Council wants city court moved back to city hall

Asks setting of regular hours

The city council voted Monday night that the corporation court be moved "back to the city hall" from the law office of Corporation Court Judge Pat N. Walker, where it has been located since shortly after Walker succeeded Percy Printz as judge several months ago.

The motion, made by Councilman Mike Mitchell and seconded by Councilman Donald Windham, also included that regular court hours be established, and that arresting officers be present in court prior to the dismissal of any case.

The motion called for the court to be moved "within 30 days." It will be re-established in the police station south of the city hall where it was located before being moved to Walker's offices.

Also, at its regular January session Monday night, the city council:

— Adopted a resolution to participate with the county in the operation of a Green Thumb program for elderly citizens.

— Renewed the one-year contract of Pritchard & Abbott, tax evaluating firm, and granted the firm's request for a one-half percent increase in its fee.

— Set the salaries of the mayor and city councilmen the same as last year.

— Voted to enter into an agreement with the county sheriff's department on making application for a statewide law enforcement teletype system through the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG).

— Voted to set a maximum of eight inches in width for curbing around cemetery lots at Terrace Cemetery.

— Voted to "help out," at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, on the payment for light bulbs used on the community Christmas tree.

— Authorized the city secretary to order two pieces of equipment needed to complete the city's sewage laboratory.

Progress reports heard by the council at Monday night's meeting included one that Precinct 1 County

Commissioner Paul Jones has agreed to help the city in an extensive patch work program on North Avenue S. "It is hoped that this patch work will last until the paving program comes along later in the year," the councilmen were told.

It was also reported that contractor Bill Moore is scheduled to move in equipment this week for the new water line construction on East Tenth Street, which will consist of the laying of about 1,500 feet of pipe at a cost of approximately $8,000.

The council was told that, according to Al O'Brien, manager of the White River Water District, the last needed equipment should be here by Jan. 15 to complete installation of the additional 420,000-gallon water storage tank.

The council reviewed the Post Public Library report for 1970, submitted by George L. Miller, volunteer librarian. "It is gratifying to us to know that so many people are making use of the library," Mayor Giles C. McCrary said in commenting on the annual report.

The council went on record as commending city employee Pete Maddox for his "efficient taking over" of many of the duties of City Manager Bobby Pierce, who is in the hospital.

The council also commended Bill Hall for helping out the police department while it was short-handed during Police Chief Otis G. Shepherd Jr.'s time off because of illness.

The Green Thumb project in which the council voted to participate is a program of the Office of Economic Opportunity. Its object is to provide gainful employment for elderly men on work projects anywhere in the county. The GEO will

WE'LL KNOW NEXT THURSDAY

Public announcement on coach hangs fire

Public announcement of Post High School's new head football coach and athletic director is expected to come in next Thursday's meeting.

Administrators have completed the task of interviewing the 23 applicants for the position, who included an All-American, a Little American and a former professional footballer.

Bill Shiver told school trustees at a special meeting Monday night that there are many top caliber prospects in the group.

Waco Reynolds resigns coaching position here

Waco Reynolds, a member of the High School coaching staff for the last five and a half years, has resigned, effective at mid-term, Bill Shiver announced Wednesday.

Reynolds has accepted the position of first assistant coach at Winfield High School, where Coach Reynolds has been named head coach. In the last two years, Reynolds has been first assistant football coach here under Billy Hahn. He also served as head track coach in which position he has had unusual success with the high school sending qualifiers in state track and field meet year.

Some of the distance runners developed by Reynolds as track coach here are Pete Morales and Steve Collazo, both attending Baylor University on track scholarships, and Steve Newby, who was a state finalist in the half-mile run last spring. Reynolds' sprinter, Larry Scrivner, also qualified for the state track and field meet. Another of Reynolds' former charges, Norman Tanner, is attending Texas Tech on a track scholarship. During his five and a half years here Reynolds has coached "B" team football, 7th and 8th grade basketball, and last summer was in charge of the youth recreation program sponsored by the City of Waco.

Our hound dog, Sam, this week is trying hard to figure out what has happened to all those people as she roams our big, empty house now that the holidays are gone.

But she had a fine time for two weeks except for Christmas Eve, which we long ago designated as "animal night" at the C home. She was "put out" on the patio despite all her protestations. She also didn't want her running out during one of the "scenes" and taking on a donkey or a goat, especially in front of an audience.

We must admit that we gave the most selfish Christmas gift ever handed out — a Color Pack II polaroid camera to the Houston Ks so they could snap color shots of the one and only granddaughter, Andrea Leigh just any old time.

They were delighted and Walt quickly became an expert with the gift and snapped his way through several rolls of film before hastening off about dawn Sunday morning in a race to get home to his own "tube" before the Dallas Cowboys kicked it off out at Frisco that afternoon. Yep, he's a Cowboy nut in Oiler town!

How about starting off the new year with a miracle — the Cowboys winning their way into the Super Bowl?

Susan was the last off and was the last getting home too — without even a challenge.

She called in Monday night to report that after we put her on the jet at Lubbock Sunday afternoon, her jet to New York was held up two hours or so in Dallas and didn't touch down at Kennedy until almost midnight.

Since her rural Connecticut home is three hours from the big town in good weather, this posed a problem. They finally made one last limousine run to New Haven, mostly with stranded Yale boys for twice the regular fare.

Teen-agers to get vote certificates

Twenty-six Garza County teenagers who are 18 years of age or will be 18 prior to March 1, 1972, have applied for "young voter" certificates, County Tax Assessor-Collector T. H. Tipton said Wednesday.

Issuance of certificates to the teen-age voters has pending a Texas Secretary of State directive pertaining to issuance of the actual certificates.

The program will include introduction as a new committee member of County Judge Giles W. Dalby, who began his term of office Jan. 1.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. now has instructed county tax assessors-collectors to issue voter registration certificates to persons now 18 and 17 years of age — provided their 18th birthday will fall before March 1, 1972.

The "young voter" certificates will be effective only from March 1, 1971, to Feb. 29, 1972. That is, only those persons who will be 18, or older, before March 1, 1972, may register.

The teen-age voter certificates will bear the ages of the registrants and notations that they are good for balloting in federal elections only.

Meanwhile, voter registration is under way for adults and the deadline for registering is Jan. 31, 1971. Persons, teen-agers and adults alike may register free at the county tax office here.

SOIL MOISTURE NEEDED

1970 into records as county's fifth driest

Post officially received only 10.97 inches of moisture throughout 1970 — the fifth driest year for Garza County in the 62 years weather records have been kept here.

County Agent Syd Conner told The Dispatch yesterday after totaling up the annual rainfall figures, that "this means we're in trouble if we don't get some moisture to bring soil moisture back up, as far as the coming crop year is concerned."

The 1970 total was little more than half the 19.32 inches which is the 50-year average here.

The 10.97 inches was the lowest since 1964 when only 10.44 inches were received, but most of it fortuunately fell during the growing season.

The driest-on-record year was 1956 when only 4.99 inches of moisture were received here. The year 1951 was the second driest on record with 8.82 inches recorded.

Then you have to go clear back to 1917 and 1910 to find the next driest years. These two years both recorded 10.68 inches of moisture.

Only in three of the 12 months last year was an inch or more of rainfall recorded and two of the months — January and November — were complete blanks.

Post received the most moisture when 3.07 inches fell in September. There were 2.06 inches in May and 1.92 inches in October.

Other monthly totals included February .31 of an inch, March and April .88 of an inch each; June .52 of an inch; July .65 of an inch; August .61 of an inch; and December .07 of an inch.

County Agent Conner told The Dispatch that the normal moisture fall for the next three months — January, February, and March — does not amount to much, so "the odds are not in our favor to put the kind of moisture back into the soil we will need."

