3 elections to be held here on Saturday

Local voters will go to the polls here Saturday in city, school district and hospital district elections to name nine men to serve them on the three boards.

Only in the school trustee election is there no contest with two incumbents running unopposed for three-year terms.

Top interest centers in the mayor's race with Mayor Giles C. McCrary seeking a fourth term. He is opposed by Ewell E. (Gene) Gandy who is bidding for the top city job a second time after opposing McCrary unsuccessfully two years ago.

In the 1973 spring election, in which 501 voters went to the polls, McCrary was given a 71-vote victory margin over Gandy. McCrary received 284 votes to 213 for Gandy.

Two city councilman incumbents, Ed Sawyers and Bill Pool, also face opposition in bids for re-election to two year terms. Also in the councilmen's race for the two-year terms are Joe McCowan and Ronald Simpson, who are making their first bids for public office here.

Sawyers was unopposed for re-election two years ago and Pool won over two candidates last spring for a one-year term after being appointed to the council to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of E. R. (Buster) Moreland.

The only unopposed candidate in the city council race is Jim Jackson, who is seeking a one-year term, after being appointed to the council to fill the vacancy left by Fred Myers when he moved from Post to Slaton last year.

This means that voters will name four of the six city council members Saturday. The other two are Dr. William Wilson and Jim Wells, who won two-year terms from one of the largest candidate fields in history last spring.

For the two-year council terms, the winners will be the two candidates with the most votes. Councilmen do not run for numbered positions on the council as school trustees do for the school board.

In the school trustee race, Silas Short is unopposed for re-election to Place 6 and John Boren is unopposed for Place 7. (See Election, Page 12)

Three men, two from Post, killed in Easter car crash

Two Post men and one Slaton man were killed Easter Sunday afternoon when the car in which the trio were riding went out of control on FM 211, 9.2 miles north of Post, and rolled over four times, once end over end.

Dead at the scene was Robert James Mindieta, 21, of Post, the driver who is a Texas Tech University freshman and was starting fullback and nose guard on the Post Antelope football team for the 1971 and 1972 seasons; and Carlos Lopez, 25, of Post.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Garza Memorial Hospital was Olegario D. Romero Sr., 49, also of Post.

All three men were thrown out of the vehicle as it rolled down the highway for several hundred feet.

Apparently no one saw the accident which occurred at 5:05 p. m., according to a watch on one of the victims which stopped at that time.

A passing motorist discovered the wreck 20 minutes or more later.

Investigating highway patrolmen Jerry Morris and Gary Briley said the car was traveling west on the highway and Mindieta apparently lost control of the vehicle. The car swerved off the right side of the highway and then back across the pavement before overturning.

Funeral services for both Post men were conducted yesterday at different times in the Holy Cross Catholic Church here with Father James O'Connor officiating.

Both were buried in Terrace cemetery with the Hudman Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mindieta's funeral was at 10 a. m. and Romero's at 2 p. m. Mindieta was born here and was graduated from Post High School in the spring of 1973.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gregorio Mindieta of Post; five sisters, Mary Martinez of Sterling City, Mrs. Dora Melvin of Lubbock, and Mrs. Aurelia Basquez, Mrs. Angel Campos and Rita Ann Mindieta, all of Post; and two

Corner Grocery holds 60th anniversary sale

The Corner Grocery & Market is celebrating its 60th anniversary this weekend with a three-day anniversary sale.

The firm is one of the three oldest business establishments which have remained in continuous operation here. The other two are Bob Collier Drug Store and Mason's Furniture.

The store was opened by the late W. R. Graeber in 1916 in a small rented building. He started a new building on the site next to Wacker's recently occupied by the Lavelle Shop and moved into it in February of 1917.

Years later, the grocery was moved into the old Algerita Hotel building with the hotel operations then confined to the second floor. The grocery was moved from the old hotel building to its present location in 1968.

Graeber came here from Sulphur, Okla., where he had a thriving grocery business. He visited a cousin who had a small store here and became so

Small twister sails long roof section over 40 feet

It is believed to have been a twister that blew a 40-foot section of roof off a house under construction in Cal-Maine Foods, Inc., "chicken ranch" in the Pleasanton area.

The wind blew the big roof section over 40 feet and lodged it on top of the first over-500-foot-long poultry house already completed at the site.

Lavon Fox, regional controller at Cal-Maine's regional office in Lubbock, told The Dispatch that the damage caused a week to 10 days delay in construction at the site.

The first of the five poultry houses has been completed and 68,000 chicks will be moved into it within 10 days.

The first phase of the construction project, which includes five of the big poultry houses and the processing plant, is now slated for completion in February of 1976.

The brooder houses will house 340,000 chickens.

Construction of the all-steel processing plant already has been begun by Agri-Builders, a California construction firm which has the construction contract for the project.

