Kindergarten sign up to start next week

All parents who plan to send their five-year-olds to the new half-day kindergarten here this fall are asked to enroll their youngsters next week in Principal Jack Alexander's office. Supt. Bill Shiver told The Dispatch this week that Post kindergarten plans will not be worked out until the size of the new kindergarten class is determined by this early enrollment. He estimates a maximum of 70 to 80 with a minimum of 35 to 40. New kindergarten regulations which have been sent out by the Texas Educational Agency call for half-day sessions, except for the disadvantaged youngsters (Title I) who will continue to go a full day. Shiver said a program will be worked out after the enrollment facts are in, as compulsory attendance for kindergarten classes is not required by the state. The administrator said if a school board decision is made here for a full day kindergarten (See Sign up, Page 12)

Producer says his rodeo stock ready

In a telephone call to Bucking S Rodeo, Inc., of Lawton, Okla., Monday night, directors of Post Stampede Rodeo, Inc., got the word that the producer's hucking stock will be "ready and rarin' to go" for the 33rd annual Post Stampede Rodeo here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 9-11. The bucking stock will be brought to Post direct from a rodeo at Atoka, Okla. The Stampede directors were told. Meanwhile, the rodeo group is proceeding with repairs and improvements at the rodeo arena to get it in shape for the annual event. New boards are being put in the west stands and contestants' stands, gate hinges oiled, and other improvements made. The officers and directors met Monday night at the rodeo office at the arena in another of a series of planning meetings being held ahead of the rodeo. The rodeo office will open Monday morning, Aug. 6, to begin accepting entries, according to Tommy Young, secretary. C. L. "Pee Wee" Johnson is this year's Stampede president.

Prather brothers are roping at Cheyenne

Jim, Tim and Rex Prather are in Cheyenne, Wyo., this week competing in roping events at the annual Frontier Days, which continues through Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Prather and daughter, Molly, went to Wyoming last week, with Jim taking part in steer roping events at Laramie, Wyo., and Ogallala, Neb. before the start of the big Cheyenne event. Mrs. Prather and Molly returned home by plane over the weekend.

FAMILY GETS TASTE OF TEXAS HOSPITALITY

Scots visit uncle in Post

Mrs. George (Betty) Neilson and her children, Susan, 14, and Craig, 11, of Dundee, Scotland, left Lubbock by plane Wednesday for Oregon after visiting here since last Thursday with

Mrs. Neilson's uncle, George "Scotty" Samson. Mrs. Neilson and her children will visit relatives in Oregon until Aug. 6, at which time they will depart on their return journey to Scotland. Mr. Neilson accompanied his wife and children to the United States and remained three weeks visiting relatives in the northwestern United States and in Canada before returning home. He is in advertising, associated with the D. C. Thomson Publishers' and Co. in his home country, a firm responsible for the printing of newspapers and periodicals.

Mrs. Neilson, who visited her uncle here 20 years ago, calls herself "just a housewife" and says her family is her biggest hobby. At the time of her visit to Post in 1953, she was studying to become a pharmacist, but gave up the career to become a housewife. Like her Uncle George, himself a native of Scotland and a pioneer resident of Post, Mrs. Neilson loves to garden and do flower arrangements. "I love anything to do with flowers," she smiles. She has been a Brownie Scout leader and says, "I really liked that. I like to work with children. I think if you bring children up to be thoughtful of others, they never lose that trait."

Susan is involved in the Girl Guides and will soon become a Queen's Guide after completing two more badges. She attends Harris Academy, loves to ride horseback and play the guitar. She is hopeful to study languages and possibly someday enter the foreign service. Susan is an accomplished singer and has played in the musical production of "Fiddler on the Roof" sponsored by the Thomson-Leug Amateur Musical Society. The group will (See Scots visit, Page 12)

PARK WORK PROGRESSES—Completion is near on the new downtown park at the site of the historic old Algeria Hotel which burned several years ago. The Algeria Park is sponsored by the Woman's Culture Club, with assistance coming from the Post Rotary Club, and much of the actual work being done by members of the Green Thumb crew. At the left is James Mitchell of the Rotary Club; while Mrs. Maxine Marks and Mrs. Doll Hair of the Woman's Culture Club are seated on the car. Meals on Wheels program growing

Prospects for further funding of the Meals on Wheels program here appear "very promising," Mrs. Ann Tubbs told The Dispatch today after a talk with John Moody of Levelland, coordinator for South Plains Community Action, Inc. Mrs. Tubbs, coordinator of the Meals on Wheels program here, said the project got off to a good start in March. Approximately 20 meals are delivered five days a week by volunteers. Due no doubt to the many vacations and holidays, there has been somewhat of a summer slump as far as volunteer reliability is concerned, Mrs. Tubbs said. "During the past 37 delivery (See Meals on, Page 12)

Approximately $1,200 was raised by the VFW post here over the weekend for Dave Cheshire, district VFW commander, who was recently stricken by a heart attack. A total of $1,028 was raised at a benefit barbecue and dance at the clubhouse Saturday night and the remainder Sunday afternoon during a district council meeting here. Cheshire has been transferred from the Methodist Hospital at Lubbock to the Veterans Hospital in Big Spring where he is expected to be a patient for another four to five weeks.

