

POST TEAM WINS LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Post's teen-age team cinched its league championship by beating Petersburg Monday night and will play Haskell at 8:30 p. m. Monday at the district Texas Teen-Age League Tournament in Lockney. The Post club, managed by Pat Walker and coached by Deamos Altman, is playing this week in the Post Jaycees' Teen-Age Tournament. Front row,

Post teen-age club, Snyder advance in Jaycee tourney

The Post Teen-age team and Snyder advanced in the Jaycees' Teen-Age Baseball Tournament at night, each team winning its second game of the tourney. Post beat Taboka, 5-1, with Clyde Cash on the mound, and Snyder edged Slaton, 6-5. Tonight, the Post Pirates play Slaton at 8:30, with Shallowater at Slaton meeting at 8:30, both games in the losers' bracket.

The Post Junior Chamber of Commerce's second annual Teen-Age Baseball Tournament got off to a fast start at David Nichols Field Tuesday night with the Post Teen-age team and Snyder winning the opening games. The Post teen-agers defeated the Post Pirates, 6-4, after a struggle, and Snyder blanked Shallowater, 1-0, in a pitching duel between Snyder's Bobby Clardy and Shallowater's Tommy Pointer. Play in the six-team, double elimination tournament will continue each night this week, with the champion to be decided Saturday in either a single game or a doubleheader.

Snyder's Clardy hurled a one-hitter in his team's 1-0 triumph over Shallowater in Tuesday night's second game, the losers getting their only safety in the top of the seventh inning on a single by rightfielder Morris. Up until Morris' single, Shallowater's only baserunner had been centerfielder McCreary, who drew a walk in the third frame. Clardy fanned 17 Shallowater batters, striking out the side in the first, third and fifth innings. Shallowater's Pointer, who is on the Post teen-age team's roster for their district playoff games at Lockney next week, gave up only four hits, Snyder's only run coming in the third inning when Rick Hall, who had walked, scored on Larry Wadzek's single. Pointer struck out 15 Snyder batters, whiffing the side in the second, third, fifth and sixth innings. First baseman Nick Pantoja's two home runs powered the Post teen-agers to their 6-4 win over the Post Pirates. Doyle Nichols was the winning pitcher and Filemon Vargas the loser, both going the route. The Pirates jumped off to a two-run lead in the top of the first on consecutive singles by Perez, Ruben Valdez and Vargas, with the teen-agers scoring one in the bottom of the frame on Duke Altman's single and Roy Sappington's triple. The recent Mid-East "war" is already having considerable effect on oil production in Texas as August allowables have now shot up to 54 per cent, highest in 19 years or more.

The Dispatch has been unable to find out exactly how beneficial this has been to Garza's oil industry. It has helped some, but due to the county having so many small wells it is not expected to help here as much as over the state generally. But it is helping to some degree.

The best question is will Texas oil allowables be cut all the way back when Arab countries again start exportation of oil to this country.

Oil men here are hoping that, it won't be cut all the way back to the pre-crisis days of only a few months ago, but will be adjusted to get Texas on a more equal basis with neighboring states as far as conservation is concerned.

If the adjustment is made, oil men say it will mean considerably more oil exploration in Texas in the next 10 years than there has been in the last 10. And this is bound to be of considerable benefit to Garza County, where oil money is vital to the economy as a whole and the tax structure in particular.

We note that Mrs. C takes up some of her column this week to apologize to Maria Shelton for the Dispatch misspelling Maria's last name in a society page headline last week. She spelled Shelton a few dozens times just to prove The Dispatch could get it right.

Along this same line we need to apologize to the First National Bank for getting the bank 10 years "too old" in their half page anniversary ad last week. The bank was celebrating its 58th anniversary, not its 68th as the ad read. We want to take all the "credit" for this error because we don't. (See Postings, page 8)

Trash haul-off is still under way

City sanitation crews are running trucks after 5 p.m. every day this week to finish the clean-up job started last Saturday. City Manager Eddie Warren said today. The sanitation workers are hauling away rubbish piled on the alleys last weekend which they and the Post Jaycees, who assisted in the campaign, were unable to get around to. Warren said not a whole lot of tree limbs and other vegetation was piled on the alleys to be hauled away last weekend. "Most of what we hauled off was other kinds of rubbish," he said. The city manager also said that weeds were still high in many of the alleys. All requests phoned in to the city office for removal of junk, etc. piled on the alleys were taken care of during the clean-up drive, Warren said. "We're going to finish hauling off everything this week, with the sanitation crews operating after they get through with their regular rounds," the city manager said.

Federal aid projects approved for schools

School will start four weeks early this year for up to 45 Post district students with two federal aid to education financed projects getting under way here.

One of the projects will be for English speaking pre-school children. This will be a four weeks continuation course, mornings, which will be taught by Mrs. McBride, and begins next week, Aug. 1.

The other will be what Supt. of Schools Bill Shiver terms "reinforcement of language arts and mathematics" course for third and fourth graders which will run approximately three weeks, mornings only. It will begin Aug. 7 and end Aug. 25.

This second project will be taught by Dan Rankin, who completed his teaching certification program at the secondary and elementary level in the first summer term at Texas Tech.

The course taught by Rankin will include a recreational program with swimming included. Students will be picked up and returned to their homes by school bus.

Children attending both course projects will receive an early morning snack and those in Rankin's class will have sandwich lunches in the park.

The entire cost of the project comes from federal funds.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Supt. of Schools Bill Shiver attended a superintendents' conference in Austin Sunday through Wednesday of last week which was sponsored by the Texas Educational Agency and the University of Texas.

From light to severe

Hail damage 'guess' here is 1,000 acres

Best possible "guesstimate" of the total acres damaged in Garza County by a pair of hail storms on the night of July 18 is approximately 1,000 acres. But nobody wanted his name associated with the guess. Since few farmers any longer carry hail insurance with commercial firms, The Dispatch had no insurance offices to survey for actual damage claims. The damage on the thousand acres ranged from light to severe. Some farmers in the two hail areas were "cleaned out."

Legs broken in auto collision

Mrs. Tom Johnson of 605 South G Place was returned to her home Sunday from Ranger General Hospital, where she had been a patient since July 13 after both her legs were broken in a two-car accident. Mrs. Johnson's daughter, Edith, suffered an injured knee and a cut on the head in the accident, and the four occupants of the other car suffered lacerations and bruises. Mrs. Johnson's legs were broken just below the knee. She will have to wear casts for several weeks.

