Stock show heads plan for 120-animal exhibit

March 13-15 date of annual event

Approximately 120 animals will be exhibited in the annual Garza County Junior Livestock Show next weekend, with a maximum of 60 of the top animals scheduled for the auction sale on the final day of the three-day event.

The dates of the show, with which the annual Garza County Fair will be held in conjunction, are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 13-15.

Final plans for the show were made at a meeting of officers and directors of the livestock association Monday night.

"We have a fine sale and show lined up for this year," said Jerry Thuett, president of the livestock association.

The customary barbecue will be held at the City - County Park, just across South Lake from the show barn, at noon on Saturday, the final day of the sale. Barbecue tickets at $1 each for adults and 50 cents for children under 12, may be purchased from any livestock association director. Tickets will also be on sale at the park just prior to the barbecue.

"We expect a number of out-county people to be here for the show, barbecue and auction sale," Thuett said. The president also invites all Post and Garza County residents to attend and support the show. "And any bid you might make at our sale will be appreciated," he added.

Stock show entries will be taken from 8 o'clock until noon Thursday morning, with the sifting of all classes scheduled for Thursday afternoon and the swine show for Thursday evening.

The animals will be on exhibit all day Friday, with the lambs to be judged Friday night. Judging of the calves will be Saturday morning. The sale of the animals is to get under way immediately following the noon barbecue.

The county's home demonstraclubwomen, sponsors of the fair, announce that entries from school students will be taken Wednesday after school. All other entries will be taken from 8:30 o'clock until noon Thursday.

The fair will be open to the public from 5 p. m. until 9 p. m. Thursday, from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. Friday and from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Saturday.

Vic Slater succeeds Louie Burkes

New manager assumes Postex Plant duties

Vic Slater, former manager of Burlington Industries' plant at West, Tex., Monday succeeded Louie Burkes as general manager of Postex Plant here in the most important of several position changes announced by Burlington here this week.

Burkes, who has been general manager at Postex for the last eight years, is awaiting a new Burlington assignment to a larger plant in the southeast part of the United States where the Burkes can be close to their son and daughter, both married.

Mrs. Burkes Tuesday flew to Greensboro, N. C., to visit their daughter. Their son lives in nearby Durham.

Burkes told The Dispatch he plans to leave immediately for his new assignment as soon as he receives it by phone and will return to Post later to move their household furnishings.

Burkes currently is a director of the First National Bank here, is a deacon and superintendent of the adult Sunday School department of the First Baptist Church, and is a director of the Post Industrial Foundation.

Slater, who has been with Burlington for 15 years, has been manager of the plant at West for the last 18 months.

It was not Slater's first trip to Post, however. He recalled while a guest at the Post Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday that he was in Post for four or five weeks setting up the lab at the Postex Plant approximately 12 years ago.

His assignments with Burlington have included those at plants at Calhoun Falls, S. C., Greenville, (See Postex Plant, page 8)

Interest heightens

Plenty of choices in two elections

Local voters will get plenty of choices in both city and school board elections in April.

Four more have filed for the three school trustee positions since last Thursday and one has withdrawn, leaving seven candidates in the running with contests for every position.

Three additional filings for city councilman posts also have been reported from city hall leaving the ballot picture this morning with two candidates for mayor and eight for the three councilman positions.

The school deadline passed at midnight last night with the deadline for filing for the city races coming up at midnight tonight.

The withdrawal from the school trustee race was made by Elwood Wright, local service station operator, who declined to give his reasons. He had filed for place 7.

Three additional filings in the school races were Max W. Mitchell, Conoco supervisor, place 3; Mrs. Donald (Billie) Windham, housewife, place 3; Robert Macy, place 7, and Don Tatum, compliance supervisor at the ASCS office here, place 6.

This will make the April school district ballot read something like this:

Place 3: Jim Prather, Max W. Mitchell, Mrs. Donald (Billie) Windham.

Place 6: Jack Lott and Don Tatum.

Place 7: Mrs. Howard Kolb and Robert Macy.

The three new filings in the city councilman race are those of David Newby, who left the oil business here March 1 to secure franchises for automatic car washes in several West Texas cities; Lester Nichols, Gulf products wholesaler here, and L. V. McDonald, manager of the Gateway Motel.

The present municipal ballot lineup with the rest of Thursday to go before the filing deadline is as follows:

Mayor: John Hopkins vs. Giles C. McCrary.

City Councilmen: three posts open to be filled by the three highest vote totals: Bobby Pierce, Mike Mitchell, E. D. Cavalor, W. E. Chapman Jr., Jerry J. Riedel, David Newby, Lester Nichols and L. V. McDonald.

David Newby enters car wash business

David Newby, production superintendent for R. S. Anderson of Midland here for the last 12 years, left his position March 1 to enter the automatic car wash business.

Newby has secured franchises to build and operate automatic car washes in several West Texas cities and is now busy with the building of the first two car washes. The Newby family plans to continue to live in Post.

LOOKS OVER SAMPLES OF WORK

George "Scotty" Samson, who retired last week as outside maintenance superintendent of the Postex Plant, is shown beside one of the flower boxes he has built at the plant.

'There comes a time to retire,' he says

George "Scotty" Samson, who nearly sixty years ago "turned" the first batch of concrete that went into the construction of Post's cotton mill (now the Postex Plant), last week announced his retirement as general maintenance superintendent at the plant.

Scotty has not been employed at Postex all that time, but he has been as much a part of the mill as the mill has been a part of Post.

"I've been wanting to retire for some time, and now that I've passed my eighty-fifth birthday, I figured this was as good a time as any," Scotty said the day he announced his retirement.

Helping "the Scotchman" make up his mind was a "game" knee, which he said isn't getting any better.

Scotty recalls that the textile mill's construction was started in the fall of 1912 by C. W. Post, the town's founder, and that the mill began operation the following year.

"It's been a long time, but I remember it as if it were yesterday," Scotty said.

Scotty said he and his fellow Scotsman, Jimmy Napier, worked on the mill's construction until it was finally completed in 1914.

"We had come to Post to help build the town, but we had no idea when we came that we'd help build a mill," he said.

Always a booster of the mill, just as he is a booster of every other Post enterprise, Scotty began work there when Ely & Walker purchased the plant from the Post people. He worked off and on for Ely & Walker, but has been employed at the plant steadily as general maintenance superintendent since the Burlington Industries, Inc., purchased it from Ely & Walker.

During the last few years, Scotty had become something of a (See Retirement, page 8)

At council meeting

Warren, Webb resign city jobs

The resignation of E. A. (Eddie) Warren as city manager and Carleton P. Webb as city attorney were submitted to the city council at its regular March meeting Monday night.

