Memorial Day speaker stresses use of flag

"Our flag has many uses... it must carry the burden of hope for the best of all possible worlds," the Rev. George L. Miller, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, told a crowd of approximately 150 persons at the annual Memorial Day service at 10 a.m. Monday at Terrace Cemetery. The flag was the main topic of Rev. Miller's Memorial Day address. "It is used for many things," he said; "it is the symbol of our land, the rallying banner for the pride and patriotism of the American people."

Summer youth program to start here Monday

Sponsored by city, county
The city-county summer recreation program for all school age children in Garza County is to begin Monday, June 4, and continue through July 12, with Joe Giddens of the Post High School coaching staff as program director.

Registration for the program is to be held from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday, June 2, in the junior high school gym. Once the program is under way, activities will begin at 8:30 a.m. each day and end at noon. Each activity will last one hour. The activities to be offered are as follows: Girls: Tennis, golf, swimming, basketball, cheerleading, twirling, arts and crafts, tumbling and trampolining. Boys: Tennis, golf, weights and agility, basketball, arts and crafts, track, tumbling and trampolining, swimming.

Coach Giddens said each child may participate in as many as six different activities. "Most of the activities will require grouping the children by age for more fun and participation," he said. The director said all parents are encouraged to let their children participate in any or all activities of the six-week program, which is being jointly financed by the City of Post and Garza County. It is important that they register their children Saturday if they wish them to participate.

The director said equipment, such as tennis rackets, golf clubs, batons, etc., will be furnished for children who do not have their own. Judy Norman will be assistant director of the program. Other instructors will include Mrs. Pat Thompson, John Alexander, Randy Hudman, Bill Hudman, Sherell Guichard and Pam Petty. The director stressed that the program is free to all school-age children in the county.

Scholarships go to 7 Post High grads

Consuela Flores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Agapito Flores, received three scholarship awards at commencement exercises in Antelope Stadium Monday night for the 61st Mae Hudman Memorial scholarship, and the Amity Study Club scholarship. Presenting the awards to Miss Flores were Mrs. Gene Gandy, TSTA; Principal Jack Alexander, Ella Mae Hudman scholarship, and Ida Mae Wilks, Amity scholarship.

The 18-year-old senior was one of 11 honor students in this year's graduating class. She plans to work in Dallas this summer and then attend West Texas State University to major in elementary education. The Maggie Mae Jones scholarship was presented by Mrs. Jones to Rusty Conner, valedictorian of this year's graduating class. Mrs. Jones' award also included $200 to the Post High School music department.

The Linda Bird Memorial scholarship to an outstanding vocational agricultural student was presented by Principal Billy Hahn to John Johnson, also one of this year's honor students. The Texas Education Agency scholarship and one from the Texas Council of Church-Related Schools also went to Rusty Conner. The Texas Council of Church-Related Schools also awarded scholarships to the highest ranking girl, Donna McBride Lott, and the second highest ranking boy, Bill Hudman.

Announcement of the award presentations was by James E. Pollard, high school principal. Diplomats were presented members of the class by A. C. Cash, president of the school board, following presentation of the class by Supt. William F. Shiver. The program also included the valedictory and salutatory addresses, the class history by Donna McBride Lott. (See GRADUATES, Page 12)

Teddy Scott gets degree

DALLAS — A Post alumnus received his Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School Monday, May 28. He is Teddy Charles Scott, who will do his internship at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas.

The Post student was among a class of 104 graduating at commencement ceremonies in McFarlin Memorial Auditorium on the Southern Methodist University campus. Presenting degrees was Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, a member of The University of Texas System Board of Regents.

Dispatch Editorials

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1973

THERE IS A first time for everything, and this is the first "Thursday to Thursday" column I've ever written for an offset newspaper.

But, then, first things are to be expected at the end of May and the beginning of June. June, for instance, the first day of which is Friday, is traditionally the month of brides, and I predict that something like 90 per cent of the brides and bridegrooms who will be taking that "long" walk down the church aisles during the month will be getting married for the first time. Then, of course, there is the other 10 per cent.

AS FAR AS I know, no one here has ever kept score, but The Dispatch's society page probably set a new record last Thursday in the number of bridal shower stories. There were seven or eight of them.

And I don't want to let the month of May get away without mentioning that there are no May 26 birthdays in our "Happy Birthday" book. We can't have that, so you people whose birthdays are May 26 let The Dispatch know about it so the date won't be blank again in next year's last-of-May "Happy Birthday" column.

AND I MIGHT as well mention here that June is Dairy Month, National Ragweed Control Month and National Recreation Month. The two "big" days, of course, will be Father's Day on June 17 and the first day of summer on June 21.

There's also Flag Day on June 14, which is also the first day of National Apricot Week.

GETTING BACK to marriages, student marriages are alive and well on the Baylor campus, according to the Baylor News Service. At Baylor, 1,064, or 16 per cent of the total undergraduate and graduate enrollment (excluding law students) are married. Of 600 graduate students, William G. Toland, dean of the graduate school, estimates 30 per cent are married. About 42 per cent of Baylor's 374 law students are married.

And I seem to be hooked on the subject of marriage this week. Most of you probably saw the picture of Norm Cash and his new bride leaving the marriage ceremony in a shower of rice in one of last week's papers. The next day, there was a picture on the sports page of the Detroit Tiger first baseman from Justiceburg lolling in a lounge chair placed in front of his locker by his teammates. You also probably noticed that Norm has grown a moustache.

THE MAN UP the street says before you begin to give somebody a piece of your mind just make sure you can get by with what you have left.

Congress is now in the process of considering ways to make it easier for everyone to cast their ballot at election time. One proposal includes a plan to register by postcard which would eliminate the problem of having to make a special effort to register as an eligible voter. It is fine to encourage people to vote, up to a point. But, considering the complexities of the issues on local, state and national ballots today, it is more important than ever before that whoever votes also be informed.

