involved had a Slaton crew aboard with R. L. Henry the engineer. It remained in Post almost two hours after the accident.

This was the second fatal accident at the Main street crossing in less than 17 months with an injury accident also reported at the same crossing during this period. All three of these accidents involved pickups.

Over the years several other persons have been killed at the crossing.

Sheriff Holleman told The Dispatch he understands the Santa Fe Railroad has budgeted the installation of crossing gates at such major crossings as safety measures and thinks one is scheduled for Post, but is not sure when.

Post's Santa Fe agent, Nathan Small, said he did not know any details of the crossing gate program but thought that some had been budgeted.

The Dispatch attempted Wednesday morning unsuccessfully to reach K. C. May, the Santa Fe's division superintendent, in Amarillo concerning the possibility of a crossing gate for Post, but May was out of town.

Funeral services for Carter will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church of Crosbyton with burial to follow in Crosbyton Cemetery. The King Funeral Home of Crosbyton is in charge of arrangements.

Carter, who lived with his mother, Nellie Ruth Carter in Crosbyton, was a linebacker on the high school football team, was a member of the track team and of the lettermen's club.

He worked part-time for Growers Seed of Crosbyton while attending school.

CONDEMNED AS FIRE, HEALTH HAZARD

Ancient hotel building is facing demolition

The old Ameen Hotel's days apparently are numbered.

The two-story structure at the corner of Main Street and Avenue I, originally the Algerita Hotel, has been condemned as both a fire and a health hazard, and the Post city council voted unanimously Monday night to confer with three other taxing agencies about what to do with the structure.

Indications are that the fast-deteriorating native stone building will be demolished and the 40-foot front, half-block long location cleared.

The hotel property, which has been vacant for nearly 20 years, was acquired a few years ago via the delinquent tax route by the City of Post, Garza County, Post Independent School District and White River Municipal Water District.

The building is in such a state of disrepair that the cost of renovating it would be prohibitive, the council indicated at its meeting Monday night.

The roof is caving in, there are structural breaks in at least two places at the rear of the building, the basement is flooded with water, and the upstairs window glasses are being broken out by rock-throwing vandals.

The glass windows on the building's ground floor have escaped breakage through being boarded up a few years ago in a renovation project spearheaded by David Newby. The boarded up windows were also repainted to improve the front's appearance.

The council indicated that the old hotel building is a constant fire hazard because it can easily be broken into and set afire.

"If such should happen, we more than likely would have a more disastrous Main Street fire than we had when Wacker's Store burned," Mayor Giles C. McCrary said at Monday night's meeting.

The council was told by the mayor that it would cost "from $800 to $1,200" to get the building demolished, and that the hauling away of debris and other clearing of the site would cost "considerably more."

Mayor McCrary said the county had agreed to help the city in paying for the demolition of the building, and that both

Scout troop in 44th year

Post's Boy Scout Troop 316, which has just been re-chartered for its 44th year of operation under Rotary Club sponsorship, now has 32 boys in its membership. Scoutmaster Jimmy Mitchell told Post Rotarians in a Scouting program at their Tuesday luncheon.

Mitchell reported 20 of the Scouts in the troop recently went on a weekend camporee to Silver Falls, east of Crosbyton, with other troops and drew a drenching rain "as we usually do" on our outings.

He said the troop will attend summer camp this year at Camp Post because of the fuel shortage and because the camp here has a fine program for young scouts, "of which we have many."

Mitchell introduced Roger Robertson, Scout executive, from Rails, who reported over 10,000 boys enrolled in the South Plains Council's Scouting program and who showed a movie on Scouting.

Meals on Wheels gets last $1400

Mrs. Ann Tubbs has received a final $1,400 check from the South Plains Community Action Association, Inc., of Levelland to finance the Post Meals on Wheels program for "as long as it lasts."

She predicts it will carry the program through to June.

Although SPAG just this week received a $50,000 grant for the elderly to establish a program in the South Plains area, it is not known if such a program will be set up and if so if the program here would qualify for further federal funding.

The SPAG is unable to obtain further funding through former sources.

According to newspaper reports, Lubbock's Meals on Wheels program also is in its final stages of federal funding.

Little Britches Rodeo to start

There'll be roping, riding and bucking at the Post Stampede Rodeo arena this Friday night with the opening of the 4-H Clubs' Little Britches Rodeo, which is to continue through Saturday night.

The total number of entries is around the 275 mark, according to Fred Myers. Stock is being furnished by Doc Edwards of Girard, with three age divisions for contestants this year, instead of only two, as last year.

Myers said a new all-metal announcer's stand has been built at the arena to replace the wooden stand burned by vandals last Halloween. "The new stand is four feet longer than the old one," Myers said.

Boren funeral set for today

Services for Jack Boren, 62, who died Monday night at his home in Olney, are to be held at 2 p. m. today at the Post Church of Christ. Burial will be in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

VOTERS GO WITH STATE, AREA WINNERS

Commissioners re-elected in light turnout here Saturday

In the lightest primary election turnout in over a decade — only 1,655 voters — Garza Democrats Saturday renominated County Commissioners Ted L. Aten and Herbert Walls for new four-year terms in the county races, and gave Gov. Dolph Briscoe a slightly smaller margin of victory in the county over Frances "Sissy" Farenthold than they did two years ago.

Despite the small turnout everything was settled, so no runoff primary will be required.

Although State Rep. W. S. (Bill) Healy won over a two-to-one margin of victory in the sprawling 101st Legislative District, Garza voters favored the challenger — one of their own L. Max Courtney of Southland — by 525 to 403 votes.

In the latest available count Tuesday, Healy held a 11,996 to 5,128 lead over Courtney in district totals with only two boxes, totaling about 500 votes, not figured in the totals.