Warren told the council that he wished to retire so he could "catch up on his fishing" now that he has built a home at White River Lake. He said he would like for his resignation to become effective "within the next 30 days."

Webb's resignation as city attorney was in the form of a statement to the city council that his appointment to the office expires on April 5 and that he does not wish to be reappointed.

Mayor John N. Hopkins also read a letter of resignation from Percy Printz, corporation court judge, but explained that he understands Printz will accept the position if he is reappointed after April 5, the date his present appointment expires.

Five indicted by grand jury

Five indictments, including one for assault with intent to murder with malice aforethought, were returned Monday by a district court grand jury.

The assault with intent to murder indictment was returned against Alvin Watson for a Feb. 1 shooting in which Paul Soto was wounded.

Other indictments were Charles M. Goodnight, driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense; Billy Charles Woods, burglary with intent to commit theft at Jackson Brothers Food Locker; Paulo Flores and Monses Esparza, each charged with forgery and passing as true a forged instrument in writing.

The grand jury for the new March term of court consisted of Lewis C. Herron, foreman; Mrs. George Willson, Adrian Cook, Virgil Smith, Hershel D. Bevers, Wallace Barnett, Lonnie H. Peel, J. M. Haley, Sam Bevers, Hoyt Bland, Mrs. Ralph Welch and H. C. Dunn.

Warren has served as city manager since the office was created here a few years ago. Prior to that, he had served in the capacity of city superintendent after having replaced Henry Tate when the latter moved to Jacksboro.

Warren, who was publisher of The Post Dispatch from 1926 until he sold the paper to the present publisher in 1957, told the council that while he wishes to retire as soon as possible, he is willing to remain in the office until after the new council is sworn in following the April 5 city election.

Webb did not give any specific reasons for resigning as city attorney.

Also Monday night the council heard a progress report from Engineer Ralph Douglas on the city paving project for which the council let a $305,000 contract Feb. 23.

The engineer's discussion with the council resulted in the council tentatively deciding on some 5 0 block of paving if that amount can be "signed up" by the fiscal agent.

The council also tentatively agreed on the payment of 40 per cent of the paving cost, which (See City Council, page 8)

Appreciation time

Historians greet many at meeting

Fifty persons were present Tuesday morning at the annual appreciation meeting of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, held in the Community Room.

A number of area pioneers were honored at the meeting, which was held in conjunction with the committee's observance of History Appreciation Week.

The expression of appreciation of Mrs. A. C. Surman, committee chairman, to individuals, clubs and other organizations during 1968 was read by Mrs. Walter Boren, acting chairman.

In the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Burkes, Frank Runkles read a letter that will be given them by George Samson from Mrs. Surman expressing her and the committee's regret that the couple is leaving Post, and expressing appreciation to Mr. Burkes for the many contributions he and the Postex Plant have made to the committee's work and to the community.

County Judge J. E. Parker made a progress report on the restoration of the Mason Memorial Building, which is to be used as a museum.

Mrs. Helen Livingston and David Newby were cited by the committee for having been chosen as woman of the year and man of the year at the Chamber of Commerce banquet. Judge Parker praised the two for their civic spirit (See Historians, page 8)

CLEAN-UP CORNER

Some of the residents in the 300 block on West 11th Street got tired of looking at the weeds on a corner lot on their block and pitched in to hire the weeds cut down. The lots are owned by an absentee owner living in New Mexico.

The Jaycees and Jayceeettes helped Post "look a little bit better" by holding a bottle drive Sunday which moved 130 cases of bottles out of town with ensuing profits to local Boy and Girl Scouts.

Chamber reports

10 families are newcomers here

The Post Chamber of Commerce's "newcomers list" for February lists ten families or individuals.

The list includes: Miss Pat Mahan, who resides at 418 W. 14th, from Ozark, Ark., employed at Postex Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hart from Lamesa, 504 W. 19th, with Sidney attending Texas Tech and his wife, Ellen, employed at First National Bank. He is the son of the Boy Harts.

Randall Love, 610 W. 3rd, parts manager for Scott - Pool, Inc., who moved to Post from Lubock.

Karen Miller and Gwen Weatherby from Texas Tech, 913 W. 10th student home economics teachers at Post High School.

Bob Wilson, from Bakersfield, Calif., 106 W. 6th, apartment 4, employed at Wilson Bros. station.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hudman, 313 S. Ave. P, from Snyder. He is a teacher aide in the Post schools and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hudman.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Drake, from Fort Worth, residing at 124 N. Ave. G. He is a salesman and the son of Verle and Glen Slater.

Orville Harris, building contractor from Midland, who is residing at 522 W. 6th.

An unusual "newcomer listing" were those of Robert and LaGay-lush Feagin, local young people who were married Feb. 22. They are residing at 113 S. Ave. R and he is employed at Post Implement Co.

W. E. Chapman Jr. has a letter to the editor and to all local voters over on page 10 of today's Dispatch which we hope every reader will read.

What Karl says is sharp, clear and to the point — delinquent taxpayers shouldn't run for office.

We were talking about the letter to a former city councilman yesterday and he volunteered another constructive thought. He favored the city council by resolution voting not to make any payment of city funds to delinquent taxpayers, and he particularly meant salary payments. The school trustees already have established this as their policy.

Dick Dickson told Rotarians at their luncheon Tuesday that the retirement March 1 of George (Scotty) Samson as outside maintenance foreman of the Postex Plant at the age of 85 had nothing whatsoever to do with the recent personnel cutback. George has been the oldest employe of Burlington Industries anywhere in the world, Dickson explained, and his employment from year to year required the approval of the board of directors of the big textile corporation because he was far and beyond the regular employment age.

Mrs. C and I received a long and interesting letter last weekend from Sgt. Joe Sanchez, who is recuperating from Vietnam wounds in a U. S. Hospital in Japan. Joe wrote that though he will be returning to Vietnam in a few weeks, unless the unit has changed its policy he won't be sent on any more patrols looking for Viet Cong because he already has three Purple Hearts.

Maybe we're getting old, or maybe it was because those Girl Scouts and Brownies in uniform brought back memories of our own two family members of the Girl Scouts (See Postings, page 8)

Funerals conducted Monday morning for W. E. Dent

Funeral services for William Edward Dent, 85, a resident of Post since 1957, were conducted at 10 a. m. Monday in the First Christian Church, of which he was a member, and which he had served as treasurer for 32 years.