The Post Elementary School fire loss has been settled for $86,100 for damage to the building plus a few hundred dollars on loss to contents, Supt. Bill Shiver reports this week. Thus, the insurance firm holding the policy has paid the $5,000 which was in dispute in early July over whether the insurance firm should pay the full amount when school trustees intended to install a less expensive drop ceiling, but more expensive lighting for an increased cost of $1,000 over what the cost of putting back the old ceiling and lights would have been. School trustees two weeks ago had delayed signing the proof of loss agreement until the question of the $5,000 was settled. Work is progressing on the repairs of the school building by W. C. Wardroup & Associates of Lubbock, contractor for the work, and it is hoped most of the work can be finished before the start of the fall school term.

New pastor at First Baptist

The Rev. Glen Reece of Nocona has accepted a call as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Post and will preach his first sermon as pastor Sunday, Aug. 5, after he and his family move to Post on Aug. 1. The Rev. Mr. Reece preached at both services at the church here Sunday and accepted the call after being favorably voted on by the church membership. He is a graduate of Sul Ross State University at Alpine and did graduate work there. He and his wife, Sue, have four children, two in school and two of pre-school age. He is resigning as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Nocona to move here, and has also held pastorates at Sundown and Imperial, Tex. The new pastor will fill a vacancy created by the resignation June 3 of the Rev. Robert Griffin.

Post mayor to lunch with President Nixon

Mayor Giles C. McCrary, who is a member of the Small Business Administration's district advisory board, will have lunch with President Nixon at the Eisenhower Museum in Abilene, Kans., Monday. He has been invited to attend the 20th anniversary event of the Small Business Administration which President Nixon and SBA Administrator Kleppe will co-host Monday. He will fly to Kansas Sunday afternoon and return to Post Tuesday.

Donkey ball game will benefit 4-H

Fun-loving sports fans are promised a field day of hilarious entertainment when the Ralph Godfrey Donkeys, from Crescent, Okla., come to town on Tuesday, July 31. The main attraction will be donkey baseball with local players making up the teams. The two teams will be comprised of 4-H members against the 4-H adult leaders, according to Neal Clary, president of the 4-H Adult Leaders Association. Sponsor of the show is the Garza County 4-H and the scene will be David Nichols Park. Time for the first event, 8 p.m. Admission prices will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12. Advance tickets went on sale Tuesday and may be purchased from 4-H members of at the county Extension office in the courthouse. The show is being sponsored by the Garza County 4-H to raise funds for the future State 4-H Center to be built at Lake Brownwood. "Texas needs a State 4-H Educational Center, and our Garza County 4-H youth are working hard to get one. They need the county's support," stated Dana Feaster, county Extension agent. According to the contract the 4-H clubs signed with Ralph Godfrey, the sponsors receive 10 per cent more on all tickets sold in advance, so local fans are urged to buy tickets for the entire family before the night of the game and thus increase the profit to the Garza County 4-H.

Brown was one of two probation officers in the South Plains Association of Government (SPAG) area receiving a scholarship to the institute, the other being Mrs. Jean Sterns of Hale County. Two SPAG region decision makers are also at the institute.

National Farm Safety Week

The week of July 25, 1973, has been proclaimed as National Farm Safety Week by President Nixon, who pointed out in his proclamation, "the blessings of technological progress so significant in achieving agricultural abundance also add to the danger of injury on the nation's farms."

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz said: "In keeping with the President's concern about safety in rural America, and in an effort to help farm families avert daily hazards, the Department of Agriculture has undertaken a year round farm and home safety program. Monthly emphases are centered on practices and activities that will help avert mishaps on the farm and in the home. Our plans for the coming year call for renewed USDA emphasis on rural safety."

Recent studies indicate falls in the home and on equipment in fields or around farmsteads are responsible for one-third of the annual national farm accident toll.

Farm Safety Week is an excellent time to point out dangers and hazards which may result in falls or other mishaps.

President Nixon said in the proclamation:

"Each year, many thousands of farm and ranch residents are killed or seriously injured in work, home, recreation and highway mishaps. For the most part, these accidents could be prevented if basic safety precautions were observed."

"The dollar cost of rural accidents is high, but there is no higher price than the human suffering. This waste of precious human and economic resources must be reduced and can be reduced. The same energies and talents which have made agriculture so highly productive should also be turned to the task of making it safer."

It would be wonderful if Garza County citizens could say, "There is no need for farm safety concern, for accidents are non-existent." But, unfortunately, this is not true. Never does a season go by that farm-related accidents do not occur. Some are fatal, some cripple and maim, right in our own county.

Our citizens need to be more conscious about safety practices. Our children need to be carefully instructed as to the dangers in their environment. In a word, we need to practice farm safety, as well as all other kinds of safety, the year round.

WITH THE "Texas Football" magazine hitting the grocery store newsstands (they're the only places you can buy magazines here now), you just know it isn't long until the football season will be on us.