There were few surprises anywhere Saturday, but Garza Demos helped in one of them when they gave Kent Hance, 31-year-old Lubbock attorney, a slim 501 to 474 vote lead over State Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard.

That was the closest race of the day in the county.

Hance piled up a 4,000 vote margin in Lubbock County to win the nomination away from Blanchard by 3,000 votes, 25,154 to 22,154, in the 13-county district.

Governor Briscoe rolled up 699 votes to Farenthold's 282 with only 35 for the other two candidates in the race. Two years ago Briscoe got 721 in Garza County to 283 for "Sissy."

In the County Commissioner Precinct 2 race, Aten won by a 52-vote margin over L. E. (Sonny) Gossett Jr., 193 to 141, with each man winning his home precinct of the two-precinct district, but Aten by a 61-vote margin in his, precinct No. 8, 78 to 17, whereas Gossett Blessed is the mother . . .

Although it has been used over and over, "A Mother's Beatitude," by Lenora Zearfoss still ranks as one of the most outstanding tributes to mothers everywhere as "her day" approaches.

A MOTHER'S BEATITUDE

Blessed is the mother who understands her child, for she shall inherit a kingdom of memories.

Blessed is the mother who knows how to comfort, for she shall possess a child's devotion.

Blessed is the mother who guides by the path of righteousness, for she shall be proud of her offspring.

Blessed is the mother who is never shocked, for she shall receive confidences.

Blessed is the mother who teaches respect, for she shall be respected.

Blessed is the mother who emphasizes the good and minimizes the bad, for in like manner the child shall make evaluations.

Blessed is the mother who treats her child as she would be treated, for her home shall be filled with happiness.

Blessed is the mother who answers simply the startling questions, for she shall always be trusted.

Blessed is the mother who has character strong enough to withstand the thoughtless remarks and resentments of the growing child, for again, in due time, she shall be honored.

First time for everything

We did it! We really did it! We kept our editorial silence during a whole primary election campaign. We didn't think it was possible.

We do not believe in saying things we don't mean. So we just didn't say anything.

The Dispatch aims to take an independent political stance. We prefer to endorse the particular candidate if we find one to our liking.

The Dispatch years ago adopted the attitude of an editorial "hands off" on local races. There is a good psychological reason for this. Since editorial endorsements mean little, if anything, they possibly can hurt a candidate one likes and help the one you don't. That's because the editorially-favored candidate would become "The Dispatch's candidate."

That is a negative reaction on the readers'

We need more like him

Among the many delegates to the Constitutional Convention we do not know is Bill Hilliard of Tarrant County, but we'd like to know Mr. Hilliard better, if for nothing more than to tell him that we are in complete agreement with his stand that tax funds should not be wasted to mail a copy of a proposed Constitution to every family throughout Texas.

"We're talking about $1 million in tax money," Hilliard said in regard to the wholesale mailing of copies of a proposed Constitution.

The Tarrant County delegate's statement came after Convention President Price Daniel part, but it is all too true in the emotionalism of politics.

Anyway, we sat one out, the first in a long, long time.

Before we get off the subject, we'll add one more political observation about appealing to everybody to be sure and vote.

We used to make those appeals regularly too. But it is a good way to foul up a democracy to exhort a bunch of voters to the polls who don't care, haven't taken any interest in the campaign, or even know the candidates by name (though with the TV saturation now it is difficult not to be aware of at least some of them with lots of money to spend.)

We much prefer to see everybody vote who wants to vote, is interested in voting, and has an opinion to express on his or her ballot.—JC

AS MOST EVERYONE had predicted it would be, Saturday's Democratic primary election was a tame affair in Garza County. It was so tame, in fact, that the county will not have to hold a runoff election. It may be the first time in the county's history that a runoff election has not been necessary—we're doing some checking to see if that is correct.

The "fireworks" didn't start Saturday until about two hours after the polls closed. That's when the rain and the most severe electrical storm of the season hit. So, with tornado alerts out and a few other things going on, it wasn't such a dull day after all, even though the election can't be given any of the credit for livening it up.

THE MAN UP the street says man differs from a machine in that he is seldom quiet when well-oiled.

Someone tells me that I didn't miss much by not getting to watch the telecast of the Kentucky Derby Saturday afternoon on account of holding an election. Listening to a transistor radio in between lightning flashes after getting home from the polls Saturday night, I heard a sports announcer reporting the derby and when he named the winning horse, I thought he said "Candidate." When I told my wife, she said, "Oh, you've still got your mind on the election. Cannonade won the derby." So, my wife either hears a lot better than I do, or reads the sports pages more than I thought she did.

CONGRATULATIONS TO our elementary and junior high school students on winning the district literary meet held here last week. In reading the results in today's Dispatch, you don't get the whole story on one event—fifth and sixth grade spelling, in which Post won first and second. Fifth grader Kevin Craig was the first place winner, and sixth grader Donna Baumann the second place winner—yet neither of them missed a word. How it happened was that they just kept trying, word after word, until the judges had to settle the contest by judging their papers for neatness. That is where Kevin shaded Donna by just a little. So, that makes them both champions as far as spelling is concerned.

808 A woman in Boston was having trouble parking 24 feet of car in 23½ feet of space. The traffic policeman took all the bumping and banging of fenders he could, walked over and said, "Look, lady, just park as much of it as you can!"

IN CATCHING UP on my mail, I find a note from Ben Howell of Houston and a clipping on the legendary country music veteran Floyd Tillman, who used to live in Post. "Some time ago you wrote about Floyd Tillman. Just thought you'd be interested in this item," said Ben in his note. The clipping told of a program KIKK disc jockey Bill Bailey put on at the state women's prison at Goree with the help of Floyd, Mickey Gilley's band and a few other musicians. "Floyd Tillman had the audience whooping and hollering over 'Slipping A-round,' 'Driving Nails in My Coffin' and others," the newspaper article reported.

