

Oil history —

the Double Mountain Fork the Brazos, and finally locating the well near the bank of the river on the Payne land, about three miles west of Justiceburg. Two brothers, Howard and Gordon Green, were hired to drill the well. Elton Nance told me that he pressed tools on this well and that the company bought and moved in the complete steam rig. He helped build the derrick, which was constructed out of 2x10's, 2x12's and 4x4's and later on built a number of wells around Garza County. DR. SURMAN recalled that Howard Green played the trombone in the local church when pianos and organs were hard to come by. He said the Green brothers were so fond of their hospitality and whenever a visitor would come they would quit drilling and have a deck of cards, that was a good excuse to shut the whole town down, and on occasion it was rumored that spirits were passed around if any was handy — and were usually was.

next day for $5,000 and drilling commenced again. The well was eventually drilled to 3,500 feet, taking about a year to drill, and when "no oil spouted out" the project was abandoned. The cost of drilling this dry hole was about $100,000.

When I asked Cameron Justice why it took so long and cost so much to drill the well, he said it was due in large part to a clause in the contract between the Green brothers and the company. The brothers were probably old, experienced cable tool drillers and knew there would be a lot of "down" time for one reason or another. The clause in the contract provided $50 a day to the brothers when the rig was shut down for repairs to equipment, trips to locate fishing tools, or for any other reason.

AS IT HAPPENED, the Green brothers were great sportsmen and liked to hunt, and a lot of their down time was spent hunting (for fishing tools) all over Texas and New Mexico while still drawing their $50 per day.

I mentioned this quirk in the Green brothers' character to Mrs. Surman and she said, "Well, that may be true, but we still got the best of them because the wife of one of them was elected president of the P-TA in Post." I thought that was an awful mean way to get even. But, as it happened, Mrs. Green moved from Post before her term as president was finished, and Mrs. Surman was elected to fill the vacancy. So who got the best of whom?

Now let us proceed to the events surrounding the drilling of the well we are here to commemorate, the J. M. Boren No. 1.

Walter Boren told me an interesting story about an attempt his father made to drill an oil well himself some years before the J. M. Boren well was drilled. Judge Boren had assembled about 10,000 acres of leases from his neighbors. To get the leases, he sold the people a lot in the townsite of Burnam and then gave them a share in the oil rights. He hired a couple of drillers from Ranger to drill the well. It seemed that they could drill only about 200 to 300 feet before they would lose some tools in the hole and have to go to Ranger to find some fishing tools.

THEY WOULD BE gone two or three weeks and when they came back, after drilling another 200 feet, there would be another fishing job. So back to Ranger they'd go. This went on for some time until the Judge finally realized they were spending quite a bit more time in Ranger than they were drilling the well.

As it turned out, these drillers were quite partial to a local wine made by the Germans in the Ranger area. This wine was called "Gripo" and was known as the source for the expression, "A little bit goes a long way." It took about 200 feet of drilling to run out of Gripo, and so the drillers would chuck a piece of junk in the hole so they would have a legitimate reason for the trip to Ranger.

By the time the Judge figured this all out, his drilling money was used up and he was looking for a more professional approach to getting a well drilled. He leased his land to Phelps, Caldwell and Blackwell, and in 1924 they started drilling the J. M. Boren No. 1, which was located about three miles east of Justiceburg.

THE DERRICK, derrick house. Samson post, walking beam and bull wheel were all made of wood in those days. Tom Bouchier said it took about a carload of lumber to get rigging up to drill a well. The equipment used to power the machinery was big and cumbersome and everything was run by steam. This posed a problem of moving these big steam boilers about and especially getting them loaded in a wagon to transport out to the rig.

Cecil Smith told me that he came to this country about the time this well was getting started and that he had a couple of old skinny horses. He approached the superintendent from Phelps, Caldwell and Blackwell, a man by the name of Turner, and asked for a job moving this heavy equipment with his two skinny horses.

He couldn't admit that he didn't know anything about loading oil field equipment, so when Turner asked him if he could load "that boiler over there in that wagon," Cecil just said, "Why, sure."

He propped a couple of skids up on the back of the wagon and somehow got his horses tied onto the boiler. When he told his horses to giddy-yap, they lunged forward, pulled the boiler up on the wagon and clear out the front, and were so terrified of that big thing bouncing along behind them, that they ran a quarter-mile before Cecil could get them stopped.

NATURALLY, Mr. Turner was n't too impressed by the loading job, but was so impressed by the strength of those Cecil on the spot that he hired Cecil on the spot.

He then proceeded to show Cecil the proper way to load a boiler, which was to turn the wagon over on its side, boom the boiler to the wagon with chains and then turn the wagon back up.

This well was started in 1924 and completed Oct. 23, 1926. Tom Bouchier remembers well when this well was "brought in." In those days they used nitroglycerin to shoot the well to bring the oil to the top. Tom said that the oil blew out over the top and covered the countryside. In fact, he was so impressed that he called his boss and told him about the new oil field that had been discovered and was told to find a location for a lumber yard in Justiceburg. However, when things settled down, the well came in for only 27 barrels per day, and so the visions of another Ranger boom vanished along with the lumber yard.

IN ORDER TO sell the oil, a pine line was laid to the railroad siding in Justiceburg and hauled by tank car from there to Lubbock, where it was sold for $1 per barrel. Walter Boren said, however, that the royalty owners were paid on the basis of 50 cents per barrel because the operator deducted 50 cents a barrel to pay for the cost of the pipe line.

That may have been legal in 1926, but an operator nowadays couldn't get away with kind of depreciation. Phelps, Caldwell and Blackwell later sold this well to Emerald Oil Co., which drilled two more wells on the lease before selling out to Humble Oil Co., the present operators.

At this time I would like to call on Elwood Wright as a representative of the Post Chamber of Commerce. Elwood has been doing a little prospecting of his own looking for uranium in Garza County. Maybe we could all get together in Bob Collier's drug store and form the Post City Uranium Development Co. and have another chance to strike it rich. You know Kerr - McGee has been doing a lot of leasing for uranium around here and we sure don't want any strangers coming here and getting rich in our own back yard.

Woman's Culture Club members hear book reviews by minister

Rev. George L. Miller, minister of the First Presbyterian church, presented a review of the books at the Oct. 11 meeting of the Woman's Culture Club in the home of Mrs. R. L. Marks. Introductory remarks concerning the books, "The Taste of New" by Keith Miller; "The Late

Liz" by Elizabeth Burns, and "The Valley of the Kwai" by Ernest Gordon, the Rev. Miller said: "What makes a Christian? What experiences mold an individual to respond to the love of God? This question has always been central to the Christian Faith. And today, for some reason, for many reasons, it has become more crucial than ever. There is a credibility gap between what church members hear on Sunday morning and what they feel on Friday night. This gap may be bearable for a while, but it soon rankles.

"Excuses are made, reasons trumped up, a solid fortress of rationality established. Eventually one of two things happen. Either they divorce their religious feelings from their every day life completely or they give up. The fact is that many people presently outside the church are not pagans. They are people who have lost the ability to be honest in the church. For them, they would rather be honest than be saved.

"These books all have a way of hitting at this problem that is fresh and meaningful." Rev. Miller gave a picture of the lives involved in three sets of circumstances far removed from each other, yet with a similar story to tell. They are personal testimonies to the power of God in the lives of men. He concluded with: "The thing is, there is a new spirit at work in the lives of men that overcomes those private hells. These books give you a glimpse of that spirit at work. And who knows when it might strike in our lives as well?"

Mrs. C. R. Thaxton presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. James Minor.