But there is still a lot of baseball left, with tight races in three of the four major league divisions. In the west division of the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers are well out in front, but things can change fast.

I DON'T look for the faltering Houston Astros to catch up with the Dodgers in the National League west, but Cincinnati and San Francisco both are likely to be well up in the running before the season ends.

I used to be a Houston Astro fan, but the only way I get to follow them is on radio and one of their broadcasters (the one who does the middle innings) is so downright silly that I listen to only part of each game. In my opinion, Gene Elston is a major league baseball broadcaster, but his buddy, Loel Passe, is strictly bush league.

IF THE Houston Astro organization would put Loel Passe in front of a cheering section, he might do all right, but as a radio broadcaster, I've heard better ones broadcasting Little League games.

That's a heck of a way to start off a column, isn't it? Even when the weather is as warm as it is today, a fellow should try to get off to a cheerful start. Another thing, perhaps, that got me started off against the Astros was the fact that in their exhibition game with Detroit last Thursday night they started comedian Jerry Lewis at first base. Even as silly as that Astro radio broadcaster is, he probably can't be blamed for that.

THE MAN UP the street says one of the first things one notices in a "backward country" is that children are still obeying their parents.

Here is a clipping I've been saving for several weeks, trying to find a place to share it with my readers. The recent opening of the new youth center makes it an appropriate time. Its title is "Memos From a Youth."

1. Don't spoil me. I know quite well that I ought not to have all that I ask for. I'm testing you.
2. Don't be afraid to be firm with me. I prefer it; it makes me feel more secure.
3. Don't let me form bad habits. I have to rely on you to detect them in the early stages.
4. Don't make me feel smaller than I am. It only makes me behave stupidly "big."
5. Don't correct me in front of people if you can help it. I'll take much more notice if you talk quietly with me in private.
6. Don't make me feel my mistakes are sins. It upsets my sense of values.
7. Don't protect me from consequences. I need to learn the painful way, sometimes.
8. Don't be upset when I say "I hate you." It isn't you I hate but your power to thwart me.
9. Don't take too much notice of my small ailments. Sometimes they get the attention I need.
10. Don't nag. If you do, I shall have to protect myself by appearing deaf.
11. Don't forget that I cannot explain myself as well as I should like. This is why I am not always very accurate.
12. Don't make rash promises. Remember that I feel badly let down when promises are broken.
13. Don't tax my honesty too much. I am easily frightened into telling lies.
14. Don't be inconsistent. That completely confuses me and makes me lose faith in you.
15. Don't tell me my fears are silly. They are terribly real and you can do much to reassure me if you try to understand.
16. Don't put me off when I ask

Stricken with encephalitis

Mrs. Louise Johnston of Carlsbad, N. M., daughter of Mrs. C. L. Cooper of Post, is recovering from encephalitis in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

Mrs. Johnston, a former resident of Post, became ill about three weeks ago while trout fishing in Colorado. She was admitted to a Durango, Colo., hospital where she spent ten days, then transferred to a Carlsbad hospital and from there to the Lubbock hospital where her illness was diagnosed as encephalitis.

Mrs. Cooper said her daughter was seriously ill for a while, but appears to be well on the road to recovery now.

Aaron nears homer record

Hank Aaron's closing in on Babe Ruth's home run record is to most baseball fans what a meteorite is to many politicians—a burning question.

Aaron, who plays for the Atlanta Braves, matched his 700th career home run Saturday, which leaves him just 14 homers behind the mark set by Babe Ruth, the King of Swat, who set the childhood hero of many of today's middle-agers.

Babe set his record before Jackie Robinson broke the color line by playing for the Brooklyn Dodgers as the first Negro ever to play in the major leagues. We mention this because many of us don't want to see Aaron break the Babe's mark because of Hank's color.

Isn't that something? Some of the same fans who don't want to see Hank Aaron break Babe Ruth's home run record sit in front of their TV sets and cheer Hammerin' Hank on when they see him on the tube.

Records were made to be broken and it appears now that the mighty Babe's home run record will be broken by Hank Aaron before this season is over. And if it doesn't make any difference to a baseball fan what color the batter is, what difference should it make who holds the record—a black, white brown, or some other color individual?

Anyway, if we're going to keep playing baseball, Aaron's record won't stand forever. Someone will come along and break it; perhaps a white player, perhaps another black.

It's hard to understand why Hank Aaron is getting as much "hate" mail as he says he is getting now that he is approaching Babe Ruth's home run record.—CD

For safer school busing

With this year's tragic crossing crash at Delfield in doubt having much to do with it, the 63rd Legislature passed a bill setting new standards for certification of Texas school bus drivers but failed to pass several other bills relating to traffic safety.

Effective with the 1973-74 school year, Texas school bus drivers must begin training in order to be certified and must undergo an annual physical examination. In addition, their past driving record must comply with standards to be set by the Texas Education Agency and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The law, passed in the closing days of the legislative session, brings this portion of Texas law into compliance with Standard 17 of the National Highway Safety Standards, dealing with pupil transportation safety.

