unhitch the horse and tie it away from the railroad tracks.

Then, just before the train came in, the man decided the boy should move the buggy farther back. This proved a mistake. While the boy was moving the buggy, the train came roaring in and the lad panicked, ran away with the buggy and literally wrecked it.

Both Paul Duren and his father were well acquainted with C. W. Post. "We often went quail hunting together," he recalled.

In 1918, A. L. Duren went to Trinidad, Colo., with a shipment of Double U Company cattle and decided to stay. He moved his family to Trinidad, where he died in 1921. Mrs. Duren died four or five years later.

Paul Duren said that in recent years a number of people have come to Post to look him up in connection with land papers his father transacted for them in the county's early days when he was doing abstract work.

"I have to tell them, of course, that I'm not the same Duren who signed the papers," he said.

GUEST MINISTER

A. T. Nixon will preach at the Trinity Baptist Church Sunday in the absence of the minister, the Rev. Jimmy McGuire, who is conducting a revival in Paducah.

I hesitate to mention this because I feel like it's a sure sign of growing older but I'm at a complete loss trying to understand our college-age youths.

I am not referring to our Misses C's. I'm speaking of youth in general, and generally speaking, I think of our Misses C's as being more special than general.

What is throwing me is all these protest marches against being in the armed services and war in Viet Nam, and LSD the drug that seems to be sweeping the nation. I can't figure out why the older youths or young adults are so dissatisfied with life and are unable to take it as it comes.

Being a teen-ager has its ups and downs but I remember loving every bit of being in my early twenties. I had the world by the tail and didn't mind swinging it. What's wrong with this group today? Are they hunting for security (how dull) only? The more I read about their problems, the more confused I become as to what the problems are.

My generation's problems were the world's greatest depression and the world's worst war. A lot of us survived both, without protest marches and LSD. And I don't remember us blaming our parents or the world for the mess we were born into.

Growing up during the depression I remember vowing I'd never eat rice, ground meat in anything except a hamburger, and wishing we'd have chicken every Sunday and Cokes in our refrigerator. A "ready made" dress was almost a dream.

Time and wishes change. Wild rice is such a delicacy, who can afford it? Cokes are so fattening I don't dare keep them in the refrigerator. I only wish I had time to sew and create a dress instead of always buying what everyone else can buy. One thing hasn't changed though, I still don't like ground meat in anything except hamburgers.

I just feel sorry for all the mixed up youths of this day. They aren't having any fun at all.

It's that time of the year when I need to offer a bit of advice to all those planning to announce engagements and marriages. No, this isn't going to be "Dear Abby" type advice. It's going to be advice from the one in charge of the society page.

Every year we have all these questions concerning such important matters and for the record here goes:

We DO NOT charge to print engagements and weddings.

We DO NOT charge to run wedding pictures or engagement pictures. What size pictures do we want? We run one column pictures for engagements and need a 5 by 7 for the wedding picture. We cannot enlarge pictures or make them

Club members working on quilt to sell

Members of the Merry-makers Club quitted on a quilt top, which they plan to sell, when they met in the home of Mrs. L. H. Peel last week.

Refreshments were served to the following:

Mmes. A. E. Floyd, J. F. Storie, Bo Wheatley, Winn Cross, Percy Printz, Alma Sims and Mabel Martin.

FAMILY VISITING

Mr. and Mrs. James Altman and Linda, Ben Altman and Mrs. Artie Baxter went to Snyder Sunday to visit the Woodrow Allmans.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

We have wedding forms at the office (free of charge) which can be picked up by anyone, anytime we are open. We do not have forms for engagements as they are not necessary.

We want to run your wedding story and picture the Thursday following your wedding. "WE DO NOT" want to wait until the news is old. If you have only one picture and desire to run it in a daily paper first don't expect us to wait until you get the picture back. You can't have your cake and eat it too.

Don't call "big" weddings in over the phone. You get a much better story if we have it written (legibly) on one of our forms.

WE DO NOT TAKE WEDDING PICTURES. We never have nor do we intend to start.