The foundation has been completed and workmen are now framing the processing plant building.

Fox said due to high winter winds and a more severe winter than anticipated, the project is running approximately 30 days (See Small twister, Page 12)

$1,000 in stolen property recovered from local shed

Acting on a tip given Patrolman Bill Franklin, local law enforcement officers last Thursday recovered over $1,000 worth of oil field equipment and miscellaneous tools which had been stolen on three Saturdays in March from the Rocker A Well Service of Post and the West-Tex Tool Co. of Snyder at various Garza drilling sites.

Felony theft charges have been filed by local authorities against two Lubbock men, neither of whom has yet been apprehended.

Police Chief Jim Trulove said the stolen items, only a partial amount of those taken in the March thefts, were recovered from a storage house behind a residence in the northwest portion of Post.

The woman who lives in the residence told officers according to Chief Trulove, she had been out of town on a vacation trip and knew nothing about the stolen oil field equipment and tools. Chief Trulove said she also told officers that the stolen items had not been in the shed when she left on her trip two weeks before.

Acting on the confidential information given Franklin, a search warrant was obtained and the shed was searched by Sheriff J. A. (Jimmy) Holleman, Chief Trulove and Officer Franklin.

GARZA GAINS 400 SINCE 1970; MCCRARY REPORTS—

Population trend reversed

Mayor Giles C. McCrary told Post Rotarians Tuesday noon that Garza County has "reversed its trend of population loss."

Pointing out that Garza County was listed with a population of 5,289 persons in the 1970 census, a big loss for the decade of the sixties, McCrary said experts had predicted Garza County would be down to little more than 5,000 people in 1975 and by 1990 would shrink to 4,100.

"Instead of losing in the last five years, the experts say Garza County instead has gained 400 in population to almost 5,700 people, the mayor commented.

The population figures were only a few that McCrary explained he had gathered to show community and area growth from 1970 through 1974.

The mayor cited significant growth in city water meters here, water income, gas and electric meters and telephone connections as well as rapid growth in the city's one per cent sales tax funds, postal receipts, and bank deposits. He pointed out that the City of Post three times in recent years has reduced its taxes, a situation he termed unique in Texas. He added that the White River Municipal Water District is also unique among water districts of the state in that it no longer requires tax support and is in excellent financial condition.

Rites held for Mrs. McBride

Funeral services for Mrs. Lou Ella McBride, 87, a resident of Garza County since 1920, were held at 3:30 p. m. yesterday in the First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Ken Metzger, pastor, officiated the service, with Rev. Glenn Reece, pastor of the First Baptist Church, assisting.

Burial was in the Terrace Cemetery, under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Mrs. McBride died Tuesday in Lubbock Methodist Hospital, following a lengthy illness.

Born August 21, 1887 in Hunt County, Texas, she was married to Burt McBride on September 25, 1910 at Burkett, Texas. They moved to Garza county and farmed in the Graham community. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Survivors include two daughters. (See Rites held, Page 12)

By KURT JOHNSON

AUSTIN — I suppose there's a story behind the process by which every state legislator came to be a state legislator, conceding (for the moment) that the democratic process allows a legislator to be elected by a vote of the people of a particular state senatorial or representative district.

But did you ever wonder how a man secures the backing, gets the organization, and then generally puts it all together so as to become elected to the statehouse?

My experience at the capitol and the people whom I have come to know there indicates that the following issues are vital in order to be elected to a state senate seat: (1) who you know, (2) enough personal financial resources so as to pay campaign expenses plus a private source of income on which to live, and (3) some matter of strategy formulation (or at least access to someone with enough brains to formulate election strategy.)

Since the beginning of the current legislative session, I have talked to a great number of senators and representatives regarding various bills and the prognosis for them. (Some specific bills of great importance will be dealt with in next week's column.)

In my exposure to these various representatives and senators as per conversations about various bills, I have come to a rather concrete conclusion (though it is a generalization) about the great majority of Texas' legislators: they are, at the very least, no more intelligent nor more creative than the rest of the Texas citizenry, with particular regard to needed statutes.

The only real difference is that, on a per capita basis, they wear more expensive suits, go to hair stylists more often, and wear more white belts and white shoes than other Texans. Speaking of intelligence (or its absence), Representative Larry Vick of Houston voiced opposition last week to a bill which would allow persons over 65 years of age to be admitted to Texas state parks without charge. His argument was that people from out-of-state (non-Texans) would be getting something for nothing. In response, Representative Jim Clark of Pasadena said that the state wants to attract tourists, and he asked Representative Vick how he could know whether a person was or was not a tourist.

Vick's answer was, "They had grey hair." Oh well, so much for an intelligent assessment of justification of a position on a particular bill.