The Legislature failed to pass another driver-education bill, HB 222, which would have made driver education available as an elective to all high school students by placing its financing under the Foundation School Program. Since 1968, the Office of Traffic Safety Administration (OTSA), using federal funds, has subsidized $20 per student trained in driver education. The remaining $40-$45 often must be paid by the students or their families.

Our contemporaries say . . .

The threatened energy crisis might bring families closer together and acquaint all of us here with the pleasures of our homes if we were in them more of the time. It might also renew the almost forgotten pleasure of smoking — Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

There are all sorts of bumper sticker signs. "Eat More Beef." "Wear More Cotton." Trucker St. Medley told me he saw an unusual sign down state the other day. "Eat More Peanut Butter and Possum." — Wendell Tooley in The Floyd County Hesperian.

HOUSING NEEDS UNDERGO CHANGES

Home, sweet home may be the American dream, but a house doesn't necessarily fulfill it.

Housing needs change from one stage of living to the next. For single people, often a small apartment is the answer. It meets their need for independence safe building and neighborhood an opportunity to meet others and to socialize without the maintenance problems homeownership presents.

Many newlyweds live in an apartment, rented house or mobile home. They use those first years to plan and save for future housing needs. Also, because job changes are often frequent at first, these couples avoid the risk of losing money by buying and selling several houses.

Families with children, need more space to handle baby furnishings and equipment. And if they plan a larger family, they'll be ahead by choosing housing to meet future needs as well. Families with school-age children will need room for parents and for children, for privacy and family activities — and, as children get older, plans and money for redecorating and refurbishing.

When children leave home, the next stage begins, and suddenly parents need less space. Often they move to a smaller house or apartment that meets their needs and still leaves room for occasional visits from children and grandchildren.

Retired persons may want a single-level home, additional automatic equipment, built-in conveniences and easy maintenance. Their needs are really back to those of young people just starting out.

The kind of house an elderly person must live in is the kind of house he'd like to live in — just more convenient, sensibly arranged and carefully thought through.

Senior citizens moving from a long-established home for health or economic reasons, should look for a higher standard of design in housing. Windows they can look out of, carpeting just enough to cushion the floor—but shock-proof, and higher chairs are some of their needs.

MISS SANDY JONES

Jones-Wilhite vows are set

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dee Jones announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sandy, to Leon Wilhite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wilhite of Follett.

The couple are students in West Texas State University in Canyon.

The wedding is planned for July 28 in Canyon.

VISITING COCKRUMS

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cockrum this week is their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lynda Cockrum, and three children, Michael, Kimberly and Andrea of Page, Ariz. The Cockrums' son, Dan E., is in Neosho, Mo., attending a school for "water treatment". He is a civil engineer for the National Park Service.

They need a higher level of illumination with less glare, temperature control, elimination of steps and better planned space. Also handrails, elimination of rough edges, floor surfaces of non-slip material, grab bars around the tub and other safety features such as de-icers to keep winter sidewalks free.

Predictions say that the next 15-20 years will see the span of life increased by 10 years. By improving housing for that age group, we're improving their quality of life.

In conclusion, plan and choose housing on the basis of need.

Party held on 96th birthday

Mrs. Willie Marable was honored on her 96th birthday Tuesday, July 24, with a party in the Twin Cedar Nursing home where she is a resident.

Mrs. Marable's daughters, Mrs. Dan Cockrum and Mrs. Leonard Askins, served a large white birthday cake decorated with orchid flowers and centered with "Happy Birthday Mother, 96 Years" to several guests.

As Mrs. Marable opened her gifts, the group sang "Happy Birthday." She also received many cards and had several visitors during the day.

Mrs. Marable is a pioneer of Garza County, having moved here in 1901. She is the mother of four children, also has three grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Special guests were Mrs. Dan E. Cockrum and three children of Page, Ariz., Mrs. Marable's granddaughter-in-law and great-grandchildren.

Post woman honored on her 80th birthday

A reunion was held Sunday, July 22, in honor of Mrs. E. C. Hill's 80th birthday.

The reunion was held in the 4-H Building in Post and 81 relatives and friends were on hand to help Mrs. Hill celebrate.

All of Mrs. Hill's eight children and 12 of the 16 living grandchildren were present. She also has 22 great-grandchildren.

Two Garza girls are in dress revue today

The two "best dressed" 4-H girls from Garza County will compete in the Extension District 2-4-H Dress Revue at Lubbock today (Thursday) "Fashion Fiesta" will be the 1973 dress revue theme.

Nancy Maddox will be competing in the senior division while Nita Gunn will enter her garment in the junior division, announces Dana Feaster, county Extension agent.

The revue will be held at 2:15 p.m. at the First Christian Church, 2323 Broadway. Judging in the senior division will begin at 11:30 a.m. Junior girls will not be judged. Activities for the juniors, parents and guests will also start at 11:30 a.m.

A 1 p.m. luncheon will be sponsored by the Plains Co-operative Oil Mill of Lubbock.

John Herzer is manager of the oil mill.

