

POSTINGS

June is here. That means the tourist season is here too and once again vacationers by the thousands are starting to pour through Post on various highway routes with the biggest majority zipping up and down Broadway on US-84.

That means that Mr. C is going to be busy with the annual Tourist Edition of The Dispatch. We'll be calling on advertisers this week and we're open to any suggestions for local news stories which will interest tourists.

If all goes well we hope to have the new tourist edition printed and ready to be distributed to tourists by around June 15, when the rush is really started.

If you have any ideas for the 1969 edition, please give us a ring. The edition has created a lot of favorable comment from tourists—and we feel sure it has meant more business to local firms serving tourists.

The "book fiesta" Saturday night might be a great one—so don't miss it. Bring the family and have some fun with friends neighbors.

It's great to hear that Post is going to have a fireworks display on the Fourth of July this year for the first time in a long, long time. It will climax the big Independence Day celebration which is being co-sponsored by the Post Chamber of Commerce and the Post Jaycees.

Readers' attention is called to the White River Water District ad on the sports page advising local taxpayers how to proceed to get an entrance sticker put on their cars for free admittance all year to the White River Lake. It's worth taking the trouble to pick up your form at city hall, as the ad explains, because the new gate charge of 50 cents per person for everyone over 12.

School trustees begin study of 1969-70 budget

Post school trustees at a special budget meeting Monday night began study of the district's proposed new 1969-70 budget which would create a $34,035.60 deficit at the present tax rate.

Supt. Bill Shiver, in submitting the budget, explained that without cuts in program or new income the new budget would provide a $1,360.90 deficit—and that is without figuring in the new state teachers pay raise which has yet to be signed into law by Gov. Preston Smith.

The state pay raise would cost the district an additional $12,675, Shiver told the board.

Shiver prefaced his budget remarks by pointing out that since he has become superintendent he has reduced Post's 14½ teachers in excess of state requirements down to six at a savings to the district of $40,000 per year; that the school system has lost its industrial arts teacher, but has gained a second state supported vocational arts teacher at a savings of $7,000; that four full-time principals have been reduced to three full-time and one part-time principal at a savings of $6,000.

Shiver said he had added three teacher aides during the last school year at a cost of $6,450 and added an elementary music teacher at a cost of $5,400.

Shiver also reported that he understands the state legislature in its final days voted to abolish the separate attendance accounting of Negro students. This will cost the Post school one C. T. U. at a cost of $6,000.

The superintendent said his proposal would cut down on regular meeting work load.

Council committees formed

Discussion heavily outweighed action at Monday night's regular meeting of the city council, with Mayor Giles C. McCrary appointing each councilman as chairman of a committee that will work on city matters in between the monthly council meetings.

The mayor's committee chairmanship appointments were: Donald Windham, water and sewer department and corporation court; Frank Blanton, streets and sanitation; Lester Nichols, park, cemetery, airport, White River water district, baseball park and public housing project; and David Newby, city ordinance review and updating.

Post distance runner signs Baylor letter

For the second year in a row Post Antelope track coach Waco Reynolds has looked on while his champion miler signed for a scholarship at a major university.

Steve Collazo, a May graduate of Post High School, has signed a letter of intent with Baylor University to enroll there next fall on a track scholarship.

Collazo, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Collazo of 616 East 11th St., is following in the footsteps of Pete Morales, who in his first year at Baylor won the Southwest Conference three-mile run in record-breaking time.

Collazo started his high school track career as a sophomore, but ran in only two meets that year. This year, as a senior, he was the District 4AA mile champion with his best time for the season 4 minutes and 30 seconds. In an invitational meet this season the Post miler outran Steve Stallings of Stanton, who won the Class AA mile championship at the state meet.

Pat N. Walker, in whose office Collazo signed the letter of intent, said Coach Clyde Hart of Baylor has never seen Steve run, nor has he met him, but he offered him a scholarship upon the recommendation of Coach Reynolds and through the influence of Pete Morales.

Collazo, like Morales, has specialized in the mile in high school, but Coach Hart said he probably would be moved to the three-mile run in college. Collazo's best time in three-mile practice runs on the local track was 14:41, which would have been good enough to place him third in the event in this year's Southwest Conference meet.

Collazo has participated in summer baseball since he was nine years old and in high school took part in basketball and football in addition to track.

Coach Reynolds, when complimented on the signing of his second miler in two years, said: "They haven't seen anything yet... I've got a whole stable of good distance men coming up."

A gay fiesta!

1969 Book Fair to be Saturday

Post's second annual Book Fair Saturday evening from 5 to 9 p.m. is going to be a gay fiesta in the vacant lot right next to the City Building in the 100 block East Main Street.

Sponsored by the Friends of a Public Library to raise funds for the purchase of more new library books, the fiesta's name is "La Fiesta de los Amigos," which translated means "The Friends Party."

Food booths, game booths, rides and sales booths will line both sides of the vacant lot. The Post Lions Club is building all the booths this year and the Friends are doing all the decorating and sign painting. Local clubs and organizations will operate various booths as their contribution to the fiesta's success.

The Friends' fiesta committee in its final planning meeting Tuesday night decided in case of bad weather to move the fiesta into the vacant building between the bank and the post office.

