Forty-Sixth Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, June 14, 1973 Number 2

Emergency ambulance need develops as problem here

Firemen's aid to be sought told The Dispatch that an emergency ambulance unit would cost from $7,000 to $9,000, depending upon the amount and kind of equipment ordered with the vehicle.

According to Hudman, who attended Monday night's meeting, the funeral home has been averaging about three emergency ambulance calls a week for the year, but that the average in the summer time increases to four or five weekly because of increased outdoor activity which leads to more accidents of various kinds.

The Dispatch understands that all three units of local government are being most cooperative in seeking a workable solution. It appears if a plan can be devised which does not involve full-salaried employees just to be held for infrequent emergency ambulance runs that financing will be no real problem, but that everybody shies away from an expensive ambulance service, which would be a real drain on tax dollars.

While local units of government have been separately discussing the problem for the last month, Monday night's meeting was the first governmental get-together.

If the volunteer fire department isn't interested in undertaking such a project, with equipment to be provided, the next most feasible step appears to be to put the emergency ambulance service "up for bidding" to private firms to see what the lowest subsidy cost might be.

RAISES RANGE FROM 5 TO 6 PER CENT

County salaries upped first time in 8 years

County officials and employees, generally, are going to get their first pay boost in the last eight and one-half years July 1.

The Garza County Commissioners Court, after "wrestling" with the salary problem for the last six months, voted Monday to grant salary increases of from five to six per cent.

Thirty dollar a month boosts were voted for all elected county officials, including the county judge and members of the commissioners court, and courthouse employees who are on a monthly salary basis.

This includes T. H. Tipton, Gladys Tipton, Ruth Reno, Carl Cederholm, Elizabeth Duncan, Joy Franklin, Pauline Coleman, Preston Poole, Racy Robinson, J. A. Holleman, Dave Robinson, Giles Dalby, Ruby Williams, Gene Solis, Syd Conner, Dana Feaster, Paul Jones, Ted Aten, Ben Sanchez and Herbert Walls.

The court then voted the following increases for precinct workers: truck drivers to $1.80 an hour, operators to $2 an hour, and maintainer and dozer operators to $2.25 an hour.

Everybody in the courthouse received boosts but the law enforcement radio dispatchers who are jointly paid by city and county and received a salary increase in January.

In another major action Monday, the court voted to tax exempt all persons over the age 65 the first $2,000 on homesteads effective with the 1974 tax year.

A new state constitutional amendment would have permitted exemptions of up to $3,000 at the discretion of the local unit of government. The commissioner court's position is that the $2,000 exemption would fully benefit most of the older folks who are just living on social security at a loss to the county of approximately $7,000 in tax revenue.

The Post City Council granted the $3,000 tax exemption to those 65 and over a few months ago. The board of trustees of the Post Independent School District has tabled a proposal that it grant the tax exemption.

County Judge Giles W. Dalby told The Dispatch that an increase of $1,200,000 this year in county taxable property valuations, all basically from oil production boosts, will just about finance the county salary increases and the $2,000 homestead exemptions for those 65

WANTED AT SNYDER

Three burglary suspects nabbed by Post officers

Swift cooperation by local law enforcement officers early last Friday morning led to the arrest of three suspects and the recovery of $8,500 worth of suits and sports coats which had been stolen a short time earlier in the burglary of a downtown Snyder store.

The county sheriff's office here received a radio call from the Snyder police department at 6 a.m. to be "on the lookout" for a light-colored 1965 or 1966 Chevrolet containing two or three Negroes.

Within 15 minutes, City Patrolman Steve Otto and Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman stopped a car of this description a mile southeast of Post on US-84.

When the car's driver, Nance Ronald Henderson, 22, of Lubbock, told officers that he "didn't have a key to open the car's trunk", the officers took the car and trio to the sheriff's office.

When the trunk was opened, 58 men's suits and 11 new sport coats were found inside—the loot from the burglary of Rogers, Inc., on the west side of Snyder's downtown square.

Henderson's two companions were Geneva Hemphill, 30, and David Donnell Hooper, 18, also both of Lubbock.

Taken before County Judge Giles W. Dalby, the trio were apprised of their constitutional rights and bond was set at $1,500 each. The three then were taken to Snyder by Snyder police where new bonds of $5,000 each were set. The trio, unable to make bond, was lodged in the Scurry County jail.

The Snyder store was burglarized between 5 and 6 a.m. when someone broke out the front door glass to gain entry into the store.

A description of the suspects' car was given Snyder police by a Snyder citizen.

CofC membership now totals 151

Membership in the Post Chamber of Commerce has reached 151, according to the organization's current monthly bulletin. The membership includes 81 businesses, 69 individuals and one honorary member.

Listed as new members in the current bulletin are Pete Maddox, C. L. Mason, Arnold Sanderson, Slaton Savings & Loan, Bob Stice, R. L. Thomas, L. G. Thuet Jr. and Barbara Wright.

NINTH YEAR IN ROW

Close City winner in improvement contest

For the ninth consecutive year, the Close City community has placed in the Texas Community Improvement program, bringing its total winnings over that period to $725.

This year, the community was the first place winner in District 2 of the Extension Service and has received a check for $100 and a certificate, which will be framed and displayed at the Close City community center.

There were 115 communities in the state, representing approximately 50,000 families, in the 1972-73 contest. The communities are judged on improving family living, agricultural, community and health improvements, encouraging social participation, church work, clubs and youth organizations.

Close City is already in the contest again for the year of 1973-74. A community that has participated in the program for 10 consecutive years receives a silver platter and is recognized at Texas A&M University.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service jointly sponsors the program with the electric utility companies in Texas.

AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH

Native of Ireland to accept pastorate here

The Rev. Jim O'Connor, a native of Ireland who has been in this country just three years, is scheduled to arrive in Post this weekend as pastor of the Holy Cross Catholic Church.

Father O'Connor will succeed the Rev. Timothy Schwertner, who is going to Muleshoe as pastor of Immaculate Conception Church and will also pastor the church at Earth, in Lamb County.

Father O'Connor, now an assistant pastor at Lamesa, has also served as assistant pastor at St. Joseph's in Amarillo, Christ the King in Lubbock and Our Lady of Guadalupe in Amarillo.

Father Schwertner has been pastor of Holy Cross Church here for three years after five years in Plainview as associate pastor. While pastor of the church here, he was also pastor of Holy Family Church at Wilson, and Father O'Connor will serve that church, too, as well as the one in Post.

The new Holy Cross pastor probably will celebrate his first Mass at the church here Saturday, The Dispatch learned.

Under Father Schwertner's pastorate, Holy Cross Church, now located at 14th Street and Avenue F, recently purchased the Post Implement Company building at 205 West Main for a new church. The deal has been consummated, Father Schwertner said Friday, and work of converting the building into a church, classrooms and parish hall is scheduled to begin as soon as the implement company vacates the building.

At Muleshoe, Father Schwertner will replace the Rev. Edward O'Leary, who is retiring as pastor due to ill health.

