600 served beef barbecue

The seventh annual Fourth of July celebration in city-county park Friday is being called by many "the best ever" for a variety of reasons. An estimated 4,600 persons feasted on 1,232 pounds of beef and paid $1,327 for a plate to help defray the cost of the meal which included beans, slaw, and bread.

Services held for Mrs. Blacklock

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Fannie Lee Blacklock, 65, resident of Post for 35 years, at 2 p. m. Saturday in Trinity Baptist Church. Gene Prevo, pastor, officiated at the service with burial in the Terrace Cemetery in the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Early morning fire guts interior of Log Cabin

Firemen were called out to a fire in the last week of the year. Considerable damage to the interior was reported at 12:45 a. m. Tuesday when a fire which had been burning for some time before firefighters arrived virtually gutted the interior of the Log Cabin on the highway.

City court is reestablished here, part-time judge sought

Post's city council re-created a city court by emergency ordinance at its regular July meeting Monday night and named City Secretary Wanda Wilkerson as temporary judge. Councilmen set $150 a month as the starting salary for a part-time judge to be named at the council's next session.

The actions, which were unanimous, came after Justice of the Peace Racy Robinson told Mayor Giles McCrary and the councilmen that an assistant attorney general had advised him he "could get into trouble" if he "handled any city ordinance cases."

He proposed that his wife be named as judge of the city court and she could handle such cases in his office in the law enforcement building. Justice of the Peace Robinson has been handling the city's cases for the last three and one-half years. The city hasn't paid him for the service but has paid his wife for 80 hours a month for clerical duties in the JP's office.

Mad dog 'trees' two men atop car here Tuesday

The council decided if Robinson couldn't handle all the cases, they would set up their own court again and conduct it in the council chamber in the city building.

Mrs. Yvonne Kennedy was named as clerk of the new city court temporarily to help with the necessary record keeping.

The vet decided proof was necessary whether the dog had rabies or distemper. He put it to sleep and the dog's head, packed in ice, was dispatched by bus Tuesday afternoon to an Austin laboratory.

Training program here for Graham Crusade

A series of Christian Life and Witness Classes, a training program for the approaching West Texas Billy Graham Crusade, will be held in Post on four consecutive Thursday nights beginning July 17, continuing on July 24, 31 and August 7. They will begin at 7:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church.

The course, will be taught by three members of the Graham team which is offered to train counselors for the Crusade to be held in Jones Stadium in Lubbock, Aug. 31 thru Sept. 7.

Officers seek sniper of freight near Southland

A long search late Monday night by sheriff officers failed to find someone who was reported to have been shooting at a Santa Fe freight train near Southland.

Frank X. Tolbert, the traveling columnist of The Dallas News, who wrote a bittersweet column entitled "Dirty Statue of Grape Nuts Man" June 10 after a visit to Post, has his answer.

We called the column to the attention of County Judge Giles Dalby the day after it was printed. Judge Dalby said he would find out the wishes of the executors of the Marjorie Merriweather Post estate in the matter, and take county action if necessary.

Over the weekend, Judge Dalby sent us a copy of the answer from Fred Korth, Washington Attorney who handles some of the legal work for the Post Estate.

Tolbert's answer is that the estate executors "do not desire any polishing to be done" on C. W. Post's statue here.

The matter was discussed at the last executors meeting on June 25th, and, as a matter of fact, there was comment about the Dallas Morning News writer who felt that it should be polished. Korth wrote to Judge Dalby "There are hundreds of bronze statues in Washington, none of which are polished," he added.

Statebeat

By KURT E. JOHNSON

AUSTIN — As reported in last week's column, the new, twice-a-week publication entitled "Texas Register" will be forthcoming in January of 1976, as per the authorization of the 64th legislature which saw fit to appropriate money so that citizens will know just what's happening in all of state government.

But a controversy has already developed.

The publication will fall under the auspices of the Secretary of State's office (Mark White Jr.) and because of its frequency of distribution there is a printing problem. The state capitol print shop cannot handle the volume, and commercial printers can't do the job just fast enough to meet the necessary deadlines, creating the need for remedy.

In addition, the new constitution which will go to the voters on November 4 of this year will also have to be printed and distributed in great numbers (probably a million), making the cost virtually intolerable if the state doesn't have its own web-offset press.

One thing is sure — if the press isn't purchased it will inhibit the work efficiency of the "Texas Register," not to mention the unwise use of taxpayers' money should it be necessary to farm out the printing job on the new constitution to a commercial enterprise.

There are a lot of reasons to look forward to the "Register." Citizens need to know what's happening in state government, particularly as found in the state agencies, who administer practically every program that hits either the pocketbooks or service needs of some 12 million Texans in the state.

Let's look at a specific example:

Way back in 1972, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the federal government began to administer a program entitled the Supplemental Security Income System (Title XVI) in which people who were physically disabled from employment could draw benefits (money) even if they had not contributed to the regular Social Security program through payroll deductions, by virtue of the fact that they were so poor that they could not make enough money by working to make contributions.

To qualify for benefits under this program, a person would have to (1) be significantly under the poverty scale in income and (2) be physically or mentally disabled so as to be unemployable.

Well, as expected, the claims for benefits under the program really began to pour in, and great amounts of manpower were needed to process them. And so H. E. W. contracted with state agencies across the nation (in Texas it was the Texas Rehabilitation Commission) to process these claims for either approval or disapproval, along with the claims which were already being processed by the agency for regular disability benefits in behalf of people who were qualified by virtue of their past contributions to the Social Security program.

This added manpower virtually tripled the amount of personnel at the commission's Division of Disability Determination. (Hence, the addition of a great number of ex-colonels as previously elucidated in this column.) Things were really looking up. State jobs increased, coffee breaks were more enjoyable because of all the new people, promotions emerged at administrative levels for the program etc., etc. The federal government paid the state to administer the program.

But all of a sudden, a big monkey wrench has been thrown into the works.

