TORNADO DAMAGE — Shown left is the unroofed old Scott Storie farm home west of Post Sunday after it was hit by a small twister Saturday night. Most of the roof lies in the foreground. In the picture on the right Bob Short, whose family was in the house when the storm hit, points to where a board was driven through the wall of the house by the sheer force of the wind. — (Staff Photo)

None hurt as twister hits house near Post

A small twister which skipped across the Graham community causing considerable excitement Saturday night unroofed the old Scott Storie house, three miles west of Post atop the cap, between 10:30 and 11 p. m., but caused no injuries to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Short and 12-year-old son, Mark, who were roused from their beds.

The porch also was blown off and most of the windows in by the fury of the wind which sounded, Mrs. Short said, "just like an approaching train."

The force of the wind drove a board through Mark's bedroom wall. Mark and Bob were asleep, but although she had gone to bed Mrs. Short was not asleep when she heard what sounded like a train. "When I knew it couldn't be a train, I realized it was a tornado," she told The Dispatch.

She and her husband ran to Mark's bedroom and grabbed him from his bed just as the twister hit the house.

Since there was no time for anything else, they all lay on the floor. There was very little rain. By the time they had gotten dressed to go see what might have happened to the neighbors, the neighbors had arrived to see what happened to them.

By then the sky above was clear as it was over Post most of the night. The Short's seventeen-year-old son, Steve, was in Post and missed the tornado experience.

No other real damage was reported from the twister. The "take cover" signal was not sounded in Post. Although officers were out watching the approaches to Post, they did not spot the funnel cloud.

On Sunday neighbors helped the Shorts move and store their furniture. The Shorts got their rent payment back because the house is going to be torn down instead of repaired, now it has been so severely damaged.

The Shorts are staying with Mrs. Short's mother, Mrs. Lala Pennington here in Post while they seek other quarters. Bob is employed by Bill's Welding.

Council abolishes city attorney, hires law firm

The city council Monday night unanimously approved an ordinance abolishing the office of city attorney in Post and then by resolution authorized Mayor Giles C. McCrary to sign a contract with the Lubbock law firm of Gerdeman and Morton to provide the city with legal services.

The action came on the recommendation of Harvey L. Morton who was appointed city attorney by the council last month only to have Pat N. Walker, former Post city attorney, challenge the appointment as an illegal act because Morton had not met the six months residency requirement to be an officer for the City of Post as required by state law.

Morton told the council that by hiring his firm on an employment contract the city legally can obtain the advice it needs and in a written opinion cited a specific court case on this point.

Before taking these actions, the council decided the actions to be "an emergency" and dispensed with the new policy of a first and second reading.

The Lubbock law firm will receive $250 monthly as a retainer for legal services as defined in the contract, the same retainer Morton had been receiving as city attorney.

Morton also gave councilmen a prepared written opinion on whether a city councilman with pay may also serve as county health officer with pay and as a member of the hospital district court without pay.

The attorney wrote that this situation would be in violation of the Texas Constitution, but that the court of civil appeals ruled in 1972 that a person who held one salary position would not be in violation of the constitution if he was paid expenses only for another position.

Morton said since Dr. William Wilson was only receiving $50 monthly as county health officer such payment probably did not even cover his expenses in that position and thus could serve as county health officer if his payment reflected only reimbursement for expenses.

As for the third legal opinion requested as to whether Mayor Giles McCrary has a conflict as interests because he is a major stockholder in the local bank which serves as the city's depository, Morton said this would require additional time for study.

He said much of this is based not on the written law but the common law. He promised to have the opinion for the next council session in two weeks.

African missionary is banquet speaker

The Rev. Boyd Pearce, former missionary to Africa, will be the speaker at a world missions banquet at the Trinity Baptist Church at 7:30 Tuesday night, Nov. 12.

Open house will begin at 6:30 when everyone will view curios from several foreign countries. At 7 there will be a meal of foreign foods served.

SAM D. LOFTON

Rites Monday for Sam Lofton

Funeral services for Sam D. Lofton, a pioneer preacher in this West Texas area for 42 years, were conducted at 2 p. m. Monday in the Graham Church of Christ of which he was once the pastor.

Lofton died Saturday here in Garza Memorial Hospital at the age of 89 after a lengthy illness.

A member of the Church of Christ for 70 years, Lofton preached his first gospel sermon in 1908. Later he began preaching in a new church building in Hermleigh, the first in that town.

He moved to Brownfield in 1912 and helped establish the Church of Christ there. In 1913

Jaycees sponsor western dance

The newly organized Post Jaycees have scheduled a fund-raising western dance after the Post-Roosevelt football game Friday night above Marshall's Department store in the old Double U building.

Entrance is on the side on Avenue I. A band is being scheduled with admission priced at $2 per person or $3.50 a couple with set-ups furnished.

The Jaycees spent last weekend in a gigantic cleanup of these premises.

$200 reward offered in Halloween fire

Three rural houses burn

Three vacant rural homes just north of Post were burned to the ground Halloween night by pranksters and Lynn Cook of near Tahoka, owner of two of them, has offered a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons who fired them.

One of the houses, about three and one-half miles out on the Ralls highway, contained an estimated $500 worth of cotton seed which was lost in the blaze.

Police Chief Jim Trulove reported to the city council Monday night that officers had arrested seven Halloween night on charges of criminal mischief and that some of these were juveniles (under 16). None were involved in the three rural fires.

Fire Chief Neal Clary told The Dispatch that volunteer firemen had answered five calls due to fires set by pranksters Halloween night.

Firemen were sent to only one of the three rural houses fires and by the time they arrived at the house containing the cotton seed on the Ralls road the roof was gone so they had to let it burn down. Chief Clary said a truck stayed at the scene until after 10 p. m. and shortly after it left the second vacant house, some reported that it contained stored hay, about two miles further out was fired.

The third house, belonging to Estelle Samson, burned down on the Spur highway without a fire alarm being turned in.

Bowen rites held Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. C. R. Bowen, 73, were conducted at 3 p. m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church. The long-time local resident died early Friday morning in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock.

A retired school teacher, Mrs. Bowen had been a resident of Post for the last 51 years, moving here in 1922.

