Soil Bank Sign-Up Ends Soon For Most Farmers

Approximately 75 farmers had signed up through Tuesday for participation in the acreage reserve program of the Soil Bank, according to Emmarie I. Hartel, manager of the Garza County office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Members of the county ASC committee are making an appeal to all cotton producers intending

Absentee Voting Gets Under Way

Absentee voting for the July 28 Democratic primary got under way Monday in County Clerk Carl Cederholm's office on the first floor of the courthouse building. Absentee voting, said Cederholm, will continue through July 24. The clerk pointed out that only persons who are going to be out of the county on election day, or who will be unable to vote at their regular voting place for medical reasons are eligible to vote absentee.

A person who is already out of the county and who will be out of the county on election day, or who can not go to the polls for medical reasons, may vote by mail, Cederholm said. Otherwise, he must appear at the county clerk's office to cast his ballot. A person voting absentee because of disability must make a written request by mail for a ballot, enclosing his poll tax receipt or exemption, and a doctor's certificate. See ABSENTEE VOTE, Page 8

PCG Official Is To Speak Here Friday

The new executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., George Pfeifferberger, will speak at a county-wide meeting in the district courtroom at 8 o'clock Friday night. It has been announced by Irby G. Metcalf Jr., one of Garza County's two directors on the PCG board. "We'd like to welcome Mr. Pfeifferberger with a packed house of farmers, businessmen and others interested in the cotton industry," said Metcalf.

FIVE FACULTY VACANCIES STILL EXIST

Teachers, Custodian Hired

The board of trustees of the Post Independent School District employed three teachers and a head custodian at their regular July meeting Monday night. Employed as teachers in the elementary school were Mrs. Almon Martin and Mrs. Ethel Florence, and as a teacher in the junior high school, Mrs. Claudia Tiver Monk. F. F. Keston was named as head custodian to replace the late Marvin Pennington. Mrs. Martin taught for part of the 1955-56 term after a new se-

School Tax Board Is Named Monday

A board of equalization for the Post Independent School District was appointed at Monday night's board meeting and is scheduled to convene July 26 to consider tax matters affecting oil and utilities property within the district. Named to the equalization board were Eddie Warren, O. C. Garner and L. E. (Buck) Gossett. The board is to meet within the next few days for the purpose of organizing. Also at Monday night's school board meeting authorization was given for purchase of a calculating machine, costing approximately $675 for the school tax office, and a heavy-duty mower costing about $250.

Little League Play Will End Tuesday

Post's first Little League baseball season will end with next Tuesday evening's games, giving each team three more games to play, including this evening's contests. This Friday evening at 7 o'clock all players, including members of the farm clubs, will be guests at a watermelon feast and swimming party at the city pool. The First National Bank's Dodgers, managed by Punk Peel, have made a runaway of the race. Through Tuesday evening's games, they had won 12 and lost two, which put them almost nine games ahead of the second place Red Sox, who had won eight and lost seven. The Red Sox, managed by Walter B. Holland, are sponsored by Brown Bros.

Supplies Of Polio Vaccine Available

Enough poliomyelitis vaccine to meet current demands is now available here, Dr. D. C. Williams, county and city health officer, said Wednesday. Dr. Williams also gave reassurance that the present Salk vaccine is safe and effective. He said the U. S. Public Health Service, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Medical Association, the American Public Health Association and other medical organizations concur that it is both safe and desirable to vaccinate with poliomyelitis vaccine now and throughout the summer. "Not being able to pay for the vaccine will not be allowed to stand in the way of anyone who wishes it," Dr. Williams said. "Our Public Health Service is seeing to it that the vaccine is given those who are not able to pay for it just as readily as it is to those who can pay."

Supt. R. K. Green said Tuesday that faculty vacancies still existing here include a homemaking teacher, a Spanish teacher, a fifth grade teacher and two junior high school language arts teachers. Spanish will be taught in all four high school grades during the coming term, marking the first time in several years that a foreign language course has been included in the curriculum. Mrs. Florence, a graduate of East Texas State Teachers College with a B. S. degree in elementary education, has taught in the Jay-ton schools for the last 12 years. She will teach a fourth grade section here. Mrs. Monk, a Post High School graduate, taught last year at Whiteface following her graduation from Texas Tech. She was employed to teach social studies

Three Of Four Cities Vote To Finance White River Survey; Waiting On Ralls

BULLETIN:
Mayor Bill Smith of Ralls telephoned Mayor James Minor late Wednesday afternoon and said to "count them in" on going along with Post, Spur and Crosbyton in financing topographic mapping of the proposed White River lake site.

Post, Spur and Crosbyton city councils have agreed to pay their pro rata shares for a topographical survey of the proposed site of the White River lake, and the Ralls city council is expected to follow suit, it was announced at a meeting here Monday night. The Post city council had voted the previous week to pay its share of the mapping costs, and members of the Spur and Crosbyton city councils agreed to do likewise at the meeting here. Since a majority of the Ralls city council was not present, that group did not commit itself, but agreed to announce its decision Wednesday evening or Thursday morning. Tom Bouchier, chairman of the White River Authority committee said at the meeting here Monday night, that Freese & Nichols, engineers on the project, needed to know this week if the cities would finance the survey so they could instruct the mapping company whether or not to proceed with the work.

Cost of the mapping will be approximately $5,000. By using funds already available to the WRA committee, each city will be required to raise about $1,000 to pay for the survey. From four to six months will be required to complete the mapping, Bouchier said. Monday night's meeting of the councilmen from the four cities had been called by Mayor James Minor of Post for the purpose of discussing the topographical survey financing and other problems relating to the project.

It was pointed out that there is a possibility of the Brazos River Authority agreeing to pay for the survey at its July meeting, the group here was told. Perry Bell, a Crosbyton member of the committee, said legal work toward petitioning the State Board of Water Engineers to create the district is nearing completion. He said petitions signed last month by residents of the four towns, along with all necessary legal papers, will be presented to the state board soon.

Bell explained that elections on the confirmation of the district will follow if it is created by the State Board of Water Engineers. "It's a slow process," Bell stated, "but the committee feels that we are making progress toward our goal as rapidly as possible." The meeting here followed a dinner at Judy's Cafe. Those present from Spur were Mayor J. R. McNeill, M. H. Bragg, Rex Holder, Dr. Weldon K. Callan and Loyd Roberson. Representing Crosbyton were Mayor C. H. Lodal, Cap McNeill, G. H. Brasher, Leon McPherson, Norton Barrett, Bill Nickson, L. H. Finch and Bell. Ralls was represented by Mayor Bill Smith, Jack Robertson and Frank Benson. Attending from Post were Mayor Minor, Powell Shyltes, Roy J. Baker, John N. Hopkins, Bouchier, R. H. Tate and Charles Didway.

Mrs. Hudman Buried In Rites Here Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. J. B. Hudman, 78, a resident of Post and vicinity since 1922, who died at 4:15 a. m. Saturday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital, were conducted at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church. Order of the service was: Poem, "Since Yesterday," read by the Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor; "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," choir; "Nearer My God to Thee," choir; scripture by Troy Bruster of Alamogordo, N. M., a grandson of Mrs. Hudman; prayer by the Rev. Almon Martin, First Christian Church pastor; "On Jordan's Stormy Banks," choir, and sermon by the Rev. Mr. Shahan.