Casper Weinberger, the head of H. E. W., has proposed a plan which is designed to relieve the poverty-laden of all the red tape, innumerable forms, computer foulups, and other problematic innuenda which plague citizens who try to derive their valid shares from government programs. The plan will cut out Supplemental Security Income, and in its place there will be a kind of negative income tax, so that people who need the money can get it directly from Uncle Sam without having to go through all the red tape previously relegated to the state agency, not to mention all the money which will be saved in not having to pay professional salaries to some 200 adjudicators and administrators in Austin.

My sources indicate that top-level administrators in Washington are taking Weinberger seriously. Governor Briscoe (who was never known to spend unnecessary money) would have to support the idea in principle even if he didn't like the notion of cutting back some areas of state employment.

It really wouldn't be such a bad program for the state in and of itself. Most of the state agency people in the program

Let's keep our school program

There are several aspects of school financing which merit close public scrutiny since the recent legislature took the easy way out and passed a new school financing bill which handed teachers their large wage increase and then by confusing financial formulas decreed that many individual school districts were going to have to pay a whole lot of that boost.

Probably the most important aspect for patrons of the Post Independent School District to consider is the alternative of paying increased taxes at a difficult economic time to support one of the best small school district operations in Texas — or cutting the program.

The tremendous educational revolution that Supt. Bill Shiver has successfully led here is now flowering into just about the best small-town educational opportunities any community such as ours could even dream about for our children.

Do we pay more or cut this program back? If we cut the program, how and where do we cut?

The present state financing law admittedly is only a two-year substitute for a real effort to equalize education across Texas.

The legislators didn't undertake it this year.

They utterly failed in the face of hard federal court prodding to even make a start on the equalization of educational opportunity between rich school districts and poor ones, and between districts which pay a relatively high tax yield on true property values and those who maintain ultra-low property valuations for taxation purposes.

They rejected what was called the "governor's plan" for school financing because it would make too many school districts face up to the facts of life. That plan, written by one of the state's leading educators, for example would have rewarded the Post district for its fair tax efforts and fine school program with a gain of $86,000 in additional state funds in the next two years instead of what will amount to $172,000 in additional school district taxes over the next two years just to maintain what it now has.

In the legislature's new hodge-podge financing plan for the schools the ratio of state-local district participation is being reduced from 80-20 percentage-wise to 60-40. That obviously should tell the reader something.

With the Lubbock schools standing to gain an additional $3,000,000 in state funding under the legislative plan, it is obvious that the big city representation has taken control in the legislature on school financing and the big city school districts are reaping the harvest of state tax dollars.

When the legislature meets again, a better plan will have to be forthcoming to block further court orders in the Texas school process. Whether that means more trouble ahead for the small school district, or a fair shot at equality, it is difficult to say.

Here at The Dispatch, we would much prefer over the next two years to see the Post school district maintain its excellent school program without major cuts even if it means more tax dollars.

We favor waiting to see what happens next in Austin before dismantling the kind of a school program Post could never hope to have again if it fails to keep it now.

Let's start now on 1976

Post for the seventh consecutive year held a very successful Fourth of July celebration in city-county park Friday.

As many predicted, the big crowds who came out obviously weren't bothered by the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce's decision to put a $1 a plate charge on the barbecue to partially defray food costs of the big meal, which is cooked and dished up by community volunteers.

Now that small hurdle is passed, Post should immediately begin looking ahead to the 1976 Fourth of July celebration, which will see the climax of this nation's 200th birthday celebration (BiCentennial).

Should it be a super blowout? Will it draw as well in competition with everything from a TV BiCentennial deluge to probably bigger and costlier celebrations elsewhere?

The Chamber should begin to think about next year's Fourth of July celebration right now. What it should be and how it should be financed are two questions which should be answered early to permit plenty of planning time.

The first thing that comes to our mind is some sort of a cool-of-the-evening historical pageant set right there in the park itself, preceded by the barbecue and wound up with the fireworks with maybe some morning events as well.

We'd vote a pageant over a parade because parades need lots of lively music and where do you get music in mid-summertime.

With the gentle slope of the park down toward the lake, it might be possible to let people sit on the ground in sort of a natural, outdoor amphitheatre.

Of course an undertaking like that would be expensive.

There are probably many ideas which could be considered. The main thing is to start early. Like right now!

NEW BICENTENNIAL COINS — First of three new BiCentennial coins — the Kennedy-Independence Hall half dollar — is scheduled for release through banks this week to the public (above center) with the newly redesigned quarter, left, and dollar, right, due for release by the U. S. Mint before the end of the year.

New BiCentennial half dollar due out this week

The hand flips a coin. Heads I win. Tails you win.

The eyes light on the head of a colonial drummer. Did you win or lose the toss?

You won! That head is really a tail. You can take the word of Mary Brooks, Director of the U. S. Mint. She's our nation's are either ex-colonels or ex-pharmacists, and as such other substantial gainful employment could be found by these experienced, educated people.

The "Register," however, would be readily able to report on just what progress is being made on this front, as well as many others, in the interest of letting the citizens know what money is being spent wisely as well as wastefully.

No longer will it be necessary to say, "Only your hairdresser knows for sure." Public access to governmental information will give everyone the data (should everyone care to read it.) It has to make for better government, a more informed citizenry, less wasteful spending, and most importantly, more educated voting on the part of those of us who go to the polls to call the shots.

That, my friends, is what democracy is all about.

coinmaker and says the colonial drummer was chosen in a national design competition to appear on the back of the new BiCentennial quarter. George Washington, she insists, still heads the coin over a new date — 1776-1976 — and it was all done to celebrate our country's 200th birthday.

"I know big decisions, like whether or not to walk the dog in the rain, rest on the flip of a coin," Mrs. Brooks says, "and I want to warn the nation's big decision makers about the coming big change in their small change."

In all, the Mint is changing the designs on the backs of three coins in honor of the BiCentennial. Along with Washington on the quarter, those famous faces of Kennedy and Eisenhower, with the new twin date, still head the half dollar and dollar. Again, it's the backs that carry the new BiCentennial designs. Independence Hall won its place on the back of the half dollar, and the moon and Liberty Bell was chosen for the dollar reverse.

