

Fiscal school year ends on sound financial note

Budget adopted; tax line held

The Post school district is ending its 1966-67 fiscal year today in a sound financial position with surplus in its operating fund, its athletic fund, and even its lunchroom fund — the last a perennial deficit.

School trustees at a special meeting last Thursday afternoon approved an amended budget for the year just ending in which the school district retired $28,000 in emergency time warrants early in surplus funds.

The district came up with a surplus of about $30,000 in its operating fund, $6,000 in its athletic fund, and over $400 in its lunchroom fund.

In another action, school trustees Thursday set the school district tax rate again at $1.50 for the upcoming tax year and approved a 1967-68 budget calling for expenditures of $728,938.50 from operating fund, $32,724 in federal money for its Title I program addition, and an athletic budget of $18,977.75.

Actually the district's new operating budget is only about $17,000 more than for the actual expenditures of the school year being completed today — $711,553.52 — a big teacher salary boost around $30,000, most of which will not be paid for from the funds.

The two budgets only became close because of the advance payment of an additional $28,000 on the emergency time warrants sold over two years ago to take care of a school district deficit. Otherwise the 1966-67 operating budget would have been something like $683,000.

With a big oil valuation jump going to the school district next year, it appears probable that all the emergency time warrants will be completely retired next year, two or three years ahead of schedule.

When a big oil valuation loss follows the following year, the district could hold steady without additional taxes required, or if it doesn't drop, as forecast, the district could choose between improvement of its educational program or a reduction in the tax rate.

Payment of the emergency time warrants in advance is saving the school district — and thus the taxpayers — considerable interest charges.

The 51 - page budget adopted Thursday carries a complete breakdown for all expenditures, including all classroom needs and 15 cent supply items.

It also lists all planned repairs to school equipment and school supplies for the 12 month's period.

Of the $728,938.50 anticipated income for the new school year, $303,49, or 63 per cent, will be paid in school district taxes on assessed valuation of $34,144,419, figuring 90 per cent collection.

From state sources will come $180,41, or 32 per cent. The remainder of anticipated revenue is $18,724.34 from the county available fund, $3,000 from tuition of out-district students, and $8,000 in budgetary excess carried over from the current year.

The amended 1966-67 athletic budget approved Thursday, reflects all expenses from the year ending today, totaling $24,085.85 in revenues, including $4,282.89 subsidy from tax.

Expenditures totaled $21,302.97.

ASCS committee election slated

Ballots for the election of community committee members will be mailed Sept. 8 from the Garza county office of the Agricultural Conservation and Conservation Service.

The committee members are to be elected in each of the county's five communities. Three of the committees elected in each community will serve as members and two as alternates.

The ballots are to be returned to the ASCS office by Sept. 20 and will be publicly tabulated by the county ASCS committee.

NO JAYCEE HOOTENANNY

The Post Junior Chamber of Commerce's September hootenanny will not be held, due to the Labor Day weekend. Jaycee President Morris has announced. The annual monthly hootenanny will be moved the first Saturday night of October.

which meant that for the first time in many years only $1,509 of the subsidy from tax funds was needed to balance out the account.

The athletic fund goes into its new budget year with a $6,067.53 balance and a budget cut by some $7,000 to a planned total of $18,977.75.

The fund balance is expected to adequately carry the athletic department through the new budget year although athletic receipts are not expected to approach the peak receipts of last year when district championships were won in both football and basketball.

The lunchroom budget, which has been running about $4,000 in the red annually, finished in the black due to a slight increase in lunchroom prices and federal Title I funds used to purchase lunches for underprivileged children.

In two other actions at the Thursday meeting, trustees also awarded the schools' wash and grease work on school buses to Peel's Conoco Service on a low bid of $6.85 per bus, and the printing of the football programs to The Post Dispatch on a low bid of $284.

Water District budget of $336,000 okayed

White River Municipal Water District directors tentatively approved a $336,000 operating budget for the district's new fiscal year, which began July 1, at their August meeting last Thursday night at the filtration plant.

Actual operating costs for the fiscal year just ended, according to the audit presented directors by A. Arthur Davis, Lubbock accountant, was $313,371.

Over two - thirds of the operating costs each year are for bond and interest payments. The interest on the $4,500,000 worth of construction bonds is $176,139.42 last year and the bond payment of $52,000.

OPERATIONS OF the water supply operation last year, outside of bond and interest costs, totaled only $54,000.

This does not include cost of recreational operations, which are not nearly as large, but which are operated separately and paid out of recreational revenue.

White River directors will devote a major portion of their September meeting to working out the district's first recreational fund budget and discussing recreational problems.

Water district property taxes provided $176,627.91, or more than half of the district's $338,393.81 revenue. Water sales brought in $164,995.31, although the fourth member city brought on White River water was served only nine months of the fiscal year. Investment income — interest on the district's investments of required sinking funds and unused construction fund — totaled $14,430.15.

DISTRICT TAX collections last year were 95.31 per cent, with both Ralls and Crosbyton each over 101 per cent due to delinquent tax drives in those two member cities conducted by the municipalities but which also benefited the water district.

Post tax collections for the district totaled $71,211.89 — or 93.26 per cent — of which $2,194.65 were delinquent taxes, and $646.71 in penalty and interest.

The district has $66,694.48 in delinquent taxes now with $30,596.63 in Post and $19,459.16 in Spur. Ralls has only $8,741.35 in delinquent taxes and Crosbyton $7,987.34 following delinquent tax drives in those two towns.

The revenue and expense statement for the fiscal year just completed showed a net operating revenue, income over expenses, of $44,479.90.

RANSOM Galloway, Spur banker and chairman of the White River Golf and Recreational Club, appeared before directors to discuss details of a contract for the $1 a year leasing of approximately 160 acres of land in the peninsula formed at the end of the lake by Sand Creek and the White River.

The recreational club is negotiating the purchase of the land. (See Water Budget, page 8)

The Tower Theater, Post's movie house, after the Labor Day weekend will schedule movies only on weekends, John N. Hopkins, theater manager, announced today.

The movie for this weekend is scheduled through next Tuesday, Hopkins pointed out.

Thereafter the Tower will operate only on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays until further notice.

Hopkins said dwindling attendance on week nights during the school year is responsible for the change.

He said only "top productions" would be scheduled for the weekends with one movie billed in each weekend.

The theater manager said that special movies may be scheduled for holidays or other reasons, but they would be announced when, and if, scheduled.

Forty-First Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, August 31, 1967 Number 14

With the opening of Post's 1967-68 school term this week, the First National Bank on page 11 of today's Dispatch welcomes seven new teachers and one new principal to the school faculty.

The welcoming ad includes pictures of the eight and brief biographical sketches of each. This enables parents to recognize the new teachers and know something about each of them when they meet them.

This week The Dispatch is printing for the fourth and last time before the special November election, details of the six state constitutional amendments upon which voters must decide. If you haven't read them the last three weeks, look them over this time. It's your last chance to become informed as to what these amendments are all about.

Don't forget the public meeting at the courthouse at 8 p. m. tonight on the hospital financing problem. There will be plenty of facts and figures presented and from them should emerge the first chance for real public understanding of the scope of the problem. The first test of public sentiment as to which way to go will come at the open session tonight. If you're interested — you should be there.

The distribution center was opened Saturday by Jerry Riedel, who has moved here from Lubbock with his family. Riedel said the distribution center will be operated with one employee besides himself, serving Post, Slaton, O'Donnell, Wilson, Tahoka, and other communities in this area.

Riedel, who was supervisor at Lubbock for Morton Foods for a year and a half before moving to Post, has moved into a house at 205 West 14th St. His family consists of his wife, three sons and a daughter.

Bailey and his wife, Nell, live at 515 West Main. They moved here from Snyder, where he was a member of that city's Jaycee organization for three years. The Baileys have a daughter, Rhonda Lynn, who is seven.

Bailey is owner and operator of the JELCO Service, oil field supply and rental firm.

Under new election law

County may lose Verbena vote box

Garza County appears certain to lose one of its voting boxes — the one at Verbena — under the Texas election law changes approved by the last State Legislature.