DRAGGOING disinterested an uninformed people, whether they be 18 years of age or 98, into the polling places to mark their ballots simply to get the percentages up is a pretty sure way to have a lot of incompetent candidates elected and unwork-

The coordination and effectiveness has been excellent. All of the officers involved have cooperated and worked well together.

This is the heart of the whole proposition—that small towns and small counties can get more law enforcement for their money with a single law enforcement agency.

We have been impressed with the smooth way everything has gone. Wearing the badges are men we can respect in their duties and men who work hard.

Law enforcement essentially requires good public relations to be effective. We can see a far higher degree of good public relations in present law enforcement operations here than we've seen in Post in a number of years.

Total it all up and we think Post and Garza County has made great strides with its law enforcement consolidation and that we can expect better and better results as we go along.

The Dispatch can see the value right here in Post of the federal money being poured into better training of officers and better equipping the law enforcement agencies.

And we can see a whole lot more to come, too. We still have a long way to go before becoming the model integrated law enforcement agency the criminal justice council hopes we will some day become.

But we are moving steadily, quietly, and purposefully down that road, and The Dispatch, for one, is pleased to see it all working so well. The men who wear the badges deserve the credit for this, too.—JC

Law complex near completion

If you haven't noticed driving by, Garza County's new law enforcement complex and jail on the back side of the courthouse square is gradually nearing completion. It will all be finished, and the lawmen and lawbreakers will move in sometime in June.

If you also haven't been reading the legal notices, the county is about to spend some federal money for a consultant's recommendations for the best procedures to follow in the proposed future consolidation of the city police department with the county sheriff's department.

To most of us getting such a consultant's recommendations doesn't much make sense and seems like a waste of money. But this is one step forward in our new law enforcement pattern which is required and also entirely financed by the state criminal justice council. Farther down the road, to qualify for possible future law enforcement equipment or training benefits, we've got to meet this requirement.

It will be interesting to see what kind of recommendations are made for this final law enforcement integration process. And we will admit that we could be wrong, that the consultant's work may prove to be extremely beneficial in the end. We'll just have to wait and see.

The main purpose of this editorial, however, is to point out that over a period of months now the city police and the sheriff's department have been working together out of one crowded courthouse office under the control of Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman.

Gasoline shortage being felt

What kind of a summer is this going to be? That's what everybody is asking now the big fuss has been raised about gasoline and fuel oil shortages.

It hasn't taken long for the situation to reach Post either. Last week some of the stations were selling a maximum of only 10 gallons instead of a fill-up.

Car-conscious America finds itself in a strange paradox today. Auto makers have been ordered to make "cleaner engines" to cut down on air pollution, but such engines are therefore going to use more gasoline.

Environmentalists have raised such a hue and cry that oil firms have virtually ceased refinery expansion which is the key to the present situation. You have only to visit Houston's ship channel here in Texas, for example, to understand what that complaint is all about too.

But the economies of the situation are that as our population steadily expands and keeps buying more and more cars, the demands for gasoline increase, and unless some means of increasing the supply of gasoline is pushed along a crisis is sure to happen—and apparently is now upon us.

There are a lot of changes coming in the gasoline and fuel oil business. The first is the squeeze being put on the independent dealers by the major oil companies. The next is putting quotas on shipments to dealers. The next could very well be some form of gasoline rationing.

We are now going through that unsuccessful but essential stage of the American democratic process known as "voluntary restraints" which people are being or will be asked to impose upon themselves. That, of course, won't work. It never has. But it is the first step in the process.

Another step is going to be gasoline price increases—at the pump for the motorist, and at the wellhead for the producer.

A lot of the present sound and fury by the industry is aimed at getting the price of the product higher in our inflated economy, but not all of it, as your filling station man knows.

Our distribution system for any product is a strange one, as the housewives learned in their recent meat boycott. They're still trying to figure out who made "all the increased profit" through much higher meat prices.

It's the same for gasoline. When that price on the pump starts a steady climb don't blame it on the guy who operates the service station. Chances are he is going through a really tight squeeze economically instead of "cleaning up" as some indignant but unthinking drivers might suspect.

If the fuel supply problem isn't solved, look for a whole lot of changes in the automobile business, too. Right now, the first unanswered question is whether or not to take a long rambling summer vacation trip?—JC

Old dogs and new tricks

Who says you can't teach an old dog new tricks?

Here at The Dispatch this week at least two old dogs in the newspaper business are learning an entirely new way to publish a newspaper via photo composition.

You've probably already noticed your Dispatch today for example is longer and narrower by the page, no longer has column rules between the columns of news, is printed all in one section instead of two, and that its pictures reproduce a whole lot better.

What we've been learning this week is to operate a photo-composition machine called a Compewriter, because it has a built-in computer to help the operator do some of the thinking, another photo-composition machine called a Varityper Headliner which sets the bigger sized type for headlines and ads, and also how to cut all this stuff up, run it through a waxer and stick it together neatly on a page.

You will probably find a few mistakes in our first offset edition because we will be fighting a 15-hour earlier deadline each week and aren't as yet "habitized" in our new operations.

But we think overall you'll like the changes and the paper will be easier to produce.

When we get everything in the groove, there are some other advantages to offset too which we will tell you about and show you, but right now we just have our hands full in getting started.—JC

With the Watergate mess getting messier, inflation still with us, and the cease fire in Southeast Asia something of a joke, I'll bet lots of people who were so happy to see Garza County go Republican for the first time last November, are not as happy about it now as they were then.

Religion! He's Got Religion!

By Rev. George P. Ascher

Often when a person's behavior changes in a dramatic manner for the better we say, "He's got religion." We are trying to express the cause of the change by saying that the person involved has caught something like the measles or mumps. But what do you mean when you change another with having religion? Do you mean:

That now that person lives up to your standard of ethics?

That now that person accepts the same God or gods that you do?

That the person has caught some special insight into daily living that was missing in the past?

Or are you merely saying with John Morley, "There are said to be ten thousand definitions of religion," and so really you are like a doctor examining a person with a new and different disease - He's got something, I don't know just what, but I sure hope it isn't catching!