Nine Scout troops open season at Camp Post

Nine Boy Scout troops from over the South Plains area are in camp at Camp Post here for the first session of summer camp.

Troop 316 of Post, whose scoutmaster is James Mitchell III, is one of the troops which reported Sunday for the first week of camping.

The 130 Scouts, leaders and staff members ate their first camp meal in the dining lodge Sunday evening after setting up camp in the afternoon. At the evening campfire, the scoutmasters and camp staff were introduced, and Camp Director Doug Palmer explained the camp program and welcomed the Scouts and their leaders.

The camp will serve an estimated 600 Boy Scouts through June 30. The troops at the camp this week will leave on Saturday, with other troops moving in Sunday.

Aquatics, Scoutcraft skills, rifle marksmanship, archery and an accelerated nature-ecology seminar are included in the camping program. There will also be campfire sessions, overnight hikes, and the Friday night Order of the Arrow Indian pageant.

All parents of the Scouts and residents of the area are invited to "come see Scouting in action," the camp director said.

Post item makes national magazine

An item clipped from The Post Dispatch and sent in by postal employe Johnny Kemp has made "The Armed Citizen" column of The American Rifleman magazine, which has a circulation of over one million copies.

The Post item appearing in the nationally circulated monthly magazine reads as follows:

"Sammy Maddox was managing his father's Post, Tex., service station when two armed men walked in and demanded money. Maddox grabbed a shotgun and leveled it at the two who turned and fled."

Tourist paper off the press

The 1973 "tourist edition" of The Post Dispatch came off the press last weekend for distribution free to motorists passing through Post this summer.

The small four-page paper, which annually features information about Post of interest to tourists, led with a story on the O. S. Ranch Benefit Steer Roping and Art Exhibit this fall with details of the successful 1972 promotion which raised $20,000 for West Texas Boys Ranch.

The "tourist edition" is supported by 26 local business firms who advertise in the edition to reach the tourist business. The "tourist edition" is given away at local restaurants, drive-ins, service stations, and other businesses.

Sixteen stories of interest to tourists are included in the edition.

Rev. Bob Ford is reappointed

The Rev. Robert D. (Bob) Ford has been reappointed to his fourth year as pastor of the First United Methodist Church here.

The pastoral appointments were announced last Thursday night by Bishop Alsie Carleton as the 44th annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference closed in Abilene. The Rev. Mr. Ford and Jack Lott attended the conference, the latter as lay delegate from the local church.

The Rev. Mr. Ford and family moved from Rotan to Post, where he replaced the Rev. O. Curtis Lee as pastor.

Other area reappointments of interest here were the Rev. Joseph Yeats, Graham Chapel, and the Rev. C. R. Hastings, Southland.

Rites held for Jack Kennedy

Funeral services for Jack Kennedy, 35, a retired employe of Burlington Industries' Postex Plant here, were held at 2 p.m. last Friday in Langdale, Ala., at the First Baptist Church, of which he was a member.

Kennedy, who retired as a Postex Plant employe about three months ago because of ill health, died Wednesday of last week in Lanier Memorial Hospital at Langdale.

He first moved to Post in 1955 and lived here since with the exception of about two years. He was employed in supervisory and departmental head positions while an employe of Postex Plant.

Kennedy was born July 18, 1918, in Tallahassee, Ala. He was a veteran of both World War II and the Korean conflict, and was a Mason.

Survivors include his wife, Maggie; a son, Harold Kennedy of Memphis, Tenn.; a daughter, Mrs. Sandra Watkins of Lanett. (See Rites, Page 12)

Crash brings indictment

A 72nd District Court grand jury in Lubbock returned an indictment Tuesday against Stanley Wayne Abshire, 21, of Post on a charge of murder by motor vehicle.

The charge was the result of an accident which resulted in the death of Lubbock County Deputy Sheriff Randy Holley, 24, of Shallowater.

Investigators reported that Abshire's automobile was in a head-on collision with a pickup driven by Holley two miles southeast of Lubbock on US-84 early on the morning of May 5. Holley was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital and Abshire was hospitalized with injuries.

Judgers place in 4-H event

The Garza County 4-H range and grass identification team won third place last week at the state 4-H Roundup in College Station, with a member of the team, Rusty Conner, finishing fourth in individual judging.

Other members of the Garza County grass judging team were Junior Stelzer, Phyllis Kennedy and John Johnson.

Stephens County won first in the contest and Cooke County, second last year, the Garza County team placed fourth in the contest.

The team was accompanied to the roundup by County Agent and Mrs. Syd Conner and Mr. and Mrs. Waggoner Johnson. The team's coach, J. R. Bell of the Soil Conservation Service here, was unable to attend the roundup because of a conflicting visit of state SCS officials.

Youth center work pays off

Thanks to a lot of work on the part of a city and county-appointed committee, it now appears that Post and Garza County are in good shape to get the long-awaited youth center ahead of the opening of the 1973-74 school term.

Three of the five committee members met with the City Council at its regular June session last week and were told by the council to come up with estimates on what it will cost to open the doors of the present Community Center as a combination meeting place that can be used for youth recreation as well as its present use for such big affairs as the Chamber of Commerce banquet, junior-senior class banquet, etc.

The cost, of course, of converting the building into a youth center will be the installation of such furnishings as pool and snooker tables, card tables, ping pong tables, chairs, and other seating facilities.

The city and county have already allocated some of their revenue sharing funds for conversion of the building into a combined community-youth center, and the $3,000 a year salary decided on for a paid director is not included in the estimates the committee has been asked to furnish. The salary allocation, in other words, is already "cut and dried." What is wanted now is an estimate on what it will cost to furnish the building for a youth center.

One of the committeemen told the council that the committee would have the estimates within ten days or, at the most, two weeks.

It might have sounded to some as if one of the committee members had dropped a bombshell when he said that as far as the present committee is concerned the place will be a youth center first and a community center second. Such was not the case, however, since, as one councilman pointed out, the big center has been used for meetings only about ten times a year since the city leased it from the First National Bank for that purpose.

Ten to twelve community meetings a year, including, perhaps, two elections in election years, will not interfere with the youngsters' use of the place as a recreation center. The only thing is that they will need to know well ahead of time that on those few occasions the building will not be available to them.

One committee member told the City Council that the youngsters were at first lukewarm when asked their reactions to a combined community-youth center in the building, but that as they have learned more about it and seemingly become convinced that an all-out effort is being made in their behalf, they are "warming" up to it — warming up even to the point of enthusiasm.

As also pointed out at the council meeting, the adults will have to get behind the project and stay behind it to make it work. And the fact that a well-supervised youth center can work in Post is evident from what members of the committee have learned by visiting other towns where they are being successfully operated — some of the towns a little larger than Post, some about the same size, and some smaller.

The Dispatch, along with a lot of others, will be greatly disappointed if a youth center is not in operation by the time school opens. And hard as the youth center committee is working, we will also be badly fooled if it doesn't come to pass. — CD

Boy Scout camping program

The South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, is fortunate to have two fine Scout camps. And since one of the camps is located in Post, we share the council's good fortune. The other council Scout camp is at Tres Ritos, N.M.