The average January moisture here is only .55 of an inch, with 1.00 inches for February, and .78 of an inch for March. (See '70 Rainfall, page 8)

Funeral services held Wednesday for burn victim

Last rites for Don Everett Baker, 27, who died about 3 a.m. Tuesday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital from burns he received Dec. 29 in a gasoline fire at the Post Wrecking Yard, were held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church.

Baker was burned over more than 85 per cent of his body by the fire, which was caused by gas igniting in the tank of a wrecked automobile on which he was using a cutting torch.

His brother, Charlie Lon Baker, was treated for burns on both hands, suffered when he ripped the flaming clothing off Don's body.

Baker was a lifelong resident of Post, where he was born Aug. 2, 1943. He had been a member of the First Baptist Church for 18 years.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Baker of Post, three brothers, Charlie Lon of Post, Billy Jack of Loving, N.M., and Edward Ray Baker of Pascagoula, Miss.; four sisters, Mrs. Sims Taylor of Hughes Springs, Mrs. Reuben Yates of Carlsbad, Tex., Mrs. Wayne Bishop of Marietta, Ga., and Mrs. Jerry Starkey of Lubbock, and a grandmother, Mrs. John Baker of Post.

The Rev. H. M. Farrington, First Baptist pastor, officiated at the funeral. (See Burn Victim, page 8)

Small car hits coyote in New Year's mishap

The most unusual New Year's weekend accident in this area came at 10:45 p.m. New Year's Day when two San Antonio youths, driving a new Ford Pinto, hit a coyote crossing US-84 about six miles northwest of Post.

The Pinto, although it isn't very big, was the winner although smacking the wild animal at a speed of 70 miles an hour.

State Highway Patrolman Ken Gilbreath reported to The Dispatch that the youth driving managed to keep the little car from overturning. He estimated damages to the front end of the Pinto at approximately $100.

This was only one of the three New Year's weekend accidents reported by Gilbreath in this area.

There were no major injuries in any of them, although a Snyder woman, Mrs. Land, spent about four hours in her overturned car five miles north of Post on FM-651 early Saturday morning before a passing motorist saw the wreck and came to her rescue.

Patrolman Gilbreath reported that Mrs. Land, driving alone, apparently went to sleep at the wheel about 3:30 a.m. and her car ran off the road and hit a sand bank and turned over on its side.

Mrs. Land had a blanket in the back seat of the overturned vehicle, so she wrapped that around her and waited out the rest of the night before she was helped out of the car by a passing motorist about 7 a.m.

She suffered only scratches. The (See Auto Wreck, page 8)

Library circulation sets another record

The Post Public Library's circulation set a new record in 1970 for the fifth consecutive year since the library opened, the annual report of Volunteer Librarian George L. Miller revealed this week.

"It wasn't a big gain," Miller told The Dispatch, but it was a gain and it follows the normal library pattern that the circulation tends to "level off" in a library's fifth year of operation.

Total circulation in 1970 was 8,175 books, as compared with 8,035 books checked out in 1969 and 6,367 in 1968.

The annual report showed 780 new books added to library shelves during the year and 70 books either lost or discarded to boost the library's total volumes shelved to slightly over 8,500.

A total of 5,047 adult books were checked out, the report shows, with 3,128 juvenile books going into homes during the 12 months.

Fiction of course attracted the prime interest with adults checking out 2,943 fiction books, 1,114 mysteries and 177 westerns; with young adults checking of 284 fiction books, juveniles 1,197 and 1,450 easy books going out for the small ones.

Non-fiction reading included 966 (See Library Record, page 8)

Odams to attend brother's funeral

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Odam of the Western Auto Associate Store left shortly after noon Wednesday for Abilene after receiving word of the death there of his brother, John W. Odam, 62.

Mr. Odam died Wednesday morning at his home in Abilene following a long illness. Besides the brother of Post, he is survived by his wife and a son, John, and a sister, Mrs. B. Thomas of Salinas, Calif.

Funeral arrangements were pending at the time the Odams left for Abilene Wednesday. The Western Auto Associate Store here will remain closed today (Thursday).

Appreciation for a job well done

When J. E. Parker stepped down as county judge last Friday morning, he did so after three terms—12 years—of worthwhile service to the citizens of Post and Garza County as a public official.

J. E. Parker made Garza County a good judge in more ways than one. There was never any doubt in anyone's mind that Judge Parker had the best interests of the county in mind at all times. In addition, he created a good image for the judge's office by taking an active interest in affairs not directly connected with the office.

He was always present and took a part in the program at 4-H Club achievement banquets, historical marker dedications and numerous other public events. And, as county judge, he missed very few area and state conventions of county judges and commissioners.

Judge Parker's 12 years as county judge were by no means smooth sailing all the way. During his tenure, the county at one time found itself in probably the most difficult financial bind in its history. The fact that the county came out of it with "flying colors" is an indication of the type of leadership Judge Parker provided the county.

He dealt fairly and impartially in all cases coming before him in county court, and was especially effective in his dealings with juveniles brought before him in juvenile court cases.

As head of the commissioners' court, Judge Parker has had lots of help from the commissioners themselves, which in itself is a reflection on his ability and good judgement, since cooperation comes only to those who deserve it.

J. E. Parker was a respected businessman and a civic-minded citizen for many years before being elected to the county judge's office. The fact that he was re-elected for two four-year terms speaks for itself.

Judge Parker has been succeeded by a young man who everyone feels will continue in the highest traditions of the judge's office. The Dispatch in saying, "well done" to J. E. Parker also wishes his successor, Judge Giles W. Dalby, a successful administration.—CD

Let's continue setting goals

Although we haven't heard from every corner of Post and Garza County, still it seems to us that there aren't as many New Year resolutions as we once had.

This, perhaps, is not as it should be, since our area has grown and prospered because its people were strong, resolute producers.

A resolution is a goal; therefore it's important for each of us to take the time at the beginning of each year to establish a new creed to adhere to. But if you are too busy to think about it, then we'll be more than glad to provide you with one, good, all-around, ready-to-measure set of resolutions for the new year which stretches ahead.

We're borrowing these resolutions from a non-local quarter, too, because they are the long-standing creed of the Optimists International, a fraternal organization which has no local chapter.

That creed, which can serve as a pretty good model for anyone's set of resolutions, reads:

PROMISE YOURSELF . . .

What our contemporaries are saying

Opportunity looks so much like hard work that no one wants to recognize it.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

If we could have made as much progress the past year with people as we did with things,

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.

To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think only of the best, to work only for the best, and expect only the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievement of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

what a community we'd have now!—The Slaton Slatomite.

When people begin to praise you to your face, it might be a good idea to start an investigation of yourself—and them.—Van Horn Advocate.

JUST ABOUT everything that happens along about now is a "first" for the year, since the year isn't very old. So, Sunday afternoon's light flurry was the first snow of the year. We're still waiting for the first rain.

ATTENDANCE AT the county officials' swearing-in ceremony New Year's Day in the district courtroom set a new record despite the fact that it followed by only a few hours a rash of New Year's eve parties. It was far and away the biggest crowd I've ever seen at a swearing-in ceremony here and I've attended them all for the last 15 years or so.

As the crowd kept pouring in, someone turned and asked me if I'd ever seen anything like it. This same someone said he remembered that on most previous occasions no one had attended except the ones who were to be sworn in and "you and your camera."

WELL, I WAS there with my camera again last Friday morning, but I wasn't the only one taking pictures. In addition to a much larger crowd than usual, there was also an out-of-town photographer present.

And that's good. When people turn out in such large numbers for such an occasion it shows that they are interested in their county government and in the men and women they have elected to run it for them.

THE FOLLOWING, from the Clovis (N.M.) News-Journal, is apt to be of interest to everybody—not just newspaper people:

Beware, as we've suggested before, the newspaper reporter whom everybody loves and the editor who is buried with public honors.

