ON PRE-CHRISTMAS VISIT

Santa Claus to 'drop in' early Saturday afternoon

The present chilly weather is no excuse for Santa Claus to drop in at home when he drops in on Post Saturday for his first of three pre-Christmas visits to see the local kids.

Santa is due to arrive at 1 p.m. Saturday and the junior high band will escort him into the business section and stay around to play Christmas carols and other spirited music until about three.

The first of three Christmas drawings is scheduled for 4 p.m. with $50 worth of trade with a participating Post merchant going to the winner—if he is on hand to claim the prize.

If he doesn't happen to be on hand, the prize will climb to $100 for the second drawing the following Saturday and then could jump to $150 for the third and final drawing on Dec. 18, at which time prizes will be drawn until a winner is determined.

The Post Antelope band will provide the Christmas music for the second Saturday and the Post High band will sing on the final Saturday afternoon of the holiday series.

Word from the North Pole is that Santa is pretty mushy up there and Santa is hoping for a good blizzard to "cool things off."

Santa will have his sack of candy with him Saturday with treats for all the youngsters.

If your boy or girl wants to "ride Santa's ear" he will sit it out for two hours this year on the front lot in the 100 block East Main.

Santa admits he is getting a mite tired and all that walking up and down Main Street on Saturdays gives him pretty good pooped!

For the oldesters, more interested in the prize drawings than the jolly gentleman in the red suit, any participating store with a tree is no obligation to sign up for "drawing card" in its window.

POST HIGH GRADUATE

Wins raves for acting ability

Billy Jack Hodges, speech and English education major from Post, is winning acclaim with his roles in productions at the Van Ellis Theatre on the campus of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, according to William Clark, professor in acting and director of the theatre.

Early in the semester, Hodges turned in an outstanding performance in the one-act play, "Please, No Flowers," by Joel Esana. Next came the major fall production of "Inherit the Wind" by Lawrence & Lee, in which Hodges gave a notable performance as the Rev. Jeremiah Brown. According to a review of the play in the college newspaper, "his hell-fire and brimstone sermon at the prayer meeting is one of the highlights of the play. It was both frightening and comical; a great job."

Hodges, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hodges of Post, is presently directing "Waiting for the B. S.," a one-act play by Ramon Delgado, to be presented to the public Dec. 10-11.

A graduate of Post High School, he will graduate from Hardin-Simmons University in May of 1972. He has accumulated 24 hours in the area of speech and theatre with a grade point average of 3.1 on the 4-point system.

Store, Maxine's, Hundley's, White Auto, Western Auto, Lavelle's, Bob Collier Druggist, Marshall-Brown and the Bottoms Up Shop.

Program on highways presented Lions Club

C. W. Nall of Lubbock, district construction engineer for the Texas Highway Department, presented a program on the Texas highway system at a ladies' night meeting of the Post Lions Club Tuesday evening.

Nall showed color slides pertaining to the state highway program and told how the system is financed and maintained. He was assisted by Julian F. Smith of Post, resident highway engineer.

ONLY $91.98 SHORT

United Fund goal looms just ahead

The Garza County United Fund drive is expected to "slip over" the top by the "skin of its teeth" this weekend, Drive Chairman Jim Cornish announced today.

A $609 deposit of cash, checks and pledges yesterday left the campaign just $91.98 short of its $500 goal.

Cornish said several cards are still out in the business division for rather sizable amounts.

"We should make it Friday," he declared.

A cleanup of the Postex Plant employees division showed that an additional $48 had been given at the close bringing the plant employees total to $1,323. This was down from last year's Postex employees total but by far the biggest drive division except for the business division, which annually contributes over $6,000 to the United Fund here.

This will mark the third straight year the county's united fund drive has reached or topped its goal. Cornish expressed his thanks to all division chairmen and drive workers who participated in the month-long financial campaign.

We are extremely happy to announce that the Teen Aged Live Nativity Scene will be presented again this Christmas eve in the Cornish carport for the 11th consecutive year.

It was a family custom Mrs. C founded 11 years ago and the Cs with a whole lot of help from a lot of people including the all-important teenagers, will continue it 3 weeks from tomorrow night in the precious memory of Mrs. C.

The key factor each year in continuing the sponsorship of the "scene" is in getting Miss C, the younger, and Mrs. K, the older, home for the holidays at the lively Cornish castle.

We are delighted to announce both are coming, which means the "show will go on."

Next item on the agenda is to determine who of the "scene" alumni now attending universities all over the country — including Wyoming, Oklahoma, and Princeton — to name three sort of off the beaten path — want a part again this year.

Those who do please get in touch — a card, a mother's phone call, or any other means of communications — will do. Then we will know how much recruiting needs to be done among the Post high schoolers to round out the cast and bring on new talent.

Mrs. C always left it up to the youngsters themselves to determine when they had "graduated" from the Christmas eve cast to only "out front watchers." So we're keeping this "ground rule" in.

We were much more prophetic than we realized when we wrote last week that in remodeling the office we were just going to give Ben Owen the door key when we drove out of town and "it will be interesting to note any changes when we return."

It sure was interesting all right. When we peeked in Sunday night with Ben still having half the floor to lay — we had a whole new color scheme — yellow walls with brown furniture instead of light green walls with the furniture the same color. Seems, Ben explained, that my floor pattern wasn't available on short notice so he had to substitute another because it all had to be done over the weekend. What he got didn't match the green walls (See Postings, page 8)

Ward rites held in Post Friday

Funeral services for Forrest Lee Ward, 79, a retired farmer of the Pleasant Valley community, were held at 2:30 p.m. last Friday in the First United Methodist Church.

Ward died about 6 p.m. Tuesday of last week at his home following a brief illness. A native of Water Valley, Miss., he moved to Garza County 56 years ago and was married to Jewell Robinson in 1920 in Slaton.

He was a member of the Garza County Democratic Executive Committee, representing the Pleasant Valley voting precinct, and was a member of the Woodmen of the World lodge. He had been a member of the Methodist church since boyhood.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Gentry of Midland; a brother, Jess Ward of Slaton; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Jim Sharp of New Deal and the Rev. Sherman Edwin of the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Cecil Lee, Jack Burkett, James Shelton, Spencer Bevers, Clark Barton, Martin Edmunds, Pete Lancaster and Gaylord Kinard.