At summer camp, which opened here Sunday and is to open at Tres Ritos on July 8, a Scout learns to get along with his neighbors, accept responsibility and help fellow Scouts. He learns leadership by leading. He daily practices duty to God and country. Every Scout who attends summer camp receives excellent training to develop in him the strong wholesome character which Scouting stresses and which America is in need of today.

This year there are also programs for the first time in several years to give Cub Scouts a taste of camping. Camp Post is the spot for the program called "Cub Country." There are to be two more of these one-day Cub camping sessions here before the summer ends, the first having been held June 2 and drawing more than 250 Cub Scouts and leaders.

Also, the council's "Lad and Dad" day, a weekend of fun and activities for Cub Scouts and their dads, is to be held at Camp Post on June 23-24. This event was set up for father and son to enjoy the weekend together. They can participate in swimming, boating, archery, rifle marksmanship, camp fire, Indian dancing and nature study. There will also be a Cub Olympics.

Garza counties who help support the Boy Scout program through their United Fund contributions also help support the Boy Scout and Cub Scout camping programs, as well as all the other Scouting activities. And, since Scouting builds men, our contributions to the program are returned to us many times over.

The significance of our flag

Today, June 14, is Flag Day, and the most many of us can think to say about the flag on the day set aside for its observance is "Long may it wave!"

But, down through the years, many men have had many things to say about the flag. For instance, President Woodrow Wilson's eloquent address on Flag Day, June 14, 1917 is an effective reminder to all of the significance of Old Glory.

"We meet to celebrate Flag Day because this flag which we honor and under which we serve is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation. The choice is ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices whether in peace or war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us — speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us and of the records they wrote upon it. We celebrate the day of its birth, and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, of a great plan of life worked out by a great people. . . ."

Our contemporaries say . . .

ONE OF THIS column's readers reminded me the other day that it has been a long time since I've published a puzzle. The words were no sooner spoken, than I came across a dilly — the "Pink Roof Puzzle."

If it's okay with the publisher and the circulation manager, The Dispatch will give a one year's subscription to the first reader turning in a correct answer to the puzzle, or a one-year extension if he (or she) is already a subscriber.

Here's the puzzle; the correct answer and name of the winner will appear in next week's "Thursday to Thursday."

"Tom, Sam, Kate and Joe live in a row of houses with red, pink, blue and gray roofs. Sam's is blue. Tom has one neighbor and Joe has two. The red roof is two houses away from the blue. The gray roof is on the end of the block. Sam's only neighbor is a woman. Whose roof is pink?"

The man up the street says today's downfall comes trying to keep up with the upkeep.

I DON'T KNOW about you, but I was disappointed to read that there is a scientific explanation for the Dallas "blob." I suppose it comes from a background of science-fiction reading, but I'm always fascinated by the possibility of something being from outer space or another world.

I've never gone along with the U. S. Air Force in its contention that there are no such things as flying saucers or other UFO's. And I never believe it when some scientist is quoted as saying life doesn't exist anywhere except on this planet.

MY WIFE SOMETIMES acts as if she thinks I'm a little bit off my rocker about such things, but then she never was much of a science-fiction reader. I recall that when we were watching the telecast of the first men bouncing around on the moon, I said, "Wouldn't it shake people up down here on earth if some little people were to suddenly come into the picture with the astronauts?"

When I said that, my wife looked across the room at me — as she has done so many times before — but I didn't think it sounded so crazy. I've read of stranger things in such magazines as "Weird Tales" and "Astounding Stories," as well as in a number of science-fiction novels.

BESIDES, I'M not always complaining, as is my wife, about how much the moon missions have cost the taxpayers and what a waste of money it appears the Skylab project is going to be. While I read about such things, she sees them in a clearer light. Early the other morning, for instance, she let me sleep while she got up and closed the front door when it started raining, and as she looked out the door she saw an object in the sky that she says she just knows was the Skylab, because she was looking in the direction the paper said it would be at that time of morning.

And she almost blew her stack when she read where one of the Skylab men said if he'd had a crowbar he could have fixed something that was wrong up there on the space station. "Of all the tools they're bound to have taken with them, how come they to forget a crowbar?" she asked.

AS PRACTICAL AS my wife is, however, that Dallas "blob" or "thing" or whatever you call it, had her going my way for a while. After hearing about it for the first time on the 5:30 p.m. news the other day, she said she believed she'd take her hoe and go into the backyard to see if a "blob" had cropped up back there.

That "times have changed" is indicated by a "Tips for Baby Sitters" flyer now being distributed by police in a wealthy suburb of Washington, D.C. In addition to the old-time tips such as know each child's name and age, does he need special medicine; locate nearest outside exit from room in case of fire, etc. the pamphlet includes such additional advice as: Check all outside doors and lock them; do not let anyone in the house or open the door if you don't know the caller; in circumstances which arouse your suspicion, CALL THE POLICE (phone number); report suspicious circumstances to parents when you return home, etc.

IT'S A NEW, and sad, day when baby sitters have to be crime-watchers too.

O. S. Ranch benefit committee meets

The planning committee for the O. S. Ranch Steer Roping and Art Exhibit Sept. 29-30 met Sunday evening at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lott to complete selection of the area committee to help promote the event and to take assignments to contact $100 page sponsors for the catalog.

Tom Ryan, the cowboy artist now of Stamford who has headed the development of the art exhibit here, is doing a painting of a steer roping for the cover of the catalog, entitled "Sunday Afternoon." He showed a sketch of it to the committee at the meeting.

Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER

Do you know it's Happy... years in the library. We have prospered far beyond our wildest hopes and expectations. We've gained the support of the community, and we've built a library that is the marvel of library people from all over the state.

But will the next seven years swallow up the first? It could happen, you know. Our first seven years went so well because we had a wide base of support. Not the least of that support came from our volunteers. Now, with Mrs. Pierce as a paid librarian, we no longer employ that volunteer staff. Folks could overlook the library and its needs.

We've had support from the State Library supplementing our service with inter-library loan. Now state and federal funds are being cut back. It could mean that those services won't be available anymore.

When we operated with volunteer help, we could spend all—or virtually all—of our budgeted money on purchasing books. Now the time has come when we must pay our way locally. Money for books is curtailed.

The biggest danger of all may be our very success. We have done so well we may think that nothing can go wrong for us. We may be over-confident, cocky. Here we stand at the threshold of completing our library, and folks may think it is bound to succeed, because it always has in the past.

That could be the very thing that would trip us up.

Our work is not done, by any means. The money has not all been collected. The books aren't all bought, nor are the walls and shelves completed. The biggest push of all is just ahead of us, in the beginning of our eighth year.

We're going to need your help and support now, in a way perhaps we've never needed it so much before. We could be starting the seven lean years.

But we don't have to be afraid of them—if we've stored up enough interest, support and good will in the community to tide us over. We think we've seen enough proof that we have that good will—the next few months will put it to the test.