This is not an invariable rule, but it's as good a generalization about the newspaper business as you'll come across.

Well, what's wrong with a reporter who is the town pet and the editor who is one of the swellest guys in Tinkertown?

Principally, it is not the nature of their trade, properly applied, to win popularity contests. The best of them frequently enjoys the affectionate regard of an exceedingly small group, but he doesn't give much of a damn either.

Reporting a stormy session of the school board, a bitter divorce action, a bare-knuckle political campaign, corruption in high and low places, the waste of tax money—reporting these things accurately is not going to win a newspaper man the affections of the principal contenders.

"My God, did I say that?" is a typical reaction of a shocked city councilman when he reads an account of last night's meeting in which he was a heated and noisy contender.

"I wish I hadn't," is his next sentiment.

Then, "I don't think I could have said that."

Later, "I know I didn't say that!"

It is remarkable how a man, virtually in a frenzy of argument, can remember the next day, with such clarity, exactly what he didn't say. The reporter took notes, the principal actors ranted and raved. But we are to believe that the notes were less accurate than the recalled versions of the angry participants, later.

The handiest device is to blame the reporter, of course; and he is no longer good old Sam.

The editor who goes to his grave with a line of mourners from Santa Ana to Anaheim is a sorry reporter whose legs went bad.

He frequently is recognized—often by his own successor—as having been part of every civic betterment project in the history of the town. These good works, on analysis, frequently turn out to have been forays on the state or federal treasuries. Chances are he was taken in, years ago, by a group of benevolent despots who ruled his bailiwick somewhat ruthlessly, he will have to admit, but it was in the best interest of the stupid masses who must be driven to do the right thing even if they lose an arm or leg in the process.

He belonged to almost everything he could get on his expense account. He never said anything startling that would set anyone to wondering if he might be a queer fish swimming against the current.

He was in favor of schools and churches, both without critical examination. He wanted bigger parks for the kiddies and more books in the libraries (never mind which books!) and more school rooms and higher pay for the firemen and strong zoning laws.

But he also suggested, timidly to be sure, that taxes should not be allowed to go out of sight—no reflection on the city administration, mind you.

A good Joe, you might say. But sometimes you sort of wonder what really was going on in the town, where Joe fitted in, and what else was being left out of the paper.

No reflection on the dead, you understand. Just wondering . . .

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER
It's still Good News at the library! Once more we had a record-breaking year in circulation. With a total of 8,175 books checked out, we averaged better than 4 books per library patron for the year. This compares fantastically well with other libraries that average about one and a half per person.

This figure isn't complete, however. As many of you know, we have a section of pocket books which you may use by bringing in pocketbooks and swapping. There's no telling what kind of circulation that provides. We can't keep up with it.

Add to that still another figure, the countless books that are used in the library and not checked out—it represents a remarkable figure. There's no question about it, our library is going well used.

More good news! The new room is completed. At least it probably will be by the time this issue of the paper reaches the streets. Ben Owen has all the shelving in this morning (Monday) and all that remains to be done is the ceiling and new lights.

I'm planning now to recruit some helpers to come down Saturday morning and move and shift books. What a happy way to start the new year.

This means that in our fifth year of operation we added our fourth room. Almost one room a year—that's darn good growth.
The new room didn't come a minute too soon, either. Last week Giles Dalby gave us six cartons of books, and without our new shelves there would literally be no place to put them.
This morning, when I got to the library, I found two cartons of new books from Campbell-Ha which Mary Prather had ordered. Attention all cataloguers — we have our work cut out for us. I'd like to get these books in the library the next two weeks.
Finally, good news for you — you have an overdue book. No fine will be collected during the first two weeks of this month. Take advantage of this bargain opportunity and bring those books back!

'Cougar Country' to show Saturday

Nature provides the special effects in "Cougar Country," a new outdoor adventure film showing one day only, Saturday, Jan. 9, with five show times.

"Cougar Country" is the real story of the first two years in the life of a mountain lion in the beautiful mountains of the West. It is the latest by American National Enterprises, Inc., an outdoor and adventure film company located in Salt Lake City, Utah.

A huge cast of wild animals provides the action as "Whiskers," the cougar, grows up under the careful tutoring of his mother. Background is the natural splendor of the Rocky Mountains.

Here is an outdoor film that shows nature as it really is—sometimes deadly serious, sometimes unbelievably comic—but always colorfully beautiful. "Cougar Country" is a film which adults and children alike will enjoy.

Martha Miller and Jay Hart wed in double ring ceremony Dec. 26

Miss Martha Miller became the bride of Jay Hart on Saturday, Dec. 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Post Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Miller and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hart.

The double ring ceremony was officiated in a setting of Candles and holly by Caleb Hildbrand of Big Spring.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a winter white gown accented with Venice lace snow flowers. The mould bodice featured a yoke of the lace flowerlets and long bishop sleeves.

The full sleeves were gathered to wide cuffs applied in the lace flowers. The softly shirred skirt was marked at the waistline with a row of lace and her mantilla veil was outlined in the same lace to form a chapel length train sprinkled in lace snow flowers.

Mrs. Wiley Miller, sister-in-law of the bride, acted as matron of honor. Miss Liz Dalby and Miss Nancy Hart were bridesmaids. They wore avocado green velvet dresses with empire waistlines and puff sleeves. Each carried a white candle circled with holly.

WHAT'S IN HOME CLEANING PRODUCTS AND WHY

You can shop more intelligently when you understand something about the ingredients in home cleaning products and consider how the ingredients compare in performance and safety. The common ingredients are alkalis, acids, detergents, abrasives, bleaches, sanitizers, and spirit solvents.

Alkalis: probably the best known alkalis for household cleaning are baking soda and ammonia. Other common alkalis are borax, trisodium phosphate (TSP), washing soda and lye.

Alkalis are very effective in removing a heavy accumulation of dirt without rubbing. They work especially well to remove grease because they react with it to form an emulsion. The greasy particles thus held in suspension will not be deposited again on the surface you are cleaning.

ity to remove oily dirt. When a builder has been added, the product is marked "heavy duty" or "all purpose."

Abrasives: Abrasives are materials that wear off dirt by rubbing. Whiting, pumice, volcanic ash and silica are some of these materials. Sandpaper, plastic and nylon meshes, and steel wool are also abrasives.

Abrasives are used in scouring powders and pads. Plastic and nylon meshes are generally considered light-duty cleaners. The coarse abrasives will feel rough and gritty. Labels on containers usually state that they are "cleansers."

Regular use of harsh abrasives will gradually scratch the shiny finish of sinks, bathtubs, and kitchen appliances. Once the surface has become dull and rough, it will get dirty faster and stain deeper. Coarse abrasives will also damage plastic ware, glass and non-stick finishes on cookware, painted woodwork, and plated and highly polished metals.

Bleaches: The bleach used in household cleaning products is generally the chlorine type. It helps remove stains.

Chlorine bleaches can dull the shiny finish on sinks, bathtubs and other porcelain enamel surfaces. Because this type of bleach is an alkali, it will darken aluminum and make linoleum brittle.

Liquid chlorine bleach reacts with strongly acidic products such as toilet bowl cleaners to form an irritating or dangerous gas. Chlorine bleach plus ammonia also produces an irritating gas.

Products will be labeled sodium hypochlorite, "contains bleach" or "chlorinated."

Sanitizers: These are chemicals that reduce the number of bacteria to a safe level. The words "sanitizer" and "disinfectant" are used interchangeably. Some examples are Clorox, Purex, Action, Pine-sol and Lysol. These chemicals will help deodorize as well as sanitize. Read labels on products containing a sanitizer to see what you can expect them to do and under what conditions.

Spirit Solvents: Most polishes and waxes for wood furniture and for floors contain a spirit solvent to remove oily dirt. In wood-care products, spirit solvents are necessary because water is harmful. The label must state whether the product is flammable or toxic when swallowed.