The choir was under the direction of Elmer Butler. Mrs. Ray N. Smith was pianist and Miss Ganell Babb, organist. Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of the Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers were W. M. Scarborough, Ed Warren, Boone Evans, George Sartain, Preston Mathis and Hugh Martin.

Mrs. Hudman had been in Lubbock for five days prior to her death. She was taken to the home of a daughter, Mrs. Bertie Brown, after spending the first two days at the hospital. Her condition became worse Saturday morning and she was returned to the hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

She was born in Tennessee on Oct. 15, 1876, and was married to J. B. Hudman on May 7, 1894, at Bronte. They moved to Lynn County. See HUDMAN RITES, Page 8

Four Post Players Make All-District

The Petersburg All-Stars trimmed the Post Wood Bees, 17 to 2, Wednesday night to win the district tournament of the National Baseball Congress, played on the Petersburg diamond. Manager Walter Jones' Wood Bees won some consolation in having four players named to the all-district team. They were Eddy Hays, third baseman; Alton Taylor, outfielder; Nolan Williams, catcher, and Felix Wiley, pitcher.

Each of the 16 players selected to the all-district team received a Certificate of Merit from the National Baseball Congress. After defeating Shallowater and the Lubbock Independents, the Wood Bees lost twice to the Petersburg nine to wind up with second place in the tournament.

Cotton Estimates Gain In County

Although dryland cotton in Garza County continues to suffer from lack of moisture, the Lubbock Cotton Exchange has upped its prediction on the county's yield to 17,000 bales, which would be the best crop in several years. Many observers are amazed at the way the crop is holding up in the county, although most of them agree that it can't go on indefinitely without rain. The county has an estimated 20,000 acres dryland and 15,000 acres irrigated planted to cotton. Latest 1956 cotton production estimates by the cotton exchange calls for 1,452,000 bales from the 29-county South Plains area. This is 22,000 bales above the estimate made June 1 for the same area. Many agricultural observers agree that cotton this year is from two weeks to 30 days ahead of the 1955 crop of this time.

Negotiations Set On Street Paving

The City of Post has authorized the C. & C. Asphalt Paving Co. of Colorado City to begin negotiations Monday with individual property owners on inclusion of additional blocks in this summer's paving program.

Ball Game Comprises Rotary Club Program

Members of the Post Rotary Club had "box seats" for Tuesday's major league all-star game through the courtesy of James Minor, who was in charge of the program for the day. Minor had a television set installed so that members could watch the game during their regular weekly luncheon in the City Hall auditorium. Since the game was only a little more than half over at 1 o'clock, most of the Rotarians extended their luncheon time until nearly 2 o'clock. Among those enjoying the game were visiting Rotarians J. M. Rankin of Ralls, C. F. Dugas of Snyder and Claude Cravens and J. B. Sharp of Slaton. Guests were Curtis M. Smith of the Ford Motor Co., new football coach Leroy Fenstermaker, new band director Bob Meisch, and Dr. Fred W. Beavers, who recently opened offices in the Medical & Professional Building here. Glenn Whittenberg, Post High School principal, will make a classification talk at next Tuesday's luncheon.

CLUBS, FIRMS INVITED TO ENTER FLOATS, CARS

Rodeo Parade Time Is Set

The opening day parade of the annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo will be held at 6 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 8, it was announced Tuesday by Don Long, parade chairman. Fifty dollars in cash prizes are being offered prize winners in the parade's float and decorated car division. First prize will be $25; second prize, $15, and third prize, $10.

Again this year, trophies will be awarded the three top riding groups. Letters of invitation to area sheriff's posses and other riding clubs were being mailed this week by S. E. Camp, the parade chairman said. All civic clubs, other organizations and business firms are invited to enter floats or decorated cars in the parade. Mrs. Fritz Greenfield, Post Chamber of Commerce secretary, said Tuesday that groups wishing to order decorations for floats or automobiles through her office should get in touch with her as soon as possible.

This year's parade will form at the usual place—on the farm-to-market road between the high school and junior high school buildings—and will follow the same route through downtown Post. Members of the rodeo sponsors' committee and queen candidates will be expected to gather at the southwest corner of the courthouse lawn just prior to the parade.

Rodeo officials have announced that business firms will not be called upon this year to pay for street decorations, but that Boy Scouts will be asked to erect flags in front of the stores. This arrangement worked satisfactorily for the Post Stampede Rodeo last May, it was pointed out. The rodeo annually draws more than 200 contestants from several states.

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP SADDLE—R. E. Joey is admiring the saddle presented to him as champion calf roping of the annual Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford, Jersey, who is secretary of the adult board of directors of the Post Junior Rodeo Association, says he figures the forthcoming rodeo will be a good place for him to break in his new saddle.—(Dispatch Staff Photo.)

Thursday to Thursday SAFE, SANE VACATION . . .

By CHARLES DIDWAY

THINGS ARE SO quiet on the political front that one candidate for county office came in the other day and asked if we knew whether or not he was still in the race.

BUT, WITH LESS than three weeks remaining before the first primary, interest should begin picking up along about this time and continue right on up until all the votes are counted.

OF COURSE, IT doesn't apply here, because we haven't had any campaign oratory yet this year, but the other day we heard a fellow remark that before elections, some political speakers sound a little horse. Others, he said, sound like part of a horse.

BY THE TIME our children are old enough not to say or do anything in public to disgrace us, they have reached an age when the things we say and do embarrass them.

ONE REASON POST's two rodeos—senior and junior—are so widely known is that they are well advertised at similar events the country over. Usually our best advertisers are our home town rodeo performers who have been finishing at or near the top in area shows.

JUST LAST WEEK, for instance, R. E. Joney won the calf roping championship and Jimmy Moore the saddle bronc riding title at the big Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford. Others finishing up near the top were Jack Kirkpatrick in wild cow milking and Buck Craft in tie-down roping.

JIMMY BIRD, ONE of Post's most consistent winners, didn't compete at Stamford, but he was probably performing at some other area rodeo on which we have as yet received no report. R. E., who is secretary of the junior rodeo's adult board of directors, really did himself proud in the Stamford Rodeo, beating out 137 other calf roping contestants and coming home with a championship saddle in addition to his other winnings.

THE BEST WAY for the superstitious person not to worry about the upcoming Friday the 13th is to think back to the last Friday the 13th and see if he can recall anything unlucky happening to him.

WE'VE JUST READ that government typists will continue to use standard typewriter keyboards. A four-month test of a new "simplified" keyboard did not support claims that it would increase the average typist's output by 35 per cent.

INSTEAD, THE STUDY showed that 18 typists using the new keyboard showed less improvement in speed and were less accurate than 18 others tested on the standard keyboard.

ALL OF WHICH LEADS us up to what we wanted to get off our chest—a letter received by a typewriter company:

The Ideal Typewriter Company Gentlemen: We hereby acknowledge the receipt of your special deluxe typewriters. Upon opening the box we found that the typewriter was in perfect condition mechanically except for one detail. Through an error of assembly there is no letter X on the machine—

Roger W. Babson Writes This Week:

Merchants, In Order To Hold Their Trade, Must Universally Adopt Air Conditioning

BABSON PARK, Mass.—The recent hot weather suggests a column on air conditioning. Since we use it here in my office, I can speak freely regarding it. Any reader, however, who is interested should consult his local agent or plumber. Prices and needs vary for different sections of the country.