Senior girls will be judged on the overall appearance of their garment, suitability of the design, color and texture for the individual, grooming, posture, attitude, poise, personality, 4-H records and other factors, says Mrs. Feaster.

Special awards will be presented at the revue for best all-cotton garment and the best all-wool garment. The District 2 Aubrey W. Russell 4-H Girls Scholarship will be presented to an outstanding 4-H girl in the district.

The top four girls in the senior division will be eligible to compete in the State 4-H Dress Revue which will be held in October in Dallas in conjunction with the State Fair of Texas.

By George L. Miller

When I think of life it's like a huge puzzle without all the pieces there. —a 12 year old girl

You might say we're painting a picture, you and I. From day to day we add brush strokes to the painting.

Some of us like lots of color, others keep it subdued with pastels or muted tans and greys.

Some of us like to have things clear and precise like an etching with everything stark black and white.

Some of us go in for mood, and paint our lives with abstract forms and impressionistic models.

But we're alike in one respect - we're in an awful hurry to finish the work. We want to figure it all out and be done with it. Not that we're anxious to die - just arrive.

If we're in school, we want to hurry up and graduate - so we'll have the picture completed. If we're single, we want to get married, so we'll have reached our goal. If we've joined a company, we want to advance to the top so we can relax and start enjoying life - with all the struggle and pain behind us.

Unfinished, work in progress, painting still not done - that's what we don't like. It's like the girl said, a puzzle without all the pieces there.

Yet real life never has all the pieces, it's never finished, it's always in progress. No matter what our style—bold color or impressionistic pastels—we're still working on it, and will go on working on it till the day we die.

The question for us is how gracefully we can live with a partially finished painting? How adaptable are we when we run out of one color and must change to another? How much patience do we have waiting for one corner of the picture to finally come clear? How comfortable are we living with a picture that will always have some pieces missing?

We're painting pictures, you and I, and will be painting them the rest of our lives. It's not so important to get the job over with, see how good an artist you can be.

Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER

A week ago I drove toward Post from Brownfield, the last lap on our journey homeward after a two week vacation to California. You know that feeling you get, after having driven over 3,500 miles—and you know you have only 50 miles to go and you'll be home? No matter how tired you are, you're at peace with the world and chock full of joy thinking how close you are to your goal.

As good fortune would have it, we were heading toward a rain shower, and while no rain fell on us, a rainbow arched over the highway ahead—one of the clearest, fullest, most colorful rainbows I've ever seen. We pursued that rainbow for more than 40 of the 50 miles of that final drive to home, and all the time I feasted on its beauty and thought, "What a promising sign for our homecoming!"

When the library trustees met last Thursday I felt as though the rainbow had reappeared. Thoughts of long journeys and weary homecomings mixed with sighting a hoped-for goal filled my mind, for as we finalized plans for the completion of the library, we were beginning—at last—to see the realization of our dream.

We talked about the building, and what it would take to complete it. We heard Patty Kirkpatrick announce we now have $19,500 in our building fund. We heard the estimate of $30,000 would finish the job, including some of the furnishings. We heard the contractor say it would take from 60 to 75 days to get the job done. We heard him talk about us having our library by the first of November.

Well now, friends, that's a homecoming that deserves two rainbows over it!

I sat in that meeting and

Registration remains federal requirement

AUSTIN — Col. Melvin N. Glantz, the state director of Selective Service for Texas, reminded young men that they still must register with Selective Service even though there is no draft.

Glantz urged those men who have not registered to do so promptly, saying: "Failure to register is a violation of federal law and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice."

County Judge Giles W. Dalby is the Garza County member of Local Board 88 and young men in this county reaching the age of 18 should register with him at his office in the courthouse.

Misfortunes that cause people to think become blessings.

WHAT'S IN IT?
By CHARLES DIDWAY

SMALLWOOD

Many surnames are easy to trace to their origin because their meaning is so obvious. The name Smallwood, for instance, was first given to "a dweller from a small wood," and then handed down from generation to generation after surnames became hereditary.

In medieval England when surnames first began coming into style the population per square mile was thin and much land was covered with forest. Everywhere there were small woods or groves and the men living in or near them were so described by their neighbors.

Most Smallwoods can trace their ancestry to the English township of the same name in the Parish of Astbury. Smallwood was also a common spelling of the name and was recorded as early as 1379.

The name is also common in Scotland where it was given to dwellers from a small place of that name. John of Smalwood, burgess of Renfrew, received from the monks of Paisley three pounds for the lands in the burgh of Renfrew called Beltonland, according to early records.

The Smallwoods were early settlers in America, with a Randall Smalwood, or Smalewood, listed on the muster roll of settlers in Virginia in 1620.

William Smallwood was a soldier in the American Revolution who later was elected governor of Maryland. Among early Philadelphia residents were several Smallwood families. Today, the name ranks among the 2,000 most common surnames in the United States, with an estimated 16,000 persons owning the name.

Assurance given on ambulances

Mayor Giles C. McCrary told The Dispatch yesterday that "the city council would like to assure the citizens of Post that the council has unanimously agreed that emergency ambulance service will always be available here."