Note of Caution: Keep all cleaners tightly covered in the original containers out of reach of children. Never mix chemicals not specifically recommended for use together. Some cleaners are flammable.

The giraffe's tongue can reach a length of 18 inches.

Mrs. Wiley Miller, sister-in-law of the bride, acted as matron of honor. Miss Liz Dalby and Miss Nancy Hart were bridesmaids. They wore avocado green velvet dresses with empire waistlines and puff sleeves. Each carried a white candle circled with holly.

Kenneth Hart served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Ronnie and Sidney Hart, also brothers of the bridegroom.

Wiley Miller, brother of the bride, and Mike Higgins were ushers. Randy Peel was candlelighter.

Beth Peel, soloist, provided the wedding music.

A reception followed in the Community Room at the bank with decoration of holly and candles used throughout.

Members of the house party were Mmes. Russell Wilks Jr., V. L. Peel, Alvin Young, Jimmy Bartlett, Kenneth Hart, Ronnie Hart, Sidney Hart, Miss Karon Windham, Miss Sharon Windham, and Miss Patti Peel.

After a wedding trip to South Texas, the couple are residing in Lubbock.

Mrs. Hart is a 1970 graduate of Post High School. Hart is a 1969 graduate of Crosbyton High School. Both attended South Plains College.

FISH FARMING

Marine biologists at the University of Rhode Island are raising fish in captivity in much the same way farmers raise chickens. The aquatic version of the chicken coop is a group of plastic-lined pools containing sea water. The fish are spawned in fresh water and later transferred to the outdoor saltwater tanks. Similar experiments are going on in other parts of the country and of the world.

Researchers have succeeded in raising Atlantic salmon from a size of nearly 12 ounces in six months. According to the project director, Dr. Saul Salla, this was achieved under rather poor growing conditions. "We are convinced that with better environmental controls, it will be possible to effect even more growth than observed to date," he said.

So-called luxury fish such as rainbow trout, salmon, bluefish, and striped bass are receiving the most attention. There already is an extensive market for these high quality fish, and Dr. Salla believes that the fish can be produced more cheaply through aquaculture than through commercial fishing.

Fish farming, however, is not just around the corner, and a number of problems remain. For instance, maintaining the sea water at the proper temperature and developing a diet for the fish which will be both economical and healthful are still unresolved.

Although Dr. Salla concedes that fish farms may never be as common as chicken farms, he believes that aquaculture will become a "relatively important business venture."

ENZYME RESEARCH

Recent advertising campaigns shout that enzymes are powerful little critters that eat up dirt or unlock stains, depending on the product purchased.

Scientifically, they are a bit more complicated and more useful. They control vital life processes by acting as catalysts for chemical reactions.

Scientists have long been interested in enzymes, but only in recent years has there been a growth spurt in large-scale enzyme production for research purposes.

Bacon substitute gets market test

COLLEGE STATION — Coming events often cast shadows. Could a recent publication from the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture fit this category? asks Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist.

The report had to do with six months of testing in Fort Wayne, Ind. of a substitute for bacon. The USDA sponsored market test was conducted by a private research company under contract with the manufacturer of the new striplike bacon analog.

Most of the users of the new product found it acceptable but continued to use real bacon, noted Uvacek. It was implied, he said, that this lack of substitution was only a short-run effect and that over the long haul, continued purchases of the bacon analog might have a permanent substitution effect.

And what was its composition? It contains 14 ingredients — wheat, soy and yeast proteins, water, corn oil, egg albumen, salt, U. S. certified color, seasonings, monosodium glutamate, vegetable gum, flavorings and nucleotides. The manufacturer's analysis yields 6.3 grams of protein, 3.1 grams of fat, 3.3 carbohydrate, 1.4 ash, 3 of fiber and 14.36 moisture.

Advertising, noted the specialist, pointed to the differences between the analog and bacon. The analog is precooked, does not shrink during cooking, contains little or no cholesterol, and has only one-third the calories of bacon. The price was held constant at 69 cents for an 8 ounce package containing 32 slices. In contrast, the usual pound package of bacon contains 20 slices. On the basis of, as served, the analog cost was approximately half that of bacon.

Analysis of the market test data showed a relationship between retail store characteristics and sales performance of bacon analogs. Some guidelines for placing bacon analogs in new markets and for selection of stores for promotion were developed.

Estimates of the potential impact of fabricated foods, such as this one, on the sales of traditional agricultural commodities were not offered. However, written before the lines, Uvacek said you could sense a real drastic impact if the product was heavily promoted.

Uvacek said the only bright note in the report was this statement: "Use of data from this market test does not in any way constitute endorsement of the product or process by the Department or imply discrimination against other similar products or processes."

And, concludes, Uvacek, in these days of low hog prices and a weakening of returns from feeder calves such developments are not encouraging.

Featured speaker named for annual Boy Scout event

LUBBOCK — Jack L. Rhea, director of field operations of the Boy Scouts of America, will be the featured speaker at the annual Boy Scout Recognition banquet on Saturday, Jan. 9. The announcement was made by Judge Halbert O. Woodward, president of the 20-county area South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Rhea directs the operations of the Boy Scouts of America through 12 geographic regions in the United States. More than six million boys and adult leaders are registered in club packs, scout troops, and explorer posts in every city and rural area throughout America.

The 45th annual banquet will be held Saturday night, Jan. 9, at the Fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock, with serving to begin at 7 p.m. The event will be preceded by the annual business meeting that will be held in the First National-Pioneer Building at 5 p.m.

More than 600 Scout leaders and their wives are expected to attend the banquet that is designed to recognize Scouting's men and women for their devoted leadership. Tickets for the event at $2.50 and are available from the Scout Service Center in Lubbock. Judge Woodward pointed out that parents and other interested citizens are invited to attend the affair along with the Scout leaders.

Does Absence Make the Heart Grow Fonder?

Loyalty to your church will surely be manifested by attendance at its services. Church attendance is not all there is to being a Christian, by far; but there is no Christian life worth the name which is indifferent to faithfulness at its services. One of the most detrimental ideas abroad today is that people can be good Christians without going to church.

Absence from worship when you ought to be present is more than mere disdemeanor. It may lead to spiritual calamity. The backsliding absentee is unhappy. He drifts; he doubts. He questions and impugns the leadership, the pastor, the policies and program which "they" are following at "that church."

Remember that every Sunday is the Lord's Day and belongs to our Lord Jesus. To deny him first place in it is as surely robbery as Malachi —3.8—declared withholding the tithe to be.

HEY, OSTRICH

Ostriches, they say, avoid problems by burying their heads in the sand.

Well, as we all know, that doesn't make problems go away. And as we are also all too aware, this old world's got a few problems.

But perhaps the biggest problem of all, these days, at the base of all problems, is the growing insensitivity of people to other people.

Maybe we're numbed by events being brought so close by "instant communications." Maybe it's the almost overwhelming burden of anxiety of our times. Whatever it is, we've got to find something again. And nurture it.

Something called Love. God's love for us. And our need to love all other people.

Easy to say. Not so easy to do. That's why we've prepared a booklet called

"How One Town Put Its Faith To Work." It's free. And it shows how people of goodwill can work with other people of goodwill to make things happen. The very things about which you've probably been saying, "Why doesn't somebody do something?" If you're the kind of person who knows the world can be better, you're the kind of person who will send for it.

Registration renewal applications for motor vehicles being mailed

AUSTIN — If you own one or more of the more than seven million motor vehicles in Texas, there is some important mail coming your way early in January.

It is your registration renewal application. It is the second year of operation for the new, easy computerized registration procedure devised by the Texas Highway Department. Last year, the system greatly reduced bothersome waits and long lines which plagued vehicle owners at county tax offices and substations in years past.