Mr. Dent died Friday at his home here at 108 East 13th St.

He was born at Bismarck, Mo., moving to Texas with his parents when he was an infant, and moved here from Big Spring in 1906 to help build the town of Post.

Mr. Dent first worked as a teamster on the "Double U Train," hauling freight and building materials from Big Spring. In 1908, he went to work as a caulker on the Post water works system construction project and continued to work at the water department as a hauler, service man and meter reader until he became manager when he was sold to the Texas Electric Co. He retained this position until his retirement in 1947. In July of 1908, Mr. Dent was married to the former Miss Samson. (See Dent Rites, page 8)

Bottles bring in funds for Scouts

Post's Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations will benefit to the extent of about $47 each from the Jaycees' soft drink bottle Sunday afternoon.

Joe Bailey, the Jaycees' bottle Sunday chairman, reported that approximately 130 cases of empty bottles were hauled to the collection center on West Main Street. Bottling companies paid the Jaycees 2 cents for each empty bottle collected.

Assisting the Jaycees in the bottle Sunday were Jaycee-ettes and members of Hoyt Thomas' Boy Scout Troop, Bailey said.

Open house tonight at two schools in Post

Open houses, in connection with the Post Schools Week, will be held from 7 until 9 p. m. tonight (Thursday) at the Post Elementary and Primary schools.

Open houses were held Tuesday at the high school and junior high school, with fair-sized crowds of persons attending in spite of the cold weather. Supt. Bill Shiver said.

Everyone is invited to attend to the open house at the elementary and primary schools, the superintendent said.

The American Legion's 'Golden Year'

During the month of March, the American Legion here in Post and throughout the nation and even in many cities beyond our borders will climax its 50th Anniversary observance. It was March 15-17, 1919, that the Legion was founded in Paris, France, during a meeting of representatives of the various outfits which made up the World War I American Expeditionary Force.

It wasn't many months after the Legion was founded that Post's James C. Cole Post No. 270 of the American Legion was organized. A few of the World War I veterans who helped organize the local post are still active members, but membership in the main is made up of World War II veterans.

A citizen-veteran organization conceived in duty to its fellow man, the American Legion has been a responsible contributor to American thought and deed during the years of our nation's emergence as a world power. American Legion history of the past 50 years is filled with achievements in behalf of mankind through active, continuous campaigns to preserve the lofty concepts of justice, freedom and democracy.

However, there's an unusual aspect in the Golden Anniversary celebration of this organization of war veterans. Any 50th anniversary celebration is an appropriate time to reflect on past accomplishments. During its year-long Golden Anniversary observance, though, The American Legion is not taking a somewhat "let-the-record-speak-for-itself" attitude. Instead, this gigantic fraternity of service is tuned to its Golden Year theme of "Forging the Future."

The first 50 years of American Legion existence have been years of ever-increasing waves of change for both the nation and the world. Change is still the order of the day. Today's greatest challenge is whether man shall manage change or change manage man. It is to this challenge that The American Legion addresses itself during its Golden Year as it charts its course of services to a changing community, state, and nation.

With a 2.6-million membership drawn from the veteran ranks of four wars—World Wars I and II, Korea, and Vietnam—The American Legion is dedicated to "Forging the Future" of a strong, vigorous, compassionate America of the next half-century.

Through its Golden Anniversary observance, The American Legion is declaring its confidence in the future of America, seeking wider avenues of involvement in meeting the challenge of change.

To the American Legion and the Legionnaires of Post we wish to add our congratulations during their 50th Anniversary and best wishes for every success in "Forging the Future."—CD

Still busy at his No. 1 job

George (Scotty) Samson, Post's No. 1 citizen, retired Saturday at the age of "85 years young" because of health reasons, basically his "bad knee."

If it wasn't for that pesky knee there is no telling how long George would have continued as maintenance foreman at the Postex Plant.

Post will be 62 years old this spring, and, very fortunately, this community has had George as its energetic booster down through every year of its history.

Few towns have had as good a "public relations man" as George—and few cotton mills have either.

George is a man of fierce loyalty to his hometown and complete devotion.

The projects he has carried out all by himself or promoted successfully up and down Main Street for the benefit of this community would make an almost endless list.

One can't have "a cup of coffee" with George or exchange pleasantries on the sidewalk with him without becoming "personally involved" in George's latest project.

The Scotsman has a knack for getting other people to express their views—and if you know the first fundamental about public relations you know this is how you "involve" people.

George carried Post's name to many parts of Texas in 62 years of community boosting, fair exhibits, and so forth. Post is probably better known as "Scotty Samson's hometown" than anything else.

There is a quality of character about George which so many of us admire, but so few of us, regrettably, possess. He refuses to speak ill of any man, always finding something good to say about everybody, and combines this trait with unswerving personal diligence to accomplish whatever his community project of the moment might be.

It is one thing to speak well of everybody, but it is a far different thing for a "doer" to do so and to continue "doing" with unchecked enthusiasm.

We are not the least bit worried about George "keeping busy" in retirement. He has his flowers, a big yard for a "workshop", thousands of friends, and a head full of ideas about continuing to help his hometown and preserve its historical significance.

In fact, George hasn't really retired. He is still working at his No. 1 job—that of boosting Post and trying in his very special way to always make it "a little bit better."—JC

'Values to Hold—Worlds to Explore'

A large number of Girl Scout leaders, fathers, and other guests helped Post's Girl Scouts get the program's 57th birthday observance off to a good start here Saturday night by attending the Father-Daughter box supper in the school lunchroom.

The box supper was an enjoyable affair and its general theme carried out the philosophy of "action and not just words"—the philosophy that has guided the Girl Scouts throughout their 57 years.

Today the Girl Scouts are underlining this philosophy with action that is important to every American. They are intensifying their efforts to find members and leaders; not just in middle class suburbia, but in hard core poverty areas. Their hope is to build bridges of friendship through Girl Scouting, between the inner and outer cities of our nation.

It's possible that the communication gap which separates these two areas of our society may be bridged better by young people than by adults. The reason is that today's youth is trying to recognize essential values, and to reject the superficial differences that separate people.

"Values to Hold—Worlds to Explore" is the theme of Girl Scout Week and of the Girl Scouts' 57th birthday March 12. This date marks the anniversary of the first meeting of the first troop organized in Savannah, Ga., by Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the movement in the United States.

Post's Girl Scouts and others throughout the Capock Council will continue their observance by launching their annual cookie sale this Thursday. The sale of the cookies will help finance activities of the local troops of Girl Scouts and Brownies, as well as help maintain Camp Rio Blanco, where the Post girls attend camp.