(The bill passed, by the way, despite Vick's sophisticated argument against it.)

You might recall that this is the same Representative Vick whose H. B. 72 is threatening to force all newspapers to apply for copyright referable to every single issue they publish. It is a little matter he overlooked in his "term paper" bill which was addressed in a previous Statebeat column.

The current issue of The Texas Observer, a semi-monthly political magazine published in Austin, includes Representative Vick among the legislature's less-enlightened members regarding the ramifications which bills have, despite their relatively simplistic com-time there is the humanitarian concern for retired people trying to cope with this same inflation on a small fixed income.

The second amendment would raise legislator's salary from a ridiculous $4,800 a year to $7,200 and increase per diem expense allowance for each legislator from $12 a day to $30 a day while the legislature is in session.

The legislators probably are the poorest paid of all Texas state employees. They haven't had a boost in 15 years now, winning their present $4,800 salary away back in 1960.

The proposed increase is a modest one really. In fact, some legislators are opposed to it because they say it isn't enough and if granted by the voters would probably be the last one they could expect for another 15 years.

The big problem with the special amendment election April 22 is that it has no "pull" with the voters. One of the smallest turnouts of all time probably will vote in this one.

On the basis that the no vote doesn't need encouragement to get to the polls, the two amendments are in danger of defeat. But to us it doesn't appear likely. The state teachers association is solidly behind both of them as the teachers are now in a lobbying battle of their own before the legislature for more salary. The state employees are well organized too. Both organizations will support a legislators' pay raise in the hopes of improving the climate for their own future pay hikes.

The Dispatch recommends both amendments to its reader-voters. But the choice remains to the voters and you will make no choice at all if you don't go to the polls April 22 to record it.

Two amendments due decision

Voters will get an "extra election" this month. There will be a state constitution amendment election April 22 with two proposed amendments on the ballot.

One amendment would revise and consolidate provisions relating to state and local retirement systems and provide a maximum state contribution to state systems of 10 per cent of the aggregate compensation paid to individuals.

The other would give state legislators a salary boost to $600 monthly and boost their per diem expenses during legislative sessions to $30 per day and increase their mileage allowance to the same rate provided by law for other state employees.

The legislature in setting up this April election originally intended for voters to make aye or nay to the constitutional amendments during their city elections, but the two houses got in a snarl and didn't get the amendments passed in time.

The big change in the first amendment would increase state participation in state employee and teacher retirement programs from six to 10 per cent.

The amendment actually permits the legislature in some instances to boost state participation above 10 per cent.

Also included in the amendment is the granting of broader investment authority while including strict safeguards for fund security, thus making it possible for the controlling board to secure greater returns and increase the soundness of the program.

Obviously, here we have another increase in the state governmental costs but at the same

Where is American Spirit?

Where in our current energy crisis is the American spirit which made this nation great?

One of the syndicated daily columnists asked the question the other day in reviewing the disorganized way the United States is going about seeking possible solutions to the problem of finding enough energy not in the hands of a world-wide oil cartel.

He pointed out how environmentalists fought the Alaskan pipeline, how eastern seaboard states are fighting for either control of off shore drilling or trying their best to prevent it. How congressional politicians battle administration politicians on almost every point.

In wartime, America amazes the world with the way our citizens close ranks and work together literally to "out-produce" as well as "outfight" an enemy.

Not so today. We hardly gave volunteer rationing of energy a chance when we cynically declared it wouldn't work. Instead of environmentals getting on the production team and saying "let's do it so as to keep our environment as safe as possible," they fight the whole effort.

Probably our greatest problem is finding the "American spirit" of standing together again in finding forthright leadership. We are such a mighty and diverse nation it is hard to find and recognize leadership, much less unite behind it.

But the outlook of the proverbial man in the street is now clouded and cynical. He simply doesn't believe anymore.

Here is where the eroding process is almost catastrophic.

We think the American spirit is still there, though maybe stored in a backroom or in the basement. The flame can be reit, short of war, if we accept the best leadership we can find, organize, and make a new start.

The impetus must come all along the home front with us and others like us.

Your cooperation needed

The Post Chamber of Commerce, getting organized for a new civic year, has asked all its members to tell the organization what it would like to see accomplished in Post in the next five years.

Members also have been asked what committees they are interested in serving on.

We hope the Chamber gets lots of suggestions from its letter poll and a good indication of committee preferences.

It is not easy to get a Chamber organized with a program of work but this is the starting point for new Chamber president, Ed Bruton.

With the Chamber preparing to move into new offices behind city hall on US-84 in the old police building, the Chamber office soon will be much more readily accessible to out-of-town visitors. That should be a plus, but parking could be a problem.

The real test of Chamber leadership is to put the membership to work on projects. It is much easier to do in a city than in a small town where each business man has a set of problems all his own to fill his working days.