Advice To Merchants

I am convinced that merchants, in order to hold their trade, must universally adopt air conditioning. This especially applies to downtown "Main Street" merchants who must compete with the new shopping centers. I am fully convinced that the downtown stores have a distinct opportunity; but they must modernize as to lighting and air conditioning. They may also gradually shift over to men's clothing, underwear, office supplies, hardware, etc. which appeal to men rather than to women. Women can go to the shopping center any day, but men cannot.

Air conditioning will help merchants hold their good clerks. It will cost shopping-center merchants more wages than the downtown merchants will be obliged to pay, if the latter give their clerks equal advantages as to air conditioning, parking facilities, vacations, lunches, etc. If it is too late now to install air conditioning for this summer, clerks can be promised air conditioning for next summer. The summer will go by quickly, and downtown merchants can give better vacations than can shopping-center merchants.

Shower And Auto

Many of the new homes are now offering complete air conditioning. It will soon be fairly common to buy a new heating arrangement which will provide also for air conditioning. At present, most complete installations are rather expensive, but I am sure that the prices of these installations will be reduced, especially in the summer when we are enjoying natural gas. As a practical matter, most homes desire only one or two bathrooms, a living room, and kitchen air conditioning. (There certainly is no reason

Garza countians planning vacation trips are reminded by the Texas Safety Association that vacation travel is big business these days. Our vast network of highways is dotted with vacationers exploring the countryside and seeing America.

But for many, the slogan that started out as "See America First," turns out to be, "See America and Die." Judging from the experience of past years, many of the thousands of vacationers already on the road and many of the thousands of others getting ready for the takeoff will die in traffic accidents. Many others will be crippled. Families will be broken, and grief will enter many an otherwise happy home.

The great tragedy is—these deaths and injuries are unnecessary. A little more time given to planning before the takeoff . . . a little more alertness and attention to safe driving rules along the way . . . would bring these vacationers home safe.

But vacationers are usually in a hurry to get where they're going. They're not willing to spend that "little more." They pile the car full of vacation miscellanea, plan a grueling schedule, hit the road ready to do or die.

Sometimes it's die! YOU can help stop this mass suicide. It's simple. YOU can REFUSE to be part of it.

The formula for a safe trip doesn't cost a thing. Plan your journey ahead of time . . . allow plenty of time for leisurely driving . . . pack safely . . . stay alert every minute you're on the road . . . obey traffic laws and the dictates of common sense and courtesy.

That's it! If you follow it, you'll have a safe, sane, and enjoyable vacation . . . one that won't cost you your life.

Other producer groups, especially those with surplus problems, can take a lesson from what the dairymen are doing. Their determination to help themselves is to be admired in an era when most people automatically turn to Washington for relief from every imaginable kind of distress.—International Falls, Minn., Daily Journal.

The Daily Worker maintains that it has operated for years without making money. It seems appropriate that a Communist publication should operate in the red.—Dillon, S. C., Herald.

Will you kindly send us another machine or have this one serviced as soon as . . . right away.

Sincerely,
X. X. Xricson
The Gruff Xprpxas Co.

MONEY ISN'T everything, but it's way ahead of whatever is in second place.

IN COVERING MOST of the Little League baseball games, we've learned that you never know who you're going to help nor who's going to help you when you take your seat in the press box just back of home plate.

OFFICIAL SCORERS at various times have included Pat N. Walker, Roy Gilmore, Jess Cornell, Phil Boucher and your columnist. The announcing duties have been passed around among Bryan J. Williams, Bill Edwards, The Rev. Clinton Edwards and even the league president, Bill Humphrey.

ONE GOOD THING about it . . . with so many willing and able to help in the press box, we'll never be caught completely short.

Getting Out On The Limb

By EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT: He travels fastest who has a knack of folding up a road map.

Recent statistics prove that the best time to buy anything is a year ago.

AND, SPEAKING of statistics, America is going to the dogs—population-wise.

The last census figures put the human population at 167,000,000. A dog manufacturer estimates the dog population at 23,000,000 and says it's increasing four times as fast as the human population.

Almost every other household has one dog, and nearly 15 per cent of all American homes boast two or more canines.

This meant big business for the dog food industry, with sales last year totaling a quarter of a billion dollars.

Like their masters, dogs are enjoying a higher standard of living than ever before. Dogs are larger, they eat better and they live longer, the study showed.

The next time you hear someone complain about it paining them to sit through a dance concert, just tell them they have a ballet-ache.

By the time July rolls around, the May and June graduates have had a month or more to make the world over, but it begins to look as though the job may take a little longer.

GARZA COUNTY farmers and businessmen will have the opportunity Friday night to hear a man who has a 25-year backlog of experience with cotton people when George W. Pfeifferberger speaks in the district courtroom at a county-wide meeting of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Mr. Pfeifferberger recently assumed his new duties as executive vice president of the PCG, and his appearance here tomorrow night will mark his first visit to Post since taking over his new job.

The county's PCG directors, Irby Metcalf and L. G. Thuet Jr., invite every farmer and businessman to attend the meeting and hear Mr. Pfeifferberger discuss matters of vital interest to the cotton farmer and to the rest of us, who are more or less dependent upon the cotton industry for our economic well-being.

There's nothing wrong with wanting to get ahead in life, but unlike driving, it's not good form to blow your horn when passing the fellow in front.

THE WOMEN, God love 'em; did you ever notice how things sort of even up? For every woman that makes a fool out of a man there seems to be one that makes a man out of a fool.

Toastmaster (introducing the speaker): "I'm sure that Mr. Jones, of the Spreddon Fertilizer Works, will give you an interesting half hour. He is full of his subject."

THE TEXAS delegation, with 56 votes, will be sixth in size at the Democratic national convention in Chicago starting Aug. 13. The only states outstripping Texas in the number of delegates will be New York, 98; Pennsylvania, 74; California, 68; Illinois, 64 and Ohio, 58.

In answer to the age-old question "What reading matter would you take along if you were to be marooned on a deserted island?" a brilliant young co-ed answered: "A tattooed sailor."

MOST JOKES used to be about the farmer's daughter and the salesman, but nowadays a majority of the rib-tickers have only the farmer in them. It may be that the farmer's daughter-salesman jokes died out because there aren't many salesmen traveling the rural areas anymore, or it may be that the supply of jokes simply ran out. Anyway, here are a couple involving farmers:

A motorist was driving through the country and suddenly his motor stopped. He got out of the car and raised up the hood to see if he could locate the trouble. All at once a voice behind him said, "The trouble is in the carburetor." Quickly the motorist turned around in surprise but saw only an old horse standing on the other side of the fence watching him. Hardly daring to believe his ears, he asked, "Did you say something?" "Yes, I said you'd better check your carburetor," replied the horse.

Rushing down the road to the nearest farmhouse, the motorist excitedly related his experience to the old farmer who answered the door. "Was it an old bay horse with one flop ear?" asked the farmer.

"Yes, yes, that's the one!" "Well, don't pay any attention to him," the farmer scoffed. "He don't know anything about automobiles anyway."

TWO MEN in white uniforms stopped their car on a country road to speak to a farmer in a field.

"We're guards from an institution down the road," said one, "and we're looking for an escaped lunatic. Have you seen him?"

"Reckon not," replied the farmer. "What does he look like?"

"He's short and thin and weighs 295 pounds."