When you catch religion, or are caught by it, do you come to the knowledge of a Creator who is stronger than you? When your friend who has caught religion speaks to you about this new and different experience what do you think? "Oh he's just got religion, it'll pass in time."

I suppose the goal of all religions could be said to be the same if you view religion as a way of life, a code of

Braves unbeaten in BR loop play

After a week off because of school, Babe Ruth play was resumed tonight with the Braves leading the Cubs, 17 to 2, and the Sox winning over Southland 2 to 1 in a well-played game.

By beating the Cubs, in a game called after five innings because of the 10-run lead rule, the Braves maintained their league lead with three wins and no losses. The Indians stayed close on their heels with their win over Southland, which leaves the Indians with a 3-1 mark.

The Cubs are third in the league standings at 1-2, Southland fourth at 1-3, and the White Sox in the cellar at 0-2.

Tonight, the White Sox will have a chance to win their first game and at the same time ruin the Braves' spotless record when they go up against that team in the first game. The Cubs play Southland in the nightcap.

Southland scored both its runs in the top of the sixth in losing to the Indians, 5-2, Tuesday. The Indians had scored two in the first, one in the third and two in the fifth for a 5-0 lead going into the sixth.

Winning pitcher Shorty Hester gave up just one hit, and that in the sixth inning by losing pitcher Frankie Tuttle, in pitching the Indians to their victory. Tuttle pitched a good game, yielding just six hits, one of them a lead-off triple by shortstop Kyle Duren.

Benny Greene, the Braves' starter, was the winning hurler in his team's 17-2 win over the Cubs. Ray Martinez was charged with the loss.

Olin Young winner of steer roping at Tulia

Olin Young of Peralta, Okla., won $1,156 in prize money and a trophy saddle in the 10th annual Tulia Steer Roping today. Young posted the average time in four go-rounds to win the contest. Other top finalists were John Miller of Pawhuska, Okla., second place; Randy Burchett of Pryor, Okla., third place, and Clark McEntire of Kiowa, Okla., fourth.

Marvin Cantrell of Nara Vista, N. M., posted the fastest roping time of 14.5 seconds.

Tim Prather of Snyder competed in the contest and tied with Young for fourth place in the third go-round.

Roping at Perryton the previous weekend, Tim Prather finished second to Olin Young in the calf roping. Over-all winner of both the steer and calf roping at Perryton was Walter Arnold of Silverton, formerly of Post. Arnold had a roping time of 22.1 seconds on four head of steers and four head of calves.

Letters to . . . the Editor

PARENT SPEAKS OUT

Dear Editor:

I just heard the discussion on the radio concerning the problems of our youth. I agree with most of what was said. I appreciate these men who are dedicated to the betterment of life and ideals for our young people. I, too, have an opinion I would like to express. I like young people — but I like parents, too. How about presenting the parental point of view? I realize this position may be solely mine, and not shared by any other parent. This is a chance I'll take.

"Bad Kids" are always labeled as a small segment of society. The callous, indifferent, fingers-in-their-ears parents are also a minority group. Most of the parents I know care deeply for their children. After all, it's always Mom and Dad who are there when the going really gets tough. That should prove something.

Some young people say they can't talk to their parents. We would love the privilege of communication, but it takes two to communicate. Many times we try to establish a rapport with our child and are tuned out. I suppose the young person feels that we are so old and "out of it" that we wouldn't understand his problem. We may not fully understand your actions or ideals, but be patient, we are trying. Talk to us and we'll try to meet half way and find a workable solution.

Being human, parents, too, make mistakes. They will never have all the answers. The mature parent won't mind admitting when they have been unjust. At times they are hypocritical and inconsistent. God made them parents. He didn't make them perfect. Their ability to love their children regardless of circumstances is consistent. This love is always there — they are eager to give it. Sometimes they expect a little affection and respect in return.

After the community, the church, and the school accept a token amount of responsibility for the problems of the youth, the greater part of the load is placed on the already weighted shoulders of the parent. It doesn't seem to matter that most of these people have taught and lived what they have done their best physically, spiritually and financially for these progenies.

If children's behavior and attitudes can all be attributed to the influence of the home, then it is also logical to assume that the parents in these same homes are products of their early environment and shouldn't be held accountable for their acts. This Round Robin philosophy will not work. At some point in one's life one must assume full responsibility for one's actions. I believe when we are old enough to distinguish right from wrong, would be an appropriate age to start.

I am not underestimating the importance of the home. I know that the quality of our home life and various circumstances affect to an extent, the way we think and perform. But the Poor Old Parent can't be the scapegoat forever. He eventually dies — and is immune to all harassment!

Sincerely,
Polly Cravy

Cardinals leading pack in Little League flag chase

The Cardinals, with four wins and a single loss, have taken over the lead in Little League play, with operations in full swing now that the school term has ended.

The Yankees and Tigers are tied for second place, each with 2-1 marks; the Red Sox and Wildcats are deadlocked for third, each with 1-2 readings, and the Dodgers are all alone in the cellar position with three losses and no wins.

Tonight, the Yankees play the Wildcats in the first game, and the Dodgers will try to win their first game when they go against the Wildcats.

Tuesday night, the surprising Tigers swamped the Red Sox, 17 to 3, and the Cardinals drubbed the Yankees, 9 to 4, despite Bryan Compton's three-run homer in addition to a single.

Starter Tommy Lockhart and Raymie Holly, pitching three innings apiece, didn't give up a hit in the Tigers' 17 to 3 victory over the Red Sox. Ray Morales was the losing pitcher, with the Tigers banging out a total of 13 hits. Raymond Gonzales got three of them, including two doubles.

Dale Redman, who went the distance, was the winning hurler in the Cards' 9-4 win over the Yanks. He gave up seven hits, one of them Compton's three-run blast, but was tight in the clutches. Mike Macy and Kelly Baker got two hits apiece for the losers.