The entire community is invited to the fiesta for "fun night" with all profits going to a worthy cause.

The Friends are advertising their fiesta, including their "sneaky membership booth," on page 3 of today's Dispatch.

County equalization board meets June 12

The county's equalization board meeting will be held next Thursday, June 12, instead of Tuesday, June 10, as incorrectly stated in the county's equalization board hearing notice appearing in last week's Dispatch.

The corrected notice with the correct date appears on page 4 of today's Dispatch.

County Judge J. E. Parker announced yesterday that losses in oil valuations for the county will not be nearly as great as the unofficial total reported in The Dispatch last week.

Upon return from his vacation in Wyoming, Judge Parker said he contacted the oil valuation engineering firm and was told that the loss will be $1,049,390 instead of the $1,700,000 reported unofficially last week.

Parker said this will result in a tax loss of only about $8,400 and a half million dollar oil valuation drop had been anticipated.

The judge also said the tax engineers said oil valuations should level off or even gain as the water-floods get back into oil production in the county.

The council decided to hire a school board in hiring Walker to collect delinquent taxes if the school trustees and Walker work out an agreement.

Mayor McCrary read a letter from Jackson Bros. Food Lockers in which the council was advised that the firm is planning an expansion program at its present location. The locker owners asked for the council's permission to carry out the program, in which it said sanitation requirements will be met. The council tentatively approved the request, subject, however, to recommendations of the Texas Municipal League, with the city to write the league and ask taxes. The council indicated it would "go along" with the school board in hiring Walker to collect delinquent taxes if the school trustees and Walker work out an agreement.

Arson highly suspected in Sunday night fires

The Estate and ice plant burn

With arson strongly suspected in the burning of The Estate coffee house and the old ice plant building Sunday night and early Monday morning, investigation of the two fires is continuing. Police Chief Bill Gordon said yesterday.

Fire Chief Loyd Mock said Wednesday he is convinced that both fires were "set," but that "we have no proof of it."

The suspicion of arson was heightened when the attendant at a downtown filling station reported that three youths had bought 69 cents worth of gasoline shortly before the first fire broke out and then "walked the can" in which they carried the gasoline back to the station about an hour later.

The Dispatch was told that the three youths were identified by name and their names turned over to the police department. One of the youths lives in Post and the other two were from out of town.

A small wooden building at the rear of The Estate burned Monday of last week from fire of undetermined origin. Youths in charge of The Estate said evidence in that fire pointed to it having been set.

Police Chief Grodon said Tuesday that no arrests had been made, but that his department was still working on the case.

"I just don't believe either one of the fires could have caught the way it did without help," the fire chief said.

The fire at the two-story coffee house caught about 10:30 o'clock and the one at the ice plant at about 1 a. m. Sunday. The Estate is just off Main Street on North Broadway and the ice plant is on South Avenue H. Two blocks south of Main Street.

The contents of the coffee house, which was rented and remodeled for the purpose by a group of high school students a year ago, were destroyed in the fire. All the furniture and kitchen equipment was burned.

The interior of the building was gutted, leaving only the shell. The fire chief said firemen would have let it burn completely down had it not been for the danger of other nearby houses catching fire.

Firemen constantly hosed water on Mrs. George Sartain's two-story rooming house just next door to The Estate to keep it from catching fire. Firemen also kept a close watch on a house across 10th Street from The Estate after sparks from the burning building fell on its roof.

Firemen roped off Broadway between Main and 10th streets and routed U. S. Hwy. 84 traffic around the fire, which attracted a large crowd of onlookers.

The fire chief said the fire at the ice plant caught under the delivery porch at the front. The fire spread from the porch to just inside the doors of the ice plant before being put out.

The old ice plant is a landmark here. It was built by the late T. L. Jones, but had not been in use for ice manufacturer for the last few years.

Firemen, called back once to each place after putting out the fires, got little sleep. They gathered to drink coffee after putting out The Estate fire and were still up several hours later for breakfast together after being called back to the fires when flames flared up again.

DISTRICT LIONS QUEEN

The blonde beauty is a May graduate of Post High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gordon. She has been the Post Lions Club's "sweetheart" since last July.

Later in the year, Miss Gordon will compete for state honors, along with other district winners, at the state convention of Lions clubs.

"Winning at Levelland was a big thrill and I want to thank every member of the Lions Club for sponsoring me," Miss Gordon said.

July 1 has been set as the deadline for plaque name requests.

At Tuesday night's meeting, the Post Lions presented Miss Gordon with a suitably inscribed silver charm bracelet in recognition of her winning the district queen contest.

First runner-up in the district contest of 44 beauties was Johnnie Sue Mosser of Slaton, and in a tie for second runner-up were Laural Anderson of Crosbyton and Phyllis Robertson of Cotton Center.

The district Lions queen title is one of many won by the Post girl. Last year, she was district and area FFA sweetheart contest winner, and attended the area FFA meeting at Lamesa on Tuesday, where she crowned this year's area winner.

CofC directors urge 'take part' in July 4 event

Progress reports on plans for the Fourth of July celebration, made at a meeting of Post Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday night, indicate that more Chamber members need to participate if the celebration is to be a success, Chamber President Jim Jackson said yesterday.

