

The new highway committee of Post Chamber of Commerce has been in action seeking "Post sign" on US-87 at Tahoka the intersection with US-380.

The state highway department by Mr. S. E. Camp, chairman of the highway committee, in effect says, "but we are afraid we might be an accident."

At least the highway department is aware that the Post Chamber has a committee for handling highway matters.

Camp made his request to O. L. district highway engineer in Tahoka after the Chamber had received two complaints from motorists who said they missed the turnoff to Post and drove on to Lubbock, going miles out of way.

Camp wrote in reply that both signs and Brownfield are displayed on both front roads to Tahoka to indicate direction to the motorist who has made his interchange from US-87.

At the practice on expressway signs, a minimum of decisions for motorist are to be displayed on higher speed main lanes, the highway designation and the local or roadway name is given in the main lanes, the more destinations displayed on the "stage roads." Crain wrote to planning these signs of decision to be properly spaced with exit, speed, and decisions for the motorist considered best reserved until he is in the slower speed area, to avoid a "confusion" of signs and influence serious driver error. Crain added, He reported signs are in place, have been checked, are in good condition, and in my opinion that the signs as placed will guide the motorist on the desired route."

On this all up and one reaches conclusion that a lot more months seeking the turnoff to Post just drive right on through Lubbock on US-87 unless they decide to "live by the numbers" which includes knowing the way numbers and not needing signs.

For those who haven't quite reached this digit plateau of modifying we would advise just going down the frontage roads instead of using the high speed highway.

Our opinion — and we don't need this to influence the state highway department — that the minimum signing policy on Texas highways not only confuses motorists butangers many and causes them to even brake to sudden stops "back up" toward highway exit realizing they just missed turnoff.

Unless a driver has a "prior" in the front seat with whom is constantly alert and (See Postings, page 8)

Brochures tell markers' story

Copies of the Garza County marker brochure, dedicated to "Scouty" Samson, were distributed at the group's regular meeting Tuesday morning.

Marie Tuffing expressed the committee's appreciation of Mrs. C. Surman's "wonderful work" in planning and compiling the brochure, which contains pictures and names of each of the county's historical markers.

Surman, to whom the brochure is dedicated, is chairman of the marker committee.

The observance of Memorial Day, Mrs. Dockworth read the names of those who paid tribute to the Civil War veterans who are buried in Terrace Cemetery, with Gwendolyn acting as committee chairman.

Members paying tribute to the veterans, Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick reported she has been put on the program to work at the museum.

In addition to being distributed to members, copies of the markers brochure were given to the Chamber of Commerce for distribution to motorists.

Those attending Tuesday's meeting were: Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Duckworth, J. A. Stallings, Vic Slater, Mrs. J. E. Parker, Wyvo and Mrs. J. B. Potts, Giles C. McCreary, Mrs. Boren, Mrs. Tuffing, Mrs. Evelyn Neff, Mrs. V. V. Davis, Doll Haire, Mrs. Barreras, Mrs. Tillman Jones, and Lola Peel.

Summer program for youngsters set to go

Post's city and county-sponsored summer youth recreation program, providing supervised games and athletics for boys and girls who will be in the third through the ninth grades, is to get under way Monday, June 7, and continue through July 31.

The recreation for the youngsters will be held during the morning hours only — from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock — according to Coach Joe

MICKEY PRIDDY

Mickey Priddy, 29, victim of cancer

Mickey Priddy, 29, a native of Post and a graduate of Post High School, died of cancer at 8:10 a.m. Monday in the Brooke Army Hospital at San Antonio following a year's illness.

Funeral services were to be held at 9:30 a.m. today (Thursday) at Brooke-Hill Funeral Home chapel, with burial in the military cemetery at San Antonio.

Priddy had been in the U. S. Air Force since about 1962, soon after his graduation from high school here.

He was born in Post on Jan. 14, 1942, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Priddy. His mother died in 1964.

He is survived by his wife, Phyllis; a 2½-year-old daughter, Ser (See Priddy Rites, page 8)

Last rites held Wednesday for Mrs. Mathis, 98

Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Martha Ann Mathis, who at 98 was one of Garza County's oldest residents.

Mrs. Mathis died about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Twin Cedar Nursing Home, where she had resided for the last 18 months. Her home was in the Grassland-Grassland area, west of Post.

Born Martha Ann Ramsey on July 26, 1872, at Timpson, Tex., she was married there to E. B. Mathis on Jan. 21, 1892. They moved to Garza County in 1916, where Mr. Mathis was engaged in farming until his death in 1937.

Mrs. Mathis was a member of the Methodist church at Grassland.

Survivors include four sons, Leonard, Buford and Preston Mathis, all of the Post vicinity, and Ross Mathis of Amarillo; four daughters, Mrs. Lonnie Curry of Erick, Okla., Mrs. Ora White of Vernon, Mrs. Belah Mae Curry of Merced, Calif., and Miss Etta Nichols of Fresno, Calif.; 18 grandchildren, 27 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

The Rev. Rboert D. Griffin, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services.

Burial was in Grassland Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Claude Thomas, John Davis, Ade Cook, Emery Stevens, Ted Aten and W. H. Childs.

Annual Memorial Day rites held

Approximately 80 persons gathered at Terrace Cemetery at 10 a.m. Monday for the annual Memorial Day service and heard Nicholas Vukad, District 7 commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, pay tribute to the nation's war dead, its veterans and the men still engaged in fighting the nation's battles.

The speaker reminded his listeners of the Southeast Asia engagement that has been going on for the last six years or so and in which young Americans continue to fall.

"Scarcely an American is beyond its impact," Vukad said. "No one can be indifferent to the sacrifice it has entailed."

The speaker commended the local VFW post and the American Legion for their continuing sponsorship of the Memorial Day observance here.

The invocation was by the Rev. Bob Ford, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, and Max Chaffin read the roll of deceased war veterans of Garza County.

Graves of veterans were decorated, including those of Civil War veterans buried in the cemetery. The decoration of the Civil War veterans' graves is an annual Memorial Day observance of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee. The program also included taps and a VFW firing squad salute.

Methodist pastor reassigned here

The Rev. Bob Ford was reassigned as pastor of the First United Methodist Church here at the annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference held the first four days of last week in Amarillo.

Rev. Ford came to Post last year to succeed the Rev. O. Curtis Lee as pastor.

No pastoral changes in the immediate Post area were made at the church conference. Attending from Post were Jack Lott, lay delegate, and Rev. Ford and family.

Scholarships are awarded students

A number of scholarships, awarded by various donors, were presented at Post High School commencement exercises last Friday night, with James E. Pollard, high school principal, in charge of the presentations.

The graduation exercises for the 37 seniors were to have been held in Antelope Stadium, but were moved to the elementary school auditorium because of threatening weather.

The Lindy Lou Bird scholarship, awarded for the first time this year, was presented to Larry Bilberry by Supt. Bill Shiver.

Bilberry also received the Amity Study Club scholarship, with the presentation made by club member Barbara Babb.

The Xi Delta Rho chapter's scholarship went to Martha Rosas, with Mrs. Cecil Smith making the presentation.

Herb Germer presented the Texas State Teachers' Association scholarship to Robert Pace.

The valedictorian state college scholarship and a church college scholarship for being the highest ranking student went to Peggy Bevers.

Carol Davies received the salutatorian scholarship and a church scholarship for being the second highest ranking student.

A church scholarship also went to Larry Moreman for being the highest ranking boy in the graduation class.

A music award, given by Mrs. being made by Supt. Shiver in Mrs. Tillman L. Jones, went to the high school band, with the presentation by Jones' absence.

Rains provide moisture for dryland planting

Drought unbroken, but dust settled

Thunderstorms, which ranged over West Texas for three delightful days and nights last weekend, dumped from one to 5½ inches of moisture over most of the county to virtually assure the planting of some 20,000 dryland acres to cotton which last Thursday were so dry the seed would have been wasted.

Maybe the storms didn't break the drought, but they certainly did settle the dust.

County Agent Syd Conner told The Dispatch that "another weekend like the last one with the 5½ inches falling where the inch fell last weekend and everything would be all right."

But he added the sobering observation: "That moisture was awfully spotty. Some tanks still didn't catch any water and some farmers don't have enough moisture yet to plant their cotton."

Post officially received 2.46 inches of moisture with almost half of it coming at sunset last Thursday evening when 1.20 inches blew in on strong winds with some light hail added for good measure.

The official rain gauge recorded .91 of an inch for the Friday night shower, which was a much milder one, and .35 for the Saturday and Sunday morning showers.

It was more moisture — a lot more in fact — than has fallen here in the rest of the seven months since last Oct. 1.

The official 1971 moisture count for Post up to last Thursday was just 1.48 inches with the biggest portion of that falling in the 78 inch shower May 8.