Those attending were: Mmes. Dick Dickson, Ira Lee Duckworth, J. H. Haire, Tillman Jones, Bailey Mayo, Thaxton, E. A. Warren, D. C. Williams and Marks.

Attends fashion show held at San Angelo

Mrs. L. P. Kennedy Jr., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Nicoll of Hesperia, Calif., attended the Fashion Show at Riverside Country Club in San Angelo Saturday where Mrs. Kennedy's daughter, Mrs. Betty Young, presented her original "Be-Tee" fashions for the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn of Houston, The Nicolls, Mrs. Young's aunt and uncle, and her mother were introduced.

Mrs. Johnnie Rogers and Mrs. Jessie Boren attended a District 7 Veteran of Foreign Wars meeting in Lubbock Sunday, at which Department Commander Harold Rogers and President Stamey Henry spoke.

The memorial service was at 9 a. m. The flag folding ceremony was followed by a luncheon served by the Slaton Auxiliary. Closed meetings were held in the afternoon.

Hoover home is scene of Priscilla meeting

Mrs. O. H. Hoover was hostess to the Priscilla Club last Friday afternoon at her rural home.

Those present included Mmes. Ella Mae Wills, Evelyn Neff, Dean Robinson, L. A. Barrow, Robert Cox, Vi Terry and Victor Hudman. Mrs. Jess Hendrix will be hostess of the Oct. 27 meeting.

I never could convince them that train travel hadn't always been like it is now. That at one time it had been a stylish, delightful, exciting way to travel and I was sorry that they had grown up at the wrong time to miss all that.

I got one of those "Mother-likes-to-think-everything-was-perfect-in-her-day-looks" and decided to let it rest there.

Nowadays I'm just content to travel by car. I haven't had the money or the courage to get caught up in the jet age.

But all that has changed through the years. The Misses C's came home via train from McAllen, Tex., about eight years ago and when they arrived in Post, looked at me with expressions that told me immediately the trip hadn't lived up to all I'd told them it would be. In fact, they informed me they'd rather walk than ride a train again.

Evidently I'd gotten carried away in telling them what to expect on the trip. I told them how much fun the reclining seats were and how comfortable you could be propped up with a pillow during the long night ride. I told them about the wonderful food they served and not to let all that silverware throw them. I told them about the fun they'd have roaming through the big Houston station during their four-hour layover and I explained all about putting their bags in a locker at the station and all about tipping.

This is what they had to say: "No pillows available; only about six tables in dining car — the rest of the car being taken up by a snack bar at which they rudely threw miserable sandwiches at you and over-charged them at that. (The Misses C's got even by not leaving a tip when no one would listen to their complaint about the over-charge.) The station at Houston was miserable, they reported. I needn't have explained about the tipping because anyone who did some service or other for them told them what to pay."

Well, Mr. C and I finally went to Houston on the train a few months later and I, too, was appalled at the station there and thought it probably was the meanest thing I'd ever done to the Misses C's by making them stay there for four hours.

Nowadays I'm just content to travel by car. I haven't had the money or the courage to get caught up in the jet age.

When that firm is given as reference, your attitude is reflected in their rating of our paying habits.

What Is Prompt Payment?

Open or charge accounts payable within 10 days after receipt of statement.

On installment accounts which are payable over a period of months, each payment should be made on or before the day of the month specified in the contract you signed.

Consequently when you sign a contract which involves monthly terms you should make sure that the due date coincides with your pay day, don't skip one payment and don't make a double payment next month. Creditors regard this as not paying according to agreement.

The attitude of a debtor towards the credit is most important. If circumstances prevent you from making a payment on time always let your creditor know the reason why. You explain the circumstances that cause you to be temporarily slow in payment, that you are entered in your payment record.

When that firm is given as reference, your attitude is reflected in their rating of our paying habits.

Post Antelopes vs Stanton Buffaloes

Friday Night—Oct. 20 7:30 P.M. Kickoff

Post High's 1967 Football Queen and Pep Squad Hero Will Be Crowned Before Game (Be in Your Seats Early for 7:15 P. M. Ceremonies)

Coach Glynn Gregg's young Post Antelopes will be hustling for their second district 4AA victory Friday night when they take on the Stanton Buffaloes. Both clubs come off defeats last weekend at hands of Slaton and Denver City respectively. Both have one district triumph—each having defeated the Frenship Tigers. A full slate of activities at Antelope Stadium Friday night will include the crowning of the football queen of Post

High and the Pep Squad's hero 15 minutes before the game. The Post High Band queen will be honored during halftime band activities. So be in your seats early. The kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m. Sorry, about the kickoff time of the Slaton game last week which was moved to 8 p.m. without notice being given the local schools until the last minute.

Post Band Queen Will Be Crowned During Halftime Activities

We'll know you'll have a real "fun day" with all homecoming activities planned. (See Exes Ad on Page 3.) Stop in our stores and say hello. We want to extend you our personal greetings.

Sophomore class has car smash

The Sophomore class sponsored a car smash Friday afternoon after the pep rally. The purpose of the car smash was to raise money for the sophomore class. On the car was written such things as "Stomp Slaton," "Beat Slaton," and "Get a Tiger."

The price for smashing the car was a dime for one hit and a quarter for three hits. Everyone seemed to enjoy taking their anger out on the car, especially the football boys!

Jayton rites held for Post woman's father

Funeral services for Robert M. Moore, 53, of Jayton, father of Mrs. Brenda Bass of Post, were held at 10 a. m. last Friday at the First Baptist Church in Jayton.

Mr. Moore, who was West Texas Utilities manager at Jayton, died Oct. 11 in the Rotan hospital following a brief illness. He had resided in Jayton since 1944.

Other survivors are his wife, his mother, two brothers, three sisters and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Jayton Cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOL EDITORIAL

Do Students Show Proper Courtesy?

Courtesy is defined as a mark of respect for and the consideration of others. Often times, teenagers do not show to others proper respect. This should be very important to each individual, although in most minds it is farthest from their thoughts.

If more students would speak to their teachers with, yes mam, and yes sir, not only would it be respectful on your part; but, they would also respect your speaking in that manner.

Not only through speech, can you show respect; but even when you are walking down the hall, correctly, without running into or racing around everyone you meet!

At football games, courtesy is shown by staying in your seat and not running all over the stands trying to tell someone your latest thoughts! Take your time about leaving too, — your car is probably blocked, anyway, so what's the hurry? And keep those cups and wrappings by your side and not in the air, headed toward a certain target!

Just remember, courtesy is always present, whether you are driving, walking, speaking, listening, playing, or just anything you do. Stay alert and above all: Be Courteous! — Emily Potts, Editor.

Student Council at Junior High is staying busy

By Nancy Cook

The Junior High School Student Council has been having meetings every Tuesday from 12:30 until about 1 o'clock.

We have been discussing working in the concession stand for all Junior High games. So far this project has been very successful. Student Council members have been donating food to the concession stand and this always helps. The money made from the concession stand goes to the beautification project.

The pipe for the fence was donated by McCrary and Franklin, Oil Operators. E. A. Howard did the necessary welding on the fence. Mr. Pollard, our principal, did the other work and the planning.

Student Council members met after school one Friday and painted the trash cans and parking lot fence. This fence makes our school yard look much better and we do appreciate those who helped us.

Program presented at combined MYF meeting

Mrs. R. L. Marks presented a program to the combined junior and senior Methodist Youth Fellowship Sunday night at the church.

This Sunday Debbie Dickson will give the program for the senior high group and Mrs. Jess Rogers and Mrs. Wagoner Johnson will serve a light meal to the combined groups at 5:30 p. m. at Fellowship Hall.

Wayne Thomas will be in charge of recreation following the preaching session.