Bilberry started on the mound for the Yankees, but was relieved by Compton, who was charged with the loss. The Cards got a total of eight hits, with Redman getting three of them.

Monday night, the Cards beat the Red Sox, 10 to 6, with Brent Terry the winning pitcher and Scott Walker the loser. Terry held the losers to six hits, while Walker yielded only eight. Terry, Redman and Bryan Taylor got two hits apiece for the Cards, while the six Red Sox hits were scattered among as many batters.

Saturday night, the Yankees edged the Tigers, 9-8, in a game called complete after five innings because of the 9:30 time rule. Bryan Compton, who relieved starter James Bilberry on the mound, was the winning pitcher, while Jacky Castleberry, who had relieved David Quinonez, was tagged with the loss. The only hit off Castleberry was a first inning single by Mike Macy, but the Yankees squeezed out their victory on walks, errors and heads-up base running. The losers got five hits off the two Yankees hurlers.

Danny Gunn was the winning pitcher and Mike Gonzales the loser when the Cardinals beat the Dodgers, 9-5, in Saturday's first game. The winners collected nine hits, with Barry Tyler going two-for-two at the plate, and Brent Terry two-for-four. Gunn scattered the Dodgers' six hits among the same number of players, with the only extra-base blow being a double by Barry Morris.

Friday night's game between the Red Sox and Yankees went as incomplete after one inning because of the 9:30 p.m. rule.

Brakes fail, auto hits store front

Geneva Workman, 18, escaped injury about 3:25 Wednesday afternoon of last week when the brakes on her automobile failed as she parked and the vehicle jumped the curb and knocked out a plate glass window in the White Auto Store warehouse, just east of Wacker's.

Not much damage occurred either to the automobile or the building, according to Deputy Sheriff Dave Roberts, who investigated the accident.

Everything seems to go wrong for the fellow who is headed in the wrong direction.

that no inning is to start after that time. The Red Sox scored nine runs in the top half of the first, with the Yankees coming back with five. The game will be completed later.

In Friday's first game, the Cardinals outlasted the Wildcats, 15 to 14, by breaking a 14-14 tie with a run in the bottom of the seventh. Tommy Reed started on the mound for the Cards, but David Blanton relieved him to receive credit for the win. Although losing, the

Welch wins in rodeo back east

Bernie Welch, formerly of Post, was the only rider in a field of eight to ride a bull for eight seconds at the Professional Rodeo Show held recently in New Haven, Conn.

Welch, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch of Post, scored 49 points in the bull riding event. He and his wife are engaged in social work in Connecticut.

Claude Groves of New Deal, Tex., also participated in the rodeo and tied for first place in the saddle bronc riding.

Wildcats outthit the Cards, 14 to 8. Losing pitcher Owen Gilbert got two of the losers' hits, including a solo homer. Mike Holly went three-for-five at the plate. Catcher Danny Gunn helped the Cardinal cause with two doubles in four trips.

Last Thursday night, the Wildcats whacked the Dodgers, 12 to 9, with Mark Holly, the third of three Wildcat pitchers, getting credit for the win, and Shawn Scott, who had relieved Mike Dye, being charged with the loss. Catcher Owen Gilbert got three of the winners' nine hits, with Jesse Taylor getting two. The losers collected 16 hits, with Tim Morris and Charlie Hall getting three each.

The Tigers, after trailing 3-0 since the second inning, roared from behind with a four-run blast in the top of the sixth to beat the Cardinals, 4-3, in last Thursday's opening game. Raymie Holly was the winning pitcher, with singles by Brent Terry and Bryan Taylor, the only hits he gave up. The winners got five hits, with Raymie Holly getting two of them.

Publisher Jim at Keyboard of Dispatch's New Compuwriter

Our Congratulations to JIM CORNISH

For his completion with this issue of 16 busy years of Post journalism — by launching his excellent weekly newspaper into photo composition — and offset publication.

We take pride with the rest of Post in being served by such a fine newspaper as Jim's Post Dispatch. It is held in the highest regard by newspaper folks all across West Texas and around this big state of ours.

We take pride too, as a full service bank, in providing the necessary funding for the Dispatch's new photo composition equipment. It's our job to help — and help make community progress.

Card of Thanks

I appreciate all the visits, cards and telephone calls while I was in the hospital and since I have been home. May God bless all of you.
 Leta Davies

We wish to thank Dr. Charles Tubbs, the staff of nurses at Garza Memorial Hospital, our neighbors and friends for their help, food, flowers, and prayers. The Hudman Funeral Home and Father Tim for his comforting words at the loss of our infant daughter. God bless you all.
 The Bruno Cendalski family

The members of the Mu Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi wish to express sincere thanks to all of those persons making the Little Mr & Miss Post Contest a great success. To the parents who entered their children, our appreciation for making the contest possible. To the First National Bank, our special thanks for providing the trophies. To the merchants, our thanks for allowing the posters to be displayed. We are grateful to the Post Dispatch and to KPOS for the publicity. We are grateful to the Post Schools for their cooperation. We are proud to be a part of Post!

Words are so inadequate at this time. But we want to thank so many for so much. For the prayers, visits, gifts, flowers and food. To Twin Cedar and hospital staffs for their kindness and patience to our Aunt Ollie Mickey. To Dr. Harry and Dr. Charles Tubbs. For the beautiful singing. Bro. Ramsey for such a sweet service. To everyone who did anything in any way.

Miss Nancy Ann Bailey wed to Jan Olson in Snyder ceremony

Nancy Ann Bailey, the bride of Jan Olson, was married in Snyder, Okla., at 4 p.m. Saturday, May 26, by the Rev. Earl White. The double ring ceremony was held in the garden of the bride's parents. The bride wore a white gown with maroon lace motifs and a high collar. Her hair was styled in a bouffant. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby breath. The groom wore a dark suit and a white shirt with a dark tie. He carried a boutonniere of white carnations. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Earl White. The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom will be making their home in Snyder, Okla.

the bridegroom, was hostess for the rehearsal dinner May 18 held in the Steak House in Snyder. Guests were from Snyder, Big Spring, Odessa, Post, Abilene and Dallas. Members of the house party were Mrs. Ronald Payne, Mrs. E. D. Wittie and Mrs. Wayne Lawler.