"Whether or not our first Independence Day celebration in many years is a success depends largely upon our own participation," the Chamber president said.

It was reported at the directors meeting that most clubs and other organizations here have been asked to participate in the celebration with concession booths or other attractions and that a number have already announced their intentions of participating.

The directors were told that "a beef and a quarter" is still needed for the free barbecue to be held at noon on July 4 at the City-County Park. Beef donors to date are Jack Lot, Jackson Brothers, First National Bank, Giles McCrary, Giles Dalby, Harold Lucas and Toby's Drive-in.

Jackson says four beefs are needed for the barbecue and that others wishing to donate beef are asked to contact him.

The celebration plans call for something to be going on all day from 10 a. m. until late at night, with the celebration to be climaxed by a 45-minute fireworks display.

Paul Cartwright hurt in fall

Paul Cartwright, owner of Paul's 7 to 11, suffered a broken left shoulder and a punctured left lung last Thursday morning when he fell while working on an air conditioner on the roof of the store.

Cartwright had climbed a tree from which to make some repairs on the conditioner when the limb broke and he fell to the ground, knocking him unconscious.

He was rushed to West Texas Hospital for treatment of his injuries and was released this week from the hospital.

CLEAN-UP CORNER

Post volunteer firemen joined the "weed party" Monday night held in the 200 block on West Eighth Street to clear debris from the big lot. The firemen burned off the dead grass which had been shredded the week before.

Other volunteers cleaned out junk from another portion of the big lot so the city shredder could move in on it soon.

Mrs. Troy Chance provided doughnuts for the workers. Next Monday night's "weed party" will be held in the same area with workers moving across the alley into another "high weeds" area. Everyone who wants to help clean up highway eyesores is welcome.

Latest word on Freddy Simmons—

No normal improvement for wounded soldier

Spec. 5 Freddy T. Simmons, who received a serious head wound in action against enemy forces near Duc Pho, Vietnam, last Thursday night, "is not making normal improvement."

This word was received yesterday by his wife, Susan, in a telegram from the Adjutant General's office in Washington, D. C.

The message said that the period of hospitalization for Simmons "is undetermined" and that "evacuation is not contemplated at this time."

The telegram said that the local youth, 23, who is a Post High School graduate, "remains on the very seriously ill list." The telegram also said that Mrs. Simmons would be promptly notified as soon as further word on her husband's condition is received.

According to the first telegram received by Mrs. Simmons and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil T. Simmons of Lubbock, the youth was wounded in the back of the head by shrapnel.

Simmons' wife, parents and other relatives were anxiously awaiting further word today from the Defense Department as to his condition.

Simmons is hospitalized in Vietnam for a head wound caused by shrapnel May 29 when his night defensive position was attacked by the enemy. The telegrams stated that his family would be provided hospital reports and kept informed of any significant changes in his condition.

COLLEGE STATION — Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, Tahoka, was one of six companies to receive awards from the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation on Tuesday for their contributions to 4-H Club work.

The award was presented at the first general assembly meeting of the 1969 State 4-H Roundup. Foundation Chairman J. R. Cobb, Austin, presented the recipient with a specially designed plaque and outlined their many contributions to 4-H in the 7:30 p. m. ceremonies held in Kyle Field on the Texas A&M University campus.

The publication notes that the nation has about 377,000 of these wells that produce no more than 10 barrels a day each. Their combined output represents one-sixth of the nation's oil production.

Caffey-Germer vows exchanged May 31, First Baptist Church

Miss Sammie Kay Caffey and Jon Herbert Germer were married Saturday, May 31, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Ennis Hill of Eloy, Ariz., uncle of the bride, read the double ring service in a setting of a candlelight altar centered with an arch of greenery. Tree candelabra held tapers on either side flanked with bouquets of stock and palm leaves. Bows of ribbon and illusion marked the pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Caffey Jr., of Post and Mrs. Alton Taylor of Lubbock and Herbert Germer of Eagle and Post.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of tulle and silk peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The empire style, whose gown extended into a chapel-length flared train and featured a capelet of lace. The long lace sleeves were fastened at the wrists with nine peau de soie covered buttons. Her three-tiered mantilla of silk illusion fell to chapel length and was enhanced with matching hand-sewn Chantilly lace. The bride carried a colonial nosegay of white roses tied with streamers of pearls and love knots.

Miss Lydia Skeen of Houston was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Philip Anthony of Littlefield and Mrs. Garry Hill of Eloy. They were panned in floor-length dresses of Persian blue repallo crepe in the empire A-line, scooped necklines and cap sleeves. A deeper shade of Persian blue accented the empire line and centered the detachable panel trains, which featured flat fabric bows. Their Persian blue illusion shoulder-length veils were attached to tulle bows. They carried nosegays of white daisies.

Don Taylor of Lubbock served as best man. Groomsmen were Philip Anthony of Littlefield and Garry Hill of Eloy. Ushers were Don A. Cross, Houston, Dr. James Morgan, Dallas, Danny Hill, Eloy, and Robert Breckenridge, Mesquite.

Lighting the candles were Bob Hill of Eloy and Mary Beth Stanley, Mineral Wells. Vernon Scott of Lancaster sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer", accompanied by George M. Willson, organist.