And there's also a short note from Roy Miller of Lancaster, Calif., father of the Rev. George L. Miller of Post. Mr. Miller writes: "I'm sure I've told you before how much we enjoy the Post Dispatch and look forward to receiving it each week. I keep pretty close tabs on who is in and out of the hospital and tribulations of the police department, traffic accidents, who went to Lubbock, etc., as well as George's 'Listening Post'."

MAYBE I'M JUST unable to stay abreast of modern farming methods, but it seems to me that the agriculture yearbooks of 50 or 60 years ago contained simpler language and more common sense than those of today. For instance, the Yearbook of the Texas Department of Agriculture 1914 contained the following information, which might be entitled, "Straight From the Horse's Mouth."

Every horse has six teeth above and below. Before three years old he sheds his middle teeth; at three he sheds one more on either side of the central tooth; at four he sheds two corner and last of the foreteeth. Between four and five, the horse cuts the under tusks; at five will cut the upper tusks, at which time his mouth will be complete.

At six years, the grooves and hollows begin to fill up a little; at seven, the grooves will be well-nigh filled, except the

Texas crime rate up by 1 pct., DPS reveals

Colonel Wilson E. ... director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, ... revealed today that the Texas crime rate last year rose by 3.1 percent.

He said 492,654 major offenses were committed in 1973 for a rate per 100 population of 4,177.2. In 1972, the rate was 4,051.9.

In urban areas of Texas there were 449,997 offenses as compared to 4,900 in rural sections of the state, the crime rate was 12.7 per cent from the total in 1972. Rural areas totaled 43,557 compared to 49,334 the previous year, the largest increase in crime rate in the robbery category, up 17.1 per cent over 1972. Murders and homicides were down by 2.1 per cent. In other types of criminal activity, these rate increases were noted by the DPS: rape, 1.5 per cent; burglary, 2.8 per cent; aggravated assault, 1.1 per cent; theft, 2.9 per cent; and auto theft, 2.4 per cent.

Spir said that if the major crimes in Texas during 1973 had been evenly distributed as to frequency, there would have been one such offense every minute of every day.

The Department of Public Safety's 1973 crime report, in an analysis of offenses by population density, noted that the crime rate rose faster, generally, in cities of less than 100,000 population than in the largest metropolitan centers.

Spir said population estimates compiled by the Census Bureau and obtained through the FBI were used in calculating crime rates in the 1973 DPS report.

The statewide crime clearance rate for 1973 was 26 per cent — the same figure as was noted in 1972. The DPS said the highest clearance rates were associated with crimes against persons with 88 per cent of the murders, 70 per cent of the aggravated assaults and 61 per cent of the rapes cleared by police agencies.

The statewide robbery clearance rate last year was 35 per cent and a 24 per cent clearance rate was observed for thefts. The auto theft clearance rate stood at 19 per cent and there was an 18 per cent clearance rate for burglary.

? Your Name ?

WHAT'S IN IT?
By CHARLES DIDWAY

BUSH

Both trees and shrubs have supplied surnames to multitudes of people. The shrub classification includes such names as Bush, Thorn, Heath and Nettles.

The English surname Bush, derived from the Old English "busce," indicated one whose home was in or near a thicket of brush, and the name Richard de la Busce is found in Yorkshire, England, as early as 1181. In 1384, a Roland atte Bushe is listed on the London Calendar of Pleas and Memoranda Rolls, indicating how the name was evolving into its present form of Bush.

There is also a possibility of the name having been derived from a shop sign, as were many of today's surnames. A bush, a bunch of ivy or evergreen tied to the end of a pole and hung outside a shop designated a wine merchant. These tavern signs sometimes projected over the highway so as to impede travelers, and laws were promulgated to regulate their length. There is an old English proverb: "Good wine needs no bush."

The German equivalent of Bush is Busch and many emigrants from Germany anglicized their name to Bush after arriving in this country. Not all did so, however, since Busch ranks among the 2,000 most common surnames in the United States, with an estimated 20,000 persons of the name.

Bush itself is the 305th most common surname in the U. S., with government figures showing an estimated 77,000 persons of the name.

Eminent Americans named Bush have included Charles Green Bush, born in 1842, who succeeded the famous Thomas Nast as cartoonist for Harper's Weekly, and Dr. Leonard Franklin Bush, who in recent years established the first bone bank in this country in a New York City Hospital.

Club planning bicycle rodeo

The El Tejas Club met Thursday, May 2, in the Community Room of the First National Bank with seven members present. Discussion of the Caprock Convention held in Lubbock recently was held. Members voted to sponsor a bicycle rodeo to be held May 30 in the Piggly Wiggly parking lot. Ages and details will be announced at a later date. Sgt. Potluck by Rosemary Chapman