Junior High 4-H elects officers

8th grade loses close one to Tahoka, 22-18

By Johnny Wallace

Kyle Josey got most of the defensive tackles, along with Danny Vargas, Kim Owen and Ronald Tyler, in the Post - Tahoka 8th grade game Tuesday of last week, which Tahoka won, 22-18.

Danny Vargas made Post's three touchdowns, two of them in the third quarter and the other in the fourth quarter. All three touchdowns were on passes from David Hart.

The Post 7th and 8th grade teams played O'Donnell here at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Party is planned for junior highs

A special party for junior high school students will be climaxed with a "snake dance" to the Post-Stanton football game Friday at 7 p. m.

All junior high students are invited to a "Junior High Homecoming Happening" at Teen Town at 6 o'clock where sandwiches, potato chips and soft drinks will be served.

The party was planned as a result of a recent meeting of interested persons at Teen Town, at which time the Rev. Curtis Lee, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was elected chairman of the Teen Town board.

Assisting with party plans and refreshments are John Martinez, Gordon Lee, the Rev. Thomas Andrew, Mrs. A. C. Cash and the Curtis Lees.

Cash in a campaign kickoff statement urged everyone to "give your fair share."

He pointed out that the United Fund is "the modern way for people to help people." He added that it eliminates many expensive campaigns, saves the contributors time, protects contributors from being asked to support unworthy causes, prevents duplication of services, conserves the time and energy of volunteers, and helps donors budget their giving.

The chairman also pointed out that a United Fund budget committee, headed by the Rev. George L. Miller, worked out the fund's 1968 budget after giving careful consideration to all requests from eligible participating agencies.

The United Fund went over the top for its 1967 budget of $8,200 after severely curtailing requests from participating agencies and fund directors believe the 1968 budget of $9,200 is well within reach if workers do their jobs and contact everyone and people respond generously.

Ranger cites public apathy

The No. 1 concern in law enforcement is the apathy of the people, Sgt. Bill Wilson, who heads a 62-county area for the Texas Rangers with headquarters in Lubbock, told Post Rotarians at their weekly luncheon in City Hall Tuesday.

"People don't want to become involved," he said, citing a case of a bank president who refused to let law officers install a burglary alarm system in his bank after being tipped the bank was to be robbed. The bank was then robbed of $100,000.

"We don't believe we have any organized crime as such in Texas," the Ranger declared, but he added that Texas still has plenty of crime.

He cited the state's statistics of 1966 which included 408 murders, 483 rapes, 1,777 robberies, 27,391 burglaries, 6,467 aggravated assaults, 62,714 thefts, and 8,415 auto thefts.

The Ranger explained the difficulties faced by law enforcement officers under the new Texas criminal code in questioning suspects.

Wilson said the Texas Rangers are a force of 62 men organized as a state assisting agency in the fight against crime in the Department of Public Safety.

Tom Barnes, Ranger polygraph operator at Lubbock, also was a guest of the club, as were Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn and Deputy Sheriff Bob Adkinson.

First Baptists slate revival

Dr. William H. Cook, evangelist, will conduct a revival at the First Baptist Church beginning Sunday, Oct. 22, and continuing through Sunday, Oct. 29, the Rev. Joe Vernon, pastor, announces.

Vernon Scott of Post will be in charge of the singing.

Services will be held weekdays at 7:15 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend all these services, the pastor said. A supervised nursery will be maintained during each service.

Brownie troop of Scouts organized

A new Brownie troop of the Girl Scouts has been organized with a membership of 18 second grade girls.

The Brownies are now working on their sit-upons with material furnished by Postex Mills.

The members of the new troop are: Rhonda Bailey, Sherrie Bishop, Nancy Clary, Dru Ann Dockery, Peggy Howell, Debbie Hutchins, Peggy Jackson, Darlene Johnston, Donna Josey, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Gloria Martinez, Kelly Mitchell, Karla Peppers, Lisa Potts, Linda Richardson, Donna Rose, Terry Smith and Sherrie York.

The troop leader is Mrs. William Birkes. Committee members are Mrs. Wade Peppers and Mrs. Joe Bailey. Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick is crafts chairman.

NEXT MONTH

Using White River Water!

26 wells, located approximately three miles south of Post, which Sun Oil Company purchased in 1964 from Ken-Tex, will be included in this secondary oil recovery project.

If successful, this waterflood is programmed over a period of 25 years.

This Is the FIRST Waterflood To Use White River Water

Sun Oil Company has contracted with the White River Municipal Water District to purchase up to 766.5 million gallons of White River water at a cost of $430,000 over a 20 year period providing the waterflood is successful. This water purchase will help the water district pay off its construction bonds, and help reduce water district taxes in the district's four member towns.

Stanton is Post's homecoming foe here Friday night

Buffaloes have won two contests and lost four

Each Bryan Boyd's Stanton, Buffaloes will provide the homecoming game opposition for Coach Gregg's Post Antelopes at 7 p. m. Friday in a District contest.

The Buffaloes have compiled a record through their first six games and are 1-1 in conference, having lost to Denver City, Friday night after waxing Ship, 37-0.

non-conference competition. Stanton has won over Roscoe, 14-0 and to Iraan, 27-8; Seavers, 42-14, and McCamey, 33-0.

ST SCOUTS report that Stanton is considerably stronger than the Buffaloes. The first half was less until Denver City pushed a touchdown in the final 20 minutes. With an 8-0 lead starting the second half, the Mustangs led on a long pass, then went from there to their one-sided victory.

The Buffaloes downed Frenship, which gives them a substantial edge over Post in comparative strength, since the Antelopes had to grind from behind to pull out a 14-7 victory over the same team.

ANTON'S STARTING quarterback, David Jones, was in the hospital over the weekend after being injured in the Denver City game, was dismissed Sunday and is slated to start against Post here Friday night. The 156-pound junior signal-caller is a competent passer and runner, according to scouts' reports.

The Buffaloes' big fullback, Bert Decker, a 197-pound senior, bears the brunt of Stanton's running attack, with sophomore halfback Alan Greggston providing the speed.

These three, along with Jimmy Jones, 133-pound senior, are expected to start against Post.

COACH GREGG said Tuesday that quarterback Ray Altman's knee injury has shown rapid improvement and the sophomore signal-caller is expected to be at near full strength against Stanton.

Some of the other Antelope regulars who have been out with injuries also are coming around, the coach said. These include end-halfback Pete Morales, who is slated to start Friday night, and end D'Wayne Gannon, although Gannon was still listed as a doubtful starter Tuesday.

First Tiger win since 1961

Slaton turns tables, beats Post, 38 to 0

After five consecutive losses to the Post Antelopes, the Slaton Tigers turned the tables on the Post team to the tune of 38-0 last Friday night before a homecoming crowd in Slaton's new stadium.

The Slaton win ended the long series between the two teams at 17 victories apiece.

The Antelopes were unable to cope with the Tigers' crushing ground game, which racked up 365 net yards rushing, most of it credited to junior halfback Richard Washington, a 185-pounder who will be back next year to plague Slaton's gridiron foes. Washington scored four of the Tiger touchdowns.

AFTER STOPPING the Antelopes on the six-yard line following a Post fumble recovery early in the first quarter, the Tigers drove 94 yards for their first touchdown, which came with 11:35 of the opening period gone.

Slaton added 13 points in the second period for a 19-0 halftime lead, then came back with six points in the third quarter and 13 in the fourth.

The Antelopes' early threat, which followed tackle Norman Tanner's recovery of Washington's fumble on the Slaton 13, was the only genuine offensive gesture registered by Coach Glynn Gregg's gridgers.