To show just how deep the drought is here, Post will need a total of 5.48 inches of rain in June — which is exactly twice the 62-year average of 2.49 for June — to break the drought and push Post back up to the average rainfall for the first six months of the year of 9.42 inches.

For May, at least, recorded moisture totaled more than that 62-year average. The monthly total was 3.25 inches as compared with the May average rainfall of only 2.57 inches.

The June average for moisture is 2.49 inches, for the first six months of the year is 9.42 inches, and for the year is 19.32 inches.

Before last Thursday there probably hadn't been a single acre of dryland cotton planted in Garza County.

Of over 40,000 acres which are expected to be planted to cotton in Garza County, only 14,000 to 15,000 (See Moisture, page 8)

ANOTHER STORMY WEATHER BENEFIT

2.5 billion gallons are added to lake

Over two and one-half billion gallons of water — all Post, Kalls, Spur and Crosbyton will use in the next four years — poured into the White River Lake over the weekend, although the lake area only received a half inch of moisture itself.

The quick rise boosted the level of the lake 4.3 feet to within 2.3 feet of the full mark at the dam.

When full the lake is 60 feet deep at the dam. It had fallen 8.6 feet below the full level due basically to evaporation.

The weekend rise, due to heavy rains farther up the White River watershed, boosted the lake level back up to 66.7 feet.

It also gave Post and other member cities some "discolored water" yesterday although the water was safe to drink and had been fully chlorinated.

At O'Brien, water district manager, here yesterday afternoon, told The Dispatch that "this was the first time a sudden big rise in the lake has caught us without the right filtration plant formula in the five-year history of the plant."

O'Brien explained that filtration plant operators had to change chemicals because of the turbidity of the water caused by the sudden rise in the lake.

"We knew we had a problem at 4 p.m. Monday and worked all through the night before we found the right formula for clearing the water," O'Brien said. "For the first time since the day the plant opened we had to use lime. It's a trial and error sort of thing. We had to experiment to see what would work. Naturally some of the discolored water got through the plant and into the lines. We couldn't shut the plant down and we (See Lake Gains, page 8)

Garza moves from Rosson's district

Garza County this week finds itself in a new Texas House of Representatives district, which also includes Heckley and Crosby counties, the southern part of Hale County and most of rural Lubbock County, plus a part of the City of Lubbock.

Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock will be Garza County's new representative in the House, with the county being pulled out of Rep. Renal B. Rosson's district.

In a redistricting plan for the 19th Congressional District approved by a House committee Tuesday, Garza County would remain in Cong. George Mahon's district, with Scurry and Motley being the only counties dropped.

Consideration of redistricting for state senators may be taken up in the special session of the legislature called by Gov. Preston Smith. Otherwise, that problem would go to a special commission.

At the present, Garza County is in Sen. David W. Ratliff's 24th Senatorial District.

Post Jaycees to help greet game promoters

Post Jaycees plan to help greet a delegation from Lubbock that will be in Post on Thursday, June 10, to promote the 11th annual Coaches All America Football Game, which will be played in Lubbock on June 26.

Jerry Thuett, project chairman, said the local organization's membership will be on hand to help greet the delegation and will also urge other Post organizations to assist in welcoming the visitors at their scheduled 8:20 a.m. arrival time.

Three Postites to go on 'understanding flight'

Three prominent Post businessmen — Mayor Giles C. McCrary, J. B. Potts and Bob Collier — plan to be among the 1,000 Texans aboard the Texas Flight for Understanding which will wing to Europe in August seeking the release of American prisoners of war in Indochina.

Major stops on the five-day air tour will be Paris, Stockholm and Moscow.

U. S. Gov. Ben Barnes has organized the "Texas Flight for Understanding" and invitations to make the journey were extended last month to Texans throughout the state.

The tentative itinerary for the flight calls for the Texas delegation to assemble near Love Field in Dallas at 4 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 1, for briefing. The group will depart Dallas two hours later non-stop for Paris with dinner and breakfast served on board.

The big delegation is scheduled to arrive at Orly Field in Paris at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Aug. 2. The delegates will then be assigned to six Paris hotels and by late morning ten representatives of the Texas delegation will call on the North Vietnamese to "make specific requests for meeting with the delegation as a whole" and will also engage in a dialogue concerning the North Vietnamese position on the American POWs and why they have been intransigent to requests for release of sick and wounded, total accountability of all POWs, agreement for lateral release with South Vietnamese, third country proposal, impartial inspections, and release for sake of peace.

The big Texas delegation then is scheduled to meet and receive a briefing from the North Vietnamese as to their position on war and the POWs that afternoon.

Later that afternoon, the thousand-person delegation will be broken up into groups of ten to make calls along Embassy Row in Paris making pleas for the delegation's POW position.

That evening, a dinner reception will be hosted for the Texas contingent by the French government.

On Tuesday morning, Aug. 3, the Texas delegation will call on the National Liberation Front residence (Viet Cong) and the same request will be made of the National Liberation Front as to the North Vietnamese.

That afternoon press representatives with the delegation will call on foreign media in Paris asking for support of the cause on behalf of American POWs.

The entire delegation will go to the United States Embassy in Paris in late afternoon to be briefed by (See Flight Trio, page 8)

Calvary Baptist pastor resigns

The Rev. Dale Dozier, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, and family moved Monday to West Point, Ind., where Rev. Dozier will pastor a church there and at Lafayette, Ind.

Rev. Dozier had been pastor of the church here for about a year, but also had been a pastor here previously.

The Doziers' son, Danny, has been a student at Purdue University in Lafayette since his graduation from high school here. The Doziers' daughter, Rhonda, was a spring graduate of Post High School. They also have two other children, James and Julie.

The church's pulpit committee has begun work toward securing a new pastor. The Dispatch was told Wednesday.

This summer's youth program

The summer youth recreational program starting here Monday, June 7, under the supervision of Coach Joe Giddens appears to be "just what the doctor ordered" as far as a community-wide recreation program for young people is concerned.

Both the City of Post and Garza County are financing this summer's program, whereas the city did all the financing of last summer's, which lasted only one month instead of two because of participation dropping off, and which left a lot to be desired in the way of a youth program.

This summer's project appears to be better planned, as well as broader based. The program will be for children from grades three through nine and will be held mornings only instead of all day, as was the case with last summer's effort.

The fact that three girls—two of them college students and the third a spring graduate from high school—have been employed to assist Coach Giddens means that this summer's program will attract girls as well as boys. Last summer, it didn't work out that way, with many more boys than girls participating.

Along with the summer baseball program and the swimming pool, the city and county-financed recreation program should just about take care of summer recreation for the younger boys and girls. As for the older boys and girls are concerned, there is still a big need for suitable recreation.—CD

United Nations gains new supporter

The United Nations is still a favorite target of John Birchers and other far rightwing elements of our society. In recent years, the U. N. has received so much criticism in "Letters to the Editor" columns, which appear to be the favorite medium of many rightwingers, that it does our heart good to read that George Bush, who ran for the U. S. Senate from Texas on the Republican ticket in the last campaign, says he has discovered the U. N. is far more worthwhile than he had imagined.

We are not implying that George Bush leans far to the right, but there is little doubt of his conservatism. So, when he recently told the Dallas Council on World Affairs that "the U. N. is a vital tool for world peace that will be as efficient as its users make it," he struck a blow for the organization.

"In a very short period," Bush said, "I have gone from a more or less indifferent view of the U. N. to a view of strong and enthusiastic support, because I have seen some of the good results the U. N. could produce."

Although world peace is a long way from being a certainty, it is further along than it would be without the U. N.

And among the U. N.'s lesser-known but important tasks are worldwide efforts in such areas as narcotics control, environmental preservation, population control and combating airplane hijacking.

In addition, the organization through its health program is far along toward wiping malaria from the face of the earth.

It is high time that even the John Birchers recognize that in a technological age it is increasingly important that the world have an organization such as the U. N. where countries can meet to iron out their difficulties and to join to solve common problems.—CD

The case for the Wild Turkey

They are making much to do in Wyoming over the killing of a few golden and bald eagles by what some of the eagle lovers describe as "indiscriminate" poisoning on the part of ranchers.

We are as much a believer in wildlife conservation as the next fellow, but we find it difficult to get steamed up over the demise of a few eagles, which more than likely had been preying on the ranchers' young livestock.

Eagles are predators, and we've never much liked their looks anyway.

We are not unaware of the fact that the Bald Eagle is our national symbol, but we think that is one of the biggest mistakes ever made. We've always been of the opinion that the Wild Turkey should have been adopted as the national symbol instead of the cantankerous, fierce-looking eagle.