Freeze thaws, teachers to get salary increases

December checks to reflect hike

Post school teachers are among approximately 140,000 in the state who will get the pay raises the legislature voted for them — just in the "St. Nick" of time.

Local teachers will receive their first increased pay checks this month, shortly before Christmas. William F. (Bill) Shiver, superintendent of the Post schools, made the announcement this week following the lifting of President Nixon's August freeze order on Nov. 14.

More than 60 members of Post's faculty are affected in the latest ruling on the state increases. Only a few of the administrators and the coaches escaped the freeze here, as their contracts began before the freeze was ordered. The superintendent explained that the school year begun here the third week in August when teachers reported for in-service work. "So as of Nov. 14 we are figuring they lost one-fourth of their state increase," he said.

Teachers have received three checks at their frozen rates, so the remaining nine checks will be at the rate originally called for in the contracts. Shiver said they also will be paid what is due them for the part of November not included in the freeze, with the school district to be reimbursed by the state for this payment.

The superintendent cited as an example the case of a teacher who was scheduled to be raised $400 to a total of $7,600 this year.

"In this case, the freeze reverted the salary to an annual figure of $7,200. Now, with the freeze off, this particular teacher will get three-fourths of the $400 raise, and the pay for the remainder of the year will be at the figure originally called for in the contract," he explained.

"This is our understanding of the situation and the way we will handle it unless future instructions from the state change it," Shiver said.

Library here heading for 'salaried status'

Availability of nearly $3,000 in federal funds through the Federal Emergency Employment Act has enabled trustees of the Post Public Library to undertake conversion of the library's operation from volunteer to salaried status.

The library has been staffed for over five years entirely by volunteers.

The federal funding became available when the City of Post decided not to employ a dump ground attendant as had been planned for several reasons.

Since the Post project already had received approval of SPAG and the state for federal funding, it was possible to convert the funds to the library's use.

Library trustees at their November meeting Tuesday night voted unanimously to begin conversion of operations to a salaried status.

A screening committee composed of Trustees Rosemary Chappman and Pee Wee Pierce and Volunteer Librarian George L. Miller was named to interview applicants for the librarian's position.

The board will hold a called meeting to consider the committee (See Library, page 8)

Funeral services held Tuesday for Malcolm T. Bull

Funeral services for Malcolm T. Bull, 54, of 1012 Camden Circle, who died early Sunday night in Garza Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness, were held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at the First United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Bob Ford, pastor, officiating.

A resident of Post since 1948, Bull was owner of Bull's Farm and Ranch Supply here, and was one of the town's most active citizens.

During World War II, he served with the 200th Coastal Artillery on Corregidor Island in the Philippines where he was captured by the Japanese in January of 1942 and spent 39 months in a prisoner of war camp.

A native of Amarillo, Bull was married to Margaret Stone on Feb. 18, 1946, in Post. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church and a former member of the church board. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, a former member of the school board, had served as a Scoutmaster and Cubmaster, and was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret; a son, Timmons, of Post; his mother, Mrs. Mary Bull of Taft, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Max Simmons, also of Taft.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Ted Aten, Lewis C. Herron, Bill Shiver, Bill Pool, Alex Webb of Slaton, Irvin Cross, Syd Conner, Gray Davis, C. R. Wilson and Henry Wheatley.

JOE SANCHEZ

Joe Sanchez new Piggly manager

Joe Sanchez, three-wounded Vietnam War veteran, was named Friday as manager of Post's Piggly Wiggle store, succeeding John English in the position.

Sanchez, who was named assistant manager in February of last year, has worked in the Piggly Wiggle store here over nine years. This does not count the two years off for army duty, which included a 9½ months tour of duty with the infantry in Vietnam and a long recuperation period in army hospitals from his wounds.

The new manager, born and raised here, is the son of County Commissioner Ben Sanchez. He is married, and he and his wife, Mira, have one infant daughter, Susie.

Door decorations contest slated

The Amity Junior Study Club has announced its sponsorship of a Christmas door decoration contest here from now through Dec. 19.

The doors will be judged in three separate categories — religious, comic and traditional.

Judging of the doors by three out-of-town judges will be Sunday, Dec. 19, between the hours of 4:30 and 7 p.m.

A first place prize will be awarded the winner in each category.

A spokesman for the club said it is not necessary to file notice of entry in the contest, since all decorated doors will be judged.

REFUTES ENVIRONMENTALISTS, ECOLOGISTS

Engineer says highways not taking too much good land

Oscar Crain of Lubbock, Texas Highway Department district engineer, struck back at environmentalists and ecologists who have been attacking the national highway program as taking too much valuable land for road needs in a talk before PostRotarians here Tuesday noon.

He said "they are not confining themselves to the truth and are making rash statements. But he said too many were believing them. All the streets and highways in the United States only take up 45 million acres of land, Crain said, pointing out this was "only about 20 per cent more than away back in 1915."

Crain also said he opposes converting highway funds to the financing of mass transit systems for cities. Studies have shown only seven cities in the United States can benefit with a mass transit rail system, Crain said.

Most of the highway money these days, he pointed out, is going into developing road nets in and out of the cities.

In the question and answer period, he was asked about the traffic feasibility of the "circle" in the south end of Lubbock, which has drawn a lot of letters to the editor in the Lubbock paper lately.

Crain said he and his friend,

Charley Guy, Lubbock publisher, have "disagreed about the circle for a dozen years." He said at the end that right of way now is being purchased to enable the circle to be abolished.

After Crain's talk he showed a color slide presentation entitled "The Day the Roads Were Closed." "It's a little drastic maybe," Crain told Rotarians of the slides, "but they point us what could happen."

In the pattern of things . . .

The community was shocked and saddened Sunday by the passing of Malcolm T. Bull, a civic-minded Post businessman who for the last several months had fought a losing battle against cancer.

The fortitude shown by Malcolm in his fight against the disease that finally claimed his life was no surprise to those well enough acquainted with him to know that he was a survivor of the Corregidor "death march." Taken prisoner in January of 1942, he spent 39 months in a Japanese prison camp.

Malcolm was one of a large number of servicemen who returned home following long months of imprisonment to once again take their place in the mainstream of American life and make material contributions to the welfare and progress of the communities in which they made their homes.