She was born at Osage, Texas on Aug. 15, 1901, and was married to Charles R. Bowen May 21, 1924 here in Post. Mrs. Bowen had been a member of the First Baptist Church here for 50 years.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Tom V. Copeland of Levelland; one son, Charles Bowen of Abernathy; nine grand children; four brothers, Ike Riley of Jacksonville, Fla., and Bob, Glenn and Mack Riley, all of Hamilton; and five sisters, Mrs. Nora Burns and Mrs. Floyd Kemp, both of Hamilton, Mrs. Ruth Newton, Mrs. Emma Moore and Mrs. Ima Fergusson, all of Midland.

The Rev. Glenn Reese officiated at the funeral. Pallbearers were Jerald Bowen, Carroll Bowen, Jimmy Hutton, Frank Riley, Jr., Jack Riley, Wally Dunson, Bowen Stephens, and Roy Johnson.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home.

For the first time Tuesday in 16 years, The Dispatch didn't keep its office open election night to field election returns to callers.

Interest here was so slight that nobody has yet bothered to ask why we didn't offer this public service. For all we know, nobody even called the office to ask for results.

With Editor Charlie Didway home with the flu this week we were too short-handed around here to spare the time unless the public was really interested. They weren't, or more would have voted. So we just took our work home with us and kept at it.

It did feel strange to ask County Clerk Carl Cederholm for a complete copy of the results yesterday morning.

Fireman A. J. Baumann is a deer hunter who more or less spends his time between deer seasons counting the days until the next one arrives. So he was really "treated" Halloween night in making that fire run out on the Ralls road to spot a six-point buck standing by the side of the road. At that time, the season was just about 17 days away.

FM-651 project to begin within week

The resurfacing project on FM-651 out of Post is scheduled to get under way within a week, Julian Smith, state highway department residence engineer, has announced.

The first four and one-half miles, beginning at 15th Street will be torn up but traffic will have to be carried through the project so motorists are advised to be on the alert for sign directions and speeds, Smith said.

Garza farmers trying sunflowers for crop

Three Garza County farmers are experimenting with a crop this year that could prove very successful, especially where cotton fails due to drought, hail or other natural disaster.

The crop is sunflowers. Producers Dennis and Weldon McGehee and Robert Lee Mock have approximately 350 acres devoted to the oilseed commodity in the Hackberry-Pleasant Valley area.

Because sunflowers mature between 100 to 110 days after planting and can be planted on land treated with herbicides makes the crop especially appealing where cotton has been destroyed.

According to Growers Seed Association of Lubbock, one Lubbock area farmer had his cotton hailed out the first week of August in 1973, planted dryland sunflowers on Aug. 15, then harvested an average of 300 pounds per acre on Dec. 8.

This was accomplished without benefit of fertilizer and with only two inches of rainfall during the growing season. Another farmer averaged 970 (See New crop, Page 12)

Chief Clary said other fire red car near the high school gym to be used for the high school pep rally next day, to some tires set afire on the Tahoka highway, and some tires set afire in mill village.

Garzans now eligible for disaster loans

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Omar Burleson is informed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that farmers in Garza and Lynn counties may apply for emergency loans through the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) as a result of crop damages from drought and hail in 1973-74.

affected because of poor pastures that caused them to reduce their herd size and sell lightweight calves.

FmHA emergency loans are made to farmers and ranchers to cover losses resulting from designated disasters.

Loans are repayable in their entirety at an interest rate of five per cent.

Applications for emergency loans may be filed at the FmHA office serving the area. Applications for physical losses are authorized until Dec. 30, 1974 and for production losses until Aug. 1, 1975.

The reports received indicated that these counties had drought from Oct. 1, 1973 through Aug. 15, 1974. Hailstorms beginning Aug. 9, through the 12th, 1974, damaged crops in Garza and Lynn counties. Farmers were also

70% of voters in county stay home

Seventy per cent of Garza's 2,500 voters "stayed home" Tuesday, but the 769 who did vote supported the Democratic landslide which rolled across Texas and the nation.

There were no contests of real interest here.

It was one of the lightest general election votes on record and election boards had all their votes counted and into the courthouse by 9:30 p. m., which was a new record.

Governor Dolph Briscoe in his bid for re-election to a four-year term picked up 499 Garza votes to 249 for Lubbock Republican Jim Granberry and 9 for Ramsey Muniz of the new Razza Unida party, one for Sherry Smith of the Socialist Workers Party and one for S. H. (Sam) McDonnell of the American Party.

County and precinct officials elected here without opposition were:

County Judge Giles W. Dalby, 653; Pauline Coleman, county treasurer, 667; County Commissioner Pct. 2 Ted L. Aten, 195; County Commissioner Pct. 4 Herbert Walls, 80; Justice of the Peace Pct. 1 Racy Robinson, 294.

Democrat Kent Hance easily outdistanced Republican Robert E. Garner for state senator from District 28 as far as Garza County was concerned 570 to 140, and Hance went on to sweep the district just as easily.

District Judge George H. Hansard, unopposed, polled 621 Garza votes.

State Representative W. S. (Bill) Healy, who won re-election without opposition, received 540 votes from Garza County.

Other Garza results for major state offices:

Lieutenant Governor: Hobby (D) 550, Marshall (R) 170. Attorney-General Hill (D) 602, Tom Cole (R) 104. Comptroller of Accounts: Bullock (D) 602, Rowe (R) 97. State Treasurer: James (D) 559, Holt (R) 185. Commissioner of Agriculture: White (D) 603, Fisher (R) 119.

REV. HENRY WHITE

Henry White is new pastor for Presbyterians

The Rev. Henry White, new pastor of Post's First Presbyterian Church, has moved to Post with his wife, Jean, and conducted his first worship service Sunday morning.

Mr. White re-enters the pastoral ministry with his acceptance of the call to the local church after a business career which included two years as a stock broker in Tulsa, five years as an officer of one of the nation's largest banks, located in Tulsa, and nine years in the investment business in Dallas.

Mr. White holds both bachelor and master degrees in divinity from Yale University's Divinity School and an A. B. degree from Yale University.

He and his wife have six children, all of whom are (See New Preacher, Page 12)

Former resident dies in Wichita

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p. m. Wednesday in the Hudman Funeral Home for Mrs. Aniece Janette Baugus of Wichita, Kans., a former Post resident who died in the St. Francis Hospital in Wichita Monday following a long illness.

Mrs. Baugus, wife of Tommy Baugus, was born here Nov. 3, 1925, and was married here to Mr. Baugus in March of 1946. They have lived in Wichita for the last six years.