Benjamin Franklin, the American statesman and scientist, thought a lot of the Wild Turkey and probably was the first to propose that it be adopted as our national symbol instead of the Bald Eagle.

Describing the Wild Turkey as the one bird indigenous to America, Franklin thought it should have been on the country's official great seal to signify independence and liberty.

"The Wild Turkey is a fabulous bird," Franklin once wrote. "It can outrun a galloping horse for a distance long enough to get out of gunshot. Despite its weight, it is agile and swift in flight as well as stout."

The Wild Turkey was almost extinct not too many years ago. We think its survival and propagation in our country is much more of a tribute to American conservation than the protection of the Bald Eagle.

This intelligent, freedom loving bird has earned an honored niche of its own in modern American as well as in early American history, yet has had to play second fiddle to the hostile, unfriendly Bald Eagle.—CD

We heard that the Iowa Public Service Company says that the number of Americans will be about 100 million in the next 30 years. Wonder if anyone has figured out that is enough to fill a new city of 250,000 people every month between now and the year 2000. And here we sit trying to figure out how to get more people in Tahoka. IF YOU GET a raise to $1,000 a week and are required to pay no taxes, how long will it take you to earn a billion dollars?

You'll find the answer to the above question at the bottom of this column.

IT'S DAY-DREAMING, of course, but you'll have to admit it is a pleasant way to start a column.

For the last several weeks I've been collecting nothing except Texas stories. Not Texas Aggie jokes, but just plain old Texas tales. Now is a good time to share a couple of them with my readers.

WHEN THE PARENTS of a 9-year-old threw a party in Dallas recently, they allowed her to stay up, so long as she took care of the guests' coats.

Unobserved, she slipped into the kitchen for a saucer, placing a dime in it and left it on the table near the coat closet.

When the first guest arrived, he noticed the dime and put a quarter in the saucer. After the party, the surprised host and hostess discovered their daughter counting her profits for the evening — $6.70.

An old-timer remembers this bit of historical lore:

"Back in the 1890's, we moved from Arkansas to far West Texas. We took some bacon along with us, but at last it was all gone except a piece of the rind about six inches square, which we saved to cook navy beans with.

"The neighbors learned that we had this bacon rind and some came from as far as 25 miles away, always with the understanding that it was to be used to cook with navy beans.

"But one neighbor borrowed that bacon rind and cooked blackeyed peas with it! That broke up the friendship between the two families and it was almost a year before my father even spoke to him again."

THE MAN UP the street says inflation has become so bad that it has hit the price of feathers. Even down is up.

I read in L. M. Boyd's "Pass It On" column the other day that the perfect secretary stands 5-foot 3 1/2 inches tall, weighs 117 pounds, and tape-measures 36-24-36. That's what a computer figured after starting with a roster of 7,482 secretaries. The computer did not specify whether the perfect secretary typed or took shorthand.

AFTER READING the vital statistics on secretaries, I dug out this clipping on "What Are Secretaries Like?":

Secretaries come in all shapes and sizes, colors and temperaments. Even the most crotchety boss ought to be able to find one to suit him.

A secretary must have a diplomat's tact, a mile's endurance, a salesman's enthusiasm, the sun's punctuality, a sister's loyalty, a rhino's hide, an elephant's memory, a mother's sympathy, and the patience of Job.

She must be purchasing agent (tickets, etc.), cover up (the ink conference), button sewer-on, cryptographer (to read his writing), accountant, and she must keep his appointments straight.

She puts up with Mr. Big's ego, his fuzzy thinking, his 4:30 p.m. dictation. To keep up his confidence she must flatter him despite his brushed-over bald spot, his after-lunch slouch, his 10-cent cigars.

She's nothing, and he is the boss of nothing. No wonder the recording angel smiles understandingly when secretaries apply to get into heaven!

Here is something for baseball fans to look forward to: The first night World Series game in history will be played in this year's series.

UP AT AMARILLO there's a sign at the airport boarding gate fence which reads:

"Don't forget to brag about Amarillo while you're gone."

That would be a good sign for any town, large or small, to erect at places of departure or on highways leading out of town.

"Don't forget to brag about Post while you're gone" — in case you who are reading this are going somewhere and we don't get our sign up in time.

Here is the answer to the question at the top of the column: 19,231 years!

It is colder at the South than at the North Pole.

'Rodeo News' is named Bucking Horse of Year

DENVER, Colo. — He was bred for bucking. And right now he's tops in that cantankerous endeavor, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said here today.

Rodeo News, a sleek 10-year-old bay gelding owned by rodeo stock contractor Reg Kesler, of Rosemary, Alta., Canada, is the reigning Bucking Horse of the Year. He's the first horse bred explicitly for bucking ever to win the title.

His predecessor, Descent, a 15-year-old Palomino gelding owned by Beutler Brothers, Linger and Cervi, claimed the title for a record four straight years. The horse was a spoiled pack animal that proved outstanding in the field of shedding cowboys. Most rodeo horses have backgrounds similar to that of Descent's—spoiled saddle, pack or ranch horses.

But there was never any doubt in Kesler's mind that Rodeo News would buck, and evidently no doubt in the horse's mind either.

"I always wanted to have a horse and name it Rodeo News. I think it's appropriate."

The bronc's dam was a mare bucked many times in competition, and the sire was a Kesler bucking horse. Rodeo News' offspring usually takes a full straight up, often sending the boy skyward.

Last year Rodeo News bucked 40 times, and threw off boys. Most of the cowboys successfully ride him out at the pay window.

To be crowned Bucking Horse of the Year and wear the mounted halter that goes with it, a horse must win a majority of votes from the top 15 saddle bronc riders. The vote was especially sweet for Kesler, because Rodeo News was born to buck.

White River Lake Campment set

Work is now under way for the White River Bible Encampment and Aug. 9-14 on the shores of White River Lake near the Christ building. The campment is for boys and girls in the fourth grade through eighth grade. It will be directed by "Pop" Farley of Lubbock, the director of Campment near Las Vegas, N.M., and Joseph Johnson, pastor of the Church of Christ at White River. Johnson will be assistant director. The camp is described as "a camp for pioneer-minded boys and girls." The staff of directors for the camp include Larry West

BASEBALL FAN COMPLAINS

Dear Editor: This letter may not mean much to you as a newspaper, but I have a gripe and really didn't know who to write.

We came to Post the other night for baseball games at Nichols Park, and were astounded to find no bathroom facilities. Either the commodes have been removed, destroyed — or otherwise. But the fact remains that someone, possibly the children, attending have used and Silas Short, both of Post, and Arnold Sanderson of White River.

the floor as a substitute, and the odor is tremendous.

My gripe is: Since this is the only recreation offered at this time of year, why can't some sanitary facilities be offered at the same time?

I realize the program operates probably on donations alone, but anyone and everyone would appreciate their money being applied where needed, and this is definitely a must.

I talked to several people and they didn't know who to contact. If it's at all possible, would this letter (I am one of several people wondering) make any difference in the installation of proper facilities?

Sincerely,
MRS. JOE KINMAN
Lubbock, Tex.

(Dear Mrs. Kinman: We agree you have a legitimate "gripe" and we have checked it out with the president of the Central Baseball Committee and one of the league managers. They tell us that at one time rest room facilities were available, but were destroyed by vandals, as have been so many other things at David Nichols Park, which is not locked at night. The league officials informed us that steel doors are being built for the rest rooms and that once these doors are in place — hopefully in the near future — the commodes and other rest room facilities will be re-installed. They feel, however, that until these "vandal proof" doors are in place it would be a waste of time and money to put the rest rooms back in operation. —The Editor.)

Social Security checks out with higher amounts

Social security checks to be delivered today (Thursday) to 1.3 million men, women and children in Texas will be higher than the monthly amounts they have been receiving.

John G. Hutton, social security manager in Lubbock, said that the checks covering benefit payments for the month of May will include the general ten per cent increase in benefits signed into law by President Nixon on March 17.

The payments are retroactive to Jan. 1. Separate checks, scheduled to reach social security beneficiaries on June 23, will cover the amount of the increases for the retroactive months of January

April bond sales here hit $8,918

April sales of Series E and H U.S. Savings Bonds in Garza County were $8,918, according to County Bond Chairman J. B. Potts. Sales for the first four months totaled $26,458 with 20 per cent of the 1971 goal achieved.

Sales in Texas during April totaled $17,799,730, while year-to-date sales were $69,658,537 with 38 per cent of the 1971 goal of $181.9 million achieved.

Nationally, Savings Bond sales through April.

Hutton said the increase raises the monthly benefit rate of social security payments in Texas by nearly $12 million — to a total of about $125 million.

Nationally, the new monthly benefit rate totals $2.9 billion paid to 26.2 million beneficiaries.

during the month totaled $463 million, 26.7 per cent above 1970 sales. Sales for the four-month period amounted to $1,838 million, 18.1 per cent above a year earlier.