Sometime this week, the First National Bank should begin receiving the first of the circulating BiCentennial coins to be released — the Kennedy-Independence Hall half dollar.

Before the end of the year, the Federal Reserve System will have had the time to supply the nation's commercial banks with the newly redesigned quarter and dollar.

"To me, these coins — like all our coins — are symbols of our nation's 200 years of freedom."

Burlington pays vacation bonus

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Burlington Industries hourly-paid employees will receive vacation pay totaling some $10.5 million this fiscal year, company officials have reported.

Payments of approximately $5 million will be distributed to employees during the summer vacation period, coinciding generally with the Fourth of July holiday; similar payments of about $5.5 million were made during the Christmas holiday period last December. (Burlington's current fiscal year began October 1, 1974.)

Mrs. Brooks says, "They are small links with our historical and cultural heritage that we touch the hands of every man, woman and child in America."

"Liberty!" was the rallying cry of the American Revolution — and "Liberty" has been proclaimed and inscribed on each and every coin since the creation of the U. S. Mint in 1792.

Launching a national coinage was a big step in the formation of our young nation. "Now Mrs. Brooks says, "we are launching the most significant coinage change in the history of the Mint."

The new coin designs are expressions of the patriotic sentiments of grassroots America. Under the sponsorship of the Treasury Department, 200 designs were selected in a national $5,000 award competition and each of the new designs bear the winner's initials.

The winning design on the back of the quarter is the work of Jack L. Ahr of Arlington Heights, Ill. Seth G. Huntington of Minneapolis, Minn., executed the reverse on the half dollar. And Dennis R. Williams, a sculpture student at the Columbus College of Art and Design, Columbus, Ohio, designed the dollar reverse.

Library checks out 1,406 books in June

Post Public Library patrons checked out 1,406 books in June, one of the biggest circulation months if not the biggest in the library's history, according to Librarian Pee Wee Pierce.

This brought total circulation for the first six months of 1975 to 6,569 books and pointed the library toward a new circulation record for the year.

The "big month" included 894 adult books checked out and 602 by juveniles.

Seventy-seven new books were added to library shelves during the month bringing acquisitions for the year to 416 titles. Ten books were lost during the month bringing total for books lost in six months to 35.

The library's movie projector was checked out twice during the month along with five films and shown to a total estimated audience of 63, the librarian's month report shows. To date over 500 have seen movies or film strips shown either in the library or via checked out items.

The jigsaw puzzle department continues to be popular with 17 puzzles checked out during the month to bring the total puzzle circulation for the year to 97.

A total of $17.35 in overdue book fines, book sales and donations was received during June to bring such miscellaneous income for the first six months of 1975 to $160.21.

Beautiful, lazy summer days and a lot of visitors at the home this past week. As I have said, before this helps greatly to make their days.

Mrs. Myrtle Sherrell was visited by Ada Walker, Paul and Lois Sherrell and many others. Gus Sherrell brought fried pies for everyone Sunday afternoon. Everyone said they tasted like they were fresh out of the oven.

Mrs. Inklebarger was visited by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker.

Visiting Mrs. Grace Dunn was Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brannon, Mrs. Ed Ferguson, all of Amarillo and Mrs. Jewel Greenfield.

Cleo and Ollie Sappington, Paige McInroe and Janet Blacklock were here visiting Mrs. Lilly Longshore.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilborn L. Wheeler visited Irene Wheeler.

Visiting Mrs. Alma Lucas was James N. Lucas, of Sherman Oaks, Calif., and A. M. and Harold Lucas and Mrs. Marshall Reno.

Mrs. Jo Thomas had as her visitor, Thelma Thomas.

Mrs. George Newberry was visited by Mr. and Mrs. Coy Newberry.

Visiting Mrs. Blanch Clayton was Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Smith.

Other visitors to the home were Mattie Belle Fluit, A. P. and Evelyn Gurley, Patsy Sanderson, Mrs. Willie Durean, Lela Huntley, Mrs. Wade Terry, Lottie Sanders, Maudie Hankins, Bertha Printz, Burl Porterfield of Bull Head City, Ariz., and Kelly Barrington.

We wish to thank the First Baptist Church for the lovely flowers sent by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Burkes, from Greenwood S. C., and also for bringing the good message to the home last Sunday evening.

The Trinity Baptist Church will be here next Sunday evening at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Ruby Butler spent Sunday with her family and Mrs. Longshore also was out with her family Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lela Williams has gone home with her daughter for a two week visit.

Those of you who have quilt scraps, and you would like to donate them to the home, call 2031 and someone from the home will be glad to pick them up. They will be appreciated. Thank you.

By HARRY L. TRASK
 Botolph became Boston? It sure did — here's how.

In 684, a saxon monk, St. Botolph, founded a monastery 93 miles north of London. He called it St. Botolph's Town. In time, the saint was dropped and through slurred pronunciation and lost vowels, Botolph's Town came out Boston.

To escape persecution, John Winthrop, with a group of Puritans, left Boston and sailed to America. The New England community was named Boston after its English namesake.

They came to America for religious reasons; to establish the "purest church." They believed man was essentially sinful. Only the grace of God could save him, and that grace was not lightly given. Since few would obtain salvation there was no effort to convert sinners. The effort was focused on punishing transgressors.

Only the elite few who achieved grace were elected to church membership. But church attendance was compulsory for all. Believing that spiritual and communal lives were intertwined, the Puritan elders ran the church and the community. Few were eligible to vote. John Winthrop said, "Democracy is the meanest and worst of all forms of government." They persecuted dissenters. A minister said, "Tis Satan's policy, to plead for boundless toleration."

Prosperity and westward expansion diluted the influence of the "visible saints" in the "bible commonwealth." Finally the Revolution shattered the power of the Puritan dynasty.

The Puritan faith made enormous contributions to the developing American culture. It insisted on education. Within six years after the founding of Boston a college (Harvard) was created; a remarkable feat.

The Puritan spirit fostered "literary New England," as evidenced in the works of Thoreau, Emerson, Hawthorne, Melville and Dickinson.