We think the Girl Scout effort deserves commendation and we urge everyone to support their cookie sale. In this 57th year of the Girl Scouts' existence they are proving a greater force for good than ever, and if all Americans would follow their example most of our nation's problems would be solved.—CD

Where the problem starts

More than one speaker on drugs and narcotics in Littleton has pointed out that children learn from adults. Last week, a mental health leader pointed out some of our bad habits which make it easier to understand why young people are trying pills and pot.

One out of four American adults uses tranquilizers, stimulants, or sedatives. Use by adults has increased sharply in the last 10 years.

Women take tranquilizers about twice as often as men do.

The heaviest use of such "acceptable" drugs is not by the ghetto dweller (who may not be able to afford them.) It's by the person in the over-$10,000-income bracket.

Consider that statistic together with the fact that 33.8 per cent of Littleton breadwinners make more than $10,000 a year. Is there any reason to think that our use of "legal" mind-benders in Littleton would be any less heavy than the use across the nation?

None of this is justification for teenagers to indulge in dangerous and illegal drug use. But it makes it pretty hard for pill-popping, smoking adults to say, "What's the matter with these kids, anyway?"—The Arapahoe Herald, Littleton, Colo.

AFTER STUMBLING around all season long, winter finally got here Sunday — less than three weeks ahead of the first day of Spring on March 21. This is Monday, the day after the first real cold spell hit, and unless it gets worse before it gets better, we're still faced with an unusually moderate winter.

TEXAS TECH's newspaper, "The University Daily," has printed a "Letter to the Editor" in which five students have come up with a rather unique set of demands — but, to my way of thinking, more wholesome demands than those being made on a number of college campuses.

The Tech paper's "Letter to the Editor" went as follows: "Five student cowboys, representing no particular student organization, herewith presents a list of suggestions for a change in policy of college administration: "1. Ridin' and ropin' courses to be offered and taught by real cowboys.

"2. Recruitment of students from area ranches.

"3. West Texas draw and slang to be offered as a course.

"4. More cowboy entertainment.

"5. More cowboy speakers in front of the Union.

"6. Recruiting of cowboy professors.

"7. Hiring of cowboy coaches for cowboy sports.

"8. More cowboys in high office.

"9. Providing stall space, one horse for each dorm room.

"10. Serving cowboy food in Union and dorm cafeterias (barbecue and milk) with dinner bell rung at noon.

"11. Recruitment of more cowboy athletes.

"12. Substitute boots, spurs and chaps for cleats and pads.

"13. Recruitment of cowboys from nations other than Texas."

Any more deductions in our take-home pay and some of us won't have a home to take it to.

MRS. C's column last week in which she wrote her dreams of hearing "all that lovely machinery" at work cleaning up vacant lots, bulldozing alleys, etc., also mentioned "a winch truck winching." When Mrs. C's column passed through the editorial hopper, I was pleased to see that she spelled winch "winch" and not "wench," as some writers do. As an example, I have a clipping of a "Letter to the Editor" received by the Daily Times at Farmington, N. M. The letter reads as follows:

"Don't you people know the difference between a winch and a wench?"

"It probably means little to you, but some of the younger, male members of your staff should be interested in knowing that a wench is a female human being, while a winch is a mechanical device to pull things with greater force, involving the use of a crank.

"In your front page story Wednesday 'Boat Equipment Listed Stolen' you refer to a gear-driven wench. I certainly wouldn't want any son of mine to marry that kind."

If you're one of those old-fashioned Saturday nighters who tune your radio to the "Grand ol' Opry" you probably heard this one:

"When I was a kid, my folks were so poor we couldn't even afford electricity. I was the only boy on the block who played a kerosene guitar."

ON OUR way back from Lubbock Saturday evening, we stopped for a cup of coffee at the Holiday Inn coffee shop. While waiting to pay our check, I picked up a book of matches off the counter and noticed they were "Season's Greetings" matches, with a Christmas scene on the cover. I remarked to the fellow standing next to me that they must be "left-overs" from the holiday season. "Well, it's hard to tell," he commented. "It could be that or it could be that they're already putting them out for next Christmas." Hmmm.

Nearly everybody I've talked to who saw the Senior class play, "The Groovy Guru," last Friday night has commented on the "professional" manner in which the Seniors put it on. At the Girl Scout box supper Saturday night, I was discussing the play with one of the faculty directors, J. W. Clifford modestly refrained from talking. Mrs. Iris Wilkins, while Mr. Clifford modestly refrained from taking any credit for the play's success, he did mention that there were 22 Seniors in the cast and about that many more taking a hand in the play's production. That gave just about every member of the Senior class an opportunity to help put the play on, and they came through in grand style.

Girl Scouts to start cookie sale Thursday

Beginning at 4 p. m. today, the Girl Scouts of the Post will start their annual cookie sale, which is to continue through Thursday, March 20. The Girl Scouts will be selling a variety of cookies, including chocolate chip, vanilla, peanut butter, mint, butter pecan, peanut butter and cocoa, and a box. The company selling and supplying the cookies will be fresh and stay fresh for 90 days or longer as long as they aren't opened. There will be 85 girls selling and about 30 adults involved in the sale.

Participating, their leaders and the number of girls in each troop are as follows: Troop 1, Mrs. Jack Lott and W. F. Shiver, 10 girls. Troop 2, Mrs. Ronald Babb and D. E. Morris, 17 girls. Troop 3, Mrs. Joe Bailey and W. Peppers, 11 girls. Troop 4, Mrs. Wayne Carpenter and D. E. Morris, 14 girls.

Troop 5, Mrs. Lee W. Davis and Mrs. Bill Gandy, 7 girls. For each box of cookies the girls sell, the troop keeps 5 cents for the Council, of which 2 cents go to the troop for improvements at Camp Rio Blanco, where the girls attend camp sometime during the year and some go more than once.

The girls selling 25 boxes of cookies receive a Certificate of Honor; girls selling 100 boxes receive a "Scout" patch, and those selling 250 boxes receive a two-day "campership" at Camp Rio Blanco. This year's goal is for the Council to sell 100,000 boxes of cookies. Post has 145 cases, or 145 boxes, to sell. Mrs. Alton Clary, Post Neighborhood cookie chairman, asks that "everyone give these girls their support and help them reach their goal." "Then some day go by Camp Rio Blanco — it's a beautiful camp — and visit, and while you are there ask someone to show you some of the things the cookie money has bought," urged Mrs. Clary. "You'll be glad you have supported the Girl Scouts," she continued. The Girl Scouts would like to thank everyone for the support they have received in the past.