Where have all the streakers gone? I can't decide if they're boning up for final exams or if the fad has simply faded into oblivion swifter than most. A couple of months ago, one of the New Mexico television stations had an hour special on streaking. Earl, the kids, and I caught it in Ruidoso and we laughed so long and so hard we decided to vote it "Our Favorite Special of All Time." The kids at the University of New Mexico were trying to set a world record for most streakers at any one streak and they did. The four of us, at any rate, had never seen so many shiny, bare, white little bottoms before. The leader of the group was known as "Captain Streak." His interview was conducted in a baseball cap, dingy tennis shoes, and nothing, absolutely nothing else. As the captain said, "It sure beats blowing up schools." Since then, of course, we've had streakers at weddings, streakers at the Academy Awards, streakers everywhere. We've even had streakers in POST, for heaven's sake. Those were the days. I wonder what's going to be next? Speaking of specials, if you have a copy of the May "Arizona Highways" special pottery issue, kindly observe the Tony Da piece in the upper left corner of page 13 and the bottom right corner of page 30 as well as the Joseph Lonewolf piece in the middle of page 39. Those are Chapman pots! Ol' Bob Macy and Cliff Richey certainly did wax those other two dudes at the Lubbock Museum Tennis Benefit last Sunday. Hurray for our side! On the way up to the match, Earl and Syd Wyatt decided that we should make a large banner to wave for the Post boy. However, after considering "Macy's Masses", "Macy's Messes," and "Mash'em, Macy," etc., we thought that Bob might do better if we didn't wave a banner. Once there, Syd came up with yet another bright idea. He thought that Emily and I should run on the court, pass by Cliff Richey without a glance, and

VEGETABLE INDUSTRY

Home vegetable gardens could actually be a boon to the fresh vegetable industry in Texas, believes a vegetable specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He feels that the taste of fresh homegrown vegetables will "turn on" many homeowners and cause them to buy more fresh produce. In recent years the trend has been away from purchasing fresh vegetables to increased buying of canned, frozen and instant produce. Home gardening will also give consumers a much better appreciation of the commercial vegetable industry, as they have to contend with the weather, insects and diseases — plus additional expenses and labor.

Two Southland students place in literary meet

By MRS. ROBERT MOCK
In the state meet at Austin Amanda Wheeler earned a third place in editorial writing and sixth in spelling. Jeannie earned a fifth place in typing. They and their sponsors spent a hectic two days there, just busy from early till around 10 p. m. and didn't have time for any recreation.

Mrs. C. E. Basinger is visiting in the home of her son, Don for awhile. She has just returned from visiting her other two sons, Bill at Mercedes and Harlon at San Antonio. She enjoyed beautiful weather while we had those sandstorms.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hallman visited friends on a ranch near Newcastle. They caught a few fish from the tanks on the ranch.

Patsy Marker and children visited her sister, Karen Cowdrey and family in Wichita Falls last week. Both ladies are daughters of the Weldon McGehees.

C. L. Mason was home after being in the Morton hospital at Dallas for several weeks. He will be going back Tuesday for a checkup. It's really good to see him back and of course the recent rains really made him feel 100 per cent better.

The Willie Beckers' recent visitor was Miss Teresa Foster, their granddaughter. She attends Texas Tech and lives near Canyon Gin.

Mrs. Becker hosted an appliances party Monday afternoon. There were 17 ladies who enjoyed the displays as well as refreshments and a good time.

Mrs. Agnes Rinker and daughter Tommie carried the children to Amarillo for a band contest. Tommie and J. A. Davis live in New Deal. Agnes and Tommie also visited her sister, Mrs. Grace Kane a while in Amarillo.

Edmund and Tommie Wilke just returned from a fishing trip at Lake Spence along with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang from Slaton. They were trying to catch a "stripper." These are a new breed of fish being introduced to fresh water lakes.

They are usually found in the ocean and resemble the white bass except for black stripes on their sides. Leroy caught one that weighed five pounds and really had to work to land him. They are really a game fish. The two couples also caught a good many white bass.

Robert and I drove down to Lake Thomas to look things over. It's pretty dry and low now but there were quite a few people fishing around the dam. The man running the old "Boys" lodge has built a really nice boat ramp so the lake would only have to come up a little to be able to use it.

Gary Lester and Jackie Moore are planning to be married June 1 at the Methodist Church at Graham. Gary is the son of Mrs. Doris Lester and Jackie is the daughter of Gene Moore. Gary is employed by Mack Terry and they plan to live on the farm.

Jeannie Adamek's mother, Mrs. W. E. Shelton, visited with Pat, Jeannie and the girls last week. Mrs. Shelton lives in Lovington, N. M.

There was reported to have been a good crowd at the cemetery Monday for clean-up day.

The Southland Boosters will be cooking this Thursday, getting ready for the athletic banquet. Burl Huffman, Athletic Director of Tech, was to be the speaker but he suffered a heart attack and Dale Evans, assistant football coach, will replace him.

Everyone is urged to attend this banquet and honor the boys and girls who have really done an outstanding job in all sports.

Ray Lynn Basinger, son of Mrs. Virgil Smith will graduate from Slaton High School this year. He plans to go into farming with Virgil. His grandmother is Mrs. C. E. Basinger.

Max Courtney who was running for representative from this district was defeated although he received an impressive number of votes. Max had no backers at first or any organization or group supporting him. It is people like this who is willing to put their own time and money and effort into this kind of endeavor, and take the chance of losing, because they believe they have ideas and abilities to serve the people in government. That makes me proud to be an American. Congratulations for a fine race, Max, and that congratulations should be extended to all of the men and women that ran for office — winners or losers. Many Americans appreciate your giving us the chance to choose.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Overby, former residents and employee at Hackberry Co-op, are parents of a new baby boy, born Saturday morning. The family now lives in Post.

Peril At The Bank

Henrietta was waiting to cash a check at the neighborhood bank when a man in the next line began firing a pistol. One of the bullets struck her in the leg. Later, after getting more facts, she decided she was entitled to collect damages from the bank.

"It was a holdup," Henrietta explained in a court hearing, "and the man ordered the teller not to move. Instead of obeying, the teller dived down behind the counter. That is when the holdup man started to shoot. If the teller had not panicked, I would not have been injured. And a bank is legally liable for the negligent acts of its employees."

But the court turned down her claim, refusing to condemn the teller for his instinctive reaction.

"His life was in jeopardy," said the court. "He cannot be held to perfect judgment under the circumstances."