But the same principle applies to the small town as the city. The Chamber membership includes all the business skills essential to progress. Organizing them to do the job and getting members to stop personal pursuits long enough to take a look into the future for group or community goals are anything but easy assignments.

President Bruton needs the cooperation of every business man if the Chamber's 1975 year is to be successful.

Let's give it to him!

A FRESH START

Despite some of these surprising happenings, there is positive legislation in process. Rep. Ronnie Earle, with the aid of co-sponsors, appears to have a leg up on getting a central personnel office established which will greatly facilitate the massive bureaucracy and red tape now found in the quagmire of the personnel system regarding state employees.

In other legislation, the Senate passed S. B. 59, prohibiting smoking in certain public places, the Governor signed into law a bill allowing cities to sue for unpaid sales taxes, the House passed H. B. 679 (the pre-Bentson primary bill) and sent it to the Senate State Affairs Subcommittee, where it was argued over from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. on Wednesday, March 27, before being positively recommended to the Senate floor.

More than 2,000 bills have been introduced during this 1975 session (a record). Let's hope the lawmakers spend enough time in between shining their shoes to separate the wheat from the chaff.

The most valuable gift you can give another is a good example.

Dear Voter:

During my time as your mayor, I have attempted to keep you posted as to the activities that involve our community on both a state and federal level. The main objective has been for us to enjoy the same participation as other communities like ours, in programs from which we now benefit. Some of these have been:

- Our librarians salary for a two year period
- Our county-wide probation department
- Our new law enforcement building
- Our law enforcement officers training program
- Our law enforcement radio communications system
- Our modern fire department, second to none

These items were available to all communities that sought to participate on a local level, and the benefits are evident at a little or No Cost to tax payers.

I would like, with your help, to continue in the direction we are moving. If re-elected, I pledge my efforts and time to keep going forward.

Yours sincerely,

Monthly checks for sales tax

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock announced Friday that monthly rebates of city sales taxes will start April 15. "Nothing stands in our way now but the U. S. Postal Service," Bullock said. This first-ever monthly payment will replace the old quarterly payment system with its 90-day lag time which had been in effect since the city sales tax was passed in 1967. Bullock said the junking the quarterly system "means we've quit burying the cities' money in the backyard in fruit jars for three months at a time." Payments to 800 towns and cities which have the one per cent tax total more than $200 million a year. The April 15 payments will cover taxes collected by the Comptroller between Feb. 17, the cutoff date for the last payment, and April 4. Future monthly payments will be made at mid-month, Bullock said. Bullock said that cities can expect every third month's check to be larger than the other two, reflecting the peak of quarterly tax payments sent in by merchants.

Time to Enter...

1975 Chicken Cooking Contest

It's official! The 1975 National Chicken Cooking Contest has been announced and it's time to think about entering. A finalist will be selected from each state and the District of Columbia. Each state finalist will win a round trip to the national cook-off in San Antonio, Texas; a $100 cash award; a year's supply of the co-sponsors' products; a trophy and a chance to compete for the grand prizes—first prize, $10,000; second prize, $4,000; third prize, $3,000; fourth prize, $2,000 and fifth prize, $1,000. For the rules and entry blank, write to National Chicken Cooking Contest, 614 Madison Building, 1155 15th Street, N.W., Washington, DC 20005. In the meantime, here's a recipe from a recent National Chicken Cooking Contest that meets all the requirements for the 1975 contest.

KAILUA LIME-GLAZED CHICKEN

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in parts
  - 1/2 cup unsweetened pineapple juice
  - 1/2 cup light corn syrup
  - 1 teaspoon flavor enhancer
  - 2 teaspoons grated lime rind
  - 3 tablespoons lime juice
  - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
  - 1/4 teaspoon dried marjoram or chervil leaves
  - 1/4 cup Mazola corn oil
- Sprinkle chicken with flavor enhancer, salt and pepper. Pour corn oil into large heavy fry pan. Heat over medium heat. Add chicken and brown on all sides, turning as needed. Reduce heat. Add pineapple juice, corn syrup, lime rind, lime juice and marjoram or chervil. Cover and simmer basting several times with pan juices, about 35 minutes or until chicken is tender. Makes 4 servings.

Texas Outdoors

By W. R. LONG

No person has earned the right to his opinion as much as the hunter. It is his dollar that has saved much of our wildlife, game and non-game, from extinction.

In the upswing in environmental interest a common target of the misinformed is the hunter. Since wildlife is part of the environment there are some who actually feel the hunter, while harvesting game, is upsetting the balance of nature. Such belief is unforgivable!