House Bill 35 requires all voting boxes to have had at least 50 votes cast in the last presidential election. Only 32 votes were cast at Verbena.

County Judge J. E. Parker said today that the commissioners' court has taken no official action yet to conform to the new state election law, but that it appears they have no alternative.

Elimination of the Verbena box more than likely would mean that voters there would cast their ballots in the Two Draw voting box.

The county's other seven voting boxes at the time of the 1964 presidential election all counted more than 50 votes, with Justiceburg polling 63 Pleasant Valley, 66, and Close City, 68, among the smaller boxes.

Other major changes in the election law include: —Voters may mark ballots with "x" or check marks rather than scratching names of candidates they oppose.

—Those who have not yet met state voting residence requirements may vote for president and vice president.

—Those who have moved from county to county within six months before an election can vote for statewide officials.

—Voters in bond elections will be required to sign affidavits they own property and to identify the property.

—Write - in votes will be outlawed in primaries except for party offices, like county chairman.

—Only opposed candidates will have to file campaign expense statements.

New city budget up for adoption

The proposed city budget, which has been under consideration by city councilmen for the last few weeks, is expected to be adopted at the council's regular September meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 5.

The council meeting is being moved from its regular first Monday date to Tuesday night because of the Labor Day holiday, Mayor John Hopkins said.

The city council met with Carlton Meredith, tax consultant for the oil industry, in a special meeting on the budget Tuesday afternoon.

Also on the agenda for Tuesday night's council meeting is the rate increase request of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. on which action has been postponed at the last two regular council meetings.

Joe Bailey top Jaycee in July

The Post Junior Chamber of Commerce has named Joe Bailey as "Jaycee of the Month" for the month of July, mainly because of his work as chairman of the successful bean supper and hootenanny held here early in August.

Bailey has been active in other Jaycee projects during the year he has lived in Post, and currently is serving as chairman of the club's Outstanding Young Farmer project.

Bailey and his wife, Nell, live at 515 West Main. They moved here from Snyder, where he was a member of that city's Jaycee organization for three years. The Baileys have a daughter, Rhonda Lynn, who is seven.

Committee is to report tonight on hospital, finances

The four - man citizens fact-finding committee, named three weeks ago to determine the total amount of subsidization of Garza Memorial Hospital by county taxpayers during its 15 years of operation, will make its report tonight.

The report will come at an open meeting in the county courtroom with the Garza County commissioners court, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The committee, which includes Harold Lucas, Arnold Sanderson, Bob Collier and Earl Chapman, held a long session Monday night and scheduled another one for last night.

The committee also has announced it may have some recommendations as to how best to climb out of the financial hole.

There is certain to be lots of discussion tonight on the future — as well as the past.

The county must choose among the alternatives of voting additional tax support for the hospital, stringent cutbacks in both hospital and county expenditures,

Taxing boards running 'tight ships'

So far, taxpayers can rejoice. The local tax line is being firmly held.

The Post Independent School District and the White River Municipal Water District last week adopted their budgets for the coming year with no increase required in taxes.

Both districts are now in healthy financial condition.

The City of Post will adopt its budget next Monday night and no increase is expected there. The city, like the school and water district, will benefit from healthy boosts in oil tax valuations this year for the first time in several years, so it can be expected to hold the tax line.

The county, unless it amends its new tax rate adopted in January—and that may depend on the outcome of tonight's citizens fact-finding committee report—also will be holding the tax line.

The county is the only one of the four taxing units now in financial trouble. The other three are in excellent condition. The county did not receive as substantial an oil valuation increase as did the other three from new wells drilled in and around the City of Post last year, because of dropping oil valuations in other county areas.

Despite the loss of six state-fund-supporting teaching positions here in the last two years due to declining enrollment, Supt. Bill Shiver has operated a "tight ship" and reduced the size of the faculty not only to adjust for this loss, but also has reduced teacher overages here—positions for which the state does not pay any salary—from 14½ excess teachers down to nine. This is a savings of roughly $27,500 annually.

The local schools, after their deficit experience under a previous administration, are now under tight financial control. In fact, financial controls here today are probably the best of any school district of anywhere near its size in West Texas.

The water district also has been highly complimented by inspecting officials of the state water board for its extremely good financial position.

If the water district's first surplus water sale proves successful for Garza County water flooding in the coming year or two, even bigger sales should follow for other flooding operations, which would enable the district to start cutting its tax rate and amount of required tax support.

Like the schools, the water district under Manager Al O'Brien and a conservative water board is also operating a "tight ship" financially.

Which brings up a point for members of all these taxing boards to ponder in the year ahead.

The taxpayers need tax relief and when any tax rate can be trimmed even a little, possibly only for a couple of years, that tax saving to the harried taxpayer is certainly welcome and economically sound.

With the tax base here so dependent upon oil valuations, boards are hesitant to take small tax cuts because of the present uncertainty of oil valuations. This is the first year they had not declined substantially and indications are that the decline can be expected to be resumed next year, as little new oil has been drilled this year.

But if any local taxing unit can make a small drop, even on a year-to-year basis, it will help that much, even if it has to be increased again later.

Two or three small cuts in the various taxing units would total up into quite a help to the taxpayers who are carrying a heavy load.

Taxing boards should continue to run "tight ships" and spend conservatively, even though their financial positions may be sound. They must work toward the day when the taxpayer, who has been getting it from all sides—including federal income taxes, state property taxes, state sales taxes, social security rate boosts—can be offered a little more help than he has been getting.

If he doesn't get it pretty soon, the rate of local tax collections can go no other way than down. So it is in the interest of the taxing boards not to overload the taxpayers who still can afford to pay.

With three of the four local taxing units now sound, it's time to be giving serious study to tax reductions wherever and whenever they can be made.—JC

We owe a great deal to the schools

This week in Post, and across the country, millions of youngsters returned once again to tens of thousands of school rooms to register and start classes for the fall term.

In this day and time, the sum total of man's knowledge is expanding at a terrific rate. Some experts estimate that more knowledge has been gained in the past 20 years than in the previous 500 years combined.

The use of computers and other tools enables man to assimilate and transmit knowledge at a faster rate than ever before.

In this kind of world, it takes many more years of education to become well trained in any field, and in this day of specialists, more and more education is demanded.

The cost of education is a major item of expense in any community. The cost of education is a major item in the budget of any family with college age youngsters in school.

The nation's elementary schools, the junior high schools, high schools and colleges are crowded, some of them to the point of being dangerously overcrowded.

Teacher salaries have been raised. Educational aids have been provided. New buildings have been built.

In the light of all this expense, some older skeptics may be excused for wondering if it is worth it in the light of the sit-ins, drop-outs, campus rioters and hippies and beatniks who seem to thrive around educational centers.

The answer is that these are a minority. The vast majority of young people profit from their education, and the future of our country is in their hands.

We owe a great deal to the schools of this land.

Let's keep it a happy Labor Day

In the enjoyment of the good life, the symbolism of Labor Day, which is Monday, has been lost to many. Never in history has such a high level of well-being been the lot of so many people. For most of us, the struggle and deprivation of the centuries have faded into the limbo of history and are no longer comprehensible.

Since this is the case, it may be the better part of wisdom to consider some of the practical aspects of Labor Day as it is now observed. Coming as it does at the end of summer, it is an invitation to many for one last fling. This means millions of Americans will take to the highways and byways, with an army of attendants, maintenance crews, firemen, police, first-aid and rescue personnel on hand to minimize the casualties. Their task is formidable at best, and unless holiday travelers cooperate, it becomes a hopeless rearguard action.

So this Labor Day, drive carefully, and use common sense precautions in everything else. Above all, remember there will be other holidays and other trips. Don't leave the countryside a no-man's land of litter. There are millions of litter receptacles around the country. They are there to help preserve the beauty of the land—so let's use them.

In case you haven't heard, it's rumored that Texas A&M and Baylor University are going to merge... and the students will be called "Baggies."