The greatest impact was political. Puritan rule stressed limited government, self-government, individualism, control of members for community interest; contradictory concepts to be sure. Must man obey a law he believes morally wrong? Which comes first when a majority decision impinges on individual rights and liberties?

The Puritans never resolved these questions. And neither have we.

PAY BILLS To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly — never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with same firm result in a better record.

1976 applicants sought for service academies

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Omar Burlison reminds young men who are interested in competing for nominations to the service academies, for the class entering July 1976, he uses a competitive method of selection so that all young men who met the necessary requirements may be considered.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. These institutions offer a fine education and great opportunity for service to their country by young men who wish to follow a military career.

In order for Congressman Burlison to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: (1) He must be a U. S. citizen; (2) He must be over 17 and a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (3) He must be under 22 years of age on July 1, 1976; (4) He must never have been married; (5) He must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) He must have a good high school record.

Burlison stresses that political influence is not a factor in his nominations to the Academies. The important thing is not who you know but what you are.

Interested young men who meet the above requirements should write Congressman Omar Burlison, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515, no later than July 15. Examinations will then be scheduled as a rating device to set up slates for nomination. The competition is keen but Congressman Burlison wants to assure that all young men who are interested in a military career may have an opportunity to compete for nomination.

Babe Ruth All-Stars off to fast start in district meet

The Post Babe Ruth All-Stars (14-15 year-olds) edged Tahoka, 6 to 5, in a first round game of the Babe Ruth District tournament at Tahoka Monday night and were scheduled to play the feature game of last night's twin bill against Lamesa.

The second rounder results weren't available by the Dispatch's Wednesday presstime. Win or lose last night, the Post team was still in the running today as the tourney is a double elimination event. If Post lost last night the local team will play again tonight, but if they won they advanced into the Friday night finals. The Tri-City team (Denver City, Seagraves and Seminole) was eliminated with its second defeat Tuesday night, leaving Tahoka and Brownfield as the other teams still in the competition.

Post's BR seniors bow to Tahoka again, 14-7

Post's Babe Ruth Senior Club lost again to league-leading Tahoka here Monday night, 14 to 7.

Post has only one more game scheduled, that at Lamesa at 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Women's team beats Tahoka

The Post women's softball team traveled to Tahoka Monday night, July 7 and played the Tahoka women's team defeating them 24 to 14.

The locals collected 10 hits Monday night in one of their best bat outings of the summer. Fisher, Tooy, Camer drove in three runs in the opening inning when he hit a homerun with two mates aboard to push Post into a 3-1 lead.

District meet starts Monday

The Post Babe Ruth (13-year-old) All-Stars will journey to Denver City Monday night to open play in their double elimination district tournament there.

Tahoka went to work and scored five times in the second and had piled on a 14 to 3 lead before Post got some life back in its attack in the final inning and scored four times, putting together four hits, two errors and a walk.

Shortstop Garland Dudley collected three singles in four trips.

The Dispatch had not received information on the tournament bracket yesterday in time to include tourney pairings in today's edition.

Post will play Tahoka in LL tourney Monday

Post's Little League All-Stars will meet the Tahoka All-Stars in the Little League Area II tournament at Tahoka Monday night.

The feature game of the four-team single elimination affair is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Slaton will meet O'Donnell at 5:30 p. m. in the tourney opener.

On Tuesday night the two first round winners will clash at 7:30 p. m. for the tournament championship. The losers will play at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday for third place.

Sox grab title by six games

The White Sox won another Babe Ruth League championship last Thursday night by probably the biggest margin ever — six games over the Indians and Braves who tied for second with 8-7 loop records.

The Sox hammered the Cubs 10 to 6 in the season's final game and then were given the title trophy.

In other games that same night Southland forfeited to the Braves and the Braves also defeated the Cubs in a makeup game to pile into the runner-up tie with the Indians on the final night.

McDonald, who is 28, has coached the last three years at Slaton and for three years before that as junior high coach of all sports at McCamey.

At Slaton he coached junior high for the first two years and high school sports last year.

McDonald is a graduate of Sul Ross State University where he played center on the football team.

The new coach said he feels he is lucky to find a house here and wait for the football season to start. For coaches that begins in three weeks with the annual coaches school.

HOME FROM SURGERY

Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey has returned home following surgery at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock last Thursday. He is reported doing very well.

RETURN FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Bartlett returned home this week after a two weeks visit in St. Petersburg, Fla., with their daughter and family, Mrs. Durwin Sanders. Their granddaughter, Patty Sanders had surgery while they were there.

Tennis meet opens July 21

Play will get under way here July 21 in the third annual Garza County Tennis Tournament.

The two-week tourney run is scheduled to end Saturday, Aug. 2.

Play is scheduled in both men's and women's singles and doubles and in mixed doubles. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and consolation winners.

First round losers will play in the consolation bracket.

The entry deadline is Saturday noon, July 19.

Entries can be made calling Mrs. Ronald Storie, Mrs. Royce Hart, Mrs. Johnny Kemp, or Mrs. Dan Lamb.

What's in store for cattlemen as prices are concerned for the remainder of 1975? Although there's optimism in some circles due to current market prices and an increase in cattle feeding, it's a little early for cattlemen to be cheering," contends Dr. Uvacek, livestock market specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In fact, producers may be in for another drop in market prices as the year moves on. Uvacek advises cattlemen

Garza youth in bus wreck

Kendon Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vailton Wheeler of Southland, was among those injured Monday in a collision of a chartered bus and truck in West Siloam Springs, Okla. Kendon received only facial scratches and bruises, but was hospitalized Monday night for observation in a Fayetteville, Ark., hospital. He was scheduled to be released Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday morning.

The bus was chartered from Lubbock and was on its way to a youth training event to be held this week at Mount Sequoyah encampment near Fayetteville, and carried youth officers and youth adult coordinators in the Northwest Texas United Methodist Church Conference.

According to Oklahoma Highway Patrol reports, the bus was traveling east on Oklahoma 33, when a semi-trailer truck loaded with prefabricated building beams, swerved to miss a slowing car, and collided head-on with the bus about 11:30 a.m.