WE DO want the big story and will cooperate in any way we can.

Ah, if only our youth could take care of their problems as easily as I have dealt with this one. I hope.

Six firsts in district won by Post clubwomen

The Woman's Culture Club received six first place awards and two second places at the recent sixth annual Caprock District Convention at Brownfield.

First places included Mrs. Tillman Jones being named a "Diamond Jubilee Jewel"—outstanding clubwoman of long continuous service—whose name will be placed in competition at the state meeting in May; friendship, legislation, and three in the Fine Arts division—cultural heritage, music and public speaking.

Second places were won in club ethics and care.

Mrs. C. R. Thaxton, president of the Woman's Culture Club, and Mrs. Ronald Babb of the Amity Study Club, made reports during the business session.

The two-day meeting was concluded with a "Diamond Jubilee Tea" in the home of Mrs. Grady Goodpasture. Mrs. Jones was in the receiving line.

Culture Club members attending were Mmes. Jones, C. I. Dickinson, Lee Davis, D. C. Williams, M. J. Malouf, Louise Burkes, Ira Lee Duckworth and Thaxton. Mrs. Babb and Mrs. Lee Davis Jr., represented the Amity Club.

"50¢ a tablet can be cheap!"

No one likes to pay 50¢ for a single tablet—including us. Nevertheless, some of the newer drugs cost that much. They seem expensive—yes, only seem. Consider this: Pneumonia used to mean 4 to 6 bedridden weeks. Loss of pay. Often hospitalization. Often death. Now, a few dollars' worth of one antibiotic will generally cure pneumonia in days. And this is only one example... there are many others. When you consider what a few 50¢ pills will do for you, they seem downright cheap.

The message of Holy Week is not a sad one. Rather, it is the most joyous news we will ever hear! The glory of the resurrection could not have happened without the stark tragedy of Good Friday . . . and because Christ overcame death, we are assured of eternal life. It is certain that we will live again and forever, in a new way that God has planned for us.

Jesus strove constantly to make this blessed truth plain. Time and time again we are told of God's great love, and of His constant concern for the world and people He created.

The highest point of Christ's ministry was the cross. Because of its tremendous power we, as Christians, have been given a ceaseless source of comfort. Come to the church of your choice.

The Post High School band played a concert for high school students last Friday and entertained for the primary and elementary school students on March 25.

The band played many varied selections including the music they will use at contest. The band wants to play for an audience each Friday in order to extend their ability for performing in front of many people. They feel that this will help them in preparing for contest.

Next Friday the band will play for Junior High School.

Seniors pass another milestone at banquet

The seniors of 1966 have passed another well-traveled milestone toward graduating. Last Friday night, March 25, the seniors were honored at a banquet given by the junior class.

The Junior-Senior banquet is an annual event and as always is looked forward to by all upperclassmen.

The seniors would like to thank the juniors for a very enjoyable banquet and congratulate them on a very successful job.

We, the seniors of 1966, would like to wish all underclassmen lots of luck and as much fun as we have had in our four years in dear 'ole PHS.

Children churn butter as help in foods study

Pupils in Grade 3-E of the Post primary school churned cream to make butter as the main project in their study of foods from animals.

Mrs. Irene Mitchell, teacher of the class, said the pupils first read stories about the dairy, care of cows, care of milk, and how butter is made. Some of the children made oral reports while others wrote paragraphs.

Patricia Davis brought a churn and cream to school so that the class could churn to see just how cream is turned into butter.

The cream was first put into the churn, after which each child took turns turning the handle until the butter came. The butter was then removed from the churn, washed and salted.

The children each had a cracker with real butter on it. They also drank some of the buttermilk.

Cerretha's Chatter

By Cerretha Jones

The juniors worked diligently Monday through Thursday in order to finish preparations for the Junior-Senior banquet last Friday night. They are to be complimented on their fine job. Everyone who attended thought it was very nice and thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Students began activities Friday evening at 7:30 by attending the banquet, prom, show, and many going on to Lubbock for breakfast. It was quite an all-night affair for many, many students. It could be a good thing it comes only once a year!