Survivors include the husband; her father, Rufus Linford Warren of Post; two sons, Garland Wayne Baugus and Thomas Leon Baugus, both of Wichita; three brothers, Ray and Alton Warren of Post and Bob Warren of Munford, Tenn.; one sister, Mrs. Leneta Bennett of Wichita; and one grandchild.

The Rev. Phillip Daniels, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiated at the funeral.

Pallbearers were Linford Warren, Chester Warren, Delroy Odum, Clarence Warren, Virgil Warren and Harvey Boulevard. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery.

City council did it again

The city council session is usually good for a chuckle.

A couple of months ago, or was it only a month, the council after extensive discussion adopted its present policy of putting all but routine council actions on first and second reading.

This was done at Mayor Giles C. McCrary's suggestion because the council came up with too many embarrassing "boners" in its haste to act without giving time for consideration and reflection.

Snap judgment at a council session sometimes not only was wrong but a "disaster," the mayor pointed out.

So before jumping into the problem of replacing their resigned city attorney, the council talked it all over and agreed to the two reading procedure.

That meant that something decided on at one meeting had to wait until the next meeting for final passage.

Of course, the councilmen did agree that there should be an escape clause in the new procedure. So if a real emergency came up, they wouldn't have to wait until the next meeting to make their decision.

With all this agreed to, the council then turned to the problem of appointing a new city attorney.

So what did they do?

Well, they were in such a hurry for legal advice that they declared the first "emergency" under the new rule and appointed Harvey L. Morton, a Lubbock attorney, to the post Pat N. Walker had resigned from after some two and one-half years.

They took the action at that meeting without pause for thought or reflection.

Our readers know what the result was.

Walker put in his appearance at the next council session, this time in a private citizen's role, and declared the appointment was illegal according to state law because Morton did not meet the law's local six months residency requirement.

So Monday night, Morton advises the council that by ordinance it can abolish the office of city attorney and by resolution authorize the mayor to enter into a contract with attorneys living elsewhere to perform legal work for the city as required.

And what did the city council do this time? They promptly declared the second "emergency" to their first and second reading procedures for the handling of city business, unanimously adopted the ordinance abolishing the office of city attorney, and authorizing Mayor McCrary to enter into a contract with the Lubbock law firm of Gerdeman and Morton to provide legal services for the city.

Why wouldn't we chuckle?

And like Bryan J. Williams says in his insurance ad at the bottom of this column, "we are listening." — JC

Halloween 'fun' is arson now

Post not only had another "busy" Halloween night last Thursday but a wantonly destructive one in which the emphasis seemed to have changed from sneaking outhouses into town and setting them afire on West Main street to simply setting unoccupied rural houses ablaze and having them burn to the ground.

The trickers' role quickly changes here from "criminal mischief" to arson.

Of course, there was a mixture of both.

Post's Halloween tradition of youngsters burning outhouses on street corners to confound authorities obviously is giving away to changing times.

There simply aren't any outhouses around anymore to swipe and light.

Consequently in recent years Halloween pranksters have been turning to other wood supplies. Some abandoned homes in Post have been set afire in recent years.

Even these have grown scarce with the city's laudable efforts in tearing down of such defects and cleaning up the property to improve the appearance of our community and the growing housing shortage here.

So this year at least some of the Halloween

"funsters" turned their attention to the countryside.

It should be emphasized here that in so doing the youngsters involved are involving themselves in the serious and often deadly crime of arson. Such destruction of private property is a serious crime.

Being caught in such acts would place a real black mark of any youngster's record. It would no longer be simply a fine for Dad to dig into his pocket to pay and a good bawling out when he got that young man home.

Post's Halloween night has grown into an expensive one each year for the city with police and firemen busy most of the night seeking to prevent the night's "fun" from turning into tragedy.

The Dispatch hasn't complained editorially about this community's "outhouse burning" tradition, though there was always an element of risk involved.

But with the outhouse era over, it's time to end the "outhouse tradition." What's happening now can no longer be classed in strictly the "fun" category.

We hope in early November reflection the youngsters can now see this for themselves. — JC

REV. JAMES KRATZ

Missionary to Brazil will speak Sunday

The country of Brazil, with its complexities and challenges, will be presented in a special service at the Post Church of the Nazarene at 6 p. m. Sunday. Rev. James Kratz, career missionary to Brazil, will be featured in the service. Rev. Philip Daniels, pastor of the Church, says the entire community is invited to the service, which will present the issues related to ministering in that fast-changing society.

Mr. Kratz's presentation in the community service will employ the "sights and sounds of Brazil." Several artifacts from that country will be on display. There will be opportunity for interested persons to talk personally with the missionary.

"REAL PEACE"

By Philip Daniels

Psalms 34:1 "I will bless the Lord at all times. His praise shall continually be in my mouth."

We live in a marvelous age! Man has walked on the moon, photographed the surface of Mars, and billions are spent to uncover the mysteries of space.

But how are we faring on earth? In spite of all the great advances, this is the age of anxiety. Worries? Worry about world problems, personal problems, job security, bills, high cost of living, etc. The most urgent need, for all of us, is not material things but for peace in our everyday lives.

A great theologian once said: "Thou hast made us for thyself, O God, and our hearts are restless until they find rest in thee." Now how do we find rest in God? Jesus said, "No man cometh unto the Father, but by me." (St. John 14:6) It is clear that in order to find the Father we must come to Jesus. He alone has bridged the gulf between us and God. John 3:16 says, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life." Jesus assured His disciples, "These things I have spoken unto you that in me you might have peace." This is real peace and it comes only from the knowledge of sins forgiven and our assurance of eternal life. Simply ask Jesus into your life, surrender your life to Him and you become a new person. You will come to know that "peace which passeth all understanding." You will begin to experience unbelievable happiness.

So we are thankful. The most healthy and happiest are thankful people. He has learned to experience the goodness of God, in both prosperity and adversity. He gives thanks always, has a new outlook on life, and has a wholesome effect on mind and body.

As we enter this month of "Thanksgiving" we would do well to remember to will what God wills brings true peace. Happy is the man who knows God and serves Him with true loyalty.