"During this time of year many people are looking for suitable graduation and wedding gifts. Savings Bonds make ideal gifts for any occasion for they are the gift that keeps on giving. They can be bought at your local bank and the Savings Bonds Division has supplied all banks with special gift envelopes when bonds are given as gifts," Chairman Potts said.

New consumer protection laws recently passed by Congress

COLLEGE STATION — Two new consumer protection laws recently passed by Congress, effective on April 25, reports Mrs. Doris Myers, extension specialist in home management at Texas A&M University. One new law states that an individual will not be liable for any loss from unauthorized use of his credit card after he has reported its disappearance to the issuer. The other law, titled the "Fair Credit Reporting Act," gives consumers some rights against the use of erroneous data in the files of credit bureaus.

According to the law affecting lost credit cards, an individual may report the loss by telephone or by letter to the issuer. Most companies will cancel use of the card once they have been notified. If the notice is by letter, cancellation is effective the day the letter is post-marked. For losses occurring before notification, liability is limited to $50.

The $50 liability applies separately to each card that is lost. So, if a billfold or purse containing five credit cards is misplaced, the potential maximum liability is a total of $250. If a husband and wife lose their cards on a joint account, however, the total liability is limited to $50.

The new law also prohibits banks and other firms from mailing out unrequested credit cards. Companies must inform the user of his rights and potential liabilities, plus they must assume the legal burden of paying for liabilities the card holder may suffer.

The Fair Credit Reporting Act, the second new law protecting consumers, generally forbids bureaus to send out adverse information that is more than seven years old. The exceptions include bankruptcy, which may be reported up to 14 years; and information in reports on those applying for a loan or life insurance policy of $50,000 or more, and those applying for a job with an annual salary of $20,000 or more, both situations having no time limit.

Once informed that a credit bureau has hampered your credit, insurance of employment status you have the right to obtain from that bureau all information in your file. The exception is medical information.

Very Inexpensive Pest Control Service
 For as little as $12.50 you can have your home de-bugged with a 12 months guarantee that it will stay pest free (excluding of course, relatives and neighborhood kids). Also free estimates on yard spraying and termite inspection.
BOB HUDMAN
 — DIAL 495-2187 —

If the file contains false, incomplete or inaccurate information about you, the material may be investigated by the credit bureau and the findings sent at your request to all who have received a report within the past six months or within the last two years, if the file was sent for employment purposes.

VACATION CARE FOR APPLIANCES

Before going off on vacation, the homemaker of the family can usually be seen clutching checklists, hoping that she won't forget anything important. One subtitle under "House" should be "Care for Appliances."

Actually, common sense and good housekeeping are the guidelines. But in the flurry of planning and packing, little things can be overlooked. So line up the particulars:

1. Plan to clean appliances thoroughly or risk returning to find that bugs have decided to vacation in your home — drawn by crumbs and spills. Besides, it is a nice welcome home present to have everything in clean, ready-to-go condition.
2. Other members in the family can help. While you clean the oven, someone else can wash away stickiness on the electric can opener; wash off refrigerator walls and racks while you dispose of perishables that won't last through vacation; and de-crumbs the toaster while you send the last of the laundry through the washing machine.
3. On the day of departure, make the last meal hearty, but prepared ahead or taken out of the freezer so that a once-over-lightly of range, counters and sink will get you out of the kitchen quickly.
4. Don't leave soiled dishes in the dishwasher or sink. And do leave a dishwasher lid or door open slightly so air can circulate.
5. Run cold water through a food waste disposer for several minutes after the food is ground to thoroughly clean the unit.
6. Make a note of anything that is to be disconnected or turned off. Actually nothing has to be disconnected—except a dehumidifier that does not have a drain hose or an automatic shut-off when the pan is full. But some things you'll probably want to turn off, such as, air conditioners. It is also a good idea to shut off the water supply to outdoor faucets, the washing machine and an ice maker in a refrigerator-freezer. And though pulling plugs isn't necessary, in your final tour through the house before leaving, be sure controls on non-use appliances are set at "off." If you will be away a long time, you may want to empty the refrigerator, disconnect, and clean it thoroughly. Then leave the door slightly ajar to allow for some air circulation.
7. If possible, have a neighbor check your house every few days. Aside from watering plants or feeding the fish, they can note any irregularities. This person should also have instructions as to what to do if a problem arises — fuses to check, or perhaps an electrician or plumber to call.

Pink Ladies will host membership coffee June 10

The Garza Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will host a membership coffee in the bank Community Room Thursday, June 10, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. All members and contributing members are invited to attend as well as others interested in the hospital.

The three main objectives in the auxiliary are service to mankind by its work, making money to help maintain the hospital, and to advertise it. The auxiliary feels the county is fortunate to have the hospital here, since many small towns are losing theirs, and proposes that everyone work together to see that the hospital stays.

The main project of the auxiliary will be to remodel the hospital lobby. Any donations to help will be appreciated.

A memorial fund has been set up, and as memorials are received an acknowledgement will be sent to the bereaved families.

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILER

Among the new books we now have available in the library is Emma Lathen's newest mystery, "Ashes to Ashes." And it's a humdinger!

You wouldn't believe the complications that can develop when a bishop decides to close a Catholic school and sell the land to a real estate developer. At first, it is a group of concerned parents who file a suit against the bishop. This is embarrassing to the bishop, but does little to change the man's mind.

Then comes murder, and the parents' crusade to save St. Bernadette's school begins to look like a significant cause for national concern. TV and Time magazine get in on the act. From there the cause is taken up by Women's Lib and the Hippie Culture.

Finally, what started as a small group of angry parents, develops into a protest march in the UN Plaza. This is a delightful commentary on contemporary America and its cults and causes. And beyond that, it is a genuine puzzler with a solution which will completely surprise you — at least it did me — and yet makes sense.

I can recommend "Ashes to Ashes" by Emma Lathen. In fact, I can recommend all her books.

Among the new fiction we've just acquired, you'll find these titles: "The Throne of Saturn" by Allen Drury. Mr. Drury is the man who showed us the inside of Washington politics in "Advice and Consent" best book. This one is a look at NASA and an attempt to get our men to Mars.

Irving Stone has ground out another fictional biography called "The Passions of the Mind". It's about Sigmund Freud who was an authority on passion and the mind. Unfortunately Mr. Stone doesn't seem to have mastered either.

James Leo Herlihy, the man who wrote "Midnight Cowboy", has come up with a new book called "The Season of the Witch". It has been enthusiastically greeted by the reviewers. It's a bit on the weird side, so handle with caution.

James A. Michener has established a strong reputation as a good story teller. His books "Hawaii" and "The Source" are still immensely popular and widely read. He has a new one out called "The Drifters". It's about a group of young people — somewhat hippie his best book. This one is a look at types, I suppose — who roam across Europe. It's probably bound to be popular.

Do you like P. G. Wodehouse? This zany man, who created the unforgettable "Jeeves" has turned out more than 80 books in his writing career, and he's still at it. His latest is called "The Girl in Blue". You can count on Wodehouse for giving you the most insane complications ever devised in fiction, the most eccentric cast of characters, and the most ridiculous situations the imagination can dream up. It doesn't prove anything at all — unless a reminder that people are funny, and a healthy dose of laughter.

The Gothic Novel is a popular phenomena these days. One author who has begun to work this field is Naomi A. Hintze. Last year she came out with a thriller called "You'll Like My Mother". Now she follows that with a new one called "The Stone Carnation". It, too, looks like a winner.

Anne Maybury is another Gothic novel writer who has written a new one called "Ride a White Dolphin". Along the same lines, we can offer you "The Dwelling Place" by Catherine Cookson.

As for mysteries, Ross MacDonald is one of the most popular writers, with a new one called "The Underground Man".

Hammond Innes is another of my favorites, an author who sprinkles his mysteries with adventure and suspense in the manner of Alistair MacLean. He has a new one out called "Levitas Man". It is set on a small island off the coast of Greece and concerns a search for the origins of man. It ought to be a good one.

These, and many more, are some of the new books in the Post Public Library. Come and try 'em!