"Short, thin and weighs 295 pounds!" echoed the amazed farmer.

"Yes, we told you he was crazy."

SINCE I HAVEN'T had occasion to use a post office pen for some time now, I couldn't say what condition the ones here are in, but by Sept. 1 each of the 37,863 post offices in the country will be supplied with ball-point pens for public use. That's what Postmaster General Summerfield says.

The Post Office Department announced earlier this year it proposed to shift to this type of pen from the conventional post office scratchers.

If life is worth what it's costing now, people were sure getting a bargain in grandfather's day.

Dimes March Not To Abandon Separate Fund Raising Drive

NEW YORK (Sp.)—The March of Dimes cannot abandon the successful policy of a separate fund raising drive which it has followed for 18 years and join the Federal Service joint fund raising plan just announced in Washington, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today.

The March of Dimes, therefore, will not be a participant in the Federal Plan but will offer all Americans a chance to contribute at home, on the streets or at special community events during the period Jan. 2-31, 1957. Under the Federal Plan, the National Health Agencies are required to solicit funds jointly from all government employees.

O'Connor said the reasons which led the National Foundation to this conclusion were both practical and fundamental.

"It is our conviction that the success of the National Foundation in its fight against polio which resulted in the Salk vaccine derives directly from the educational process involved in our long-established practice of making a direct and separate personal appeal to the American public for voluntary contributions and active participation," he stated. "Giving for health and welfare is a personal thing, not a business arrangement."

"We recognize the problem faced by the Federal Agencies and the sincere efforts that have gone into this attempt to solve it. However, the Federal Plan eliminates, insofar as it applies to the March of Dimes, the vital ingredient that makes giving a meaningful act—namely, personal understanding and participation."

"The American people understood and participated—80,000,000 strong—in the March of Dimes last January, with the result that preliminary audits show they gave more than $51,000,000. It seems unsound to abandon such a well-established method before polio has been fully conquered."

The National Foundation's inability to participate in the Federal Plan was explained in a letter from O'Connor to Civil Service Commissioner Philip Young, who is also Assistant to President Eisenhower for Personnel Management.

"You leave the United Fund or Community Chest where it is now and always has been, except for payroll deductions," he wrote. "You leave the position of the American Red Cross unchanged. Yet you require the national health agencies to solicit their funds jointly and in the same period of time from employees in government agencies."

"I am sure that the study you have made of this subject has indicated to you that this is not the first time this kind of suggestion has been made. Time and again over a period of years it has been suggested that, in addition to the United Fund, we have another United Health Fund consisting of the national health agencies that would solicit at the same time. The hope in that suggestion, of course, was that if this could be accomplished, then eventually the United Health Fund would be made a part of the United Fund. I know that this is not your thinking."

Nevertheless, O'Connor pointed out that danger of lessened public understanding and participation in the March of Dimes is inherent in the Federal Plan.

"The first duty of the National Foundation is to conquer polio and to aid all those stricken by this crippling and costly disease who need help," he said. "We are convinced that we can do this only by conducting a completely separate March of Dimes."

VA Questions And Answers

Q. I am going to summer school under the World War II GI Bill and my course ends Aug. 31. Will I be allowed to finish, even though the July 25 wind-up of the program applies to me?

A. The law prohibits you from training after July 25, 1956, under the GI Bill. It does not provide for exceptions to allow veterans to finish their courses. You may, of course, continue your course after July 25 at your own expense.

Q. If a service man dies in service, do his beneficiaries have a choice in type of payment of his indemnity?

A. No. The indemnity is paid in only one way: 120 equal monthly installments, with each installment at $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity. It is only in post-service Korean GI insurance that a choice exists in payment of the proceeds.

Q. As a service-disabled veteran with an 80 per cent disability rating, I am drawing extra compensation because I have a 7-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue, since he has not yet reached age 18?

A. The extra payments may not be continued after he joins the Marines. Reason is that once he is in service, he no longer can be considered a legal member of our household for purpose of the extra compensation payments.

Q. Is it necessary for a disabled Korea veteran to undergo vocational counseling before he begins vocational rehabilitation training under Public Law 894?

A. Yes. The law requires vocational counseling for all disabled veteran-trainees, in order to determine need for training, and in order to help the veteran choose a training program best suited to him.

Hunting Mishaps, Water Tragedies Stir Safety Men

AUSTIN (Sp.)—Hunting mishaps have combined with surging water tragedies to stir Texas safety authorities, according to the executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the purpose was not to alarm Texans but rather to point out that while millions are enjoying themselves a comparatively small minority is taking needless chances with tragic consequences.

Two deaths marked the early summer squirrel season, which under the General State Law continues through July in some Texas areas. A third fatality was linked to frog hunting, a popular summer pastime.

Meanwhile, fishermen, boaters threaten the record of 400 water and swimmers combined to deaths set in Texas last year. Teen agers were involved in all

Editorial Comment...

A Crying Need

Last Friday at the Texas Press Association convention at Amarillo we heard a talk by O. B. Ellis, head of the Texas Prison System. The prison population, he said, is growing faster than the population of the state. "If you ask me why," he said, "I'll have to say that in my opinion one of the main factors is that your communities are not providing for the leisure hours of your people, young and old." With shorter working hours, people need more wholesome ways to spend their leisure time, he pointed out. — "For Your Information" in The Gaines County News.

Parents Are Liable

If your boy has a gun and rides in a real light-colored car it might be wise to find out how he spends his afternoons and evenings. As we were walking in a field one day last week, a bullet whined past our head. Shooting was done from a car on the road, which, of course, is a violation of the law. The law also says it is unlawful to shoot along or across a public road, and another law in Texas makes parents liable for the delinquency of minor children, with the possibility of a six months' jail sentence. — "Tater Peelin's" in The Hereford Brand.

We All Make 'Em

The fact that we left the tax collector-assessor's race out of the story about the drawing for places on the ballot last week was not intentional, merely a slip-up. That mistake idea is reminiscent of a good slogan we heard recently: "Don't do it today; put it off until tomorrow. You've made enough mistakes for today." — "News and Views" in The Brown-

Juicy Scandals Scaree

Apparently the expose magazines are hard put to find juicy scandals these days. The headline on a recent one says, "Is Ava Gardner a Secret Hedonist?" Whatever Miss Gardner's private life may or may not be, we didn't think there was anything secret about this. Reminds us of the story, dimly recalled, of the senator who was defeated for re-election after his opponent circulated a story in the backwoods country that he was a "clandestine philanthropist who committed nepotism with his sister-in-law." Probably the only man whose political career could have been saved by a dictionary. — "Main Street" in The Lorenzo Tribune.

Not Near Ready

The following story appeared in the Star-Telegram, attributed to Henry Schneider of the Internal Revenue Service:

Seems there was an old colored woman in a Southern city who had long admired one of the city's more splendid restaurants. With the ending of segregation she hied herself to the establishment.

"You all got some nice collard greens today?" she asked.

"No, madam," said the waiter. "We do not serve collard greens."

"Well, how about some black-eyed peas?"

"I'm sorry, we do not serve black-eyed peas."

"You got any chittlins, hog jowls or sowbelly?"

"No, we do not."

"I declare to goodness," she stormed as she rose to depart. "You white folks ain't ready for integration." — "Java Jottings" in The Olney Enterprise.