Card Of Thanks

Thanks to our friends and neighbors for the lovely flowers, cards and kind thoughts of me during my illness in the hospital.
Jake Webb and family

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Wilson, the night nurses at the hospital, and those who sent cards or made sympathy calls during the illness and death of my mother, Mrs. Maude Pierce. A special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin for their contribution to the organ fund at the First Baptist Church. May God bless each and every one of you.
Nora Jackson
The Pierce Family

Words can never express our thanks to each one that had a part in donations to the River Ministry at Porvenir, Mexico. May we say God bless you to each of the following: Drs. Harry and Charles Tubbs, Dr. William C. Wilson, Dr. B. E. Young, The Prescription Shop, and Jim Wells.
Mrs. R. Souter and GA Girls
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hagins

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for all the kindnesses and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our dear father and grandfather, S. D. Lofton. To Dr. Charles Tubbs, the nurses and the hospital staff for their concern and untiring efforts. To our friends for their prayers, food, flowers, cards for sitting up and other kindnesses administered. To the Hudman Funeral home staff. May God's richest blessings be with each and every one.

THE NURTURING FAMILY — that he isn't loved. When there is quiet in the home of a nurturing family, it is a peaceful quiet — not the stillness of fear or caution. When there is sound, it's the sound of meaningful activity — not the clatter of trying to drown out others. Planning within the family is another characteristic. However, if interference occurs, the family is versatile and can adjust. In this way it can handle more of life's problems without panicking. Nurturing families realize change is inevitable. Children change quickly from one stage to another, nurturing adults never stop growing and changing, and the world around us never stands still. Nurturing families accept change as an unavoidable part of being alive. They try to use it creatively to make their family still more alive and nurturing of one another. If it feels good to live in your family right now it is probably because in your family: —People look at, and listen to, each other —Individuals are considered —Feelings can be expressed openly —Risks are taken occasionally

Piercing available at Evelyn's Beauty Shop

Evelyn Gurley trained to do the piercing. This quick, easy procedure is done with the Mahdeen Professional Services ear piercing instrument which simultaneously pierces the earlobe with a 24K gold over surgical stainless steel stud and attaches it to a clasp of the same material. The entire process is accomplished in just seconds and the earlobes are healed in a few weeks. So if you haven't already had your ears pierced, come to Evelyn's Beauty Shop. It's a safe, convenient way to enjoy the beauty of pierced earrings. (ADV.)

Open house is held at club house Sunday

An Open House of the new Club House was held Sunday, Nov. 3 at 2 p. m. with the Woman's Culture Club and Amity Study Club as hostesses. Mrs. Lois Williams, president of the Woman's Culture Club, opened the dedication with a discussion of the aims and expectations of the club members for the use of their new club home. Mrs. C. H. Hartel, Club House Board Chairman thanked the members of the board and club members for their support and assistance in reaching this milestone. Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick, board treasurer, gave a financial report and discussed the realization of a dream that had its beginning with the organization of the Woman's Culture Club in 1913. Mrs. Charles Adams, vice-president of Amity Study Club read the Club Collect and Mrs. Kirkpatrick closed the dedication with a prayer.

Potluck by Rosemary Chapman

Our family felt exceptionally honored by an announcement we received in the mail this week and we want to share the good news with you: "Congratulations! The State Medical Society is pleased to inform you that you have been selected our Patients-of-the-Month. We know that you will be pleased to play such an important part in the in-service educational program involving hundreds of medical students. Most of them will be dropping in to examine you during the coming week. Good health to you!"

The announcement was unsigned (as most of our mail is) but I can assure you that it was beautifully engraved on high quality paper and we were very pleased to be selected even though it does mean that we will all have to go out and buy new underwear. Not many families can have as many accidents in one day as we did two weeks ago and we deserve worldwide acclaim.

Kay Lamb was certainly in there trying for the award, as you will have noticed if you've been to the bank lately. Kay is sporting a really wierd, complicated sling thing because she was washing the dishes. However, as the State Medical Society would probably be the first to point out, there is only one of her and there are four of us. We are hoping that the Society will bring down a team of psychiatrists with their students. We love to take quizzes and we understand that they have some good ones. (We also like puzzles and chess but we're not sure that they'd have those.)

It's a funny thing — I was reading an article in the new Harper's Bazaar entitled, "How to Avoid a Nervous Breakdown" just the other day. They had what they called a "nervous breakdown quiz" which I thoroughly enjoyed until I toted up my points at the end and found out that my score read, "If you have answered yes to six or seven of these questions, run, don't walk, to your nearest doctor, minister or psychiatrist."

I had answered yes to twenty out of twenty. It really made me mad because I had been trying to do well on the test but not that well. In my opinion, the whole quiz was some sort of pseudo-intellectual hoax, anyway. Who wouldn't answer yes to questions like "Do you dread ordinary everyday situations like going to the store?" I HATE going to the store. I have been going to the store several times a week for seventeen years and I can't see any reason in the world why I shouldn't hate it.

"Have you started to let your appearance run down?" CERTAINLY I have. "Are you drinking more?" OF COURSE. I'm drinking more — we can finally afford champagne. Phooey to Harper's Bazaar.

"Earl, I asked, "If I'm in the big middle of a nervous breakdown, how come I always have such a good time?" Earl said that the answer lay in the question, whatever that means. Come on out, boys. We can teach you a thing or two.

Halloween party held at Graham Friday night

The annual Graham Community Halloween party was held Friday night at the Community Center at 7:30 p. m. Approximately $300 was made from the bingo and childrens games which will go into the operating and repair fund for the center.

Sandwiches, punch, tea, coffee, brownies, cakes and pies were sold in the food booth. Mrs. Bill McMahon was chairman.

Winners of the children's costume contest were Keitha Beth White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noel White, and Steve Fluitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Fluitt. KeithaBeth was dressed as the Texas Tech Red Raider and Steve as a clown.

The door prize winners were: Curt Cowdrey, winner of the large stuffed dog; Sue Maxey, winner of the battery charger and Orabeth White, winner of the grey bag donated by Twins Fashion.

Members of the Graham 4-H Club decorated the building Friday morning. They also set up several of the games.

The center board expresses their appreciation to all who helped with the party and to all of those who donated items and cakes.

Graham HD club meets Nov. 1

The Graham Home Demonstration Club met Nov. 1 in the Graham Community Center. Mrs. Lucille Bush, vice president called the meeting to order in the absence of the president, Iris McMahon.

Roll call was answered with "My Recipe for Happiness". The council report was given by Jewell Parrish.