The anti-gun fabricators, evidently seeking publicity with more zeal than seeking wildlife preservation, and the untrained, unskilled, completely inaccurate preservationist advocating no wildlife harvest is vocally doing more damage to game than any thousand men with guns in the field because the ill-guided preserver is advocating banishing guns, another way of banishing the game we have left.

Many species have been saved from extinction and many more species are increasing because our wildlife departments and professional biologists and law enforcement people have controlled the harvest of game to insure a bright tomorrow. Conservation is not trying to store-house or stockpile (a system that doesn't work) but is using our renewable species without using them up. This is really conservation at work, and not the gobbledygook of the arm-chair preservationist with an idea instead of the facts.

Any true conservationist, the professional, knows that the hunter and his harvest is not the danger. The true danger is destruction of habitat. Our game laws and regulations will assure and insure survival of a species if followed strictly. But destroy wildlife homes and you will destroy wildlife that could have lived there.

When over-hunting occurs, it's the hunter himself who protests first. Hunters and anglers have been the leaders in every wildlife crusade of value the world has ever known.

Conservation is use. Not excessive use, but wise use. A world no good for wildlife would be no good for people. The non-hunter, non-fisherman, non-outdoorsman, might be willing to settle for environment without fish or game. He has no standards as a guide. Content with a sterile, manufactured environment isn't enough. It would be too infertile to support wildlife or man.

Isn't it ironic, an American tragedy, that the man who knows the most about environment is all too often the target of those few loud individuals who would in their haste to be heard, prove to the world they know the least. Hunting is here to stay. And it had better be if we are to have the money and the land to support wildlife. The hunter pays his way, and ours.

AUSTIN—Constitutional revision, widely regarded as an almost impossible task for the legislature this year, may be moving along faster than any of the session's "big three" items.

Revision panels of the House and Senate voted out proposals almost identical to the document which failed by three votes in the 1974 Constitutional Convention. Education finance reform and utilities regulation have not moved so far so fast.

Senators brought up the plan Tuesday (April 1) for floor consideration on an article-by-article basis. The House is expected to follow the same procedure. A two-thirds vote will be necessary on each article before it can be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection in a statewide election next November.

None of the controversial "separate submission" items like right-to-work—which split and doomed the 1974 convention—are included in the present resolutions.

Apparently, if article-by-article revision fails, the legislature will offer a plan for a new citizens' convention to try its hand at revision next year.

PRIMARY ADVANCES

Drive for a Texas presidential preference primary gathered momentum in spite of some stubborn opposition from political convention-oriented liberals and George Wallace supporters.

The Senate State Affairs Committee gave its approval to a revised and improved version of the House-passed primary bill, and quick Senate passage was anticipated.

The measure still calls for a vote in May on presidential candidates who decide to enter the Texas primary. Seventy-five per cent of the state's presidential nominating delegates will be named on a senatorial (or congressional) district basis. Another 25 per cent will be selected in state party conventions in accord with the percentage of the vote various candidates received in the primary.

SPEED LIMIT SAME

Legislators finally agreed on, and the governor signed, legislation extending the 55 miles per hour speed limit to comply with federal policies and save $303 million a year in federal highway aid.

A threatened deadlock was quickly broken in the face of threats of heavy loss of federal funds. The present 55 mph law would have expired April 1.

Now that you've retired, put your savings to work.
Trade your E Bonds for H Bonds
Bought a lot of Series E Savings Bonds over the years? Well, you probably want to keep your nest egg intact. But retirement is the time when you need some extra income. Here's how to get that income. Just exchange your E Bonds (in cash value amounts of $500 or more) for Series H Bonds. H Bonds pay out interest every six months by Treasury check mailed right to your door, and at a rate averaging 6% annually when held to 10-year maturity. Just the thing for retirement, when you need steady income coming in.
You'll get a tax break on the exchange, too
When you exchange your E Bonds for H Bonds, your tax liability on your accumulated E Bond interest continues to be deferred. Right up until the H Bonds are cashed or reach final maturity (there's an optional 10-year extension privilege after original maturity).
The result? You get more for your money in the exchange. And when your H Bonds are redeemed, and you finally pay your deferred E Bond tax, it's at your lower post-retirement rate.

Get income as it's earned
Steady, dependable income. Twice a year. Or, if you prefer, get interest checks every month. Just buy an H Bond a month for six consecutive months. That way, you've got a regular income guaranteed.
Purchase $500 to $5,000
Your banker has exchange (as well as new purchase) applications for H Bonds. At face values of $500, $1,000 and $5,000. There's an annual purchase limit of $10,000 ($20,000 with a co-owner), but this won't apply if you're trading in E Bonds.
H Bonds. A good way to make sure your money won't retire when you do.

Take stock in America.
Buy Series H Bonds—now averaging 6% when held to maturity of 10 years.