City Ordinance 279 gives cost estimates of street paving

ORDINANCE NO. 279

An ordinance approving and adopting the written statement and report of the City Engineer, showing the estimates of the total cost of all the improvements, the estimates of the cost per front foot proposed to be assessed against the abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof, and the estimates of various other costs for the improving of portions of sundry streets in the City of Post, Texas, within the limits hereinbelow described, and of other matters relating thereto; determining and fixing the portion of said costs and the rate thereof proposed to be assessed against and paid by the abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof; determining the necessity of levying and assessing against said abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof for the portion of said costs apportioned to them; ordering and setting a hearing at eight o'clock p. m. on the 18th day of June, 1971, in the council chambers of the City Hall of Post, Texas, as the time and place for the hearing of the real and true owners of said abutting property and of all others interested in said abutting property or in any of the proceedings and contract concerning said assessments, proceedings and improvements; directing the city manager of the City of Post, to give notice of said hearing as required by the laws of the State of Texas and declaring and providing that this ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

Be it Ordained by the City Council of the City of Post:

Section I. The City Council of the City of Post, Texas, hereby finds and determines:

(a) That the City Council of the City of Post, Texas, has heretofore by Ordinance duly enacted on the 24th day of May, 1971, recorded in Ordinance Book Number 3, Page Number 1, determined the necessity for and ordered the improvements of portions of the streets and avenues, in the City of Post, Texas, within the limits hereinafter defined, and in the manner and according to the plans and specifications therefore, which said plans and specifications have heretofore been approved and adopted by said City Council. Said streets and the portions thereof to be improved, designated by unit numbers are as shown by exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof for all purposes.

(b) That a Notice duly executed in the name of the City of Post, Texas, of the enactment of said above described Ordinance, has heretofore been filed with the County Clerk of Garza County, Texas, the County of which the City of Post is situated and, such notice has been duly recorded in the Deed of Trust Records of Garza County, Texas.

(c) That said City Council, after having duly advertised for bids in the manner as required by law, did award contract for the construction of improvements to W. D. Turner Construction Company, upon its lowest and best responsible bid therefore, and said contract which is dated the 29th day of March, 1971, has been executed by the said W. D. Turner Construction Co. and by said City, the execution of which contract by the City being authorized by resolution heretofore passed by said City Council; and the performance bond required by law and the said contract has been properly furnished by the said W. D. Turner Construction Co. and approved and accepted by the said City Council as required by law.

(d) That the City Council of the City of Post has caused the City Engineer to prepare and file estimates of the cost of such improvements and the estimates of the amount per front foot to be assessed against the property abutting said streets; and the City Engineer has heretofore filed said estimates and the statement of other matters relating thereto, which said City Council, and the same have been received, examined, and approved by said City Council; and that in accordance with said statement of the estimates so filed with the City Engineer and herein approved, the amounts of said estimated costs are hereinafter stated and set out in the schedule contained in Section II hereof.

Section II. The written statement of the report of the City Engineer heretofore filed with the City Council, showing the estimated total cost of all improvements on each of said streets or units, within the limits above defined, showing the amount per front foot proposed to be assessed against the abutting property, against the real and true owners thereof, for said improvements, showing the total estimated cost of said improvements on each of said streets or units proposed to be assessed against and paid to the City of Post by the abutting property and the real and true owners thereof, to reimburse said City for a portion of the cost of such improvements and showing the total estimated cost of said improvements of each said streets or units and other matters relative thereto, having been received and examined by the City Council, said reports and the estimates therein shown are hereby in all things approved and adopted; and it is hereby found and determined by said City Council that the estimated amounts of the several respective items and costs of said improvements as above described on each of said streets and units are as shown by the paving assessment rolls, described as exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof for all purposes.

Section III. The cost of said improvements shall be paid as follows, to-wit:

(a) The entire contract price shall be paid to the successful bidder by the City of Post.

(b) The City of Post shall reimburse itself for not more than Ninety (90%) per cent of the cost of the improvements by assessment against the prospective abutting properties and the real and true owners thereof in accordance with the provisions of the Statutes of the State of Texas, herein referred to. No assessment shall be made against any abutting property or the real and true owners thereof for costs in excess of the benefits to such property in enhanced value thereof by means of such improvement. The amounts of such assessment shall constitute a first and prior lien upon all such properties and a personal liability of the real and true owners thereof, whether correctly named or not, and shall be payable in annual installments to the City of Post as follows:

When all the improvements herein ordered have been completed and accepted by the City of Post, the amount of the assessment against each property abutting thereon and the real and true owners thereof shall be and become payable in five (5) equal annual installments, one installment to become due and payable on or before thirty days (30) after said improvements have been completed and accepted by the City of Post, Texas, and an equal installment, the same being one-fifth (1/5) of the total, shall become due and payable on or before one year from the anniversary date of the completion and acceptance of said work and on the same date thereafter of each year until the full amount of said assessments, including interest have been fully paid. Interest on said assessment shall be at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from the date that said work is completed and accepted by the City Council of the City of Post, Texas, and such interest shall be payable annually on the unpaid balance when the principal portion of the payments become due; provided, however, that the owners of any said property shall have the privilege of paying all or any of said installments at any time before maturity thereof by paying the amount of principal of such installment, together with interest accrued thereon, down to the date of payment. Further, if default be made in the payment of any of said installments of the principal or interest, promptly as the same matures, then at the option of the City of Post, or its assigns, the entire amount of the assessment upon which default is made, together with reasonable Attorney's fees and all collections cost incurred, shall be and become immediately due and payable.

Section IV. A hearing shall be held and given to the real and true owners of, and all owning or claiming any interest in any property abutting upon said streets within the limits above defined, and to all others owning, claiming or interested in said property or any of said matters, as to the assessments and as to the amounts to be assessed against each parcel of abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof, and as to the special benefits, if any, to said property to be received from said improvements, and concerning any error, invalidity, irregularity or deficiency in any proceedings or contract with reference thereto or concerning any matter or thing connected therewith, which hearing shall be held by the City Council of Post, Texas, in the Council Chamber of the City Council in the City Hall of the City of Post, Texas, at eight o'clock P. M. on the 25th day of June, 1971, at which time and place all persons, firms, corporations, or estates owning or claiming any of such abutting property, or any interest therein, their agents or attorneys, and persons interested proceedings shall be notified to appear and to be heard in person, or by council, and may offer evidence; and said hearing may be adjourned from day to day and from time to time and kept open until all the evidence and protests have been duly offered and heard; and the City Manager of the City of Post, Texas, is hereby directed to give notice of said hearing by publication of notice in some newspaper of general circulation in the City of Post, Texas, said notice shall be published at least three times in said newspaper before the date set for said hearing, the first of which publications shall be at least twenty-one days prior to the date of said hearing; and, in addition a written notice of the hearing shall be given by depositing in the United States Mail, at least fourteen days before the date of the hearing, written notice of such hearing, postage prepaid, in an envelope addressed to the owner of the respective properties abutting such streets, avenues or alleys, highway or highways or portions thereof to be improved, as the names of such owners are shown on the then current rendered tax roll of such City and at the addresses so shown, or if the names of such respective owners do not appear on such rendered tax rolls, then addressed to such owners as their names are shown on the current unrendered rolls of the City, at the addresses shown thereon. This notice required to be mailed to the owner or owners of abutting properties shall be the notice that is published in the newspaper above provided. In addition to, in the above and foregoing requirements of notice, the City Manager of the City of Post, is further instructed and authorized and empowered to comply with Section 9, Article 1105-b of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, as amended by the Legislature of the State of Texas. The City Manager of the City of Post may, in addition to the contents of the notice of said hearing, heretofore provided, furnish such other information and data regarding such proposed improvements and assessments as the City Manager may deem proper and such general statement in connection therewith as the City Manager may desire, to acquaint those to whom the notice is directed with the facts and matters concerning said improvements, assessments, and hearing. The form of said Notice, as required by law, having heretofore been submitted to the City Council by the City Manager, same is hereby approved for publication.

Section V. Following such hearing as above provided, assessments will be levied against said abutting property and the real and true owners thereof for the portion of the cost of said improvements hereinabove determined to be payable by said abutting property and the real and true owner thereof, which assessment shall be first and prior lien upon said abutting property and a personal liability charged against the real and true owners thereof. In levying said assessments, if the names of the owners be unknown, it shall be sufficient to so state the fact, and if said abutting property be owned by an estate or by any firm or corporation, it shall be sufficient to so state the fact, and it shall be unnecessary to give the correct name of such owner and no error or mistake in attempt to name such owner or in describing any of said property shall invalidate any assessment or certificate issued in evidence thereof, but nevertheless, the real and true owners of said abutting property shall be liable and the assessment against said abutting property shall be valid, whether or not such owners be named, or correctly named or said property correctly described therein.

Section VI. Each portion of said streets hereinabove described and designated by unit numbers constitutes a separate and independent unit of the improvements and shall be improved and the improvements constructed therein as separate and independent from each and every other unit of said streets, and the assessments to be levied for said improvements in each unit or portion of said streets shall be together separate and distinct and independent all and from the assessments to be levied in every other of said units and portions of said streets, and, in making and levying said assessments against the property abutting upon all of said units, no matter or circumstance in connection with any of said units shall be considered or have any effect upon the other, all as fully and to the extent as if a separate proceeding and contract had been had and executed with reference to the improvements to be made in each of said units.