The club voted to send a donation to one of the retarded schools. The club also voted not to have the last meeting in November.

Mrs. Paula Cawthon, Extension agent, presented the program, "Adjustment to Everyday Living."

Viva Davis assisted by Bernita Maxey served refreshments to eleven members, the agent and one visitor.

The club adjourned until January. December will be a vacation month.

Garza history group hears reports

The Garza County Historical Survey Committee met in regular session Tuesday in the bank community room.

Members present were Gwen Boren, Lottie Shelton, Ruby Kirkpatrick, Nita Bures, Winnie Tuffing, Julian Smith, Scotty Samson, Edward Neff, Ed Bruton, Frank Runkles, Giles McCrary, J. B. Potts, Joy Greer, Vada McCampbell, Evelyn Neff, Mattie Belle Fluit and Maxine Marks. Guests included Mrs. M. J. Matouf, Helen Richards, Lois Williams, Doll Haire, Henrietta Nichols and Bernie Francis.

Invocation was offered by Bruton. Mrs. Tuffing read a letter extending an invitation to all interested persons to attend a history workshop at the Llana Estacado Museum in Plainview Nov. 9. A report was received from Mrs. Boren that the city council had given the organization an extension of time on the Algerita Hotel restoration project.

Kirkpatrick and Nita Bures gave reports on the recent state meeting held in New Braunfels. Julian Smith showed the group a film, "Missions of Texas." This film was narrated by Ricardo Montalban and gave those present a wonderful tour of the old Spanish missions to be seen in Texas, many of which were built before the nation existed.

Future Farmers are holding fruit sale

The Post Future Farmers are conducting their annual fruit sale as a money raising project. Chapter members are selling 40-pound boxes of Texas oranges and grapefruit at $6 per box. The boxes contain 80 to 100 oranges or 40 to 48 grapefruit.

Those wishing to buy fruit can contact local FFA members or call 495-3326.

Tattletales

We all hope that everyone survived safely through Halloween night with nothing more than a minor concussion or a cold from thrown eggs or water balloons. We know that eggs are good for your hair, but next time don't include the shells!

—O—
Congratulations to Tony and Tim who are now newlyweds. We hope you have a happy and successful life together, after getting married at the carnival last week.

—O—
It took everyone a little while to find their Antelope spirit last week. Lets don't put it off so late next time!

—O—
If anyone is wondering where the Jr. spirit is... we've found it! There were only four girls working last week for the Jr. class. The Jr.'s and Sr.'s must be having a secret contest to see how few people can do the best job. There are two games left — so if you have not gotten in on the action this football season... It's not too late to start!!

—O—
If you had taken a poll last week for the most UN-popular song around PHS you would have found it to be none other than "Taps."

—O—
If two headless Post letter-jackets rang your doorbell Halloween night, it was not the Antelope phantom, just Grayling and Chris out for treats.

—O—
The Annual Staff passed their first deadline last week. They have four more to go.

—O—
In case you drive down 8th street and don't recognize the high school — it's because it got a facelift! In other words, Post High is in the process of getting painted.

—O—
If you ever wanted to see an exciting game from start to finish — you should have been at Denver City last Friday night. The Antelopes were super! Those of you who didn't make it — you really missed a terrific game.

—O—
This week's game against the Roosevelt Eagles will be the last home game. Remember: We still have a great chance for the district title and the Antelopes need your support more than ever, so come out to Antelope Stadium this Friday night and see the Post Antelopes roast the Roosevelt Eagles.

'Diary' well received here

Last Saturday night Post High School students gave an excellent performance of "The Diary of Anne Frank" to an appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

The cast worked on the play for six weeks before the climactic performance.

Cast members were: Kent Kirkpatrick, Becky Heaton, Brad Davis, Dana Pool, Tiana Shiver, Nancy Reio, Jennifer Miller, David McBride, Dan Sawyers, and Tracy McAllister.

Not to be overlooked were Wayne Joyner who ran sound, Mark Kirkpatrick who ran lights and Tina Dodson who ran both the spot light and the telephone.

If you missed "The Diary of Anne Frank" you missed a most enjoyable and heartwarming performance.

Spirit garter sales good

By PAT NELSON

Was your spirit sagging? Last Thursday and Friday was your only chance to buy the spirit-lifting garter. The OEA garter sales went over very well Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

The garters were made by the OEA girls to build up the spirit of the student body and to down the Big (alias Little Red). The girls of OEA wish to express their appreciation to all of those PHS students who purchased the spirit garter.

The OEA girls are becoming experts at adding machines. Their speed and accuracy has become very good. That is what a little practice will do for you.

Two-point conversion try fails, Mustangs by 7 to 6

Rallying on a 86-yard drive to score a touchdown with only 38 seconds to play at Denver City Friday night, Coach Bobby Davis' Post High Antelopes failed in their two-point conversion bid for a dramatic victory and dropped a 7-6 decision to Denver City's Mustangs.

Quarterback Bryan Davis, whose 47-yard run on a keeper was the long gainer of the locals' determined scoring thrust, was tackled a foot short of the goal line on the conversion point play.

End Tony Conner scored the Lopes touchdown when he took a handoff from Davis on a fourth and eight situation on Denver City's eight and beat Mustang defenders in a race to the corner flag after failing to find an open receiver.

The game was a real slam-banger between two evenly matched teams.

After a scoreless first half, Denver City took the third quarter kickoff and marched 69 yards for its touchdown in a 20-play drive which consumed 10 minutes and 19 seconds of the 12-minute third period.

The Mustangs picked up six first downs on the scoring drive, four times making the first on third down plays and twice on fourth down efforts.

One of those two fourth down efforts came at the goal line when Quarterback Darrell Knox scrambled the final foot on fourth down for the six points.

The Lopes, who came up with their greatest goal line effort of the season to stop Denver City on its only other scoring opportunity in the second quarter, almost did it again.

Denver City had a first down on the five. Three plays and a two-yard "piling on" penalty against the Lopes later, the ball still was a foot short of the goal before Knox barely wriggled the last 12 inches.

Fullback Kevin Munn booted what turned out to be the game winning point from placement.

Each team had one more possession before the Antelopes took the ball on their 14 on an out-of-bounds punt with 5:58 on the clock in the fourth and drove to their touchdown.

Actually Post had possession of the ball only two times in the entire second half after Denver City used almost the third period in its scoring drive.