Although a bank does owe extraordinary care for the safety of your money, it owes only ordinary care for the safety of your person. If you get hurt on the bank's premises, you cannot collect damages unless you can prove negligence.

Thus, in a more everyday situation, a bank was held not liable to a man who slipped on its front step. The step, although somewhat worn, was no more hazardous than one might encounter almost anywhere.

Of course, reasonable precautions must be taken. In another holdup case, a man with a bomb told bank officials he would blow the place up if they did not hand over $10,000.

They managed to stall him for almost 20 minutes. Yet, they neglected to warn an unsuspecting customer to get out of harm's way.

Finally the bomb did go off, injuring the customer. In due course, a court held the bank liable. The court said even though the bank was not to blame for the bombing, it was indeed to blame for not giving the customer fair warning of his peril.

Tour made Tuesday of Close City

The Close City Community Club was host for the tour of communities in the Texas Community Improvement Program Contest, Tuesday, May 7. This is the 10th year for Close City to enter the contest, and it has won a cash award every year.

The contest is sponsored by the Texas Extension Service and 10 electrical companies of Texas and Louisiana.

James Mitchell, vice president of the club, acted as master of ceremonies. He gave the invocation and welcome.

The judges and guests were introduced by Syd Conner, county agent. The judges were Mr. Bill Gunter, District 2 agent from Lubbock; Mrs. W.

D. Fortenberry Jr., from New Deal and Mrs. Catherine Crawford, District 2 extension agent.

Mrs. Walter Boren, president of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robinson were guests.

Robinson gave a brief account of his years at the Close City School. Mrs. Mike Custer gave a short history of Close City and Mrs. Custer brought the history up to the present.

Mrs. Bernie Jones reported on the improvements in the community. There have been three new homes built, five new mobile homes moved in and 18 homes remodeled. Fifteen new families have moved into the community. Five old home-steads have been removed and areas cleaned.

The members of the Close City Community Club meets the third Saturday night of every month for a covered dish dinner and games.

Mrs. Aubrey Ritchie reported on Close City Home Demonstration Club. There are 12 members and they meet twice a month.

Mrs. Clarence Gunn gave a report on the Close City 4-H Club.

After the program, an inspection tour was made by the judges and 20 members. Homes toured were those of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sappington, Ricky Bash, Charles Morris, Ronald Thomas and Mike Custer.

Coffee and doughnuts were served before the tour began.

Mother's Day service set

Edgar L. Fox, minister of the First Christian Church, has announced that his sermon titles for this coming Sunday will be: 11 a. m., "Great Mothers"; 7 p. m., "His Majesty, King the Devil."

Mothers will be recognized and given a favor at the 11 a. m. worship Sunday. The public is invited, and especially mothers, Rev. Fox said.

Other Sunday services will be: Church School, 9:45 a. m., and CYF, 6 p. m. Fellowship Hall.

Mid-week prayer service will be at 7 p. m. in the church parlor. A special filmstrip, "Beyond Hearing," will be shown.

The church board meeting will be at 7 p. m. April 15.

PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Preliminary statistics on cotton ginnings from the U. S. Bureau of Census show the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of Lubbock, accounted for 2,779,805 gin-run bales or 15.5 per cent of a 12,594,370-bale national crop. High Plains ginnings come to 61.7 per cent of the 4,500,544-bale Texas total, according to PCG figures.

The national average net weight per bale ginned from the 1973 crop was 493.8 pounds, so the U. S. running bale total converts to 12,956,458 bales of 480 pounds net weight. In Texas average net bale weights were 501.9 pounds, highest in the nation, bringing the net weight bale total for this state to 4,705,881.

Although official figures are not compiled, indications are that the average weight of gin-run bales on the High Plains was higher than both state and national averages. The average net bale weight from three area compresses checked by PCG came to 503 pounds. If this figure is applied to all High Plains cotton, the area ginnings in net weight bales comes to just over 2.9 million, well above the 2,725,000 net weight bales estimated earlier by the joint PCG-Lubbock Cotton Exchange Estimating Committee.

The Bureau of Census ginning figures are broken down by counties but are not an accurate indication of county-by-county production because of significant amounts of cotton produced in one county and ginned in another. Actual county production figures in net weight bales will be released later by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, and these will be used as the "official" High Plains production figures.

The trend to heavier bale weights, begun in 1971 as the natural result of the change to net weight trading and more expensive bagging and ties, is expected to end in 1974 because of new Texas Cotton association trade rules which impose stiff penalties on both heavy and light weight bales. TCA members handle some 80 per cent of the Texas crop each year, and its trade rules for 1974 call for a penalty of $5 on bales weighing from 330 to 379 pounds and from 551 to 575 pounds. Below 330 pounds and above 575 pounds the penalty will be $10 per bale, plus the "right to reject." Only bales weighing between 380 and 550 pounds will escape penalty and this will force a deliberate reduction in bale sizes, PCG reasons.

The penalties, according to TCA, were adopted as a result of loading problems caused by odd sizes and broken bands at Texas ports.

Listening Post

By GEORGE L. MILLER

George Mahon selected a set of Shakespeare's plays to display in the new Lubbock Library as an example of a basic book that belongs in every library.

Along with Shakespeare he chose a Bible and a copy of "Pilgrim's Progress" by John Bunyan. They will be kept in a glass case under lock and key, a reminder of the books that meant the most to Mr. Mahon when he was growing up and his choice for the finest titles in the literature of the world.

It seems appropriate that they are locked up and not to be circulated to the public. As outstanding as they are, few people besides scholars are interested in reading them any more.

This is particularly true of Shakespeare's genius. His plays are the highwater mark in the history of theatre. Every serious actor considers himself come-of-age when he performs Shakespeare.