He served several years as a member of the board of the Post Independent School District, and was an active worker in his church, the First United Methodist, where he was a former member of the board. He helped in the guidance of the community's youth by serving as a Scoutmaster and a Cubmaster, and was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Malcolm, soft-spoken and accommodating, numbered his friends by his acquaintances. He was one of those men whose passing leaves a void in the pattern of things that go to make up a good community.

The Dispatch joins others in expressing its condolences to the bereaved family.—CD

Going in the wrong direction?

Since Garza County is primarily an agricultural county, most of us living here realize that today, as fewer people are involved in the business of agriculture, it is more imperative than ever for young people to have some knowledge of what it takes to produce food and fiber for a nation of more than 200 million people.

In spite of the need for such knowledge, and in spite of the fact that the professed goal of governmental planners is to encourage decentralization and a back-to-the-land movement, there appears to be almost a conspiracy to drive youth off the nation's farms.

A law is now proposed to prohibit the employment by farmers of workers under 16 except under federal supervisory regulation. An official of the American Farm Bureau Federation, in expressing his organization's opposition to passage of the bill, observes that, "An imperative problem of the 70's is to provide more jobs for teen-agers — not to throw more restrictions and limitations around such employment."

A law that literally would drive teen-ager workers off the nation's farms makes no sense at a time when the need is for greater population dispersal and employment.—CD

Winter is headed our way

No calendar is needed this Monday morning (Nov. 29) to tell us that Winter is headed our way.

As the sun swings lower toward the shortest day of the year and Winter makes its entrance on Dec. 22, thoughts will turn to activities of the new season—higher gas bills, Christmas holidays and finally a New Year.

While many people like the placid continuity of eternal summer and follow the sun as it moves south, others find stimulation in the changing seasons. Like the land itself, most men are renewed by change.

Nature in her wisdom has arranged for the changing seasons because with change there is growth. Unless there was Winter, there could be no Spring, no renewal. Thus, Winter is as essential to man as to all other life. It prepares the earth for next year's growth. So let's settle in and enjoy the company of Old Man Winter.

What our contemporaries are saying

One man struck a match to see if the gasoline tank in his car was empty. It wasn't. One man patted a strange bulldog on the head to see if it was affectionate. It wasn't. One man speeded up to see if he could beat the train to the crossing; he couldn't. One man touched an electric wire to see if it was charged. It was. One man cut out his advertising to see if he could save money. He couldn't.—Breckenridge, Colo., Summit County Journal.

money—in fact passers of counterfeit money were given stiff prison sentences. The reason sentences were meted out was because counterfeit money was worthless and the recipient had to absorb the loss. But, it shouldn't be a great offense today because the dollar—the great American dollar—isn't worth too much more than the counterfeit. If Americans do not change one of these days the dollar will be just as worthless as the counterfeit.—Comstock, Nebr., News.

Speaking of inflation, a lot of homeowners owe a lot to it—it's enabled them to live in a more expensive neighborhood without even moving.—Lebanon, Tenn., Democrat.

So many of us accept the good things this country has to offer as a matter of course. We agree that too often the "power that be" have overlooked and put off for tomorrow enforcing certain rules broken by several minority groups that could, without question, be permitted to continue, and up placing this beautiful country behind the 8 ball, and sacrifice all the enviable progress we have made in the nearly 200 years since its founding.—Lakewood, N. J., Ocean County Citizen.

After a newscast Sunday morning we listened to two speakers, one who was an authority on the Bible, the other an authority on Social Security. We were struck by the thought: In these confused times, which are most adults most deeply concerned with, Spiritual Security or Social Security? —Port Gibson, Miss., Reveille.

It's not your position that determines your happiness or lack of it. It's your disposition.—Journal, Washington, Ia.

The Abundant Life... YOU CAN'T CARVE ROTTEN WOOD

"Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord and the fruit of the womb is his reward. As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the youth. Happy is the man that his quiver is full of them: they shall not be ashamed, but speak with the enemies in the gate." Psa. 127:3-5

Children are such a great blessing to a home. Yet, many parents have spoiled this blessings by not training up their children properly. When our children go wrong we tend to blame others for their failures. It's easier to blame the schools, the government, or neighbors than it is to blame ourselves. Yet children are what we as parents make of them.

A very successful man sent his teenage boy to an elite private eastern school. After six weeks the boy was sent home. The Chancellor wrote the father a letter saying they were sorry but they could not help the boy. The father sent back a blistering letter to the Chancellor stating, "I sent you my son that you might make a gentleman of him." In a few days he received a reply. The Chancellor quoted a Chinese proverb, "You cannot carve rotten wood."

If we would have children of character, then we must take the time to train them. We often forget that children watch examples better than they listen to preaching. In rearing good children the place to start is on your knees in prayer. The late General Douglas MacArthur wrote the following prayer for his son. It's a good prayer for all of us to pray.

Build me a son; O Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, and humble and gentle in victory. Build me a son whose heart will be clear, whose goal will be high; a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men; one who will learn to laugh, yet never forget how to weep; one who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past. And, after all these things are his, add, I pray, enough of a sense of humor, so that he may always be serious, yet never take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, the meekness of true strength. Then, his father, will dare to whisper, "I have not lived in vain."

SYD B. WYATT

EVERY DAY COUNTS when you are helping get out a weekly newspaper and when you lose a couple of days or so, you've got to catch up. You've got to catch up, that is, if you expect to get out a paper.

I suppose it's that way in most any line of business, but I couldn't be sure, since I've never been in any line except the newspaper business long enough to lose a couple of days.

AFTER GETTING out the paper Tuesday morning of last week, The Dispatch force spent the rest of the day clearing the decks for a front office remodeling job, then took off the rest of the week to enjoy Thanksgiving.

Those extra days off were among the many things we here at The Dispatch office were thankful for this Thanksgiving, but at the risk of sounding ungrateful, we're going to have to consider those days off as "lost" days as far as getting any work done toward getting out this week's Dispatch is concerned.

SO, THIS MONDAY morning, we're thankful for a newly-remodeled front office, for the extra days we had off to enjoy Thanksgiving with our families and friends, and for a much-needed rest—but we're miles behind as far as getting out this week's paper is concerned!