A reception followed at the Community Room. Blue bags of rice were placed on a small table at the end of the receiving line. The table was laid in white and centered with three candelabras in a holder and blue tapers. The bride's table was covered with white sheer satin and featured the bridesmaid's nosegays as the centerpiece flanked by three tapers on either side. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with satin wedding bells and served with punch and mints. Crystal appointments were used.

Double-ring spice cake, coffee and nuts were served from the bridegroom's table which was covered with a blue cloth. Silver service was used.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Wendell Duncan, Lubbock; Mrs. Joe Dowell, Lewisville; Mr. Royce Hart, Post; Miss Carol Brett, Pampa; Miss Sue Morell, Dallas; Miss Betty Estes, Tyler; Mrs. Margaret Pettigrew, Slaton; Mrs. C. H. Hartel, Harold Hill; Elmer Nunley, J. W. Pettigrew, Russell Wilks Jr., and Bert Cox.

For travel the bride chose a Perle blue crepe dress made in the dress style with a roll collar. She added a coat of red, white and blue plaid and white accessories.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Post High School and a graduate of Texas Tech where she earned a bachelor of arts degree in sociology. She taught in the Hereford school system this current year. Mrs. Germer holds a bachelor of science degree and a master of education degree from Texas Tech and is band director in the Post schools.

The couple will reside at 404 Osage.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Ennis Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pettigrew and Mrs. Hern Pettigrew, Slaton; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caffey, Breckenridge; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nunley, Mineral Wells; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Triber, Kerrville; Chaplain and Mrs. James Dee Taylor, Burkburnett; Mr. and Mrs. Gerner, Eagle Pass; Mrs. J. L. Grant, Arlington; Mrs. H. G. Durett, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. James McLeroy, Gail; Mr. and Mrs. Kingston Crouch, Tulla; Mrs. Gordon Holmes Jr., Austin; Mr. and Mrs. G. T. McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Hawthorne, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chapman, Miss Regan Trout, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Crenshaw and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bivens, Lubbock.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Caffey Jr., of Post and Mrs. Alton Taylor of Lubbock and Herbert Germer of Eagle and Post.

Present were Margaret Williams, Rogers; Dink Boren, Joyce and Faye Cockrell, who will be hostess for the July 1 meeting.

Woman's Culture Club ends year with luncheon May 27

The Woman's Culture Club concluded its final meeting of the club year with a 1 o'clock luncheon at Floyd's Steak House May 27.

Mrs. Joe Irons and Mrs. Ken T. Magness were hostesses and decorated the tables in red, white and blue. The head table featured a blue and white carnation arrangement and miniature American flags were plate favors.

Mrs. James Minor was program leader for the conclusion of the year's study on Presidents of the United States. She told of the life of Harry S. Truman — Man of Independence; Mrs. Lee Davis Sr., spoke on Dwight David Eisenhower — Crusader of Europe; Mrs. J. F. Storie discussed John Fitzgerald Kennedy — The New Pioneer, and Mrs. Ralph Welch concluded with Lyndon Baines Johnson — LBJ.

Mrs. C. R. Thaxton led in an open discussion of the United Nations.

The two volumes of study books used throughout the year were presented to the Post High School library by Mrs. M. J. Malouf and Mrs. Thaxton following the meeting.

Mrs. Malouf, who gave the invocation preceding the luncheon, presented a gift of appreciation to Mrs. Irons and expressed the club's regret in losing her as a member as she leaves with her family to make her home in Gainesville.

Mrs. Malouf also expressed her thanks to the club members for their cooperation and help throughout the year.

Attending were: Mrs. Mmes. Irons, Malouf, Magness, C. D. Morrel, R. T. Dickson, Tillman Jones, F. R. Adams, Davis, Ira Lee Duckworth, Minor, Thaxton, Storie, Welch and J. H. Hairer.

Mr. C was not back at the office at noon on Monday and as it was such a beautiful day I decided to wait for him outside. I also wanted to get away from the telephone which had been ringing constantly since 8 o'clock Monday morning until 1:20 p. m. Wednesday which is when I am trying to write this column. Anyway, after he didn't show up in a couple of minutes I just sat down on the curb to wait for him.

Little did I realize what consternation this was going to cause on the Main Street of Post, Texas, USA. I had many offers to be taken home, one man tried to "pick me up" but he had his wife with him. I almost caused several accidents by people jerking their heads around to see if what they thought they saw they were seeing. I was ignored twice by Andy and Julius Stelzer who were cruising up and down Main Street, deep in serious conversation, and several times people stuck their heads out of their windows and shouted, "Arsonist!"

Mr. C showed up at 12:30 — his watch having stopped at 10:40. He was feeling awfully pleased with himself for accomplishing so much so fast until he saw me curb sitting and almost hit me with the car. Luckily we do have super brakes on our super car and I still move pretty agilely for one my age.

GOING TO SUMMER SCHOOL
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander and daughter left Saturday for Commerce where Mr. Alexander will do graduate work and Mrs. Alexander will work on her master's degree in English at East Texas State University. Mr. Alexander is elementary school principal and his wife has taught English in the Post schools.