Shakespeare, the poet and playwright, was so influential with his writing that his name graces an age and his language permanently altered the language of England. Quotes,

Seaman Rosas Completes training

Navy Seaman Apprentice Antonio Rosas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio M. Rosas Jr. of 310 North Ave. M, and whose wife Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Rodriguez of 503 South Ave. M of Post, Tex., graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

He received nine weeks of intensive instruction in seamanship, small arms training, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and naval history.

He will now report to a formal school for specialty training or to a ship or shore station for on-the-job training.

THAT TIME AGAIN

With hot summer weather approaching, many homeowners' thoughts turn once again to room air conditioners. Such air conditioners should be selected in the proper size so that they perform their four functions correctly—cooling, dehumidifying, cleaning and circulating conditioned air. A unit that is either too large or too small will not provide the proper comfort conditions. The cooling capacity of a room air conditioner is expressed in British Thermal Units (BTUs)—the amount of heat the unit can remove from the air.

Club program is on 'Gyps and Frauds'

The Graham Home Demonstration Club met May 3 for its regular meeting.

Roll call was answered with "Something Money Can't Buy." Mrs. Nona Lusk gave the council report, and a report was given on the district meeting held at Big Spring.

The program, "Gyps and Frauds," was given by Mrs. Viva Davis.

Refreshments were served to 10 members and one visitor, Keitha Beth White.

The next meeting will be May 17 in the community center.

4-H provides youth an open door to learning

COLLEGE STATION — "Opportunity" is calling for Texas youth. Whether or not they answer the call can have an important effect on their experiences down the pathway of life.

That opportunity is 4-H, a youth development program for boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19, believes Dr. Warren Mauk, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H.

"4-H provides youngsters an opportunity to learn something that will help them in everyday life — many practical things, such as health, safety, conservation, leadership, citizenship and nutrition, as well as things that may lead to a fuller and richer life, such as knowing how to tune a small engine, how to grow vegetables, how to cook and sew, and how to raise and train an animal, to name only a few."

And there's a uniqueness about 4-H, points out Mauk, that makes it a special type of program.

"4-H is something different to everybody because of the different backgrounds and experiences that each and every member has. Thus, 4-H boys and girls learn from one another by sharing these experiences, plus they have additional experiences on their own through guidance from adult leaders and Extension Service professionals.

"The Extension Service professional staff to back up the 4-H program — that's another unique advantage of 4-H," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "In whatever area a youngster's interests lie, there is a knowledge specialist to provide background and training to guide the youth along the way."

"The 4-H program also involves the youth's family — it's a family affair. Many 4-H experiences happen at home, and this is where 4-Hers actually work with their projects. So the youth and their families work and learn together. Hopefully, these experiences will help family members communicate more openly and thus become more close-knit."

According to Mauk, "4-H provides an opportunity for youngsters to 'practice' for the real life experiences they will encounter in the future. Such

I would like to extend my congratulations to L. E. Alen.

Also a big Thank You to the voters of Precinct for their support in the May 4 Primary.

I have enjoyed the experience and the visits with the people I caught at home. Hope to see you again 4 years. Thanks again,

BAREFOOTED BUT HAPPY

By Glenn Reece

"I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." —Philippians 4:11

I read a story somewhere of a Christian who was reduced to such poverty that he had only one pair of shoes, with the soles worn through and his toes sticking out. Depressed and discouraged he walked down the street mulling to himself: "I might as well be barefooted as to wear these miserable, uncomfortable shoes." He felt himself becoming more and more bitter, when suddenly he came upon a man sitting on the sidewalk begging. The poor fellow had no feet—not even legs. Then the discouraged Christian realized that there is something worse than "old shoes." It is having no feet to put shoes on. Are you given to complaining? Then look about you and see how much worse it could be.

In Hebrews 13:5 the author says, "Be content with such things as ye have." Why? Listen to the answer: "he hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." No matter how dark the day, the believer has with him One who knows all about it and will not permit us to be less "above that we are able" (I Cor. 10:13). True contentment is a "state of faith" and a frame of mind. The miserable people are often those who have the most of the world's goods, while some of the happiest are the humble believers who have nothing but Christ.

A poor, penniless old lady was asked, "Why are you so happy all the time? I see you have only two teeth left in your mouth." Her answer is a lesson in appreciation. "Yes," said the aged Christian, "I have only two teeth left but I thank God each day, these two are opposite each other, so I can chew with them."

Calendar of events for Texas includes 'it all'

AUSTIN — Appearances can be deceiving. For example, the Texas Highway Department's latest Calendar of Texas Events for April through September. It's a simple, matter-of-fact listing of places and dates for events in the Lone Star State during the next six months. But every line represents drama, excitement, and entertainment for the whole family.

Devotees of the calendar include Texas residents, out-of-state tourists, and travel editors who cite selections from it every month of the year. They know that a one-line entry can title an activity bringing thousands of visitors to one community for an unforgettable day, weekend, or month.

Take the listing at the first of each month for Canton: "First Monday Trades Day." Canton is a small town of some 2,000 industrious souls, but on that first Monday and the weekend preceding, as many as 25,000 people throng Canton to buy and trade. There's not room in the calendar to tell how much fun it is, or the fact that it's been going on for 125 years!

Another longstanding event is the Texas Cowboy Reunion. Last year it brought 18,000 people to Stamford — four times the town's whole population. The popular Old Fiddlers Reunion in Athens tallied 50,000 toe-tappers last May — in a town of 9,700.

Texans find cause for celebration at the drop of a Stetson, or a beret in Port Arthur. The Texas-Louisiana Cajun Festival last May tripled that area's population when 147,000 people gathered for Cajun music, dancing, and feasting.