Plans fast taking shape for annual rodeo here Aug. 9-12

Plans for the annual Post Stampede and Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo to be held Aug. 9-12 are "moving" earlier this year than they have in a number of years, indicating that this year's four-day show might be the most successful in the history of the double-barreled western event. All new grandstands have been built for this year's rodeo, with box seats available the entire length of the seating sections for those wishing to buy them. This summer's construction work at the rodeo arena included tearing down the old grandstand section and building a new one. Post Stampede, Inc., officers met Monday night and Junior Rodeo officers gathered Tuesday night to make further plans for the coming rodeo. Members of the Post Lions Club this week hung their "Welcome Rodeo Visitors" flags in front of business places. Rodeo officers were told this week by Bill Bland, president of the Garza County Sheriff's Posse, that some forty invitations have been mailed area riding groups to take part in the opening day parade at 5 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 9.

Bland said acceptances had been received from nine of the riding groups and that more are expected. Trophies will be awarded the parade's three top riding groups, with cash prizes going to the winning floats. Jack Lott is chairman of this year's rodeo queen contest, and Garza County girls wishing to enter the contest are urged to contact him. Misses Nancy Hart and Janice Gordon were named as rodeo flag-bearers at Tuesday night's junior rodeo meeting. The four night performances will begin at 8 o'clock each night, preceded by the grand entry at 7:45. The six senior rodeo events are bareback bronc riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, barrel race, team roping and bull riding. Junior contestants (19 and under) will compete in bareback riding, calf roping, barrel race, ribbon roping, bull riding, pole bending and flag race. Glenn Green of Amarillo will furnish the stock for the rodeo. Jimmy Mackey and his band will play for a dance each night at the rodeo dance pavilion.

Attempted murder charge filed on 17-year-old girl

Chesteen Arnett Collier, 17-year-old Post girl, was being held in the county jail in lieu of $2,500 bond today after being charged Monday with assault with intent to murder in connection with a Saturday night shooting in northeast Post.

She is charged with shooting J. C. Demming, 19, who was reported recovering today at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock after undergoing surgery Sunday morning for removal of a bullet from his abdomen.

Both Miss Collier and Demming are Negroes.

The girl was taken into custody by Police Sgt. Otis G. Shepherd Jr., and city patrolmen R.C. Stark and Richard A. Brush at a cafe shortly after the shooting and taken to the courthouse where the city officers turned the investigation over to Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claiborn and Deputy Bob Atkinson.

Shepherd said he and the two patrolmen had received a call on the shooting from the radio dispatcher after Demming had been taken to the hospital here. The police sergeant said the girl came up to him and the other two officers at a cafe and told them she had just shot a man.

Deputy Atkinson said the sheriff's department had their investigation in the shooting under way when the city officers arrived at the courthouse with the girl and that a warrant for her arrest had already been issued.

The complaint was filed with Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts.

County Atty. Preston Poole said legal maneuvers would be made to get the juvenile girl certified as an adult before the case is presented to a grand jury.

The county attorney said plans are to have a hearing before District Judge Truett Smith of Taboka next Wednesday to request the certification. The gun with which Miss Collier is alleged to have shot Demming, a .22 caliber pistol, is in possession of the sheriff's department, Deputy Atkinson said.

In corporation court

Dog complaint case to be tried today

The City of Post's controversial dog ordinance will get a test this morning (Thursday) when the case of Howard Kolb, charged with violating the ordinance, is tried before Judge Percy Printz in corporation court.

Kolb is charged with keeping and harboring a dog without vaccination tags and city license tags.

The complaint was filed by city police last Thursday, after which Kolb appeared, pleaded not guilty and posted a $100 bond.

The case will be tried before a jury upstairs at the City Hall.

Meanwhile, city police are continuing to pick up unlicensed dogs. Police Chief Bill Gordon said Tuesday.

"We're going to keep picking them up until the city council tells us not to," the police chief said.

Nearly 100 dogs had been picked up by police up to noon Tuesday. All except 20, which were in the city pound, have been reclaimed by their owners or destroyed, Chief Gordon said.

Elsewhere in today's Dispatch is an "open letter" from Mayor John Hopkins inviting those dissatisfied with the dog ordinance and its enforcement to bring their complaints to the next regular city council meeting, which will be Aug. 7.

Fine Arts award presented women

The Texas Fine Arts Commission has awarded citations to four Post women "in recognition of distinguished service to the Commission and to the State of Texas."

The citations went to Mrs. A. C. Surman, Mrs. C. R. Thaxton, Mrs. William Robinson and Mrs. James L. Minor.

The awards were presented the Post women for their work in the recent State-wide Cultural Resources Survey.

Drug store also hit

The first break-in at the post office here since it moved into its new building in 1961 occurred sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning, with nothing lost except the padlocks on the back doors.

Lee Reed rites set for today

Funeral services for William Lee Reed, 66, lifelong resident of the Justiceburg vicinity, who died Tuesday afternoon in Garza Memorial Hospital were to be conducted at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) at the Hudman Funeral Home chapel. Mr. Reed, who was a farmer, had been in the hospital for 10 days.

Born Aug. 28, 1901, at Fluvanna, he moved to Justiceburg in 1904 and had resided there ever since.

Mr. Reed is survived by his wife, Jewel, of the home; two sons, Fernie and Weldon Reed, both of Justiceburg; a sister, Mrs. Lillie Cantrell of Lubbock; a brother, Luther Reed of Justiceburg, and four grandchildren.

L. M. Hammett of Wolfforth, an elder of the Primitive Baptist Church, will officiate at the funeral services.

Burial will be in the Justiceburg Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers will be Bob Tidwell, John Boren, Albert Bevers, Bud Schlehuber, Lee Morgan and Billy Cantrell.

Rotarians endorse event for farmers, ranchers

The Post Rotary Club at its Tuesday luncheon in City Hall unanimously endorsed a proposal for the Post Chamber of Commerce to stage an event for area farmers and ranchers.

A. C. Cash told Rotarians he had been delegated by Chamber directors to determine the sentiment among business men, farmers, and ranchers to stage such an event in 1967.

Instead of a luncheon program, the club's various new committees got together for committee planning sessions.

Lions hear Industrial Foundation director

Tom McKeown, executive director of the Post Industrial Foundation, explained the goals of the foundation and its accomplishments thus far, at Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting.

Following the program, the Lions put up rodeo flags at the front of business buildings.

Post office loses locks to burglars

The first break-in at the post office here since it moved into its new building in 1961 occurred sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning, with nothing lost except the padlocks on the back doors.

Earlier in the week — on Thursday night — Bob Collier Drug, 203 East Main was robbed of about $30, apparently by someone who was hidden in the store at closing time.

Postmaster A. J. McAlister said nothing was missed in the post office break-in "except the padlocks knocked off the back door." The break-in was discovered by

Welfare office to move soon

The state welfare office's move to new quarters at 413 North Broadway will be completed by Friday Aug. 1, according to H.A. Boren, public assistance worker in charge of the welfare department. The office is now housed in the building just off the courthouse square.

The welfare office will follow its regular schedule in the new quarters from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Bean supper and cotenanny set

The Post Junior Chamber of Commerce's first annual Bean Supper and Cotenanny will be held Friday, Aug. 5, in the City-Country Park, with the bean supper starting at 6 o'clock and the free cotenanny at 8.