He said that "at any time necessary the city will take over the operation of such ambulance service in order to provide sufficient service."

McCrary said he made the statement in response to a series of questions from concerned citizens made over the weekend as to the availability of emergency ambulance service here.

The mayor reports that serious negotiations to settle the problem are under way. He pointed out that by law the city cannot operate city-supported services outside its jurisdiction without an agreement on a cost sharing basis with county or other political entity into whose territory the service extends.

Bus costs to be paid by state

The Texas Educational Agency will reimburse the Post school district for bus transportation costs for high school students taking vocational classes at West Texas College in Snyder this coming school year. Supt. Bill Shiver announced this week.

The state has been paying the tuition costs for the courses for the last two years, but not the transportation costs until now.

Shiver sees the use of the Snyder schools' vocational facilities as the perfect answer to vocational training here.

Keep up the competitive spirit—when competition steps out, monopoly moves in.

What balanced meal can you hold in one hand?

Name a balanced meal you can hold in the fingers of one hand—a meal practically everybody likes and kids love?

Before you answer remember this meal, to be nutritionally balanced, must contain something from each of the four basic food groups: Dairy; fruit or vegetable; meat, fish, eggs, or poultry; and the enriched bread-cereal group.

No, the answer is not "An astronaut's dinner packet." It is your old friend the hamburger, with a slice of cheese added to complete the Basic Four.

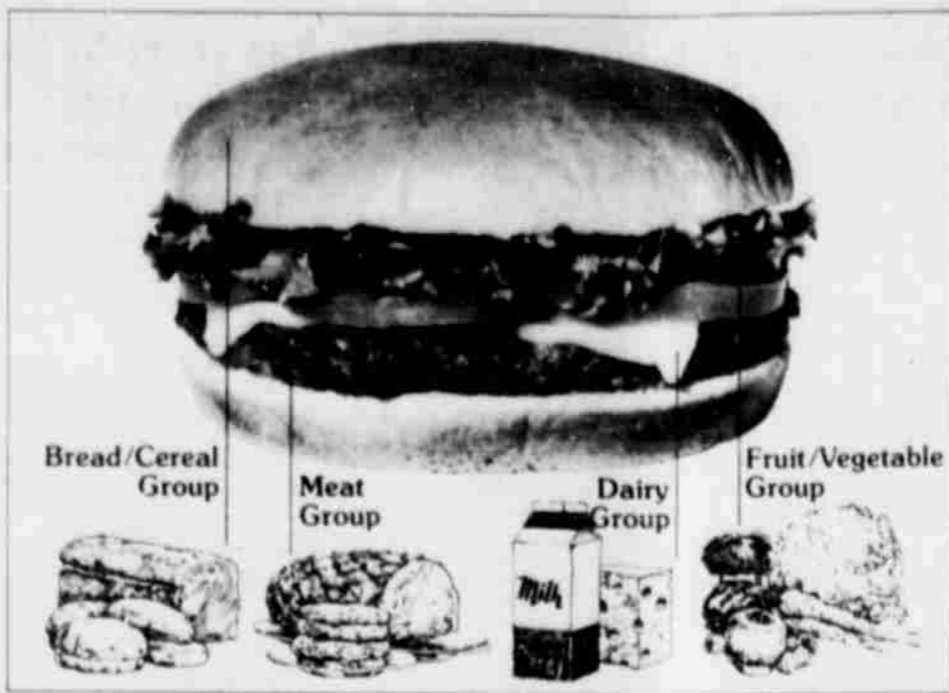

The hamburger has been with us a long time, since 1904 when it was introduced at the St. Louis World's Fair. But not many people realize what a perfect meal it is. "A hamburger gives you the Basic Four on a 'raft,' or bun," declares Ellen Semrow, director of nutrition education for the American Institute of Baking. To illustrate her statement, Mrs. Semrow uses a hamburger with the following make-up:

Enriched bun

2 oz. patty of lean ground beef slice of American process cheese thin slices of raw tomato a lettuce leaf

"In addition to providing each of the 'Basic Four' food groups this hamburger makes a most significant nutritional contribution," Mrs. Semrow says. She explains that nutritionists speak in terms of "Recommended Daily Allowance," the amount of a nutrient a person should have each day for good health. "Measured in terms of the recommended daily allowance for a young male, age 22 to 35, the hamburger provides 40 per cent of the protein, 40.7 per cent of the calcium, 22.5 per cent of the iron, 25.4 per cent of Vitamin C, 15 per cent of thiamin, 22.1 per cent of riboflavin, and 25 per cent of the niacin this young man needs each day."

No hearing yet on school suit

District Judge George H. Hansard is on vacation this week so the injunction suit brought by nine taxpayers against the Southland Independent School District to block "arbitrary, confiscatory and discriminatory school district assessments and property appraisals" was not heard here Monday morning when scheduled.

The suit will be heard when the judge returns from his vacation. The district court clerk, Carl Cederholm, said a time for the hearing has not been set to his knowledge.