MR. AND MRS. JAN OLSON

Carolyn Brown wed to Doyle Nichols May 19

Miss Carolyn Sue Brown and Doyle Wayne Nichols pledged wedding vows Saturday, May 19, at 4 p.m. in the Shady Grove Baptist Church in Bossier City, La. The Rev. Earl White officiated the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brown of Maud, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Martin S. Nichols are parents of the bridegroom. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of rayon organza lavishly appliqued with pearly cotton and chantilly lace, styled with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and detachable wattleau chapel train. Her elbow length veil was secured by a circular headpiece trimmed with satin roses, white lace and pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white baby roses and carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Norma Norris, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of purple chiffon over satin accented at the empire waist with a lilac velvet ribbon. Her headpiece was lilac illusion held by purple chiffon roses, and she carried a long-stemmed lilac carnation. David Nichols of Post, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Ron Brown and Robert Norris. Miss Crystal Nichols, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book. A reception was held following the ceremony in the social hall of the church. Mmes. J. D. Matsler and Mac Etheredge, sisters of the bridegroom, and Ron Brown, sister of the bride, assisted with the courtesies.

Luncheon ends year for club

A luncheon was held in the home of Mrs. Lee Davis Sr., May 23 for the closing meeting of the Woman's Culture Club. Hostesses for the luncheon other than Mrs. Davis were Mrs. M. J. Malouf and the social committee. Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick gave the invocation and Mrs. Betty Green, first vice president of the Caprock district, was guest speaker. Mrs. Green told of a work shop to be held in Lubbock for program planning and year books. She also gave a report on a TFWC meeting she and 30 members from the Caprock district attended in Brownwood. It was voted at this meeting to retain the club house in Austin. During the group discussion each member told briefly the program she enjoyed most during the year. Mrs. Tillman Jones presented Mrs. Green with a bottle of cologne. Members attending were: Mmes. Jack Burreas, Davis, R. T. Dickson, Ira Lee Duckworth, J. H. Haire, Herman Havis, Jones, Kirkpatrick, Malouf, H. R. Richards, R. L. Marks, Jack Myers, J. F. Storie, Ralph Welch, D. C. Williams, and C. D. Morrel.

Potluck

Rosmary Chapman

The Post Library exercise classes ended last Friday. We started six weeks ago with 16 people, got up to 23 during the second week, and slid in with 11 the last week. It's really amazing that so many could stick with the classes for so long because it's not easy. It takes lots of interest, lots of work, and lots of will power.

The results: quite a few Postites looking better and feeling better and a library $526 richer. It sure beats selling rummage!

The 11 "graduates" were Rm Chapman, Georgeanne Claborn, Renee Claborn, Marianne Hart, Maury Shiver, Deborah Simms, Nancy Kemp, Patty Kirkpatrick, Glenda Morrow, Jane Odom and Sharla Wells. The group's total inches lost were 152. I won't embarrass anyone by saying exactly who lost exactly what!

Others who took the course but didn't quite complete it for one reason or another — let's face it, May is one of the busier months — were: Jo Cash, Zoe Kirkpatrick, Nancy Macy, Dorothy Perdue, Beverly Simpson, Margie Wilson, Dana Feaster, Pat Kendrick, Thelma Mason, Emily Wyatt and Mary Jo Tanner.

Friday night the 11 of us who started the course and finished it treated ourselves to a Mexican dinner as a reward. Prizes were given to the person who lost the most inches (21) and the person who lost the least (7).

It's interesting to note that you can't sell an exercise course to people by telling them it's going to make them feel better. One always stresses the point that it's going to make them look better. Still, when the classes are over, more women seem to be more impressed with their added energy and vitality than they are with their streamlined forms.

I've really missed the classes and all of my little buddies this week. It's twice as hard to exercise by yourself as it is to exercise with your friends. I don't have anyone to yell at any more.

A number of women around town have been asking if the library will have another class. The answer is yes! It will have to be in the middle of the summer, though, because June is going to be a particularly busy month for the Chapman family.

I'll give you the dates for the next classes as soon as I get things squared away. Meanwhile, if you're interested in supporting the library but you don't give a hang about exercising, you can try to win a Mr. Coffee. You'd better get your name in the pot this very second! (Always something.)

Miss Williams shower honoree

Colors of red and white were used in decorations when Miss Lee Ann Williams was complimented with a lingerie luncheon Saturday in the home of Mrs. Charles Williams Jr. Mrs. Lonnie G. Peel was co-hostess for the affair.

The serving table was centered with a spring floral arrangement featuring red roses. Bud vases with single roses were used on the other tables. Guests for the luncheon included the honoree's mother, Mrs. Curtis Williams, and Mrs. Floyd Hodges, mother of the prospective bridegroom. Miss Williams and Dan Hodges will be married June 16 in the First Methodist Church.

Young volunteers are being sought here

Girls who are old enough to drive and are willing to serve as volunteers to help deliver lunches this summer in the Senior Citizens Meals on Wheels program here are asked to contact Mrs. Ann Tubbs, who heads the program. Mrs. Tubbs told The Dispatch that with regular volunteers sure to be taking summer vacations replacements will be needed in the months ahead.

MRS. TRAVIS DEAN WARE (Athena Lyn Huffaker)

Cheshire-Hair vows are exchanged here May 25

Miss Mary Rosanna Cheshire and Donald Bruce Hair were united in marriage Friday, May 25, at 6 p.m. in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. Phillip Daniels, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiated the double ring ceremony before a fireplace decorated with wedding bells and candles and flanked with white roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cheshire, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hair.