Billy Joe Hall is selling burglary alarms in Dallas

By MRS. ROBERT MOCK
Billy Joe Hall, formerly of Southland, told me to send a big hello to all his friends. He's made it big, but he's gone on a diet selling burglar alarms in Dallas.

Joe and Pam live in Lancaster where Pam stays busy with their two children, a part-time job and cake decorating. She sure has a talent for those cakes. Joe wanted to congratulate the Southland spelling champs because he thinks spelling is very important. He said he was one of a very few in his company that could spell.

Personally, I'm sure that the editors of this paper gets tired of correcting my spelling, so I agree with Joe and want to add my congratulations to David Weaver, Jay Calloway and Katrina Chaffin.

I've gotten completely off the subject. Joe's folks are Buddy and Ruth Hall and Pam's are

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen of Post.

We also were pleased to visit with Benny and Sherry Owens. They, with their two little daughters, were spending the weekend with Joe and Pam. They live in Lubbock where Benny attends Tech and is a free lance carpenter.

The reason we were seeing all these Dallas folk, was because my dad, Claude Thomas is hospitalized in the Granville C. Morton hospital there. He was flown there from St. Mary's in Lubbock on March 13 because of pneumonia complicated by an aplastic anemia condition. I am happy to report that he seems to be recovering, thanks to many blood donors that had to make the trip to Dallas. The donors were required to go through a four four blood exchange for them to use the white cells. People don't realize the importance of blood donations until it hits close to home and we all are extremely grateful.

My brother, B. L. Thomas, has spent much of his time in Dallas also. He visited with Vernon and Jo Ann Scott and was a guest at their church. They are also residents of Lancaster.

Mrs. Eula Mae Smith is recovering from a broken arm and a bout with the flu.

The sixth grade girls basketball tournament was held last week. In the last game the score was 12-10 with Southland defeating Linda Parker's Slaton team. Teresa Hambrick was high scorer with eight points. Clara Nelson scored the other four points. The Southland team won over Wilson Tuesday, won over St. Joseph's on Thursday, lost to New Home and won over Parker's to hang on to second place. The New Home team captured first place.

The 9-10 year old girl dribblers will play Parkers team April 5 at 3:30 p. m. and April 7 at 6 p. m. They will take on Jr. Boyd's team at Southland gym. Get out and root for these girls.

The Jr. High school boys also participated in that tournament. Southland boys came out in first place. Congratulations men, I didn't mean to slight you but just couldn't find out much.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Sales are visiting their daughter and her family, (Janice Cartmill) in Baytown, Tex., during Easter.

Weldon McGehee and Douglas Shepherd of Grassland collided in their pickups on the Gordon highway. Luckily both men escaped injury.

The youngsters of the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church hunted Easter eggs Sunday. Reports were that "Alleluia" presented by First Baptist Church in Post was just great.

Robert Lee and Wanza Mock accompanied us to Dallas where Robert Lee qualified as a blood donor. Both he and Shug (B. L.) Thomas readily agree they couldn't be drug addicts. B. L. had gone through this blood transfer about six or more times.

Sean Basinger, son of Joe E. Basinger, fell off his bicycle and fractured his arm. He will wear a cast about a month.

Hackberry Coop is installing a new Universal Density Press. According to Gene Beck, manager, they now have a big, big hole but he promises the press will be ready for the 1975 ginning season.

Gene and his family including his in-laws tried their hand at fishing at Possum Kingdom last week. If Gene ever catches any fish I promise I'll put it in the headlines.

Two daughters of W. H. Childs have been hospitalized. Mrs. Julia Prather is staying with her grandmother after being in a Lubbock hospital. Mrs. Nedra Ellis is in St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo. Get well wishes are extended to both girls.

PETERSBURG VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baumann and family visited in Petersburg Sunday with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Saffel.

Jackie Blacklock sets hurdle records

Jackie Blacklock set new Post high school records in both the 120 yard high hurdles and the 330 yard intermediate hurdles Friday in the Monahans Relays but managed only a fifth in the highs and a six in the intermediates.

The Post Antelopes scored only 14 points, mostly against triple A competition at Monahans, but did finish ahead of Abernathy.

Monahans swept its own relays, piling up 163 points.

Blacklock ran a 15.6 in the 120 yard highs and a 41.5 in the preliminaries of the 330 yard intermediate hurdles for the two school records.

Coach Lane Tannehill reported some improvement performances besides Blacklock's two hurdle efforts.

Antelope tracksters turned in their best times of the year in the 440 and mile relays and in the mile run, although not placing in either the mile relay or the mile run.

The 440 yard relay composed of Alfred Price, Joe Moore, Blacklock, got eight points for a fourth place in that event.

The only other points for Post were fifth and sixth places in the discus by Dusty Webb and Garland Dudley respectively.