Mrs. McRee has been out of school due to an accident she was in. We hope she is feeling much better soon.

Sharla Pierce was in the hospital for two or three days last week. She was on the verge of pneumonia. Many students have had the flu and bad viruses.

The volleyball girls went to Slton last Thursday night. The varsity and B team won three out of four games. Congratulations girls!

The senior play cast has gained a replacement. Her name is Benita Bolt, better known to us as Pamela Owen. Beverly Duncan had to give up her part in order to attend a Lions Club convention in Lubbock as their local sweetheart.

Congratulations to the winners on the fire prevention posters! First place went to Marsha Tipton who will receive $3, second place to Lois Gill who will be awarded $3, and Belinda Lee with third place and $2.

There is nothing more tragic in life than the utter impossibility of changing what you have done.

WEEKEND GUESTS

Mrs. Mary Alice Mitchell of Childress spent the weekend in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell. The Mitchells' son, James, a student at West Texas State University at Canyon, was also here for the weekend.

"Strong for America" was the theme of the Den 6 table arrangement winner. The table was centered with a pack flag, the U. S. flag and the Texas flag, all made of crepe paper and wire, with mint cups of red, white and blue and place mats of blue crepe paper.

Den 6 also presented a skit entitled "Strong for America."

Den 4's table arrangement had the world depicted in gold, with gold candles and place mats drawn by the boys. Den 2's table had blue and gold candles with the Cub Scout ranks on each stem.

Guests included the Rev. Joe Vernon and Glen Barley, president of the Post Chamber of Commerce, and they also judged the table arrangements.

Following the Den 6 skit, the Cub Scouts sang "America" and the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

The individual awards were made by Cubmaster Bill Gary. Awards presented were as follows:

Bobcat pins: Britt Birdwell, Garland Dudley, Benny Greene, Kevin Kenny, Rodney King, Alton Orr, David McBride, Ray Morris, Ricky Mullenix, Bruce Sanderson, Joe

 A gift was presented the installing officer by Mrs. Darrell Eckols, outgoing Jaycee-ette president. Mrs. Eckols also presented special awards to Mrs. Ed Blanton and Mrs. Ammons, the latter a "hopping hen" award for her attendance with her husband at area and state Jaycee meetings.
 Mrs. Eckols received a gift as outgoing Jaycee-ette president. "We are fortunate to have an organization in which a man and his wife can work hand in hand and side by side in union for their community," the installing officer said.
 Dave Sanford was master of ceremonies, with Frank Blanton introducing the keynote speaker. Dinner music was by Miss Sharla Pierce, and Darrell Eckols gave the invocation.
 Guests from Levelland, Spur, Tahoka, Monahans and Odessa were among those attending the banquet, which was held in the school cafeteria.
 A dance at the American Legion hall followed the banquet.

Airport pact is next step

An airport operating and maintenance agreement between the city and county will be worked out in the near future by County Attorney Preston Poole and City Attorney Carleton P. Webb as the next major step in the airport project.

The Garza county commissioners court discussed such an agreement with Tom Gamblin of the Chamber airport committee Monday.

The court expressed interest in lighting the proposed airport as soon as practicable. Lighting is not now included in the plans.

State airport aid funds in the amount of $12,000 have been allocated for the city-county airport project here, Gamblin reports.

The master airport plan is expected to be turned in to the Federal Aviation Authority's regional office in Albuquerque this weekend for final federal approval.

New ordinance—

 the city because of "so much open acreage" in the new areas, the city attorney said.

"We don't have the same situation in the new areas of the city as we have in the original town site," Webb explained. He added, however, that the city does not anticipate any well-spacing problems in the new areas.

Applying to both the old and new areas, however, is a provision in the amended ordinance that any additional tanks be constructed within the limits of present tank battery sites.

The amended ordinance eliminates any depth requirements in the drilling of oil wells, the city attorney told the council.