Tickets for the bean supper went on sale this week at 50 cents each. Proceeds from the ticket sale will go to the Girl Scouts at Whiteface, Texas.

An added attraction, there will be a drawing for prizes at the bean supper event, Jaycees said.

Advertising of the bean supper and cotenanny in the newspapers and radio broadcast will be made this weekend and next week.

The real promise of the future

With the coming of August next week, the hottest days of summer will be upon the land. With this climax of the seasons will come the month of September—the time for hundreds of young people in Garza County to return once again to the classrooms.

In today's world, the sum total of man's knowledge is exploding upward at an accelerated pace. It takes many more years of schooling to become well trained in any field and further to become a well educated human being with the established, permanent desire and ability to continue the learning process throughout life.

The cost of education today is a major tax burden. With this in mind, many of the "older generation" sometimes voice the doubt that "all this schooling is really worth it." They wonder what kind of a crop of young people we are raising. Protestors, sit-inners, rioters and school dropouts get a great deal of publicity, but they are a tiny proportion of our school population and would probably be in trouble wherever they were and whether they had any education or not.

The real promise of the future lies in the vast majority of hardworking young people who look forward to school days opening again this fall—not only for the social companionship, excitement and fun of activities, but also because they feel the stimulation of learning about their heritage and opportunities and exploring the past fields of knowledge now being unfolded to man's mind.

Major changes in driver's licenses

The impressive package of traffic safety measures passed by the Texas Legislature and signed into law by Gov. John Connally included a Driver Licensing Act, House Bill 354.

Most Garza countians know of the sweeping changes in driver's license requirements provided by this bill, but apparently not many of us have learned much about the details. For that reason, we are listing a few of the major highlights here:

1. After the first of the year, every person who renews his or her license will be photographed—and in color. The picture will be attached to the new license, and if it is your first license, it will also include your fingerprints.

2. If your present license number ends with

0, 2, 4, 6 or 8, your license will be good for four years. If it ends in an odd number—1, 3, 5, 7 or 9—the new license will expire in two years. After the staggered inauguration, all licenses will expire on the owner's birthday every four years.

3. License fees will double, but so will the time they are valid, so there is no real change in price.

4. Drivers under 21 will have a license of a different color to the general issue so they can be easily distinguished.

All in all, the new traffic safety measures passed by the Legislature provide stronger governmental leadership in accident prevention and offer new hope for curing many of our traffic ills.—CD

We salute two district champions

The Dispatch this week joins the entire community—and all of Garza County, for that matter—in saluting our district champion baseball clubs—the Texas Teen-Age League team, managed by Pat N. Walker, and the Little League All-Stars, managed by Jerry Hays.

These district championship teams will go on now to other tournaments in their quest for even greater honors.

We are proud of the representation they are giving Post and Garza County in other towns. And we are just as proud of Manager Jimmy Bird's fine Babe Ruth League All-Star club, which made a fine showing before bowing out of its district tournament a couple of weeks ago.

The success enjoyed by these three Post teams reflects on the solid structure of the Youth Baseball Organization, which affords summer recreation for scores of youngsters and pleasant diversion for Post and Garza County's many baseball fans.

Our best wishes go to the Teen-Age and Little League All-Star teams as they go on to greater things this week and next.—CD

Rodeo dates are not far off

The annual Post Stampede and Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo is only about two weeks away, and we need a big parade and an interesting rodeo queen contest to help make the event a successful one.

The reason we're bringing up the subject of the rodeo parade and the queen contest is because it's time for organizations planning to enter floats in the parade to start thinking about them and also time for young ladies who plan to enter the queen contest to start making their plans. The four-day rodeo will feature six events for senior contestants and seven events for junior contestants—those 19 years of age and under. All events will be under RCA and GRA rules.

The rodeo will be one of the biggest, if not the biggest, attractions held in Post this year, with approximately 250 of the area's top senior and junior rodeo contestants here to compete for the cash prizes.—CD

I'M BACK AT my desk in The Dispatch front office after what amounts to a three-week vacation from my editorial duties. Actually, my vacation lasted only one week, but I spent two weeks in the back shop while workers there were taking their one-week vacations. So, it's good to be back at my cluttered desk after a three weeks' absence.

My short vacation came during the same week as my birthday and was about as welcome a birthday present as one could hope for.

THIS IS THE final July - dated Dispatch of the year and with next week's issue we'll head into a big August that will bring the annual rodeo, preparations for the opening of school, hot weather, and no telling what else.

The man up the street says it costs so much for wine, women and song these days that there's nothing left for luxuries.

OUR CAT BLACKIE makes a reappearance this week in connection with current women's styles. Incidentally, Blackie says he's happier than ever to be a cat, now that the dog problem is stirring up such a stew in Post.

"Lie, Steal, Drink, Swear!" That motto was used 50 years ago by a weekly newspaper in Canada. Under the motto was the editor's explanation: "When you lie, let it be down to pleasant dreams; when you steal, let it be away from immoral companions; when you drink, let it be pure water; when you swear, let it be that you will support your hometown newspaper, pay your subscription, and have all your printing done locally."

THE PUBLISHER of the Seminoles (Okla.) Producer ran an ad in the Daily Oklahoman for: "Reporter, male or female; must be able to read and write."

On the same subject, a subscriber recently complained that we spelled his name three different ways in one brief news item. We are genuinely sorry, since names are something we try hard to spell correctly. The subscriber's name was not Johnson, but if it had been we could have taken cover by reminding him that the name Johnson can be spelled 33 different ways in the Scandinavian languages, according to the Scandinavian Airlines System.

As a result, says SAS it has alerted its reservations department to get the correct spelling from callers — Jahnson, Jahnssen, Jahnson, Jahnsson, Janson, Jansen, Jansson, Jannse, Jazon, Jensen, Jenssen, Johaneson, Johannesen, Johaneson, Johanesohn, Johansen, Johansson, Johanson, Johansohn, Johanson, Johansons, Johansons, Jonsson or Johnson.

HERE IS ANOTHER "classic" for our puzzle fans. We'll run the answer next week. Let us know how you come out on it and we'll add your name to our "Puzzlers' Club" list.

A woman recently invited five guests to a tea. The names of the six women who sat down to the circular table were: Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. Nixon, Mrs. Neugent, Mrs. Jayton and Mrs. Dunn.

One of these women was deaf, one was very fat, one was quite talkative, one was a bromidic soul, one simply hated Mrs. Dunn, and one was the hostess.

The woman who hated Mrs. Dunn sat directly opposite Mrs. Jayton. The deaf woman sat opposite Mrs. Slater, who sat between the bromidic soul and the woman who hated Mrs. Dunn. The fat woman sat opposite Mrs. Nixon, next to the deaf woman and to the left of the woman who hated Mrs. Dunn. The bromidic soul sat between Mrs. Slater and the woman who sat opposite the woman who hated Mrs. Dunn. Mrs. Murphy, who was a good friend of everyone — particularly Mrs. Dunn — sat next to the fat woman and opposite the hostess.