After Tanner had pounced on the loose ball, quarterback Ray Altman hit halfback Dennis Altman with a screen pass, but the gain was for only two yards, and another pass missed the mark. After Dennis Altman could gain only a yard at the line, Ray Altman, unable to find an open receiver, ran for five yards to the six, where the Tigers took over.

THE TIGERS used 14 plays in grinding out the 94 yards to the goal line, with Washington running left end from the 12, and Truett Johnson kicking the extra point.

The second Tiger touchdown came halfway through the second quarter on a 45-yard pass play from quarterback Jerry Williams to halfback Doyle Ethridge. Slaton closed out the first half scoring when Washington went over from the five with 29 seconds left in the half.

'B' team wins over O'Donnell

The Post Antelope "B" team rolled over the O'Donnell Eagle "B" team, 32 to 0, last Thursday night at O'Donnell.

The Antelopes built up an 18-0 first half lead, then added two touchdowns and a pair of extra points in the second half for their 32-point total.

Johnny McGuire scored two of the Post touchdowns on runs of 30 and eight yards. Freshmen Larry Bilberry and Robert Pace each scored on short runs, with Pace also adding the extra points. Another touchdown was made by Butch Heaton on recovery of an O'Donnell fumble in the end zone.

Coach Waco Reynolds singled out linebacker Karl Bruce Hall, David Steizer and Arthur Torres as outstanding on defense for Post, with the entire team turning in a good defensive game.

down of the night with 5:53 of the third quarter gone to boost the score to 25-0.

Mike Robinson returned the kickoff 21 yards to the Post 29 and the Antelopes, with Altman throwing from a "shotgun" formation, almost drove for a penetration before the Tigers held on their 21. Passes from Ray to Dennis Altman for nine and 13 yards and a 15-yard personal foul penalty against Slaton helped move the ball to the Tiger 21, but that was as far as the 'Lopes could go.

HALFBACK Dale Harris banged the line for one yard to set the Tigers scoring machine in motion in the fourth quarter, with 8:02 still showing on the clock. Post's Charles Harper broke through to block Johnson's attempted place kick for the extra point, and the Slaton lead stood at 31-0.

Four plays later, the Tigers had scored again after Washington intercepted Altman's pass on the Post 30 and streaked for a touchdown. Johnson kicked the extra point to make it 38-0.

THE CLOCK is all that kept Slaton from scoring again when Ethridge, on the last play of the game, took Williams' pass to the Post one-yard line, where he was forced out of bounds. If the Tigers had scored the touchdown, they would have erased the 40 points now held by Post as the biggest margin of victory ever scored in a Post-Slaton game.

Sophomore quarterback Jay Bird saw his first varsity action in the game, going in for the injured Ray Altman in the fourth quarter. Bird, unable to play up to this time because of a shoulder injury received playing baseball last summer, showed great promise at the quarterback spot as a ball handler and a scrambler.

Post's impotent ground attack was led by halfback James Pollard, who had one 23-yard gain to his credit.

FORT WORTH VISITORS Weekend visitors of Mrs. D. J. Eckols were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Eckols, and son of Fort Worth.

O'Donnell falls to Junior High teams

Post's junior high school football teams won a pair of close ones from O'Donnell here Tuesday evening, the 8th grade, 22-18, and the 7th grade, 6-0.

Coach Bud Davis' 8th grade team came from behind twice to score its victory after O'Donnell had jumped off to a 12-0 lead.

The junior Eagles, after fumbling and recovering Kyle Josey's punt on their 33, lit up the scoreboard with a 67-yard touchdown run, then notched another first quarter touchdown on a 50-yard pass play.

Post got back in the game early in the second quarter on a 29-yard run by Josey, with Danny Vargas rounding end for the extra points.

Elimination of automotive air pollution goal

NEW YORK — Progress is being made toward eliminating automotive air pollution by improving the internal combustion engine, Oil Facts reports.

The American Petroleum Institute publication says several devices have been developed to reduce motor vehicle emissions.

For example, a typical automobile with no pollution control equipment would release into the air about 530 pounds of hydrocarbons a year. Devices already in use or scheduled to be included on all 1968 models will reduce the figure to 180 pounds. A new type of equipment recently announced by an oil company would cut the total to 90 pounds a year by trapping vapors from fuel tanks and carburetors.

Another oil company has just announced development of what is believed to be the first practical device to substantially reduce tailpipe emission of nitrogen oxide, a key component of photochemical smog.

Oil Facts says scientists and engineers are working hard to develop motor vehicles which will be essentially free of pollution. "Progress to date," the publication comments, "offers hope that within a reasonable time the complex problem will be solved."

Southland ropes Loop, 58 to 0

With Bill Bevers scoring three touchdowns and passing to Larry Lockridge for three others, the Southland Eagles defeated Loop, 58-0, last Friday night in an eight-man conference game at Loop.

Bevers' runs went for 60, 40 and 12 yards, and his touchdown passes covered 24, 40 and 15. He also ran over a two-point conversion.

Darrell Wilke scored one Southland touchdown, and ran three times for conversions. Larry Bevers, Bill's younger brother, ran one conversion.

Party is planned for junior highs

A special party for junior high school students will be climaxed with a "snake dance" to the Post-Stanton football game Friday at 7 p. m.

All junior high students are invited to a "Junior High Homecoming Happening" at Teen Town at 6 o'clock where sandwiches, potato chips and soft drinks will be served.

The party was planned as a result of a recent meeting of interested persons at Teen Town, at which time the Rev. Curtis Lee, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was elected chairman of the Teen Town board.

Assisting with party plans and refreshments are John Martinez, Gordon Lee, the Rev. Thomas Andrew, Mrs. A. C. Cash and the Curtis Lees.

Cash in a campaign kickoff statement urged everyone to "give your fair share."

He pointed out that the United Fund is "the modern way for people to help people." He added that it eliminates many expensive campaigns, saves the contributors time, protects contributors from being asked to support unworthy causes, prevents duplication of services, conserves the time and energy of volunteers, and helps donors budget their giving.

The chairman also pointed out that a United Fund budget committee, headed by the Rev. George L. Miller, worked out the fund's 1968 budget after giving careful consideration to all requests from eligible participating agencies.

The United Fund went over the top for its 1967 budget of $8,200 after severely curtailing requests from participating agencies and fund directors believe the 1968 budget of $9,200 is well within reach if workers do their jobs and contact everyone and people respond generously.

Ranger cites public apathy

The No. 1 concern in law enforcement is the apathy of the people, Sgt. Bill Wilson, who heads a 62-county area for the Texas Rangers with headquarters in Lubbock, told Post Rotarians at their weekly luncheon in City Hall Tuesday.

"People don't want to become involved," he said, citing a case of a bank president who refused to let law officers install a burglary alarm system in his bank after being tipped the bank was to be robbed. The bank was then robbed of $100,000.

"We don't believe we have any organized crime as such in Texas," the Ranger declared, but he added that Texas still has plenty of crime.

He cited the state's statistics of 1966 which included 408 murders, 483 rapes, 1,777 robberies, 27,391 burglaries, 6,467 aggravated assaults, 62,714 thefts, and 8,415 auto thefts.

The Ranger explained the difficulties faced by law enforcement officers under the new Texas criminal code in questioning suspects.

Wilson said the Texas Rangers are a force of 62 men organized as a state assisting agency in the fight against crime in the Department of Public Safety.

Tom Barnes, Ranger polygraph operator at Lubbock, also was a guest of the club, as were Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn and Deputy Sheriff Bob Adkinson.