Candle making and decorating topics of hobby clubbers

Candle making and decorating with net was the program presented by Mrs. C. E. Short and Mrs. R. M. Stewart at a meeting of the Grassland Hobby Club June 5 in the community center in Grassland. Mrs. Short and Mrs. Stewart also served as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. B. W. Francis, president, and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. W. L. Gribble. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Gaither and a treasurer's report given.

Refreshments were served to 14 members.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Texas Bats .333... Egg Production Below Earlier Levels... Cattle and Calves Marketed Show Declines.

Of nine selected categories of vegetable production, Texas is first in three of them, giving the state a .333 batting average. Texas is first in the nation in production of cabbage, spinach, and watermelons for the year 1972, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

In production of fresh market vegetables, Texas is third in the nation outranked by California and Florida. In total vegetable production, Texas is in fourth place; California, Wisconsin and Florida are ahead of the state in that category.

Watermelon production in Texas last year totaled 70,000 acres; spinach production totaled 5,500; and cabbage production totaled 19,000 acres.

On a county basis, Hidalgo County is Texas' leading vegetable producer with a total of 60,000 acres. Other counties in the top 10 in total vegetable production are Frio, Zavala, Cameron, Deaf Smith, Starr, Castro, La Salle, Willacy, and Duval.

Hidalgo County is the state's leader in production of cabbage, cantaloupes, carrots, onions. Frio County is the state's leader in production of watermelons.

Other rankings of the state show the importance of Texas to vegetable production for the nation.

Texas is second in cantaloupe production, second in carrot production, fourth in green peppers, second in onions.

Total vegetable acreage in Texas during 1972 amounted to 213,100 acres. Complete details on the vegetable industry in the state are included in the 1972 Texas Vegetable Statistics. A copy may be obtained by writing the Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

SALES of cattle, calves, sheep, goats and hogs showed moderate declines in Texas.

Cattle and calves marketed through auctions numbered 427,000 head, 33 per cent below a month ago.

Sheep sales at 79,000 head were 38 per cent below a year ago. Goat sales at 30,000 were 25 per cent below a year ago.

Hogs sold at 34,000 head were 32 per cent below a year and a month ago.

FUEL shortages are being reported from various parts of Texas by agriculture producers. Farmers who run short of fuel are requested to report it to the Texas Department of Agriculture or to their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

Agricultural industries have first priority in the use of fuel, according to federal guidelines on a voluntary compliance basis. More stringent regulations are to be enforced if necessary.

Potluck by Rosemary Chapman

This seems as good a time as any to update everyone on the R. Chapman vs. Columbia Record Club of America dispute. I think I'm losing. World I'm totally confused.

Written in longhand across the bottom of the page was the following notation: "Above is a copy of a letter that will be mailed as indicated. You have 10 days to settle your account. B.J."

To review the case for those who missed the May 10 "Potluck" column, the feud began in December when Columbia sent me a duplicate order of records. The records were returned with a polite letter, neither of which was acknowledged, although they were received because they were sent by registered mail and signed for. Instead, a stream of letters came demanding payment.

Once again I dusted off my war bonnet and penned the following: Dear Mr. James: Re your letter May 24 of which a photostatic copy is enclosed. You've got to be kidding! No response? I have sent back duplicate records which you sent me, I have written a long letter concerning the whole affair, and I have attempted to call you in person 15 times.

At the time that I wrote the column I had ultimately received a letter from Mr. James, collection director for Columbia, who notified me that he was turning my account over to a collection agency. My attempts to contact Mr. James by telephone were thwarted by a zealous secretary.

On May 11 I received a letter telling me I don't owe anything (which I already know); on May 24 I receive another telling me all about Mr. Martin at Collections, Incorporated. Doesn't your right computer know what your left computer is doing?

Now, on to newer and more depressing developments! After I wrote the column I intended to send a copy to Columbia to show them what bad publicity they were getting. (It's easy for the big guys to step on the little guys but they don't like it when you make a big stink.) However, two days after The Dispatch came out, I received another letter from Columbia, a very pleasant one indeed. It stated that "In response to your inquiry" their records showed that my balance was .00.

Let me make my position clear. A I do not owe you money. B I do not intend to pay you money that I do not owe you. C I am tired of being polite about a mistake that was yours in the first place and I'm ready to fight. If I get one more letter from you other than one of explanation or apology I will find myself a lawyer and I will sue you and your record club.

What a relief! I could drop all battle plans and forget the whole thing. I even felt a twinge of conscience over writing the nasty column.

With the letter I enclosed photostatic copies of the latest James letter and of the letter from Columbia dated two weeks before saying that my balance was clear. I also included a copy of the nasty "Potluck" column. Copies of my letters, his letters, their letters, etc., were also sent to the president of Columbia. Everything was mailed registered air mail.

No more. A schizophrenic company if ever I've seen one! They were just setting me up. On May 24, I received yet another letter from my old adversary, Bill James, collection director.

What happens next? Will I really have to sue to get satisfaction? I have the feeling that somehow, somewhere, these guys are going to get me. I can imagine the whole scene ten years from now. Every other week Columbia sends the fellow with the siren to sit in front of my house. During the off weeks they're busy telegraphing apologies and telling me that my balance is .00. All the neighbors have moved out. They're on my side but they can't stand the noise.

Rosemary Chapman 1015 Crest Dr. Account: 2001-6424-085 Collections, Incorporated Allendale, New Jersey Dear Mr. Martin: We have reached a point where it's become necessary for us to turn over the above account to you for collection. Several letters have been sent and we just can't seem to get a response. However, before you consider any further action, let's give them one more opportunity to send in a payment.

Justice, where are you? Are these people human?

If you don't hear from me at the end of 10 days, you will know the account hasn't been settled. You then have a free hand to take whatever steps are necessary to enforce collection.

Two enroll in WTSU program

CANYON—Maude E. Cade and Consuela Flores, 1973 graduates of Post High School, have enrolled for the June 12 session of West Texas State University's new freshman summer enrollment program.

Three dates—June 12, July 6 and July 31—were set aside for orientation, advisement and early registration of freshman students already accepted for admittance to WTSU next fall.

Registrar Donald Cates said, "This program will help the student make the transition from high school to college while at the same time help the parent understand more about that transition."

3 Post students on honor roll at Western Texas

SNYDER—Three Post students have recently been listed on the Honor Roll at Western Texas College in Snyder. Full-time students who attain a grade point average of 3.5 on a 4.0 scale are eligible for honors.

Topping the list is Johnny Wallace, freshman Electro-mechanical Technology major, who attained a perfect 4.0 grade point average. Wallace is the son of Harley Wallace, Route 3, Post, and is vice-president of Phi Theta Kappa (National Junior College Honor Fraternity) at WTC.

Also named to the Honor Roll was William Roland Davis, who attained a grade point average of 3.80. Davis was also recently named as the outstanding student in Geography at the Annual Awards Day ceremony.