Same Old Ailment

Sorry I didn't come away with anything profound for you out of the Texas Press Association meeting. One fellow who told jokes, though, came up with this, which I thought was new:

The doctor looked at the man's hand and said:

"Have you had this before?"

"Yes," the patient replied.

"Well, you've got it again," the doctor said, after a profound thinking spell. — "Scoop Says" in The Muleshoe Journal.

Texas Agriculture Is Using Atom For Research Purposes

AUSTIN (Sp.) — Texas agriculture is turning to the atom for research purposes, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research writers note in the June issue of Texas Business Review.

Robert H. Ryan and Thomas V. Greer are authors of a series of articles on "The Atom in Texas."

"Plant life can be studied more closely than ever before through the use of isotope tags in plant nutrients," they say. "Fertilizers, water, even the air around a test plant can be made radioactive in order to study the intricate chemical patterns of plant growth. Possibly the most important of these studies deal with the fundamental questions of cell growth and conversion of water and carbon dioxide into complex sugars through the use of solar energy absorbed by the plant."

Ryan and Greer predict atomic research also may have far-reaching results in Texas agriculture following investigations of food preservation through the use of radiation. Seasonal Texas food crops may be stored in the future without refrigeration after they have been exposed to nuclear materials, they say.

Grasshoppers Begin Infesting Few Fields In Garza, Elsewhere

Spotted light to heavy rains fell in many localities during the past week, reports the weekly Cotton Insect Situation release from the Extension Service.

The rains were often of sufficient intensity to effectively reduce infestations of thrips and fleahoppers. Weather conditions were generally favorable for growth and fruiting of cotton.

Thrip infestations were reported as being light in a majority of fields throughout the area. Heavy infestations were found on cotton in a few fields in Cochran, Lubbock and Mitchell counties.

Fleahoppers occurred in light infestations in most fields where cotton had reached the fruiting stage. Occasional fields had sufficient numbers of the insects to indicate a need for control, with heavy infestations reported in a few instances. Reports indicate that fleahoppers are migrating in to cotton and increased numbers may be expected.

Some reports indicate that bollworms occur in damaging numbers in certain isolated fields. However, this pest has not been found in sufficient numbers in most fields to warrant applications of insecticides. Planters should check their fields for bollworm eggs and small worms and when a sufficient number is found (eggs and four or five small worms per 100 terminals) insecticides should be used. Bollworm moths usually transfer to cotton in late July and early August, but may be found in cotton at an earlier date. Since the small worms can be easily controlled with insecticides, it is necessary for the planter to check his fields at regular intervals to determine the best time for making applications.

Cabbage loopers were found in small numbers in most fields, with eggs somewhat more common than previously observed. Lyg bugs were also found in light infestation in many fields, with damaging numbers reported present on cotton in occasional fields in Cochran and Floyd counties. Grasshoppers occurred in medium to heavy infestations on cotton in a few fields in Floyd, Garza, Lamb and Mitchell counties.

SCHOOL WORK

RICHMOND, Va. — The Richmond public schools have bought from the Army for $100 each three bulldozers which cost $49,000. The schools hope to save money by doing their own grading for new school buildings.

TEXAS OIL PIONEERS

Frank Hamilton, Now Retired, Has Filled Most Jobs Done In Oil Field

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of sketches compiled from records of "Oral History of Oil Pioneers," University of Texas.)

By MODY C. BOATRIGHT

Frank Hamilton, who retired in 1951 after 50 years in the oil fields, now lives at Breckenridge, where he spends his time hunting and fishing and commuting to his farm near Nixon. He was born in Austin in 1886. He was in high school when the Lucas Gusher came in the winter 1901. When school was out in the spring he and a dentist's son, without asking permission of anybody, took the train to Beaumont. They expected to work through the summer and come back to Austin for the opening of school in the fall. But Hamilton never came back. Oil got into his blood.

His first job was firing a boiler, a job he got by saying he had had a little experience. The little experience was really zero, a fact which his boss was not long in finding out. But he was a willing worker and was learning fast. Hands like this were scarce and he was kept on the job.

First and last, he has filled every job to be done in an oil field. He has been fireman, derrick man, driller, pumper, tool pusher, gauger, waterworks man. Most of his years have been put in the service of Gulf Oil Corporation and its parent companies, and his duties have taken him to Tampico, Sour Lake, Batson, Humble, Caddo Lake, Burkburnett, Electra and Breckenridge. He has witnessed many important developments in oil field technology. He helped repressure the first wells so treated. This was done by pumping compressed air into the well. He also was involved in the first underwater drilling, at Caddo Lake. Piles were driven and platforms were constructed not only for the rig, but for the slush pit as well, for water pollution carried a heavy fine.

Many incidents stand out in his memory, not the least of which is his 21 days of blindness and the suspense of not knowing whether he would ever see again. This happened at Sour Lake, where clouds of a heavy, poisonous gas often hovered near the ground. Sometimes you could escape it by lying down. It was responsible for at least two deaths. The standard treatment for blindness was to cut up an Irish potato and lay pieces on the eyes. When this didn't work, Hamilton went to Galveston and, under the care of a specialist, gradually regained his eyesight.

He recalls the disorder of boom times at Spindletop, Sour Lake and Batson, especially the influx of criminals—"easy livers," he calls them. They were responsible for a number of murders, though their killings were largely confined to each other. One night as Hamilton was walking from the location he felt a jab in the back. It was a gun held by a woman demanding money. He had only 30 cents, and she threatened to shoot him for not having more.

At Batson there was no jail and culprits were chained to trees. Sometimes there might be a dozen men and a woman or two padlocked to the pines, each on a chain eight or ten feet long.

The Most Important People on Earth

Boys and girls with a great heritage and a glorious future! They're the most important people on earth... for they still have time to accomplish so many things we left undone.

We have given them our love and all the material blessings our means would allow. And we have given them America...

But one thing more we must provide, if they are to live up to the opportunities they face. We must give them a vital religious faith. We must give it to them in larger measure than we have possessed it ourselves.

Religious Education is a task for our churches. But the foundation of religious interest must be laid in the home. Sincere parents, setting an example of Christian worship and life, can lay the surest foundation for the Church's character-building program for our boys and girls.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

$1,650 Balance Is Seen For Schools

The Post schools expect to have a balance of $1,643.06 after anticipated expenditures for July and August, Spt. R. K. Green told the board in a financial report Monday night.

That means, Green said, that the schools will be completing the 1935-36 school year with a balance of nearly $1,650. The schools have managed to stay well within their budget of approximately $302,000, despite unexpected expenditures for extra teachers' salaries, and the loss of $1,800 in state aid because of missing two school days.

Anticipated expenditures for July and August include $35,230.61 for salaries, $825.58 for supplies and miscellaneous expenses and $775 for utilities, which adds up to a total of $34,831.19.

Total cash on hand as of July 1 was $27,623.84. Total expected revenue for July and August is $9,917.10, which adds up to $36,474.25.

Not included in the 1935-36 budget, Green said, was the salary of an extra teacher in the Negro school and the salary of an extra teacher for part of the year in the elementary school.

Cotton Chopping Wage Scale Set

Sixty cents per hour for cotton chopping has been set as the prevailing wage to be paid Mexican Nationals employed in Garza County, following a recent survey by the regional director of the Bureau of Employment, Department of Labor.