Prospects are that the system will work even better this year. Also, it is not necessary to present last year's registration receipt certificate of title. The renewal application you will receive by mail is all you will need. Registration begins Feb. 1 and continues through April 1.

The renewal application will arrive in the mail in a slender envelope marked "Important — This is your License Plate Renewal Application."

The application is a three-part form with instructions printed on a

it. One important thing to remember is the card should not be torn apart.

After the registration period begins Feb. 1, each vehicle owner can take the renewal application and the fee to his county tax office, or he can order his plates by mail. If the owner wishes to register his vehicle by mail, he should send the entire three-part renewal application, the fee and an additional $1 to the local county tax office as early as January with the understanding that his license plates may not be mailed until Feb. 1.

The additional $1 charge covers cost of handling and postage. If owners are to receive their plates by mail before the April 1 deadline, then they must send the renewal form, fee and $1 for each vehicle to be registered to the local county tax office by March 1. This allows 30 days for delivery of the plates before the April 1 registration deadline.

If the owner decides to go to the county tax office or substation, he will find shorter waiting lines.

All he needs to take with him is the renewal application and the fee. He will then receive his new plates and part of the form as his receipt.

Another part of the form is retained by the county and the third is sent to the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Austin.

ARMISTEAD

Armistead is an English surname that indicates the ancestor's place of residence at the time hereditary surnames were being acquired. The literal meaning of Armistead is "hermit place" and as a surname it meant one who lived at or near such a place or one who came from Armistead, the name of a town in Staffordshire, England.

The name evolved from the Old French "ermite" (hermit) and the Old English "stead" (place). The first element of the name shows "er" becoming "ar" as in the surname Clark, which was originally Clerk.

The surname Armistead has the same meaning as Armistead and was once the regular pronunciation of hermitage.

Hermits were persons who severed all ties with other human beings, usually in order to live a life of religious contemplation. They were fairly numerous in the late Middle Ages when surnames were coming into style and the place where one lived, the hermitage or hermit-stead, was sometimes used as a name to identify a person who lived at or near such a place.

For instance, a Laurence del Armistead is found in the Yorkshire Poll Tax Returns for 1379. The name had evolved into its present form by 1642 when a William Armistead was listed on a roll of burgesses.

Armistead, which also appears as Armistead, is chiefly found as a surname in the English counties of Cumberland, Westmoreland and Lancashire.

The first of the name in America was William Armistead, who with his wife, Frances, emigrated to Virginia in 1635 from Yorkshire, England. He received a patent for 450 acres in Elizabeth City County, Virginia, from John West, governor of the colony. This William Armistead was an ancestor of Presidents William Henry and Benjamin Harrison and John Tyler and of Col. George Armistead, defender of Fort Mchenry in 1814.

Law of supply and demand to be factor in future farm decisions

LUBBOCK — The law of supply and demand will be a significant factor in farm decisions on the High Plains in 1971, 1972 and 1973, according to Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Johnson told a Dec. 15 gathering of PCG directors that "We cannot afford to make management decisions under the new farm program without full knowledge of both domestic and foreign production figures, consumption figures and overall supply conditions because these to a large extent will determine the market prices we can expect for a given commodity."

The comments were made in a discussion of the Agriculture Act of 1970, which for the first time since the 1930's gives farmers the opportunity to select the crop or crops they will plant and to decide with a minimum of interference how much acreage will be devoted to each. Benefits under the program are substantial enough that most farmers on the Plains will comply with program set-aside requirements and plant the minimum required acreage of at least one commodity for which they have an allotment, Johnson said. "But after that decision is made almost every farmer will be left with acreage on which he can plant just about whatever he pleases.

"And whether he shows a profit or loss on these "extra" acres will depend largely on his accuracy in gauging the market at harvest time, whether it be for cotton, wheat, corn, grain sorghum or any other of the crops commonly grown in the area."

Saccharin use determined safe

COLLEGE STATION J Saccharin poses no hazards in the quantities it is likely to be used, reports Minnie Bell, Extension specialist in family life education at Texas A&M University. The information is the result of a study on saccharin usage by a committee of the National Academy of Science and the National Research Council.

According to the committee reports, Miss Bell says, a safe level of about 12 to 18 quarter grain tablets per day may be used by adults. Actual usage is likely to fall far below the safety standard.

The use of saccharin covers a 90 year period. During World War I, heavy use of the sweetener in England and Germany has produced no adverse effects.

A recent cancer mortality study involving over 21,000 diabetics using saccharin showed no increased risk of cancer over a period of 28 years, the report showed.

Miss Bell added that the committee did recommend further investigation of specific items related to saccharin's long-term effects.

Opportunities in nursing careers now open to young people of area

LUBBOCK — In an effort to introduce young men and women of the South Plains area to nursing careers, the South Plains chapter of the Association of Operating Room Nurses (AORN) is conducting a program to explain opportunities and aids in the nursing profession.

South Plains AORN president, Pat Mumme of Lubbock, said the purpose of the campaign is to make South Plains young people aware of the career development and self-advancement opportunities in the nursing field.

Because of the extreme need for nurses in military and civilian hospitals, in schools and industry, the young people who enter training in any one of the educational nursing curricula have access to many scholarship, grants and financial aids.

Miss Mumme said there are four educational programs under which a young man or woman may enter nurse's training: practical nursing, with one year of study in a public vocational educational system, hospital or community agency, junior or senior college; the associate degree plan with one year of training in a junior or community college; the diploma plan, with three years of study in a hospital or independent school of nursing, and the baccalaureate degree plan, which requires four years of study in a senior college or university.

The field is open for careers as operating room nurses, head nurses, assistant head nurses, nurses in pediatrics, obstetrics, research, administration, and other kinds of nursing.

Young people interested in nursing careers and counseling can obtain more information through the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, or from a member of AORN.

The yeast-rising loaf

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Change. That's what it's all about this year. And that's what we mean by putting you first.

These are uneasy times. There are major concerns. About pollution. About safety. About the economy. About your hard-earned dollar. We know.

For the past 10 years Chevrolet research people have questioned thousands of people on every subject from rising taxes to the size of the glovebox in their cars.

We've found that price and maintenance costs, trade-in value and quality have become tremendously important.

Your car has to work. It has to last. And each new model must have more built-in value.

At Chevrolet, we understand. You want meaningful change. And our aim is to give that to you, as you'll see in the 1971 Chevrolets.

Caprice. The biggest, most luxurious Chevrolet ever. A complete change.

Bigness in itself is nothing. But if it allows you to lengthen the distance between the front and rear wheels (which we did), then you've got something.

You've got a smoother ride. The idea in the 1971 Caprice was to give you the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, without asking you to pay anywhere near that much for it. And above all, to build in as much dependability and security as possible.

So we changed the body structure for 1971, too. We made it stronger. And we made it quieter by putting a double layer of steel in the roof.

Caprice, as you can see below, is a lot of luxury at a Chevrolet price.

Vega. The littlest Chevy ever. It wasn't changed from anything.

Before building Vega, we read everything we could get our hands on about little cars. We talked to owners. We studied little cars up one side and down the other and, literally, tore them apart. We found out what made them tick, or why they didn't tick.

What ticked were gas economy and dependability. What didn't were underpowered engines, cramped quarters and getting blown around in the wind.

In our little Vega, everything ticks. It's not just another little car. You didn't want that. It's one little car, that does everything well.

Another good reason for feeding T-E Liquid Supplement.

When the calves see on the ground you'll be glad you had T-E Liquid Feed Supplement on the range.

It delivers the protein, vitamins and trace minerals your cows need to produce a better calf crop. It will give them extra energy, make them fatten better and enable them to get all the nutrition available from stalks, hay or pasture.

With T-E Liquid Feed Supplement in your feeding program, you can count on more consistent output, better conception, easier calving, lower abortions or stillborns and larger calves dropped and weaned.