AT THE SCRIMMAGE here last Thursday night between the Post and Petersburg football teams, there were nearly as many Petersburgers on hand as there were Posties. And those Petersburg folks were a "shook up" bunch of people before the scrimmage was over. The goings-on down on the field didn't shake them up, but two outside occurrences did. The first came when the civil defense siren, which the city is temporarily using for a fire siren, cut loose and howled for three or four minutes. The Petersburg visitors scanned the skies for storm clouds — of which there were none — with some of them wondering where to take cover, until the word got around that the noise was nothing more than Post's temporary fire alarm signal. The second shake-up came a few minutes later when the city's mosquito-fogging machine came by the football stadium and let loose a dense cloud of fog that settled over the stands, causing a few of the weaker-lunged spectators to head for their cars, and others to hold handkerchiefs over their noses until the fog dissipated. If the Petersburg football team hadn't looked so good in its scrimmage against Post, the Petersburg fans more than likely would have felt that they had had it.

LABOR DAY THOUGHT
Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessedness. — Thomas Carlyle.

HOW DO YOU like your eggs? At least one known psychiatrist claims your personality can be determined from the way you like eggs cooked.

If hard-cooked eggs are your preference, according to this psychiatrist, you are a persistent, dynamic and sincere soul. Soft-cooked eggs are more to your liking if you are gentle, patient and kind. Medium-cooked eggs indicate a calm, cool and collected composure.

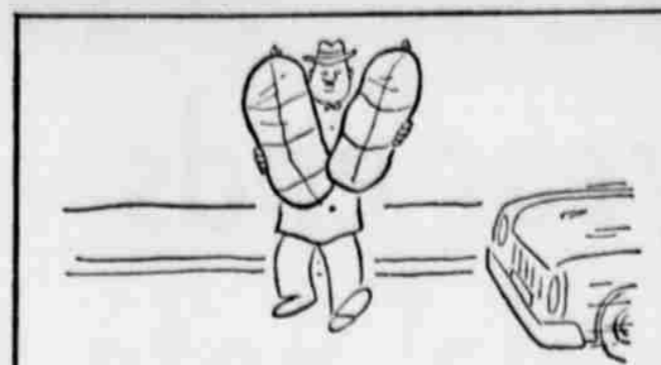

Poached eggs are preferred by the speedy, peppy and intelligent. Scrambled eggs suit the artistic, nervous and passionate. Turned-over eggs are for the versatile, magnetic and dominant. Sunny-side up eggs are selected by the happy, healthy and wise. Shirred eggs suit the fancy, fastidious, romantic and sensitive. Omelets are the order of the day when you have a sturdy, reliable and conservative makeup.

Or, maybe, you just don't like eggs.

45 traffic fatalities Labor Day prediction

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Public Safety announced today that its Statistical Services Unit has estimated that 45 persons will lose their lives in traffic mishaps during the Labor Day holiday weekend.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS director, pointed out that this is the last holiday of the summer and thousands of motorists will be crossing the state in their vehicles.

"This increased travel increases the chances of an individual being involved in an accident," Garrison said. "We urge every motorist to exercise caution and to stay alert. "There is always the possibility that the estimate of 45 deaths for this period can be proved to be too high, but only if all drivers put forth every effort toward avoiding traffic accidents."

"THE DEPARTMENT of Public Safety will continue in its all-out effort to curb traffic accidents and to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways," Garrison said. "Approximately 150 uniformed officers from other DPS services will be on the road to supplement the highway patrol enforcement action."

During the holiday period, from 6 p. m. Friday, Sept. 1 through 11:59 p. m. Monday, Sept. 4, the DPS will tabulate each traffic death and the totals will be announced three times daily from DPS headquarters in Austin in order to call public attention to highway dangers.

A coordinated effort involving several state agencies and private organizations will be directed toward holding down the number of traffic accidents and fatalities. The Texas Safety Association will conduct a public information program stressing the need for courtesy and caution on the highway, and pointing out the responsibility of the individual driver in remaining alert. TSA vice president W. F. (Bill) Leonard will coordinate the efforts of over 12,000 members of the Junior Chambers of Commerce over the state in operating some 200 "rest stops" for serving free coffee to fatigued drivers.

THE TEXAS Highway Department will carry on a program utilizing radio and television materials and new releases instructing drivers in freeway driving and in the need for caution near highway construction areas. They have available a special mailing of maps showing construction sites along Texas highways.

And the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will sponsor a fleet of 35 to 40 cars which will be used to assist stranded motorists over the state. This "Holiday Road Patrol" will be manned by the safety directors, safety supervisors and safety engineers of the trucking industry who comprise the membership of the Council, and its primary purpose is to relieve highway patrolmen for enforcement work by aiding motorists in distress.

DPS to place radar sets in every patrol district to control speed

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that the DPS had ordered a number of radar sets to be placed in every patrol district over the state to aid in enforcing the highway speed laws.

Use of the sets will enable the Department to secure a higher degree of compliance with the speed law. With the purchase of the new equipment, authorized by the Public Safety Commission, the Department will continue its long standing policy of filing charges in every case where there is a clear-cut, substantial violation of the speed law.

THE NEW RADAR units will be mounted in highway patrol cars and are designed so that only one patrolman is needed for operations. Accurate readings can be obtained on vehicles at distances of up to 1,500 feet. All highway patrolmen are trained in radar operation.

"Accident statistics indicate," Garrison said, "that speed too fast for conditions is the most prevalent violation contributing to accidents in Texas. It figured in 41 per cent of the fatal accidents reported during 1966, and 29 per cent of the non-fatal accidents."

INFORMATION obtained from studies conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads indicate that a driver is 20 per cent more likely to be involved in an accident at 70 miles per hour than when driv-

Sneaky spider's bite hurts; can be serious

An innocuous-looking little spider named "The Brown Recluse" has recently been found to be even more dangerous than the long-legged "Black Widow."

little early pain associated with a bite. Unlike the Black Widow, both males and females can inject venom.

Pain may be felt in two to eight hours, followed by inflammation of the skin, blistering, hemorrhage and ulceration.

Of the Brown Recluse's bite, one researcher told JAMA News: "Several deaths have been attributed to this spider. Our data indicate a biological poison much more potent than known snake venoms, and probably more toxic than venom from the Black Widow spider." Exactly how the venom acts remains to be determined.

Evaristo Valdez finishes course at Corps Center

SAN MARCOS — Evaristo Valdez, 20, of Post, Tex., was among 136 Gary Job Corps Center trainees to receive a certificate of completion at formal graduation ceremonies Aug. 23.

Valdez had completed the welding course. He has been in training at Gary for 13 months.

The honorees represented all six vocational clusters, which include the 38 trade programs offered on Center.

Commencement address was delivered by the Rev. C. William Black Jr., pastor of the Mt. Zion First Baptist Church in San Antonio, Tex.

Black is chairman of the Commission on Social Justice in both National and State work of Negro Baptist; chairman of the Pastoral Conference of the National Baptist Convention of America; member of the board of directors of the Economic Opportunity Development of San Antonio (OEO funded); and moderator of the Guadalupe District Association.

In his speech to the Gary graduates entitled "Philosophy of the Future", Black said that "the Gary Center is the birthplace of new dreams because of governmental foresight and the initiative of each Corpsman who sought this opportunity."

Black added that each graduate "would soon be leaving Gary fully equipped with a trained professional skill." He said that "each Corpsman should use this trade wisely and repay society for the Job Corps chance."

The Gary Center currently has more than 3,000 Corpsmen in training.

Sharla Pierce becomes bride of Jimmie Wells Saturday evening

Miss Sharla Faye Pierce and Jimmie Wayne Wells were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 26, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Jimmy McGuire, pastor, officiating at the reading of the double-ring vows.

The bride wore a white, long-sleeved, floor-length gown with a high collar and a full skirt. Her hair was styled in an updo, and she wore a white veil. The groom wore a dark suit and a white shirt with a tie.

The bride carried two white orchids atop a Bible, which belonged to her grandfather. The bouquet was accented with cymbidium orchids and ivy ending in a point. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue and a penny in her shoe.