Several years ago, a newspaper up in Nebraska found itself in the same shape—miles behind—but not for the same reason. Here is how the Nebraska editor explained his dilemma:

"Our paper is two days late this week owing to an accident to our press. When we started to run the press Wednesday night, as usual, one of the guy ropes gave away, allowing the forward glider fluke to fall and break as it struck the flunker flopper.

"This, of course, as anyone who knows anything about a press will readily understand, left the gangplank with only the flip flap to support it, which also dropped and broke off the wooper-jock. This loosened the flunker from beneath the ramrod and the flipper-satcher which also caused trouble.

"The report that the delay was caused by the over-indulgence in stimulants by ourselves, is a tissue of falsehoods, the peeled appearance of our right eye being caused by our going into the hatchway of the press in our anxiety to start it, and pulling the coupling pin after the slap-bang was broken, which caused the dingus to rise up and welt us in the optic. We expect a brand-new glider fluke on the afternoon train."

The man up the street says everyone knows lots of things they didn't use to know, but they don't know any way to prevent them happening.

WAYNE V. HARSHA, executive editor of the "Inland Printer" magazine, ran the following in his "The Last Word" column in the magazine's November issue:

The 17th edition of the "Guinness Book of Records" came out in London the other day. It contains the worst tongue-twister in the English language: "The sixth sick sheik's sixth sheep's sick." And that brings to mind the many sentences devised over the years that contain all the letters of the alphabet. Example: "The quick brown fox jumped over the lazy dog's back." Also the following: "Jail zesty vixen who grabbed pay from quack" (all 26 letters in a 36-letter sentence). "The exodus of jazzy pigeons craved by squeamish walkers." Also: "Exquisite farm wench gives body jolt to prize stinker." "Quick zephyrs blow, vexing daft Jim" (only 29 letters with "e" and "i" repeated). We are making a collection of such sentences, but we are still waiting for a sentence with only 26 letters in it—no repeats. Can you write one?

Enough of that. I've got to cut this column short and help catch up in other places.

WATERFOWLING REMINDERS

THE WATERFOWLING SEASON IS HERE AGAIN, AND AFTER A LONG WINTER AND SUMMER, SOME REMINDERS ARE IN ORDER.

REMEMBER THE BEST CAMOUFLAGE IS INEFFECTIVE IF YOUR FACE IS VISIBLE. WEAR A LONG BILLED CAP TO HIDE YOUR FACE.

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP DICTATES HUNTING WITH A RETRIEVER. IF YOU DON'T HAVE ONE, HUNT WITH SOMEONE WHO DOES.

LEAVE ENOUGH SPACE IN DECOY RIGS FOR DUCKS TO LAND. REMEMBER THEY ALWAYS TRY TO LAND INTO THE WIND.

SELECT YOUR SHOTGUN WITH CARE. THE REMINGTON MODEL 7100 AUTOMATIC SHOTGUN HAS A GAS METERING SYSTEM DESIGNED TO OPERATE WITH ALL KIND OF SHOTGUN SHELLS.

KNOW THE CHARACTERISTICS OF SPECIES COMMON TO YOUR AREA, AND KNOW YOUR TOTAL BAG LIMITS.

Hunting license sales heading for new high

AUSTIN — Hunting license sales rolled along at a record pace this week as the deer and turkey seasons opened over most of Texas.

Texas Parks and Wildlife officials reported a total of 290,621 resident hunting licenses were sold in September and October, compared to 288,874 for the first two months of the 1970-71 license year.

If the pace is maintained as expected, license sales will exceed last year's 780,659 resident licenses sold and their value of $2,341,759.

Sales of exempt licenses for hunters under 16 and over 65 also are running ahead of last year, as are non-resident license sales.

The fiscal year 1970-71 saw more than $2.6 million in revenue brought into the state's coffers from sales of the four major hunting licenses — resident, non-resident, exempt and five-day migratory bird license.

Five named as turkey winners

Five archers won turkeys in a turkey shoot held Nov. 21 by the Post Archery Club. The bowmen shot in groups of four, with the high scorer in each group winning a turkey.

The turkey winners were Raymie Holly, Bob Perkins of Crosbyton, Dora Fay Holly, T. V. Hampton and Jack Brixey of Crosbyton.

Ed Blanton, chairman, planned and prepared the range for the shoot. Ann Leake kept score.

Antelope harvest in Panhandle tops 200

SAN ANGELO — A total of 354 permits for pronghorn antelope was issued for the 1971 hunting season to landowners in the Texas Panhandle, and Texas Parks & Wildlife officials say hunters bagged 220 animals.

Permits were for bucks only, with 254 of the 354 permits actually issued.

OUR READERS

Delo Duro Canyon
Area hunters take 44 aoudad sheep

SAN ANGELO — Hunters in the Delo Duro Canyon area of the Panhandle harvested 44 aoudad or Barbary sheep during the 1971 season, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A total of 147 permits was issued to landowners.

The 1970 harvest in the same area tallied 41 animals. One ram in the year had 32-inch horns, a respectable trophy. The heaviest ram taken was a 210-pound ram.

A total of 44 aoudads from the Delo Duro Canyon area were stocked by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in 1957. The herd is estimated at about 100 animals and is annually expanding its range. The sheep is a game animal only in eight Panhandle counties. In other parts of Texas the animal is considered domestic and may be harvested at any time of year.

Library LISTENING POST

By GEORGE L. MILLER

For those of you who enjoy biographies, we've added a few new titles that look real good.

For instance, we have "Eleanor and Franklin" by Joseph P. Lash. This one is on the best seller list right now, and very popular. It is based on Mrs. Roosevelt's personal papers and makes fascinating reading.

Some of you may have read a book about Lady Randolph Churchill, the mother of Winston Churchill. A second and concluding volume has just been published and is now in our library. Evidently Jennie was quite a woman, one who lived a life far more interesting than any fictional heroine. Both volumes are available in our library.

Still another biography which looks excellent is "Einstein: The Life and Times" by Ronald W. Clark. Genius is a subject I know little about and physics is one I know even less about. This book is about both, has been praised by reviewers all over the country, and has the advantage of a genuine hero, Albert Einstein. Surely he was one of the most incredible men born in our time.