The first half was highlighted by missed scoring chances by both teams with Post cranking up for two drives and Denver City for one.

Post missed on two field goal efforts and Denver City on one much closer in. Most of this action came in the second period.

In the first quarter, the Mustangs never got out of their end of the field.

The Antelopes got rolling on their second possession and moved from the Post 35 via two first downs to a fourth and one on the Denver City 33 where the only lost fumble of the game occurred.

That fumble recovery set the Mustangs off on a 66-yard march to a first down on the Lopes one-yard line. Knox broke clear on a 16-yard scamper for that first down and only a touchdown-saving tackle by Mike Shepherd on the one kept him out of the end zone.

On the next three plays, the Lopes defenders were simply tremendous. Jimmy Dorland tackled Fullback Munn for a three-yard loss on the first play and then Davis broke through to drop Knox for a two-yard loss on the second play. Knox tried to pass on third down from the six and was going down in the arms on a charging Lopes defender when he threw a wobbly incompleting.

Munn tried a 21-yard field goal on fourth down but his foot was off to the left of the goal posts.

Their defensive stand apparently inspired the Antelopes to some offensive tactics of their own.

Taking the ball on their 20, the Lopes drove 54 yards to a first-down on the Denver City 26.

Included in that march were good gains by both Dennis McDonald and Edward Price alternating at tailback, one of them a 21-yarder around left end by McDonald, and Post's only pass completion of the night, a third and must 15-yarder from Davis to Halfback Garland Dudley.

On first down McDonald got a short gain.

On second down, Davis handed off to End Mike Shepherd who threw to Ed Tony Conner in the end zone.

Frenship JVs stay unbeaten 16-6 over Post

Frenship's big, unbeaten junior varsity scored their second victory over the Post JVs here last Thursday night, 16-6, with the Halloween observance coming in the first period when a team of two unidentified youths pulled the stadium light switches simultaneously and blacked everything out for one play.

Actually, the first of Frenship's two touchdowns was a gift.

It came early in first period when Frenship intercepted a short, behind-the-line pass and ran 40 yards for the score with no Post JV near.

But the small 15-player Post squad didn't seem to let the TD bother them. The locals stopped the next Frenship thrust and then drove for a touchdown on ground plays with Randall Wyatt plunging in from six yards out.

The plunge for the conversion points was short so Frenship led 8-6.

Frenship drove to about the two-inch line late in the second period, but Post dug in and held for downs.

In the third, Post got their only other offensive thrust going, but a fumble stopped it on the Frenship 35.

Post held for downs on its five, halting another long Frenship drive late in the third.

In the fourth, Frenship drove 52 yards to score their last touchdown, going in on fourth down from the one and then ran the points.

Late in the game, Post recovered a Frenship fumble on the visitors' 26, but there wasn't enough time left to convert the opportunity into a score.

TEAM WANTED TO WIN

Game-tying kick wasn't considered

Coach Bobby Davis told The Dispatch Saturday afternoon that he "didn't even consider" kicking the conversion point after Post's last-minute touchdown at Denver City because "the boys all wanted to win it."

He explained that the District 5AA rule in case of a tie is that it would count a half win and half loss for each team.

So if the Lopes had kicked and wound up in a 7-7 tie, both teams would be trailing the unbeaten Roosevelt Eagles by half game.

The district rule also says that if two teams play to a tie and wind up tied for the district championship then the winner between them would not be decided by a coin flip, but first by penetrations (possessions inside the opponent's 20-yard line) in the tie game, and then if necessary by first downs.

After the Post touchdown and before the conversion attempt, Coach Davis checked with game officials as to penetrations and first downs.

He was told Denver City led 2-1 on penetrations and 14 to 10 on first downs.

Consequently, if Post had kicked the conversion point to tie the game and then both teams beat Roosevelt, Denver City would represent the district in the playoffs on the basis of the 2-1 advantage in penetrations.

Coach Davis said the play called on the conversion effort was an option pass or run play with Fullback Joe Moore the primary pass receiver.

Here again all the "ifs" in a very "ifly" situation all went against the Lopes.

Quarterback Davis took the snapback, faked to a halfback, drifted to his right and looked for Moore.

The game films show Moore stumbled after making contact with the Denver City end and thus was slowed in breaking into the clear.

When Bryan didn't spot him on the first look, he tucked the ball in and tried to turn the right end on a keeper. He got around one Mustang defender, but two Denver City defenders hit and stopped him just a foot shy of the double stripe.

Meanwhile, the game film shows Moore after recovering his balance was wide open in the end zone for the pass.

"Those are enough ifs," Coach Davis told The Dispatch. "But we anticipated Denver City would be in a goal line defense, but they weren't. Against the defense they used if Bryan had been called on a keeper without hesitating for the pass look he probably could have gone on in."

The Lopes mentor explained that each district has the authority to make its own rule on tie games, and he thinks the District 5AA rule is the best.

In his seven years of coaching, Coach Davis hasn't had a team play a tie game yet. What happened at Denver City Friday night was as close as he has come to a standoff.

Victory over Roosevelt 'must' for Post club

A victory here Friday night over the high flying Roosevelt Eagles can put Coach Bobby Davis' Post Antelopes right back in the midst of a hot District 5AA championship grid race despite the disappointment of that 7 to 6 defeat at Denver City.

Such a win could give the Lopes these title possibilities.

Should Tahoka's Bulldogs upset Denver City at Tahoka the same night, the Antelopes could advance into the playoffs as the 5AA representative if the Eagles flew out to Denver City and beat the Mustangs next week.

That would leave Post and Roosevelt tied for the title, providing Post could defeat Tahoka next week, and give the Lopes the playoff bid by reason of having beaten Roosevelt.

If Denver City performs up to expectations and defeats the Bulldogs at Tahoka, the Lopes could still grab a third share of the district crown by defeating Roosevelt and then Roosevelt defeating Denver City. That would leave the three teams all even and leave choice of a district representative to a drawing by lot.

Consequently, the showdown clash with the Eagles is a big one.

But grabbing a victory won't be an easy assignment for the locals, unless their stingy defense can virtually shut down the district's best offense.

In running up four district wins to date the Eagles have scored a total of 146 points to only 7 for the combined opposition for an average score of 38½ to 1½.

In as many games, the Lopes have put 58 points on the board to 16 for the opposition.

On the record, Roosevelt has by far the best offense.