The bride presented her mother with a red rose as she came down the aisle, and gave her mother-in-law one as she left the altar.

Mrs. Jan Lee of Austin was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Pierce, sister of the bride, and Miss Marian Roberts of Tulsa. They wore identical floor-length dresses of buttercup yellow dotted swiss made in the empire style with bateau necklines and elbow-length sleeves cuffed in a fluted ruffle.

It's My Turn

A ONE-ACT PLAYLET

(This scene is being enacted in countless thousands of kitchens throughout the United States this Sept. 30, 1967.)

THE CAST

Mary Jones, a mother in whose home the action takes place.
 Sue Smith, mother of four.
 Jane Doe, mother of one.
 Helen Black, mother of twins.

The scene opens with Mary Jones putting cups and saucers on a table in anticipation of friends who will be dropping by any minute. She rushes to the door as she hears a car in the drive.

Mary: "Hi, Sue, how did it go?"
 Sue: "Heaven only knows when we have four children. The others will be by in a minute. Helen's was having tears."
 Mary: "Oh, they'll be all right. Just hope she doesn't have too many tears."
 Sue: "Well, I'm certainly past the tear stage. I'm just delighted to get things back to normal at home. I don't think I could ever stand another day of summer vacation."
 Mary: "Oh, now Sue, you know I don't really mean that. Your children are so well behaved."
 Sue: "Hah! You've just never seen them when they really get in a row. I feel sorry for John's teacher. He's such a tease around the house."
 Mary: "Did you get the teaching you wanted this year?"
 Sue: "I've given up even wanting who the kids will get. Anytime I've found if I interfere there usually guess wrong. It all depends on personality between the kids and there's no second guessing there. I repeat, I'm just so glad to have the four of them out of the house for several hours each day. I don't care who gets the blame of trying to teach them anything."
 Jane Doe enters the kitchen (and simply sits down.)
 Mary: "My, how pretty you look today. Have a cup of coffee and tell us all about it."
 Jane: "Well, of course, Barbara is awfully excited about starting school and hardly paid any attention to me after we got in the riding and went down the hall to her teacher's room. A few of the other kiddoes were having fun but not my Barbara. The only one I had trouble with was my little girl. I'm going to be so lonely at her house. I'm not sure I can stand it. Right now, I wish I had more at home."
 Sue: "You'll recover from that riding mighty soon. Think of all the things you can play now without stopping to fix Kool-Ade and sodas. Just count your blessings."
 Mary: "Oh, I'm sure you're right. I just feel awfully low right now. I saw Helen at school and she was in the middle of a big argument with the school principal about the twins being split up."
 Mary: "You've got to be kidding. That would be the best thing that ever happened to them."

 Sue: "Well, you know Helen. She's not an easy person to convince."
 (Another car is heard in the drive and Helen arrives at the back door.)
 Helen: "Hello, everyone, sorry to be late but I had my annual fight with the school authorities. I lost as usual, but at least they know I'm still in there fighting. Those twins of mine just do better together."
 Mary: "Now that we're all here, how about a game of bridge?"
 Sue: "Gad, you ought to see my house. It's strung from one end to the other and I haven't even started in the kitchen."
 Jane: "I'd rather do anything than go back to that empty house. It won't be so bad tomorrow when Barbara leaves me to go to school but today I just can't face being by myself."
 Helen: "After my battle royal, I'm ready for anything. Seems like we mothers ought to get to celebrate today of all days. I'm ready for anything except house work and the 'call of duty'."
 Sue: "Okay, count me in. I'll hate myself later but I do feel as if I have a 'day' coming."

Members of the house party were Miss Daisy Smith, cousin of the bridegroom, and Misses Duncan and Barnes.

For the wedding trip to Carlsbad and El Paso, N. M., and Juarez, Mexico, the bride chose a yellow two-piece knit suit and black patent accessories. She added the orchids from her bouquet.

Library

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
Texas State Library has an excellent division for the blind and physically handicapped. If you have friends or relatives who might benefit from their services, please pass along the following information.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE? The famous "talking books" that the Library of Congress has supplied to blind readers since 1934 are now available to other persons who are unable to read because of physical handicaps.

Handicaps besides visual impairment which can prevent normal reading may be caused by such conditions as cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, arthritis, infantile paralysis, myasthenia gravis, and diplegia. This includes those with disabling paralysis, muscle or nerve deterioration affecting coordination and control and those confined in iron lungs or other respiratory devices.

HOW TO APPLY? To apply for the library services, the individual reader should obtain a brief statement, certifying the characteristics of his physical disability, from a competent authority — such as a doctor, optometrist, registered nurse, professional staff member of a hospital or other institution or agency, or in the absence of any of these, from a professional librarian. In cases of total blindness, a statement signed by a prominent member of the community is accepted. The statement should be sent to: Division for the Blind & Physically Handicapped, Texas State Library, Drawer DD — Capitol Station, Austin, Tex. 78711.

HOW DOES THE PROGRAM OPERATE? The service is entirely free. All the materials are handled by the Post Office Department without charge.

The lending period for all books is four weeks. The time period may be extended on request.

The Texas State Library furnishes catalogs of the books. From these, the reader may select and send to the library a list of the titles he would like to read.

The book selectors will send suitable substitutes when the reader's requests are not available. Many times it is possible to fill such requests by forwarding them to other agencies.

WHAT IS AVAILABLE? Talking book machines are furnished free-of-charge. To apply for a machine, a reader should send a medical statement to: State Commission For The Blind, 1809 North Congress, Austin, Tex. 78701.

The commission will notify the library that the new patron is ready to receive the talking books. If a reader prefers to use his own four-speed record player and wishes to apply for library service only, he should send his medical statement to: Division For The Blind & Physically Handicapped, Texas State Library, Drawer DD — Capitol Station, Austin, Tex. 78711.

Talking books are books recorded on long playing records, the speed varying from 33 and one-third to 8 and one-third rpm. Along with the variety of books available there are numerous periodicals.

Magnetic tape books are available to borrowers who own or have access to a tape player that will play a 7-inch reel at 3 3/4 i. p. s. To receive books on magnetic tape the reader will notify the library that he has his own tape recorder. The tape program is a very helpful supplement to the talking books.

Braille books are available on request. A reader should notify the library that he reads grade 2 braille and the library will put his name on the mailing list for any books and periodicals he desires. Large print books are available

THE JOY OF LIVING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ever notice how some people associate the joy of living with moments of care-free relaxation, while others seem to find equal happiness in both work and leisure? Which seems most natural? Was man created with the capacity for finding happiness in his spare time only or was he endowed with a genius for reaping joy from both work and play? Before anyone surrenders to the cynicism of the first theory, he owes it to himself, his neighbors and his God to give the second a real try. For centuries the Church has been helping men to discover the deep and lasting joy of purposeful living. When your life has a purpose, linked to the Purpose of God... then every day reveals anew the joy of living!