50,000 acres of cotton estimated up in Garza

Standing acreage of cotton on July 1 in Garza County was estimated at 50,000 acres, which is some 7,000 acres more than the 43,000 acres planted in 1972. The estimate was made by a joint committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange as a part of their estimate that standing acreage in the 25 High Plains counties surrounding Lubbock was 2,828,000 acres, almost 8.7 per cent above the 2,602,000 acres standing on the same date last year. Also, the July 1, 1973, estimate shows the largest acreage in cotton since 1952's all-time record of 3.9 million. Garza County's total production from the 1972 crop was 39,400 bales, according to the figures of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange. The actual harvest was from 37,100 acres.

The joint PCG-LCE committee, beginning Aug. 1 will issue production estimates on the Plains crop each month through Dec. 1. The final production estimate made by the committee Dec. 1 last year was for 2,012,000 bales, 230,000 bales short of the actual turnout shown by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The committee, while not yet making an official guess at this year's production, agreed that as of now prospects are still good for a high yielding crop. However the entire area is in need of rain following the driest May and June in recorded Plains history, and hopes for a good year could rise or fall drastically as July weather unfolds. Cotton in most non-irrigated areas is holding up well so far and has established an excellent root system that will be an advantage if rain is forthcoming in the not too distant future. Irrigated cotton, generally, is farther advanced than at this time last year and has an above average chance to produce a bumper crop, the committee thinks.

Farm payments near $2 million

Set-aside payments totaling $1,904,598.53 are being paid Garza County farmers participating in this year's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service program, according to Jim McGehee, county ASCS office executive director. This year's total is approximately $86,000 less than the 1972 total payments of $1,990,535.77. The reduction is due to the fact that cotton acreage allotments were cut by about 13 per cent in this year's program and feed and grain allotments by about one-half. Also, McGehee said, a number of farmers gave up feed acreage allotments in order to qualify for planting more cotton. The checks are being mailed farmers as soon as their certification is completed, with all except about 40 farmers having been paid, the ASCS office reported Tuesday.

Cyclist injured in mishap here

Sammy Maddox, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Long, was injured early Saturday afternoon when his motorcycle and an automobile driven by Sandra Dudley collided at the Main and Broadway intersection. Sammy was taken to Garza Memorial Hospital suffering from injuries to both knees and both elbows in addition to hip and back injuries. His motorcycle was spun around and he was thrown several feet by the collision. The youth was dismissed from the hospital Sunday afternoon, but is confined to his bed at home for a few days. He was scheduled to go back to the hospital for a check-up Wednesday. Don't expect opportunity to knock at your door tomorrow unless you really made an honest bid for it yesterday.

Giddens resigns to go to Littlefield

Joe Giddens, a member of the Post High School coaching staff for the last two years, has resigned to accept the position of line coach in his hometown of Littlefield. It was announced Tuesday by Supt. Bill Shover and Athletic Director Bobby Davis.

Giddens' resignation is effective immediately and he will attend next week's state coaching school as a member of the Littlefield coaching staff, Coach Davis said.

"We hate to lose Joe," he did us a fine job and he will do them a fine job at Littlefield," Coach Davis said.

Supt. Shover also expressed his regret over the resignations of Giddens and his wife, who was a second grade teacher. "They were both assets to our faculty," the superintendent said.

Littlefield was District 3AA football champion last year and is picked as the favorite for the 1973 district title. They have seven offensive and five defensive starters returning from a 7-3 team.

WINS HIDING EVENT

Miss Karen Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junnie Gray of Graham, and formerly of Post, won first place in the youth cutting class Saturday night.

The West Central Texas Cutting Horse Association event was held in Baird. Karen scored 142 points riding Miss April Star, a mare trained by Noel White and now owned by a Jacktown man. She was awarded a belt buckle.

Grid magazine se Denver City cham

Probably going on the theory that the third time is a charm, Dave Campbell's "Texas Football" magazine again picks Denver City to win the District 5AA championship.

The same magazine also picked Denver City to win the crown in 1971 and 1972, but missed both times, Roosevelt emerging the champion in 1971 and Cooper winning the title last season.

The magazine picks the Post Antelopes for a last-place finish in the seven-school district.

Bobby Davis, Post High School athletic director and head football coach, does not agree with the grid magazine's selections. He doesn't think his Antelopes will finish seventh, nor does he think Denver City will win the title.

"My choice is Roosevelt, with Denver City second and the other five teams about even-stein from there on down," Coach Davis said.

With five offensive and four defensive holdovers from a team that was 3-7 last year, Coach Davis said the Antelopes would have a young club in spots, but one that "we feel will be in there battling all the way."

He said the Post team more than likely will depend on a number of sophomores up from Coach Lane Tannehill's fine freshman team of last season.

Like Coach Davis, the "Texas Football" magazine regards Roosevelt highly, but picks them for a second place finish behind the Mustangs.

From there on down the list, the magazine rates the other five teams in this order: Lubbock Cooper, Slaton, Tahoka, Frenship and Post.

Denver City has eight offensive and four defensive regulars returning from last year's 7-2-1 runner-up Roosevelt will go with seven offensive and seven defensive veterans.