Dr. William H. Cook, evangelist, will conduct a revival at the First Baptist Church beginning Sunday, Oct. 22, and continuing through Sunday, Oct. 29, the Rev. Joe Vernon, pastor, announces.

Vernon Scott of Post will be in charge of the singing.

Services will be held weekdays at 7:15 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend all these services, the pastor said. A supervised nursery will be maintained during each service.

Brownie troop of Scouts organized

A new Brownie troop of the Girl Scouts has been organized with a membership of 18 second grade girls.

The Brownies are now working on their sit-upons with material furnished by Postex Mills.

The members of the new troop are: Rhonda Bailey, Sherrie Bishop, Nancy Clary, Dru Ann Dockery, Peggy Howell, Debbie Hutchins, Peggy Jackson, Darlene Johnston, Donna Josey, Cindy Kirkpatrick, Gloria Martinez, Kelly Mitchell, Karla Peppers, Lisa Potts, Linda Richardson, Donna Rose, Terry Smith and Sherrie York.

The troop leader is Mrs. William Birkes. Committee members are Mrs. Wade Peppers and Mrs. Joe Bailey. Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick is crafts chairman.

Medicaid program in Texas okayed

DALLAS — Approval of the Texas Medicaid program was announced today by the Social and Rehabilitation Service (SRS) of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Formal approval was given by SRS Administrator Mary E. Switzer and was effective Sept. 1. Medicaid is the federal-state program of medical care for low-income people.

Texas, the 27th state to operate a federally approved medical assistance program, plans to provide payments for skilled nursing home care for adults; inpatient and outpatient hospital care; physicians' services; and a number of other benefits for an estimated 379,000 state residents. The U.S. government will pay approximately 80 per cent of the cost, bringing the estimated federal share to almost $99 million for the first year. Each state makes its own decision on the number of services it will offer in excess of the minimum federal requirements. The Texas program offers more than those required by the Medicaid law. The state estimated that approximately 379,000 persons, or 3.52 per cent of the total population, will be served under the state plan during the first 12 months of operation.

Refineries show operating rise

NEW YORK — The operating capacity of U. S. oil refineries has just about doubled in the past 20 years, according to Oil Facts.

During those two decades, operating capacity rose from 5.3 million barrels of crude oil daily to more than 10 million barrels. The gross investment in fixed assets at refineries and chemical plants is estimated to have risen from $3 billion to $14 billion.

The nation's 267 operating refineries are located in 38 states and are owned by 131 different companies, Oil Facts reports. They processed a record-breaking average of more than 9.4 million barrels a day during 1966.

INDEPENDENT BUSINESSES

Ninety per cent of the service stations in the U. S. are owned or operated by independent local businessmen, "Petroleum Today" reports.

U. S. oil output record in 1966

The United States retained its position as the world's leading oil producing nation in 1966 with a record output of more than three billion barrels.

During the same year, drilling activity in this country hit a 20-year low, but exploratory drilling showed an encouraging upward trend.

U. S. crude oil production averaged 4.3 million barrels daily during 1966, according to Bureau of Mines estimates. This was a 75 per cent increase over the average production in the year 1946.

The nation's percentage of total production has been shrinking in recent years, as oil deposits have been found and developed in other parts of the globe. However, U. S. still produced one-fourth of the world's crude oil.

The Soviet Union ranks second with daily production of about 5.3 million barrels. Venezuela, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait are third, fourth and fifth, in that order.

The U. S. and other Free World nations accounted for 82 per cent of the world's oil production in 1966. The non-Communist countries have 91 per cent of the world's oil reserves.

The growth in U. S. oil production reflects the growing demand for petroleum products and the ability of oilmen to increase recovery from underground reservoirs through advanced techniques and more efficient conservation practices.

Industry and government spokesmen expressed optimism over the increase in exploratory drilling — holes drilled in hope of finding new reservoirs or extending old ones. Out of 36,628 wells drilled, 10,118 were classified by the American Association of Petroleum Geologists as exploratory.

The exploratory wells had a total depth of more than 53 million feet — one third of all footage drilled in the nation — for an average of nearly one mile each. This represented an increase of about 630 wells and four million feet over exploratory drilling of 1965.

J. Cordell Moore, Assistant Secretary of the Interior for Mineral Resources, said:

"I cannot find a year on record in which a greater proportion of total drilling effort was devoted to exploration. This is indeed worthy of note, for it indicates the willingness of your industry to devote a larger portion of its limited drilling budget to the most risk-laden, but also the most critical, category of drilling activity."

Of the exploratory wells completed in 1966, some 82 per cent were dry holes, 11 per cent found some oil and a little more than 6 per cent discovered some gas. Additional drilling and development work will be necessary to determine how many of these discoveries will be commercially successful.

Studies by the AAPG over a period of years show, that on the average, only three out of every 100 new-field wildcats (drilling in areas where no oil or gas has previously been found) discover enough petroleum to be profitable.

More than 115,500 exploratory wells were drilled in the U. S. in the past 10 years. Those of 1966 were in 30 producing states and six non-producing states—Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, North Carolina, Oregon and Washington.

Frost or Freeze would hurt feed and cotton

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
It seems winter might be just around the corner with the cool weather we have. There is late feed and cotton in this community that a frost and freeze would do a lot of damage to this early.

Rodney Dodson, eight-year-old son of the V. A. Dodsons of Lubbock, is in West Texas Hospital suffering from the mumps and encephalitis. We hope he will soon be much better. His brother, Jeff is spending the week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ethridge and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dodson.

Sue Cowdrey celebrated her 12th birthday last Thursday and her mother served homemade ice cream and cake after school to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey and Mrs. Ethel Redman and Mrs. Jewell Graham.

Mrs. Bob Baker, Tonya and Darla, Phyllis Kennedy and the other members of the Bobby Cowdrey family, Darla and Phyllis spent the night.

The Noel White family were Sunday luncheon guests of the Mack Ledbetters. Noel celebrated a birthday Sunday.

Correction of mistakes in last week's news: Mrs. Ruth McClellan went to Odessa instead of Mrs. Ray McClellan. The Melvin Williams, not the David Williams, visited in Plainview, and the L. G. Thueitt Jr. now the seniors, made the trip with the Alvin Youngs.

Saturday supper guests of the Bobby Cowdreys were the Delmer Cowdreys, the Donald Windham family, including Donnie who was home from college, and Linda Altman, who was also home.

Mrs. Glenn Davis visited Tuesday afternoon and night in Levelland with the Alvin and Carol Davises.

Mrs. Harold Reno and sons and a friend, Rickey Bush and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rylant were Sunday luncheon guests of the Carl Fluitts. The Elmo Bushes and Bob Fluitt and Shelly visited in the afternoon.

Stacia Hill recently spent a few days with her grandparents, the Elvys Davises.

Terry, Brad and Gregg Lawrence spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cowdrey and James Sparlin visited in Odessa Saturday with their granddaughters, Brenda Sparlin and Mrs. Mike Hewitt, and Mr. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Sparlin and David recently moved to Lordsburg, N. M.

Sunday luncheon guests of Mrs. Glenn Davis were the Lonnie Peels and Delmer Cowdreys. The Elmer Cowdreys visited later.

The Melvin Williams family visited in Lubbock Saturday with her relatives.

The Bobby Cowdreys and Mrs. Ethel Redman visited Sunday afternoon in Lovington, N. M., with the Carlos Alexanders.

Mrs. Francis Barber and baby of Amarillo visited recently with the Ray McClellan and Mason McClellan families.

The Bruce Evans were Sunday luncheon guests of the Bryan Maxeys.

The Melvin Williams family and Mrs. Esther Barlow were Sunday luncheon guests of the Claud Williams.