Cold" irons painless Hot branding irons may be on way out

TUCSON, Ariz. — The hot branding iron is in danger of being driven from the range along with other relics of the Old West. University of Arizona scientists have begun experimenting with "cold" irons that are painless. "These irons are not completely new, but they could replace the hot branding iron some day," said Herbert Lane, university extension specialist. The major problem with the traditional hot iron is that the hair tends to mat over the scar, making it hard to read in time. "The hot branding iron destroys the hair follicle," Lane said. "The new method destroys the pigment producing cells. After a while the hair comes out white." Lane and other cattlemen are particularly intrigued with the possibility of numbering each cow in an easily read figure. "We've got to know if old Bess is doing anything or loafing on a job," he said. "With the new system, we could come along in the spring after she drops her calf. It's easy to catch the calf but hard to catch the old cow. "We'd simply read the number of the cow, and identify the calf with a plastic ear tag. Then in the fall we'd know how good a calf a particular cow was producing." Another advantage of cold iron lettering is that it would not destroy the future use of the hide for leather, as hot brands do. Cold branding is done by dipping four-inch-high copper figures into alcohol supercooled with dry ice. The brands, cooled to 100 degrees below zero, are held on the cow about 30 seconds. "It takes 5 to 7 minutes to cool the brands originally, but once they are cold you can move right along through a herd," said Lane. "There is a need to shave the hair first." Dr. Keith Farrell of Washington State University, who did the original research on the new method, proved it was painless by brand-

DALLAS — What has a disposition that makes a mother-in-law seem sweet, a voice that makes a drill sergeant sound like Perry Como and is disappearing at a rate that makes the whooping crane populace look like a population explosion? The house, it seems, is the mules' worst enemy. "People who don't need a horse will keep one for the fun of it. Nobody's going to put up with a mule for nothing," Wise said. MELVIN PINSON of Dallas, a horseshoer, echoed Wise's feelings about the cussedness of mules. Pinson refuses to shoe a mule. "Last one I shot kicked me with his hind foot while I was working on a front one," Pinson said. "I've got no use for them." The average age of the mule population is going up and Wise says the ethics of mule traders is going down. Some unscrupulous traders use acid to burn stains into a mule's teeth, thus making it appear the animal is years younger than he is. Even that ploy is not too effective, Wise says, since there are a few potential buyers around now who can tell an animal's age by

Fair will have fistulated steer

LUBBOCK — A fistulated steer, one of the most interesting and educational exhibits obtained in several years, will be displayed by the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological College during the 50th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair. The live Angus steer will be exhibited throughout the week-long run, Sept. 25-30, in the FFA building. The steer has an opening (fistula) into the fist stomach from the outside. The opening is enclosed with a plastic cylinder which has a clear plastic lid to allow observation of the rumen contents. The fistula is on the left side of the animal and is about five inches in diameter. An animal husbandry student will attend the steer at all times to answer questions and to demonstrate how samples of rumen contents are obtained. Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE ON THE BALLOT

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 17 proposing an amendment to Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, so as to authorize an increase in the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued by the Veterans Land Board to Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000); providing for the issuance of said bonds or obligations and the conditions relating thereto and the use of the Veterans' Land Fund; and providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows: "Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas performing governmental duties which have been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finances. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. The compensation for said citizen members shall be as is now or may hereafter be fixed by the Legislature; and each shall make bond in such amount as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the Legislature. "The Commissioner of the General Land Office shall act as Chairman of said Board and shall be the administrator of the Veterans' Land Program under such terms and restrictions as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. In the absence or illness of said Commissioner, the Chief Clerk of the General Land Office shall be the Acting Chairman of said Board with the same duties and powers that said Commissioner would have if present. "The Veterans' Land Board may provide for, issue and sell not to exceed Four Hundred Million Dollars ($400,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veterans' Land Fund, (Two Hundred Million Dollars ($200,000,000) of which have heretofore been issued and such bonds or obligations shall be sold for not less than par value and accrued interest; shall be issued in such forms, denominations, and upon such terms as are now or may hereafter be provided by law; shall be issued and sold at such times, at such places, and in such installments as may be determined by said Board; and shall bear a rate or rates of interest as may be fixed by said Board but the weighted average annual interest rate, as that phrase is commonly and ordinarily used and understood in the municipal bond market, of all the bonds issued and sold in any installment of any bonds may not exceed four and one-half per cent (4½%). All bonds or obligations issued and sold hereunder shall, after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser or purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas; and all bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board are hereby in all respects validated and declared to be general obligations of the State of Texas. In order to prevent default in the payment of principal or interest on any such bonds, the Legislature shall appropriate a sufficient amount to pay the same. "In the sale of any such bonds or obligations, a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various Teacher Retirement Funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent School Funds. "Said Veterans' Land Fund shall consist of any lands heretofore or hereafter purchased by said Board, until the sale price therefor, together with any interest and penalties due, have been received by said Board (although nothing herein shall be construed to prevent said Board from accepting full payment for a portion of any tract), and of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board which moneys so attributable shall include but shall not be limited to the proceeds from the issuance and sale of such bonds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with such proceeds; the moneys received from the sale or resale of any lands, or rights therein, purchased with other moneys attributable to such bonds; the interest and penalties received from the sale or resale of such lands, or rights therein; the bonuses, income, rents, royalties, and any other pecuniary benefit received by said Board from any such lands; sums received by way of indemnity or forfeiture for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any such bonds to comply with his bid and accept and pay for such bonds or for the failure of any bidder for the purchase of any lands comprising a part of said Fund to comply with his bid and accept and pay for any such lands; and interest received from investments in any such moneys. The principal and interest on the bonds heretofore and hereafter issued by said Board shall be paid out of the moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes. "All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remaining in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund hereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund. "When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violative of any contract to which said Board is a party. "The Veterans' Land Fund shall be used by said Board for the purpose of purchasing lands situated in the State of Texas owned by the United States or any governmental agency thereof, owned by the Texas Prison System or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas, or owned by any person, firm, or corporation. All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund.

"The lands of the Veterans' Land Fund shall be sold by said Board in such quantities, on such terms, at such prices, at such rates of interest and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law to veterans who served not less than ninety (90) continuous days, unless sooner discharged by reason of a service-connected disability, on active duty in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard or Marine Corps of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, and who, upon the date of filing his or her application to purchase any such land is a citizen of the United States, is a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, and has not been dishonorably discharged from any branch of the Armed Forces above-named and who at the time of his or her enlistment, induction, commissioning, or drafting was a bona fide resident of the State of Texas, or who has resided in Texas at least five (5) years prior to the date of filing his or her application. The foregoing notwithstanding, any lands in the Veterans' Land Fund which have been first offered for sale to veterans and which have not been sold may be sold or resold to such purchasers, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as are now or may hereafter be provided by law. "Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the moneys attributable to any bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board may be used by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recordation fees, advertising and other like costs necessary or incidental to the purchase and sale, or resale, of any lands purchased with any of the moneys attributable to such additional bonds, such expenses to be added to the price of such lands when sold, or resold, by said Board; for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the interest or principal due or to become due on any such additional bonds. "All of the moneys attributable to any series of bonds hereafter issued and sold by said Board (a series of bonds being all of the bonds issued and sold in a single transaction as a single installment of bonds) may be used for the purchase of lands as herein provided, to be sold as herein provided, for a period ending eight (8) years after the date of sale of such series of bonds; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on bonds hereafter issued and sold shall be set aside for that purpose in accordance with the resolution adopted by said Board authorizing the issuance and sale of such series of bonds. After such eight (8) year period, all of such moneys shall be set aside for the re-irement of any bonds hereafter issued and sold and to pay interest thereon, together with any expenses as provided herein, in accordance with the resolution or resolutions authorizing the issuance and sale of such additional bonds, until there are sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds hereafter issued and sold, at which time all such moneys then remaining a part of said Veterans' Land Fund and thereafter becoming a part of said Fund shall be governed as elsewhere provided herein. "This Amendment being intended only to establish a basic framework and not to be a comprehensive treatment of the Veterans' Land Program, there is hereby reposed in the Legislature full power to implement and effectuate the design and objects of this Amendment, including the power to delegate such duties, responsibilities, functions, and authority to the Veterans' Land Board as it believes necessary. "Should the Legislature enact any enabling laws in anticipation of this Amendment, no such law shall be void by reason of its anticipatory nature. "This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption." Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "FOR the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law." "AGAINST the amendment to extend the Veterans' Land Program by authorizing the sale of bonds to increase the Veterans' Land Fund for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who served in the Armed Services of the United States between September 16, 1940, and the date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam, which amendment would amend Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, and provide for an additional $200,000,000 in bonds, such funds to be expended in accordance with instructions and requirements that may be provided by law." Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

School bus operators hear talks on safety

Highway Patrolmen Henry Harden and Jon Robbins presented a safety program Tuesday at a meeting of the Post schools' bus drivers.

After going over the rules and regulations of safe school bus driving, the highway patrolmen conducted a question-and-answer period. They also distributed copies of the Handbook for School Bus Drivers issued by the Texas Education Agency.

The patrolmen stressed that the speed limit for school buses is 50 miles an hour. Supt. William F. Shiver said all drivers have been instructed by him not to exceed that limit.