Pam Petty, listed on the Honor Roll for three consecutive semesters, attained a grade point average of 3.71 for the spring semester. Miss Petty has also garnered many campus social honors during her attendance at WTC, including cheerleader, golf sweetheart, tennis sweetheart, and Miss WTC for 1972-73. She is a recent Associate in Arts graduate of WTC. Miss Petty, daughter of Mrs. Patsy Ward of 805 East Fifth, will complete her college education at the University of Oklahoma.

The purpose of the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973, passed by the Senate 78 to 9 on June 8, as stated by the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry from whence it came, is "to assure the production of adequate supplies at reasonable prices to consumers by insuring producers against losses if their expanded production results in prices below the target prices."

It is hard to find fault with this objective, says Executive Vice President Donald Johnson of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "but unless some changes can be made in the law before enactment it has little or no chance for achieving such a goal."

"The bill as it came from Committee had some very objectionable features," Johnson continued, "and these are still intact along with the further complication of a $20,000 payment limitation adopted on the Senate floor."

On a vote of 45 to 37 the Senate voted to reduce the limit on farm program payments from the current $55,000 per farmer per crop, in effect since 1970, to $20,000 per farmer on all crops produced.

"The key to the bill's chances for accomplishing its goals is in insuring producers against losses," Johnson believes, "because if this isn't done consumers can in no way be assured of adequate supplies at reasonable prices."

The bill, S-1888, sets a target price of 43 cents per pound for cotton and provides that producers should receive a payment equal to the difference between this figure and the average spot market quotations for SLM 1-1-16 inch cotton with 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire during the first five months of the marketing year, August through December.

"This method of determining the per-pound payment rate, alone, is enough to inhibit the production of adequate cotton supplies," Johnson thinks. "Since spot market quotations do not accurately reflect prices paid to farmers for cotton, and since the price for SLM 1-1-16 inch cotton may or may not parallel prices for other cotton qualities, the formula doesn't insure producers against anything."

It is Johnson's contention that if this target-price system is to be used at all payments should be based on the difference between the target price and the prices actually paid to farmers for an average of the entire U. S. crop. "Otherwise the chances for assuring production without producer losses are greatly reduced and some producers will benefit while others suffer."

The lower payment limitation simply means that whatever payment rate is decided upon would be made on only a portion of the production from larger operations. A farmer entitled to 10 cents per pound on 5 million pounds of production could receive 10 cents per pound on 5 million pounds of production could receive 10 cents per pound on only 200,000 pounds or less than half his total production. "In all likelihood this would bring his total return from cotton production to some point well below his cost of production," Johnson said, "and even the amount of this payment would be dependent on the producer's not having received payments on any other program crop."

The hope at PCG is that some of these inequities can be corrected in the House version of a farm bill, on which the House Agriculture Committee is already at work. "And in all honesty I'd have to say our chances for relief on the payment limitation issue in the House as of the moment don't look too bright," Johnson concluded.

FIRST ROAD GRANT

The first federal grant-in-aid to states for roads in the United States was the Federal Aid Road Act, passed on July 11, 1916. The first project was in Contra Costa County, Calif. A sum of $5 million was appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917.

Phone company wins honors for safe driving

SAN ANGELO—General Telephone Company of the Southwest has won national honors for outstanding safe driver performance during 1972 in the 42nd National Fleet Safety Contest conducted by the National Safety Council.

Owen N. Rabourn, vice president-personnel, said the company has received the certificate of achievement award. General Telephone drivers in four states operated 28,832,479 miles with an accident frequency rate of 4.40 accidents per one million miles of operation.

Rabourn said General drivers averaged one accident per 227,027 miles driven. General has 2,435 vehicles in service.

William L. Frigon, chairman of the National Fleet Safety Contest Committee, said over 2,500 fleets consisting of more than 300,000 vehicles, traveled more than six billion-seven hundred million miles during the contest year. The combined average frequency rate of 12.20 accidents per million miles represented a decrease over the previous contest year.

Lyntegar gets $609,000 loan

Lyntegar Electric Cooperative Inc., Lyntegar, will serve Garza and nine other counties has been approved for a $609,000 loan by the Rural Electrification Administration for financing 80 per cent of the costs of 107 miles of distribution line and other improvements. Cong. Omar Burleson's office has announced.

The new lines will service 374 rural consumers over the 10-county area served by Lyntegar.

The cooperative plans to obtain about $150,000 of the costs of the lines and improvements from the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corporation.

JUST SUPPOSE

By Bob Ford

JUST SUPPOSE the Lord should begin to make people as sick as they say they are on Sunday.

JUST SUPPOSE the Lord should take away the child whom the parents use as an excuse for staying way from church.

JUST SUPPOSE the Lord should make some people as poor as they say they are when asked to finance His program.

JUST SUPPOSE the Lord should strike dead all who lie about giving and paying their tithe, as He did with Ananias and Sapphira.

JUST SUPPOSE the Lord should let parents look into the future and see what example and lax control did for their child.

JUST SUPPOSE . . . Or, let us SUPPOSE all Christians should really consistently, and prove by their lives that really love the Lord.

Yes, JUST SUPPOSE, and then by the of the Lord, go forth and live and serve eternally were coming right soon!

STATE Capital NEWS

AUSTIN — While the 1973 Legislature managed to avoid a tax bill, outlook for 1975 is "bleak," with new revenue needs ranging up to $700 million, according to Texas Research League.

Li. Gov. Bill Hobby earlier came up with a similar gloomy estimate of a $533 million tax boost during the next regular legislative session, but Gov. Dolph Briscoe declined to agree.

According to Texas Research League, state spending from key funds is expected to increase by $530 million in 1976-77, and the increase could run as high as $850 million to $1 billion.

Revenues, meanwhile, are due to rise $500 million to $625 million over the present biennium.

However, TRL cautions these factors must also be considered:

—Federal revenue sharing funds (which accounted for $316 million of 1974-75 income) will drop by at least $100 million, because Texas received a three-year allocation to spend in a two-year period for the current budget.

—An estimated $156 million surplus at the beginning of the next biennium will decrease from $75 million-to-$100 million depending on bills signed by Governor Briscoe.

—With the highest projected spending increase ($1.050 billion), the 1975 Legislature apparently would find itself faced with the need to find $600-$700 million in additional biennial revenues," said a new TRL report. "Even (an $850 million spending hike), means projecting a biennial revenue need of $400-$500 million."

If the next legislature decides to overhaul school finance formulas, a biennial cost increase of perhaps another $300 million can be anticipated, TRL concluded.

Briscoe, at the national governors conference in Nevada, refused to be pessimistic and promised budgeting innovations and other economy moves which he calls can check a tax boost.

DIM VIEW OF CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE — County officials are getting together to fight any constitutional change which would drastically alter county government, according to Judge Robert W. Calvert, chairman of the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission.

Following hearings in Corpus Christi, Calvert said he sees "an incipient opposition to any suggested changes in county government."

He cited three letters from county officials expressing a dim view toward tampering with their jobs. Calvert said the Commission is committed to no course on the subject.