The only question always is when a good offense meets a good defense which wins.

Although graduating every starter off last season's co-district champions, the Eagles have bounced back to develop quickly into another fine ball club with the offensive unit again composed entirely of seniors.

"That," Coach Davis pointed out to The Dispatch, "is the result of a well developed football program. They play a few juniors on defense, but that is all."

The Eagles run about the same offense as the Lopes from the tandem and the slot, but they both run and throw the ball better.

Rodney Jackson, a 175-pound senior transfer from Halton City, is the team's leading ball carrier and scores and district in both departments as well.

He has 701 yards through eight games scored 11 touchdowns. Quarterback Jeff Slaton's Bill McClellan, the talented passer, has 10 touchdowns and 1,000 yards in the playoffs.

(See Victory 'Must' for Post club)

Frosh win Halloween on 'trick or treat' play

The Frenship freshmen pulled a "trick and treat play" in the final minute of their Halloween night game with the Post freshmen in Antelope Stadium here last Thursday.

The only trouble was Frenship got "tricked" and Post "treated" to the ball on a fumble recovery that enabled Quarterback Brad Shepherd to pass to Evans Heaton for a touchdown that broke a 22-22 tie and gave the Post freshmen a 30-22 victory with only 20 ticks left on the scoreboard clock.

With the score tied, Frenship had stopped a last ditch threat on its 20 after Evans Heaton had thrown a trick pass to Mark Williams for a 40 yard gain. The Frenship quarterback took the snap, faked to a halfback and then threw the ball behind him without looking. The fullback, who probably was to have received the ball, had already departed and the ball lay on the grass until a pile of Post freshmen covered it.

The return game between the two clubs was an offensive show from the opening quarter when Post opened the scoring with a 20-yard touchdown pass play with the same combination that ended it in victory, Shepherd to Heaton after a Frenship fumble at the Randy Baker zone conversion points.

Frenship came out with the next kickoff to the tying touchdown conversion.

Post took a 14-0 lead when Baker plunged for a second touchdown, 30 seconds left in the quarter to cap a 40 yard play highlighted by two Shepherd's pass completions.

In the third period, went 60 yards to set up the kickoff and take extras to take a 16-14 lead in third, a Post drive in the Frenship 25.

In the fourth, a She Butch Booth pass to another scoring chance time Quarterback took it in on a keeper plunged for the conversion points to give four points.

But Frenship came and drove 60 yards to score 2:57 left Post conversion plunge to offside and Frenship second opportunity to tie.

But Post dug in and held.

That set up the Halloween "trick or treat" play leading to Post score in the final second.

8th graders win, 7th loses against Roosevelt

Coach Danny Chisum's eighth grade team won its first game of the season here Tuesday night as Post split a junior high grid doubleheader with Roosevelt in Antelope Stadium.

The eighth graders put together four good-sized scoring drives to take a 28 to 16 verdict after the seventh graders were overpowered 46 to 0 by a much bigger visiting club in a game which decided the district championship.

The Roosevelt seventh graders went into the clash undefeated and the locals had only a tie to mar their district record. The loss dropped the Post team into second.

In the eighth grade game, Fullback Darrel Reece and Tailback Cliff Kirkpatrick scored touchdowns on short runs and Quarterback Bryan Compton passed to Tim Morris for the other pair of TDs.

Kirkpatrick ran over one pair of extra points and Compton threw a 14 to 0 at halftime.

Smyer wallops Southland 47-14

The unbeaten Smyer Bobcats thrashed the Southland Eagles at Smyer Friday night, 47-14, in a District 1-B clash.

Southland got its first score with a one-yard plunge by Larry Kosian in the third period and tallied its only TD in the fourth when Nathan Dickerson intercepted a Smyer pass and scampered 25 yards for six points.

Mark Bevers passed to Paul Eckert for a two-point conversion.

Post Antelopes vs. Roosevelt Eagles

Friday Night — Nov. 8

7:30 KICKOFF

In Post's Antelope Stadium

Coach Bobby Davis' disciplined and talented Antelopes get their last chance at a shot of the District 5AA grid title here in Antelope Stadium Friday night before the home team when they take on the unbeaten Roosevelt Eagles, the surprise club in the district. The Antelopes graduated all 22 starters off the district champs of 1973, but bounced back this year to lose their opener and nothing more. Beaten in district play, they have the best offense going and the district's top back, running and scoring leader, in Rodney Jackson, senior transfer. If the 'Lopes win here and Roosevelt then beats Denver City, the three teams could wind up in a three-way tie and a coin flip to decide the district's playoff club. So don't go away!

Klondike Oct. 28. Larry Hambrick ran for an 18-yard touchdown in the third quarter, and John Sertuche scampered 68 yards in the fourth quarter for a touchdown. Extra points were made by Larry Hambrick. Outstanding defensive players were Eddie Davila, Sertuche, David Weaver, and David Becker.

The junior high team lost a squeaker to Smyer last Thursday 26-22. Southland was ahead until the last few minutes although the half-time score avored Smyer 20-4. Southland's first score came from a 43-yard run by Eddie Davila in the second quarter. John Sertuche ran over the extra points. Davila scored again in the fourth quarter on a 2-yard run. Sable Rodriguez passed to Terry Smallwood for the extras. Southland's last touchdown came after a hand-off from Rodriguez to Jay Calloway to Davila. Davila ran 35 yards for the touchdown. The extras were not good.

Girls Play Loop

The junior high and high school girls lost their games to Loop Oct. 29.

The Southland high school girls were one point ahead at the half 19-18, after leading several times during the first two quarters. The final score was 43-37. Southland's high scorers were Joy Basinger, 21 points; Eva Rodriguez, eight points; and Kelly Chaffin, eight points.

The junior high girls score was 46-16. High scorers were Camille Wheeler, nine points; Katrina Chaffin, four points; and Cindy Courtney, three points.

Denver City game---

(Continued From Page 8) but the pass was broken up at the last instant by a Mustang defender who got back to Conner just in time to deflect it out of Tony's arms.

As it turned out, Denver City as caught so unprepared that the play failed. When Shepherd took the handoff, he wasn't challenged and could have turned right end for good yardage and possibly a first down. Conner had broken into the clear behind the Mustang defense. The brief hesitation on Shepherd's part in deciding whether to run or throw gave the Mustang secondary just enough time to recover on the pass.