Alexander B. Adams has written a history of "Geronimo," the famous Apache Indian. There is considerable interest in the history of American Indians and this book will help to feed that interest.

One type of book that is always popular in our library is the one written by a cowboy or rancher, a pioneer, reminiscing about the past. Ben K. Greene is particularly well liked for this style of writing. Now we have added "Bunkhouse" by John Upton Terrell. Mr. Terrell is a well known western historian and this book — one he calls his favorite of all he has written — is a retelling of his experiences as a cowboy, sheepherder, telephone lineman, hobo, writer and tourist. I'm guessing it's going to be checked out a lot!

The book that I'm itching to get into is "The Conquistadors" by Hammond Innes. I have found several reasons for liking this book even before I've read it. For one thing, it's about the Spaniards and their conquest of Mexico and Peru a period of history that has always fascinated me, or another, it is a beautiful book, filled with photographs, both color and black and white, making it one of the most handsome books in the library.

But finally, the author, Hammond Innes, is one of the best around. Mr. Innes usually writes adventure novels, not history. I'm betting that a novelist as skillful at telling a story as he is, will do a bang up job of telling history in a way that makes it darn good reading.

We have another example of such a novelist writing history. It's an older book, "Men to Match My Mountains" by Irving Stone. It's a history of California, Nevada, Utah and Colorado. I'll guarantee it's one of the best history books ever written, and also one of those books you grieve over when you have to put it down. As a matter of fact, it's a heck of a lot better than any of his novels.

If biography and history are your cup of tea, we've got just what you want, and all you have to do is come and check it out. We'll be looking for you!

the HARDWICK CHALET

Automatic Gas Range with built-in temperature-controlled warming shelf.

Dinner's ready -- but maybe everyone isn't ready for dinner. No problem.

Keeps dinner at perfect serving temperature, without overcooking, until you're ready to eat! No more cold rolls or congealed gravy, either — just place them on the warming shelf and they'll stay hot until the last slow-cook color is finished.

Use the shelf to gently warm plates or serving dishes, too. Frozen foods thaw out properly with the slow, warm heat of the shelf.

The warming shelf is a "bonus" reason for buying the Hardwick Chalet. Some of the others? Oh, things like the Programmed Cooking oven control, Tri-Temp "click" setting top burners, lift-off, lift-off cooktop and lift-off oven door for easy cleaning.

Why wait any longer for the conveniences of a new Hardwick? Call or come in today.

All around rodeo title is on line

DENVER, Colo. — Competition at the National Finals Rodeo will determine the new world champion all around cowboy, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

The Finals, rodeo's "world series," is scheduled for Dec. 4-12 in Oklahoma City, Okla. Only the top 15 money-winners in each event will compete at the rodeo.

Phil Lyne, George West, Tex., and Bob Berger, Norman, Okla., are neck and neck for all around title, which goes to the year's biggest overall winner.

Lyne competes in rodeo's five major events plus team roping.

and has won $44,905 this season to Berger's $42,728. Berger competes in bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding, and has qualified for the finals in all three events.

Lyne, however, qualified in only two events—calf roping and bull riding. As a result, Berger may be able to catch him for the world title; a cowboy may win as much as $5,800 in a single event at the Finals.

Prize money at the Finals consists of an $54,000 purse added to the cowboys' $100 entry fees for a total of $94,500. The top 15 Girls Rodeo Association barrel racers will also compete at the Finals, bringing the overall prize money to more than $100,000.

Only the top hand-picked bucking bulls and horses from across the continent are used at the Finals. Each animal carries a minimum of $1,000 in travel insurance.

It's the Law ...

MISSING LETTER

There is something reassuring about the click of the mailbox latch as your important letter slides down and out of sight. Whether you are making an insurance payment or meeting a tax deadline or completing a business deal, you feel relief. "Well, that's taken care of."

But what if the other party, perhaps weeks or months after a r.d., insists that your letter never arrived? If it came to a showdown in court, how would you stand?

Fortunately, the law offers you a helping hand in the form of a "presumption." That is, the law will presume that the letter did arrive, provided you had the correct amount of postage and the correct address. As one court explained:

"It is a presumption founded on the probability that (postal employees) will do their duty."

Furthermore, you may get the benefit of the presumption even if the letter was not placed directly into a mailbox. One court applied the presumption to a letter handed to a mailman (while on duty). Another court applied it to a letter dropped into the mail chute of an office building.

However, there are limits. The presumption was denied when a man simply left some mail in an open lobby, in the expectation that the mailman would eventually pick it up.

Furthermore, like most presumptions, this one is subject to being defeated if there is sufficient evidence against it.

In one case, an embattled debtor claimed to have mailed an important legal notice to the office of his creditors. But in a court hearing, both partners in the firm took the witness stand and solemnly swore that the notice had never been received.

Then their bookkeeper took the stand and swore the same thing.

This testimony was enough to convince the court that the letter had indeed failed to reach its destination. It was more likely, said the court, either that the debtor had neglected to put it in the mail or that the post office had — for once — neglected to do its duty.

Damp and foggy weather halts cotton harvest

LUBBOCK — The South Plains cotton harvest was interrupted by damp, foggy weather the past week, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing office in Lubbock.

The harvest was resumed on Friday and sample receipts at the four offices are expected to increase daily as the harvest gains momentum.

The four USDA Classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland classed only 24,700 samples during the week ending Friday, Nov. 26. A large part of this cotton was harvested during the previous week. Total classing this season was only 55,000 through Friday, compared to 813,000 at this date last year.

The current crop is two to three weeks later than normal due to unfavorable weather during the spring and summer months.

Sandhill crane numbers down

AUSTIN — Preliminary counts of sandhill cranes in West Texas indicate a drop in population.

But Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists say these early counts sometimes do not give an accurate picture of things to come.

In fact, after biologists counted approximately 112,800 birds, reports came in from game management officers and the public that a great many more sandhills were invading West Texas.

Last year biologists reported a lower-than-usual population. The birds stayed in New Mexico because of the drought in Texas which made food scarce.

Farmers Union gathering set

SAN ANTONIO — Farmers and ranchers from across the state will converge on San Antonio Dec. 6-8 to hear farm policy speeches and adopt policy on agricultural issues. Texas Farmers Union will hold its three-day conclave at the St. Anthony Hotel.