The couple will exchange vows Aug. 2 at 7 o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church at Slaton.

Miss Myers is a 1964 graduate of Southland High School, attended Texas Tech and is employed at Nunn Electric Supply in Lubbock.

Mr. Beatty is a graduate of Irwin High School and attended the University of Texas at El Paso. After working this summer for Shop Rite Foods, Inc., in Lubbock, he will resume his education at El Paso.

The dinner will be served buffet style and will feature as a centerpiece a white cake with the couples names in blue icing.

Besides members of the wedding party and families, the Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Peters, will be special guests.

Honest, I didn't have anything to do with them. I have been accused so many times this week of being responsible for the fires that occurred Sunday night that I feel like a public denial is in order.

I have mental plans for several buildings to be destroyed—perhaps by fire — but I plan to enlist the aid of the Post Volunteer Fire Department before any such action will take place. However, I've always had a desire to set something on fire and maybe if I'm nice and we ever work anything out to get some of our abandoned houses burned down, the firemen will let me break a bottle of gasoline over the porch or front door.

That will be as near as I ever come to the champagne-breaking - christening - type thing and one that would give me much pleasure.

The weekly weed party was held on that block across from the schools last Monday night and we enlisted the aid of the Fire Department in burning off some grass that had been shredded the week before and some piles of trash we raked up before another spot can be shredded.

Quite a bit of trash we raked up turned out to be school papers that had never been taken home by pupils. So, if you were one of the parents who wondered why some kids brought work home from school and yours didn't — that's why. They have been lost for all time as we sent them up in smoke!

In this fast moving society we are living in, another art has been lost! I found out Monday that curb sitting is not really accepted anymore. People look awfully startled when they see someone sitting on a curb apparently doing nothing.

Mr. C was not back at the office at noon on Monday and as it was such a beautiful day I decided to wait for him outside. I also wanted to get away from the telephone which had been ringing constantly since 8 o'clock Monday morning until 1:20 p. m. Wednesday which is when I am trying to write this column. MRS. GARRY BACCUS (Phyllis Moore)

Levelland church is scene of Moore-Baccus wedding May 30

Miss Phyllis Moore and Garry Baccus were united in marriage Friday, May 30, at 8 o'clock in the evening in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in Levelland with Dr. William H. Cook, pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Monta J. Moore of Levelland, former Post residents, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Baccus of Anton.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an empire gown of white rosepoint lace and organza with a chapel-length train of organza of lace. A tiara held her bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Burlington says most divisions to raise wages

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Burlington Industries, Inc., the nation's largest producer of textiles and related products, announced today that most of its manufacturing divisions will raise wages in early July.

Charles F. Myers Jr., chairman and chief executive, said wage adjustments "are now being planned by most of our operating divisions."

He said amounts and effective dates would be established by each company division, but that "in most instances the increases are the first two weeks of July."

Burlington noted that a similar general increase was made in July, 1968. Some units of the company, which operates in widely diversified areas of textiles and other products, made increases before or after that date, in keeping with patterns for their particular segment of the industry.

Three months before retirement good time to apply for benefits

LUBBOCK — Applying for benefits up to three months before retirement helps assure that social security checks will begin at the earliest possible time, according to John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock social security office.

He also advises checking with the social security office early to learn what supporting documents and evidence are required and for help in obtaining them.

Hutton continued, "Even if the worker is not planning to stop working, he should still apply two to three months before age 65 so that he has Medicare protection while continuing to work."

Residents of this area who need more information about when and how to apply for benefits should call, visit or write their social security office at 3428 Ave. H, Lubbock. The telephone number of that office is PO 5-8541.

"Sir I Have No Man"

By Joe Vernon

Almost two thousand years ago the ears of the Master heard the words, "Sir, I have no man . . ." (John 5:7) These words fell from the lips of a man who had suffered from a physical infirmity for some thirty-eight years. He was a man who had been carried daily to the pool called Bethesda with the hopes of being healed. It was the belief that at a certain season an angel moved the waters of the pool, and the first person to enter into the troubled waters would be healed of his malady. As Jesus approached the pool and saw the man lying before Him He asked the question, "Wilt thou be made whole?" In answer to the question the impotent man said the words that concern us at this time. Those words being, "Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming another steppeth down before me."

Now almost twenty centuries later those same words are falling from the spiritual lips of mankind as they are suffering from an infirmity of soul, and are unable to help themselves. This inability to help one's self in a spiritual way is no fault of the individual. It is the sinful nature of man, and only another person can help them find the healing that their soul desires. The Christian is ever passing in review of the souls as they cry in distress in the many and varied ways the cry comes forth, but most of the time we never hear the cry for help. And, the needy, afflicted soul of mankind outside of God continues to cry, "I have no man" even as we pass and do not hear his call for help.

We do not have to go far to find the sick soul, for many times it will be under our own roof in our own household, next door, across the street, or across town. It is an indictment against every Christian if that sick soul can say, "I have no man to put me in touch with the healing waters of the pool, Jesus Christ."

PECAN NUT CASEBEARER SPRAYING BEGINS

Insecticide applications for pecan nut casebearer control has begun in the southern part of the Texas pecan belt. The pecan nut casebearer is Texas' most costly pecan pest, reminds John Thomas, Extension entomologist at Texas A&M University.