Presented in marriage by her father, she wore a formal length gown of slipper satin covered with Chantilly lace. The empire style gown with lace cap sleeves was accented with seed pearls around the edge of neckline and midriff. The shoulder length veil of tulle was attached to a white velvet bow. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses atop a white Bible with streamers and love knots. The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

A reception followed the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with yellow roses was served from a table laid with a white lace cloth over yellow and centered with yellow candles and an arrangement of yellow roses and white streamers lettered in gold "Donnie and Mary."

Mmes. Janet Hair and Helyn Fields, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Reba Dean, sister of the bridegroom, served approximately 30 guests. For a short wedding trip the bride chose a two-piece pants suit of white with a yellow crepe blouse. Her corsage was from her bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home in Post.

Huffaker-Ware vows read in Denver City

Miss Athena Lyn Huffaker and Travis Dean Ware exchanged wedding vows May 25 at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Denver City.

The Rev. John Ferguson performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with a large basket of white gladiolus flanked by four seven-branch candelabra and large white vases of white gladiolus atop two tall white columns with seven-branch candelabra at each end. White satin bows marked the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen W. Huffaker of Denver City, formerly of Post, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Ida Stewart of Post. Mr. and Mrs. Troy D. Ware of Seminole are parents of the bridegroom.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of satin organza fashioned with a Victorian neckline of scalloped Chantilly lace. A band of scalloped lace extended down each side of the empire bodice and A-line skirt. A detachable chapel length train accented with a Dior bow flowed from the back waistline. A matching full length lace edged mantilla veil was worn with the gown. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and feathered carnations atop a lace covered white Bible.

Mrs. Ray Marion of Plains, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Donna Keese of Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan Hall of Post, cousin of the bride, Shirley Dodd of Denver City and Mrs. Linda Williams of Seagraves. They each wore formal dresses of flocked orchid sheer mist, with long full sleeves attached to wide cuffs. Ruffles were fashioned at the scooped neckline and hems of the gowns. Each wore orchid ruffled brimmed hats accented with orchid satin bows and streamers and carried baskets of spring flowers.

Miss Carolyn Hinson, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and candlelighters were Misses Kay Jividen and Lynette Bell. They each wore gowns of orchid chiffon styled identical to the other attendants, headpieces of satin bows with streamers, and dark pink wrist corsages of carnations.

Ray Marion of Plains served as best man. Groomsman were Buddy and Calvin Ware of Seminole, brothers of the bridegroom, Michael Williams of Seagraves and Joe Mullican of Seminole. Ushers were Ronnie Ware of Plainview, Brad Huffaker of Tahoka and Greg Huffaker, brother of the bride.

Ring bearer was Russell Hinson, nephew of the bridegroom.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Charles Terry, organist, and Michelle Bush, pianist. Mrs. Keith Sanders sang "First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Sunrise Sunset" and "The Way You Look Tonight."

A reception was held following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was laid with a ruffled round white satin cloth, featuring a four-tiered wedding cake surrounded by four smaller cakes and centered with an orchid and purple floral arrangement. The bridegroom's table was covered with a deep purple cloth and draped with white satin rope and tassels and centered with a white candelabra entwined with clusters of grapes.

The punch and coffee table was laid with a full white cloth with an orchid lace ruffled skirt. A small table featuring doll cakes representing the bride and her attendants accented the room and was covered with an orchid and purple cloth. Hanging above it was a large portrait of the bride.

Members of the house party were: Diana Harrison, Rose Reed, Dee Dee Lambert, Melvena Stewart, cousin of the bride, Eva Webb and Dee Dee Patton.

The bride is a spring graduate of Denver City High School. For a wedding trip, the bride wore a white dress with an orchid corsage.

GUIDE TO ARMCHAIR BALLET

Here's another article exclusively for the senior citizen. Inactivity of people as they grow older causes stiffness, aches, fat accumulation and fatigue—a general slowing down. Agreed—perhaps the pace should be slowed, but not to a complete standstill. We all know that endurance disappears when it isn't developed—as do good looks and a sunny disposition. Nothing has helped me more than Rosemary's exercise classic. Granted, most senior citizens couldn't endure that rigorous schedule, but they can return to a more active life, keeping in mind that it'll take time.

Living is a daily routine, and often we spend years arriving at an inactive stage.

If you are beginning to feel a little stiff and want to loosen up, I recommend six rules and a plan of exercise for the senior citizen—the armchair ballet.

The rules are as follows: Begin exercising slowly and easily.

Do a little at a time (5 minutes) but often (ten times a day).

Combine exercise with daily habits.

Gradually increase time spent exercising.

Watch the diet—intake of calories must equal output of energy to stay even.

Air and sun are for humans—get out in it.

To perform the armchair ballet, sit in a good solid chair with strong arms. Music will help keep the work rhythmic and fun. Here's what to do:

KNEE TO NOSE—Bend over lightly. Lift right knee and touch nose. Alternate both knees. Repeat eight times for each side. As it becomes easier, straighten back and keep hands on chair arm.

KNEE CROSS—Cross right knee over left and return to floor. Alternate each leg. As you grow stronger and more limber sit back in the chair and lift the knees higher and higher. Eight crosses for each leg equal a set.

KNEE BENDS—Place hands on a table for support. Do four half-knee bends. Go lower as strength improves until you are doing ten full-knee bends.

HEEL RAISES—Place feet side by side with heels pushed under the chair so that the legs bend at the ankle. If the chair is too high to permit the heels to touch, sit forward near the edge. Raise heels, keeping balls and toes on the floor; then lower. After ten times with both feet, alternate with first one and then the other for ten times.

ARM LIFTS—Place hands on arms of chair and raise the body, lowering slowly. If it is too hard to raise yourself, begin with straight arms and hands on the seat of the chair. Begin with two and add one a week until you are doing ten.

TOES IN-TOES OUT—Take

off shoes. Sit with feet about one foot apart. Keep heels on the floor and turn both feet inward, then outward. Repeat 20 times.