In requesting amendment of the ordinance, officials of the oil company told the city council that it would make it possible for the company to drill one or more wells on each 40-acre drilling block to new pay zones that have recently been discovered.

 your consideration and support for a second elective term.

"Having served this time in this capacity and prior to this, several years as Deputy County and District Clerk, I believe it has better enabled me to serve you for another term.

"The duties of this office require much time and responsibility and unlike most of the county offices there are no assistants, thus making it the sole responsibility of the treasurer to carry on these duties. I invite you to visit this office at any time you see fit to become better acquainted with the office and its operations.

"I shall endeavor to see as many of you personally as is possible and as time away from duties of office will allow. Meanwhile I shall continue to conscientiously perform the work of office as long as it is my responsibility to do so.

"You, the taxpayers and voters of Garza County, shall determine if my experience and performance of duties merit another term. If so, I ask for, and shall appreciate, your support and influence to allow me to serve you for a second term as treasurer of Garza County."

Night club theme at class banquet

The elementary school gymnasium was turned into a semblance of New York's famous Stork Club for the annual Junior-Senior banquet last Friday night, with the night club theme prevailing throughout.

The setting was complete from a hat-check room just inside the entrance to cigarette girls.

Tables for four throughout the gymnasium were reserved for the large crowd attending the banquet, which included many special guests.

The floor show included a roundly-applauded performance by Dan Johnson, Lubbock magician, who delighted the crowd not only with his tricks of magic, but also with his wisecracks.

Bing Crosby (Paul Walker) was master of ceremonies and also gave the juniors' address of welcome, with the seniors' response by Jack Benny (Charles Wallace).

The Andrews Sisters (Edith Johnson, Sherry Gist and Cheryl Pennell) were followed by keyhole-snooper Walter Winchell (Homer Stilwell).

Limelight Melodies were presented by the King and Queen of the Juke Box (Billy Jack Hodges and Edith Johnson).

The senior class prophecy was read by Loretta Young (Billy Hahn) and the class will by Betty Hutton (Betty Hutchins).

 would like the shelf space for additional school library books next year.

Several suggestions were made by the group Tuesday night on how possibly to proceed on a new library project, but it was decided the first step would be to form a local organization of library enthusiasts and let the citizens' group study the proposition and then come up with a proposal it would support.

Gambin said he would secure all necessary information on the organization of a chapter of the Friends of Texas Libraries in advance of Tuesday night's meeting.

Attending the report meeting Tuesday night at the mayor's invitation were Mr. and Mrs. Gambin, Dr. and Mrs. Tubbs, Mr. McRee, Mrs. C. R. Thaxton, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornish and Lucas. Several others were unable to attend.

Varied program for ladies' night

Lions and their wives had a varied program for their Ladies Night dinner meeting in city hall Tuesday night.

Bob Moody, Lubbock Lion and attorney, gave a talk on having "true fun" which he said didn't really cost anything although Americans who have lost it, spend millions of dollars annually trying to find it.

Frank Puryear of Lubbock sang two songs and accompanied himself on his guitar.
 Pam Owen and Sharla Pierce, local high school students, opened the program with a humorous skit of a young girl putting on her makeup.

Jim Jackson, Lion president, presented Lion appreciation plaques to Dave Sanford of Radio Station KPOS and Jim Cornish, publisher of the Dispatch, for the "excellent coverage given Lions Club projects and activities during 1965" by the local radio station and the local newspaper.

Jackson also presented 100 per cent participation pins to a large number of members.

Ted Lamb was introduced as a new club member.

Observance FHA Week under way

FHA Week is being observed by members of the Post Future Homemakers of America chapter.

To open the observance Sunday, each member was urged to attend the church of her choice.

Monday, the members planted a rose on the school campus, assisted by Birch Lobban, FFA sweetheart.

Everyone wore red and white, the FHA colors, Tuesday.

Wednesday was Mr. Irresistible Day. Each girl wore a tag and could not talk to boys. If she did, she had to give him her tag. The boy with the most tags at the end of the day was Mr. Irresistible.