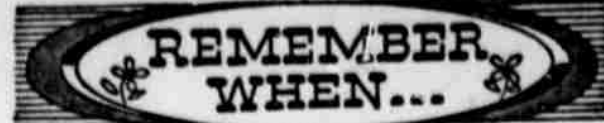

Can you identify each of these charming women?

Young Farmers' field day set

A unique field day is scheduled to be held at Weldon Mason's farm near Brownfield in Terry County, Aug. 19. It will be the second field day of its type held on the farm of a Star Young Farmer of Texas under sponsorship of the Young Farmers of Texas.

Ten agri - business firms have provided farm chemicals and other materials used in setting up educational demonstrations on Weldon's farm which will be viewed at the Aug. 19 Field Day. The demonstrations were cooperatively planned by representatives of participating agri - business firms, Weldon, and the staff of the Texas Experiment Station at Lubbock.

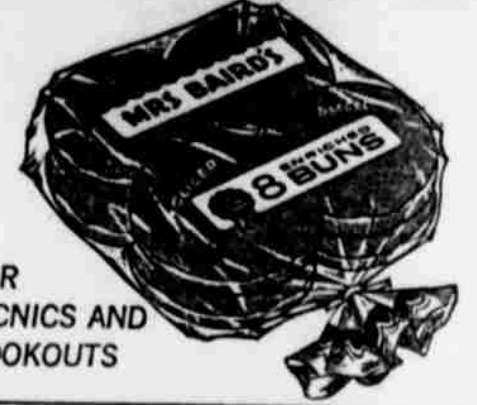

The field day program will be built around production of cotton, milo, forage crops, soybeans and Midland Bermuda.

Some 500-600 Young Farmers are expected for the field day event. While the field day is primarily for Young Farmers interested Young Farmers from areas of Texas are invited, according to Truman Hayes of Weldon, chairman of the Field Day project. Hayes states that Young Farmers are also invited to attend the regular tour — scheduled for them.

Young Farmer chapters in Brownfield area who are assisting with the field day project include Terry County, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Ropes, Welch, Loop and Pleasant Registration for the field day will be in conjunction with the field day barbecue that will be held at the farm of Donald H. Coker, president of the Terry County chapter.

Post's Teen-Age Team and Little League All-Stars

The 1966-67 Post athletic year—after district football and basketball championships—is going down in the record books as a title "sweep" with two newly crowned baseball champions as well.

Manager Pat Walker's hustling and hard-hitting Post Teen-Age Club completed an undefeated march to its district crown Monday night. Post's Little League All-Stars came up with plenty of run production and shutout pitching to capture the area title at Lamesa Friday night.

POST TEEN-AGE DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

LITTLE LEAGUE AREA CHAMPIONS

Fans backing Teams to win more tournament titles

Post's Little League backers will be heading for Lubbock tonight to root for Manager Jerry Hays' Little League All-Stars as they take on Lubbock Eastern at 7:30 p.m. on the Mackenzie State Park diamond to open their district play.

Post is back in district play after a two-year absence.

The Teen-Age team this week is a co-favorite in the second annual Post Jaycees' tournament here and next week will compete in the Teen-Age regional tournament at Lockney hoping to earn a berth in the state teen-age championship play.

Post's merchants salute these two championship clubs and the boys' summer baseball program—the men who guide it and the boys who compete in it—for making these title dreams come true.

GATEWAY TO CANADA — Family stands on the Rainbow Bridge overlooking Niagara Falls recording on film their visit to the famed cataracts. They are located at the international border between the United States and Canada where the U.S., United Nations and Canadian flags are the guardians of the unfortified frontier. Millions of visitors to Canada will cross the three international bridges in the Niagara Falls area this year.

Library LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

I wish that I could take a vacation every week since my name appeared in two columns while I was gone. It's much more fun to be written about than write. (Is that poor grammar or merely awkward sentence construction?) Unfortunately, there are no cheap mountain tops in Ruidoso.

Dorman H. Winfrey, director and librarian of Texas State Library, dropped by the Post library on his way to Austin last Wednesday. Volunteer Joy Parker was on duty and enjoyed chatting with him. She remarked that the director was "young" and very "enthusiastic." He admired our book collection, and said that our library was the most "colorful" and "attractive" small public library that he had seen in Texas. Thank goodness he didn't look in the back room!

We are delighted to have recent book contributions from Ada Buchanan, Earl Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McKeown, and the Midland County Library.

IN DEFENSE OF THE HARDY BOYS, ET. AL. Librarians often frown upon certain "series" books for young people. As a recent issue of the "Saturday Review" states, "A contrived or shoddy book will not last, and this is true despite the temporary allegiances to Tom Swift and Nancy Drew." A pamphlet published by the American Library Association reads, "All over the country there are libraries failing to offer youth a chance to stretch its mind and widen its horizons. These libraries offer pabulum in the form of the Bobsey Twins and Hardy Boys when youth wants and is able to absorb steak." Another A. L. A. pamphlet offers a replacement list for "outmoded and poorly written 'Juvenile Fiction', otherwise known as The Bobsey Twins, The Five Little Peppers, The Wizard of Oz, Billy Whiskers, Anne of Green Gables, The Hardy Boys, Cherry Ames and Nancy Drew. There's going to be war."

I cannot speak for the Twins, the Peppers, Anne or Cherry — the names are familiar but I didn't read them. The Oz books? O. K., so they're a drag, but we couldn't have heard Judy Garland sing "Over the Rainbow" without them! Billy Whiskers? Already obsolete. So now, my friends, we've reached the heart of the problem — what's WRONG with Nancy Drew and the Hardy Boys? C. S. Lewis once said, "No book is really worth reading at the age of ten which is not equally (and often far more) worth reading at the age of fifty." Frank, Joe, and Nancy certainly couldn't pass that test. However, I can only think of about three books that do. It would seem a pity to limit our children to "Winnie the Pooh", "Tom Sawyer" and "The Wind in the Willows."

The Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew may be taste and poorly written but children love them. Why? What appeal do they have? What catches the imagination? There must be something there, something we sanctimonious adults simply can't see or feel any more. Far from being "temporary," these books have been kicking around for half a century and more than ever are published each year. Perhaps one needs a certain amount of "pabulum" before one can chew the "steak".

If a child wants to read a particular book and you suggest "Alice in Wonderland" instead, he has three choices: He can think he's stupid, he can think you're stupid, or he can think "Alice in Wonderland" is stupid. Let's let him outgrow non-excellence for himself and save our guidance and counsel for the day he's ready for it.