Texans like to celebrate the fruits of their labor, be they the biggest watermelons in Luling, the juiciest peaches in Stonewall, or every imaginable art, craft, and pioneer skill at the

Auto fatalities in sharp drop

AUSTIN — The number of persons killed on Texas highways so far this year dropped 29 per cent compared to the total number of highway fatalities in the first four months of 1973, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported Saturday.

The DPS said 761 persons have died on Texas roads this year, compared to 1,065 in 1973 — a decrease of 304 fatalities. The number of accidents involving fatalities also dropped, the DPS said, with 666

Didway moves to Pampa job

Curtis Didway, a 1960 graduate of Post High School, has resigned from the Muleshoe High School coaching staff to accept the position of varsity defensive line coach at Pampa Class AAAA school.

Didway's resignation was effective immediately and he moved to Pampa Monday to assist with spring football training now under way. He will also coach track next season.

Pampa has a new head coach, John Welborn, formerly of Shawnee, Okla.

Didway began his coaching career at Pampa after graduating from West Texas State University. He was there three years, two years as a junior high coach and one year as a junior varsity coach, before going to McLean for one year and then to Muleshoe where he has been for the past five years.

The first joint meeting of the adult group and high school huddle group of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes is scheduled for 4 p. m. Sunday, May 12 at the U Lazy S Ranch.

The get-together will include swimming and a steak cookout, according to Syd B. Wyatt, FCA president.

Former longtime residents visit relatives in Post

Recent visitors in the home of John and Lester Nichols were their cousin, Asa Sowell, and his wife, Lilly.

Asa is the son of the former Albert and Alma Sowell, early-day settlers in Post, having moved here in 1907. He was a carpenter and worked on many of the first houses in Post, including the first mill houses and the first cotton gin.

The Sowells moved to Lubbock in the 1920's and later to Manhattan, Kans., and now live at Boulder, Colo. They were on a tour while here and also went to Seguin, San Antonio and Austin, former homes of Asa's father.

Asa was amazed at how Post had changed and grown, but found a few friends he remembered.

They returned home April 27.

Bobby L. Snow, president of the Post Archery Club, said the invitational will be held annually in memory of Johnny Lowe, who was a member of the club at the time of his death.

A 14-target animal round will be shot beginning at 9 a. m. The remainder of the invitational will be held at 2 p. m. the same day with a 28-target round on the agenda.

All club members and non-members are urged to attend.

The MWD to imagine the skill to do!

While an early 19th century lecturer was speaking on the premise that no method of communication could be devised that was faster or better than signalling with a semaphore, Samuel F. B. Morse was turning his mind and skills toward creating the first workable telegraph!

Alexander Graham Bell had the mind to imagine and the skill to create the first telephone, but he found the solution to how to run it only by accident. He over-turned a jar of battery acid on his worktable, and his call for help was carried over the wire!

Today, a portable telephone called Dyna-T.A.C. needs no wires whatsoever, and can be used like a conventional telephone. The people at Motorola have had the skills and imagination to invent a radio-telephone that operates over radio frequencies and will soon enable subscribers to talk to any telephone in any area covered by the system!

Coach Donny Windham will be master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Immediately following the banquet, concerts by the high school and junior high bands are to be presented in the school auditorium under the direction of Troy Warren. This is the Southland schools' first year to have a band program.

Minor League meet scheduled tonight

A meeting will be held at the courthouse at 7 o'clock tonight (Thursday) for all parents and prospective coaches for Minor League baseball, according to Ed Bradshaw, league president.

The purpose of the meeting will be to select team managers and league managers. "We will certainly need response from the parents and prospective managers to get the league kicked off," Bradshaw said.

well as gaining an 8-2 margin in the absentee balloting.

Garza Democrats sent 1,472 to the polling places in the 1972 primary, 1,572 voters in 1970, 1,774 in 1968, 1,527 in 1966, and 1,898 in 1964.

In the "straw vote" at the bottom of the ballot on Garza voters inter-mutual betting. Garza voters registered a rather emphatic "no" as did the majority of both Democrats and Republicans all across Texas.

The Garza count on the pari-mutuel betting was 363 for, 563 against. Nine of the 10 precincts came up with totals against the betting issue. Only the Justiceburg box, by a 22 to 13 margin, voted in favor.

In the only other contests on the primary ballot here, Bob Bullock defeated Hugh Edberg, 660 to 178, for nomination as comptroller of public accounts; State Treasurer Jesse James stood off challenger Donald B. Yarbrough, 620 to 320; Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White defeated Herbert A. (Peanut) Schroeder, 650 to 228; and Mack Wallace defeated C. A. Kelly, 587 to 240, for unexpired term railroad commissioner.

In unopposed county and precinct races, the following incumbents were renominated for new terms:

County Judge Giles W. Dalby, 803 votes; District and County Clerk Carl Cederholm, 805 votes; County Treasurer Pauline Coleman, 812 votes; and Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1, Racy Robinson, 311 votes.

District Judge George H. Hansard also won renomination without opposition, polling 704 Garza votes.

Cong. Omar Burleson, running unopposed, in District 17, received 676 votes here.

Winners in unopposed state races, as far as Garza totals went, were Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, 751 votes; Atty. Gen. Miss Lucas in honor society

LUBBOCK — Miss Barbara Lucas of Post is among the 271 new members from Texas Tech University initiated into the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi in recent ceremonies conducted at the university.

Miss Lucas, a senior in Business Administration, is the daughter of Mr. and Harold Lucas.

The students were chosen from among the top 10 per cent of graduates within the past year and from among the top two per cent of the junior class at the university.

The objectives of the society are to emphasize scholarship and character in the thought of college students, to foster the significant purposes for which institutions of higher learning have been founded, and to stimulate mental achievement by recognition through election to membership.

city and county equipment would be available for hauling away the debris.