Thursday, the members were to collect old eyeglasses for the needy. This is a national project and all FHA girls in the U. S. will be taking part.

A Senior Tea after school Friday will conclude the observance.

FHA FUND ACTIVITY

For a money-making activity, seven Future Homemakers of America members served the Jaycee banquet Saturday night. They were Marsha Tipton, Helen Hodges, Debra Britton, Carolyn Ledbetter Estrella Sanchez, Lorena Anderson and Cheryl Pennell. The money the girls earned will be used for local FHA chapter projects.

A statement to Post School District Voters

My only purpose in serving on the school board is to do all I can to help provide the very best educational system economically possible for Post. I do not represent the industry, the farmers, the mill, the city people or any vested interest in Post. My vote in the school board meetings is based entirely on what I think is best for our schools.

I do not believe that a school board member has any authority to influence school matters outside of the board meetings.

Mr. Shiver is doing an outstanding job as school superintendent. Post is most fortunate to have a man of this caliber at the head of our schools. Because of the recent re-evaluation our school finances are in excellent condition. With Mr. Shiver to guide us I look forward to a progressive, steadily improved school system of which we can all be proud.

I solicit your support and vote in the coming school board election this Saturday, April 2.

Morales was also off his time in winning the mile in 4:45.7.

Class of '41 is planning reunion

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
A meeting was held last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Jerry Melcher to start working on plans for the 25th reunion of the Southland graduating class of 1941. Addresses and names were checked and it seems a few have been lost track of. If you know the names and addresses of any of the following please call me at 996-2423, or write Box 56: Ross Cummings, Hortense Newman, E. A. R. Bradshaw, Mildred Carter, Edith Mae Neely, Charlene Woods, J. S. Johnson, Neyland Hester, Mary Hornbuckle, Frances McArthur, (Mrs. Harry Gilmore) and Manuel Trulock. Thank you.

Rain, rain, rain! We finally got to see some of it! Sunday afternoon on FM400 and from the canyon and several miles on the other side it was really raining. The ditches and fields were standing full of water, and boy, did it look good. We ran out of it before too long, but maybe this is just a start. Perhaps we will all get some soon. While in Crosbyton we visited the Clyde Newberrys and the Leroy Voights.
Visitors in the Donald Pennell home Saturday were Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Carl Cederholm and Arvil Ferguson.

Southland was entered in the track meet at Sundown Saturday. Dennis McGehee placed second in high jump with 5 feet 6 inches. Several boys couldn't attend because of illness. There were a great many students absent from school last week and many this week with the flu.
Mrs. Moore, mother of Mrs. Elsin Crawford, is a patient in Mercy Hospital. We hope for her a speedy recovery.
Webster Crawford has been here since a week ago Tuesday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Payton Crawford.
J. L. Ainsworth of Salt Flats visited Monday and Tuesday of last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hargrove. Mrs. Malcom Limmer and Mrs. Ted Pricer of Slaton visited Mrs. Hargrove Tuesday afternoon. The Hargroves visited in Lubbock Sunday with the Roy Griggs and the J. T. Davises.

Joey Basinger was in Mercy Hospital several days last week with the flu and a virus. Darrell Wilke was confined at home for four days last week with the flu, also Sammy Wartes and Curtis Lancaster.
Deibert Abshire, Jackie and Connie have also been on the flu bug list for several days.
Rodney Callaway was home for the weekend from Cisco Junior College. Friday night, Davey Mayberry, Rod's college roommate, and Davey's girl friend, Doris were supper guests of the Callaways. Saturday night Rod and Beverly Stolle were supper guests of friends in Lubbock. Sunday, dinner guests in the Callaway home were the Kenneth Callaway family, Rod and Beverly.

We would like to extend our deepest sympathies to Mrs. Jean Hargrove, whose aunt, Mrs. Mollie Summers of Mesquite, passed away and was buried Monday.
James W. Whittaker of Seattle is the first American to climb Mt. Everest.