Bus drivers were also advised not to take unnecessary chances on their vehicle getting stuck while on their runs to pick up or unload students. Supt. Shiver said that in bad weather parents can help solve this problem by bringing their children to the buses over roads on which the bus might get stuck.

The school superintendent said all buses have been checked by local garages for defective steering mechanism or defective brakes, and that Odie Campbell, the schools' transportation and maintenance man has checked the vehicles' bodies.

Kellogg's detailed observations, pencilled daily into three notebooks, was published Aug. 14 by the University of Texas Press. The University acquired Kellogg's first-person account some years ago.

The new book, "M. K. Kellogg's Texas Journal, 1872," is edited by Dr. Llerena Friend, Texas History Center librarian at UT and author of "Sam Houston: The Great Designer." She also has written introductory chapters on the Texas Land and Copper Association and on Kellogg himself and has annotated the names, places and events that Kellogg mentions.

Though sorely tried by his encounters with sunstroke, chiggers, greasy food, green flies, disorder in the camp and mosquitoes ("their number being myriad and hungry"), Kellogg incorporated into his journal many vivid images of the Texas landscape and, according to Dr. Friend, depicted frontier life "in words refreshingly different."

Noting that Kellogg was considered "something of an anomaly in the Texas Permian red-bed area in 1872," Dr. Friend explains that he was a world traveler for his time, "one of the early American innocents abroad, a dweller in artists' studios in Florence and Paris and London, someone who had dined with presidents and moved in company close to princes."

They were early-day Texans, at least as they appeared to a non-Texan in 1872.

Those disdainful impressions were recorded by M. K. Kellogg, an artist-world traveler-writer, who from May to September 1872, was the official artist with a Texas Land and Copper Association mineral expedition which traversed an area in North Texas from Grayson to Haskell counties.

Savings Bond sales through July 1967 in Garza County totaled $35,244, according to a report received today from J. B. Potts, chairman of the county savings bond committee. This is 22 per cent of the county's 1967 goal of $160,000.

During the first seven months of 1967, Texans purchased $98,079,000 in Series E and H savings bonds. Included in this state total was $225,409 for the new Freedom Shares, which were offered for the first time on May 1. Freedom Shares can be purchased only in combination with Series E savings bonds on a regular purchase plan through banks or payroll savings.

Nationally, during the first seven months of 1967, cash sales of Series E and H savings bonds totaled $3,027 million, which is an increase of four per cent over sales a year ago and an 11-year peak for seven months.

The average Montana farm covers about 1,860 acres.

Water budget—

The club is seeking a 61-year lease to Aug. 31, 2028, to fulfill loan requirements with the FHA. Tom Bouchier, chairman of the board, named a board committee to study the contract and make its recommendation at the September meeting.

One of the major points in the lease contract still unresolved is the cost of untreated water the club would pump from the lake for use on its golf course.

WHILE THE club is expected to speed development of the residential area on the peninsula and be of general benefit to the lake through recreational income, some directors balked at a token payment only for the considerable amount of water needed, although much of it eventually would find its way back into the lake itself.

The decision will come at the September meeting. James Minor was named from Post to the committee to study the contract. The committee met last Saturday morning to work out details.

Galloway told directors that he had 150 members for the proposed club, soon to be incorporated, with $150 per member in the bank. The club needs 160 members to finance the loan and will require 260 members to add the second nine holes to its golf course at a later date, according to FHA loan requirements.

In another action taken, the board authorized use of the earthen dam for a farm to market road across the lake to Spur. The state will construct the 16-mile road with letting of the contract due next month.

Both dryland cotton and milo are in the same situation. Generally, both crops throughout the county need rain rather badly. Small showers have fallen in spots to the northeast and northwest of Post the last two weeks, Conner said, and where moisture has fallen things look good.

"Some of the dryland cotton is going to make a bale in the acre this year if it gets another shower or two," Conner said.

Texas Future Farmers to present Children's Barnyard at '67 Fair

DALLAS — Texas Future Farmers will present their popular Children's Barnyard at the 1967 State Fair of Texas in Dallas Oct. 7 through 22.

"We'll also stage another Barnyard Baby of the Year contest," said Don Jones, Jr., of Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Association of the Future Farmers of America.

The Future Farmer Children's Barnyard annually features the young of domestic farm animals such as dogs, cats, chickens, hamsters, turkeys, geese, ducks, horses, cows, donkeys, sheep, goats, hogs and whatever else may be found wandering around a Texas farm — perhaps raccoons, opossums, deer and skunks!

Junior visitors voting in the Barnyard Baby of the Year contest pick the most appealing and cuddlesome baby animal on display, and the winner poses as the Barnyard Champ during the last day of the State Fair.

The Children's Barnyard is a free attraction located near the main entrance of the State Fair Livestock Coliseum. It is stocked and manned by officers and members of the Texas Association of FFA.

Hold Buffs fairly even in opening scrimmage

The Post Antelopes, building toward their opening gridiron game at Hale Center Friday night of next week, will scrimmage the Spur Bulldogs at 6 p.m. Friday on the Bulldogs' field. It will be the second pre-season scrimmage for the Antelopes, which is as many as is allowed by the Texas Interscholastic Association. Last Thursday, the Antelopes scrimmaged Petersburg at the Stadium and made a creche showing, considering their inexperience.

Coach Glynn Gregg said he and the members of the coaching staff were pleased with the Antelopes' showing against the Spur Bulldogs. "We were particularly pleased with the way our boys have come during the first two weeks of practice," Coach Gregg said following the scrimmage.

Monday's practice session was another story, however. Coach Gregg said the squad was "off" more than on any other day since drills began week before last. "I wouldn't have believed we had them this far along," Coach Gregg said following the scrimmage.

Generally, the squad is in good physical condition, although still plagued by minor injuries. Both Ray Altman and letterman center Danny Cooper were sent to the doctor with bruises Monday, and sophomore lineman Randy Hudman has been bothered by a "crick" in his neck, the coach said.

On the brighter side, sophomore end Steve Newby was on hand again Monday after having spent most of last week on crutches because of a sprained ankle. Gary Young, senior end, also was back in harness after being out two days with an injured knee.

Friday's scrimmage at Spur is expected to be even more of a test for the Antelopes than was the Petersburg scrimmage. Both Spur and Petersburg are in District 4A, where Spur is picked to repeat as district champion.

Contract returned unsigned

LCC decides against playing Post varsity

There will be no football game Oct. 27 between the Post Antelopes and the Lubbock Christian College High School team, Supt. William F. Shiver said today.

Supt. Shiver said the LCC high school coach had returned the game contract unsigned after being told by his superintendent that he felt the LCC team, in its first year of football, should not play the Post varsity.

The LCC coach wrote Coach Glynn Gregg that perhaps a game could be arranged between the LCC team and the Post junior varsity for this season or next season.

The LCC superintendent's decision not to play the game leaves the Post team with only nine contests on its 1967 football schedule.

Supt. Shiver said those who have purchased season tickets at the price charged for six games will receive an adjustment on their ticket purchase after Oct. 27, providing that date remains unfilled on the Post schedule.

Coach Gregg had made arrangements for the game July 8 with the LCC coach, and had sent the game contract to LCC for their signature at Supt. Shiver's insistence.

"We didn't want to be left holding the bag on Oct. 27, which is just what would have happened if we hadn't sent them the contract for their signature," the Post superintendent said.

Shiver said an attempt would be made to schedule another game for the Oct. 27 date.

Astros and Giants Labor Day foes

Three week-end rodeos pay winners $30,371

HOUSTON — The Houston Astros' holiday treat will be to play the San Francisco Giants in the Astrodome at a special time—5 p.m.—on Monday, Sept. 4, Labor Day.

The Astros come home only for that one day but it promises to be a special treat for baseball fans, too. A once-in-a-lifetime souvenir Eddie Mathews bat will be given to each youngster 16 or under, accompanied by an adult, and the internationally famous Kilgore Rangerettes will perform a special holiday pre-game show.