On third down, Mustangs were in the middle of an Antelopes screen pass and almost intercepted with a clear field for a touchdown.

That made it fourth down and Conner went back and tried a 41 yard field goal. It was high enough and long enough, but wide to the left. Denver City was offside on the play and Post got a second kicking opportunity five yards closer, but again Conner's kick was off to the left.

Statistics showed how evenly matched the two teams actually were. Denver City had a 14-10 first down edge, but each team netted 182 yards rushing, according to The Dispatch's score sheet, with Post having an eight-yard edge in passing on the one completion by each team.

Each team punted only twice. The Post fumble in the first period was the only turnover in the game. The Mustangs drew

VISIT IN PORTALES
Col. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts returned home this week and a visit in Portales, N. M., with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gollehon.

Mrs. Roberts told The Dispatch that their grandson, Noel Ray Gollehon, received a $300 scholarship check from the Soil Conservation Society of America.

only three five-yard penalties and the 'Lopes one "two yarder" near their goal line.

The rest of the time it was rock'em, sock'em football.

Denver City's narrow victory kept the Mustangs' jinx intact, of never having lost at home to Post.

Victory 'Must'

league. He has completed 25 of 43 throws in his last five games for 678 yards and nine touchdowns.

Lowell Bridges, who divides tailback time with Jackson, has 400 yards and Fullback David Holland 230 yards. So it is obviously a tailback running offense which has accounted for over 1,100 yards on the ground.

If Rudy Trevino, a halfback who has been out with injuries the last two games, is back, the Eagles' will have another running threat for the 'Lopes to defend.

Coach Davis reports the Post squad in good shape except for Randy Josey, defense halfback and reserve quarterback, who had a knee go bad on him in the Denver City warmup drills. He isn't expected to see action this Friday night.

The 'Lope mentor said he was pleased with the Post offense at Denver City in executing the game plan of "holding onto the ball". Denver City had the same game plan and was equally successful so the game was a short one and everybody was on their way home by 9:30.

But Coach Davis wasn't exactly pleased with the 'Lopes defense effort at Denver City. Post will have to do better against the more offensive-minded Eagles, or it will be "wait until next year" for the locals.

Coach Davis thinks Roosevelt can beat Denver City at Denver City next week. The only question is can Post get back into the running by whipping the Eagles tomorrow night here.

Lofton rites

Lofton began holding meetings and baptized 93 in four meetings.

In 1919, Mr. and Mrs. Lofton moved to Garza County and became a member of the Graham Church of Christ. He used to carry his Bible into the fields during plowing and memorized scriptures as he plowed down the rows.

Lofton was born Oct. 16, 1885 in Bell County, Tex. His wife, Clara Emma Lofton, preceded him in death in 1972. They were married Dec. 4, 1907, in Claytonville, Tex.

Survivors include one son, K. T. Lofton of Lubbock; one daughter, Mrs. Lola Mae Ledbetter of Post; one sister, Mrs. Ethel Wray of Abilene; also by one half-brother, Orestus Lofton of Winters; four half-sisters, Mrs. Annie Smith of Coleman, Mrs. Goldie Henderson of Roswell, Mrs. Emma Ruth Bradley of Kermit, and Mrs. Cornelia Poindexter of Winters; 11 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren; and five great-great-grandchildren.

Henry L. Lynch of Lubbock and Homer Jones of Wellman officiated at the funeral services. Pallbearers were grandsons.

Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of the Hudman Funeral Home.

per cent in 1973, 42 in 1972 and 48 in 1971.

The fire department for the current fiscal year is budgeted for $27,516 and actually spent $25,661.20 the last fiscal year.

Figuring 10 per cent depreciation per year on $66,578.45 worth of fire equipment in addition this would raise the cost of operating the department this year to $34,073.85.

One hundred and forty-four fire calls have been made in the first 10 months of 1974, 69 in the city and 75 in the country.

New preacher

He comes from a line of Presbyterian clergymen among whom was his uncle, Henry Martyn White, D. D. Dr. White was a missionary to India and was named for the well-known English missionary, Henry Martyn. His great-grandfather, William Spottswood White, D. C., was chaplain at the University of Virginia and for many years served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Lexington, Va.

Mr. White served as a first lieutenant in the Army Signal Corps during World War II and went to Wall Street after graduation from Yale in 1948. After two years as a stock broker in Tulsa, he was assistant vice president and later vice president in charge of marketing of the National Bank of Tulsa, one of the nation's largest banks.

He resigned in 1955 to study for the pastoral ministry at Yale Divinity School. During this period he served as part-time pastor for the Park Street Congregational Church in New Haven and accepted a call there upon his graduation in 1958.

Mr. White returned to the securities business in Tulsa. Through his association there with the First Presbyterian Church, where he had previously been a deacon for five years, he taught a large adult Sunday School class and supplied numerous pulpits.

In 1965, he moved to Dallas to become resident manager of Bache & Company. Later joining Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, he lectured widely and held many seminars leading to membership in the International Platform Association, and conducted various television programs on investments which were viewed in over 150 cities.

Meanwhile during his years in Dallas, he supplied the pulpit for the Presbyterian Church at Fisco, Tex., taught adult Bible study classes at John Calvin Presbyterian Church and First Community Church in Dallas and occasionally performed funerals and weddings when requested.

Mrs. White, who is the former Jean Lamer of Tulsa, told The Dispatch she was raised in a town smaller than Post.

New crop

pounds from dryland sunflowers planted on July 25 with four inches of rainfall during the growing period.

At an average market price of 15 cents per pound, these producers realized a gross return of $75 to $150 per acre. Researchers have indicated that under normal conditions, dryland sunflowers should average from 800 to 1,200 pounds per acre.

Sunflowers are resistant to sub-freezing temperatures down to 25 degrees at most stages of growth so plant can be carried out in late March or early April.

Due to quick growth, the sunflowers tend to "choke out" weeds and undesirable grasses before they can get started during the early spring. The plants also appear much more tolerant to hail than other local crops.

"We have been very impressed by the vigorous growth and hardiness of these plants," reports Dennis McGehee. "We had a hail Aug. 10 on one of our fields that destroyed the cotton and beat up the week old sunflower seedlings. But the hail did not permanently damage the young crop. In fact, the sunflowers in this field are larger and more mature than on any of the other fields."

All of the sunflowers planted on the McGehee and Mock farms were planted during the first week of August.