AN ELECTRIC WATER HEATER, OF COURSE!

Electric water heaters can be concealed anywhere... in the garage, in a closet, under the eaves. And, that's because they do not need flues or chimneys... just the water connection and electricity. If your present water heater is getting along in years... not heating out like a youngster, then it's time to replace with a sparkling new electric. And, if you should ever be needed, just call Reddy... he'll fix whatever's wrong... or pull a rabbit out of a hat!

A Delightful Decision.

BROWNIES LINE UP FOR BIRTHDAY CAKE

Mancy Jo Power, Jesse Brown wed

Mancy Jo Power, daughter of Jack and Mrs. J. N. Power of Rock and granddaughter of the late Dazzle Dickinson, was wed to Jesse Brown, in a double ceremony last Friday at 7 o'clock in the evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cloud of Lubbock.

The Rev. W. F. Ferguson, retired Baptist minister, officiated. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Brown of Amarillo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Merrill Brown was matron of honor and Mr. Brown attended his son as best man.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple is at home at 2115 S. 11th St. The bride is a senior Texas Tech and is employed by the Division of Singer and Sewer Co. Mr. Brown is employed by Bill Wolk and Son Irrigation Co. of Abernathy.

Father-Daughter box supper held by Girl Scout troops

The cutting — and eating — of a 15-pound birthday cake highlighted the Girl Scouts' Father-Daughter box supper held Saturday night in the school lunchroom, with approximately 100 Girl Scouts, Brownies and guests attending.

The big birthday cake helped celebrate the Girl Scouting program's 57th birthday, which is being observed nationally during Girl Scout Week.

The cake was cut and served by two of the troop leaders, Mrs. Jack Loft and Mrs. William F. Shiver. All Girl Scouts and Brownies took part in the entertainment program. Troop 445 presented Indian dancers; Troop 90 sang "George Girl"; Troop 302 presented folk games, and Troop 331 carried out a Juliette Low Friendship Fund ceremony.

Williams F. Shiver was master of ceremonies. Presentation of the colors by Troop 5 was followed by the invocation by the Rev. O. Curtis Lee.

Following the box supper, Girl Scout advisory and finance committee members and special guests were introduced. Mrs. Alton Clary made a talk on Girl Scouting and recognized the troops and their leaders.

Fathers attending the box supper with their daughters, and other male guests, were measured as to height, with each contributing to the Juliette Low Friendship Fund at the "approximate" rate of one cent per inch of height.

In music to illustrate the program Mrs. Garland Huddleston sang "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod, accompanied by Mrs. Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Miss Haley presented an organ and piano duet of "Reverie" by Debussy to conclude the program.

Attending the meeting were a new member, Mrs. Roy Haney, and Mmes. Willard Kirkpatrick, Bevers, John Boren, Huddleston, Dan Lamb, Macy, R. L. Marks Miller, Glenn Norman, Olson, Pennell, Bill Pool, Shiver, Jerry Thuet, Alvin Young, L. G. Thuet Jr., W. N. Cooper and the hostesses.

SOAKING LAUNDRY A TERRIFIC OLD IDEA

Consumers are being bombarded by so-called washday miracles in magazines.

Research proves enzyme products get rid of many stubborn stains, but the housewife may be misled to achieve the same results half the cost. The idea of soaking clothes before laundering to get your wash significantly cleaner is not new.

Soaking with detergent does not do a job on most of the stains that enzyme presoaks, tests have shown.

The tests there was some very slight difference between enzyme products and a detergent in their performance on blood, gravy stains, with the enzyme doing slightly better. But all the removed egg stains completely in 30 minutes of soaking and then a soapy overnight. All the removed a good part of syrup, coffee and tea stains. Enzyme presoaks did very well with most stains.

Consumers are suggested to first try soaking in a solution of one of whatever laundry detergent they now use. It may perform surprisingly well — and at the cost of an enzyme presoak.

The new enzyme products are suggested to boost the total laundry products from the last 12 months

An instrumental prelude of "Kum ba yah", an African spiritual, will be presented by Mrs. George L. Miller, with Mrs. K. W. Kirkpatrick at the organ.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Here's that "continued" column I promised you several months ago. You've forgotten what it was to be about? Well, frankly I might have too if it hadn't been for the bulk of correspondence concerning the matter.

I won't keep you in suspense any longer. The column is a bout Floyd Tillman, and all the information contained herein is factual—coming straight from the horse's mouth, so to speak.

After I had written the first column about Mr. Tillman and his western hit songs I drew a complete blank as to his whereabouts. Lots of local folks tried to help by suggesting who else I could call and by telling me "that he was living in California" "that he was still composing" and "that he wasn't composing any more."

Mary Tillman called me (they were out of town when the first column was written) and gave me several addresses of relatives in Houston I could write to. I followed her suggestion that Floyd's sister, Mrs. Bill Plunkett, might be the logical one to start with. Naturally, a couple of weeks of procrastinating took place before the letter was written.

In the meantime I received a letter from a faithful Dispatch subscriber, E. R. Newby of Oklahoma City, father of Post's David Newby. Much to my surprise upon opening it I found that the letter concerned Floyd Tillman. Mr. Newby said that my comments about Floyd caught the eye of Mrs. Irma Lobb who was working in the Newby home at the time as a nurse. It seems as though Mrs. Lobb knew Floyd and is a great admirer of his singing. "She has records of his which she frequently plays," continued Mr. Newby. Mrs. Lobb volunteered that one of her daughters, Betty Lou, has sung on the same program with Floyd although they did not sing together. However, Mrs. Lobb was able to shed no light on the mystery of "Where is Floyd Tillman?"

About a week ago I received a letter from A. O. Tannehill, a Houston subscriber of the Post Dispatch (got to keep sticking those plugs in), who informed me that Floyd had appeared on the "Ron Stone Show" live Feb. 7 on the Houston Chronicle TV station and "I believe said he would be playing at the Stampede Ballroom during the Salt Grass Trail Festival". Mr. Tannehill suggested that I might contact Ron Stone if I had not succeeded in tracking him down.

Next came a letter from Mrs. Lillie D. Short who with her husband, Lowell, was visiting in Houston with Bud Short and family and another son, Jimmy. Upon seeing a story and picture of Floyd in the Houston Post she recalled that I was on the search for him. So, she clipped the story and picture and sent it along with a chat.

Mother, daughter shower honorees

Mrs. Damon Ethridge and her three-week-old adopted daughter, Debbie Sue, were complimented with a layette shower Monday night at the Community Room between the hours of 7 and 8:30 o'clock.