When children can't get Nance and the Boys at the library, they beg, borrow, or buy them somewhere else. In the meantime, they don't come to the library. Call it what you will, a "stage", a "phrase" — these two series can't really be "replaced". Let's keep them! (Now, look, C. S. — one day, some kid just might wander into our wayward library for the usual Nancy Drew and discover "The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe" . . . I know, BUT . . .)

Where There Was Nothing...

Pictures are made by fools like me. But it took an architect-friend to help me appreciate this one.

"I'm always impressed," he said, "when someone puts beauty and meaning where otherwise there would have been nothing. That's what God did when he made this tree!"

Photographers like to pretend they're philosophers. So I titled my picture Where There Was Nothing . . .

Next Sunday my architect-friend invited me to church. A bit overwhelmed by this sudden solicitude for my long-neglected spiritual welfare, I went. And there a remarkable discovery awaited me!

It is a drab expanse of broad, flat years which I call my life. And only God seems able to put beauty and meaning where otherwise there was nothing. Every Sunday a new truth grips me. Every Sunday I discover a new tree!

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The church is the best place to find the meaning of life. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Texas needs to buy another quarter of a million acres of land for its wildlife program before prices get out of reach.

This word comes from the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Today the State of Texas already owns 146,000 acres of land, scattered around in various ecological areas. It is estimated that the 237,000 acres needed under the proposed program would cost approximately $23,000,000, to be paid for by $7,000,000 in funds now on hand and the remainder from unappropriated Federal funds, which must be used within a two-year period.

FEDERAL FUNDS are a part of the excise tax on hunting and fishing equipment, which reverts to Texas and other states each year.

This proposed purchase is for wildlife only. It does not include the more than 100,000 acres needed for park and recreation development within the state.

Funds for the wildlife purchase come from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses.

Park funds come from the general revenue, use fees and concessions.

Space problem is growing. A half-century ago, with only 4,000,000 population, wildlife had been greatly reduced in the state because of over-kills, illegal slaughtering and lack of game management.

Today Texas has nearly 12,000,000 population... but more deer and turkey than any other state. Deer are so plentiful in many areas, the bag limit is three. This liberal bag has been set to improve the ratio and keep the deer herds in balance.

THIS YEAR deer and turkey face serious depredation problems. There is a severe food problem. Today, most of the ranchers who charge a fee for hunting must feed

Cowboys poised for Frontier Days

DENVER, Colo.—More than 400 of the nation's top rodeo cowboys were on hand Tuesday for opening go-rounds of the 71st annual Frontier Days at Cheyenne, Wyo., where some $70,000 in prize money awaits winners this year. The rodeo runs through Sunday afternoon, July 30.

Many contestants pulled into Cheyenne from four other major rodeos over the weekend, where a total $105,035 was up for grabs. Running almost concurrently, contests in Nampa, Ida., Salinas, Calif., and Ogden and Salt Lake City, Utah, ended from 24 to 48 hours before the start of competition in Frontier Park.

The professional Rodeo Cowboys Association here said big money winners at the quartet of rodeos were Clyde Vamvoras, 25, Burk Burnett, Tex., Junior Garrison, 29, Marlow, Okla., Richard Walker, 23, Tilden, Tex., and Olin Young, 30, Peralta, N. M.

Vamvoras, already leading for 1967's bareback bronc riding title, won $2,282 in his event at Salinas and Ogden, showing his bid for the championship to $15,889.

Garrison, defending national calf roping champion, snared $2,329 during Ogden and Salt Lake City. He is running fourth for this year's roping crown, with a current $12,460.

Walker, national high school calf roping champ in 1961, won $2,835 competing at Salinas, Ogden and Salt Lake City. His new money moved him up into fifth place in the event's 1967 pro title picture.

In the Hill Country, for example, is the Kerr area. Here a management program has been in progress for something like 10 years. Here, as in many other areas of the state, one can see wildlife management first hand. It would be well for every hunter to visit the refuge in his area. He would give better support to wildlife management.

There is no doubt about it, the old Game and Fish Commission instituted a program that will last for years. But it must be augmented for the ever increasing population and growing number of hunters and fishermen.

Perhaps the plan now at hand will do just that.

Korean veterans' rights and benefits extended

ROTON — Vietnam and post-Korean veterans were extended certain rights and benefits by the 60th session of the Texas Legislature, according to Juston M. Morrow, Rotan, member of the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission.

Morrow said the bills pertain to re-employment rights, preference in employment, educational benefits, and other matters relevant to veterans affairs, and summarized the legislation as follows: Senate Bill 18 extends the provisions of Article 2654b-1, VCS to honorably discharged veterans who served in the Armed Forces for more than 180 days during the Cold War, which is defined as the period beginning on Jan. 31, 1955. The provisions also apply to the child or children of any person who was killed in action or died while in the Armed Forces on active military duty. Article 2654b-1 exempts certain veterans and survivors from payment of dues, fees and charges at educational institutions of collegiate rank. This exemption does not apply to or include veterans or survivors who are eligible for educational and training benefits being paid by Veterans Administration.

House Bill 695 amends Article 4413(31) which relates to veterans preference in state appointment or employment. The bill establishes preference to veterans of the Vietnam conflict who served in the Armed Forces since July 1953. House Bill 696 amends Article 6232-4, which concerns restoration to employment of State employees entering military service. Restoration to employment is extended to employees of political subdivisions, state institutions, counties and municipalities.

House Bill 955 amends certain sections of Article 46.01 and 46.02, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, and relates to commitment and transfer of certain persons adjudged of determined to be insane in connection with criminal proceedings, to a Veterans Administration or other federal hospital.

Morrow anticipates that these enactments will be of substantive significance to many Texas veterans, and stated that the Commission is studying and investigating proposals for the next legislative session, which concern the interest and welfare of Texas veterans.

Teen games—

Pantoja's lead-off home run in the bottom of the second knotted the score at 2-2, and the teen-age team went one run ahead in the third when Donny Windham's single scored Altman, who had walked.

The Pirates grabbed the lead again in the fourth on singles by Ruben Valdez and John Bustoz and a double steal on which Vargas scored from third.

The teen-agers knotted the count at 4-4 in the bottom of the fifth on a double by Jimmy Bartlett and singles by Sappington and Windham.

Pantoja rapped his second lead-off homer in the bottom of the sixth to put the teen-age team ahead, 5-4, with Clyde Cash increasing the lead to 6-4 when he reached second base on an error, went to third on a passed ball and scored on an outfield miscue.

Nichols settled down to strike out the side in both the sixth and seventh innings to preserve the teen-age club's lead.

Nichols chalked up nine strikeouts, walked one and gave up nine hits. Vargas fanned 15, did not issue a walk and was touched for eight hits.

"MEN OF THE YEAR"

Dear Editor:
I would like to nominate three gentlemen from your community for "Men of the Year" for showing that your city is truly friendly and not just another "dot on the map." I am biased in my nomination because the three men gave me kind assistance.