For the Astros it will be their only home game until the following Monday, Sept. 11, but it will be an important one for the Giants who still have faint hopes about the National League pennant, and certainly about the other high first division berths. The Astros, who have a weak road record, have become one of the most formidable foes at home.

The souvenir bat, a memento honoring Mathews for his 500th major league home run which he hit as an Astro before being traded to the Detroit Tigers, is Little League size and has Eddie's personalized autograph.

DENVER, Colo. — Two Colorado cowboys, Jim Beeman and Jay Himes, topped winners at the Colorado State Fair rodeo, the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association said today.

The four-day rodeo at Pueblo, which doled out $12,960 total prize money was one of three major contests on the weekend, held under the R. C. A. banner. Others were at Bremerton, Wash., and Vinita, Okla.

Beeman, 24, from Lakewood, picked up $780 for a mark of 70 points in bull riding—aboard Harry Knight's bull, No. 23—and Himes, 18, of Beulah, who joined the pro ranks only a month ago, won $753 in steer wrestling and a bareback bronc riding.

Himes' double grab earned him the rodeo's all-around cowboy award and a pair of silver-mounted spurs presented by the Pueblo Chamber of Commerce.

Kelly Corbin, 21, of Delaware, Okla., earned the nod as Vinita's top money grabber, earning $891 in roping events. Corbin, a veterinary student at Oklahoma State University, racked up a third in calf roping and a second in single steer roping.

The latter event's victory went to veteran Don McLaughlin, 29, of Ft. Collins, Colo., with $781.

1966 national steer roping titlist, Sonny Davis, 32, of Kenna, N. M., while competing in calf roping, tore knee ligaments, in dismounting, that doctors said would sideline him for eight months. He was taken to a Dallas, Tex. hospital for surgery.

Mark Schriker, 29, of Sutherland, Ore., headed winners at Bremerton's rodeo, held in conjunction with the Kitsap county fair. He won calf roping and $630.

The R. C. A. said the trio of rodeos paid winners a total $30,371 prize money.

Abilene, Tascosa set scrimmage

Post football fans will have the opportunity Saturday of seeing two of the state's top high school football teams in action when Tascosa of Amarillo and Abilene scrimmage at Antelope Stadium.

The scrimmage session is set for 5:30 p.m. and will be open to the public, according to Coach Glynn Gregg of Post.

Tascosa and Abilene scrimmaged here last year, with Tascosa going on to finish as runner-up in the state Class AAAA playoffs, and Abilene ranking in the top ten in the final standings.

HOME FROM COLORADO

Miss Meredith Newby was scheduled to arrive home Wednesday from Grand Lake, Colo., where she had spent the summer working. Miss Newby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Newby, will be a bridesmaid at the Susan Ramsey-Freddie Simmons wedding this weekend.

The winners finished only one stroke ahead of the second place team of Sexton Huntley and Darrell Stone, which fired a 57.

The teams of Jim Hundley and Doris Lucas and Jimmy Hundley and Monroe Lane tied for third, each team finishing with a 59. Jimmy Hundley was the tournament medalist with a 65 on rounds of 32 and 33.

Other teams in the tournament finished as follows:

Charles Morris and Ronnie Morris, 62.

Gene Martin and Gerald Clayton, 62.

Rickey Welch and Bob Compton, 63.

Colley Gatlin and Wiley Hill, 63.

Felton Gatlin and Deamos Altman, 64.

Time changed on Hale Center tilt

The Post Antelopes' opening football game at Hale Center on Sept. 8 will be played at 8:30 instead of 8 o'clock, as originally scheduled, Coach Glynn Gregg announced.

Daylight Saving Time can be blamed for the time change.

Coach Gregg said he agreed to the request of Hale Center school officials that the time be changed after they explained that the Hale Center gridiron runs east and west and that the position of the sun at 8 o'clock would make it difficult for the players.

Roy Duvall

Oklahoman sets money record steer wrestling

DENVER—Roy Duvall, of Boynton, Okla., a 225-pound cowboy who turns 25 this week, has shattered pro rodeo's money record in steer wrestling.

The professional Rodeo Cowboys Association here said Duvall pushed his 1967 winnings to $22,242 over the weekend during a rodeo in Sidney, Ia.

The reigning steer wrestling champion, California's Jack Roddy, set the previous record of $22,405, for all of 1966. Fellow contestants believe Duvall can easily top $25,000 in 1967. More than a hundred R. C. A. sanctioned contests still are on the year's calendar.

Now in his third pro season, Duvall was third in the 1966 steer wrestling title, earning $13,593. He started on his current hot streak at Denver's National Western in January and has been coining money steadily since. His two biggest victories were the Calgary, Alta. Stampede, for $2,770, and Cheyenne's Frontier Days, worth another $2,564.

In a further rundown on this year's steer wrestling title run, John W. Jones, 35, of San Luis Obispo, Calif., running second to Duvall, scooped up $1,183 at Sidney, Ia., one of three cowboys to

Season almost here

First step in football: get a physical exam

Football season is here again. All over the nation American males are tossing and kicking and running with footballs, all the way from eight-year-olds in the backyard to junior and senior high and college teams to the big bruisers of the professional leagues.

Football is a rough contact sport and inevitably will produce its full quota of bumps and bruises, cuts and gashes, strains and sprains. Most of these aren't serious and the lads concerned are back in the game shortly.

become less prone to injury. Good officiating makes for better games and also helps to protect players. Proper equipment and facilities also are important to reduce injuries. Good first aid procedures and medical care, with a physician readily available for practice drills and on the bench during games, are major factors in cutting down on serious injuries.

Precautions against the extreme heat of early season days also are important. Many coaches are now scheduling the hot weather workouts in early morning and late afternoon to avoid the heat of the day. The old rule against drinking water during drills and games has long since been proved invalid and dangerous. Water and salt is necessary to replace fluids lost through copious sweating.

If your boy is playing on an organized team, the chances are good that all of these safeguards are observed. If most of his playing is done on a vacant lot in the afternoons and on Saturdays, it becomes the parents' responsibility to see that the player has the benefit of the safe guarding principles.

A thorough medical examination is highly important for boys preparing to go out for football to make certain that a lad has no physical conditions that should be noted before he begins the rigorous training and hard knocks of the game.

Proper physical conditioning hardens the body and increases resistance to fatigue, thus helping to prevent injury. A minimum of three weeks of conditioning are recommended prior to the first game of the season. Coaches and physicians are alert to the fact that many injuries occur when the player is tiring and thus less alert.

Careful coaching enables the players to perform better and thus

HemisFair 1968 takes shape at San Antonio

HemisFair 1968, scheduled in San Antonio from April 6 to Oct. 6, 1968, is the boldest and most imaginative endeavor in the history of the Southwest. For six months, the Texas World's Fair will inform and entertain more than seven million visitors from nations throughout the world.

Imaginative plans have been developed for a theme concentration wherein the exposition will conduct a centuries-deep probe into the diversified cultures of Pan-America—the history, art, religion and socio-economic development of each of the nations of this hemisphere—and the significant contributions to their development from other continents.

UNDER THE guidance and control of HemisFair planners, the exposition site will be a physical extension of the fair's avowed dedication to its theme, "The Confluence of Civilizations in the Americas." Exhibitions and pavilions, as well as concessions, will be designed to enhance the existing brotherhood of New World nations with greater knowledge and understanding.

The fascinating story will be told in an architectural wonderland in downtown San Antonio, just two hundred yards from the Alamo. It will feature brilliant new pavilions, exotic lagoons, theatres and a garden area.

Four and one-half acres of the site have been deeded to the United States government for construction of its $6.7 million, two-building exhibit. Another six and one-half acres have been given to the State of Texas for its $10 million Institute of Texas Cultures. Both exhibits are under construction.

Bears star in unique floor show at Pendaries Village, N. M., lodge PENDARIES VILLAGE, N. M.—There is an unusual floor show going on every night at the Lodge up at Pendaries Village.

Dinner guests pack the dining room and lounge and when someone hollars "Bear!" the show starts.