Feed free-choice, T-E Liquid Feed takes the guesswork and hard work out of supplement feeding. It's self-feeding. Animals consume what they need—no more, no less. And since one T-E feeder will take care of 75 to 100 head up to ten days, it does away with most of the work.

There are many good reasons for feeding T-E Liquid Supplement that you can count on in your calf crop. Talk to your dealer about other reasons why T-E Liquid Feed saves you time and makes you money.

T-E LIQUID FEED SUPPLEMENT IS MADE FROM A PATENTED FORMULA. The basic ingredients of T-E Liquid Feed Supplement are urea, phosphoric acid, molasses, vitamins A, D and E and trace minerals. The urea is chemically inhibited (by the patented formulation with phosphoric acid and molasses) to control the release of nitrogen and pace its conversion into protein for more efficient use by the animal.

Just you know about the various toll roads which you enter by flipping a dime, quarter, or four bits into a basket or slot to get change to do it.

Susan reported this young driver hit the basket every time at about 60 miles an hour — the absolute legal limit in that little state where you lose your driver's license if you are convicted of speeding.

Since New Haven is still about 30 miles from home, she had to rouse Maggie, her aunt, who lives in the same area to drive over at 3 a.m. and pick her up. We don't know where Uncle Al was at that time of night.

As for the county's ranching industry, grass and water prospects are bleak too.

"The stock water situation is bad," Conner reported. "There are probably more windmills working right now than since the 1950s when the records were set."

The county agent reports that ranchers are "having to move the cattle around to get them near water." He added that there is little feed for them either with the grass "short all over the county."

"We just didn't grow much grass in 1970," he added.

Conner reported the Lubbock auction is expecting a big run on cattle this week, although the run won't be entirely caused by drought conditions. Some have held their cattle the first of the new year for tax purposes because the cotton harvest came so early in 1970.

Slaton losing Santa Fe railroad division office

SLATON — Slaton business leaders got the bad news at a luncheon yesterday from Santa Fe Railway officials—the town is losing its division point designation and office after 53 years of operation.

In an economy move which will consolidate two of the railroad's divisions and put its new division office in Amarillo, Slaton will lose its division office with 50 of its 223 railroad employees.

Of the 50 employees, 21 will be moved from Slaton, 12 are expected to resign or retire from their railroad positions, seven are to be reassigned to Lubbock or Amarillo, but say they plan to continue to live in Slaton, and 10 already live in Lubbock or Clovis, N. M.

"You question my hang-ups?"

Stuppi blamed heavy salary increases by the railroad in the last two years as necessitating all possible economy moves.

Idalou cagers to be here Friday for district games

Tempo picks up again after school holidays

With the Christmas and New Year holidays out of the way, the Antelope and Does and other district 4A teams face busy times in the coming week.

The Post boys' and girls' teams will have their first games following the holiday break. Friday night, Jan. 8, play host to the Idalou teams, and a girls' "B" team game also is scheduled.

Tuesday night, Jan. 12, the Antelope boys' team will play at Denver City in a preliminary to the varsity contest. Both varsity teams and the Antelope "B" team engage Slaton in district games here Friday night, Jan. 15.

Monday, Jan. 11, the freshmen boys and 7th and 8th grade boys' teams go to Idalou for conference games, while the freshman and 7th and 8th grade girls' teams play Idalou on the Post court.

The 8th grade boys' and girls' invitational tournament is to be held in Post next week, beginning Tuesday and continuing through the finals on Saturday, Jan. 16.

TEXAS HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS ... from the State Capitol

JUSTIN — As expected, Texans are paying higher auto insurance rates next year. But rates will be as high as first proposed.

The State Board of Insurance has announced an average statewide 13.6 percent increase for all classes of policies and coverages. Actually, it is about a 14 percent overall increase for private passenger establishing the rate, the board the first time in its history took consideration insurance company income from investments and other sources. But it backed off the "net worth concept" which would have produced still higher rates.

Members of the state regulatory agency last November recommended an average hike of 23.4 percent. Industry actually asked for 14 percent, and reportedly is disappointed at the end result, since it only about half of what it wanted.

Members staunchly defended their findings as adequate, however, and said rates will allow a profit of 5.11 percent on total assets, or 7.2 percent before taxes.

Rate of return on policy underwriting reflected in 5.11 percent profit is only 1.3 percent after taxes. Profit allocation from interest, dividends and rents is 2.9 percent before taxes and from realized and unrealized capital gains of 1.9 percent.

On a sample area basis, policies for average drivers of new, medium and old cars would increase (all ranges combined) by the following amounts:

— Eastern zone $25, Southeast $23, El Paso $29, East Texas $25, West Texas $15, West Texas $30, Webb County $19, Coastal $20, Rio Grande Valley $20, Galveston County $26, Potter and Randall counties $24, Denton County $25, Tarrant County $21, Dallas County and Harris County $22.

WMAKER PAY HIKE PUSH — A sub-committee of House Speaker Gus Mutscher's blue-ribbon "Committee of 100" termed the pay "unrealistically low" and said the $4,800 limit should be raised from the state constitution.

A panel, headed by Newspaper Publisher S. B. Whittenburg of Amarillo, recommended that a six-member commission be named by the governor to fix legislative pay expense account boundaries.

TE FOR 18-YEAR-OLDS — Tax assessor-collectors have notified that voter registration certificates should be issued to applicants 18 years and above and that who will be 18 by March 1.

Secretary of State Martin Dies, chief state election officer, has issued instructions for implementation of the U. S. Supreme Court order giving 18-year-olds the right to vote in general elections.

Certificates issued to those under 21 will be labeled for "federal elections only until 21 years of age." The document will contain birth date so it can be used for state general elections after applicant turns 21.

OPINIONS — Commissioners are authorized to approve expenditures for dues in non-profit organization of counties, says Atty. Crawford Martin.

Other opinions, Martin ruled:

— Orange County commissioner not resign office for new election to which he was elected before term actually begins.

— Gillespie County commission lease part of an airport to county fair association.

— Secretary of State is authorized to require proof of compliance with laws governing trust companies before allowing reinstatement.

SHERRY BIRD'S 45 POINTS SPARKS VICTORY

Ralls Jackrabbits in 98-45 win over Post

The Ralls Jackrabbits ran roughshod over the Post Antelopes, 98 to 45, here Tuesday night, but the Post Does beat the Ralls girls' team, 58 to 40, behind the 45-point performance of Sherry Bird.

In a preliminary to the varsity games, the Ralls "B" team outlasted the Post "B" cagers, 56 to 33, with Coach Cliff Hightower's team almost catching up in the closing minutes after trailing by big margins at the end of each of the first three quarters.

The Jackrabbits, co-favorites with Frenship to win the district championship, brought their loop mark to 2-1 with their win here Tuesday night, and left Coach Bert Leaverton's Post team with a 1-2 district record.

Their victory over the lady Jackrabbits was the second district win for Coach Jiggs King's Post Does, giving them a 2-3 mark in district competition.

The Antelopes' start in the varsity game was colder than the 10-degree weather outside, with the Jackrabbits putting nine points on the scoreboard before the Lopes registered on Randall Hays' field goal with five and a half minutes of the first quarter gone.

Both teams were plagued by turnovers, but the smaller Antelopes had about twice as many as the ball-hawking, hot-shooting Jackrabbits.

Ralls led 20-7 at the end of the first quarter, 47-19 at halftime, and 74-30 going into the fourth period. Five Jackrabbits scored in double figures, with James Langston's 29 points taking scoring honors. David Woods' 10 points was the only double figure posted by the Antelopes.

Starter Robert Pace was carried off the court with a knee injury late in the fourth quarter, further reducing the size of the Antelope squad, which already had lost W. D. Sims because of illness, and Charles Curtis because of grade difficulties.