The 37-member body is concluding its hearings over the state and will make recommendations to the legislature next November. Lawmakers will sit as a constitutional convention next year. Calvert urged legislators to attend the hearings in eight cities this month. Committees will begin drafts on conclusion of the public discussions.

The remainder of the constitutional hearings are set as follows: Friday, June 15, Beaumont, Orange and Port Arthur; Thursday, June 21, Abilene; Friday, June 22, Wichita Falls; Thursday, June 28, Waco; and Friday, June 29, Austin.

CLAYTON JOINS SPEAKER'S TSURU — Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, 44, veteran of a decade of service in the House of Representatives, made his candidacy for speaker official last week. Clayton is a conservative Democrat.

Other candidates include Reps. Fred Head of Troup, James Nugent of Kerrville, Carl Parker of Port Arthur and Dave Finney of Fort Worth. Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi is also regarded as another strong possibility.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Briscoe designated Ronald Thomason of Weatherford as Texas State Artist for 1973-74. A. C. Gentry Jr. of Tyler was selected alternate state artist and Bette Lou Voorhis of Austin as alternate for 1974-75.

Dickens County subject of Weldon Hart article

The current newsletter of the Texas Highway Department has an article on Garza County's neighbor, Dickens County, and a picture of the Dickens County courthouse, which dates back to 1895.

The article, titled, "Dickens County: Center of Cow and Marlboro Country," was written by Weldon Hart. It reads as follows:

The last time Texas wrote a constitution (1876), it created 54 new counties. Among them were half-a-dozen grassy neighbors then overrun with buffalo, closely followed by disagreeable horse Indians. By 1890, though, cattlemen had about cleared the countryside of such intruders and were ready to get on with the steak-and-rawhide business.

The counties of Dickens, King, Motley, Cottle and Kent were good cattle country then, and still are. There's where you'll find some of the last massive cattle kingdoms—Pitchfork, Spur, Matador, Four Sixes, or what's left of them after breakups. These counties were organized in 1891 and '92.

The area was broken and rolling; protected on the northwest by the Caprock, sodded with buffalo grass, blue grama and other sustaining fodder; and, best of all, underneath, Ogallala Formation aquifers storing the best water in West Texas.

Early free-range seekers didn't know that much about hydraulics but they knew good grass when they saw it. In 1878 two Texas cattlemen bought herds from Jinglebob John Chism on the Pecos River in New Mexico, turned the cattle over to Frank Collinson with orders to drive them "to the best open range you can find." The young Englishman stopped in future Dickens County. In "Life in the Saddle," over 50 years later, Collinson still remembered what became Spur country under the Caprock:

"This virgin range was all open country, and I have never seen its equal. Water was good; grass and wood were plentiful. There were deer in every thicket and antelope on every flat."

The Spur Ranch, once over a half-million acres owned and leased, is best remembered as the property of a London syndicate, the Espuela Land and Cattle Co., Ltd., around the turn of the century. In its heyday it spread over four counties. Headquarters were near the town of Spur, in Dickens County. (Dickens was named for an Alamo martyr.)

Dickens town was the original and only county seat. By 1893 it had a courthouse, a hotel, two stores and a wagonyard. Population in 1870 was 295; the county had 3,737. Highways US 82 and State 70 cross at Dickens.

The picturesque Dickens-King area is "Marlboro Country." Many spectacular cigaret-ad shots were made on the Four Sixes and Pitchfork ranches with real cowboys—often the wagon boss Carl (Bigun) Bradley. Early in May 1973 Bigun Bradley was breaking a young horse: both wound up in a stock tank and were drowned.

Permits needed by sign owners

AUSTIN—Owners of signs along Interstate and federal-aid primary highways face a June 30 deadline to apply for a permit and a license for them.

The Texas Highway Beautification Act, in effect since June of 1972, requires owners of signs which are within 660 feet of Interstate or federal-aid primary highways and are visible from main traffic lanes to file permit requests with the district offices of the Texas Highway Department. The permits cost $5 each.

Before permits can be approved, sign owners must obtain a $25 state license and post $2,500 bond for each county in which they have a sign. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required of owners with signs in more than three counties.

Both license and bond applications can be obtained from Right of Way Division, Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5075, Austin, 78763, or any Highway Department district office.

First Christian to mark Father's Day

Highlighting the observance of Father's Day, the sermon subject at the 11 a.m. worship at the First Christian Church Sunday will be, "PUSH, Dad, to Some Purpose!" The Lord's Supper will also be observed.

There is a supervised nursery at the morning service. There will be no evening services at the church, according to Bernard S. Ramsey, minister.

The official board of the church is to meet Wednesday evening, June 20.

Braves continue domination in Babe Ruth League play

The Indians' Duren gave up just three hits, and Strawn allowed but four. Duren held the White Sox hitless until Rodney King's single in the fourth inning. The only other hits he gave up were a couple to Jimmy Dorland, including a two-bagger.

Roger Mullenix got two of the winners' four hits off Strawn, with one each going to Ricky Sanchez and Kevin Kenny, the latter getting a double.

Duren struck out nine batters, gave up three walks and hit one batsman, while Strawn struck out 10 and walked six.

In the Braves' 14-9 win over the Cubs, Bryan Davis was the winning pitcher, and Mike Waldrip, who had relieved Ray Martinez, was the loser.

Catcher Garland Dudley did most of the damage for the winners, getting four hits in four trips, including a two-run homer, and batting in four runs. Bryan Davis, with two doubles, drove in two runs for the Braves.

Cain Abraham got two of the losers' six hits, batting in two runs.

Post enters team in new BR league

Red Sox and Dodgers win

Post has entered a club in the four-team South Plains Senior Babe Ruth League, for 16-18 year old boys, and will play their first game at 7 o'clock tonight (Thursday) against Lamesa in Tahoka.

A. J. Howell of Post is president of the new league, which includes Post, Lamesa, Tahoka and Brownfield. Bill Holly is manager of the Post team and Kim Owen is coach.

The first part of the schedule will be played with all four league teams playing a doubleheader in each league city on a rotating basis, Howell said.

All four teams will be in Post for a doubleheader Monday night, June 18, and again on Monday night, June 25. The June 18 schedule here will have Post playing Brownfield at 7 o'clock and Lamesa going against Tahoka at 9. On June 25, Tahoka and Brownfield will open the action at 7 o'clock, with Lamesa and Post playing at 9.

At the end of the season, a league all-star team will be selected to go direct to the state tournament to be held in Olton.

Dates are set for Babe Ruth tourneys

The Babe Ruth League 13-15 year old tournament dates have been set.

The 15-year-old tournament is to be held in Tahoka on July 9-13. The district all-star tournament is to be held at Lamesa on July 16-21, with the tournament champion advancing to the West Texas Tournament at Graham.

Post will be the site of the district tournament next year.

Braves keep streak going

Both Babe Ruth League games were one-sided affairs last Thursday night, with the undefeated Braves beating the White Sox, 18 to 2, in the second game after the Indians had trounced Southland, 12 to 2, in the opener.