Mrs. Kathy Burkett and son and a Mrs. Hawkins visited Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Melvin Williams and Mrs. Esther Barlow.

THE METHODIST Church Harvest Festival was a big success. The supper was a drawing card as a lot of people enjoyed that.

The Jimmy Byrds visited the Elva Peels Sunday.

The Carl Fluitts visited the Theibert McBrides Sunday evening and the Pat Martins were Tuesday visitors.

Mrs. Edith Campbell of Amarillo spent the weekend with her brother-in-law and sister, the Bill McMahaons, and her mother.

Mrs. Maurice Bush, Mrs. Lucille Bush, Mrs. Willie Mason, Mrs. Lewis Mason and Mrs. Helen Mason visited Thursday with Mrs. Carl Fluitt and Mrs. W. O. Fluitt Sr.

Mrs. Elmer Cowdrey visited on Friday morning with Mrs. Virgil Bilbo and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bush.

Garza countians attend statewide SCS meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Williams are representing the Garza County Soil and Water Conservation District at the 27th annual state-wide meeting of Texas Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors being held in Fort Worth Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

The theme for this year's meeting is "Leadership — Key to District's Future." The entire meeting is stressing the importance of local leadership in conserving, developing and utilizing the soil and water resources of Texas.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Howard Mahar and baby, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith, were accompanied by her mother and brother, Johnny, to Fort Cobb, Okla., Friday for a visit with Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Ruby Cowser. Mrs. Mahar's husband met them there and took his family back to their home in Fort Smith, Ark.

FAMILY VISITING

Charlie Kiker and son, Wayne, are visiting this week in Clifton with the J. R. Kikers, and other relatives in Grandview. They plan to fish at Lake Whitney also.

VISIT IN RANKIN

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Britton and children visited Friday in Rankin with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Porter.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Mrs. Boone Evans underwent major surgery last Friday afternoon in the Hale Center hospital. She is reported to be doing fine and is scheduled to be dismissed from the hospital this weekend.

MARINE PRIVATE SCORES HIGH IN MARKSMANSHIP

Marine Pvt. Larry D. Osman, a Post High School graduate, completed recruit training at San Diego, Calif., recently with the distinction of having fired the highest score of his platoon in marksmanship training.

Pvt. Osman fired 233 out of a possible 250 points with the M-14 rifle in competition with some 75 other men in his platoon.

Osman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Osman of Hobbs, N. M., is now receiving combat training at Camp Pendleton, Calif. Before entering the service in June, he attended Texas Tech.

Need great for used clothing

Winter clothing is badly needed by the community's needy families. R. G. "Wilke" Wilkerson told The Dispatch today.

Anyone with usable clothing and shoes they'd like to donate are asked to leave it at Wilke's, 330 East Main, or telephone him.

Wilkerson said the response to the last clothing appeal was good, but that the clothing donated did not last long in the face of the demand for it.

Relatives in Kansas visited by family

By FRAN McWHIRT
It was rather cool Monday morning and that isn't very good for those who have arthritis, including your correspondent. I can sympathize with all of you dear people who have it as I had no idea of the pain that is connected with this disease until this week. But, I am thankful there is medicine available so you can endure the pain. So much for ailments.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pettigrew and their son and family, the Hern Pettigrews of Slaton spent last week and part of this one in Wellington, Kans., with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Allen Crowley, and Mr. Crowley.

Mr. and Mrs. James Needham of Amarillo were Wednesday supper guests of the E. C. Franklins. Mrs. Needham was a former student of the Franklins.

Mrs. Fernie Reed and Ronnie spent Tuesday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cornett.

We would like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Ossac Morales back to our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thompkins of Snyder visited the Douglas McWhirts Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bevers and family were in Lubbock Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. Gladys Morgan, and her sister, Mrs. Jack Russell.

Mrs. Celia Mae Shaw of Granite Shoals visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Justice, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Key and Mrs. Billy Roberson were medical visitors in Lubbock Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Russel of Kress stopped by for awhile Sunday afternoon and chatted with the E. C. Franklins.

Ernie Robison of Raton, N. M. was a weekend guest in the Don Robison home.

Sunday visitors of Mrs. Lee Reed and Luther Reed were Mrs. Billy Cantrell, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Calfey and son and Mrs. Eugenia Odom of Lubbock and the Eddie McCowens.

IT WAS GOOD TO SEE Mrs. P. C. Goza at church Sunday. She is still at Brownfield and she and Mrs. Don Robison's mother, Mrs. W. H. Waggner, drove down Sunday. They were dinner guests of the Robisons and visited several families in the afternoon.

Sunday visitors of the Riley Millers were the Douglas McWhirts, Tommy Forrests and Hugh Johnson of Austin.

Homecoming date is fixed at Southland

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
 One of my life's little pleasures is writing this column each Monday. I love talking to you and I shabby wouldn't get the chance. I didn't write the Southland news. So, thanks for letting me do it.

DATE TO REMEMBER: Oct. 27
 Southland Homecoming! Ya '11 Southland will play Klomont in football; a football queen will be crowned at half-time and will be a "get-together" for the Exes in the gym after the game with refreshments and lots of talk. So, make your plans to attend.

Well, our football team traveled Loop last Friday and really won a game in a big way, 58 to 0. Congratulations, boys and Coach. This was their first conference game.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klaus returned home one day last week from a trip to Elgin where they attended family reunion Oct. 8 and visited relatives in Bay City and Sealv.

Several new families moved to the community last week. Welcome to each of you.

Congratulations to Larry Bevers, Jr. of Mr. and Mrs. Spence Bevers, for having received the Gold Award at the annual Garza County 4-H achievement program recently.

We would like to say congratulations and good luck to the new business that will open today, Oct. 19, namely Bettye's Beauty Shop, which is located in the home of Ned Myers, who is owner-operator.

Angie Wilke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Wilke, celebrated her 3rd birthday Sunday. Help her celebrate were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Arrants of Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke of Slaton; her great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Mueller of Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Poer and children, Mrs. E. C. Staben and Lynn, Beverly Arrants, Edmund, Sherri, Darrell and Yours Truly. Birthday cake and all the trimmings were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts and baby of Balmorhea visited Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster Crawford have moved to Lubbock where Donald will be working for the Hancock Mfg. Co.

Donald Wayne Crawford of Anson visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Payton Crawford, Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. J. B. Rackler went to Waco Friday to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rackler Jr. and baby. They attended the first annual open house of the Technical Institution where J. B. Jr. is attending school. They had a nice visit and came home Sunday evening.

Beverly Rackler spent the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. J. F. Rackler, while her parents were gone. Linda Meirs spent Sunday with Beverly.

Luncheon guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis Friday were her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fry of Lora Lake, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ellis of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ellis.

Sunday Mrs. Opal Pennell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cederholm and Mr. and Mrs. Arville Ferguson visited Mrs. Bessie Howard and son, E. L. Howard in Slaton. E. L., a nephew of Mmes. Pennell, Cederholm and Ferguson, lives in Hyattsville, Md.

Post student enrolls in Lubbock college

LUBBOCK—La Gayluah Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Young, 116 South Ave. Q, Post, has enrolled for the fall semester at Lubbock Christian College.

A 1967 graduate of Post High School, Miss Young is majoring in business. Her activities in high school include band, basketball, track and volleyball.

LCC is a private liberal arts junior college, founded in 1957. It offers associate degrees in 12 different fields and also offers technical vocational training in welding, machine shop and electricity.

These Oil Facts Tell Garza Story!

More than $15,100,000 of economic stimulation for Garza County flow from its oil and gas wells each year.

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Garza County in 1965 produced 5,100,000 barrels of crude oil valued at $15,000,000 and 707,600,000 cubic feet of natural gas valued at $91,500.