The white lace covered table featured a pink floral arrangement surrounded by small baby items. Hot spiced tea, pink filled cookies, nuts and mints were served by alternating hostesses. Silver appointments were used.

Hostesses were: Mmes. Arnold Sanderson, W. D. White, Floyd Duncan, Don Tatum, Ted Tatum, James Mitchell, Noel White, Don Davenport, George Miller, Don Windham, Ed Sawyers, John Gist, Delwin Fluitt, Walter Didway and J. D. McCampbell.

Lives of three Presidents are topics for club

Mrs. M. J. Malouf, president of the Woman's Culture Club, announced at last week's meeting that Mrs. Lane Decker of Floydada, Caprock District president, planned an official visit to the local federated club on March 5 and a covered dish luncheon would be held in her home in Mrs. Decker's honor.

Mrs. R. L. Marks led in the reading of the club collect. Program leader, Mrs. J. H. Haire, opened the study of "American Presidents" by telling of the life of Rutherford B. Hayes, our 19th president. Mrs. Herman Havens spoke on the life of James A. Garfield — the Canal Boy, and Mrs. Bailey Mayo reported on the life of Chester A. Arthur — the Dude.

Mrs. Malouf closed the meeting with a prayer for peace. The meeting was held in the rural home of Mrs. Lee W. Davis Sr., with Mrs. Ira Lee Duckworth as co-hostess. They served refreshments to the following: Mmes. Jack Burress, Ralph Welch, Kent Magness, Louie Burkes, F. R. Adams, D. C. Williams, C. D. Merrel, C. R. Thaxton, B. E. Young, Marks, Havis, Mayo, Malouf and Haire.

Sketch on Washington presented at meeting Mystic Sewing Club

Mrs. Jimmie Hudman presented a short sketch of George Washington — the Father of Our Country — at last Friday afternoon's meeting of the Mystic Sewing Club in the home of Mrs. Opal Williams.

Members made purses out of upholstery webbing which they embroidered in bright colors. They plan to make rocking chair pincushions at the next meeting, March 10, which will be held in the home of Mrs. Alysue Runkles. Each member is asked to bring a lid from a tin can.

Mrs. Williams served banana cake, olives, cheese, twists and punch to the following: Mmes. Hudman, Wanda Henderson, Edna McLendon, Catherine Rankin, Mae Shirley, Runkles, Vergie Young and Pearl Polk; Miss Henrietta Nichols and guests, Mrs. Wynona Moore and Renee, and Quint Cook, guests of Mrs. Polk.

Needlecraft members send cards to sick

Cards were signed and sent to those who are ill by the 11 members of the Needlecraft Club which met Friday in the home of Miss S. C. Storie. Mrs. Storie served refreshments to the following: Mmes. F. C. Benke, Montee Adams, G. N. Hagedorn, W. R. Graber, J. N. McCrary, L. G. Thouth, Sr., Jess Rogers, Jack Kennedy, and I. E. Bowen, who will be hostess at the March 14 meeting.

Mark Twain's Story

OF THE READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
Of the many books on Texans which have been published during the last few years, I've enjoyed reading "In a Narrow Grave" by native son Larry McMurtry more than any since New Yorker John Bainbridge did "The Super Americans" in 1961.

McMurtry has a sharp tongue, and there will be many people who will object to certain parts of "In a Narrow Grave". Perhaps I should recommend that sweet old ladies skip Chapter 4, "Eros in Archer County" and West Texans in general should avoid Chapter 5, "A Look At the Lost Frontier". They will almost certainly make the ol' blood pressure boil, which would be a shame, since the rest of the book is so well worth reading.

McMurtry's account of the filming of "Hud" (based on his first book, "Horseman, Pass By") with Paul Newman, Brandon de Wilde, and Patricia O'Neal, near the town of Claude in the Texas Panhandle, is priceless. An excerpt: "There was to be a scene in which a number of buzzards sit around waiting for the people to leave so they can consume a dead heifer. Paul Newman roars up and in his wild way shoots one of the buzzards, whereupon the others fly away. The first difficulty turned out to be getting the buzzards. There are no professional buzzard-trappers in the Panhandle, and the few birds that showed up of their own accord were skittery and unphotogenic. It was necessary to arrange for someone in the vicinity of Laredo, roughly a thousand miles away, to round up a dozen buzzards and fly them by jet to Amarillo. The plan was to wire the buzzards to a dead tree until they had been photographed again as they soared into the blue Panhandle sky."

"In outline it was a good plan, but it quite failed to take into account the mentality of buzzards. As soon as they were wired to the tree they all began to try and fly away. The wires prevented that, of course, but did not prevent them from falling off the limbs, where they dangled upside down, wings flapping, nether parts exposed. It is hard to imagine anything less likely to beguile a movie-going audience than a tree full of dangling buzzards. Everyone agreed it was unattractive. The buzzards were righted, but they tried again, and with each try their humiliation deepened. Finally they abandoned their efforts to fly away and resigned themselves to life on their tree. Their resignation was so complete that when the scene was readied and the time came for them to fly, they refused. They had had enough of ignominy; better to remain on the limb indefinitely. Buzzards are not without patience. Profanity, firecrackers, and even a shotgun full of rock salt failed to move them. I'm told that, in desperation, a bird man was flown in from L. A. to teach the sulky bastards to fly. The whole experience left everyone touchy. A day or so later, looking at the pictures again, I noticed a further provocative detail. The dead heifer that figured so prominently in the scene was quite clearly a steer. When I

Lubbock Rodeo's headliner will be Fess Parker

LUBBOCK — Fess Parker, television's Daniel Boone, will headline the 27th annual ABC Rodeo here March 19-22, it was revealed at a noon luncheon at Pioneer Hotel today.

Parker, who heads his own empire of business activities, will be featured at all four performances, slated at 8 p. m. daily in Municipal Coliseum.

More than 150 of the nation's top cowboys are expected to sign up for the competition. Cash prizes totaling nearly $12,000 in purses and added money will be up for grabs.

Today's luncheon kicked off ticket sales for the year's first rodeo in Lubbock. Tickets may be obtained at rodeo headquarters in Pioneer Hotel, or at Brook's Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, United and Safeway supermarkets, all western stores and at Tech Drug.

Charles Perry, BC rodeo chairman, said Wilbur Plaugher, actor and often a rodeo performer, would return as clown. Clem McSpadden, Oklahoma legislator, again will serve as announcer. J. W. Stoker's trick roping act also will be featured.