The Brave-White Sox game was called after four and one-half innings because of the 10-run lead rule. The Braves had scored 11 of their runs in the second inning, while both White Sox tallies came in the fifth.

Garland Dudley held the losers to four hits in pitching the win for the league leaders. Jimmy Dorland's double and triple accounted for two of the White Sox hits, while losing pitcher Rodney King and Jay Strawn split the other two hits between them.

The Braves got only six hits off King and Mike Hair, who relieved him in the second inning. Dudley got two of the winners' hits, driving in two runs, while Bryan Davis also batted in two runs with a double.

First baseman Danny Saldivar hit the first Babe Ruth League home run of the season in the Indians' 12 to 2 win over Southland. Saldivar's solo circuit smash came in the fourth inning after he had banged out a triple in the first.

Ricky Sanchez allowed Southland but three hits in the four and one-half inning game, shortened because of the 10-run lead rule. First baseman Frankie Tuttle got two of the Southland hits, with losing pitcher Kendon Wheeler getting the other.

In addition to Saldivar's two hits, Danny Garza also got two for the winners.

Cards outrunning field in Little League race

The Cardinals increased their Little League lead with an 8-3 win over the Red Sox, and the Tigers took care of the Wildcats, also 8 to 3, in Tuesday night's games.

Pitcher Brent Terry allowed only four hits in the Cardinal win over the Red Sox, while losing pitcher Scott Walker gave up nine. Terry helped his own cause with two hits in four at-bats and Tommy Reed also got two hits.

Terry Holloway got two of the losers' four hits, with Larry Rodriguez and Larry Dodson splitting the other two.

Raymie Holly was the winning pitcher in the Tigers' win over the Wildcats, while Ronnie Greathouse got the loss. Holly and David Quinonez, who shared the mound duties, yielded but four hits, two of them doubles by Owen Gilbert and Terry Odom.

The Tigers raked Greathouse for 13 hits, including a home run by Tommy Lockhart, who went three-for-four at the plate. Raymie Holly got three hits in three at bats, and Kirk Stephens went two-for-four.

In Monday night's single game, the Tigers whipped the Dodgers, 7 to 5, with David Foster the winning pitcher and Charlie Hall the loser.

Losing pitcher Hall got two of the Dodgers' seven hits off Foster and starting pitcher Tommy Lockhart. The Tigers rapped out 10 hits, with Lockhart hitting a solo homer, and Raymond Gonzales enjoying a perfect night at bat with four hits in as many trips.

Danny Gunn pitched a two-hitter, giving up singles only to Raymond Gonzales and Tommy Lockhart, in hurling the Cardinals to a 12-0 win over the Tigers Saturday night in a game called complete after five innings.

The Cards collected 10 hits off losing pitcher Raymie Holly and Tommy Lockhart, who relieved him in the fourth. Catcher Dale Redman had a perfect night at the plate, hitting two doubles and a single. Tommy Reed got two hits in four at-bats, including a double, and Barry Tyler also hit a two-bagger for the winners.

In the night's first game, the Red Sox swarmed over the Dodgers, 20 to 7, with Jeff Williams the winning pitcher and Mike Gonzales the loser.

The Red Sox got 18 hits, including a home run by first baseman Jimmy Odom, who banged out three hits and scored four runs in three official trips to the plate. Terry Holloway also got three hits, including two doubles, and Jeff Williams went three-for-four, including a double.

Of the Dodgers' seven hits, David Hawkins and Mike Gonzales got two apiece, both of Gonzales' raps going for doubles.

Friday night, the Wildcats edged the Tigers, 5 to 4, with Terry Odom going the distance to receive credit for the win. David Quinonez, who also went the route, was charged with the loss. Each pitcher allowed eight hits.

Raymie Holly had a perfect night at bat for the Tigers with a double and two singles. Ronnie Greathouse, with two hits in three trips, led the Wildcat hitters.

Also Friday night, the Cardinals trounced the Yankees, 14 to 3, with Dale Redman on the mound and Tommy Reed blasting a home run to help the winners' cause. Of the Cards' 13 hits off two Yankee pitchers, Kelly Baumann got four in five at-bats, and Brent Terry, Redman, Reed and Byron Taylor got two each.

James Bilberry, the Yanks' starting pitcher, was charged with the loss, getting relief from Bryan Compton in the fourth frame. The losers could manage only six hits off Redman, with catcher Mike Macy and third baseman Ken Bell getting two each.

the child to maintain and expand sensitivity, creativity and environment awareness, parents can provide helpful experiences. Best experiences for the preschooler are those most common and familiar—those practiced and reinforced every day.

The simpler and more direct the experience, the better. The sense-of-smell experiences are examples of this.

Things to smell are always available—what does the grass smell like when it's just been cut? Do an onion and potato smell alike? Can you tell what food you're eating by its odor? How does the house smell when mother cooks dinner?

As the child gets the opportunity to identify and explain each question, he's more aware of senses often taken for granted, and he's encouraged to talk about them

Encouragement, explanation, patience and awareness from adults can make already-existing experiences more worthwhile and meaningful to the child—perhaps both will learn something of sensitivity as they become aware of the environment together.

Garza riders compete in 73 opener

Five Garza County 4-H Horse Club members made their first 4-H Playday of the year Saturday when they participated in the Terry County 4-H Playday at Brownfield.

Approximately 125 other 4-Hers took part in the horse show with Cochran County winning the high point county trophy with 102 points. Dawson County was second with 70 and Lubbock County scored 50 points for third. High point individuals were named in each of the four age groups. Trophies and ribbons were awarded through 10 places in the performance classes and trophies through third in halter.

The five from Garza County, three from the Graham 4-H Horse Club and two from the Pleasant Valley 4-H Horse Club, scored a total of 30 points. Their placings were as follows:

Martha Jo Walls WTSU graduate

Martha Jo Walls, a Post High School graduate, was among those graduating from West Texas State University in the recent commencement program there. Miss Walls majored in physical education with a minor in English.

Attending the graduation from Post were Martha Jo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walls, her brother, Davek; her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Fry; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Walls, and aunt, Mrs. Geneva Belongia.

John Bill Hedrick, third in reining, sixth in western pleasure, and eighth in halter and flag race.

Steve White, fifth in halter, and ninth in barrel race and reining.

Melanie King, fourth in barrels and flags, and fifth in halter, reining and pole bending.

Joy Jean Basinger, first in pole bending, third in halter and seventh in flag race.

Sue Bevers, second in halter and ninth in western pleasure.

4-H Horse Club begins practice

Members of the Graham 4-H Horse Club have begun their regular weekly practice sessions on Tuesday afternoons at 5:30 at the Macy Ranch arena.

Anyone interested in joining the horse club is asked to phone the J. L. Hedricks at 495-2363 or the Noel Whites at 327-5344. Also, they may come out to the practice sessions and watch the 4-Hers work with their horses.

Following Tuesday evening's workout, the group met in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick for an ice cream supper and get-acquainted party for the new members and their families.