Sherry Bird's 45 points in the girls' game came on 14 buckets from the field and 17 from the free throw line. Post's only other scorer was 13 points by Stephanie Davis on five field goals and three free throws. Trena Jackson, Jackie

Pork producers have retailored their product

COLLEGE STATION — The type of pork that is produced and eaten today has 22 per cent more protein than formerly, 57 per cent less fat and 36 per cent fewer calories.

This is due to the selection program initiated during the middle 1950s by pork producers, Dr. William B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist, notes, adding that they had hopes that this would eventually lead to the high quality pork products that are now available to the consumer.

"Up until the mid 50s, little had been done by producers to breed pigs that had a maximum amount of lean meat and minimum fat," he explained. "You see, pigs inherit to a degree their musculing and fat from their parents, the boar and sow."

"Pork producers by selecting superior breeding stock, boars and sows with a minimum amount of fat and maximum lean, have been able to improve the quality of pork available to consumers at the local meat market."

An average serving of cooked pork (3½ ounces) will provide an adult male with 40 per cent of his daily protein needs, 69 per cent of his thiamine (Vitamin B1) requirement, sufficient amounts of other vitamins and minerals, especially iron, and less than eight per cent of his daily calorie intake. These figures are based on the daily allowance of nutrients recommended by the National Research Council.

"There is a greater supply of high quality pork today than ever before," Dr. Thomas said.

Drillstem test recovers oil

Sun Oil Co. has recovered oil on a drillstem test at No. 1 Swenson & Sons, wildcat 19 miles northeast of Post in Garza County.

A section from 7,377-7,393 feet was tested one and one-half hours. Recovery included 4,000 feet of oil and 350 feet of salt water.

Flowing pressure was 1,150 lbs. Initial shut-in bottomhole pressure after one hour, was 3,235 pounds, and one and one-half hour final shut-in pressure was 3,234 pounds.

A drillstem test of a section from 7,393-7,403 feet, open one and one-half hours, recovered 465 feet of gas- and water-cut mud.

The drillsite is 1,960 feet from north and west lines of Section 9, Block 2, H&N Survey.

Area gets first real taste winter weather

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
Hello out there in newspaper land. The holidays are over and everything is beginning to settle down to normal around the old hometown! Monday we had our first real taste of winter, with the temperature dropping down to about 8 or 9 degrees. We have had a nice fall and winter so far, so I think it is about time for a little cold weather!

The hearts of the people in Southland and surrounding communities are still filled with great sorrow in the passing of Dayneen Dunn early Thursday morning, Dec. 31. Dayneen had been battling with cancer for quite a few months and we all thought that she was winning the battle, but not so, because on Monday afternoon, Dec. 27th, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunn, rushed her to Methodist Hospital where they were told the sad news that she was in critical condition.

Memorial services for her were held Saturday morning at the Slaton Church of Christ with burial in the Southland Cemetery. This brave young girl will be missed so very, very much, but thank you, dear God, for having let us know and love Dayneen for as long as we did. We extend our deepest sympathies to her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunn, and to her two brothers, E. L. and Jackie. May God comfort them in their great sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Becker and boys spent the Christmas holidays in Kansas City (Lea Wood) and Kingsville, Mo., visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blyth and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Becker and family. While they were there, Mrs. Junior Becker celebrated her birthday. Here's a belated "Happy Birthday" Louise.

Our holiday company was Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bryan of Farmington, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dozier of House, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thomas and children of Lubbock, Lt. and Mrs. Jerry Donahoo of Killen and Wallace Saage of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis's company over the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Giles and son, Wendell of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis of Ralls, Mr. and Mrs. Bunch Fullingam of Lorenzo, Mr. and Mrs. John Spikes of Lubbock and his sister, Lillie, of Dallas. Mrs. Paul Winterrowd, Breonna and Jerry spent Christmas in Ft. Worth visiting with relatives. On Sunday after Christmas, they attended the Winterrowd Christmas party which was held in the B. C. Johnston home in Slaton. Mrs. Winterrowd celebrated her birthday sometime during the holidays, so here is a belated "Happy Birthday, Cookie!"

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Crawford had all their children and their families home for Christmas and they are: Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Maner and children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wayne Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Webster Crawford, and of course, Debra!

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beatty and David Pope of El Paso spent the holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Myers. On Christmas Day, Kelly, Bruce and David Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers and a son from Post, Mrs. David Beatty from El Paso and Mrs. Billy Stephenson from Abilene, went to Hereford and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ned Myers and girls. On Sunday, they all spent the day here in Southland in the Myers' home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke of Kingsland are here visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Mickey Miles spent the holidays with her husband who is stationed in Alabama.

Rev. Jordan, Baptist minister who suffered a heart attack about two months ago, is getting a long real fine and now is allowed to stay out of bed all day and get outside for awhile on nice days.

Mrs. Ed Lieske, who underwent surgery several weeks ago, is getting along real fine and invites all her friends to come and visit her.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Long of Union visited here with his parents over the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and Cathy visited J. H. Poindexter in Lubbock on Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Rod Callaway visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stolle, at Shallowater during the holiday.

Patricia Pollard of Washington, D. C., visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Pollard during the holidays. The Pollards live on the "Lary K" ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Stonewall Jefferson's granddaughter, Dorene, of Fort Worth spent the holidays here with them. They returned her to Fort Worth Sunday.

This week may prove to be a very exciting week for Edmund and me. Our first grandchild is due to be born today (Jan. 4) and our 25th anniversary is on the 6th. Two great and wonderful events in our lives, and both to take place in the same week. How about that? Edmund and I have been so excited with the prospects of becoming grandparents! I'm sure you will be hearing more about this later.

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt Hillis spent the Christmas holidays visiting relatives and friends at Bryan. Patsy and Gary Lyles moved from Houston to Lubbock this week. Gary will be working on his master's degree at Texas Tech and Patsy hopes to do some substitute teaching. Patsy is the former Patsy Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Stolle of A. & M. have been here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Stolle.

Roy Stolle and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stolle of Shallowater visited with Rod and Beverly Callaway Saturday.

Southland's Junior High basketball teams will be playing in the Fluvanna tournament on Jan. 7, 8, 9. Good luck, kids! The high school teams will play a conference game with Meadow on Tuesday Jan. 5, here at Southland, and will play New Home, there, on Jan. 12. Good luck, teams!

Brother Harris from Lubbock has been holding the worship services at the Southland Baptist Church since Rev. Jordan has been sick.

Holiday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Pennell were: Mr. and Mrs. Don Harlan Pennell and Matthew of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pennell and Kim of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Ferguson of Post, Jimmy Ferguson of Little Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Louis Pennell and Heath of Plainview, Mrs. Lynn Freeman of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cederholm of Post and Ronny Curry of Amarillo. Ronny is a student at West Texas State in Canyon.

Ronnie Dunn was on the sick list this past week but is feeling some better now.

Talked to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belk and children Saturday. Mr. Belk is a former Southland school teacher and is now teaching in the Levelland schools. They are doing fine and said to tell all their friends hello.

Here's a little something to think about:

If you want to be happy, Begin where you are, Don't wait for some rapture That's future and far. Begin to be joyous, begin to be glad

And soon you'll forget That you ever were sad.

State income tax seen as possible

Garza counties, along with other Texans, got the word this week that the next legislature just might be forced to pass a state income tax.

James W. McGrew, executive director of the Texas Research League, said Sunday when asked about the state income tax possibility on a radio-TV panel program. "If they are faced with an $800 million tax bill, yes, I think so." "Of course, I realize that they are all pledged against this. At the same time, I remember that there was an overwhelming number of legislators elected at the 1961 session who were pledged against a sales tax — and they did find a way to vote for it."