The first session, Monday night, will feature a welcome by state Sen. Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio and addresses by U. S. Congressmen Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio and Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls.

Prairie chickens have few Panhandle hunters

SAN ANGELO — The Panhandle prairie chicken harvest went begging this year, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The birds were in little danger because of the lack of hunters. During the two-day season hunters bagged only 179 chickens.

However, the 116 hunters confessed firing 664 times to down the 179 birds they took home, no doubt hoping their wives wouldn't ask how many they saw or shot at.

The prairie chickens were plentiful. Shotgunners saw an estimated 2,060 birds during the 326 hours they spent in the field.

Postings—

so he got his wife, who he reports is good at colors, to pick out some that looked better with the floor.

We're sure Ben was a bit worried about switching the color scheme but it looked mighty good to us—though as we had predicted "it was interesting."

But you don't know how we check the Houston pollution ratio for the day when we visit the granddaddy and Walt and Chris Koerselman (like we did Thanksgiving weekend). It's a mighty simple test really. Since our little Camaro has a white roof and all cars in Houston are "soaking wet" every morning from stem to stern we merely go out and check the kind and type of "little black particles" caught in the dew on the car's white roof.

Believe me, most of the time the amount of pollution clear over on the southwest corner of that town would amaze you—and might even turn your stomach.

We'll report that the great TV experiment was a huge success—lining up two TVs side by side Thanksgiving Day to view the Nebraska-Oklahoma game and the Dallas Cowboys-Los Angeles Rams game from the same chair.

Even our son-in-law admitted our portable which we took along, was a great idea.

Speaking of football, on Thursday and Saturday we watched six full football games on television—there was nothing on Friday but a pro basketball game and the $50,000 finals of the pro championship tennis tournament from Dallas—so when Saturday night came, we said, "Hey kids, let's go out tonight." So we did. We drove over to the Astrodome and watched the Houston Cougars play Utah. How is that for putting the icing on the football cake? Of course we could have stayed for the Cleveland and Houston pro grid bash Sunday afternoon, but we didn't. Sort of tired of football so we came on home.

We had the nicest pair of babysitters that Saturday night in Houston too—Leo and Lucille Acker, former Postites who are now settled in Houstonians. Lucille always welcomes little Andrea into her home on such occasions. Nice to have friends like that.

A town must have a population of 12,000 before it can be a city.

Assembly of God to hold revival

The Rev. John Charles Cox, evangelist from Dallas, will begin revival services at the Post Assembly of God Church on Monday night, Dec. 6, with services to be held at 7 o'clock every night.

The Rev. Mr. Cox has held pastorates at Memphis in Hall County, and at Pasadena, Tex. His brother, the Rev. Paul Cox, is pastor of the Gardens Assembly of God Church in Midland.

A pentecostal Fellowship Night is scheduled at the church here on Dec. 9, with visitors expected from Slaton and other neighboring towns.

The Rev. Carl D. Savage is pastor of the Post church, which is located at 316 North Ave. I. He invites the people of Post to "come hear Brother Cox preach the old-fashioned pentecostal message."

Library—

selection of the first salaried staff member.

Federal funds will become available here Dec. 15, library trustees were told by Richard A. Lewis, administrative assistant for the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG), who with Public Works Superintendent Pete Maddox of Post met with the board to go over necessary federal procedures. Trustees decided that the Rev. Mr. Miller will remain for the present as volunteer librarian and he will train the new salaried person who will be given the title of assistant librarian.

The position will pay $160 an hour for a 40-hour week, according to federal standards. Lewis told trustees, with 15 per cent more in federal funds allocated for social security and any other actual city benefits to employees.

The new assistant librarian first would take over the checkout desk for the 22 hours of weekly library operation and would spend the other 18 hours in cataloging books, making reports, attending a few library workshops, sending out late book notices, etc., under Miller's direction.

The board decided to retain control of book buying through an acquisitions committee for some months to come.

The federal funds will be available until Aug. 17, 1972. A strong possibility exists that additional federal funds might become available for 12 months following that deadline.

Jim Cornish, chairman of the trustees, told the board it will be up to the citizens of city and county who support the library in its steady growth to push for additional city and county funds—when ever the federal grant expires—to enable the salaried librarian plan to be continued.

"We have been looking forward to the opportunity for conversion to a salaried librarian," Cornish told the board. "These federal funds give us the chance. If we can't find funds from somewhere to continue the salaried positions next August, we can always come back to our loyal volunteers. At least, they will have had a long vacation."

Lorenzo beats 'Lopes; Does waxed by Slaton

The Post Antelopes slowed the Lorenzo Hornets express but could not derail it here Tuesday night, and the Hornets came on strong in the second half to win by 13 points 65 to 52.

In preliminary games, the Post Does lost to the Slaton Tigerettes, 69 to 32, in the first District 4AA game for both teams, and the Post "B" team lost to their Tigrette counterparts, 55 to 25.

Lorenzo, ranked by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal as the top Class AA team on the South Plains, lost to Rails, 111 to 110, last week, but couldn't mount that kind of an attack here Tuesday night against a stubborn Post defense.

Couch John Alexander's Antelopes outbounded the Hornets in the first half, but fell behind on the boards in the second half and committed too many turnovers to keep up with the Hornets.

After grabbing an early lead on a pair of field goals by sophomore Johnny Jefferson, Post trailed only by a point, 14 to 13, at the end of the first quarter. The Hornets had widened the gap to four points, 30 to 26, by the halftime intermission, and were out in front 45-37 at the end of the third quarter.

The Hornets featured a well-balanced scoring attack, with J. G. Hopkins hitting 22 points, Richard Byers, 18, and A. J. Roberts, 15. Steve Hays, with 17 points, led the Antelopes.

Slaton was never in trouble in the girls' game, leading 14-3 at the end of the first quarter, 33-14 at the half, and 57-23 at the end of the third quarter.

Karla Kitten led the Slaton scoring with 27 points, but DruAnn Beard was only two points behind, with 25. Jackie Moore scored 15 points for Post; Becky Dalby, 10; Cindy Bird, five, and Jodi Norman, two.

Melanie King's 13 points led the Post scoring the girls' "B" team.