Now some floor shows over the country carry a "Bare" marquee announcement of a spectacular floor show, but Pendaries is different. It's spells and means "Bear" — great big furry black bears. These natives of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains roam the canyons and come down to raid the garbage trailer every night back of the Lodge kitchen. Every one crowds the windows and enjoy watching the bears right in the wilds of the forest.

Field representative for Salvation Army

DALLAS — Bob R. Hickman has joined The Salvation Army in Texas as a service unit field representative, it was announced by Dan Eddy, state service unit director.

Hickman will serve 26 cities, including Post, in West Texas, assisting the volunteer committees in dispersing welfare and providing counsel wherever needed, Eddy said.

Hickman was a district Boy Scout executive for more than a decade before joining The Salvation Army.

C. D. Leon, owner of the Pendaries Village Club, near Rociada, N. M., once set a trap for an ornery bobcat that had been harassing the mountain goats, but what he caught was a 300-pound bear.

This was more than he had bargained for—and it wasn't the end. When the game warden found out about the bear which walked into the bobcat trap, he arrested and fined Leon for trapping a bear out of season!

Pendaries Village is located in one of the most scenically impressive areas in northern New Mexico — just 25 miles northwest of Las Vegas in the foothills of the Sangre de Cristo mountain range. Homesites have been made available by Leon and several summer homes have been built in the tree-hidden areas of this cool summer retreat.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX ON THE BALLOT

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 33, Article XVI, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 33. The Accounting Officers of this State shall neither draw nor pay a warrant upon the Treasury in favor of any person for salary or compensation as agent, officer or appointee, who holds at the same time any other office or position of honor, trust, or profit, under this State, except as prescribed in this Constitution. Provided, that this restriction as to the drawing and paying of warrants upon the Treasury shall not apply to officers of the National Guard or Air National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Air National Guard Reserve, the Air Force Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard, the Air National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, the Air National Guard Reserve, the Air Force Reserve, and the Organized Reserve of the United States, nor to retired officers of the United States Army, Air Force, Navy, and Marine Corps, and retired warrant officers and retired enlisted men of the United States Army, Air Force, Navy, and Marine Corps. It is further provided, until September 1, 1969, and thereafter only if authorized by the Legislature by general law under such restrictions and limitations as the Legislature may prescribe, that a non-elective State officer or employee may hold other non-elective offices or positions of honor, trust, or profit under this State or the United States, if the other offices or positions are of benefit to the State of Texas or are required by State or federal law, and there is no conflict with the original office or position for which he receives salary or compensation. No member of the Legislature of this State may hold any other office or position of profit under this state, or the United States."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 11, 1967, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the constitutional amendment allowing non-elective state officers and employees to serve in other non-elective offices or positions under this state or the United States until September 1, 1969, and thereafter only if authorized by the Legislature, if the offices or positions are of benefit to Texas or are required by state or federal law, and there is no conflict of interest with the original office or position; prohibiting elected officers under this state; and adding members of the Air National Guard, Air National Guard Reserve, Air Force Reserve, and retired members of the Air Force to the list of persons exempted."

"AGAINST the constitutional amendment allowing non-elective state officers and employees to serve in other non-elective offices or positions under this state or the United States until September 1, 1969, and thereafter only if authorized by the Legislature, if the offices or positions are of benefit to Texas or are required by state or federal law, and there is no conflict of interest with the original office or position; prohibiting elected officers under this state or the United States from holding any other office or position under this state; and adding members of the Air National Guard, Air National Guard Reserve, Air Force Reserve, and retired members of the Air Force to the list of persons exempted."

SHORT CUT TO SOCIAL SECURITY
Fred moved into a motel owned by his sister. In return for a free room, he did maintenance work around the premises.

One day his sister had an inspiration: why not start paying him wages, so that — as an "employee" — he could qualify for federal old age benefits when he reached the age of 65? Accordingly, she put Fred on her payroll.

BUT A FEW years later, when he applied for benefits, he was turned down. In a court test, the judge ruled that Fred had not really been an employee at all, because the work he was paid for was the same work he had done before for nothing.

To create rights under the federal social security law, there must be a genuine employment relationship. And the government may be skeptical if the so-called employee is a close relative of the so-called employer.

In fact, the law flatly excludes employment between man and wife or (with certain exceptions) between parent and child. The idea, of course, is to prevent families from setting up fake "jobs" as a short cut to the rewards of social security.

EXCEPT in these husband-wife and parent-child situations, the law will weigh the facts of the individual case to see whether true employment is shown. For example, a divorced man, awarded custody of his little girl, left her with his sister in another city. For a monthly fee the sister, carrying out his instructions, took full charge of the child's upbringing.

Some years later, the sister put in a claim for old age benefits on the basis of her prior "employment." And a court upheld her claim. The judge pointed out that, even though the employment was between close relatives, nevertheless it was a bona fide arrangement for a bona fide reason.

Preston Smith is to be governor candidate in '68

AUSTIN — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith broke open the 1968 political season by telling reporters he will run for governor next year regardless of whether Gov. John Connally plans to try for a fourth term.

"I want to make it clear once and for all that I am running," Smith said. "I have absolutely no idea what Governor Connally will do, and it doesn't make one iota of difference."

However, the Lieutenant Governor insisted that he would not make a formal announcement of his candidacy, complete with definition of issues until Connally returns around Labor Day from his African safari.

House Speaker Ben Barnes has indicated he will run for lieutenant governor if Connally seeks a fourth term.

Former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr also expressed some interest in the lieutenant governor's race. But he emphasized that he had not made a definite decision.

Another prospective candidate for lieutenant governor is State Sen. Murray Watson of Waco.

Burlington says many divisions to raise wages

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Burlington Industries has announced that wage increases will be made next month by most of its manufacturing divisions.

Charles F. Myers Jr., president of the nation's largest textile firm, said today amounts and effective dates of the increases would be established on a divisional basis, but "it looks like most of the moves will be made during September."

The company, operating in broadly diversified areas of textiles and related products, has 123 plants in 15 states.

Myers noted that several divisions of Burlington had made recent wage adjustments and would not be affected by the broad movement now developing. "Because of the diversified and decentralized nature of our operations, wage policy is established at the division level," he added. "However, for most of our divisions the increases will be the fifth in the past four years."

The Burlington chief executive said that while the current level of textile business generally is well below that of the past several years, "we are beginning to note improvement in a number of markets and feel that wage rate adjustments are warranted at this time."

First park visitors chased by Indians

Visitors fled the first national park in the 1870's when Indian warriors unceremoniously routed all outsiders from Yellowstone.

Since then, every year has been a record year for the national parks, and 1967 will be no exception.

The National Park Service's rangers are bracing themselves to greet more than 145 million visitors in 1967. Last year about 133 million persons admired the world's most extensive and varied public estate.

THE NATIONAL Park System stretches from majestic Mount McKinley in Alaska to the powder-white beaches of Virgin Islands National Park in the Caribbean, and from the fiery volcanoes of Hawaii to the foaming rock coast of Maine. This vast public domain includes 33 national parks and 225 other areas totaling 27,500,000 acres, the National Geographic Society says.

The largest single unit in the system — Katmai National Monument in Alaska — covers 2,697,590 acres; it encompasses the Valley of 10,000 Smokes. The smallest unit is the modest brick building where President Lincoln died in Washington, D. C.

The Park Service's 12 national recreation areas have added an exciting new dimension to the system. Most of the areas are on withdrawn public lands administered by the Bureau of Reclamation for dam projects.

ACTIVITY in nearly all the recreation areas centers on and in the water. For instance, at Glen Canyon National Recreation Area in Arizona and Utah, swimmers splash in a man-made lake that will cover 250 square miles when it fills to capacity. Water skiers skim across it, and motorboats explore canyons once difficult to reach even by horseback.

The national parks, monuments and recreation areas tell an infinite variety of stories. Tourists at Wetherill Mesa, one of many canyon-scattered hills in Colorado's Mesa Verde National Park, examine the cliff dwellings of Indians who reached a high degree of culture before mysteriously vanishing 700 years ago.