Garza ranks 74th among 206 producing Texas counties in production.

In 1966—a year which saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 57 wells in Garza County. Of these 12 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association estimates Garza operators spent more than $4,500,000 in drilling last year—of which $1,100,000 was lost in dry holes.

Texas Employment Commission figures for 1966 show some 60 workers directly employed in oil and gas operations with a payroll in excess of $291,000.

The state treasury received $675,370 in production taxes from Garza wells in 1965 paid by producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $688,965 and natural gas production $6,405.

"Will we STRIKE OIL-or STRIKE OUT?"

That's the question an oil company—like ours—asks itself every time it drills into the earth. Yes, drilling for oil is a risky business.

Exploring and producing is the part we play in America's progressive oil industry. Like thousands of other independent companies—large and small—we compete to supply you with the oil products you need.

America's future growth—in both population and prosperity—will be so great that today all producing and exploration companies are hard at work searching for new supplies of oil. You and your family will need more oil than ever in the future and we're determined that you'll get all you need . . . when you need it.

$13.29 per foot is West Texas oil drilling cost

In the broad expanse of West Texas, where the oil and gas wells are generally deeper and the drilling rigs are hefty, the sum of $13.29 is the average cost for drilling one foot of an average well.

According to the most recent survey of industry drilling costs in the area that includes Garza County, the average cost for drilling an oil, gas, or dry well is more than $78,000. The survey, sponsored by Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., Independent Petroleum Association of America, and the American Petroleum Institute, shows that the average well in the area is some 5,734 feet deep. Several fields in Garza County produce from depths ranging from 8,000 to 8,800 feet.

West Texas is the nation's deep hole champion, according to a tabulation by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. The deepest hole drilled last year was a gas discovery in Pecos County. The drill reached a depth of 23,860 feet and the well produced from below 18,000 feet. Another Pecos County well set a production depth record of 22,423 feet.

Pecos County also boasts the world's deepest attempt—a $3 million, 25,340-foot well that was completed as a dry hole in 1959.

Such "ordinary" four and five-mile holes are expensive, costing from $1 million to nearly $2.5 million, and taking a year or more to drill.

Deep wells were drilled in many areas of the U. S. last year, and the 440 attempts set a new record in this category. To be considered "deep", the drill bit must go below 15,000 feet. Since the first such hole was punched down in 1938, more than 3,000 have been recorded.

Nearly 60 of last year's deep holes went below 20,000 feet and are classified by many oil men as being "ultradeep". As recently as 1963, only three wells of that depth were recorded.

Although complete drilling cost figures for 1966 are not yet available, preliminary estimates indicate that although "deep" wells

THE FIRST PAGE OF Adventure

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

I have to confess that once I thought mothers read to their children to entertain them—and keep them quiet. But it wasn't long before I began to see the results of storytime in my own youngsters' interests and understanding.

Obviously a child's imagination just keeps pace with the growth of his mind and body. Apparently it is in well-chosen stories that he first encounters the challenging adventures that will later become part of his own life.

Now I fully appreciate the skill and experience that underlie my Church's program for moral and religious training. Bible stories aren't some hurried teacher's solution to a disciplinary problem. They are fundamental steps in the development of character and conviction.

So I am grateful to God who has given us the cherished narratives of man's spiritual discoveries. For my youngsters they have been the first page of adventure . . . and of faith!

Octane ratings hit new high

NEW YORK — Average octane ratings of gasoline sold in the United States have reached all-time highs, according to Oil Facts.

The publication says laboratory tests during January, 1967, showed averages of 100.1 for premium fuel and 94.2 for regular - grade gasoline. Today's regular gasoline has a higher octane number than the premium fuel of a dozen years ago.

Oil Facts points out that octane numbers are only one of several ways of measuring gasoline quality. It also notes that prices for today's vastly improved gasolines are lower — before taxes — than they were in the early 1920's.

accounted for only about 1 per cent of the nation's total drilling operations, the cost of these wells represent nearly one-fourth of the total spent on drilling and equipping all wells drilled during the year.

Texas was second to Louisiana in the number of deep wells drilled in 1966 — 94 to 281. The other deep holes were distributed among several states, including Mississippi, Alaska, Pennsylvania, and California.

$15.1 million a year is Garza County oil figure

More than $15.1 million a year of economic stimulation for Garza County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid - Continent Oil & Gas Association showed today.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Garza County's economy is sensitive to fluctuations in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, Association president. "Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas as a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Garza County in 1965 produced 5.1 million barrels of crude oil, valued at $15.0 million and 707.6 million cubic feet of natural gas valued at $91,500, and ranks 74th among Texas counties in production.

A major distribution of income from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $1.9 million. In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 57 wells in Garza County. Of these 12 were wildcats seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $4.5 million in drilling last year, of which $1.1 million was lost in dry holes.

Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $695,370 in production taxes in 1965 paid by the producers and royalty owners.

MAN WITH AN IDEA

John Franklin Carll, pioneer geologist who applied his knowledge of underground rock formations to the search for oil, was one of the many men whose ideas sparked oil's first century of progress.

Until Carll's work gained recognition, it was thought that great rivers of sub-surface oil flowed from Canada through Pennsylvania to Mexico. He insisted that the best guides for oil prospectors were rock structures.

Carll's published reports are asserted to have created the geology of petroleum. They became standard reference works and were important in the development of knowledge about sub-surface oil accumulation.

Since 1859, when the first oil well was drilled, men with ideas have worked to provide Americans with this abundant, low-cost source of energy — energy that has meant more human progress in the last century than in the previous 6,000 years.

EVEN IN THOSE DAYS

The ancient Romans had their problems with women drivers, too. According to "Petroleum Today" lady chauffeurs were not permitted to drive in the city on Sundays or during times of heavy traffic.

OFFICE OR REPRESENTATIVE

Information on Social Security is readily available from two sources

Almost daily, some people in a given area wonder where to get reliable information about Social Security. Many talk with a friend or acquaintance and are not fully satisfied that they have all of the correct information needed to make a major decision. Retire now or later? Sign up for Medicare at or just before age 65?

John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock Social Security office, suggests the place to get reliable and correct information about social security is at the social security office or from a representative of that office when he is in your community. People who rely on unofficial advice may sometimes be led astray by advice that can cause loss of benefits or other decisions unfavorable to the individual.

"Many explanatory pamphlets are free at the social security office," Hutton says, "or you may talk with a person fully trained on the subject of social security."

Groups or clubs desiring a program on social security should get in touch with the social security representative at the county superintendent's office here on his next visit to Post, which will be Monday, Sept. 11, or should contact the Lubbock office.

OIL REPLACES COAL

Western Europe, long dependent upon coal for most of its energy needs, is changing rapidly, according to "Petroleum Today." Within the past 10 years, oil's share of the energy market has jumped from less than 10 per cent to 45 per cent.

New opportunity GI home loans now available

WACO — Almost 2.4 million World War II servicemen have a new opportunity to obtain GI home loans, according to Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco. One provision of Public Law 90-1, signed recently by the President, benefits veterans who had relatively long periods of World War II service, the VA manager pointed out.

The final cutoff date for GI loans for these men and women was extended from July 25, 1967, to July 25, 1970.

The length of time an individual veteran remains eligible for GI benefits depends on his date of discharge and the length of his wartime duty. Also, Coker added, all World War II veterans discharged for service-connected disabilities will receive until July 25, 1970, to use their GI loan benefits. Eligible widows of World War II servicemen whose deaths were due to military service received the same extension.