The three men are Mr. Elwood Wright of Wright's Texaco, Mr. Foster (the son) of Foster & Son's Auto Repair, and a young man who assisted Mr. Foster—unfortunately, I did not learn his name.

At about 8:30 p. m. on 6 June, I developed mechanical trouble in my car just south of Post on the Snyder highway. My first stop was at Wright's Texaco. Even though Mr. Wright's supper was waiting for him at home, he went out of his way to locate Mr. Foster to check on my car. He was also helping a young couple with car trouble at the same time. He remained at his "post" until Mr. Foster and his assistant arrived on the scene and were sure they would be able to take care of us. This he (Mr. Wright) did without any thought of profit.

Mr. Foster and assistant worked on my car about an hour, and put it back in excellent condition. I was relieved to know that my trip to San Angelo could be continued that night, and would have been happy to pay almost any price for the repairs. The cost of the work was so ridiculously low that I wouldn't want to quote it now. I tried to give them a little extra because it was after 10 p. m. and they had to open the garage for me. They both refused any extra money, so I tried to overpay them by expecting them not to have any change, but Mr. Foster dug around until he could give me the exact change.

With the problems that we read about that occur all around the globe, it is a comfort to know that such "sellers of goodwill" and cheerful service to the public do exist. I know that if my trouble had occurred in many other places, I would have really been at the mercy of "sleek operators."

I would like to give my thanks to the city of Post for these "Men of the Year," and once again to them. When I report to duty in Vietnam this fall, I will be able to say that I do know one city that has the true American spirit and way of life. I will never forget your kindness to me.

Sincerely yours,
Maj. William V. Johnson
U. S. Army

THE DOG ORDINANCE

Dear Citizen:
As mayor of our city I wish to explain in brief the dog law ordinance which this city passed in the year of 1961, but which was never enforced until just recently.

Now I am just as much a dog lover as anyone and I know what a pet can mean to children. But I am sure you will agree that dogs can be very dangerous, therefore we have to maintain some sort of control. If we did not, our town would be over-run by stray dogs that no one wants. There is also the danger of some of them becoming rabid and biting our children. Many times, when this happens, it is difficult or impossible to locate the dog because of so many of them being on the loose. This has happened here in Post.

Now I'm sure there are some who are disturbed over our present policy on dogs, which we have put in force. There has never been a law adopted that suited all of us.

I wish to be fair about this whole matter. We are not out to destroy people's pets. As I understand our policy, we would like to have your cooperation in seeing to it that your dog is vaccinated and tagged, so that it will be easier to distinguish them from the stray dogs that, in so many cases, are dumped in our city.

If anyone has any complaint of either the dog law or the manner in which we are handling the situation, they are invited to meet with the City Council at our regular meeting Monday, Aug. 7, at 7:30 p. m., at which we will discuss our views and come up with some solution that a majority of the people will cooperate with.

As I said, I want to be fair about the dog situation, and everything in general, and still maintain the safety of our children.

Again I say you are welcome to attend any of our regular meetings, which we hold at the City Hall on the first Monday of each month at 7:30 p. m.

Sincerely,
Mayor John Hopkins

WRITER HAS HOPES

Dear Editor:
Just a little note to tell you how proud of our city police force I am.

Now that they have solved all the burglaries in Post and locked up all the children's pets in Post, maybe they will have time to help get some of the cases involving keeping horses and cattle within the city limits of Post, Texas, cleared up. I sure hope they do, anyway!

'Hurry Sundown' coming to Tower

Otto Preminger's presentation of "Hurry Sundown," a Paramount release in Technicolor and Panavision opening Sunday at the Tower Theatre is based on the best-selling novel by K. B. Gilden, the epic-length picture of the economic South immediately following World War II.

The screenplay follows the novel's source material in telling the story of three couples caught up in the swirls and eddies of the rapidly shifting southern community and whose lives are irrevocably altered by economic, social and sexual drives.

The cast includes Michael Caine, Jane Fonda, John Phillip Law, Faye Dunaway, Robert Hooks and Diabann Carroll.

CHIC—Couturier Jacques Heim comes up with a striking look for summer: the coat-dress, skillfully executed in dazzling white cotton twill. Style details include double-breasted jewel buttons, waistline seaming, and top stitching on pockets, lapels, and hem.

Southland area news

Vanilla wafer cake is big winner at reunion

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Hi there! Quite a lot has happened since Monday of last week. A number of farmers in this community lost some beautiful crops to the hail. Some lost all of their crops, others were damaged real bad, and some not quite so bad. A farmer's joy over a crop can turn to despair within a few minutes time, but that is just a part of life—one that no one can change. We are not promised a life that is filled with nothing but good luck. If we had nothing but good luck, good health and good fortune, it wouldn't be long until we would depend solely on ourselves and wouldn't look to God for anything! Those that were lucky enough to be missed by the hail enjoyed good rains and for them, we just can't be thankful enough.

Mrs. Opal Pennell won a blue ribbon and the sweepstake rosette for her vanilla wafer cake at the Pennell - Royal reunion at Cisco. This is the first year that the Pennells from here have gone to this reunion and then Opal brings back a blue ribbon. WOW! Congratulations. Others attending the week-end reunion were Mr. Pennell, Mr. and Mrs. Bus Pennell and Cheryl of Post, Mrs. Lynn Freeman of Houston, and Dorothy Duggar of Lubbock. The Kenneth Callaways went down on Sunday. They have a judging contest at this reunion and all the women enter something they have made or baked.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lester and two sons attended the Lester - Mabry reunion, which was held in the Slaton Southwestern Public Service Community Room last Sunday. There were 66 present from Southland, Midland, Amarillo, Idalou, Petersburg, Levelland, Post, Tahoka, Estacado, Lubbock and Oklahoma City, Okla. Good food and good fellowship was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belk spent the weekend in Carlsbad, N.M., recently. Mrs. Belk's mother, Mrs. M. E. Beck, returned home with them a visit for a couple of days. Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Belk of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Belk of Lubbock visited in the Elmer Belk home. Mrs. Leslie Jolly of Slaton also visited.

Sunday guests in the Belk home were Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pike and children of Orla. In the afternoon they went to Levelland to visit the E. L. Belks.

Karen Hagens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Hagens, and Gayle Neugebauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Neugebauer, won ribbons at the Lynn County 4 - H Dress Revue. Karen won a red ribbon and Gayle will be an alternate for the district dress revue in the junior division. Congratulations girls.

FIVE FAMILIES that have been neighbors for a long time, decided to have a little "community party". These families, the Alvin Kittens, Joe Lambrights, Roland Stegemoellers, James Savells and Loyd Hagens, took picnic lunches and went to Tahoka to the swimming pool. They swam, played water basketball and other games before going to the park to eat. This outing was enjoyed very much by everyone and I think it was a marvelous idea, don't you agree.