More beef will also result from large kills of non-fed steers and heifers and calves. Slaughter of non-fed steers and heifers is expected to be up 62 per cent during the last half of the year while calf slaughter should be up almost 70 per cent, according to the Texas A & M University System specialist.

"Cow-calf producers are loaded with calves that they will be marketing this summer and fall," points out Uvacek. "Many of them will be moving to feedlots, but the expected overflow is sure to bring feeder prices down."

"All this means a weaker cattle market during the remainder of this year," believes the specialist.

Boys Ranch rodeo July 12

SAN ANGELO — The 14th annual All Boy Rodeo at West Texas Boys Ranch will be held in the West Texas Boys Ranch arena, Saturday, July 12th, at 7 p. m., according to Buck Owens of Barnhart, rodeo chairman.

Featured attraction at this year's rodeo will be the San Angelo Saddle Club in a polo exhibition.

There is no admission charge to the rodeo. Barbecue will be served for $2 per plate, serving 5:30 p. m. until 7 p. m.

Boys Ranchers will be competing for All Around Cowboy trophy buckle and ribbons for each event such as calf riding, steer riding, goat sacking, goat tying and other events, Owens said.

Judging will be by Benny Friend and Bill Shaw of San Angelo with stock to be furnished by West Texas Boys Ranch.

Smallest town is recognized

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Connecticut has become the first state in the Union to have all of its eligible communities nationally recognized under the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration's (ARBA) Bicentennial Communities Program.

John W. Warner, Administrator of the ARBA, announced the recognition of 642 additional Bicentennial communities in June, bringing the total to 4,780 in the nation.

Connecticut's achievement, among other things, means that every citizen in the state's 169 towns and cities can now fly the national Bicentennial flag.

Lost Springs, Wyoming, population eight, was among the newly recognized communities. This rural community may be the smallest incorporated town in the United States. Despite its diminutive size, the area's Bicentennial committee has come up with an active Bicentennial program.

Lost Springs is building its July, 1976, celebration on plans taken from a 1926 issue of the "Lost Springs Times." That same year, Catherine Snyder Nuttall began teaching school in Lost Springs. She is still teaching school there today, and the town will show its appreciation with a special day in her honor.

Other Bicentennial projects in Lost Springs include renovating two cemeteries and the town hall, a family history and genealogy program and a compilation of school children's art depicting local history.

With the recognition of Lost Springs, the national Bicentennial Communities program now includes the nation's smallest community and its largest city

Shower for bride elect

Miss Melinda Nelson, bride-elect of James Morgan, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower June 28 from 10 to 11:30 a. m. in the Justiceburg Community Center.

The motif was carried out in blue and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors. Refreshments of cookies, coffee and spiced tea were served to the guests.

Special guests were Mrs. Troy Nelson, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Lee Morgan, mother of the groom, and Mrs. Jessie Boren, grandmother of the bride-elect.

Hostesses for the affair were Mmes. Mary Miller, Marietta Reed, Odella Bevers, Lillian Nance, Alta Pettigrew and Jo Ann Reed.

Hostess gift was a Presto Pressure saucepan.

— New York.
In numbers of communities recognized, New Jersey leads with 256, followed by New York, and Texas with 252 each.

Fresh fruits are top food buys for week

COLLEGE STATION — Fresh fruits head economy buys in the market this week, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, reported.

Currently soft fresh fruits — plums, nectarines, grapes, apricots, Bing cherries and peaches — are available in varying amounts at various price levels, the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, said.

"Other good fruit values are Valencia oranges, bananas, lemons, cantaloupes, watermelons and honeydew melons."

"Increasing supplies of fresh vegetables make this an ideal time to can extras. Those worth considering, pricewise, are soft shell squash, corn, carrots, snap beans, cabbage, green onions and potatoes."

More economical vegetable buys are lettuce, tomatoes, radishes and green onions.

Nonfat milk will continue in heavy supply for at least a month or more.

Fryer chickens are in good promotional favor, and Mrs. Clyatt suggested either chicken or an economical small turkey would make a good barbecue treat.

Grade A large size eggs continue to offer the best combination of quality and economy.

Turning to beef, she reported prices about the same as last week. In general, best beef values are round steaks and roasts, ground beef and chuck roasts and steaks.

Pork prices remain relatively high, but some good buys can be found by comparison shopping from newspaper ads, she said.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Consider the many forms of fish available. They add variety to the menu and protein for good nutrition.

Shooting the Breeze

By NAN HAIR

I had a chance to talk to Kent Kirkpatrick about the trip he and his two cousins, Mark and Cindy Kirkpatrick and his grandmother, Ruby Kirkpatrick made to the Holy Lands.

The trip began when the four of them caught a plane to Dallas. At Dallas they met the 260 people who made up the tour group. This tour was based in Fort Worth. They then boarded a chartered DC-10 to Athens, stopping only one time for refueling in Bangor, Maine.

I asked Kent what his impression was of Athens, Greece. He said, "I really didn't care for it. It may be because I was really tired. It was hot, and really crowded. I visited other parts of Greece after I had rested and I really liked them."

All during their time in Italy they were given military protection. Communism is very evident there. Posters are all over the city with the picture of the communist flag.

From Athens the tour group boarded a ship docked at Perciave, also chartered for their group only. The group would sail to different ports and then the group would tour the land by bus.

I asked Kent what it was like living on a ship. He told me, "there really wasn't that much to do. You were usually so tired you just wanted to go to sleep. A band played on the ship nightly for us."

What with all the fighting in the Middle East I asked Kent if he felt the tension while on the tour.

"Yes, oh yes," he said. "The first contact I had was when we docked in the port of Alexandria, Egypt. Our guide gave all of us strict instructions not to take any pictures or to even take our cameras out. Plain clothes inspectors might have boarded our ship and any cameras which were out would be opened and the film destroyed. There were Russian ships and gunboats all around us."

"We were very lucky to visit Lebanon when we did," continued Kent. "There was terrific fighting the week before we arrived and it resumed the day after we left. Our guide tried to 'sugar things over,' he told us all the fighting is over, we all want to live in peace."