Section VII. The fact that the streets and portions thereof to be improved as heretofore and hereinabove provided for are in bad and dangerous condition and should be improved without delay, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the immediate preservation of the public streets, health, safety and general welfare, require that this Ordinance shall be effective immediately following and after its passage and any and all rules if any requiring more than one reading, or prohibiting the passage of an Ordinance upon the date introduced and the taking effect of said Ordinance on the date of introduction and passage be and the same are hereby suspended. This Ordinance shall be passed as an emergency measure and be in full force from and after its passage as provided by law, and it is so ordered.

PASSED this 24th day of May, 1971, by an affirmative vote of four-fifths (4/5) of the City Council.

It's All In the Motive

By Bernard S. Ramsey

There is a story about a dog who chased a rabbit and couldn't catch it. The dog's excuse was simply that he was running for fun and the rabbit was running for his life.

Isn't it amazing how much more power men have when what they are doing is a matter of life and death? If it's just for fun, we take it easy and not much happens—that is the advantage that some Christians have over others. For some of us Christian Faith is life over death . . . but for others it is just a game.

NAME STAYS THE SAME

The American favorite, the Hamburger, had its origin way back in 1891 in Hamburg, Germany. The name stayed the same but today's versions don't look much like the original.

Hamburger goes way back in history; variations are the only thing new What's new about the great American tradition, the hamburger? Only the variations you might add to come up with a different taste treat of the old and ever popular favorite. Traditionally, the hamburger has been around a long, long time, having had its origin in a restaurant back of the waterfront in — where else — Hamburg, Germany.

The story is that in 1891, Otto Kuase, a cook in the restaurant back of the waterfront, made a sandwich which the sailors who stopped at the port liked extremely well, and, in 1894, some of these same sailors visited the port of New York and told restaurant owners about Hamburg Otto's fine sandwich, which these restaurants in turn started making for their customers. In short order, all the sailors had to do was ask for a "hamburger" to get the then popular version.

As so often happens, changes have been made in the original version, but the name and its popularity have increased over the years. The original was made like this and you might like to try it for a change. The meat patty was made of ground sausage beef fried in butter. Then an egg was lightly fried on both sides in butter. This combination was placed between two slices of bread, lightly buttered, with a touch of mustard and a slice or two of pickle added. A very hearty combination known as Deutsches Beefsteak.

The great hamburger bun, probably the largest single specialty item in the bakeries today according to Vernon Baird, president of Mrs. Baird's Bakeries, did not make its appearance until when someone decided to serve hamburgers on buns at the great St. Louis Exposition. From that time on the popularity of the hamburger has grown more than any one American favorite, is made in numberless variations, with different combinations or just plain, depending on the section of the country in which you might order it, available just about any place you eat out and served at home by the millions, produced to suit individual tastes.

'Jesus Festival' to be held June 4 in Snyder

SNYDER — The "Jesus Festival," a huge youth rally, is to be held at 7 p.m. Friday, June 4, in Towle Park at Snyder.

Approximately 15,000 people from all parts of the country are expected, according to Ronald Stoltz of the Grace Ministries. He said one of the speakers will be Ben Warton, "former Hippie, Acid Head and Flower Child, now God's Child."

It takes from 50 to 100 years to produce a tree large enough for doctored to suit individual tastes.

DROUGHT FORCES CHANGES

When drought conditions cut down the amount of available natural green forages and feed costs rise, the cattleman may want to consider his breeding management program and make some changes.

During periods of drought cattleman must provide their herds with enough nutrients to prevent weight loss and maintain production requirements of them must give their cattle some relief from body stress, according to John R. Beverly, Extension animal reproduction specialist.

If they fail to modify their program, they could end up suffering with light weaning calves and unbred cows.

Often the unavailability of feed or their high cost may prohibit feeding lactating cows the total nutrients needed for lactation and rebreeding.

Lessening the body stress of the cows encourages weight gains that are necessary for a large percentage of the herd to eventually produce calves of an adequate weight.

Beverly said that females in moderate flesh following calving should be gaining one-fourth to one-half of a pound daily, while cows in poor condition should gain up to three-fourths of a pound a day.

Production requirements of the mature cow include nutrients for body maintenance, lactation, and rebreeding. Beverly pointed out that early weaning, creep feeding, or holding calves off the cow for part of the day can lessen lactation stress.

In herds where the cows have been with bulls before the early weaning time, pregnancy testing may be desirable. Unbred females can be fed to stimulate reproductive activity. Females pregnant at the time of early weaning may be put on a maintenance diet.

Feed saved here can be used to maintain other cows or it can be fed directly to their calves. In the overall picture this means more cows can be carried per acre, and better use of low quality forages can be made, Beverly pointed out.

In early weaning (after 60-80 days of age) the calves can be penned and allowed to nurse twice daily. Putting calves in a relatively small pen with a palatable feed available will stimulate early eating.

According to Beverly, one or two older calves that will eat well will "show the way." After a week or two, once a day nursing can be allowed for two-three days and then complete weaning can be achieved when all calves are eating.

Success in early weaning may depend partly on the diet the calves have been receiving. The rumen will be fully developed in eight week old calves that have been allowed roughages and grain, but not in calves that have received only milk.

Beverly added that it is important that calves to be weaned early are provided creep feed two weeks to one month before weaning. He explained that this stimulates rumen development and helps to insure maximum performance after weaning.

Beverly pointed out that feed stores usually have a pre-mix feed frequently used by dairymen, that can be used in early weaning programs for beef cattle.

More often than not, the relationship between postman and home owner is a warm and friendly one. But even into this sunny time a little rain must fall. Such as when the postman gets hurt and sees the home owner for damages.

As a general rule, the home owner is not liable if he is not guilty of any negligence. For example, a home owner was sued by a postman who suffered a bad fall from a rafter porch step suddenly slipped. But a court found no liability. The judge pointed out that since the rot was visible only underneath there was no reasonable way for the home owner to have discovered the danger. By contrast, take the following case.

A postman slipped and fell in a water hallway of a home, because an excessive amount of wax had been applied to the floor. This was being negligence on the part of the home owner, the court found him to pay the postman's damages.

In terms of sheer frequency, the number one hazard that the postman faces is a bite by the home owner's dog. Many thousands of dog-bite injuries are suffered each year by mail carriers.

In such circumstances, the home owner is usually liable if the state has a "dog bite law." Under this law, a dog's master may be held responsible for a bite not only if he was negligent but even if he was not negligent in any way.

If the state has no dog bite law, a home owner might still be liable—but only if he was somehow to blame for the bite.

In one case, the owner of a dog did take the trouble to post a "BEWARE OF DOG" sign on his front door. However, when a postman rang the bell to deliver a package, the man opened the door and permitted the dog to bite the postman in the leg.

The court duty imposed legal liability on the householder. The judge said posting the warning sign did not end his responsibility toward these visitors who, like the postman, had a perfect right to enter the premises.

Moisture—

of these are irrigated.
County Agent Conner Tuesday afternoon estimated half or less of the irrigated acres had been planted.

Best guess of observers is that while a lot more moisture will be needed the weekend rains, spotty as they were, probably will assure that 20,000 or more of the over 25,000 dryland acres planned for cotton will be planted within the next 10 days.

Farmers are now busy trying to find enough cotton seed. If they get the seed into the ground by June 10, which is next Thursday, they won't be "hurting" calendar-wise.

Conner said farmers are "about in the same shape for feed as for cotton" with some having enough moisture to plant and some not. But the county agent pointed out that farmers can wait until mid-July to plant late feed which gives them more time to get moisture for feed planting than for cotton.

The heaviest rainfall for the weekend fell in the southwest portion of the county — up to 3 1/2 inches. Some farmers in the Graham area received up to four inches. Close City farmers got up to two inches. Pleasant Valley area reported two to three inches. Southland as much or more, but during the worst was the Verbenia area, with few reporting over an inch, and the eastern part of the county.

Conner said his first reports from Justiceburg area were good as far as planting moisture was concerned.

The county agent said most of the ranching areas of the county — except for the northeast and east portions of the county — received enough moisture that ranchers probably will hold out two or three more weeks "to see what happens" before making any drastic reductions in their herds. Conner said a few cattlemen have sold off their cattle, but mostly the rest have just culled their herds to date, selling off their poorer cattle and keeping their better animals.

There are still tanks in ranchland in the eastern and northeastern parts of the county which did not catch any moisture last weekend.

The worst Garza weather reported hit about 7:30 p.m. Friday night four miles west of Graham when tornado winds tore up some hog houses, broke off trees with trunks measuring over a foot in diameter at ground level, and ripped many branches off other trees.