LEG LIFTS—Stand facing chair. Hold onto arms and place right foot on chair. Return to floor. Alternate feet starting with 10 steps and work up to 40.

PUSH UPS—Stand well away from a table that cannot slide. Place both hands on table and lower chest toward table. Go as low as you can without falling, and return to upright position. Start with five. Transfer to chair and as you improve use a lot box and finally the floor.

NECK TWIST—Place hands on chair arms. Sit straight away from the back of the chair. Look slowly right and left. Try to increase your range of vision behind you each week. Do eight slow twists to each side. Never jerk. Use your arms to hold yourself straight in the chair to keep from slumping.

Now you are ready to follow any series of exercises you desire. Good luck.

June 15-17 are Circus dates

LUBBOCK—The all-new 102nd edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus will play a three-day engagement at Lubbock Municipal Coliseum Friday, June 15 at 8 p.m., Saturday, June 16 at 11 a.m. and 3 and 8 p.m., and Sunday, June 17 at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Featuring 27 acts from across the world in their American debuts, the 102nd edition of The Greatest Show on Earth will also unveil five new production numbers, promised as the most elaborate and expensive circus spectacles of all time.

Tickets for the circus went on sale May 21 in Lubbock at the Coliseum box office, and Furr's Family Center, 34th and Quaker. For mail orders, write Box 42, Lubbock.

Minor League opens in tie

The Minor League season opened Monday night with a tight one—so tight, in fact, that neither team won, the Colts and Mets finishing in a 20-20 tie.

Tuesday night's game was almost as close, with the Rangers finally winning it by topping the Astros, 17-16.

Tonight, The Mets play the Astros, with the Rangers and Colts playing Friday night and the Colts and Astros, Monday night.

SPIDERS GET HIGH

When spiders were experimentally given amphetamines and barbiturates, they spun irregular webs. Tranquilizers and marijuana produced small webs.

Quarter Horse Show in June

HOBBS, N.M. — The annual Lea County Quarter Horse Association Show will be held in the Lea County Fair Ground in Lovington June 23-24. It is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. each day. Youth activity classes will be June 23, and open classes June 24.

Charles "Bubba" Caslo of El Paso will be judge for the show. The show will feature halter, English and Western performances in both the youth and open show. There will be an open cutting which will be approved by the National Cutting Horse Association, and there will be $200 added to the open cutting.

DANCE RECITAL SET

Thirty-two young ladies will be presented in a dance recital presented by Maxine Odum James School of Dance Thursday, June 7, in the Post Primary School auditorium. The program will begin at 8 p.m. and the public is invited.

MORE HOME POOLS

Homeowners in the United States are adding swimming pools to their property at the annual rate of 70,000 units, with over 750,000 now in use.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

PARENTS OF YOUNGSTERS ENGAGED IN STRENUOUS PLAY OR WORK SHOULD TAKE A CUE FROM LEADING COACHES AND ATHLETES WHO REALIZE THAT IT IS NECESSARY TO REPLENISH WATER LOSS HOUR BY HOUR. THE PRACTICE OF REPLACING BODY FLUID WILL HELP PREVENT DEHYDRATION AND HEAT EXHAUSTION.

WHEN A CHILD PARTICIPATES IN LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL AND OTHER SPORTS, PARENTS AND COACHES SHOULD PROVIDE HIM WITH A VALUABLE LIQUID ASSET SUCH AS LIETEA. ON THE HISPANIC, COOL AND REFRESHING, IT REPLACES LOST FLUIDS WITHOUT ADDING UNWANTED CALORIES.

Bill is passed by legislature

The bill to abolish the county school superintendents and county boards of school trustees in Garza and four other Texas counties has been passed by both houses of the Texas Legislature and gone to Gov. Dolph Briscoe for his signature.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby last week was notified of the current status of the measure which received final senate action May 10 by a 31 to 0 vote and May 14 by the house on a non-record vote.

The bill provides that County Supt. Dean Robinson would serve out his present term before the office is abolished, but should be resigned the office would be abolished with his resignation.

Other counties included in the bill are Terry, Dawson, Angellina and Henderson.

FISCAL BUDGETING

The U.S. government formerly used the calendar year for budgeting but switched to the current fiscal year system in 1843.

Why walk on the grass when you can ride?

Before you buy a walk-behind mower, check the price of a John Deere Gas-Powered Riding Mower. You'll be pleasantly surprised at how little more it will cost you to enjoy their convenience. Select from two models—6- and 7-hp. Both do an excellent job of mowing, trim close, and ride great. Grass catcher available for 6-hp model. Ask us about our Finance Plan.

This is the most valuable crop we raise in this community... and we can keep more of it for our own use and enjoyment by trading more at home

It takes a lot of time, love, money, and sacrifice to bring up our children to a state of usefulness. But it doesn't take much city-shopping fever in a community such as ours to force its youth to look somewhere else for Opportunity. Keeping more of our money at home would keep more of our young people here... to enrich and brighten our lives... and probably lengthen theirs.

LIBRARY

Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER

When I returned from my mini-vacation in New Mexico, I discovered that I had been reelected to the Lubbock Area Library System Major Resource Center Advisory Council! How's that for a title, eh?

I wrote about this honor when I first received it a year ago. At that time, I really didn't know what it was all about. I just accepted the honor and hoped I would do a decent job.

As the year passed, I discovered that our job was to advise the Lubbock area libraries how to spend about $3,800 of state funds. With a goodly number of libraries in our area, it wasn't difficult to spend the money. Our problem was how to make it do as much good as possible for the greatest number of library patrons possible.

Our decision was to put it in advertising and public relations. We had a film strip made that explained library services and encouraged people to use and support them. We also put spots on TV that would remind people that libraries do make a difference to this world we live in.

I guess we didn't sell the right people, for this year our funds are more skimpy than they were before. Federal aid has been lopped off and state aid is just a hope. If we in Post didn't have the City Council and the Commissioner's Court on our side, we could forget about a library.