It's Beyond Us Why You Would Look Beyond Us

As It Looks From Here . . .

By OMAR BURLESON
WASHINGTON, D. C. — A number of us in the U. S. House of Representatives recently introduced a welfare reform act that will save the taxpayers at least $1.5 billion. The legislation has more than 50 sponsors.

At a news conference held in the capitol at the time the legislation was introduced, it was pointed out that, "It is time that we limited public welfare to its original purpose — helping those who are really incapable of helping themselves. We do not believe that able-bodied citizens should be permitted to enjoy a relaxed lifestyle at the taxpayers' expense."

Every welfare reform proposal offered in recent years has promised nothing except an expansion of welfare at a cost of many billions of dollars. This is a reform proposal that is uniquely concerned with helping those who, for reasons beyond their control, can not help themselves, while at the same time saving tax dollars.

Similar successful reforms in several major states prove that we can save enough money through this Welfare Reform Act to increase benefits to those who truly need them, while at the same time saving the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars.

Both political parties should work together to restore fiscal sanity to this country and this legislation is a step in the right direction. No program of government should escape pruning as we try to escape the growth of an inflationary budget deficit that could exceed $80 billion in the next fiscal year.

The main purposes of the act are: To provide assistance only to those entitled by need to receive it; to provide sufficient aid to the truly needy; to operate the system within the limits of public resources; to prevent fraudulent abuse of the system; and to provide incentives for recipients to find employment and leave the system.

The principal focus of the welfare reform act is upon the program of Aid to Families with Dependent Children, the category of welfare which has been the most costly and subject to greatest abuse. The AFDC caseload which doubled in the decade ending in 1965 had doubled again by 1970.

Too many in the welfare bureaucracy and among legislators at all levels forget that the goal of a successful welfare program ought to be getting people off welfare and into productive employment again. Through this bill, we propose to give meaning to that goal.

The thrust of the legislation is to rid the welfare rolls of "Professional recipients," not to penalize those with genuine needs for help. Welfare reforms are long overdue. Since the cost of these programs has doubled in just five years, it is time to call a halt to burdening the productive men and women of this country with those who do not want to work.

Many federal social programs need corrective legislation to insure that aid is channeled exclusively to the legitimately needy.

This act will complement similar actions which have been taken in a number of states since 1971. By tightening eligibility and cracking down on fraud, several of them have managed to improve assistance to citizens in critical need.

THE ACID TEST

By Glenn Reece

The acid test of a true disciple for the Lord is to be able to endure with Christian grace any and all affliction and "evil treatment" that may be his portion. We must learn in this world of sin to expect tribulation and with God's strength to endure it not only patiently, but triumphantly. The great men of Scripture, including Job and the Prophets, despite the fact that they were in the center of God's will, had difficulties as they traveled the pathway of duty. Often they had to go forward alone, suffering dire and unjust persecution. How can we, therefore, expect to escape trouble if we would do His bidding? Yet God encourages us by promising glory and reward for those who stand firm and hold the fort in the battle against the world, the flesh, and the devil!

It is said that when one crosses the higher Alps, sometimes it has to be along narrow ledges only broad enough for a mule to get foothold. These ribbons of rock on the edge of the towering mountains skirt dreadful precipices that descend thousands of feet to the valley below. The safest way for a traveler is not to attempt to guide the course of his mule, nor even grasp the bridle, for the slightest touch may easily throw both the mule and the rider over the cliff to death and destruction below. So, too, as it has been said, "There are times and circumstances in the believer's life when, if he would keep himself from sinful doubts, if he would keep himself from falling into despair, he must, as it were, shut his eyes, lay the bridle on the neck of providence, commit his way to God, and however things may look, make this his comfort, 'He will never leave me, nor forsake me.' In such circumstances the only thing is to trust in God; walk by faith, and not by sight."

We can rest assured on the promise of God's word that there is a reason for every thing that happens regardless how it may seem at the present. "We are assured and know that all things work together and are fitting into a plan for good to those who love God and are called according to his design and purpose." (Romans 8:28; Amplified Bible)

$20,000 suit filed here

Onan S. Bibberly of Lubbock has filed a $20,000 damage suit in Garza district court here against James W. Boren Jr., of Post.

Bibberly asks for the damages as the result of injuries allegedly suffered in a two-car auto crash at 8:15 a. m. Sept. 10, 1974, on highway US-84, three miles southeast of Post.

The plaintiff alleges that a car driven by Boren rammed the vehicle he was driving in the rear with such force as to throw him from the vehicle and cause various injuries.

Corner Gro. —

(Continued From Page One) enthusiastic about this "new West Texas country" that he wrote his wife who at the time had gone to Illinois to visit relatives if he would agree to move to Post.

Mrs. Graeber told The Dispatch yesterday that "I wired him right back to do what he thought best."