The winds "blew over" H. L. Turner's long-standing drilling rig between Graham and Grassland. Cotton trailers also were "flipped over."

Nobody really saw a funnel in the area, but most of the rural folks were in storm cellars at the time — and not looking.

Hail accompanied the windstorm and only a half inch of moisture fell. The area over the weekend totaled 3 1/2 inches of moisture. The wind damage started at the Fred Bubb farm.

RADIATION EFFECTS ON HUMAN EYE STUDIED

AUSTIN — University of Texas biomedical engineers are currently studying the effects of laser radiation on the human eye.

In order to get a wide sampling of the effects of the radiation, rabbits — outfitted with special contact lenses — have been enlisted in the research.

The contact lens protects the surface of the eye while examiners use a special camera to study the retina.

When minimal levels of radiation are established through the research, safety precautions can be recommended.

Postings—

keeps the highway map open on his or her lap, it is difficult to drive on unfamiliar Texas highways without "driving on into Lubbock" two or three times a trip.

This column writer is a good friend of District Engineer Crain and all the fine employees of the highway department in Post. But it's still a "semi-free country" and a free press so we have taken the opportunity presented with Mr. Crain's polite "no" reply to Shelby to express our fundamental disagreement with the signing program of the Texas Highway Department.

In writing the story on the Texas Flight of Understanding appearing on today's front page, we discovered that the only "free time" for the trippers in Moscow would be "after 10 o'clock at night."

With all that Texans have heard about the tough Communist regime in Russia, the boys probably "will just go back to the hotel" rather than venturing out at that hour. In contrast they are "turned loose" at 9 p.m. the first night in Paris and have the whole evening free from 5:30 p.m. on, in Stockholm.

That night, the delegation will go by motorcade to the Arc of Triumph where a candlelight procession will be staged up the Champs Elysees to and around the Arc of Triumph in a plea to the world for the release of prisoners.

On Wednesday morning, Aug. 4, the Texas delegation will depart Paris by air and two hours later arrive in Stockholm, Sweden.

The Texans will be guests of the Swedish government at a luncheon at which Prime Minister Palme will address the delegation.

That afternoon, the Texas delegation will go to the North Vietnamese Embassy in Stockholm to make the same plea for American POWs as was made in Paris.

Early Thursday morning, Aug. 5, the Texans will fly from Stockholm to Moscow, arriving in the Russian capital at 10:30 a.m.

That afternoon, the delegation will break down into groups and call on various Communist Embassies in the appeal for release of American POWs.

That night, the Russian government will host the Texas delegation at a dinner.

Next morning, Friday, Aug. 6, it is off to home. Baggage call will be at 6 a.m. and within two hours the Texas group will take off from the Moscow airport and be on their homeward flight to Dallas.

A refueling stop is planned at Stockholm.

The Texans will land at Kennedy International Airport in New York City at 2:10 p.m. that afternoon for a press conference to report to the U. S. press on their trip before flying on to Dallas where the group is scheduled to hold a second press conference at 6:30 p.m.

Counting the gain time, the delegation will spend some 19 or 20 hours on the homeward flight and press conferences.

Cost of the trip will be approximately $600 per person. Hundred dollar deposits were required in May for those planning to make the trip and have been made by the local trio. The balance is to be paid by July 1.

State Senator David Ratliff in writing Potts telling him of his selection for the Texas delegation says in 1971.

knew some of it had gotten in."

The Postex Plant was notified Tuesday to watch for the arrival of some of the discolored water to prevent any damage to production of sheeting.

The discolored water took over 24 hours in the pipeline to make the trip to Post. O'Brien checked yesterday afternoon and found all the water then coming into Post in the pipeline was clear again.

O'Brien got out his pencil and figured that the lake's rise had brought in an estimated 2,558,500-000 gallons of water. He said the four towns annually use about 525 million gallons.

Most of the lake's water loss is to evaporation. O'Brien said only a foot of the lake's 6.6 foot loss had been due to consumption and the rest to evaporation. He said the lake normally loses about 10 feet in lake depth annually to evaporation.

Dental assistant wins high honor

Two first place awards — a plaque from the Texas Dental Association and a trophy from the Texas Dental Assistants' Association — were won by Mrs. Vada Clary for her table clinic on "Hair Spray in the Dental Office," presented at the 31st annual session of the Texas Dental Assistants' Association held recently in Houston.

Mrs. Clary, who is a certified dental assistant in the office of Dr. B. E. Young here, won first place in a field of six contestants in the table clinic competition. It was the first time for a dental assistant from the South Plains Society of the organization to win first place for a table clinic at the state convention.

It was also the first time for a dental assistant to win both of the awards.

Mrs. Clary and Juanita Kingery of Lubbock were delegates to the convention from the South Plains

Dental Assistants' Association. The Post woman was also elected and installed as a director of the state organization and was appointed to the program committee for the 1971-72 year.

Prior to the state convention, Mrs. Clary's table clinic had won first place in South Plains competition. She was presented her trophy in April at the doctors' appreciation dinner given the dentists by the South Plains dental assistants.

Mrs. Clary has been employed by Dr. Young for 28 years. She took the Board of Certification examination in 1949, which was the first examination given. The title of Certified Dental Assistant is the highest title an assistant can hold.

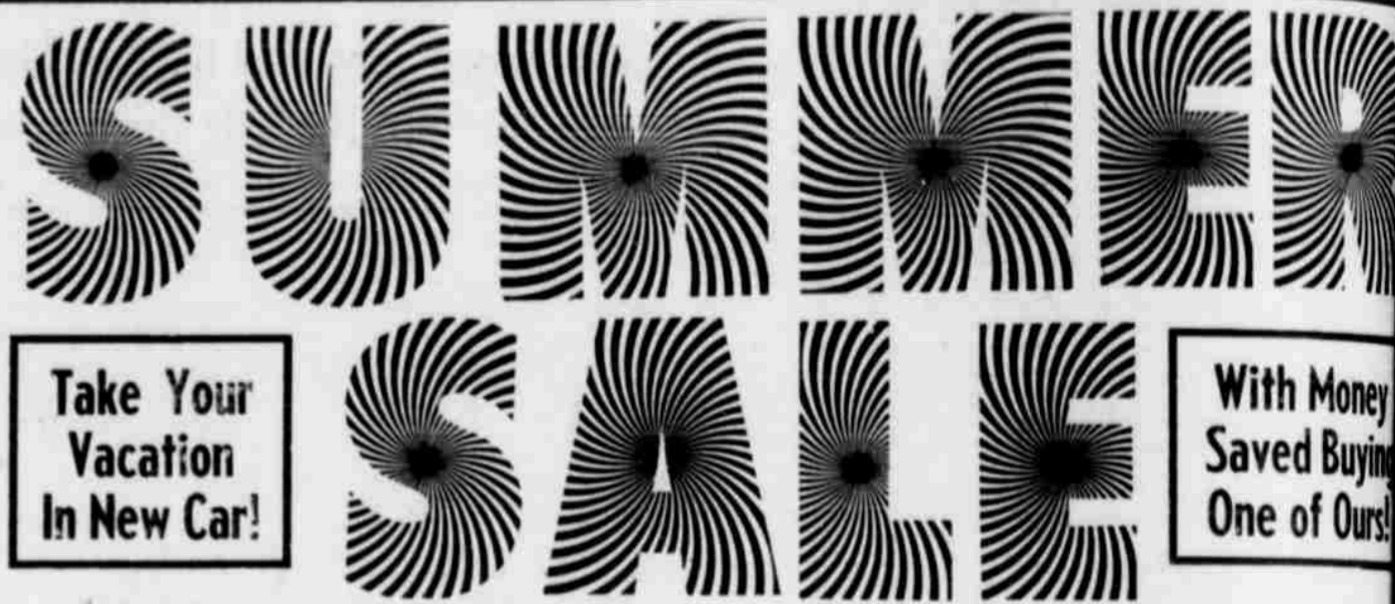

The Post woman has served on the nominating committee and board of directors of the state association and as editor of the Christian Athletes 'huddle' is organized at Post High

The Post High School chapter, called a "huddle", of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes has been organized and members are under way this week with a fund-raising drive to send two members to the state camp at Estes Park, Colo., a camp week of June 6.

The 31 members of the Post huddle are collecting and selling scrap iron to raise funds to send two of its members, Kyle Josey and David Woods, to the Estes Park camp.

their scrap iron collection and also has donated much of the scrap iron they have gathered.

Officers of the newly-organized Post huddle of the FCA are: Randall Hays, captain; Mark Bevers, captain-elect; John Johnson, secretary; Tol Thomas, treasurer, and Johnny Minor, business manager and publicity chief.

Any high school boy who is a member of an athletic squad is eligible to become a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. The local huddle is headed by members of the high school coaching staff.