The first generation larvae of the pecan nut casebearer, he adds, feed on and cause the shedding of the small nutlets about the time of pollination. A single larva frequently destroys all the nutlets in a single cluster.

Timing the insecticide application has always been the key to effective control. The greenish-white eggs are laid on the nutlet tips. Eggs assume a reddish appearance in two to three days and hatch in 4 to 5 days. The young larvae feed on buds for 24-48 hours before entering the developing nutlets. To be effective, recommended insecticides must be applied before the larvae enter the nutlets, emphasizes the entomologist.

Timing insecticide applications has been based on finding eggs on the nutlet tips. This method has been effective, but recent developments in banding trees to catch the overwintering larvae have improved timing of applications.

County Extension agents and producers in 34 counties throughout the Texas pecan belt have banded trees during the past three to four weeks. Based on the results of the banding and egg laying observations, spraying for casebearer control began in Guadalupe, DeWitt, Bastrop, Washington and Milam counties on May 13-15, reports Thomas.

Pecan producers in counties farther north in the state are encouraged to check with their local county Extension agent on the expected application date in their county. Timing of the application and the need for a second application is extremely important. Ask your agent for a copy of L-245, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts," suggests Thomas.

TREAT ORNAMENTALS NOW FOR DISEASES

To insure a beautiful lawn and landscape around your home this spring and summer, begin treatment now to ward off those diseases which can damage your plantings.

This timely advice comes from Dr. Robert Berry, Extension area plant pathologist headquartered at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Center north of Lubock.

"Many pine trees on the plains are presently infected with needle cast and twig blight," points out Berry. "These diseases can be controlled with a fungicide applied right now as the trees are making new growth. Once all the needles have dropped, it's too late to treat for this year."

Bedding plants such as petunias and other annuals are often killed by crown rot or root rot, explains

400 library books now on permanent loan here

The 400 books loaned to the Post Public Library three years ago by the Texas State Library have been placed on permanent loan by the state library, Librarian George L. Miller was notified this week.

This means the state collection will become a permanent part of the local library's collection and will not have to be boxed up and returned.

the plant pathologist. He recommends treating the soil with a fungicide before such plants are transplanted. Once infection sets in, the plants will be lost.

"Roses and similar plants are often the victim of powdery mildew and black spot during this time of the year," says Berry. "Here again, a fungicide can do wonders in protecting such plants and in treating for the disease if it has already set in."

Scorch is a physiologic disease problem of shrubs and trees, adds the plant pathologist. This disease attacks mainly in the summer and causes a burning at the margins of plant leaves. Scorch can be caused by chemical injury, salt on the soil, lack of water or several other factors, including poor management.

"It is important for homeowners to become familiar with the various diseases that can infect their lawns and gardens and how to prevent or treat for them," says Berry. "The beauty of many lawns and landscapes is at stake."

Bighorns produce bumper crop in West Texas area

SAN ANGELO — Texas' bumper crop this year of 12 bighorn sheep lambs may be part of a new era in Texas hunting.

Since 1956, bighorn sheep, trapped on the Arizona Kofa Game Range and brought to Texas, have lived in a 427-acre holding pen on the Black Gap Wildlife Management Area, 55 miles south of Marathon.

Texas started out with four rams and five ewes which, in the past 10 years, have accounted for 56 descendants. During this period four lambs died and two were removed for research on bluetongue, a noted sheep-killer. Three of the original sheep died. There are, at present, 54 sheep in the enclosure.

Because bluetongue could affect the whole bighorn herd, biologists felt research on the disease was urgently needed. In 1968 a ram lamb was taken from the management area to Texas A&M University and inoculated with bluetongue, a commercial vaccine for the disease.

The ram, later inoculated with virulent bluetongue virus from a 30-month old ram which died from the disease, survived and is now living in a zoo.

For the moment Texas' bighorn sheep are living lives of comparative safety. They are hunted neither by man nor beast because of a specially constructed and electrified high pressure fence.

Biologists are busy studying the bighorns for more effective management, and say they plan to maintain a certain number of brood animals within the enclosure when eventual release of any surplus animals into the wild is made.

The association presents the award annually in recognition of long and outstanding service.

New plan into effect for school transfers

AUSTIN — Texas parents who wish to transfer their children from one public school district to another — without changing their own place of residence — have been given a new route by the State Legislature.

This new plan is outlined in detail by the Texas Education Agency in a letter mailed to school superintendents throughout the state Monday.

The act, passed by the 61st Legislature and signed by Gov. Preston Smith on May 9, repeals transfer methods which have been in effect since 1925 and 1935.

Parents will no longer apply for transfer to the county superintendent. Instead, they will now go directly to the superintendent of the school district they wish their children to enter. The parent or guardian of the child must apply in writing at the receiving school superintendent's office. If the district agrees to receive the non-resident student, the parents or guardian will be notified in writing.

The old June 1 deadline for filing transfer applications will be extended, probably by several weeks, when the State Board of Education meets in Austin June 7, Agency officials explain. The board is also expected to adopt policies for implementing the new law.