"So we moved here and have loved this town ever since," she said.

Mr. Graeber died in July of 1946.

The L. A. Pressons bought an interest in the store from Mr. Graeber and moved to Post in 1942.

Mrs. Graeber sold her interest in the store to Marvin Williams and Jim Hays in early 1958.

Upon the death of Mr. Hays, Pete Hays bought his interest in the store and later Kenneth Williams bought Pete's interest in the business.

Mr. Presson died in 1968. Mrs. Presson still retains her husband's interest in the store.

VISIT PARENTS HERE Mr. and Mrs. Ricky McKay of Meadow, were Easter weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Duncan. They came to pick up Todd and Paige McKay who had been visiting with their grandparents for the past week.

San Angelo Central, and was never beaten in their tremendous season.

They set a national high school record for the mile in winning the national crown in 1950, but as T. B. recalls "it didn't last long."

Among their other victories that spring were in the state high school meet, the University of Texas Relays, the SMU Relays, and the Kansas University Relays.

Their last reunion was five years ago.

You'll note with front page story and half page ad on page 3 that the Corner Grocery & Market is celebrating its 60th anniversary with a three-day weekend sale.

It gives a community a real continuity to have such a business stay in operation through the years meeting changing conditions in such congenial fashion as has the Corner Grocery, which we usually refer to see since its move next door to The Dispatch some years ago as "The Corner Grocery in the Middle of the Block."

Anyway, this is a tip of our compular hat to a real business old-timer who continues to serve so well.

And don't forget to vote three times Saturday.

ARIZONA VISITORS Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cox, of Pine Top, Ariz., and Mrs. Rene Jones of El Paso were here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hedrix.

SHERMAN VISITORS Mr. and Mrs. Ed Price from Sherman, were here for Easter with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams.

They are Sexton Huntley, present board chairman, seeking re-election, and James Sweeten, Joel Dobson, and Bo Jackson, all making the race for the hospital board for the first time.

The top two vote getters will receive two-year terms and the third high only a one-year term to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Dr. Charles Tubbs when he recently moved from the hospital district.

Sweeten and Dobson are both on the management team at Postex Plant and Jackson is a partner with his brother Jim in the operation of Jackson Bros. Meat Packers. All three are making their first political races here.

City voting will be held in city hall, hospital district voting in the Post Public Library next door to city hall, and school district voting in the high school library in the high school building.

Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Rites held —

Small twister —

Library now in film circuit

The Post Public Library is now a member of the West Texas Library Film Circuit and expects to receive its first packet of films for showing here within 10 days.

A new movie projector already has been purchased by the library.

Larry Dane Justice of Big Spring, president of the film circuit, wrote Librarian Pee Wee Pierce this week saying that Monahans is joining the circuit and will split a full membership with Post.

The membership contract was signed and returned to Justice.

All-Sports —

(Continued From Page One) The educator has spoken in 41 of 50 states, delivering over 1200 speeches to gatherings of all kinds in the last eight years. He was a coach for 10 years and a school administrator for three before assuming his present position.

Dr. Newberry has been a speaker for the Associated Clubs of America for the last eight years. He is a native of Gonzales, Tex., and received his doctor's degree from the University of Texas.

He is praised for his speaking wherever he goes and booster officials are told he will be the finest speaker ever to appear in Post.

The "best we've ever had" is the comment from many cities where he has spoken. He combines a sense of values with a sense of humor.

Joe McCowen, booster club president, urges everyone to turn out to honor the athletes and hear Dr. Newberry.

McCrary talk —

He cited the Postex Plant payroll, the 25,000 head of cattle in the county, the ability of Garza farmers to produce a bumper cotton crop given good weather conditions as they did in 1973, and the big increase in Garza oil production and payrolls as reasons why he is optimistic for the future of Post and this area. Sunflower seed this year, he reported, is going to be an important new crop for them.

"We have practically nobody unemployed," he declared, "when unemployment is one of the nation's biggest current problems."

He pointed to the development of the cotton cloth industry in this West Texas area, its industrial growth, and reported that even a winery will be opened in Lubbock next year to bring a new grape crop potential to West Texas for which he says the region has ideal growing conditions.

Concluding his talk, Mayor McCrary says the past five years performance has made him "personally optimistic" for the future of Post. "I'm going to hang around and watch more of this happen," he said.

Three men —

Romero, a local laborer, was born at Pleasanton, but had been a Post resident most of his life.

His survivors include his mother, Mrs. Teresa Romero of Post; a son, Olegario Jr. of Post; a brother, Felipe of Post; and a sister, Mrs. Anita Lopez of San Antonio.

Rites for Lopez, a Slaton carpenter, were conducted at 5 p. m. Tuesday in Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church in Slaton.