While a few Mexican Nationals are now employed in the county as farm laborers, none are believed to be chopping cotton.

A series of similar surveys will be made beginning Sept. 1 to set a prevailing wage for cotton pulling. These surveys will be conducted every two weeks throughout the season and notices of the prevailing wage scale posted in the county agent's office, post office, county judge's office, courthouse lobby bulletin board and ASC office.

Saddle Bronc Dates Back To Trail-Driving Days

The art of saddle bronc riding's first place in all rodeo driving and has since become a work-a-day part of boy life. Even before the cattle drives to market, the bronc riders had to ride before the drive could begin. The horses had to be tested by bronc riding.

Present day rules call for the rider to keep the single hand, both feet in the stirrups and spur the animal into the ten-second ride.

Every horse has his own style of bucking, but the rider has a style for himself. He must stay in the saddle the time necessary to complete the ride.

Chunky Reuben Valdez pitched and batted the Brown Bros. Red Sox to a 15-7 victory over the First National Bank's league-leading Dodgers in the second of two games Saturday evening at Little League Park.

In addition to keeping seven Dodger hits well scattered, Valdez pounded out two three-run homers and a single. Also figuring heavily in the Red Sox batting attack was third baseman Tommy Bouchier, who got four for four, and center fielder Joe Cook with two for three.

Bobby Beard started for the Dodgers and was charged with the loss after going three innings. John Valdez, who has a 6-0 record for the season, pitched the final three innings.

Big guns for the Dodgers were third baseman Eddie Valdez with two hits in three trips and left fielder Johnny Guthrie, who got two for four.

The loss was the second of the season for the highflying Dodgers. Their other loss was also to the Red Sox in the playoff of a 1-1 tie game.

Tiger Manager Lusby Protests Game Won By Dodgers, 8 To 6

In a game finished under protest by N. A. Lusby, Tigers' manager, the Dodgers defeated the Tigers, 8 to 6, last Thursday evening at Little League Park.

The protest arose from the fact that a Dodger runner scored from third base after a runner on second had been called out for leaving the base before the ball passed home plate. At the time, the score was tied, 4 to 4.

A ruling on the protest is expected sometime this week.

Hammond Says Soil Bank Regulations Subject Farmers To 'Guessing Game'

WACO (Sp.)—The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has declared that soil bank regulations had subjected cotton farmers to a "guessing game" and discriminated against farmers who guessed wrong in planting their allotments this year.

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Benson, TFB President J. Walter Hammond said that "The only possible means of dealing fairly and justly with cotton farmers would be to make soil bank payments on the basis of normal yields, regardless of whether or not cotton was planted."

He referred to drouth areas where some farmers had dry planted cotton in order to maintain their acreage history. These farmers, he said, could receive only the minimum payment of $6 per acre for land put into the soil bank. On the other hand, he pointed out, other farmers in the same drouth area who did not plant any of their cotton allotment acreage could receive payments based on their normal yields.

Appraisal committees ascertain yield of planted acres put into the soil bank. In areas where cotton did not come up, the yield is automatically appraised at zero. The $6 per acre is a minimum payment for cotton under soil bank regulations.

Hammond said that his office has received many complaints from drouth areas protesting the "discriminatory" regulations against farmers who planted their allotments.

He asked Benson to investigate the possibility of a misinterpretation of regulations by the state ASC (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation) committee. He added that in case the committee had made a correct interpretation, the regulations should be changed to enable all cotton farmers to take advantage of soil bank benefits.

ONE OF THE BEST—This test block of hybrid grain sorghum on the Claude Williams farm in the Graham community is believed to be one of the best in the area. County Agent Lewis C. Herron is shown inspecting the block of Texas 601, an early hybrid which is of about the same maturity as Redbine-60. The test block is one of 11 in the county planted to hybrid grain sorghums. —(Dispatch Staff Photo.)

Hybrid Grain Sorghums Are Already Proving Value Here

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, who recently made the statement that if the hybrid grain sorghum project being conducted on the South Plains lives up to expectations there can be millions in it, should see the test plot of Texas 601 on the Claude Williams farm, a few miles southwest of Post.

Williams' test block was planted on May 2 and was in 50 per cent bloom on June 25, according to Lewis C. Herron, Garza County agricultural agent.

Texas 601 is an early hybrid which is of about the same maturity as Redbine-60, the county agent said. It is dry-headed and of combine height. The exertion of the head above the flag leaf is excellent, and the grain color is light red.

Texas 601, Herron said, has a shown yield increases over Redbine-60 and earlier varieties in some areas of the state, but may not be adapted to all areas.

Williams' hybrid grain sorghum test block is one of 11 being carried on in the county in the South Plains-wide project. Others in Garza County include the following:

Aubrey McNeeley, near Pleasant Valley, No. 668; Neil Crosby, near Pleasant Valley, and Elvius Davis, Close City community, No. 590; Ray McClellan and J. C. Howard of the Graham community and Avery Moore of Justiceburg, No. 610; Dillard Dunn of near Southland, No. 611; E. E. Peel of the Graham community, No. 650; Earl Rogers, west of Close City, and Richard Lewis of the Pleasant Valley community, No. 620.

On a recent visit to Lubbock, the agriculture commissioner said that about 90 per cent of the new hybrid grain sorghum project is being conducted on the South

Plains. "This area is one of the best for quality seed," he said. "We've got about 10,000 acres planted in hybrids and if we can perfect it, it should revolutionize the grain sorghum yield."

"The values of a hybrid grain sorghum are numerous," he continued. "Quick growth, yield and resistance to natural hazards are a few. The one we're testing is a cross of several already known sorghums, and the results we had in experimental fields lead us to think we're really got something."

"Texas is the only state that's got it and if we get it perfected, there'll be a great demand for it by growers everywhere, not just in our state."

Meanwhile, agronomists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have pointed out that a new era in grain sorghum production in this country is opening as growers' attentions turn to hybrids. The hybrids are being developed through cooperative research by the department, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and experiment stations in other sorghum-producing states.

Officials say that the speed of the change-over to hybrids should increase rapidly following this year's harvest, as greater quantities of seed become available.

These new grain sorghums, say agronomists, are comparable in production efficiency with the corn hybrids of 25 years ago. Early estimates were that their replacement of standard varieties would take place at a rate of about 10 per cent of the total sorghum acreage each year.

However, production records set by the new hybrids in tests have been so favorable—70 to 30 per cent better yields than those of standard varieties—that a much faster rate of grower acceptance is expected, in spite of the fact that so far there are no very large fields of hybrid sorghum.

Tax Refund Is Due Garza Farmers For Gasoline Used Since Jan. 1

Farmers are entitled to claim a refund of the Federal tax on all gasoline bought and used for farming during the six-month period Jan. 1 through June 30, 1956, County Agent Lewis C. Herron reminds producers.

Any owner, tenant, or farm operator who buys gasoline for use on a farm may file a claim, says Herron. A farmer may also request a refund of the tax on any gasoline used on his farm by a custom operator or a neighbor in connection with cultivating the soil, or raising or harvesting a crop.

Under the law enacted April 2, 1956, the amount claimable this year is 2 cents on each gallon of gasoline purchased and used on a farm for farming purposes during the first six months of 1956. In future years claims will be filed for a full 12-month period from July 1 through June 30.