"I didn't worry about it at the time. Well for instance one night we left Lebanon late to go back to the ship. I realized later that the bus driver really didn't want to even be in the city after dark. We drove with the interior lights of the bus on. This puzzled me. When we boarded the ship, I asked the guide why. 'Well we have to drive with the lights on so that snipers, seeing we are a tour group, would not open fire on us.'"

I asked Kent how the people reacted to them.

"People there love America," he said smiling. "They waved at us everywhere we went. One day Mark and I and some other guys our age stopped and talked to a group of boys our own age. They looked sorta cruddy, but you could tell they would never hurt us. All they asked about was boxing, which seems to be a big thing there, especially where Mo-language." Kent began telling me about entertainment they had on the ship. One night, a group of high school students boarded the ship and did Israeli folk dances for them.

"After they were finished they stayed on the ship and visited with us. The ship's band began to play and I was just standing there and one of the visiting girls just took me by the arm and we started dancing. People there are very emotional and they think nothing of demonstrating their affection. You see men walking hand in hand and the same for women it's just a natural thing to do," said Kent.

"In short the neatest thing about the whole trip was just getting to know the people, he said quite thoughtfully. 'In closing I want to say we just don't realize how lucky we are. People ought to go there and see life there. It makes quite an impact on you when all you see are tanks and armed soldiers lining the streets. I am really just glad to be home."

Kim Lott is going to leave the states July 20 to tour Europe. She is going with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lott of Lubbock. They plan to visit London, Paris, East and West Berlin, Germany, Sweden, Norway and Denmark. While in Norway they will attend a Boy Scout Jamboree which Kim's grandfather is involved in. Kim will return home August 16. I will interview Kim when she returns and she can tell me all about her trip.

For some reason I failed to list Moe Huff as an employee of H&M Construction. Now you can get "un-mad" at me Moe.

Jimmy Stanaford and Shorty Hester are employed by the city. Jimmy drives a shredder and Shorty is helping with the maintenance of the cemetery.

In all seriousness, it means a lot to see the cemetery in the excellent condition it is in. Often in the past it has been overgrown with unsightly weeds. I'm glad a conscientious youth has chosen this as his summer employment. In my opinion the first impression a traveler gets of Post is the condition of our highways and streets. Thanks to Jimmy and others the sights of Garza County will be unmarred by tall unsightly weeds and grasses along the roads.

Donita Bilberry from Crane, Texas is visiting Patricia Bilberry this week. Donita will be a Junior this year. Saturday night Patricia, Joe Moore, Donita and Jerry Tyler went to Lubbock to a show. It seems Donita got hold of some bad pizza, or it may have just been the fact that her date was Jerry.

The Youth Center has a movie scheduled every Friday night for the remainder of the summer. They will start about 8:30 p.m. Admission will be $1 for members and $2 for non-members. The movie this week will be "The Reivers" starring Steve McQueen.

It is an adventurous journey of Boon Hoggenbeck (Steve McQueen) and Ned McCaslin (Rupert Cross) as they show 12-year-old Lucious (Mitch Vogel) the way life really is. The journey is a spirited jaunt from rural Mississippi to Memphis in a yellow 1905 Winton Flyer, and a stay in the "big city."

Sounds like a real good one, so come on out and bring your date this Friday night at the Youth Center.

I won't have a column next week since I am going to Kansas to visit my brothers, Johnny Tom and Larry, and their wives, Alice and Donna. I'll make up for the absence of news when I get back. Everybody get wild while I'm gone and I'll write all about it when I return.

Don't miss the fantastic movie at the youth center this Friday night. You will make mom and dad happy since you won't need to use the car you fellows can take a whole week's paycheck and girls can look at the McQueen. Who could ask more?

As originally adopted by the Committee, it was proposed that a tax increase of 3 cents per gallon be placed on gasoline the first of 1976. Another possible 20 cents was to be added over a period of three years if consumption rose above the 1973 level. A tax on automobiles which failed to get 16.5 miles per gallon by 1977 would be taxes with increases over a five-year period unless a particular make of car reached 26 miles per gallon. These provisions were knocked out on amendments which left a system of quotas on imported oil and a system of tax credits for both private and commercial use when energy consumption was reduced by a set per cent.

Another bill now out of the interstate and foreign commerce committee which does not deal with taxes of any kind would roll back the price of "new oil." This is oil produced after 1973 now selling at the market price. Production of "old" oil now controlled at $5.25 per barrel would be allowed to increase over a period of five years to $7.50 per barrel which would establish one price for all domestic crude oil.

The measure provides for an allocation of gasoline by placing on all gasoline consumption. This measure, like the one passed, would also require auto manufacturers to meet a fleet average of 18.5 miles per gallon by 1978 up to 26 miles per gallon by 1985. It also gives the President standby authority to put into effect a rationing plan which must be first submitted and approved by the Congress.

There are about as many ideas in Congress on a so-called energy bill as there are members and suggestions from across the country arrive in every mail.

Most of the ideas here say that the American consumer of automobiles and gasoline must be rescued from their own folly in the use of fuel.

The Wall Street Journal recently compared some of the current ideas to Al Capp's cartoon character "Fearless Fosdick" who roams cities rescuing hapless citizens from eating poisoned beans by putting dollar-size holes in their heads with his special gun. The idea perhaps would be to eliminate every tenth motorist which would then save 10 per cent of gasoline consumption. Fearless Fosdick flying a B-52 could put out of business every automobile plant producing cars which average less than 15 miles per gallon and that situation would be taken care of.

The comparison with Fearless Fosdick then breaks down. It is clear why citizens should not eat poisoned beans. It is not clear why Congress should bludgeon Americans with a tax to conserve gasoline. It is difficult to apply remedies for energy conservation to all parts of the Country and have fairness. The cities have public transportation. The smaller towns and rural areas have to depend entirely on their automobiles.

All sorts of discrepancies crop up. For instance, no tax was placed on heating oil or other end-products of crude. Manufacturers of 60 watt light globes might not pay a penalty but the consumer gets socked with a $1 a piece for 100 watt globes. Builders who build three bedroom houses might pay a penalty of $3,000 but builders who turned out only two bedroom houses would not be taxed.