McGrew predicted that if the senators and representatives are not willing to raise the current state sales tax rate and remove exemptions sufficiently to yield $300 million to $400 million a year, then the legislature will "find itself forced to give consideration to the income taxes," or rigid economies.

He estimated a one per cent personal income tax, based on the federal income tax provisions, would yield about $110 million a year and a one per cent corporation income tax about $45 million a year.

Santa Fe will spend less in '71, Reed says

CHICAGO — The capital expenditures program planned for Santa Fe Industries companies in 1971 will approximate $125 million, compared with an estimated expenditure of $160 million in 1970, John S. Reed, president, announced today in Chicago.

The decrease is accounted for largely by reason of having substantially completed construction in 1970 of the Gulf Central and Chaparral pipeline systems.

"The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway plans to spend approximately $90 million," Reed said. "Major improvements authorized include 2,623 freight cars, 15 road freight diesels, 297 track miles of continuously welded rail, and rebuilding and conversion of 12 locomotive units for road switcher service."

"There will be new piggyback and container facilities constructed at Houston, Tex., and Clovis, N.M., and improvements made to existing facilities at Chicago, Ill., and Kansas City, Kans., including a new straddle-lift crane at Kansas City."

"Plans include improvements to microwave communications and signal systems, and installation of electronic scanners for an automatic car identification system at Kansas City. The present program of extensive repair and upgrading of the freight car fleet and new car construction concentrated at the Topeka shops will be continued."

Higher prices boosted values of 1970 crops

WASHINGTON — Despite a slump in total production from 1969, higher prices boosted the value of farm crops last year to a record $41.1 billion, says the Agriculture Department.

The 1970 crop values were included in a year-end report showing corn, as usual, as the most valuable commodity. At nearly $5.3 billion, the crop was worth about $200 million more in 1970 than a year earlier.

The reasons for the increase, according to the report, included improved prices during the year, $1.34 per bushel, compared with $1.16 for 1969.

Higher prices for soybeans also contributed to a higher total value for that crop, $3.2 billion last year, compared with $2.6 billion in 1969. Soybeans averaged $2.82 per bushel in 1970, compared with $2.35 in 1969.

The third most-valuable crop was wheat, $3 billion hay crop farmers produced last year, slightly more than in 1969.

All wheat was worth $1.87 billion, compared with $1.8 billion in 1969. The price averaged $1.36 per bushel, compared with $1.24 in 1969.

Other crops in the billion-dollar or more category included: cotton $1.5 billion, and tobacco $1.37 billion.

High traffic death and injury toll being predicted for state in 1970s

DALLAS — Nobody knows who it will be — a child, the mother or the father — but during the 1970's in Texas, at least one out of every one and one-half families will see one of their own dead or injured in a traffic accident.

The Insurance Information Institute said today that, on the basis of present trends, one out of every 78 Texas families, on the average, will have an immediate family member die in traffic before 1980. One out of every 1.6 families will have a parent or child injured in traffic during the same decade.

The Institute said the calculations are projections of the death and injury rate for the next ten years, based upon what has happened during the past ten years. Also noted was an apparent reduction in traffic deaths and injuries in 1970 and the Institute expressed the hope that this trend will continue.

So they will have help in footing the bill for the estimated 3,055,000 fatal and injury accidents over the ten years, Texans will pay at least $10.8 billion for various kinds of automobile insurance. This amount probably will go higher because the projection was based only on the increase in accidents and injuries, with no allowance for inflation, a factor too uncertain to predict.

While safety advances in the engineering of cars and highways may slow down the growing number of accidents, injuries and deaths, the increased number of people and cars in Texas traffic may offset any such benefit.

One other factor should be remembered, the Institute said. The accident that doesn't happen kills no one, injures nobody and costs nothing.

The data upon which the projections were made came from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, Texas Department of Public Safety and the Texas State Board of Insurance, the Institute said.

Job relocation tax deductions are changed for '70, CPA says

(This is the second of a series of articles prepared by the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants offering advice on filing 1970 income tax returns.)

The 1969 Tax Reform Act made significant changes in the 1970 consequences of moving to a new home because of a job change or transfer by one's employer, according to Miller Montag, president of the Texas Society of CPAs.

The new law broadened the allowable deduction for the costs of such a move, Montag said, and extended the moving expenses deduction under certain circumstances to self-employed individuals. But the law also added new limitations.

One test of whether moving costs are deductible is the distance moved. Under the prior tax law, the distance from one's former residence to his new job had to be at least 20 miles greater than it was to the old job. That minimum has now been increased to 50 miles, Montag said.

There is still a requirement, he said, that the taxpayer work full time at the new location for at least 39 weeks in the 12 month period following the move, in order to qualify for the deduction.

Moving expenses formerly a deductible household effects, still deductible include the costs of transporting, packing, crating and in-transit storage as well, and the costs of travel, meals and lodging for the taxpayer and his family in making the move.

The new law permits the further deduction of travel, meal and lodging expenses incurred in pre-move house-hunting trips and, after obtaining employment, meals and lodging during a period of up to 30 days while waiting at the new job location to take occupancy of the new home.

Also, Montag said, attorneys' fees as well as real estate agents' commissions and other expenses incurred in disposing of the old residence and acquiring the new one can be deducted.

Expenses incurred in moving the taxpayer's household goods and transporting members of the household to the new home are not subject to any limitation. But the other indirect expenses of moving have an overall limit of $2,500, he said, including no more than $1,000 for the cost of house hunting trips and temporary living costs.

Any reimbursement of moving expenses made by an employer

Big parade set for stock show

FORT WORTH — Plans are being made for a mammoth All-Western Parade through downtown Fort Worth to herald the opening of the 75th Diamond Anniversary edition of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and Rodeo, reports Tom B. Saunders III, parade chairman.

The anniversary Stock Show will be held Jan. 29 through Feb. 7, 1971. "Quite a number of riding groups, school bands and horse-drawn floats have accepted invitations to be a part of the anniversary parade," Saunders said. "However, anyone is allowed to participate, and we still have room in the line-up."

In keeping with tradition, only marching units and horse-drawn vehicles are allowed. No motorized vehicles are accepted. Reservations for a place in the 1971 parade are being taken at the stock show office, P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

It's the Law...

GOOD (BUT FOOLISH) SAMARITAN
Farmer Green was standing near a highway crossing when he saw a car run a red light, bounce off a truck, and land in the ditch. He ran over. Finding the car on its side, with the driver trapped and injured, he managed to lift it up-right.
Unhappily, he also managed to strain his own back. Later, after the first few doctor bills, the farmer decided to seek damages from the man he had saved.
"It was his original bad driving that led to my injury," Green reasoned in court.
"But he took his own chances in coming to my rescue," countered the motorist. "If the car was that heavy, he should have gone for help. I appreciate his effort, but I am not liable for his bad judgment."
Nevertheless, the court upheld the farmer's claim, because his injury was indeed a direct result of the motorist's negligence. As for any "bad judgment," the court said a Good Samaritan could not be expected to show perfect prudence under the stress of an emergency.
Generally speaking, because of a Samaritan's good motives, his conduct is judged with extra tolerance. This is true even if there is no real emergency at all. Take this case:
A faulty freezer in a hotel kitchen began to leak fumes of ammonia. One of the waiters, fearing for the cook's safety, rushed to her aid. But in his haste, he suffered a painful fall.
When he sought damages afterward for his injury, the hotel management pointed out that at no time had the cook been in any real danger. Yet the waiter won a judgment, because there had been at least enough appearance of danger "to excite a person of ordinary humanitarian instincts to take action."
Still, the law does draw a line when the Samaritan's action is not only risky but downright reckless. In another case, a woman was killed by a train when she tried to snatch her dog from in front of an oncoming express.
Was the railroad legally liable for her death? A court said no. The judge held that with danger so obvious, and with no human life at stake, she had taken a risk that could not reasonably be justified.