Members attending were: Andy Williams, Dennis McDonald, Jana Lou Middleton, Glenna Bevers, Jana Terry, Cary and Russell Cowdrey, Dede Davidson, Jan Hall, Melanie King, Jarita Norman, Sharia Macy, John Bill Hedrick and Steve White.

? Your Name ?

WHAT'S IN IT?
By CHARLES DIDWAY

COLEMAN
Of the thousands of Colemans who have lived in America since early colonial days, many have been outstanding. To select two at random, there were Clyde Jay Coleman of New York City who in 1903 was issued the first patent for an automobile self-starter, and Leighton Coleman, an Episcopal bishop, who was nicknamed "Santa Claus" by the children of Wilmington, Del., where he died in 1907. He was a genial old gentleman with a long white beard, and was very friendly both to children and to grown people.

Probably the first of the name Coleman to become an American was William Coleman who at the age of 16 years arrived in Virginia on a wooden sailing ship from the town of Gravesend in England.

The name originated in Ireland and was derived from the Irish word "colm," which meant "dove." The proper spelling of the name in Ireland is Colman, but in many instances it has been anglicized to Coleman. In England, where the name developed at a later date than in Ireland, Coleman stemmed from the occupation of charcoal burner. The Coleman name appears as early as 1086 in English records. Charles Coleman was composer of music to King Charles I of England in the early part of the 17th century, and later to King Charles II.

The mineral "Colemanite" gets its name from William Tell Coleman who first discovered it in Death Valley in 1882. This Coleman, who was born in Kentucky in 1824, is also credited with the first manufacture of borax.

Numerically, Coleman ranks high among surnames in the United States, there being an estimated 195,000 who own the name. There are a number of towns named Coleman, but the only Coleman County is in Texas. It was named for Sam Houston's aide, R. M. Coleman.

(If you would like to know the origin and meaning and other facts about your family name, write Charles Didway at -902 West 11th St., Post. He will research your name for a modest fee.)

Shower honors Miss Compton

Miss Carol Compton bride-elect of Charles Justus Lane Jr., was honored recently with a bridal luncheon in the Lubbock Club in Lubbock.

The honoree's chosen colors of yellow and white were carried out in the decorations. The table, covered with a gold cloth, was centered with an arrangement of yellow daisies.

Special guests were Mrs. Jess Compton, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Charles Lane Sr., mother of the prospective bridegroom, and Mrs. Arthur Leistikow, grandmother of the bride-elect. Other guests included members of the wedding party.

Hostesses were Mrs. Giles C. McCrary and Mrs. Powell Shyltes.

STRICTLY AMERICAN
The meaning of mugwump stems from an American Algonquian Indian word meaning "great man."

Choir under way with fund-raising projects

The Post High School choir, which recently elected officers for the 1973-74 school year, will sponsor fund-raising projects throughout the summer to raise money to finance a trip to the annual Tri-State Music Festival at Enid, Okla., next spring, according to Georgie M. Wilson, choir director.

At the present, the choir students are operating a snow cone stand at the corner of 4th and Broadway from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m. each day. The Post Jaycees loaned the choir their trailer for use as a snow cone stand.

Saturday, June 16, the choir will hold a Father's Day bake sale at Bob Collier Drug, Piggy Wiggly and United Super Market. Other projects will include booths at the Fourth of July celebration and a fireworks stand on the Lubbock highway.

The newly-elected choir officers are: Sue Cowdrey, president; Joe Hays, vice president; Nancy Reno, secretary-treasurer, and Carol Davis, reporter.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Upped Check

Martin bought a secondhand motorcycle from a friendly stranger, giving him a check for "eight hundred dollars." But when he got the check back from the bank at the end of the month, it had been upped to "thirty eight hundred dollars."

Martin decided that the bank had no right to take the extra $3,000 out of his account.

"It's not my fault the fellow was crooked," he argued in a court hearing. "Let the bank try to collect the difference from him."

But the bank pointed out that Martin had made three careless mistakes in writing the check:

1) he had failed to fill in the payee's name;

2) he had failed to fill in the numbers after the dollar sign; and

3) he had left more than an inch of open space in front of the word "eight"—plenty of room for inserting the word "thirty."

The court concluded that Martin, by his negligence, had invited the tampering—hence, would have to bear the loss himself.

Of course, as a general rule, a bank has no right to pay any more money out of your account than you have authorized. The bank, after all, has the best opportunity to detect fraud by examining a check before cashing it.

But the law will usually shift the loss to you if, by your carelessness, you have made the check easy to alter.

Furthermore, you have a duty to go over your cancelled checks within a reasonable time after they are returned, and to alert the bank if something is amiss.

For example, a man whose signature had been forged on a check had to absorb the loss himself because he neglected, for almost six months, to let the bank know what had happened.

A court said that by his procrastination, he had deprived the bank of a fair chance to track down the villain.

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple: pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly—never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm results in a better record.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit Bureau. Payments in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come—perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

It another action Monday, the court approved the following budgeted expenditure of $39,403 in federal revenue sharing funds received for the first six months of 1973:

$5,000 to each of the four county road precincts for road repairs and equipment in No. 1, 2 and 4, and for equipment in No. 3; $1,570.10 to the treasurer's commission for financial administration; $4,000 to the sheriff's department for equipment; $4,000 for fire protection; $5,000 to the sheriff's department for public safety; and $4,832.90 for courthouse refurbishing and furniture.

Mrs. Mary Joe Tanner was appointed by the court as office deputy and head dispatcher of the sheriff's department at the request of Sheriff J. A. Holleman.

Three members of the new city-county youth center board, Syd Wyatt, Mrs. Patsy McCowan and Arnold Sanderson, met with the court to review some of the board's plans for a youth center. The court then appointed Sanderson, Wayne Carpenter and John Ward as the county's representatives to the Youth Center Board.

Large parade is being predicted

The annual Post Stampede Rodeo isn't until Aug. 9-11, but already the opening day parade is shaping up as one of the biggest in the history of the local rodeo.

Good response is reported from sheriff's posses and other riding groups invited to ride in the parade. Smith Ford of Slaton has invited "Miss Ford Country" to ride in the parade and grand entry, and the District IV queen of the American Association of Sheriff's Posses and Riding Clubs also will be here for the event.

Prizes of $100, $50, and $25 for the best floats in the parade are being offered by the Post Chamber of Commerce and Post Stampede Rodeo, Inc.

GED program is reopened here

Anyone interested in enrolling in the General Educational Development program is requested to contact Lane Tannehill at Post High School by telephoning 2770.

Tannehill said today they were "well pleased" with the results of the furniture renovation and adult typing classes recently completed here. They were co-sponsored by the Texas State Technological Institute at Amarillo and the Garza County Community Action Committee.

The furniture renovation class, taught by Ben Owen, had an average attendance of 12.1, and the adult typing class, taught by Mrs. Cora Fleming, an average attendance of 17.2. They were eight-weeks classes.

MATELESS FIGURES
At the turn of this decade, 10 of every 100 married men and 30 of every 100 married women were left without mates due to death, divorce or separation, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University.