Nothing is simple in this whole problem and if practical approaches are presented, they will be completely in short order. Decontrol of oil and gas prices would doubtless run up the price, at least temporarily, but prices are going to increase

LETTERS To the Editor

ABOUT "ASSUMERS" REPORT

Dear Editor:
I would like to say just a few words about that "Assumers Report" that is aired on Saturday. I am ashamed to say the least. Maybe I should not be. My name has never been mentioned, up until now that is. Here in Post it's not quite as bad as it is on down the way. Most of us here know both sides of the story. But, those that hear all those tales about our mayor, our editor, our bank, and God knows what all, don't you know they might just drive right on through Post.

Even if part of what is being said is true, isn't it cruel? You know our big mouths and cold, cruel, spiteful, jealous things we say about people have ruined more lives than all the wars that were ever fought. Hell, I have been beaten for public office. It was not an in bad. I had planned to bang my head against that tree anyhow.

I came to Post almost 30 years ago and I am proud to say Post has been real good to me and I have never failed to brag on the town and all the people in and around it.

All people don't react the same when they get beat out. For instance our present sheriff, when he got beat he didn't run down through town pulling his hair. He went up and got himself hired out as a deputy sheriff and before I could get down to warn the mayor he had gotten himself appointed sheriff.

There are several ways to destroy a person. This one fellow wanted to get rid of his wife. His very best friend told him that he could love her to death in just a few weeks. You know after they buried him this friend said he still thinks that is a good idea. I think the best way to destroy an enemy is to make a friend out of him.

When we say all those cruel things about someone and they don't reply it doesn't mean they are guilty. It could be they have just a little more pride and self respect than some.

Yours truly,
Homer Gordon

Gospel meeting starts Monday

The Graham Church of Christ will be holding a gospel meeting, beginning Monday night, July 14, continuing through Sunday night July 20. Wayland McClellan, who was raised in the Graham community and is a graduate of Post High School, will do the preaching for the series of lessons.

Each service will begin at 8 p. m. and everyone is invited to attend all the services. Silas Short will be leading singing for the meeting.

Wayland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris McClellan and is presently serving the Helen Street Church of Christ in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

Fast, Friendly Face-To-Face Service.

Henry Tucker buried here

Services for Henry M. Tucker, 84, of Odessa were held July 5th in the Easterling Funeral Home Chapel with burial at 3 p. m. Sunday July 8 in Terrace Cemetery in Post.

Mr. Tucker died at 9:45 a. m. July 4 in Medical Center Hospital in Odessa after a brief illness.

He was born Oct. 25, 1890 in Cherokee County, Ala., and came to Texas in 1909. He was a retired carpenter and former employee of Post Public Schools for a number of years. He married Virginia Lawrence Oct. 12, 1913 in Wood County, Texas.

Survivors include two sons Max Tucker of Odessa and Crovis Tucker of Lubbock; three daughters, Juanita McBee of Brownwood, Maxine Cummings of Post and Marjorie Gearhart of Texline; three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Putnam of Pensacola, Fla., Adele Powers of Memphis, Tenn., and Belle Metz of Meridian, Miss.; 14 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

City court —

4 to 1 vote with Councilman Bill Pool opposed. He didn't think it was enough.

"Remember the judge could be called out at night," one commented.

"Don't rule out a woman for the job," another said. "They can make mighty tough judges."

In the meantime, Mrs. Wilkerson who in years past has had at least a touch of accepting guilty pleas, will spend a day in municipal court in Lubbock "to learn the ropes."

Harvey Morton, attorney for the city, will arrange for the "learning session."

Morton wrote the ordinance setting up the new city court in longhand as an emergency measure.

No decision was made about Robinson turning over any pending cases to the city.

"We'll send somebody over to see you in a few days," Mayor McCrary told Robinson.

The council passed over the second reading and final vote on the new dog ordinance after asking Morton to make at least three changes in the ordinance's wording because Post does not have a veterinarian locally available, and because Morton said he needed to study recent actions taken by the legislature as they might change the ordinance. He said he had just received the legislative material and hadn't had time to study it.

It was reported that city employees already have gotten the city dog pound renovated into several different pens, as will be required by the new ordinance.

The council set a three-item agenda for its July work session at 7:30 p. m. Monday, July 21. Included will be "the umpteenth look" at the dog ordinance, selection of a city judge, and an ordinance action (not involving rates) requested some months ago by General Telephone to clarify the city's utility position.

program.

If feature films go over, even a summer "film festival" of old classics may be attempted in August.

"Bed Knobs and Broomsticks" hasn't been shown on TV which is one of the reasons Librarian Pee Wee Pierce and Mrs. Mary Prather ordered it.

"We're hopeful everyone will enjoy a good wholesome movie and bring the whole family," Mrs. Pierce declared.

Pantoja recovers property in suit

District Judge George Hansard recently entered a summary judgement for the plaintiff here in Alberto R. Pantoja, et al., vs. Robert Greathouse his wife, Lupe, the Post Independent School District, the White River Municipal Water District, the City of Post and Garza County.

Pantoja was seeking return of a house and property sold about two years ago to Greathouse for $167.35 in a tax delinquent property sale. Pantoja alleged his property was not tax delinquent.

Judge Hansard ordered the school district to return the $167.35 paid by Greathouse for the property to Greathouse.

Warren rites at Marshall

Funeral services for Flossie Lea Warren, a resident of Post for two years, were held Tuesday at Marshall and Marshall Funeral Home in Whitney, Tex. Mrs. Warren was 76 years old.

Hudman Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

She was born in 1899 in Milano County, Texas and was married to R. L. Warren in 1945 in Dumas. She was a housewife and a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband, three sons, Tommy and Garland Baugus of Pawhuska, Okla., and J. B. Baugus; three step-sons, Bobby Warren of Munford, Tenn., and Alton and Ray Warren of Post; one step-daughter, Mrs. Jim Bennett of Wichita, Kans.; one brother, Guy Jacobs of Lockney two sisters, Mrs. Clara Neighbors of Quinlan, Tex., and Mrs. Eunice Locke of Stamford. Also six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

beef brisket were purchased for the affair and about 400 pounds of beef donated. The cooking went on all night with some 20 cooks working in two shifts.