The mayor and council emphasized, however, that their vote Monday night is not for demolition of the building, but to confer with the other three taxing agencies to learn what they want to do about the structure.

A decision from the county, the school district and the water district on the matter is expected within the next week or ten days, the mayor indicated.

Hwy. Dept.—

some of whom told of their experience on Garza County roads from the early-day "cow trails" to today's super highways.

Honored guests from the highway department included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williams and Julian F. Smith, resident engineer. Other guests included Mrs. E. C. Pettigrew Sr., Mrs. Pearl Ainsworth, Lois Williams, Lillian Nance, Doll Haire, Pearl Nance, Tom Bouchier and Mr. and Mrs. Ray N. Smith.

Frank "Chief" Runkles told of the highway department's cooperation with archaeologists at the Garza Point Site, which was uncovered during road construction in the area. Chief Runkles gave highway department employee Bob West, a former Boy Scout, much of the credit for discovery and recognition of the archaeological site.

The resident engineer expressed the appreciation of the cooperation given the highway department by the GCHSC, including the many letters written to the legislature on matters of importance to the work of the department.

A report on history appreciation and preservation activities of the GCHSC was given by Mrs. Lottie Shelton.

In a progress report on the Garza County Museum, Mrs. Ruby Kirkpatrick said that some fixtures have been ordered and that displays should be in place in the near future.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were: George Samson, Smith, Runkles, Mrs. Shelton, Evelyn Neff, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Giles Dalby, Ted Allen, Ben Sanchez, Herbert Walls, Mrs. C. K. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Welch, Walter Boren, Mrs. Tuffing, Mrs. Boren, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker and Joy Greer.

for the Jackson family at the convention either. Benny, Jim's 11-year-old son, won the $50 door prize at the convention. His father had won it last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Bo Jackson and families attended the convention which opened Friday and closed Sunday. Over 250 attended the conclave.

Jackson told The Dispatch that the association will come to Lubbock next May for its annual convention and "We're going to give them a real Texas welcome."

Post City Council in lengthy meeting---

Garza County paying the other half.

Jim Cornish, library board chairman, explained to the council that the federal program which has been funding the librarian's salary expired April 30. He said the county had appropriated approximately $995 for its half of the salary for the remainder of the county's calendar year.

The library board chairman's request was that the city and county pay the librarian's salary on a permanent basis "if we don't get the salary back on a federal program." Cornish said there is a possibility of the salary being included in a new SPAG program that starts July 1.

The council also approved an amended insurance policy that increases insurance coverage on the expanded library and its contents.

The request that the city support the community youth service program was made by Ruby Williams, Garza County's representative on SPAG's Criminal Justice Council. She explained that the program would be funded entirely by SPAG for one year and then for a second year, if successful. "After that, if the program continues successful, we 'pick it up' ourselves," Mrs. Williams said.

The youth program will include an advisory board to deal with juvenile problems, the council was told.

The $100,000 in water and sewer fund cash deposits to be invested by the council will go for the purchase of negotiable government bonds at 8.75 per cent interest. The bonds are now drawing 6 1/2 per cent interest. The $100,000 to be invested is part of $110,175 the city has on cash deposit in water and sewer department funds.

In requesting the installation of one or more lights at the youth center location, Mrs. Patty Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Patsy McCowen, representing the center committee, also told the council that the school board has requested a token payment of $5 a month for use of the building as a youth center. The committee members explained that the school, which owns the building, had spent $1,500 repairing it just before its occupancy as a youth center.

The council voted to by-pass the summer paying program because of an insufficient number of sign-ups for paving by property owners. Three unpaved blocks on 15th Street from Avenue M to Avenue S are scheduled to be paved, but elsewhere over the town only "pieces" of a few blocks have indicated that paving is wanted by property owners.

The council decided that the present high cost of paving construction would make it "too expensive," as well as impractical, to carry through on a paving program this summer.

In recommending that the council approve the attendance of three firemen at the week-long state school, Mayor McCrary pointed out that the attendance helps keep the city's fire insurance rate reduced and also provides excellent training for the firemen.

The cost to the city for the three firemen's attendance is $500.

In its discussion with Erwin Young of his request for city assistance on water and sewer facilities to the proposed Two Draw Lake housing development, the council told Young they would refer his request to the city's consulting engineer. The council also asked Young to furnish it with plans of the proposed development.

At the suggestion of Councilman W. C. Wilson, the city secretary was authorized to write other cities of similar size to find out what their basic policy is in the extension of city facilities beyond the city limits to housing developments such as the one proposed at Two Draw.

The councilmen assignments made by the mayor were: Ed Sawyers, sanitation; Fred Myers, streets and alleys; Dr. Wilson, water and sewer; W. G. (Bill) Pool, general administration, and Jim Wells, law enforcement.

The council voted at the request to Elton Lee to authorize the erection of "No Parking" signs in two alleys off Broadway just south of Main Street, and also in any other alleys where vehicles are parked so as to impede traffic.

The council decided to wait until it sets up its new budget to act on the attorney's request for an increase from the $200 a month retainer now being paid him to a salary of $6,000 a year.

In a letter to the council, Walker pointed out that when the $200 a month retainer fee was set two years ago, he received the assurance the council would take another look at his salary "further down the road."

He said a survey of his income, overhead and spent on work for the council showed "a considerable net loss on each hour" performed for the city.

He pointed out that work performed by him for the city in 1973 had contracted out to attorneys and the city had the 1969 rates for the services. "Then the cost of my services during year would have been $100."

He said in his letter he desired to continue to be city attorney, "but I would do so at an adequate commensurate with the responsibilities to be assumed."