Parents who have already applied for transfer to the county superintendent will be notified in writing to contact the receiving school district. If their applications have already been sent to the county office, they will be forwarded to the receiving school district. Parents who transfer their children into another district may not be required to pay tuition if the grades are taught in the home district. If, however, the grades are not taught, the home district pays the tuition.

The fee paid by parents may not exceed the difference between what it costs the school district to support a student and the state funds received. This amount will be based on the per student costs during the 1968-69 school year. The state per capita funds for each child transferred out of his home district will travel with him. Average daily attendance, if any, recorded in the home district during the previous year will also be transferred.

The new law, which goes into effect immediately, applies to all Texas school children over six and under 21 years of age who are not high school graduates.

posed 1969 - 70 operating budget was only $1,575.38 more than the $713,098.59 budgeted for the 1968-69 school year, despite the fact that insurance costs increased $3,000, and that teacher experience increments would require $7,500 more for salaries next year. (Each teacher receives $117 more for each year of experience according to present salary arrangements.)

Shiver emphasized that with the $16,500 increase in these two items he has cut $8,024.62 off the 1968-69 budget in other places to cause only a $1,575.38 increase in operating expenses.

Trustees have yet to take up action on the state teachers pay raise as the raise will not become official at the state level until signed into law by the governor.

In view of the financial problem looming for the new budget year, trustees decided to ask for bids to install new metal windows on the north side of the junior high building only instead of authorizing a complete window installation at an approximately cost of $25,000. The board hopes to get this work done this summer.

Trustees accepted the resignation of Mrs. Diana Moxley, second grade teacher, whose husband was transferred by Burlington Industries to Monticello, Ark., two months ago.

Trustees awarded supply contracts for the upcoming school year to the following low bidders:
Duplicating paper, 1,500 reams, at 72 cents per ream, to Hoover Brothers of Temple; duplicating fluid at $1.18 gallon and master units at $1.95 box to Copy-Craft, Inc., of Dallas; Borden's Milk Co., for milk for lunchroom at 7 cents per half pint; gasoline, on a bid of 19.45 cents per gallon, to Lester Nichols, Gulf Wholesale; lubricating oil, at $6.99 per case to Lester Nichols, Gulf Wholesale, after one bid was not considered because the bidder was a delinquent taxpayer of the school district.

Trustees tabled any action on joining the Education Service Center No. 18 at Lubbock at a cost of $1,150 for certain educational benefits, and adopted the school depository act which would require the First National Bank here to fill in a state-written contract on rates which would be paid on various time deposits by the school district for consideration in the awarding of a new two-year depository contract. No school trustee who is a stockholder in the bank could vote on the bank depository actions, Shiver pointed out to the board.

City council—

The council postponed employing a city attorney to replace Carleton P. Webb, who resigned the position in April. The council indicated that it will employ Webb to continue working on litigation involving the city that was started while he was in the office. This litigation includes the city dog ordinance case now pending in district court. Any other attorney work that the city needs before a city attorney is employed will be obtained on a piecemeal basis, the council decided.

DECISION WAS MADE BY THE council to request an additional water storage tank from the White River Municipal Water District to give the city ample supply in case of emergency. A 500,000-gallon storage tank was suggested, but no definite size was decided on, pending action of the water committee headed by Councilman Windham. The present water storage tank holds 420,000 gallons.

Mayor McCrary told the council that a representative of George R. Brown, oil operator, had informed him that the council would be asked to amend the present oil well spacing ordinance in advance of the company's waterflood project, much of which will take in the present townsite. The company is ready to start on one unit south of Post, will be ready on another in about 12 months and on a third in about 24 months. The mayor said the oil company representative told him there was no hurry on the request for the ordinance amendments but that it is being made now so the council can start thinking about it.

Cards beat Yankees behind Conner's pitching, 8 to 0

The Post Fire Department's Cardinals sliced a game off the Yankees' lead Monday night when they blanked the Little League front-runners, 8 to 0, behind the one-hit pitching of Tony Conner.

The only hit off the Cardinal pitcher was a fourth-inning lead-off single by Danny Sawyers. Conner fanned 12 Yankee batters and walked only two.

The Cards collected eight hits off Yankee starter Ray Martinez and Garland Dudley, who relieved him after three innings. Cardinal shortstop Mark Terry got three hits, including two doubles, in four trips to the plate, and Conner also rapped two doubles. The other Dodger hits were a double by Dale Gregg and singles by Jerry Johnson and Mike Waldrup.

IN MONDAY'S other game, the Dodgers romped on the Tigers, 25 to 6, in a game called after four innings. Rudy Castro was the winning pitcher, while Danny Saldivar was the Tiger starter and loser, with Grayling Johnson relieving him after three innings.

In addition to pitching a four-hitter for the Dodgers, Castro was also their batting star, getting three two-baggers and a single in five times at bat. Jackie Jennings went three for four, including one double, and Randy Babb a two-hitter, with one of Babb's a double. Grayling Johnson got two of the losers' four hits, with J. O. Cummings and William Halford getting the other two.

Saturday night, the Cardinals downed the Wildcats, 8 to 2, and the Yankees overwhelmed the Tigers, 30 to 7.