Eira Beutler and Son of Elk City, Okla., will produce the 1969 rodeo.

pointed this out to the still photographers they just shrugged. A steer was close enough; after all, they were both essentially cows. "In essence, it's a cow", one said moodily. No one wanted those buzzards back again."

That certainly was a long excerpt. I couldn't seem to find a stopping place, and now there's not enough room for me to write anything. Oh, well — McMurtry speaks pretty well for himself. If you liked that, you'll like the rest of "In a Narrow Grave" as well.

Nell Bailey will be replacing volunteer Alane Ammons at the library on Tuesday afternoons, 4-6. That's all we need — another ding-a-ling.

TRULY CATHOLIC

By George L. Miller

In 1960 the American church goer witnessed a new miracle begin in six of our major denominations. The Spirit of God seemed to be prompting a new look at our divisions and urging a new effort to unite our separatedness. Earnest and dedicated Church men began yearly meetings to discuss—not what our differences or similarities might be—but what was the core of the Christian faith and the nature of Christian mission for all men.

The purpose of these meetings? A united Church, one church faithful to our one Lord, Jesus Christ.

Three churches in Post, the Presbyterian, First Christian and Methodist, are members of denominations that are participating in this effort. We do so in an atmosphere of suspicion and misunderstanding. Many have labeled this movement as un-Christian, counter to the will of God and even Communist inspired. In spite of these accusations, the Consultation on Church Union continues. They continue because we acknowledge—from the start—that our dividedness is not the will of God but a symptom of our human sin and limitation.

One of the first surprises that has come from this consultation, is the wide area of agreement that already exists among us. A more significant discovery was the realization that no single church participating in this effort—there are now twelve denominations involved—can provide the pattern for the united Church. We have not indulged in endless arguments over whether there should be bishops in the church or whether the local congregation should be completely dependent. We have asked, instead, what is the mission of the Church, what would God have us do, how can we best minister to the world?

Three principles soon emerged. The united Church must be "truly Catholic, truly Evangelical, truly Reformed."

In recent times, the word "Catholic" has suffered from Protestant prejudice and bigotry. Many churches that repeat the Apostles' Creed in their morning worship even go so far as to omit, or alter the phrase "I believe in the Holy Catholic Church." This is unfortunate, for the word "Catholic" is more than respectable, it is essential to the Church.

It means the universal church, the church that is open to all men, the church that speaks to the whole inhabited earth. It also stands as an indictment of our many churches today. No country club is more ingrown or self-centered than the church. No social institution is more thoroughly segregated. No organization more sensitive to class consciousness. Far from Catholic, our churches have become the most provincial groups in our society.

It's worth pointing out once again what the Bible tells us about our faith. "God so loved the world (not the Presbyterians, or the Baptists, or the Catholics!) he gave his only son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." The Gospel, the Good News, is spoken to all men. The Church is God's instrument, his servant, given a great commission "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you."

When the Church has become "truly Catholic" it may then be possible we will not only hear the commandment of Christ, we will at last be able to obey it.

That 'Groovy Guru' Was Big Success

By Martha Jo Walls

The Senior class play presented Friday night surprised many by proving to be a success. The Seniors believed this play to be different from any previous play and therefore be original enough to be enjoyed. A special thanks goes to Wacker's for lending us some of our stage props and to radio station KPOS for the sound effects. A thanks also to the room mothers for the party and food they provided at Teen Town after the play.

A vote was taken and the majority liked Mike Scott (the guru) with long hair, dirty feet, and B. O.

Debbie Cummings should get a commission for her advertisement for honey while in the line of duty.

Jan Bullock should limit her mosquito biting ability off stage.

There is some concern as to whether Mike Criswell is over 30.

Danny Bostick and Ronnie Williams deserve a hand for the lighting and sound effects. Hey, Billy Little, why couldn't you get the dog to bark?

That groovy guru forgot Miss Wrong, Miss Right, Miss — What is your name again? Oh yes, Miss West!

James Pollard, were you hired by some mystic person to corrupt our play because it wasn't patriotic and honored the hippy movement? Is that why you fell into the scenery when Martha Jo just barely hit you and you lost the sugar in the bathtub?

The Walking Wounded are very hurt and disappointed that no one thought them important enough to take their picture.

The Seniors would like to express their sorrow for all those people who were hit on the head by the fall-out of candy.

Oh, by the way Katy didn't.

Debbie Dickson and James Pollard, have you heard the joke about the bathtub?

Don't tell anyone but Karen Lee acted her part the best because that is the TRUE Karen! Oink! Oink!

Last of all the Seniors would like to express their appreciation to the hippies who allowed us to "poke fun" at them for the duration of our play. Thank you.

Installing Gas Air Conditioning is a

Snow Job

Put in Gas Air Conditioning in the winter . . . and beat the rush that always starts on the first hot or dusty day. This spring, while the crowd's all steamed up waiting for overworked installers, you'll be cool, calm and collected . . . enjoying the benefits of the smart air conditioning buy . . . economical gas air conditioning. Quietly cools your whole house for what you may have been paying to cool two or three rooms. You'll save on repairs, too, because gas air conditioning has no major moving parts to wear out.

And the payments . . . forget 'em until May 1st.

Call Pioneer tomorrow. A representative will be glad to put on his overcoat and come tell you just what it will take to convert your present forced air heating to comfortable, efficient Gas Air Conditioning. It costs you nothing to get a complete cooling survey of your home or business.

Gary is a nephew of Lucille Walker and Bud Inklebarger and grew up in and around Grassland. His wife and two children live in Lubbock and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McGrew of Lamesa. We are all proud of Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. Dock Thornton visited in Ralls Sunday with his mother, Mrs. J. P. Carter, who is in a nursing home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Aten visited Mary Craig Sunday afternoon. Amos Gerner and Jerry and Jerry Turner of Perryton have returned from a fishing trip to Lake Falcon with some of the Hackberry Gin bunch. They came home with lots of fish.

A Gerner family reunion was held over the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brewer in honor of the Gerners' sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lormand, who have returned from a 2½ years stay in Okinawa. They will go to Albuquerque, N. M., for a time before being sent to Chicago. Attending the affair were Louise Gerner of Dallas, Jerry Turner, Laura Gerner, Helen Stowers, Linda Kay Mueller, Lonnie Mason, Wade Gerner, all of Lubbock, Mrs. Edna Mason and Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gerner and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. A. Some of the nurses and patients attended the party along with the honoree's three daughters, Lorene, Ruby and Addie. Pictures were taken. Cake and punch were served.