Claims must be filed on Internal Revenue Service Form 2240. It may be obtained here at the county agent's office or First National Bank. Date for filing for this year's refund is after June 30, but not later than Oct. 1, 1956. The law does not permit payment of claims filed late.

Refund claims must not be made for gasoline used off the farm, according to the county agent, or for gasoline used for other than actual farming purposes, as described in Form 2240. This applies to gasoline used on the highway, for personal use such as mowing the lawn, or for processing, packaging, freezing, or canning operations. Sufficient records should be kept to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the refund claimed.

25 Pct. Of Texans' 'Disposable Income' Is Spent For Food

AUSTIN (Sp.)—About 25 per cent of Texans' "disposable income" is spent for food, and more than three-quarters of that amount goes for canned and packaged foods, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Miss Anne K. Schuler, Bureau research associate, surveys, "Food Processing in Texas" in the current issue of Texas Business Review.

The writer notes a rising demand for better and more varied food.

"The sprawling food processing industry of Texas is offering a partial answer to this demand in the form of rice, citrus and truck crops from the Rio Grande Valley and the Gulf coastal area; meat, grain and dairy products from farms and ranches in northern, eastern and western Texas; and, for good measure, seafood from the warm waters of the Gulf of Mexico," she points out.

Miss Schuler's study includes frozen and preprocessed food, canned goods, bottled drinks, meat packing and food packaging.

"Packaging has played a large part in selling Texas-grown food to the Texas housewife," she points out. "This has led to the development of a large container industry in the state, including the use of polyethylene film."

Film bags for carrots, radishes, turnips, Brussel sprouts and broccoli have proved so popular that 250 million were used in 1955.

Three New Educational Publications

COLLEGE STATION—Dairyman and other producers will find three new Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Service publications of valuable information. They are L-193, Coastal Pasture Nurseries; L-278, Subsoiling Dependable Grazing and Mr. Dairyman.

Post Visit Is Slated For Friday, July 30, By SS Representative

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be in Post at 1 p. m. Friday, July 30, in the district courtroom to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock District Office, urges all workers to check their social security record to see that all their 1955 wages have been reported and credited to their account. He especially urges all farm workers who were paid cash wages of as much as $100 from one employer in 1955 to check to see that each of their employers reported their wages. Because valuable retirement and insurance protection is based on covered earnings, every worker should know the status of his account and what he and his family can expect from this protection. Hutton further advises that a special printed postcard, used to request the earnings statement, may be obtained from the local office, located at 1616-19th St., Lubbock.

When your earnings statement is received from the social security accounting office in Baltimore, Md., check it against your personal records. If the statement is not complete or correct, contact the local social security office so that immediate action can be taken to correct your account. Failure to take this action may reduce the amount of monthly benefits payable to you or your survivors since all benefits are based on your "average" earnings.

Hutton states that the local security office has pamphlets which will help you estimate the amount you and your survivors will receive. Other informational material of interest to farmers and farm workers, householders, employees of shops and home industries, and

New Varieties Of Cotton And Wheat Available In '57

COLLEGE STATION (Spl.)—The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has announced that planting seed for Blightmaster, a disease-tolerant, stormproof, cotton and Crockett, a new high-test weight, early maturing, good quality, hard red winter wheat for Texas, will be available in 1957.

Available from the Agricultural Information Office are publications, L-292, Blightmaster and L-288, Crockett which describe these new and improved crop varieties for Texas.

Tests indicate that Blightmaster will yield as much under blight-free conditions as other stormproof varieties now grown in Texas, and greater yields may be expected under heavy blight conditions. Staple length is 15-16 to one inch. It is adapted to stripper harvesting; is medium in maturity; semi-spreading in growth habit and is recommended for areas of the state where a stormproof variety is desired.

The new hard red winter wheat for Texas has good disease resistance, early maturity, high yields, high test weight and high milling qualities to its credit. Crockett wheat is recommended for the P handle and South Plains wheat areas and also for the Rolling Plains and north-central Texas wheat areas. Individuals interested in producing certified seed of Crockett during the 1956-57 crop year may obtain foundation seed from the Foundation Seed Section, Tex-

AN EIGHT POINT PROGRAM OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

Elect ODEAN CUMMINGS Sheriff

1. Establish and administer a Juvenile Policy of fairness and firmness;
2. Establish and maintain Round the Clock police protection with an officer available at a given place when he is needed.
3. Enforcement of our traffic laws, fairly and impartially, with particular emphasis on eliminating the following:
 - a. Reckless Driving
 - b. Speeding
 - c. Ignoring speed and school zones
 - d. Open mufflers
 - e. Littering our streets with refuse
4. Protection of property, both business and residential, in Post and the entire county;
5. Supervision of school zones while school is in progress and particularly during play and recreation in periods;
6. Cooperation with Texas Highway Patrol to the fullest degree, encourage, by the work of our local officers, their coming to our County to help with transient traffic;
7. Work toward welding the three separate law enforcement agencies in Garza County, into one well coordinated police force at the same or less cost;
8. A policy based on the principle that the Sheriff's Office is responsible for investigation, suppression and elimination of crime with an awareness that punishment for crime or the withholding of same is a function of Grand Juries, Judges, and Petit Juries.

7. Work toward welding the three separate law enforcement agencies in Garza County, into one well coordinated police force at the same or less cost:

This can be accomplished thru cooperation between the three groups, and keeping each group informed as to the other's activity, instead of each unit working independently of the other two. This will not increase the cost of law enforcement but will increase the efficiency, at a possibly lower cost to the taxpayer.

8. A policy based on the principle that the Sheriff's Office is responsible for investigation, suppression and elimination of crime with an awareness that punishment for crime or the withholding of same is a function of Grand Juries, Judges, and Petit Juries.

If elected your sheriff I will be my honest effort never to take over the duties of law enforcement that rightly belong to the courts, but I will devote my utmost ability to bring violations to the attention of the proper Juries for their consideration.

Elect Odean Cummings Sheriff Of Garza County, Texas
A Man With A Positive Program for Law Enforcement.

One of our customers sent me a clipping of the following poem. He said he liked it so much that it might be you would like it too. He went on to say that since he read this poem, he is trying to live by what it says... and it works. We hope you like it too.

CHARITABLE

Pray do not find fault with the man who limps
Or stumbles along the road,
Unless you have worn the shoe he wears
Or struggled beneath his load.

There may be tacks in his shoes that hurt,
Though hidden away from view,
Or the burden he bears, placed on your back,
Might cause you to stumble too.

Don't sneer at the man who's down today,
Unless you have felt the blow
That caused his fall, or felt the same
That only the fallen know.

You may be strong, but still the blows
That were his, if dealt to you
In the self-same way at the self-same time
Might cause you to stagger too.

Don't be too harsh with the man who sins
Or pelt him with words or stones,
Unless you are sure, yes, doubly sure,
That you have no sins of your own.

For you know, perhaps, if the tempter's voice
Should whisper as soft to you
As it did to him when he went astray,
'Twould cause you to falter too.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Some Gasoline Price Signs Violate Intent Of Weights & Measures Law

By JOHN C. WHITE
Commissioner of Agriculture

One huge gasoline price sign plus one small fraction of a cent sign equals one angry automobile driver.

Every auto owner has seen them! A gas war flares in the area and filling stations erect tremendous signs with letters four feet high advertising their cut-rate prices. Then in the upper right hand corner of the sign, barely visible to the naked eye, is that awful fraction "9-10ths".