Sunday afternoon and evening guests of the Loyd Hagens were

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Becker and children of Slaton and the Allen Hagens family of Woodrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rink (she's former Bonnie Mathis) and two children from Greeley, Colo., are visiting Mrs. Nellie Mathis. Also visiting over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Delroy Odum and children of Post and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hodge of Levelland. The Rinks will be visiting here for a week or two.

Received a very nice note from Mrs. Johnny Lopez last week and she told me she was having a birthday July 29. Here's a belated "Happy Birthday" Margaret. They recently went on a trip to Oklahoma City, Okla., and Fort Smith, Ark. While in Arkansas they saw the Ozarks. They were gone for two weeks and had a wonderful time.

Albert Nelson, a senior at Texas University at El Paso, spent last Saturday night in our home. He is working this summer with the youths in different Lutheran Church camps.

He was on his way back to Camp Chrysalis at Kerrville after spending a week at Camp Christus at Amarillo. Later on he will be going to Padre Island for a week of camping.

Mrs. Emma Becker of Santa Ana, Calif., was a dinner guest in our home last Thursday.

OUR POSTAL clerk, Pat Gilliland, had to walk to work a couple of days last week due to muddy roads out her way. Good exercise, Pat?

We would like to say congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Bruster, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last week. May God grant them many more years together.

BEAUMONT VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Johnson and son of Beaumont are visiting in Post this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harmon.

Four Great TRAGEDIES

A man struck a match to see if the gasoline tank in his auto was empty. It wasn't.

A man patted a strange bull dog on the head to see if the critter was affectionate. It wasn't.

Teachers need to get TB clearance

AUSTIN — Dr. John H. Selby, president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, today reminded public school personnel that time is running short for obtaining their medical clearance for tuberculosis. Deadline is Sept. 1.

Proof that all teachers and others employed by the elementary and secondary public school systems of Texas are free of tuberculosis is required annually.

Schools are allowed to employ only persons who have been proven free of tuberculosis within 120 days of Sept. 1.

State law requires either a tuberculin skin test or chest x-ray. If the skin test is positive or the chest x-ray questionable, further examinations must be made before the clearance can be given.

"More than 3,000 Texans were discovered to have active tuberculosis last year," Dr. Selby said. "Because it is an infectious disease, it is important that everyone have an annual checkup."

Funds approved for study of water imports

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Rep. George Mahon reports from Washington that this week the House passed the Public Works Appropriation Bill which includes $400,000 to continue a broad investigation of the possibility of importing water into the West Texas and Eastern New Mexico area.

Of the sum provided, $200,000 goes to the Bureau of Reclamation and was included in the President's budget and was placed in the bill upon request of Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Mahon stated that the additional funds would be made available to the Corps of Engineers in order to achieve proper coordination between the two agencies.

The preliminary study of water import possibilities for the area was launched last year. The amount provided in the current bill will continue this study and will broaden it to include both the Bureau of Reclamation and the Army Corps of Engineers.

Mahon pointed out that the importation of water into the West Texas and Eastern New Mexico area was an extremely long range proposition and will require the coordinated efforts of many interests. He was confident, however, that proper steps were being taken at this time to move the project forward.

$6 million given as school aid

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Burlington Industries reported in a 10-year summary this week that under its Aid to Education Program contributions of $6 million have been made to more than 500 institutions in 40 states.

The financial support of education is in the form of direct grants, fellowships, scholarships, matching gifts and other donations to colleges and universities, as well as individual student aid, including a loan program to assist children of employees to pursue education beyond high school.

Its annual grants, which have more than tripled since the formal program was initiated in 1955, place Burlington high among American corporations investing in the development and growth of higher education. Its program is administered by the Burlington Industries Foundation.

Burlington has provided educational loans to 2,000 children of Company employees under the student aid program. These educational loans totaled $114,000 last year alone. Its J. Spencer Love Fellowship program at the Harvard School of Business Administration, named for the Company's founder, offers fellowships ranging from $1,000 to $2,500 annually to graduates of southern institutions who pursue a masters degree in business administration at Harvard.

The Company also encourages employees and directors to support schools of their choice by providing matching grants on a dollar-for-dollar basis for gifts of from $10 to $2,500 annually. The Foundation's contributions matching these gifts totaled $102,000 last year.

The Burlington Aid to Education Program extends assistance to both liberal arts and technical colleges alike. Its benefits are not restricted to larger state and private colleges; many local community colleges and technical institutes also are recipients.

Revival is scheduled at Central Baptist Church

By MARY LEE LAWS

The Central Baptist Church will hold a revival beginning through July 30, and continuing through Aug. 6. The Rev. Calvin Partain, pastor from O'Donnell will be the evangelist and Jim Jackson of Post will lead the singing. Services will begin at 8:30 p. m. nightly. Everyone is invited to attend.

There was a good turnout at the fourth Sunday singing at the Central Baptist Church last Sunday with several churches represented.

Some crops around Grassland and Draw were hard hit by hail.

Mary Lee, Clifford and Cindy Laws were Saturday supper guests of Mrs. Cordie Laws.

Cordie Laws attended funeral services for a cousin in Hobbs, N. M., Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Weatherby of Lamesa visited Wednesday and spent the night with the Dean Laws.

Donnie Fitts has been selected to go to Littleton, Colo., for the National Junior Rodeo. Good luck, Donnie.

The teen-age Bible study will be held in the Kelly Laws home tonight (Thursday) at 8:30.

The Carlos McCleskey children have the chicken pox.

Jim Patterson is in the Slaton hospital and is reported to be doing fair.

Mickey Gribble went to Houston to be with her father, a Mr. Jackson, who was scheduled for surgery.

The Bert McDonald and James Murray families were Sunday luncheon guests of the T. J. Murrahans.

Sandra and Carrie McDonald returned from a visit in New Mexico to continue their visit with the G. W. McCleskeys.

Barbara Braddock is visiting an aunt and uncle at New Caney near Houston and Mike Braddock is in Plainview visited a cousin for a few days.

Rusty and Nita Dean visited in Big Spring Sunday afternoon with the B. W. Condrons.

KELLY LAWS and his mother, Cordie Laws, went to Wichita Falls Saturday to see Mae Lewis. Sunday they all went to see Polly Chism at Grand Prairie. Polly had been in the hospital but is back at the nursing home and not doing too well. Kelly and Cordie came home Monday.

The Bill Ingles and Dean Laws attended the Little League tournament at O'Donnell Thursday and Friday night. Clifford played on the Post team and they won first place. They will now play in Lubbock. Good luck, Post.

Mrs. W. E. Pierce of Draw had several visitors over the weekend including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mensch of Lubbock, C. I. Mensch of Gatesville and Marvin Pierce and family of Lovington, N. M. Marvin is on the police force. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pierce went fishing close to Lubbock on Sunday and Wayman caught a nine pound catfish. Sure would be good eating.

The Dean Laws visited the Kelly Laws Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ray and family spent the weekend in Las Lunas, N. M., with his parents, the Wade Rays.