I've protested before what's happening to libraries in our modern society, and I know complainers get tiresome. But somebody's got to do some hollering. Right now that's about all I can think to do. And it's frustrating.

People are tuned in to great problems. They worry about the dollar, and prices, and bombs still falling over Cambodia, and Watergate, and drug abuse, and our permissive society, and crime in the streets, and tornados and X-rated movies. So who's got time to worry about libraries?

After all, there's a lot of folks that never set foot in libraries. They aren't against them, they aren't for them—they really don't care one way or the other. They use up their worrying on the big issues.

Others think of the library as that room downtown that's always been there and will always be there. That room where they checked out "Peter Rabbit" and where they can probably still check out "Peter Rabbit". It's a bit of the golden age called yesterday or "Once Upon a Time". Libraries like flowers and children need nurture, feeding and growth. Most especially they need some love to flourish and grow. The cold, impersonal winds of modern society can stunt and destroy them.

We need to do some hollering on their behalf, but will anybody listen—or care—or do anything about it?

I don't know. But once more I step up—to the Advisory Council to put commitment where my heart is. I pledge you'll do all I can for the cause. Just don't lag too far behind me, OK?

—O—

Hey, friends and neighbors, stop in at the library first chance you have, and see the big mystery surprise that's there!

A contest is going to be held with a fabulous prize for the winner. Proceeds from the contest will go into the building fund. But you need to visit the library to see what's going on.

So come on down before it's too late! We'll be looking for you.

Little Britches Rodeo on tap

GIRARD — A Little Britches Rodeo is to be held Friday and Saturday at the Girard rodeo arena. The rodeo performances are to start at 8 o'clock each night.

Events will be peewee and junior bareback riding, steer riding, barrel racing, pole bending, flag racing, ribbon roping and a wild mare race (three to a team) each night.

The peewee division is for contestants 11 and under and the junior division is for 12, 13 and 14-year-olds.

Buckles will be given for first place in each event and ribbons for second through tenth places. Two all-around buckles will be awarded, and there will be a cash prize in the wild mare race.

The stock producer is Doc Edwards, and the rodeo is sponsored by the Kent County Youth Rodeo Association.

SURETY FIRM ASSETS

Oil production reaches new high; Garza helps

Garza County, which has recorded oil production since 1926, last year produced 3,069,248 barrels of oil at the rate of 13,850 barrels a day. Production in 1972 boosted Garza County's production total through the end of the year to 124,106,617 barrels.

The figures for Garza County are from statistics compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The statistics also showed that in the face of unprecedented demand, Texas oil fields last year produced almost 1.3-billion barrels of crude oil, an all-time record for the state. This figure was tops among the nation's oil-producing states and represented some 38 per cent of total U.S. production.

These figures show an increase of more than 67.6-million barrels over production in 1971. They reflect that during the last nine months of the year, the Texas Railroad Commission maintained a maximum of efficient production rate for Texas fields. Last year's crude oil production, recorded in 203 of the state's 254 counties, was valued at some $4.3 billion.

In 83 years of recorded production, Texas has produced nearly 37-billion barrels of oil, about 36 per cent of the total U.S. production.

Some 32 counties last year produced more than 10 million barrels of crude oil. The top producer was Scurry County, Garza's neighbor to the south-east, with 85.4 million barrels.

DEPLOYS WITH FLEET
Navy Air Controlman Second Class Bobby A. Gibson, husband of the former Miss Deanna S. Adams of Post, has left Norfolk, Va., aboard an aircraft carrier for an extended deployment with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. A 1965 graduate of Post High School, he joined the Navy in December, 1965.

Sewing class is set here

All women of the community are invited to attend a two-day sewing class Tuesday, June 5, and Wednesday, June 6.

The class will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. both days at the Post High School clothing department under the direction of Mrs. Marion Wheatley and Mrs. Cindy Mitchell, homemaking teachers.

Women attending are asked to bring their fabric, pattern and necessary sewing equipment, such as scissors, needles, straight pins, pin cushion, tape measure, tracing paper, tracing wheel and seam gauge, to the first class session.

There will be no charge for the class itself, and sewing machines and bobbins will be furnished by the school. There is no requirement for type of garment to be made or previous sewing experience.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
The sermon subject at the First Christian Church at the 11 a.m. worship this Sunday will be: "Let's Smitte an Ariel or Two!" The Lord's Supper will also be observed. There is a supervised nursery. Bernard S. Ramsey is minister of the First Christian Church and the public is cordially invited to all services. There will be no Sunday evening services at the church until the first Sunday in September.

It's Healthy to Owe A Bit

A wise man once said that it's actually "healthy" to owe a little—so long as it's only for a little while.

Yes, it is smart to buy on credit, but it's even smarter to pay your bills promptly.

Most people prefer to buy on credit. It's convenient and lets you take advantage of low sale prices "on the spot."

So keep your credit record spotless — by paying your bills promptly.

Postings —

 So get your subscriptions in, if you live within the county, so you'll start getting your Dispatch via Thursday mail delivery. The Dispatch, henceforth, will be delivered on all city and rural routes within the county on Thursday morning. This is bound to be a gain for everybody.

Besides all the new offset equipment (and remember getting a newspaper published is only about 10 per cent presswork and 90 per cent other preparations which are still done in Post), we have a new camera system too — and Editor Charlie is "tickled pink" with it, because it is going to brighten up his weekends considerably (no more darkrooms).

In the offset process, pictures are handled separately from pages in "make ready" for the press run. Pictures can be increased in size up to 200 or 300 per cent and reduced by the same proportion if desired.

So the first thing we did when we decided to switch to offset was to walk down to Wacker's and buy Editor Charlie a fancy new Polaroid camera with a focusing eye so he could get sharp, small pictures. We can blow them up into three or four column sizes and he doesn't have to bother to develop or print them.

One thing about this picture change though. We don't have any negatives with Polaroid shots, so we can't print up any pix copies for our readers. But Don Ammons, our backshop foreman, who laminates "on the side", will be glad to "seal in" a