The VA manager urged all veterans who have Certificates of Eligibility bearing a July 25, 1967, expiration date to submit a new application and their discharge papers to the VA office serving their area. VA will recompute their expiration date and endorse their new date on their certificates. Any World War II veteran may apply for determination of eligibility, but the legislation does not extend eligibility which expired before July 25, 1967.

James Mathis enrolls at Lubbock Christian

LUBBOCK — James Mathis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mathis, 11 West 15th, Post, has enrolled for the fall semester at Lubbock Christian College.

A 1965 graduate of Post High School, Mathis is a music major at LCC.

LCC is a private liberal arts college, founded in 1957. It offers associate degrees in 12 different fields and also offers technical vocational training in welding, machine shop and electricity.

Water flooding

A Secondary Means of Oil Recovery Is Just Beginning in Garza County!

Garza County to date has produced over 85 Million Barrels of Oil by Primary Production Methods!

Oil Geologists Predict Nearly As Much Oil Can Be Recovered Eventually by Waterflood Techniques!

SAN ANDRES UNIT WATERFLOOD IN ROCKER A FIELD OF SOUTHERN GARZA COUNTY

We opened the Rocker A Field in 1950. Today the field has approximately 93 wells producing from three pay zones — the San Andres, the Glorieta and the Clearfork — which includes about 20 wells by other producers.

The San Andres Unit Waterflood we are just beginning will seek to recover oil from one-third of the Rocker A's San Andres reservoir.

This area to date has produced 1,050,000 barrels of oil by pump. Engineers estimate that an additional 1,070,000 barrels of oil will be recovered in 16 years in this waterflood — only 158,00 barrels of which would have been recovered without water flood.

The waterflood unit will have nine ejection wells, pumping 3600 barrels per day of salt water. This salt water is supplied from the Santa Rosa and pushes the oil to 23 producing wells of the unit.

Secondary recovery techniques now add greatly to Garza's oil future. This is real OIL PROGRESS.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

One should never judge a book by its contents — it's the spooky cover that counts. Personally, I have always liked books with crumbling castles on the front. What's even better are crumbling castles that are shrouded in heavy fog or mist because THAT means, "Gothic Novels of Suspense". Brrr, here's four new ones!

"The Heir of Starvelings" by Evelyn Berckman. Starvelings, a crumbling, vine-choked mansion far out in the English countryside, has long been associated with unpleasant rumors of cruelty and wickedness. The present master of Starvelings, Lord Stanvon, has not been seen in years, and it is whispered in the nearby village that he has died and that his ghost haunts the untended woods. Lovely Davina Milne, who comes to Starvelings to undertake the education of Lord Stanvon's wild, unpromising son, slowly becomes aware of the horror of the place and, in a moment of appalling terror, she realizes that she and the child of whom she has become so fond are in mortal danger . . .

"The King of the Castle" by Victoria Holt. The castle is in Southern France this time and Dallas Lawson, who arrives at the Chateau Gillard as "an expert restorer of old paintings", is suitably impressed with its towers and narrow windows, its ancient moat, and its dungeons where, centuries before, the de la Talles sent their enemies to a slow death. Dallas, fascinated with her restoration work (not to mention the handsome but aloof Comte de la Taille, yuk, yuk), is particularly taken with one exquisite painting — "the portrait of a young woman who is wearing the family emerald which mysteriously disappeared during the Revolution and has never been found." Alas, strange rumors crop up in France as well as England — it seems that the Comte's wife has died under most peculiar circumstances . . .

"The Gabriel Hounds" by Mary Stewart. "The Gabriel Hounds are supposed to be a pack of hounds that run with death", handsome young Charles Mansel informs his attractive cousin Christy, "and when someone's going to die you hear them howling over the house at night." More prosaically, the Gabriel Hounds are what Charles calls a pair of Mino china dogs owned by his wealthy, eccentric Great Aunt Harriet, who has promised to leave them to him at her death. For unexplained reasons, Great Aunt Harriet leaves England to live in a crumbling palace in the mountains of Lebanon. Charles, going to visit her there, finds that Christy has gone to visit her too, and that the atmosphere is heavy with sinister deeds and Near Eastern intrigue . . .

"Silverhill" by Phyllis A. Whitney. Silverhill is a grey ghost of a house which seems haunted by evil reflections from the past. In its Hall of Mirrors, Mallie Rice and her cousin Gerald Gorham, curator of the fabulous Gorham collection of treasures, hardly know reality from illusion. Yet Mallie must discover the truth the great house so mockingly conceals and Silverhill marshals its mysterious forces to move against her in an attempt to destroy love and sanity . . .

For the very best in brooding atmosphere, shuddering mystery, stagnant evil and stuff, visit the Post Public Library. Happy Halloween.

Mid-Continent leaflet tells '67 Instant' Facts about oil in Texas

DALLAS — Who drilled the first oil well in Texas? When did Texas become the nation's leading oil-producing state? How many refineries does Texas have? How deep is the world's deepest well?
 The answers to these and dozens of other pertinent questions about the all-important petroleum industry in Texas are found in the "67 Instant Facts" leaflet of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association. The annual compilation of industry statistics was released Saturday.
 How about it? Who did drill Texas' first well?
 His name was Lyne T. Barret and the well was pushed down in the vicinity of Nacogdoches, in East Texas, in 1866, more than a hundred years ago.
 Texas became the nation's leading petroleum producer in 1928, the publication notes. It adds that the state has produced 29.7 billion barrels of oil — 36.2 per cent of the nation's total. Income from Texas crude oil sales, another "fact" notes, has totaled $66.3 billion. How many refineries? Forty-eight, most of which are located on the Gulf Coast. Last year, Texas refineries processed 907 million barrels of crude oil, an amount equal to 85 per cent of the state's crude production.

 The world's deepest well, completed this year, is in Pecos County, in West Texas. It is producing natural gas from 22,447 feet.
 Other items of interest in "67 Facts" include the following: Oil is produced in 200 Texas counties . . . Texas has 45.7 per cent of all U. S. oil reserves . . . Texas oil men drilled 11,109 wells in 1966; 29 per cent of U. S. drilling . . . Texas produced 411 per cent of U. S. natural gas in 1966 . . . More than one of every four gallons of U. S. major oil products is made in Texas refineries . . . The Texas petroleum industry employs some 197,000 persons (about one out of every 16 Texas workers) with wages of $1.4 billion annually . . . Texas petroleum industry taxes account for 23 per cent of all state taxes.
 The "67 Facts" leaflet is distributed free through Texas Mid-Continent's Oil Information Committee program.

Vet's Forum

Q. Please clarify who receives the death gratuity in the case of a serviceman who dies while on active duty.

A. Each of the military services — Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard pays this benefit in cases of deaths of its servicemen. The amount is equal to six months pay, but not less than $800 or more than $3,000. The money must be paid to the serviceman's surviving spouse, or secondly, to surviving children. Servicemen who do not have a surviving spouse or children may designate parents, brothers or sisters in any combination to receive the money in case of death.

Q. I have been on active duty for 21 months. Am I now eligible to go to school?

A. No. You need full two years to qualify if on active duty.

Q. I have been on active duty for the past eight years. Am I eligible to go to school?

A. Yes.

Oil Well? Maybe!

• The search for oil is one of the world's riskiest businesses! For every successful oil well drilled in new territory eight prove to be costly dry holes. That's why it's always great news for everybody when an oil producing company like ours brings in a successful oil well.

Yes—good news for everybody! You see, every new oil well means more gasoline for your car, more heating fuel for your home and more of the hundreds of oil products that make today's living so much more comfortable.

In America's competitive and progressive oil industry, everyone has a special job. It's our job to produce ample oil supplies for your future.