FOOD LONGEVITY

Only about 10 per cent of the new food products that appear on the market remain in production more than a year, say consumer specialists.

Idalou walks off from Doe cagers in playoff game

Things started out bad for the Post Doe basketball team at Slaton last Thursday night and they got worse instead of better. As a result, the Idalou girls walked off the court with a 57 to 44 victory and the right to meet Hale Center in the bi-district playoff game.

In their two regular season games, there had been a total of only three points difference between the Post and Idalou teams, but last Thursday was Idalou's night as the District 4AA co-champions clashed on the neutral Slaton court to decide the loop's playoff representative.

Idalou had a commanding 12-4 lead at the end of the first quarter, was ahead 28-15 at halftime, and 38-28 at the end of the third quarter.

Frequent turnovers by the Does and the guards' inability to contain Jeanice Freeman, Idalou's hook - shot artist, contributed to the locals' downfall. Miss Foreman finished with 33 points.

Sherry Bird, sharpshooting sophomore, scored 19 points for Post to help keep the score from being too lopsided.

Southland seniors are to present class play

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
Greetings Southland fans! Another week, another month. The big question is — where did February go?
Allen Lester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Lester, was notified last week that he had won second place in a 4-H Young Farmer contest. He won it on his five acres of cotton. This contest was sponsored by the Farmer and Merchants Compress and Warehouse of Greenville, Tex., and was judged on their record books, yield and how cheaply they raised their crops. Allen won first place in the contest the year before. Congratulations, Allen.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. W. P. Lester were Mr. and Mrs. Lee T. Lester, Rickey and Sherry of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble and Marilyn of the Union community, Joe Barnhart and Kathy Brown of Lubbock and Mrs. Winston Lester and children.

We extend our deepest sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Myers and family. Mr. Myers' nephew, Billy Earl Myers, died in a Waco hospital a week ago Saturday and

Check received by Post firemen

The Post Volunteer Fire Department has received a check for $75 from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of C. L. Morris of Post.

The money will be used for purchase of equipment. The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Post Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

FIRST TURBOJET PLANE

The first turbojet plane was introduced by Germany in 1939.

was buried on Tuesday. May God comfort this family in their grief.

The cast members are as follows: Beryl Evans, Dayneen Dunn; Carl Gray, Hortensia Cardenas; Edward Evans, Curtis Lancaster; Warren Wilson, Mike Mason; Penndennis, Joe Basinger; Frank Keenan, Darrell W. Wilke; Marion Horton, Betty Lockridge. The play will be presented in three acts. Mrs. Irene Kuykendall helps the Seniors every year with the play. Ya'll come!

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes went to Fort Worth last Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Wartes and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cummings and family. They stopped in Abilene and visited the R. L. Howards. The Wartes returned home Sunday afternoon.

Joe Blyth of Kansas City, Mo., son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker, was injured in a freak accident last Thursday in Kansas City when a car hit him and knocked him down. He received several broken ribs and underwent surgery for the removal of his spleen. He is doing fairly well but will be hospitalized for some time.

Joe Basinger placed first in high jump in the Idalou Track meet on Saturday. Congratulations, Joe.

Congratulations to Mrs. Lena Lieske on her birthday March 3. May God grant her many more birthdays.

Congratulations to the Meadow Broncos who slipped past Adrian, 58-55, in the finals of the Region 1 Class B tournament at Levelland Saturday night. Meadow is the lone South Plains team to make it to the big meet in Austin this coming weekend. Meadow won our district and they have a very fine ball team, so we are real proud that they are getting to go to State. Good luck, Broncos! We will be rooting for you on Saturday.

Not that we didn't have faith in our husbands bringing home some fish from Lake Falcon — but just to be on the safe side, some of us "fishing widows" decided to get together last Thursday night and go to a fish dinner. Those going were: Mmes. Hansel Hallman, F. W. Callaway, Bob Dyess, Billy Dunn, Jay Oats and Yours Truly. Sure was good eating!

Clarence Basinger spent several days in Mercy Hospital last week.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis were Mr. and Mrs. Oto Carnes and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon of Lubbock.

Oscar Henrich of Southland and Bob Fondy of Slaton attended the Houston Livestock Show.

SEVENTH GRADE TEAM FINISHES SEASON

Approximately 30 boys made up Post's 7th grade basketball squad, which made a good showing in district play. The front-line players (those with numbered jerseys) are left to right, front row: Randy Peel, Steve Sawyers, Richard Dudley, Dempsey Zachary, Ricky Shepherd and Jay Pollard. Second

GOLF BOOSTS COURSES

Golf course construction and maintenance costs total about $15 million annually in Texas, says Dr. George McBee of Texas A&M University's soil and crop sciences department. The national investment in golf courses is about $2.12 billion. These figures mean new emphasis on turf grass management in colleges, says Dr. McBee.

Letters to the Editor...

CANDIDATE QUALIFICATION

Dear Voters:

Now that the smoke has cleared from the national election, our City and School elections will seem rather tame. It's awfully hard for many of us to cast an intelligent vote during these elections because the only qualifications or positions that are ever aired are how long a person has lived in the county and how much desire they have to serve some of the voters.

In my opinion it would be most difficult to consider a candidate qualified to legislate the handling of City and School funds, that are in excess of one half million dollars per year, if they themselves have not paid their taxes.

If a person feels themselves qualified to handle the taxpayer's money then shouldn't they be willing to carry part of the tax burden? Delinquent tax rolls are public information, as is a person's civic dedication.

Very truly yours,
W. E. Chapman Jr.

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly — never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm results in a better record.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payment in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come—perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it?

But what if everybody in this country were to throw their hands up in despair and say they don't give a hoot.

Indeed, there would be no tomorrow.

But fortunately, Americans have a way of solving their problems.

And that's just what's going to happen in these troubled times. Simply because it's always been an American tradition.

Now, how can you, as one little ole citizen in this big, wide country of ours, be of any help?

Well, take a minute and think about a U.S. Savings Bond.

That's right, a U.S. Savings Bond.

No, it isn't an immediate remedy for all our ills. But it helps.

If everybody were to buy just one $25.00 Savings Bond (cost $18.75), your country would be stronger economically to wipe out some of those scars we've been sporting.

Of course, everybody would be helping themselves, too. If you were to sign up on a Bond purchase plan where you work or bank, you'd have quite a nice nest egg for yourself one of these days.

You'd have a lot more dollars in the kitty for things like college educations, that new home, or a secure retirement.

So think about a U.S. Savings Bond today. And then go out and buy one.

Tomorrow.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them.