This type of advertising—while not actually misquoting prices—violates the intent of the Texas Weights & Measures Law.

Weights and measures standards, administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture, are aimed at guaranteeing buyers a full amount of goods for their money. There is also a clause which regulates certain types of advertising. This clause is much abused in Texas.

The weight of the contents of any packaged commodity such as pre-packed meat, tinned goods, bread loaf and similar foodstuffs must be clearly marked. The law also books no trifling with attempts to mislead the customer on prices of these commodities. Yet, on gasoline sales, many attempts are made to hide those "fractions" until the buyer has already been lured into the driveway.

Most of the filling station operators are unaware they are violating a state law with near-legible signs. Their competitors do it—and so do they. As a result of a continuous campaign by the Texas Department of Agriculture, most chain stations and many individual owners have corrected their signs. But many of these signs still exist.

A clarification of advertising laws and more publicity for them will be requested next January when the Texas Legislature convenes. This is one of the points of a program being prepared by the Department of Agriculture. Three main objectives include:

1. A new poultry and egg inspection law to prevent Texas from becoming a dumping ground of inferior or diseased products from other states.
2. Heavier penalties for repeated violations of existing laws.
3. Strengthening of license requirements of agricultural firms operating under present laws in order to protect legitimate operators and consumers.

These are but a few of the changes proposed by the Department. A full protective program is planned for legislative action.

July 20 Vote On Wheat Quotas Will Affect Only Two Parts Of Program

How wheat farmers vote in the July 20 referendum on wheat marketing quotas will actually affect only two parts of the 1957 wheat program, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation officials have announced.

Whether or not quotas are approved, acreage allotments will remain in effect for the 1957 wheat crop.

Officials explained that wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in commercial wheat states, including Texas. Since the quotas affect only those growers in the commercial 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on a farm in 1957, these growers are the only ones eligible to vote in the referendum.

The two points at issue in the vote are (1) whether marketing quotas shall be in effect, with an "excess" wheat from farms (with more than 15 acres of wheat harvested as grain) not in compliance with the acreage allotment; and (2) the level of price support available to those who comply with their farm acreage allotments.

If quotas are approved by at least two-thirds of those who vote in the referendum, the quotas and penalties for excess production will be in effect and price support on the crop will be available at a level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity to those who comply with the farm wheat allotments.

If more than one-third of the voters disapprove the quotas, there will be no marketing quotas and no penalties for excess production, and the available price support will drop to 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law.

Pioneer Rancher's Rites Conducted

Funeral services for Sam C. Arnett, 80, pioneer West Texas rancher and banker, were conducted at 2 p. m. Friday in the Lubbock First Methodist Church with Dr. Chess Lovern, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the City of Lubbock cemetery.

Turn Your Vacation Dream Nightmare, Sheriff Warns

Turn your vacation into a nightmare! Sheriff Carl Rains gave this warning to vacation motorists in outlining the vacation safe driving program being sponsored this year by the Texas Safety Council, the Department of Transportation and the National Safety Council.

"A dream of a vacation can become a nightmare in just a matter of seconds for a driver who sets out to cover too much territory in too little time," he said. The sheriff pointed out that the motorist who is trying to drive an unwise schedule is too prone to take chances, to set aside caution and press down on the accelerator without regard for prevailing traffic, weather, roadway or even his own fatigued condition.

He advised vacationers to start early in the day and to stop in time in the evening for a good night's rest before beginning the next lap of their journey.

"It's also wise," he said, "to provide time for frequent rest stops along the route—periodic coffee breaks or a walk in the open air to relax taut nerves and tired muscles."

Motorists were urged to take a tip from safety-minded commercial trucking companies, which insist that their drivers stop occasionally for coffee, and, if sleepy, for a brisk walk around the truck before continuing.

The sheriff also emphasized the following rules:

1. Before starting out, be sure your car is in perfect mechanical condition.

2. Space driving with adequate rest periods—always alert at the wheel.

3. Know what to expect. Learn the driving regulations of the states you'll be driving through before you start your trip.

4. Load your car carefully. Be sure baggage and equipment is loaded so that it cannot shift dangerously, or obstruct vision in any way.

"And," said the sheriff, "we hope that all our drivers will keep their goal constantly in mind—to arrive back home again alive."

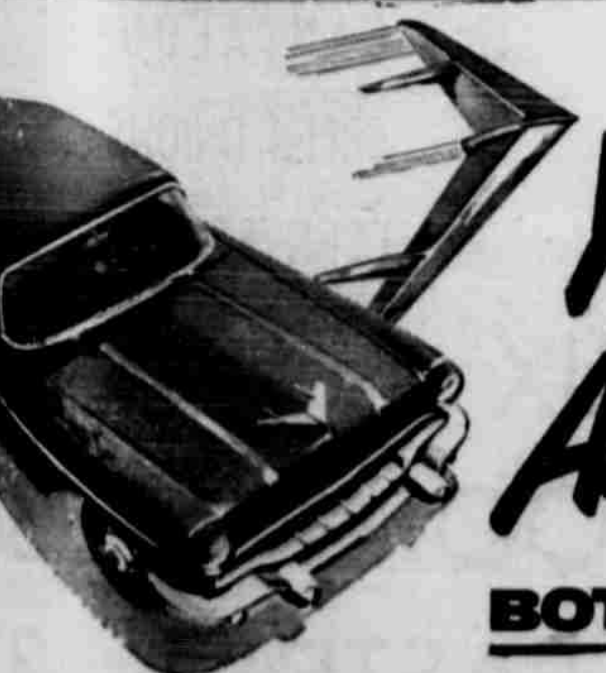

There are 10,000 miles of railroad track in Ontario.

Crossbreeding Provides Brahmas For Thrilling Rodeo Performance

In India, the land of their origin, Brahma bulls are considered sacred and roam unmolested through village streets and market places. In rodeo, the big beasts are treated with great respect, but they are considered more devil than divine. Actually the Brahmas used in modern rodeo are crossbred and not the pure strain that dwells in docile domestication in the Asian nation. And they are more than thousands of miles away from their ancestors in the difference in their disposition.

Waste Water Helps Farmer Of Southland Area Beat Drouth

Bill Becker, who lives a short distance northwest of Southland, has found a way to beat the drouth.

Becker has not raised a crop since 1952. He has owned his farm since 1921. Again this year, the rains have missed him—and he does not have too good a prospect, he said.

Adding to this discouraging factor, he has drilled three holes on his place and failed to find irrigation water.

For several years he has watched water run down the narrow ditches along the Slaton-Post highway from rains to the north of him.

Adjacent to his place, this water ran under a culvert. He decided that, if he could not get enough rain, he would turn this water out across his field.

He and his boys threw up a dam outside the culvert so that water would be diverted into his field. A three-inch rain came to the north of him, he was able to flood his field, and as a result he has about 20 acres of "irrigated" cotton.

Becker has seven terraces on his farm, designed by the Soil Conservation Service so that water will run from one to another. He says he thinks a lot of the Plains farmers, both irrigated and dry land, fail to take full advantage of their water.

Visiting last Wednesday with Mrs. W. J. Shepherd and Linda were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Day, Debra and Carla of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Payne, Paula and James Kent of Tahoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Mathis have as guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Leake and son, Tommy Preston, of Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Leake is the former Miss Anne Mathis.