The purpose of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes is "to confront athletes and coaches, and through them the youth of our nation, with the challenge and adventure of following Christ, participating in his church and serving him through our vocations."

The FCA program extends across the country and is in operation throughout the year. Membership in the program is also open to adults.

Senior Babe Ruth team loses, 8-3, in first contest

Post's entry in the Lubbock Senior Babe Ruth League got off to a rocky start Tuesday night, losing to the Claude Patton Insurance team, 8 to 3, in a game played in Lubbock.

Saturday night's scheduled opener between Post and the Lubbock Furr's team was postponed because of rain and wet grounds.

Tonight (Thursday), Post plays Claude Patton Insurance on the New Deal diamond, and Friday night they take on Furr's at Lubbock in the game postponed from Saturday night.

The locals' first game at home will be Saturday night, June 5, against New Deal at David Nichols Park.

The Post team got 10 hits in their first game Tuesday night, but could come up with only three runs. Reggie Moore went all the way on the mound for Post, with Kim Owen behind the plate.

The Post team is managed by Bill Holly and coached by Troy Holly.

Post sprinter is to run with longhorns

Larry Scrivner, a 1971 graduate of Post High School, last week signed a track scholarship with the University of Texas.

Until stopped by a leg injury early in this year's track season, Larry was one of the area's top high school sprinters and broad jumpers.

He was District 4AA champion last year in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and broad jump, and competed in the 100-yard dash at the state track meet in Austin. He was also a district champion and regional qualifier in his sophomore year.

Larry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Scrivner, was president of the National Honor Society here in his senior year, president of the high school choir and a member of the Letterman's Club.

Larry plans to major in physical education at the University.

Girls' softball loop organized

Play is scheduled to start Monday evening, June 7, in a newly organized girls' softball league. Bill McBride announced Tuesday.

Two of the teams will be sponsored by Postex Plant and Maxine's. The third team was still without a sponsor Tuesday morning.

The league is for girls of high school and junior high age, with the games to be played on the softball diamond at David Nichols Park.

Fertilizer management big help to narrow row cotton production

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of news articles on narrow-row cotton production.)
FERTILITY CRITICAL ON NARROW-ROW COTTON
LUBBOCK — Proper fertilizer management is one of the keys to top cotton yields on the Texas South Plains. And when it comes to producing cotton in narrow rows, fertilizer use is even more critical.

"At present we advise producers who plan to grow narrow-row cotton to follow sound soil test recommendations," explains Dr. Art Onken who heads up the soil fertility research program at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. "Next to water, no other single input can produce comparable lint yield increases as can proper fertilization."

Research is currently under way to determine the fertility requirements of high population cotton as is found in the narrow-row method of production, points out Onken. Previous research has shown that conventional varieties adaptable to narrow rows will respond to fertilizer much as they would in conventional 40-inch rows. However, varieties bred specifically for narrow-row and high population may have higher fertility requirements. Such varieties will be on the market within the next two to three years.

Much of the soil fertility research as regards narrow-row cotton was initiated last year through a grant to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The grant supports a three-year program of narrow-row cotton research, in which varieties, row spacing, plant population, root distribution and root activities, fertilizer rate and irrigation timing and rate will be investigated.

According to Onken, the studies will be conducted at three locations — near Welch in Dawson County, near Aiken in Floyd County and at the A&M Center. These sites represent the three broad areas of soils and climatic conditions on the South Plains.

"All soil test recommendations made by personnel at the Extension Soil Testing Laboratory at the A&M Center are related to research findings to provide producers with the best possible fertilizer management guidelines," adds Onken. "Our soil fertility research program was begun in the mid-fifties to provide the basis for present fertilizer recommendations with respect to fertilizer rate, time and method of application, nutrient source and soil testing methods."

VISIT IN AUSTIN
Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Pierce and Mrs. Sharla Wells and son, Mike, visited last weekend in Austin with their daughters and sisters, Mrs. Joe White of Austin and Mrs. Elmer Grape and family of Houston. While there, they visited the LBJ National Park at Johnson City, the birthplace of Lyndon B. Johnson, and his boyhood home in Johnson City.

POST LITTLE LEAGUE

No one able yet to whip Yankees

Everybody has had at least one shot at the Yankees this season, but nobody has been able to bring them down.

So, the Postex Plant-sponsored team rolls right along undefeated in Little League play, with an 8-0 mark through Monday night's games.

It is getting to be a habit for the Yankees, too, since they have won the league championship the last two seasons.

The Post Fire Department's second place Cardinals had their big chance to derail the Yanks Saturday night, but muffed it, with the league leaders coming out on top, 11 to 5, although outbit by the losers, 10 to 5.

The Yankees took an early lead with a run in the bottom of the first when Evans Heaton, who had walked, came home on shortstop Byron Gray's single.

The Yanks increased their lead to 7-0 in the bottom of the second, with pitcher Jimmy Dorland's home run the big blow.

The Cards pulled up to 7-5 in the top of the third with five runs on singles by Brent Terry, Matt Allison and Kent Craig, a walk to Stephen Myers, and three Yankee fielding errors.

That was all the scoring for the losers, however, with the Yanks adding two runs in the fourth on a walk to Gray and another home run blast by Dorland, and two more in the fifth when Dan Martinez singled to score two base-runners.

Dorland went all the way on the mound for the Yankees, while Mike Waldrip and Kyle Duren pitched for the Cardinals. Waldrip pitched charged with the loss.

In Saturday night's other game, the Red Sox came from behind in the third frame and went on to beat the Dodgers, 11 to 8, although the Dodgers had a big edge in hits, 12 to 6.

Dodger pitchers Kenny Gilbreath and Henry Samora walked six batters and hit four others with pitches, which, coupled with Dodger fielding miscues gave the edge to the Red Sox.

Outfielder Ollie Joe Abraham got two of the winners' six hits, Danny Nelson, Mike Babb, Mike Dye and Casey Zachary collected two hits apiece for the Dodgers.

Gary Seals was the winning pitcher, going the route for the Red Sox, while Samora, who had relieved Gilbreath, was tagged with the loss.

In Monday night's games, the Yankees swarmed over the Red Sox, 17 to 4, and the Dodgers eked out a 10-9 decision over the Wildcats.

In their one-sided win over the Red Sox, the league leaders got 10 hits off three Sox pitchers, including a home run by pitcher Dan Sawyers. The Yankee pitcher went the route, allowing but six hits.

Sawyers' home run blast was one of three safeties he got in four trips, while Jim Dorland and Randy Bell got two hits apiece.

The Red Sox starter, Larry Harper, was the losing pitcher, getting relief from Ollie Joe Abraham and Moe Huff.

Henry Samora was the winning pitcher in the Dodgers' 10-9 win over the Wildcats, with the game abbreviated to four innings because of the lateness of the hour. Doug Hall, who started for the Wildcats, was the losing pitcher, getting relief from Ricky Sanchez.

Mike Dye, with two hits in three at-bats, did most of the stick work for the Dodgers, while Roger Mull-enix, Benny Tanner and Pete Morales got the Wildcats' three safeties.

Dear Sir:

Please find enclosed a check for $5 for which I wish to have a year's subscription to The Post Dispatch sent to my parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mathis, Box 306, Lometa, Tex. 76853.

I enjoy the paper now, as Mrs. W. E. Morris lives near me and gives me her paper each week.

Your Name? WHAT'S IN IT? By CHARLES DIDWAY

CARTER

In medieval times when surnames were just beginning to come into common usage, a man's trade was important, and the name Carter was first applied to identify someone who was "a maker or driver of carts."

By modern standards, there were few vehicles in the England of the Middle Ages, but these few were important. On every manor of any size there would have to be a cart of some kind, a primitive affair but valuable for drawing heavy farm produce or casks of ale slowly over the muddy lanes.

Great lords and barons who frequently moved from one castle to another with a vast amount of paraphernalia had carts as well as pack horses to bring their baggage. In such a world the carter, managing his team of oxen or horses in conditions that today would be thought impassable, was at least a well-known character.

Carter is one of the commonest of all English surnames and is found in all portions of the country. Because it is of the occupational classification, however, many persons bearing the name may have in common only that their ancestors shared a common trade.

In frequency of occurrence, names in England and Wales Carter ranks 50th among surnames and is also found in Scotland and Ireland. Among surnames in the United States, Carter ranks 38th, with an estimated 323,000 persons by the name.

A Thomas Carter who came to America in 1635 from his native London is believed to have been the first of the name in America. He settled in Watertown, Mass., and became pastor of the church there.

The name is well known in this country through the exploits of Nick Carter, fictional master detective. Nick Carter first became well known in detective fiction, and the name has been perpetuated through radio, television and movie presentations.