Post wins one, Spur takes two

The Does won, 59 to 33, but the Antelopes lost, 52 to 49, and the junior varsity boys, 36 to 29, in three games at Spur on Nov. 22.

Jackie Moore's 26 points paced the girls' win over Spur, with Becky Dalby hitting 17; Sue Cowdrey, 10; Cindy Bird, four, and Jodi Norman, two.

Steve Hays' 12 points was tops for Post in the varsity boys' loss to the Bulldogs. David Woods hit 10 points; Johnny Jefferson, eight; Ricky Shepherd, six; Randell Hays, five, and Jerry Saldivar and Kyle Josey, two each.

Victor Cisneros hit for 12 points to grab scoring honors for Post in the junior varsity game. Others scoring were: Rodney Compton, nine; Richard Dudley, 4; Bill Hudman, three, and Robert Mindieta, one.

game. Jenda Gilmore scored five points; Deb Johnson, Melba Wynne and Nan Bilberry, two each, and Freddie Williams, one.

Antelopes come from behind to beat Littlefield

The Post Antelope basketball team came from behind early in the fourth quarter here Tuesday night of last week and went on to defeat the Littlefield Wildcats, 38 to 29.

It was the second win against the "outsiders," 20 to 0, at Slaton last Saturday night in the second of two Booster Bowl games.

The Post victory atoned for a 13 to 6 defeat handed the locals by Slaton here Nov. 20 in the first of the two bowl games.

Anthony Altman, who was awarded the outstanding offensive player trophy, scored Post's first touchdown on a 68-yard run, and Walker bootied the extra point. A fumble recovery by Lewis Holly led to Post's second touchdown on a Jimmie Bartlett run, with Walker and Jerry Crenshaw hooked up on a 30-yard pass play to close out the scoring.

The outstanding defensive player award went to lineman Dale Wimmer of Slaton.

Saturday night's victory earned the Post team the Steve Bourn traveling trophy awarded by Slaton. The game there Saturday night was for the benefit of the Steve Bourn Memorial Athletic Fund. The contest here Nov. 29 was for the benefit of the Antelope Booster Club fund.

Ronald Simpson, president of the Post booster club, said each team wound up with "probably $250" after expenses from the two games. Despite several conflicting events, a large crowd attended the game at Slaton, with $308 grossed at the gate, it was reported here.

Comeback effort pays off for Pete Morales

It's nearly time for Pete Morales' 5000-mile check-up, but the 30-year-old runner is going to need a good overhaul.

Morales capped an 18-month comeback effort last Monday by winning the Southwest Conference country individual championship in Dallas, in 18:45, besting his nearest pursuer by 30 yards.

This has to be one of the most dramatic feats of the year," said Baylor track coach Clyde Harts. "Remember, this is just months after he severed his Achilles tendon and was thought to be lost for good. But, Pete never gave up and sure enough it looks like he's going to be a top runner from here on."

Morales' comeback was not easy. He estimates that he ran over 4000 miles since September, 1970, when Hart put him on a rehabilitation program of jogging, walking, weights and exercises designed to strengthen the leg and tendon. Some weeks he "only" ran 50 miles, while he sent the gauge up to 120 on his better weeks.

The victory was the second big one for the slender Post, Texas, performer. As a freshman he captured the Southwest Conference 3-mile championship with a 14:08.7 clocking and just before snapping the tendon in 1970 at the prestigious Drake Relays with 13:30.9, the fastest ever by a Texan.

The 1971 season was one of frustrations to Morales, who loves to compete. He had to "redshirt" during his rehabilitation period which meant he could not officially compete. However, a familiar sight around Baylor Stadium was the determined youngster in faded PE uniform spotting the field 20 or so yards on the 3-mile, then "winning the event as the partisan crowd whooped it up.

Pete is looking forward to the upcoming outdoor season. He has some goals in mind, such as breaking the 13-minute barrier in the three mile and winning the event in the major championships.

If the wheels don't come off, don't bet against him. To him three miles is just a jog around the block.

Freshman girls lose close one

Slaton's freshman girls' basketball team won a squeaker from Post, 33 to 31, at Slaton Monday night.

Jenda Gilmore's 17 points on eight field goals and one free throw was the best scoring effort for Post. Nan Bilberry and Carol Davies each scored six points, and Tina McAllister, two.

Monday night of last week, the Post team swept past Tahoka, 48 to 17. Melanie King led the scoring with 20 points. Jenda Gilmore collected 18; Tina McAllister and Carol Davies, four apiece, and Nan Bilberry, two.

AUSTIN — Gov. Preston Smith's decision to run for a third term drew sharp new attention to an increasingly-crowded and complex 1972 political scene.

Smith said he would seek vindication in stock-loan scandals. He plans to tell "over and over" that he killed (by veto) the bank deposit legislation urged by Houston banker Frank Sharp which the Legislature passed in 1969.

Meanwhile, former U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough said odds are now 10-to-one he will be a candidate — either for governor or the senate — next year. But he declined to indicate which race is most likely to attract him.

State Sen. Wayne Connally, the youngest brother of U. S. Secretary of Treasury (and former Governor) John B. Connally, jumped into the lieutenant governor's race. Connally is a conservative Democrat.

Harold (Barefoot) Sanders of Dallas reportedly is getting set to run for the U. S. Senate as a Democrat.

Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso indicated he will reveal at a dinner in his home town Dec. 7 whether he will enter the lieutenant governor's race or stand for re-election.

Republicans, calling for a "top to bottom cleanup" in state government, began recruiting preliminaries, concentrating on the governor's race. (They already have a U. S. Senate candidate, incumbent John Tower).

The Republicans, in an informal statewide poll of gubernatorial preferences, came up with S. Ross Perot, wealthy Dallas businessman, who is a political independent, as their favorite.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Dolph Briscoe, Uvalde rancher-banker, continued full-fledged campaigns for governor. Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Houston newspaper executive William P. Hobby, Jr., have been in the lieutenant governor's race for months.

COURT SPEAKS— Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a new law which allows those accused of crimes to waive rights to a grand jury indictment before trial in cases where the death penalty is not applicable.

In other recent cases of the Court of Criminal Appeals held: That photographs of a bloody death scene are not automatically prohibited from consideration in murder trials.