The weather cooperated well to produce one of the coolest Fourth in memory, although a hard shower about 2 p. m. scattered the early arrivals.

That shower produced .18 of an inch of moisture to go with .12 of an inch which fell the evening before.

There was plenty of musical entertainment, a bit of square dancing as an exhibit although the new square dance club was short some hands because of holiday absences, with all the visiting, eating, and visiting topped off with a free fireworks display.

Eight sets of the C. W. Post Memorial Medals were auctioned off for a total of $1420. Kay Kirkpatrick bid in the No. 1 set of the four medals for $400.

Bernie Howell, Lubbock TV personality, conducted the auction for the Chamber.

Another $984.78 worth of the commemorative medals were sold through the afternoon and evening at the Chamber's medal booth.

Chamber Secretary Joy Greer told The Dispatch Tuesday that approximately $6,000 worth of the commemorative medals have been sold to date. The "break even figure" she estimated was $7,500.

Mrs. Pantoja rites Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Adela Pantoja, 79, a resident of Post for 41 years, were held Tuesday at 3 p. m. in the Holy Cross Catholic Church with Rev. Jim O'Connor, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Rosary was recited at 10 a. m. Monday at 615 Ave. F.

Mrs. Pantoja died in Garza Memorial Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

The former Adela Gusman, she married Albert Pantoja, June 29, 1916, in Cibola. She was a native of San Diego, Tex., and a lifelong member of the Catholic Church.

Survivors include her husband, three sons, Herbert of Post, Candido and Daniel, both of Amarillo; seven daughters, Mrs. Audencia Bustoz, Mrs. Irene Guajardo and Mrs. Louise Valdez, all of Post; Mrs. Tommie Gonzales of Amarillo, Mrs. Cenaida Hernandez of Garden City, Kan., Mrs. Valentina Carrizales of Lubbock and Mrs. Adelita Interrial of Galesburg, Ill.; a brother, Ernest Gusman of Dallas; 66 grandchildren, 60 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Segundo Bustoz, Danny Guajardo, Nicholas Pantoja, John Valdez, Frank Hernandez and Steve Carrizales.

School board meets---

interior paint job and the fastening of student lockers to the walls.

In the high school building, roof-top air conditioners would be installed for the library and learning center; valves would be reworked and gas, water and sewer lines reconnected to lab tables in biology class room, and tile installed in one high school classroom.

In personnel actions, trustees accepted the resignations of Mrs. Lea Mock and Mrs. Kay Pace from the teaching staff and employed a new junior high math teacher, a new coach to replace Mr. Brown, and employed Mrs. Marsha Norman as the fifth special education teacher subject to state financial approval.

Lee (Bud) Davis also was extended a contract for the new school year as the junior high principal.

The new math instructor is Arthur Tunnell, who will come to Post from New Mexico. He has no teaching experience. The new coach is Carroll McDonald who already has moved to Post from Slaton.

Supt. Bill Shiver reported he now has only four faculty positions unfilled for the 1975-76 school year — two elementary teachers, a new elementary school librarian, and the new tennis coach the board voted to employ.

The administrator then led off a discussion of school finances by reporting the latest figure for a necessary tax increase under the new state school financing law for next year is $62,222.13. He said the following year when 1975 property valuations are used (Post had a large increase in all valuations this year) this need will be boosted to around $110,000 if the full present program is retained.

Shiver pointed out that any budgetary cuts to avoid these tax increases are policy decisions for the board to make "but I will supply you with all information and I will give you my opinions when you ask for them."

Trustees still have not set the school district's tax rate for next year pending final outcome of the study of the new state financing plan passed by the recent legislature. That action probably will come next month.

The board in another action at the meeting, which will replace the regular July meeting, approved a depository pledge contract agreement with the First National Bank.

Also during the meeting, Harold Lucas appeared before trustees saying he could no longer afford to provide two new pickups to the vocational agricultural department in the high school for $50 a month each. In view of rapidly increasing prices, he asked $100 a month for each pickup. Trustees took the request under advisement.

The printing of the 1975 football programs was awarded to The Post Dispatch on a low bid of $475.

There were no bids made on either gasoline or oil.

Gulf was low bidder for anti-freeze for school buses, if needed, at $4.50 per gallon. McCowan's Texaco was the only bidder on the washing and greasing of school buses at $20 a bus.

The lunchroom milk contract was awarded to Borden Co. on a low bid of 10.25 cents per half pint for chocolate milk and 9.25 cents for regular milk.

very sorry mess when it isn't.

That is bothering Chamber Secretary Joy Greer just down the block, so she called David Newby, who built the garden himself in a volunteer effort several years ago, to see what could be done about it.

David proposes a "hoeing party" of volunteers Saturday morning, starting at 9 a. m. to clean the garden up again. After that, Newby reports there still remains $90 in donations to the garden which were contributed when the garden was built. He says this money can be used to hire a gardener two hours each week for the rest of the summer to keep it that way.

If any of you members of the Broadway Beautification Bunch are reading this do your best to report at 9 a. m. Saturday and it won't take but 90 minutes or so, and the garden will be in shade at the time. If you weren't a BBB volunteer, you can be a new one now by showing up Saturday.

The garden is too nice a tourist attraction not to be kept in top eye appeal condition.

Will Parker called from the bank Tuesday to report that the First National has received a "limited supply" of the new Bicentennial half dollars (see story on page 2 with pic). Will says the bank will receive more of the new 50-cent pieces each week so patrons don't have to hoard them.

Last but not least we're hoping for a real turnout next Thursday night when the library makes a trial run on a full length movie feature. It will be one of the all-time classics that the small youngsters will enjoy as well as adults. Let's make a family night out of it. If this one is well enough attended, and financially supported to the extent of paying the film rental charge, the library plans more of same. So mark it down on your calendar and join the "fun crowd" at the library.