Mrs. Bobby Patterson was honored with a baby shower in the Kelly Laws home Saturday afternoon. She received lots of nice gifts.

The Gene Ingles of Plains and the C. T. Ingles were Sunday supper guests of the Bill Ingles.

MRS. R. L. Craig was a dinner guest of Mrs. A. Pendleton in Tahoka Monday. Her grandson, Randy Craig, came home with her and stayed through Thursday. Others spending the night Friday with their grandmother were Bob, Joe, Al and Patricia Craig.

Pearl Herman and daughters of Lubbock came by and visited her mother, Mrs. R. L. Craig Saturday. Carla Herman stayed to visit a week with her grandmother and Pearl and Linda went on to Lake Thomas to spend the weekend at their cabin. Visiting the Hermans at the lake were Mr. and Mrs. Biff Davis of Brownfield and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. James Forster of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis of Lubbock visited Charlie and Vivian Craig Saturday.

ATTENDS FUNERAL
Mrs. J. C. Caylor returned home Sunday after attending funeral services last Friday morning in McKinney for her brother, John W. Maddox of Denison. Mr. Maddox, who had visited in Post many times, died a week ago Wednesday.

GUEST PREACHER
The Rev. A. T. Nixon preached at the morning and evening services at the First Baptist Church in Crosbyton Sunday. He and his wife were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Nixon, during the day.

Dear Customers:

Dallas has become one of the great furniture markets of the world, comparing with Chicago, New York, High Point, and San Francisco. Most of the major manufacturers have beautiful permanent displays. Hundreds of good but smaller manufacturers show at this market, displaying close to 3,000 lines of merchandise. In addition to this the decorative center is nearby.

We have just spent almost a week in Dallas selecting new merchandise for our stock, including furniture, carpets, and decorative items. This merchandise has already started arriving and more will be coming in for the next two months.

This week we received a big shipment of carpet, juvenile furniture, chairs, tables, and decorator pillows. Soon we will be getting lamps, clocks, new and different wall pieces, dining room, bed room, and living room furniture including some of the new pine groupings. It is new and different and we think you will like it.

You are invited to visit us and see the new things that are arriving. We believe you will enjoy your visit.

Sincerely
HUDMAN FURNITURE CO.

Hard rains and hail fall in Graham area

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
 This community has been blessed with a lot more rain than the farmers needed. There have been reports of 6, 7 and 8 inches and maybe more than that fell from late Tuesday afternoon until Thursday. Some farmers received bad hail damage and other crops are covered in lakes. It could have been worse, so we are thankful.

The Vacation Bible School at the Graham Methodist Church last week was fairly well attended in spite of the rain.

The Church of Christ had a good attendance at the gospel meeting last week with Bob Barnes of Colorado City preaching and our minister leading the singing.

Walter, Elmer D. and Hal Jones and their sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Peel and Mrs. Beatrice Morris attended funeral services of an aunt in Seagraves last week. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jones joined the group at Junction on the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Peel visited Sunday afternoon in Lubbock with the Bill Thomasons.

Mr. and Mrs. Nealy Richardson of Floydada, Mrs. R. B. Perrin and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Terry met Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Taylor, Mrs. Sam Saunders and her son and grandson of Marietta, Okla., at Hico over the weekend where they visited the O. B. McCampbells and attended the Primitive Baptist Association in Glen Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan visited in Post Sunday afternoon with the Virgil Stones and the E. A. Kings.

The Jody Mason family enjoyed a cook-out supper Friday with the Mason McClellans.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Peel and children spent the weekend in Olton.

Mrs. Delwin Fluitt and children are home from Muleshoe where she had been with her mother, who underwent surgery.

Bob Barnes, the evangelist, and son, Robert, were guests in a number of homes last week while the revival was in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan, Kim and Judy Norman returned recently from a fishing trip to Buchanan Lake. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Morris, who own the Buchanan Lodge. The girls enjoyed the nice swimming pool at the lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou White and the Carter White family visited.

Unique service held at church

A unique communion service was held at the First Methodist Church Sunday night with folk-type music interspersed throughout the regular communion service.

The music, taken from "Rejoice" a group of church hymns set to 20th century music, was furnished by Giles McCrary and Jan Olson playing guitars and Timmons Bull on the drums.

The congregation and members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship sang, accompanied by the combo, throughout the service under the direction of Dr. Carlton Young, a professor of music at Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University. Dr. Young is one of the editors of the new Methodist hymnal.

The Rev. Curtis Lee, pastor, was in charge of the regular service.

The Young family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lott during the weekend.

Rev. O. W. Green new pastor of church here

The Rev. O. W. Green is the new minister of the Church of God of Prophecy, replacing the Rev. R. B. Heltzel, who with his family has moved to Borger to take over pastor duties there.

The Rev. Mr. Green and his wife moved from Borger to Post last Saturday and he conducted the regular Sunday services.

Rail spur slated for sulphur plant

CHICAGO—Construction of nine miles of railroad to serve a new sulphur producing plant near Ft. Stockton, Tex., was announced today by John S. Reed, president of the Santa Fe Railway.

The new rail spur will initially serve the $5 million sulphur plant to be built by Duvall Corp. and will be available for handling the production of other sulphur plants that may locate in the same area.

The Santa Fe recently completed engineering studies for the line. With Duvall's announcement yesterday to proceed with their 15 million plant, the Santa Fe announced it was ready to proceed with construction of the spur.

"Plans call for the line to be completed in time to receive material to be used in the construction of the new Duvall plant," Reed added. "Ft. Stockton is on the Santa Fe's line between San Angelo and Presidio on the Mexican border. At Presidio the Santa Fe connects with the Chihuahua & Pacific Railway Company of Mexico for the handling of international

Presbyterian pastor returning to pulpit

The Rev. George L. Miller will preach on the subject, "Prayer and the Will of God" at the 10 a.m. worship at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Miller will return Saturday from San Antonio where he has been working with the Synod Youth Conference at Trinity University.

He will leave after church Sunday to join his wife and daughter in Lost Angeles, where they are vacationing with his parents and sister and family.

Clinic for crippled children of area set for Lubbock Saturday

LUBBOCK—The Crippled Children's Clinic for South Plains children will be conducted Saturday, July 29, from 1 to 5 p. m. at St. John's Methodist Church, 15th and College Avenue, Lubbock.

The clinic is free to cripple children of Lubbock and the surrounding area through the co-operation of doctors and the sponsor, Fellowship Class of St. John's Church. Four orthopedic surgeons will be present to examine the children Saturday. City - county health nurses from several counties are to assist.

The clinic has been financed by contributions. Clinic personnel will arrange for braces and further care when necessary. Braces and appliances for 100 different patients and approximately 350 pairs of shoes have been donated.

More than 600 children have received free examinations since the first clinic in April, 1963. Children being taken for the first time to be accompanied by a parent or guardian.