Cooper, whose championship team finished 10-2 last year, will have three offensive and five defensive regulars back in harness, while Slaton, which was 2-8 last year, expects to be stronger with seven offensive and eight defensive holdovers back in the fold.

The Tahoka Bulldogs, who compiled a 6-4 mark in 1972, returns only two offensive and four defensive starters, but

Missionary family is back home on leave

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rogers and three children, Mike, Danny and Regina, Church of the Nazarene missionary family to South Africa, returned to the United States July 3 on a year's leave—their first in three and a half years.

The Rogers family has been at Louis Trichardt, South Africa, about 300 miles north of the capitol city of Johannesburg. Until last September, Rogers' principal duty was as a hospital administrator, but since that time he has been engaged in helping open up new areas of work for the church among new tribes in South Africa.

Rogers said the Church of the Nazarene has between 150 and 200 missions in six different fields in South Africa and is active in Rhodesia, Mozambique and other countries in addition to South Africa.

The family presently is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rogers here, and her parents at Grassland. Rogers is to speak at the 11 a. m. service Sunday, Aug. 5, at the Grassland Nazarene Church and at the 11 a. m. service Sunday, Aug. 12, at the Church of the Nazarene in Post.

The missionary plans to go to Kansas City, Mo., soon to take some courses at the Nazarene Theological Seminary until January of 1974, after which the family plans to do some visiting before returning to their mission work.

Rogers said the U. S. monetary value has lost about 11 per cent in South Africa, and that the Watergate scandal is a topic of conversation at many places in South Africa.

He said the biggest change he noted in this country upon his return home is an increase in prosperity over what it was when he was last home three and a half years ago.

Benson comes home after hospital stay

Charles Benson was returned to his home here at 906 West 13th St. Sunday after having been in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock following a fall at his home Tuesday night of last week.

Benson broke four ribs in the fall and then developed double pneumonia after being admitted to the hospital. He fell off his porch onto concrete while loading some chairs.

ELEPHANT TRACTORS

Elephants are used in place of tractors in Indian forests because tractors damage the trees. The largest elephants can move through a forest so delicately that they will hardly injure a blade of grass.

Drivers hurt in two accidents

Two one-vehicle highway accidents this week have resulted in injuries to drivers involved, according to investigating state highway patrolmen here.

Tech. Sgt. Larry W. Freeman of Reese AFB, driving a pickup off duty en route to Fort Worth, apparently went to sleep at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday while crossing the bridge near Justiceburg on US-84 and the vehicle hit the guard rail and overturned twice down an embankment.

Passing motorists jacked up the wrecked truck which had pinned Freeman's legs to free him, but the Air Force man suffered only minor injuries. His wife, Anita Freeman, suffered a cut wrist, and his son, Larry Jr., and Mary Hawkins of Fort Worth, also riding in the vehicle, were uninjured.

Elieno Lopez of Post was treated at Garza Memorial Hospital here early yesterday morning for a shoulder laceration after he lost control of his car, attempting to pass another vehicle, 10 miles north of Post on FM-651 and "went through a fence and overturned the vehicle at 12:45 a. m." He was brought to Post by a passing motorist. Lopez was alone in the car at the time of the crash.

Billfold lost, but found, returned

Thanks to Delbert Rudd, Texas Highway Department employe, Pokey Ammons' vacation in Post is more enjoyable than it might otherwise have been.

Ammons, who is here from California visiting relatives and friends, lost his billfold the other day while on a fishing trip to a nearby pond.

The billfold contained Ammons' driver's license, credit cards and other valuables in addition to money.

Faced with the prospect of having to obtain another driver's license if he continued driving while here, Ammons went to the sheriff's office to report his loss.

At the sheriff's office, he learned that his billfold had been found by Rudd and turned in at the sheriff's office and that they had already written a letter to Ammons' home address in California telling him the billfold had been found.

Ammons said he lost the billfold out of his pocket while riding with friends to the pond in the back of a pickup. Rudd found the billfold at the roadside on FM 669 about nine miles from town.

Ammons said he wanted to thank Rudd for making his vacation here more enjoyable.

(Continued From Page One) days, the coordinator has delivered 23 of those days; we hope that can be changed a bit," she said.

The food for the Meals on Wheels program is prepared by Betty's Grub Stake Cafe, which began closing on Wednesdays this week. "So, at this time, meals will be delivered only four days a week," the local coordinator said. "This is subject to change if someone can be found who will be responsible for Saturday deliveries," she added.

The project's financial status is also encouraging, according to Mrs. Tubbs. "We began with a $3,000 grant," she said. "The current bank balance is $1,693.17, and subscriber contributions have been $225.83. Another federal grant is expected to be available in September."

Later, Mrs. Tubbs said Meals on Wheels went on a four-day delivery schedule July 16-20, during which time volunteers delivered 72 meals. The volunteers included Mrs. Tubbs, Madie Johnson, Mozella Mitchell, Mattie Collier, Pee Wee Pierce, Gwen Boren, Bobbie Tubbs, Willie Woods, Lynette Thuett and Sheila Melton.