Eight runs in the first and second frames gave the Cards their win over the Wildcats, who scored single runs in the first and third innings. Mark Terry was the winning pitcher and Wesley Redman the loser. Tony Conner relieved Terry after three frames, and Andy Williams replaced Redman on the mound after two.

EACH TEAM got only two hits, but 12 bases on balls proved a big help to the Cardinals. Conner doubled for one of the Cards hits, with Dale Gregg getting the other. Catcher Ricky Mullenix got both Wildcat hits, one of them a two-bagger.

Thirteen Wildcats went down on strikes, while 11 Cardinals fanned. The Yankees scored 14 runs in the first inning, 11 in the second and five in the third in their 30-7 rout of the Tigers. The game was called after three and a half innings.

Of the Yankees' 13 hits, Jimmy Dorland, Garland Dudley, Ray Martinez and Buddy Britton got two apiece, with Dorland and Martinez accounting for four doubles between them. The Tigers got four hits off Ray Martinez, who pitched two innings, and Evans Heaton, who went one. Danny Saldivar and Mike Hair hit two-baggers. Mike Hair was the losing pitcher, with Grayling Johnson and Keith Little coming in on relief.

Spotlight on Science

VIOLENCE IN A TECHNOLOGICAL AGE
Anthropologist Loren Eiseley says that we do not really need more brains; the need now is for a gentler, a more tolerant people than those who won for us against the ice, the tiger, and the bear.

Writing in "Science" on this theme and about violence as a form of aggressive behavior, psychiatrist Marshall F. Giliula and David N. Daniels of Stanford University School of Medicine say that violence may have lost whatever adaptive value it may once have had. Violence is not unique to a particular region, nation, or time, and although man required violent aggression to maintain his territory when food was scarce even after he became agricultural and sedentary, he now can adapt his environment to his needs instead of the other way around.

But man has retained the adaptive mechanisms — including violence and aggression — derived from a long history of mammalian and primate evolution. Violence and aggression show up as inclinations to fight in a time of emergency. Unfortunately, today this fighting response is not always the best response to social, cultural, and psychological stresses.

Human beings are uniquely endowed, both biologically and culturally, to adapt to their environment, and although we are capable of consciously determining the nature of our environment, our unmoderated adaptive behavior — our violent aggression — according to Drs. Giliula and Daniels, prevents us from doing so.

Current examples of violence and the factors fostering it include assassination, the mass media, mental illness, homicide, firearms, resistance to restrictive gun legislation, and collected and sanctioned violence.

Indians lengthen Babe Ruth lead

The Indians defeated the White Sox, 9 to 3, behind the four-hit pitching of Reginald Moore, Monday, to widen their Babe Ruth League lead over the Cubs, who trounced the Braves, 11 to 4, Tuesday.

The Indians scored their runs on 10 hits off starting pitcher Mark Clayton and Jerry Smith, who relieved him after one inning. Shortstop John Redman collected three hits in four trips to the plate and Moore went two for three. Smith got two of the losers' four hits, with Clayton and Danny Rose accounting for the other two.

The Cubs scored seven runs in the first inning in their 11-4 win over the Braves on Tuesday. Freddie Huff was the winning pitcher and Ricky King the loser. King gave up only six hits, but bases on balls proved costly. Third baseman Jay Pollard collected three of the Cub hits. Huff allowed but three hits, one of them a two-run homer by Kyle Josey in the first inning.

Saturday, the Indians scored in the top of the eighth inning to edge the Braves, 7 to 6. The winning run came on a walk to Jackie Blacklock and a double by Jerry Saldivar. Kyle Josey was the losing pitcher, with Saldivar getting the win. Saldivar and Kim Owen were the Indians' batting stars, while catcher Robert Mindieta did most of the stick work for the losers.

each got two of the winners' bingles, while Jerry Smith and Ricky Hair led the White Sox hitters. Freddie Huff was the winning pitcher and Ronnie Ammons the loser.

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

Every time I pass one of the clever posters that the Post Art and Craft Guild designed to advertise "La Fiesta de los Amigos," my poor little heart goes pitty-pat-THUMP-THUMP. The Lions Club is building booths, Patty Kirkpatrick is making beautiful flowers and Helen Cornish produces some strange pinata or other every day, all of which means: Saturday, June 7, 5 p.m. is almost here!

We've had a terrific response from many clubs, churches, and individuals in the area boothwise (thank you, thank you, thank you!) so we're promising a really GREAT evening.

Do you like food? We're having BAKED GOODS courtesy of Graham HD and the Methodist Women's Group; BROWNIES, Christian Women's Fellowship; SNOW CONES, Gamma Mu chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha; HOT DOGS Rotary Club, and MEXICAN FOOD, Hilda Solis and friends.

Do you like music? Bill Searle of KPOS is providing that.

Do you like bargains? We're having a CURIO SHOP, Presbyterians Women, and a GENERAL STORE, Friends of a Public Library.

Do you like fun and games? We're having FORTUNE TELLING, Madame X; BEAN GUESSING; Mu Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi; COIN TOSSING Jaycees; GO FISHING, Jayceeettes, and SURPRISES—?

Sound like fun? Be there! You're all invited to "The Friend's Party," and where else can you find the opportunity to have a good time and support your library simultaneously? See you at the party! OLE.