That a court is not to look beyond a bill as passed by the legislature to consider if the act creating a new trial court was duly submitted to a special legislative session by the governor.

COURT COST "SURTAX" — Some 718 cities and the 254 counties collected $335,348.70 during September from a new "surtax" on court costs earmarked for improving criminal justice.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported on first collections under the law. Money will meet state and local matching fund needs for federal grants under the Omnibus Crime Control Act.

Nutrition Education Workshop scheduled

A Big Ideas Nutrition Education Workshop, a training program that helps the teacher move from nutrition concepts to student behavior, will be held in the Post Elementary School in January, according to Principal Jack Alexander.

The workshop, sponsored by the Lubbock office of Dairy Council, Inc., will be held two days, with some of the teachers participating the first day and others the second day, Alexander said.

The purpose of the workshop is to train teachers to use "Big Ideas" in teaching children to select balanced meals.

New Hampshire man in for visit

BY TOMMIE WILKE
Dear friends, Well, turkey time is here and now we are looking forward to getting a very important and beautiful holiday, Christmas. It is more than a holiday; it is more than a season of joy and good cheer; it is really God's gift to us, to be followed by unselfish giving." (borrowed from a book)

Edmund and I had a very nice surprise last Friday when Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bedford from Tyler, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aven Bedford from Lubbock, paid us a visit. They are all former Southland residents, but we hadn't seen Norman and his wife for many years. He is manager of the Goodyear store in Tyler and they were up here spending the holidays with his parents. Sure good to see old friends.

The Pleasant Valley 4-H Horse Club met last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the gin lot for their weekly meeting. They practiced for two hours. Those present were Sue and Mark Bevers, Maria and Donna Shelton, Joy Basinger, Kelly Chaffin, Billy and James Alexander, and one visitor, Jan Rowden from Wellman. Next meeting is Dec. 4. Y'all come.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mason spent the Thanksgiving holidays visiting with relatives and friends in Austin and Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Boatman from Toyah, Texas, spent this past weekend in Southland.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Courtney and children spent the holidays in Wellington and Lelia Lake with their parents.

Rev. and Mrs. C. T. Jordan spent the holidays in Pecos with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Starkey and children.

A new family has moved into the house formerly occupied by the Hub Haires. They are Mr. and Mrs. Anselmo Martinez and children.

Mrs. J. B. Gresham of Lake Whitney and Mrs. L. L. Lightfoot of Fort Worth recently visited here for a week with Mrs. Paul Winterrowd and children. Mrs. Winterrowd, Breonne and Jerry took them home and spent a few days with them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Broach's daughter and son-in-law, Jeannette and Sid, from Plano, spent this past weekend here with them.

Congratulations to Janie Gomez on her recent marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Long from Union spent some of their Thanksgiving holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and Cathy.

Mrs. M. A. Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lyles spent several days in Abilene and Dallas last week.

Until next week, I hope each of you out there in newspaper land has begun to prepare yourselves and your heart for the coming of Christmas and that you once again remember the true meaning of Christmas. This true meaning makes this season even more exciting and fulfilling. See you!

MORE ON "PROTESTOR"

Dear Charlie and Jim:
It was with a great deal of interest that we read an article in the Nov. 18, 1971, Post Dispatch entitled "Protestor Floods Jail Early Sunday Morning."

The story, as it appears in the Post Dispatch, is factual enough but does not attempt to cover the reason why the lady was "protesting." Some of the facts not reported in your story are as follows: The so-called "protestor" was arrested by local officers and just prior to her arrest she had severely injured her left knee that was recovering from prior surgery. At the time she was placed in jail and was being taken upstairs she was attempting to tell the officers of her injury and of her severe pain and begging the officers to get her to a doctor. The officers (apparently thinking that anyone who does not submit to go to jail is somewhat subversive and un-American) placed the "protestor" in the women's cell of the county jail.

After the "protestor" exhausted her vocal chords screaming for help on the third floor of the unattended county jail and could not secure such help, she then did the only thing left for her to do to secure help—she flooded the place—and incidentally this did bring help where all of her vocal protestations had failed.

When the officers arrived (not to help the injured prisoner but to concern themselves with wet carpet) they concluded that this so-called "protestor" might possibly be injured and in pain as she had been trying to convince someone for the last six or seven hours. The "protestor" was then released with her personal recognition with instructions to return the next morning and face a charge of "destruction of public property."

The following morning the "protestor" appeared as instructed, showing at least that she placed some value upon her word to return. Charges had been prepared but not filed and were "torn up" upon her paying to a local official the sum of $120.

All is well that ends well: the "protestor" has duly paid for her audacity of requesting medical aid when placed in the local bastille. The quasi-public property (carpet) has been repaired or replaced and the "protestor" has now undergone secondary surgery to correct what might have been prevented if her cries for help had been heeded.

Yours very truly,
PAT N. WALKER
JOE E. TAYLOR

Dear Pat and Joe: If these are the true facts we are glad you took pen in hand to set the story straight. The "protestor" was long gone when we arrived on the scene.—Charlie and Jim.

Minister announces his sermon subjects

The sermon at the First Christian Church this Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service will be "Put Your Hand in the Hand of the Man..." The Lord's Supper will also be observed, and there will be a supervised nursery at the morning worship.

At the 7 p.m. service, the minister, Bernard S. Ramsey, will show colored slides of the recent international Assembly of the Christian Church in Louisville, Ky., and on the theme, "Why Do You Call Me 'Lord, Lord?'"

Banquet held for 4-H Gold Stars

Phyllis and Jay Kennedy, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kennedy, were among the 40 top 4-H members in the South Plains who were honored Nov. 22 at the District 2 4-H Gold Star Banquet at Coronado High School in Lubbock.

As one of the very few brother-sister combination ever selected in the area for Gold Star Boy and Girl honors the same year, Phyllis and Jay had their picture on the front page of the Nov. 23 Lubbock Morning Avalanche.

Keynote speaker for the banquet was the Rev. Leo Gee, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Big Spring.

HOLIDAY IN LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Ray N. Smith spent Thanksgiving Day in Lubbock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Benson and daughter. The Smith's son, Robert Smith, and family of Odessa were guests in the Ray Smith home here Friday.
